Chapter 1041 Let Us Break Up

Michael did not say a word. After a while, he finally spoke up.

“You have to ask your mom about this. If you want to be with Matthew, you have to get her permission.”

The moment he finished his sentence, Dominic entered.

“Grandpa.”

He was holding some enhancements and the servant took them.

Michael smiled and said, “Dom, you’re here. Sit down. Come here. Don’t keep bringing things to me. I could not eat all of them.”

After Dominic sat down, Elizabeth poured him some tea. She still didn’t know if this man was Dominic or Saint.

Hence, she treated him coldly.

Dominic glanced at her and smiled faintly.

“Lizzy, long time no see!”

Elizabeth only looked up at him when she heard him say that.

“Dominic?”

In a doubtful tone.

Dominic nodded. "Yeah, it's me. Matthew's drug is working "

Elizabeth smiled when she heard this. Sure enough, he didn't say it just to comfort her. He was really helping her and the kids to pay their debts.

Dominic called out, "Hazel!"

This little girl was standing barefooted in the courtyard. Wasn't she cold?

Moreover, she was like a cat hiding behind Hazel. This little girl really didn't look like she had grown up.

When Hazel heard her, she shrank backward.

"Young Master, you're too evil. Why are you calling me now?"

Wade's mood wasn't good and she won't let her follow. If she continued to follow, she might get even angrier.

Elizabeth turned around and saw her dress, so she called her.

"Come out! I've seen you."

Only then did Hazel come out from behind Hazel and walked to her step by step.

"Lizzy, don't be angry. I'm just, I'm just afraid something..."

She didn't say the word 'bad. No one liked to hear her say something like this.

"Willow, give Hazel a pair of your shoes."

Elizabeth looked at her cold and red feet and ordered. Willow susiled and waved at Hazel

"Miss Hazel, I'll take you to put on shoes."

Hazel peeked at Dominic and followed Willow into the house.

Michael was chatting with Dominic. The two of them were in a good relationship.

Elizabeth sat beside her. She was in a bad mood. After knowing the truth, she really felt that she was just a joke.

And grandpa didn't tell her anything. She could only look for her mother herself. Who was her father and where was he?

A lot of questions.

Lowering her head, she suddenly felt that she was really pathetic. She had never seen her biological parents before.

Dominic saw that she was in a bad mood and asked.

"Did

you quarrel with him?"

Didn't this girl like Matthew a lot? Now that he had completely let her go, he just hoped that she could be happy!

Elizabeth raised her head and glanced at her grandfather before nodding

"Yes!"

"Matthew doesn't go back to their room to sleep. Besides, it's been almost a day. He doesn't even call or message.

He probably didn't want to talk to her anymore.

Sighing deeply, she took out her phone and sent him a text.

"Matthew, let's break up!"

After sending the message, she turned off her phone. Will he still ignore me?

The girls were the same. They wanted to break up when they were angry.

At this moment, he was in a meeting. When he saw his phone tremble, the words 'break up' flashed across the screen.

He reached out to grab the phone and clicked on it. After reading it, he started dialing her number and her phone was switched off.

"Everyone, get out of here," he said coldly.

The vibe in the meeting room had always been tense. The employees of the company arrived at 6.30 p.m. and went to a meeting.

All of them were exhausted, but they did not dare to make a sound.

Not only were they physically exhausted, she also felt even more exhausted when faced with Matthew's attitude.

The two of them did not dare to breathe loudly. At this moment, they ran faster than the rabbits after hearing his order.

Chapter 1042 Do They Have a Feud?

After a while, Hazel's phone rang. She was about to answer the call.

Elizabeth reached out and took her phone back. When she saw the words 'Mr. Hilton', she guessed it was him.

She cut it off and switched off her phone.

Hazel stared at her with her round eyes. She was anxious, but she didn't dare to say anything.

After all, she was someone who was paid by Mr. Hilton. Mr. Hilton had a bad temper. If she didn't answer the phone, he would definitely be angry and she would be punished.

But she had to listen to what Lizzy said, which made her feel especially troubled.

Dominic smiled and asked, "Who's call?"

He was asking Hazel this question. Elizabeth returned her phone and answered on her behalf.

“A man chasing after.”

