Chapter 1991

The Tui Longevity Pill, also known as the Potential Sharing Pill.

As the name suggests, the medicine is designed to suppress all kinds of terminal illnesses at the cost of one's own potential.

Note that it is a suppression, not a cure.

But this way of killing the chicken and taking the eggs is undoubtedly an immortal pill for those who are terminally ill.

They are dying anyway, so they can live for one more year, and once the medicine has worn off, they can blow out the wax.

Once the medicine has worn off, you can close your eyes and pass away without having to endure the pain of illness.

"This time, I will put out the life exchange pills in the two provinces of Guangzhou and Suzhou."

At this point Hatoyama Henshin added another sentence.

"No limit!"

At these words, the entire audience was in an uproar.

"Hatoyama Henshin, are you crazy, why should your Hatoyama family sell a limited amount in our Heavenly Kingdom?"

"Do you want to be a traitor to your country?"

The Hatoyama family made its fortune on the basis of this longevity pills developed by him, Hatoyama Henshin.

And in order to monopolise the market and maximise profits.

In order to monopolise the market and maximise profits, the Hatoyama family had always controlled the amount of the market launch.

To put it simply, it was a starvation marketing model.

Compared to the rest of the excited crowd, Nishijima Hiromichi was obviously much more calm.

Frowning, he asked indifferently.

"Is the sale aimed at everyone?"

A word to the wise.

Being mentioned by him in this way, the other divine doctors who had dug themselves into a dead end, only then did they react.

Yup.

For terminal illnesses this was a miracle drug.

But for healthy people, it is a deadly poison.

The original ten years of life, immediately reduced by most, ten does not survive three.

Nodding, obediently Hatoyama Henshin opened his chips.

“I need all of you here to act as my guarantor and increase the credibility of the market.

As a reward, I will share the secret recipe for the Tui Longevity Pill with you all after this is over.”

I don’t know!

This is completely insane!

The crowd had never expected that Hatoyama Henshin would be so crazy.

He was willing to share the secret recipe of the Longevity Redemption Pill in order to avenge the death of his own loser disciple.

They had been coveting this recipe for a long time.

Unfortunately, what they didn’t know was that Hatoyama Henshin also had a hard time saying anything, if he hadn’t been forced by his disciple.

How could he have given it up.

“Hatoyama-kun, Xiao Jie is also our junior, for him I reason to do my humble contribution.”

If any of the old men present were attentive, they would have noticed that the one who spoke up was officially the one who had scolded Hatoyama Henshin the most before.

When he had finished, others followed suit and expressed their feelings.

“We should, we should, as elders, we always have to stand up for our juniors.”

“We’ll take this one!”

As for Cang Sheng, sometimes it doesn’t matter if you do a bit of harm!

When the crowd had finished, attention gathered on Xie Qianshan.

At this moment, the whole room was blindfolded, and the blindfold was added to his blindfold.

“As for the Xie family head, you can take seventy percent of all the proceeds from the sale of the Longevity Redemption Pill.”

Hearing the other party finally mention himself.

He hurriedly straightened his stance and asked in a serious manner.

“Masters, I wonder what exactly this Longevity Redemption Pill is?”

How did it feel so dangerous.

“Tui Longevity Dan, that is the gospel for those who are terminally ill .....”

When Hatoyama Henshin finished explaining, Xie Qianshan couldn't help but shout, “I'm going to get it!”

The world is not going to allow me not to get rich with this miracle pill.

“I don't know, what can I do for Master Hatoyama?”

At this moment, Xie Qianshan's attitude was completely enthusiastic.

Even as he spoke, there were little stars in his eyes.

“It's not really a big deal.

Doesn't your Xie family have its own pharmaceutical factory, I will hand over the secret formula to you.

You guys can just hurry up and ma*s produce it.”

The matter was simple, but the issues involved were not simple.

Xie Qianshan didn't care if ordinary people were involved, but the two provinces of Guangzhou and Suzhou were under the jurisdiction of the Southern Realm King Xue Wuji.

If something were to happen, it would be a slap in the face of others.

Seeming to see his concern, Hatoyama Henshin carelessly rea*sured him.

“Isn't the sale voluntary? The others can't say anything about it.”

At these words, a few other old men instantly cast contemptuous glances.

Believe you, D*mn you, bad old man, if you didn't have the backbone, why would you need to ask us as a guarantee.

On the other side, Xie Qianshan's got excited.

“Don't worry, Hatoyama, you will be able to see this medicine in the market tomorrow morning.”

Chapter 1992

The sirens of the ambulances that came and went pa*sed by.

Emaciated and physically and mentally exhausted, Xiao An dragged himself to the inpatient unit.

Before he could enter the ward, the sound of arguing came from inside.

“Don't eat, don't eat, you take it away from me.

I don't have much time left to live anyway, what's the use of eating this.

Instead of being tortured by cancer every day, I'd rather be relieved sooner.”

“Dad, you should eat more or less, it hurts us as children.”

“If you really feel sorry for me, let me die early.”

.....

Standing outside the door for a while, he took a deep breath.

Only then did Xiao An push open the door.

“Dad, I’m coming!”

