

Genius 3411

Chapter 3411

Lin Mo walked above the street, his gaze seemingly casual, but in fact he was carefully observing the streets on both sides.

In front of the various wooden houses, there was basically a wooden plaque erected.

On it was written in a crooked manner what they did for a living.

A handsome and solitary figure like Lin Mo used to just appear.

He would have been dragged away and sold to a kiln.

But the tragic situation of those two brothers was still in front of everyone's eyes.

Suddenly, Lin Mo's eyes were drawn to a wooden sign.

The script on it was very different from the crooked script on the other wooden signs.

The penmanship was regular, tumbling and even vaguely into the wood.

"West Vientiane Islands Law Firm."

"Lawyer?"

A look of amusement appeared in Lin Mo's eyes.

In a place like the West Vientiane Islands, there would actually be a profession like lawyers surviving.

Lin Mo's pace headed towards that lawyer's office.

Symbolically, he knocked on the wooden board placed in front of the wooden house and shouted softly.

"Excuse me, is anyone there."

A small sound came from inside the wooden hut at once.

A wary voice then sounded in the middle of the cabin.

"Who is it?"

"Hello, I would like to consult with a lawyer about something."

After hearing Lin Mo's kind voice, the person inside the wooden hut seemed to breathe a sigh of relief and then said.

"You move that wooden board."

It was also a rule that if you were sincere and wanted to do business you would move the things at the entrance.

That way there is no way for your hands to make an immediate attack while you are moving things.

If the owner of the house was inside and pushed the boards away himself, that would be enough time for him to die a dozen times.

“Good.”

Lin Mo’s long, white palm was placed on top of the wooden board, and this 20 to 30 pound wooden board seemed to be weightless in Lin Mo’s hands.

It was directly and easily propped up by Lin Mo and placed aside.

The scene inside the wooden house also appeared in front of Lin Mo.

A man in a somewhat old suit stood with a serious face in a fairly clean and tidy space.

Upon seeing Lin Mo’s appearance, a look of surprise was revealed in the middle-aged man’s gaze.

Then as if he thought of something, a look of respect flashed across his eyes.

Anyone who looked this good on the island and could still stand here was a character.

“Are you the lawyer here?”

Lin Mo looked at the middle-aged man’s somewhat old, but clean and decent suit.

There was also the arrangement of the house and so on, which all represented that he was a person who loved cleanliness.

And Lin Mo did not feel the aura that almost everyone on the island had on the middle-aged man’s body.

The aura of killing.

That was something that would appear subconsciously after actually killing someone.

Perhaps ordinary people didn’t notice it.

But the fear of life was long gone from the eyes of the average person who had human life in their hands.

“I am, do you need any advice?”

Lin Mo glanced at the figures walking down the street, and the impishness in their eyes as they scanned around as if looking for prey.

“Are we going to talk here?”

The middle-aged lawyer also understood Lin Mo’s meaning and gave him an apologetic smile.

“It’s me who has to be ill-considered, you come with me.”

The middle-aged lawyer walked into the small wooden room.

Lin Mo also picked up a wooden board and once again closed the door as he walked into the wooden house.

The other people on the street were unimpressed by this scene.

They continued to look for prey that they could get their hands on.

There was barely room for two large men, Lin Mo and the middle-aged lawyer, inside the small wooden hut.

“My name is Zhang San, I graduated with a master’s degree in law from the Maple Leaf country, here are my relevant documents.”

The middle-aged man first placed a pile of red certificates beside him in front of Lin Mo’s body.

“No need for that, my name is Mo Lin, I am a businessman. “

Chapter 3412

After the two men had introduced themselves to each other, the middle-aged lawyer spoke up and asked.

“I wonder what kind of things you need to consult about?”

Lin Mo looked at the middle-aged lawyer and didn’t answer the question directly, but opened his mouth to ask.

“Lawyer Zhang, what did you commit to escape to this place?”

Lin Mo’s gaze glanced at some compressed food in the corner.

It looked like the other party was having a very bad time here as well.

When Zhang San heard Lin Mo’s words, a bitter smile appeared on his face.

“Since you asked, then I will tell you about it.”

“I used to excel in my studies when I was in Maple Leaf Country, always being at the top of my cla*s.”

“Then even when I got close to the top law university in the country, I was still the top top student in the whole school.”

“One night, I went out for a barbecue with a few roommates from my dorm.”

“We all drank a bit that night, and then a punk came in and teased, and those few students went right up and fought.”

