Chapter 661 Taking Him Out Of The Hospital

Elizabeth looked around to make sure she did not run into him before she said.

“I’m outside. I’m going out to give you some company information.”

They did not know that she was the CEO of S Group. All they knew was that she was working in the design department. They thought she was just a small employee of the company

Come to the old mansion, or I’ll go pick you up.”

Elizabeth was stunned for a moment. “What is it?”

Previously, she didn’t attend Jack’s birthday and if she went back to the old house, she didn’t know how to explain herself

“Let me pick you up. You’ll know when we get there.”

Elizabeth hurriedly replied. There’s no need, I’ll be here soon. I’ll drive by myself.”

She quickly walked into the elevator and pressed the button on the first floor. When the elevator reached the first floor, she saw Esme and the others enter the elevator next door.

No one saw her. She walked out of the elevator and headed to the lobby.

After walking a few steps, she bumped into Madam Hilton, Old Mr. Hilton, and Tiana

Tiana held the old lady’s hand. The three of them seemed to be in a good mood, chatting and laughing along the way

It seemed that Matthew was discharged today. They were here to pick him

It was too late to avoid her. When Madam Hilton saw her, she smiled.

“Lozy...

Elizabeth had no choice but to greet them.

“Mrs Hilton, Old Mr. Hilton.”

She gave them a slight nod. When Tiana saw her, she was a little unhappy and her face was mad.

“Sis, you go to the hospital every day. Are you waiting for grandpa to die?”

They thought Elizabeth wanted to divide the family fortune, so she came to coax Master Wade like this every day.

Elizabeth’s expression changed slightly, “I am not the two of you.”

Old Mr Hilton glanced at her indifferently. All of a sudden, he felt that this girl had guts. She refused to take shit”.

He’d been through a lot, knowing that the persons who could visit him were the ones who were genuinely good to him just like how Matt visited him almost every day back then.

Tu’s words don’t sound good. How could she curse the old man like this!

“Tu, how long have you not seen your grandfather?”

Only then did Tiana realize that she seemed to have said the wrong thing. The moment she saw Elizabeth, she felt like her blood was boiling

She couldn't control herself at all.

"I only visited him yesterday."

Actually, she hadn't been to see Master Wade for a month, because his health seemed to be getting better the Campbell Family was not calm anymore, and they all lost their patience

Old Mr. Hilton laughed. "Okay"

Elizabeth and Madam Hilton were talking while she held Elizabeth's hand.

"Lizzy, why did you lose weight?"

At the thought of Matt, he had also lost a lot of weight too Both of them were not doing well.

"Grandma Hilton, I'm on a diet I'm doing quite well now. Have I become preffier?"

She smiled. It was a smile that no one hadn't seen in a long time. It was very bright

Madam Hilton patted her hand. "Matt is discharged today. We're here to pick him

She did not say the last sentence and choked

Elizabeth knew what she meant. Matthew had been unconscious for so long. Now that he had finally recovered and was discharged from the hospital, it was something to be happy about

If it was before, she would definitely come to pick him up too. She did not dare to think about that scene anymore

“Grandma, hurry! Don’t let him wait.”

After saying that, she smiled at Madam Hilton. Madam Hilton followed behind. Maybe Old Mr. Hilton was in a good mood today.

Hence, he did not make things difficult for her. Instead, he stood at the elevator door and waited for Madam Hilton

Elizabeth watched them enter the elevator and sighed. She walked out of the hospital and drove to the Campbell Residence

The car stopped on the parking lot of the Sutton family. At this moment, the other car also happened to stop, and the three children got out of Abby called her and ran towards her.

Chapter 662 I Want a Divorce

Elizabeth was a little surprised. Why did they come to the Campbell Family too?

She caressed Abby’s cheek. “Why are you here?”

The question was meant for the two sons. They had a clear mindset and it was convenient for them to communicate.

Antony glanced at the main building "About this, Uncle Dom wants to confess our existence to the family."

Arthur nodded in agreement. Abby didn't understand and just stayed by Elizabeth's side.

"Lizzy, can you take me to KFC today? I haven't eaten it in a long time."

It seemed like children liked these foods very much. She thought about it. For the past few months, she had been busy studying on her own, and then secretly upset.

