

Genius 3401

Chapter 3401

Bai Rongruo's figure had just appeared.

The entire live broadcast room exploded straight away.

With a little smile on her face, she looked at the camera.

"Welcome our third guest today, Miss Bai Rongruo."

Bai Shou'er looked at her own sister with a smile on her face.

Wanting to say something, she found that her sister's attention was not even on her own.

Bai Rongruo's gaze had been gathering quietly on Lin Mo's body.

There was no intention to pay any attention to his sister at all.

"Brothers, I feel that something is not right."

"Ai Qing come quickly."

"The widow has made you a king, speak your mind quickly."

"Look at Immortal Bai Rongruo's eyes, you guys, they've been staring at Lord Lin Mo!"

The moment this pop-up came out, everyone was instantly stunned.

One by one, they seriously looked towards Bai Rongruo's eyes.

Sure enough, they found that his eyes had been quietly staring at Lin Mo below them.

"Hiss, take a breath of cold air backwards."

"Something is wrong, this is very wrong, the widow needs to see all the intelligence in three minutes."

"Someone, where is my intelligence!"

One by one, the netizens noticed that things were not simple.

Some of them even made up a story that was comparable to chatting.

Seeing what was on the pop-ups, a hint of depression flashed in Bai Shaoer's eyes.

How come her own sister was looking at Lin Mo as soon as she appeared.

Was this sister of hers so devoid of status in her eyes?

She quickly took out her phone and sent a private message to Bai Rongruo outside the camera.

The screen was originally dumbfounded Bai Rongruo's face changed for a moment, and then seemed to look at something.

Two blushes quickly crept on top of her white and red cheeks.

She had actually lost her temper like that with so many people watching, it was simply a shame.

“Everyone, I have some things on my side, so I’ll leave first.”

Bai Rongruo’s words rang out, followed by a glance at Lin Mo without the slightest concealment of her gaze.

Her gaze carried too many emotions, elegance, whiteness, and that deepest hidden indefinable.

For a moment, the audience was all captivated by Bai Rongruo’s eyes.

It was as if they felt that the fairy-like woman was right in front of them.

This glance seemed to be able to finish the sorrows and joys of this world, as well as the shades and circles.

There were only a few pop-ups on the whole screen at the moment.

And what was written on the pop-ups was still.

“I can actually see such a scene in my lifetime, in this life, it’s worth it!”

“If I must add a name, I think it should be A glance of ten thousand years.”

“It was as if that one glance told all of your stories and saw everything.”

Once you click on the comments you will see.

All of these comments are from world famous literary figures.

Most of them are even old scholars who have won world literary awards for their love stories.

They are all in tears at the moment.

Because it was as if they were really seeing the heroine of their dream love story.

Lin Mo’s screen also disappeared abruptly, leaving only Bai Shaoer alone.

Lin Mo, who had exited the live broadcast, had a helpless face.

He was a married man being watched in front of so many people, who could stand it?

After taking a glance at the list he had drawn up earlier, a smile flashed across Lin Mo’s face.

It would be enough to leave the next occasion to Bai Shaoer.

And he himself was ready to wrap up the work.

The Xie family in Kyoto.

Back at the Xie Family, Master Xie sat in his chair with a grim look on his face.

Xie Xingguo walked over from a short distance away and didn't know what to say when he looked at his father's appearance.

The Xie family had killed Lin Mo so many times, but as a result, not only did the latter not have a single thing to do by now.

On the contrary, he was becoming more and more powerful, and the Xie family did not even have the slightest solution now.

Chapter 3402

Above the vast expanse of the Western Ocean, several huge ships are travelling on the surface of the sea.

Flying above their flagpoles was the flag of the overseas Hongmen.

A middle-aged man stood at the bow of the ship and looked above the sea with a frown on his face.

"Captain, what are you looking at here?"

Another man walked over, handed the man the bottled water in his hand and asked with a smile.

Above the captain's often weathered, pale face was one of unrelenting worry.

"There's always an uneasy feeling in my heart."

The captain's eyes revealed a look of worry.

He had been travelling on ships at sea for decades and relied on his sixth sense.

But today his sixth sense was throbbing and there was a constant pain in his brow.

Looking back at a few other huge ships.

These were all the supplies sent by the Hongmen to support Guangde Hall.

There were as many as thirty tonnes.

This time, the Sect Master had a very high regard for Lin Mo.

Not only did he grant the Guangde Hall the position of Hall Master, but he even mobilised the supplies within the sect.

Thirty tons of various kinds of supplies were sent for the people to rhyme to Da Qu United Province to hand over to Lin Mo.