“But I never went up there, and as I watched them get more and more aggressive, I was so scared that I just ran away.”

“I thought we’d be safe from then on, but I didn’t expect the police to find me at home the next morning.”

“Straight away they wanted to arrest me for manslaughter and I knew then that I had been set up by them.”

“So I went straight through the window and wandered overseas, and then I came here.”

After Zhang San’s words were finished, his entire face was full of sighs.

He really didn’t want to come to this place that was like hell at that time.

Every day, there were constant deaths as well as near-death events.

Zhang San had seen with his own eyes people being tied up straight away by a group of people and sent off to gut the good ones.

He had also seen good-looking women being forced in broad daylight and eventually even sold in kilns.

It can be said that the whole colour of the West Vientiane Islands is like a grey.

There were even people who specialized in catching some men as well as women to sell for money.

This was also the reason why Zhang San was careful every day.

“I want to invest in a factory over here and would like to ask you about some of the rules above the West Wanxiang Islands.”

Once Lin Mo’s words came out, Zhang San’s face instantly tensed up.

After listening sideways for half a day, he confirmed that there was no sound nearby before he spoke anxiously.

“Don’t you want to die?”

“I don’t know what cards you have, or what martial arts skills you have in your possession, but I’m going to tell you.”

“Just by yourself now, even if you have money, there is no way you can invest in building a factory here.”

Zhang San’s anxious and emphatic words caused Lin Mo’s eyes to ponder slightly, and then he said softly.

“I am new to this island, so I would also like to ask Lawyer Zhang San to carefully explain the rules of this island for me.”

Lin Mo took out a brand new pile of Maple Leaf coins from his pocket and placed it directly in front of Lawyer Zhang San.

Lin Mo knew that he and Zhang San were not relatives or friends.

If he wanted the other party to tell him all the unspoken rules of the West Vientiane Islands as well as the explicit rules.

Then the necessary wealth and money would be indispensable.

Zhang San looked at the maple leaf coins that Lin Mo placed directly in front of him and swallowed a mouthful of saliva on his own.

This much money was enough to save him from having to live in this shabby, small and unsafe wooden house.

Zhang San visually estimated that it was at least 20,000 to 30,000 maple leaf coins, enough for him to stay in a hotel for a month or two.

“Since Mr. Mo Lin is so sincere, then naturally I will say everything I know.”

“First of all, Mr. Lin Mo, the islands in the West Vientiane Archipelago are not large, but there are many of them.”

“The island we are on now is one of the smaller ones in the Western Vientiane Islands.”

“Did you see the group of guys on the dock on your way here? “

Chapter 3413

Lin Mo nodded his head.

Not to mention seeing that the group of guys’ unsuspecting eyes were almost glued to Lin Mo’s body.

“That group of guys is the most powerful group on this island, the group of unions.”

“On top of every island, the most powerful force in general is the trade unions.”

“And what you said about investing in a factory is even more impossible to achieve, you a bit really built it.”

“Where else would the union recruit people from, you’re damaging their interests.”

Zhang San told the reason why he was so afraid of what Lin Mo said about investing in building a factory was the reason.

Once this matter had gotten out.

Those union people would definitely come to get rid of Lin Mo at all costs.

“Then, Lawyer Zhang San, apart from these, are there any other rules in this archipelago?”

Zhang San nodded his head.

With the maple leaf coins that Lin Mo handed over, he himself had to tell Lin Mo everything he knew.

“The other islands have generally speaking been put on complete notice.”

“But this island beneath our feet is different.”

Zhang San’s face was grave as he once again listened for any other sounds around him.

“There are two other docks on the east and west sides of this island respectively, and on them are other union members.”

“These three unions have been constantly grabbing the territory of this island, all wanting to become the ones in control.”

“But the strength of the three families is not too far apart, plus the island is not too big, so it’s just a stalemate.”

“There aren’t any outsiders coming to compete either.”

“Good, thanks a lot, Lawyer Zhang.”

Lin Mo smiled and nodded, intending to get up and walk away.

Behind him, Zhang San suddenly said to Lin Mo.

“Mr. Mo Lin, it’s better to find a hotel to stay for the night when it’s almost dark, it’s one of those stone houses.”

“Although it might be a bit more expensive, those hotels are covered by someone, so there will definitely be no trouble.”

“Once it gets dark, it won’t be as peaceful as during the day.”

