Chapter 1131 I Want to Meet Lord Voodoo

Sanhol was anxious. "Jinny, you must go back to Orleans with us! Orleans is in chaos now, and Lord Voodoo is making a complete mess of it. You have to go back and stop him!"

Sanyul directly pulled Sanhol aside and said kindly, "Jinny, you have the Golden Cocoon Charm, which is the King of Charms in the whole of Orleans. As long as you return to Orleans, you will be able to lead everyone there. I promise that, when you return, your life will definitely be much better than it is here!"

Jinny shook her head vigorously while clutching Matthew's clothes tightly.

Sanyul was helpless—he could see that Jinny actually relied on Matthew a lot.

"Mr. Larson... can you help and persuade her?"

Matthew said softly, "Actually, it's not necessary to bring her back to Orleans. I got the news that Lord Voodoo is coming to Eastcliff soon. Your purpose is just to kill him anyway. We can still kill him in Eastcliff!"

When the brothers heard what Matthew just said, they were taken aback, and it was obvious on their faces. "Lord Voodoo is coming to Eastcliff? How did you know that?"

Matthew recounted what happened to Crow and others before.

After they heard it, their expressions changed again.

"So Left-Wing Guardian said that. It seems that Lord Voodoo is really coming! What do we do? Jinny's Golden Cocoon Charm has not yet been fully formed, so we are not Lord Voodoo's opponents yet..."

It was 3.00AM.

Matthew quietly sneaked into the Telk Residence and sprinkled some venomous worms into Philip's room.

After less than half an hour, Philip let out a shrill scream.

Everyone in the Telk Family was busy trying to treat him and look for famous doctors, but alas, they could not find a cure.

The most important thing was that they saw all kinds of small worms crawling out of Philip's mouth and nose, which looked extremely grotesque and terrifying.

The moment Aloysius and Wesley saw this, they immediately knew that Philip must have been cursed.

They had colluded with the Orleans' Voodoo Clan, so they had some understanding of the Orleans' curses and venomous worms.

In order to save Philip, Aloysius ordered Wesley to find the people from Orleans' Voodoo Clan and ask them for help.

As soon as he got that order, Wesley hurried out and drove straight to the outskirts of the city.

However, he didn't notice that there was a man in black lying on the roof of his car, and it was Matthew.

Matthew deliberately cast a curse just so he could find the position of this group of people from the voodoo clan.

Originally, he didn't really want to get involved in Orleans' affairs.

Matthew's face turned cold. Am I meeting Lord Voodoo so soon?
However, when he thought about his father, he was not afraid.
He took the first shot, knocked down Left-Wing Guardians and the two apprentices, and then rushed out of the villa.
Running wildly in the direction of the sound of the drums and gongs, Matthew saw a few dark red lanterns faintly in the distance slowly coming into view in the darkness.
Behind the red lanterns were a group of people wearing red robes and playing various musical instruments, as if to announce to people that someone of prestige had arrived.
However, in this darkness, such an odd scene would make people shudder at the sight of it.
Matthew took a deep breath and rushed forward.
Right then, the person on the opposite side also discovered Matthew.
A woman wearing a white top hat walked out of the team, pointed at Matthew, and scolded, "Lord Voodoo is here. Idlers, please all stay away! Otherwise, we will kill you without mercy!"
At this moment, Matthew also saw the scene clearly.

Chapter 1134 The Powerful Lord Voodoo

When Matthew saw that the young man was approaching aggressively, he didn't dare to hesitate.

He quickly took action—with both his hands across his chest, he blocked the young man's attack.

A trace of disdain wiped through the young man's lips. "Wing Chun boxing? Oh, you savages are only fit to use such girly boxing skills!"

As he spoke, his movement changed. His fists opened and closed, and his offense was fierce. In a split second, it had already turned into the Fist of the Eight Trigrams.

Both his hands formed fists, which were like heavy hammers, as he suddenly attacked Matthew.

The sound of hooting kept coming out of his mouth as he took his shot at Matthew. His momentum was strong, and it was deafening!

Matthew had to admit that this young man was the most powerful one among so many people he had met.

In the first few hits, Matthew was caught off guard and almost suffered a loss.

However, Matthew still had the inheritance of his ancestors—not just in terms of his medical skills, but also the martial skills and combat experience of his ancestors.

This kind of combat experience was to be continuously improved in battles.

For the first few minutes, Matthew was at a disadvantage.

Chapter 1135 Matthew Is Injured

Matthew was severely injured, but Lord Voodoo only bounced back onto his carriage. His expression was as usual, as if nothing had happened.

This situation caused Matthew's complexion to change instantly. After Matthew got the inheritance of the jade pendant, he had fought against people many times, but he had never suffered such a loss. The strength of Lord Voodoo was really not to be underestimated! This old monster, who had lived for 97 years, was really not something he could deal with now.

However, in fact, Lord Voodoo was also shocked to the extreme. After launching a full blow, he originally thought he could kill Matthew immediately. Unexpectedly, Matthew only took a few steps back, and he didn't even spit out a mouthful of blood, which surprised him. He glanced at Matthew and said coldly, "Hmph, since you didn't die after taking my attack, I will acknowledge that you still have a bit of skill! However, whoever gets in my way must die!"

With a wave of his hand, a man next to him pulled out a machete and walked straight toward Matthew. Matthew's whole body was flowing with blood, and he had no power to resist now.

At that critical moment, a black shadow rushed toward Matthew in the distance.

