

Gacha 78

78 Gacha Draw

Alex went recover in three days with the help of Qi Replenishing Pill. Now he planned to make the Quenching Fire Pill. But before that, He opened the system, he checked the mission progress.

[Mission 1 #repeatable

Objective: Kill 2000 rank 4 monsters and donate all the cores to the system(472/2000)

Reward: Premium Ticket x1]

[Mission 2 #repeatable

Objective: Kill 500 rank 5 monsters and donate all the cores to the system(89/500)

Reward: Premium Ticket x1]

[Mission 3 #repeatable

Objective: Kill 100 rank 6 monsters and donate all the cores to the system (1/100)

Reward: Premium Ticket x2]

"Hmm, the process was good enough. I can finish the first and second missions when the ranking competition in Night Forest held. Probably..."

[System, recommend you to open the Special Mission Panel]

After Alex heard that, he was astonished at first. Then he followed the system suggestion and opened the special mission panel.

[Mission 1 (Completed)

Objective: Learn the truth behind the war

Reward: Premium Ticket x5 (Claim)]

[Mission 2

Objective: Hidden

Reward: Premium Ticket x5]

[Mission 3

Objective: Hidden

Reward: Premium Ticket x10]

"Oh...! I already finished the quest" He then touched the claim button.

[Ding!]

Five premium ticket was added in his inventory. Find authorized novels in Webnovel, faster updates, better experience,

After he claimed the reward the mission was updated and become like this,

[Mission 1.2

Objective: Hidden

Reward: Premium Ticket x5]

[Mission 2

Objective: Hidden

Reward: Premium Ticket x5]

[Mission 3

Objective: Hidden

Reward: Premium Ticket x10]

"Hmm... The mission was updated? Since the previous mission was about the war. Then it might be related to the war...maybe something like stopping the war. Haha... I know your trick system"

The system didn't comment on his words. Seeing the system went silent, Alex then shrugged his shoulder and continue,

"System, how many of the normal tickets I have now?"

[Gacha Ticket 149x

Premium Ticket 5x]

"Wow...It even has the panel for that."

"Hmm...let me open the premium tickets first". As he said that, he opened the premium gacha and tap the (5xDraw)

The lovely package comes again. Alex was eager to open them. "I already have a spear, This time please have a sword at least in one of them" He clapped his hand as he wished for that.

"The First Ball, Let this almighty finger show its prowess" He used his right index finger to touch the ball.

[Mithril Sword (C) Acquired]

"..." Alex's eyes widened. "What the... It is true, that I wished for a sword. I mean for a sword at the level of my current spear, not this one..."

He wanted to protest to the system but the system will deny it for sure.

[I'm glad that Host finally learned]

"Oi! Again with this privacy"

He then vented his anger toward the second ball. He let out a middle finger toward the sword. "Fuck you"

Then he used the same finger to open the second ball. This time a book pop out from the ball, but what makes Alex speechless was the notification that he heard next,

[Intermediate Alchemy Technique (SR) Acquired]

"..." He was speechless, he just cursed the item and used that cursed finger to open the ball. But what he got was out of his expectation. His eyes widened. He didn't want to comment for now so his luck did not go away, he then used the same cursed finger to open the third one.

[Piano (C) Acquired]

"..." He becomes speechless once again, then he snapped "Like hell this finger was the one who did the luck!"

He sighed then he casually opened the fourth ball,

[Safety Shoes (R) Acquired]

"..." He wanted to act normal but the reward from the gacha balls didn't let him so. Everything was out of his mind.

Facepalmed, he forced his head to calm down. After a while, he then looked toward the last ball. He saved the ball in the middle for the last. Since the ball was the special reward that guaranteed by the system, he gulped down as he slowly used his finger to open it.

[Flaming Dragon Cauldron (SR) Acquired]

"YES!" He leaped out of joy instinctively. 'Another SR'

But today gacha seems related to Alchemy. Well, he was very thankful for that though since he is going to make Fire Quenching Pill.

He then inspects the other things he gets just now. Of course, he immediately passed from the mithril sword and piano. His eyes then stopped at the safety shoes.