It seemed like it had been a long time since she hadn't accompanied them properly. Since Dominic had taken a day off for them today, she would take them out to have some fun when she left the Campbell Family later.

"Okay."

"That's great," Abby jumped happily..

At this moment, the butler of the Campbell Family and a few servants came out to greet them. Young Mistress, Young Master has asked me to come out to welcome you."

Elizabeth looked at this posture and didn't quite understand what Dominic was trying to do.

There was also a Hazel among the servants. She happily went to Elizabeth's side.

"Lizzy, you're here."

Previously, this little girl had always been afraid of the Campbell Family, but now she liked coming here, probably getting used to it.

“Okay.”

Elizabeth nodded slightly. She did not notice the love affairs between Hazel and Dominic.

The group entered the living room. Almost everyone from the Campbell Family had arrived.

Celine’s cousin, Anna was there too. She was Dominic’s uncle’s wife. When Dominic had problems with his eyes, it was his uncle who managed the Campbell Group.

Now that he had returned to run the company, it was obvious that neither of them was very happy

Especially when Anna saw Elizabeth, her face was exactly the same as Celine’s. She was indeed from the same family.

Elizabeth summoned everyone and brought the kids to sit beside Dominic.

“What do you want to do?” she asked him softly.

Dominic smiled. “I’m gathering everyone to sit together today. I want to tell you guys that Lizzy’s three children, also known as my children, you must treat them like my children in the future.”

Only Mrs. Campbell in the Campbell Family knew about the existence of the three children and Anna. However, she did not dare to say too much and did not want to cause any trouble.

At this moment, she couldn’t help but laugh upon hearing Dominic’s own expose.

They were not the descendants of the Campbell Family. He even wanted the Campbell Family to treat them like his own children. Isn't Elizabeth dreaming?

Anna whispered, "Stupid hoe."

Elizabeth's eyes flashed with surprise. What is Dominic trying to do?

Next, the old man cursed, "What? Did she have three children? Who did you marry?"

Mrs. Campbell's eyes were filled with surprise. "Dom, how could you endure this?"

Everyone looked at Elizabeth, as if she had lied to Dominic. How could a woman like her deserve the attention of the Young Master of the Campbell Family?

She bit her lip, wanting to take the three children away, unwilling to let them be sized up and judged like this.

Mr. Campbell slammed the table relentlessly. "What's going on? Why didn't you tell us before?"

Dominic smiled faintly, "Dad, it doesn't matter whether you say it or not. I had to marry her. It doesn't matter whether you agree."

This was what he was determined to do. He would never let go of this woman.

The living room was in a mess. Everyone pointed at Elizabeth and the three children.

Elizabeth stood up, "Since everyone thinks that I'm not worthy of Dominic with the three kids, I can divorce!"

Dominic lied to her and said that he was blind.

Because of his health and that he could be treated, she decided to marry him.

Dominic heard this and caught her hand.

"Divorce?"

Chapter 663 That Idiot Matthew

After saying that, he whispered into her ear, "If you dare to mention about the divorce again, I'll send your three precious children overseas, and you'll never be able to find them."

Elizabeth looked at him coldly. Dominic became more and more terrifying.

Previously, she thought that he was only just treating her like this. Now, did he start scheming on her three babies?

"How dare you..."

"Lizzy, you know how close I am with the three darlings, so it's easy to do anything whenever I want to."

Elizabeth's heart felt like it had been violently tightened. That's right! He watched the three children be born and raised.

Their relationship was originally very good. She had told the three children that he was their life-saving benefactor, and they would always treat him well and respect him.

Now that he has become such a devil, should she tell the kids?

They're still so young. Can they accept such a change?

Even she herself couldn't accept it. How did such a good Dominic end up like this?

When he hit her, she didn't fight back because she couldn't accept this fact. She wanted to feel the pain to understand that everything was

Was everything he did today just to threaten her and make her not think of getting a divorce?

Mrs. Campbell heard this and glanced at Elizabeth.

"Lizzy, how can you say that you want a divorce? Dominic is so outstanding. If he doesn't want to get a divorce, how can you want to get a divorce?"

All of a sudden, everyone looked at her and someone spoke up.

