

Genius 2821

Chapter 2821

Song Zhilan had originally resisted, not because he didn't want to help Lin Mo, but she herself was worried that she wouldn't be able to do a good job and add to Lin Mo's mess, but now after being comforted, she was able to make up her mind.

"Alright then, I'll give it a try."

Lin Mo was overjoyed when he saw that Song Zhilan had agreed, so that he would not have to worry about the merchant alliance.

"Sister Song, in these few days, you should first hand over the Yunchuang side is a handover, for some time to come, things will be more complicated."

"Please!"

Song Zhilan looked at Lin Mo's hot eyes face couldn't help but blush, then there immediately returned to normal.

"Alright, just think of it as my sister owing you, I'll make the arrangements over at the group."

The Yunchuang Group is now on the right track and does not need him to worry much, and there is also a branch of the group over in Panyang, so it is not impossible to move the headquarters to Panyang, but it is only Song Zhilan's one point transfer order.

After this matter was agreed, Lin Mo also considered the safety of Song Zhilan, and directly transferred the feathered guards headed by Di Yun to Song Zhilan's side, and Chen Jin was also transferred from Panyang, so that the feathered guards' skills would protect Song Zhilan's safety and training would not be left behind, killing two birds with one stone.

The night went on without a word.

The next day's meeting was still scheduled for midday, and there were still many things to be dealt with, except that everyone who stayed behind had already joined the Chamber of Commerce, so many things were easier to deal with.

The president of the Chamber of Commerce is naturally Lin Mo, and the vice-president is Song Zhilan. Although many people have a lot of complaints about this, since Lin Mo has already appointed him, they do not dare to say anything more.

As for the headquarters of the merchant union, it has not been decided for the time being, as the city of Panyang is too remote and Heshan is even more remote and not as remote as Panyang.

This is something that Lin Mo intends to wait until he has finished reorganising Hanoi Province before choosing a location. As for the council of the Commercial Union, there are only four members at the moment, namely Lin Mo, Song Zhi Lan, Zhao Zi Yan and Tong Xiao He, while the others are yet to be decided.

As for the name of the merchant alliance, it is naturally the Da Qu Merchant Alliance.

The time had come in the evening after one item of business had been dealt with.

“Now that the Da Qo Commercial Union has been established, I would like to thank all the members for their cooperation over the past two days.

In order to show our appreciation, I will give you all a second gift today.”

As soon as Lin Mo said this, the scene instantly regained its calm, now that the merchant alliance had been established, the crowd all just needed the main event to come.

“I’m sure everyone is already aware of the conflict between the Kong family and I. Let the Kong family now serve as a stepping stone for our merchant alliance’s fame to shake Da Qu.”

“I will be the first to make a move against the Kong family, as for all the members of the merchant alliance, you watch yourselves, after the fall of the Kong family, I will not take a penny, other resources, whoever of you snatches them will be counted as theirs, just be careful not to hurt the peace.”

The crowd originally thought that Lin Mo wanted to use them for personal gain and use them to deal with the Kong family, but after hearing this division of benefits, none of them did not praise Lin Mo for his openness and selflessness.

The Kong family was nothing to Lin Mo, but to the vast majority of people there, it was an unbeatable existence. Now that Lin Mo was taking the lead, they could eat the meat behind them, so how could the crowd not be willing.

“Then this is the end of the two-day meeting, let’s have a celebration feast after the fall of the Kong family.”

With Lin Mo’s order, the crowd also hurried back to their forces to prepare the tableware for the meat, as for the celebration feast, is it not just a powder cake?

As for the establishment of the Da Qu Merchant Alliance, it also spread rapidly at the same time.

Chapter 2822

“Father, it’s not good, it’s not good.”

After Kong Li got the news that Lin Mo had set up a merchant alliance to deal with the Kong family, he was scared out of his wits, just one Lin Mo alone was enough for them to drink, now there were thousands of people from all the major and minor forces, there was no point in fighting, let’s run away quickly.

He had originally reveled in the fact that Lin Mo had offended the great prince and thought that he would not live for a few days, but now Lin Mo was not only safe and sound, but even more powerful.

“What’s the matter, stammering, can you have some of the qualities of a Kong family member.”

He was already distracted, and at this moment, being so noisy by the only remaining one, he was in an even grumpier mood.

