

Genius 2001

Chapter 2001

“All your poisonous skills were passed on to you by Master for Master, have you forgotten?

Good disciple, go all the way.”

Wiping the fingerprints off the phone, Hatoyama Henshin put it back in its place.

When the sad expression returned to his face, he then got up and left the room.

When he came to the hall again.

Xie Qianshan had already explained the purpose of his visit with several other national experts.

Learning that the Saint of Medicine Competition was about to be held.

Hatoyama Henshin declined the intention of travelling with him, stating that he would stay behind to deal with the afterlife of his disciples.

After some reassurance, Xie Qianshan left in a hurry.

And several others began preparations for the Chinese Medical Sage Competition.

.....

The conversation was divided into two parts.

After dealing with the furore caused by the Longevity Redemption Pill.

The day of the Medical Saint Competition is getting closer and closer.

The first thing you need to do is to get ready for the competition.

The crisp morning was tinged with a slight chill.

With a roaring sound, ten numbers of off-road vehicles came out of Lin Mo's villa.

The bodies of the vehicles were marked with the conspicuous Southern Realm King's power pattern.

As the convoy drove out of the realm of the Southern Province, a human figure was silently annotating all this on top of the building behind him.

And behind his figure, the woman in black hesitated.

Finally, she spoke out.

“Fifth Master, do you want me to follow?”

Shaking his head, Master Xue Wu did not agree.

“Over at the caravan, I have other arrangements.

With the protection of Evil Wolf, you don't have to worry about Xiao De's safety.”

Hearing the name of Evil Wolf, the woman in black nodded and said no more.

However, what she did not know was that in fact, Master Xue Wu also had a little bit of worry inside.

It was just that he did not say it out loud.

The line of sight returned to the side of the caravan.

“Stop, stop!”

The voice was instantly transmitted to the entire convoy through the intercom.

The car door opened and Wang Peide impatiently held the waistband of his trousers in his hands before he dove into the woods by the roadside.

“D*mn, isn’t it just a little doctor who popped up in Guangyang?”

I can’t believe I have to be accompanied by young Wang personally, what a f*cking bad luck.”

After shaking his body, he gave a bah towards the side.

Now he returned to the car with a depressed face.

What he didn’t know was that not far away, on a tree branch, there was a black shadow standing quietly.

And every word he said had fallen on deaf ears.

When the caravan set off again.

The dark figure in the forest took out his mobile phone and seemed to be reporting to someone.

After a long day and night’s journey.

The caravan was also halfway down the road.

The long journey seemed extraordinarily tedious.

Leaning against the back seat window, Wang Peide drifted off to sleep.

Just then, four large container trucks slowly followed the convoy.

One of them, even started to slowly accelerate.

Looking at the container truck travelling directly in front of him.

At this time, the convoy was not traveling at a slow speed, and according to common sense, such a large transport vehicle would not have chosen to overtake.

Thinking about this.

Snake, a middle-aged strong man at the front of the car, extinguished the cigar in his hand.

Slowly, he spoke.

“All members raise your spirits, it looks like someone is coming to intercept us.”

At the same time as the captain's voice rang out on the car intercom, the
All the security personnel accompanying him immediately pulled out their respective weapons.
At this time, the transport truck slowly drove into the middle of the road.
The brakes were then applied, forcing the entire convoy to a halt.
"No. 7, car No. 9 protect it, young Wang.
The rest of you get off with me, let's go and meet the other side."
With a single order, the named personnel immediately moved out.
At the same time, the doors of the other side's container were instantly opened, and dense figures ran out.
In the blink of an eye, the entire convoy was surrounded by hundreds of people.
"Dare I ask who is on the other side?"
Snake asked in a raised voice.
Seeing no answer from the other side, he spoke again.
"Gentlemen, do you know that we are the people of the Southern Realm King, Master Xue Wu.
Are you tired of living?
Even we dare to intercept!"
It was only at this point that the other party reacted.

Chapter 2002

The crowd stirred and made way for an aisle.
As the crowd watched, the trenchcoat-clad man walked slowly to the front.
"We have no intention of making an enemy of the Fifth Master.
As long as you hand over Lin Mo, you can naturally leave unharmed.
Otherwise ....."
It was obvious that this group of people were coming for Lin Mo.
Although the other side was outnumbered, Snake on the side of the caravan hadn't fallen short of his aura.
"Or else what, the people of my southern realm are not something you can take away with just a word.
Brothers, do you promise."
As his words fell

The crowd surrounding the caravan immediately responded.

“No!”

The neat and unified reply was loud and clear.

“Hahahaha, with just a few of you little thangs, you also want to take people from us.”

“Come on, come here if you’re not afraid of death, I’ll show you what a master is capable of.”

“What’s all this nonsense? Come if you can.”

“Yeah, pussies, grandpa is waiting for you.”

Listening to the taunts of the other crowd, the cloaked man shrugged his shoulders, and then a teasing smile escaped his face as well.