And there were also five tons of spices on these huge ships.

If they were ordinary spices they would not have caused the captain so much worry.

But these spices contained ambergris, Tibetan gold flowers and various other expensive spices.

A single kilogram can fetch tens of thousands of maple leaf coins.

There were five tonnes of spices on the huge ship.

If they were sold, they would be worth hundreds of billions of maple leaf coins at the very least, and even other supplies.

“Captain, you are just too worried, we are flying the Hongmen’s flag.”

“Does that unscrupulous one dare to come and attack us, don’t want to die?”

The vice captain’s words did not make the captain’s inner turmoil lessen in any way.

He picked up the walkie-talkie and spoke directly.

“Everyone, from now on we’re on first alert, keep your eyes peeled.”

“If we manage to reach the Great Qu Province this time, I, as the captain, will personally go and ask the Lord of Guangde Hall for instructions.”

“Extra money for the brothers!”

The captain’s words brought joy to the faces of all the crew.

One by one, they even looked extra hard when they were rubbing the cleats.

Half an hour passed and the sea was still calm.

But the captain’s inner turmoil was growing even stronger.

A glance at his current position and the chart showed that he and his men were heading straight for Vientiane.

At this distance, it would take several days at the very least to reach them.

Just as the captain bowed his head, the voice of the lookout came over the intercom instantly.

“Report Captain, there are sea pirates in the direction of sixty degrees southeast.”

The lookout’s voice was one word but faintly audible.

The next moment, a sound of a body colliding with a cleat rang out, and the captain turned his head towards the lookout’s position.

The lookout was already lying bloody on top of the deck.

There was also a small bloody hole in his forehead that was very clear.

The captain’s face changed violently and he picked up his intercom and yelled.

“There are pirates, all hands on deck.”

The captain ran quickly to the lookout man’s side, not caring about the blood, and picked up the binoculars he was carrying straight away.

The captain looked sixty degrees to the southeast of what the lookout had said.

Sure enough, a group of pirates wearing red scarves on their heads and riding motorboats were rapidly daring towards the area.

“Old King, you immediately take the men out the back on the speedboat now and go find Lord Lin Mo of Guangde Hall!”

The captain’s gaze went to the vice captain beside him, who also had an urgent face, and quickly said.

The vice captain’s face showed consternation, but looked at the captain’s face.

In the end, he nodded and quickly ran towards the back of the huge ship.

This was the most useful solution at the moment!

Chapter 3403

The magnetic chaos of this sea is such that no message can be sent at all.

And the pirates obviously all knew the news and were waiting here on purpose.

The captain looked at the pirates, who were getting closer and closer.

He turned to one of the ship’s fire cabinets and took out an AK from it.

By law, pure transports like theirs were not allowed to carry any weapons.

At best, they could hire some escort fleet to follow.

But who were they, the Hongmen’s transport ships.

If they really didn’t carry weapons for everything, they would have died long ago.

“Brothers, a bunch of hanging pirates dare to rob us, let this group of turtle grandsons see if we are vegetarians or not!”

The speedboats were divided into three echelons and came towards the three huge ships.

Just when everyone was thinking of a big kill.

Behind the speedboats, two battleships appeared!

The main guns on the battleships were already aimed at the giant ships, as long as they made any movement.

They would just open fire.

The captain’s face, which was still somewhat hopeful, changed for a moment.

Finally, he picked up the intercom and said.

“Everyone give up resistance and wait for help.”

The captain put down the walkie-talkie in his hand, and his face was filled with a bitter look.

How he wished at this moment that this walkie-talkie that the Hongmen had specially developed.

What was outlined in the magnetic chaos was no longer five hundred metres.

Beyond this distance, the message simply could not be transmitted.

The captain's gaze went to a small black dot on the distant sea behind him.

"All hope, now, rests with you."

All one could do now was to try to stall a little time for them.

Otherwise, by the time the Hongmen's headquarters learned of the disappearance of themselves and the others.

At the very least, it would be half a month later.

By that time, it would all be too late!

.....

"Little Black, watch out."

Inside the practice room of the Panyang City Martial Union, Lin Mo looked at Little Black with a serious face and said.

Lin Mo's gaze then looked towards the sandbag hanging in front of him.

A gla*s bottle was placed on the back of the sandbag.

After thinking for a while, Lin Mo replaced this gla*s bottle with a plastic bottle.

Gla*s bottles were not very easy to clean if they reached residue.

Little Black looked at his teacher with an expectant face, waiting for him to teach.

Lin Mo's arm was slowly raised, and his somewhat white looking arm looked like a dragon coming out of the sea.