After placing the fruit on the table, he went to the old man’s hospital bedside.

“Ah Xiao An, look at all you big brothers and sisters.

Dad, it hurts too much, you are the youngest and know best, help Dad out.”

Looking at his father’s face full of despair, he too was heartbroken with tears rolling down his face.

At the same time, he reached for the bag on his chest.

On the way to visit his father, he passed a pharmacy.

Outside the shop, there was a fanfare advertising the launch of a new medicine.

I learnt that it was a miracle drug for a terminal illness.

Although he did not know whether the medicine was true or not, he thought of the painful face of his father who was suffering from stomach cancer all day long.

He still shook his teeth and he then spent 15,000 yuan to buy one.

“Dad, this is a newly released anti-cancer drug!

Why don’t you try it!”

“Little brother, this kind of messy medicine, how can you just give it to our dad.

What if it’s poisonous, our dad’s body is already weak.”

When she saw her uncle take out an unknown drug, her sister-in-law hurriedly stopped him.

But it was better if he didn’t mention it, but it was poisonous.

On the hospital bed, the old man’s eyes suddenly lit up.

Staring at the medicine bottle in Xiao An’s hand, he snatched it up when he was not paying attention.

When the children reacted, the medicine in the bottle had already been swallowed by him.

A group of daughters instantly rushed up and looked at their father nervously.

“Dad, how are you, are you uncomfortable anywhere.”

Looking at their father’s frothy expression, several of them became even more panicked.

“Dad, don’t scare me!”

This appearance even anxiously cried the eldest daughter.

Shaking his head, the old man slowly waved his hand.

"It's okay, it's okay I feel much better."

With that, he struggled to get out of bed.

Believing it, a few people helped the old father out of the bed.

Miraculously, under the sunlight, the old man's pale white hair turned black at a speed visible to the naked eye.

And then the wrinkles on his face were also reduced a little.

Was this a rejuvenation medicine?

After a review, when it was learned that the cancer cells in my father's body were decreasing.

The few women present, although their eyes were joyful, had other thoughts in their hearts.

"Little Uncle, Little Uncle, come over here for a moment.

I have something to talk to you about."

When they came to the door, the elder sister-in-law as well as the family sister asked with anticipation, about the provenance of the medicine.

"The pharmacist said that this Longevity Pill can only be taken by people who are terminally ill."

"Come on, you can see that our father's body has been cured, won't we be healthier if we eat it."

Despite the youngest brother's discouragement, after getting the address, several people rushed to the pharmacy.

Similar scenes happened one after another in Guang Su Province.

In a flash, the Tui Longevity Pill's dominated the entire market with a swift momentum.

After receiving the formula, Xie Qishan ordered the factory to work overtime to make it.

The new medicine hit the market, and after a morning of fermentation.

By 12 noon, all the costs had been recovered.

There was even a gain of nearly 300 million.

This is only the initial stage of the launch, after the news has spread.

A conservative estimate is that the next day there will be a profit of over two billion.

And with the passage of time, the value of this profit will rise day by day.

Chapter 1993

Lying on his bed, he listened to the news coming back from his master, Hatoyama Tsunobu.

A wry smile slowly emerged on Jesse Guada's face as well.

"It's hard work Master, to pay such a high price for a rebellious disciple."

At this moment, the face of Hatoyama Henshin on the opposite side had darkened to the extreme.

"I have already retaliated against the provinces controlled by Lin Mo as you requested.

When will you honour your promise."

A teasing smile.

"Master, haven't you always taught me to be calm and peaceful.

Calm down, haven't things just started?"

"Isn't Lin Mo the Venerable of the Canton Province, when word of the Tui Longevity Pill reaches his ears, he naturally won't be able to sit still.

If the time is right, I hope that Master will work hard and take his dog's life."

"As soon as Lin Mo dies, this last mouthful of resentment in my heart will be released.

I will obediently kill myself then, don't worry, living in a waste body is torment to me."

With a cold snort, Hatoyama Henshin turned around and walked towards the outside of the room.

"I hope you will keep your word.

It's not a big deal for me to have the clan behead me in the name of purging the family of scum.

Oh, no need to remind me of my reputation or lack of it, after I die, whatever the flood."

Looking at his back, Gua Tian Jieshi was full of disdain.

"Dead old man, just wait.

Once Lin Mo is dead, I'll make it hard for you to even think about dying"

Raising his head and smelling the room, the faint fragrance, a strong feeling of enjoyment surfaced on his face.

.....

The conversation was divided into two ends.

The first thing Lin Mo did when he obtained the Pulse Runner strain was to use it as the main medicine and refine the Pulse Runner Pill.

When he ran the Creation Skill again, the slight tingling sensation that had been in his meridians had disappeared.

This meant that the meridians had healed.

And within the dantian, the original true qi had been replaced by sword qi.

He squeezed his fist, this feeling of nirvana and rebirth was really a bit wonderful.

However, he had not waited long to be happy.

Wu Xuan suddenly ran to the backyard.

“Lin Mo, take a quick look, this is something from Divine Doctor Xue, look at her she looks like she’s in a hurry.”