“In that case, then I will have to take your lives reluctantly.

Except for Lin Mo and Wang Peide, everyone else is killed.”

With a command, the encirclement of hundreds of people closed in an instant.

Facing the black press of enemies, Snake did not show the slightest fear.

After spitting, he charged head-on.

When the two sides collided.

He waved his arms in a smooth motion, and with a flash of his blade, the opposite fighter stopped dead in his tracks.

With an expression of pain, he covered his abdomen in panic.

However this was ultimately a futile move, and with blood spilling out, he had been cut off at the waist.

Although the security personnel accompanying the convoy were all born practitioners.

But a good man cannot be outnumbered.

Faced with several times the number of enemies, he fought hard to fend off the other side’s attack.

But a gap was opened in the guard circle.

When he got close to the car, one of the fighters hurriedly started to pick at the door.

With a click.

The car door unexpectedly opened by itself.

And then an icy voice came out from within it.

“Young Wang, just stay in the car, don’t worry about anything else.”

And Wang Peide, who was beside him, immediately nodded his head in cooperation.

It was just that even as his own bodyguard, he was all a bit fidgety.

This man was the most ferocious evil wolf in the Fifth Master's hand, and extremely murderous.

A bit of a pervert, to be precise.

Every time he strikes, it has to be a bloody mess, the kind of scene that doesn't kill you, but can also disgust you to death.

With Chopped Waist Snake, it is an extremely good match.

After receiving Wang Shao's reply, Evil Wolf then probed his right hand and choked the throat of the other fighter.

After stepping out of the car, Evil Wolf directly lifted him in mid-air.

No matter how much the other party struggled, his arm remained as steady as a rock.

When he grabbed the other man's head with his hand, his entire throat was ripped off.

The blood that gushed out splashed all over his face.

The fighter, who had been stomping frantically, dropped to all fours.

Throwing the corpse aside, the evil wolf habitually licked his lips, his deep gaze revealing a strong murderous intent.

It seemed that what was in front of him was not an enemy, but a group of lambs waiting to be slaughtered.

Gulping, several people on the other side were frightened by the evil wolf's cruel methods and stopped in their tracks.

Although they were all practitioners, they had never seen such a scene before.

After some hesitation, one of the more daring fighters shouted out.

"F*ck, he's only one person, there are more than ten of us, what are we afraid of.

This man is so determined to stop us from approaching, which means there must be Lin Mo hiding in the car behind him.

Brothers, kill him."

At the mention of Lin Mo, the crowd was immediately energised.

That was a man worth a hundred million dollars, and if he was returned, the money would be paid immediately.

Chapter 2003

The first time the caravan encountered an interception, Master Xue Wu received the news.

Staring at the teapot in front of him, his face was dreadfully gloomy.

“Hmph, very good, very good, knowing that it was my convoy, how dare you come to intercept it. Order it down, have the support troops rush to surround and kill it.”

“Yes!”

The first time the order was given on Master Xue’s side.

Another group of men who had originally fallen far behind the convoy immediately picked up speed.

This was also a secret move by the Fifth Master just in case, just in case of the situation today.

On the other side.

By the time the support crew arrived at the scene of the battle, a large part of both sides had already been lost.

After all, they had the advantage of being outnumbered.

After a long struggle, the interceptors, led by the cloaked man, had reached the edge of the convoy.

As they put their lives on the line, they finished checking all the vehicles.

Surprisingly, they did not find Lin Mo’s figure.

Looking at the middle of the convoy, the only SUV that had not been searched.

The cloaked man suddenly felt uneasy inside.

At this moment, the support troops sent by the Fifth Master, since they had killed into the battlefield.

For a while, the situation took a sharp turn.

Seeing his men dwindling, the cloaked man gritted his teeth.

“Everyone, give me the chance to take down that car.”

With a single order, a hundred men responded.

Although they had already snapped the necks of dozens of the opponent’s fighters, Evil Wolf himself had expended a lot of physical energy.

Now that the other side did not launch a suicidal attack, he felt that he could not resist for a while.

Without the slightest hesitation, he shattered the throat of his closest enemy with a single punch.

He then turned around and brought Wang Peide out of the car.

As the two were not the primary target’s, Evil Wolf very easily killed Wang Shao out of the encirclement.

At this time, there was no more evil wolf, the god of killing, to stop them.

The crowd instantly killed their way to the car.

However, the moment they opened the car door, the cloaked man was dumbfounded.

There was no sign of Lin Mo inside.

“F*ck, I’ve been trapped!”

Subconsciously, he then wanted to pa*s on the information here.

However, how could the few leaders of the Fifth Master’s men give him this opportunity.

As soon as they brought Wang Shao to safety, Evil Wolf, together with Snake, killed the cloaked man.

Originally, he was not even close to Evil Wolf’s strength, and with the two of them pinned down, he broke down one after another.

When he saw the time, Evil Wolf threw a punch that hit the cloaked man’s back solidly.

