

Genius 2051

Chapter 2051

Qing Chang personally rushed to come to the scene, naturally to help Lin Mo out.

Moreover, his original intention was to directly point out Lin Mo's identity.

In that case, the matter of cheating would be solved without attack.

However, after their gazes met, they saw the latter secretly shake his head towards him.

Qing Chang instantly understood that Lin Mo was trying to hide his identity.

Since this was the case, he could only find another way.

After a moment of contemplation, Qing Chang asked in a deep voice.

"What is going on?"

Facing the examiner's questioning, he saw that no one dared to stand up and speak.

Duan Jiuchun then stepped forward.

"Master Qing examiner, this person is entrapped in cheating."

Although he was parachuted into the Physicians' association to take up the position of temporary examiner-in-chief.

But this Duan Jiuchun's reputation was something that he, Qing Chang, had heard about.

Although he was an old-fashioned man, he was a righteous man, so he would not have done such a slanderous act.

Thinking of this, Qing Chang spoke again.

"Supervisor Duan, you said this person is entrapped, so I guess you must have caught the evidence as well.

In that case, reveal the evidence.

I, the Physicians' association, have to do things to convince people, don't I?"

You have said that someone else is cheating.

Then you must have got the evidence.

If not, what would people say about the Physicians' association?

At this time, the eyes of the whole audience were instantly gathered on Duan Jiuchun's body.

Meng!

At this moment, the only word that could describe Duan Jiuchun in his mind was "Meng".

He had been so busy during this period of time that when his nephew reported that Lin Mo was a jianghu practitioner and had turned to fraud.

At that moment, he was so enraged that he sentenced this Lin Mo directly to death.

Plus Duan Zhen had just left on his first foot, and this Lin Mo came on his second.

All sorts of things, united too closely, Duan Jiuchun simply did not have time to think carefully.

But after Qing Chang reminded him of this, he realised that he didn't seem to have any key evidence.

Could it be that his nephew had secretly snitched with himself?

That was too absurd.

"Check the surveillance!

Only by checking the surveillance can we convince the crowd."

No wind, no wave, since his own nephew had made a special trip to the door to reveal it.

It meant that there must be something wrong with this Lin Mo.

Moreover, if he dared to cheat, the cheat sheet that he carried with him must have been destroyed by him.

As long as the surveillance is passed, this person's misdeeds can definitely be discovered.

At this point, Lin Mo couldn't help but wonder.

This person's ability to create something out of nothing was too strong.

Who gave him the courage to make such a blatant false accusation?

And he was so confident and full of confidence that he made Lin Mo doubt himself a little.

Did I really cheat?

He then hurriedly asked to clear his mind of such absurd thoughts.

At Duan Jiuchun's suggestion, Qing Chang also found it feasible.

"Let's do that then, check the surveillance first."

Since the opinions were agreed upon, the group headed to the surveillance room.

It was only when the staff pulled out the surveillance records of the examination.

Only then did they discover that Lin Mo was in the exact location where the surveillance was dead.

"Where's the other camera?"

Seeing the situation, Duan Jiuchun asked with dissatisfaction.

In order to avoid these types of dead corners.

Exam venues, were placed with two cameras in front and behind.

At this moment, the staff member was in a state of embarrassment.

“Supervisor Duan, the camera at the back of the venue is damaged.

I just talked to you about it this morning.”

Being reminded of this by the other party, Duan Jiuchun then remembered that there was indeed this matter.

It was just that he had forgotten about it during the day when there were so many things going on.

Now in this situation, the scene was slightly awkward.

Meanwhile, Lei Shao-ting’s side.

Since the conflict in the restaurant yesterday, he had sent someone to keep an eye on Lin Mo.

When he found out about what happened at the examination hall.

Lei ShaoTing was immediately overjoyed.

“Hahahaha, a country bumpkin, he dares to go against my Lei Shao.

Go and call Master Wang, this time we must stomp Lin Mo into the dirt.

It’s best to make him unable to even be a doctor.”

Chapter 2052

Chinese and Western medicine are originally one family.

They all originate from the practice of medicine to save people and diseases.

However, although the art of medicine does not respect national boundaries, people do.

With the continuous development and improvement of Chinese and Western medicine, conflicts between the two sides have become more and more frequent.

The conflicts between the two sides also became more and more frequent.

Eventually two completely separate schools of thought were formed.

One side disliked the study of Huang Lao and feudal superstition.

The other side mocked the work of chemical pesticides, which was harmful to people.

Each has its own arguments, but neither side can really argue the other down.

The only thing that happened was that Western medicine was a step down from Chinese medicine, and Chinese medicine was a step down from Western medicine.

As Wang Qiang, who has been exposed to Western medicine since he was a child, all he wanted to do was to stay quietly on the sidelines and watch the drama.

After all, he was in charge of the Western medicine examinations, and what happened in the Chinese medicine examinations had nothing to do with him in any way.

The other party paid money to stomp Lin Mo to death.

And it's the kind of money that is so willing to pay that it can keep him from having to work for twenty years.

People die for money, birds die for food.

Practicing medicine was partly a hobby, but more so for just a few taels of broken silver, so he chose to take the plunge.

"This candidate, since you have cheated, you should admit it openly.

Young people, it's inevitable that they make mistakes, but the most important thing is to be able to correct them.

If you admit it now, the association can still consider the outcome of your case at its discretion.

But if you continue to be so stubborn, you won't just be banned from examinations for five years."

