Chapter 231 Matthew And His Woman

When Elizabeth heard Abby's soft and adorable voice, her heart melted Anyone who heard it would give anything to the little girl.

Elizabeth sat beside the bed and helped her daughter blow on her injuries.

"It's the same if I help you to blow on it.

Abby sat there obediently and let her mother blow on her wounds

She pouted her tiny lips and said, "Linry, I'd prefer it if Mr. Handsome blows on it instead "

It was because he looked like the father in her dreams. The father in her dreams looked just like him and appeared similar to her older brothers.

Elizabeth was not angry. She understood her daughter the most.

"Yes. I'll get him to do so later."

Antony woke up shortly after. He gently rubbed his eyes.

"Mommy, Mr. Hilton left as he has urgent matters to attend to. I've already thanked him."

While he was speaking, his gaze was fixed on Arthur. They were thinking the same thing

If that man wants to get close to our mommy, he has to pass our new test.

The family of four had their breakfast together and left the hospital. Arthur had already settled the discharge procedures, and they only needed to leave.

Esme walked over hurriedly. "Ms. Wade, why have you paid the medical fees? Mr. Hilton told us to give you the treatment for free."

He had just rushed over from home. Matthew got him to head over to settle the matters and send them home.

Unexpectedly, he did not manage to rush over in time to tell them that Matthew had exempted the medical fees for them.

If Matthew knew about it, Esme was afraid that he would be sent overseas to manage gorillas' feces.

He did not wish to go overseas as the malaria situation was very serious there. He was afraid that he would catch the disease and die in a foreign country

Meanwhile, Elizabeth was helping Abby with her shoes.

She replied placidly, "Mr. Mack, we've already paid the fees. It doesn't have to be free. Please help me thank Mr. Hilton for his kind intentions

She held Abby's hand and asked cautiously, "Can you walk, Abby? Do you feel giddy? Do you want me to carry you?"

Chester 231 Matthew And His Woman

Abby was not that delicate She smiled sweetly and replied, "No need I don't feel giddy. I can walk by myself.

The incidents that happened the night before had made her grow up a lot. Her mother was fearless when faced with people with evil intentions Thus, she vowed to be as courageous as her mother and two brothers.

She could handle the small injury and walk by herself.

Esme trailed after them and placed a hand on his forehead.

He secretly prayed that Matthew would not blame him.

Matthew went to the residential building that he had gone to the night before. His long legs stretched out as he paced into.

the house that had three bedrooms. More than ten men were tied up and kept in the house.

When they saw him, their eyes widened.

They did not expect that they would gain the attention of an influential person like Matthew.

Samuel was awakened by the sound of the door opening. Blood was smeared all over his face, and his hands were bound behind his back. He raised his head slightly and stared at Matthew with red-rimmed eyes.

Jake removed the cloth in his mouth and kicked him.

“Do you know who our boss is?”

Samuel had never expected that he would offend such a person when he became a loan shark to earn a living.

They could not afford to offend him and were afraid that they would no longer be able to survive in Mistwood.

“Mr. Hilton, I don’t know how I’ve offended you.

Matthew’s subordinate placed a chair opposite the men. Matthew then sat down and lit up a cigarette.

He inhaled a puff of smoke. There was no expression on his devil-like face as he coldly glanced at them.

He uttered coldly, “You’ve touched someone that you shouldn’t have.”

Samuel froze. “Yesterday night, that woman... Is she your woman, Mr. Hilton?”

The only thing that he could think of was the vicious woman who had beat him up the night before. She was even more ferocious than him. In the end, his face was so swollen as if he had gotten stung by a swarm of bees.

It was all because of that woman. She was too brutal.

Jake nodded slightly. "You're smart. How much did you take from her yesterday night? Return her the full amount."

Samuel's expression changed. As he had expected, the matter was related to that woman.

He suddenly struggled "Mr Hilton, we were blind and did not know that Ms. Wade is your woman. I'll get my men to return the money to her. Please spare us.

Chapter 232 Spare Us

Elizabeth returned home with her children As they had slept very late the night before, all of them took a nap after lunch

At around three in the afternoon, Elizabeth was awoken by the buzz of her phone.

She reached over and grabbed her phone. She took a look and wanted to see who had sent her a message. Unexpectedly, it was a message that informed her of a money transfer

Elizabeth was frightened out of her wits "Ah!"

Her voice resounded in the entire building The money was transferred to her through Paypal and was sent straight to her account.

At the sound of her scream, Cody and the three children ran to her room.

“What’s wrong. Mommy?”

Nervousness was written all over Cody’s face. “What’s wrong, Lizzy?”

Elizabeth shot out of her bed abruptly and hugged Cody before hugging her three children.

Abby’s large eyes sparkled. She wanted to jump with her mother, but her two brothers field on to her hand.

Hence, the little girl could only watch as her mother pranced about in front of them. The three children were stunned and did not know what happy news made their mother react like that.