At the same time, Snake chopped his right arm off.

The two sides were briefly separated.

Looking around, he saw that his men had been decapitated.

Despair washed over him.

Losing, I didn’t expect the other side to lay down their lives to resist the caravan, but it was just a phase trap.

The thought of it brought a miserable smile to the cloaked man’s face.

“Huh! Worthy of being the Southern Realm King who is known as Demon Wisdom.

I didn’t expect to use that Wang Peid directly as bait to confuse us!”

But all the forces that had investigated the Fifth Master Xue knew that.

Although this Wang Peide was the son of the Fifth Master’s sworn brother Wang Pei, this Fifth Master Xue treated him completely like his own son.

It was precisely for this reason that the cloaked man saw Wang Peide’s figure inside the caravan.

Only then did he decide without thinking that Lin Mo must be among them.

He had never thought that Wang Peide was just a spellbinder for the South King to disrupt their vision.

Looking coldly at the cloaked man, Snake did not answer the question, but only asked coldly.

“Tell me the power behind you, and I can spare your life.”

According to the news coming from Black Cloth’s side, there was no existence of this person among the major forces in China.

That meant that the group of people who intercepted them was a force secretly cultivated by the enemy.

Since the investigation could not yield any results, Snake could only ask in person.

With a miserable smile, a mouth full of blood invaded the large white teeth.

“A bad move, that’s because I’m not as skilled as others.

But don’t be naive, you think I’ll talk?”

After saying that, the cloaked man took out the mobile phone in his pocket, seeing that he was about to report the news to the man behind him.

In his anxiety, Snake stepped forward.

Before he could dial the phone, he stabbed the cloaked man through the chest cavity.

With a twist of the knife, the entire heart was shattered.

Without the slightest struggle, the cloaked man instantly lost all his life and fell straight to the ground.

Although he was already dead, his cheeks wore a smug smile.

It was only at this moment that Snake sensed that something was wrong.

Picking up his mobile phone, there was no phone message at all on the screen.

“Careless!”

Chapter 2004

The Reclamation Pill in Lin Mo’s hand had long been coveted by the major powers for a long time.

If it wasn’t for the fact that he was in the Southern Realm and had the shelter of the Fifth Master Xue, they would have already made a move to snatch it.

As could be expected, his trip to the capital to take part in the Saint of Healing Competition would certainly attract the attention of all the major powers.

The wealth and money would be too great, and the revenue that this rejuvenating elixir could bring would be too amazing.

This was also the reason why he, Master Xue, had planned his trip for Lin Mo.

The birthplace of the Re-creation Dan was within the six southern provinces he ruled.

He had an inherent advantage in being near the water.

When Lin Mo came to his door to ask for help in solving the crisis in the two provinces of Guang Su, he gave him full authority to act for him.

The two sides had long since reached a cooperative relationship.

Although in order to dilute the impact on the market for the Tui Longevity Pill, they had given up most of their profits and sold the Rejuvenation Pill at a low price.

But you have to know that the world is not just the two provinces of Guangzhou and Suzhou.

The real market, which is open to the whole world, is the root of the horrific revenue generated by the Rejuvenation Pill.

The other reason why Master Xue was so dedicated to this arrangement was his recognition of Lin Mo's medical skills.

Since the time Lin Mo made his fortune, he had seen everything he had done in the eyes of Master Xue.

He was also amazed by his ability to turn decay into magic.

As long as Lin Mo could participate in this competition, he would definitely stand out as a dark horse.

And when the time came, he would take the top ten places in the competition.

Then the fame of his Lin Mo and the revenue he could bring to the South Realm could far surpass the investment in this layout.

For this reason, he had even arranged for Wang Peide to go out and cover for Lin Mo's trip.

This was the son of his own sworn brother, Wang Pei De.

And although he is a sworn brother, he is better than a blood brother.

Wang Pei took a lot of credit for the strength and status he had today, Master Xue.

It is a pity that when Wang Pei fought with Zhang Bailing, the King of the Hundred Victory Swords.

He missed a move and was cut off by his opponent's arm.

Today, he is still in seclusion while healing his wounds.

As for Wang Pei De, he was naturally entrusted to the care of his brother, Master Xue Wu.

The Fifth Master and his wife, Song Luo Yi, have always been a couple in name only, but not in reality.

Over the years, they had not had any children.

To this nephew, Master Five naturally treated him as if he were his own son, and almost always responded to his requests.

However, he had his own considerations in placing him in such a dangerous situation.

Even if the people who intercepted and killed him would kill Lin Mo.

But there was no way they would dare to touch Wang Peide, otherwise it would be a no-win situation.

When the news came back, the first thing that Master Xue did was to ask him about Wang Peide's condition.

He was relieved to learn that the other man was unharmed.

Although he had absolute confidence, if an accident had happened, he really could not explain to his brother.

“Also, word came from the snake side that he had made a big mistake and asked the Fifth Master to reprimand him.”

