

Game Over 371

Chapter 371 Do Not Need To Do Anything

Klabeth helped Dominic onto the bed Then, she stood aside as she wanted to hear what the doctors had to say

When she saw Nicolas, she realized he was also staring at her

Elizabeth forced out an awkward simile and stammered. "I I'm here to bring him breakfast "

Nicolas looked at the man on the bed. Poor guy. He is now blind.

However, Nicolas did not expect Elizabeth to be taking care of Dominic there. He even recal headache in the morning called Matthew calling him after he woke up with Matt was injured because he was trying to protect her, but she is here taking care of another man mstead.

He was a little upset, but he did not say anything

The attending doctor began to discuss Dominic's condition with him.

"Mr. Campbell, rest well. You'll definitely get better." Nicolas said.

After he said that, he left, surrounded by the doctors. He was still discussing Dominic's condition with them as they were leaving.

Elabeth was stunned. What a coincidence. I can't believe I ran into Nicolas while he is doing his rounds. However, he doesn't seem to be from this department.

She did not think things would turn out like this before. However, after thinking about it now, Nicolas was the director of the hospital, so it was possible for him to show up anywhere there.

Dominic waited for a moment. After seeing no movement from Elizabeth, he asked, "Lizzy, is my breakfast ready?"

Elizabeth came to her senses as she quickly went to get the small table and draped a tablecloth over it.

Then, she started feeding him breakfast, but she seemed lost in her thoughts.

Nicolas came across the scene when he entered the ward once again, so he took a photo with his phone.

Dominic actually saw that, but he had to continue to pretend to be blind at that moment. Thus, he pretended he did not see it as he opened his mouth to eat his breakfast.

Nicolas had wanted to ask when Elizabeth would be returning to the company as he had prepared some medicine for her to bring back to Matthew. However, he decided it was best not to disturb them right now.

Dominic's lips curled up into a subtle smile after Nicolas left the room.

Nicolas will tell Matthew about this even if I don't do anything. I won't let Lizzy go this time. She is mine!

Meanwhile, Celine had fallen ill in the Wade residence, and she could not get out of bed.

After Tiana visited her, she left the Wade residence and went to the Hilton residence.

She immediately came across the heartwarming scene of Chelsen and Hector having breakfast together in the garden when she stepped inside their compound

Chelsea was eating on her own, while a housekeeper was feeding Hector.

Chelsea sipped her tea elegantly and glanced at Hector with a smile on her face.

“Hector, this oatmeal porridge tastes good. You should have more.”

Hector had a darkened expression on his face as he slapped his thighs. Chelsea could probably guess what he meant by that now.

“You’re saying Matt hasn’t been back in a while, right?”

Hector was no longer slapping his thighs and kicking up a fuss. He was staring at Chelsea instead, so she knew she had made the correct guess.

Chelsea sighed and said, “He is handling the entire Hilton Group alone. Hilton Group is so big right now, so he is very busy. He’s gone on a business trip and will be back by next week.”

After Hector heard that, he turned his face away and refused to eat anymore.

The housekeeper felt conflicted, so she turned to Chelsea for instructions Chelsea waved to tell her it was all right.

She knew that Hector missed Matthew, but she also missed him too. Matthew was the only child in the Hilton family, so it made sense for Hector to be worried about him.

Back then, if it weren't....

Her expression changed when she thought about her own son. She did not want to think about what happened years ago.

If we had lived a normal life and those things didn't happen, Matthew wouldn't have been the only child in the Hilton family. We would have so many grandchildren.

Tiana walked up to them and greeted them with a smile, "Hector, Old Mrs. Hilton."

Chelsea noticed Tiana was there, so she asked, "Have you had your breakfast?"

"I have already eaten," Tiana replied as she sat down and looked at Hector.

She really hoped that Hector was healthy right now.

If that were the case, Matthew would never be together with Elizabeth, and she would already be married into the Hilton family. The more Tiana thought about sadder she became, so she hoped that Hector would get better soon.

Chapter 372 Tiana Wanted To Heal Hector

Chelsea and Tiana did not know each other well. Besides, the one Chelsea liked was Elizabeth, so she felt guilty for sitting and chatting with Tina right now.

Chelsea stood up and said, "I'll get something from upstairs. Tia, you stay here and keep Hector company."

"All right. Don't worry, Old Mrs. Hilton. I'll take good care of Hector," Tina said as she nodded.

Tiana was willing to do anything to leave a good impression when she came to the Tilton residence.

Hector's face darkened, and he became upset when he saw Tiana.

The housekeeper and the nurse noticed that, but they did not dare to say anything, so they just looked on.

Tiana handed him a cup of tea and asked, "Hector, do you want to have some tea? I'll help you."

She was slightly disappointed when Hector turned his face away and refused to drink. Dad said Hector likes me, but why do I not feel that? Hector looks annoyed whenever I'm here, and I think he hates me. Am I imagining things? Probably! After all, he used to be an influential figure. Unlike normal people, he conceals his emotions well.