"Lizzy, it's not right for you to behave like this. You've hidden the fact that you had children. The people at home just don't want to talk about You're using the divorce to scare us now. Who do you think you are?"

"That's right! Who do you think you are? Do you think you're a virgin? It's even harder to get married after you're divorced."

"As the Young Mistress of the Campbell Family, you should be satisfied!"

Elizabeth did not have the strength to refute, nor did she dare to. The three children were her weakness, and she did not allow them to be in any danger.

Dominic looked at the scene and laughed inwardly.

“Elizabeth, don’t think I don’t know. Matthew is awake now. It’s impossible that you want to divorce me and look for him.”

He suddenly stood up and dragged Elizabeth along.

He wrapped his arms around her, a hint of a smile on his face..

“Please don’t argue. Lizzy is the woman I love the most. She’s my wife now. Her child is my child. From now on, please respect them.”

After saying that, he looked the old man and said, “Grandpa, I was just trying to make things clear today. Congratulations on having three great-grandchildren. The Sutton Family has been blessed.”

Old Master was so angry that he almost lost his breath. His wife hurriedly comforted him.

“Old Master, don’t be angry. Dom was just tempted by a woman for a while.”

“Are you trying to anger your grandfather to death?” Old Master scolded.

“Mommy, don’t bully my Mommy!” Abby burst into tears.

“Don’t cry, sister. Don’t be afraid. We’re here!”

Abby had never seen such a scene before. She took them up and down and kept saying Lizzy.

Elizabeth's expression changed. She walked to Abby and wiped her tears away.

"Mommy will take you guys out of here."

After that, she held her daughter and left with her two sons..

Arthur and 9th Zephyr did not care about this at all

If it weren't for Uncle Dom, they might have left with Mommy and sister a long time ago. However, Uncle Dom was their savior and Mommy told them to respect Uncle Dom and his family.

When the two of them were leaving, Antony spoke up.

"Why didn't Matthew come to acknowledge us?"

As long as they had a father, they wouldn't be underestimated like this. But why didn't that fellow know?

Chapter 664 He Is Back

After exiting the Campbell Residence and getting into Elizabeth's car, he turned to look at the backseat.

"I'm sorry! I've embarrassed you all today."

She had never wanted the three children to participate in this experience.

Previously, she was trying her best to protect them. Her life was getting better and better, but she felt that she was still worse than before.

Previously, she had been able to fight with the Campbell Family, not allowing her child to be pointed at.

But now, she was powerless.

The thought of Dominic who was indeed the savior of the four of them.

However, he had caused them to fall into such a situation. She didn't know what to do now.

She buried her head into the steering wheel. Suddenly, she felt that her road ahead was pitch black and there was no hope.

What should I do? To get out of this mud, to catch the sunlight.

Arthur stretched out her hand and caressed her hair gently.

"Mommy, we're fine. Your sister will forget soon. You're enough for us."

Elizabeth suddenly raised her head and the corners of her lips forced a hint of a smile.

"Son, thank you for always being by my side."

If it weren't for them, she would feel like she couldn't take it anymore.

Especially when she saw Matthew forgetting her, she was very upset.

She deserved it. Back then, she had chosen to give up on him. Now, she deserved it.

In the hospital, Matthew had already changed into his own clothes. He was wearing a pure black slender suit. It was very formal, making him look even more serious.

His legs were slender and straight, and his waist was tight. He frowned casually, and it looked like a male model's classic photo.

All three women in the ward were mesmerized by him, their gazes were fixed on him.

"Matthew, congratulations on your recovery!" Jane aid.

Matthew replied indifferently, "Thank you! Thank you for being here."

If it weren't for Jane, he was probably already dead.

To Jane, he was already very warm, at least there was a response.

Tiana stood at the side, her eyes completely dumbfounded. She did not expect Matthew to look even more handsome after being uncons for such a long time.

Especially that face. The corners of her face became clearer and sharper Ahhhh! Her heart skipped a beat.

Fortunately, she did not give up. Otherwise, such a handsome man would have been thrown away by her

She walked over with a bouquet of flowers. "Matthew, congratulations on your discharge"

Only then did Matthew glance at the flowers in her and her hands. He merely said in a low voice.

