

Game Over 221

Chapter 221 Saving Her Daughter 2

Jessica was momentarily stunned when she heard that

“Oh, Lany, are you two okay?”

Elizabeth glanced at the woman who was staring her from

Jessica

To fine. They are just after the money. We can leave once we repay the debt. I'm sorry for causing trouble for you,

It was already bad enough that Pearl was sick. Now, this thing happened.

Elizabeth was feeling very guilty. She blamed herself for being ignorant and for causing trouble even though she had good intentions.

Of course, she would not ask Jessica for more than five hundred thousand. Not even a cent more.

“It's all my fault, Lany. You did it to help me, didn't you? I'll take a loan and borrow some money. Don't worry. I'll gather enough money for you.”

Elizabeth did not dare tell her that she was still short of one million seven hundred and thirty thousand. Any amount, no matter how small, was good enough

As long as Abby was safe and by her side, she would face the future one day at a time.

Jessica's expression was grim after she hung up.

With Elizabeth and Abby's current situation, she was left with no choice

She would sign the contract tomorrow and sell the house at a low price.

With her phone in her hand, Jessica thought about who she could ask a favor. However, no one would be willing to lend.

her money anymore

She only had two thousand now, which was far lesser than the five hundred thousand that Elizabeth needed.

Suddenly, her eyes lit up, and she dialed Leonard's number.

"Hello?" A lazy voice came from the other end of the line. "Missed me?"

When Jessica heard his voice, she remembered the devilish man who was rough in bed.

She pursed her lips hesitantly but still requested shamelessly, "Mr. Johnson, can you lend me six hundred thousand? |

need it urgently

She had asked for his bone marrow, and now, she was asking for his money. It felt like she was taking advantage of him.

However, Jessica had a straightforward personality and said whatever she wanted. As long as she did not feel awkward, it would be others that will

Leonard chuckled "Sure I'll transfer it to you right now. Remember to come on time tomorrow night."

Jessica's long lashes quivered as her heart skipped a beat.

Her face warmed at the thought of what would happen the following night. There was a strange feeling in her heart

Leonard had not asked a single question and immediately agreed to transfer her the money. He was the most generous person she knew

At that moment, her phone vibrated.

A total of six hundred thousand was transferred into her account. Her phone vibrated again with a message from Leonard.

He wrote: No matter what happens in the future, you can always tell me. You're not allowed to shoulder

1. ne.

A smile spread across Jessica's face when she saw the message. Leonard was able to make her feel warm and secure.

She quickly sent a message in reply: Thank you, Mr. Johnson. I will definitely return the money to you tomorrow.

After sending the message, she looked up at the sky. It was pitch black, as though it was about to snow. She drew her clothes together. She was freezing in just her work uniform.

City.

While she was on the phone, she had forgotten about the cold. Now, she was freezing as she quickly headed back to Night.

As she walked, she transferred the money to Elizabeth and sent the latter a voice message:

“Lizzy, I’ve transferred six hundred thousand to you. Is it enough? You agreed to repay the five hundred and fifty thousand you borrowed. The payment was delayed for a month, so six hundred thousand should be enough to cover the interest.”

After sending the message, she stood and waited. She wanted to receive Elizabeth’s reply before she continued working

At that moment, someone approached her and lifted her chin.

“Lucia, I’ve been supporting you for three months. When will you come home with me?”

It was a greasy middle-aged man.

Jessica jerked her head and freed her chin from his hand. She scoffed.

“Mr. Lynch, please show some respect. I sell liquor, not my body.”

With those words, she turned and headed into the club. The man stared at her back view with a trace of hatred in his eyes

“Tsk! Who do you think you are? You’re an unwanted woman with a child. I’ll wait and see how long you can hold out I’ll have you sooner or later.”

Elizabeth sighed. This amount of money was more than she could ask for. She would not let Jessica worry about her Andrea glanced at Elizabeth’s phone and asked, “Has the money been transferred?”

Elizabeth looked up at her and hesitated for a moment.

“My friend transferred six hundred thousand. Adding it with the five hundred thousand I have, it will amount to one million one hundred thousand. Can you let us go?”

Even loan sharks have sympathy, right? Giving them an additional six hundred thousand should be more than enough. It is already more than the principal amount.

Andrea waved a finger at her.

“Ms. Wade, maybe you aren’t sure about the rules of our business. Pay as much as you have? If you don’t pay it all, there’ll be interest tomorrow. I suggest that you pay it all by today.

She raised her eyebrows and sneered, “Otherwise, I’ll have to feed you and your daughter to the fishes in the river.”

Elizabeth felt her heart ache at the thought of giving them so much money.

However, after hearing those words, there was nothing else she could do.