The first time Kong Jingtian learned of Lin Mo's establishment of the merchant alliance, he had sent out invitations with the intention of uniting against Lin Mo through his own connections, but this initiative had ultimately fallen through, and even the Wu family, who were close to them, had chosen to play deaf and dumb at this time.

"Humph a bunch of white-eyed wolves, they don't want to think about who led them to become big and strong in the first place, now that my Kong family is in trouble, they all choose to be ostriches."

"Why are you still staying here, hurry up and arrange for the manpower."

Even at this point he was not worried about the safety of the Kong family, but about his own inheritance, the big deal was that when the time came, he would sell all of the family's assets and flee abroad to continue to escape.

If Kong Jingtian had known that his only surviving son was thinking this way, he would have been furious.

After the joint meeting of the business alliance was over, there was no major incident in the whole of Da Qu, except for the fact that there was a lot of talk about the matter, and anyone who had a heart knew that it was just the calm before the storm.

This morning, the sun was a little less balmy, and the wind seemed much colder than usual.

Kong Jingtian made one last contact with Zhenla, but the only reply he received was that he should take care of himself. As for the black-robed man who had encouraged him to take action against the Sixth Prince, he never saw him again, and he could not contact the Grand Prince.

Now the only way for the Kong family to go is to fight alone.

Daju Stock Market Advisory: Today's opening bell saw a precipitous plunge in the share price of the Kong family group.

Once this news came out, all members of the Da Qu Business Alliance knew that this was a signal for Lin Mo to make his move and that it was time to grab the meat.

Kong Jingtian had just received the news from the stock market and hadn't even slowed down when the butlers over here all brought news on the real estate.

"Family master our Kong's neighbouring communities have started selling at reduced prices."

Kong Jingtian only smiled disdainfully at this: "Humph, reduced price sales, will those householders who have already purchased their homes agree, don't worry."

"Exactly brainless, wanting this method to hit our Kong family, childish."

The butler hesitated for a moment before answering truthfully, "Those of them who have already purchased their homes, took a subsidy, how much lower they compensate?"

Er .....

This is a way of competition that hurts the enemy a thousand and damages himself a hundred, what the home buyers are most concerned about is the issue of rising or falling house prices, and once they subsidize the price reduction scheme, no matter how much it rises or falls, the household owners will not lose money, where will anyone buy their Kong family's house.

"A bunch of shameless people, how dare they use such underhanded tricks."

After Kong Jingtian threw a temper tantrum, he then wilted down, this method was for their Kong family was no solution, not long ago they had just made up the income from the Ding family's treasure, they were already greatly wounded, how could they have any funds left to fight hard with each other.

Chapter 2823

The construction team, upon learning of the news, panicked, and with the inducement of those who were interested, all the construction workers felt that the Kong family was going to collapse, and at one time groups of construction workers rushed to Lin Mo to start demanding their salaries.

"House Master, all the merchants have collectively surrendered their leases for the shops under our name."

"House Master, it's not good, all of our dock customers all moved perhaps, the dock that went to ship."

"The cargo money agency side said they cancelled our loan qualification, and now they are all coming to our door to ask for debts."

"Father, how come my pocket money this month didn't hit me ....."

The bad news came one after another, in just two or three days' time, all the industries under the Kong family's name had stopped working and their capital chains were completely broken.

To put it simply, not only was the Kong family now broke, they were also in debt.

Kong Jingtian has also tried all sorts of ways to ask for help, but now he has been suppressed on all fronts, so there is no one to come back to help him, even those underground power loan-sharking organisations are not willing to lend him money, so you can imagine that the Kong family is completely at the end of its rope.

"Master, the stock market called and asked if we still have funds to replenish, if not we are going to be delisted."

In just three days' time, Kong Jingtian had aged as if he had aged by more than ten years, his head was full of white and there was no longer a single wiry thread to be found, his eyes were even sunken in, and there was no blood on his face, he looked completely sick to death.

Now he was desperate, he could not see the possibility of breaking the situation, his heart was already ashes, and the picture of Lin Mo in front of him had been pierced with holes.

Kong Jing joints propped up the table, palms cupped head, breathlessly said.

"Just delist it!"

The Kong family already had no money, so why should they care if they were listed or not?

“How is the family situation now?”

Seeing that the butler did not reply, he looked up and slowly opened his eyes, “Asking you!”