“Esme.”

Esme rushed over and took the flowers from Tiana.

Thank you Ms. Wade!”

Tiana was a little disappointed. She bit her lip and stole a glance at Old Mr. Hilton.

Fortunately, she had his support and she was the biggest winner. Even the three women in the ward today had feelings for Matthew.

However, she was the bold one that was recognized by the Hilton Family.

Rosalie walked to Matthew with a smile.

“Matthew, you’ve become more handsome again! I didn’t expect you to look better after staying in the hospital once. After you’re discharged. I wonder how many women will fall for you?”

She sighed!

Matthew smiled faintly. “Thank you everyone for remembering me. I’m going to the office later. I won’t treat you guys to dinner today. I’ll hold a banquet in three days. Thank you all!”

After saying that, he glanced at the time. “Grandpa, Grandma, I’m going to the meeting.”

The news of Matthew's accident had spread like wildfire in the business world lately, so many people had the intention to go to the Hilton

Group

The stock of Hilton Group plummeted, and many projects were snatched away.

After he woke up, he started working. Today, he was discharged from the hospital, so he was in a hurry to attend a meeting.

He just wanted to tidy up the company and let those people know that the Hilton Group will never collapse.

Chapter 665 A Million

Old Mr. Hilton had no objection. His grandson was a talented man.

He was very satisfied with his grandson. As a man, his career was the most important.

"Go! Don't tire yourself out."

Grandma Campbell watched him leave. She was upset.

"Old man, our eldest grandson is just better and you ask him to go to work. You're too cruel."

She felt sorry for him, but the Hilton Family did not have any descendants to help him. Everything had to be done by him.

Old Mr. Hilton held her hand. This is his life. I could not do anything about it. When I get him to give birth to a few more children and have more siblings, he won't suffer like this anymore."

"Master Wade still cares about his great-grandchild.

Thinking of this time, he became even more anxious. If Matt never woke up, then the Hilton Family would really be doomed.

This was the thing he was most afraid of, but that brat was stubborn.

He's already an adult, but she hasn't even knocked off a woman's belly yet."

Men must have need. He was already an adult. He did not believe that he was still a virgin.

Rosalie carried her bag and said, "Old Mr. Hilton, Grandma Hilton, I'm going to work now. Please drive slower later."

She had a good relationship with Nicolas grandmother, hence she was very good at getting along well with the old man.

Madam Hilton was also Rosalie's grandmother best friend. The two of them had been having fun since they were young, so they were in a good relationship

She treated Rosalie like her granddaughter too. She smiled and nodded.

"Don't worry about us. Go ahead and do your job. Remember to greet your grandmother!"

Rosalie laughed. "My grandmother said that she miss you every day and wants to ask you out to go shopping. I was worried that you won't be in the mood. Now, she can ask you out anytime."

The grandmother laughed. "Got it. I'll ask her out."

Rosalie had left Simpson and Nicolas had left.

Tiana looked at the bouquet of flowers that she brought and was thrown into the bedside table. She was very disappointed.

She suddenly regretted it. If she knew that he would wake up so soon, so she should serve him by the bed.

Now, she seemed to have missed another chance.

Old Mr. Hilton stood up and said, "Let's go. Let's go home."

She told the grandmother beside her that Tiana would rush over to help him.

"Grandpa, I'll send you home."

When Old Mr. Hilton saw her, he smiled and said.

"Tia, you've been working hard for the past few months. Take care of yourself and dress yourself up. Matt's awake. Your mission now is to take him down and give me a few great-grandchildren."

As he spoke, he asked Dean to bring a check over.

"Grandpa gave this to you. Go buy something you like."

Tiana was slightly startled and shook her head.

"Grandpa, I should do all these because I like Matthew! I don't want it."

Old Mr. Hilton shoved the check into her hand. "Be good and dress yourself up."

In terms of appearance, Elizabeth was indeed not as good as Elizabeth, so Master Wade hoped that she would work harder on her face.

Madam Hilton looked at the check and said inwardly.

"Why did you give her money? I'm the one taking care of Matt, not her."

She recalled that when the servant was taking care of Matt, she never moved a finger. She was just giving orders to the servants. What did she However, she did not tell Old Mr. Hilton about this because she was afraid that he would be disappointed..