She had tried calling the police but was unable to. It was likely that the signal had been tampered with,

Andrea yawned. “I’m going to inform Samuel. I’m so tired but still have to deal with you. It’s so annoying”

With that, she opened the door and left.

Elizabeth glanced at her sleeping daughter. With her here, Abby’s emotions were much more stable.

Now, she just needed to pay them the remaining six hundred thousand and negotiate a little. She believed that they would agree to let them go.

Her eyes darted around as she thought about how she should negotiate. :

Not long later, Andrea entered the room with several men.

She was so sleepy that she kept yawning

“Ma Wade, it’s almost dawn if you don’t pay up, they’ll send you and your daughter off”

Andrea’s face darkened “Ma Wade, if you’re thinking of seducing him, you better forget about it!”

Andrea rolled her eyes. She really doesn't know when to give up.

She beckoned at the men to leave.

"I'll go and get Samuel."

Elizabeth heaved a sigh of relief after they left the room

She shook Abby awake. "Sweetheart, wake up."

Abby opened her eyes. She was very tired, and there were tears in her eyes.

"Lizzy, are we going home?"

Elizabeth looked at her daughter. At this moment, they could only rely on themselves.

She helped Abby to sit up. "Abby, hold on to my clothes later. Follow me closely. Understand?"

Abby nodded vigorously at her serious look.

Her older brothers had taught her to stay calm in dangerous situations. There was no use crying.

Although she was afraid and kept crying after being brought to this place, she believed that her mother and brothers would rescue her.

A faint smile appeared on Elizabeth's face when she saw that Abby was not crying and was being cooperative.

"Lie down first. When I call you, get up quickly and hold onto my clothes"

Chapter 223 Saving Her Daughter 4

Abby had just lain down when Samuel opened the door and entered the room.

He was dressed in black from top to toe, and he looked at Elizabeth and Abby with a cold, vicious gaze

"What do you want? he asked

Elizabeth smiled at him "Let's sit down and have a chat, Samuel "

She mustered her courage to approach him and lead him to the bedside. Then, she spoke sweetly "Look, Samuel only have one million one hundred thousand with me right now Is it fine if I return this amount of money first?"

As soon as her words fell, Samuel's face darkened instantly

"That's not possible," he said

After that, he was about to call someone in to take over the matter Quickly. Elizabeth ejected the needle from her ring and hooked her arms around his neck Next, she pressed the needle against his skin

"I'm sorry, Samuel. We can only let you take us outside," she said

Samuel was fuming with rage He never expected the woman to be so cunning,

It was his first time getting outsmarted by a woman. He began to struggle “You’d better not move, Samuel The venom on this needle is extremely toxic. It’s been dipped in ninety–nine types of snake venom. Your chances of survival are negligible if you get pricked by this needle.” Elizabeth said

As soon as he heard her words, Samuel’s face turned even darker Still, he believed her and dared not move a muscle

“Elizabeth, you Samuel was pissed. Moreover, he was terrified of the needle

Elizabeth’s lips curled into a smirk. When she was forced into situations like this, she had to learn to defend herself

She had nobody else to support her and no family members to rely on When such circumstances occurred, there was no one she could turn to apart from the police

However, Elizabeth could not even call the police. Therefore, she could only depend upon herself

“Abby she called

Abby sat up immediately upon hearing her mother’s voice. Then, she got out of bed and tugged at Elizabeth’s clothes

Abby pursed her lips and spoke bravely. “I’m not afraid. Livev Elizabeth eyed her daughter and grinned at her happily. “You’re wonderful. Abby!***

Elizabeth held Samuel hostage and walked out of the bedroom. When the rest of the people in the living room saw her they took out their guns.

The muzzles of the guns were pointed at them. Abby's eyes flashed with fear, and her little hands trembled.

Nevertheless, she did not cry. Instead, she grabbed Elizabeth's military jacket tightly, fearing she would be separated from her mother.

"Samuel.

Seeing as everybody had raised their guns, Samuel growled, "Lower your guns and get a car ready. Be quick!"

Andrea was stunned, too. At first, she thought Elizabeth would attempt to seduce Samuel with her beauty Little did she expect the woman would use Samuel to threaten them

In spite of this, she felt a sudden sense of admiration for Elizabeth.

Although she was being watched by so many people, Elizabeth was still bold enough to pull this feat off and succeed.

She had even gotten the better of Samuel, who was the most intelligent member of the gang Indeed, she was no ordinary

Woman

Andrea raised her voice "Haven't you heard what Samuel said? Lower your guns and prepare a car."

Soon, a phone call ensued, and they were told that a car was already parked downstairs.

