

Game Over 461

Chapter 461 Very Sweet

Aletta quickly replied, "I'm done, but I'm going to treat them to dinner tonight, it might end later, so I won't be having dinner with you."

As if she was afraid that the person on the other side of the screen would be angry, she sent another coquettish emoji.

Jason unconsciously bent the corner of his lower lip, and typed back: "Okay, let me know when you're done, and I'll pick you up."

The other side replied in seconds, "Okay."

That evening, the dinner party went well.

During the period, Kirk mentioned to Aletta, "Jock will come over in two days."

Aletta smiled and replied: "In the United States before, she mentioned to me that she would come here after she was busy."

So she asked, "Is the matter with Lewis settled?"

Kirk replied: "It should be! You know who he is, don't try to disturb his research! If it can't be solved this time, he probably won't be able to leave. If he can come back, it proves that the matter is solved!"

"Right."

Aletta thought it made sense, and nodded deeply.

Then he said: "It's great, we're reuniting again! But, why didn't Gene show up? Has he been back for a long time? Are you still busy with family affairs?"

She still remembered that after Gene left last time, there was no news...

100% Bonus

As soon as these words came out, Kirk paused lightly with the hand holding the juice, and his eyes flickered slightly.

Afterwards, she regained her composure and said, "I don't know."

Aletta didn't notice her strangeness, so she didn't ask any more questions.

Anyway, Gene is like that, he often runs around the world and can't find anyone, which is normal.

Later, the dinner was over and everyone left.

Jason was also at this time, coming to the restaurant to pick up Aletta.

Once in the car, Aletta was dragged to her lap and asked, "Have you been drinking?"

Aletta shook her head, leaned against him in this posture, and replied, "No, I only drink drinks, and I'm busy tomorrow, so it's impossible to drink."

"Really? Let me check."

14.54%

II

O

As Jason said, he immediately moved closer to her, taking the opportunity to kiss her on the lips.

Aletta knew that this man just wanted to kiss her, so she made this excuse, and couldn't laugh or cry for a while.

However, she didn't struggle, and obediently put her arms. around his neck, responding to him.

A few minutes later, Jason finally let go, and said solemnly: "Well, I didn't drink it, but...it's very sweet."

Aletta was a little out of breath, her voice was soft, her cheeks were slightly flushed, "Because of the juice."

"Really? I didn't taste anything just now, I'll try again..."

As he spoke, he approached his relatives again.

When the two got home and got off the car, Aletta's lips were more beautiful than lipstick!

In the evening, Aletta went back to her room early, intending to rest after taking a shower.

After all, the children will be taken to the laboratory tomorrow for an examination.

This workload, but some are busy!

Unexpectedly, Jason came back early tonight.

After taking a shower, he naturally hugged Aletta, intending to sleep with her in his arms.

As a result, as soon as he touched her, Aletta trembled all over, and she rolled several times in fright, avoiding his embrace.

Jason took advantage of it, raised his eyebrows, and looked up at the woman, "What's wrong?"

Aletta said vigilantly: "You can't mess around tonight, I will be very busy tomorrow, and I can't stand your torture !"

Jason paused and finally understood.

He smiled and raised his hand, easily hooking him back.

Then he said in a low voice: "What is torture? I obviously love you..."

Aletta looked like she wanted to hit someone, "Is that love? You're obviously bullying!"

Jason didn't deny it, and looked at her with a half-smile, "But how do I remember, Ms. Rogers liked it too?"

Aletta blushed, unable to refute.

In the end, I could only say, "You can't mess around tonight, or I'll go to sleep next door!"

As she spoke, she tore off the sheet and wrapped herself into a cicada chrysalis.

This serious look seems to be declaring his firm attitude.

Watching this scene, Jason was a little dumbfounded.

However, he also knew that he really bullied people hard last night.

So, she pulled him to her side and coaxed him gently, "Don't worry, I didn't plan to torment you tonight... If you continue to torment, you will get hurt, and I can't bear it."

Aletta hesitated, "Really? Are you sure you can hold it?"

In the past, she would still believe it, but now...

This man's control is hard to say!

Seeing the suspicious look in the other's eyes, Jason couldn't help laughing.

But he still made a serious promise: "Really, I promise I won't touch you today."

Aletta narrowed her eyes and studied him carefully for a moment.

After confirming that he was not lying, he let go of his guard and returned to that warm, fiery embrace.

And unceremoniously put his cold hands and feet on Jason.

In the cold weather, after all, you still have to snuggle him to sleep to keep warm!

Holding the obedient person in his arms, Jason couldn't help but hook his lips, then kissed her forehead, and whispered, "Go to sleep, good night."

Aletta yawned and mumbled back, "Good night."

Not long after, she fell into a deep sleep.

Early the next morning.

67.30%

O

100% Bonu

After breakfast, Aletta took the four children to the institute.

Jason also came over.

After all, it is about the safety of the four children, so we must keep an eye on them!

Upon arrival, part of the team had already started developing the third course of antidote for 'X-1' in Aletta's body.

Kirk accompanied Aletta to examine the four children.

Seeing this battle, Lucas couldn't help asking, "Mom, why are we going to have to check again? Is there something wrong with my brother and sister's health?"

Otto and Nina next to her also stared at her curiously.

After hearing this, Aletta squatted down immediately, rubbed their heads, and comforted them gently, "It's nothing, you are in good health! But, didn't Mommy's body have problems before? Just worry about my babies, Will it be affected, so I want to confirm, so Mommy can rest assured.

You also know that you are the people Mommy cares about the most!

In Mommy's heart, no accidents can happen to you!

So, I need to trouble the babies to cooperate, is that okay?"

Hearing what Mommy said, the four children immediately felt relieved, nodded immediately, and responded crisply, "Is that so? Don't worry, Mommy, we will cooperate well!"

"Yes, during the inspection, we promise to be obedient!"

Lyla also said authentically: "Mum, don't worry, my brother and sister, I and I are all alive and kicking, so we must be fine!"

Aletta smiled, and immediately praised, "Well, the babies are so good!"

Chapter 462 Obtain the certificate and become the real Mrs. Hill

After communicating with the children, Aletta took them to check.

The four children are well-behaved and cooperative, and the inspection process went very smoothly.

At the end, Aletta kissed them rewardingly, then looked at Jason, "The report will be out later, you take them back first."

Jason nodded, "Okay, then go ahead."

The four children bid farewell obediently, "Bye bye, Mommy, you have worked hard, you should pay attention to rest!"

"Okay, I'll pay attention."

Aletta smiled and waved to them, and waited for Jason to take the four children into the elevator before she turned and went back to the research room.

Afterwards, Aletta and Kirk stayed inside, looking at the data.