The fifth master also asked in confusion.

“A big mistake?”

“Yes. ....”

After Black Cloth had given a complete account of Snake, who had decapitated the cloaked man in his haste, aside.

The fifth master was indifferent and waved his hand.

“This person staged the act of delivering the message, the purpose is not to be captured alive and tortured severely.

That’s why he wanted to let the impatient snake fall into his path and kill him.

He is quite clever.”

Reaching out and knocking on the table, the Fifth Master spoke again.

“No matter, it does make it difficult for this killing genius to play tricks with others.

Tell him to send Xiao De, safely back to the southern realm, if anything happens.

I’ll break his dog’s legs.”

On the other side, after the fight was over.

Black then led a large number of personnel to start processing the scene.

Because before that, the support staff had already blocked the roads at the front two ends.

There was no traffic coming or going on the road at this time.

The sun was setting.

When the road was open to traffic again, everything returned to its original tranquillity.

The sun was setting at dusk and the trees and flowers were swaying in the wind.

Chapter 2005

Riding on the moonlight, a large van slowly pulled into the rest stop.

“Beauty, fill up the fuel tank.”

The words live down, the staff of the gas station, hurriedly pulling the gas pipe to the side of the truck.

“Hurry up, hurry up, I’m starving to death!”

Jumping out of the cab, the Prince said anxiously.

Behind him, there was Wu Xuan as well as Lin Mo.

This was just another of Master Xue Wu's arrangements, repairing the stacks in the open, but making a secret move.

Under the guise of escorting Wang Peide's car, he attracted everyone's attention.

Lin Mo and his party, on the other hand, disguised themselves as drivers running lorries.

Although they left half a day late for the convoy, they were now halfway through the road.

As they were in a hurry, the three of them found a random fast food restaurant and were ready to just get by.

But they hadn't even settled down yet.

On the Prince's side, they received a message.

"Sure enough, Wang Peide's side has been intercepted and killed.

Although the Fifth Master's side has lost more than 40 good men.

But the three hundred or so people who intercepted the killings were all strangled."

Hearing this, Lin Mo couldn't help but secretly admire Master Xue's arrangement.

That convoy, which had set out under the banner of the Southern Realm King, plus a convoy of ten numbers of off-road vehicles to escort it.

The other side still chose to make a move.

It could be imagined that in order to obtain the secret recipe for the Reclamation Pill in his hands, this group of people were simply heartless.

"Have you found out the followers to this group of people?"

Faced with Lin Mo's question, the Crown Prince shook his head.

"No, this group of manpower on the one hand, was secretly cultivated by the other side.

Plus the only person who knew about it was killed by the Fifth Master's men by mistake.

There's no way to find out anything of value."

Thinking about it, this kind of thing, if it had been won, in the huge benefits, it would not have mattered to fall out with the Southland King.

But now that the interception operation had failed, no one would leave a heel and set up a strong enemy for nothing.

"Let's fix something to eat first, before the news leaks out over there.

We'll have to hurry up and catch up, we'll only be safe once we enter the capital's confines."

Hearing Wu Xuan's reminder, Lin Mo nodded in agreement.

After casually selecting a few portions of food.

The three of them then prepared to eat in order to catch up with the road earlier.

However, before they could even place their mouths, the three of them suddenly felt a faint killing aura.

At that moment, a girl suddenly appeared at the table.

“It’s so hard to find you!”

Said the girl nonchalantly, making her way to the opposite side of Lin Mo with one hip.

Seeing that the woman seemed to be acquainted with Lin Mo, Wu Xuan and the Crown Prince, only then did they put away the moves that were about to start.

The person who came was none other than Bamboo Leaf Green.

Without ceremony, she made her move directly and began to enjoy the food on Lin Mo’s plate.

And the moment he saw Bamboo Leaf Green, Lin Mo became worried.

Since he, Bamboo Leaf Green, could find his own.

Then there was no guarantee that theirs could escape the eyes of the major powers that were watching them intently.

Thinking of this, he no longer hesitated.

“Take it to the road and eat it, the rest of the journey might not be too smooth.”

Glancing at Bamboo Leaf Green, Wu Xuan and the Crown Prince, who were travelling with him, naturally understood the meaning between Lin Mo’s words.

“Eh eh eh, don’t you go, I still have something to find you.”

Seeing Lin Mo get up and leave, Bamboo Leaf Qing also put down the food in his hands.

With that, he also followed.

The car started and the three of them stared wide-eyed.

Through the rear-view mirror, Wu Xuan glanced at Zhu Yeqing, who was sitting cross-legged on a simple bed with a large knife in his hand.

Then with a strange look, he glanced at Lin Mo.

It was the Crown Prince who was bolder and pulled Lin Mo to ask quietly.

“Big brother, this is not again outside and leave what the wind .....”

Before the word ‘debt’ could be uttered, the crown prince hurriedly stopped his words.

