

Game Over 651

Chapter 651 What a Comcidence.

A trace of surprise appeared on Antony's handsome face. "Are you saying that we might be his children?"

He had never thought that way before. If he was their father, why didn't he show. up before?

Besides, Mommy and him didn't seem to interact before.

He raised his eyebrows, "Let's guess! We don't understand the matters of adults, but we can still verify my suspicions"

The two of them nodded, and they had reached a consensus on what happened later.

At noon, the three children returned home.

Elizabeth was talking on the phone in her room. Recently, she didn't care about the company's affairs, and Ross Yao didn't talk to her about work because of her marriage

Only today did he receive a call

The two of them were discussing work matters. Although Elizabeth did not understand, Ross Yao had assigned her some tasks.

In the future, she still hoped that Ross Yao would be her best assistant to lead the company.

"Okay, Assistant Ross, I'll read all these books according to your request."

"Mr. An, happy wedding!"

Ross Yao said this before hanging up the phone. There was a smile in his voice, it was a sincere blessing.

“Thank you!”

After hanging up the phone, Elizabeth took out her phone to check which bookstore she could get these books from.

She originally planned to give it online, but it was more convenient at the bookstore. Besides, she could go to the bookstore and read a book.

When I raised my hand to grab my phone, my sleeve was not dropped. The scars on my hand were obvious

Her gaze paused slightly. Dominic hit her like a different person last night.

Dominic’s words appeared in her mind.

“Elizabeth, it’s all your fault I’m so good to you, why did you fall in love with Matthew? And you still want to marry him. Don’t even think about this life I won’t let you two have a good life”

Elizabeth lowered her eyes when she thought of these words.

I don’t know what will happen next. But next time, I won’t let him hit me.

At this moment, there was a knock on the door.

“Mommy, we’re here, Xiao Sheng!”

Elizabeth quickly adjusted her emotions when she heard Antony’s voice and pulled her sleeves lightly. She must not reveal it, and she must not let the children see it

The door was pushed open and two little kids walked in.

Arthur placed the ointment in his hand on her table. Jiu Zhe said with a smile.

“When we passed by the pharmacy, my sister argued to play. Then we tried and dropped these pills. Can you stay?”

Elizabeth took it. All of it were ointments that were made of blood.

I need it What a coincidence.

“Leave it to Mommy! I’ll put everything in the first-aid kit later.”

At this moment. Abby walked into the bedroom lazily and climbed onto the big bed.

“I’m so sleepy! I need to sleep for a while. When I wake up, we’ll go out with Lizzy.”

She yawned. She was like this. Xiao Sheng could fall asleep even if she stood.

Elizabeth tucked her in. “Are you not eating lunch?”

However, the little girl on the bed was already asleep and did not respond.

Arthur said, “Mommy, let’s go downstairs and have some water. Come down and eat.

The two little ones walked out of the bedroom tacitly and closed the door carefully for her.

Elizabeth looked at her daughter who was sleeping soundly on the bed. She had been dancing all morning. She should be tired, so let her sleep!

After she woke up, it would be the same for lunch..

She turned around and walked to a short corner. She picked up the bag of ointment and entered the bathroom to start applying ointment for herself

Previously, she did not take any medication, so she recovered very slowly.

This time, she was really lucky that the three kids had returned with the

I hope she'll recover faster this time. The weather is so hot. It's impossible for her to wear long sleeves all the time.

By the time Arthur and Antony reached the stairway, Dominic came

"Where's your Mommy? You can have lunch now

"Are you feeling better, Mr. Zey?" asked Antony in confusion and the three of them bumped into each other

Chapter 652 Afraid Of Him

It seemed that there was no problem anymore. The two of them were very familiar with Dominic.

If Uncle Dom's eyes have recovered, that would be a good thing.

Dominic looked cautiously in the direction of Elizabeth's room, then forced a smile.

"I can see the things nearby, but it's not very clear yet. I could not see the things far away."

The two little ones understood and said

“Uncle Dom, it’s fine. We can already see. It’ll definitely get better later.”

Dominic suddenly felt a sense of familiarity when he heard the two little kids.

Thinking of the two kids since they were born, he had watched them grow up. For some reason, there was a trace of warmth in his heart.

He caressed their heads, “Yeah, go get your Mommy to eat.”

Antony replied, “She’ll come down later. We’ll wait for her at the restaurant first.”