Elizabeth gave Samuel a nudge “We’re going out. The rest of you will stay inside ”

Abby kept a tight grip on Elizabeth’s clothes. She followed the latter out of the creepy men’s field of vision and shut the door loudly.

“Lizzy, are we safe now?” she asked.

Apart from this creepy man, the rest of the people were inside the building.

Children were often simple-minded. Abby would no longer be afraid as long as she was safe Elizabeth glanced at the padlock on the door. Earlier, she had told them to get it ready.

So, she kicked Samuel. “Lock the door.”

The man kept his attention on the needle against his neck, for he would get himself pricked with one wrong move. As such, he was frightened Whenever Samuel tried to lean his head backward slightly, Elizabeth would push the needle further toward him. He frowned and yelled, “Get this d’mn needle away from me!”

This voice sounded like a roar, and it scared Abby. She nearly lost her balance and fell. Thus, she pouted angrily and

Poke him, Larry' The creepy man is bad. He scared me

Chapter 224 They Are Here

Elizabeth could not help but laugh when she heard Abby's remark

"Okay, I'll certainly poke him," she said.

Samuel broke out in a cold sweat out of terror, and a grimace gradually formed on his face.

He breathed heavily and stared at the needle, fearing it would touch him.

Moreover, the woman and her daughter were unlike other people. Under such circumstances, they still discussed whether or not to poke him.

Samuel's gaze began to harden. People like him had been through many kinds of situations.

No matter how scary the situation got, he was able to tough it out. Therefore, he would not be afraid of the minor screw-up that happened on this day.

A wicked smile flashed across his face. Only time would tell whether the mother-daughter duo could escape.

Once the door was locked, the people inside the building could not get out, and Elizabeth felt a lot safer. The only thing left to do was to head downstairs and get inside the car.

Her plan was to subdue Samuel, head home, and relocate to another place.

She had already planned everything down to the last detail.

"Let's go," Elizabeth said sternly and nudged the man before her.

Samuel started to walk, and the three of them descended the stairs awkwardly.

Elizabeth turned to look at Abby and reminded her, "Be careful, Sweetheart. Don't fall."

At that moment, Abby did not have to tug at Elizabeth's clothes anymore. She walked downstairs on her own cautiously.

When they reached the third floor, the stairwell was very dark due to the absence of lamps.

Abby inched closer to her mother fearfully and muttered, "It's dark, Lizzy."

Children were afraid of the dark. Little girls, in particular, were even more reluctant to walk in the darkness.

Elizabeth pursed her lips. She wanted to hold her daughter's hand and give her a sense of security.

However, she must keep the man in front of her under control. Otherwise, it would be very difficult for them to leave.

Abby screamed, "Ah..."

She missed a step and tumbled down the stairs. A horrified Elizabeth released her grip on Samuel and called Abby loudly

"Abby Abby."

Abby

She felt hopeless at that point. As long as Abby was fine, it did not matter whether they managed to escape or not.

Elizabeth took out her phone and turned on the flashlight. She ran down the stairs and found Abby lying at the foot of the staircase. Blood was seeping out of her forehead.

Elizabeth was frightened and tried to hold her daughter up. "Abby... Abby..."

Unfortunately, Abby did not answer. Samuel took out his gun and pressed the muzzle against Elizabeth's head.

"You'll pay for holding me hostage!" he cried.

Teardrops streamed down Elizabeth's cheeks as she kept calling Abby, but there was no response from the latter.

She did not hear Samuel's threats at all.

Suddenly, Elizabeth raised her head and said, "Abby, I'll take you to the hospital."

She carried Abby and was about to leave when Samuel grabbed hold of her and said, "You aren't going anywhere."

Then, he dragged Elizabeth up the stairs as blood continued to trickle down the little girl's forehead. Elizabeth was about to throw a fit.

She pleaded, "I want to take my daughter to the hospital. She's hurt. I beg of you."

Still, Samuel was indifferent to her plight. The lives of his hostages were unimportant to him. All he cared about was money.

The hostages were only allowed to leave once they had repaid their debts. He did not care about anything else.

“Pleading with me is useless. Go upstairs!” he ordered.

Samuel led Elizabeth upstairs by force. She was overwhelmed by a wave of hopelessness as she blamed herself for Abby’s situation Elizabeth felt really bad, and she quivered in sadness and anger.

A few cars were parked outside the dilapidated residential building Two boys were holding a laptop inside Matthew’s car.

Antony said. “Arthur, Abby’s GPS location is right here. The same goes for Mommy.”

Matthew glanced at the two boys coolly. These two kids are even faster than the police. Then, he narrowed his eyes and ordered. “Send me the address. We’ll save them at once.”

Arthur sent the address to Matthew, who then sent it to his subordinates.