With that, he handed him the medicine bottle in his arms as well as a thin document.

“Divine Doctor Xue has said that this incident affects the life and death of the two provinces of Guang Su.

Let me convey to you that you must treat it with twelve percent of your spirit.”

“Where is Divine Doctor Xue, why hasn’t he come?”

Looking at the empty space behind Wu Xuan, Lin Mo asked.

“Divine Doctor Xue said that he still had to go to the market and investigate in detail.

He left after delivering the stuff here.”

Although his heart was in doubt, Lin Mo did not procrastinate and hurriedly opened the document.

As more and more information was revealed on the document, his face became increasingly ugly.

When he saw the end, he directly smashed the document on the ground.

Taking out the elixir called Tui Longevity Pill, he gouged a layer of medicinal powder from its surface.

The situation was so urgent that he could not take his time to study it.

Without the slightest hesitation, he swallowed the powder directly.

After feeling the faint feeling of exhilaration in his body, his murderous aura immediately rose.

“F*ck, D*mn Japanese dogs!”

“You speed up and find the people from the Ten Families, and say it’s my order.

Hurry up and block the source of this elixir, and then all the pharmacies in the market that sell this elixir will be sealed.”

Although he didn’t understand why Lin Mo was so angry.

But he still cautiously reminded.

“Will the ten great clans cooperate in such a big matter.”

During this period of time, the Ten Great Families were still dealing with various chaotic matters within their clans.

And this matter was targeting an entire province ah, hundreds of millions of people, would they really dare to take action.

"It doesn't matter, just order this matter down.

As for how they choose, it will depend on whether their pattern is big enough."

"Also on the other side of Guang Province, I will contact them to make the same measures."

"Alright, you hurry up and inform them, I have to make a trip to the Fifth Master's side."

After saying that, with Tai Ah in one hand, he hurriedly walked out of the villa.

Chapter 1994

The July skies can change at the drop of a hat.

Before leaving home, it was still clear and sunny.

By the time, Lin Mo arrived at the Fifth Master's compound.

Dark clouds covered the sky and the dreary air pressed down on people in a particularly irritable mood.

Sitting at the end within the living room, he waited quietly.

In fact, the best way to solve this crisis in the two provinces of Guang Su was to wait for him to participate in the Chinese Medical Saint Competition.

Taking the championship, he would become the number one divine doctor in China.

At that time, with a word from him, he would be able to cradle the Tui Longevity Dan to death.

But while the idea was good, the reality was cruel.

There was still nearly a week to go before the Saint of Healing Competition, and by that time, it would be too late.

And at this point there was only one way left.

If he had another choice, Lin Mo would never choose to meet with Master Xue Wu.

The main thing was that this man was too deep-minded and seemed to be laying out every move.

Moreover, this time, coming to him was a risk to his life.

However, the crisis in the two provinces could only be solved by Master Xue Wu stepping in.

Just as Lin Mo was pondering, the sound of footsteps came from the back room.

No one was seen, but the sound of unison was heard, and the silhouette of a man swayed.

When Lin Mo subconsciously raised his hand to block, his arm was already clutched by someone.

When True Qi fled into Lin Mo's body, Master Xue Wu's face instantly changed.

"You, the Dantian meridians are repaired?"

Releasing his grip, he looked incredulously at the young man in front of him whom he was slightly scornful of.

“Yes, I was lucky enough to receive guidance from a senior person.

Now my body is no longer seriously ill.”

Unbelievable as it was, the truth was happening right in front of his own eyes.

“There is such a thing!”

With an exclamation, Master Xue Wu sat down across the table.

At the same time, his eyes always glanced at Lin Mo inadvertently.

And many times looked at the long sword in his hand.

Time was running out, Lin Mo didn’t have time to jostle with him.

“The situation is critical, and I had to come to the door to beg the Fifth Master for a matter.”

“The Longevity Redemption Pill?”

After calming his emotions, Fifth Master Xue asked rhetorically.

As the ruler of the six southern provinces, how could that trivial matter in the two provinces of Guang Su escape his eyes.

“Exactly, I would like to ask the Fifth Master to take the initiative to issue a public announcement to explain the dangers of the Longevity Redemption Pill.

I thank the Fifth Master for the residents of the two provinces of Guang Su!”

Said Lin Mo, standing up and clasping his fist in request.

For such a matter, only by stepping in with a status like Master Xue Wu would it have absolute credibility.

Not only was the Tui Longevity Pill highly harmful, even the side effects were well hidden.

At the initial stage of taking the medicine, people would only feel younger and more energetic.

At this stage, nothing can be detected by ordinary medical instruments.

In the middle and later stages, the side effects of a rapid decline in all body functions come into play.

By then, there is no way back.

When the potential is depleted, it is like a plant with rotten roots, which looks good on the surface but may die in the next moment.

Therefore, Lin Mo had to take advantage of the fact that the Tui Longevity Pill had just been released to the market to extinguish it now.

Once this medicine spread, the consequences would be unthinkable.

“As expected, the youngest divine doctor in the two provinces of Guang Su, he really does have a heart of relief for the world.”

Although his face was smiling, his tone was dark and chilling.