After saying that, she winked at Hazel, not to mention Matthew.

This place is not suitable to mention Matthew.

Hazel naturally understood. She and Elizabeth understood each other.

Elizabeth wanted to test Dominic. What kind of feelings does he have for Hazel?

She really hoped that the two of them could be together. That way, Hazel would have a home too.

Even though she liked Hazel following her, she still hoped that she could find her happiness!

Hazel took the phone and put it into her purse. There was no emotion on her face. Now, she was able to suppress her emotions so that no one would notice it.

At this moment, the doctor arrived. “Master Wade, it’s time for the injection.”

Now, Michael still had to take infusion every day. Although it wasn’t life-threatening, he relied entirely on these drugs to maintain his life.

Elizabeth stood up and helped him up. “Grandpa, I’ll send you in.”

It had been a long time since she visited him, so she was afraid that he would ask about her and Matthew.

Hence, she did not dare to affect his mood. After asking so many questions today, she was starting to regret it.

In the future, she would not allow her grandfather to be involved in these.

Even though he wasn't his real grandfather, he was better than his real grandfather.

In this world, be treated her the best.

Michael laughed, "Alright, Dam, you guys sit here. I'm getting old, and my body is weakening, I need to be on infusion every day." 1/2

When Michael said this, he let out a long sigh, not knowing how long he would live.

When they entered the house and walked toward the elevator.

Michael patted Elizabeth's and little hand. "Lizzy, I am getting old, but I really love you. I hope you'll be happy! This is also a advice from me to you. Keep a distance from Matthew. The two of you will suffer even more in the future."

After saying that, he patted her hand. "I'm going upstairs. Please accompany Dominic. He's a decent young man."

Michael walked slowly toward the elevator. A group of doctors and nurses followed behind him and entered the elevator to the second floor.

Elizabeth stood in front of the elevator, a little stunned.

She knew that her grandfather treated her very well. Everything he said and did was for her own good.

What kind of gap was there between her and Matthew?

She took a deep breath, hoping that Kai could find out where her mother was.

After finding her mother, almost everything would be revealed.

Could she and Matthew really have a grudge against each other, so could not they be together even if they die?

Elizabeth suddenly did not dare to think about it anymore. She turned around and walked out of the house.

She saw Dominic talking to Hazel. "Are you doing well, Hazel?"

There was a bright smile on his face. This Dominic was the one she knew.

Matthew probably found a better psychiatrist to cure Dominic.

Matthew lowered his head. In the past, when she talked to Dominic, she always looked at him with a smile. Now that she saw him, she was like a mouse looking at a cat, looking very nervous.

Chapter 1043 He Is Here

"Young Master, I'm living with Ms. Wado. She spoils me very much."

She bought her beautiful clothes and food.

Besides, she did not need to work, so she would do her best to protect her.

Even if she were to sacrifice her own life in exchange for her life, she was willing

Dominic nodded, "That's right, it's best if you follow Lizzy."

After that, the two of them stopped talking and looked at each other. Then, they lowered their heads and looked at their glasses.

A little awkward, and Elizabeth walked over.

"What are you guys talking about?"

She smiled. She did not take the matter of not answering Matthew's phone seriously.

Anyway, it's normal for a girlfriend to be angry and not answer her boyfriend's phone.

She had never done anything to Matthew before. This time, she had to make him apologize properly.

Dominic smiled, "Nothing much?"

In the CEO's office of the Hilton Group, they could hear the sound of something falling to the ground. Gracie glanced at Esme beside her and asked softly.

"What is wrong Mr. Hilton today?"

All of them were summoned to a meeting early in the morning and there were many people getting yelled at.

Every single project was rejected.

The Hilton Group today was like hell on earth. It was covered in dark clouds, and everyone was in danger.

At this moment, Gracie heard him call out.

“Someone.”

Gracie was shocked. She turned around and said to Esme.

“You go.”

She was afraid that if she went in and offended Mr. Hilton, she would lose her job.

The salary of the Hilton Group was the highest in the industry, so no one wanted to lose this job.

In the end, Esme had no choice but to go in. After all, he was Mr. Hilton’s special assistant. He had called someone, so he had to go in.