[Safety Shoes (R)

Description: The same type of safety shoes Host had on Earth. But the performance was better.]

Facepalmed! "System, I know it is you who wrote this description. Please use the normal description please"

[Are you sure Host?]

"Yes. It will be better"

[Description: There was once a person who tread the lonely night, the blazing day, and the bitter winter to get stronger. Every step he treads will be protected by a pair of shoes, and that is...

"Stop! Stop! System forgives me, I'm wrong. Please use your explanation" After hearing the description, he regretted and immediately apologize to the system.

[I already warned you Host]

"Yes yes, I'm sorry..." Alex said apologetically. But... "Is there really no explanation"

[Description: Safety Shoes(Earth) ++. That's the original description Host]

"..." Alex sighed, "Please use your explanation next time...But, if that the original description... what about the previous dramatic description?"

[I made it up]

"$#%&$"

[Love you too Host]

Alex suddenly felt his hand itchy, he wanted to hit but nothing to hit. He took a while to calm down. Alex sighed as he took out the shoes from the system.

When he tries to wear the shoes, there is a panel in front of him.

[Equip Safety Shoes?

Yes/No]

Alex was astonished after seeing this. He never thought that using these shoes need this kind of function. Then he tapped the 'Yes' button.

The shoes started to glow and the light moves toward Alex's feet. In a span of seconds, the glow started to fade and the shoes were disappeared.

"System?" Alex didn't know what just happened so he asked his system.

[The shoes already equipped, Host. They fused with your feet. Even if you can't saw them, they will protect you. Why don't you try to hit your feet?]

Alex followed the system's suggestion out of his curiosity. He then threw a punch toward his right foot.

"Argh!"

Alex screamed in pain, not because he injured his right foot but because he injured his fist. The foot felt like metal.

"System, why are you not warn me first about this?" He complained.

[It's the power of a rare rank item from the system, of course, its ability was great]

"Worry about your master first!" He snapped. He then sighed, "Whatever, let me use the normal tickets first"

He contemplated for a moment "Well, I don't need a technique for the moment. After all, I already had many techniques at the moment and I still haven't mastered them except for Spear Throwing Art. As for materials...no, I don't need them too for now. That left the weapon gacha. Well, I might need a few expendable spears. I can snipe my enemies from afar with my Spear Throwing Art. Since my Piercing Sky Spear still very precious to use it as an expendable item."

"System use all my tickets for tools gacha"

[Processing!]

[Sword x2]

[Spear x4]

[Javelin x3]

...

...

He only focused on the one he wanted the most which are spears. He can Spear Throwing Art for Javelin too since they are similar. But there is one other thing that caught his eyes.

[Pilox x1]

"..." Upon this item caught his eyes. He can only think about the graffiti on the wall. But there is another idea flashed in his mind. "Maybe I can use it for a surprise attack? I can catch them off guard if I use this to their eyes. Ehehe..."

He felt satisfied with this current rewards.

"Well, it is better to learn the intermediate alchemist manual first. I don't know what written inside the book but I'm sure it will benefit me."

He took out the book from the system. He read the whole book.

The point of this book was about flame control, many approaches for many types of materials, many pill recipes, and ingredients characteristic. Almost all of the ingredients listed in this book were never heard in this world. he thought there must be some secret or another world besides this world. After all, he already experienced it, the world travel that is. So maybe...just maybe, he can go to another world. but the problem is how to do it?

He thought about coming back to Earth. But he rejected the idea, he lost all attachment from the Earth. And also he hates the politics on Earth.

His sister? His parents? Upon thinking at this point, he shook his head. Well, traveling between worlds might be interesting. Different people, different cultures, different civilizations, technologies, etc. Whatever happened, he needs to know how to do it first. But he knew, the first step was for him to get stronger.

He used a day to finish all the content of the book. He tried to use the method in the book to control his flame. After a week practicing, he feels his flame control was greatly increased. He now was a hundred percent sure that he will succeed in making the Quenching Fire Pill.
