

Gacha 306

306 Inner Disciple Tournament 11-That's it? Or is that truly the conclusion?

"Intan!" The sixteenth elder immediately rushed to the stage and checked Intan's condition.

Charya also came to the arena to protect Alex in case the sixteenth elder wanted to do something funny to Alex.

"Uoh!" The crowd didn't dare to cheer yet despite watching an extraordinary battle. They didn't dare to do it because of the tense atmosphere around them.

"If you two are going to fight in this place, I will be forced to remove you." The third elder said with killing intent.

The sixteenth elder was gnashing her teeth. She had been envious of Charya this entire time. She didn't have a strong disciple like Song Yu. And when she had Intan, she thought she had won since Charya took Putri as her disciple.

But after this match, Intan could not use her spear anymore. She also needed to stop cultivating for a while because of the backlash from the Rage Pill.

And with the addition of Alex, she really wanted to kill this Charya. She looked at Alex and gritted her teeth. She was wondering why everything came to Charya but not her.

She disappeared from the arena with great difficulty. She etched Alex's name inside her heart.

She could not let Charya have him. Since Alex was not hers, she would kill him. But she could not do it when Alex was in the sect, so she would need to wait after he left the sect.

After finishing his match, they came back to Charya's room. And surprisingly, Putri and Song Yu were there with Evelyn. It seemed since their cover had blown up, it would be better to come to this place.

Putri suddenly hugged him when she saw him, she muttered, "Thank you," again and again.

The room's atmosphere turned to joy. They knew that because of him, Putri had regained her bearing.

"Hehe... you did an outstanding job. That b*tch Intan can't use her spear now. And because of the rage pill, she would not be able to cultivate for a while." Song Yu giggled. "But you might be targeted after this with your current exposure. But fret not, this senior sister will protect you. Or I will call someone to protect you."

Alex only smiled at her, "Thanks."

He was planning to reach peak Martial Grandmaster in this sect before leaving the sect to have his tribulation. But he didn't know where to take his tribulation, especially after he saw Song Jia, who came to this continent because of him.

The other influences might also come to this continent to search for that incident. He didn't know what they would do if they knew it was him who had the golden lightning tribulation. They might invite him to join their influence, or might enslave him, or even kill him.

Alex was wondering what he should do next. But from the time being, he looked at his senior sister in front of him. "I can teach you how to use a sword like using a spear. After all, this technique is a bit tricky and requires a profound understanding. Well, I am planning to stay inside the sect for a few months before visiting a place."

But what he saw next shocked him. Not only him but also Charya and the others. Putri suddenly kneeled on the floor and said, "I know I am taking advantage of my status. But, please accept me as your disciple, Master."

Alex was dumbfounded. His senior sister that he respected, suddenly kneeled in front of him and asked him to be her master. But surprisingly, Charya and the others didn't stop her.

Alex tried to help her up hurriedly, "Senior Sister, how can you do this?"

"No. I am already shameless enough to take advantage of you. This is the only way. Please accept me as your disciple, Master."

Alex didn't know what to do. He looked at Evelyn, Song Yu, and Charya, who was supposed to be her master, for help. But all of them only looked away when their eyes met. Alex was the one who had a unique vision only to have one master and one teacher.

The people in this world didn't find it weird to have two masters or more in their life. Alex was trying to help her up, but she won't budge.

Putri thought If Alex didn't accept her, she would learn it by herself without any guidance from Alex, and she might never have a chance to do it. But if Alex accepted her, their relationship would be awkward to have his Senior Sister become his disciple. Even so, if she just took his kindness for granted. It might also haunt her in the future.

Alex asked for help, but everyone didn't help him. In his perspective, Putri might do this until he accepted her.

"System, what should I do?" He screamed inwardly.

[It is your decision.]

Alex gritted his teeth and said, "Alright. I will accept you. But don't call me master or something. And please get up already."

"No can do. You are my master, so I need to show my respect too." Putri shook her head.

[Hidden Mission: Having a disciple.

Description: It is lonely at the top. Have a disciple so you will not be lonely.

Reward: Dart 3x]

"I am not happy to see that. And what the heck with that explanation. I still have my wives, spirits, and you!" Alex complained in his mind.

[It is better to have your Senior Sister to be a disciple rather than accepting a stranger.]

"Well, you are true, but it is still wrong."

Fortunately, Alex could not see the system girl's expression. If not, he might fall to the ground because of the shock.

The goddess who was behind the system smiled cunningly. She knew in that world, having a love relationship between Master and Disciple was uncommon. So, unless they were a special person, Putri should not have any thought of that.

She would say, "According to the plan," with a cunning smile.

At least, she tried to prevent another harem member. Even though she accepted Alex's multiple relationships, she might be a bit jealous if the number became too big. So, she thought by doing this, she could lower the number a little.