“Master, all the industries under our name have stopped working and there is already a gap of more than 160 billion in the capital chain.

If we were to sell our a*sets .....

Kong Jingtian knew what the butler meant: “Buy them, throw them all out, even if they are earned by others, we can’t let Lin Mo get a little sweet.”

“Also how is the progress over at the killer group?”

“They . . . have, all of them, been wiped out.”

Waiting for such a result, Kong Jingtian wasn’t much surprised, back then so many a*sa*sins were able to fail to nail Lin Mo, now he had thousands of Tiger Guards around him even more unlikely to succeed.

“Alright, I know, you go down!”

Kong Jingtian didn’t hit the law thunder, nor did he roar, he just waved his hand calmly.

Thinking of his lifetime of fame, he had developed the Kong family from a small, obscure family into, one of the top powers in Hanoi, but now he never thought that he would be brought down by a hairy kid, and from the time they had formed a feud until now, the two sides had not even met once.

“What a shame to lose!”

He thought about how all the feud was just a conflict between his family’s junior, Kong Wu, and his family, but now it had evolved into a family war. It was ridiculous to think that the Sixth Prince, whom he had defended against for a thousand times, had not made a move against them, but now the family had fallen under Lin Mo.

If he could, he really wanted to start a war and raid all those hyenas who were suppressing the Kong family’s properties, but he didn’t dare, once he did so, their family would be exterminated rather than bankrupt.

Kong Jingtian glanced up, the sunrise outside the window was blinding, but it represented a new day.

“I blame my father for being incompetent and unable to avenge you all.”

Reflecting on the gla*s, he seemed to see the smiling faces of several of his sons who had died and were waving to him.

Shortly afterwards, only a muffled sound could be heard and the entire Kong family was in chaos.

“It’s not good, the family head has jumped off the building!”

Chapter 2824

It is said that before he died, he was clutching a picture of Lin Mo in his hand. The death of Kong Jingtian also signalled the complete decline of the Kong family and its withdrawal from the stage of history, perhaps with some sighs of relief, but after the lamentation, it was business as usual and Daqu would not be completely paralysed by the disappearance of a Kong family.

The outside world was in an uproar, as a family of several hundred years had been wiped out by Lin Mo in less than a week, and this battle alone made the outside world begin to take a fresh look at the rising Da Qu Merchant Alliance.

As for the members of the Da Qu Merchant Alliance, they did not care too much when they heard the news of Kong Jingtian's death, they were now busy buying up all the assets under the Kong family name, and everyone who participated in it was making a fortune.

A few days later, the promised celebration banquet began, and at this banquet, the official establishment ceremony of the Da Qu Chamber of Commerce would also take place.

As for the venue, it was naturally chosen to be at the Gan family's house, there was no way that Heshan City was too backward after all, even the best hotel here could not accommodate such a large banquet.

But when Lin Mo and the Crown Prince arrived at the Gan family again, they were stunned by the scene in front of them.

"This is the Gan family?"

The crown prince was also a bit unsure, after observing the nearby buildings, he nodded with certainty, as long as the Gan family had changed so much, the original small place had now been bulldozed all around, the area alone had expanded seven or eight times, and the most striking thing was the three large buildings that were more than ten meters high and about a hundred meters wide.

From a distance, the Gan family residence can only be seen vaguely, and will only look exceptionally small in front of several buildings.

Not far away, with his hands behind his back, Gan Lao, who was inspecting the building, could not help but show a smug smile on his face when he saw the stunned duo. Since the last gathering for the establishment of the merchant alliance had been held, many people had complained that the Gan family was too small, allowing people to meet in the square, with no words of class.

Master Gan felt that he had lost face, so his heart was in the right place, and all the buildings except the Gan family residence were given his orders to be pushed to, including the obstructive fence.

"Young Lin, Crown Prince, how is it, is the old man's newly built Gan family okay?"

Old man Gan walked up to the two men and proudly briefly introduced himself.

"This side is the 10,000 people venue, this side is the banquet hall, and this side is the guest lounge, all of which exist to accommodate 10,000 people."

The prince slowed down and swallowed, raising his hand and pointing at the building in front of him, "How did you do this, old man Gan?"

Although he had seen a lot of the world, it had only been about half a month before and after the end of the last meeting, how had these huge buildings been constructed?

Old man Gan smiled mysteriously, "By people, for this project, I recruited more than 30,000 construction workers, twenty-four hours a day, working in shifts."