These words sounded like an attempt to persuade Lin Mo to confess.

In reality, it was also a veiled reminder to the TCM invigilators that if Lin Mo remained stubborn and did not admit, he would be dealt with seriously.

As expected.

When Wang Qiang's words fell, Duan Jiuchun immediately understood.

"Lin Mo, you heard it too.

Take the initiative to confess. Don't think that just because you haven't spoken up.

We can't do anything to you, our method of testing can only be described as exam papers."

At this point in time, even though he had already realised that he had acted inappropriately.

But since the other man was just a charlatan, he had dozens of ways to make him reveal his true form.

Under the two attacks, there was a vague feeling that he was forcing Lin Mo to admit the fact that he had cheated.

"Supervisor Duan, why don't we have examiner Lin redo a copy?"

In such a situation, Qing Chang spoke up.

If he didn't speak up at this moment, he was afraid that Lin Mo wouldn't be able to withstand the verbal pressure from these two people.

However, in response to Qing Chang's suggestion, Duan Jiuchun shook his head repeatedly.

"Building owner exam, we only have one version of this exam paper.

He, Lin Mo, has already done it once and this method is slightly flawed.

There is not enough time to produce a new version of the examination paper now.

How about the building master examination, we change the test to another one?"

And Qing Chang's main purpose was just to draw the two away from the conversation.

As for what test method he didn't care.

The person who pioneered the first cancer cure elixir had his own strength.

Thinking of this, Qing Chang then pretended to look unhappy and spoke.

"You guys take care of it and finish it as soon as possible.

There are so many things going on in the association.

What's the matter with such a group of people gathering here."

Just as his words fell, someone from the crowd of onlookers found out Lin Mo's identity.

"He's actually the representative of the Southern Realm of the Medical Saint Competition!

And crowned with the title of Divine Doctor."

With a sideways glance, Wang Qiang immediately turned the conversation around since.

"Oh? I didn't expect examiner Lin Mo to be a representative of the competition.

Is there no one in the South Realm? I can't believe they let you, a person who doesn't even have a license to practice medicine, to participate in the competition."

Following his words, Duan Jiuchun on the side also wore a disdainful face.

"And to take a qualification exam and even have to cheat.

Ah Lin Mo, you have not only disgraced the face of my generation of medical practitioners.

You have disgraced the people of the Southern Realm to the capital."

When these words were spoken, there was laughter.

"Hahahaha, just this kind of person is worthy of being called a divine doctor? Then wouldn't I be considered a medical saint."

"Go back to the Southern Realm, the Doctor Saint Competition is also something that someone like you can participate in."

"That's right, don't disgrace our Chinese medicine."

All of a sudden, vicious words were exchanged.

And Lin Mo didn't make any retort, he just looked at everything in front of him coldly.

Chapter 2053

As word of the cheating spread, the whole a*sociation, both internal and external, came out to watch.

The whole a*sociation of Physicians, both internal and external, has come out to watch.

After all, it had been several years since such a thing as cheating had happened.

Raising his hand, Wang Qiang gestured for the crowd to be quiet.

“Lin Mo, right? Since you are known as a divine doctor and cheating is required for the Chinese Medicine Practitioner Qualification Examination.

I guess what you are good at is Western medicine.

I’m not talented, I’m just a master of Western medicine, but I’m more than qualified to supervise your exams.

Why don’t you come and sit for my exams in Western medicine?”

Frowning, Lin Mo really did not want to deal with this group of people in front of him.

It was just that they kept being aggressive and insulting their medical skills, so be it, but insulting the southern border was hard for him to accept.

“Master Wang, right, Duan Jiuchun, right?

You two have not seen it with your own eyes, and you have no proof.

Yet you have repeatedly accused me of cheating.

I didn’t want to talk nonsense with you, but your words have gone too far.

If you want to do something, just tell me what you want to do, you’re not a woman.”

These words were not only addressed to the two invigilators, but also to those present who had lost their examinations.

One stone stirred up a thousand waves.

“D*mn, a person who used such a lowly means as cheating, to take the exam, and he dares to be arrogant.”

“If I were him, I’d find a crack to burrow into, and still have the face to speak out.”

“He’s just annoyed, don’t pay too much attention to it, the more angry he is, the more vain he is.”

Listening to the crowd’s discussion, Duan Jiuchun walked up to Lin Mo.

“While we’re at it, without digging out your handle, you can let loose as much as you want.

When we verify the fact that you cheated, it won’t just be as simple as banning the exam.

When that happens, we’ll make a nationwide announcement so that you won’t even be a doctor.”

The gathering was not far away.

This comment was naturally also clearly heard by Qing Chang.

He frowned, he did not expect that Duan Jiuchun, who had Sheng Sheng's voice, was also of this character.

Not to mention the matter of cheating, whether it is true or not.

This is not the kind of thing a senior should do.

The cheating had not been carried out and there was no major mistake.

The decision to deprive the doctor of his position was not even something he, the chief examiner, dared to say freely, so how could Duan Jiuchun have the confidence to do so?

Just as he was about to speak up, Wang Qiang, who had seen his plan come to fruition, said that he would not dare to say anything.

Wang Qiang, who saw that his plan had succeeded, asked before him.

"Little friend Lin, anger is a sign of an incompetent person, I hope you will be calm.

Besides, if you are a divine doctor, do you have a way of expertise that can make a name for yourself?"

His eyes coalesced as he looked at Wang Qiang, Lin Merton slowly returned.