Dominic nodded and walked down.

Arthur and Antony walked side by side. Looking at Uncle Dom’s current situation, they were quite happy.

However, Uncle Dom’s feelings for Mommy were fake. Otherwise, he won’t have done that thing to his servant.

Although the two of them were very angry, they knew that Mommy did not like Uncle Dom. The one she wanted to marry was Matthew.

I guess this is the world of adults. They obviously don’t like each other, they don’t want to get married, but they still have to live together. Don’t they feel tired?

Anyway, the two of them were already tired.

I know everything, yet I have to pretend that I don’t know?

How tired!

Elizabeth subconsciously glanced at Dominic when she came downstairs. When she saw him, she was a little scared

The man last night had a gloomy expression. When he attacked her, she even saw a hint of a smile on his lips.

Dominic got up and pulled a chair for her.

“Let’s eat”

His voice was no different from usual. His entire body was covered by a layer of sunlight.

Elizabeth glanced at him indifferently, then sat down on the chair.

She didn’t have much of an appetite, so she didn’t eat much.

Dominic served her a lot of dishes. “Eat more.”

Elizabeth took a glance at the dishes on the plate. She didn’t want to touch them anymore and got up.

“Eat slowly. I’ll go call Abby. She should be awake.”

Excuse. This is all an excuse.

Dominic looked at her indifferent expression and there was a trace of loneliness in the back of her leaving

He furrowed his eyebrows, feeling a little uncomfortable.

“Young Master, eat more of this and this. It’s very nutritious.”

Dominic saw the vegetables, beef, and a bowl of beef whip soup in the bowl.

The expression on her face changed slightly.

“Who asked you to do all these?”

Hazel was shocked by his indifference, tears welled up in his big eyes, and he felt extremely aggrieved.

“That’s right. I asked Ms. Elliott. She said these are good for men and are very nutritious.”

After saying that, she lowered her head. “I won’t dare to do it again.”

She was like a obedient puppy, and Dominic didn’t say anything else.

He even ate all the dishes that she cooked. When Hazel saw this scene, he secretly smiled again.

Her gaze would always be fixed on Dominic, unable move away.

At the dining table, the two little kids saw their conversation, although they did not understand what they meant

However, Uncle Dom was really nice to her.

Even though it was said that she was a servant, she looked

Look at her clothes. They're all the best.

"Let's eat," said Antony like the mistress who was spoiled.

After that, the two of them left the dining room. Ms. Elliott was done eating and went into the kitchen.

In the living room, two little kids were playing Lego. Antony asked.

"Brother, the person that Uncle Dom likes is Hazel. Would Mommy be able to be with Uncle Hilton?"

Because the one that Moinmy liked was Matthew.

Arthur thought about it. "Unless Uncle Dom and Mommy get a divorce, and Matthew has to wake up

Chapter 653 Wake Up Quickly

3 months later, the weather had begun to turn cold. It was autumn

Even though Matthew's hair had grown, he still hadn't woken up.

In front of the hospital bed, Jane held his medical records in her hands and flipped through them.

Nicolas was anxious too. "It's been three months. Why isn't he awake yet? Did you run into something that you shouldn't have?"

Jane glanced at him indifferently. "I've already said it. I don't want to explain."

He's the one who doesn't want to wake up. What can I do?

At this moment, Arthur and Antony entered the ward. Nicolas watched the two boys come every day, no matter what.

They read to him every day, even though Nicolas didn't know what they were reading?

They were was much better than Tiana.

The woman would come occasionally and always quarrel with him, asking when he would wake up

She could not wait any longer and want to switch a sugar daddy.

At this moment, Rosalie arrived too. She was holding a thermal flask in her hand. Whenever she came, she would bring it with her. She hoped that Matthew would have a bite of hot soup when he woke up.

“Brother, what’s the condition with Matthew today?”

All of them looked at the man on the hospital bed, hoping that he would wake up soon.

The machine on his body had long been removed, and his wound had also recovered. He was wearing a blue and white hospital gown, lying quietly on the hospital bed.

Her face had lost weight. Her chin, and the outline of his face had become sharper.

Nicolas shook his head. “Everything’s normal. It’s just that he doesn’t want to wake up.”

Rosalie sat on the chair beside the bed and she held Matthew’s hand.

“Matthew, it’s been three months. Why aren’t you awake yet?”