After all, he was quite satisfied with this Tiana. If he found out that Tiana was like this back then,

He might not be able to hold on. The old woman regrets it now.

I should've told the old man before. Now that if she's talking about it, he may think I'm jealous.

Sigh!

Tiana took it. "Okay, thanks grandpa! I'll definitely spend this money properly."

She really did not expect that after Matthew was unconscious, she would still be able to make money. One million was her annual allowance.

Chapter 666 A Coincidence

Elizabeth took the three children and left the Campbell Family. Then, they went to the children's castle in the mall.

Abby liked spending time here. Although the two brothers felt bored, they were willing to accompany their sister.

After the three children entered the castle, Elizabeth sat in the parent's lounge area. There was a cup of coffee by her table, and she drank it from time to time..

She even took out her laptop and looked at the company's new project recently. She didn't understand anything about this before.

Now, she could already understand it, and she could even give some opinions.

In terms of fashion design, she had always been studying. She was talented in this field, so sometimes, her designs would be used by the company's design department.

S Group also owns its own clothing brand, which belongs to a high-end luxury brand. Hence, Elizabeth's designs would become limited edition.

10 of them in the world.

"Lizzy..."

At this moment, a familiar voice rang out.

Elizabeth looked over and then she smiled.

Jessica and Pearl arrived. Pearl ran to her side.

"Aunt Lizzy, is Abby and the others here?"

It had only been a few months, and Pearl had gained some weight. Compared to her slender appearance in the past, she looked like a pretty princess now.

She resembled Jessica.

Elizabeth caressed her little face, "Darling, you're so pretty today!"

Pearl was tall and slender. Her features were well-built, unlike a Abby-year-old who looked cute with baby fat. She looked like a pretty girl at a young age but had an extraordinary temperament.

Pearl smiled, "Thank you""

Elizabeth pointed to the inside, "Look, the three of them are there. Go look for them!"

Having two sons taking care of the two little girls, she and Jessica were very at ease.

Jessica sat beside her and glanced at her computer.

"Are you still working at this hour?"

Elizabeth kept the laptop and held her face with one hand. her daughter."

Jessica laughed, "She treats you like a daughter. She should manage the company well."

The two of them chatted happily.

Elizabeth instantly felt like all the worries from before had disappeared.

At this moment, Jessica's phone rang. She glanced at the caller and didn't want to answer it, so she didn't care.

Elizabeth took a glance and smiled.

“Why aren’t you answering?”

Jessica sighed, “My contract with him has expired, but that fellow has no intention of ending this relationship at all. He’s still stuck in my house and doesn’t leave. Every day, whenever he doesn’t see me, he’s looking for me all over the world. I’m not a child.”

Jessica looked helpless when she heard that. She felt that Leonard was just a child and was not mature at all.

Elizabeth smiled at her, “Jess, as your friend, you must be serious. When you’re married, you must marry the man you love.”

Jessica raised her eyebrows and looked deeply into her eyes.

“I’ve told you this before, but you don’t listen to me. Why? Do you have a deep understanding now?”

Elizabeth felt a little uncomfortable under her gaze.

“I’m talking about you! It’s not about me.”

She could not tell anyone about what she’s been through.

Jessica took a sip of her coffee and said, “What happened after you and Dominic got married? I could not meet you for the past few months. You’re always busy. Are you losing weight? Is he treating you badly?”

Elizabeth married into the Campbell Family. In A City, women were envious of her.

After all, the Campbell Family was considered the second-largest family in A City. They were also a prominent family.

Dominic was handsome, capable, and strong. The woman who married him would definitely be very happy!

Chapter 667 No More Her

Elizabeth looked at Jessica's expectant expression and she suddenly fell silent.

"Did he treat you badly? No way! He used to treat you so well."

That's why Lizzy doesn't leave after he's blind. Any woman would do this.

Even though she knew that the person Elizabeth liked was Matthew, it would be ungrateful for her to ignore Dominic at that time..

At that time, Lizzy must have been prepared to take care of Dominic for the rest of her life.

However, Dominic's eyes had improved.

Elizabeth lowered her gaze and did not answer her directly.

"Does he treat you badly? Is there a woman out there?"