He texted: Go upstairs immediately and save Elizabeth and Abby.

After sending his message, he opened the door and got out of the car. Arthur and Antony followed suit.

The three of them were worried about the mother–daughter duo. Thus, they wanted to head upstairs personally.

They hurried over to the old building and saw Elisabeth rummaging downstairs. Her body was covered in blood, and she was

Varying Alby who had blood all over her face

Chapter 225 His Heart Ached

The three men ran over hurriedly. Matthew grabbed both her hands.

“Elizabeth, where are you hurt?”

His gaze scanned both the girls from head to toe. Even Arthur and Antony were shocked

Simultaneously, they asked, “Mommy, you and Abby are hurt.”

Elizabeth’s gaze was empty. She had already lost her senses after Abby fell down the stairs. Not only that, Samuel had earlier refused to let her take Abby to the hospital.

Therefore, like a madwoman, she frantically beat that man to the point he could no longer stand. Only then did she carry Abby downstairs.

Right now, the only thought on her mind was to get to the hospital. Upon hearing that familiar voice, she finally snapped back into reality.

Matthew wanted to carry Abby, but Elizabeth held onto her tightly without letting go.

He gently held onto her shoulder. "Elizabeth, it's me, Matthew. Hand Abby to me. I'll take her to the hospital."

When she heard the word "hospital," Elizabeth's eyes flickered slightly. She nodded.

"Get to the hospital quick."

As she spoke, tears flowed down from her eyes. Matthew's subordinate took Abby over and ran toward the car.

Meanwhile, Matthew picked up Elizabeth, whose whole body had gone weak. Arthur pursed his lips.

"We're going to go check on Abby. Help me take care of Mommy."

Antony took a deep look at Elizabeth. From what they could see, Abby was the one who was injured.

Elizabeth most likely just had Abby's blood on her. They ran over to the car and headed to the hospital.

Matthew knitted his brows tightly together. When he saw the state that Abby and Elizabeth were in, his heart ached to the point that he couldn't breathe. It was a very suffocating feeling.

He strode over to his car.

In a cold voice, he ordered, "Round all those people up. I'll deal with them personally."

"Yes, Mr. Hilton."

After carrying Abby into the car, Matthew ordered, "Drive faster."

(or 22 Heart Achat

The driver replied. "Yes, Mr Hilton

Then he stepped down as hard as he could on the gas pedal Heeing the land in Matthew's eyes, he knew that if he went show that might, he probably would not love to see the next day

bhisabeth's ex lit up "Abby

She looked around frantically Matthew stared deeply into her clear and bright eyes.

Knowing that she had cried countless times that night, he could feel her helplessness His heart was wrenching in pain.

"Khizabeth, Abby is already on the way to the hospital Don't worry. I will make sure she gets the best medical team to treat her

This time, they were headed to his private hospital. That hospital was equipped with the best medical resources. It was. more than enough to ensure Abby's recovery

Elizabeth grabbed onto his shirt tightly with both hands as she sobbed softly.

"You must save Abby Please I'm begging you

When she thought of her daughter's condition, she felt horrible.

She blamed herself for being useless. It was her fault for borrowing money from loan sharks. That was the reason why Abby was dragged into this mess.

As she was overwhelmed with guilt, her tears started to flow uncontrollably again. Seeing this, Matthew realized that he absolutely couldn't stand seeing her cry.

The moment she started crying, he felt incredibly uneasy. His heart felt heavy.

He lightly rubbed her arm. "Lizzy, stop crying. Just take a short nap. We'll be at the hospital soon. With me here, nothing will happen to Abby

If it were Elizabeth from the past, she would only have herself to rely on. At such a devastating time, she could only pray for the best

Now, listening to his words, she trusted in him. She nodded in response.

Then, she buried her head in his lap and inhaled his familiar scent. She hoped nothing terrible would happen to Abby. As long as Matthew was there, she was sure that Abby would be fine.

This was Elizabeth's first time trusting a man so much. It was also her first time realizing how it felt to have someone to rely on Matthew could feel her entire body shivering slightly. She was wearing a thick military coat, so she shouldn't be cold.

However, when he saw her feet which were red from the cold, he put his hands on her to slowly give her some warmth.

Her skin felt like ice. It was cold but soft

He caressed her slowly and said flatly. "Turn the heater up all the way"

Chapter 226 He Warmed Her Heart

Elizabeth could slowly feel her legs starting to regain warmth. She could also feel the temperature of the man's palms.

When he saw that she was still shivering from the cold, he set her down on the seat.

Then, he grabbed her feet and placed them under his shirt. Elizabeth raised her head.

"Matthew, it's really cold."

She wanted to retract her legs. She didn't even dare to think about the condition of her feet.