Over 30,000 people! The labour cost alone was several hundred million dollars, not counting the construction costs, and the Prince couldn't help but give a thumbs up when he thought of this.

"Old man Gan, open-minded! It's a lot of money to break the bank for this banquet."

Faced with the Prince's praise, Old Man Gan chin one, and after straightening his collar, he was on cloud nine.

"It's all a small amount of money, it's all a small amount of money, how can our power in Heshan City be deflated by outsiders.

And I have a joint venture with Pei, in the back of the mountain ready to build a, five-star hotel."

The more he said the more excitement on his face, no other than good face er!

The side of Lin Mo you listen to again and again, the heart of appreciation gradually thickened.

The headquarters of the business alliance has not yet chosen a site, in the future, large and small gatherings and business alliance activities are to be held in this side of the city of Heshan, and the Gan family can take advantage of this opportunity to make the family's reputation thoroughly.

Chapter 2825

Although the Gan family's initial investment is large, the hidden benefits are also not small. Although the city of Heshan is remote, it is located near the sea and is rich in local specialties and seafood, all that is missing is an opportunity to promote it to the public.

Once the city of Heshan is developed, this initial investment will only be a small amount of money, and as the head of the host city, he has naturally joined the business alliance, which will facilitate the development of his family.

After some small talk between the two sides, Master Gan left to check on the preparations for the banquet and the establishment ceremony.

Shortly after Lin Mo arrived at the guest lounge, the other members of the merchant alliance arrived one after another, taking advantage of the fact that the banquet had not yet started and there were still some unallocated profits that needed to be dealt with.

With this cooperation in suppressing the Kong family, the relationship between the guests was much more cordial, and they were all talking about how much they had eaten and how much they had made, with smiles all over their faces.

"Is everyone still satisfied with this gift!"

The words rang out and everyone stopped talking and their eyes turned towards Lin Mo.

“Young Lin, there is nothing we are not satisfied with.”

“Yes, Lin Mo, next time you have such a good thing, you can definitely inform us.”

“Young Lin, which other family has a grudge against you, let’s destroy them all together.”

After all, profit moves people’s hearts, after making a big profit, many people’s moods also booked a lot of appointments, and joked with Lin Mo as well.

Lin Mo looked at the performance of the crowd and turned his head to Song Zhilan and said.

“See, they are actually very manageable, as long as you can lead them to make money, they will respect you like a god.

Of course once it comes to the fight for profit, they can instantly turn into hungry wolves.”

Before Song Zhilan could recall the meaning, Lin Mo’s side had already walked up to the crowd.

“We are businessmen, it’s all about doing business in peace, what’s the point of fighting and killing.”

“Since everyone is satisfied, then let’s first divide the remaining unallocated territory of the Kong family together.”

As expected, as Lin Mo said, once this matter was brought up, the faces of the originally smiling members suddenly turned serious, nowadays the Kong Family still had two large pieces of cake that had not been finished dividing, one was the Kong Yes Group, and the other was the Kong Family Sea and Shipping Line, which was the bulk of the Kong Family’s industry, mainly because it was not good to distribute, and it was not willing to give it to anyone.

Just because of the problem of belonging to these two places, there were not small disputes among the members of the merchant alliance privately, no one wanted to give up these two big pieces of cake’s.

Lin Mo’s method of dealing with this is also very simple, shareholding system division, common money common construction, willing to invest in the group to pay for the acquisition of the Kong Group, want to develop the land to invest in the sea, the rich more money to take up more profits, fair and reasonable.

Once this proposal was made, the crowd was happy to do so.

“Those who are interested will go to Vice President Song’s place to register, when the time comes, the same treatment.”

This is the benefit of the merchant alliance, many projects just need to be invested as long as one pays for them, there is no need to worry about them at all, and there is a place to resolve conflicts and strife.

As for those small forces, merchants with smaller assets could also reap the corresponding profits.

In time, all of them approached Song Zhilan again with smiles on their faces to discuss the time to join the stock, and their back and forth changes of face also made Song Zhilan gradually have ground in her heart and began to slowly understand Lin Mo’s meaning.

By the time everyone had finished registering, the members' sense of belonging to the merchant alliance had also strengthened quite a bit, except that some people still had doubts.

"Young Lin, you haven't gained any profit from this operation, isn't this giving us a free ride?"

