

Game Over 511

Chapter 511 Impulse Is The Devil

“When will you be able to take out the bullet?”

Matthew couldn't take it anymore. The bullet would hit him from time to time. Even a man like him would not be able to endure the pain.

He really felt that he was only one step away from death.

Nicolas's face darkened slightly and he sighed deeply.

“Matt, this surgery is very difficult. Let's wait.”

“Aren't I waiting for death?”

Nicolas was stunned for a moment and cursed.

“What are you talking about? I won't let you die.”

After saying that, he added, “Don't worry, I will definitely complete the surgery.”

At this moment, Nicolas's assistant walked in and she handed a new phone to Matthew.

“Mr. Hilton, this is the new phone that Nicolas bought for you. Your phone broke last night.”

Only then did Matthew realize that his phone never rang. It turned out that it was broken.

He took the phone and knew that Nicolas had already sent everything in his old phone to the new phone. He looked at it bit by bit and found no data lost.

Fortunately, he normally did not use his phone to work. He always used business handoffs or tablets.

He subconsciously clicked on Elizabeth's messages and realized that she hadn't sent a single one..

The only thing that he found comforting was that she had called him a few times.

Nicolas saw that he was looking at his phone, so he asked.

"Do you want me to inform Lizzy that you're sick?"

Even though Jessica had been here before, the woman was very obedient, she probably did not dare to bring this up to Elizabeth.

Matthew looked up at him and said coldly.

"There's no need."

"Then do you want me to kill that bastard Dominic?"

Matthew's face darkened. "There's no need."

Nicolas could tell that this fellow was in a bad mood.

The headache was controlled, but the pain in her heart was hard to deal with.

He stood up and said softly.

"Your health is the most important thing now. You can think about women after you've recovered."

Nicolas was kind enough to remind him, but he did not say anything. He took out his phone and started making a phone call. He needed to arrange various tasks.

Elizabeth hung up the phone and saw that Hazel had already come upstairs. She poured a cup of tea for Dominic and stood behind him obediently.

Hazel did not make a sound and just stood there, not moving

Except for her vibrant eyes, she looked like a doll

Elizabeth sat opposite Dominic. "Dominic, the doctor is in the guest room. Shall we go for a checkup?"

"Then, are you willing to marry me?"

She recalled the voices she heard last night and her heart ached.

Matthew went to look for another woman. She was very sad.

I gritted my teeth and replied.

"Okay, I agree."

Since things have turned out this way, does she still need to struggle?

No one believed her. Even Matthew misunderstood her. It was so hard for her!

In that instant, she felt like her heart had died.

Upon hearing this, Dominic smiled slightly. He knew that as long as he was still blind, Elizabeth would definitely compromise. He knew her kindness very well

Matthew, just wait and have a drink at our wedding!

“Can we go for a checkup now?”

Dominic stretched out his hand, “Okay, I’ll do as you say.”

Hazel looked at the young master like this, she felt a little uncomfortable, she didn’t know why.

She pursed her lips in anger and wanted to help the young master but Elizabeth had already helped him up. The two of them were very close and they walked toward the door.

Hazel followed behind and watched with wide eyes as another woman snatched her work. Her hand moved, it felt like it was held by the young master’s hand.

Elizabeth didn’t think much about it. She firstly wanted to cure Dominic’s eyes. By that day, she would be done paying back her debt to him-

Chapter 512 Pearl’s Surgery

Dominic was very cooperative. He examined his eyes and also did psychotherapy.

During this period, he did not ask Elizabeth to accompany him. Instead, he asked Hazel

Elizabeth went downstairs and Mrs. Campbell sat in the living room to have coffee.

When he saw her coming downstairs, he instinctively glanced behind her.

“Where’s Dom?”

She thought Elizabeth hadn’t persuaded him and he must be angry again.

Elizabeth sat beside her and said with a smile.

“He went for a checkup.”

Mrs. Campbell was very excited. “Really?”

She grabbed onto Elizabeth’s shoulders and shook her

Elizabeth nodded, “It’s true.”

But what she did not know was that she had even agreed to a condition. This condition was fatal to her.

Mrs. Campbell was overjoyed. She poured her a cup of coffee and served her a few desserts.

Thank you for your hard work.”

Mrs. Campbell was very happy. She got up and walked to the kitchen.

“Make a few more dishes that Young Master likes later.”