Their mother was behaving exactly like a child.

Elizabeth finally caught sight of the money in her account. She had one million one hundred thousand, not a penny less.

She blinked her eyes and pondered for a moment.

“Ah, the police have gotten our money back for us. However, the five hundred thousand we had borrowed is returned to

1. us. That’s weird. Should we remind them to take back the five hundred thousand?”

Cody burst out laughing. "You're too kind, Lizzy! It definitely isn't a mistake!"

Such a terrible matter had occurred the night before. Abby had even gotten injured, and Matthew went to settle the matter. The other party would not dare to accept the money and demand funds from them again.

Cody understood many things and had full knowledge of what was going on.

However, Elizabeth was uneasy about that. She had to return what she owed others.

Although she was poor, she would not vie for money that did not belong to her.

7232 Spare Us

She sat on the bed and looked at her three children.

"Have I disturbed your sleep? I'm sorry! If you have not slept enough, you can return and sleep some more.

Abby sat beside her mother and leaned against the latter.

"Lizzy, I was stupid last night and did not walk steadily. I'm very sorry for scaring you Elizabeth beamed and caressed her tiny face.

"I should be the one apologizing for not taking good care of you and letting such things happen to you. I won't do such a thing in the future again."

She vowed that she would never borrow money from loan sharks again. She would be hardworking and work properly so that her children could live a comfortable life.

Antony and Arthur stood across them and looked at the two girls. Amusement shone in their eyes.

They did not understand the mother and daughter's relationship and emotions, but they liked seeing their mother and sister being happy.

After playing with her three children for a while, Elizabeth changed her clothes and headed out.

She drove her red car and went to the loan shark company. The company was still there. When she entered, the receptionist welcomed her warmly.

The receptionist then brought her to the manager's office. Samuel's face was injured badly. The injuries were all given to him by her.

"Samuel, this lady is looking for you."

When Samuel caught sight of her, his eyes widened, and he nearly wanted to dig a hole and bury himself.

Elizabeth walked over calmly and sat on the chair opposite him.

"Samuel, I'll return all the money that I'd borrowed from you."

She then fished out her phone.

"Give me your bank account. Five hundred and fifty thousand. I'll give it to you without missing a cent."

Samuel was very confused. When he recalled her brash attitude the night before, a chill ran down his spine, and his legs trembled violently.

He then thought about Matthew. The woman standing in front of him belonged to the man. If he had not groveled at Matthew's feet for half a day and given some benefits, he would not be sitting there. It was very likely that he would be sent to jail. Even if he were not sent to prison, he would have possibly been crippled.

Samuel raised a hand to wipe his cold sweat away. Ms. Wade, please let me go, he beseeched.

Chapter 233 So Cold

Elizabeth glanced at him coldly and asked. "What do you mean by that? I was planning to ask you to let us go!"

She had children of her own. With her debts cleared, she hoped that they would not bother her family anymore.

Samuel almost went down on his knees. Almost crying, he begged, "Ms. Wade, I'm in the wrong. I will not repeat my mistake again. Please treat that five hundred thousand as the payment for young Abby's medical bills."

A trace of astonishment flashed in Elizabeth's eyes. She had not expected him to have some conscience after all.

She stopped struggling and relented. "All right! Since you said it, the medical bills should be borne by you guys. I only used twenty thousand, so I will transfer the remaining back to you.

fool.

Samuel thought that she was stubborn and one-of-a-kind to let such an offer pass. It was as though the woman was a

However, he learned the hard way last night that she was to be feared when she became driven mad.

“Ms. Wade, let me state explicitly. You are with Matthew, so I can’t offend you. We really don’t want the money. Please don’t come back to us anymore!”

Even loan sharks would be afraid of her.

Hearing Matthew’s name being mentioned, she finally understood that he was really the reason for this.

A slight smile briefly appeared on her face. She then got up and said, “In that case, I’ll stop bothering you.”

She had sensed that the moment she turned up at this office, Samuel was scared witless. She wondered what Matthew had done to him.

Elizabeth left the loan company and got into her car. She then sent six hundred thousand to Jessica.

She texted: Jess, you don’t need to return the money. Take it as a gift from me to Pearl.

After sending that message, she blinked and stared at the clear sky outside with her large eyes. The sun was shining nice and bright that day,

I wonder what Matthew is doing now. Is he still busy at work? It’s already noon. Has he eaten lunch?

She decided to dial his number. After a while, he picked up.

“Hello,”

His tone was rather flat such that she could not detect his emotion. It was as though she was talking to a stranger.

Unexpectedly, Elizabeth felt a little disappointed. Smiling, she asked, “Mr. Hilton, where are you now? I want to tr

At that moment, Matthew was sitting at his office desk. He had been busier today, as he had just attended a video.

conference and was pretty drained.

His voice was quite hoarse due to his excessive smoking.

“I am in my office. I won’t mind a treat. You can come to my office and eat together.”

