Old Mrs. Graham's words struck everyone on the scene like a thunderbolt. Even Leanna widened her beautiful eyes to look in stupefaction at what was happening.

Initially, she thought that Matthew and Sasha had no significant backgrounds. Who would have thought that Sasha had such a godmother?

Frankly speaking, the Graham Family was not rich and powerful in Eastcliff. However, when Old Mr. Graham was still alive, he was kind and generous. He helped plenty of people and had extremely high prestige.

Even Leanna received Old Mr. Graham's favor in the past. Therefore, Old Mrs. Graham's esteem in Eastcliff wasn't any inferior to the masters of the Ten Greatest Families.

In fact, even those Old Masters of Ten Greatest Families were reverent toward Old Mrs. Graham. Surprisingly, this old woman was Sasha's godmother? With such an identity, who would dare mock Sasha and say that she wasn't eligible to attend the Cloud Nine Cocktail Party?

Leanna's eyes brightened immediately while she walked over.

"Old Mrs. Graham, Sasha is your goddaughter? In that case, Mrs. Larson is absolutely eligible to attend this cocktail party! I was worried that she would be chased out."

"Old Mrs. Graham, you've misunderstood. We didn't mean it that way."

“Old Mrs. Graham, we were just kidding!”

“President Cunningham, we’re truly sorry. Please persuade Old Mrs. Graham to not fuss with youngsters like us!”

These young men apologized repeatedly, swallowing all their pride and arrogance from before. Sasha was dumbfounded because she could only look up to all these people in the past.

But now, she was treated as equals with them, just because she was Old Mrs. Graham’s goddaughter. Even more surprising, these people had to apologize to her, which was beyond her wildest dreams.

Right at that moment, Zachary, who had been standing at the furthest, suddenly shouted angrily, “Old Mrs. Graham, you’ve heard wrongly. We didn’t say that President Cunningham humiliated the cocktail party.

We were talking about President Cunningham’s toy boy. Old Mrs. Graham, you’re also one of the organizers of this cocktail party. Don’t you think that it’s a humiliation to everyone here if you allow a loser that lives off a woman to attend the party?”

Listening to that, those young men from the Ten Greatest Families were delighted. Great idea! Wouldn’t it be fine if the topic was averted to Matthew? Sasha was Old Mrs. Graham’s adopted daughter, so they couldn’t afford to offend her.

Everyone turned around and saw the entrance was thronging with people. Then, a flock of them walked in. The person at the front most had a sturdy physique and an imposing manner.

As soon as he appeared, he stole the limelight. Even those who didn't know him would be intimidated by his aura. That was a unique air of a long-time ruler!

He was none other than the King of Eastcliff! An absolute King!

The crowd started to be restless and most of them shuddered in excitement. Many people had only heard about the First King of Eastcliff, but they had never met him.

Therefore, their encounter today would definitely contribute to their topics of boasting in the future.

At once, Isaac bubbled with joy. He was smoldered with anger earlier when Old Mrs. Graham scolded him, not to mention that Timothy had ignored him too.

But now, Billy was here and that was the true limelight of the scene. If he could just exchange a few sentences with Billy, all his previous humiliation would be swept off and everyone would have to look up to him!

Coincidentally, he had visited Billy twice with his grandfather in the past, so they were well acquainted with each other. Therefore, Isaac quickly walked up to him under everyone's gaze.

Especially Zachary, he almost peed himself from fright because he was the one who deliberately aimed at Matthew. If Timothy and Billy asked about it, he would definitely be doomed.

Even the entire Jackson Family couldn't withstand the consequences of offending these two prominent figures at the same time.

By then, to put out their anger, his family would surely strip off his right of being the heir. This time, he had truly dug his own grave.

"Isaac, did you say that?" Timothy asked sternly.

Isaac trembled in fear and shook his head frantically. "N-No. It wasn't me!"

Timothy shouted angrily, "Then who did? If all of you, the Ten Greatest Families, fail to offer me an explanation, I definitely won't let you off the hook!"

Billy's voice was even colder when he warned, "Either you, the Ten Greatest Families, give me a good explanation for this, or this will be the last Cloud Nine Cocktail Party ever."

Everyone paled in fright because Billy truly had the ability to dismiss the event. The surrounding guests just quietly stood beside Billy and stared teasingly at the members of the Ten Greatest Families, who were shaking like a leaf. Finally, one of them could no longer withstand it and uttered, "Z-Zachary said it..."

James nodded repeatedly. "Yes. Definitely, I've asked for it. President White has a worth of a few billions, so our family backgrounds are on par with each other.

His son is an outstanding student in the University of Cambridge and is the Vice President of the company. It's only a matter of time before he takes over the company. Taking all these into account, it seems like he's much better than Francis Cooper. With our family's situation, he is indeed a suitable son-in-law."

Helen replied gleefully, "I have the same thoughts as you! Oh right, I heard that President White lives at Lakeside Villa. Oh my goodness, that's the most high-end residency in Eastcliff!

Our father once visited that place before and he boasted it for years. If we get to frequently visit it in the future, those Cunninghams will surely die of anger. Don't you think so too?"

Meanwhile, Sasha gave Helen a call. Only then did Helen find out that Sasha and the rest had gone to the VIP room. They were initially bewildered. After all, only the real significant figures in Eastcliff could enter the VIP room of the Cloud Nine Cocktail Party.

This was the first time that Sasha and Matthew attended the party, so why were they eligible to enter the VIP room? However, when Helen and James saw Old Mrs. Graham in the room, they instantly understood what had happened.