Because at this time, the bamboo leaf green large knife had already crossed above his neck, killing intent was strong.

He hurriedly conceded.

“Beauty, I’m just kidding, let’s talk properly, hehehe.”

Only after the greatsword left did the Crown Prince secretly sigh with relief.

“What a fierce b*tch!”

Chapter 2006

The lights are staggered, driving the big van.

Lin Mo and his group set off on their journey once again.

Glancing behind him, a faint killing aura instantly surfaced as he met his gaze with Bamboo Leaf Green.

It frightened the prince, who hurriedly turned his head.

“Brother!”

After pulling Lin Mo’s clothes, he then raised an eyebrow towards the rear.

“Alright, there’s no need to be curious.

This is the disciple of Hundred Victory Blade King Zhang Bailing, Bamboo Leaf Green.

Some of the previous encounters.”

Crap, Zhang Bailing’s disciple.

After knowing the identity of this Bamboo Leaf Green, even Wu Xuan, who was driving, almost hit the wrong direction.

No wonder he was so arrogant.

Bringing up this matter Lin Mo also asked the lump in his heart.

“By the way, how did you find my trail?”

If this matter was not clarified, there was still a day’s journey behind.

“My brother said so, he told you that you would go this way and told me to just wait for you at the rest stop.

Also as for how my brother knew you would come here, I don’t know.”

When Zhu Yeqing mentioned his brother Zhang Jiuduan, Lin Mo seemed to understand what was going on.

It seemed that the Hundred Victory Blade King had his eyes on him as well.

“Miss Ye Qing, do you have something important in mind for this long journey to find me?”

Only by clarifying Bamboo Yeqing’s purpose could one know the attitude of the Hundred Victory Blade King.

“Last time, I used those external injury pills you made.

I feel that they are effective, so this time I am looking for you you, mainly to bring some pills for me and my brother.”

Hearing this, Lin Mo secretly breathed a sigh of relief.

As long as this girl wasn't here to find himself in trouble, then that meant that Zhang Jiuling's forces weren't going to strike this time.

It was just keeping an eye on his own trail.

Of course why Lin Mo could be so sure was purely out of his knowledge of Zhu Yeqing.

This woman was a character who just said what she had to say and wouldn't beat around the bush.

There are no tricks, and there is no need to talk about schemes or anything else.

Is there any trouble that can't be solved with a single slash?

If there is, then two knives.

To put it euphemistically, that's simple.

To be on point, that's cross!

“That's rather embarra*sing.

Because this time when I left for the capital, I left in a hurry and didn't bring any cla*s of pills with me.

How about when I fall back to the capital.

After I find all the ingredients to refine it, I'll send it to you at the first opportunity?”

Since he had come to ask her for a bit of external injury medicine, Lin Mo certainly wouldn't be stingy.

However, his purpose in saying this was naturally to hope that Zhu Yeqing would get off early so that he wouldn't get involved in this whirlwind.

Now that his trail had been discovered, then the second half of the journey was bound to be difficult.

Although with the cover arrangement of Master Xue Wu and the deterrence of his mighty name, a group of Xiao Xiao to dare not make a move.

Now the first half of the journey was quite smooth and did not encounter any obstacles.

But as we get closer to the capital, the more likely it is that the forces that covet the Reclaimed Dan will make a move.

Those major powers that were in the wait-and-see stage of Yunben would also choose to make their move at the first stage.

Therefore, Lin Mo did not want to involve Bamboo Leaf Green in this.

Only that people didn't accept his good intentions.

“No matter, I still have a lot of things to take care of.

There's no time to procrastinate, after I arrive at the capital with you, you should hurry up and refine it. I'm going back when I get the pills."

Although the tone of his voice was filled with a strong sense of impatience.

However, Lin Mo felt warmth in his heart at once, this was his intention to escort him all the way to the capital.

Since Zhang Jiudian had divulged his trail to Zhu Yeqing.

Which would surely also explain to her, Lin Mo's current troubles.

"Then, thank you, Miss Ye Qing."

Turning his head, Lin Mo cupped his fist and said.

This time, Bamboo Leaf Green did not reply back, only the corners of her mouth were slightly hooked.

The lorry was still speeding above the highway.

With his great strength as a base, the long hours of driving did not cause any impact on Wu Xuan.

On the contrary, it was Lin Mo and the Prince who were sitting in the car who were drowsy.

As for Bamboo Leaf Green at the back, he was still resting his trademark big sword across his knees.

His eyes were closed, not knowing what he was thinking.

Chapter 2007

After dawn, it was still half a day's highway journey from the capital.

Although there was no great sense of exhaustion, my eyes were a little sore from concentrating on the road for so long.

The brake lights came on and the van slowly came to a stop.

The brim of his hat was lowered and the window was opened.

"Old man, why the sudden blockage?"

The driver of the vehicle beside him was a warm-hearted man.

"Like it says yes, there's been a large traffic accident up ahead.

The highway to the capital is temporarily blocked."