It turned out that, as the boss of the company, he was really busy even on weekends. On the other hand, she was Thinking about this made her realize that he treated his employee well.

“Sure! I’ll get us lunch and bring it to your office. I’ll be quick and reach within half an hour. If you are hungry, you can.

get some snacks specially prepared for you in the pantry.”

As his personal secretary, she knew his work well.

A light smile broke out on Matthew’s face as his mood was lifted significantly.

“Okay,” he replied with a low tone and hung up the call.

Elizabeth found him very cold, like he was distancing himself. Nonetheless, it was understandable as he had maintained a high status for a long time, causing him to become icy toward others.

Feeling like a relatively wealthy lady now, Elizabeth generously placed an order from Platinum Plate. Instead of choosing their takeaway delivery service, she decided to pick up the food herself.

After that, she went straight to Hilton Group. When she stepped foot into the office, she saw Matthew sitting in his office chair and massaging his temples with his well-defined long fingers.

It was obvious that he was tired.

Elizabeth placed the lunchboxes on the coffee table in the couch area and walked to the back of Matthew. Puffing into her hands to make them warm, she started giving him a head massage from the back.

Although she was not a professional, she was still quite skilled at it.

In the past, back in the Wade residence, Michael would often get headaches. As such, she had to give him a head massage frequently. She even picked up the proper techniques from a professional practitioner, which explained why she was skillful.

The moment Matthew felt the pressure from her fingers, he immediately relaxed.

Chapter 234 Enjoying Lunch Together

Matthew opened his eyes, and with a corner of his lips slightly pursed, he asked, “Elizabeth, it’s your rest day today. What makes you think of treating me to a meal? Actually, I prefer your cooking

Although her cooking was not that good, he still liked it for some reason.

Elizabeth focused on massaging his head, and she felt like she was in an altered spiritual state.

In the past, she was hostile to Matthew because he was Tiana's boyfriend. However, she now treated him as her friend.

To her, he was a very special friend.

"Mr. Hilton, I must thank you for last night. In the future, I will make you dinner every night and tidy up your room based on your meeting schedule."

Lately, she had been slipping away sneakily or deliberately avoiding him.

That was because she did not quite want to admit that he was the reason why she got into debt last time. Now, she was willing to splurge on him..

head.

Matthew raised his eyebrows and said, "No problem. Just treat me nicer next time."

After massaging for a while, she withdrew her hands.

Somehow, Matthew actually felt reluctant for her to stop, as it was very comfortable when her soft hands pressed on his

Elizabeth opened the lunchboxes and laid out the dishes.

"Let's eat, Mr. Hilton!"

She glanced at the time. It was already forty-five minutes past noon. Usually, she would arrange for his lunch to be at twelve-thirty.

Nonetheless, being late by fifteen minutes today did not really matter.

Matthew had a poor appetite due to his irregular mealtimes. He would skip meals when he got swamped.

Furthermore, he needed to drink black coffee every day. As such, she would always add some milk to his coffee.

Matthew got up and sat on the couch.

Elizabeth sat on the carpet in front of him. This was her usual favorite sitting spot.

“Mr. Hilton, what do you think of these dishes?”

Matthew looked at the dishes on the table. There were three meat dishes, two vegetable dishes, and a soup.

This was one of the most generous she had been when she treated him. A slight smile lit up his face.

“Elizabeth, thank you for the expensive treat.”

These were the top dishes at Platinum Plate, so they were more expensive.

Elizabeth bit on her fork and smiled.

“As long as you like it, Mr. Hilton!”

Both of them thus sat across each other and dug in. Occasionally, Elizabeth would help Matthew put some food into his lunchbox before lowering her head to continue eating

Looking at the food in his lunchbox, Matthew put it into his mouth and indulged in its taste.

He found that eating with her really improved his appetite. After the meal, he lit up a cigarette.

He slowly took a puff while fixing his gaze on her. She was still taking small bites.

Suddenly, at that moment, his office door was pushed open, and Tiana walked in.

As she was walking more hurriedly, her high heels made a loud clicking sound when they hit the floor.

Both of them looked up at her, with Elizabeth turning her head.

Tiana’s face changed when she saw Elizabeth.

Standing in front of Matthew, she said, “Matthew, I want to talk to you.

She was deeply affected by the incident last night and had been waiting for him. However, he did not look for her, so she decided to find him on her own.

“Elizabeth, please leave.”

Elizabeth got up abruptly. It was not because she was willing to obey Tiana’s command but because she knew Matthew and Tiana needed to talk.

The cancelation of the engagement ceremony between them, with the Hilton family and the Wade family present, had gotten onto headlines in today's entertainment news. This incident had become a big sensation and stirred up much commotion.

While Hilton Group was relatively unscathed from this, Wade Corporation suffered a huge drop in its market shares, and the latter's financial situation looked grim.