“Also, make sure you don’t see any blood during the day, otherwise a bunch of guys purer than dogs will come looking for you!”

Zhang San’s tone was thick with indignation.

Lin Mo nodded gently.

Moving the wooden board out of the way, Lin Mo suddenly felt a strong breeze hit him.

A man dressed in a yellow sackcloth waistcoat, his body covered in muscles had a smug look on his face.

His calloused fist came ruthlessly towards Lin Mo’s body.

Lin Mo’s body exerted a slight force and his whole body gently flew backwards like a piece of paper.

The man in linen looked at Lin Mo as he dodged his fist and faintly stared, then said.

“I said why do you dare to go to Sin Island alone, it turns out that you have kung fu.”

Sin Island was the abbreviation for this archipelago by the people above the West Vientiane Islands.

It also fit the display perfectly, after all, ninety-nine percent of the people on it were some ten evil people.

“Unfortunately, it has long since ceased to be a world that relies on martial arts!”

A pistol with a flickering cold light suddenly appeared in the hands of the man in linen and was aimed directly at Lin Mo.

“You can’t see blood during the day on the island, you want to violate this rule?”

After hearing Lin Mo’s question, a surprised look appeared on the man in linen’s face.

Finally, he directly laughed out loud.

“Hahahaha, how did you say such a stupid thing.”

“The island is not allowed to see blood during the day, but I have a fine ready on me for a long time, just kill you.”

“That boat of yours will be mine, and by then it will be tens of thousands at the very least.”

After hearing the words of the man in sackcloth, the corners of Lin Mo’s mouth curled up into a smile.

“I bought that cruise ship for tens of millions of dollars, and you’re selling it for tens of thousands.”

“A newcomer is a newcomer, a ship on Sin Island is not worth anything.”

After hearing his words, Lin Mo nodded with a smile and said softly.

“Got it.”

A silver needle flew out instantly!

Chapter 3414

“Bang!”

The corpse of the man in linen fell straight to the ground.

Lin Mo’s gaze swept a glance, and then turned straight away.

Just now, Lin Mo’s silver needle had been drilled directly down the mouth of the man in sackcloth.

It might bleed a little, but it wouldn’t flow out.

On the distant tree, a miniature camera turned slightly and no longer looked in Lin Mo’s direction.

And next to this camera, a silver needle quietly appeared.

“Gentlemen, come in and play, our sisters here all have soft bodies and can play, play and sing everything.”

“We collect all kinds of second-hand objects at high prices, no matter if they are boats, guns or drugs.”

“The inspector’s office recruits people who are under thirty years old and have more than thirty-five years of work experience.”

As Lin Mo went deeper and deeper into this island, the surroundings gradually became more and more lively.

The wooden houses that were barely habitable were now also turning into delicately constructed looks.

Lin Mo took a glance at a fat man standing over there, still constantly yelling about the inspector’s office recruiting people.

Just now, when Zhang San was talking to himself about the power of the island, he had also mentioned a word about it.

There were thousands of islands of all sizes in the Western Wanxiang Archipelago.

On each of these islands, there was an inspector's office and an island master's office.

The inspector's office oversees the whole island, and it is also the inspector's office that has set the rule that no blood is allowed to be seen during the day.

If you see blood, there will be an inspector's camera in a place you might not even expect.

And the island master's house would be obvious, the lord of the island.

The whole island would be under the jurisdiction of the island lord.

And it is the position of Island Master of this island that the three unions are fighting for.

After the previous generation of Island Lords mysteriously disappeared, the position of Island Lord was left vacant.

The lord of the inspector's house according to the most widely circulated information now.

He too had been greedy for the position of Island Lord and even tried to ascend by using the power of the Inspectorate.

Unfortunately, the inspector's house was directly attacked that night.

There were not many deaths among the inspector's staff, most of them were lightly wounded.

But everyone understood that this was a warning to the Inspector General's House.

If you still want to get your hands on the position of Island Master again, then don't blame us for not giving face.

Suddenly, the fatty standing on the street lit up when he saw Lin Mo.

This face, wasn't he the one he was looking for who could be called the face of the inspector's house?

With a quick stride, he ran towards Lin Mo.

"This brother, wait a moment!"

The fatty quickly ran towards Lin Mo, but just five steps away from him he suddenly stopped.

His premonition told him that if he took another step forward.

He would die!

The fatty stood directly in place and looked at Lin Mo with a smile on his face and said.

