Chapter 1081 Regaining Their Pride

Donald couldn't help but lean over to James and whisper, "Y-You guys know Mr. Harrison?"

James was going crazy with joy, and he had a triumphant look on his face. "Of course!"

Shock was written all over Donald's face, because all of them knew Joseph's identity.

Even Joseph was here, which meant that this house must belong to Matthew!

However, before Joseph entered, a sports car arrived at the courtyard.

Leanna, who was wearing a short knee-length skirt, got out of the car with her hair waving behind her, making her look like a queen.

Not many people knew her, but Yvette recognized her at a glance.

"I-Is that Leanna?"

Everyone was astonished, and Donald's expression changed sharply. "Which Leanna?"

Yvette answered, "Leanna from Creative Cloud Group! I... I was fortunate enough to meet her before. W-Why did she come here..."

The crowd suddenly exclaimed, "Oh, my God. She's Leanna?"

After exploring Lakeside Garden for a while, they walked around Matthew's house, which left all of them in shock and amazement.

It was nearing noon, and Lakeside Garden couldn't accommodate so many people, so Matthew gave James the Supreme Card to the Shanghai Nights restaurant and asked him to bring them there for dinner.

With the Supreme Card, everything was free of charge.

Many of these people have never entered the Shanghai Nights restaurant before.

James accepted the Supreme Card and brought them to the restaurant. After they were done with their meal, all of them were once again overwhelmed.

This time, James and Helen had regained their dignity, and it was truly a breath of fresh air.

This was especially true for James, who was always too embarrassed to face his friends.

Now, these friends held him with such high regards that it made him feel overjoyed.

Even Donald and Yvette were completely convinced now.

"Later, you and Mom can pack up and move in too!" Matthew said sincerely.

James immediately waved his hand. "That won't do! If the two of us move in, Demi and Liam would definitely tell that something is off. Then, if they knew about this house, they would create a huge mess!"

Helen smiled and piped in. "All right. You guys don't have to worry about us. But, Matthew, can you get me an entry pass to this place? Next time, I can bring my friends here and give them an eye-opening experience."

James immediately agreed. "That's right. Give me one too. I can bring some of my old friends here. It would be nice to come here for a cup of tea or something!"

Matthew smiled and nodded. "Dad, Mom, that won't be a problem at all. I'll get the pass for you guys tomorrow!"

James and Helen were overjoyed.

Chapter 1084 Where Did This Wild Child Come From?

Sunday was Sasha's off day, so she discussed with Matthew to bring Natalie out to buy some new clothes.

During this period, Natalie had been in a coma, and Matthew hadn't had time to buy her new clothes either.

The clothes she was wearing were still the shabby clothes she used to wear.

Matthew readily agreed and immediately set off for the Renaissance Shopping Mall in Eastcliff.

It was the largest shopping mall in the city, and it was the busiest place in Eastcliff.

When they arrived, Matthew went to the basement carpark first while Sasha brought Natalie upstairs.

Sasha didn't bring Natalie directly to the children's clothing store upstairs, but planned to take her around instead.

Back then, Matthew was poor, and Natalie was in poor health, so she had never been to a place like this before.

Looking at the bustling shopping mall, Natalie was dazzled and amazed.

The woman was immediately furious. "Bullsh*t! Obviously, you pushed my son down and ruined his clothes. You wanted to escape and ended up falling down by accident, yet you dare to accuse me? I... I will kill you!"

As the woman spoke, she lifted her hand and wanted to hit her.

Sasha instantly pushed her away. "What are you trying to do?"

The woman took a few staggering steps back, then screamed as if someone had stepped on her non-existent tail, "How dare you! B*tch, how dare you hit me! Do you know who my husband is? I'm telling you: You're screwed! You're so screwed!"

After the woman said that, she took out her cell phone to make a call.

At this moment, a man in a suit and leather shoes walked over with a few security guards.

"What's going on here?" The man frowned.

As soon as the woman saw him, she immediately exclaimed, "Manager Telk, you came here just in time! This b*tch bullied me and my son! Aren't you guys gonna do anything about it?"