Even if she ignored the fact that they were icy, they were still really dirty. Isn't he a clean freak? She didn't want to make him feel uncomfortable.

Matthew grabbed tightly onto her feet. "Don't move."

Elizabeth stuck her feet closely to his defined abdomen. It was very warm.

Her face blushed red, and her heart started to beat faster.

She stole a glance at his face. In the dim light, his side profile was sharp and defined.

All of a sudden, she felt like not only was this man handsome, but he was also really nice.

More than warming her feet, he was also warming her heart.

Twenty minutes later, the car pulled up to the hospital entrance.

Elizabeth took a look at the building. It was a very famous private hospital in Mistwood. More accurately, it was known for being expensive. However, it contained the most modern medical equipment and the best medical professionals in the world.

She knew that Abby would be getting the best possible treatments. Hence, she felt slightly more relieved.

Unfortunately, there was no way she could afford the hospital bills there.

The car had only stopped for a short moment when Esme handed a pair of shoes through the window.

Elizabethly said sweetly, "Thank you, Mr. Mack!"

Esme took a look over at Matthew, who was hugging Elizabeth's feet under his shirt.

As expected, Matthew was really admirable when he fell for a woman.

In a light tone, he responded, "You should thank Mr. Hilton. He's the one who asked me to buy the shoes."

Elizabeth looked over to Matthew. She pursed her lips together lightly as her eyes glimmered.

"Thank you, Mr. Hilton!"

After that, she shook her legs so that Matthew would let go and she could retract them.

She sat upright and put on the shoes.

"Are you hurt anywhere?"

The blood all over her body was a pretty frightening sight.

Elizabeth shook her head. "No, I'm fine."

After putting on her shoes, she hurriedly opened the car door. The first thing she wanted to do was check on how Abby was doing

Matthew got out of the car too. The duo headed into the hospital together.

When the nurse at the front desk saw Matthew walk in, she immediately went over to greet him.

“Mr. Hilton.”

“Where’s the little girl who came in earlier?”

The nurses did a quick check

Then, they politely responded, “She’s been admitted into a ward. Her room number is 1206.”

Elizabeth was dumbfounded for a moment. “Doesn’t she need any emergency care or surgery?”

The nurses looked back at the computer solemnly.

“Abby has just suffered an external head injury. We’ve already bandaged her up. She should be receiving an IV drip right now.”

Elizabeth replied, “Thank you!”

She was just glad that Abby was fine. Earlier, she had been so worried. That was why she got so violent with Samuel

They got to the twelfth floor. Upon entering the ward, Elizabeth’s first impression of the room was that it was more like a child’s room than an actual hospital ward. The interior design was mostly warm-toned. There were also a lot of dolls placed around the room. The windows had lace curtains on them.

lot

The couch was cartoon-themed. Even the bed was designed like a princess bed.

Elizabeth finally understood why the hospital charged such a high price.

In an environment like this, plus the world's top medical team, it was only natural that being treated here would cost a

She walked briskly over to the bedside. Right now, Abby had been changed into a hospital gown. Her head was bandaged while her arm had an IV drip needle stuck into it. She was sleeping peacefully.

Arthur and Antony had initially been sitting on the couch. When they saw their mother, they went over.

"Mommy, don't worry anymore. Abby just hurt her head. Her hands and feet have some minor wounds, but she's fine otherwise."

As Antony spoke, he gently patted Elizabeth on her shoulder.

"Do you want to get checked too?"

Seeing her covered in blood, they were quite worried about her.

Arthur walked over to Matthew's side and shot him a cold glance.

Thank you, Mr. Hilton! It's getting late now. I think you should head back."

Chapter 227 Seek Justice

His attitude toward Matthew was as cold as always. It was clear that he was trying to chase the man away.

Matthew swept a glance at him. Admittedly, Arthur's indifferent gaze was very handsome.

Matthew narrowed his eyes. "No problem. I like your mommy. Hence, I do not intend to leave. I will make sure to see her matter to the end," he replied straightforwardly.

Then, he strode over to the bedside.

Arthur watched as Matthew's tall figure went over to his mother. Then, the man laid his hands on Elizabeth's shoulder as an act of comfort

Elizabeth leaned her head on him. Looking at them now, they did look like a parental couple.

Arthur pursed his lips together slightly. For every day that their mother didn't give her approval, they would be sure to watch over her. They would never let her suffer.

The next day, at the Hilton residence.

Chelsea was sitting in the dining room having her breakfast. The sunlight shone in through the long windows and cascaded over her.

She elegantly took a sip of her coffee before turning to look at the door.

“Is Hector still asleep?”

