

Gacha 40

40 Fighting The Boss

Seeing the snake moving toward him. He call a spear from system and throw it to the snake Face. But the snake merely opened it's mouth and spit something to the spear.

The spear was melted. Alex frowned.

'This poison is dangerous' he thought.

The snake already close it's distance with Alex. Alex imbued his sword with mana, and Slash it to snake's head.

'This snake really hard.'

The snake was move it's tail, to blow Alex away. Alex call a shield and parry it. Mana is sure useful, even a normal shield when coat with mana, the sturdiness was level up many times.

Alex make a small fire ball and pinched it. he aimed at the snake eyes and release it. the ball release at high speed.

'Fire Snipe'.

This is the usual move Alex used, like in the fight with Joshua or when saving Alicia from Garu.

The snake move it's head away, but the ball still manage to land on it's body. The ball exploded. The ball only leave a little burn mark on the snake body. With this Alex realized, this is not a skin. Alex observed, this snake's body was covered more like with a scale.

'Sshhaa' The snake was angered. It spit another poison. Alex pull out his shield and throw it to the poison. He didn't dare to use shield in his hand to block the poison. He scared if the poison manage to pierce through his shield. Then his hand will be the first target.

The shield was immediately melt when meet with the poison. Luckily, there are no poison get through. The shield manage to completely block the poison.

He move to the snake back. The snake tail move again to him. He parried this snake tail, and spun on the air toward snake's back.

'Sword Intent'

He slash the snake body. He manage to wound the snake, but it's too shallow. The tail already on it's way toward Alex, Alex dodge. But surprisingly, the snake tail landed on the wound Alex created earlier.

'Ssshhhaaaa!' the snake screamed in pain.

Alex eyes brightened, he created another sword wave toward the wound. The sword wave exploded when it reach the wound.

'Ssshhhaaaa!' the snake screamed in pain again. Alex look at the wound, he realised. Though the snake scale was hard, if he manage to pierce it. the rest would be easy to cut.

He wanted to aim at the wound again, but suddenly he was blown away with the snake's head. He crashed to nearby wall. The snake spit the poison on him. He immediately threw another shield to it. The tail immediately moved toward him behind the poison.

'Not good', he was surprised with the snake's tail. He used the sword intent to block this tail. The two were equal in power. When he felt he almost could cut this tail, the snake's head charged at him and blew him away.

Alex immediately stabilized his body in the air, and sent a flame sword wave to the snake. This time the sword wave managed to reach its tail. This sword wave managed to make a small wound on the snake's tail.

Now Alex can rest a bit easier, if the snake wanted to use its tail to attack him. He can target the wound on it.

When Alex almost crashed to the wall, he already stabilized his position. He used the wall to give him a momentum. He stepped on the wall and jumped toward the snake. But not to its tail but to another wound on the snake's back.

The snake noticed his movement, it immediately moved its head toward the wound to guard it. He infused his mana to his fist, making the fist flame covered his whole fist. He punched the snake's head.

'Boom'

When the punch landed on the snake's head, it exploded. Because of this explosion, the head was blown away, this made him have a time to strike the wound once again. He slashed the wound once again with his sword.

'Sshhhaa!' The snake screamed in pain, just as Alex wanted to throw another strike. The tail already blocked it away. But this move was foolish. If he can't strike the back's wound, he can still strike at the tail's wound.

He used this chance to slash at the tail's wound with sword intent. The wound became deeper, making the snake's tail split to two with one meter deep.

'Sshhhaa!' the head was spitting another poison. Alex just easily blocked it with throwing a shield. He continued to strike at the wound.

He threw another fist with fire.

'Absolute Blast'

Another explosion blowing away the tail. He moved toward the wound on its back. He threw another fist. This time the fist pierced to inside the snake's stomach, and exploded inside.

The head already moved toward him again and blew him away. But to Alex, this snake is doing its last struggle. Alex made a few arrow-shaped flame. He was inspired from Alicia when she made many ice spears in the fight with Garu Tekuis. He made the flame arrow specially target the back's wound.

'boom, boom, boom!' A series of explosions came out. After each arrow exploded Alex immediately made another flame arrow and sent it to the same spot.

The snake using all its body to protect its wound but, because its organ was already burned out because of Alex's earlier Absolute Blast, the snake almost didn't have enough energy to deal with this arrow that was coming like a machine gun.

After a few ten arrows exploded, the snake was killed. The snake's body only had two wounds visible, but if this snake was cut and seen from the inside, all the inside was already burned out by Alex.

Soon enough, the body started to disappear. What was left was a head-size red-colored monster core. The energy contained in it was higher than rank 4 monster's core. As expected from rank 5 monster, Alex thought.

"Using that much arrow really takes too much mana from my body" he leaned to the wall. He was exhausted. Using that arrow continuously, made him feel like his mana was being sucked out from his body.