Tiana felt better after she thought about it that way

Then, she smiled at Hector and said, "Hector, how about I come and keep you company every day?"

Since he likes me, I should be around him every day so that he would like me even more! Then, he would urge Matthew to marry me, and I could finally be married into the Hilton family! I could finally embarrass Elizabeth once I become Mrs. Hilton!

She was overjoyed as she imagined the scenario in glee..

Suddenly, her phone rang. There was a diamond around her finger, and her long manicure looked beautiful

However, she looked like a witch in Hector's eyes. Why do you even keep such long fingernails? It must be so hard to use the bathroom!

People like Hector thought a woman's hands should be kept clean and simple.

Tiana looked at her phone and realized that it was a message from one of her friends, therine Hooper.

Catherine texted: Tia, my dad can cure the condition that you mentioned. You should bring him over for my dad to have a look.

Tiana's eyes lit up as her fingernails danced across the phone. She had a hard time but she finally managed to type out a message.

She replied: Really? He can't move his legs right now, and his hands are not working well. He also has trouble speaking, but he is still clear in the head.

Catherine: My dad is a professional practitioner. Acup described.

1/2

is his forle, a

and he has cured many people with symptoms that you just

Tiana's eyes lit up in excitement when she read message.

Hector, I have a friend that says her father can cure you. Why don't we go and visit him?" she asked.

Hector's eyes also lit up in excitement. He did not really believe it, but he wanted to become well again.

Tiana could see Hector wanted to get well, so she asked Catherine to send her the address.

"Hector, let's go over there right now!"

She turned to the housekeeper and said, "I'm bringing Hector to see a doctor. All of you should come along too."

She knew it was impossible for her to bring Hector over by herself as she would not be able to bear the responsibility if anything happened.

Right at that moment, Chelsea came out and asked, "Where are you all bringing Hector?"

Tiana walked up to Chelsea and showed her phone to the latter excitedly.

"Old Mrs. Hilton, my friend's father is a professional practitioner, and they have been professional practitioners for five generations. She says her father can cure Hector," she said.

Chelsea refused to believe it and shook her head says

“Forget about it. You don’t need to worry about Hector’s condition,” she said.

Then, she turned to the housekeeper and ordered coldly, “Bring Hector to his room.

Tiana became anxious, but the housekeeper and the nurse had already pushed Hector into the house. She strained her neck and looked at Hector in desperation.

“Old Mrs. Hilton, why don’t you also head over and have a look? Isn’t it a good thing if the doctor can really cure Hector?” she asked.

Chelsea had lived a long life, and she was a wise woman.

If the doctor can really cure Hector, why hasn’t Matthew visited him already?

Chelsea only trusted Matthew right now, and she refused to trust anyone else. She wanted Matthew to research thoroughly as she would never put Hector at risk again.

Chapter 373 Stay By My Side

Tanna was very disappointed. Her eyes looked upward as she thought about how she could help Hector recover.

Chelsea was holding a rosary in her hand. She pushed each bead forward as she mumbled.

She didn't usually believe these things, but seeing the situation of the Hilton family now, she started to believe it, hoping that it would bring a new baby to the family,

She hoped that God could bless Hector to recover and that Matthew could get married and have children as soon as possible.

Most importantly, she wished that the Hilton family could have more great-grandchildren, then it would be perfect.

"Tia, as you can see, Hector has not been in good health recently. You should come to see him after some time Tiana kept looking into the house, wondering what she should do next.

As she heard Chelsea's words, she picked up her bag and said, "Old Mrs. Hilton, I'll leave then. I'll return to visit Hector after a few days."

Upon finishing her words, she turned around, and her expression immediately turned cold. If it wasn't because she wanted to marry into the Hilton family, she wouldn't have been so nice to Chelsea.

That was because the person that Chelsea liked and supported was Elizabeth instead of her.

As Tiana thought about that, she became unhappy, and her eyes darkened and became more sinister.

When she returned to the car, the driver asked, "Ms. Tiana, where are we heading to?"

Tiana was mad to hear the driver address her as Ms. Tuana. "Who allowed you to call me Ms. Tiana? I am Ms. Wade "

The driver was was stunned for a moment. It was Michael's order as the Wade family would be holding a banquet soon to bring Elizabeth back and let everyone know she was Ms. Wade, the eldest daughter of the Wade family

Looking at the puzzled driver who did not correct himself, Tinna asked coldly, "Is this Grandpa's order?"

"Yes," the driver replied calmly and then started the car.

Tiana picked up her bag and hit the driver's head, saying, "How rude! Did I order you to start the car?"

The driver could only stop to let Tiana vent her anger on him and beat him. Only when his face was full of scratches did Tiana stop.