The office was in a mess. Esme subconsciously took a glance when he entered.

Nice! Even the computer that was worth a million was broken.

“Mr. Hilton.”

He walked to his desk tremblingly. He was sitting with his back facing the table. There was a terrifying smell of cigarette in the room. How many cigarettes did he smoke?

Esme held back his cough and lowered his head, waiting for Matthew to get angry.

“Esme, get someone to investigate. Where is Elizabeth now? And get the Blade to my office.”

Blade was the leader of the secret guards. He was Matthew’s biggest trump card. Over the years, he had never shown his face.

Mr. Hilton had asked him to show up today. He probably had an important mission.

“Yes, Mr. Hilton.”

When Esme went out, he told Gracie at the door.

“Get someone to tidy up the inside. Get a new computer as well”

Gracie asked softly, “Did you get yelled at?”

Esme shook his head triumphantly. “No.”

“How is Mr. Hilton feeling?”

Gracie was still a little scared, afraid that she would get into trouble.

“Not too bad.”

Esme finished his sentence and strode to his office. Gracie breathed a sigh of relief.

Matthew took a cigarette and received a call from his subordinate.

Matthew got up and took off his windbreaker from the rack. He hung it in his arms and walked out.

Esme and the others had already prepared a car and took him to Michael’s sanatorium.

When Matthew walked to the entrance of the small courtyard, he heard the laughter of a few people from afar.

When he saw that Dominic was there too, his face darkened.

It turned out that she broke up to be with her ex-husband. Could it be that she still wants to get back together with this man?

A man walked in angrily and said coldly.

“You guys are so happy!”

It sounded weird.

Dominic stood up and greeted him with a smile.

“Mr. Hilton, you are to visit Master Wade?”

Now that he was with Lazy, it was normal for him to see her grandfather, so Dominic said so.

Hazel, on the other hand, stood up in fright and walked to the side, not daring to look into his eyes.

Chapter 1044 Stealing Kids From Her

Elizabeth was the only one sitting there. She did not speak and did not pay attention to him.

Matthew looked at her intently and said to Dominic.

“Did I disturb you guys?”

If Hazel hadn't followed, he would definitely be jealous. Fortunately, there was Hazel sitting beside her and she was smiling happily.

Elizabeth's sad face made his anger dissipate a lot.

It turned out that breaking up wasn't just hard for him. It was as if she didn't feel good either.

Dominic could tell that something was wrong with the two of them and he smiled.

“No, you came just in time. I was just talking about Lizzy's childhood. Would you like to hear it?”

Elizabeth only remembered that this was where her grandfather was.

If he saw Matthew, he would probably be upset. Besides, it was very likely that he would say something like asking him to leave her.

Even though she was so angry that she sent him a message about breaking up, it was just her being angry

“Well, isn't he here to see me now?”

Therefore, she did not really want to break up. She did not want to let him know that her grandfather did not agree with them being together.

She got up and said, "Matthew, this is my grandfather's place. Please leave."

When she was talking, she went to pull him. Fortunately, her grandfather was resting now. Otherwise, when he was here to kick him out, something big would happen.

Matthew caught a glimpse of her howling. She was as strong as a kitten and she was still trying to pull him.

The corner of his lips twitched slightly and he said coldly.

"You're stronger on the bed than you are now. Try harder."

Elizabeth blushed. Why did he say all these at this time?

Weren't they about to break up? Weren't they in a cold war? Why did they say such things?

A man smiled wickedly because her ex-husband was here, and the man had never seen her in bed, so this was the privilege of him only.

Moreover, he did not care about other people's feelings at all. As long as he was happy.

And at this moment, he only wanted this woman to be shy and wanted that man to give up on her.

Hazel's face also flushed and she stole a glance at Dominic.

Because it reminded her that during those nights they were together, he had said such nonsense too,

Dominic's gaze met hers. His expression was cold, but he wasn't angry.

Now, he really let go of Lizzy. After a failed marriage, he even let go of her after suffering so much.

Why didn't he understand what Matthew said?

"Should I let him know that the one she loves is Matthew from the beginning till the end?"

Everyone fell silent. Elizabeth felt so embarrassed. He is so unreasonable. How dare he say anything.

