Chapter 2281

Hearing the other party's request.

The corner of Lin Mo's mouth hooked, was he finally willing to say it?

To be able to make a man like Smith Connor, put down his stature.

I guess this patient's identity was also extraordinary.

However, Lin Mo was interested in the 'rare and difficult' stubborn disease that the other party had mentioned.

"Mr. Smith, I can't afford to give instructions.

If you have brought the patient's information, I can be brave enough to analyse it."

Seeing Lin Mo nod his head in agreement.

Smith naturally looked pleased, and then he casually snapped his fingers.

A man in black suddenly appeared in the concierge's room, holding a thick document in his hands, and walked up to Smith.

After accepting the document.

After flipping through it briefly, Lin Mo stood up.

"Mr. Smith, this is not the place to explore.

Let's just go to the next room."

For such a request, Smith was naturally begging for it.

The only pity was the large table full of precious medicinal food.

After swallowing reluctantly.

He then followed Lin Mo and left the banquet.

Coming to a quiet environment.

Lin Mo spent more than ten minutes to quickly go through all the patient's information.

After that, he closed his eyes and thought about the solution.

Perhaps it was because of the patient's noble status that the information on the patient's identity was concealed.

However, judging from his condition, one could guess that he must be an extremely rich or powerful young man.

As for his condition, it can be divided into two main areas.

One, the rapid deterioration of liver function due to his addiction to alcohol and irregularity in his work and rest.

Secondly, under the wild leaking of Yuan, the kidney water was insufficient and the kidneys atrophied.

And, what is even more annoying is that.

Even though he knew his health was in trouble, he still did not exercise restraint.

Instead, he took a lot of Yang tonics, causing his condition to worsen.

Not only were his organs atrophied, but the alcohol had also eroded his central nervous system.

This is what led to the neuropathy.

“Mr. Smith, can you tell us about the treatment plan you gave?”

After some hesitation.

Smith Connor spoke up anyway.

“We are planning to operate directly to repair his liver and kidney functions first.

After that, we will repair its damaged nerves.”

After hearing this, Lin Mo shook his head straight away.

Although such a plan could alleviate the condition, it was also a means of indicator not cure.

It was extremely risky, and if there was even a hint of an accident, the patient would definitely lose his life.

“From the aspect of Chinese medicine, the advice I can give is twofold.”

“The first is to remove the alcohol from the patient’s body.

If I’m not mistaken, the liver is in decline.

The alcohol has already invaded the blood vessels.”

“Secondly, the operation or whatever can be cancelled.

For the repair of the liver as well as the kidneys, I do have a few medicinal meals that I can provide you with.”

After saying that, Lin Mo picked up the pen and paper on the table and wrote quickly.

After recording the cooking methods of the medicinal meals, in detail, he then handed them to Smith Connor.

“These medicinal meals are all specific to this patient’s condition, regulating all of its body functions.

As long as its own body is healthy, much of the damage to the liver and kidneys will repair itself.

Although the human body is fragile, sometimes it is actually quite strong.”

“Of course, the herbs involved may be scarce, so it’s up to you to figure it out.”

After taking over the method of cooking the medicinal food.

Smith Connor skimmed through it quickly.

There were dozens of herbs recorded on a page full of paper.

Although there were a very few that he had never heard of either.

But just from recognising the herbs, the ones targeted for treatment were indeed all liver and kidney as well as nerve type.

The next second.

Smith Connor then summoned his a*sistant once more.

“Pa*s this remedy back to the head office.

Ask them to take it for the patients as soon as possible.

But those who disagree and those who cause trouble from it will be fired straight away.

If the situation is serious, you will see to it yourselves.”

At the end of his sentence, there was already a hint of killing intent in his tone.

At this moment, the identity of Smith Connor’s superiors only gradually revealed the tip of the iceberg.

It was a far cry from the cloudy and breezy look he had before.

Chapter 2282

After pa*sing the medicinal food to the other party.

Lin Mo then also raised something that had been puzzled for a long time.

“Mr. Smith, I have one thing I don’t know?”

“I know, you want to ask me, famous doctors and doctors of God are everywhere in China.

Why did they single you out, did they?”

Looking at Lin Mo, he nodded curiously.

Smith Connor smiled and shook his head.

“The conflict between the two sides of the Chinese and Western ways has continued from the last century to today.

It is unfortunate that I am the main representative party of the Western way of medicine.

There are more or less contradictions with those old Chinese doctors of yours in China who have been established for a long time.”

"If it were not for the urgency of the situation and the fact that there is no way to get what I want, I would not have wanted to come in person.

I wouldn't have wanted to come in person."

He stretched his back after saying that.

Looking out of the window at the falling leaves, his eyes took on a pensive look.

Naturally, Lin Mo knew something about this medical dao dispute.

Although over the years, the conflict between the two sides had faded a little though.