"Let's go! I want to go to Hilton Group"

The driver raised his hand to touch his face and head. He was furious and felt unlucky to have to serve a person like Tiana.

Meanwhile, Elizabeth accompanied Dominic until he finished his breakfast. Then, she packed up the meal box.

"Dominic, I have to go to work now. I won't be coming over in the afternoon. Eat your lunch obediently, and don't make me worried, okay?"

She looked at the time and it was almost nine o'clock in the morning. Fortunately, the company was nearby and would only take five minutes to drive there.

Dominic suddenly grabbed her hand. "Lizzy, can you not go to work at Hilton Group anymore?"

One could obviously tell that the reason Matthew arranged for Elizabeth to go to work at Hilton Group was that he wanted to woo her.

Elizabeth pursed her lips as she looked at the hand Dominic was holding

"Dominic, I can come and take care of you, but my work and lifestyle cannot be changed. Do you understand?"

Elizabeth liked her work and life now, and she didn't want any change to it.

Dominic could tell that Elizabeth was reluctant to leave Matthew. He began to wonder what kind of spell Matthew had put Elizabeth under for her to be so obsessed with him.

"Lizzy, I am actually very scared. My world is so dark now. I... need you Elizabeth felt a twitch in her heart as she remembered Dominic was blind now.

He must be terrified to be living in darkness.

After thinking for a moment, Elizabeth realized this was the time for her to repay Dominic. Since Dominic needed her now, she could take leave of absence for a while and return to work when Dominic recovered.

"Dominic, I understand how you feel I am going to apply for leave now and will be back soon."

She withdrew her hand and rushed out of the ward. Dominic wanted to stop her but was too late.

Gazing at her back, the light in Dominic's eyes flickered.

If Elizabeth were to ask for leave from Matthew, they would definitely quarrel

Chapter 374 Beg Him

Elizabeth walked toward the CEO's office hastily. She saw the colleagues in the cubicles dispersed as soon as they saw her, but she did not care about it.

After all, the news that Matthew was injured in the office and Elizabeth had not returned to the office because she was accompanying him in the hospital had been spread out. The people in the office were probably having all kinds of speculation about what happened.

Elizabeth pushed the door open and entered the office. She saw Tiana sitting on the couch from far, with Matthew sitting opposite her

She wondered what the two were discussing. Tiana was smiling, seemingly very happy.

Elizabeth put down her bag. Her big eyes were looking in their direction from time to time

Matthew knew she was there, but he ignored it. He put his hands together and crossed his fingers.

"Ms. Wade, our agreement ends here."

Matthew tore the agreement in front of her upon finishing his words.

Tiana nodded and said, "All right, Mr. Hilton. Thank you for your lips."

She picked up the check and winked at him.

"Mr. Hilton, if you ever need me again, feel free to find me

Matthew stood up and rephed, "Goodbye."

Tiana still had a smile on her face, but deep down, she was very mad. She thought she could continue cooperating with Matthew and use his name outside, but he was too heartless. The first thing he did when they met was throwing her a check, followed by tearing off the contract. He did not give her a single chance.

Tinua smiled at Elizabeth when she passed by her.

"Lizzy, Grandpa said it's time to bring you home. Besides, it's about time for the marriage between you and Dominic. Congratulations!"

Elizabeth's expression slightly darkened when she heard Tiana's words, but the latter smiled and mouthed her words. If I don't get Matthew, you won't either.

Upon finishing. Tiana pushed the door open and left while Elizabeth pursed her lips slightly.

If Michael wanted to bring Elizabeth home, it would definitely have something to do with Tiana. Of course, Tiana wouldn't let Elizabeth return to the Wade residence so easily. Her motive was to let Elizabeth and Dominic get married.

Matthew returned to his seat and began getting busy with his work. On the other hand, Elizabeth took some time to calm herself as she thought about what she should do.

As she regained her senses, she looked toward Matthew, who was busy working. He still had a band-aid on his forehead, but it did not affect his appearance as it seemed to have added a little charm to him instead.

Elizabeth stood up and walked to Matthew's side. "Mr. Hilton, how are you feeling today?"

1/2

Seeing that he was in good spirits and looking handsome after discharging from the hospital, Elizabeth figured that Matthew should be recovering very well.

Matthew gave her an indifferent glance. "Do you care about my feelings?"

He was unhappy that Elizabeth went to the hospital to take care of Dominic immediately after she woke up.

Elizabeth took a deep breath and held back her anger when she thought about Matthew being injured because of her.

She walked to his back and wrapped her arms around his neck

"Matthew, don't be mad. Dominic is blind now. I can't just ignore him. He saved my life."

Matthew furrowed his brows. "Don't ever go to the hospital again. I will find him the best doctor to treat him."

Matthew wanted to repay Dominic for Elizabeth.

Elizabeth smiled and kissed him on his face.

"Matthew, you are the best! But I want to repay him myself."