Well, even after she did this, but they ended up in a relationship, she would just accept it. She kept watching Alex get flustered like this with a smile.

Alex finally managed to make her rise from her position. Luckily, they were inside Charya's room, if not, Alex would be too embarrassed.

"Hehe, nice to meet you, Fellow Master," Charya said while patting his shoulder, trying to tease him.

Alex twitched his eyebrows when he heard that, but he refused to say something on it. If not, he felt Charya might find another way to tease him.

"Hmm... what should I call you, Alex? After all, you are my junior sister's master." Song Yu asked while trying to come up with a name.

"I still can call you big brother Alex, right?" Evelyn asked, unsure whether she could ask that.

"Just call me as usual!"

Charya and the others laughed. But suddenly, Putri asked him, "Alex, can I borrow your sword for a little bit?"

Alex took out his sword with a confused look. He didn't know what she wanted to do with his sword, but he still gave her the sword.

"Don't tell me, Senior Sister, you want to commit suicide?" Alex said with a weird face, trying to grab his sword back. Of course, he was not serious when he said that. He was just trying to liven up the atmosphere.

"You should call me Putri now... Master." She said with a teasing tone, and finally, all of them managed to tease him. She added, "I know you are cheering me up with that. Do not worry about me, I am not going to do that. Thanks to you."

She suddenly used Alex's sword to cut her hair short. That surprised everyone, including Alex. Putri said while grabbing her hair that had been cut by her just now. "With this, I will move on from my past. My name is not Putri Wulan Makmur, but only Putri Wulan."

"Eh, big sister cut her hair? Isn't that a shame? I pretty like your hair." Evelyn said innocently.

Putri only smiled while patting her head, "It is fine. It will grow before we know it."

Alex looked away. He remembered that on Earth... or maybe in stories, a broken-hearted girl sometimes cut their hair short just to move on from their past. Well, he could not say it was like a tradition that every girl would do it, but watching it with his own eyes was a bit surprising.

He also agreed with Evelyn about her hair. When he looked at her with short hair, it seemed a bit weird. And she was indeed pretty good with long hair.

"Well, since we have finished. Let's go back to celebrate it. I have good wine with me." Charya said.

Alex remembered that he never got any wine again from his system after that last time where his wine was finished by those dwarves.

[Fulfilling Host's request. Changing the reward for Dart Roulette.]

"Wait no!"

[Process Complete.]

[New Reward: UR Legendary Thousand Flower Wine.]

"What the heck is going on?" Alex screamed inwardly.

[I'm just fulfilling your request, Host. Since you thought you never got Wine anymore, I just gave it to you.]

"Hell no. I don't need it. Take it back."

[By taking it back, you won't be able to receive a UR item in the next dart season. Yes/No?]

Alex became speechless. This system became way too shameless. Alex gritted his teeth and said, "No."

He wanted to cry but had no tears. Alex decided not to have any weird thoughts again. Or even if he had weird thoughts, he should think about some OP stuff.

Everyone else didn't have any problem with it, so they went back to Song Yu's house to celebrate. And even Evelyn seemed pretty eager to sip wine. It seemed a wine in this world had some effect on cultivation, so having something like this would benefit their cultivation.

They came back to Song Yu's house, but before they managed to get in, they were stopped by a single old man. The old man had long green hair, but his facial features seemed a bit similar to Putri.

"First Elder," Putri showed a basic courtesy. It turned out that this old man was the first elder from the Makmur Family.

"You could not even use a spear anymore, so the family decided to banish you. You shall never use Makmur name again." He suddenly said while presenting a scroll that showed the decree from the Makmur family.

All of them were surprised. This old man must not have looked at Intan's state, so he did something like this. He did not know Intan had also lost the ability to wield a spear. But Putri had something that could overturn her fate, which was Alex.

Alex approached him and looked at the scroll.

"Who are you?" The old man frowned.

"Is this real?" Instead of answering his question, Alex only wanted to know the credibility of this scroll.

"Of course, this is real. There is a signature of the patriarch and the seal of the Makmur family, so of course, it is real."

Alex then snatched the scroll and gave it to Putri with a smile. "Senior Sister, congratulations."

Charya and the others suddenly realized what he was up to. They also started congratulating her.

"Hehe, with this, you are completely free. When they regret their decision and want you to come back, just slap their face with this." Alex said with a sly smile.

Putri giggled a little. She came to the front and said to the elder, "From now on, my name is only Putri Wulan. And I won't change it for the rest of my life."

The first elder of the Makmur Family looked at them in confusion. He definitely didn't know what just happened today as he just arrived and immediately gave her the notice that she was expelled by the family.

"We are going to have a party, let's go." Charya immediately dragged them to Song Yu's house in joy. She didn't have any trace of hate again in her heart after everything was solved by Alex as she knew it was the best solution that she could get for Putri.