With these words, Lin Mo once again became the focus of the whole room.

Chapter 2826

The question about Lin Mo not taking a single cent of profit was also a concern for the others. If Lin Mo was really so selfless and self-sacrificing, they really wouldn't feel at ease.

Lin Mo only smiled lightly in the face of the crowd's puzzled gazes.

"I'm not so noble as to keep working for you guys for nothing, it's just that the Kong family is my personal grudge this time after all, so all the proceeds will be considered as everyone's fortune."

"And this is all just a small profit."

The crowd knew that Lin Mo was not bragging, just the few pills he had on hand, which was not a profitable product sweeping the market existence, and this explanation the crowd was convinced, the business alliance was indeed set up for common development, not Lin Mo's private organization, want to help can, come up with the payment.

The results of the war after the destruction of the Kong family business were all distributed at this point, and Lin Mo saw that it was almost time.

"The dinner party is almost ready to start, I'll go and get ready first, let's all chat first."

"Boss, wait a minute!"

Lin Mo had just walked to the door when Song Zhilan caught up with him.

"You're at least the president of the Merchant Alliance, do you still have to wear this rag when the dinner party comes later?"

"Isn't this quite good, sportswear is easy and simple, and the key is to wear it comfortably."

Lin Mo stretched out his arms with a self-satisfied look, however, Song Zhilan only responded with a blank stare.

"How old are you? You're still acting like a child. I'll have someone send you the suit I ordered earlier.

You are the president, you represent the face of the Commercial Union!"

Lin Mo could only nervously scratch his head in the face of Song Zhilan's spiteful comments. He really didn't care much about his image, after all, he didn't really like this kind of flashy topless performance either, but nowadays the situation was different, so he couldn't just let his nature take over.

Although she had gathered a few of the group's powerful men and transferred a few elite talents from Tong Xiaohe's side, there were too many things to do in the early stage of the business alliance and she was simply too busy.

When Lin Mo arrived at the banquet hall, he did not see any guests who had arrived in advance, only busy staff members shuttling in and out of the room, and a decorative vase that had tipped over right beside him.

Subconsciously, he picked it up and carefully cleaned it up before clapping his hands in satisfaction, but just as he was turning around to change his clothes, several gorgeously dressed young men suddenly came through the door.

The first one was a young girl in a long skirt who sat down gently under the crowd of male voices. She glanced at Lin Mo who was close by and couldn't help but stare, not expecting this waiter to be quite handsome, but in her opinion, even if he was handsome, he was just a waiter.

"WAITER, COFFEE!"

The pronunciation was very standard and smooth, but Lin Mo was a bit dazed, this group of youngsters were treating themselves as waiters.

"Hey, I'm talking about you, what are you dumbfounded about, Miss Fei Fei said she wants coffee, hurry up and get it ready."

"What a rustic, you can't even understand English!"

Under the ridicule, Lin Mo laughed bitterly and shook his head, as the host didn't expect a group of rich kids as waiters, it seems he was about to pick up the road to pick up the road himself.

"Sorry, I am not any waiter, if you want coffee, those people can help you."

Lin Mo's tone was calm and not angry, he was just objectively stating a fact, after he finished he turned around and went to play backstage to change his costume.

"Che, this waiter is so arrogant, I'll have my father fire him later."

"Miss Fifi, you don't have to care about him, let me pour you coffee."

Said a group of young lads then started to be madly attentive, pouring coffee and fetching dessert, this was a super millennial that could make them struggle for ten less lives.

Chapter 2827

The first one to arrive was Ding Li, who was also smart enough to follow the actions of the business alliance and took down the Kong family's underground casino directly after the fall of the Kong family, making a big profit.

Since and according to the form of Lin Mo's arrangement, he is also developing better and better, faster and faster, looking at the increasingly powerful forces under him, the smile on his face has never fallen, the only regret is that his feet are still not sharp, walking a little limp.

“Young Lin, congratulations!”

This cry of congratulations naturally referred to the president of the Merchant Alliance.

Lin Mo looked at this b*****d’s villainous look and couldn’t help but shake his head, it looked like he was drifting.

“You should pay attention, although you have made a lot of profit this time, but pay attention to hiding your wealth, otherwise those brothers of your Ding family will screw you again.”

Ding Li was a nail that Lin Mo had buried in the Ding family, and Lin Mo did not want him to cool off before he was activated.