Elizabeth picked up her coffee and took a sip. She did not add any milk or sugar. It should be bitter, but she could not feel it.

The bitter coffee was not as bitter bitter as her feeling now.

Elizabeth was a little lost in her thoughts. She held the coffee cup and drank it one sip by one sip.

Elizabeth and Mrs. Campbell accompanied Dominic for lunch. He could eat by himself with his chopsticks. It should be the result of practicing several times.

Mrs. Campbell kept bringing him food. With the help of Hazel, it wasn't a lot of effort.

Suddenly, he raised his head and said, "Mom, give Lizzy some food too."

When he said this, a hint of a smile flashed across his face.

"She has already agreed to marry me. I'll go buy a ring later. You and your family need to prepare for the proposal."

Elizabeth heard this and looked at him. The fog in her eyes was thick and her face was filled with despair.

Mrs. Campbell served her a lot of dishes. "Lizzy, look at how much my son loves you. We'll definitely prepare a glorious proposal."

Elizabeth lowered her head and continued eating, not wanting to say anything

Dominic naturally saw her expression. He knew that she still missed Matthew and couldn't forget her.

He narrowed his eyes and smirked. Matthew, you never will see a woman sad for you.

I was the one who bumped into her first. I was the one who helped her all this time.

“Why do you have the right to snatch her away once you show up?”

“but so what if that’s the case? In the end, she’s still my woman.”

After lunch, Dominic was about to rest. Elizabeth said that she had something to do and left first.

On the third day, she went to the hospital early in the morning

In the hospital room, Pearl was watching cartoons. She was in a bad mood, but her eyes were bright and dazzling

Leonard had already changed into his hospital gown, just like Pearl. He had blue and white stripes on.

Jessica pushed him out of the bathroom. “Mr. Johnson, don’t make a scene. You have to stay strong today.”

Actually, from yesterday onwards, Jessica did not allow him to touch her anymore, fearing that his kidney would not have enough energy.

After all, the surgery had to be done well in every aspect. That way, the surgery would go smoothly.

Leonard pulled her into his arms with a playful smile on his face.

“It’s going to be an operation, so I wanted to be more intimate with you. When I come out of the operating room, I’m going to stay on the bed.”

At the thought of it, he wished he could eat her a few more times.

Elizabeth cleared her throat gently. If she didn’t make another sound, she might hear something even more spicy.

The moment Jessica saw Elizabeth, her face turned even redder, making her feel so uncomfortable.

She pushed him away and walked toward Elizabeth.

“Lizzy, you’re here.”

At this moment, Nicolas and Matthew walked in. The man was wearing a white shirt and black trousers. His black eyes swept over Lizzy coldly.

He walked to the sofa and sat down, crossing her legs elegantly.

Nicolas, on the other hand, was dressed in white. He greeted them with a smile and said, “Lizzy, you’re so early.”

Chapter 513 Unable To See Through Her

Elizabeth’s gaze was entirely on the man. He seemed to have lost weight. It had only been three days since they last met. Did he not eat properly?

Nicolas looked in the direction she was looking at and smiled.

“Matt, Lizzy is looking at you! Why aren’t you paying attention to her?”

Elizabeth hurriedly averted her gaze and stopped looking at him.

Jessica also noticed that the two of them were not getting along well, she asked softly

“Did you guys quarrel?”

However, the news of her and Dominic’s marriage had been circulated on social medias. No one would be able to handle it.

However, the news today must have been suppressed by someone.

Elizabeth did not say a word. Her expression was a little cold.

“Jess is such a smart woman!” She tugged at her hand.

“You take a seat. I need to accompany the two of them.”

Elizabeth did not want to be alone in the living room outside. It would make her look very lonely. She did not want to sit on the sofa, because she would be too close to him.

Hence, she pointed to the bed and said, “I’ll play with Pearl for a while.”

Jessica nodded,

“Share my burden”

Actually, Jessica also wanted to accompany Pearl because was a huge surgery today. However, she had to comfort Leonard.

If he ran away again, what about Pearl?

During this period of time. Jessica really treated him like a treasure. She fulfilled any requests he asked.

Elizabeth sat down beside the bed. At that moment, Pearl looked at her and then smiled. Her petite and slender face was sharp.

“Godmother!”

Elizabeth's heart ached when she saw her like this. She was in a bad mood, but when she saw her, she forced a smile.

"Pearl, what are you looking at?"

Pearl pointed to the television on the opposite wall "Baby Rainbow, Abby likes it too!"