"This brother, I despise Zhu Tong, the head of the recruitment office of the inspector's office, please stay."

Lin Mo's upright stance stopped and looked slightly sideways at Zhu Tong and said.

“What is it, if you are amusing me, Molin, wait for death!”

Lin Mo’s tone was filled with a fishy and murderous aura.

After all, he was now using a pseudonym, and even his appearance had been slightly modified.

Unless his own wife Xu Hanxia ran over to get a closer look, even Xu Hanxia would not be able to recognize him.

Zhu Tuan did not care in the slightest about the murderous aura in Lin Mo’s words.

After all, if he was so good looking, if he didn’t have any strength or specialties.

Surely he wouldn’t have lived to this point in time.

“This brother, I see that you are exceptionally talented and so handsome, come and join our inspector’s house.”

“If you join, you’ll definitely be a rising star in the inspector’s world!”

Zhu Tong said to Lin Mo with a big smile on his face.

From a distance, he looked a little greasy.

If you looked closely, you would find that there was a bit of lewdness in the greasiness.

Lin Mo looked at Zhu Tong with a suspicious look in his eyes.

How could there be a man of such character on such an island.

Chapter 3415

“No need, thank you for your kindness.”

Lin Mo shook his head and rejected Zhu Tong’s invitation.

“Brother, don’t reject it so completely, our inspector’s office is the only one on this island with five insurance and one gold, and a holiday.”

“Here’s my card, if you don’t want to work hard anymore just come and find me.”

Zhu Tuan originally wanted to continue chattering for a while.

But after it seemed that the cold aura gradually flickered in Lin Mo’s eyes, he was instantly startled.

Weakly, he took out a business card from his own body and handed it to Lin Mo.

Lin Mo also did not refuse, after touching the business card without any handicap.

He put it directly into his pocket and turned around to leave.

Seeing Lin Mo’s departing back, Zhu Tong silently turned around and left.

Isn’t he just trying to find a facade for the inspector’s office, why is it so difficult?

At the dock on the north side of the island.

A group of strong men in black and grey sackcloth waistcoats were busy on the pier.

Although they are normally known as the most powerful on such an island.

But in fact, they were just a group of people who worked hard.

When Lin Mo, dressed in casual clothes, appeared on the pier, he immediately attracted everyone's attention.

Lin Mo's upright figure looked at the crowd and finally asked in a soft voice.

"May I ask if there is still recruitment here now?"

Those who originally had a stony face and had even moved to kill each other suddenly burst out laughing at this moment.

"Where is this little calf from? Get lost before the old men get angry!"

"Laozi are all wanted for hundreds of thousands of dollars, be careful of selling you to the kiln later."

"That's right, don't you know that we are all cannibals?"

Each one of them shouted at Lin Mo with their muscles showing.

Some of them even moved their ample muscles on their arms.

"But where is it clearly posted to recruit people."

Lin Mo's finger pointed to a wooden sign on the side.

On it were a few words written in a crooked manner.

Recruiting for long-time workers.

Hearing Lin Mo's words, the group of guys' rampant laughter intensified.

"Hahahaha, take a look at yourself and see how many pounds you are."

"This box I'm holding is fifty pounds, can you hold it you?"

"Go home and practice for a few hundred years before you come back."

Just as the crowd was running wild, a man in his fifties came from a distance.

His body had shrivelled up in many places and even his walk was a little breathless.

But still, he kept saying kind words to the well-dressed young man beside him.

His face wore a forced smile, while the youth's face was thick with impatience and anger.

As the two walked closer and closer, Lin Mo gradually heard their words.

"Young Master Wang San, please give me my wages, I really have a sick person at home who is going to die."

The man's words were thick with pleading as well as desperation.

From his body, it could be seen that this man had once been a porter at the pier as well.

It looked like he should be too old to do too much heavy work.

The youth's impatient voice rang out and still roared out.

"I said it will be given to you, so what's the rush."

"It's none of my business if you have a sick person at home, let her die if you don't have the money!"

"How dare a little handyman pester me like that, if you don't believe you won't live through the night."

The youth's words caused the man's body to tremble slightly as he watched the dock arrive.

His eyes shook with a look of panic.

And the workers on top of the pier saw the man's figure.

And his back, which was already leaning somewhat on the building, and his body all over the place.

Finally, the workers seemed to lock eyes with the man, who looked flustered.

One by one, they gently placed the objects in their hands on the ground.

