

Game Over 431

Chapter 431 Still Can't Let Her Go

Seeing that the other party had done everything in an orderly manner, Aletta couldn't complain.

Hence, she couldn't help but thank him again, "Thank you for your kindness."

"No worries."

President Thomson waved his hand and then chatted with them for a little while.

He said, "You guys must be tired and exhausted throughout this journey. I'll ask my staff to arrange for you guys to go for a rest first."

Aletta and her companions agreed.

Afterward, they did as President Thomson said and moved into one of the track houses on the west side of the Medical League's headquarters.

This place was prepared for members to live in, and the environment was beautiful and spectacular.

However, Aletta was not in the mood to enjoy any of the views or the environment.

The first thing she did when she entered her room was to call Jason.

This time, the call finally went through.

Aletta was a bit elated about it.

It wasn't easy at all. She finally had the call go through!!!

However, after waiting for a while, there wasn't any reply from the other side of the call!

She was a bit anxious and kept trying several times, but the situation remained the same.

The call did go through, just that no one was answering the call.

Aletta's heart sank.

Jason... Was he too angry or too sad, so he didn't want to answer her call?

She blamed herself and felt guilty for what she did.

Just then, Walt suddenly called.

Aletta picked it up and heard him say, "Aletta, have you guys arrived yet? Is everything going well?"

"Well, we have arrived."

Aletta Rogers replied with little interest.

Walt heard the way Aletta replied and understood what was going

1.

He hesitated for a moment and decided to tell Aletta the purpose of his call.

“Well... there is something that I think I should just tell you. The thing is... Jason came to Yargsborough too. It seems that his purpose is to search for you.”

“He misunderstood and thought that the reason you rejected his proposal was because you had a crush on someone else... So, I had no choice but to tell him the truth about your poor health condition.”

Speaking of which, Walt apologized and said, “I’m truly sorry! I really planned to keep it a secret but at that time, he looked terrible. It seemed that he didn’t manage to get any good rest, and his face was very pale, so...”

After hearing this, Aletta’s heart tightened.

Although she didn’t see Jason’s expression at the moment when he learned the truth, she could somehow guess that he definitely didn’t look very well.

“So... Where is he now? I keep calling him a while ago, but he didn’t pick up any.”

Walt told her the truth, “He is pretty pissed off about this issue and thinks that you didn’t take him seriously... So, when he leaves, he has a pretty bad expression on his face.”

After hearing this, Aletta’s heart sank straight to the bottom, and became worried.

It seemed that the reason he was not answering the phone was because he was angry with her deception.

After ending the call with Walt, she sent a message to Jason.

“Will you pick up the phone, please? I want to talk to you.”

“I already heard from Walt that you came to Yargsborough to look for me. I’m sorry, I was wrong...”

At the airport.

Jason sat in the VIP lounge and looked at the pop-up messages on his phone that kept appearing one after another without planning to reply to them at all.

Eaton that was beside him noticed and could see clearly what was happening.

First, he didn't answer the phone call, and now he didn't reply to the messages at all... It seemed that Mr. Hill was still mad about it!

Although Ms. Rogers did conceal everything from Mr. Hill, it was indeed a little too much. However, if they gave some thought to this issue, it was actually reasonable and tolerable.

After all, who was willing to tell such a cruel truth to the people they love?

Thinking of this, Eaton couldn't help reminding, "Mr. Hill, are you going to keep ignoring Ms. Rogers?"

Jason didn't reply to his question. He instantly put his mobile phone away and responded with action.

He really planned to just ignore her!

He actually admitted that he did it on purpose.

He wanted to let the woman know that cheating will be punished!

In this way, she could learn the lesson and wouldn't mess up the next time in the future!

Coincidentally, the airport's alert tone reminded him that it was time to get on the plane.

Jason got up tidily from his seat and went out with a cold face.

Seeing this, Eaton followed silently and said to himself: Although Mr. Hill acted like he couldn't care much about Ms. Rogers by not answering the phone, he still wanted to meet her as soon as possible and was in such a hurry. Doesn't this mean that he still can't let her go?

Aletta didn't know what was going on there.

She sent several messages to Jason, but there were no responses at all.

She had no choice but to keep calling.

She already decided to spend the whole day just to deal with Jason's matter.

Unexpectedly, Jason's mobile phone was turned off once again and she couldn't get through at all!

Aletta's disappointed and sad expression was so obvious that anyone could notice it.

She looked depressed from top to bottom!

When Jock came in from the garden, she saw her terrible state and thought something bad had happened.

She immediately came over and asked, "Aletta, what's wrong? Why do you look so depressed? Are you not feeling well again?"

"No..."

Aletta shook her head and told Jock that Jason already knew the fact that she was ill and was so angry with her that he refused to answer her phone.

“Huh?”

Jock couldn't believe it, “Does he just ignore you?”

Aletta nodded and looked at her with a pitiful expression.

Seeing what was going on, Jock couldn't help pinching her face and comforted her, “His anger is probably just temporary. What you should do at this current moment is not to give up and continue to contact him, apologize to him, and be obedient until he is coaxed.”

Aletta murmured, “But he doesn't answer my phone, doesn't reply to my message, and now his phone is still turned off... I really don't know how to coax him.”

Jock patted her on her head and said, “Then you just wait for now until you get well and go to his place and coax him afterward! Although I don't think Jason will be this ruthless...

But the most important thing for you now is to stay here and receive treatment properly.

You guys will have a good and bright future if and only if you recover from your illness, do you understand me?”

Hearing this, Aletta looked downhearted and said, “I understood.”

Jock was satisfied and patted her hair, “That's good!”

After saying that, Jock quickly went upstairs.

After she left, Aletta cheered up a bit and continued to send messages to Jason.

There were messages where she admitted her mistakes, and asked for forgiveness... Every message that she sent was very sincere!

Whether Jason could see her messages or not, she decided to show her attitude and her sincerity!

At this time, a video call suddenly popped up on WhatsApp, which was from Old Mr. Hill.

Aletta picked it up, and the next second, the faces of the four little kids came into sight.

"Mommy picked it up..."

The four little kids didn't seem to expect the call to go through. They were very happy and said, "Mommy, can you hear us?"

"I can hear you."

Aletta smiled and responded to them.

Hearing it, they seemed to be a little relieved.

Lyla pouted, and her little milky voice was lengthy. She said aggrievedly, "Mommy, do you not want us? Is that why you don't agree with Dad's proposal?"

The other three also stared at her and asked, “Did we do something wrong? If we did, we promised to change, is it okay?”

“Or did Daddy do something wrong and make you angry? We’ll help you to teach him a lesson later, okay?”

Aletta didn’t expect to hear this from the kids. Her heart seemed to hurt so much, as the pain was almost causing her out of breath.

Can’t Let Her Go

She didn’t expect that her behaviors would make her children think like this.

She was so distressed that she quickly coaxed, “What nonsense are you all talking about? How can I not want you? You all are mommy’s baby and treasure! Moreover, you guys are well- behaved. You all didn’t do anything wrong, and your Daddy didn’t. make me angry either. It’s Mommy’s fault for not agreeing to the proposal... Something happened to Mommy. So, Mommy had no choice but to make this decision. However, the matter will be resolved soon. I will admit my mistake to your Daddy later. At that time, I will go back to see you all, okay?”

After listening to it, the four little kids asked halfheartedly, “Really?”

Aletta nodded heavily, “Really, Mommy promised!”

The four little kids were finally relieved to see her say so.

“Then Mommy has to keep her word and come back quickly after solving the problem, okay?”

“Mommy should also coax Daddy... He was sad to hear that you didn’t agree to the proposal before. Although we can’t see it on the face, we can feel it.”

Chapter 432 I Love You For Eternity

Aletta quickly said, "Well, I know. I'll coax him."

Old Mr. Hill also appeared at this time.

Although he didn't know what happened between the two of them, he still said to Aletta, "Aletta, although Jason didn't treat you well in the past, recently, I can see that his behaviors and attitudes have changed a lot. He really loves you.

If he happened to make some mistakes, I hope you can try to bear with it, and don't bother with it..."

Although Old Mr. Hill usually scolded his grandson very much, this time, he consciously said some good things for his grandson.

After all, he couldn't really let that little bastard be single all his life and let the four little kids have no mother.

Aletta understood the old man's intentions and comforted, "Old Mr. Hill, don't worry, I will explain everything in detail to Jason and then go back together with him."

"That's good, that's good."

With her words, the old man was finally able to feel relief.

After having the conversation with them, Aletta, who was originally in a bad mood, also regained her senses and became high-spirited.

After dealing with so many things for so long, she was also a little tired, so she simply went back to her room to rest.

Later, Jock called her up for dinner.

When Aletta went downstairs after washing up, she didn't see the others.

"Where are Lewis and Gene?"