"A silver needle in one hand and a kind heart.

No specialty, no expertise, only healing and removing illnesses."

With a dismissive smile, Wang Qiang once again mocked.

"In other words, you don't know anything?"

Lin Mo, listen to the advice of your elders, hang on to your horse, you still have a chance to change your ways.

If you are obsessed, the consequences are not something you can bear."

However, on the other hand, when he heard Lin Mo's words, Qing Chang's eyes lit up.

This was how people who practiced medicine should be, just simply healing the sick.

Nay, more and more people were chasing after fame and fortune, forgetting their true hearts.

"Come on, let's see you argue for half a day, but you can't come up with any results.

Isn't it true that the Lan Qing Hospital next door has a few patients with difficult medical conditions who are still in hospital?

Let Lin Mo go and have a look, and see if there is any real evidence underneath his hands. We'll know if there's any truth in it."

When this was said, everyone felt that it was reasonable.

If there was real skill, we would know it in practice.

However, Duan Jiuchun had a difficult look on his face.

“Master Qing, isn’t it a bit too hasty to let this Lin Mo get his hands on him?

After all, if anything happens, our Physicians’ a*sociation can’t afford it.”

Waving his hand, Chief Qing spoke impatiently.

“It’s just giving a treatment plan.

As for whether the plan is reasonable or not, can’t you still see that.”

For this Duan Jiuchun, Qing Chang had lost his patience.

A person whose virtue did not match his position.

Since, the examiner had such a firm attitude, the crowd could not refute.

They could only obediently follow and go.

Chapter 2054

Lanching Hospital is situated to the south of the Physicians’ a*sociation.

The two places are just over 300 metres apart.

The advantages of this location are obvious.

If there is a patient in the hospital that is difficult to deal with, a phone call can be made from the a*sociation and medical cattle can be called in to help.

And today, the Chief Green himself led a team of dozens of people to the hospital.

“Master Qing, welcome. This way please, this way please.”

Upon learning of the arrival of the Physicians’ a*sociation, the Vice President of Lan Qing Hospital all personally came out to receive them.

“Dean Chen, I’ve come to trouble you again.”

This time, he came to the hospital to visit the patients, in order for Lin Mo to come and take the test.

The hospital side gave cooperation, and Qing Chang was more or less embarra*sed.

Dean Chen did not care, instead he was extraordinarily enthusiastic.

“Master Qing’s words are too much, for you to come to our hospital for the medical test, I warmly welcome you on behalf of the entire hospital’s patients.”

As soon as the words were spoken, several people arrived at the inpatient building.

“Master Qing, the inpatients on this sixth floor are all patients with difficult and complicated illnesses.

It’s just that most of them are not life-threatening at the moment.

If it is possible, I would ask Lord Qing’s examination to take more trouble.”

Dean Chen looked to the side of the hospital beds, a hint of intolerance flashing in his eyes.

It was not that their doctors at Qinglan were not competent.

There were thousands of patients in the world, and there were always some illnesses that were extremely remote.

There were some difficult and complicated illnesses that could only take into account life, and even the sitting experts of the Medical Alliance had difficulty in curing them.

As the lift bell rang.

Under the leadership of the Vice President, Lin Mo followed them to Ward 605.

As soon as he entered, Lin Mo saw a young lad lying on a pale hospital bed, his eyes red and scratching himself around.

“Qing main examination, this person’s name is Zhao Ergu, currently .....”

Before the vice dean could finish. Wang Qiang rushed forward to stop it.

“Dean Chen, let us understand the situation ourselves.

We are bringing our little miracle doctor to practice today.”

“If you directly tell us the cause of the disease, this field test of ours will be meaningless.”

Although he did not understand exactly what the other party’s intention was.

But this Wang Qiang, the Vice President had also known each other for a long time.

Seeing that the other party had said so, he cooperated and said no more.

“Divine Doctor Lin, we won’t make things difficult for you either, so let’s start with him for this first person.”

Saying that, Wang Qiang made way and gestured for Lin Mo to come forward.

This patient, Wang Qiang had actually come into contact with before, and he naturally knew everything about the cause of the disease.

How to use the medicine was the main problem that made him feel difficult.

Qing Chang felt that Wang Qiang was somewhat of a rabble-rouser and was clearly targeting Lin Mo.

He gave Wang Qiang a cold look and retreated to the side.

Although he was displeased with Wang Qiang, he could not take offence in front of so many people.

Lin Mo looked around, not caring about the playful gazes of the many invigilators.

He just walked to the hospital bed by himself.

Zhao Erdog, who was in the hospital bed, had the superficial symptom of prickly scratching all over his body and a strange itch that was unbearable.

Seeing a bunch of doctors surrounding him, but he was still suffering, his emotions instantly broke through the defile of venting.

"Roll on ..... hiss, I've been in hospital for a week.

Hiss ..... really useless, just know to pit the old man's money!"

I didn't expect a fit of anger, making the original prickly and unbearable body, instantly snowballed.

Lin Mo filtered out the other party's raging language and gently lifted the man's bloodstained hospital gown on his back.

Although the doctor had finished breaking his nails, the wounds all over his back were still shocking to the eye.

At a glance, Lin Mo had already judged the general cause of the illness.

He intended to further observe the patient's five senses and pulse. To gain insight into the depth of the illness.

However, just as he reached out his hand, Zhao Erdog opened his mouth and bit down fiercely!

Lin Mo's hand was instantly dripping with blood!