Elizabeth packed up the lunchboxes and walked straight out of the office.

With the two of them left alone in the office, Tiana pursed her lips, sat next to Matthew, and wrapped her hands around his arm

"Matthew, why did you cancel the engagement last night? Didn't we sign the prenuptial agreement? I will be obedient and not tell anyone!"

She did not come to demand an explanation. Instead, she came to assure him to continue keeping her as his girlfriend and carrying on with the engagement.

Matthew was rather taken aback. "Your family must have blamed you after the engagement was canceled. Don't you hate me?"

Chapter 235 Tiana Becomes Smarter

Tiana immediately shook her head. "Why would I? I know this is just a contract, and I will get the extra allowance from our deal to buy more bags"

She suddenly came to realize that a man like Matthew would only ask her to pretend to be his girlfriend because he needed to deceive his family members.

Knowing he was not a man of commitment, she figured sh ould make him think she was in this for money instead of

If he eliminated his ominous feeling toward her, he would likely let her continue to be his fake girlfriend.

Being his girlfriend was enough for her to boast around.

There would be plenty of benefits that come along with that title. Her family would also see her in a new light.

Matthew smiled faintly at her and took out a check before writing ten million on it. Then, he asked, "Is this enough?"

Tiana took over the check and pretended to be ecstatic "Yes, it is. Thanks!"

In fact, money was not that important to her. The Wade family was not short of cash either.

However, she had to make it seem like she was short of money, which was why she acted so excited in front of him.

After saying that, she got up and was about to leave, but she was suddenly reminded of something else. “Matthew, will we still get to work together in the future?”

Matthew stared at Tiana. Although Elizabeth did not like her, Tiana was still kind of useful to him right now.

After all, Hector was not in excellent health, and Matthew needed Tiana to help him complete this act. “Of course. The contract is a year, and I’m yet to terminate the contract.”

He could not agree to proceed with an engagement with her, but he could still let her become his fake girlfriend to deceive

Hector.

Tiana smiled. “All right. Matthew, I look forward to working with you!” She waved at him and added, “I have to go now. There’s a new bag coming in today, and I have to get it.”

She hurriedly left the office, making it seem like she was rushing to get her hands on the new bag.

As Matthew watched her leave, his expression suddenly turned cold.

He took his phone and texted someone: Keep an eye on Tiana and tell me where she is going Arriving downstairs, Tiana got out of the elevator and saw two elegant-looking ladies seated on the couch. They were wearing the trendiest coats of the season.

Both were scrolling through Twitter on their phones, and they only raised their heads when they heard Tiana's high heels clicking on the floor.

"Tia, did he give you an explanation?"

Tiana waved the check to them and said, "Matthew told me he doesn't feel like being tied down by marriage, but he did tell me his love for me is genuine. So he gave me this ten million check to make it up to me."

Adeline took over the check and saw Matthew's si gnature on it.

Denise also took over the check and exclaimed, "Wow! It must feel amazing to have such a great boyfriend! This is ten million! I wish I could find someone like him."

Tiana snatched over the check and stuffed it inside her purse. "He is mine, so the both of you can dream about having him as your boyfriend."

She smiled smugly at the two women who were waiting to see her make a fool of herself, yet reality slapped them hard across their faces.

With these two gossip ladies finding out about this, Tiana knew the news would soon spread throughout the socialites” circle in Mistwood. None of the socialites would dare act against her, and they would get even more envious of her “Let’s go. I want to get myself a new bag.”

She walked toward the exit while swaying her hips. Last night was humiliating for her, but she swore she would use her Matthew trust her.

Gaining his trust would give her access to get closer to him. She believed there would be one day when she would successfully conquer his heart.

Elizabeth took a cup of coffee and served it to his office. “Mr. Hilton, did you two have a fight?”

She knew Tiana too well to know the latter must be infuriated by last night’s incident. Since Tiana was in his office earlier, she guessed they must have fought.

Matthew narrowed his eyes at her, scrutinizing her with a probing gaze. “Do you wish to see us fight?”

Of course, Elizabeth would hope to see them fight. It would be even better if they fought so much that they broke cut all ties with each other.

and

However, she knew she could not be that honest, so she said, "No. I'm just curious."

Chapter 236 She Is Talented

Matthew got a little upset when he saw her looking unbothered

If she were to tell him that she did not want to see him being together with fans, he would do everything, he could to make Tiana disappear without a trace

However, she said nothing at all

Matthew took a sip of the coffee and looked at the time I have to go on the field You may leave now."

Elizabeth watched him get up and walk to his desk with an indifferent expression He took a file and went to the clothes Changer to get his coat. After draping the coat around his arm, he left the office

Not used to him acting, so frosty around her, Elizabeth pouted a little

She was almost sure he was in a bad mood because he had had a fight with Tiana earlier.

Looking at the time, Elizabeth suddenly widened her eyes. "Oh my! I'm going to be late!"