Jock filled a bowl of soup, handed it to Aletta, and said, "They already went to help the R&D team. I'll stay here to accompany you."

Aletta took the bowl, nodded, and said, "Let's go and have a look tomorrow. Maybe we can help."

Jock pointed at the soup beside Aletta and said, "Don't keep trying to make yourself tired. Drink the soup while it's hot and concentrate on taking care of yourself!"

She raised her chin in the direction of the tall building next to them and continued to say, "There are so many people here, why do you even worry? If you have the time to worry, how about you just send more messages to coax your fiancé."

Hearing this, Aletta was depressed. She reluctantly took two sips of soup and sighed, "I did coax him, but he still ignored me no matter what..."

Jason seemed to be seriously mad this time.

It was definitely not that easy to calm him down!

When Jock saw her like this, she laughed and said, "Then it just seems that you need to work harder!"

Aletta nodded.

Indeed, she had to work harder to coax Jason.

At this time, after taking the flight for a few hours, Jason had finally landed safely.

When he came out of the airport, he turned on his mobile phone. and received tons of pop-up messages one after another.

It wasn't surprising at all that all those messages were written and sent by Aletta.

There were a series of missed calls from her, and there were dozens of messages too. In those messages that she sent, there were full of apologies, and all kinds of pitiful emojis to ask for forgiveness.

After such a long time, Jason's previous anger had dispersed a lot.

After reading it, he raised the corners of his mouth but still didn't plan to reply to any of the messages.

His purpose was to make sure that Aletta would be worried and panic.

By doing so, she would be able to learn the lesson this time and dare not to cheat again in the future...

He put his mobile phone in his pocket and took a taxi with Eaton and his bodyguards to the harbor.

The bodyguard in charge of protecting Aletta later came to meet him after he arrived at the harbor.

"Mr. Hill."

The leading bodyguard stood in front of Jason and greeted him respectfully.

Then he reported, "Ms. Rogers has gone to the Medical League. It seems like we need to take a boat to go there, but all the boat seems to uniquely own by the 'Medical League'. The indigenous people on the island also need a boarding pass, otherwise, they can't pass too."

After hearing this, Jason said without hesitation, "Find a way to obtain the boarding pass."

Eaton immediately nodded and said, "I'll handle it right away."

As there was no boarding pass, they couldn't go there directly. Hence, Jason had to find a nearby hotel that night and check in temporarily.

Around 9:00 p.m. that night.

Aletta went back to her room to take a shower. Before she was getting sleepy, she began to send messages to Jason again, trying to calm him down as soon as possible.

First, it was a poor and aggrieved cat emoji that she sent, and then continued to send a message, "I've sent dozens of messages, are you still ignoring me? What should I do so that you can talk to me?"

Aletta didn't wait for him to reply. She continued to send the messages and said, "Otherwise, how about you reply to me when I finished sending you 520 messages? Can you talk to me afterward, okay? Or maybe I should send you 1314 messages..."

"Do you know the meaning behind 520 and 1314?"

"Will you talk to me so that I can explain it to you?"

Jason sat on the sofa in the hotel and stared at the message on his phone, thinking that it was actually a little funny.

She seemed to learn how to talk nicely now. What had she done in earlier?

There was a smile deep in his eyes. He shook his head, put his mobile phone aside, picked up the tablet again, and began to read the mail.

Eaton just came in and saw this scene.

Initially, he thought that Mr. Hill was probably still angry with Ms. Rogers, so he didn't want to talk with her at all.

It seemed like things had changed for now!

Obviously, Mr. Hill enjoyed this kind of little fun where Ms. Rogers. was coaxing him!

Inexplicably, he couldn't stand their lovey-dovey attitude!

When Jason saw that Eaton was back, he raised his eyes and asked him, "Is it done?"

Eaton Brown nodded and answered, "It's done. We just have to get on the ship on time after eight o'clock tomorrow morning. However, I am not the one who applies for the boarding pass, but Ruby."

As soon as he heard the name, Jason frowned and said with a cold voice, "Why is she here?"

Eaton Brown was also a little bit stunned and confused, "I'm not sure either, she didn't say anything. But it seems that there she has something important to do and she says that she wishes to meet with you."

Jason's eyes were emotionless, and he raised his hand and waved gently, signaling to let her in.

After a while, Ruby stepped on a pair of high-heeled shoes and strutted into the room.

Her long and wavy hair was scattered behind her shoulders. Her hairstyle added a trace of femininity to her heroic aura.

After entering the room, she greeted respectfully, "Mr. Hill."

Jason raised his eyes coldly and asked directly, "What do you want to report to me?"

Ruby looked up, and her eyes fell on the handsome face of Jason.

Her indifferent expression disappeared at this moment, and her expression became more vivid. Her attitude also became more obedient, and she said, "Some time ago, I heard Cora mention that you were investigating the Hunters, so I paid extra attention to it."

In the past two days, I found out that the Hunters had sent someone to approach the Medical League, so I came to investigate. I didn't expect to meet Mr. Brown here."

Jason's good-looking thick eyebrows were slightly frowned upon, and there was a trace of displeasure on his face.

He looked at Ruby, who stood straight, with invisible pressure in his gaze, "If I'm not mistaken, there should be no such a task or mission in your scope of work?"

The sitting man's voice was not loud, but his tone was extremely cold, which made people feel chilled and pressured just by listening to it.

Not to mention, Ruby has been stared straight by that cold sight of Jason.

Her heart was shaken a bit, and she lowered her gaze in an instant. She quickly clarified, "It's my fault that I make the decision myself without asking for any permission as I want to lessen your burden... I'm sorry!"

Chapter 433 If They Want Destruction, I Will Give Them Destruction

There wasn't any good-looking expression on Jason's face as he coldly warned her, "You better take this as your last time, or else you will go back to the King League to receive your punishment."

After listening to his warning, Ruby was shocked and trembled. She bowed her head and said, "Yes!"

After reprimanding Ruby, Jason asked, "What do you mean by the Hunters approaching the Medical League just now?"

Ruby had lost her coldness and heroic aura when she first entered the door. She lowered her head and answered, "I haven't figured out their purpose for the time being. I only know that a lot of people from the Hunters have come over."

Jason's eyes darkened.

This didn't seem like a coincidence.

Aletta just went to the Medical League not long ago, and the Hunters immediately took action and appeared.

Jason was afraid that the target of the Hunters was still her...

Having the thought, there was a sharp and scary ferocious look that appeared deep in his eyes.

They hadn't settled their business yet last time. How dare they come again now?

If they want destruction, I would give them destruction!

A sense of anger and murder appeared deep in his eyes as he told Eaton, "We will go to the island two days later. Now go and find out their whereabouts and purpose!"

Eaton nodded immediately, "Yes!"

After instructing Eaton, Jason glanced at Ruby and said, "Since you are here, just stay for now and help."

“Yes.”

A trace of imperceptible joy flashed deep in Ruby’s eyes, she then left the place in an instant.

After leaving the place, she was relieved.

She was glad that Jason didn’t get any angrier due to her action.

Eaton who was next to her stared at her with a slightly strange look.

After a while, he couldn’t help asking, “Ms. Ruby, you have always been adhering to the rules. Why did you act without permission. this time?”

Eaton was wondering if she would worry about her action which caused Jason to be angry.

Ruby replied, “I didn’t think too much about it. I just want to help him no matter what.”

When she said this, she lowered her eyes slightly and couldn’t see any other thoughts in her mind at all.

Eaton couldn’t see through her for a moment. He just reminded her out of kindness, “Don’t do this again next time. Mr. Hill will be unhappy about it.”

“I know.”

Ruby nodded without any changes of emotion.

But deep in her heart, she thought: No, no matter what she does, Jason won’t get angry with her.

After all, Jason once risked his life to save her.

Aletta fell asleep on her mobile phone tonight as she had been waiting and expecting a response from Jason.

When she got up the next day, she still didn't see any responses or replies, but she was not discouraged. She sent a message to Jason, "Good morning."

Later, she went downstairs after washing up and saw her seniors at the dining table.

"What time did you guys come back last night, Lewis?"

After Aletta came over to the dining table, she asked.

Before the rest of the people could answer, Jock immediately said, "Don't you know Lewis yet? He is a workaholic. He didn't even sleep at all and stayed up all night. If it goes on like this, he will probably become bald sooner or later!"

Aletta made a "puff" sound and couldn't help laughing.

Kirk couldn't help laughing too.

Lewis glanced at Jock and said coldly, "I have a lot of hair!"

"No matter how much hair you have, they still can't withstand your unhealthy lifestyle!"

Jock roasted, "Do you notice those groups of people in the research lab? They either have a shiny bald head or are in the middle of losing their hair. In a few years, you will probably become like one of them too."