Matthew took a closer look, and the person who came was actually Ken, Billy's bodyguard. He didn't expect that this seemingly ordinary bodyguard was not a weak person.

Matthew nodded slowly, seeing which Sanyul and Sanhol trembled in fear as Sanhol scowled "I've not expected for this old fool to reach Eastcliff this soon! What should we do now, Sanyul? The clan leader of 72 Clans is still on his way. If Lord Voodoo really catches up with us, t-there's no way we can stop him at all!"

With a solemn look, Sanyul looked toward Matthew and asked in a low voice, "Do you have any solution, Mr. Larson?"

If this happened in the past, Matthew would definitely not be bothered about Lord Voodoo, but after fighting with him tonight, Matthew knew Lord Voodoo's skill could not be belittled.

And so, he did not dare to take it lightly too.

"Just stay at Lakeside Garden for now and don't simply leave the place. This is the forbidden area of Billy Newman, so Lord Voodoo won't come here."

Sanyul and Sanhol quickly nodded as they had heard of the name of Billy Newman in Orleans.

Just then, Matthew blurted, "By the way, I fought against Lord Voodoo tonight."

Sanyul and Sanhol widened their eyes at the same time.

Matthew nodded.

Chapter 1137 So He's Matthew Larson?

After spending three hours in the basement, Matthew finally finished producing the energy pills using the pill furnace.

Then, he kept away these energy pills and took a look at the remaining medicinal ingredients, which were almost depleted at this moment.

These precious ingredients were extremely rare and it was all thanks to Joseph for helping Matthew collect them.

The former had spent a long time collecting only a small amount of them, yet all the ingredients were depleted to produce only one batch of energy pills. As such, the energy pills were extraordinarily precious.

Meanwhile, on the outskirts of Eastcliff, Lord Voodoo and his troop eventually ventured into a huge manor.

There was dead silence in the manor, and there was no sight of humans at all.

In the end, the eight palanquins arrived at an attic in the innermost area where a man was groveling on the ground.

The man was wearing a skull mask, so his appearance could not be clearly seen under the moonlight.

Kneeling on the ground, he greeted Lord Voodoo in a deep voice.

Chapter 1138 The Crisis of the Telk Family

The next morning, Matthew received news from Wilson. The Leigh Family—one of the Ten Greatest Families—gathered a few other families to join forces and acquire the Telk Family’s Renaissance Mall.

The intention of the Leigh Family was obvious. Since the Telk Family sold 30 percent of Renaissance mall's shares to Matthew, they were deemed to have betrayed the Ten Greatest Families.

As such, the Telk Family was not qualified to continue remaining as one of the Ten Greatest Families, and it was reasonable for them to forfeit Renaissance Mall's shares.

The other great families did not raise any objection to this matter, and in fact, they were very supportive of it.

Truth was, the Ten Greatest Families had their interests involved among one another. As such, everyone desired to secure as many advantages as they could for themselves.

After eliminating the Telk Family, the remaining nine families would be able to gain benefits from it, so of course, they were all willing to participate.

Nevertheless, Matthew was not too surprised after learning about the news as he thought it was an ordinary outcome.

He knew the voodoo clan couldn't possibly have only contacted the Telk Family and the Lewis Family among the Ten Greatest Families in Orleans, so he was certain that there must be other hidden families.

Last night, he deliberately set the Telk Family up with two motives—to find the location of the voodoo clan and to lure out the families among the Ten Greatest Families who were collaborating with the clan.

As of now, it was actually the Leigh Family who initiated to destroy the Telk Family.

Chapter 1139 The Surrender of the Telk Family

Matthew smiled as he thought to himself, This old man is a shrewd one.

He did not answer Philip directly but asked Philip to dismiss the crowd and only leave Aloysius behind.

It was only after the crowd was dismissed did Matthew mutter, “I actually don’t have any great ideas. However, I own 30 percent of Renaissance Mall’s shares after all. Those who want to snatch away the mall should at least seek my opinion.”

At once, Philip’s eyes lightened up as he knew Matthew was supporting the Telk Family by saying so.

The Ten Greatest Families would have to overcome Matthew first if they wanted to acquire Renaissance Mall.

However, Philip was hesitant because he clearly knew that if he used Matthew to deal with the Ten Greatest Families, it meant that the Telk Family had completely sided with Matthew.

With that, the family would be an absolute opposition to not only the Ten Greatest Families but to the voodoo clan behind the scenes too.

As of now, Philip’s concern was whether Matthew had the ability to fight against the Ten Greatest Families and the voodoo clan.

Perceiving Philip’s silence, Matthew could roughly guess what he was thinking.

At this moment, there were more than hundreds of people standing in the yard of the Telk Residence—the majority of which were from the other nine greatest families.

Leading them was Johnny Leigh, the head of the Leigh Family.

Johnny wore an arrogant look as if everything was in his control.

Besides that, there were a few men from the Telks lying on the ground—two of which were covered with blood, and it was unknown whether they were still alive or not.

Aloysius blew up immediately when he saw the scene. "Johnny Leigh, what do you guys want?! Here's the Telk Residence, yet you barged in and injured my members. Do you really think the Telks are pushovers?!"

Hearing that, Johnny guffawed. "Of course! The good-for-nothing Larson merely said a few words and you guys obediently gave him 30 percent of Renaissance Mall's shares. Ask yourself, aren't you guys indeed pushovers?"

At once, there was a sudden change in Aloysius' expression. This is an outright humiliation!

Meanwhile, Philip asked in a solemn voice, "Johnny Leigh, what exactly do you want?"