“I understand that.”

The people who seized the Kong family’s underground casino were all his hidden inner circle, outsiders would not directly associate them with him, this point was still clear in Ding Li’s mind.

“Enlarge your frame of mind a little, don’t let this small benefit in front of you cloud your mind, your future is to stand at the top of Da Qu.”

While no one was around in private, Lin Mo reminded Ding Li again. At this time, the banquet hall was buzzing with the arrival of the members of the merchant alliance, and Lin Mo was not paying attention to Ding Li.

When he arrived in the hall, he met the group of rich kids. Lin Mo was already handsome, and now after he changed into formal wear, his aura was on a higher level, and many of the female guests in the room looked at him sideways.

But just because of these few glances immediately made the fellow teenagers beside him jealous.

“Isn’t he just a waiter, what’s the point of pretending?”

“Yeah, change your vest and you think you can turn the sky upside down.”

“A little white face, how disgusting.”

As soon as the prince beside him heard this, he was about to go up and teach them a lesson, only to be stopped by Lin Mo, just one look at their attitude towards the girl named Fei Fei told him that the teenagers were jealous.

“It’s the hormonal restlessness of youth, you don’t need to mind them.”

Where could Prince, a single straight man of steel, react to this, except that since his big brother had already spoken, he could only glare at the group of rich teenagers and then turn back resentfully.

Soon after, other guests began to arrive one by one, and the sound of names being sung outside the door rang out.

“Hai Fang City, Guan Yao has arrived!”

As soon as he heard Guan Yao’s name, one of the rich youngsters lit up.

And after Guan Yao hurriedly entered the door, he was looking for this Lin Mo figure, but was pulled aside by his own son.

“Father, you’ve finally come.”

He had come to the banquet to deal with an important matter, and now that he had been interfered with by Guan He, he was naturally not in a good mood.

“What is it?”

Guan He hadn’t noticed that his father’s tone had become impatient, and he was just spouting off his grievances.

“Father, this waiter is so arrogant, just now I asked him to pour us a coffee and he’s ignoring us.

Can you think of a way to get him out, I can see he’s being an eyesore.”

Faced with his son’s not excessive request, Guan Yao did not refuse, it was just a matter of firing a waiter, as long as he said so, old man Gan’s side would definitely obediently do so.

However, when he looked in the direction of Guan He’s finger, Guan Yao suddenly turned pale, because that person was Lin Mo, who was chatting with the prince.

“You call him a waiter? And you let him pour you coffee?”

Seeing the sudden change in his father’s face, Guan He was not sure what had happened, and just nodded woodenly.

Chapter 2828

Lin Mo? A waiter?

The company’s main goal is to provide the best possible service to its customers.

I’ve been ruined by you.

“Father, that’s him that’s him, when I first entered the banquet, I even saw him visiting the vase there, you should quickly get rid of this subordinate, save us the eyesore.”

Guan He originally wanted to put on a show in front of his friends, and by the way, he also let Fei Fei see the strength of his old man, and for this reason he raised his voice a few times, wanting to put on a cup in front of the crowd.

Only when he finished, he was confronted with a loud slap from his old man afterwards.

“b****d, shut up for me.”

The sound of a crisp slap resounded throughout the whole area, and looking at the red five-finger marks on Guan He’s face, it was obvious that Guan Yao had used a lot of strength in this slap.

He didn’t even know what he had done wrong. He had just asked his father to throw a servant out of the house, why was he so angry?

“Get your a*s over here and apologise to young Lin!”

After Guan Yao had finished lecturing his good eldest son, he had grabbed the latter by the collar and brought him in front of Lin Mo.

“Young Lin, I’m sorry, this son of mine doesn’t know any better, he rushed you.”

Guan Yao finished with a force in his hand, directly finishing pressing Guan Wo’s body: “Apologize to Mr. Lin Mo.”

When these words came out, the crowd had not yet understood what had happened, but it was the group of second generation rich people whose faces changed greatly, they had heard of Lin Mo’s reputation like thunder and lightning, bombing the Ding family pier, beating up Ding Li, capturing the leader of the other party among the former people, later killing General Hai, destroying the Kong family, etc., just to pick one thing, it was something they would never dare to do in their lives.

Many of them regarded Lin Mo as their idol, which is why they wanted to come to this banquet to meet the leading figure of their young generation, but they did not expect to meet him, but they made such a big mess.