Gene yawned and raised his hand to answer, "I didn't stay up last night! I came back to bed after midnight last night. Not to mention, some people take turns working two shifts here. Finally, I don't have to be so tired!"

Aletta felt a little sorry when she heard it.

"I'm sorry, it's all because of me... You guys worked so hard this. time."

Hearing what she said, Gene quickly waved his hand and said, "Why are you getting so polite with us? We are all in this together... I didn't mean to complain about what I said just now. Don't get me wrong! I'm totally glad to develop an antidote for you!"

Kirk also agreed and said, "You don't have to be like this... If you are sorry, just wait until you get better and help Lewis to develop a hair care shampoo that can prevent hair loss. Don't let him really become bald. He will be ugly if he becomes baldy."

Lewis was speechless and didn't know how to reply.

Could they just stop having the conversation about his hair and skipped this topic?

Jock didn't forget to mention, "He already looking so bad recently. Look at his beard. Even my grandfather's beard isn't that long. What a waste that he has a good-looking handsome face!"

Aletta was feeling funny as she was also moved at the same time.

After breakfast, Lewis left with Jock and Gene.

Kirk didn't go out today.

After cleaning the place, she asked Aletta, “Do you want to go out for a walk? We can go to the library, or maybe just walk around. You can also take some photos of the beautiful scenery and show them to Mr. Hill later.”

It wasn’t an easy task to come to this place. It would be a waste if they kept staying at the house.

Aletta looked at the sunny weather outside and felt that Kirk’s words did make sense, so she nodded and said, “Then let’s go to the library!”

“Alright!”

Aletta went to change her clothes and soon went to the library with Kirk

The library of the Medical League was very spectacularly built It was several stories high, and the book collection was even more amazing.

After scanning the access card and getting into the library, what they saw was a spacious space that was full of creativity and art, as if there was no end to the place at first glance.

Rows of bookshelves were placed like the staircase, extending upwards, and the visual effect was very stunning and astonishing.

In the center of the library, two elevators were prepared.

After Aletta entered the door, the first thing she did was took a picture of the library.

They Want Destruction I Will Give Them Destruction

Then, she clicked on the chat dialog box and sent it to Jason.

“This is the library of the Medical League, which contains tens of millions of books, including endless medical books and ancient books. I like this place so much.”

“I’m not having any uncomfortable feelings today. The improved version of the inhibitors doesn’t do much harm or damage to my body. Kirk is taking care of me now.”

“I had a bowl of shredded chicken porridge for breakfast, which was made by the chef invited by the president...”

After the message was sent, Aletta waited for a moment. Seeing that Jason still didn’t reply to her as usual, she put away her mobile phone.

Aletta and Kirk had different but clear targets today.

One went to the top floor to search for ancient books, and the other went to find drug and poison-related medical books.

After searching for a few books to read, they found a place to take a seat.

All the books in the library were not allowed to be taken out and could only be read here.

Aletta took a few more photos of the cover of the book.

Even if she knew that Jason wouldn’t reply to her, she still wanted to tell him what she was doing at the moment.

“Kirk, please help to take a picture for me!”

After taking the pictures of the book, Aletta asked for Kirk's help with a smile.

Kirk understood her intention and was glad to do so, "No problem!"

She took Aletta's mobile phone and took a picture for her.

After having a look at it, Aletta sent it to Jason.

Jason woke up early in the morning and he habitually glanced at his mobile phone. He received more than a dozen of messages from Aletta.

However, the first message that caught his attention was the last photo that Aletta sent.

He stared at the photo for a moment...

Jason hadn't been able to see Aletta for several days. The person in the photo was still the same as before.

At first glance, she still looked skinny.

That beautiful face of hers, with a pointy chin. It seemed like she was a little skinnier than the last time before he came to see her in Yargsborough.

Jason frowned and felt a little hurt and sad. He tapped the screen with his fingers to enlarge her photo and stared at it more closely.

Chapter 434 There Is No Need For Them To Remain Even For A Second

Aletta Rogers seemed to be wearing makeup today and looked energetic and refreshed.

She sat by the window, and the faint sunlight shone on her from the window, making her whole person look gorgeous.

Especially when she was facing the camera, the faint smile on her face was even more beautiful.

Jason stared at it for a long time, and he didn't want to scroll the photo away.

After a while, he clicked on the save button to save the photo and then looked up at the other messages that she sent.

From waking up to eating to going out to the library...

Seeing this little woman reporting every activity in her schedule to him seriously, Jason's heart softened.

He was in a great mood and looked back and forth at her messages several times.

At the same time, Eaton and Ruby knocked on his door outside.

Jason put away his mobile phone and said, "Come in."

Eaton pushed the door in and greeted, "Good morning, Mr. Hill,"

"Morning."

Jason answered faintly and gestured for him to speak up.

Dividing into pages now

Eaton reported immediately, "Last night, Ms. Ruby and I investigated and found out that there was indeed a trace of the Hunters.

It seemed like they were deploying their manpower. They also rented ships and bribed the people from the harbor and were ready to go to the headquarters of the Medical League."

Speaking of which, he paused for a moment and continued, "Their purpose remained unknown for the time being, but the leading people are someone with special identity."

Jason slowly sat down on the sofa and asked, "Who are they?"

Eaton answered quickly, "They are from the International Mercenary Gold List. There are two of them, where one ranking sixth and another one ranking seventh, code names: Fox, Eagle..."

Mercenary organization?

Jason squinted and frowned.

It seemed like this Hunters was more troublesome than he expected!

Eaton continued, "The two of them are led by an old man. The old man is slightly fat. The others call him Professor Peter... I have investigated this man before!

More than 20 years ago, he was rejected and expelled by the medical community for developing harmful drugs. Later, he disappeared and his whereabouts are unknown."

Jason frowned as soon as he heard the words "developing harmful drugs".

He had no good impression of such a person.

Eaton also noticed and asked, "Mr. Hill, the time for this person's appearance is way too coincidental. Is there any possibility that... This person is aiming for Ms. Rogers?"

Ruby, who was standing beside him, heard the words "Ms. Rogers" and her eyes flashed in an instant.

However, it happened in an instant and disappeared.

Jason didn't notice the changes in her look. He asked coldly, "Do you have the confidence to eradicate them completely?"

Eaton was stunned for a moment, "Mr. Hill, what do you mean by that?"

Jason's eyes were cold, "Since they have something to do with the Hunters, there is no need for them to remain even for a second!"

Previously, Albert also worked for the Hunter. This Professor Peter was probably the same as Albert, which wasn't a good person either.

By eradicating these kinds of people was also a contribution to society!

At this time, Ruby finally spoke up and said, "It isn't a big deal to deal with Fox and Eagle, but if we fight, the other party has too many people on their side. I'm afraid that we will fall into a disadvantage."

"Indeed, unless we can mobilize our men first."

Eaton also agreed.

They came in a hurry this time. Except for Jason's personal bodyguard, they basically didn't bring anyone else.

Jason immediately made a decision and said, "Then mobilize our men within the shortest time. Gather all our men that are nearby to come here!"

Eaton had no other objection. He took the order and replied, "Yes, Mr. Hill. I'll go and handle it now."

Aletta and Kirk stayed in the library for the whole morning.

Except for the time when Aletta sent some messages to Jason, in the rest of her time, her attention was fully on the book.

At noon, the two of them went to have a meal. Afterward, they did not go back to the library, but hung out and walked around.

The scenery on this island was indeed very striking and beautiful.

The buildings were also full of different styles and architectures. Although the shops on the street were slightly deserted, they were full of peace and tranquility.

If the island was to open to the public, it would surely become a resort.

Aletta and Kirk walked along the road. When they were tired of hanging around, they found a coffee shop to rest.

“Two cups of Americano, thank you.”

After finishing the order, Kirk looked at the scenery outside the window with Aletta.

This cafe was located in a relatively high position on the island.

From this place, they could see the winding coastal roads and the beautiful blue sea.

The sun shone, shimmering in the blue sea.

The crossover between the sky and the sea was so beautiful that made people couldn't help but immersed themselves in it.

Aletta thought of something and took out her mobile phone all of sudden to take a picture of this beautiful scenario and sent it to Jason.

She wrote a text message to Jason, “This place is incredibly beautiful and breathtaking. I would like to take you to enjoy the view here if I have the chance, but I still prefer the island. you took me to before...”

After sending the message, Aletta suddenly remembered that Jason had arranged a proposal on the island before.

She didn't know if her words would remind him of her rejection that day.

She was hesitant to unsent the message when Gene suddenly called her.

Aletta quickly picked it up.

“Aletta, where are you guys now?”

Dividing into pages now

Aletta said, “Kirk and I are in the cafe now. Gene, what’s the matter?”

At the other end of the phone, Gene said, “You guys come back first. I will have to prepare a body check for you to see if there are any changes in your health condition.”