She dragged him away. After leaving the small courtyard, she let go of him and strode forward.

Matthew glanced at his right hand. There was a wrinkled part on it. She had just pulled it out.

He could also see a trace of her clutching the windbreaker. She was shy just now.

However, he feels a trace of coldness in such late autumn. He narrowed his eyes slightly and looked at her pale, wanting to throw him away

Matthew quickened his pace. "Elizabeth, are you really going to break up? Have you thought it through? If you break up, the three children will be mine."

His voice was low and cold. He called her by her name. It was no longer Lizzy

She was already very angry and stopped her steps and looked at him coldly.

"That's right. Break up. The kids are mine. I gave birth to them, I raised them too."

This man actually wants to take the kids away from me. The audacity.

“Who raised the three children? He actually dared to say such nonsense. I hate him so much”

Chapter 1045 Mr Hilton Is Afraid

When he saw how she was about to cry, his heart tightened.

It was as if when he bullied her, he was not happy at all. He wanted to go over and comfort her

But when he thought of this girl saying that she wanted to break up just like that. They’re married, so how could they just be separated like

Hence, he had to teach this woman a lesson. No matter what happened in the future, he would not allow her to break up

Matthew snorted coldly. “Then we’ll see which lawyer of ours is better”

A man pulled his hands into his pockets and strode toward the parking lot.

Elizabeth stood rooted to the spot, furious.

A lawyer?

Damn it, is he really going to get a divorce? Is he really going to take the kids?

The thought of this made her think that this man was even more evil. How could her lawyer compete with his

The Hilton Group had the best team of lawyers. Anyone who went to court with Hilton Group would have almost zero chances of winning.

Elizabeth bit her lips and cursed.

“Bastard”

Matthew thought that she would come after him, but he was mistaken. He still couldn't guess what she was thinking.

Walking to the car, he took out a cigarette and lit it.

Actually, he was waiting for her to give in and say something nice to him.

Then, he could teach her not to mention breaking up again in the future. This would be over

But when he lit the cigarette, he realized that that woman drove away by herself. Moreover, that speed was terrifying

Matthew cursed slightly. “Little girl, drive slowly ”

He hurriedly opened the car door and said coldly

The chauffeur immediately drove after her. She's car was nowhere to be seen.

Matthew became anxious. “Drive faster and catch up with her car ”

Esme couldn't help but say, "Driving so fast is very dangerous It's easy to get into a car accident'

After he finished his sentence, he felt two cold gazes sweeping at him. He quickly changed his tone.

"Mrs. Lizzy is good at driving. I'm sure she won't get into an accident"

Only then did Matthew withdraw his gaze and snort

"You should pray that nothing will happen to her *

Esme wanted to slap himself

"Mr. Hilton, don't worry Nothing will happen"

Not long after, there was an accident. Their car slowly stopped and could not pass

Esme was scared to death. His eyes widened as he prayed in his heart

"Dear god, don't be Elizabeth"

He gripped onto the armrest tightly. He was so frightened that he couldn't look at Mr Hilton Next time, remember to talk less and do more!

Matthew kept looking at the time. When the car stopped, he asked

"Why did it stop"

"Did that girl think it through? She's blocking him here and wants to apologize to him"

At that thought, his face turned cold. Not only he would not let her break up, but he also would not allow her to touch the car anymore.

The speed just now shocked him to death.

The person in front did not dare to turn back. Matthew took a glance at it. Then, he pushed open the car door and got out of the car and strode forward

The chauffeur bit his lips, feeling a little worried.

“Esme, it shouldn’t be would Elizabeth, right?”

Esme was on the verge of exploding. When he heard him, he cursed.

“It could not be Elizabeth. She’s a lucky woman. Even if she got into a car accident, she won’t get hurt at all

This was his expertation.

He hurriedly pushed open the car door and got out of the car. He glanced ahead and saw that it was almost a kilometer away.

The car that got into the accident should be far away from here. The more Matthew walked, the faster he got

He clenched his fists tightly. Although his face was calm, his fists were trembling, completely betraying his emotions at this moment

He was terrified, terrified.

If she really got into an accident, what should he do?

Chapter 1046 Work Hard

When he thought of this, he started running faster and faster. He almost ran toward the car.