Elizabeth blinked and took a closer look at the television. It seemed like she hadn't watched TV with Abby for so long. She actually didn't remember it.

"You're going to enter the operating room later. Don't be afraid. Mommy and I are waiting for you at the door. You'll see us once you're out"

Jessica probably told her last night that this little girl was very sensible. Even if she was afraid, she won't show it.

Pearl nodded and secretly glanced at Jessica. When she saw her talking to Uncle Johnson and Uncle Johnson hugging her, a hint of a smile flashed across her eyes.

She moved to Elizabeth's side and leaned into Elizabeth's ear.

"Godmother, if I die, help me take care of Mom! Let her marry Uncle Johnson. He's a good person."

Ever since Mom met Uncle Johnson, Mom didn't have to work so hard anymore. Usually, someone would take care of her here.

Mam doesn't need to do anything. She doesn't need to stay up late. She's pretty now!

Uncle Johnson even gave her such a good ward, so she knew that her mother would be living a good life with him.

Even without her, she would still be fine.

Elizabeth was startled when she heard this. So Pearl! knows everything?

Surgery was always uncertain. Everything would happen on the operating table.

Elizabeth pulled her into her arms. "Pearl, don't think too much. You'll get better. Once you're discharged, you can stay next to my house. You can play with Abby every day."

Upon hearing this, Pearl smiled brightly, she thought so too.

"Yeah, I'll try my best to survive."

The man sitting on the sofa looked at Elizabeth coldly. Although he only saw her back, this back view was beautiful to him.

When he saw her carry Pearl into his arms, his brows couldn't help but frown at the picture.

The woman looked so kind and innocent like an angel, but she was full of lies.

Chapter 514 Womanizer

After explaining to Leonard, he retreated to the sofa and turned to look at Matthew.

The way he looked at people was quite terrifying. Even a grown man could not handle it.

Hence, Lizzy did not dare to face him, which was understandable.

"Matt, are you here to accompany Leonard or for someone else today?"

The moment you entered the door, you have been staring at her. Isn't it too obvious?

Looking at Lizzy again, she was really heartless. She had never given him a serious look, and now she was giving him a back view.

Matthew looked back and took out a cigarette, wanting to light it irritably,

But remembering that this was the hospital room and that little girl Pearl couldn't stand the smell of tobacco, he put the lighter back into his pocket and sniffed it.

"I'm wondering if all evil women look so innocent"

Elizabeth heard this and her heart tightened.

He really did not believe her anymore. He even said that she was an evil woman. She pursed her lips slightly. Since he already thought her that

"Then I'll show him, what is a real evil woman?"

Pearl saw her staring blankly at the television and asked.

"Godmother, do you like watching Rainbow Baby too? Isn't it good?"

Kids all hope that adults would like things they like. Elizabeth regained her senses.

"I like it. It's so good!"

Pearl laughed happily. She seemed to be in a much better mood compared to just now.

Previously, she was watching TV alone. Actually, she should be afraid.

And Jessica couldn't come over to comfort her, she was trying to coax that guy! That fellow really was a piece of work, he ran back last time.

If Jessica hadn't been strong enough to drag him back, otherwise, Pearl would not be able to undergo the surgery.

At around Abby o'clock, the nurse arrived.

After informing them that they were going to enter the operating room, she signed the papers and Leonard signed the papers. Then, she got Leonard and Pearl to sit on the wheelchair.

Leonard glanced at the wheelchair indifferently. "I can walk by myself."

Damn it. He hasn't even entered the operating room yet. Is she cursing me?

I don't want to sit on that! I want to walk in and walk out.

However, when he got out, he would definitely not be able to walk. But he still refused to sit on that wheelchair when he went in.

Elizabeth had already carried Pearl into the wheelchair. While talking to her, she kissed her cheek.

"Darling, don't worry. There are so many people waiting for you at the door!"

Pearl nodded and Elizabeth pointed at Leonard.

"You'd better deal with that guy! Leave Pearl to me."

Nicolas was talking to Leonard and told him to listen to the doctor.

“I don’t want to sit.”

The man sitting on the sofa was still sniffing cigarettes. He couldn’t help but laugh when he saw how stubborn Leonard was.

This dude knew what he was doing. The more he behaves like this, the more Jessica becomes obedient.

He had never thought that among the three of them, this brat was the most skilled in the love field, and he was the first to have a girlfriend. At least he could sleep her every night.