Not knowing that Gerald had such sinister intentions, Sasha felt that it was no problem and sent a message to Matthew. After that, together with Natalie, they followed them to the manager's office upstairs.

As soon as they entered, Gerald said, "Let's go to different rooms, and you can each tell your own version of the incident. Then, we'll compare the stories and see who's lying!"

When the woman saw the look in Gerald's eyes, she knew what he was thinking. She immediately smiled. "No problem!"

Gerald nodded, then opened the door of his office and smiled at Sasha. "Miss, go into this room and tell me the specifics of the situation."

Sasha frowned, feeling that something was off about the look in Gerald's eyes. "I'll wait for my husband to come over!" she replied.

Gerald's expression became cold. "Miss, we're going to talk about what happened back there. Your husband was not there, so why do you have to wait for him to come over? You should come in first and clarify what happened earlier!"

The woman immediately agreed. "That's right. What's the matter? Do you feel guilty? You dare not go in?"

Chapter 1087 Matt, They're Bullying Sasha!

Natalie was standing outside.

The security guards disregarded her and mainly stayed outside. Gerald had ordered them to do so to prevent Matthew from entering.

Previously, they had encountered such a situation when Gerald messed around with women.

The security guards had to keep the woman's husband outside, and if the husband resisted, they would beat him up.

When sounds rang out from inside the room, Natalie instinctively felt that something was wrong.

She hurriedly ran over and knocked on the door. "Sasha, Sasha, what's wrong with you?"

When the security guard outside heard her cries, they immediately ran in and pulled Natalie out.

Natalie struggled hard, which angered the security guard, so he slapped her across the face.

Having been slapped, Natalie landed on the coffee table next to her. The glass of the coffee table shattered, directly scraping a wound on her forehead as blood gushed out.

The security guard didn't care at all, but simply pointed at Natalie and intimidated her. "Little one, do you still dare to resist? Try struggling some more. Believe it or not, I'll beat you to death!"

At this moment, an angry shout suddenly sounded from outside the door. "What are you doing?"

Gerald was stunned for a while, then began to laugh maniacally. "F*ck, did I hear you right? You're going to destroy the Telk Family? Who do you think you are! Let me tell you: If you can leave here alive today, I'll be your slave!"

Without saying anything, Matthew helped Sasha up.

He wiped the blood from Natalie's face, then asked them to sit aside.

At this moment, more than a dozen security guards had rushed over.

When Gerald saw that his people had arrived, he suddenly became complacent and pointed at Matthew while angrily instructing, "Kill him!"

These security guards were all Gerald's own subordinates, so they immediately rushed in.

Sasha and Natalie trembled with fright.

Matthew asked Sasha to cover Natalie's eyes, then he stood up, removed his coat, and rushed toward them.

Like a steady mountain, he slammed straight into the security guard in front of him.

The security guard was knocked off his feet, knocking down all the people behind him as well.

Gerald couldn't help but be stunned. "W-What are you doing? This is the Renaissance Shopping Mall!

never let you off on this!"

Matthew's expression was calm, and he said slowly, "Didn't I just say that I was going to eat on the Matthew merely sneered and did not care at all.

The excavator outside was still demolishing the Renaissance Mall.

Many security guards rushed over to stop them, but were stopped by a group of strong men.

The excavator was rampant and smashed all the windows on the second floor.

Just then, a group of people ran in from the door.

The leader was a man of medium stature with a cold face. He was the younger brother of the head of the Telk Family, Wesley Telk.

Matthew sneered, and suddenly slapped Wesley's face. "Kneel down! You are not qualified to talk to me while standing!"

Wesley was furious. "Matthew Larson, don't go too far! No matter what, I am also a member of the Telk Family, and my brother is the head of the Telk Family. You—"

Matthew slapped him again.

Everyone in the Telk Family was angry and rushed over in an uproar.

Matthew didn't talk any further, and waved at his subordinates. "Beat them up!"