She had a class that day, an extra class personally tutored by Tiffany because the latter had high hopes for her and wanted to spend more time conching her.

there.

Elizabeth sped off in her car to the school. After getting inside the classroom, Tiffany was already making a sample dress

“Tiffany, I’m sorry for being late.”

She stood behind Tiffany with an apologetic look.

Tiffany turned around and smiled at her. “I arrived here slightly earlier than you. Your task today is to broaden your imagination and create a series using the lotus flower as the main theme.”

Elizabeth had self-learned fashion design before, so she knew the basics.

Tiffany did not guide her through the theories, but she focused more on sharpening Elizabeth’s design skills.

Unlike design classes in college, Tiffany taught her the fundamental skills that would come in handy in the industry.

Elizabeth quickly got seated and flipped open her sketchbook. She had her drawing pen between her teeth as she started gathering inspiration for her design.

Two hours passed by in the blink of an eye. Elizabeth had done designing three sets of outfits, and Tiffany’s eyes lit up when she saw the designs.

“Lizzy, your designs are not bad. I can give you a week to finalize the designs so your series can join my new product.

launch three months later.”

Ehaabeth had never dreamt of getting such a great opportunity. “Tiffany, are you serious about that? Can I do that?”

Although passionate about this aspect, Elizabeth had long lost her confidence, and it was not easy for her to be confident in herself again

Tiffany looked at the three sets of dresses in Elizabeth’s design. Although the long and short dresses looked similar, they still stood out in their unique ways.

Moreover, Elizabeth also designed an extra set of pants. The lotus design added a feminine look to the pants. She was really a hidden talent.

She’s certainly my daughter for her to inherit my gifted talents in fashion design.

Trust me. You’re more than capable of doing this,” said Tiffany.

After looking at her design, Tiffany added a couple more strokes, and the designs immediately looked vivid.

She continued pointing out several key points to Elizabeth, and the latter slowly got the hang of it, knowing how to improve and modify her designs.

In the end, Tiffany returned the sketchbook to her and said, "That's all for today. I've highlighted several details for you to take note of. Also, take these books with you and read them thoroughly. I expect to see your designs after a week."

Elizabeth nodded. "All right. Thank you, Tiffany."

Tiffany was a busy woman, and it was a rare opportunity for her to take some time off to tutor Elizabeth. Thus, Tiffany left as soon as the class was over.

After her mentor had left, Elizabeth remained in the classroom. Staring at the design sample Tiffany had completed earlier, Elizabeth figured this dress might be included in Tiffany's new product series for the following fashion season.

Elizabeth propped her chin and was in awe of the beautiful design. She could not help but wonder when she would get to hold her own fashion show.

Suddenly, her phone rang. She answered the call.

"Jess"

It was Jessica. Elizabeth had transferred the money to her account earlier that day, and Jessica probably had just received the notification after waking up.

“Lizzy, what happened? Shouldn’t we return half a million to them?”

Elizabeth chuckled “I thought so too, but they refused to accept the money and even told me to stop going to their office

What can I do?”

Hearing this, Jessica heaved a sigh of relief, thinking they might have gotten their good luck from Matthew,

Chapter 237 Bullied

The two agreed to meet at a private restaurant near the hospital.

Elizabeth finished her classes at around four o’clock in the afternoon. When she arrived at the restaurant, it was already almost six in the evening Hence, she could have her dinner there.

Jessica was not too far away from the restaurant, so she was the one who arrived first.

When Elizabeth walked into the private room, she saw Jessica drinking some alcohol. Hence, she tugged Jessica’s arm as she sat beside the latter. “Don’t drink too much.”

Jessica broke into a smile as soon as she saw her. It was then a trace of vitality finally appeared on her attractive face.

“Lizzy, I’ll ask them to serve the food now. Can you accompany me for some drinks?”

Elizabeth knitted her brows. “What happened?”

After all, she had a low alcohol tolerance. Moreover, Jessica was not someone who enjoyed drinking as she had been selling wines in nightclubs. Hence, she should feel nothing but disgust toward alcohol.

"I'm delighted. Pearl can finally proceed with her surgery next Friday." Jessica hugged Elizabeth as she said that. "Lizzy, finally, this day has come. There's hope for Pearl and me now."

Pearl had been staying in the hospital for two years, and because of that, Jessica had spent everything.

Elizabeth's eyes lit up. "They've found her the bone marrow? That's great! We have to celebrate." Patting Jessica's shoulder, she added, "I'll have some drinks with you today."

Just then, the waiter came in to serve the food. Elizabeth poured herself a glass of alcohol before filling Jessica's glass.

"Jess, things will get better for Pearl and you."

As long as they could leave the hospital, everything would definitely get better.

Elizabeth recalled how rough things were for Jessica over the past two years. She had to take care of Pearl in the hospital in the morning, and she needed to work at Night City at night. She had spent almost all her time in the hospital as if she was a resident there.