“What about me? I’ve been chasing her for so long.”

Only one night. It’s nothing compared to him.

Brandon walked toward Leonard and wrapped her arms around his waist. She not care about being seen anymore?

As long as she could coax this big baby into the operating room, she would feel at ease.

“Darling, be good. I’ll push you.”

After saying that, she tiptoed and kissed his lips.

“Have a seat.”

After the kiss, his eyes turned straight. Then, he became extremely obedient. He sat in the wheelchair and held her hand. His voice also became a little deeper.

“Jessica, I’m scared.”

It looked like he was flirting, but who won't be afraid of entering the operating room?

The expression on Jessica's face changed slightly. Indeed, she was shocked by his current expression. She furrowed her brows.

"Don't worry, I'll wait for you at the door. I'll remember you you saved my dearest daughter."

Chapter 515 Calm Her Up

Nicolas couldn't help but laugh at Leonard's reaction and told Matthew.

"Matt, learn how he did it. Women will feel sorry for you that way."

Every time he was having a headache, even though he was already sweating profusely from the pain, he didn't even harrumph and suffered in silence.

Moreover, he never let Lizzy know

He had this bullet to protect Lizzy, but he kept it from her.

I have to admit that Matt is a real man.

Matthew's gaze darkened slightly. He walked out and said.

"Mr. Johnson, you can be more of a p*ssy."

Leonard raised his eyebrows and smiled, but he did not respond.

He knew that he had been showing off too often lately, and he was having a fight with Elizabeth and was jealous of him.

Thinking in this way, he was in a great mood.

Elizabeth pushed Pearl to the nursing station. They still needed to confirm the information.

Jessica stroked Leonard's head. "Ee good!"

She was about to enter the operating room. She had to endure it. She had to coax this big baby into the operating room no matter how hard sh tried.

Her hand caressed his ear. This little movement was something he liked the most.

Because when they was in bed, whenever he was too rough, she would only grab his ears.

Hence, using this move would remind Leonard of those scenes. The color on his face turned slightly thick, and his gaze turned fierce.

Jessica narrowed her eyes at him, she looked very seductive.

Leonard felt that it was worth dying for this woman, so he said.

"Let's go. It's just bone marrow. I won't die."

After saying that, he glared fiercely at Jessica, which meant that when I recover, you'll see how I torture you.

Jessica heaved a sigh of relief. Sure enough, she had learned a lot of practical lessons in the club, Now, she had already got this man in line.

Under the lead of the nurre, the two of them sat in a private elevator. There was also a lady in the elevator, who pressed the elevator butts.

Elizabeth had never seen such a scene. Previously, she heard that there was someone sitting in the elevator to press the elevator button. This time, she had witnessed it.

It turned out to be in the hospital, and it was a special surgery passageway.

They went to the VIP operating room, so there weren't many people at the entrance. They were the biggest crowd.

A nurse answered at the door and verified their names. After the birthday, Leonard and Pearl were pushed into the room and the door slowly closed.

Elizabeth held on to Jessica's hand, "Let's sit there and wait!"

Her hands were cold, and her face was a little pale. She was the one who pretended to be fine.

Elizabeth understood her very well. She understood that everything she did was for her daughter.

Jessica pursed her lips, her body trembling slightly.

"Finally, Pearl is finally feeling better."

She was happy and worried. She hoped that everything would go smoothly.

When Matthew saw the two women hugging each other, he glanced at the man and frowned slightly.

"Why me again?"

"Weren't you concerned about that woman? Wouldn't you go and comfort her yourself?"

"You're a doctor. Don't insult your duties."

Damn it. This is a moral kidnap.

Nicolas thought to himself, but he couldn't beat him. Moreover, he still had half of the funds for his own lab. If he withdrew the funds.

The laboratory of his would be finished. For personal gain, he could only bear the responsibility of being a doctor.

Nicolas walked up to the two of them and looked down at them.

"Lizzy, Jessica, don't worry too much. I have hired the best doctor with a lot of clinical experience. You can trust me?"

Upon hearing this, the two of them raised their eyes to look at him.

He straightened his hair. "You have to believe in professionalism."

Chapter 516 Boss, I Got You

Elizabeth gave him a look, telling him not to say another word.

The child is inside. How can Mom not be anxious?

"Whether you're a professional or not, it doesn't matter to us mothers.

The most important thing is that this child is going to be fine and the surgery will be successful.