In an instant, it struck above the sandbag.

"Poof!"

A loud sound rang out as Lin Mo took down the bottle that had broken a large hole behind the sandbag.

Little Black looked at the bottle handed to him by his teacher and placed it in front of his eyes to look at it carefully.

A very obvious hole had appeared in the top of the plastic bottle.

"Wow, the teacher is amazing."

Looking at Little Black's adoring look, Lin Mo lost his smile for a while.

Gently grabbing a handful of Little Black's still slightly baby-fat face, he was about to say something.

The door to the practice room was suddenly opened and a somewhat serious looking Wang Laosan appeared.

“Lord Lin Mo, you’re coming with me for a moment, there’s something.”

Looking at Wang Laosan, Lin Mo nodded his head.

Rubbing Little Black’s head, Lin Mo explained.

“Little Black, you train well here, and when the time comes, you will violently beat that dog thing, the Crown Prince.”

“Mmhmm, got it master.”

Lin Mo followed Wang Laosan out of the training room.

The crown prince inside the corner at the side had a complicated look on his face.

Do you guys think you’re humorous.

Angrily, he glanced at Little Black who was struggling to swing his fist not far away.

The crown prince slapped Hu on Shen extraordinary’s shoulder.

“Be serious, your arms are sagging so much, practice a hammering fist!”

Shen Extraordinary nodded with a heavy expression, even though his forehead was covered with beads of sweat.

But he still raised his already trembling arm barely high enough to strike the sandbag in front of him.

He was making up for his previous flamboyant and paper-thin days.

Chapter 3404

Lin Mo followed Wang Laosan to his office.

Just as he entered, he saw several cloaked and ragged men standing in the office.

“These few men say they are from the Overseas Hong Clan and must see you.”

Wang Laosan pointed to the few men standing and said to Lin Mo.

He looked in good spirits.

And his entire body was a great deal more relaxed.

The people trained by the Martial Union could already get on board with the things of the Martial Union.

So Wang Laosan, the president, now didn’t have to stay up all night except to deal with some big matters.

He no longer had to stay up all night to work.

Those few ragged men saw Lin Mo and instantly their emotions came down.

“We are the Hongmen escorting supplies for Guangde Hall, and a group of pirates appeared when we were halfway through transporting the supplies.”

“The captain knew that we would definitely not be able to defeat those pirates, so he asked a few of us to come and seek your help, Hall Master.”

“Please, Hall Master, save the Captain and the others.”

The vice captain, covered in filth, knelt down in front of Lin Mo and kowtowed frantically.

“There is no need to do so, get up first.”

Lin Mo helped the kneeling Vice Captain up, his brows gently furrowed.

Two days ago, the Eclipsed Envoy had indeed sent himself a letter saying that the Hongmen had mobilised thirty tons of supplies.

It had set off towards itself on a giant ship.

But unexpectedly, they had actually been hijacked by pirates on the way.

“Where were you hijacked?”

“At sea in the Western Ocean, closer to the West Vientiane Islands!”

Lin Mo nodded and shouted to the door.

“Someone, take these few guests to wash up and try to complete their requests.”

After saying that, Lin Mo turned to look at the ragged vice captain and said softly.

“Your mission has been accomplished, now go and rest.”

“I’ll take care of the rest.”

Looking at Lin Mo, the vice captain nodded, trusting Lin Mo greatly.

In fact, Lin Mo’s reputation had long spread among the Hongmen.

A Patriarch-level powerhouse in his twenties.

This alone was enough to scare those guys in their 60s and 70s who had yet to break through the Patriarchate.

As he watched several people all walk out, Wang Laosan looked at Lin Mo with a questioning gaze.

Lin Mo turned and closed the door behind him and looked at Old Man Wang.

“Chairman Wang, have you heard of the Western Wanxiang Islands?”

Hearing Lin Mo’s query, a thoughtful look appeared on Wang Laosan’s face.

Only after a long time did he slowly speak.

"I have heard of it a little."

"The Western Vientiane Islands are on the Western High Seas."

"There are many islands up there, and the forces are mixed up."

"Many unseemly transactions are carried out there, and several countries have tried to overthrow them several times."

"But it was as if they were able to get the news in advance and withdrew early."

"What those countries destroyed at great expense each time was just a few houses."

"Over time, all the countries turned a blind eye to the Western Vientiane Islands."

"The big countries would have ideas, but that place is surrounded by small countries."

"Once the big countries say what they think, whether it's true or not, the small countries will be worried and afraid."

"As time goes on, the West Vientiane Islands will also become a place where illicit goods are traded."