However, the older generation of people practising medicine still looked down on each other and despised each other.

"To be able to make Mr. Smith, put down his stature.

I guess this patient's identity is not simple."

In response to this question, Smith Connor merely nodded his head.

Obviously unwilling to divulge too much.

The conversation that followed was more about the two discussing each other's insights on their respective medical skills.

Lin Mo had the legacy of his Lin ancestor, plus the various conditions he had personally treated.

He naturally analysed the situation to the letter.

"The medical arts are of the same origin, but it is also the conflicting arguments between the two sides.

It is what has led to generations of young people, inspiring each other and competing against each other.

At the same time, they are each making progress."

"There are thousands of medical skills, but in the final analysis, it is to heal the sick and save people.

In this respect I, the conflict is actually a good thing."

On the other side of the table, Smith was brightened by this new understanding of Lin Mo.

"I didn't expect that at your young age, you could see more thoroughly than those of our generation."

Lin Mo, on the other hand, waved his hand modestly.

"Mr. Smith is overly praised, I am merely standing on the shoulders of giants."

"Rather, I haven't said sorry for keeping you waiting earlier."

On hearing this, Smith laughed out loud.

"No harm, no foul.

This strong smell of fireworks is like nothing I've ever experienced before.

It was honestly a good formative experience."

"Most importantly, Mr Lin taught the science of medicinal food.

It was even more enlightening for my humble self."

Said Smith Connor, first glancing at Lin Mo's face.

And only then continued.

"After this matter is over.

I will invest in a school where Chinese and Western medical paths coexist and interoperate.

I wonder if Mr. Lin is interested in taking up the position of the head of this school.

Of course in terms of treatment, Mr. Lin can mention whatever he wants."

The idea of founding the academy was not an impromptu one on Smith Connor's part.

Having been involved in the dual path of medicine and business for a long time, he had this idea many years ago.

It was because the accumulated conflicts between the two sides were too deep.

There was no way that a truly powerful master of Chinese medicine would agree to be a teacher of this academy.

Lin Mo, on the other hand, was different. Not only was he a highly skilled doctor, he had a far-reaching vision and did not cling to old grudges.

More importantly, of course.

Smith Connor, after interacting with him personally, discovered that this young man had a hidden agenda.

The power shown to the world was only the tip of the iceberg.

So, Smith could not help but feel inclined to draw him in.

If he could hire this young man, who was just showing his face, into his own group of companies, he would be able to make it to the top of the world.

The future impact of the world's top enterprises is not a luxury hope.

However, although he had the intention, Lin Mo had no intention.

Knowing the meaning between the other party's words.

It was naturally impossible for Lin Mo to agree.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Smith, but I still have a lot of things on my hands today.

And as I am not worthy of the position, I can only regretfully resign from the head of the institution.”

Hearing such a reply.

Smith was also able to shake his head in disappointment.

Chapter 2283

On this side of the banquet, the wine had already pa*sed three rounds and the dishes had pa*sed five tastes.

Seeing that Lin Mo had not returned for a long time.

Mother-in-law Fang Hui couldn't help but frown.

“Hanxia, who is that middle-aged man in a suit?

Such a banquet, how can you be so kind and delay Lin Mo for so long.”

Listening to her complaints.

Xu Hanxia then proceeded to explain.

“Mom, that man is the CEO of Smith Drug Creation Group, Smith Connor!

It seems like he's looking for Lin Mo for something important!”

“Eh? That's the one, the anti-aging injection?”

As a woman, there was almost no resistance to the word 'anti-aging'.

Fang Hui was naturally salivating over this.

The price is expensive but it's okay.

But it's hard to get a place, without some connections and strength.

Even if you are rich, you can only stare in disbelief.

When I think of this, my mother-in-law's eyes are also glowing.

Not to mention the fact that the person in charge of the anti-ageing needle is here.

The main thing is that the other party is actually the son-in-law who has asked for it.

This ..... It seems like something incredibly big has been discovered.

“I say, wife, what are you doing with this waistband listening so straight?”

Xu Jiangong saw his wife's strange movement and asked curiously.

Only to be met with nothing but an impatient reply.

“Eat your food well, can't you stop your mouth with so many dishes?”

As he bowed his head in resentment, Xu Jiankong then honestly buried his head and ate furiously.

As for Smith Connor's side.

After waiting for a long time.

The headquarters finally sent back the results.

"After taking the medicinal food provided by Lin Mo, the indicators of various indicators have fallen back."

As soon as Smith heard this news, he slapped his thighs in excitement.

"Mr. Lin Mo, thank you a million times, you've helped us a lot."

Under Lin Mo's astonished gaze.

Smith directly gripped the former's palm and thanked him one after another.

"Mr. Smith, you don't have to be like that.

Healing the sick and saving others is originally my duty as a practitioner of medicine."