Only when he saw that the car that got into the accident was not the same car as Elizabeth's, he stood there as if he had breathed a sigh of Until Esme ran to his side and saw that the car wasn't Elizabeth's car, he also breathed a sigh of relief.

"Mr. Hilton, it's not Elizabeth's car. She should have left."

The girl drove at a very fast speed. They did not catch up, so she missed this car accident.

Matthew nodded and turned around to leave.

Elizabeth sped all the way to the city. When she thought about what happened recently, she was really quite unlucky.

Knowing that she wasn't a kid of the Wade Family and her parents were nowhere to be found, now that Matthew wanted to take the kids away from her, it was nothing but trouble.

She took a deep breath, not letting her tears fall.

She drove to the ground floor of Jessica's studio. She had nowhere else to go.

After parking the car, she took the elevator to the 20th floor. When the elevator doors opened, she stood up and looked more energetic.

When she entered Jessica's studio, there was no one at the front desk. She was curious. Could it be that they went out today?

When she walked in, she noticed a few bodyguards in black standing at the entrance of Jessica's office. The few employees of Jessica were surrounded not far from the office and were talking to each other.

Elizabeth asked, "Is Jessica here?"

The two girls at the front desk looked over. They knew Elizabeth and knew that she was Miss Jessica's best friend. The two of them walked over.

"Ms. Wade. A woman brought these bodyguards and locked Miss Jessica in the office. I don't know what they are talking about."

Elizabeth furrowed her eyebrows slightly. "Are there any bad reviews lately? Or you haven't fulfilled the client's needs?"

The two girls shook their heads. "No, our store has always received five-star reviews. Besides, we're all trying our best to satisfy our customers."

Elizabeth doesn't care about the reason for the time being.

She couldn't allow others to bully Jessica, so she took out her phone and made a phone call, asking her bodyguards to come over.

After making the phone call, she said to the two girls, "My men will be here in a while. You guys hide and protect yourself

After saying that, she looked around, grabbed a vase, and walked toward the bodyguards

“Our Madam is inside. No one is allowed to interrupt.”

Elizabeth didn't care anymore and shook the vase in her hand.

“Everyone, move aside. Otherwise, I won't hold back.”

The four bodyguards looked at her as a weak woman. They weren't afraid of her, but they didn't dare to offend her because of her expensive clothes.

One of them said, “Miss, please tell me your name first. I'll go in and ask if you're allowed in.”

“I don't care if I can enter or not. I have to go in.”

Elizabeth raised the vase and rushed over. The bodyguards had no choice but to give way.

By the time they arrived, Madam had instructed them not to hurt anyone, so they did not dare to do anything.

Elizabeth rushed to the office door. She opened the door and rushed in.

“Jessica, don't be afraid. I'm here. I won't let anyone bully you.”

When Jessica and Mrs. Johnson heard this, they looked over and Jessica couldn't help but laugh.

“Lizzy, what are you doing?”

Elizabeth smiled when she saw that Jessica was alright, so she looked at the vase in her hand.

“I thought you got into trouble?”

She placed the vase on her desk and walked to the couch..

She saw the lady sitting opposite Jessica. She looked about forty years old and had an extraordinary temperament. When she looked at her, it didn't seem like she was here to make a scene.

She looked over with a trace of disdain in her eyes.

Chapter 1047 Sympathy

Jessica didn't care. The way Lizzy rushed in just now was simply too handsome.

Only she would rush in to save her like this.

Even if she thought about it now, she was very moved.

Mrs. Johnson roughly felt that her friend was the same as her. She had no good family education.

Mrs. Johnson was from a prominent family. After marrying into the Johnson family, the Johnson family was also a prominent family. Almost all her life was bound by a frame, Elizabeth sat beside Jessica and nodded at Mrs. Johnson.

“If you're busy, I'll wait for you in the lounge.”

She picked up the cup of coffee from Jessica and took a huge sip. She was indeed a little thirsty along the way, so she took a sip of coffee first.

When Mrs. Johnson saw this, her eyebrows furrowed slightly. She probably did not like Elizabeth's action.