After this fight, Alex realized. He didn't have much skill in his persona. Even he can use magic and manipulate it with his mind. But that takes too much time and probabilities to failure.

He programmed two skills in this fight, that is Absolute Blast and Fire arrow. Besides this he only used his Fire snipe, Flame sword wave, and Sword intent. He really needed to make a few skills, so he can make a variation combination attack. In the academy, he always fought with a person below his power so he didn't notice this. But this time, with this snake he realized this problem.

"System, use 50 tickets in Tool Gacha. I used too many weapons and shields in this fight"

[Processing]

[Sword X4] [Shield X1] [Spear 1X] [Hammer 3X] [Iron Nail 4X] [Iron Toothpick 2X] [Music Disc 3X] [Special Toothpick 1X] [Great Sword 3X] [Bastard Sword 6X] [Halberd 4X] [Javelin 3X] [Knife 4X] [Dagger 5X] [Katar 3X] [Needle 4X]

"..."

"System, I can understand with this iron toothpick. I have got it back then from you and quarreled about it with you too. What with the special toothpick right now?" Alex was angry.

[There is something special in that toothpick Host, that's why it is called Special Toothpick]

"And that is?" He tried to contain his anger. There might be something really special with this toothpick.

[This toothpick...can easily remove the stain between your teeth like a magnet]

"And why do you think I need that!" Alex snapped. If there is still the snake body here, this body will be beyond recognition. Alex really wanted to vent this anger.

[System can't decide what to give, Host. System can only give you random items from gacha]

Alex continued to blame his system, while the system innocently defended itself for a while.

Alex decided not to go to above fifties where so many rank 5 monsters reside in there. He kept killing in 49th floor and watching the boss in 50th floor to respawn. In this week he managed to kill fourteen rank 5 monsters, of course all of them is the boss monster in 50th floor. The monster respawns twice a day.

The boss monster changed every respawn, start from snake, bear even a tree summoned as the boss monster. But he realized something, in this week there are no hunter pass this floor, From upper floor. He first thought was because the scarcity of gold rank or above hunter. That why There's no one passing here.

Of course he didn't really mind though. Since there are no one bothering his killing spree. When Alex in dungeon he really like a killing machine. Beside killing monsters, he make a few programmed techniques. He made 3 techniques, they are Boost Step, Flame Armor, and Fire claw.

Boost Step is a techniques to make a small explosion below his speed, so when he jumped, this techniques can give him a boost for his speed. Flame armor is like it's name implied, his fire to make an armor like shape like chain mail or shield. As for fire claw is literally what the name said, a Fire Claw. He never good with naming anyway, so he just give the techniques this plain name.

Fortunately, he was also a cultivator. If not he can't make or manipulate his flame this easily and make a techniques for it. and now he didn't become a mainstream like mage. His techniques is specially made by himself to give him a boost in his fighting.

"System what all my count for gacha ticket?"

[Host have accumulated a total 1539 Tickets, Host have 413 usable ticket. Host also already used a total of 1126 ticket, consist of 683 ticket at tools gacha, 204 ticket for techniques gacha, and 239 of Material gacha]

"461 tickets before system upgrade huh... I can only upgrade it in the next event in the academy, since the event will be held here. I will just practice alchemy then for 4 months in the academy. And also I almost forget to ask teacher to teach me about forging. Alright let's do just that, It's already time to head back."

He went back to the surface, but when he pass the 40th floor. This damned turtle still here. That means no one kill it. he was surprised with this.

"You damned turtle, we finally meet again"

"ROAR!"

'Flame Sword Wave'

Seeing this same techniques, the turtle only come in to it's shell. But with this move, Alex already come up with a plan. He make a few fire arrow and send them toward the hole.

The fire arrow flying to six hole. One for head, four for it's leg and the last to it's tail. And explode.

"ROAR!" The turtle screamed in pain. He immediately become a ball like shape and roll toward Alex. Last time Alex can't do anything when the turtle in this form.

Alex only smirk a little. Alex make a position like he want to receive in volley ball. He coated the fist using Absolute Blast. When the turtle reach him, Alex was pushed back.

"It's really strong" Alex said. He immediately use boost step on his feet and the back of his body to pushed back the momentum. And using it again below his hand. Find authorized novels in Webnovel, faster updates, better experience,

An explosion come out from below his hand. This explosion manage to make the turtle pulled up a bit. Alex didn't let go of this chance, he immediately blow up his Absolute Blast.

'BOOM!' because of the explosion, the turtle blown to the top. Alex succeed his plan, but he suddenly paled. He look at the turtle that going to fall down, 'Oh Sh*t' he thought. He immediately run from that spot. He recalled when he use shield like this, he act like this too.

The turtle landed down and make a little quake in the floor. But Alex immediately make another fire arrow before the turtle come out. It Exploded.

"ROAR!", The turtle roared in pain. But this turtle simply have much energy.