After reading a stack of reports, Kirk said, "The genetic data of the children has not changed much compared to before. No bad things have been detected, which is a good thing!"

"Before coming here, the president told me that if the situation of the four children can be maintained all the time, you can basically ignore it, and it won't affect your body anyway."

Aletta didn't feel relieved by these words.

She looked at the data on the computer screen with a worried expression on her face, "I think, at the beginning, Albert could not have given the children drugs for no reason, obviously for the purpose of changing genes or doing some experiments."

“Although there is nothing wrong with the children now... But I don’t want them to have hidden dangers buried in their bodies all the time. If it suddenly explodes one day, I really can’t bear it. Therefore, I don’t want to take any risks. The children’s situation must be Correct it!”

Kirk had expected, she would do this.

So he nodded, took out a file bag, and put it in Aletta’s hand, “I guess you won’t let it go, so this data is the antidote idea provided by President Thomson.

At present, there are some formulas and technologies in it, which are not very clear and need to go through many experiments.

Only after the confirmation is correct can the antidote be developed and given to the children.”

Aletta took it apart and took a look.

This data is indeed very complicated.

Some of the drugs marked next to it have uncertain factors, and it must be tested hundreds or even thousands of times before a qualified one can be screened out.

However, she will do it no matter how long it takes for the kids to recover!

After reading it, Aletta couldn’t help saying to the people around her, “This is a lot of work, and I’m going to work hard on you.”

Kirk didn’t think there was anything wrong, and said with a smile: “You don’t need to be so polite, I’m also very interested in research in this area recently. When they come over, there will be two more helpers, and then the progress will be much faster! ”

Aletta smiled, feeling warm in her heart, “Well, then let’s work hard together.”

For the next two days, Aletta basically stayed in the institute.

On the third day, Lewis finally arrived.

Surprisingly, no Jock was seen.

Kirk couldn’t help asking, “Where’s Jock?”

As soon as Lewis entered the research room, he picked up the data list on the table, looked at it, and replied, “I don’t know, I was going to come with me, but I suddenly received some urgent news that I can’t come.”

Aletta was a little worried, “Did something happen?”

Lewis shook his head, “She won’t say... But don’t worry, with her temperament, if she really can’t solve it, she will definitely talk to us.

Since I didn’t say it, it must be able to solve it by myself, so don’t worry too much.

Aletta thought so, and nodded.

A few people chatted for a while, and soon entered the working state.

With the addition of Lewis, the research and development progress here is obviously much faster.

The antidote for the third course of treatment has already been experienced once.

Now making it again, it's not that difficult.

Therefore, on the second day Lewis came over, Kirk told her, "Aletta, your antidote should be available tomorrow! After the beating is over, your body will soon be back to normal!"

Aletta's eyes lit up immediately.

This is really good news!

She couldn't hold back, and immediately rushed over, hugging Lewis and Kirk.

"I love you all!"

Kirk gave a rare smile and said, "It's fine to love me, but let's say goodbye to Lewis. Aren't you afraid that your Mr. Hill will be jealous?"

Lewis also glanced at Aletta's hand on his shoulder, and said: "He may take my shoulder off after seeing it! Let go!"

Aletta was amused, and said, "Don't be afraid, he's not here right now."

That being said, she quickly withdrew her hand.

Because of the antidote, Aletta's happiness lasted until the evening.

She left the institute early and went to the Hill Group branch to find Jason and share the good news.

Seeing the joy in her eyes, Jason immediately pulled her into his arms and asked, "What's so happy?"

"The antidote to X-1 will be developed tomorrow, and my body will recover soon!"

Aletta sat in his arms, her smile couldn't be concealed at all, "I can finally get rid of this thing's entanglement completely."

Jason hugged the man with a smile on his face.

"That's good. You don't have to worry about it anymore, and you don't have to be tortured by that kind of medicine."

With that said, he breathed a sigh of relief.

Aletta pressed against his heart, feeling his mood.

She was also a little moved in her heart, she couldn't help looking at the man, and said: "Before, I thought I was going to die, so I rejected your marriage proposal, because I was afraid that I would not be able to stay with you and delay you. Now, I can finally tell you ..."

Her expression suddenly became serious, looking at the stunning face in front of her, she said, "Jason, I want to be with you forever ."

Jason was slightly startled, as if he also remembered the feeling of being rejected at the beginning.

He didn't want to experience that kind of experience.

So, he replied, "Me too."

The man's deep black eyes reflected tenderness, "When this matter is resolved, we will return to America to get married! Aletta, I want you to be my Mrs. Hill again, the legal one! I may not wait until the wedding day It's..."

The idea that he wanted to take her completely as his own had already been deeply rooted in his heart.

Although, the relationship between the two is not bad with that certificate. But in the end, he still wanted to settle down and tie her by his side forever!

Aletta was also a little moved when she heard this.

Mrs. Hill?

This name is both familiar and unfamiliar.

She had it a few years ago, but it wasn't acknowledged.

This time, she should be able to have it with peace of mind, right?

Thinking of this, Aletta nodded and said, "Okay!"

Hearing her response, Jason couldn't help but lift her chin lightly, and kissed her lips tenderly, with full of affection.

Chapter 463 Aletta Must Die!

The two were close to each other, feeling each other's hot body temperature and emotional heartbeat.

After a long time, the long kiss ended.

Jason tidied up Aletta's messy hair, and then said with a hoarse voice, "Let's go, it's almost time to get off work, let's go home."

"good."

Aletta nodded in agreement.

On the way back, through the glass car window, I saw lights and festoons on the side of the street, which were very lively.

The white snow is fluttering, mixed with a little bit of red and green, which is very beautiful.

Shop windows on the street, as well as Santa Claus decorations.

Aletta suddenly realized that Christmas would be in a few days.

Aletta was in a better mood after reading it.

She pulled Jason and said, "This time, let's have a lively Christmas? Invite the teachers and the others over!"

In the past, she would also spend time here with Lucas and Lyla. This year there are so many people here, it is a rare opportunity.

Seeing her extremely excited expression, Jason was naturally indulgent, "Okay, it's all up to you!"

At this time, Yargsborough was inside a castle-like manor.

David was sitting in the hall, reading a document, with two heavy brows, frowning.

The information is about the Hill Group, and it was just delivered today.

The assistant reported from the side, "The person who did something to the young master is the person in charge of the Hill Group-Jason."

David didn't expect that the other party belonged to the Hill Group!

The background is indeed not small, no wonder he dared to be so unscrupulous and attack Cole.

Still, it wasn't enough to scare him.

In David's view, Hill Group is just a group far away in America.

Although the business is spread all over the world, it is bigger than Richard, but the identity background may not be as deep as Richard Group.

Those organizations are all Richard's reliance.

What is Hill Group?