She kissed his face a few more times and said. "I want to take a month off. Once his vision recovers, I will come back. Okay?"

When Matthew heard that, his expression, which had softened up, instantly turned cold, and he pulled her to sit on his lap.

The two pairs of eyes met. His gaze was as cold as ice.

“Elizabeth, are you really giving up on your work for that guy? If that’s so, you are not allowed to take a month off, but you can resign.

The office instantly became silent. Only the sound of their breathing could be heard.

Elizabeth’s expression turned sad. Matthew, I beg you. It was Dominic who helped me in my most difficult times. Now is his most difficult time, and I can’t just leave him like that.”

Chapter 375 Resignation

Matthew’s expression darkened as he scoffed. “Elizabeth, since you have decided, then we’ll follow according to your decision.”

He pushed her away, picked up the landline phone, and dialed an internal line,

“Come to the CEO’s office. Take Elizabeth to complete the procedure for her resignation.”

Upon hearing those words, Elizabeth’s eyes widened, and her voice deepened as she spoke.

“Matthew, L...”

I only wanted to take some time off work, but this guy made me resign right away

Elizabeth immediately burned with rage as she wondered if Matthew didn’t understand what she said earlier

At that moment, the manager of the HR department came. He nodded to Matthew respectfully when he entered the office.

Elizabeth couldn't possibly refuse to leave as the manager was already there.

Therefore, she glanced at Matthew coldly before turning around and walking back to her seat. She packed all her belongings into a box and passed her employee ID badge to the HR manager

"Help me sign the documents. I still need to take care of Dominic at the hospital."

She strode out of the CEO's office with her box while the HR manager was momentarily stunned.

He looked at Matthew and asked, "Mr. Hilton, what should we do now?"

As expected from the person Mr. Hilton likes Ms. Wade's temper is no joke.

Matthew's expression was grim. He said in a cold tone, "You sign for her. Pay her another five months of wages."

The HR manager replied, "Noted, Mr. Hilton"

It seems like the two are quarreling again, but Mr. Hilton's so nice to a woman that he even pays her five months of extra wages.

As Elizabeth walked out of the CEO's office with the box in her arms, Gracie and Esme came up to her.

"Ms. Wade, what happened?"

Elizabeth looked at her two colleagues with whom she got along well the most. They were also the ones who took great care of her at work.

“I resigned.”

Gracie and Esme were slightly startled but quickly returned to their senses. They thought that it wouldn't matter if Elizabeth worked or not because sooner or later, she would become Mrs. Hilton.

1/2

They thought Elizabeth's resignation meant that she would be getting married to Matthew soon, so they both smiled.

“Congratulations!”

Elizabeth was stunned to hear them congratulate her. She wondered why they would congratulate her when she had just resigned.

Are they congratulating me for finally being free from the devil, Matthew?

The corner of her lips raised faintly as she said, “I have to go now. We can meet up sometime to have lunch.”

Gracie and Esme walked her into the elevator and smiled while sending her away.

The glimmer in Elizabeth's eyes faded as the elevator door shut. She was quite reluctant to leave because of the company's high pay. Her heart ached as she thought about that.

However, when she thought of Matthew's heartless action, she didn't believe she could not get a better job in the future.

She had no confidence in herself because even if she had the capability, she had no qualifications, so it would not be easy to land a job with good pay.

Elizabeth pursed her lips and mumbled to herself, "Elizabeth, don't be afraid. You can't be an ungrateful person. Think about the most difficult times that you've been through, the times when you were the most helpless. Who was the one who helped you? Dominic needs you now, and the only way to have a clear conscience is to help him recover

After thinking about that, her negative thoughts disappeared, and she stopped thinking about other matters

The atmosphere in Matthew's office was very tense. The HR manager quickly left the office. As he left, he bumped into Esme. Esme called out to him, "Are you here to handle Ms. Wade's resignation procedures?"

The HR manager nodded. "Yes, Mr. Mack. You seem to be in a good mood today."

He saw Esme walking over with a smiling face as if something good was going to happen.

Esme raised his eyebrows and grinned. "Of course. If the boss is happy, we as his subordinates should also be happy."

The HR manager was stunned momentarily. The atmosphere in the CEO's office is very tense now. Are you sure he is in a good mood?

"Mr. Mack, go ahead with your work. I have to go back to work now,"

Esme narrowed his eyes as he noticed the expression on the HR manager's face when he left. What did that expression mean?

Chapter 376 Missing Elizabeth

Esme did not think much about it. He knocked on the CEO's office door, strode into the office, and placed the document in his hand on Matthew's desk.

"Mr. Hilton, this document requires your signature."

When Matthew was signing the document, Esme turned his hand to look at Elizabeth's desk. It was still the same as before.

Esme said with a smile, "Congratulations, Mr. Hilton! Is the marriage between you and Ms Wade nearing?"