“Okay!”

Hearing that it was related to her health issue, Aletta did not dare to delay or waste any second. After telling Kirk what was going on, the two hurried and went back.

When Jason saw the message from Aletta, he didn’t think too much about the island she mentioned.

Since his plan failed last time, he could arrange it again any time in the future, but....

He was worried about Aletta who was staying on the island as she still didn’t know the danger and crisis around her.

If the people from the Hunter had sneaked in, then she would be in a dangerous situation!

Jason pondered for a moment and decided. He then said to Eaton, “Get ready. Let’s go to the island tonight. Let Ruby handle the mobilization of manpower and the rest of the stuff. Let’s go there first.”

Previously, because he didn’t protect her well, Jason let Aletta hurt and bear so much.

This time, he wouldn’t let Aletta get in danger anymore!

After hearing this, Eaton immediately understood Jason's plan and nodded quickly, and said, "Yes."

At around 7 p.m. that night, Jason and Eaton boarded the boat to the island.

As their boarding pass was prepared temporarily, to avoid unnecessary trouble, after the boat sailed, the two simply went to the deck.

Who would have expected that as soon as they came out, they met Alex and his companions?

Jason frowned and looked at them.

Alex also had a cold-looking face and didn't say a word.

Finally, Eaton took the initiative and said, "What a coincidence, Mr. Vincent, are you guys also here to enjoy the night scene?"

Vincent nodded calmly, "It's truly a coincidence. The scenery.... is really good."

The bodyguards of both sides looked at the dark sea and the harbor, which was getting further and further, with inexplicable question marks on their faces.

In the evening, how could they even enjoy the night scene?

Could this greeting be more embarrassing and awkward?

Chapter 435 What An Infuriating Taunt

When the atmosphere on both sides was getting even more awkward, Alex took the initiative to speak up.

His words were as sarcastic as ever, “Who has the time to enjoy the scenery here? I’m not like Mr. Hill who is so free and has so much leisure time.”

Jason’s expression was faint, and he replied, “Isn’t Mr. Alex having more leisure time to play around? After all, you arrived earlier than me.”

Alex snorted with a cold face, “It’s true that I arrived a little earlier than you, but I’m not here to enjoy the scenery. After all, not everyone is as leisurely as Mr. Hill who can ignore the person you love and slowly take your time to do nothing.”

Both of them talked with heavy sarcasm. There weren’t any sword or gun fights happening at the scene, but the atmosphere was full of dangerous signs.

The assistants and bodyguards around them were as quiet as a mouse and consciously remained silent.

After listening to his words, Jason wasn’t annoyed at all and continued to say, “Mr. Alex is indeed too slow! I already arrived here two days earlier. As I was busy investigating something else, I had no choice but to postpone my trip to the island.

Moreover, whether I ignore the person I love or not, it’s fine as long as the person I love knows what is happening between

1. As an outsider, I don’t think that Mr. Alex is suitable to make any comments toward my personal matter, right?”

Alex’s expression stiffened and his eyes were darkened.

Jason was calm.

Vincent looked at Alex, as he was afraid that Alex would get angry and rush to punch Jason.

Eaton was also wondering: Will there be a fight going on later?

He... was inexplicably looking forward to it. What's going on?

Last time, he and Vincent hadn't decided who was the winner yet!

Vincent felt Eaton's gaze and he raised his eyebrows. He was not afraid at all.

However, the fight didn't happen after all.

Alex's face was being cold for a while, and he said, "Outsiders? Not necessarily. I heard that Mr. Hill was going to propose last time... and was rejected? It seems that your position in your relationship isn't as stable as I imagined."

Jason smiled and replied with heavy sarcasm, "Is the greatest pleasure in Mr. Alex's life self- deception?

To tell you the truth, my wife sends me dozens of messages every day to coax me and make me happy. When I'm not satisfied with it, she even said that she would send 520 messages, or maybe even 1314 messages to me!

Does Mr. Alex know the meaning of 520 and 1314? I can ask my assistant to explain it to you if you need it!"

Eaton quickly explained, "Mr. Alex, 520 means I love you, while 1314 means eternity."

283 Vouchers.

Alex's face instantly turned bad. The way he stared at Eaton was like he was going to murder him.

He knew what the meaning behind those numbers was. Did he ever ask for an explanation?

"What an infuriating taunt!"

Vincent sighed in his heart.

Compared to Mr. Hill, Mr. Alex was bad at trash-talking!

Mr. Alex already had a terrible relationship with his loved one in advance, why was he still so provocative?

Well, now he was hurt by Mr. Hill's lovey-dovey stories with his wife!

He couldn't explain it... Why was he felt a little pitiful and miserable for Mr. Alex?

Eaton felt the same way and thought that Mr. Alex was a little pitiful!

Mr. Hill was indeed really cruel!

He was being merciless to anyone!

So... was there a fight going on or not?

Obviously, Jason didn't mean to fight.

After insulting Alex, he withdrew his gaze at Alex and walked aside!

Seeing this, Alex also turned his head and looked at the sea with a cold face.

The sea breeze at night was strong, and due to the nightfall, the air was full of coldness and humidity.

Eaton was very discerning. He went into the cabin and took a table and a few chairs. He also took out the coffee tray and boiling water.

After preparing a cup of hot coffee, he brought it to Jason.

Jason took a sip and was warm all over.

Eaton poured himself a cup and didn't forget to invite the bodyguard to come over and drink with him.

After that, he shouted at Vincent, "Mr. Vincent, come and have some coffee!"

Vincent paused for a moment. He then came over, poured a cup of coffee, and gave it to Alex.

"Mr. Alex, please have a cup of hot coffee to warm up."

Alex glanced at the cup of coffee and thought that Jason's people prepared it. He was acting arrogant and didn't want to take it.

At the same time, he also glanced at Vincent, as if to say: How thirsty are you to take their things?

Seeing this, Vincent raised his voice calmly and advised, "Your body can't take any cold. This was what Ms. Rogers told me!"

As soon he said this, Eaton and the bodyguards on the other side looked over one after another.

Was that another provocation?

Because of this, Jason's eyes were also getting colder, and he looked up straight toward Alex.

Hearing this, Alex inexplicably felt good.

Looking at Jason's dangerous gaze as if he wanted to murder someone, he suddenly became happy. Regardless of where the cup of coffee came from, he took it and drank it.

Vincent breathed a sigh of relief and felt that it was too difficult for him.

While helping Mr. Alex with the provocation, he still worried about his health!

When he returned to his seat, Eaton personally poured him a cup of coffee.

Vincent raised his eyes and met Eaton's eyes. Both felt sorry for each other...

Both of them were assistants. It was not easy at all. They had to do things exquisitely and had the insight. They didn't even know whether their bosses would give them a raise in their salary at the end of the year!

If possible, they hoped for a triple salary.

This group of people slowly went to the island in a subtly strange and awkward atmosphere.

Aletta had fallen asleep for a long time at the moment.

She had a series of physical examinations in the afternoon. When she came back, she was too tired that she quickly lay down on her bed and rested.

When she woke up the next day and went downstairs, she saw that Lewis was just coming back with a tired face.

Aletta knew that he stayed there last night and studied the data obtained with the others. He was staying up all night.

She quickly poured him a glass of milk and asked him, "Lewis, how was the result of my physical examination last night?"

Lewis took the milk. After having a mouthful of milk, he put down the cup and replied, "There is a minor change in the data, but it is not that obvious, indicating that the improved version of the inhibitor has actually worked."

Gladly, it wasn't a piece of bad news.

Aletta breathed a sigh of relief.

Gene, who was beside him, said, "There is another good news. The research and development of the antidote is smoother than we expected. I feel that it won't take long to obtain the final product!"

"Really?"

Aletta couldn't help but be happy when she heard the news.

In this way, she could go back to see Jason earlier than she thought!

Kirk also nodded and stretched her arm, "If we had known it was so easy, we should have come to the president earlier. Maybe we could solve the problem even earlier!"

After listening to this, Lewis shook his head and replied, "Even if we come early, it is still useless. The president also just confirmed with us a few days ago that the X-1 was developed by him in the past. What we can say is that we are kind of lucky because we come just in time."

"So that's it."

Kirk nodded and agreed.

While they were talking, President Thomson came.

After they saw him, everyone immediately greeted him.

"Morning, president!"

"President Thomson came so early today. Have you eaten yet?"

"Would you like to have some breakfast together with us?"

President Thomson waved his hand and replied, "You guys eat. I've already taken my breakfast. I'm here to announce something."

With that, he looked at Aletta and said, "Aletta, if possible, it will be better for you to stay at the Medical League for these few days and don't go anywhere else."

Aletta didn't understand the reason behind it. Lewis was also stunned for a moment and asked, "Why?"