The speaker had no intention, but the listener had an intention.

Although he could not be sure of the truth of the news, Wu Xuan still woke up the two people beside him.

"What's wrong? Old Wu!"

With a snort, the Crown Prince asked in a sleepy haze.

After giving a brief explanation of what had happened, Lin Mo immediately raised his spirits.

“If someone deliberately arranged it, there’s no point in us stopping over here.

Those who should strike will still do so.”

Staring at the road ahead, he pondered for a moment.

“Old Wu, get off the highway, we’ll take the side road around.”

Nodding, the van started up again.

Following the traffic ahead, Wu Xuan then chose a nearby exit and got off the highway.

As the group arrived at the national highway with six lanes in both directions, the group’s spirits tightened up.

“Pay attention to the surrounding situation, there’s something unusual about this road.”

Looking at the vehicles beside him getting less and less, Lin Mo spoke out to remind them.

According to common sense, as the day of the Medical Saint Competition was getting closer and closer.

Both the participating divine doctors and the spectators from all over China would come to watch the competition.

They would certainly take advantage of these few days to arrive in the capital.

The car section that should have been congested was surprisingly a bit cold at this time.

With Lin Mo’s reminder, Wu Xuan also slowly slowed down the speed of his car.

After driving at a low speed for half an hour.

What they were worried about finally happened.

Looking through the rear-view mirror, dozens of large, dark off-road vehicles were coming in hot pursuit.

“Lin Mo, they’re coming!”

After a reminder, Wu Xuan stepped on the accelerator to the bottom with one foot.

The vehicles behind them seemed to realise that they were trying to escape and followed suit by increasing their speed.

But a lorry was a lorry after all, and even if it raised its speed to the limit, it would only be around one hundred and forty yards.

But the SUV behind them was different, and in less than half a minute.

The distance between the two sides was reduced to less than ten metres.

“Fasten your seatbelts and hold onto the handrails.”

Seeing that Lin Mo and the others were ready.

Wu Xuan bellowed once again.

“The emergency brake is on! Gahhhhh!”

With an ear-piercing sound of tyres scraping together.

Trailing a long brake line, the entire big truck was brought to a halt by Wu Xuan.

However, the caravan chasing behind them was not so lucky.

In order to catch up with Lin Mo and the others, they were all maintaining a speed of over two hundred yards.

Now that the lorry suddenly braked sharply, they simply could not react.

In order to avoid loading up on the big lorry, they could only take emergency shelter and let the left and right sides turn away.

However in doing so, they oohed and aahed their companions on both sides.

Bang, bang, bang!

The sound of cars colliding rang out one after another.

Several SUVs at the front of the convoy overturned on their sides.

“Hahahaha, Old Five is awesome!”

After looking at Wu Xuan’s masterpiece, the Crown Prince praised him and directly opened the car door.

With one long leap, he leapt out of the van.

Shaking off his brain, his fists were crunched, his face full of excitement.

“D*mn, after sitting in the car for so long I can finally move around.”

Although, following Lin Mo’s side, his character was somewhat restrained.

But don’t forget, he was the Crown Prince of Hai Cheng.

He had never been a coward in a fight or anything like that.

In short, he was as exciting as he could be.

At this moment, beside the prince, Wu Xuan, Lin Mo and Zhu Yeqing also jumped out of the van.

The four of them, with a stern and murderous air, slowly walked towards the intercepting convoy of hundreds of people.

At this moment, the air was just right and the sun was shining brightly.

It was a good time to kill.

Chapter 2008

The capital.

A place where power gathers in the centre.

It is no exaggeration to say that a random person is picked up on the road.

The power behind them is probably far greater than that of the top provincial families.

As the Holy Doctor Competition approached, representatives of all the powers in China were flocking here.

This also made the capital city even more lively.

Through the historic city gates is the Ancient City, the residence of the capital's top figures.

It is a quiet place that does not fit in with the entire capital.

There are hardly any people to be seen on the tidy streets, and only three or five expensive limousines occasionally pass by.

And in a courtyard in the ancient city, the man was leisurely tasting the famous tea in his hands.

And in front of him was standing a sweating henchman.

"Family head, the interception has failed.

An intercepting party of one hundred and twenty men, none of them survived.

By the time our follow-up support troops arrived, they had already left."

Putting down his cup of tea, he first teased the parrot in the cage for a while.

And only then spoke slowly.

"That's what you mean by foolproof?"

Although the tone of voice was flat and no mood swings could be heard.

But the men in the courtyard were so scared that they directly fell to their knees and knocked their heads even harder on the ground.

They were in a panic, begging for mercy.

"Family head, family head, it is my subordinates who have been negligent, please give me another chance ....."

However, before the word 'will' could be uttered, everything came to an abrupt end.

And at the heart of the begging henchman's brow, a tiny hole slowly oozed out blood.

The life instantly dissipated as he stared in horror.

"Even if you're a waste, you're still so noisy!"