In response to Lin Mo's words, Smith only nodded his head and said yes one after another.

And his gaze became increasingly hot.

If such a top talent was lost before his eyes, it would be a matter of regret for the rest of his life.

When he thought of this, Smith Connor suddenly looked determined.

It seemed that he had made some kind of major decision.

"Mr. Lin Mo, in my capacity as the Chief Executive Officer of the Smith Drug Creation Group.

I formally invite to serve as our group's, chief pharmaceutical advisor."

"Of course, Mr. Lin, you only need to give advice when we encounter technical difficulties.

Just give the appropriate advice."

Such a position was undoubtedly a huge recognition of Lin Mo's medical skills.

After saying this, it seemed that he was afraid that Lin Mo would refuse.

Smith Chapter then came closer and whispered.

"Mr. Lin, we have many subordinates here."

Hearing this, Lin Mo smiled dumbly.

I didn't expect this president of a Fortune 500 group to have such a cute side.

In this way, Lin Mo could only nod his head and agree.

"Mr. Smith, I am grateful for your fancy, then I will be brazen enough to oblige."

With that, he stood up and stretched out his hands to receive the appointment letter.

There was naturally a consideration of Lin Mo's own in it.

It said that sometime in the future.

But when all things were rested, he also wanted to open a medical school.

If everything went well, Lin Mo also planned to open a Chinese medical school that belonged to the brand of China to the whole world.

When the time came, it might be necessary to use the Smith Group one day.

It was only at this point that Smith Connor nodded contentedly.

"Mr. Lin, I wish us a happy cooperation in the future."

The two hands shook each other, and this was the first in-depth cooperation between the Chinese and Western medical paths in recent years.

"Then I'll leave you here, if you have any questions in the future, you can contact me directly.

You can contact me directly, and of course if we encounter any difficulties.

Of course, if we encounter any difficulties, we will also bother you."

With that Smith Connor took his men with him and left.

Chapter 2284

When Smith Connor had gone.

Lin Mo was the only one left in the room.

Looking at the identity card in his hand, as well as a description of his welfare package, he couldn't help but be dumbfounded.

"This man is thunderous in his actions and generous in his spending."

This position alone, Lin Mo, had a guaranteed annual dividend of over 50 million.

And it was still just a posting.

If there were no major matters, even if he, Lin Mo, did nothing, the other party would still pay her this money every year.

He flicked his identity card.

Lin Mo then casually put it into his pocket, got up and walked out of the room.

The other side.

Smith Connor, after leaving Echoing Spring Hall, had a satisfied smile on his face.

This trip had not only solved the crisis of the Second Prince of Baidi's condition.

And he had also brought in a Chinese medicine master who had great potential and did not reveal himself.

“Mr. Connor, you have given such a precious position to such a young kid.

And the other party is also a Chinese medicine practitioner.

Will there be any comments from the shareholders as well as the family side.”

Hearing such spoiling words from the a*sistant.

Smith Connor’s originally joyful face suddenly sank.

“You seem to be talking a bit too much today!”

After saying that, his cold gaze fell on the a*sistant’s body.

The latter, in turn, was as if a large hand had been stuck in his throat.

With a face full of cold sweat, he stammered out an explanation.

“Sir, don’t be angry, I .... I .... I was just worried.”

Hearing these words.

Smith smiled faintly, and then withdrew the aura around him.

“So I have misunderstood you.

I am glad that you have such loyalty.”

At this time, the a*sistant subconsciously breathed a sigh of relief.

Only Smith’s next words caused him to plunge into the abyss at once.

“Let’s put it this way, we are still short of a keeper for our reserve medicine store.

I will entrust you with such a heavy responsibility.”

A medicine storehouse sounds like a good place.

But those who knew the inside story understood that it was an empty shell building.

It was an abandoned warehouse that could not be used at all.

What was the difference between being a*signed to such a place and being in exile?

But the a*sistant hadn’t had time to ask.

Smith then snorted coldly.

“I’m keeping you around purely because you’ve been with me for so many years.

It’s not that you’re so capable that I can’t leave you.

Of course you don’t have to complain about anything.”

“The money they’ve shoved down your throat should be enough to last you a lifetime.”

After saying that, Smith ignored the other party and went straight to his car.

“During this time, monitor all movements within the company.

But if anyone extends their claws, no need to report, just chop them up for me.”

An icy tone filled the entire carriage.

Courtesy was his character, and thunder and lightning was his personality.

The man who could be the one who was in charge of Smith Drug Creation was naturally not a good and kind person.

And in the passenger seat, a woman, no more than thirty years old, answered in the affirmative.

And then her long, slender fingers flew across the keyboard, taking detailed notes of everything the CEO said.

“Boss, there’s been too much delay on your end.

We need to hurry up with the rest of our trip.”

“Also Chief Baidi’s side has just called to express their gratitude for the Second Prince’s recovery from his illness.”