Jessica forced a smile, "Nicolas, thank you and Mr. Hilton for coming. With you here, I feel at ease."

"That's true. The two rich masters of A City are here. What's there to be afraid of?"

No one in A City would dare to offend them as long as they raised their fingers. Therefore, even if the doctors inside were not personally hired by Leonard.

Even if they did not know each other, they would do the surgery for the sake of the two of them.

Now, she could only hope that God would bless her and everything would go well.

The surgery had always been undergoing a while. The doctors had mentioned before that the surgery that it would take about six to seven hours.

The people outside the operating room were a little tired. Matthew sat in a chair not far away and his gaze was cold as he kept looking at his watch

Nicolas was not in a rush because he understood that this surgery was not simple. It must be

He was playing with his phone, as if he was playing a game.

Elizabeth wrapped her arms around Jessica and asked her to close her eyes to rest.

Este arrived and sent lunch to them.

Very slow.

First, he handed his boss's food respectfully, then the one that belonged to Nicolas.

Nicolas put down his phone. I'm really hungry."

Hence, he opened it and started eating

Esme looked at Matthew's icy-cold expression. For the past few days, he had been like this. He had been working overtime every day in the company, and his dark circles were evident.

Mr. Hilton was always like this when he was in a bad mood. He worked overtime day and night.

The people under his guidance did not dare to go home and stayed in the office.

After leaving his office today, the employees in the company breathed a sigh of relief. They felt that they could finally go home tonight.

Esme understood why his boss was in a bad mood. Recently, the news spread like wildfire. Ms. Wade was about to get engaged to Mr. Campbell, and the two of them were overjoyed.

Is Ms. Wade cheating? How is Mr. Hilton feeling?

Esme was on his boss' side. Now that his boss had suffered, of course he had to support him.

Matthew lifted his jaw and instinctively asked him to deliver the lunch box.

The woman was comforting Jessica and hugging her for several hours. Was her hand already sore?

At this thought, his gaze darkened slightly.

She was getting married to another man. Who cares about her hands?

There was a slight pain in his head. He raised his slender fingers and pressed on the middle of his eyebrows. Nicolas noticed it and asked.

"Have you taken the medicine?"

The medicines he prescribed were effective in suppressing pain.

Matthew slowly lowered his hand. "I'm fine."

I don't want to take medicine in front of this woman. I'm a man, I can handle it.

"Mr. Hilton, you're so stubborn. It's hard for others to care for you!"

Nicolas shook his head. "could you just let her know?"

Now that he was in poor shape, Elizabeth was responsible for him, and at least she should take care of him until he recovered.

How could she have taken care of another man just because he was blind, but he was blind not because of you.

The more she thought about it, the angrier he became.

Esme was also worried about his boss. He stood at the side and looked at him with a frown. He wanted to ask about those things just now. However, he did not dare, so he could only stand.

Matthew said coldly. "The food could not even cover your mouth."

Nicolas wailed. Sure enough, his tongue had become more sharp than before. He had become vicious man.

I do not care anymore. Eat and drink. Only when I'm full will I have the energy to coax my woman.

Matthew glanced at Esme coldly, "Are you here to be the doorkeeper?"

Esme understood instantly, “Oh, I’m going to deliver dinner. Actually, Mr. Hillou, Ms. Wade is already like this, so don’t give her anything to eat! She’s hungry, let her mind wake up.

Chapter 517 Only He Can Bully Elizabeth

When he said this, he only felt that two icy-cold gazes were glaring at him, making him feel uncomfortable, and his whole body felt cold.

In the end, he compromised and could only look at the bodyguard beside him.

“Send the food to the two of you.”

He was on his boss’ side. If he wanted to show it to his boss that he would definitely not give Ms. Wade a good attitude.

The bodyguard who was carrying the food nodded and walked to Elizabeth and the others.

Elizabeth and Jessica heard what Esme said just now.

Jessica said, “There’s no need, we won’t eat.”

Elizabeth added, “There’s no need for someone to send it away.”

Upon hearing this, the three men beside them looked over. Esme’s eyes gluted with surprise, so he ignored it and strode over.

“Ms. Wade, is someone bring food to you? Is it your new boyfriend? No, he’s a dog, right?”

The thought of a man like Mr. Hilton being cheated made him very angry.

Is Elizabeth blind? Mr. Hilton is ten thousand times better than Dominic Regardless of wealth or looks. Mr. Hilton is richer than him, and he likes her a lot.