A bright smile bloomed on Jessica's face. She raised her hand and clinked her glass with Elizabeth's. "We'll all become better."

Jessica had finished a few glasses of alcohol before Elizabeth arrived at the restaurant. They then enjoyed their food and alcohol while playing some drinking games together.

Not long after, Jessica was a little drunk. Hence, she told Elizabeth about something that had been troubling her recently.

"Lizzy, you know Leonard, don't you?"

For some reason, Elizabeth felt the white wine tasted nice too. The more she drank, the more enjoyable she felt. Holding her glass, she nodded vigorously at Jessica. "Of course, I know him! Mr. Johnson is Matthew's childhood friend."

Jessica sent another spoonful of food into her mouth. Biting her food angrily, she said, "He's such a badass in bed! He's always asking me to try a lot of embarrassing positions! I..." She then covered her face and continued, "Lizzy, I was once married, and I've given birth to a daughter. However, I have no experience in that area."

Elizabeth widened her eyes. "What? Did Leonard bully you?"

That was the only thing she understood. As for the "positions" Jessica mentioned, she did not quite get what the latter meant.

Jessica nodded. "Yes. He bullied me! He's a bad man."

She thought of how Leonard bullied her by forcing her to sleep with him every night for over half a month.

Fortunately, there were only a few days left. As long as Pearl finished her surgery, Jessica would have nothing to do with Leonard anymore.

At that thought, Jessica let out a sigh of relief. I've finally made it through.

Upon hearing what Jessica said, Elizabeth could no longer hold back her anger. She took out her phone and called Leonard without hesitation.

"Hello?" Leonard's cold yet magnetic voice sounded from the other end of the line.

"Leonard, you b'stard! Why did you bully Jessica? Come out and challenge me one-on-one now!"

Jessica broke into laughter. After drinking another glass of alcohol, she poked Elizabeth's head. "Silly girl. He's a soldier, and he's good at fighting! There's no way you'll beat him. You'll even get yourself injured for nothing.

Elizabeth could not care less about that. She continued shouting through the phone. "Leonard, come to Moore Restaurant now! I'll be waiting for you here. If you don't come, I'll go to your place!"

After hanging up the call, she continued cursing, "That d'mned man! How dare he bullies my Jess. I'll beat him to death.”

Leonard was perplexed as he did not know why he got scolded out of the blue. However, he could tell from the call that Elizabeth and Jessica were drunk.

Chapter 238 Diamonds

The two then continued drinking Elizabeth propped her chin and looked at Jessica. “Jess, do you think he’ll dare to come?”

There was no way she would swallow her anger. At that point, she could only feel better after beating Leonard up.

Jessica shook her head. “No. I guess he won’t!”

Truthfully, she did not understand Leonard well. After all, the only thing they did was being intimate with each other every time they met. They seldom had. any conversations.

What kind of a person is he? I don’t know a single thing about him.

Elizabeth laughed. “That’s great. What if I can’t defeat him later?”

With that, the two laughed out loud. Jessica caressed Elizabeth’s face, saying, “Lizzy, you’re so cute!”

Elizabeth was exceptionally adorable after she was drunk because she would blabber everything in her mind.

Around thirty minutes later, two tall and slender figures entered the private room and walked to the side of each woman.

Matthew bent down and called out at Elizabeth, "Elizabeth, who told you to drink?"

This woman will go unbelievably crazy as long as she drinks.

After all, Matthew had experienced that before. He almost slept with her just because she was drunk. Since then, he realized that it was dangerous for her to get drunk.

Elizabeth widened her eyes to look at his handsome face that was so close to her. Chuckling, she reached out a hand to touch it. "You're so handsome! I wonder why you look a little familiar."

Matthew's face darkened in an instant. "You don't recognize me anymore?"

Suddenly, a woman's shriek sounded from the side.

"Leonard, why are you here?" Jessica shifted her body toward Elizabeth. She was utterly terrified as she thought of how domineering Leonard was in bed.

As soon as Elizabeth heard the name "Leonard," she stood up abruptly to shield Jessica. "You're finally here. Come on! Let's fight!"

Leonard furrowed his brows and looked at Matthew, who stood behind Elizabeth, to ask for his help.

Unfortunately, Matthew did not say anything. He stood still and watched them silently because he was dissatisfied with the fact that Elizabeth had forgotten him.

Clenching both of her fists, Elizabeth got herself ready for the battle. "Come on! I'm not afraid of you. How dare you ask Jess to try different positions with you in bed! Do you think you can bully any woman like that?"

As soon as she said that, Leonard widened his eyes in shock Matthew's face instantly reddened. What Elizabeth said was too embarrassing that he found it hard to listen to it anymore.

Flashing a smile, he asked, "Luke, what's going on between you and Ms. Frye?"

Leonard could not help but laugh "Yes. I've slept with her multiple times before."