David immediately sneered, "Such a young business. genius, if he died outside suddenly, Hill Group would be very sad, right?"

Speaking of this, he closed the document, got up and said, "Let's go, go meet the masters!"

"yes."

The assistant nodded, and quickly went to prepare the car.

Five minutes later, the two left the manor in a car and headed to the black market.

At this moment, a black guest quietly followed behind them.

They didn't stop until they were not far from the black market.

In the car, the countess leaned back on the seat, holding a glass of red wine in her hand, and slowly sipping.

The bright red wine complemented her red lips and red nails, making her look extraordinarily enchanting and weird.

Wolf in the driver's seat stared at the movement outside.

After confirming that David had entered the entrance of the black market, he turned his head and said, "As you expected, David. Richard really came to the black market to rescue soldiers."

impossible to deal with that person, so we can only rely on the black market and those organizations."

"The point is, how can relying on the black market and those third-rate organizations be enough?"

As someone who has played against the King League, Wolf knows the power of the King League.

A single team leader can compete with him in skill.

And the King League has eight team leaders!

Not to mention, they have cultivated countless masters, killers, and mercenaries in private.

Most importantly, King League also has a Reg!

That person is the real first person, with extremely unfathomable skills!

When the Countess heard this, her eyes darkened.

“But we can add to the fire and wish him the best of luck.”

Speaking of this, she smiled calculatingly, “Let’s inform the person in charge of the black market later, and ask him to lend more people to David. I don’t expect to touch that person, but Aletta must die!”

“good.”

Wolf immediately nodded in acceptance.

Aletta doesn’t know yet, the danger is coming.

The next morning, Jason personally accompanied Aletta to the institute for treatment!

When they arrived, Lewis and Kirk were all set. The antidote is an injection.

Aletta just took a look and lay down on the hospital bed.

Before the fight, Kirk told her, “Aletta, don’t be afraid, this time, there shouldn’t be too much pain...

However, due to the needs of the third stage of treatment, there are some strong medicinal ingredients in the antidote this time.

After the injection, there may be high fever, but this is normal, so bear with it.”

Aletta nodded lightly, “Understood, let’s get started.”

Kirk nodded, picked up the prepared injection, and injected it into Aletta’s body.

Jason was by his side, keeping his eyes on Aletta, observing her reaction.

Although Kirk said the reaction was less dramatic this time than the previous two, he was still concerned.

After all, he had seen Aletta’s previous two treatments.

Every time the pain was unbearable, until he was in a coma at the end, it made him feel so distressed that he could suffocate.

“how do you feel?”

Jason couldn’t help asking, holding her little hand with his warm palm, giving her the strength to comfort and accompany her.

Aletta smiled and told him, “It doesn’t hurt, I don’t feel the slightest bit.”

Seeing that her expression didn’t change at all, she was in a relaxed state and showed no signs of being aggressive, so he was a little relieved.

Lewis is also observing Aletta's situation, seeing that she is active, he is not worried.

"The effect was as we had previously predicted."

Because Jason was with her, the two of them didn't stay any longer, and only confessed, "Leave Aletta to you. We'll go to the next-door research room to work on other things. If you have any questions, call us again."

"Well, thank you."

Jason nodded and agreed.

Soon, Lewis and Kirk were gone.

As time went on, Aletta lay sleepy and took a short nap.

By noon, she gradually felt the changes in her body.

Slow and uncomfortable, like ants gnawing, densely attacking.

The body temperature also rose a bit.

Aletta moved uncomfortably.

Jason noticed it immediately, and asked worriedly, "Are you starting to feel uncomfortable?"

Aletta nodded, not trying to be aggressive in front of him, "Well, it's a little hot."

Seeing that her spirit was much weaker than before, Jason immediately raised his hand and touched her forehead.

It's really starting to get hot!

"I have a fever."

His brow furrowed.

Aletta didn't want him to worry too much, and comforted him: "It shouldn't be serious, don't worry, and don't call them over for now."

Jason's thin lips were drawn into a line, and he held Aletta's hand, subconsciously tightening it.

This action revealed the emotions in his heart.

He still felt distressed after all. Whether it's suffering from pain or suffering from a little illness, he doesn't want to see it.

However, Jason quickly suppressed his emotions and said,

"I'll pour you a glass of water."

"good."

Aletta didn't refuse.

In her condition, she really needed to replenish the water in her body.

After drinking some hot water, Jason sent some light porridge over and fed Aletta some.

Aletta had no appetite, and after eating half a bowl, she shook her head at him, "I can't eat anymore, I want to sleep for a while."

"Okay, then you go to sleep, I will watch over you."

Jason put down the rest of the porridge and covered her with a quilt.

Chapter 464 Want to Hide Under the Bed

In the afternoon, Aletta's situation did not improve.

Soon after she fell asleep, her body temperature began to rise rapidly.

In her sleep, she felt as if she was being roasted on fire.

His whole body was hot, his head was dizzy, and the skin on his body was burning red.

Jason touched her forehead, which was surprisingly hot.

He quickly took her temperature, and it was almost forty. degrees.

"Eaton, go call them over!"

Jason said in a deep voice to Eaton at the door.

"yes!"

Eaton responded quickly and left in a hurry.

After a while, Lewis and Kirk came over one after another.

Hearing that Aletta had a fever, the two didn't have much worry on their faces.

After all, this is all to be expected.

"However, the temperature was still higher than expected."

Jason asked, "Just let it go? Can you get some fever-reducing injections, or something?"

Kirk shook his head, "No, Aletta has just taken the antidote, and the properties of the current medicine have not been fully absorbed. If I take the rest of the medicine, I'm afraid there will be conflicts, which will be even more detrimental to her."

Jason frowned.

"Don't worry, you can use physics to cool down."

Lewis reassured him, "Mr. Hill can help Aletta wipe her body, and you can also apply warm water to her forehead. She will be fine after she gets over it."

Jason was barely relieved when he heard this.

Soon, warm water, towels and alcohol will be ready!

It wasn't appropriate to have other people around, so Lewis and Kirk quickly backed away.

Eaton stayed outside.

All afternoon, Jason repeated helping Aletta, wiping her body, and changing towels.

Aletta didn't know what he'd done.

Her whole body was burning unconsciously, as if she was in a sea of flames and was about to be burned to death.

Therefore, during the whole drowsy period, his brows were tightly furrowed, and occasionally he couldn't help but groan when he felt really uncomfortable.

Her hair and clothes were gradually soaked with sweat.

Jason looked so distressed, but there was nothing he could 1.

In a blink of an eye, the afternoon passed.

Jason thought it would be better later.

But at night, the temperature in Aletta has no tendency to drop at all.

Lewis happened to come over, and seeing his unsightly expression, he had no choice but to say again: "Aletta's current situation is considered normal, and the fever will not go back so quickly, and it may take a whole night."