Jessica glanced at Esme. Wasn't this assistant very close to Lizzy before?

"Now, you're changing too quickly, aren't you?"

Elizabeth glanced at him indifferently, "Mr. Mack, please speak in human language."

"You..."

Esme felt that Ms. Wade used to be beautiful, kind, and most importantly, friendly.

Only today did he really witness what is a unreasonable woman.

At this moment, Ms. Elliott arrived holding a food container. When she saw that Nicolas and Matthew had eaten, she said.

"Why did you guys eat? I made a lot of dishes today."

After saying that, she wanted to give them food, and Elizabeth called her.

"Ms. Elliott, they have food. Don't worry about it."

She stood up and walked over, leading Ms. Elliott toward her.

"Jess, you need to maintain your stamina today, so I asked Ms. Elliott to cook a lot of dishes. There are braised pork, steamed fish, and fish soup. Eat more so that you can wait for to Pearl come out."

Matthew frowned slightly upon hearing this. These were all his favorite dishes.

Especially when Ms. Elliott made braised pork. It was absolutely delicious. He had never eaten something so delicious with Ms. Elliott.

Ms. Elliott looked over and smiled at Matthew.

Actually she cooked it for Mr. Hilton. She just hoped that he and Lizzy would get along well and not make things awkward because of the bews.

The two of them were having a legit fight now.

Nicolas heard the names of the dishes and turned Matthew around with his hand.

“They’re all your favorite dishes. It seems like Lizzy’s nanny knows your liking very well! She must have made it for you. It’s a pity that your assistant offended Lizzy just now. You’re not lucky.”

He said happily, and he did not forget to get up for their food.

Matthew looked at his lunchbox. Is this comparable to Ms. Elliott’s cooking?

“Well, it’s completely incomparable. He suddenly called.

“Esme.”

Esine walked over and bent down slightly.

“Mr. Hilton.”

A trace of anticipation hung on his face, waiting for his boss to reward him.

After all, he was obviously on his side and supported him.

Matthew said coldly, "There's a project in Africa. You can go over tonight and take full responsibility."

Upon hearing this, he was shocked.

"Mr. Hilton, isn't there a person in charge of that project?"

Mr. Hilton had donated a hospital over there and it was currently under construction. However, there was no need for his guidance in this

Matthew picked up the lunch box because the scent of the food was already overwhelming.

I could not eat this box of food anymore. That little bastard, Nicolas, even exclaimed from time to time.

"Ms. Elliott, this dish is too delicious, especially this braised pork. It's amazing!"

Chapter 518 Is There Something Special About Her

Matthew said coldly, "Look at you, you're too free. Go ahead! Otherwise, you can resign *"

Esme instantly understood what he did wrong.

Secretary Wade could not be bullied. Matthew is the only one who is allowed to do so. If anyone dares to offend her, the consequences will be Only now did Esme understand.

But it was late. His expression could not be described as crying.

"Alright, Mr. Hilton. I'll go and talk to Secretary Lee now."

Esme walked out and looked in the direction of Elizabeth.

“What’s so special about this girl? She’s just a woman. She’s no different from other women. She has two eyes, one mouth, one head, two legs, two hands.

Why would Mr. Hilton care for her so much?

Sigh...

He sighed heavily and left quickly. He could only resign himself to staying in Africa for two months. Two months later, he must think of a way to return.

At the resting area at the entrance of the operating room, Jessica, Elizabeth, and Nicolas were eating together.

Nicolas had tasted anything precious, but today, he had indeed been conquered by Ms. Elliott’s cooking.

Normally, he felt that braised pork was too oily and it was bad for his body. It was better not to eat it.

However, it was only today that he realized that it was a blessing to be able to eat. He would think about liealth later.

Matthew sat there coldly, his face darker. Ms. Elliott would glance at him from tune to time, wanting to have him eat together.

However Lizzy was her employer. She did not dare to say much.

Suddenly, she felt that Mr. Hilton was so pitiful that he was isolated

After the meal, Nicolas leaned against the chair and touched her belly.

“It’s so full! It’s been a long time since I’ve eaten so full.”

Elizabeth looked at his comfortable appearance. She could not believe that there were be no shortage of chefs by his side but chefs who could cook homely dishes.

The expression on Jessica’s face was still slightly grim. She glanced at the door of the operating room and realized that there was still someone going in

There were also those who came out, and she would watched the expressions on their faces after the surgery went smoothly.