Matthew felt that his ego as a man was hurt. After all, he met Elizabeth before Leonard met Jessica Unexpectedly, Leonard managed to sleep with Jessica before he could even intimate with Elizabeth.

In an instant, a wave of jealousy washed over Matthew.

He dragged Elizabeth to his side and walked away with his arm around her.

Elizabeth did not want to leave. Struggling, she stretched her arms toward Jessica.

“Leonard, come and fight me one-on-one now! I’ll show you some colors so you won’t have the audacity to bully Jess in the future. No one can bully her as long as I’m with her!”

Her sentences were choppy. However, they could understand what she said.

Leonard noticed that Matthew had stopped Elizabeth. Hence, he assumed that he should be safe now.

Otherwise, he would end up getting punched that night.

Matthew shoved Elizabeth into the car before getting inside as well. Then, he said to the driver coldly, “Let’s go back.”

Elizabeth accidentally knocked her head when Matthew pushed her into the car. It was so painful that she started wailing

“It hurts!”

Matthew frowned as he pulled her into his embrace. Blowing her forehead gently, he asked, “It doesn’t hurt anymore, right?

He felt like he was coaxing a kid. However, he enjoyed doing so.

Elizabeth broke into a smile upon feeling his warmth. “Yes. As long as you shower it with love, it’ll stop hurting”

That was what she used to tell Abby. Hence, she thought the same too.

Matthew wrapped his arms around her. He was a little tired at that moment as he had stayed up late last night. Moreover,

he did not sleep well as he had to take his rest on the small couch that night

Soon, he started feeling sleepy with Elizabeth in his arms.

Lying against his chest, Elizabeth played with the diamond buttons on his shirt with her dainty hands.

Her big, bright eyes flickered as she whispered, “Abby, I’ve found some diamonds! I’ll bring back some for you. You’ll

Chapter 239 Car Accident

Matthew glanced down, noticing that she was taking off his buttons one by one.

He grabbed her wrist and uttered in a low voice, “Elizabeth, do you know what these are?”

She lifted her head, but everything in front of her was fuzzy Concurrently, she could feel the world spinning around her.

She fixed her attention on the diamond buttons, and all she could see were only those shiny objects.

“Wow! Diamonds! There are diamonds growing on this wall! How shiny!”

Matthew’s expression grew increasingly darker, What the hell? This woman is such an idiot when she gets tipsy,

"I'm warning you, Elizabeth Stop ripping off these buttons. Or else, I won't let you off."

As he said that, Matthew smiled mischievously.

Meanwhile, Elizabeth was not a tad bit bothered by what the man'said. She could feel the greed growing inside her, as she wanted nothing but to pick those diamonds for her daughter.

Just then, Matthew's phone rang. He grabbed it and answered the call.

"Yes?"

It was Leonard on the phone.

"Matt, I'm amazing, am I not? Look, I've successfully conquered Jessica! How about you? When are you going to get

Lizzy?"

As he chuckled on the phone, there was a hint of mockery in his voice.

Matthew's expression changed slightly. He said coldly, "Are you underestimating me? I couldn't bear to do something to her. You should be careful. They merely want your bone marrow. Don't lose your bone marrow and your job because of some fun!"

With that said, he let out a scoff and said, "Bye, I'm hanging up."

After answering the call from Matthew, Leonard looked at the woman in his embrace and suddenly realized something

Her intention to sleep with me is to get my bone marrow for her daughter! If everything goes as planned, they will be extracting my bone marrow next Friday.

As that thought crossed his mind, he pushed her away from his arms.

“D*mn, I don’t want to lose my job!”

Meanwhile, Matthew put his phone back in his pocket and chuckled.

Luke wanted to show off, but I guess he wouldn’t have any mood to do anything tonight! I feel great now!

On the other hand, Elizabeth was ripping off the buttons from his shirts and collecting them in her hand. She let out a chuckle uncontrollably each time she looked at those buttons.

“Haha! There are so many diamonds!”

Seeing her greedy side, Matthew found her adorable. With that, he lowered his head to give her a peck on her cheek.

However, Elizabeth was clueless and giggled like a fool at the buttons in her grasp.

Matthew looked at her, feeling amused. Well, I guess it’s true that all women love shiny objects.

He then pulled the necklace on her neck lightly and asked, "Is this not enough for you?"

Glancing down, she nodded her head vigorously.

"I want more."

Matthew raised an eyebrow and replied, "I'll give you more tomorrow. But first, you have to be a good girl and satisf tonight. All right?"

Meanwhile, Larry, who was driving, overheard their conversation. Upon hearing those words, the man blushed immediately.

Overwhelmed with shyness, Larry did not notice the car in front and crashed into it.

As Matthew held Elizabeth in his arms, the force caused them to lunge forward to the front seat. Consequently, both of them hit their heads. Elizabeth whimpered in pain and lost all the buttons in her hand.

"Ouch!" Instinctively, she rubbed her forehead.

"What happened?" Matthew scrunched his brows in confusion.