Mrs. Johnson got up. "Jessica, I've been looking for you twice. Do you know why I'm here? I hope you stay away from Leonard in the future.. He's gone after looking for you yesterday, and we could not find him. I know you must have told him about the breakup. You did a good job"

After saying that, she got up gracefully and straightened her skirt before leaving.

Elizabeth stood there, slightly stunned.

"Mr. Johnson's mother?"

Hmm...

She really could not associate Leonard with such a mother.

Look at his mother again. She was so strict. When she sat down, she rested her hands on the railing. When she got up, she still had to straighten the hem of her dress.

When she was looking at people, she always behaved like she was better than anyone else.

Jessica nodded, "That's right, she's quite generous, she gave me a million, of course I'll choose money, don't you think so?"

She lit a female cigarette and held it with her middle finger and index finger. She leaned elegantly to her lips and took a puff.

When she exhaled a smoke, her face was filled with sorrow.

“Where do you think he can go?”

The words she said yesterday were hurtful enough. She thought that he would listen. He would definitely leave her and marry the president’s daughter without any hesitation.

But what she didn’t expect was that he was missing. Could it be that he wanted to commit suicide.

“Are you worried about him?”

Elizabeth sat down and suddenly realized that she and Jessica had troubles lately.

Hence, she also wanted to taste the smell of cigarette, whether it could relieve her worries.

Jessica took it away, “Don’t, why are you smoking for no reason?”

If she wasn’t annoyed and didn’t want to touch this, it wouldn’t be good for her skin.

Elizabeth leaned against the sofa. “If you’re worried about him, then give him a call.”

Suddenly, she didn’t understand why she didn’t like Leonard at all but she seemed to care about him now.

“He didn’t answer his phone. That’s why his mother came to my place and asked me if I know where he is.”

She puffed out a smoke and let out a long sigh.

“Could he be dead?”

The way she spoke was light-hearted, but there was a trace of sadness in her tone. It was obvious that she would be upset if Leonard died.

Elizabeth pondered for a while. "I don't think so. A man as steel-like as him would not kill himself because of a breakup."

She felt that it was unlikely. It was most likely that he was hiding and healing his wounds.

"That's right. It's impossible for him to die. It's absolutely impossible."

She repeatedly said this. It felt like she was hypnotizing herself, and it was more like she was praying.

Elizabeth curled up into a ball on the sofa. "Jess, I feel so tired. I'm very tired."

Only then did Jessica realize the girl's expression. Something was off.

"What's wrong?"

She sat up next to her and reached out her hand to touch her forehead.

"It's so hot. You're having a fever."

Elizabeth narrowed her eyes. "A fever?"

Chapter 1048 A Bad Situation

She hadn't had a fever for many years. She raised her hand and touched her forehead. It felt a little hot. No wonder she felt upset today.

It turned out that she was in a bad mood and her body would get worse too.

Jessica quickly put out the cigarette, "Let's go, I'll take you to the hospital"

Elizabeth was helped up by her, Elizabeth did not really want to go.

“I don’t want to go.”

Ever since she was young, she did not like hospitals. The one place she was afraid of the most was the hospital. She had been taking care of her kids for the past few years and Pearl had been hospitalized. Hence, she was even more resistant to the hospital.

Jessica had already put her clothes over her body, “No, I feel that your temperature isn’t too normal It might be 39 degrees. This will burn your brain.”

She had always taken care of Pearl and Pearl used to have a fever, so she could feel it.

Elizabeth couldn’t help but laugh. “You’re really amazing. Are you a thermometer?”

Jessica saw that she was still joking and heaved a sigh of relief. It was probably because she was too nervous and the temperature shouldn’t be that high.

The two of them went to a nearby hospital to measure their temperature. It wasn’t that high. It was only 37.5 degrees.

The doctor only prescribed her some medication, saying that she had a slight flu, so there was no need to be nervous.

Jessica helped her out of the doctor’s office, “Lizzy, sit here and wait for me. I’ll go get the medicine.”

Elizabeth felt a little dizzy, and she was also a little confused. She looked like she had a change of expression, and she looked like she was drunk.

But the doctor said she’s fine, so she thinks she’s fine.

After she sat down, she raised her hand and knocked on her head.

“Does your head hurt?”

Elizabeth shook her head because she hadn't told the doctor about this.