Arthur and Antony stood beside the bed. They were quite anxious.

However Uncle Hilton did not seem to have any signs of waking up. He pondered for a moment.

He whispered into Antony's ear, "Later, we'll tell him that Mommy was abused."

For the past three months, when Elizabeth was beaten up by Dominic, she would endure it and then keep it a secret.

Hence, neither Arthur nor Antony noticed that she was injured. Today, they wanted to anger Matthew.

Maybe he would wake up anxiously when he heard Mommy getting abused at home.

Abbe riad aodded. The tes of them stood by the bed until they left, and Aatony sprawled on the bed.

"Matthew, Elizabeth was abused by her husband. Her hands and body are brained by whip. Wake up and save her. She needa pou tu sera ber to "

Arthur stood at the side and stared coldly at the men's face

After a while, he still did not wake up. According to him neual habit, be told him what Elizabeth had dann today.

After saving that, the two brothers left

When they got home, they saw Mommy in a light blue gown coming downstairs with Unele Dom

"Mommy, de vou pure want to attend as eves"

It was Old Master Campbell a birthday today, so they wanted to go back, but she couldn't bring the three children home

When she looked at the three children, her eyes were filled with gu

"That's right Ifs Grandpa's birthday today. We're go to calabrate him berthday "

"Oh, could you bring us there together?" Abbe's mouth curred ap

Elizabeth was a little embarrassed, but Dommer spoke up The three of you ran go together"".

"Are you sure?" · Abby jumped happily

Elizabeth looked at him from the corner of her eyes. Her eyes were no longer as bright as before.

"Aren't you wormed that your grandparents will be anger after they find out?"

Dominic wrapped his arm around her shoulder. We're med. Your children are just the Campbell family's children. They win the them. "

Elizabeth escaped from under his grip, far away from him. She whispered to herself. If you come back tonight, don't get mad at me again

Chapter 654 The Truth

"What did you say?"

Dominic asked, Elizabeth held her daughter's hand and walked toward the door. I didn't say anything"

"I want to change into a princess dress," Abby pouted.

Elizabeth glanced at her. "You look good now. Let's go!"

Abby was wearing a Elsa dress. She looked really good.

The two sons dressed more casually, but they are just kids, it did not matter.

Dominic watched the four of them get into the car. He could only get into the car at the back and Hazel got into the car too. As soon as she got into the car, she held Dominic's hand and leaned her head against his body. well.

"Young Master, is my clothes good?"

Dominic glanced at her coldly and his gaze stopped where she was holding his hand.

Hazel could only let go of him. The young master said that only when he took the initiative to look for her, they could be so intimate.

She pursed her lips angrily, thinking that the Young Master was still more adorable when no one was around. At that time, he treated her very Even calling her darling, she was usually very rude to her.

Dominic saw that she left automatically and said coldly.

"Remember your identity in the future. If this goes on, I'll get someone to send you away."

A trace of fear flashed across Hazel's eyes. "Young Master, I'll be obedient. Don't send me away."

After leaving the Dragon Mountain Villa, she was not afraid of being in the Young Master's house.

But if she left the young master, what can she do? She would definitely starve to death.

Therefore, she had to be obedient. All she wanted was to stay by the young master and Lizzy's side.

Dominic glanced over. At this moment, he was a little cold. He suddenly stretched out his hand and held her hand in his

"Remember what I said. Don't tell anyone about our relationship, understand?"

"Yeah, I won't say it."

Hazel was delighted again. When he saw him holding his little hand, his big eyes curved into crescent moons.

In the other car, Elizabeth was flipping through Matthew's messages on her phone. Does it seem like he hasn't received any messages recently?

Ever since she got married, she had never seen that man again.

Even though she had decided to end her relationship with Matthew, she had been busy studying and managing the company for the past three months, so she had to suppress her urge to see him.

She finally got some free today and started scrolling through his messages and updates for no reason.

However, he never posted anything on his social media. It was all about work.

When they reached the Campbell Residence, they got out of the car and walked toward the main building

When Mrs. Campbell saw the three children, she hurriedly walked to Dominic's side.

“Dom, why did you bring them here?”

It was impossible for the Campbell Family to accept these three children. Although she had accepted Elizabeth, now that her son was fine, she felt that Elizabeth was no longer worthy of her son.

Previously, she threw away everything in the past.