However, everyone in the room was utterly shocked. Especially Ian, who trembled when he asked, "Old Mrs. Graham, did you give the jade bracelet that has been passed down in the family to President Cunningham?"

Leanna gasped in astonishment as well. "Old Mrs. Graham, are you serious? Did you really give it to her?"

Old Mrs. Graham nodded. "Of course! She's my only daughter. Who else should I give it to?"

Everyone looked at each other whereas Leanna looked at Sasha and advised earnestly, "Sasha, Old Mrs. Graham really doted on you. You mustn't ever let her down."

Ian nodded and sighed. "Speaking of the jade bracelet, I thought of Old Mr. Graham. Sigh. Back when my business failed, I got into a debt of over 200 million and I was trapped in a corner.

If Old Mr. Graham hadn't used that jade bracelet as a guarantor for me to make a comeback, I'm afraid that I would've left the world!"

Clank! The spoon fell onto the floor from Helen's hand.

"What happened?" Everyone looked at her. Helen stayed stunned and speechless while James looked frightened.

Because of the jade bracelet, Sasha lost her appetite for this meal. As for James and Helen, they didn't even speak for the rest of the dinner as if they were mute. Finally, the cocktail party came to an end. As soon as they got into the car, Helen directly burst out wailing.

"Sasha, I-let's go back immediately... The shop owner of that jade shop must not have gone far. If we could locate him earlier, we could still get that jade bracelet back. Hurry! Matthew, start the car and let's go now!"

James turned pale with rage. "It's worth over 300 million, 300 million! Helen, what have you done? How could you sell such a valuable treasure?

Even worse, you sold it for only 28,000. How clever!" In the past, James would never have the guts to speak rudely to Helen, but he just couldn't hold it any longer this time.

Helen bowed her head. Needless to say, she was engulfed with regret. If she had known about it earlier that it was worth 300 million, she would have worshipped it like a valuable treasure.

Sasha sighed. "What's the point of finding it now? That shop owner has been dealing with jade business all his life. How would he not know the price of that jade bracelet?"

After buying it from you, he must've fled the next second. It has been two days since then, so he might've gone at least thousands of miles away from here. How are we able to find him?"

Soon, everyone reached home and coincidentally, Liam and Demi were chilling. "Mom, Dad, you're back! Look at the new clothes that I just bought. Aren't they beautiful?" Demi said excitedly.

However, no one gave her a response. Demi couldn't help but feel astonished. "Mom, Dad, why are you so quiet? Oh, I bought you some clothes too using that 28,000 from yesterday. Why don't you try it on?"

Upon hearing that, James's rage erupted immediately. "That's enough! Shut up."

Startled, Demi asked in a trembling voice, "Mom, what's wrong with Dad?"

Helen sighed. "Demi, do you remember anything about the shop owner when you sold that jade bracelet yesterday? Liam, could you try and locate him?"

Demi and Liam felt astonished. "Why do you want to look for him?"

After Helen explained the incident of the jade bracelet, Liam and Demi were stunned on the spot. Yesterday, they were still overjoyed that they earned a fortune by selling off the jade bracelet for 28,000. Unexpectedly, they were actually at a loss!

Sasha’s expression changed while she shouted angrily, “Demi, shut up! Let me tell you, whoever did it should assume the responsibility. I would never let Matthew bear the burden for this matter!”

Demi was utterly annoyed. “Mom told us to do that. According to what you say, should Mom and I be accountable then? You might as well throw us into prison!”

Sasha was speechless for a while before she finally made out a few words in a low voice, “You and Mom should hold full responsibility. I-I’ll think of a way to settle the money!”

Demi refuted coldly, “You’ll settle it? How are you going to pay back such a huge sum? I bet that you’ll only manage to compensate the full amount after the both of us finish our prison sentence. Sasha, do you want Mom to die in jail?”

James scolded furiously, “Demi, watch your words! How could you curse your mother?”

Looking angry, Demi muttered softly, “That’s the truth!”

Liam waved his hands. “Demi, you don’t have to argue. No matter how much we say, only Matthew’s decision will matter in the end. Why don’t we ask him if he is willing to do it?

If he isn't willing to sacrifice himself for this family and Sasha, I'll just cast this idea aside. Worse comes to worst, I'll just go all out and bear all the hardships for this family, even if it means risking my life!

James and Helen's expression slightly warmed up. Helen glared at Sasha before saying, "Sasha, look at how sensible Matthew is! Matthew, I know that you're aggrieved and I feel bad too.

Actually, all these three years that you're with us, I've taken you as my son. This is just sad..." While sighing, Helen's tears overflowed from her eyes.

Sasha couldn't feel anything but stayed speechless. Helen's acting skill was indeed superb to the point of easily controlling her tears. When Matthew could be of use to her, she claimed that she cared for him as her son.

When she didn't need him back then, she was dying to chase him out. How could she be so insensitive and unashamed? Sasha was truly helpless inwardly. Why did she have such parents?

"However, I have a condition." Matthew suddenly uttered.

Everyone was stunned while James frowned. "What condition do you have?"

Matthew replied, "Mom, Dad, this is a huge problem. I'm not sure if I'm able to settle it either. If I failed, I might really have to be imprisoned. It's not a big deal for me though. But if I go to jail, who would take care of the both of you?"

James and Helen exchanged looks, surprised that Matthew was still concerned for them. Helen quickly said, "Sweet child, that's very thoughtful of you. Don't worry. We'll take care of ourselves. Just go without worrying about us."

James nodded repeatedly as if Matthew would definitely be imprisoned.