Seeing this, the few invigilators who were watching from the side sucked in a breath of cold air!

"Quick! The patient is emotionally unstable,"

"Divine Doctor Lin, stop, it's too dangerous, you'd better give up."

"Lin Mo, give up, don't risk yourself."

Seeing this, the Vice President was also taken aback.

"Someone, inject a sedative quickly."

If the people brought by the association, had something go wrong in the hospital like this, then things would be a big deal.

Chapter 2055

Unlike the panic with the crowd.

Lin Mo just calmly lowered his head and glanced at the patient who was full of grimace.

And then suddenly reached out and placed a hand against Zhao Ergu's jaw.

With just one simple movement, Zhao Ergu's upper and lower jaws instantly lost consciousness.

No matter how much he struggled, he could only helplessly open his mouth wide and stare at Lin Mo with bloodshot eyes.

Withdrawing his palm, he swung his right hand.

Just before Er Dog counted on pouncing on him, several silver needles appeared on his body unnoticed, at several key acupuncture points.

In the crowd's astonished gaze, Zhao Erdog miraculously quieted down.

He was lying on the bed with a happy and calm face, with no trace of his previous grumpy appearance.

Several of the invigilators were wide-eyed and looked at each other with shock in their eyes.

When did those silver needles get stuck into the acupuncture points?

How could just a few ordinary silver needles have such an effect?

At this moment, their minds were full of questions.

Dean Chen had already arrived at the hospital bedside.

Looking at Lin Mo's bloody palm, he asked worriedly.

"Divine Doctor Lin, is your hand alright?"

Lin Mo then raised his palm, clenched his fist, and then moved his fingers.

Luckily, it had only bitten through the flesh, and hadn't hurt the tendons.

Shaking his head indifferently, he smiled lightly and spoke to Dean Chen.

"It's not a serious injury, please just get me some alcohol and gauze."

After waiting for the little nurse to bring the things over.

Lin Mo then picked up the alcohol, carefully cleaned the wound and then wrapped it with gauze.

After moving around a bit, he found that it did not affect the movement of his hand.

Only then did he nod his head in satisfaction.

Once again, he came to the hospital bed.

Lin Mo bent down, lowered his voice and spoke to Zhao Erguo.

"Bear with it for a while, I can cure this disease."

Zhao Ergu felt the prickly itch that had been mostly suppressed within his body and nodded cooperatively.

After examining his eyes, tongue and ears.

Lin Mo asked a few more simple questions.

"Does it feel particularly itchy when you're angry?"

The other party nodded obediently.

"Does it also feel particularly itchy when you take a cold shower?"

The other party still nodded obediently.

But at this moment, Zhao Ergu's face gradually showed a look of excitement.

"Brother, you're really divine, this is indeed what's happening to me.

Help me cure this D*mn disease, it's killing me."

Zhao Erdog was also a familiar personality, plus he was not much different in age from Lin Mo.

He instantly became close to Lin Mo.

It was only when he saw Lin Mo's bandaged palm that his face gradually showed guilt.

However, what he didn't expect was that this excitement would cause the itchy body to flare up again.

"Alright, alright, just calm down a bit, otherwise it will itch you to death again."

"Just bear with it, it will soon be fine."

After saying that, Lin Mo adjusted the silver needles on Zhao Erdog's body.

The previous application of needles had only temporarily suppressed the condition.

If there were big emotional fluctuations that triggered the body fire, the disease would still flare up.

After giving a gentle instruction, he saw that Zhao Ergu's condition was stable again.

Lin Mo then returned to Qing Chang's main examination.

"Cold allergy, coupled with the fire of fire caused by excessive liver fire.

No matter how hot or cold it is, it will cause the patient to suffer from tingling."

The crowd present also had an understanding of this Zhao Erdog's illness.

As soon as they heard the cause of the illness from Lin Mo, they were surprised, could this Lin Mo have such an attainment in medicine?

Afterwards, they glanced at Duan Jiuchun with a faintly unkind look.

The meaning of that was also very obvious, the several brothers are all backing you up.

If you dare to screw the others, you'll be in for a treat.

The hair that was being stared at by several people.

Duan Jiuchun coughed lightly and then walked forward.

"Not bad for a journeyman, this deception almost fooled us all.

You must have secretly read the patient's medical records just now."

With his reminder, the crowd's eyes moved to the cases hanging on the side of the hospital bed.

The patient's illness could indeed be seen on the opened title page.

Chapter 2056

“Yo yo yo yo, young man, amazing, this is a wonderful move.”

“Indeed, if it wasn’t for Old Brother Duan’s reminder, we would almost have been fooled, young people nowadays are dishonest.”

“It seems that this person’s cheating can already be confirmed, even the practice tests can’t forget this cheating nature.”

“Yes, let’s announce it for the Qing main examination. This person doesn’t even know how to cut a pulse and still thinks of cheating, it’s absurd.”

Qing Chang did not pay attention to the sarcastic words of the crowd, and turned to look at Lin Mo.

“How can this disease be cured, do you have a plan?”

Nodding his head, Lin Mo returned.

“If we go to the cold allergy, we will definitely aggravate the fire condition.

If you remove the fire, it will aggravate the cold allergy. So .....”

Before Lin Mo could finish his analysis.

Wang Qiang, who was at the side, interjected again.

“All right, Lin Mo, these words are all there on the case.

You should not waste everyone’s time.

Don’t pretend, okay.”