President Thomson frowned and explained, "In these few days, the people of the Medical League have noticed that there is a trace of the Hunters in the area near the harbor outside the island. Some more, someone I know is also there,

For the time being, we still couldn't figure out what is their purpose, so I hope that you don't go out and get involved in any danger! We will talk about what's next after I find out what is happening!"

Chapter 436 A Familiar Operation

After Aletta listened to President Thomson, all of them looked at each other.

Their face turned pale and serious because of the news.

Professor Peter was here!

"It shouldn't be a coincidence that the other party appears at this time, right? Are they after Aletta again?"

Jock asked.

President Thomson pondered for a few seconds and responded, "Eighty percent of the chances, yes!

That's why I'm here now... I have a discovery about Aletta's physical examination...

That set of data that have minor changes. After our team analysis, we found out that it was a change in a good direction... Do you know what this means?"

Everyone immediately understood.

This meant that Aletta's body may be genetically strengthened in certain aspects, as Albert said before!

This wasn't a piece of good news!!!

Aletta's face wasn't looking well.

She knew very well that the changes in her body were to stimulate some hidden potential in the human body and to obtain the optimization effect.

And the degree of optimization was uncontrollable.

If it went overboard, she might become some kind of monster...

Having the thought in her mind, Aletta's heart immediately became cold!

President Thomson saw everyone's solemn expression and understood their concerns and worries.

He quickly comforted, "Don't be too pessimistic. The R&D team has just begun to adjust the antidote in response to this data change. I promise that Aletta will return to normal sooner or later."

Aletta looked at him, as she was trying to pull out a smile and noded.

After President Thomson finished speaking, he left soon.

Kirk and Gene immediately went to the research lab after breakfast because of this shocking news.

On the other hand, Lewis went upstairs to rest as he was too tired.

As soon as they left, Aletta was a little listless.

Jock saw it and quickly comforted, "Aletta, don't worry too much. The president is here to help us. It will be fine."

Aletta answered, "Okay."

Although that's what she said, her heart was still trembling and unstable after all.

Jock also understood this and immediately proposed, "Do you want to go to the library to read some books? Let's take this opportunity to divert your attention!"

Aletta didn't reject when she heard this.

That was not a bad idea!

At least it could prevent her from kept thinking of nonsense!

Soon, the two went to the library.

After arriving at the library, she sent a message to Jason as usual, "Today, Lewis told me a piece of good news. It seems like the research and development of the antidote is going well."

"I had a series of physical examinations yesterday, and it seems like my body condition has not deteriorated."

"However, the president forbids us to leave Medical League, so we can't enjoy the beautiful scenery anymore."

After sending the text, Aletta took a selfie as usual and sent it to Jason along with the text...

-After Jason arrived last night, he searched for a hotel to check-in. He hadn't woken up yet when Aletta sent her the messages.

However, after his mobile phone vibrated and rang a few times, he opened his eyes and thought that it should be messages from Aletta.

Sure enough, as soon as he unlocked his phone, what he saw was a picture of a little woman.

The selfie that she sent today was a photo where she was lying on the table in the library, with her eyebrows hanging down, looking unhappy.

The pitiful little expression she had on her face as if something had been wronged, made people couldn't help but want to pat her head.

Jason stared at it for a while, and couldn't help raising his finger and gently rubbing the photo in front of him.

He didn't plan to continue his sleep afterward. Jason got up to wash, had breakfast, and then went out.

When he went outside, Jason navigated and found a flower shop.

The boss came to him with enthusiasm and welcomed him warmly, "Hello, what can I do for you?"

Looking at the flowers that were all over the room, Jason said faintly, "I want to buy a bouquet for my fiancée, I will be choosing it by myself."

The boss understood the task and replied with a smile, "Okay, if you need anything, please call me again."

Jason nodded and walked over to start picking.

He saw and noticed different varieties of roses of two different colors and slowly and carefully picked out more than a dozen of the freshest and most beautiful ones among all of

After that, he waved at the boss and handed over the flowers, "Please help me to match it."

"Okay."

The boss carefully took over the flowers, then went to the table and began packing them.

In a few minutes, a beautiful bouquet of roses was ready.

Jason looked very satisfied with it.

Without saying anything, he paid directly to the boss and left with the bouquet.

After ten minutes, the car arrived outside the headquarters of the Medical League.

Jason got out of the car and went straight to the security room at the main gate. He then said to the two tall security guards inside, "Excuse me, this bouquet is for Ms. Rogers. Could you please inform her to pick it up later?"

After listening to Jason's words, the security guard subconsciously looked at the bouquet, with a bow knot that embroidered the name of the florist.

The security guard immediately took over the bouquet to have a check and confirmed that there was no problem with it before he said, "Sure."

Jason nodded, "Thank you."

Inside the library.

After Aletta sent the photo, she continued and focus on reading the medical book on her hand.

While she was halfway reading it, she suddenly received a call from the security guard, "Ms. Rogers? There is a gift for you to receive at the main gate. Please come and pick it up."

After listening to it, Aletta was a little confused.

Gift?

Who would give her a gift at this time?

Jock also heard it and couldn't help thinking of President Thomson's words and warning.

It was a little strange for someone to give her a gift at this crucial time!

She was kind of afraid that it was from the Hunters!

To be safe, Jock immediately suggested, "Aletta, I'll go with you."

Aletta agreed and they left the library together.

At the main gate, the security guard took out a bouquet of beautiful flowers and handed it to the two of them.

The combination of the red and white roses was looking astonishing and brilliant, and the water droplets on the rose petals were crystal clear under the sunlight.

Aletta Rogers was a little surprised and quickly asked, "Who sent this?"

The security guard replied, "He didn't say who he was. You can take a look at the signature on the card."

Aletta nodded and took out the card that was attached to it.

In fact,... there was no signature at all.

Looking at the blank card, Jock couldn't help thinking, "Who was it? Why didn't the person who sent the flowers leave his signature or name? What a forgetful person."

Aletta was slightly stunned. Suddenly, she raised the corners of her lips and smiled softly.

This operation... was familiar to her.

Looking at Aletta who was smiling out of a sudden, Jock asked doubtfully, "Why are you smiling?"

Aletta held onto the flowers and sniffed at them. The faint fragrance of the flowers came to her nose, and she was clearly in a better mood than just now.

“It’s him!”

Jock realized in an instant.

She made a “tsk” sound and looked at the flowers, and then looked at Aletta again and asked, “Are you sure that it’s from Jason?”

Aletta remembered the messages that she sent this morning and said, “Well, maybe... it’s to cheer me up.”

Jock suddenly wondered, “Isn’t he always ignored you recently? Why did he secretly send you a bouquet now?”

Aletta smiled and said, “It seems like his anger should have calmed down for now.”

If he had calmed down, why would he still ignore her and didn’t even leave a signature when sending the flowers?

Jock couldn’t understand at all and said, “You little couples are really weird.”

Aletta hugged the flowers and smiled. She was feeling as sweet as honey deep in her heart.

At the same time, in a car that wasn’t far away, Jason sat in the back seat and looked at Aletta.

Seeing her happy expression, he unconsciously raised the corners of his lips and was in a good mood too.

At this time, the mobile phone in his pocket rang, and it was Aletta who sent a message.

"I have received the flowers. I like them very much!"

Chapter 437 Throw Myself At Him

Seeing this, Jock still felt that it was kind of unreliable.

"Did you just send the message like this? What if he wasn't the one who bought you the bouquet but the other person? Isn't it will only cause your relationship to get even worsen?"

"No, I'm sure that it must be him!"

Aletta was confident.

Jock didn't know where her self-confidence came from.

"I wouldn't be so sure if I were you! You probably don't know, do you? Many people in the Medical League have a crush on you! In the past two days, several of them have been asking about your news.

Although they were all blocked by us in the end, we still couldn't withstand and stopped some of the enthusiastic foreigners! Maybe they want to achieve their goal of pursuing you by sending you the bouquet!"

As soon as Aletta heard this, her determination and confidence a while ago suddenly wavered a little.

The sweet smile on her face also stiffened, "No...no way."

"Why not?"

Jock pinched her face and said, "Although you are a little skinnier now, don't underestimate the charm and the beauty of your appearance, okay? In ancient times, your beautiful face is probably a princess level where everyone will go crazy for you."

Aletta smiled and said, "Jock, you have been exaggerating. You are gorgeous too. Some more, you have a sexy figure and a nice body shape. You are probably more popular among men compared to me."

Both of them had been praising each other for a while. Suddenly, Aletta's expression turned hesitant, and wondered, "But...isn't he the one who gave me this bouquet? Did I come to the conclusion and sent the message too quickly? Is it too late for me to unsent the message now?"

"Did you just realize now, isn't it a little bit too late?"

Jock let go of her hand and pointed to the screen, "Maybe he has seen it."

Aletta suddenly looked bitter and asked, "What should I do?"