"Hongmen's goods are probably being robbed by the Galle pirates up there."

After Wang Laosan finished speaking, he took a sip of water to moisten his throat.

Just as he looked at Lin Mo again, he found that the latter was looking at himself with a strange gaze.

"Chairman Wang, did you used to be the head of the intelligence department?"

Lin Mo's eyes were filled with a look of suspicion, and he was even wondering if Wang Laosan was an undercover agent that someone else had infiltrated.

Whether it was Hai Phong City or the West Vientiane Islands.

Although this guy couldn't be very precise, he had said pretty much the same thing.

Could this be something that an ordinary person could have?

Chapter 3405

"Hahahaha, Lord Zhen Yue, this personal preference is just a small thing, a small thing."

Amidst Lin Mo's suspicious eyes, Wang Laosan laughed awkwardly.

"However, Lord Zhen Yue Amba*sador, I actually don't recommend that you go to the Western Wanxiang Islands."

Wang Laosan's expression turned serious.

After rummaging around in his drawer, he found a chart and laid it on the table.

“Lord Lin Mo, the West Wanxiang Islands are located deep in the Western Ocean, let’s not talk about how strong they are.”

“As the Martial Alliance’s Zhen Yue amb*ador, everyone would be worried if you were to go alone.”

“But if we send troops to escort you, I guess only two minions will be left after you arrive.”

Wang Lao-san’s finger circled a spot on the sea map that was a long way from the mainland.

The West Vientiane Islands were at least tens of thousands of nautical miles from the mainland.

Once something happened at these distances, it would simply be too far to put out a nearby fire.

“But I must go forward, I am the Hongmen Guangde Hall Master, I don’t care if I lose the supplies given to me now myself.”

“By then there will be no need for me to continue sitting in this position.”

Lin Mo’s words caused Wang Laosan to nod and continued to speak.

“If you go, I’ve planned it out for you as well.”

Wang Laosan took out a list from below, with four names on it.

Lin Mo glanced at Wang Laosan with a compliment in his eyes.

As expected of a man who could become the president, he could really think of everything.

After just a few exchanges with those few people, it was ready for Lin Mo.

Wang Laosan handed the list in his hand to Lin Mo and spoke.

“Murong Hai, the head of the Murong family, a Zong Shi powerhouse, or the one you saved, can be used.”

“Crown Prince, I don’t need to say anything about this one, your man.”

“And the vice captain, bring him along to facilitate our actions.”

“And the Vice President of Hai Fang City, He Er, this man is smooth in the world and can cut out a lot of trouble.”

Wang Laosan went over why he had chosen their willingness one by one.

There wouldn’t be much trouble for five people to board the island, at most they would spend a small amount of money and go up.

Lin Mo always felt a sense of weirdness when he looked at the top of the list.

Why did he feel like this was another trip to play a copy.

After thinking about it for a while, Lin Mo put the list down and said softly to Wang Laosan.

“This arrangement of yours can be said to be very perfect.”

“But there are times when the more perfect the arrangement the bigger the loopholes.”

“That group must have seen the Hongmen ships on board, if I guessed correctly.”

“This time, I will just go alone by myself.”

Lin Mo’s words caused a look of difficulty to appear on Wang Laosan’s face.

“You are a strong clan master, so I am not worried.”

“But what if you accidentally get caught up in their plot as well as an ambush.”

“I don’t think Elder Xuan Yuan Ming would be comfortable with you going either.”

A faint smile appeared on Lin Mo’s face as his fingertips gently touched on the corner of the table.

The original corner of the table looked as if it had been cut off directly by a supreme sharp tool.

The cut was very smooth, as if it was originally this way, without the slightest feeling of sticking to the hand.

A look of shock appeared in Wang Laosan’s eyes.

If Lin Mo had done this with a sword or weapon, he wouldn’t have been surprised.

The strength of the Zong Shi realm should this version.

But Lin Mo’s current strength could achieve the point of holding a weapon with just a light touch of his fingers.

Lin Mo’s strength had reached an unknown level.

Lin Mo said in a flat tone towards Wang Laosan.

“This trip to the Western Wanxiang Islands, if it goes well I will take back the supplies as well as try to take control of where.”

“If it doesn’t go well.”

“There will be no need for where to exist!”

Chapter 3406

Lin Mo’s obviously very plain tone of voice revealed a supreme domineering aura.

His figure kept enlarging in Wang Laosan’s eyes, his surrounding aura becoming more and more powerful.

It even caused sweat to vaguely seep out of Wang Laosan’s forehead.

This reminded him of the time when he first met that lord of China when he was young.