With that, the woman handed a document to Smith in the back seat.

Looking at the packed itinerary.

Smith Connor could only rub his brow with a headache.

The three luxury cars worth over ten million dollars started slowly.

Between glances, he looked at the Echoing Hall behind him.

Smith Connor surprisingly looked envious and lingering.

At this moment in situ, only the exiled assistant was left muttering.

“Why did he know when we were doing something so secretive?

Why should a brat be employed in such an important position?

Is he worthy? On what grounds?”

Looking at the far departing motorcade.

He could only keep asking rhetorical questions with a heart full of remorse.

Chapter 2285

By the time Lin Mo returned to the banquet again.

Most of the people were already drunk.

It seemed that they were enjoying the last moments of merriment.

However before he could sit down, the mother-in-law beside him suddenly clamoured towards him.

“Lin Mo you come with me for a moment!”

Not knowing why, Lin Mo could only obediently get up and follow his mother-in-law out of the banquet.

“What’s with those girls?”

Looking in the direction of Fang Hui’s finger, that person, Bai Ruorong, Nan Bing’er and Song Zhilan, were the three.

“What’s going on?”

Being questioned so much by his mother-in-law, Lin Mo was also full of doubts in his head.

“You’re still asking what’s going on.

The way they look at you is not right, mum is also a woman and at the same time, she is also a person who has come over.

If they don’t have other feelings for you, they simply can’t look at you that way.”

Lin Mo “.....”

God! How come I didn’t realize that my mother-in-law had this kind of ability before.

Seeing that Lin Mo was speechless, Fang Hui then continued to pursue the question.

“I won’t say anything about Song Zhilan, she was frowning at you when she was in Guang Province.

What’s with this Nan Bing’er girl?

I’ve also heard that the female disciple of that Hundred Victory Blade King is also in an unclear relationship with you.”

“Yes, yes, and that girl, I don’t know how many times she has looked at you during dinner.”

At this moment, the person Fang Hui was referring to was none other than Bai Rongruo.

“Lin Mo I can tell you, you are a family man.

Don’t think your mind is drifting just because you’ve achieved something now.

If you dare to get involved in something outside.

His father and I won’t let you get away with it, even if we have to risk our lives.”

In response to his mother-in-law’s accusations.

Lin Mo naturally said yes repeatedly, and then walked behind his mother-in-law and put his hands on her shoulders.

He gently ma*saged her.

“Mom, please calm down.

There’s really nothing between me and them, our relationship is clean.

If not, why would I have brought you and Dad and Hanxia to Kyoto.

Isn’t that right?”

With Lin Mo’s explanation, Mother-in-law had calmed down.

After careful consideration, it was true.

If her son-in-law was not on good terms with them, there was no need to bring them over.

This is not purely to find trouble for oneself.

In this way, Fang Hui’s original anger suddenly calmed down as well.

“I can warn you, although you are now successful.

But you must control yourself and keep your distance when it’s time to do so.

This is your basic accusation as a husband, understand?”

Behind him, Lin Mo then said with a smile on his face.

“Understood, my mother-in-law.”

“That’s more like it.”

After warning his son-in-law a bit.

After Lin Mo pulled out the two anti-aging needles presented by Smith Connor.

Only then did his mother-in-law leave the place with a smile on her face.

.....

The feast continued into the afternoon.

The first time I saw the company, I was able to get a few people back to their rooms.

It was a great deal more tiring for Lin Mo.

“It’s a waste of my medicinal meal.”

The medicinal food was supposed to be a great tonic, but it had been poured with alcohol by this group of losers.

Naturally, the medicinal effects were destroyed.

By the time everything was cleaned up, the afternoon had passed unnoticed.

And from the beginning to the end of the feast.

Bai Ruorong had been sullen all afternoon.

“Lin Mo, I’ll go back first then.

By the way, I haven’t congratulated you on winning the championship of the Healing Saint Competition.”

“Also grandpa said that when you are done with this period of time, he asked you to come to the house.”

This matter was also mentioned by the old master with Lin Lin Mo.

After all, it was a high moment for his own closed-door disciple.

And even before this, many people had been murmuring about Elder Bai accepting Lin Mo as his disciple.

This time it was just right, to slap them in the face.

“Thank you, please speak to Master, I will go over there in a few days.”

After nodding, Bai Ruorong turned around and left in a low mood.

Before she had met Lin Mo’s wife, she had always retained a trace of fantasy in her heart.

Chapter 2286

Moon on a branch.

A long journey and a medicinal regimen.

My wife’s family as well as my own little sister went to bed early.

As for all the guests, they all left too.

Nan Bing’er, on the contrary, had a much more cheerful personality.

I think she is doing quite well at Nalan Mingzhu’s side.

And as for security, Nalan Mingzhu has also taken very good care of it.

If there was no mistake about it.