Dominic held Abby’s hand. “I’m married to Lizzy, so they’re also your grandchildren.”

Mrs. Campbell’s expression changed. “Don’t tell your grandparents like this later. Otherwise, this birthday won’t be celebrated.”

Elizabeth glanced at the three children. The Campbell Family did not accept them.

“Dominic, I’ll take them home first. Go and congratulate grandpa.”

After saying that, she said to the three children next to her. “Please wait for me in the car.”

Although Abby didn’t want to leave, the two brothers coaxed her to walk to the parking lot.

Dominic saw the children left, he grabbed Elizabeth’s hand.

“If you don’t accompany me, grandpa will be thinking crazy.”

Elizabeth looked at him coldly. “Dominic, is it important whether or not we’re here?”

Dominic’s expression was a little cold, “Elizabeth, don’t think that you can divorce me. You and your three children will have to be with me in this lifetime.”

Elizabeth’s eyes darkened a lot, and she scowled.

“You lied to me to marry you just to torture me, right?”

One day, when he had too much to drink, he told the truth. He pretended to be blind and wanted to defeat Matthew.

Chapter 655 Torture Each Other

Upon hearing Elizabeth’s words, Dominic’s gaze darkened. He pulled her to the side and when he shook her off, Elizabeth took a few steps.

After she stood still, she looked at her feet.

Fortunately, she did not wear very high heels today. Otherwise, she might have stumbled.

She tightened her grip on her purse and stated coldly at the man opposite her

Leonard became more and more unfamiliar. Elizabeth felt like he had changed.

Dominic was not like this before. Now, he was like a devil.

“Lizzy, be good. Follow me to see grandpa, otherwise...”

He didn’t say the last sentence. He looked at the children’s car and Elizabeth became anxious.

“How dare you, Dominic, don’t drag the children into our grudges.

Dominic came over and wrapped his arms around her neck. He lowered his gaze and looked at her.

“Lizzy, you owe me all this, so in this lifetime, we’ll be like this, tormenting each other. Don’t think of escaping from my hands, I won’t allow

When he spoke, his eyes were sharp and his gaze on her was filled with hatred.

Elizabeth felt that the look in her eyes was very strange, so she pushed him away.

“I know. I owe you. Let’s torture each other like this!”

After saying that, she strode toward the parking lot.

Dominic smiled coldly and raised his hand to touch his chest. She pushed this place just now, it seemed that there was still the warmth of her fingers.

The smile on his face grew darker. Then, he straightened his clothes and strode toward the main building.

Elizabeth returned to the car. Abby pouted.

“Lizzy, are we going home?”

When she saw her daughter’s disappointed expression, she reached out and caressed her face.

“Darling. I’m sorry. It’s Mommy’s fault.”

The two sons at the side had already understood. When they were married previously, they were not allowed to show up. And now, they were not allowed to attend the Campbell Family’s banquet

The Campbell Family did not accept them, but they were not disappointed, and neither did they accept the Campbell Family.

Abby thought about it and looked at the expression on Lizzy’s face. It seemed like she was not happy lately.

“Where are we going now?”

Her little hand caressed Elizabeth’s back, seemingly comforting her.

Elizabeth was so angry just now and she felt so warm now. With the three children accompanying her, she felt that everything was worth it.

“Let’s go see Grandpa.”

Even though Dominic was lying to her this time, her grandfather finally can feel at ease.

She thought that he would not be able to hold on. Now that it had been more than three months, he was still living a good life.

After they arrived at the hospital, Elizabeth held Abby’s little hand and walked toward the hospital building.

Arthur and Antony walked behind and heard the nurse beside them.

The patient from 1401 has woken up. Dr. Ross asked me to look for the dean.”

“Really? Then hurry up.”

The two nurses chatted briefly before leaving.

Arthur and Antony glanced at each other. This ward belongs to Matthew. They were here all the time so it was very familiar

“Brother, did you hear that? He’s awake.”

The two of them had already tested it that Matthew was their biological father. Hence, the two boys had a different feeling toward him.

Arthur nodded slightly "Later, we'll sneak over and take a look."

Antony was overjoyed "Did you say that he woke up after hearing what we said to him?"

The two of them chatted as they walked, obviously in a good mood.

The four of them entered Master Wade's ward. Richard and Celine were there. When Celine saw the four of them, she stood up and said.

"Lazy, are you here to see if your grandfather is dead?"