Originally, he had waited for Lin Mo to come to his door and ask him for a hand.

The purpose was also to allow him to better recognise his identity and thus get a better grip.

But now the situation was different, Lin Mo's Dantian and meridians that had originally been ruined.

Not only had it been restored, but the mysterious true qi within his body made him feel a tinge of danger.

This son was too evil, and if he wasn't removed now he could be a great scourge in the future.

Sensing the change in the Fifth Master's aura, Lin Mo secretly cried out in dismay.

His first life and death crisis had quietly arrived.

"Fifth Master, now the two provinces are in crisis.

I can't sleep or eat in peace, as long as you, Fifth Master, step in and extinguish the source of the Tui Longevity Pill.

At the same time, to fill this gap, I will put the Creation Pill into the market."

Bringing up the Creation Pill at this time was also his first means of saving his life.

Chapter 1995

Sure enough, it seemed to be associated with the great gains that came from the Creation Pill.

Master Xue Wu's tone improved.

"You know, tens of millions of residents have already taken the Longevity Redemption Pill now.

And the results are remarkable, if I were to stop it, do you think they would be willing.

Don't look at the fact that I am in charge of the six southern provinces, so I am looking glorious on the surface.

In reality, there are many constraints."

Thinking of this, the killing thoughts in his heart also faded a little.

Nowadays, Lin Mo's hand was holding the Creation Pill, and it was more useful to be alive.

As long as the Creation Pill was on the market, it would bring a constant stream of revenue to the Southern Realm.

And the better the development of the six southern provinces, the more his power, Master Xue Wu, could be drawn.

Only then did Lin Mo let out a faint sigh of relief.

But this shock of meridian repair had brought too much impact to the Fifth Master.

Although there was a million grievances in his heart, he had to bow his head when he was under the roof of the house.

Thinking of this, Lin Mo took out his second life-preserving means.

“Fifth Master, I came here uninvited and didn’t bring anything with me.

This bottle of Jade Face Pill will be presented to your wife.”

At the mention of his wife, the fifth master’s face involuntarily flowed, dotingly.

This was also what Lin Mo had learned after his investigation.

Although it was said that in this Southern Realm, Master Xue had all kinds of hands and eyes, and all kinds of tricks were endless.

But the only thing that he did was to dote on his wife.

This also gave Lin Mo an opportunity.

Taking advantage of this opportunity, he explained the effects of the Jade Face Pill.

“This pellet was used during the Seng Tang Dynasty, exclusively for members of the imperial family such as the noble consort and the empress.

Originally, this secret recipe had been lost, and I only accessed it from the cla*sics because of chance.”

Said Lin Mo as he pushed the vial of medicine to Master Xue Wu.

“This medicine nourishes and nourishes the face, and does not have any side effects, so you can rest a*sured, Fifth Master.

I don’t dare to over-brag about the specific effects, and only after taking it will I discover the wonders of it.”

That was of course, an elixir exclusively for the imperial family, if there were side effects.

Then just wait for the emperor to behead you.

However, Lin Mo did conceal a part of it.

This Jade Face Pill should accurately be called the Primary Jade Face Pill.

Because it lacked a few main medicines, the medicinal properties would be much weaker.

But even so, it was still much more effective than those top quality skin care products.

After a few explanations, Master Xue Wu then accepted it with a smile.

He didn’t believe a single punctuation mark for the excuse of cla*sical or whatever.

Before it was the Creation Pill, now it’s the Jade Face Pill, how can you turn up all kinds of pills.

Of course, no matter what the excuse was, he, Master Xue Wu, didn’t care.

As long as Lin Mo was in the South Realm, as long as Lin Mo could bring revenue to the South Realm and make the Six Provinces develop even stronger.

Even if Lin Mo said that the dan recipe was given by the gods, he would respond to it.

Only, he, Master Xue Wu, was satisfied.

Across the table, however, Lin Mo was as anxious as an ant on a hot pan.

He did not have such a big heart as the Fifth Master, and now the situation in the two provinces was critical.

He had to seize the moment and persuade Master Xue Wu to take action.

Gritting his teeth, he spoke again.

"Fifth Master, I know you are worried that I will grow in power and shake up the six provinces in the future.

Here, I, Lin Mo, can assure you.

In the Southern Realm, as long as you, Fifth Master, are present, all six provinces will be at Fifth Master's command.

If there is such a breach of contract, I so tree."

With that he stood up, walked to a large tree on the side, drew his sword and swung it out.

It managed to cut through a thumb-thick branch.

With this, Lin Mo was even hitching himself in.

This side was his third means of saving his life.

Only then would the Fifth Master feel comfortable letting him develop in the Southern Realm.

"This is a serious statement, I have been in charge of the Southern Realm for many years.

Could it be that I would still be afraid of it, you being a little backwoodsman threatening my position."

With a condescending smile, the fifth master just looked at Lin Mo quietly.

"Arrogant and domineering, C*cky and arrogant, youthful.

Isn't that what we young people are talking about?"

Chapter 1996

The long sword was returned to its sheath, and Lin Mo jokingly sat down again.

Opposite him, Master Xue Wu still wore that standard smile.