A housekeeper walked in and answered, “Old Mrs. Hilton, Hector is still fast asleep.”

Ever since Hector woke up from his coma, he hadn’t been able to get a good sleep. He often woke up in the middle of the night and would have trouble falling back asleep after.

Since he could sleep until nine o’clock in the morning that day, it seemed like things were getting better.

Chelsea thought back to the night before. Many of their family relatives were asking about what happened.

To be honest, Chelsea wasn’t sure either. The engagement banquet was just about to begin, how could Matt just cancel it.

like that? Regardless, she always supported his decisions no matter what.

At this moment, a housekeeper came in and reported, “Old Mrs. Hilton, the Wade family are here.”

Chelsea set down her cup. She knew that the Wade family would come to stir up trouble. She had no choice but to deal with them.

Although she didn't understand why her grandson would cancel the engagement, she understood his heart.

That day, Chelsea was dressed in a pale blue dress. She looked elegant and classy.

The housekeeper accompanied her out of the dining room and into the living room

All three members of the Wade family were sitting down in the living room, Tiana and her parents.

Tiana tugged at Celine's hand. "Mom, let's go home! I can settle this on my own

She had been completely humiliated the night before All her relatives had questioned her about what was going on.

Seeing the weird gaze in her eyes, they all guessed that she had been abandoned

Despite that, she didn't want her parents to come to stir up trouble at the Hilton residence. After all, the engagement between her and Matthew was nothing more than an agreement.

Matthew didn't want anyone to know about this matter, and neither did she.

Celine gripped her hand tightly "Sweetheart, don't be afraid. What the Hilton family did isn't right. How can you just accept it like that? We must help you seek justice”

Tiana pursed her lips She glanced over at her father, who was nearby. His expression looked even worse

In the Wade family, they cared about their father the most. Since she was young, she knew that as long as her father was happy, she and her mother could continue to live blissfully in the Wade residence

That meant that she could bully Elizabeth as she pleased Even if she decided to chase Elizabeth out, their father would not care

This time, Richard had been very pleased with her. He was proud that she was going to be married off to a good family.

However, now, reality had hit him like a hard slap in the face. There was no way he could feel happy.

Chelsea went over with a smile on her face.

“Sorry for keeping you three waiting”

H

She sat down at the head of the couch.

“Pour the guests some coffee,” she ordered.

The housekeepers immediately went to work. They had assumed that the Wade family was here to create a scene. Hence, they hadn't bothered to serve any refreshments.

Richard looked over to Chelsea and said in a cold tone, "Old Mrs. Hilton, we're here to talk about what happened yesterday. What was Matthew thinking? He was the one who wanted to get engaged. Then, he suddenly canceled it Does he think our daughter is a pushover?"

His voice was cold and firm There was also a very clear tone of anger in his words.

Chapter 228 Nice To Stare At

Chelsea's face was calm Up until now, Matthew had yet to return

Thus, she had no choice but to handle this matter

In a light voice, she answered. "Love is not something we elders have control over What century are we living in? If the kids are unwilling, then forcing them to marry would only make them miserable. Don't you think so, Mr. Wade?"

Richard was rendered speechless. He looked over at Tiana.

"Tia, is your relationship with Matthew going well?"

After Tiana heard her father's question, a trace of panic flashed across her eyes.

There was no love or relationship between her and Matthew at all. She wished there was, but he only ever spoke to her about contracts. He was only ever willing to give her money.

Her gaze shifted around. She wasn't sure what to say.

Even though Matthew wasn't around, she didn't dare to speak out of turn.

"Dad, this is between Matthew and me. You guys shouldn't try to interfere."

With that, she got up to leave.

Tiana couldn't lie anymore. Furthermore, she had no idea what was the reason behind what had happened the night before

Right now, she had become the laughing stock of everyone in Mistwood. Everyone was waiting to see her get ridiculed.

She was mad, but she had no right to ask Matthew for an explanation. After all, they were nothing but parties to a contract. It was her own fault for being useless and failing to secure Matthew's heart.

Seeing his daughter walk away, Richard sighed. Celine was in a tough position as well. She felt like Tiana had changed.

If it were her from the past, she would have stood beside her parents and demanded an explanation from the Hilton family

Celine got up “Darling, let’s go home for now. We’ll let Tia deal with it.

After saying that, she took an icy glance over at Chelsea. Despite her desire to get closer to the Hilton family, what

Matthew did the day before had utterly humiliated their family

Celine had no idea how to explain this to Michael.

Watching the trio leave, Chelsea let out a sigh as her gaze darkened.

“Matt, since you’ve made this decision, good luck!”