Jason's face was cold, "So sure it's okay? If it lasts for so long, can she bear it?"

If he burns like this again, he is worried that it will cause pneumonia!

Lewis explained, “She will have a fever, which means that the antidote in the body is working. If other medicines are used rashly, the treatment will be in vain. If it is serious, it will cause other adverse reactions. We can’t take this risk.

After hearing what he said, Jason’s complexion became even uglier, and his chest was faintly irritable.

”

Lewis also understood the torment in Jason’s heart, after thinking about it, he simply comforted him.

“Tomorrow morning at the most, the fever should subside and last for another night.”

Jason listened to his words, nodded lightly, and sat back down again.

It’s just that this night was difficult for both him and Aletta.

Aletta was in a coma all night, while Jason didn’t sleep a night.

He kept repeating the action of reducing her fever, and occasionally used a cotton swab to wet her lips to replenish moisture.

The next morning, around seven o’clock.

Things are finally looking up for Aletta.

The skin is no longer red, and the temperature on the body is gradually dropping.

Jason takes her temperature every hour.

After breakfast, Kirk and Lewis came over again.

After seeing this situation, the two of them relaxed their brows and eyes, "It seems that the properties of the medicine have been completely absorbed, which is a good thing! When she wakes up, she should be fine."

Although they didn't stay here like Jason, they didn't actually go back last night, mainly because they were worried that there would be an emergency on Aletta's side.

Fortunately, the situation is stable now, and they are relieved.

Jason also knew this, and said sincerely, "Thank you."

Kirk couldn't help laughing when he heard it, "Say it to yourself, I took care of Aletta for a night."

Lewis also agreed, "Indeed, we will not compete with you for this credit."

Jason smiled, and glanced at the woman on the bed, "As long as she's well, staying up all night is nothing."

If it can make her recover immediately, even if he can't sleep.

After checking Aletta's situation, Lewis and Kirk left quickly.

At around ten o'clock in the morning, the people on the hospital bed finally had other reactions.

Aletta almost exhausted all her strength to open her eyes from the lethargy.

The harsh light made her blink a few times uncomfortably.

When the thoughts came back, he turned his head, and the first thing he saw was Jason sitting on the edge of the bed, leaning against the back of the chair, who seemed to have fallen asleep.

The man's stunning face looked a little tired, and the suit that was always pressed flat was a little wrinkled.

Obviously, he stayed up all night to take care of himself!

Aletta's eyes couldn't help but look tender, and she raised her hand with some difficulty to hold his palm.

Surprisingly, the big hand, which was always warm, was terribly cold at the moment.

If you look closely, the skin on your hands is still red, as if frozen.

Aletta was puzzled for a moment, and soon, she saw the water basin on the cabinet.

She realized it later.

When I was burning badly last night, I occasionally felt a little cold.

Is it because of this?

It's him who keeps changing towels for himself...

Aletta couldn't help feeling distressed.

She moved her body and quietly took his hand over, trying to hide under the blanket and warm him.

But at this time, Jason's sleepy and magnetic voice came from the top of his head, with a bit of a smile, "Are you awake?"

Aletta looked up at him, and found the man's eyes opened at some point.

She nodded and asked, "Did I wake you up?"

Jason shook his head, "No, I didn't sleep deeply at all."

When she stretched out her fingers, she actually woke up.

"You didn't wake up, I couldn't sleep well."

While speaking, he sat up straight, put his hand on her forehead, checked her temperature, and said, "The temperature has returned to normal. Do you feel any discomfort?"

"No."

Aletta shook her head and told him honestly, "It's just a little weak all over, but everything else is fine."

Jason withdrew his hand and breathed a sigh of relief, "That's good, I finally recovered!"

Chapter 466

At this moment, Flora looked at the dishes on the table, and then at the empty place around her, and lost her appetite in an instant.

She put down her fork, and directly instructed the person next to her, "Put away the food, don't eat."

Then, he got up and went to the study to read the documents.

What's the point of eating alone.

In this situation, it's better to work overtime!

At night, after ten o'clock.

Ray finally came back from the hospital.

He looked a little tired, and after entering the door, he didn't see Flora's figure, so he asked Ava, "Is Flora asleep?"

Ava was specially transferred from the mansion by Marcie to take care of Flora's diet and daily life.

Hearing his question, Ava immediately shook her head and replied: "No, I didn't eat a few bites at night, so I went to the study. I have been busy until now and haven't taken a break. I went up half an hour ago and asked if I want to eat supper. She also said she wouldn't eat..."

Ray frowned, and handed her a packing box in his hand, "Please pack the things out, I'll go and see Flora."

With that said, he went straight upstairs.

On the second floor, the door of the study room was not closed.

When Ray came up, he could see the person behind the desk at a glance, with his head down, staring at the documents in his hand seriously.

Flora is dealing with tomorrow's work and forgets the time when she gets busy.

It wasn't until there was a knock on the door that he came back to his senses.

She looked at the man who walked in from the outside, with a calm expression, "You're back?"

Ray nodded, stepped in front of her, and asked softly: "Ava said, I didn't eat a few bites tonight, so I lost my appetite?"

Flora said, "I can't eat enough."

While speaking, she conveniently arranged the materials on the table and placed them neatly beside the table.

Ray looked at the person, his eyes flickered, and he keenly noticed something....

She doesn't seem very happy?

Realizing this, he immediately raised his hand and held her face over.

Flora was startled, looked at him, her tone was still calm, and asked, "What's wrong?"

Hearing this tone, Ray became more determined in his inner thoughts.

He sighed softly, hugged her, stroked the back of Flora's head with one hand, and said softly, "I'm sorry, I should have stayed with you more. As a result, I was busy with work, and there was an emergency at the hospital, so I couldn't accompany you for a single dinner." After eating, I have wronged you..."

Hearing these words, Flora was caught off guard for a moment, a little dumbfounded for a moment.

In fact, when she was processing the documents tonight, her mind had been distracted, and she couldn't help but think about one thing.

Regarding Meg, is he too stingy?

The other party and Ray are indeed related.

Therefore, in the case of losing her parents, it seems that Meg is more self-willed and relies on Ray...

However, she is in a bad mood because of this, isn't it a bit abnormal?

However, she really likes this person in front of her, and it's hard not to care about it!

With such complicated emotions in mind, Flora struggled for a few seconds.

In the end, he sighed in his heart, and said to himself: Forget it, there are some things, don't worry about them for now.

Now, after Meg's operation is over, and she recovers later, she probably won't do that again.

At that time, maybe Ray won't be pestered anymore!

Thinking of this, Flora also replied softly: "There is no grievance. You have worked hard. You are busy with so many things every day, and you have to go to the hospital. I am fine. It is just that I have no appetite. Don't think about it."