Covering the silver needle box, his tone still did not show the slightest fluctuation.

By the time he turned to continue teasing the birds, the corpses behind him had already been disposed of by the other men.

Inside the courtyard, the atmosphere of birdsong and flowers had returned.

It was as if nothing had ever happened.

And on the other side.

The smell of blood filled the room among the lush green trees.

“Well? This is the first batch.”

Breathing heavily, Lin Mo asked.

“The sixth batch, phew, I’m exhausted.

Are people so crazy nowadays? I’m sick of killing people.”

Leaning his back against the tree, the Crown Prince was already covered in blood at this point.

Beside him, Wu Xuan and Zhu Yeqing were also sweating profusely.

And in front of the group lay dozens of unknown fighters.

After two interceptions on the national highway, the lorry had been completely scrapped.

Knowing that if they continued along the main road, they would face even more interceptions.

Lin Mo decided to take the group and go around the trail on foot.

However, even so, the number of people intercepting them continued to flow.

“Let’s continue on, and when we cross the Dujing Bridge ahead, we will enter the capital.

By then, we will be safe.”

After saying that, Bamboo Leaf Green then put the large sword in his hand on his shoulder and stepped away.

“Phew, let’s go, hope is at hand.”

Although he was already exhausted, the Crown Prince still maintained this optimistic mindset.

As Lin Mo approached, he quietly asked.

“Brother, this woman is too much of a tiger.

This afternoon, there have been no less than a hundred dead souls under her dao, right?

Tell me honestly, did she leave a windfall debt?”

Lin Mo, who was so desensitized that he didn’t want to say anything, could only roll his eyes speechlessly.

This kid was really not afraid of death.

Had he already forgotten the fear of having a knife put to his neck in the van?

He took a look at the other party's b*tchy appearance.

Lin Mo secretly speculated in his heart that he should have forgotten.

Seeing that he was ignoring him, the prince was ready to continue to ask him some more questions.

However, when he looked up, Bamboo Leaf Green, who was leading the way in front of him, was looking at himself with a gloomy face.

That murderous gaze reminded him once again of being ruled by the fear of death.

He smashed his mouth and was instantly quiet.

What he did not know, however, was that the biting murderous aura of the bamboo leaf green on the hillside at that moment was not actually directed at him.

Chapter 2009

The original long journey was already exhausting.

It looked as if their destination was just ahead.

If they crossed the ten-foot-long bridge, they would be able to enter the capital.

It was this mere distance of ten feet that had completely blocked Lin Mo and the others here.

At the end of the bridge, there was a black crowd of no less than a thousand people.

Even at their full strength, Lin Mo and his group did not dare to say that they would be able to dash through.

What's more, they were now exhausted.

Under the confrontation, the man with glasses at the front of the crowd walked up to them with a smile on his face.

"You are Mr. Lin Mo, right?"

One hand was behind his back, while the other held up his mobile phone.

After comparing the photo with the Lin Mo in the display.

Only then did he nod in satisfaction.

"Mr. Lin, it's a pleasure to meet me, my humble self, , , , .

Oh, sorry, a future giant like you doesn't need to know a small person like me."

Seeing that Lin Mo and the others did not reply, he rested his eyes on the bridge of his nose.

"My family, sir, has been an admirer of yours for a long time.

I was specially asked to wait for Mr. Lin again.

If there is no other important matter, you should come with us.”

Looking at the man with gla*s'es in front of him and the thousands of thugs behind him, a feeling of powerlessness also arose in Lin Mo's heart.

Although he had already thought that the closer they were to the capital, the greater the obstacles they would encounter.

But he had never imagined that the last hurdle would be so desperately huge.

“I wonder what your family name is, sir? And what do you want from me?”

Hearing Lin Mo's question, the man with the eyes only smiled as he shook his head.

“My family's gentleman is used to living a low-profile life and doesn't allow us to reveal information about him outside yet.

As for what's the matter? How could we, the underlings, possibly know.”

“You see, it's getting late.

If we go back late, my husband might not be happy.

I hope Mr. Lin won't make things difficult for us.”

The gentle tone of voice revealed this was an irresistible attitude.

However, such words instantly ignited the prince on the side.

“D*mn it, what's the point of talking to this sissy.

Kill him and we'll just rush over.”

The words fell, before he could make a move.

The big knife was already on the neck of the man with gla*s'es.

“Let, or die!”

The murderous aura overflowed, as long as this man with gla*s'es dared to say no.

Bamboo Leaf Green would definitely let his head fall to the ground.

But even in the face of death, the man with gla*s'es did not panic in the slightest.

On the contrary, the group of fighters behind him instantly stirred up, and then slowly approached Lin Mo and the others.

It was only when the man with gla*s'es raised his raised hand that the group stopped in their tracks.

“Miss Ye Qing.

I have been treating you with courtesy from the beginning to the end.

Isn't this behaviour of yours, a bit rude.”

As the words fell, his right hand, which he had been carrying behind his back, suddenly extended.