He thought Elizabeth's resignation meant they would announce their marriage soon, and their wedding wouldn't be far away.

Matthew glanced at Esme coldly after listening to the latter's absurd words.

"Esme, are you very free recently?"

Esme was shocked. "Mr. Hilton, I have been very busy recently. The hotel and the commercial center in the eastern district are under construction, and I have been watching this project "

Matthew's expression turned grim when he heard Esme saying the eastern district. He had placed the land under Elizabeth's name. As for the hotel and commercial district, they would be her properties after the completion of the construction in two years,

At that thought, Matthew pursed his lips. He was paving the way for their future.

He worried that Hector would think she was a daughter from an ordinary family and their family background wouldn't match.

Therefore, Matthew wanted to give Elizabeth a lot so that she could become rich. Then, no one would dare to doubt her, gossip about her, or even speak ill of her anymore

However, Matthew was unhappy when he thought about Elizabeth taking care of another man.

“Go out. Don’t come in if there’s nothing urgent ” Matthew’s cold voice that was filled with anger sounded in the huge office. Fame quickly took his document.

“I’ll leave right away!”

Esme turned around and trotted out of the office.

Gracie, who happened to be outside of the office, smiled and asked, “Is Mr. Hilton in a good mood?”

Esme frowned as he recalled almost being sent to Alendor.

“Ms. Johrison, tell everyone to be careful today.”

Gracie immediately understood what it meant. Whenever Matthew was not in a good mood, the whole Hilton Group would turn gloomy, and the next moment, everyone would be extra careful day

However, the atmosphere in the CEO’s office was so tense that whoever entered would be scolded heavily, and no proposal would pass that

Even a proposal from a year ago would be revoked, and everyone had to work overtime to develop a new one.

1/2

Esme wiped his cold sweat off as he lost count of how many times he was scolded that day. It was so scared that he planned not to come to the office the next day.

Esme went to the pantry and poured himself a cup of coffee. While drinking the coffee, he took out his phone and called Elizabeth.

Elizabeth was dozing off on the couch in the hospital as Dominic was taking a nap. She sprung up immediately and grabbed her phone as she heard the phone ring.

“Hello.”

Her voice was sweet and gentle, evoking the sensation of a warm breeze, “Ms. Wade, did you quarrel with Mr. Hilton?” Esme asked as he thought about the atmosphere of Hilton Group that day.

It was like a disaster, and everyone almost froze to death.

Elizabeth stood up and walked to the living room outside.

“I guess you could say so. He was not happy that I resigned.”

Matthew was being very petty. Even when Elizabeth had made it clear that he was the one she loved and she only took care of Dominic to repay him for helping her, Matthew was still mad and jealous about it.

Elizabeth did not want to coax Matthew. He can do whatever he wants.

Esme finally understood the cause.

“Ms. Wade, how about you just come back to work?”

When Elizabeth was in Hilton Group, the atmosphere was great. They did not have to face Matthew because they would send Elizabeth to comfort him whenever something happened or when Matthew was not in a good mood.

Now, they missed Elizabeth and hoped she would go back to work

Elizabeth let out a sigh. "To be honest, I want to go back too, but I have something going on recently, so I won't be able to go back to work at the moment."

Chapter 377 Won An Award

Just then, Shelby walked into the room. Upon noticing Elizabeth was on the phone, shin asked the housekeeper to put the fruits they brought on the counter.

When Elizabeth saw them, she nodded at Shelby as a greeting

Shelby headed straight into the ward while the housekeeper washed the fruits outside.

"Mr. Mack, I'm busy now. I'll hang up the call first."

Esme said reluctantly, "Ms. Wade, you must come back!"

Amused by his tone, Elizabeth chuckled and said, "Okay. I will."

I know Matthew's:

's anger toward me is merely temporary. Both of us are a little impulsive today. In hindsight, I don't think it's a big deal- Matthew is a little difficult to deal with, so he needs someone to appease him when he's angry. I'm sure everything will be fine once I mollify him later.

As she thought of that, she was back in a good mood.

After walking into the ward, she saw Shelby pull the covers up around Dominic, then sit beside the bed and stare at him for a long time.

Elizabeth could clearly see the tears in the older woman's e eyes. As a mother, it must be hard for Mrs. Campbell to see her son in that state.

It was evident that Shelby had changed a lot over that period.

Back then, she was energetic, beautiful, and elegant.

As of then, not only did she look listless, but she also lost a lot of weight

Elizabeth whispered, "Mrs. Campbell, Dominic has just fallen asleep. Why don't you take some rest on the couch?"

It was lunch break. She made that suggestion because she could tell Shelby did not have a good night's sleep again. After all, the dark circles under the latter's eyes were heavy and visible.

Shelby threw her an impassive glance. I'm not tired."