“No, I'm just a little dizzy. It feels like the world is all in a fantasy.”

Jessica helped her to remove the hair on her face and smiled.

“This is how you feel when you get a fever. You'll feel dizzy, and you'll lose all of your energy. However, your temperature isn't very high. Take some fever-reducing pills, go back and have a good night's sleep. You'll feel better tomorrow.”

She gently patted Elizabeth's shoulder. This girl didn't seem sick for the past few years. 11/2

In order to take care of the children, women like them would not dare to get sick. However, it was good to get sick once in a while. A fever like this would activate the body's immune system to resist the virus.

Jessica opened a bottle of water. “Drink more water. I'll come over after taking the medicine.”

Elizabeth took the water and smiled at her.

“Yeah, go ahead! I'm not a kid. I won't walk around. I'll wait for you here.”

The more she felt that she was being so naggy, the more she felt that she had gotten used to taking care of her kid.

Jessica couldn't help but laugh. "Yeah! I understand, Elizabeth's a big girl."

The two of them talked and laughed. They liked to joke, but they understood each other well

Fortunately, when the two of them were at their lowest point, they know each other. They supported each other, encouraged each other, and cared about each other. Now, it was much better than in the past.

"They've already experienced the worst. In the future, there will be better days waiting for them. They'll be best friends in this lifetime, best friends forever."

After Jessica left, Elizabeth was a little tired, her eyes almost couldn't open.

She hurriedly drank a few sips to keep herself awake.

Not far away, Nate stood there in a white shirt. He lifted his hand to support his glasses and looked at the camera.

There was a voice in the earpiece.

"Master, the hospital's cameras have all failed. You can do it now."

Only then did Nate walk to her side. When she heard the footsteps, Elizabeth shook her head in an attempt to wake herself up.

The footsteps sounded a little familiar, but for a moment, I couldn't remember.

She tried her best to open her eyes, but she could not see clearly, so she asked instinctively.

“Jessica, is that you?”

Chapter 1049 She Is Still In The Hospital

Jessica took the drug and when she walked back, she heard footsteps and looked at her.

At the entrance of the hospital lobby, a few men in black walked in with Matthew. That man was really one of a kind.

A lot of people stopped and looked at him. There were also women who couldn't help but exclaim.

“Wow, he's so handsome!”

“Go get his number!”

“I don't dare!”

Under everyone's gaze, Matthew walked towards her step by step.

“Where is she?”

His voice was deep and cold.

Only then did Jessica come back to her senses and she pointed not far away.

“Lizzy sits there and waits for me to take the medicine.”

After saying that, the man walked away and she fell behind him.

The women next to her whispered, “I thought they were a couple, but it seems like they aren't.”

“That’s right. He didn’t even wait for her.”

“This woman is quite pretty. Not to mention the two of them look like a perfect match.”

Jessica ignored those words and followed him.

By the time they reached the row to look at the clinic, Matthew returned.

“Where?”

It seemed that she did not see Lizzy, so she led the

When she reached the door of the clinic, she did not see her, she was a little puzzled.

“She sat here just now.”

Matthew’s expression changed slightly. “could you just stay by her side?”

There was obviously a hint of reproach in his voice.

Jessica also regretted, “I went to get the medicine, I was afraid that she would be tired, it’s all my fault.”

Matthew glanced at her indifferently. It was useless to blame anyone now, he ordered coldly.

“Check the surveillance footage of the hospital”

Esme hurriedly agreed, “Okay, Mr. Hilten.”

What was happening today? He thought she got into an accident on the road, and he was shocked once. When he found out that she had arrived at the hospital, he followed her again.

But now she was gone

Matthew was furious He walked forward and told Jessica

“To the surveillance room.

Jessica caught up, she took out her phone and dialod Elizabeth’s number.

“There’s no need to call. Her phone is switched off. Besides, her location is still at the hospital”

Thinking of the necklace on her neck, he was sure that she was still in the hospital

Because there was a location device in the necklace, only him and his men know. No one else, even Elizabeth did not know.

Jessica heard a woman’s cold voice from the other end of the line, “The number you’re dialing is switched off”

He’s probably called this number countless times.

He to find Lizzy.

