\ "Boom Boom!\ "

Alex and the others did not stop there. As soon as they finished the first attack, they immediately sent the second one.

The realm was filled with explosions. Luckily, the undead did not have intelligence. If they at least had the same intelligence as monsters, Alex and the others would have a hard fight against them.

After all, this fight was not the same as the fight in the Ant Nest in Zwaka's place. The ant over there were around 1-6 Star Martial Grandmasters. While they had two Martial Lords who were Anna and Fabio.

However, in this fight, their cultivation was around the undead. So, they needed to be careful.

Alex and the others tried to kill as many as possible. And it seemed Anna and Leoz had no opponent this time as all the undead completely trapped in Vera's ice wall.

10 seconds...

\ "!!!\ " When Greg's barrier broke, Alex and the group immediately started moving backward. Fortunately, as Anya's prediction, they managed to kill around seventy percent of the undead. There were only around three hundred undead left in the area.

\ "We are going to retreat. Sherry, Kyle, try to hit them with firebirds. And Sherry, you will control my fire too. We are retreating until we decrease their number to a certain level. After that, we will engage them in close combat.\ " Alex immediately gave his order.

\ "Understood.\ "

Sherry was in her small form, so it was easy to carry her around. But it seemed Kyle decided to go back inside his body and shot from there. Well, Alex did not have any problem with it though.

Alex wanted Sherry to control his flame because he had another plan. He constructed a teleportation array.

This teleportation array was not for them. But instead, the moment he activated his teleportation array, it appeared beneath the undead feet. He tried to teleport them as high as he could. But sadly, because of the limitation inside the barrier, he could only teleport them around two hundred meters above the ground.

The undead fell to the ground. Sadly, Alex did not kill any of them because of their power as Martial Lords. Although they did not have any intelligence or instinct, they still had the body of a Martial Lord, and that short fall just now did not do much damage to them.

Alex knew his plan was a failure. He tried to come up with another plan but to no avail. So he switched to his swords. He took out twenty swords and let them fly toward the undead.

But when he saw one of his swords stuck on one of the undead bodies, he immediately recalled the other swords. He switched the real swords with illusory swords. He used his Omnislash and let them plunge the undead.

He did not mind losing them since he could make more as long as he used Omnislash again.

And when there were a hundred undead left, Anya shouted. \"Now! Leoz, Anna will be the vanguard, and we will support them. There is no need for tactics anymore. With three True Spirit Body, we will overpower them.

\"Haha... finally!\" Leoz was pretty eager for this. After all, he loved battle. Since he could not fight up till now, he wanted to massacre the undead.

Unfortunately, Anna did not share his excitement. She only came to the front because Anya ordered her.

One hour later,

They finally managed to kill all of them. It took them a little bit longer because Anya wanted Alex and the others to reserve their strength.

She was thinking about the existence on the top of the mountain. After all, it was already surprising enough not to see that existence did not come to bother them.

Alex was also wondering about that. Every time Anya and Alex made their plan, they were still considering the possibility of that existence joining the fact.

That was the reason why Anya did not ask Leoz to use his True Spirit Body yet.

Alex checked his Spirits status. They had killed a thousand Martial Lords, so there should be a leap of progress.

[Anna (Dark)

Alex looked at their progress and felt it was a bit disappointing. After all, they just killed a thousand Martial Lords. Especially when he saw Anya was still a Martial Grandmaster.

"No, in fact, how many monsters do you kill on a daily basis?" Alex asked Leoz and the others. He finally noticed the problem.

Their progress was good before coming here. And with the sudden influx of EXP from a thousand Martial Lords. The result was not satisfactory.

So, it must be because Leoz and the others killed too many monsters daily that made their progress look disappointing this time.

"Ahem, We kill these many in around a month," Leoz said.

"..." Alex facepalmed. It turned out they only needed a month to kill these many Martial Lords. Of course, he knew there were many Martial Lords monsters scattered through the Nemu Forest. But even so, it would be too hard to keep encountering them.

There were only Leoz, Fabio, Vera, Jeanne, and Greg. So, if they could kill a thousand Martial Lord Stage monsters in a month, each of them would need to kill two hundred monsters in a month. In other words, they killed around six or seven monsters daily. And the rest of the monster they killed would be Martial Grandmaster stage monsters.

He sighed.

"Alright. We are going to recover our energy first around here. After that, we will try to move around and make sure there are no more undead around. After that, we will start climbing the mountain and face the one who spreads this dark element energy."