At this moment, Zhao Erdog, the head of the hospital bed, could not hold back any longer.

Seeing that the chance to save his life was just around the corner, he was already impatient.

In addition, these few invigilators had been delaying Lin Mo’s time, so he was extremely irritated in his heart.

With all these factors, his body suddenly became hot and dry.

And that even more violent tingling came along with it.

“Will you old b*****ds shut up, you’re tickling me to death.

Ah, I’m dying, man, come and help me.”

This feeling was worse than death.

What was even more terrifying was that as the condition flared up.

The basic silver needles on Zhao Ergu’s body were even slowly being squeezed out of his flesh.

If he was not rescued urgently, it was likely that his life would be in danger.

The situation was critical and Qing Chang was at his wits' end, if he had a way out he would have done so long ago.

Lin Mo, on the other hand, rushed over with a single bounding step.

With a stretch of his right hand, he took out the silver needles he was carrying straight away.

"Wait, there will be some pain, bear with it."

After saying that a silver needle directly stabbed Zhao Ergu's liver point.

When Duan Jiuchun looked at Lin Mo actually applying the needle directly, he immediately panicked.

If this was really cured by him, Lin Mo, he would be late to the party.

"Master Qing examines ah, this charlatan, is killing people.

If a human life is caused, how should our a*sociation explain to the hospital."

"Yes, this Lin Mo doesn't know how to practise medicine at all, he doesn't take a pulse and just judge the cause of the illness.

This person is a great scourge to our physician a*sociation. The examiner-in-chief should stop him quickly."

At this moment, the gloomy face of Qing Chang could already drip out water.

However the clueless Wang Qiang thought that this Qing chief examiner was so angry by Lin Mo's presumptuous actions.

So he moved towards going up and lighting another fire.

However before he could say anything.

The green chief angrily chided.

"If you have a cure, then go forward and do it.

If not, shut up.

If anything goes wrong, I will take responsibility for it myself."

Now Evergreen could only pin all his hopes on Lin Mo.

With an angry rebuke, the crowd then realised that they seemed to have overstepped their authority a little.

No matter what their medical skills or status were, Master Qing was a section ahead of them.

In the situation before them, they knew what to choose.

When did they need to raise their voices?

As the scene quietened down.

Lin Mo had already stabbed a needle into the acupuncture point.

Zhao Ergu, who was on top of the hospital bed, instantly let out a loud scream.

“Ah! I’m going to be no more, I’m going to be no more.”

Even by listening to the sound, the crowd could feel the pain involved.

By this time, a look of triumph had appeared on Duan Jiuchun’s face.

Normally, the application of the needle would only be a slight stinging sensation at most.

But in this situation before him, it was obvious that there was a problem with the acupuncture point where Lin Mo had placed the needles.

Otherwise there could not have been such a great reaction.

“Sure enough, a charlatan is a charlatan.

Hooray, this Qing Chang has stopped all the blame.

Tsk tsk, with this reckless character, he can also be the main examiner?”

Looking at Qing Chang’s back, Duan Jiuchun thought with disdain.

“Exam-in-chief, how about forgetting about it, if this results in a human life ……..”

Worried that if someone gets killed, he will also have collateral responsibility.

A few invigilators at the side, worriedly reminded.

However before he could finish.

There was a new change on the patient’s side.

“Ah, brother, good zap.

It’s been a long time since I’ve been in this much pain and pleasure, old man.

Give me a few more stitches, it’s okay.

I’m resistant to it.”

Lin Mo, who was applying the needles, couldn’t help but roll his eyes, he was still so skinny even in this state.

“Lie still, don’t move.

The next few acupuncture points are quite dangerous.

If you get them wrong, your life will be over. Understand?”

As soon as the needle fell, the tingling sensation was instantly removed by a large margin.

At this moment, Zhao Ergu was obedient to Lin Mo’s words.

Only after he obediently agreed did Lin Mo continue with the needles.

Baihui, Neiguan, Hegu, Yongquan, and so on.

As Lin Mo dropped the needles one by one.

The red spots on Zhao Ergu's body began to dissipate at a speed visible to the naked eye.

The last needle fell on the lower dantian.

But the turbid Qi was sent out of the body along with the silver needles.

After a cup of tea, Lin Mo nodded towards Qing Chang, and then removed all the silver needles.

At this time, Zhao Ergu on the hospital bed was already sleeping peacefully.

There was even this relaxed smile on the corner of his mouth.

"It's time to call it a day!

Just rest for a few days and replenish your vitality."

Chapter 2057

When the vice-president went up to check things out, his face was full of surprise.

"A divine doctor, a divine doctor, Zhao Erdog has actually been cured of this illness.

Master Qing's examination, you're a disciple of your physicians' a*sociation.

Out of the blue, such medical skills will be famous in China in less than five years."

At this moment, the Vice President's words were like a slap in the face.

It hit the faces of the invigilators hard.

The disease that they could do nothing about, in the hands of this young student, was just a matter of lifting a finger.

"Hmph, what else do you have to say.

We will settle the score with you when we return."

With these words, Qing Chang prepared to lead the crowd back to the a*sociation.

Only before he could get up his feet, the Vice President, who was on the side, called out to him.

"Chief Qing, I'm a bit embarra*sed to say this.

On our side of the hospital, there is still a patient who is a big problem.

If it is possible, could I ask you all to help out again?"

The words were polite, but anyone with a little self-awareness would understand that the main thing this Vice President wanted to invite was Lin Mo.