Abby had to be hospitalized for the night for observation. Hence, not a single one of them left the ward

There was an extra bed inside the ward Both Arthur and Antony slept on it together Meanwhile, Elizabeth slept in the same hospital bed as Abby

By the time Abby was done receiving her IV drip, it was already six o’clock in the morning, Both Arthur and Antony had fallen asleep earlier Elizabeth had stayed up to make sure Abby finished her IV drip before going to bed

Matthew stayed up to watch Abby finish receiving her IV drip as well. However, he had to sleep on the couch. Due to his tall figure, he was not able to get much sleep on the tiny couch.

The next morning at about nine o'clock, Elizabeth woke up. The first thing she noticed was the man curled up on the couch

His long legs were bent and curled to one side as he slept on his side.

She quietly got up to put a thin quilt over him.

Staring at his handsome face, she couldn't help but think of what had happened the night before. In her moment of despair, his appearance had made her feel safe.

In the car, the scene of him rubbing her legs to keep her warm still made her heart flutter tremendously

This man was really good to her.

She had seen on the entertainment news that Matthew had canceled his engagement. It was most likely that he had abandoned his banquet and guests to head straight to them.

him

At the thought of that, she gazed at him for quite some time.

Meanwhile, Matthew was already awake. He was a light sleeper, so he woke up the moment Elizabeth put the quilt over

He was quite tired, so he had intended to continue resting a while more. Unexpectedly, Elizabeth wouldn't stop staring at him until he felt goosebumps all over his body. Hence, he decided just to get up. He then pulled her over to sit on his lap

Matthew's manly scent suddenly surrounded her, causing Elizabeth to be stunned as she opened her eyes wide.

Matthew wrapped his arms around her slim waist

In a deep, magnetic voice, he asked, "Am I very nice to stare at?"

Elizabeth was dumbfounded. Her face blushed red as she shoved him away.

"Mr. Hilton I don't know what you're talking about."

She struggled to free herself because she was embarrassed. A man that had just woken up was very irresistible. That was how Elizabeth was feeling right now.

Chapter 229 Do Not Bully My Mommy Again

The lady experienced embarrassment due to a person of the opposite gender for the first time in her life. She wanted to distance herself from the man.

eyes

However, Matthew did not allow her to do so. He held on to her narrow waist. Faint amusement flickered in his deep-set “Was Dominic the one who sent you this set of clothes?” he murmured.

It suited her and accentuated her figure perfectly. She was so pretty that she captivated many.

Elizabeth knew that she was not as strong as him and that it was impossible to fight with him.

Thus, she no longer struggled pointlessly and nodded.

“Yes. I was going to be his female partner yesterday night and attend the event with him.”

Yet, she had to go to work. She wanted to apologize to Dominic. I’ll treat him to a meal soon!

It was as if she could cast Dominic aside at the mention of money.

Luckily, Dominic was already used to it. Otherwise, he would not be friends with her.

Matthew went into a daze after she finished speaking. He was a little angry, so he leaned forward and bit her lips.

Elizabeth was hurt by his bite. She furrowed her brows and glanced at him.

“Mr. Hilton, what are you doing?”

His action was a little overboard and too intimate, but it was also a little mischievous.

“You’re not allowed to think of other men when you are with me.”

The duo stared at each other. Matthew’s handsome face was merely an inch away from hers. His stern expression caused her heart to skip a beat.

That man had a sort of power to make people believe and be subdued by him.

She could not help but laugh. “Mr. Hilton, it must be tiring to be your girlfriend. You have too many demands.”

“No. You’ll be very blissful if you are my girlfriend, as I’m very capable in bed.”

Mature adults understood the meaning behind his words.

Even the foolish Elizabeth understood his words. Her face turned red. What does that have to do with me? Men sure love to boast

My Mommy Again

However, when she thought of a certain body part of his, she recalled that it was frighteningly huge. She imagined that it would not be comfortable doing it with him.

Elizabeth was at a loss for words.

She did not understand why she went off–topic because of him Her face flushed even redder as she straightened herself and staggered back.

As she stumbled, she landed on the floor. Matthew frowned mildly at that.

“Why are you behaving like a child? Come back here.”

Is it not comfortable to sit on my laps? Their amicable conversation made him feel better.

As he thought of the small couch that he had slept on the night before, he felt very uncomfortable.

The only thing that consoled him was that he could see her once he woke up. Also, he was able to hug her in his arms.

Elizabeth shook her head. “Mr. Hilton, I’ll go and buy breakfast. You should rest for a while more.”

Her two sons were already awake. They sat up and called out to her

“Mommy!”

Elizabeth glanced at Matthew and walked to the bedside.

“You’re awake? It’s still early. Both of you can sleep for a while more.”

Arthur was already putting on his clothes while Antony still wanted to laze around in bed.