However, with Matthew around, Jessica believed that he was strong enough to be a

I hope Lizzy will be fine.

Recalling that she wasn’t feeling too well just now, she was a little worried.

She was dumb enough. She didn't have the energy and she was in a daze, so she asked her to sit here and rest.

"Isn't this giving the bad guy a chance?"

She raised her hand and hit herself. "You're so stupid.*

At the moment, they were in the elevator. Everyone was looking at her. Jessica scratched her head and pretended that she was careless.

But Matthew's eyes seemed to have seen through everything

With a cold expression, he asked.

"Are you sick, or is she? Why did you come to the hospital?"

Jessica didn't look like she was sick, but she couldn't tell if she was having some hidden disease.

He had never thought of Elizabeth getting sick. He did not allow her to get sick, even if it was something normal.

Jessica took a glance at the note and medicine in her hand, "Lizzy has a fever, but her temperature is only 37.5 degrees. It's considered a low fever. The doctor prescribed some medication, and the medicins la with me."

"Is she sick?"

Chapter 1050 She Is Really At The Hospital

Previously, Matthew had seen her, but he did not notice that she was having a fever.

The expression on his face darkened. He was so careless that he did not notice it.

At this moment, he was more upset.

“Why are you mad her? She’s a woman, and you are a man.”

At this moment, the elevator arrived on B3. When the elevator doors opened, the outside was pitch black and there was a cold breeze pouring into the elevator.

Jessica was inexplicably a little scared. Could it be that B3 of the hospital was the morgue?

The more she thought about it, the colder she felt.

Matthew and the others walked out, as if they did not feel the coldness and darkness outside.

Jessica quickly caught up to him. She was usually quite brave, but she was still quite afraid of ghosts.

After walking a distance on the dark B3, she saw a nurse pushing a bed covered in white cloth. Jessica’s eyes widened and she looked terrible.

Indeed, this was the morgue of the hospital No wonder it was so cold and dark

Why was the surveillance room on this floor? Weren’t those who stayed inside afraid?

In her heart, she thought silently. Probably because they wanted to scare others on this floor, it wouldn’t be easy to go to the surveillance room.

In the end, they arrived at a small house not far away. There were a few people standing at the door. When they saw Matthew, they welcomed

“Mr. Hilton.”

They were probably the people in charge of the hospital. Then, they led them into the surveillance room.

Jessica hurriedly followed. She did not dare to stay outside alone.

All the walls inside were covered with screens. There was also a small screen on the big screen. All the surveillance footage of the hospital was

Matthew called her, “Jessica, where did you go to the hospital with Lizzy?”

Previously, they had already taken a rough look, but they did not find Elizabeth.

Jessica thought for a while, “We arrived at the hospital at around 2 p.m. At that time, the doctor happened to be just at work, so there were a lot of people. We waited for a while.”

She recalled that it was probably at this time.

Actually, she didn't look at the time. Most importantly, everyone was in line.

Matthew nodded and asked them to check the security footage of this time and saw that they were queuing.

He pointed at Elizabeth. “We're looking for her. Go find her and see where she went.”

After a while, the surveillance officer spoke up.

“Got it”

Elizabeth was sitting on the chair at the entrance of the clinic, playing with her phone.

Both Jessica and Matthew were slightly shocked. They didn't see her just now and her phone was already switched off.

Matthew hurriedly dialed her number and the call went through.

Followed by her sweet voice, "Hello?"

"Lizzy, sit there and don't move. We'll be there soon."

After her saying that, he hung up the phone and walked outside quickly. It was obvious that he was very excited. He wished he could fly directly to Jessica was also very excited, she hurriedly followed. At this moment, she had forgotten her fear and could only care about Lizzy.

The group returned to the same routine and returned to the first floor of the hospital

Elizabeth sat there, playing with her phone, with one hand pressing her chin.

Jessica ran over and hugged her.

"Lizzy, where did you go just now? You scared us to death."

Elizabeth raised her head and smiled.

"I've been waiting for you all this while. Why have you been here for so long? My fever has already subsided."

She pulled her hand and caressed her forehead. At this moment, her temperature was suitable. It wasn't high.

Jessica's eyes narrowed slightly. "You've been here all this while?"