After all, all the people present had helped with the young man's itch.

Among them, only Lin Mo had really cured the patient.

When they thought of this, several of the invigilators blushed.

Of course, as the chief examiner, Qing Chang was keeping his emotions in check at the moment.

After all, a family scandal must not be publicised.

For the vice dean's request, there was nothing that the same person practising medicine would not respond to.

"There is no need for Dean Chen to do so, lead the way ahead."

After being overjoyed, the vice dean hurriedly led the crowd to the innermost ward on the sixth floor.

"This patient's original condition was a spinal strain that caused bone growth and bone spurs.

When he was brought to our hospital, he had already compressed the nerves.

The situation was so critical that we had to choose surgery as the first option."

When he said this, the vice-president sighed.

Through the glass window, he looked at the vegetative person in the hospital bed.

It was clear that the operation had failed.

At this moment, the crowd also cast a sympathetic gaze.

If it had been a normal orthopaedic operation, it would not have been too difficult.

However, if the operation was on a spine full of nerves, it would be a different story.

The slightest mistake could damage the main spinal nerve.

The result would be that the patient would be a vegetable for life.

As an expert in orthopaedics and neurology, Wang Qiang was the most vocal among the people present.

"Dean Chen, I'm not trying to discourage you.

Once the main nerve is damaged, I am afraid that even the gods will not be able to return.

I suggest that you should think about how to deal with the patient's family."

At the same time, several other people nodded in agreement.

Even Qing Chang shook his head helplessly.

The damage to the nerves could not be saved by a doctor.

After shaking his head in despair, the Vice President's gaze then fell on Lin Mo.

Although this young man looked young, he was the Vice President's only hope.

Being stared at by the other party's eyes, Lin Mo's body was also shivering.

Shrugging his shoulders, he could only speak helplessly to.

"Why don't you let me try?"

Hmm?

At these words, the crowd was shocked.

"Lin Mo, you don't think that just because you cured a young man like that, you feel that your medical skills are incomparable, do you?"

"The same good fortune, and you want to do it again?"

I'm telling you, if you can cure this person, I'll swallow this straight away."

With that, Wang Qiang patted the hospital bed beside him.

With a disdainful smile, Lin Mo said mockingly.

"Oh, Master Wang, the last patient, you couldn't cure, I did.

So now this person, you feel hopeless, what makes you think I can't save him.

If you are incompetent yourself, don't think of others as incompetent too."

"Yellow-mouthed child, you ....."

"Master Wang, anger is a sign of the incompetent oh."

This sentence was originally said by Wang Qiang, and at this time Lin Mo sent it back to the other party in its original form.

Those who insult people, people cross the insult.

Lin Mo had long been dissatisfied with this Wang Qiang, and now he had taken the initiative to send him to his doorstep for scolding.

How could he miss such a good opportunity?

He glanced at Wang Qiang, who was too angry to speak.

Lin Mo then turned towards the vice dean and said.

"Dean Chen, let's go in and take a look."

"Alright, alright, please come inside, Divine Doctor Lin."

Enthusiastically opening the door of the room, the vice dean then invited Lin Mo inside.

And this vegetative person in the room was the patient he had previously operated on.

Chapter 2058

With the crowd gathered around him, Lin Mo patiently checked every acupuncture point on the patient's back.

When Lin Mo straightened up, the Vice President asked anxiously.

"Divine Doctor Lin, how is it, is there still hope?"

Although he knew that the chances of a cure were slim to none, or even zero.

But he still had a glimmer of hope.

"The nerves aren't necrotic yet, I'll do my best."

If he hadn't recovered his strength before, it would have been a bit difficult to cure this vegetable.

But nowadays, it would only take a little more effort.

When he heard this, the Vice President was so excited that tears were left in his eyes.

He had been in a state of guilt ever since the whole operation had failed because of his mistake.

Every time he thought that this man would spend the rest of his life as a vegetable, he could hardly sleep at night.

Fortunately, there was finally hope.

"Later, I'm going to apply the needles to the patient.

As the technique of administering needles is very demanding, all of you can gather around and watch.

But please do not make any noise that will affect my state."

Poof, at this moment, Wang Qiang, couldn't help but mock.

"Calling you a divine doctor you really take yourself seriously.

If any disease can be solved by applying needles, then why do we need western medicine.

What a laugh ....."

While he was speaking with great interest.

The Vice President was staring at Wang Qiang with bloodshot eyes, with the attitude that if he said one more word, he would have to fight for his life.

The latter was also frightened by this look and shut his mouth.

On Lin Mo's side, everything was ready by now.

After a few deep breaths, he adjusted his state to the best.

At this moment, Wang Qiang, Duan Jiuchun and the others, also quietly watched and stared at Lin Mo.

In several people's opinion, it was impossible for this Lin Mo to succeed, but they also did not want a sound to occur and be used as an excuse for failure.

With his eyes open, Lin Mo struck.

With a twist of his wrist, only a residual shadow was left in the air.

Before the crowd could react, a silver needle had already appeared on the back of the plant patient.

Then Lin Mo's hands came out in unison, the residual shadows bursting out, and with such a staggeringly fast speed.

The needles fell like rain.

By the time Lin Mo stopped, the patient's back was densely packed with silver needles.

As they looked at each other, the crowd of invigilators were shocked beyond words.

What kind of skill was this?

Not to mention whether this set of needles could cure this vegetative person.