“Mommy, I’ll go and buy breakfast with you.”

Elizabeth chuckled. Arthur always behaves like an adult. No matter what happens, he will be by my side.

She did not reject him as she could tell that he had something to say to her.

The night before, Esme had bought new clothes for her. She went to the bathroom and changed her clothes before leaving the patient ward with Arthur.

Matthew crossed his legs as he sat on the couch. As he stared at the duo's retreating figures, he raised a finger and touched his nose lightly.

If I wish to get Elizabeth, I have to first capture the hearts of her two sons.

He then grabbed his phone and tried to search the internet to find out what five-year-old boys liked.

He reckoned it was the most effective method.

In the business world, he had never used that tactic. Unexpectedly, he had to do so to try and capture a woman's heart.

When Elizabeth and Arthur walked out of the room, the little boy glanced at the nurse's counter

Mommy, let's go and pay the hospital fees

When Elizabeth heard that, her face darkened.

The medical fees in that particular hospital were sky-high. She was truly penniless.

Chapter 230 Purchase A House

Arthur understood her worries and took out a card.

“Don’t worry, Mommy. We have money.”

The money in the card was earned by him and his brother after they made a few defense systems for some companies.

Although they were not recognized on the hackers’ list, they were very interested in hacking. Thus, they left their contact details on the black market and offered to work for a small fee. Thus, many small companies got them to install systems for them.

They had earned a considerable sum of money from it.

Elizabeth stretched out a hand to caress his face. “You’re flipping stocks with Dominic again? As I’ve said, you can’t touch that. Don’t worry about money. I’ll settle it.”

Arthur shook his head. “Mommy, since you’ve forbidden us from doing that, we won’t do so. We’ve earned this money from writing codes. It’s legal.”

Elizabeth knew that the two boys loved computer programming and had been learning it recently. She did not think that they could earn money from it.

She chuckled. "I see! I've misunderstood. Thank you. I'll work hard to earn money in the future and not let you worry about money anymore."

The duo went to ask the nurse about the bill and went to the first level to pay the medical fee.

It was not cheap. They merely paid for a night's stay at the hospital and simple procedures, but it already cost twenty thousand.

Elizabeth looked at the receipt. Although she found it a little heart-wrenching to spend so much, she was glad that Abby was fine. That was the most important thing to her.

Arthur placed the card in her hand. "Mommy, we'll give this card to you to manage in the future. If you want to purchase a house, you can go and take a look at houses with the money."

Arthur and his brother knew that their mother really wanted to purchase a small apartment so that they would have a place to stay in. That way, they no longer needed to worry about losing their house and being forced to move.

Elizabeth's eyes lit up. "How much money is in this card?"

It cost a substantial amount of money to purchase a house.

Arthur said placidly, "Around two million. We can get a small house."

Elizabeth's eyes widened when she heard his words.

"So much?"

My sons are so capable! I can't believe that they can earn so much!

Elizabeth embraced him and exclaimed, "We'll have a house of our own soon!

When Arthur saw the happy look on his mother's face, he flashed a smile as well

Elizabeth was as happy as a child, but Arthur was as calm and composed as an adult.

"Mommy, although Matthew helped you last night, you have to understand that it had nothing to do with your relationship. You don't have to think that you owe him anything and become his girlfriend or reimburse him in any form. I'll thank him with Antony. Let us handle it."

After all, Matthew was about to get engaged the night before. Yet, he canceled the engagement at his whim and fancy and had no sense of responsibility.

He and Antony no longer trusted him. Naturally, they hoped that their mother would not have any connections with the man any longer.

They only had a superior and subordinate relationship. That was enough Arthur, you're just five. You're still a child!

She found that her sons behaved increasingly like adults and did not know who they took after.

The duo proceeded to buy breakfast. She held on to the bags of food, but Arthur took it from her.

"Arthur, I can do it."

"You're a lady. I'll carry them."

After that, he grabbed the breakfast bags from her and turned around. As Elizabeth looked at his straight posture and tiny figure, she smiled faintly.

This little kid is rather gentlemanly. In the future, he'll definitely treat his girlfriend very well.

Just like that, she returned to the hospital and entered the patient ward with empty hands.

In the patient ward, Abby sat at the bedside. She hugged a Barbie doll to her chest as her large eyes shone brightly.

Antony was still asleep. The boy loved sleeping. He could sleep the whole day, especially after staying up for many nights.

Elizabeth glanced at the couch and realized that Matthew was not there.

She then asked, "Where has Mr. Hilton gone? Call him over to have breakfast"

When Abby heard that, she glanced around the room.

"Mr Handsome is also here? Where is he? I'm in a lot of pain, and I need him to blow on my injury