For this banquet, there were dozens of security experts around the courtyard alone.

Most of them must have been Smith’s men.

It was not until Nan Bing’er left that the aura of the remaining ten or so experts disappeared.

Seeing that everyone had rested.

Lin Mo also had nothing to do.

He simply walked towards the back of the mountain, ready to practice martial arts.

Only after arriving at his destination.

In the centre of the lake here, a silhouette was standing quietly above the turquoise lotus leaves.

The silver-white moonlight spilled down and the reflections in the water echoed each other.

Hearing the movement on Lin Mo's side.

The snow lotus in the centre of the lake pointed her toes, while her figure lightly landed on the shore.

"What's wrong, still not asleep at this late hour?"

Seeing Lin Mo who had suddenly arrived.

Xue Lian asked in a soft voice.

"I couldn't sleep, so I came this way to move my body.

How about you?"

Only Lin Mo's rhetorical question did not receive an answer.

After a moment of silence.

Xue Lian suddenly proposed.

"Today's night is just right, accompany me to see the moon.

After all, if you miss such a good opportunity, you may never see it again."

"Good!"

When Lin Mo agreed.

Xue Lian leapt gently, and then her entire body was like a colourful butterfly.

Her long dress reflected the bright silver light and looked extraordinarily beautiful, just like a fairy running to the moon.

Today's moon was extraordinarily bright and round.

Bending her knees, Xue Lian just quietly looked at Lin Mo.

"What do you think the little monk is doing now?"

At the mention of the little monk, Lin Mo lost his voice and laughed.

"It's been a day and a night, so I guess he's already out of the capital's boundaries.

It's just that according to his stubborn temper, he should be sleeping in the wilderness by now."

A faint sense of sadness also leaked from his eyes as he spoke.

After this farewell, I don't know when we will meet again.

Perhaps it was just a lifetime.

When Xue Lian saw that Lin Mo seemed to be in a somewhat depressed mood, she then changed the subject.

“What about you? What are your plans for the future, are you going back to the Southern Realm?”

Hearing this question.

Lin Mo then shook his head.

“Within this period of time, there is no intention to go back.

On the one hand, the Martial Union’s renewal campaign is about to begin.

On the other hand, over at the Medical Union, the walking corpse virus, I still have to go and help out.”

“Moreover, one mountain does not allow two tigers.

As long as I’m in Nanjing, Master Xue Wu will always have a thorn stuck in his heart.”

Tilting her head, Xue Lian asked curiously.

“The King of the South?”

“Yes, that side is someone else’s territory after all.

If I were to stay in the Southern Realm all the time, I wouldn’t be able to develop my own power at all!”

Said Lin Mo, who also sat down on the gra*s.

He casually picked a thin branch and held it directly in his mouth.

“By the way, are you planning to return to Dunhuang?”

At this time, Xue Lian had already buried his head between his knees.

He didn’t know how to answer Lin Mo’s question for a moment.

According to the previous plan, by this time, she should already be on her way back.

“We’ll see, my master is still in Kyoto.

If I stay or go, I’ll ask my master’s opinion then.

Your wife is beautiful!!!”

The subject of wives was suddenly mentioned.

Xue Lian instantly ran out of things to say.

And Lin Mo didn’t know how to reply for a moment.

They could only quietly enjoy the bright moon together.

They looked at each other without saying anything, they had their own thoughts, they just didn’t want to talk about it, or couldn’t talk about it.

After all, it was the late autumn breeze, and the coldness came straight away.

After shaking his clothes, Lin Mo stood up.

"It's late at night, go back and rest early!"

Xue Lian looked at Lin Mo's fading figure, and there was a different hint of intent in her soulful gaze.

As for Lin Mo's intention to practice martial arts was not reached after all.

Chapter 2287

A night without words.

Early the next morning.

The courtyard was already in an uproar.

After Lin Mo had washed up and walked out of his room.

Most of the Hidden Sect disciples had already packed their bags and were ready to go back to the sect.

"Medical Sage Lin, we're going back.

Take care of yourselves haha, and I wish you good luck at the Martial Union's replacement event."

At this moment, Lin Mo also laughed dumbly and shook his head as he said.

"Alright, don't be skinny.

Have a good trip, all of you, and we'll see you next autumn."

As he waved his hand, someone in the crowd suddenly shouted.

"Brother Changlou, remember to have someone give me those herbs you promised me haha."

"And mine too, Brother Changlou, my Linglong fruit, don't forget."

"And mine, your treasured Eighteen Bachelors of the Extremely Fine Camellia, I'll pick it up myself when the time comes haha."

.....

As the crowd reported all kinds of herbs one by one after the other.

Chang Lou just looked baffled.

"What the heck, when did I say I was going to give you guys these things."

One should know that the items they mentioned were all treasured items of their own grandfather.

If they were given away to him.