She thought that she still cared about the Wade Family's assets after being married. She even ran to Master Wade from time to time. She wanted to stop him but her husband did not allow her to do so.

Richard stood up "Lazy, you're here.

His attitude was obviously different from before. It seemed that he understood something

Chapter 656 Master Wade Has Known the Truth

Elizabeth glanced at her grandfather on the sickbed. Fortunately, he hadn't heard Celine's words recently. Otherwise, he would definitely be upset.

He's not feeling too well at this age.

However, his descendants were hoping that he would die soon. This feeling was definitely unbearable

Elizabeth said coldly, Tell your wife to be more careful in the future. What should she say? What should she not say?"

After saying that, she walked to the side of the hospital bed and Celine snorted coldly

"Did you see that? What kind of attitude does he have toward you? Don't touch a cold buttocks with your warm face."

Richard's expression changed. "Didn't you say you're leaving? You're not leaving yet."

After saying that, he glanced at the three children. They didn't call him, but he suddenly wanted to hear them call him grandpa.

However, the distance between them made it difficult for him to say these words.

Hence, she let out a long sigh and walked out.

Celine turned her head to look at the hospital bed. When Old Master Campbell saw Elizabeth, he actually smiled. Look at how biased he is!

Hence, she glanced at the three children. These three little ones were three ticking bombs.

It's better to get rid of them. Otherwise, even if Matthew could not wake up or die, the Tiana will still have some risks inheriting the Hilton Family's assets

Abby stared at Celine with her big eyes. Only after she left the ward did she withdraw her gaze.

"Great Grandpa, I'm here."

Abby threw herself to the side of the bed, making Master Wade very happy.

Arthur and Antony turned around and left the ward. They went to Nicolas floor. The moment they exited the elevator, they saw a group of doctors and nurses entering.

The two little ones ran over and followed them into the ward.

The man on the hospital bed was awake. His eyes were wide open.

A few doctors were doing a checkup for him, then they told Nicolas Kai

“Dean, the body indicates are all normal”

Nicolas nodded slightly, “Yeah, you guys go out

After that, the doctors and nurses left the ward, leaving only Nicolas and Jane. Matthew, what is this?”

He raised two fingers and said quietly.

Upon hearing his answer, she smiled.

“I told you that my surgery was a success. Did you see it? He is not stupid.”

Nicolas was a little excited. “Matt, you’re finally willing to wake up. If you don’t wake up again, we, we’ll..”

As he spoke, he started choking up

Even though Nicolas was used to seeing death, he couldn’t be calm anymore when his friend going through death

If Matt continued to sleep like this, he would never feel at ease for the rest of his life.

Now that everything was fine, he finally woke up.

Matthew wanted to sit up but he didn't seem to have much strength.

Nicolas stopped her. "Don't rush. You've been lying for three months, so you need to take your time."

Arthur and Antony confirmed that he had woken up. The two of them were very happy. They followed the doctors and nurses out of the ward and returned to Master Wade's ward.

Elizabeth saw the two brothers and asked, "Where did you go? I thought you were lost?"

Fortunately, the two of them were different from normal children. Otherwise, she would have called the police a long time ago.

Antony smiled faintly. "Brother and I went to the bathroom."

There was a bathroom in the hospital room. The two of them even said that they would use the bathroom outside, but Elizabeth did not doubt.

"Come here to accompany your great-grandpa. We're about to go home."

The two little ones walked to the bed and called him in unison.

"Great Grandpa."

Master Wade laughed. "Where did you two go just now? Your Mommy is worried about you. Come, let me see if you've grown taller and more handsome lately,

Master Wade sized them up and finally spoke up.

“Why don’t the two of them look like Dominic? They look so much like...”

Chapter 657 Their Little Thoughts.

He did not finish the sentence. Instead, he looked at the two brothers closely and said to himself.

“Yes, it’s so similar.”

Elizabeth glanced at her two sons and thought to herself.

“They’re not Dommic’s sons. They don’t look like each other. It’s just that Grandpa was fooled by Dominic.”

Dominic had tricked her too. Thinking of this made her feel annoyed.

“Grandpa, they’re still kids. Give them some time.”

After she said that, Master Wade nodded.

“That’s night Give them some time.”

Without further mentioning this matter, the two kids naturally understood what Master Wade said. They were Matthew’s sons, of course they resembled him.