The other side was obviously very kind to him, but he just couldn't bear that pressure.

"Yes, my subordinate understands."

Wang Laosan nodded and did not try to persuade Lin Mo again.

With the other party's current strength, he thought that nothing should really happen to him.

Lin Mo nodded and turned around to walk outside.

His heart actually thought of one person, only that he hadn't decided yet.

Wang Laosan picked up the paper on the table and wiped the sweat from his forehead as his mouth sighed.

"The Zhen Yue ambassador can really be a demon, in another two years, the entire world's patriarchs"

As he said that, Wang Laosan shook his head and laughed.

It was not like he had seen any other patriarchs himself, it was possible that Lin Mo would already be one of the first few by now.

Looking at the phone on the table, Wang Laosan pondered for a while and still picked up the phone.

A few clicks were made on the keys.

A standby sound rang out, and Wang Laosan quietly waited for the call to be answered.

"This is Xuan Yuan Ming."

As soon as the phone was connected, the Grand Elder's calm voice rang out.

"Grand Elder, the President of the Martial Alliance of Pangyang City in Daqu Lian Province, Wang Laosan greets you."

The voice on the other side of the phone was slightly silent for a moment, and then the Grand Elder's cheerful laughter rang out.

"It's Little Wang from Pan Yang, but you haven't called me before."

The Grand Elder still had some impression of Wang Laosan.

There were so many presidents in Da Qu United Provinces, half of them were calling him every day for complaints.

But Wang Laosan had never called Xuan Yuan Ming.

This also gave Xuan Yuan Ming some impression of Wang Laosan.

"It's me, Eldest Elder."

"Today, Lord Zhen Yue told me to head to the Western Wanxiang Islands."

"I don't feel very safe anywhere, so I still felt like informing you."

“Oh?”

A somewhat surprised voice came from Xuan Yuan Ming on the other side of the phone, and then laughed.

“Don’t worry, Lin Mo is the most outstanding genius of this generation of the Martial Union.”

“You guys just cooperate with him with all your might.”

“Yes.”

Wang Laosan replied respectfully, then waited for Xuan Yuan Ming to hang up the phone.

But there was a delay in the busy sound of the phone hanging up.

The Grand Elder’s voice suddenly rang out again, striking straight at Wang Laosan’s heart.

“Little Wang ah, I know all about what happened in Pan Yang City, it was the Martial Union that sent someone too late.”

“It also made you suffer.”

The words of the Grand Elder caused Wang Laosan’s body to tremble, and then he said with a smile.

“Grand Elder, I am not bitter, as long as I can contribute to the Martial Union, all this is as it should be.”

“Good, worthy of being a good man of my Martial Union, if you have any matters to resolve directly with me.”

“I will support you to the best of my ability.”

After the exchange with the Grand Elder ended.

Wang Lao San’s eyes looked at the ceiling.

This was the first time he felt that his persistence over the past few decades was right.

After a long time, he jerked to his feet.

“Someone, prepare the boats.”

Lin Mo definitely needed special channels to travel to the Western Wanxiang Islands.

And Wang Laosan, as a person who preferred to gather information.

There was also a real code word for boarding the West Wanxiang Islands.

A dock thirty miles away from the city of Panyang.

Wang Laosan was standing on the pier, having a conversation with Lin Mo.

“Lord Zhen Yue, this is the token to get onto the island, a boat will appear as you approach the shore.”

“Someone on it will ask you where you’re from, you just need to answer that I’m returning from hell.”

“The islands are full of some of the most vicious people on the planet, and you will need to behave more ruthlessly than they do when it matters.”

“Otherwise it will be easy to be suspected.”

Chapter 3407

Amidst everyone’s strange gazes.

Wang Laosan stood by Lin Mo’s side and kept talking about the things above the Western Wanxiang Islands.

He even took out a blood-red token with a skull head engraved on it from his pocket.

“There is also the fact that the island is divided into groups and the fish and dragons are in chaos, so your message may not be delivered back.”

“The seas in that area are all magnetic chaos, and both walkie-talkies and telephones are useless.”

“If anything happens to you or your identity is revealed, simply light this firework.”

“I will lead the men to the top of the island in the shortest possible time.”

Wang Lao San magically took out another small-sized firework from his pocket.

“Well, there’s no need to worry so much.”

“If this continues, I can’t tell if you’ll be the president or an undercover agent afterwards.”

Lin Mo’s long-sleeved finger gently pointed at the members of the Martial Union around him.

Their eyes were covered with the exact same look of suspicion as Lin Mo’s at that moment.