Her attitude toward Elizabeth was as bad as usual. Upon hearing that, the took out her phone and started studying.

woman did not say anything else. Sitting on the couch, she

Although she had not been attending classes at school recently, Tiffany was so kind as to send Elizabeth all the materials in the lessons so that the latter could review everything at home.

Elizabeth felt that she had met a benefactor. With such a precious opportu bestowed upon her, she swore to study hard..

At that moment, a call from Tiffany came through on her phone, and shored it instantly. "Tiffany."

She stood up and walked out of the ward. Fortunately, Dominic had taken some medicine that aided with his sleep. The doctor prescribed those pills for him so that he could relax his mind and stop overthinking.

1/2

Watching Elizabeth walk out of the ward, Shelby glared at her to express her displeasure at the younger woman for not silencing her phone.

Elizabeth headed to the reception room outside to talk on her phone. As she stepped outside the ward, the housekeeper said, "Ma. Wade, I've washed all the fruits."

In response, Elizabeth inclined her head slightly, then walked to the window to talk with Tiffany.

"Lizy, the collection you designed this time is selling well and has even won you an award! Go to Frosa with me next Saturday to receive the Award."

The fashion sphere in Frosa was renowned worldwide. If Elizabeth could receive an award from the fashion scene there, she would gain foothold in the field.

It was a perfect, once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. Hence, Tiffany hoped Elizabeth would cherish it.

Elizabeth was extremely excited to hear that “Sure! I’m free on that day.”

In fact she would still try her best to make time for it even if she was busy “Lizzy, you’re talented at designing. Keep it up!”

“Thank you, Tiffany!”

Tiffany added, “I’ll introduce a friend to you on that day. You’d be glad to meet them!

Upon hearing that, Elizabeth chuckled. The person Tiffany plans to introduce me to should be from the fashion industry. They’d be important connections to me.

After the phone call, Elizabeth was in good spirits.

When she returned to the ward, Dominic had already woken up. Shelby was wiping his face for him at the moment.

“Dom, how are you feeling today? Do you want me to bring you out for a walk?”

She intended to bring her son out to bask in the sun. It was spring, and the sunlight was warm.

Dominic had been staying in his ward since he was admitted to the hospital. Other than for examinations, he never stepped out.

"I don't want to go out," he replied indifferently.

Shelby sighed. She turned to look at Elizabeth, signaling her to persuade him. After all, his health might get affected if he stayed indoors for a long time.

Elizabeth immediately understood what she was trying to say. Even the doctor asked Dominic to go out and get some fresh air frequently, as it was important for his eyes to get some stimulation from the bright sunlight,

Chapter 378 Shocked

Seeing Dominic's resistance to heading out, Elizabeth knew that he would never agree to it if she told him to take a walk outside.

*Dominic. I'd like to go out for a walk. Can you accompany me? I heard that the cherry blossoms in the garden have bloomed, and they are gorgeous!"

Upon hearing her words, Dominic, who had his head lowered, lifted his head slowly.

"Sure!" he said after pondering for a moment.

Just then, Shelby walked out of the washroom. When she saw that scene, an uncomfortable feeling wrenched at her heart.

Look at this son of mine. He forgets about his mother as long as he has Elizabeth with him. He's unwilling to go with me when I offer to bring him out, but he agrees to accompany Elizabeth as soon as she says she wants to go out. It seems like I have to rely on Elizabeth to take care of him in the future.

Supporting Dominic, Elizabeth helped him sit in the wheelchair

"Mrs. Campbell, do you want to come with us? I heard that the cherry blossoms in this hospital are very famous," she asked.

The hospital Dominic stayed in was a private hospital, which had a great environment.

Shelby replied coldly, "I don't want to go."

Obviously, the older woman was a little displeased Elizabeth did not want to force her, so she wheeled Dominic out of the ward without saying anything

When they were heading toward the elevator, he suddenly piped up. "Lizzy, that's how my mother's temperament is. Don't take what she said to heart. Actually, she's not a bad person. I'm sure she'll like you a lot after she understands you better."

"Mmh. I know," Elizabeth replied.

She was too lazy to bother with what Shelby said to her. Besides, the latter was Dominic's mother, which made her the mother of her savior. Hence, she would respect her.

Not long after, Elizabeth wheeled Dominic out of the inpatient building and into the garden.

Many patients were basking in the sun in the garden at that moment. They were all accompanied by their family, either supporting them or pushing their wheelchairs.

Elizabeth brought Dominic to a cherry blossom tree. Standing under the tree, she lifted her head to look at the blooming flowers under the sun. It was such a picturesque sight.

lo”

Moreover, there were petals flying in the air.

Elizabeth could not help but comment as she looked at them. “Dominic, the cherry blossoms here are so beautiful. If only you could see them

1/2

It was evident that she really hoped that he could regain his eyesight.

In truth, Dominic noticed that the bright sunlight was stimulating his eyes. He realized that his eyes were recovering little by little.

Back then, he could only see something clearly for a short while from time to time. However, he could see everything before his eyes at that moment.