With that, she was about to take out her phone to question Dominic.

Elizabeth held her hand. "Jess, actually I don't blame him. I made it myself."

"What?"

Jessica understood her very well. How could she be that kind of woman?

Lizzy gave up everything to marry him. She didn't mind that he was blind. Even the Campbell Family couldn't accept the three children at the wedding, but Lizzy didn't even care.

This wasn't Lizzy's style. For the sake of the three children, she could do anything.

Hence, she had made too many concessions for Dominic. Why didn't he cherish her? Didn't he really love Lizzy?

"There's a saying in this world. If a woman wants to marry a man who loves her, then she'll be happy."

Even though she knew Lizzy was feeling upset at that time, she still felt that this saying was right.

"As long as a man treats a woman well, then that woman will be happy!"

"Jess, I only know now that when a woman doesn't love a man, she could not give her body to him."

She understood deeply. Initially, she thought that after getting married, she might be able to fulfill her duty as a wife.

But, at that moment, she really couldn't do it.

The person in her mind was Matthew. She did not have that feeling about Dominic at all.

She was very afraid that he would come near her. She was very afraid that he would touch her.

Jessica furrowed her eyebrows, "Is that so?"

Me and Leonard. Could it be that I love that man, right?

However, she was different from Lizzy. Lizzy would feel like this after meeting someone she loved and being together with Dominic.

As for her, she did not have a man. She only had physical needs with Leonard.

“That’s right. That’s right.”

Elizabeth nodded. “I think so! Dominic and I have never done anything intimate. Even if he hugged me, I would feel uncomfortable. I...”

She felt that Dominic had become like this and there was also her problem.

“But he lied to her too!”

Although his eyes had clearly recovered, he pretend to be blind, so that her heart would soften and marry him.

“That’s why the relationship between Dominic and me is too chaotic. I don’t even know what to do.”

She wanted to get a divorce, but he did not allow her to do so. He even threatened her with the three children.

The more she thought about it, the more frightened she became. Her brows furrowed.

Jessica was a little surprised, but she understood.

“Are you still thinking about Matthew? Do you want to cheat on him?”

Elizabeth shook her head. "I've never thought about this. All I want now is to run the company well and raise the three kids. I don't dare to think about anything else."

Maybe she wanted too much, which was why she had become so helpless now.

Since young, she had been an unlucky child, so she did not dare to hope for anything else.

"Lizzy, don't be like this! I like you as a fighter."

Elizabeth's eyes dimmed. "Matthew has forgotten about me."

Recalling the way he looked at her that day was completely unfamiliar. In the past, his starry eyes only belonged to her. Now that they had disappeared, she was no longer his exception.

Chapter 668 Petty

Jessica knew about Matthew's condition and was unconscious. She and Leonard went to see him.

Of course, she did not dare to tell Elizabeth about this because she was afraid that she would not be able to endure it.

If she knew Matthew was like this, she would definitely take care of him and stay by his side.

Leonard also told her not to tell Elizabeth.

Matthew becoming like also had something to do with Lizzy.

Therefore, she did not mention it. Since Lizzy was married, then the two of them were completely done.

"Is he awake?"

She asked. She hadn't seen Matthew recently, so she didn't know about his condition.

“You know what happened to him too. It feels like I’ll be the last one to know.”

Elizabeth was very disappointed. Everyone in the world thought that she was a heartless woman, so they did not want to tell her about Matthew.

I deserve it. I deserve to be forgotten.

Jessica was a little apologetic, “Lizzy, I’m sorry! I thought you had a good time with Dominic, so I didn’t tell you.”

You need a new life, and so does Matthew.

Elizabeth smiled faintly. “It’s fine. I understand.”

At this moment, her phone rang again, and she could only answer it.

“What is it?”

“Come with me for dinner tonight. Remember to dress nicely. I’ll be waiting for you at five-thirty.”

After saying that, he hung up the phone. Jessica glanced at her phone and cursed.

“Damn it, don’t tell me where to eat or what kind of dinner to attend?”

After Jessica scolded him, she glanced at Elizabeth and realized that Lizzy seemed to have sealed her up recently. She wanted to take her withi

No matter what, Leonard a meal was mostly invited by someone else, so it was boring for her to go there.