"Then, after everything is finished, you will then start your lightning tribulation," Anya added.

"Yeah." Alex nodded.

They decided to rest for around three hours. Anya took this time to come up with a plan for later.

After that, they started to move around the place. Although they could occasionally find undead, there was no more undead group around. So, killing them was pretty easy.

Leoz thought about splitting to a few groups but Alex was against the idea. They did not know the existence on the top of the mountain yet, so it would be foolish to split their number.

If Alex's group were the ones who got attacked, then it would be easy since Alex could summon all of them immediately. But if the others were the ones who got attacked... Alex might be able to recall them back, but a slight hesitation might make them regret.

Anya also had the same opinion as him. Well, since both bosses had spoken, no one would raise an objection.

They continued in a group, so it took them a bit longer to search every nook and corner. After confirming they were safe, they decided to climb the mountain.

Alex was wondering why this seeming existence would not descend the mountain. He was thankful though, since he did not need to worry about this opponent.

"Everyone prepare for battle as soon as we reach the peak," Anya warned them again before climbing the mountain.

Of course, they were flying to the top, not climbing on foot.

But when they arrived at the top, they could see a red haired woman, sitting in a big chair made of stone. Her appearance was beautiful, and in fact, she was not losing to that rumored number one beauty of Willow Continent, Letizia.

Alex frowned when he saw this woman because he could see that this woman radiated a massive dark element energy.

When she sensed Alex's arrival, she slowly opened her eyes.

"I... have... been... waiting..." She said slowly. Her voice was soft, but there was something weird on her voice.

Alex did not know why, but he felt that this was not her way of speaking.

She suddenly pointed her finger to him. When the others saw this, they immediately moved in front of him with their weapon in hand.

Of course, Alex did not see any energy coming from her hand, so he knew she did not want to attack him. But from the energy inside her body, he could see that she was also an undead.

She then took out a sword.

His spirits almost charged at her when she took out her sword. But Alex shouted, "Wait!"

She then suddenly released her Spiritual Energy as well as her Sword Intent. Alex was startled. Not only her strength but also her Sword Intent and Domain.

When she released her strength, Alex could see that the calm energy inside her body suddenly burst out, and surprisingly it reached the point of Martial King. And her Sword Domain was over a hundred meters.

Alex was surprised beyond belief. He remembered the biggest Sword Domain he had encountered was Morgan's Sword Domain. It was only a fifty meters Sword Domain while this woman had twice of that size.

Alex suddenly sucked a cold breath. If this woman could go out of this realm along with the other undead, the continent would be chaotic.

Alex thought about retreating outside as he did not have any confidence in beating her. But he did not do it because he had his spirits.

With Leoz and the others simultaneously using their True Spirit Body, Alex might have a chance to win.

"You... and... me... fight..." The woman said again.

Alex frowned. There was no way he could fight with this woman alone. He would just be obliterated by her.

"A... test... No... element... only... weapon..."

"Alex, you should not listen to this undead, This undead just wants to kill you! We will fight with you." Anna said.

But suddenly the woman threw away her weapon and took a branch. Her cultivation also started decreasing to the level of Peak Martial Grandmaster. It seemed that the woman truly wanted to test him.

Alex was not sure about this as a careful person. After all, he considered the pros and cons first. But Alex really wanted this special realm.

If he wanted to reach the Martial Lord safely, he needed to go to this realm. He did not know whether the Zhou Kingdom would send people to him again or not. But from the past two months, it seemed the Zhou Kingdom holed up inside their kingdom.

Although the Zhou Kingdom tried to hide something, Alex knew one thing. In ten months, they would have a Grand Tournament. And Alex felt something might happen in that tournament.

After all, it was the only time that the people around the continent gathered. They could send so many powerful people against him, which meant they had many more of those people. If they wanted to act, then it would be at that particular time.

Of course, it was only his feeling. Alex made Nelson investigate the Zhou Kingdom closely. After all, there were also people from the Zhou Kingdom in that group. Or at least, he recognized one of them.

Alex did not want any trouble until then, especially with this eye-catching thing that might even make a problem to the Northern Continent.

His master had teleported them away from this continent. Of course, he did not want to make them come here again.

With many considerations, Alex decided to accept it. After all, the woman had limited her strength to his level, and she only used a wooden stick. She even reduced her Domain to a thirty-meter one.

Alex thought he had a chance for this.

"I will take this chance," Alex said to his spirits as he walked to the front.
