

Game Over 1131

Chapter 1131 Sudden Appearance

Leonard Leonard shook his head. He felt that he must be having a fever to have such a hallucination. When did that woman, Jessica wear such dress?

Normally, she would usually look sexy.

He didn't seem to have such a fetish. Why would he think of her in this way?

Leonard closed his eyes, wanting to take a good rest.

Seeing that he was not saying anything. Mrs. Johnson repeated.

"Leonard, your grandfather only returned when you and Layla got married. He's already quite old. He's living alone on the island. It's so miserable. You should be a goof grandson and marry Layla quickly. Then your grandfather will be back."

The only thing Leonard wanted right now was to have a good rest. Otherwise, his hallucinations would upset him.

"Mom, let's talk about this later. I want to rest."

Mrs. Johnson looked at the exhausted look on his face. He's been sleeping all day. Is he still so tired?

She could roughly imagine how miserable he had been living in P City. The thought that this had something to do with Jess made her very angry.

“Alright, rest well. You’ll be resting at home and don’t go anywhere.”

Jessica had a meeting and she summoned the employees who were running outside.

The employees were very excited when they saw her and were delighted that she would be back.

Originally, they thought that she won’t be able to return. After all, everyone had heard of P City, especially now that the Internet was very advanced.

1/2

When she was scrolling TikTok, she could also see some of the situation there.

At the end of the meeting, she declared that they would call the police directly if the two of them appeared. She would handle everything else.

After checking Ure accounts for the past ten days, the eighty thousand in the accounts were all taken away by them.

Jessica looked at the bills and she was furious

“80,000 is a lot. Not only do I need to pay the studio’s rent, but I also need to give the staff a commission.”

But the two of them took everything away. Did they think it was so easy to earn money?

It was already ten o'clock in the evening after investigating everything. Only then did Jessica realize it was already so late.

She stretched lazily, then kept the books and left the office with her purse.

Everyone else had already left. She locked the door and walked toward the elevator.

When she entered the elevator, she received a call from Patrick's sister. Farah Lester used to have a good relationship with Jessica.

When she and Patrick first got married, his sister lived in their house. Jessica treated her like her own sister, so Farah treated her very well.

Ever since Patrick cheated on her, Farah had never contacted her again.

How many years have it been? She smiled helplessly, as if these people had all showed up in one go.

Previously, when Pearl was sick, it was too difficult to look for them.

Jessica answered. "Hello."

"Sister-in-law, this is Farah."

"I know. Your brother and I have divorced a long time ago. Don't call me sister-in-law anymore. I don't like it."

Farah also understood how indifferent Jessica was toward her.

“Jessica, my brother has wronged you. I’ve been studying overseas all these years, so it’s not easy. That’s why I couldn’t help Pearl when she was sick. I’m back in A City, I want to see you”

Jessica walked out of the elevator and out of the building. She walked in the night breeze. The winter night was cold, and the breeze was bone-chilling

Annie, on the other hand, liked weather like this because her life was like winter. There was nothing except for coldness.

“There’s no need. I’m hanging up”

She was about to take a taxi after a while, but the person opposite her did not want to hang up

“Jessica, I’m at Dawn Bar now. I’ll be waiting for you here I won’t leave until you show up”

After saying that, she hung up Jessica frowned slightly

Why does this girl have to see me?

Sighing, she hailed a cab to Dawn Bar.