Besides eating, there was also red wine

She could bring Lazy with her. The bro of them could have a dusk. It was considered relaxing

“Woman, if a marriage isn’t happy, then you need to feel relaxed. If you go out for a walk, everything will be solved.”

Jessica laughed. “Lizzy, I like your company’s clothes quite a lot. Can you give me a discount?”

Elizabeth glanced at Jessica’s body. Everything was customized. Everything was expensive. Especially the watch she was holding, it didn’t cost much less than six numbers.

Their lives had changed. Now that they had the money, they could afford the things they liked before.

“But they’ve changed too. The happiness they used to have when they were poor is gone!”

She sighed. Indeed, we were too simple in the past. We thought that as long as we had money, we would be happy!

Only now did she realize that happiness was the rarest thing that could not be bought with money.

“You don’t need any discount. It’s free.”

Elizabeth took out a VIP card from her bag. You can get anything from S Mall for free.

Jessica looked at the gold card and her eyes narrowed slightly.

“Wow, is it that good? Is this how the president is treated, right?”

Elizabeth smiled. "Now, all I have is money."

Jessica fiddled with the card in her hand and smiled beautifully.

The Shopping Mall and Hotel in the east of the city are doing quite well. You're really a billionaire now."

Matthew gave Elizabeth the commercial district that was built in the east of the city. No one had the ability to snatch that piece of land from Matthew.

Their business value was unimaginable. When Jessica heard what Leonard said, her eyes lit up and she wished she could take over that piece of land.

Elizabeth's gaze darkened. "Actually..."

She felt that she shouldn't take it, but if she didn't, that fellow might be even angrier.

She could only keep it for herself. Anyway, there was someone to manage all these. What she got out more was signing and receiving money every quarter.

The number on the card increased. She did not seem to have any changes in the rest.

"Actually what? You don't want it? Give it to me! I'm really short of money."

Chapter 669 Bullying a Rich Woman.

Elizabeth was amused by her, "To be honest, have you thought about what profession you want to do? Come to my company and be a manager?"

I won't let Jessica suffer any losses. As long as she's willing to, she can choose whatever she wants.

Jessica had never thought that now that Pearl's body had recovered, she should think about her own life..

She waved at Elizabeth, “Lizzy, I want to use this card to choose clothes. Come with me! Let Ms. Elliott pick up the kids for dinner tonight.”

Elizabeth did not have any objections. “Okay!”

She called Ms. Elliott, and the two of them called the boys out, telling them to take care of their younger sister and wait for Ms. Elliott to pick them up.

Elizabeth ordered a KFC for them and would send it home. They would have a good meal when they reached home.

Arthur and Antony nodded.

Take care of yourself.”

The siblings were still worried about Elizabeth. For the past few months, they had never seen her happy.

Jessica smiled and she hugged Elizabeth.

“I’m here, don’t worry!”

Arthur looked deeply at Elizabeth, hoping that Mommy would be happy.

Elizabeth waved her hand and said, “Let’s go! I’ll go out for dinner with Aunt Jess tonight and relax. You don’t have to worry anymore. I’m an adult, I’ll control my emotions myself.”

She also felt that she had been selfish. For the past few months, she only cared about her mood and did not care about the three children at

The three of them understood everything

Elizabeth and Jessica went upstairs and strolled casually.

“Jessica really needs a beautiful dress. It was Leonard who asked her to wear something prettier. She also wants Lizzy to wear something prettier.”

“So what if she’s married? Dress up nicely. Any man would like it”

Even though it was impossible for Lizzy to cheat, it was impossible that she really had something to do with those men

However, dressing up more beautifully would attract men’s attention. This way, she would feel that she still had her charm. If she didn’t feel so hopeless, her mood would be much better.

After the two of them picked out their clothes for a while, Jessica picked out a white lace dress for her.

Because she had a beautiful back, a woman like her would feel drooling, let alone a man.

Elizabeth stood in front of the mirror and looked at her.

“Wouldn’t this be too sexy?”

She had never worn this style before. She felt like she couldn’t control it.