As the cruise ship docked, Lin Mo did not stay any longer and directly stepped on.

He was going to pass through this river to the Bali Sea behind the sacred mountains of Sabah, and subsequently enter the Western Sea.

After Lin Mo’s figure completely disappeared, Wang Laosan glanced at the members of the Martial Alliance without good grace.

“What, you guys still want to arrest me to see if I’m a fake?”

After hearing the tone of Old Man Wang’s voice.

The three days passed swiftly.

The captain and co-captain took turns day and night, travelling constantly.

The cruise ship was also finally within the range of the Western Ocean.

“At this speed, when will we be able to reach the Western Wanxiang Islands?”

Lin Mo's gaze looked towards the captain at the side and asked in a soft voice.

The captain glanced at the ship's navigation and then at the navigational chart before finally saying.

"As no one has uploaded information on that place, I judge that it should be in two days."

The captain's words caused Lin Mo to nod, and then said.

"In the event that it's almost there by then, you guys will just sail back in the sub ship."

"Okay."

The sub-boat was much smaller than the cruise ship, but Lin Mo had seen it.

The sharks that roamed these waters didn't usually attack, and there was enough for them all to put enough supplies on.

Two days later, early in the morning, above the waters of the Western Ocean.

The captain of the ship, along with the mate and a few crew members, stood on the deck.

"Lord Lin Mo, the positioning has been set and the auto-cruise mode has been turned on."

"According to Chairman Wang's instructions, you should simply stop when you see the island and press that big red button."

"We'll go back first."

One by one, the crew got onto the sub-ship, and Lin Mo nodded with a smile.

But then, Lin Mo's daily frowned gently and spoke.

"There's no need to rush, it seems that some restless fellows have their eyes on you."

Lin Mo's gaze looked towards the deep sea.

A finger gently extended and hovered above the surface of the water.

A ripple suddenly appeared on the calm surface of the sea.

A few seconds later, a huge black shadow quickly appeared from beneath the surface of the sea.

As it became clearer and clearer, the captains could see that it was a shark with a body four metres long.

Everyone subconsciously winced.

If they had just boarded the ship directly, they would probably have really been yanked right off the ship.

"Boo!"

The shark's head broke straight through the water, and its terrifying appearance was enough to make ordinary people not dare to move.

It opened its abyssal mouth full of sharp teeth and bit towards Lin Mo in the direction of his finger.

Just now, he who was originally lurking in the sea suddenly felt a fatal attraction.

It was as if by devouring Lin Mo, it would be able to produce some kind of change.

The shark's huge mouth gradually approached, and the putrid stench caused Lin Mo to frown slightly.

"Shatter!"

Chapter 3408

Lin Mo's thin lips gently opened and his deep, steady voice rang out.

This scene looked so comical.

Facing the ocean's overlord shark, not only did Lin Mo not dodge, he even had a calm face.

"Snap!"

In the next moment, the shark that was still filled with a ferocious aura directly shattered abruptly.

Its four-metre-long body looked as if it had been separated straight down the middle by a sharp blade.

Its body fell helplessly into the ocean in two halves.

It probably didn't even think about why it died until it died.

Blood continued to drift in the ocean.

Lin Mo turned his head to the crowd and said.

"Alright, you guys hurry up and get on the boat, it won't be good to leave if the smell of blood spreads later."

Lin Mo was indeed right, there were already a few tiny horns peeking out of the sea a few hundred metres away.

The captain's face was serious as he nodded hastily and led the crew onto the boat.

As he watched the sub-vessel gradually travel away, Lin Mo's five fingers joined together into a palm.

The power within his body mobilised and instantly surged out.

The violent internal force directly caused the sea in the distance to send shocking waves.

What fell with it was a red snowflake.

The ship was still moving even without its captain, and Lin Mo was standing right at the prow of the ship.

If there was a shark close to the perimeter of the boat directly a palm or a command out.

After the last battle with Murong Yunhai, Lin Mo had once again gained an insight after taking out 90% of his strength.

The strength of his body was almost half as high compared to before.

When Lin Mo was not fighting, his aura was inwardly restrained, returning to the basics, just like an ordinary person.

Perhaps the only thing that was different was that he was a little more handsome.

As the boat gradually moved, Lin Mo also saw a faint fog in the distance.

Behind that white mist was the Western Wanxiang Islands.

As Lin Mo travelled, the fog on the sea also gradually increased, and a small boat appeared beside the yacht.

“Where did you come from and do you know what this place is?”

Although there was fog affecting his vision, Lin Mo’s terrifying eyesight could still tell the face of this person at a glance.

His face was pale, and his voice was forced with fear.