But now that the words had been spoken, he had no intention of hiding it any longer.

"There is some truth to this statement.

However, I hope you can remember, here and now, what you said.

Otherwise I will remember it for you.”

In his tone, a hint of killing intent slowly flowed.

“Don’t worry, Fifth Master, I’ll bear it in mind.”

Clutching his longsword, Lin Mo hurriedly followed the other party’s words.

It was at this time that he completely relaxed.

The fact that Fifth Master Xue could say this also meant that going forward, his development would not be restricted by him.

Provided of course that it did not affect, his Fifth Master’s ruling position in the Southern Realm.

“Alright, I will step in and speak out on the matter of the Longevity Redemption Pill.

But your Creation Pill, I hope to hurry up and get it in place.”

After saying that, his gaze once again looked towards the longsword held in Lin Mo’s hand.

“I didn’t expect that after your meridians were repaired, you would abandon your fists for swords.

But the sword and sabre are more than several times harder than other martial arts, so be prepared for it in your heart.”

With that, he raised his finger and pointed.

Lin Mo instantly understood, and without any hesitation, he directly threw Tai Ah to his opponent.

Just at the moment his longsword left his hand, all the aura above the sword’s body dissipated into thin air.

Miso!

Looking at the rusty sword body, Master Xue Wu could not help but frown.

This sword was too bad, even after seeing the two words on the shoulder body.

He didn’t care to study it.

After examining it and finding nothing unusual, he then spoke up and asked.

“Why, don’t you pick a better longsword.

This sword is almost rotten through, isn’t it!”

Shrugging his shoulders, Lin Mo also pretended to be helpless.

“It can’t be helped, good swords are hard to come by, and there are no traces of famous swords.

How about pairing it with this rusty sword to practice both the sword and the mind?”

Originally, seeing that his sword never left his body, Master Xue Wu secretly speculated that Lin Mo's chance of meridian repair might lie in this sword.

Of course this speculation, although somewhat absurd, was only with the mindset of trying it out.

Now after examining it, although there was a faint sword aura on the longsword.

And this sword qi was very old, but the spirit qi was all but absent.

"Could it be that this kid, absorbed the ancient sword aura and used it to repair his meridians,"

Of course this was all just his speculation.

Nodding, Master Xue Wu tossed the longsword back to Lin Mo as he did so.

Having received Xue Wuji's reply.

After a few more small talk, Lin Mo was ready to go back and arrange to handle the various follow-ups for the Longevity Redemption Pill.

Long stood by the window, looking at the car that was driving away rapidly.

Fifth Master Xue spoke indifferently.

"Have you found out the source of Lin Mo's meridian repair?"

This matter was too bizarre, and he always felt a bit of a lump in his heart if he didn't check it out.

Behind him, the black-clothed girl immediately replied to.

"My subordinate is incompetent, we have traced everything around Lin Mo and found nothing unusual.

As for the rusty longsword, it was the lady who entrusted the crown prince to give it to Lin Mo.

And there is a so-called high ranking person, and it is impossible for us not to know when outsiders enter."

After hearing this, Master Xue Wu then he shook his head again.

Even if there really was some kind of high person, but the disease of exhausted meridians could be cured by mortals?

Even, the contemporary divine doctor Sai Hua Tuo did not have such a skill.

"Since this is the case, you will not be the same Supervisor Lin Mo for now.

Since he is so generous, we naturally cannot be stingy either."

Having received Lin Mo's assurance, Master Xue Wu was obviously much more generous.

"No doubt, this kid is evil as hell.

But it is only when he is alive that he can bring me the greatest benefit.

There's no need to spy on him in the future."

“Understood! It’s just that Madam she .....

The woman hurriedly cut off her words at the thought of Madam Xue’s position in the Fifth Master’s heart.

“What’s wrong with her madam?”

The matter of his wife made Master Xue’s tone a little more serious.

“No, it’s nothing, the poisonous spider and the crown prince are friends with Lin Mo

Wouldn’t madam be a little too caring towards them?”

A frown tightened his brow.

“How many times have I said that you don’t need to care much about my madam’s affairs.

What, are my words no longer of any use.”

“I dare not!”

“Mind your status, stand down!

Also find someone, have this medicine taken by them, and report back to me at any time if there is any reaction.”

From the bottom of his heart, he knew that Lin Mo wouldn’t dare to play any tricks on this medicine.

But even if he was confident, he would not dare to freely give his wife a pill from an unknown source.

However, just as the Fifth Master was talking to Lin Mo, a figure had already leapt out of the compound.

It then disappeared at the end of the road.

Chapter 1997

Driving the vehicle, after pulling over to the side of the road.

Lin Mo stepped down.

Even though he had prepared in his heart.

But when he met with the Fifth Master, the lingering murderous aura was like a giant hand.

It was choking him to death.

However, before he could take a few breaths, his pores suddenly stood on end and a terrifying sense of danger instantly struck him.

Without the slightest hesitation, he hurriedly rolled to one side against the ground.

Looking back, there were a few darts sticking straight up from where he had been standing.

A concealed weapon?

His brain raced, of all the people he had met.

Only the group of black-clad women under Master Xue's men could use such darts.