I can see everything now? I can even see the petals on the ground clearly.

At the same time, Chelsea was accompanying Hector for a walk a distance away. He had just finished his checkup and was informed that he was recovering well and might be able to speak again.

Standing next to him, Chelsea lowered her eyes and glanced at him. "Hector, this hospital is not bad at all, right? This is Kev's hospital. The environment here is great."

Hector was a protective grandfather, so he felt that no one could be a match for his grandson. Matthew was always the best in his heart.

No matter how great Nicolas's hospital is, he's no match for Matt!

www

With a somber expression on his face, he remained silent. Chelsea had gotten used to that. After being unconscious for many years, her husband had been acting like that since he came to.

Chelsea knew Hector was upset. Besides, he could not speak, so she was accommodating most of the time.

Suddenly, Hector got worked up. "Uh... Mmh..."

He hit his wheelchair hard, attempting to stop the housekeeper from pushing him away.

Seeing that, the housekeeper asked, "Hector, where do you want to go?"

Chelsea followed the direction of his gaze and looked over. The next moment, her eyes lit up. "Lizzy..."

As she spoke, she started walking toward Elizabeth. "Lizzy, what are you doing here?"

Didn't they say that Matt has gone on a business trip? Lizzy is his secretary, so she followed him there. Could it be that Matt has come back?

When Elizabeth heard Chelsea's voice, she looked over, and her immediate reaction was to run away in shock.

After all, they had been hiding Matthew's injury from the Hilton family. Seeing that she had bumped into Chelsea, she did not know what she should say.

Flustered, she started waving her hands uncontrollably.

"What should I do?" she said under her breath.

Dominic asked, "What's wrong?"

In actuality, he also saw Chelsea and Hector and could tell that the elderly man had come to the hospital for a checkup.

Nevertheless, he did not know why Elizabeth looked so anxious.

Elizabeth regained her senses upon hearing Dominic's voice. It was then she realized that she was with him instead of Matthew.

Chapter 379 Do Not Touch Her

Matthew's well now, so it's okay even if I bump into them.

At that thought, Elizabeth smiled and called them sweetly, "Hello, Old Mrs. Hilton and Hector!"

Warm was the best description for Hector's expression at that time. Chelsen was startled for a second before raising her hand to pat his shoulder, voicing her curiosity wordlessly.

Don't you like Tiana a lot? Don't you want Matt to marry her? Why are you looking at Lizzy with that expression?

Her husband ignored the hand on his shoulder and stared at Elizabeth instead.

This young woman is the wife I've chosen for my grandson. She would have long married Matt if I didn't become unconscious after being poisoned. Dear God, please let me recover as soon as possible so that I can have Matt be responsible for her and have my three great-grandchildren reunite with the Hilton family.

ber.

Just as Hector prayed earnestly in his mind, Dominic reached out to hold Elizabeth's hand.

"Are they Hector and Old Mrs. Hilton?"

Hearing his query, she came back to her senses and replied. "Yes. It's them."

Dominic already saw the elderly couple's expression. It was apparent that they were delighted with Elizabeth and were also immensely fond of Ilence, he kept holding Elizabeth's hand to assert that she belonged to him.

"Hector and Old Mrs. Tilton. I'm Dominic Campbell from the Campbell family."

Only then did Chelsea notice Dominic. This young man is quite good looking. Even though he's in hospital clothing, he still looks dazzling while sitting in a wheelchair.

"Mr. Campbell, what happened to you?"

Upon scrutinizing him, she noticed something was amiss with his gaze. His eyeballs were unmoving and dim.

Dominic's face broke into a smile.

"I got into a car accident during New Year and injured my eyes at that time," he said straightforwardly, as though he did not mind sharing his story.

However, everyone at the scene knew he was merely pretending to be tough.

A thought instantly struck Chelsea at that moment. It's a pity for such a tragic accident to befall a handsome child like him. Not only is he famous in Mistwood, but he's also a capable person. Yet, he went blind just like that.

1/2

Meanwhile, Hector fixed his eyes on Dominic's hand that was holding Elizabeth's. Bitterness and fury washed over him.

Kid, take your hand off her! She's my granddaughter-in-law. I forbid you from holding her hand!

The elderly man glowered at Dominic, his eyes bulging out of their sockets. Infuriated, he tightened his grip on his wheelchair.

The housekeeper was terrified. "Hector, what happened to you? Are you not feeling well?"

Chelsea was shocked to see him in that state. "Quick! Push him into the building."

Afterward, she bid Elizabeth goodbye anxiously. The latter was startled too.

“Old Mrs. Hilton, don’t panic. We’re in a hospital now. He will be fine.”

Initially, Elizabeth was chatting happily with Chelsea and even invited the latter to go shopping and watch a movie together before Hector started behaving weirdly.