“I have returned from hell.”

Lin Mo forced himself to hold back his middle-agedness as he uttered these words.

The guy below, who originally had a terrified face and trembling body, gradually quieted down at this moment.

“Do you have the token?”

Lin Mo took out the token that Old Man Wang had handed to him from his arms and threw it directly to the man.

The man on the small boat quickly grabbed Lin Mo’s token and shouted after looking at it carefully.

“One of our own!”

As his voice rang out, a ship only a little smaller than Lin Mo’s cruise ship appeared around him.

In contrast, that vessel was littered with all sorts of heavy firepower.

The man on the small boat threw that token straight back.

Lin Mo reached out his hand and grabbed it straight away, stuffing it back into his pocket.

“Brother who hangs out above that lane?”

Lin Mo’s face remained unchanged as he responded indifferently.

“Engaging in some smuggling.”

“Oh, smuggling brother just said it straight out, not afraid that we are cats in disguise?”

Cats in this case stood for the countries that had sent their troops to try and douse the islands.

“You guys, no.”

Lin Mo's short words also caused the teasing on the faces of the men on the opposite ship to withdraw slightly.

In places like this, a ruthless man never spoke.

Because when you might be pushing him around, he would just shoot you with one shot.

"Brother, how about paying the 50,000 maple leaf coins entry fee for the island?"

Hearing the voice from the opposite side, a smile appeared on Lin Mo's face.

It seemed that he had been treated as a soft persimmon by their group, allowing them to knead him.

"I don't have 50,000 Maple Leaf Coins here, but"

"I do have a thousand pounds of explosives on board here, all of which are for the military use of the Maple Leaf Kingdom."

"Do you want to try it out?"

Chapter 3409

A remote control suddenly appeared in Lin Mo's white hand.

The remote control flashed with a burst of red light.

The faces of the people on the other side of the boat all changed drastically.

Their eyes were fixed on the remote control in Lin Mo's hand.

The distance between the two sides was only about a hundred metres, if Lin Mo's words were true.

Once the 1,000 pounds of explosives exploded, it would ignite the oil depot of Lin Mo's yacht.

At that time, none of them would be able to escape, they would all die.

The young man at the head of the boat had cold sweat sticking out above his forehead.

He did not expect that he would simply test Lin Mo to see if he was really white.

But he did not expect Lin Mo to be so ruthless.

"Brother, we'll just joke around and welcome you to the prisoner's paradise!"

The boats took a step backwards, and then quickly dodged away.

They were in no mood to test Lin Mo again to see if he had any other tricks up his sleeve.

In case they really allowed Lin Mo to kill himself and the others outright.

Then no one would help them out even if they died.

They could only die in the sea and feed the sharks.

Lin Mo clicked the red button again and the boat moved once more.

The originally cloudy and obscured archipelago gradually became clearer.

Almost at the pier, Lin touched the red button and steered himself directly onto the cruise ship.

He had a little knowledge of this, and was still able to drive into the harbour at least.

He stepped off the ship and onto the top of the pier.

One was dressed in a short sackcloth shirt and a pair of shorts underneath, each one writhing with muscles.

Fierce and fierce, they did not look like good people.

These were the wanted criminals who had escaped to the islands or those who had made a big mistake.

They didn't have any skills, so they could only do manual labour here.

Lin Mo had just come down from the yacht.

After these guys saw Lin Mo alone.

A strong look of greed appeared on each of their faces.

A young man like Lin Mo, who didn't look like he had much strength, and who came alone.

The cruise ship behind him was able to sell for at least 30,000 Maple Leaf Coins.

It was enough for them to get away with it for a while on this island.

In the face of these greedy eyes, Lin Mo turned a blind eye to them and walked straight towards the outside of the pier.

One by one, those guys wanted to go after him, but suddenly they thought of the rule that no blood was allowed on the island during the day.

Once you see blood, you have to pay 500 maple leaf coins in money.

If you can't take it out you can, use your body in exchange.

Both eyes, loins, kidneys, sell your blood.

In short, it doesn't matter if you can't get the money out, they can help you get it out.

As for the extra money, they will collect it for you first and deduct it directly from the top the next time you commit a crime.

Just as Lin Mo was walking up the steps to the pier, a man suddenly passed by Lin Mo.

"Try to find a hotel to stay in at night, or you'll be prone to accidents."

His words caused Lin Mo's eyes to flicker for a moment.

There were actually people on top of this island who had the kindness to remind others.

It was really rare.

Lin Mo didn't say anything, and the two brushed past each other as if there was no communication whatsoever.