Jock pondered for a moment and soon figured out a way to help her, "Ask your kids about it. Even if he doesn't want to answer your phone, he should at least answer their phone, right?"

Aletta's eyes suddenly lit up and were full of hope. Indeed!

At the same time, she quickly called Lucas.

After a while, the little guy's milky voice came from the phone, "Hi, Mommy"

Aletta came straight to the point, "My sweet little Lucas, can you do Mommy a favor?"

"Sure, what is it?"

Lucas responded quickly.

Aletta quickly told him the situation that she was facing here.

After hearing this, Lucas immediately said, "I think the bouquet is probably from Daddy if I'm not mistaken!"

Aletta said in a weak tone, "I think so too, but just in case! Can you help me ask Daddy please?"

"Mommy, why don't you ask yourself?" Lucas was a little puzzled.

Aletta said with a guilty heart, "He didn't answer my phone... Last time when I promised him to accept his proposal but suddenly rejected him at the last minute made him feel very angry."

"So that's the case... Well, I'll ask Daddy now, and I'll tell you later!"

Lucas answered politely and nicely.

"Thank you, Lucas. Mommy loves you the most, mua~mua~"

Aletta happily gave him two kisses.

Lucas's soft and cute tone also said, "I love mommy the most too!"

After saying that, he hung up the phone and called Jason instead.

Jason was kind of puzzled by the changes in Aletta's expression at the moment.

She was looking very happy just now, but why did she suddenly have a bitter face?

Wasn't she happy to receive the flowers?

1258chers

While he was still finding out the reason behind it, his mobile phone rang.

He raised his eyebrows and picked it up. The next second, his son's cute voice came, "Daddy, it's me!"

"Well, what's the matter?"

Jason asked gently.

Lucas said, "I have something to ask you, where are you now? Didn't you say that you will bring Mommy back? Why is there still no good news regarding this matter? Are you still in Yargsborough?"

Jason responded calmly, "No, I'm on the island where the Medical League is located at the time."

"So, are you there to look for Mommy?"

Lucas's tone was slightly loud, and his voice was clear, "I knew it. It must be you who sent the flowers to Mommy!"

Jason raised his eyebrows and looked out of the window. Finally, he understood why the little woman's expression changed so much in such a short time.

He seemed to be smiling and said, "What's the matter? Does your mommy still have any doubts about this? If the bouquet wasn't from me, who was the one who sent her the bouquet? Who is she expecting?"

"Of course, Mommy is expecting and looking forward to you!"

Lucas didn't even doubt and said, "Mommy was worried that she received the bouquet from the wrong person, that's why she was asking me to help her confirm it! But... Since Daddy is no longer angry at Mommy, why doesn't Daddy just answer Mommy's phone?"

You've been abroad for a few days. Haven't you said a single word to Mommy yet? Aren't you afraid that Mommy will be sad?"

Jason casually leaned against the back of the chair and said, "I'm afraid..."

But compared to this, he was more afraid that Aletta would try to hide everything to prevent him from learning the truth.

Lucas didn't know about his mother's health condition. Hearing this, he frowned.

"Since you are afraid, why do you keep ignoring Mommy? Daddy, are you going to take revenge on Mommy because of the incident last time?"

The other three kids were also listening beside Lucas, and they couldn't sit still as well.

Otto came over and said on the phone, "Daddy, it is indeed Mommy's fault for rejecting your proposal, but please don't argue with her, okay?"

Lyla agreed and said, "Yes, if Daddy keeps ignoring Mommy and both of you don't speak with each other, it will gradually become a serious issue! In the long run, both of you will become strangers and doesn't like each other anymore. At that time, someone else will take advantage of the opportunity and take away Mommy... They all act like this on TV!"

Nina asked with a milky voice, "Does Daddy not like Mommy?"

After hearing their words, Jason couldn't help laughing, "I am not revenging your Mommy, and of course, I still love your Mommy as well... If I don't love her, I won't send her flowers and follow her here!"

The four little kids were puzzled, "Then what is the real reason?"

Jason didn't explain much, so he said, "Nothing, this is some little fun between me and your Mommy. You guys don't understand."

However, what the little kids said also made sense.

It would be bad if they stayed like this for a long time.

So, he said, "You can go and tell your Mommy that it is indeed me who send the bouquet. But let's not say that I'm on the island now. Daddy has something else to deal with. I'll give her a surprise when I settled my stuff.

The four little kids were easy to coax. After hearing this, they were relieved and said, "So that's it, then we understand!"

"I knew it, Daddy isn't a narrow-minded person!"

"I like Daddy the most!"

Jason hung up the phone with a smile.

Aletta waited for a few minutes and finally received a call from her kids.

“Mommy, I have confirmed that it’s Daddy who sent the bouquet! So, you can receive it and take it at ease!”

“Really?”

Aletta smiled and said with excitement, “Thank you, sweetheart,”

Lucas replied, “Mommy is welcome. Daddy also said that this is some little fun between Daddy and Mommy!”

Aletta was stunned, and then she smiled, “Does your Daddy really say that?”

“Yes!”

Lucas replied while nodding his head.

Aletta didn’t notice Lucas’s cute behaviors, but it didn’t prevent her from getting happier.

When she hung up the phone, she jumped and hugged Jock, “I told you, the bouquet was from him. I’m right!”

Jock was speechless for a moment and said, “I heard it. Don’t be so excited. Come down from my body... Tsk, you guys are already so lovey-dovey even when you guys haven’t met up, I wonder what will happen when you guys meet with each other.”

Aletta smiled and said, "If I meet him, I will definitely... throw myself at him."

Chapter 438 You Can Do Whatever You Want.

When Jock heard this, she looked disgusted, "Enough, stop being so lovey-dovey in front of me, or else I'll throw you out!"

Although it seemed like she was threatening Aletta, she still subconsciously held Aletta's waist.

Aletta said, "You must be reluctant."

"Don't be so mushy, I'm not feeling reluctant at all!"

Jock frowned and complained. While she was talking with Aletta, she slowly and carefully held onto Aletta's body and walked back.

Jason couldn't hear their conversation, but he was also in a good mood when he saw Aletta jumping around happily to express her joy.

When he saw them leaving, he said to the driver, "Let's go."

On the way back, he took out his mobile phone and took the initiative to send a message to Aletta.

"It's 1314 messages that you promised me, and there's still 1123 messages left. I'll call you when you're done sending it."

The moment when Aletta and Jock returned to the library, she received a message from Jason.

Seeing that it was sent by Jason Hill, Aletta Rogers was stunned for a moment.

The next second, she widened her eyes and held onto Jock's arm excitedly.

"Jock, he sent me a message!!!"

First, he sent the bouquet to her, and then now he finally sent her a message. Did this mean that he was no longer angry?

"I know, I know, now go and reply to your message quickly!"

Jock felt that it was funny and hilariously withdrew her hand from Aletta and stayed away from her.

Aletta nodded and went to an empty area. She sent a voice message to Jason, "Can I send all the messages in a row?"

She felt like she wanted to just call him now!

After a while, Jason replied, "Do you want to be perfunctory?"

Aletta continued to send voice messages, explaining aggrievedly, "No, I just want to hear your voice. I miss you so much! You have ignored me for days!"

Jason asked calmly, "Do you still dare to do it the next time?"

Aletta immediately said, "I dare not! I know I'm wrong!"

Her voice was very sincere. Jason listened to her voice and slowly smiled.

"It's good that you realize your mistakes and admit your faults. Take care of yourself in the Medical League. Report your body and health condition to me every day. Don't try to hide anything from me."

Everything was fine before Jason mentioned her body and health condition. Aletta immediately felt guilty after seeing his message.

She didn't tell him the truth this morning...

Seeing that Jason finally stopped ignoring her, she really couldn't hide anything from him this time.

Aletta didn't think for too long before she decided to tell Jason the truth about her current situation using text messages instead of voice messages.

She told him everything including that set of data that changed!

As a result, the man who had just asked her to send 1,314 messages immediately made a phone call.

Aletta looked at the familiar number and was stunned for a moment. She then picked it up quickly.

ouchiers.

Jason's cold and deep voice came and asked seriously, "What are the consequences of the data changes that you mentioned?"

Aletta was kind of in a trance at the moment when she heard this familiar deep and low voice.

It felt as if she hadn't heard it for a long time.

She couldn't speak for a moment...

Seeing that she didn't respond to his question, Jason couldn't help asking, "Why didn't you make any sound?"

Aletta took a breath and wanted to calm herself down, but the moment when she opened her mouth, she sounded a bit hoarse, "No, it's just... I haven't heard your voice for so many days. I thought you really planned to ignore me forever."

Although she did send him so many messages every day, which seemed to be enthusiastic. But the truth was, she was feeling worries and uneasiness deep in her heart.