Hearing this, Ray couldn't help but let go and looked at her face carefully.

Flora tried her best to look as normal as ever.

She smiled and said, "Why do you look at me like that? I know I'm pretty, but I don't need to keep staring..."

Ray made a sound to expose her, saying: "I can see that you are just wronged."

His eyes and tone were somewhat determined.

Because of his words, the smile on Flora's face stopped immediately, and her expression faded again.

Ray couldn't help rubbing her head, as if trying to comfort a kitten who wasn't very happy.

His voice became more gentle and patient, "Flora, in front of me, don't hide your temperament. If you are happy, you are happy, and if you are unhappy, you are unhappy. You can open your heart to me, and you can be angry or angry at will. If you do not do well, you can also directly speak out, accuse and criticize, and I will follow you.

In short, I hope that when you are with me, you can always be yourself, without changing for anyone, and becoming cautious.

Forbearance, humiliation, etc., all are not allowed!

Because I just like you with such a genuine temperament! You are real and free and easy!"

Flora didn't expect to hear such words at all.

She was stunned for a while, and she also understood a little.

The man in front of him is a psychiatrist who has the best insight into people's hearts.

His little emotions couldn't escape his eyes at all.

Thinking of this, Flora asked, "Do you think I'm stingy?"

Ray smiled slightly, his tone tinged with connivance, and said, "Why? During this time, it is indeed Meg who is having temper tantrums, too often, and it's her problem. It's normal for you to be unhappy."

Immediately, he said again: "Of course, I'm also sorry. She has to have an operation these days, so she can't let it go. So, give me a few more days, okay?"

After she is discharged from the hospital, she will go back to live with my parents, and then she will not need to worry. about it.

At that time, I will definitely accompany you well! "

These days, the reason why Ray rushed over in time every time was also because his mother was too tired and lost a loved one, and his emotions fluctuated too much, so that he was not feeling well, so he couldn't take care of Meg.

Otherwise, he wouldn't be at Meg's beck and call.

Now he has to take care of the company, and his time is limited, so he can spend all the time he has squeezed out to accompany Flora...

After being tossed about by Meg, the two of them reduced their chances of getting along.

After Flora heard this, she felt relieved immediately, and she was not so depressed anymore.

Especially, what Ray said, she should be herself, instead of being wronged or compromising for others!

Flora thought about it too.

She has been used to being casual all her life, with a carefree personality, and she can afford and let go of everything.

However, once there is something in my heart, I really don't like to hold it back!

If this man can say this, the previous unhappiness is nothing.

At least he knows himself!

So, Flora nodded immediately, and said, "I know, I will be myself! But, you can't be bothered in the future!"

Seeing the smile finally return to her face, Ray smiled easily.

He said in a serious tone: "It's not annoying, it's not annoying at all... You probably don't know it, I really like your flamboyant appearance, it really attracts me. As you said, I really want to be fascinated by you."

As he spoke, he pinched the man's chin and couldn't help kissing him.

Chapter 467 Why Are You So Powerful

Flora was also touched by his confession that night, and felt sweet in her heart.

Immediately grabbed his shirt, tiptoed, and responded.

The two kissed passionately for a while before letting go of each other.

Ray's eyes were dim, stained with strong lust.

When Flora saw this familiar look, her ears felt a little hot.

She subconsciously opened up a little distance, and said: "Let's say it first, you can get out of control, but I'm not in charge of putting out the fire! The doctor said, you should control yourself for the first three months and don't mess around!"

Ray laughed when he heard this, "I know, but it can be done in another way."

His eyes were a little meaningful.

Flora wondered, "What other way?"

Ray didn't answer, but went first to close the study door and lock it.

Afterwards, he returned to her, with a hoarse voice, and said, "Tonight, I will show you a method that you have never tried before..."

After the words fell, he hugged her and kissed her forcefully.

Flora was kissed in a fog, and the whole person was also ignorant, being led by the nose.

After about a few minutes, the temperature in the study suddenly rose.

Flora looked at the neatly dressed man in front of her, but she didn't dare to look down at all.

She finally knows what the 'untried method' is!

Even though she was careless in the past, she is also blushing and tense at this moment.

Ray breathed heavily and breathlessly, kissing her lips again and again.

In a blink of an eye, half an hour passed.

Flora felt that her lips were hot, and her skin might be torn.

But the man has no intention of stopping.

She endured it, but she still couldn't hold it back, and said, "Ray, my hand is about to break, can you hurry up?"

Ray dressed roughly, suppressed his throat, laughed lowly, and said, "I want to go fast too, but my strength doesn't allow it."

Flora was so angry that she wanted to bite.

This is too long!

Ray fell in love with her appearance, couldn't help approaching her, and said, "Otherwise, tell me something I like to hear? It will definitely be soon."

"What do you like to hear?"

Flora was puzzled.

With a restrained expression, Ray whispered in her ear, "Of course it's a love story, you can say you like me."

Flora immediately understood.

She is not hypocritical at all, on the contrary, she is a very fast learner.

"Where is it enough to say that you like it? How about something exciting..."

Flora hooked his neck, whispered softly, and whispered in his ear: "Honey, why are you so powerful..."

A minute later, the charming atmosphere in the study finally stopped.

Ray got dressed and helped clean Flora's hands.

Flora let him serve her, the temperature on her face didn't fade for a long time.

After Ray saw it, he couldn't help laughing.

"What are you laughing at?"

Flora raised her leg and kicked him, looking a little coquettish.

"No, I just think that you are very courageous, and every time you do things, you are beyond my expectation."

Normal girls are definitely shy in this kind of thing.

Flora looked frank, "I always pay attention to efficiency in doing things, isn't this quite effective?"

After finishing speaking, she didn't want to talk about this topic anymore, and changed the subject, "I'm hungry and want to eat supper!"

"Finally know you're hungry?"

Ray came over and took her hand and said, "Let's go, you should like the food I brought when I come back."

After hearing this, Flora's eyes lit up, "Okay."

Soon, the two held hands and went downstairs.

Ava has already heated up the meal and put it on the dining table.

Flora swallowed unconsciously, and after she sat down, she couldn't help but take a sip of the soup first.

This soup is obviously carefully brewed. Once you eat it, it is sweet and rich, and it is really delicious!

Flora's appetite increased greatly, she took a bite, and the taste was very good!

Flora immediately gave a thumbs up and praised: "It's delicious!"

Seeing that Flora had a good appetite, Ava felt happy, and couldn't help sighing, "I finally ate it, and the young master has to coax it!"

Ray smiled triumphantly, "That's right, it's only useful if I coax you."

As he said that, he brushed the broken hair on his forehead in a high-spirited manner, looking ridiculous and chic.

