

Game Over 1134

Chapter 1134

“Compensate? How dares he to say Pearl isn’t his? Does he not know this?”

Farah’s expression was a little strange. She knew something about what happened back then. When those people found her brother, she was also by the side.

She almost heard that her brother agreed to those people because of money,

They could not tell Jessica about this. They had to keep it a secret.

Otherwise, she and her brother would be in big trouble. They had taken their money back then and they would have to pay it back, or even double it.

“Jessica, we’ve consulted a lawyer. Even if you’re done with the loan, half of the house belongs to my brother. There’s a record that he paid the down payment, so if you don’t give the house, you can give half of the money.”

Jessica stood up abruptly and cursed.

“That’s impossible. Don’t dream about it.”

After saying that, she walked out, feeling a little annoyed. The two of them hadn’t seen each other for a few years, and she needed money the moment she met her.

Now that they wanted the house, he even said that Pearl was not his kid.

She clenched her fists tightly, hatred boiling in her..

Jessica returned home. A glass of wine and the cold breeze outside made her slightly drunk.

Her face was slightly flushed. She took a cab and drove to Star Villa.

When the driver saw her blush, he thought she had too much to drink, so he s

Young lady, if you want to throw up, remember to let me stop the car You'll have to pay 200 if you throw up"

Jessica couldn't help but laugh upon hearing this.

Over the years, she had been selling alcohol in Night City. She had practiced her alcohol tolerance a long time ago. Now that she only had a glass of wine, she was completely fine.

Vomit? I won't vomit.

Upon hearing her laughter, the chauffeur added.

"You're such a beautiful girl. It's better to go home earlier tonight! It's dangerous outside."

She guessed the chauffeur was too bored to talk to her.

Jessica wanted to say something, but seeing how enthusiastic he was, she chatted with him casually.

“Yeah! Thank you for the reminder, but for the sake of living, I have to go home late.”

Listening to the chauffeur, she suddenly realized that no one had said such a thing to her before.

She felt a trace of warmth from a stranger.

Once they reached Star Villa, Jessica got out of the car and walked slowly into the villa.

She looked up at the sky. Since it was gloomy lately, and it was raining today, the sky was dark, and it felt exactly like how she felt right now.

Suddenly, she realized that when she returned to A City, she was caught by a bunch of bad things.

After returning to that place, everything had returned to its original point. They appeared in her life again.

Even Pearl was involved, it was really annoying

At this moment, her phone rang

Jessica saw that the caller was Leonard and she answered it.

“Hello.”

“Are you still awake?”

His deep voice rang with a trace of question.

He had just woken up. Even though

Parah could feel that she was really a stranger to her.

Thus, she felt that she won't feel awkward if she continued.

Jessica looked at her and waited for her to speak.

Farah drank the glass of wine and smiled after drinking it.

"Jessica, my brother said Pearl isn't his kid, so he wants to take that house back, then Page will be willing to marry my brother. My brother hasn't been working for the past few years, so down payment of the house is paid by him. Can you give the house to him?"

Jessica sneered. It turned out that it was for the small house again.

"Down payment? Has he ever paid off the mortgage after the down payment?"

All the loans were paid by her. Otherwise, it would have been auctioned by the bank long ago.

Farah bit her lips. "I know, but my brother has been Pearl's father for many years. Shouldn't I compensate him?"

Jessica's gaze darkened when she saw her. Why does this girl look exactly like Patrick? She's so shameless.

“Compensate? How dares he to say Pearl isn’t his? Does he not know this?”

Jessica saw that the caller was Leonard and she answered it.

“Hello.”

“Are you still awake?”

His deep voice rang with a trace of question.

He had just woken up. Even though it was a bit late, he still couldn't help but give her a call.

He just wanted to hear her voice. He heard her just now and that eased his mind, so he could hang up

it

Jessica hadn't even reached home yet, and she said softly.

"When did you become so obedient? You used to be bad."

Every time he wanted to sleep with her, he did not say

Moreover, in bed, he was the dominant one. He was a manly man straight to the point.

Hearing this, Leonard lit a cigarette and took a puff

The light in his room was not switched on. It was dark. Except for the dim light from the cigarette butt, there was only his pair of shining eyes.

"Is that all you remember about me?"

Previously, did he not treat her well enough? Was that why she left him so resolutely?

Yeah, besides evil, there's nothing else"

At that time, she felt that she was just making a deal. For Pearl, she could endure everything

"Are you still outside?"

Hearing the wind blowing, he knew that she was still outside.

“Yeah, I haven’t been back to the studio for too long, it’s a bit too busy, so it’s getting home late”

“Are you cold?”

The way he spoke was always indifferent and calm.

“Of course it’s cold. Why don’t you stand outside for a while?”

Jessica did not know that something was wrong with his body, nor did she know that when he saved her, his wound tore again

11341 Want To Hear Her Voice

If this wound was in the cold wind, he would probably suffer sequels. In the future, the wound would definitely hurt whenever it rained or changed the weather.

“Jessica, I’ll go look for you, okay?”

Lying here alone, he felt so lonely.

Otherwise, the hallucination he experienced earlier made him feel a little sad. For some reason, his heart ached.

Could it be that he missed her beautiful teenage days and only met her after she got married and gave birth to a kid and then divorced? He felt

regretful

But he knew that he did not care.

The first time he saw her, he felt that he wanted and liked this woman!

“I don’t care if she’s married or if she has a kid. She’s the woman I love. I want to see her all the time.”

Jessica entered the house. The room was warm.

When Ms. Elliott saw that she had returned, she got up from the sofa and yawned.

“Jess, you’re finally back. Have you eaten dinner? The food is still warm.”

Jessica smiled and said, “I’ve eaten. Ms. Elliott, thank you for your hard work, go back and rest!”

Ms. Elliott had been taking care of the house that Elizabeth and the others lived in. Elizabeth also hoped that Elizabeth could live there, which was also her own home.

Now that Jessica moved here, she was free, so she help Jessica take care of her kid and cook. Anyway, Lizzy paid her every month, so she was little embarrassed to sit around.

“Then I’ll go back. Pearl has been nagging about you. You should see her later.”

Jessica nodded and Ms. Elliott left. Jessica took off her coat and went into the kitchen. She poured herself a glass of warm water while drinkin; and talking on the phone.

Previously, she heard him say that his grandfather was very strict to him and Leonard often got beaten up by him.

Leonard thought of the old man returning to Fish Island in a fit of rage, he frowned slightly.