Just by looking at these five breaths and a total of 72 acupuncture points, not a single needle was wrong.

It was clear that Lin Mo had extraordinary skills.

Compared to the few invigilators, Qing Chang's insight was obviously more extensive.

As soon as Lin Mo started, he recognised that the needle technique was the legendary Divine Needle of Creation.

It was a lost medical technique.

The crowd waited quietly for about half an hour.

Lin Mokai slowly withdrew the needles, took out the medicine bottle, took out an unknown elixir and put it directly into the patient's mouth.

Gently tapping the acupuncture point, the elixir went down smoothly.

Seeing this scene, originally Wang Qiang still wanted to say something and pick a fight.

But when he saw the people around him, they all looked grave, so he could only give up the idea.

Wiping the beads of sweat from his forehead, Lin Mo gently sighed in relief.

Curing nerve stoppage was indeed not simple.

"It's done, the main nerve has been repaired.

If it's quicker, it will wake up around this afternoon, if it's later, tomorrow morning.

From now until noon tomorrow, don't give the patient anything to eat."

When he had just performed the Divine Needle of Creation, he had injected his aura along with it.

The elixir that healed him was the Pill for the Regeneration of Muscle and Restoration of Meridians given to him by the Hidden Trace disciple.

When they complemented each other, the medicinal effects were stimulated to the maximum.

As for not being able to eat or drink, it was also just to prevent that from affecting the medicinal effect.

“Understood, understood, thank the divine doctor, for helping out.”

The vice-president thanked Lin Mo gratefully while walking over to the patient’s side, intending to check his body.

However, when he touched the patient’s wrist.

It was obvious that the patient’s fingers twitched a little.

This scene was naturally also seen by the invigilators of the first school.

Trying to compare with the others’ shock, Lin Mo wore a playful smile.

“Master Wang, what about being a man of your word.”

After saying that, he followed Wang Qiang’s example and patted the hospital bed beside him.

All eyes in the room were gathered on Wang Qiang for a while.

All seemed to be waiting for him to perform and swallow the hospital bed alive.

Chapter 2059

When he walked out of the ward, Lin Mo couldn’t stop wiping his sweat.

Of course it wasn’t from exhaustion, but this Vice President, who was really too enthusiastic.

If he hadn’t used the excuse of preparing for the competition, he wouldn’t have been able to get out of it today.

When the group arrived at the hall, the reference staff had been waiting here for a long time.

Looking at the few invigilators with their heads hanging, they had probably guessed the result.

“Why are you few still here?”

Before entering the ward, Chief Qing had ordered the crowd to leave.

After all, this was a hospital, and such a group of people were adding to the hospital.

When he thought about it, the way several people had helped to mock Lin Mo earlier, he couldn’t help but be angry.

“It seems that you have forgotten to learn about medical ethics while you were so focused on learning the art of medicine.

Seeing the wind and not distinguishing right from wrong.

You are not worthy of being a doctor, give me this group of people to write down.

You will be banned from the examination for three years.”

When the words fell, these examiners were baffled.

Originally, they were just curious, but they didn't expect to receive this punishment.

"On what grounds?"

In the crowd, a young man who was fiery and irritable suddenly shouted out.

The loud voice made the surrounding nurses frown.

If it weren't for the presence of the Green Master examiner, they might have had to call security.

"No noise is forbidden in hospital land, don't you know?"

This person is marked down, notified to the whole country, and banned from reference for life.

Don't think that just because you have a family behind you, you can act recklessly.

If you act recklessly again, I will enter your real family into the Medical Union's blacklist."

Qing Chang lowered his voice and spoke in a plaintive tone.

Since he dared to say this, he naturally had the courage to do so.

After all, he was one of the representatives of the Medical Alliance in the capital, and the chief examiner was only a part-time job.

The group of unsuccessful examiners on the other side of the table naturally also understood this.

They looked to their left and right and hurriedly fled the area.

At this point, the surroundings also finally quietened down.

With apologies, Qing Chang nodded towards the nurses and left the inpatient department.

Meanwhile, an old car had been waiting in front of the hospital for a long time.

When he saw Lin Mo, the car door opened.

"Hello, Mr. Lin Mo!"

Lin Mo stopped in his tracks and looked at the old man in front of him with a puzzled face.

He did not know this person.

"Oh, sorry, I forgot to introduce myself.

Old man, Bai Shou, the Jianghu people give face and call me Uncle Shou."

As soon as the words left his mouth, Qing Chang as well as a kind of invigilator suddenly paled.

Uncle Shou? Wasn't that the steward of the Bai family's old master.

In the past ten years, Old Master Bai had rarely shown his face.

Most of the family's affairs were left to this Uncle Shou to take care of.

It was no exaggeration to say that this Uncle Shou was the incarnation of Old Man Bai's will.

Now, looking at the other party's appearance, it was obvious that he was coming for Lin Mo.

"Hello, I wonder if Uncle Shou is looking for me, is there something wrong?"

Lin Mo, the only clueless person on the scene at the moment, asked curiously.

"My family, Master Bai, would like to invite you for a cup of tea and have a chat about chest problems in the meantime.

I wonder if little friend Lin Mo has the time."

Uncle Shou returned with a smile.

As soon as he heard Master Bai, Lin Mo naturally understood the identity of the other party.

Within the capital, who else dared to use this title other than the Bai family's old master.

With a nod, Lin Mo agreed.

Qing Chang, who was at the side, also came to Lin Mo's side.