Ava laughed directly, and agreed on the spot, "Yes, the young master is amazing, and can make Miss Flora happy."

Flora choked on the spot, and her little face suddenly turned red.

Seeing this, Ray hurriedly raised his hand to pat her on the back, suppressed a smile, and said, "Ava, you go to rest, it's late, I'll take this bowl later."

Ava is an old servant of the White family. She has watched Ray grow up, so it is not hypocritical to see him say this.

She quickly agreed and went back to her room to rest.

After she left, Ray couldn't hold back and laughed out loud.

Flora glared at him ferociously, a little bit annoyed, "If you want to come into my room tonight, I advise you to hold back your laughter!"

Ray naturally confiscated it, and his smile grew bigger and bigger.

He said, "What to do, I really like you more and more!"

Later, after supper, Ray took the initiative to collect the dishes and even washed them.

Flora was full after eating and drinking, and seeing this scene, she felt even better.

After it was over, Ray wiped his hands clean and asked her, "Are you going to rest?"

Flora shook her head, "I'm a little full, so take it easy."

When Ray heard this, he looked out the French window and asked, "Are you afraid of the cold? Do you want to take a walk outside the yard?"

Flora immediately agreed, "It's good to take a walk, just treat it as a digestion, I'm not afraid of the cold."

That's what he said, but Ray was worried about her catching a cold, so he still put a thick coat on her, and then took her out for a walk to digest food.

During the period, the two chatted and mentioned the Christmas decorations they saw on the street this evening.

Flora asked, "Do you usually celebrate this festival?"

Ray's expression was a little helpless, "I'm not! But my mother likes to be lively, and holds a family dinner every year, forcing me to spend it with my dad.

A few years ago, when I went to study abroad, I thought I would escape a catastrophe, but she just dragged my dad and flew over!

Flora couldn't help laughing.

That's exactly what Marcie would do.

She suggested, "Then let's go back and be with them in two days?"

Ray agreed without even thinking about it, "Okay, but before going, let's go back to your house first! Your parents will also accompany you."

Flora didn't expect that he would be so thoughtful, and couldn't help but feel a little happy.

He is real, he has considered every aspect.

Ray didn't notice her expression, and said to himself, "Accompany your parents for dinner at noon, and go to my parents' place in the evening! After dinner, let's go out together again..."

After all, this is our first Christmas together, with the little one in our belly..."

Speaking of this, he raised his hand with a smile and stroked her belly, "We are a family of three."

Chapter 468 Why Are They So Happy?

Flora couldn't help but roll her eyes, "Well, then we must celebrate."

After agreeing on this matter, the two walked for a while.

When Flora felt that she had almost finished digesting, she went back to her room to rest.

For the next two days, Flora was almost looking forward to Christmas.

On the morning of the festival, Ray prepared gifts for the parents of the Smith family.

Flora watched from the side, feeling a little amused.

She couldn't help teasing, "You've mentioned too much. Are you going to my house for wholesale? We're going back for dinner, not moving!"

He didn't care about her teasing.

He took the time to reply: "I still don't think it's enough!"

Flora was too lazy to refute, but her heart was warm.

If this man hadn't put himself in his heart, how could he have prepared so much for her family?

Soon, Ray put his things in the car and set off with Flora to the Smith family.

When they arrived, George and Maria came out to greet them one after another.

The two haven't seen their daughter for several days, and when they see someone now, they hold her hand and care.

“How are you feeling these days? Is your appetite better?”

Flora held her parents’ hand and said with a smile: “I feel good. Although I don’t have much appetite, Ray goes back every time to find all kinds of food, so I’m not hungry at all.”

After hearing this, George felt relieved, “That’s good, eat more if you can. When your mother was pregnant with you, she couldn’t eat or sleep well for several months.”

Maria glanced at Ray approvingly, “Ray has a heart too.”

“You are welcome, this is what I should do.”

Ray replied obediently: “She was pregnant so hard.”

This made the two of the Smith family laugh.

Although the words are exaggerated, it shows that Ray has taken good care of his daughter.

The two were relieved, and became more and more satisfied with this future son-in-law.

Soon, several people entered the room, and Ray also put presents on the table.

D

George likes to collect antiques. He chooses what he likes, and he chooses small gadgets that are more meaningful for collection.

What he gave Maria was some jewelry.

Not to mention the high price, the quality is hard to find.

As for Wade, after knowing that he likes wine tasting, Ray asked his foreign friends to order a lot of good wine a few weeks earlier.

George was at the side, greedily watching, and sneaked away two bottles.

Wade couldn't laugh or cry, "Dad, this wine is obviously for me!"

George said confidently, "So what? I'm your father, what's the matter with a little drink?"

Seeing this, Ray whispered, "There are still a lot of collections in my dad's wine cellar. Next time I come, I will steal a few bottles for you! But you can't tell him, or he will break my leg." "

When Wade heard this, he couldn't help laughing, "Is your leg worth less than wine?"

Ray sighed, "To tell you the truth, in my father's eyes, I am not as valuable as a plant in my mother's garden! Last time, I accidentally trampled to death my mother's rose, and my father almost killed me." Broken leg..."

This made everyone in the Smith family laugh.

After talking for a while, George played chess with Ray.

Ray was happy to accompany and was very patient.

For this new son-in-law, George became more and more pleasing to his eyes.

Good character, good ability, and funny talk!

At lunch, Maria also tried her best to pick up food for Ray, "Come on, Ray, eat more."

Ray thanked her, but his hands were peeling shrimps and picking fish bones for Flora, and even cooling down the soup.

Flora never refuses anyone who comes and accepts it very naturally.

Everyone in the Smith family can see the atmosphere they get along with.

They could tell that Ray was really kind to his daughter and sister, and it wasn't a show at all.

Seeing this, they felt more at ease.

After lunch, Ray left with Flora.

On the way to the White family, Flora teased him with a smile, "I can't tell, you are almost my parents' biological child now.""

Ray smiled triumphantly and said, "That is! My goal is to make them feel that I am their own, so that they can trust you to me!"

Flora curled her mouth, her heart was full of sweetness...

The two chatted without saying a word, and the car arrived at the White family.

Flora also prepared a gift for Marcie.

For Wally is a watch and a custom-made suit, and Marcie's skirt is a couple suit.

"Oh, it's my daughter's caring!"

Holding the gift from Flora, Marcie couldn't put it down, "My daughter-in-law is really good-looking.

"

Wally also agreed, "Indeed, girls are caring! Wife, let's go. try on clothes, I want to see how you look in couple clothes!"

"OK!"

Marcie readily agreed.

So soon, the two went to try it on together.

The clothes fit exceptionally well!