She was afraid that she really annoyed Jason this time, and the relationship between them was over.

However, she couldn't just go back now and explained everything to him in person.

As she was in a foreign country, she could only comfort herself and tried to coax Jason.

Now, when she finally heard the familiar voice through the phone, her emotion couldn't help surging up.

At the moment, she was getting emotional and couldn't help saying, "I called you on that day and told you that I wanted to reject your proposal. The truth is, I want to tell you about my health condition and ask you whether you can delay the time. to propose and give me some extra time to deal with my own problem. However, I didn't expect that my mobile phone suddenly ran out of power..."

At that time, I was feeling ill and fell asleep for a few days, so I forgot to charge my mobile phone. Coincidentally, Jock looked for me at that time and told me that there was a way to save me.

Afterward, I and my companions hurriedly went to the airport and get moving as soon as possible.

Before getting on the plane, I called you, trying to explain everything to you, but your mobile phone was turned off... Then, you completely ignored me no matter what I said!"

Speaking of these ridiculous and inexplicable coincidences, Aletta was getting emotional, and her emotion was a little unbearable at this moment.

Jason listened quietly to all her words. At a certain place where she couldn't see him, his eyes had long become soft and gentle.

Aletta's eyes were a little red, and she couldn't help but held on to her tears and continued, "I'm sorry, it's indeed my fault that I tried to hide my health condition from you. I will never do it again!"

Listening to her nasal voice, Jason was also distressed and hurt.

He asked her gently, "Will you keep your promise this time?"

"Yes!"

Aletta answered without any hesitation, "Absolutely! In the future, even if I only have one breath left, I will tell you what happens around me!"

Her anxious but assured tone made Jason laugh.

"Forget about what you said if you have only one breath left. As long as you are healthy, I'll just let it pass this time."

From his words, did it mean that the relationship between the two of them had recovered to its initial state?

Aletta immediately asked, "Then can I still call you afterward? Or can I make a video call later?"

Jason's heart was so soft that he couldn't bear to refuse her again. He answered slowly, "Yes, you can do whatever you want."

Hearing his reply, Aletta was immediately overjoyed, "Really? Then I want to see you now!"

Jason raised his eyebrows and said with a smile, "Wait for me."

Then, he hung up the phone.

A few seconds later, he made a video call.

Aletta quickly picked it up.

After a while, the man's handsome face fell into her eyes.

His expression was still as soft and gentle as before.

Aletta was stunned for a while and couldn't help but reached out her hand to touch the screen.

As if she could touch his face through the screen.

Jason raised his eyebrows, a simple action from her was full of indescribable temptation.

He asked, "Why don't you talk?"

Aletta came back to her senses. She put down her hand, squeezed her lips, and muttered, "Everything is fine before I see you. When I finally got to see you, I miss you even more now... I really want to hug you!"

Her words made Jason's eyes darken a bit.

In fact, it wasn't just her, he also wanted to...

His desire for her was even much more than she thought!

Jason sent her flowers in the morning but didn't show up, because he was afraid that he couldn't restrain himself.

Even at this moment, he had an impulse to ask the driver to turn around and go to her place.

However, Jason managed to hold back and restrained his feelings and emotion.

He hadn't managed to settle the matter outside of the Medical League yet. It would be better to let her stay in the Medical League first since it was safer.

He softened his voice and said, "Don't worry, I'll get to see you soon. At that time, you can hug me as long as you want. But now, tell me about your health condition first..."

What did the text message you sent me a moment ago mean? Do remember that you are not allowed to hide anything from me, and I want to know every single detail!"

Aletta explained everything to Jason through WhatsApp in detail. She did not hide it anymore this time and told Jason the truth and the whole situation that was going on around her.

From how she was drugged, to the later discovery, to the process of coming to the Yargsborough and trying to cure her illness, and also the information about the source of the drug.

Finally, she even told him about the existence of Professor Peter!

Chapter 439 He Is Your Medicine

As soon as he heard the word “Professor Peter”, Jason’s eyes narrowed slightly.

What a familiar name!

That was to say, Albert was only one of the participants who was involved in this harmful drug. Professor Peter, who appeared recently was the main person in charge.

It seemed that as soon as he heard about this person last time, his intuition to eradicate this person was right!

Jason’s thin lips moved slightly and asked, “Is there anything else besides these?”

Aletta’s voice was so obedient, “There’s nothing else for now. Now the research team has been adjusting and modifying the antidote, but I don’t know when it will be completed.”

After listening to her words, Jason nodded and said in a soft voice, “No matter how long it takes, as long as the antidote can be completed and solve your situation! For the time being, just wait obediently, nothing is important to your health.”

“Alright.”

Aletta nodded and answered.

Then, the two talked with each other for a while before reluctantly hanging up the phone.

After the call, Aletta put away her mobile phone and returned to Jock.

She sat down in the empty seat opposite Jock, with a smile on the corners of her mouth.

Seeing that Aletta was smiling brightly like a flower, Jock joked, "Are you happy now?"

Aletta nodded.

When she opened her mouth, her voice was so sweet and she said, "Happy!"

Jock supported her head with one hand and looked at her sideways, "It seems like Jason is your medicine!"

"Look at yourself, in such a short time, you have changed a lot. Jason is probably a hundred times more useful than those nourishing soups and medicine that we prepared for you all day long!"

Aletta immediately opposed with a serious expression, "No, the nourishing soup was carefully prepared for me by you guys. For me, it is an important medicine. Both of them are equal and important to me!"

"Wow, what a sweet sentence that comes out of your mouth. Fine, since you say so, I'll let you go."

Jock laughed and was satisfied.

On the other side, as soon as Jason returned to the hotel, he saw Eaton who was waiting in the room.

Eaton came forward the moment he saw Jason and asked, "Mr. Hill, you are finally back!"

"Yes."

Jason casually took off his coat and put it on the armrest of the sofa. He then sat down and asked, "Is there any news from Ruby?"

Eaton who was standing beside him immediately replied,

“Ruby just called and said that there was a batch of people from the Hunters who had gone to the island. I already asked my men to go and investigate.”

Jason nodded with a cold-looking face and continued to ask, “Was Professor Peter there too?”

Professor Peter?

Eaton replied, “It doesn’t seem so. It seems like he was still staying at the outside of the island.”

Jason’s eyes were looking gloomy. He then instructed, “I want you guys to keep a close eye on Professor Peter and make sure that he doesn’t run away or escape.”

Eaton was puzzled.

Why was Jason suddenly interested in this person?

He asked the doubts in his heart, “Is there something wrong with Professor Peter?”

“The drugs in Aletta’s body were developed by him.”

Jason’s tone and eyes were extremely cold, and he looked scary when he said this.

Eaton immediately understood.

It turned out that Professor Peter was the culprit who caused Jason’s proposal to be failed!

If so, then he wouldn’t ever let him escape no matter what happened.

Eaton immediately said, "All of our men will probably arrive at the harbor in the afternoon. I'll ask Ruby to arrange for the deployment of our men."

Jason nodded.

At this time, in the luxury suite of another hotel, Alex slept until noon before waking up.

A few minutes later, Vincent asked someone to deliver lunch to him.

After Alex finished his lunch, he didn't seem like he wanted to go outside.

Instead, he crossed his legs and sat in front of the floor-to-ceiling window of the hotel, tasting wine while enjoying the beautiful sea view.

The way he acted had an indescribable feeling of pleasantness.

If someone happened to see him, they would think that he was here for vacation!

After enjoying the view for a while.

Vincent was so puzzled that he couldn't help asking, "Mr. Alex, don't you want to go and visit Ms. Rogers?"

Soon as Alex heard his words, his face stagnated, and he glanced at him with cold eyes. His face was showing, "I want to wake you up with the wine in my hand".

Seeing that Vincent had not responded to him.

Alex clucked his tongue, and then explained in a cold voice, "What am I going to do? I'm just an outsider!"

His tone was full of anger.

Vincent choked, and then he understood.

Alex probably didn't want to go there to waste his time.

After all, Mr. Hill was also on the island. In case he met Mr. Hill and Ms. Rogers and saw their lovey-dovey attitude, Vincent guessed that... This man would try to blow up the whole island on the spot!

Vincent sympathized with Alex and said kindly, "Mr. Hill did go to the Medical League this morning. But from what I know, he just sent a bouquet to Ms. Rogers and left without even meeting her face to face."

After hearing this, Alex was a little surprised too, "What's wrong with him? He was already there and still didn't go and see her?"

"I believed it is because there is something strange going on the island right now."

Vincent said calmly, "Do you remember that when you got on the boat last night, they mentioned that they are two days late to the island because they want to investigate something else?

Hence, I asked my men to observe them today and found that their people were investigating something."

Alex suddenly frowned and asked, "Then what?"