But if Master Xue wanted to kill himself, he could have done it just now inside the house.

Why go to all this trouble?

It was too late to think, seeing the darts coming at him again.

Towards his chest, his palm probed.

Three silver needles appeared in one smooth motion.

Ding ding ding!

After a crisp metallic impact sounded, the darts were all knocked down in response.

"Could it be that you have really recovered?"

Following the sound, he saw a woman in black standing on the branch of a large tree.

As the diffuse veil was covering her cheeks, it was impossible to see the other woman's appearance.

"What, has Master Xue Wu regretted letting you come to a*sa*sinate me?"

Holding his sword sheath in his hand, Lin Mo asked tentatively.

"Hehe, you don't need to think about setting me up.

The one who wants to kill you is not the Fifth Master, but myself?"

As soon as the words left her mouth, the woman in black leapt down from the tree branch.

Pulling out her dagger, she came flying.

And at this moment, Lin Mo was also full of doubts.

One could be absolutely certain.

He had never had any grudges with the other party, not even facial conflicts.

Why should he ambush and a*sa*sinate here.

When he perceived that the woman in black was full of killing energy, he no longer hesitated.

His right hand made a claw and he met her head on.

As the two sides exchanged blows, the woman did not show the slightest mercy.

Her agile stance, coupled with her sharp dagger, overwhelmed Lin Mo for a while.

Was the other party really going to kill himself?

Just at this moment of distraction, the woman's dagger that was thrusting straight out suddenly turned.

Leaning over his stance, he dodged the fatal blow though.

However, the dagger still slashed against his chest.

At the moment of crisis, Lin Mo hurriedly raised his right foot and kicked the woman in the abdomen.

Although he was dodged by his opponent, he also took the opportunity to close the distance between them.

When he looked down at his chest, his outer garment had been cut.

Faint traces of blood seeped out.

Although his meridians were already unharmed, when his force was still in the stage of repair.

Coupled with the fact that the other party was not inferior, he was not yet a match for the woman in black today.

Thinking of this, Lin Mo couldn't care less about exposure.

It was important to save his life.

With his right hand on the hilt of his sword, Lin Mo took the initiative to launch an attack.

Turning his dagger, the woman also rushed straight forward at the same time.

Now is the time!

Death!

When the two sides were less than ten metres apart, the Tai Ah Sword was sheathed.

The invisible sword Qi divided the void.

In Lin Mo's shocked gaze, the woman on the other side had dodged what should have been a fatal blow.

Looking at the other party's dodging movement, it was obvious that she had already guarded against his sword qi beforehand.

How could this be possible? The secret of Tai Ah Sword Qi was known only to him, Wu Xuan and the Crown Prince.

However, he did not believe that these two would betray him.

While Wo Mu was pondering.

The young girl in black spoke again.

"I didn't expect that your dantian meridians had actually been repaired?"

After being surprised, it seemed that the woman leapt up onto the tree branch again with a long leap in order to release Lin Mo's wariness.

"Who the hell are you?"

Holding the rusty Tai Ah in his hand, Lin Mo rebuked and rebuked.

"Little brat, don't be so angry.

Looking at your state, that blow just now should have drained your strength, right?

Answer my question, or you will really die.”

As the words fell, that bitter killing aura filled the air again.

Chapter 1998

When the woman finished speaking, Lin Mo suddenly changed his complexion, despite the fact that he had hidden it well, he would still be discovered by the other party.

Although after so many days of bonding.

However, the progress of the fit between him and Tai Ah was not obvious.

He did not know whether his own was too weak or the Tai Ah Sword Spirit was too strong.

In short, he could no longer inspire Tai Ah’s sword energy at will now.

One strike to kill a move would consume all his physical strength.

This woman seemed to know the Tai Ah in her hands extraordinarily well.

“After your meridians are repaired, you should hibernate.

Coming so openly and honestly, aren’t you afraid that the Fifth Master will plot this Nirvana art of yours?”

The art of nirvana naturally referred to Lin Mo’s meridians being repaired.

With a disdainful tone, Lin Mo slowly spoke.

“How many people in this world have had their meridians broken and their cultivation ruined due to practice, fighting, accidents, etc.?

If this technique could be replicated, do you think it would be difficult for me to dominate the world?

If you hadn’t seen through this, would I have been able to leave unharmed!”

Yes!

If Lin Mo had made the art of repairing meridians, public.

How many people would come to cast their names under his name to repay the kindness of rebuilding.

The world was so big, and there were so many people with damaged meridians.

Even if only one in ten of these people came, it would still be several times better than the Southern Realm.

That would still be several times stronger than the Southern Realm, plus the sons and grandsons of the families among them.

When the time came, Lin Mo would raise his arms and shout.

Even the Nalan family, the number one family in China, would not dare to openly call out to him.

But was this possible? If this technique could be replicated, why would Lin Mo be so foolish as to risk his life to meet Master Xue Wu.

At the thought, the woman in black's cheeks also flushed.

Looking at Lin Mo's face full of ridicule.

She couldn't help but spit darkly.

"Brat, how dare you talk to your little aunt like that."