A deadly silence suddenly fell over the entire pier.

Only one man ran with great strides towards a house off to the side.

Chapter 3416

The man in the sackcloth waistcoat strides up to the door of a room.

Without bothering about the sign hanging above that said to knock before entering.

With a direct slap, he pushed the door open, revealing the scene inside.

A burly man was sitting inside the room, looking over the papers on his desk with a headache.

When he saw the door being opened, he shouted angrily.

"Didn't I tell you to knock before you come in?"

And the hanyou, who no longer had time to explain to his own president, shouted.

"Chairman, I saw Old Li!"

"What?"

The chairman, who had just been sitting in his chair, stood up straight away.

His height, which was not obvious when he was sitting in the chair, was even more obvious when he stood up.

His muscular body was covered with wounds and bullet holes.

At almost two metres tall he looked like a tyrannical bear.

“Old Li is having a bit of a hard time at the docks.”

The words of the hanyou just finished, the president’s huge body directly and quickly ran towards the outside.

And the hanyou who was just standing in place was directly pushed aside by the president.

The president’s cursing voice rang out, but he couldn’t hide the happiness in his tone.

“Granny, let that dog stay here as an accountant and end up giving me a run for my money.”

Getting closer and closer to the pier, the panic in the middle-aged man’s eyes grew heavier and heavier .

Then, he actually knelt straight down towards the youth and said loudly.

“Young Master Wang San, there is really an emergency at my home.”

“If we can’t get the patient to the hospital before, then someone will die.”

“You have already owed me a month, when it was agreed to be a daily payment.”

The middle-aged man’s words caused a look of anger to rise up on Wang San’s face.

“How dare you, a f*cking piece of sh*t, question me!”

Wang San was too angry with his own legs and kicked viciously towards the middle-aged man.

A lowly man who could only do manual labor was also worthy of questioning himself.

If this kick hit him, it was estimated that the middle-aged man, with his physique, would have to lie down for a while without dying.

Just as Wang San’s foot was about to kick the middle-aged man.

“Ah!”

Wang San violently let out a cry of pain, and his body fell straight to the ground.

A red mark had appeared on his leg that was supported on the ground.

A small stone had just fallen in front of Wang San’s body.

The middle-aged man kneeling on the ground looked at Wang San who had fallen to the ground and was flabbergasted for a moment.

Lin Mo, dressed in casual white clothes, came up from under the pier.

His immaculate white clothes were so blinding in this archipelago, which was full of sin and darkness.

It was so eye-catching.

Wang San, who had fallen to the ground, looked at Lin Mo’s appearance and immediately gritted his teeth and shouted.

“You son of a b*tch, how dare you hurt me, do you know who I am!”

“My second uncle is the junior captain of the procuratorate, you’re finished!”

“I’ll make sure you don’t live through the night and get sold to a kiln as a duck.”

“And then sell your heart, liver, spleen, stomach and kidneys and hang your skin up as a flagpole!”

Wang San’s shouting caused Lin Mo’s daily to faintly frown.

“Noisy, either get lost or die!”

Lin Mo glanced indifferently at Wang San who was lying on the ground, and his murderous aura instantly penetrated his body.

Wang San, who had just been continuously shouting, immediately came to an abrupt halt.

Before Lin Mo’s majestic killing intent, his eyes went white and he foamed at the mouth.

A foul stench even began to spread from underneath him.

This so-called Inspector’s House junior captain’s son directly P*ssed himself in fear.

“Uncle, how are you doing?”

A girl wearing a light green dress quickly ran over from a distance.

With a strong look of worry on her face, she helped the middle-aged man who was kneeling on the ground up.

“Ah Yun, who told you to come out, do you know how dangerous it is!”

The middle-aged man who was helped up looked at his niece and said to her worriedly.

“But, you were just “

Chapter 3417

The little girl looked at the middle-aged man and wanted to say something.

But in the end, she did not say anything further and just stood silently beside the middle-aged man.

Looking straight at his niece’s appearance, a look of favour flashed across the middle-aged man’s eyes.

But it was because he doted on his niece so much that he would not let her appear in a hurry.

The bad guys on this island would appear from time to time.

If they were hiding at home it was fine.

They wouldn’t dare to break in and kidnap her because the inspector’s office was in the way.

But if they were outside, they would probably be kidnapped and sold to the kilns straight away.

“Thank you for this lord’s kindness in helping me, I am grateful, but I have nothing to offer in return.”