What the hell is this?

After learning Lin Mo’s identity, Guan He was so scared that his body trembled, judging from Lin Mo’s past style of action, this person was not a good person, if he was on his mind, there was absolutely no way he would have a good time.

“Young Lin, I’m sorry, it’s my dog’s eye, I hope you don’t mind.”

When he finished speaking, Guan Yao on the side still felt unsatisfied and pressed Guan He and then wanted to press him to the ground and kowtow to apologise.

“Mr. Guan, there is no need for that.”

“It’s just a young man’s jealousy, there’s no need to take it so seriously, and I’m not that petty.”

Lin Mo really didn’t take this matter to heart, and now that he had apologised, there was no need to hold on to it.

Hearing this, Guan Yao then let go of Guan He: “Go back, what can’t you do, you are very proficient in getting into trouble.”

“Mr. Guan, you don’t know your character when you’re squirming, just say what you want.”

Since he had already been told, Guan Yao did not hesitate: “Someone serve tea!”

With this unexpected shout, all the attention hit this side, as for Lin Mo and the Prince, they were also confused, what was this for?

Just when everyone’s full of even doubts, between Guan Yao hands holding tea, one knee down.

“Young Lin, I am at fault for being lax in my control, which led to the interception of the ship this time.

I hope that Lin Shao can forgive me!”

With that he raised the tea above his head.

This .... The majority of people in the room felt that this move was a bit too much, not just a boat interception incident under the men, this one knee thank you tea is also too much of an uproar.

Chapter 2829

Of all the people present, perhaps only Lin Mo understood Guan Yao's intention. This cup of tea of thanks was not only because of the incident of the eight-faced Buddha's ship interception, but also the previous incident on the Merillia, where Guan Yao led the siege against Lin Mo.

The main thing was that the night vine business that he was about to start was disliked by Lin Mo in the first place.

Lin Mo did not kill General Hai but did not kill the eight-faced Buddha who had intercepted the ship, which also told Guangyao that I would not kill him all, and you still had the chance to admit your mistake.

Combined with all of this, will be about now the tea act of thanks, and his heart is also apprehensive at this time, he does not know before the merchant alliance was established in the early days, for Lin Mo strong favor can not play an effect, after all, he is not sure, Lin Mo heart is actually how big.

At this time, Guan York did not dare to raise his head, can only inwardly anxiously waiting for Lin Mo's answer, so that after waiting for three or five seconds, Guan York only felt a loose hand, the tea cup was taken away by Lin Mo, so he could not help but breathe a sigh of relief, now Lin Mo has become a great power, he must bow down.

"I'll take the tea, and I can let bygones be bygones for what happened before."

"But there is one thing that General Guan wants you to keep in mind, one cannot be too greedy sometimes and one cannot stretch one's hand too far.

It's fine to make money, but you have to abide by the rules and keep your conscience."

Guan Yao understood the meaning between Lin Mo's words, it was true that Lin Mo was still holding a grudge about the matter of the night vine.

"Thank you Lin Shao for being generous, I will always keep Lin Shao's words in my heart."

The reason why Lin Mo didn't save his life by holding onto Guan Yao was because he felt that he still had a great use for him, he still had the matter of restarting the Hanoi Province Martial Alliance at this gathering, and he would still need Guan Yao's help when he faced those little sneaks.

Of course, if this person does not know what is good or bad, and persists in his obsession, Lin Mo naturally will not keep him, life or death depends on how Guan Yao himself chooses.

The conversation was so foggy that the others couldn't figure it out. They apologised to Lin Mo and fled the place. Even Guan Yao had to bow down in front of Lin Mo, and they were not enough for Lin Mo to beat him with one hand.

After receiving Lin Mo's understanding, Guan Yao also stood up, "Lin Shao, I still have to thank you for helping me clean up this time."

He said as he bent down again with his cup of tea, only this time it was not a thank you, but an acknowledgement.

The eight-faced Buddha's betrayal was a thorn in Guangyao's heart, but with General Hai and the Grand Prince behind him, he could not do anything to stop the eight-faced Buddha, and if not for Lin Mo, he would have lost a lot of face.

Lin Mo accepted this frankly, but just as he was lifting his cup of tea and drinking it, Guan Yao spoke again.