"Mr. Hilton, I-I- just hit a car," Larry stammered in panic.

Matthew then rubbed Elizabeth's forehead and coaxed her, "Don't worry. It won't be that painful soon."

Hearing Hat, she stopped throwing tantrums and leaned against his chest obediently.

Just then, there was a knock on the car window. Standing outside the car was Dominic.

"Mr. Hilton, what a coincidence! Our cars collided on the road!"

As he said that, Dominic took a look at Elizabeth and called out to her, "Arthur and Antony asked me to get you home,

Lizzy."

Hearing the familiar voice bringing up her sons' names, she immediately straightened herself.

289 Car Accident

There, Dominic Send me home"

As she said that, it seemed like she suddenly regained her senses. She stayed still, waiting for Dominic to pick her blinking her huge eyes.

Chapter 240 Vomited

She hugged her knees tightly to her chest, looking like an obedient girl.

From the surface, one could not possibly tell that Elizabeth was, in fact, already drunk.

Hearing Elizabeth's voice, Dominic knocked on the car window and voiced, "Mr. Hilton, I'm here to pick Lizzy up. Can you please open the door for me?"

However, Matthew was displeased. He locked the car door, and Dominic could not open the door from the outside.

Elizabeth turned sideways and took a glance. "Dominic, I'm here. Dominic! Are you coming to get me up yet?"

There was a hint of frustration in her voice. As a matter of fact, Dominic would always send her home when she got drunk

Hence, she felt safe hearing his voice,

Matthew uttered aloofly, "Start the car."

Larry wanted to get down from the car to resolve the accident but had a change of mind upon witnessing everything

Hearing Matthew's instructions, he had no choice but to start the car according to his employer's command.

The moment Larry drove away, Elizabeth's phone rang

She threw everything out of her bag, grabbed her phone, and picked up the call.

"Hello?"

"Lizzy, ask Matthew to stop the car.

Dominic sounded frosty when he said that. Later, he added, "Arthur and Antony asked me to pick you up. They're waiting for you at home."

Hearing that, Elizabeth started to get a little impatient.

"Stop the car."

Larry slammed his foot on the brake immediately. Elizabeth swiftly pushed open the car door, and Dominic rushed up to get her out of the car.

"Lizzy, did he bully you?"

Shaking her head, Elizabeth waved at the car and voiced, "Goodbye, Mr. Hilton!"

Matthew merely watched her walk away with his brows furrowed, feeling utterly upset.

She knows who I am. Why is she walking away with another man?

Noticing the darkened expression on Matthew's face, Larry dared not to say a word and decided to stay still.

*Drive

Larry could feel his heart racing upon hearing his cold command. Without hesitation, he revved up the engine and left the place

“Wrong direction. Follow Dominic’s car.”

His words left Larry slightly taken aback, as the latter assumed that Matthew was mad and preferred to go home instead.

Never had he thought that his employer wanted to tailgate Dominic. Obediently, he made a U–turn and followed

Dominic’s car closely behind

Inside Dominic’s car, Elizabeth sank back into the passenger’s seat, feeling sleepy, but she found it difficult to fall asleep.

“Dominic, are we reaching home yet?”

The man turned around to look at her. His eyes instantaneously dimmed with anguish. She would have been taken away by Matthew if I didn’t make it in time just now. I can’t imagine what would happen to her tonight if I didn’t appear.

“Lizzy, Matthew isn’t a good guy. It’s best for you to keep a distance from him. Do you want to consider working at Campbell Corporation? The pay there will be higher than what be offered you”

In fact. Elizabeth would have gone to Campbell Corporation long ago if she wished to rely on Dominic

Nevertheless, she had never thought of going to Campbell Corporation. She merely felt thankful to Dominic for saving her and her children's lives a few years back

To avoid conflict between Dominic and Shelby, Elizabeth had chosen to keep a distance from Dominic, no matter how hard it was for her.

The moment the car stopped. Elizabeth could feel her stomach rumble uncomfortably Dominic hugged her in his arms, planning to carry her down. It was at that moment Elizabeth suddenly felt an urge to puke

The next second, she started to gag on his chest

After throwing everything up. Elizabeth felt better in an instant

Meanwhile, Dominic's features darkened like coal

Seeing that the driver in the front seat was stunned "Mr. Campbell," he uttered.

Dominic raised his hand, gesturing him to stay silent

He then took a serviette and handed it over to Elizabeth Grabbing it over, she wiped her mouth and muttered, "I'm sorry,

Dominic. I couldn't control myself. Don't get too close to me the next time when I'm drunk

Elizabeth had drunk too much that night She tried to stay conscious a while ago but ended up vomiting, metred

She felt so much better after throwing up, nonetheless.

Her vision was no longer blurry. The next instant, she cast a glance on Dominic's exorbitant shirt.

She could not bring herself to look at it. As she took another look, a feeling of nausea came over her again