If he gave them away, Gu Wuxiu would have to lift the roof off his head.

It was just when Chang Lou was in doubt.

The people took out their notes one after another.

The herbs promised to be given away were all signed by Chang Lou himself and had a large handprint on them.

This?

Had he gone mad with alcohol?

When he thought of this, he felt bad.

But on closer inspection, he was pleasantly surprised.

The note did not specify when it was to be given away.

Fortunately, there was still room for manoeuvre.

“Don’t worry, gentlemen, I will naturally do what I have promised you.

When I have these things ready.

I will send them to you all one by one at that time.”

As for when they would be ready, it was not up to him to say.

Hearing these words, the crowd also showed joyful faces.

Precious herbs that came for nothing, don’t want them for nothing.

“Thank you, Brother Changlou, over there.

Farewell all of you, take care!”

After the jokes, it was time to say goodbye.

When one figure left, only Changlou, Broken Secretary and Xuelian stayed behind.

After a long time, Mother-in-law also came out of the room.

Looking all dressed up, it was obvious that she had some important appointment.

“Lin Mo, accompany me on a trip out.”

Without waiting for him to reply, Mother-in-law pulled Lin Mo as well as Xu Hanxia as soon as she could and walked straight towards the outside of the courtyard.

“Mom, what’s going on here, dressing so formally!”

Walking behind his parents-in-law.

Lin Mo asked in a small voice.

Beside him, Xu Hanxia also shook her head in confusion.

“I don’t know, from what my dad said, it seems like I’m going to meet up with my former sisters in Kyoto.”

When he said that, Lin Mo understood.

It seemed that this mother-in-law wanted to bring herself along to support the occasion.

After all, once you become a parent, your children become the main object of comparison.

When the family arrived at the restaurant box they had booked.

Before they could even walk into the room, a conversation came from inside.

“Mum, what’s going on? I’ve got a lot of work to do at the hospital.

You’ve called me over here all of a sudden, I might get points deducted from my apprenticeship evaluation.”

Just as the young man was complaining.

Lin Mo and his group pushed their way in.

And a noblewoman before the round table stood up straight away.

“Hui Hui ah, you’ve made my sister think badly of me.

You said so write years, after I married in Kyoto, I rarely contacted each other anymore.”

With that said the noblewoman quickly walked up to Fang Hui’s body.

Without saying a word, she directly held the latter’s palm.

However, her gaze was intentionally or unintentionally looking towards, behind her, Lin Mo and his wife and Xu Xu Jian Gong.

And with just a glance.

Within its gaze, a look of smugness faintly flashed.

“Come, come, come, please sit down.

Hui Hui, this Eight Fragrance Restaurant is the hottest restaurant in Kyoto.

If it weren’t for our Xiaochuan’s connections, we might not even be able to get a reservation!

Of course the food here is one of the best in Kyoto, so you must try it today.”

Chapter 2288

When they were young, He Juan and Fang Hui, who were also originally from Guangyang City, had been secretly comparing themselves to each other.

It was only until shortly after Fang Hui joined the Xu family.

He Juan also found her other half, and later their contact gradually became less and less.

But the comparisons never fell away.

When she heard from the other side again, it was He Juan who sent her wedding invitations from Kyoto.

This time, when He Juan learned that Fang Hui had come to Kyoto, she invited the other party at the first opportunity.

“Waiter, it’s time to serve the food!”

After giving an order.

He Juan turned towards Fang Hui and said.

“There are four-star chefs over here.

A meal will cost at least ten thousand.

But I don’t know if you guys are used to eating Kyoto’s food.”

Looking at the other party’s full of ambition.

Fang Hui, the mother-in-law, was a little bit worried in her heart.

But she still had to pretend to be polite on the face.

“It’s fine, it’s fine, we’re not picky.

By the way, how come I haven’t seen your husband today.”

This question was right in He Juan’s heart.

“The mention of my husband makes me angry.

It’s almost as if the company is his own home, and I don’t see him every day.”

“Forget it, forget it, let’s not talk about him.

Let’s talk about you guys, we haven’t seen each other all these years.

How are you guys doing over in Guangyang?”

At this time, it was also Fang Hui’s turn to behave.

“So-so, now Hanxia manages the Xu family’s group of companies.

We just run our own pharmacy, it’s just a bit troublesome to manage these dozens of chain points.”

A master’s move is a fatal one.

He Juan also realised that he had been hasty.

Since this is the case, she can only take out a killer move.

“Just get by, just get by.

By the way, look at my brain, I forgot to introduce to you guys.

This is our family’s Xiaochuan, who is now working as a doctor at the Smith Group’s Kyoto headquarters hospital.”

Leaving aside the various Chinese hospitals.

Smith Hospital, in the whole of Kyoto, is one of the top ranked hospitals.

And because of its background as a foreign-owned enterprise.