"Young Lin, if you don't mind, how about the two of us becoming brothers of the opposite sex?"

Hearing these words, the tea in Lin Mo's mouth directly spurted out.

"Are you serious?"

This Guan You's daughter and son were all about the same age as himself, which meant that Guan You was his uncle and uncle's generation, so to tie the knot? What an international joke.

If he and Lin Mo had tied the knot, then he would have to call Lin Mo "Uncle Lin".

I don't know if I can be a person anymore.

Fortunately, Lin Mo refused straight away.

"Mr. Guan, our age difference is too big for me, it's not suitable, let's forget about this matter."

He and the crown prince so good relationship, did not say what to tie the knot not to tie the knot, GuanYao is more than to say, moreover the two sides in the future in the end is enemy or friend, are still unclear, tie a hammer of worship!

Is there something seriously wrong!

Chapter 2830

When Guan Yao heard this, a disappointed expression appeared on his face and he secretly said that it was a pity.

Although General Hai had died at the hands of Lin Mo, the culprit of the incident was one of his men, and if the Grand Prince pursued the matter, he would definitely be implicated.

He was originally thinking of tying up with Lin Mo and then tying them together so that Lin Mo could help him in front of Ding Lei, but Lin Mo wouldn't agree.

GuanYao thank tea perception, in the crowd blindfolded doubt slowly calm down, at this time outside the door again singing name again.

"Zhao family, Zhao Ziyang, Zhao Yu to."

“Oceanic Group, Tong Xiaohe has arrived.”

These two had already appeared at the scene of the establishment of the Sub-Commercial Union before that, and at this time, the crowd was not surprised that they had come.

On the contrary, it was Tong Xiaohe who found Lin Mo as soon as he entered the door.

“Young Lin, sorry, originally my father wanted to come to this banquet in person.

It’s just that something suddenly came up at the last minute and he couldn’t come, so he could only ask me to attend it for him.”

As he said that, he took out a gift box from his arms, “This is a gift that father asked me to hand over to you, on the one hand, as a gift for saving young Lin’s life, and on the other hand, as a thank you to young Lin, for his generous help in the matter of intercepting the ship.”

As Tong Xiaohe handed the gift box over, he added, “Because the last time was too hasty, I didn’t have time to mobilise, so I have delayed until now, I hope that young Lin doesn’t mind.”

The others beside him were instantly curious, and they all stretched their necks to see what kind of gift this Sino-Ocean Group was sending out, that it had taken so long to prepare.

After receiving the gift box, the prince didn’t care too much, the padded weight wasn’t very heavy. Driven by curiosity, he secretly opened the gift box when Lin Mo wasn’t paying attention, only that there wasn’t any amazing priceless treasure inside, only a piece of paper.

That’s right, it was just a piece of well-made white paper.

The prince frowned, feeling as if he had been tricked, who was he looking down on by giving away a piece of paper, but when he opened this piece of white paper, his eyes immediately went round and his breathing became heavier.

“Big brother, big brother!”

Lin Mo had always thought that his mind was sturdy and that he could be unperturbed by anything he encountered, yet when he saw the contents of the white paper handed over by the prince, his face also changed drastically.

There was no way this gift was too extravagant.

“General Manager Tong, this gift of thanks is too expensive for us to accept.”

Six frigates and two destroyers, this was already a complete warship combat team!

This great gift even if one looked around the world, no more than five fingers of power would be given out, this was an existence that money could not even buy.

However, when faced with Lin Mo’s shock, Tong Xiaohe only smiled lightly.

“Young Lin, compared to my father’s life, these are just extraneous things.

Moreover, Lin Shao is also our potential future big customer, now we are playing nice, we also want Lin Shao to latch on ah.”

Lin Mo knew clearly that this was just a joke from the other side, but the Sino-Ocean Group had clients? It is obvious that they do not lack at all, their business is to the country this level, Lin Mo even if the future development up, purchasing volume can not be ranked into the other group's top 100 customers.

"Mr. Lin, just accept it, otherwise next time my father will still have to come and give it to me personally."

Lin Mo saw the other party's firm attitude, so he did not pretend.

"Then thank you for your group's generous help, I'll take this favour down for Lin Mo!"

"You're welcome, Lin, this is our gift of thanks!"

The others had no idea what this thank you gift actually was, they just saw a blank piece of paper, and then the chat between the two suddenly became enthusiastic.