After putting it on, Marcie was so happy that he straightened Wally's shirt and tie, "It's not bad, it's still so handsome!"

"You are still so beautiful."

Wally calmly took the phone and turned on the camera mode, "I want to change the phone wallpaper, wife!"

Marcie took the picture cooperatively.

In the camera, the couple are exceptionally well-matched.

There was a smile on Flora's mouth.

Soon, Wally directly sent the photos he had taken to Twitter with a text to show off: A Christmas gift prepared by my daughter-in-law!

Ray was the first to leave a message: "My wife's taste and vision are good!"

Compared with the White family, the family is happy and harmonious.

Here in the hospital, it's not so good.

the twitter sent by the White family, her whole expression was almost crazy.

She is suffering here, why is that family so happy!

Meg was very dissatisfied.

Thinking that today was Christmas, but no one came to accompany her, she raised her hand and dropped her phone in a rage.

It was still a relief, and the things on the table next to her were not spared, and they were all swept to the ground by her.

Meg screamed like a madman.

The nurse's aunt saw her like this, but she didn't step forward, she just sighed in her heart.

She has been working as a nurse for so many years, and this is the first time she has taken care of such a difficult patient.

There is a fight every day.

She was too lazy to persuade.

Because they couldn't persuade them, they might be vented together.

It's better to wait silently for her to vent on her own, and then clean up!

Chapter 469

White family.

Marcie specially prepared a very sumptuous dinner, planning to have a good holiday, and after dinner, go to the hospital to see Meg!

As a result, Ray's phone rang just after two mouthfuls of the meal.

The familiar ringtone of the mobile phone made Flora's nerves tense, and she thought to herself: Here we come...

Ray picked up the phone.

Sure enough, the call was from the nurse's aunt.

The tone of the nurse's aunt seemed to be terrified, and she shouted anxiously, "No, Miss Meg ran to the roof and wanted to commit suicide. Come quickly!"

After hearing this, Ray's face changed slightly.

Maybe it was because the nurse's voice was too loud, and Marcie and Wally next to her heard it too.

The two looked surprised, and stood up, "What's the matter? It's all right, why can't Meg think about it?"

"Stop her quickly, we will come right away!"

The meal was not finished again, and this time the trouble was about to commit suicide, so Flora simply followed suit.

A group of people hurried to the hospital.

At this moment, Meg was already sitting on the railing of the hospital roof, her legs dangling in the air, as if she was ready to jump down at any time.

The medical staff and the police watched in horror from behind.

Nearby, there are many uncles and aunts who came to watch, and they are all persuading.

“Girl, you are still so good-looking at such a young age, what can you not think about? It’s so cold up there, come down quickly...”

“Yeah, there is hope only when you are alive. How sad are your relatives when you leave like this?”

Meg’s long hair was a little disheveled by the wind, and her sickly pale face was full of sadness.

Out of the corner of her eye, she caught sight of the policeman who was trying to approach, and yelled in resistance, “Don’t come here...don’t worry about it, stay away from me!”

As he spoke, he moved a little outside, scaring everyone present.

When Ray and others arrived, they saw this scene.

Marcie screamed in fright on the spot: “Meg, what are you doing! Come down quickly, don’t scare me, how dangerous is that place?!”

Wally was also worried, and quickly persuaded, “Yeah, Meg, if you have something to say, talk about it! Now that you have completed the operation and everything is getting better, why don’t you think about it?”

Obedient, come down quickly!”

Meg turned her head immediately when she heard the sound.

When she saw Marcie and the others, she burst into tears. and said with great grievance: “Auntie, I don’t think life is very interesting. My parents are gone. At this time of the year, they would accompany me to celebrate the festival! But tonight, see Looking at the empty ward, I feel so sad and my heart hurts! I was the only one left alone in the world with my good family. I really miss them and want to find them...”

When the words fell, she burst into tears, crying so pitifully.

This fragile appearance makes people feel sorry for what happened to her.

Marcie's eyes were also red, and she persuaded anxiously and worriedly: "What are you talking about, don't you still have us? Your uncle and I planned to come to accompany you later, why are you alone? It's your family! Meg, be obedient and come down quickly! Don't scare Aunty, okay?"

At the end, Marcie moved his steps and walked slowly towards Meg...

Seeing this, Meg shook her head, seeming to resist.

Because of this movement, she also swayed, which frightened many people.

Marcie almost burst into tears!

Seeing her like this, Ray's expression turned extremely ugly.

He said angrily in a deep voice, "Meg, are you done yet?"

100% Bonus

With this roar, Meg froze all over, stopped the tears in her eyes, and stared blankly at him.

Ray's face was ugly, and his gloomy eyes stared straight at the girl on the roof railing.

He reprimanded angrily: "How long do you plan to stop making trouble? At the beginning, when your house caught fire, my dad risked his life to rescue you, and he was injured too! Now, because of a so-called festival, you are on fire. Are you worthy of him for giving up your own life so easily?"

Seeing that her son spoke too harshly, Marcie was afraid of irritating Meg, so she hastily pulled him.

“Son, don’t be so excited, don’t aggravate her emotions...”

Ray is not used to it.

He said coldly, “Why are you teasing me? Am I wrong? Since her parents had an accident, no one in our family dared to slack off. Not only busy with the funeral, but also took care of her in the hospital all day. Because of this matter, causing you to feel unwell, did she thank you?”

Ray looked at Meg angrily, and said: “And me, I am so busy at work every day, and I have to take care of your emotions. I have to go to the hospital every day, and I am on call. You are lucky, there are so many people waiting for you, you are still looking for life and death here. Since you want to die so much, why not jump now! This way you are free, and we are also at ease!”

What does it mean to jump now?

Isn’t this urging people to die?

Marcie became even more anxious, and hurriedly said, “You child, what nonsense are you talking about!”

The policeman next to him also disapproved, and said, “Sir, the patient’s mood is very unstable now, don’t say such things to provoke her...”

Flora didn’t say a word the whole time.

However, when he heard the voice of the policeman, he couldn’t help but sneer.

Stimulate? Not necessarily!

This Meg didn't intend to seek death at all!

A person who really wanted to commit suicide would definitely jump without saying a word.

How is it possible to wait here for the White family to arrive, and then talk a lot?

Besides, she was quite safety-conscious. When she spoke, her fingers were still on the railing.

Looking at the white knuckles, I don't know how hard to pull it!

Where does she want to die? I'm almost afraid of death...

So, she made a fuss for a long time, just to sell her blog attention, she wanted people from the White family to show her concern!

Now, she has achieved her goal.

The uncle and aunt next to me were already worried to death.

As for Ray, maybe he also saw through Meg's tricks, so he got angry.

Fortunately, this man is smart, and he was not deceived by this method, otherwise, she would really doubt how she sees him.