While its benefits far exceeded those of its peers, its entry requirements had also become extremely demanding.

The staff who could join the hospital were all elites, one in a thousand.

It was indeed a remarkable thing for Chen Xiaochuan to join it.

Seeing his mother giving him a wink.

Xiaochuan could only forcibly suppress his inner reluctance.

Wasn't it just a family of riffraff that ran out of the nooks and crannies?

There was nothing to entertain.

But whether he was willing or not, his mother's face still had to be maintained.

"Hello, auntie and uncle! I'm Xiao Chuan."

After standing up and greeting.

Xiao Chuan then cast his eyes on Lin Mo and his wife.

And when it saw Xu Hanxia, its gaze subconsciously shrank.

What a beautiful girl!

With her fallen long hair, fine eyebrows and tapered face, her exquisite facial features made Chen Xiaochuan froze.

Then he looked at the man beside him, a rustic dress, like a lower class person.

And since the moment they met, they had been eating with their heads down and minding their own business.

He looked like a country bumpkin.

Apart from being a little handsome, he had no other features.

But looking at the intimate behaviour of the two men, it seemed that their relationship was not simple.

With such doubts.

Xiaochuan asked curiously.

"Uncle and aunt, these two are?"

"This is Xu Hanxia my daughter, and this is his husband, Lin Mo!

Xiaochuan is a good-looking man."

If we look at the appearance alone.

Not only was Xiaochuan's manner extraordinary, his appearance was also considered handsome.

His tall stature, coupled with his superior family background.

Naturally, he became the Prince Charming in the eyes of those single women.

It was just that throughout the chat, Xu Hanxia had not even given her a second glance.

And when he heard about the couple's status as husband and wife in Lin Mo.

Chen Xiaochuan frowned, just such a dirtbag man, how could he be worthy of such a beautiful lady.

Under the indignation.

He pretended to speak casually.

"It's a pleasure to meet you for the first time, I wonder where Mr. Lin is highly educated?"

Chapter 2289

Hearing Xiaochuan's question.

He Juan secretly gave a thumbs up towards his own son.

And then added the question.

"Right, Xiao Mo ah.

What kind of work are you doing now."

Originally, Lin Mo had been dragged here by his mother-in-law, and he just wanted to be a tool in peace and quiet.

And since he hadn't eaten breakfast and was starving, it was already noon when he arrived here.

So he buried himself alone and ate hard.

Nay, even so, he was still being watched.

But the other party had already noticed his own.

There was no escaping it.

"Hello auntie, I don't have any specific job yet.

Usually just help out with whatever patients I come across..."

Before Lin Mo could finish.

Chen Xiaochuan then picked up the conversation to.

"It seems that we are still peers, practicing medicine is good, treating the sick and saving people.

By the way Mr. Lin, I see you look a bit familiar.

I wonder if we have met somewhere before!”

Hearing the other party’s question.

Lin Mo just shook his head back.

“That shouldn’t be the case, it’s probably because I have a popular face.”

For that matter, Lin Mo was extremely sure that the other party was indeed just meeting for the first time.

Chen Xiaochuan fortunately did not dwell on it much.

Of course, although he said it politely, his eyes showed contempt.

Hmph, isn’t he just a hobo who is living off the woman’s family and waiting to die?

As for He Juan beside him, her heart was already stealing joy.

Finally, she had found this Fang Hui’s weakness.

“Xiao Mo ah, this is not good.

Although Hanxia is managing the company.

But a man should have his own career after all.”

“Look at our family Xiaochuan, although our family is from a good family.

But all his achievements nowadays are all on his own.”

Lin Mo was indifferent to these words.

Beside him, his mother-in-law was anxious.

Seeing that she was about to argue, Lin Mo hurriedly stopped her.

The reason he had not revealed his identity.

It was only because he wanted to live a few days in peace.

“Auntie, you’re right, I’ll go and find a decent job in a few days.”

After saying that, Lin Mo went back to burying his head in the sand.

This suddenly made his mother-in-law unhappy.

She had dragged Lin Mo over here because she wanted him to make her look good.

Now, not only did he fail to do so, but he was even taunted for a while.

He was so angry.

On the other side, He Juan saw that the family was speechless.

She even took advantage of the situation to.

"If you really can't, find a job in your Uncle Chen's company.

Your mother and I have been sisters for many years.

Or let Xiaochuan introduce a job as a doctor to yours."

"And everything is about living within your means.

Although you can bring Hui Hui's family to live in Kyoto.

But the premise is based on the fact that you yourself can have this financial base."

After all, they were all family.

While counting down Lin Mo, he was also mapping this Fang Hui.

"Xiaojuan, you can't say that, after all, it's also the child's heart.

Although Lin Mo is still unemployed, he has shares in the Xu Group.

There is also our chain of pharmacies too, because of Lin Mo's help, it has been able to grow so big."

For Fang Hui's explanation.