But why didn’t Mommy know about this?

The world of adults, the children really don’t understand.

After having dinner with Master Wade, the four of them left and returned to Dominic’s villa.

After entering the door, Ms. Elliott welcomed them.

“Didn’t you guys go to the banquet? Why did you come back so early?”

“We didn’t go. We went to the hospital to see my great-grandpa. I’m so happy!”

After saying that, she glanced at Mommy. She won’t be so stubborn anymore. It was as if they went to Dom’s house and made her very troubled.

Ms. Elliott looked at Elizabeth. She did not seem to be very happy. She also realized that ever since she married Mr. Campbell, Lizzy did not like to smile.

She sighed. Sure enough, a woman should marry someone she liked.

Otherwise, it would be impossible to be happy.

“Abby, I’ll take you guys upstairs to take a shower. It’s almost time to sleep.”

Abby nodded. “Oh, we could not be late for school.”

Her sweet voice echoed in the room.

Ms. Elhott laughed, “That’s right, Abby is right.”

Arthur and Antony were in a good mood today. If Mommy wanted to be happy, then Matthew was the only one left.

Now that they knew that he was their biological father, they wished that they could be together

Arthur poured a glass of water and walked to the living room to place the water in front of her Mommy

Sitting on the sofa, he watched her mother finish the glass of water.

“Thank you for your water,” she said while turning her head to look at him:

“Mommy, I’ve actually asked my great-grandfather. He wants you to be happy!”

Elizabeth’s expression changed after hearing this sentence. From calm to unwavering, to calm again.

She bit her lip. “Yeah, I got it.”

“That’s why, Mommy, you don’t have to hurt yourself for whoever we’re talking about. Be yourself and fight for the happiness you want! We’ll always be your strongest support.”

“We will support you”

Antony stretched out his head from behind the sofa and said to her

Elizabeth smiled, and the smile she hadn’t seen for a long time made the brothers breathe a sigh of relief.

She kissed their faces. “Thank you, son Mommy knows what you mean. I’ll try my best too. Go to sleep!”

I stood up and walked up the stairs with her brother.

“Mommy, you should get some rest too.”

“Women need to sleep early!”

The words of the two sons made her feel very warm. Suddenly, she realized.

The gloominess over this period of time disappeared instantly.

She was in a bright mood too. Sometimes, she knew less than a child. They knew better than her and understood the meaning of their existence

Elizabeth sat down for a while and looked at the time. It was already 10.30 pm.

Dominic and Hazel hadn't returned yet. She went back to her room and showered. She even put on a face mask before going to bed.

Not knowing what time it was in the night when the bedroom door was kicked open and she sat up in fright

She saw the man walking in, he tugged at his tie and she could smell the strong scent of alcohol on him.

Elizabeth wrapped the quilt tightly and asked.

"Are you drunk?"

Chapter 658 That Man Resembles Matthew

Dominic narrowed his eyes slightly. "A bit, but I'm not drunk"

His voice was low and deep. Compared to usual, it sounded a little hoarser.

Elizabeth got out of bed. "I'll go get you a bath."

The man suddenly laughed. "Lizzy, you're usually quite nice to me. Why don't you want to sleep with me?"

After saying that, he walked toward her and got closer to her.

“Are you still thinking about Matthew?”

Elizabeth avoided his gaze and did not make a sound.

Dominic laughed coldly, “Heh... Do you think I care? I won’t let you go in this lifeline, but with me, you will have no dick.”

After saying that, he took a step back turned around to leave the bedroom.

Elizabeth finally relaxed. Ever: they got married, he hadn’t spent the night in her room.

The two of them were the kind of marriage.

She thought that she could take care of him when she got married.

“But in a real marriage, there must be love, sex, and intimate contact.”

She had never thought about all these before. It was only after she got married that she knew that she would face all these, so she resisted Dominic

Dominic had become like this. The two of them had been good friends from the beginning to the current state of enmity.

Everything was wrong. Everything was wrong

Elizabeth had already slowly accepted this reality herself without worrying about anything.

“Let her catch her own happiness!”

But, does she still have the power to do so?

Even though the words of her two sons before was reminding her that she could live for Sighing, she no longer wanted to cry. In the past, she liked crying whenever she was in trouble.

Now, however, the more upset she was, the more she could not cry

The main point was that she no longer had the right and no hope, so she could only feel the pain silently and did not have the courage to cry.