She pursed her lips and asked.

“Nicolas, do you think the surgery will go well? If it doesn’t go well, do they need me to sign something?”

Nicolas snapped back to his senses and smiled.

“Don’t be nervous. Just like what you think. If it didn’t go smoothly, someone would have asked you to sign all kinds of consent papers. It’s good that it’s so quiet and there’s no movement.”

Following her wish to comfort her, Elizabeth nodded at her.

“Yeah! Stop talking nonsense.”

Ms. Elliott finished packing and sat down to accompany them.

Jessica said. “Ms. Elliott, you don’t have to stay here. You still need to pick up the kids in the afternoon. You still need to cook dinner for them. Go home and rest.”

Jessica and Elizabeth had a good relationship. They did not treat Ms. Elliott as an outsider.

She is getting old. Everyone takes good care of her.

Ms. Elliott nodded. "Alright, then I'll go home. I'll send dinner over too. Just give me a call if you want to eat anything."

She knew that the two who had gone through the surgery were still unable to eat. She could only make soup for them tomorrow.

Elizabeth got up and sent her out. until they sent her into the elevator, Ms. Elliott waved her hand.

"Keep her company. I think she looks terrible. She should be quite worried. Remember to tell me that Pearl is safe after the surgery!"

Ms. Elliott's heart is also hanging here! It's true. They've known each other for many years, and they've long treated Jessica as family.

"I know. Be careful on the road. I've called a car for you. The car plate number has been sent to you. Take a look"

"Okay, I'll take the bus."

"They've already called the car. Take a sent! Otherwise, they'll deduct the money."

Ms. Elliott nodded and the elevator closed.

Elizabeth turned around and bumped her head into a man's chest.

Chapter 519 He Comes Out First

Elizabeth was in so much pain that she let out a soft cry and cursed in her heart. Who is this?

“Why are you standing behind someone? Are you crazy?!”

As she thought about it, she slowly raised her head. When she saw her dark and bottomless eyes, she was shocked.

It was Matthew, and he looked at her like he was about to eat someone.

Elizabeth withdrew her gaze and took a step to the side. She couldn't afford to offend him, so she walked away.

But she only walked over and bumped into him again. She narrowed her eyes slightly.

“Matthew, is there something wrong with you?”

Matthew's expression was still cold. “You bumped into me. How dare you say that I have a problein.”

“Elizabeth.”

She endured it and didn't bother to argue with him. Today's main goal was Pearl's surgery. She couldn't make a scene outside of the surgery room. This would bring bad luck

She wanted to maintain a smile, so she lifted her face and smiled.

“Then, I'm sorry! Can you let me go?”

Matthew stood coldly, as if he didn't hear anything

Elizabeth was really going crazy. Why is this man so annoying? He's such a pervert

She took another deep breath and took a step to the other side. Of course, just like what she thought, she bumped into him again.

The man's chest was like a rock. Why did he have to train his muscles so tightly?

Since this was the public elevator of the operating room and also the VIP operating room, there were fewer people here.

The two of them froze at the elevator doors for a while but no one passed by.

Elizabeth was about to cry. She didn't know how to deal with him.

"Matthew, what do you want? Say it straightforwardly"

She looked at him. She was wearing flat shoes today, so he looked taller, and Lizzy has to raise her head to look at her.

Matthew put his hands in his pockets and said coldly

"Sleep with me tonight."

Elizabeth's eyes narrowed. What did this fellow say?

"Why?"

"I want to fuck you, understand?"

Elizabeth..."

Elizabeth was dumbfounded. He always talked to her in a civilized way. It was the first time she heard him say the F word.

Hence, she pushed him away and strode to the resting area of the operating room. She said loudly.

“Don’t dream. That’s impossible.”

Matthew’s face darkened, and his lips pursed together.

Sure enough, this girl no longer wants him to touch her. Does she want to save her to Dominic?

Elizabeth had just reached the door of the operating room when she saw Leonard being pushed out. His nose was filled with oxygen duct and his eyes were closed.

Nicolas was talking to the doctor and asking about his condition.

Jessica stood by the bed and caressed his hand

“Lu, Leonard.”

Seeing him with his eyes closed, Jessica thought he was in a bad shape, and her tears fell onto his hand.

In fact, at this moment, he opened his eyes.

“Baby, I’m flue. Don’t cry.”