Vincent said, "Then, I asked my men to investigate it too and found out that there were some suspicious people on the island! In addition, in the area of the harbor outside the island, there are also some people from the Hunters! When I think about it, I believed that Mr. Hills and his companions probably realized it as well."

Alex's eyes darkened, "Why is this shabby organization always around no matter where we go?"

Vincent nodded, "It's true... I highly suspect that they came for Ms. Rogers. After all, only a few days after she came to the island, they appeared..."

According to their history, I'm afraid that they will probably do something terrible that will hurt Ms. Rogers."

Although Ms. Rogers had chosen Mr. Hills as her loved one, Vincent understood that Alex will not stand by and watched something bad happen to her.

Hence, he decided to tell everything he knew to Alex!

He even made sure to not miss any details or important parts!

After listening to this, Alex didn't look quite well, "How many people from the Hunters have come to the island?"

Vincent thought and answered carefully, "There are a lot of them, including professional killers."

After hearing his words, Alex's eyes suddenly showed a murderous and dangerous look.

"Go and mobilize some of our men... If they want to die so badly, then let's fulfill their wishes."

Vincent nodded, "I have already asked our men to get prepared and they will be arriving latest by tomorrow."

Alex was very satisfied with his ability to do things.

On this day, the island might seem peaceful on the surface, but underneath it was full of dangerous and malicious stuff...

Aletta who was staying inside the Medical League still didn't know what was going on outside.

She did a series of body examinations once again this afternoon.

According to President Thomson, since there was a minor change that began to happen in her body, she must be monitored and examined every day.

After all those examinations, she was so exhausted!

In the evening, after Aletta took a shower, she lay on the bed and video-called Jason.

Jason picked it up very quickly.

However, the first thing he saw was a weak and tired little face.

Looking at her current state, Jason frowned and asked, "What's the matter? Are you feeling uncomfortable again?"

Chapter 440 Don't Seduce Me With Your Sleeping Posture

Aletta shook her head and said, “No, I’m just a little tired. This afternoon, I was called for a body examination again. There are way too many examinations going on!”

When she was facing Jason, she was extremely relaxed and yawned a little when she spoke.

Jason was slightly relieved, and his heart was softened.

He coaxed Aletta in a low voice, “Since you are so tired, why don’t you just go to bed early.”

Aletta turned over and stared straight at the screen.

She wanted to sleep... But now, she was inexplicably cheered

1.

After all, Jason’s handsome face was so attractive and alluring to her for now!

It seemed like Jason was currently staying in a hotel.

The background wall behind him was looking very elegant and old-fashioned. Several oil paintings were hanging on the wall, and there was a gorgeous crystal chandelier on the ceiling too.

He sat on the sofa, wearing a well-fitting black shirt that had two buttons opened, with his collarbone slightly exposed. He looked inexplicably lustful.

His sleeves were pulled to his elbow, and he was sitting crossed-legged. A pair of gold-rimmed glasses with chains on the bridge of his nose.

He was exactly a perfect combination of elegant and lustful. With his noble temperament, he looked extremely alluring and attractive to Aletta.

The nice-looking background behind him immediately seemed to have become a foil at this moment.

This guy was someone who came out from a picture, looking extremely gorgeous!

Aletta stared at him and couldn't move her eyes, "I don't want to sleep yet..."

When Jason heard her words, he couldn't help raising his eyebrows and looked at her.

He saw the little woman on the other side of the screen who was having a pair of bright and energetic eyes.

She lay on her side on the bed, with her long black hair loose and a wisp of hair sliding down her shoulder.

She was wearing a set of white pajamas. It seemed like she didn't fasten her neckline buttons properly. Jason could clearly see her beautiful collarbone and a piece of snow-white skin.

Jason's eyes were getting a little darker as he opened his lips with a smile, "Ms. Rogers, it is already late at night, please don't seduce me with such a sleeping posture!"

Aletta was stunned and bowed her head to check her sleeping posture.

She didn't notice any problem with it.

After checking, she raised her head again, looked at the person on the other side of the screen, and muttered, "When did I seduce you? Besides, I should be the one who says that, right? Don't smile like this at night! You are the one who seduces people at will. Are you doing so because you know that I can only see it but can't touch it?"

“Oh?”

Jason couldn't help raising the corner of his lips slowly and said, “What you mean is that if you can touch it, do you want to do it?”

Aletta replied honestly, “Am I not allowed to do so? Didn't I say before that I really want to hug you?”

However, Jason obviously misunderstood her meaning.

His eyes were getting darker, and with a sense of seductive, he said, “I will remember your words for now and owe it first. When we meet up the next time, don't regret what you just said!”

His words that contained hidden meanings stunned Aletta.

The next second, she finally realized what he meant by that, and her ears became a little hot and red.

She seemed to... talk about other stuff, didn't she?

However, she did use the word “touch” just now, which might easily cause misunderstanding!

Aletta quickly calmed down.

Anyway, since Jason wasn't in front of him, a little bit of flirting and seducing... It wasn't against the law, wasn't it?

At that moment, a sense of cunning flashed through the bottom of her eyes, and said, “I won't regret it. I am afraid that when the time comes, Mr. Hill can't bear it before me!”

This provocation made Jason's eyes darker.

He seemed to chuckle and said, "You'd better worry about yourself. When the time comes, I hope that you won't beg for mercy!"

Aletta raised her chin and declared, "Then I'll wait and see!"

The two stimulated and provoked each other a few times before they finally hung up the phone.

Aletta was tired. After putting down her mobile phone, she fell asleep in an instant.

Jason, on the other side still staring at the screen of his mobile phone.

He couldn't help taking a screenshot of Aletta's provocative expression just now.

This little expression of hers was the same as that night a few years ago!

Jason couldn't help laughing.

After all these years, she hadn't changed a bit!

It seemed that he had to "take good care" of her when they meet up the next time to teach her a lesson!

That night, Jason fell asleep in a good mood.

The next morning, as soon as he finished his breakfast, Eaton came in and reported, "Mr. Hill, Ruby had brought our men here and deployed on the island! In addition, I also received the news that the people from the Hunters were here in the Medical League. I am not sure how they managed to get inside the Medical League! Our people can't continue to track them there!"

Jason frowned after hearing this.

This was a little unexpected!

However, it wasn't difficult to think of a way to enter the Medical League either...

"It seems like they have someone collaborating with them. within the Medical League."

Jason asked Eaton, "Did you know who was the one who entered the Medical League?"

"Yes, both Eagle and Fox had entered the Medical League."

Eaton looked very solemn.

The two of them were professional mercenaries, and their methods were far fiercer and eviller than ordinary killers. Not to mention that they were extremely strong and skillful as well.

If they went after Ms. Rogers, then Ms. Rogers would be in danger!

Jason thought and noticed too.

He squinted as his fingertips were tapping on the table rhythmically as if he was thinking about countermeasures.

A few seconds later, he raised his eyes and said, "Go and contact the president of the Medical League and say that I want to see him in person as the fiancé of Aletta."

Eaton was stunned and didn't understand Jason's purpose in doing this.

However, he didn't dare to neglect it and went out soon.

About an hour later, President Thomson came to the hotel to meet Jason in person.

As soon as the two sides met, President Thomson took a closer look at the young people in front of him.

He was indeed extraordinary in his demeanor, as he had an aura and temperament of a leader who had a high position in society. He didn't look like any of those ordinary people at all!

Jason took the initiative and got up to greet him, "President Thomson, sorry for troubling you and asking you to come here by yourself."

President Thomson came to his senses and smiled, "Your men already getting inside of the Medical League to look for me in person. How can I not come? Unexpectedly, Aletta's fiancé is such an extraordinary person."

While he was talking, he sat down on the sofa, "Can you tell me how your men actually got in?"

The Medical League had the world's top security system and also deployed some hidden guards all around the place, which no one had managed to break through before!

298 Vouchers

Jason's men could come inside the Medical League without letting anyone notice, which was really beyond his expectation!

Jason explained briefly, "I just happened to know a professional hacker..."

Then, he changed the topic and said, "I have something to inform you today as I invited you here."

“What’s the matter?”

President Thomson asked.

Jason’s tone was slightly cold, “Aletta told me the source of the X-1 drugs in her body. It is said that the drugs were produced and developed by you and another person...

In the past two days, near the harbor outside the island, the Hunters appeared. And Professor Peter is also among them. And just an hour ago, they managed to sneak into the Medical League.”

“What?”

After hearing this, President Thomson was shocked, “How come? My men have been keeping an eye on them.”

“The answer is obvious. Your men didn’t manage to keep an eye on everyone there and missed a few! However, it is understandable as there are some professionals within the Hunters too.”

Jason didn’t plan to waste any time, so he came straight to the point and said, “The reason why I invited you here today is because I need your help. Can you give me permission to let my men enter the Medical League?”