The next day, Elizabeth woke up like usual and went to the office

When they were going downstairs, the three children happened to leave and waved at her at the door.

“Mommy, goodbye!”

Elizabeth said, “Be good in school!”

When she entered the dining room. Dominic hadn’t left yet. He was sitting at the main seat eating breakfast.

When he saw Elizabeth enter, he looked up at her.

“What happened last night? Didn’t you bring the three of them to celebrate grandpa’s birthday? Why didn’t you go?”

He seemed to have amnesia. Elizabeth was already used to it.

It seemed like he had always been like this. He would forget everything he said and done before.

However, it would still appear over and over again, such as hitting her.

After hitting her and seeing the injury on her body, he would ask how she got hurt.

Elizabeth was speechless at that time and did not speak.

But in a few days, he would hit her repeatedly.

She could no longer tell Dominic's true colors.

After she sat down, she quietly ate her breakfast. Dominic called her.

"Ms. Elliott, pour Lizzy a glass of milk."

There was coffee in front of her. She had the habit of drinking coffee every morning

Elizabeth glanced at him, "No need, I have coffee."

"It's better to have milk in the morning."

Elizabeth didn't say anything else. She lowered her head and ate her breakfast.

After breakfast, the two of them drove away. Elizabeth glanced at the thermal flask on the passenger seat and smiled slightly.

She was going to visit her grandfather before she went to work. This was something she had to do every day.

When she reached the hospital, she carried the thermal flask into the elevator. When she reached the sixth floor, the elevator doors opened and someone walked out of the elevator.

Elizabeth glaped outside casually. Suddenly, her eyes narrowed slightly. She saw that the man sitting on the wheelchair seemed to be Matthew.

When the elevator doors were about to close, she quickly reached out and pressed the button. The elevator opened and she walked out

After exiting the elevator, she realized that this floor was for rehabilitation training. She looked around.

Did she see wrongly just now?

It was impossible for Matthew to be in a wheelchair, let alone undergo rehabilitation training here.

Chapter 659 Why Didn't You Tell Me

After thinking about this, she smirked self-deprecatingly and prepared to go back to the elevator and go up to see her grandfather.

After taking a couple of steps, she did not give up.

Hence, they strolled on the floor. There were people in every training room All of them were patients in hospital gowns and were doing training

But there was no sign of Matthew. She took a few steps forward. This room was at the end of the room, and it was very quiet.

"There's no one waiting at the entrance. There's probably no one trained, right?"

She stretched her neck and looked by the window. With just one look, she was very sure that the man who was walking was Matthew.

She was stunned. What happened to him? Why was he doing rehabilitation training?

Even though it was just a shadow of his back, she could tell if that man was him.

Elizabeth did not even realize this point. This was a superpower to the people she liked, to be able to find him in the crowd at a single glance.

She pushed open the door and walked in. She could hear the doctor talking-

“That’s right. Take it slowly. Don’t push too hard. Take it one step at a time.”

Elizabeth walked to the opposite of Matthew. When she saw the sharpened face, she was slightly shocked.

Why is he so thin?

However, his features became more and more steady, like a knife cutting an axe

His gaze was indifferent and there was no emotion.

The two of them exchanged glances for almost five seconds before they spoke first.

“Matthew, what’s wrong? Why is this happening?”

Her hand touched his arm that was supporting the supporting rod. Her eyes were filled with worry.

Matthew's sexy apple bobbed up and down. In the end, he asked indifferently.

"Who are you?"

Elizabeth took a step back upon hearing this and shook her head,

"D-Did you forget about me?"

Her heart lightened. It hurt so much that she could no longer breathe..

"Miss, this is a VIP training room. Outsiders are not allowed to enter. Please wait outside. The patient needs to do the training quietly."

Me looked at Matthew. He didn't recognize her at all and was still training.

After a while, the doctor saw that she was not leaving and asked the nurse to come in to persuade her to wait at the door.

Elizabeth finally recovered her thoughts and left the training room.

Standing at the door, she looked inside from the window. Watching him practice over and over again, she gently turned around and turned her back to the window.

No wonder I haven't heard of him for the past three months and I haven't even met him.

She thought he deliberately avoided him. Even if they lived in the same city, if they didn't deliberately get close, they might never see each other in their lifetime.

It turned out that it wasn't him. Something happened to him.