That was right, this person was none other than Madam Xue.

She was also Lin Xiao's disciple, as well as Lin Mo's mother's bosom friend.

As for this halfway interception, on the one hand, it was to test out whether Lin Mo had really recovered.

On the other hand, it was also to caution him against getting too close to Master Xue Wu.

But to his surprise, this Lin Mo saw more clearly than anyone else's!

I didn't expect this brat, not only was he still cured.

His potential was even greater than before.

"Remember before you are strong enough.

Never reveal Tai Ah's secrets, otherwise not only you, but I'm afraid the whole of China will be thrown into chaos.

That's all, you go."

Indeed, the magical power of Tai Ah, which was an ancient divine weapon.

It could completely overturn an era.

All the way until the other party told him to leave.

Lin Mo was still full of confusion.

If the other party wanted to kill himself, there was no you have to talk nonsense to himself.

If the other party had been sent by Master Xue Wu to test himself, then the results would have come out by now.

Either they folded up and went back to report back, or they killed them on the spot and swept away Tai Ah.

But after inexplicably pulling a few words, the other side surprisingly let him leave directly.

After driving away.

The only person left standing on the spot was Madam Xue, standing on top of a tree branch.

Waiting until Lin Mo disappeared without a trace.

Her body suddenly went limp, and a two-inch wound on her back touched her heart.

Surprisingly, it was suppressed by her, but it was still oozing with bright red blood.

Although she had just dodged which blow, she was still grazed by the remaining edge of the blade.

“Hiss! I never thought that this legend of the Tai Ah Divine Sword would be true.

No wonder so many experts fought desperately for it back then.”

With a secret sigh, she left the tree branch.

And on top of that ground, a fir tree, the thickness of an adult’s calf, fell on its side to the ground.

And the fracture was exceptionally smooth.

On the other side, after the ten great families of the two provinces of Guang Su received the news from Lin Mo.

Knowing the seriousness of the matter, they immediately put aside all the matters at hand.

At the first opportunity, they mobilised all the available manpower of their families to implement Lin Mo’s plan.

Of course, the means varied.

Chapter 1999

With all the big families taking action, the Tui Longevity Pill market has also received some impact.

Some of them disguised themselves as gangsters and caused trouble in pharmacies, so that customers did not dare to come to their doors.

Some of them secretly intercepted the transport trucks carrying Longevity Pills.

The more ruthless ones came directly to the shop and bought up all the pills in the shop at once.

By using various roundabout methods, the market expansion of this elixir was greatly slowed down.

Soon after, Master Xue’s side also took action.

An announcement topped all major websites.

“Tui Longevity Pill is not a divine pill.

This pill is a way to stimulate the human body’s potential in exchange for a short period of health.

Due to this medicine, it has the side effect of permanent damage to the human body.

All residents of the Southern Realm are hereby warned not to take this medicine.”

Signed, none other than the King of the Southern Realm, Master Xue Wu.

The most credible figure in the six provinces of the Southern Realm.

Once this announcement was made, the reputation of the Tui Longevity Pill, which was gaining momentum, took a sharp turn for the worse.

“D*mn, trash merchants, ruining my health and returning my hard-earned money.”

“F*ck, my daughter-in-law, she also took your medicine, if anything goes wrong.

I’ll lead people to smash up your shop.”

“Wait for what later, do it now.

I don’t want a refund or no refund either, do it and smash up their shop.”

Looking at the outside of the pharmacy, the aggressive big men, the pharmacy owner was also scared and trembling.

But to protect his life, he could only go forward with courage.

“Calm down, gentlemen, and listen to my words.

Before selling the medicine, I have repeatedly stressed that this medicine is only suitable for those who are terminally ill.

Now you are not being unreasonable.”

Once these words were spoken, the crowd of people calmed down.

This boss did have a point, after all, he had cautioned before, but they just didn’t pay attention.

Seeing this, the pharmacy owner secretly gave a sigh of relief.

I’m such a little resourceful.

Yet just as he was giving himself credit for his resourcefulness.

At the back of the crowd, a petite, young and beautiful woman was still angry.

When she lifted her palm, the sturdy man beside her, who was 5’9”, immediately bent down in line.

And at this time, the woman grabbed the strong man’s ear.

“Is it just waiting, this elixir side effects take effect.

Then you go out and find, other little vixens.

I’m telling you, if you don’t get this out of me today.

You won’t be getting laid.”

“Ouch, ouch, wife, be gentle.”

When his wife released her grip, the strong man covered his reddened ears with a look of resignation.

This was followed by a sworn promise.

“Don’t worry, baby wife, if I say I’ll smash his shop today, I’ll never smash others.”

The words fell.

He then picked up a one metre high wigwam by the roadside.

“Brothers, give way.

This dog merchant, playing f*cking word games.

It’s suitable for people with terminal illnesses, but it doesn’t say that healthy people can’t take it, nor does it say that there are side effects.

Don’t believe his bullsh*t, people.”

Once the crowd dispersed, the wigwam was thrown out by the strong man.

It was left firmly and securely right on top of the gla*s counter.

The other men in the room seemed to be awakened by the strong man’s words.