Only Lin Mo's eyes squinted slightly as he walked to the top of the steps.

A glance was taken at the appearance of the man who had reminded him of his appearance.

After leaving from the pier, Lin Mo passed a short stone path.

Finally, he arrived above a town that was reasonably well built.

Although there were only a few buildings built of stone.

The rest were all made of wood and looked very barely adequate.

But it was not easy to maintain such a size in a place that was often cleared.

It was not easy.

From afar, the two strong men saw Lin Mo surveying the surroundings.

At once, they understood that this was a newcomer who had just arrived at the archipelago.

A look of greed immediately appeared in their eyes.

This kid was worth a lot of money.

Chapter 3410

The two of them worked in tandem as one left and one right walked towards Lin Mo.

When the people around them saw the two walking towards Lin Mo, who was obviously a newcomer, one by one they began to discuss.

"This newcomer just arrived and ran straight into the Bloodshed brothers, it looks like today is going to be a lost day."

"What do you guys think the two of them will use as a reason to go and kidnap that newcomer straight away today?"

"I think it's going to be the daily bumper."

"Couldn't that new guy be a hidden ruthless guy?"

"Heh heh, you're drunk out of your mind, with that skinny body of his."

The two big men walked directly in front of Lin Mo, their huge bodies stopping directly in front of him.

"Brother, the air you just breathed caused us to see it first, now compensate us immediately for 100,000 Maple Leaf Coins!"

The blood of the Bloodshed brothers looked at the protagonist fiercely, and revealed the short knife in his pocket without showing any traces.

“Tsk tsk, these two are really bullsh*tting with their reasoning today.”

“Don’t you dare say that about them, watch out for them coming to kidnap you at night.”

“I’m from the Evil Union, they dare to touch me and don’t take a P*ss.”

“That guy hasn’t reacted until now, he really seems to be a newcomer.”

“Looks like he’s either going to get made into a duck or hollow out his heart for good today.”

The group of people looked at Lin Mo, whose face hadn’t even changed, and lamented .

Lin Mo gazed at the two big men in front of him, their eyes still contained a greed that could not be concealed.

“Get out of the way.”

The calm words caused the two burly men to freeze for a moment, and then they were instantly enraged.

D*mn it, a newcomer dares to ignore us two brothers like that.

“Kid, you seek death!”

Blood’s arm punched directly towards Lin Mo’s stomach.

If this punch had hit an ordinary person’s stomach, he would probably have lost his ability to resist straight away.

A cold light flashed in Lin Mo’s eyes.

Wang Laosan was right.

On this island, there were times when one had to act, to be more vicious than others.

Lin Mo’s palm directly grabbed Blood’s arm with one hand.

No matter how hard the other party tried, he could not break free of Lin Mo’s palm.

Seeing his brother being grabbed so deadly by Lin Mo, the Fury next to him also swung a fierce fist directly out.

Lin Mo’s palm directly twisted.

Blood’s arm directly resembled a twist, but not a drop of blood was seen.

At the same time, he directly kicked the pale Blood aside, and Lin Mo’s palm grabbed onto Sae’s wrist and pulled it forward.

A palm gently slapped directly on top of his chest.

In the blink of an eye, the Blood Fury brothers, who had just been fierce and fierce, were directly lying on the ground and turned into dead dogs.

The audience who had just been speculating about Lin Mo's fate were suddenly stunned.

They did not expect Lin Mo to be a real vicious man in disguise.

Lin Mo did not bother about the two brothers who were constantly wailing and rolling on the ground, and walked straight towards the front.

Everywhere he went, the people who had just gathered around him retreated.

Everyone looked at Lin Mo's departing figure and the Bloodshed brothers who had fallen to the ground with shocked faces.

Was this man really a newcomer? He actually knew the rule above the archipelago of not seeing blood during the day.

Lin Mo walked on top of this very embarrassing street.

He did not know if there were any hidden rules in this area.

But just now, the Bloodshed brothers were obviously somewhat restrained and did not dare to be too unrestrained.

Lin Mo simply did not let anyone see blood.

As someone who knew a little bit about the art of healing, it wasn't necessary to see blood to kill someone.

As Lin Mo's figure faded away.

Only then did the two Bloodshed brothers on the ground get up from each other with pale faces.

"Brother, if this revenge isn't avenged, I swear I won't be a man!"

"Don't worry, I don't believe he can stay like this!"

Just as the two had resentful faces and cursed Lin Mo.

In the next moment, their eyes suddenly burst into a glare and a mouthful of fresh blood spurted out directly.

The two people's hearts and veins were severed and they could no longer breathe.