"I will take care of the matter of grades.

When the time comes, I will send someone to send you the practicing medicine qualification certificate.

Don't worry."

After saying that, he patted Lin Mo's shoulder.

Just like that, the crowd looked at the departing vehicles, and the expressions on their faces were different from each other.

The old man of the Bai family, suffering from chest congestion, was already a well-known matter in the capital.

Naive of the many famous doctors, none of them could solve it.

And now Uncle Shou, by talking about chest congestion, invited Lin Mo.

It seemed that this old man, Bai, was looking at Lin Mo's extraordinary medical skills.

What was ridiculous was that these people themselves were still mocking people.

"What are you still staring at?"

As the crowd was dazed, Qing Chang chided out.

With a full-blown anger, he walked towards the Physicians' association.

Looking at the stance, the few invigilators present were not going to have a good time.

"Surnamed Duan, and this trash master, look what you two have done."

"Damn, you guys are trying to screw us over."

Under the accusations, Duan Jiuchun and Wang Qiang could only bow their heads and leave in silence.

Chapter 2060

The office of the examiner-in-chief of the Medical Association.

There were outsiders present earlier.

Qing Chang could not directly accuse the invigilators.

In public, it was the Association's face that was lost after all.

However, he had tolerated the words of a few people for a long time, and now he could finally make a proper reckoning.

"Supervisor Duan, I now want to know, where did you get the courage to falsely accuse him?"

Qing Chang picked up the pen and asked coldly.

And at this moment, Duan Jiuchun was so remorseful that his intestines were turning blue.

"It was that nephew of mine who approached me to report it.

He said that Lin Mo was a charlatan, pretending to be a divine doctor and entrapping cheating to take the examination."

After saying that, he couldn't help but sigh himself.

Upon hearing this, Qing Chang became even more angry.

"You say you, you're already a few dozen years old.

You don't have any evidence at all, and you believe everything people say?

Haven't you ever thought about the possibility of your nephew lying?"

Said Qing Chang, as he threw a document onto the table.

"Take a look, this is what your nephew has done."

Picking up the document on the table.

The formation stone recorded on it, the detailed passage of the conflict between Duan Zhen and Lin Mo within Hui Chun Hall.

And Duan Jiuchun, the more he looked at it, the darker his face became.

I didn't expect that nephew, who usually seemed to know propriety and righteousness and was gentle and elegant, to be so dark.

He wanted to use his hand to stop Lin Mo.

He, Duan Jiuchun, had even foolishly jumped into this scheme of killing by borrowing a knife.

After handing back the document, he had no face to say anything more.

He just silently lowered his head.

“Supervisor Duan, this is a busy time for the a*sociation’s affairs, you have really worked hard.

Go back and rest for a few days first.”

After hearing Qing’s main examiner’s words.

Duan Jiuchun’s heart suddenly jumped.

Wasn’t this a dismissal in disguise, resting for a few days without even making it clear.

There was the first example.

The other few invigilators in the room were on pins and needles for a while.

“As for a few of you .....

The few invigilators who were named were instantly sitting upright.

With anxiety and uneasiness, they waited for the decision of the main examiner Qing.

“Well, virtue is not worthy of a position, right and wrong, and you are using the opportunity to cause trouble.

Deduct half a year’s a*ssessment, plus this year’s year-end award is cancelled.”

Getting this result, several people were relieved.

As long as they weren’t sacked, they were fine.

“As for Master Wang, sowing discord and causing trouble in secret, with evil intentions.

I don’t want to be too embarra*sed about invigilating exams.

Submit your own application for resignation.”

The false accusation of Lin Mo was something that Evergreen naturally saw in his eyes.

This Wang Qiang’s heart was too malicious, and staying in the a*sociation was a curse.

Fortunately, he was ousted directly.

Compared to Duan Jiuchun, Wang Qiang’s chastisement was obviously more severe.

Yet he didn’t care at all.

If I don’t do it, I don’t do it. Anyway, I’ll get my thirty-year salary later.

After a dismissive smile, he turned his head and walked out of the office.

And Evergreen, the examiner-in-chief, didn’t care about him.

He went on to say.

“For the handling of this matter, there are those who are not convinced.

You can submit your resignation, and I will immediately give you my signature to agree.”

“Also a report will be made of this incident and submitted to the China Medical League, you can appeal all you want.”

.....

After walking out of the a*sociation, Wang Qiang contacted Lei ShaoTing.

“Young Lei, I’ve finished the matter as usual, I wonder when this money will arrive?”

However, what replied to him was Lei Shao-ting’s rant.

“You have the f*cking nerve to ask.

The matter is not finished, and you still want the money.

Do you take me for a fool?”

This time, Wang Qiang was anxious.

“Didn’t we agree beforehand?

Young Lei, you can’t be a man who doesn’t keep his word.”

“After the deal is done, the money promised to you will be paid immediately.

Is it done now? You’ve done this to pieces, and you still have the face to ask me for money.”

“But .....

Just as he Wang Qiang still wanted to explain, Lei Shaoting once again cursed angrily.

“But your grandma, get lost, you cane maker.”

Beep beep beep.

Looking at his hand, the phone that had been hung up by the other party.

Wu Qiang was in a mess.

He had lost his job at the Physicians’ a*sociation, and now the money that Lei Shaoting had promised to arrive, had also been rejected.

Stealing a chicken and losing the rice, it wasn’t even a handful of rice anymore, it was a whole vat of ah.