They looked at their wives, who had pulled their faces down beside them, and shivered.

“Brothers, smash it.”

The words fell, and the men swarmed on the counter.

In just five minutes, the huge pharmacy was smashed to pieces.

“Honey, let’s go!”

Looking at the other women present with aggressive gazes, staring at their men.

The physically petite beauty, with a handful of her husband’s swollen muscular wrist, proudly left the scene.

Such things happen in many, many places in both provinces.

As long as the pharmacies that sold Tui Longevity Pills, nine times out of ten, they were smashed to pieces.

On the other side.

Listening to the a*sistant’s report, Xie Qianshan’s face had darkened to the point of darkness.

He could expect that Master Xue Wu would strike, but he didn’t expect that he would strike so quickly.

And then there was that D*mned top ten families of Su Province that had degraded themselves to be so dedicated to a Lin Mo.

“Family head, family head, something big is wrong.

The owners of those pharmacies that were smashed have come to the door.

Wanting us to pay compensation.”

Under the snow, Xie Qianshan couldn't help but spit out his fen!

Chapter 2000

Under the pressure of many pharmacy owners working in unison.

In the end, Xie Qianshan could only meekly give in.

After paying a large amount of compensation, the Tui Longevity Pill scheme had only just begun when it was already over.

And this time, his Xie Qian Shang's investment plan had not only failed to bring in any profit, but had instead caused a lot of trouble.

He watched a group of pharmacy owners, as expected, get their money and leave happily.

The Xie family members had a depressed look on their faces.

“Family head, should we just let them take the money away like this?”

“What else should we do?”

If we don't pay the money, they will make a joint statement and expose our Xie family.

What do you think the Nalan family will think of us.

If we take the money, we'll be a gra*shopper on a rope.

As long as we dare to expose it, the big deal is that we will all die together.”

Speaking of this, Xie Qianshan was even more furious.

“There are also a few dead dwarfs, they f*cking screwed me too.”

That's right, at the previous meeting, Hatoyama Henshin only said that the Tui Longevity Pill had some minor side effects and did a little damage to his body.

It wasn't until now that he knew that the f*cking side effects were actually killing people.

“What a bunch of losers, stealing a chicken and losing the rice.”

After cursing angrily, Xie Qianshan spoke again.

“The Medical Saint Competition is about to start as well, let's get ready to go back.”

After all, this was the top priority.

“What about the arrangements for those few Japanese national divine doctors?”

Anger was anger, but after all, his initial aim was to hook up with the forces behind the other party.

Now that he had come this far, he naturally could not stop halfway.

Hearing this reminder, Xie Qian Shang sighed helplessly.

“I’ll go invite them to set off together later.”

With those words, the crowd dispersed.

And on the other side.

Hatoyama Henshin was sitting sadly and paralyzed in the room.

His eyes were listless, just quietly looking at the bed, the body of his beloved disciple.

And all around, although the windows had been fully opened, a faint fragrance still lingered.

Whisking up the ashes in the incense burner, he brought them to his nose and smelled them.

Then Nishijima Hiromichi’s face instantly changed.

“The Anjin incense was mixed by him with Soul Breaking Scatter.”

Although the Anjin incense could cover up the scent of Soul-Severing Scatter, it was still discovered by him.

The other few old men also found out from Gua Tian Jieshi’s chest, the pill box that contained the Soul-Severing Scatter as well as the small pill spoon.

The result was obvious enough.

This Gua Tian Jieshi must have been unable to bear the reality of going from a genius to a loser.

In despair, he had committed suicide!

“Disciple, why are you so thoughtless.

How can you let me live?”

With red eyes, Hatoyama Henshin choked on a sob.

“Hatoyama-kun, I am sorry for your loss.”

Even if he had been unhappy with Hatoyama, his death was the greatest.

Seeing him in such a distraught state, the crowd came forward one after another to comfort him.

It was only after a long time that Hatoyama Tsunobu seemed to have recovered.

He waved his hand.

“Thank you all for your hard work, you go and rest first.

I’ll keep Jie company for a while longer to talk.”

Shaking their heads, the group left the room with a helpless sigh.

And as the sound of footsteps faded away.

Hatoyama Henshin’s face changed instantly, and all the sadness vanished into thin air.

What was left instead was a face full of oozing smiles.

“My good pupil, why are you doing this?”

Stroking the cheek of Jesse Guada, Hatoyama Henshin removed his mobile phone.

After grabbing his disciple’s palm, he unlocked the phone.

Turning off the timings, recordings, etc. that Jesse Guada had set up, all records that posed a risk of exposure were deleted.

Although he had long been moved to kill this disciple, he had never struck.

There were several national masters in the same profession whose medical skills were comparable, or even superior to his, present.

Once he made his move, it was highly likely that they would find out.

However, what he had never expected was that this disciple would not be able to resist and use the Broken Gut San to poison him in advance.

How could Hatoyama Henshin miss such a good opportunity?

Using the medicinal principle that herbs are mutually exclusive, he added a few tonic herbs to his diet.

The antidote that Jesse Guada had taken in advance was instantly neutralised, thus losing its effect.

And so it was that the scene came to pa*s.