While she was puzzled, Dominic’s lips quirked into a smile. He could tell that Hector liked Elizabeth a lot as well and was incensed from seeing him hold her hand.

Elizabeth did not have the mood to stay outdoors anymore. “Dominic, let’s go back too! The wind is a little strong here.”

When she turned around and pushed Dominic, a tall figure not far away from them paused for a moment.

Esme, standing beside the figure, was also frightened. That was because he thought Elizabeth and Dominic looked like a couple when she draped a blanket over his body.

No wonder Mr. Hilton is in a bad mood today. As it turned out, Ms. Wade came here today to take care of another man.

How he hoped he could raise his hands to cover Matthew’s eyes so that the latter would not get any more enraged from looking at the duo. Otherwise, he and his colleagues at the office would no doubt live a more challenging life than before.

With a chilly gaze, Matthew stared at the figure intently. She’s so meticulous when taking care of that man.

He only strode to the hospital after Elizabeth and Dominic left his sight. However, he did not head to the inpatient building but to the building where Hector had his checkup done.

Chelsea and Hector were in Nicolas's office at that moment.

Nicolas poured Chelsea a cup of coffee, "Old Mrs. Hilton, have a drink."

Hector's countenance was grim. At the thought of what had happened earlier, he was irate.

Chapter 380 Want To Meet The Children

When Matthew entered the office, Hector directed his gaze at him before snorting.

Nicolas failed to stifle a laugh. In a hushed tone, he said, "You've been going against your grandpa for many years. He only hopes for you to get married and have kids. Just satisfy his wish."

Although Hector's condition was not good, he was in the process of recuperating.

In Nicolas's opinion, the reason that the elderly man could still regain consciousness despite being in a vegetable state for so many years was Matthew. Hector would not be able to leave the world in peace if he did not witness his grandson get married and have children to continue the bloodline of the Hilton family.

To be more precise, he was definitely reluctant to die before seeing that Matthew threw a cold gaze at his grandfather, unfazed.

Toward Tiana, he did not even bother to put up an act. Since that woman dared to victimize Elizabeth, he vowed that he would never be nice to her again.

Arching his brow, he reckoned Tiana would soon face a plight.

She tried to murder Elizabeth and caused him to sustain severe injuries. As of then, he was still in peril of his life. There was no way he would let her off that easily.

Therefore, he would not follow his grandfather's wishes, even if the latter threatened him with his body.

Hector could stay in the hospital anyway. If the worst scenario happened, they could just resuscitate him.

Matthew was determined not to harm Elizabeth because of someone else anymore, nor would he let her two sons down again.

Chelsea noticed Matthew's arrival and saw that her grandson was wearing a black coat matched with a white shirt and black tie. His long black pants were tucked inside his black boots.

The man looked so handsome in black that no one could take their eyes off him.

Nicolas could not help but make a remark. "Matt, did you put some effort into looking good? D*mn! You look really handsome!"

Matthew plopped himself down on the couch, indifferent to how he looked.

"What's going on with Grandpa?"

Hector still had his eyes on Matthew, yet the latter refused to make eye contact with him, much to his annoyance.

I can only blame myself for not being able to talk at this moment. Otherwise, this brat wouldn't still interact with other women! He can only be with Elizabeth. She's destined to be his wife.

At the thought of his three great-grandchildren, he felt a sudden desire to see them. It had been a long time since they last met, and he missed them terribly.

Tector raised his hand and slapped his log, startling the housekeeper, who quickly pulled his hand.

1/2

*Hector, why did you do that?"

Chelsea was stunned too. Then, she could not help but shake her head. This old man has been making quite a fuss lately. If he keeps up with this nonsense, I might not be able to hold on for long and would have to let Matt realize his wish.

At that moment, Hector's hands trembled as he forced out a few words with much struggle, "T... meet... my..... great., grand... children."

Although those words were not uttered clearly, they understood him and knew Hector wished to meet his great-grandchildren.

Chelsea held his hand. "Hector, don't be anxious. After Matt gets married, he will have kids soon. I'm sure you'll be able to see them!"

At that, the pucker between Matthew's eyebrows deepened. Nicolas, sitting beside him, could not help but laugh.

"Matt, do you want me to try and make a test-tube baby for you to please Hector? Look at his condition right now. I think you should grant hi wish."

Matthew shot him a glare, and Nicolas flinched from persuading him further.

"Fine. I won't say anymore."

Matthew asked again, "What's going on with Grandpa?"

Nicolas rose to his feet, went to take the medical record on his table, and walked back to him.

"He's fine. His temper is bad because he can't accept the current situation. You all should show him more concern. All the indicators of his test results are within the normal range."

In short, Hector was doing very well and was not in critical condition.

Matthew sneered "Grandpa, you have great-grandchildren. I'll marry Elizabeth. Her three children are already five years old and are considered your great-grandchildren. If you want to meet them, I'll bring them over tomorrow"