He Juan, on the other hand, raised her hand to cover her face.

"I say Hui Hui ah, these years have passed but you haven't changed at all.

Since there's no job, there's no job at all.

Why do you need to have to forcefully cover up for him, hahaha."

In the end, he couldn't hold back his inner joy.

It seemed that after years of climbing up the ladder, there was finally a winner and a loser in the younger generation.

At that moment the door of the box was also pushed open.

The waiter who came in, was in the process of setting up the dinner plates.

His eyes couldn't help but dart a few more glances towards Lin Mo.

He was so handsome!

But the more she looked, the more she felt that Lin Mo's looked a bit familiar.

After placing a plate of large Australian dragon, she hurriedly walked out of the box.

As the door closed, she took out her mobile phone.

In the next moment, she only saw her face pale, and then left the place in a hurry.

Chapter 2290

"Manager, manager! It's not good."

The manager of the restaurant, who was working on the paperwork, couldn't help but frown.

"What's all this panic about."

The waiter spoke up before the breath had time to catch its breath.

"I dare to smash box 666 and meet the newly promoted medical saint, Lin Mo."

As soon as the words left his mouth, the manager stood up straight away.

He then hurriedly called up, the surveillance on the hotel corridor.

On the other side.

Waiting for the door of the box to be opened again.

Seeing the service staff, pushing the food trolley in.

He Juan suddenly looked unhappy.

"What's going on, haven't all the dishes been served already?"

"Sorry, this is the dish our boss said to add for you for free."

After saying that, the few waiters said nothing more.

The most luxurious dishes in the entire restaurant were placed on the table one by one.

Such as Yanzhou's finest abalone, East China Sea silver dragon sturgeon, Feng Shan phoenix tail chicken and so on.

Looking at the large table full of dishes.

He Juan was also beaming with joy.

"Take a look, this restaurant is good at what it does.

Our Xiaochuan has just joined the Smith Group, hasn't he?

They are already getting close."

The wait staff at the side were full of questions, who is Xiao Chuan?

We need to lick such a little unknown person like you at the Eight Fragrance Restaurant.

Just at that moment.

A rush of footsteps came from outside the door.

The sound arrived before the person left.

"Doctor Lin, it's a pleasure to meet you."

"I never thought that our little Eight Fragrance Restaurant could have such an honour."

With that, a chubby, middle-aged man walked in.

This person was also none other than the owner behind the restaurant, Jiang Hongyun.

After receiving the news from the manager.

He directly put down all the work in his hands.

He rushed to the Eight Fragrance Restaurant as fast as he could.

After seeing Lin Mo, his eyes even lit up.

Without saying a word, he directly went forward and shook the former's hands.

"Pomp and circumstance, Doctor Saint Lin, I never expected that you could come and patronise a small place like ours."

Of course these were also his Jiang Hongyun's self-effacing words.

One of the eight great restaurants in Kyoto, how could it be a small place.

As for Lin Mo, he was being cupped by such a middle-aged greasy man with his hands full of hot eyes.

Naturally, he felt a gust of bad chill and pulled his hands back without moving.

At that moment, Jiang Hongyun also realised his abruptness.

After an awkward smile, he then spoke directly.

"Manager Liu, go and bring the best red wine from our restaurant.

If there is the slightest dissatisfaction with our Medical Saint Lin today, you can roll your bunk and leave."

At this time, the Chen family's mother and son also finally reacted.

Chen Xiaochuan in particular was only in shock as he stood up.

"Lin Mo? You're the champion of that Medical Saint Competition?"

At this time, Lin Mo could only shrug his shoulders helplessly.

"If, in China, there was only one champion called Lin Mo, then it would be me."

The reason why he didn't want to announce his identity in a high profile.

The fear was that this was the case.

Behind this Medical Saint title, it was the sixteen top powers in China that were built.

For those businessmen chasing profits, it was naturally a piece of meat and potatoes.

And I when Lin Mo finished speaking.

The two Chen family mothers and sons directly stared at each other.

No wonder, when they met, he had felt that Lin Mo looked familiar.

Now think back carefully, it turned out to be the first time on live TV, a hasty glance.

But on the one hand, he was busy, and on the other hand, he was a top genius in the field of medicine.

If there is no surprise, he will definitely be a big brother in the management of the Medical Union in the future.

No matter what, he would not meet with a man from the city like himself.

Therefore, he did not look into this aspect.

“Hui Hui, this, I didn’t expect your son-in-law to be so remarkable.”

After learning the truth of the matter.

He Juan boasted to with such a compensating smile.

And Fang Hui, who had endured for so long, was finally given the chance to release.

“There’s nothing more to it!

To a hobo like him, how can he possibly compare to your family’s Xiaochuan.

If it’s possible, I’d like to ask you guys to introduce me to a job.”

At this moment, she was still indescribably cheerful.