At the same time, his feet were like the wind beneath him, and he moved sideways in a ghostly manner.

When he was out of strength, his reaction was naturally much slower.

By the time Zhu Yeqing tried to draw his knife.

The man with gla*ses had already squeezed the back of her knife with a deadly grip.

“Young people, don’t be so angry.

What do you say?”

Turning his head, the man with gla*ses still asked in a gentle and elegant manner.

With such a skill, Lin Mo knew that he was no match for him, so he could only turn his gaze towards Wu Xuan.

However, the latter only shook his head helplessly.

If it was in normal times, he, Wu Xuan, would not be defeated even if he could not take his opponent.

However, after a long journey and an afternoon of fighting, Wu Xuan’s physical strength was at a low level.

Although he had the will to do so, he was unable to do so.

Among the four of them, he was the most powerful.

If even he was no match for the man with gla*ses, then the bridge was probably doomed.

Taking a deep breath, Lin Mo took a step forward.

At the same time, his right hand was already resting on the hilt of his sword.

In order to prevent revealing Tai Ah’s secret, he had not used his sword qi on the way to break through the capital.

But now that he was only one step away from the door, he had to make his move.

Chapter 2010

The era of the great rise of medical science.

Thousands of miracle doctors were springing up all over the world.

Along with them, more and more difficult diseases were slowly being solved.

But even so, cancer is still a stubborn disease that has left many miracle doctors at their mercy.

Anyone who could conquer a type of cancer would have saved millions, tens of millions or even billions of lives.

The rejuvenation pill in Lin Mo's hand not only cures three types of cancer, but also strengthens the body.

How could one not be impressed by such a miracle pill?

According to some estimates, as long as the Re-creation Pill is marketed worldwide.

The revenue generated could easily reach a hundred billion dollars, and with time, it would not be a dream to exceed a trillion dollars.

This was the reason why so many forces coveted the Rejuvenation Pill.

But such a terrifying profit was nothing in Lin Mo's mind.

This was because in his mind, there were still a vast amount of other treasured pills that had not been asked for.

As long as the ingredients were matched, he would be able to concoct pills that were dozens of times more potent than the Rejuvenation Pill.

And the reason why he had not configured them out.

On the one hand, it was because of the lack of materials, but more importantly, it was because of the lack of strength.

It was precisely like the Re-creation Pill.

This elixir alone had kept him cowering in the Southern Realm, unable to take half a step outside the six provinces.

Other pills with even more miraculous medicinal effects were no longer necessary.

So he had been waiting for an opportunity, an opportunity that would allow him to develop at ease.

Now this opportunity has finally come, the Chinese Medicine Saint Competition.

He had the confidence and the strength to win the competition.

With the title of the First Divine Doctor, he would become the jewel of the medical profession in China.

At that time, in a sense, he would be tied to the whole of China.

If any power wanted to touch Lin Mo, the cost would be beyond their reach.

On the other hand, who can guarantee that he will never get sick or injured in his life?

If there is a difficult and complicated disease, some miracle doctors with superb skills will have a second life.

Lin Mo has a superb medical skill that can bring you back even if you have half a foot in the ghost gate.

He can bring you back.

With a handful of divine medicine pills and a handful of life-saving techniques, his name's power could also grow by leaps and bounds.

So this Medical Saint Competition, to him, Lin Mo, was an indispensable stepping stone on the road to revenge.

Now that the man with glasses had blocked the way, it was a matter of life and death.

Although he was not sure if Tai Ah's sword qi could kill him.

But now it was time to give it a try.

As he lucked out, the spectacle man's side also felt the murderous aura overflowing from Lin Mo's body.

After releasing his greatsword and forcing Bamboo Leaf Green back.

He then faced Lin Mo with a serious face.

"Mr. Lin, I was originally reluctant to make a move with you.

I hope you won't make it difficult for me."

Faced with his persuasion, Lin Mo was unmoved.

"The matter is out of my hands, so I can only fight to the death."

As long as he was killed, with no leader in the group, the fighters who had come up behind him would naturally retreat obediently.

Tai Ah was sheathed and sword Qi surged.

However, just as Lin Mo was about to swing his sword out.

Not far away, another pair of men were hurrying towards them.

"By order of my family's master, I am escorting Mr. Lin Mo into the capital."

Following the voice, the person who came was none other than the Wan Family Elder.

Upon seeing this person, the man with glasses frowned.

"What? Your Wan Family also wants to come into this muddy water?"

"Muddy waters or not, I don't know.

We're just escorting my Wan Family buddy into the capital."

With a dismissive smile, the leader elder then arched his hand towards Lin Mo.

"Little friend Lin, it's been a long time.

When we parted last time, you had promised to come to the Wan Family as a guest sometime.

Now you've gone back on your word."

The moment he saw the Wan Family Elder, Lin Mo breathed a sigh of relief.

With the support of such an expert, the deadly situation could be solved!