Just when Flora was complaining secretly, Meg seemed to be touched by Ray's words, and she burst into tears.

She gasped and said, "I didn't mean to make trouble... I know you guys are very good to me! But, I really miss my mom and dad! I'm sorry, I'm sorry, Ray..."

Speaking of this, she cried even more sadly, shaking uncontrollably all over.

Seeing her let down her vigilance at this time, the police next to her rushed up without delay, grabbed Meg, and pulled her in!

Meg was unprepared, so she was easily dragged back to the rooftop and out of danger.

Everyone's hanging hearts also fell to the ground.

Chapter 470 The child in her stomach should not exist

Seeing the other person come down, Marcie rushed up, hugged him, and said angrily and distressedly: "Why don't you think about it, you really scared me to death!"

Meg leaned in her arms, apologizing with red eyes: "I'm sorry for making you worry, next time, I won't do it again.""

Wally stood aside and said, "Meg, you can speak up about what's going on in the future. If there's any problem, we can discuss it. There's no need to commit suicide."

"Yeah, how could I let you go?"

Marcie patted Meg on the back, comforting her constantly.

Seeing this scene, Ray was obviously also relieved.

He thanked the police comrades on the side, "I'm sorry to bother you to run."

"It's okay, it's fine if nothing happens to people."

After the communication here, Ray said to the doctor in the hospital, "I'm sorry to cause you trouble."

Several people chatted for a while, and then under the arrangement of the police, the scene quickly dispersed, and Meg was sent back to the ward.

At this moment, Meg's mood finally stabilized, and she returned to her normal state.

She summoned up her courage, looked at Ray, and said in a very sincere tone: "I'm sorry, Ray, I shouldn't be so emotional, I promise, I won't do stupid things again in the future. I'm really sorry. You are right, uncle I tried my best to save me, I shouldn't underestimate my own life. I will live well in the future, and I will be filial to my uncle and aunt in the future."

Seeing that she really knew she was wrong, Ray pursed her lower lip and said, "It's fine if you know you're wrong, I hope you will do what you say."

Meg hesitated, stretched out her hand, and gently tugged at the corner of Ray's clothes, "Then can you stop being angry with me?"

When she said this, her tone was cautious, as if she was acting like a baby.

Ray lowered his eyes, glanced at her movements, and said lightly: "Then this is the last time!"

Meg nodded vigorously and said firmly, "It must be the last time!"

After speaking, she let go of her hand, and because of the other party's forgiveness, she finally smiled.

Marcie couldn't help but feel relieved, "That's right, don't mess around in the future!"

Immediately, she asked again with concern, "After all this trouble, are you hungry? Have you had dinner yet?"

Meg shook her head, "Not yet, eating alone in the hospital, I don't have much appetite."

Marcie responded, "Then let's eat with you! It just so happens that we didn't eat either."

When she said this, she thought of something and hurriedly looked at Flora, "By the way, Flora hasn't eaten yet, is she starving?"

Flora replied, "It's okay..."

Meg seemed to have just noticed Flora's existence, so she also looked over at this time.

Then, she said something that surprised Flora.

She said with an apologetic tone, "I'm sorry, you're pregnant now, but you didn't eat dinner because of me. It's all my fault! Ray, take her to dinner quickly. I'm fine now!"

Flora didn't know why when she heard her say that, goosebumps popped up all of a sudden!

She didn't feel happy at all because of the change of title, but felt a chill!

This woman had rejected herself in various ways before.

Now, how could it be possible to change because of a farce!

What trick is this Meg playing?

Flora couldn't figure it out, and couldn't help staring at Meg right now.

Meg didn't look at her, but her eyes fell on her abdomen, and said quietly: "You need nutrition now, you can't be hungry, otherwise the baby in your stomach will not be able to grow up healthily..."

After the words fell, her eyes were full of innocence and harmlessness.

But for some reason, Flora felt scary, and the hairs all over her body stood on end.

She subconsciously covered her abdomen, and grabbed Ray's clothes next to her with one hand.

Ray noticed it, and immediately looked at Flora with concern, with a gentle tone, "What's the matter? Are you hungry?"

Flora wanted to leave this place, nodded immediately, "Yeah."

"Okay then, I'll take you to eat."

Ray held her hand, and then greeted the two, "Dad, Mom, leave this to you, we'll go first."

"Okay, you guys go quickly, don't let Flora get hungry, there are me and your dad here!"

Marcie is fine.

So the two left quickly!

After the door closed, Meg's eyes faded imperceptibly, and there was endless coldness hidden in them.

The child in Flora's womb should never have existed.

Flora shouldn't exist either!

On the other hand, Flora is far away from the smell of hospital disinfectant and Meg, and feels her whole body and mind are at ease.

Ray took her by the hand, and said in an apologetic tone, "I'm sorry, it's been so late, but fortunately Meg finally knows that she was wrong."

Flora thought to herself: I know I was wrong?

She declined to comment and didn't bother to speak.

Every time Meg sees her, she feels uncomfortable all over.

"Don't talk about it, let's go eat something?"

Flora changed the subject.

"OK!"

Ray nodded and said with a smile, "I'll take you somewhere!"

After the words fell, he took someone into the car, then drove to a garden restaurant on the top floor.

When she arrived, Flora's eyes sparkled, and her eyes were a little surprised.

The seats in this restaurant are surrounded by flowers.

Each flower is delicate and beautiful, and the air is full of charming floral fragrance.

The scene was also beautifully decorated by the ambient lighting.

Such a restaurant, it stands to reason, should be full of seats.

But here, there are only the two of them.

The table is already full of delicacies, as if, just waiting for their arrival.

Seeing this, Flora didn't know where it was, it was booked by someone.

She asked in a surprised tone, "When did you prepare?"

The corner of Ray's mouth slightly raised, "In the past two days, I was worried that I would not be able to live with you. tonight. It seems that the time is just right and won't be wasted."

As he spoke, he stretched out his hand and actively pulled Flora to sit down at the dining table.

"The food was prepared by them in the car just now. You fill your stomach first, and it won't taste good when it's cold."

He spoke softly, and his eyes were full of warm affection.

This situation made Flora's mood suddenly better!

The dinner was delicious. Flora was already hungry, so she had a good appetite and ate a lot.

When the two of them were about to finish eating, the surrounding lights suddenly dimmed.

Flora was surprised, thinking there was a power outage.

But upon closer inspection, it was found that it was not.

The ambient lights are still on.

However, at this time, the man sitting opposite her suddenly got up and walked slowly in front of her.

In his hand, he was holding an exquisite box...

Seeing this, Flora raised her eyebrows and asked with a smile, "What is this?"

Ray squatted down in front of her and said, "Christmas present for you!"

While speaking, he opened the box and handed it to Flora.