He got into a car accident, so his legs are injured and could not walk?

A series of questions popped up in her head. Is his head hurt too?

His hair seemed to be short. He must be injured, so he lost his memory. Did he forget about her?

Elizabeth bit her lips. She wanted to know everything, she wanted to know everything about him.

Hence, she took out her phone and anxiously searched for the number of Nicolas and called him.

After a while, the other side finally picked up.

“Hello”

“Nicolas, what happened to Matthew? Did he get into a car accident? Did he hurt his head? Why doesn't he remember me anymore? It seems like his legs could not walk anymore.”

She asked out of her head and saw that the man on the other end of the phone was in a meeting.

Frowning slightly, he stood up and said.

“Let me answer a plione.”

After leaving the meeting room, he replied.

“There's something in his head. I took it out, so he was unconscious for more than three months”

Did he lose lus memory? He didn't realize that when he woke up.

Could it be that he just forgot about Lizzy?

“Why didn’t you guys tell me?”

Elizabeth’s tears rolled down her cheeks as she spoke.

Chapter 660 I Can Only Visit Him Secretly

Nicolas was silent for a while when he heard this. He wanted to tell her ton

But Matt did not how her to see it. In the and, she even married someone else

“Here he forgotten shout you? No wonder he didn’t ask about you after waking up “Ma Wade, you’re already married now, and you’re the one who’s cheating. Do you think you should come and question uc? I dorm I matter whether Matt lves or dies in the future, it doesn’t exem to have anything to do with you anymore.

Narolas was alas angry. It was good that he forgot about her. After saying that, he hung up the phone Elerabeth was dumbfounded. That’s right!

What right does she have to interfere with his business now?

Elizabeth bit her lips. She suddenly felt helpless and she has put herself in this situation.

Previous, she thought d as easy to get married and forget about him.

if was not many to do both of these things.

Just like that, she stood at the door blankly for a long time until there was another person at the door

Elizabeth glanced over and Jane glanced over. The two women looked at each other and nodded slightly before pushing the door open and

Jane today was not the doctor but Matthew's friend. She was wearing a black dress and her big chestnut colored curly hair was spread lande on her shoulder. She looked aDuring

The sound of her heels hit her heart. Elizabeth watched her enter and then smiled as she talked to Matthew

"How are you feeling today?"

"That a good

The max wiped the sweat all his forehead and said. His gaze was cabu and unreadabla

"I heard from Naules, Did you kne some memory?"

Mattien passed when he beard tha

"Theta zapl"

Ta better that we expected. If you want be ancuvue those memories, it's imaginachle. After all, it might be cut off. Waukt you ingrot (?)"

Matthew held the towel on ka hand. Ia jote was sold and dark

She specially dressed up and sprayed perfume today just to make Matthew feel different.

Matthew did not have any objections and Jane told the doctor.

“Dr. Lin, I’ll push him back first.”

Elizabeth simply watched as she pushed him out of the training room. When she walked past her, she sobbed uncompromisingly again.

Tears rolled down her cheeks one by one..

Esme and the others happened to pick him up. When they saw Elizabeth, no one paid attention to her.

“Mr. Hilton, I heard that you’re practicing well today,”

Esme smiled as he spoke to Matthew, refusing to look at Elizabeth.

He dragged them to the elevator. They were still the same people, but their attitude toward her was no longer the same as before.

Elizabeth might feel uncomfortable, but she could accept this reality

After all, she was now Mrs. Campbell and no longer Matthew’s girlfriend.

Since this day, Elizabeth did not appear in front of Matthew, nor did she ask his friends about him.

Since there was no such fate between them. Even though she still loved him, she could only accept the reality now that they were in this situation.

again until he could walk completely leisurely

She stood by the window quietly and watched him train over and ov

She was happy for her outside. She was so excited that she almost cried.

Elizabeth had already figured out how many days of training he had every week,

I then how much time he had.

She was peeking at the door, never bothering him. When he was almost done, she was afraid that she would run into the people who came to pick him up, and she would leave earlier.

Today was his last recovery training. He could already walk, and he could use his body freely.

He will be discharged tomorrow. By then, it would be difficult for her to see him again.

However, she was in a good mood today. She hummed as she walked, because he had fully recovered.

At this moment, Dominic called.

Elizabeth looked at the incoming call and hesitated for a while before answering it.

“Hello.”