After saying these few words weakly, he closed his eyes again.

Nicolas walked over “Don’t worry, he is a soldier. He usually has anesthesia training, so the doctor increased the anesthesia dosage during the surgery so he could not wake up. Just let him sleep.”

Following that, the caretaker pushed his bed and walked to the main elevator. Nicolas followed behind and Jessica said.

“Nicolas, please take care of him.”

“Her daughter haven’t come out yet. She’s waiting for her daughter.”

When Matthew arrived, he saw that Leonard was waiting for the elevator not far away, so he strode over.

He walked leisurely, completely ignoring Lizzy.

Elizabeth held on to Jessica, afraid that she would faint, because she was really mentally unstable, it should be because she was nervous intensively.

Jessica sighed, “The surgery went well Leonard is already out, Pearl will be out soon.”

As if she was comforting herself, Elizabeth nodded.

Yes, Pearl will become healthy and grow up together with Abby and the others

Chapter 520 Have You Liked Me

Pearl was out for two hours late. Moreover, she was not sent back to her ward, but straight to the VICU and could return to her ward after twenty-four hours.

The doctors said that the surgery went smoothly. It’s going to depend on her recovery now. If she doesn’t have any symptoms after three months, that’s good news.

But these twenty-four hours were also an observation period, and it was considered a threshold.

Elizabeth accompanied her to the VICU to visit Pearl. She was surrounded by a pile of pipes and all kinds of instruments on the bed.

The nurse was accompanying them. After all, with Nicolas and Matthew being here, they were the VIPs here,

“Don’t worry. The patient’s condition is normal now. She’ll only wake up tomorrow.”

Jessica caressed Pearl’s hand, her eyes filled with tears.

Elizabeth looked at Pearl and was very sad.

After the two of them left, they went to Leonard’s ward. He was already awake and was drinking soup.

He looked a little weak and his forehead was covered in sweat.

The servant was feeding him. When he saw that she had entered, he had his eyes on her.

Jessica walked over and took the bowl from the servant.

“Let me feed him!”

Jessica brought the soup to his mouth, “Thank you!”

Her eyes were filled with distress. Leonard opened his mouth and drank the soup. It tasted much better than just now.

“It’s fine. It’s not as serious as I thought. The doctor said I’ll recover in a few days. My body is so strong.”

Seeing that her tears were about to fall, he began to comfort her originally, he wanted to pretend to be pitiful and make her feel guilty. But now, looking at her pale face and reddened eyes, she must be crying.

They had been in there for a long time. They wanted to take two days to collect bone marrow, but Pearl's condition was settled, thus the collection was finished in one day, but it took a bit longer.

She must be feeling uncomfortable outside. She was worried.

Upon hearing this, Jessica nodded and forced her tears back.

"Yeah, I hope you'll get better soon."

In fact, the doctor also said that the recovery would be completed in a month. However, there were some exceptions. Some of them would have some other issues, and some would be in danger.

Everyone had a different physique, even though the bone marrow could be reborn.

"But, who can know for sure?"

She was worried about him too. Initially, it had nothing to do with him, but because of the suitable typing, he then put himself in danger. No one was that kind.

Thinking of this, she suddenly felt that it was only right for Leonard to make love to her.

If it were her, she would also want what she wanted. She loved money, she would definitely want a lot of money.

Elizabeth stood not far away and looked at the two of them. She suddenly felt that this Leonard wasn't bad. At least he had donated bone marrow for Jessica.

Perhaps it would affect his career in the future. Perhaps he would no longer be able to return to his previous position.

Now, on the other hand, he was comforting Jessica. This man was actually quite a good one.

Nicolas got up from the sofa and pulled Elizabeth to sit beside Matthew, wanting to push them get back together.

“Lizzy, why are you always standing here? Aren’t you tired?”

Elizabeth did not have the strength to sit down. She turned and glared at him, implying that I don’t want to sit.

Nicolas doesn’t care! All he wants is to make Matt happy.

Matthew looked at her sideways. Her eyes were also red. She must have visited Pearl and actually cried too.

He snorted coldly and looked away.

The more innocent the woman was, the more enchantress she was. She turned his obsessed soul and even abandoned him in the end.

The more he thought about it, the angrier he got. Hence, he reached out his slender fingers and grabbed her chin, forcing her to look at him.

“Elizabeth, tell me, have you ever liked me?”

He wanted to say love, but without that confidence, he changed it to like.