Elizabeth was quite conservative. Ever since she was a child, this was what Master Wade had taught her. Hence, her upbringing was very Jessica raised her hand and wiped the saliva by her mouth. “It’s pretty. It’s not too sexy, it’s not too sexy at all”

Damn it, she actually hoped that Lizzy would show up a little more, wanting to see more.

What kind of psychology is this? I'm a woman. Am I gay for Lizzy?

At this moment, Tiana and Anna entered.

Tiana saw the clothes on Elizabeth and said coldly to the clerk.

"I want this dress."

After saying that, she placed the card in her hand into the salesperson's hand. "Switch the card. There's no password."

She didn't even ask about the price and just took it. Suck a bite"!

Jessica was so angry she said coldly.

"What's wrong with you? We want this dress."

The clerk looked troubled. "Ms. Wade, this lady has already tried it. Why don't you take a look at other things?"

Anna tugged on Tiana's arm. "Tiana, don't make a scene."

Nonetheless, Tiana did not care. "She could not afford it. Do you want to earn money?"

She heard from Anna that Elizabeth did not have a good life in the Campbell Family. When the Campbell Family saw that Dominic's eyes had recovered, they began to pick bones with her.

Therefore, she did not get any benefit at all Dominic did not care too much about her. The servants even heard that Dominic and her lived. separately

Hence, even though she married into the Campbell Family, she still had to go out to work and earn her own money. She could not afford such a luxury item.

Chapter 670 Too Angry

Upon hearing what Tiana said, the clerk hesitated for a moment before asking.

“Miss, are you sure you want to buy it?”

She was a little doubtful if they can afford it.

Annoyed, she took out the gold card.

“Is this okay?”

The clerk was stunned when she saw the card. This card was for the CEO, and it could be used in every S mall in the world.

The clerk’s expression changed immediately. “Sure, sure.”

How could she offend the president’s friend? There were only five cards in the company. The president was in charge of them and he could give it to his family or friends.

Of course, if the person showed up with the card, it must be the president’s relatives, or the friends she cared about.

Every one of them became diligent, but they did not know that the president of S Group was already here.

Elizabeth took a look in the mirror. She originally felt that it very and didn’t want it.

Now, she had decided and wanted it.

Abby did not know what card it was, so she took out another platinum card from her bag-

“Do you guys want to compete with a bank card? I have one too.

The clerks looked at her like she was stupid. Is this card comparable to the S Group’s internal gold card?

“Miss, I’m sorry. This dress is already sold. Look at the rest!”

Tiana was upset because of the coldness. She couldn’t take it anymore and wanted to go up to reason with her.

Anna stopped her Tia, stop making a scene,

Tuna was upset. “Aunt, it took me a while to go out for a walk. When I saw something I liked, it was robbed by Elizabeth”

Moreover, GM Mr Hilton was the one who gave her the money Old Mr. Hilton had asked her to take care of herself She needed to show off

Besides, she looked at the card in Jessica's hand just now. It was pure gold. It must be a custom-made card from this store. It was impressive at a glance.

Could it be that Jessica knows someone powerful?

After all, that woman was indeed beautiful. Moreover, she had been working at a nightclub. If a beauty like her wanted to get slutty, she could bring down any man.

Anna has been through this, so she saw it clearly.

Tiana did not give up because the dress was simply too beautiful. Elizabeth instantly glowed after putting it on.

If Matthew saw this, then he would be mesmerized.

However, it seemed like Matthew had forgotten about her.

"Aunt, let's go! The clothes in this store are too ugly. I won't come here again."

She said all these to the clerk, but the clerk didn't care.

Jessica also changed her clothes and came out. The red braided fish tail dress accentuated her already seductive body,

Standing beside Elizabeth, she said, "Lizzy, we will definitely be able to slay today."

Especially with Lizzy's outfit, she was a woman but she was still in a trance, not to mention those men.

She recalled that when she went out to eat with Leonard, they were all rich young masters and friends. They were all men.

Tonight, let's show them real beauties!"

Elizabeth only noticed that the two women had left and she breathed a sigh of relief.

The moment she saw them, she would recall those annoying things.

Intully, she good mood when she was shopping with Jessica.

Jessica saw her looking at the entrance of the store and asked.

Your aunt koka more reliable than Tuana and the rest. Isn't it hard to get along?"