“If there is ever a time when you need me, just come to me.”

The middle-aged man bowed to Lin Mo.

The little girl standing behind the middle-aged man looked at Lin Mo and froze.

A blush also surfaced on her white and tender face.

White, handsome, and gracious to herself!

The little girl’s mind had already imagined what the name of her and Lin Mo’s child would be called.

The middle-aged man took the little girl’s wrist and said in a deep voice.

“Ah Yun, it’s time for us to go home.”

The little girl gave Lin Mo a somewhat reluctant glance and gave him a friendly look.

The middle-aged man’s figure was in a bit of a hurry.

It was as if he wanted to quickly escape from this one place.

The little girl was a little confused as to why her uncle was walking so fast.

But still, she followed her uncle’s figure with the intention of leaving.

And also stepped on Wang San’s leg a bit behind her leaving.

This bad guy, who owed his uncle’s wages and tried to beat up his uncle.

Just as the two were about to leave the area, an angry roar rang out.

“Old Li, where do you want to go, you son of a b*tch!”

The middle-aged man’s body trembled and he wanted to leave the place at a faster pace.

But the figure that looked like a violent bear was even faster.

He appeared directly behind the middle-aged man and lifted him up as if he was carrying a small cub.

“What are you doing!”

The little girl beside the middle-aged man saw her uncle, being lifted by this big and tall man in front of her.

She immediately became anxious and shouted at the president of the pier.

“Run, you boy keep running!”

The president of the pier ignored the little girl on one side and directly fished out a lollipop from his body and shoved it into her hand.

The middle-aged man who was directly held down by the pier president turned around and lowered his head without saying a word.

“Say something, weren’t you great when you left quietly earlier.”

“And left a note saying something about you leaving and not looking.”

“f*ck you know the brothers at the docks are looking out for you every day, even when it’s okay.”

The middle-aged man’s body trembled slightly as he was severely reprimanded by the president.

The corners of his already wrinkled eyes moistened in the moment.

“Big brother, I just don’t want to

“You don’t want to you grandma, isn’t it that you can’t do manual labor anymore and work as an accountant for the old man.”

“Just the way you are, and scare yourself away, old man really want to slap you to death!”

“Old me has long said, those who follow me Hua Qiang to work, even if you are injured, I will still support you!”

The chairman’s words were full of rage.

However, everyone heard the look of concern for the middle-aged man in his words.

“I was wrong, big brother.”

The middle-aged man only dared to bow his head and meekly admit his mistake under Hua Qiang’s reprimand.

“You are Uncle Qiang!”

The little girl on the side looked at the lollipop in her hand and suddenly seemed to remember something.

“Yun doll, I didn’t expect you still remembered your Uncle Hua Qiang.”

When he heard the little girl say his identity, Hua Qiang scratched his itching head.

With a big grin, he laughed out loud.

“Brother, thank you for helping my stupid henchman.”

Chapter 3418

Hua Qiang’s gaze looked towards Lin Mo, revealing a kind smile.

Sincerely, he thanked Lin Mo and extended his hand.

Lin Mo also extended his own hand. Hua Qiang’s attitude was good, and Lin Mo would not fail to give face.

When their hands came into contact.

Hua Qiang's eyes changed, and an incredible look appeared in his eyes.

He wasn't just a brute force either, Hua Qiang had also mastered a technique.

Just by shaking hands he could tell exactly what strength the other party was.

But when Hua Qiang touched Lin Mo's hand, he realised that he couldn't feel through it at all.

A strong person's handshake had strong steel and strong steel, and also very tough skin.

Hua Qiang, on the other hand, could tell exactly how strong his opponent was based on the bones in his hand.

A person stronger than himself Hua Qiang could tell inside.

And if he was weaker than himself, he could reasonably feel it too.

However, when he shook hands with Lin Mo, Hua Qiang could not feel it.

Hua Qiang did not continue to shake hands, but let go of Lin Mo's hand.

If one shook hands for a long time, then anyone would have noticed that something was wrong.

"This brother, you beat up the nephew of the junior captain of the inspector's office, he won't let it go."

"As good as you are, if that fellow slanders you for beating them."

"Then as good as you are behind you, you won't be able to withstand so many people from the inspector's house, so hide out at our pier first."

Although his own dock was the weakest among the three docks.

But Hua Qiang still had the confidence that as long as Lin Mo was here in his own place.

Then even the inspector's office wouldn't dare to come in and arrest people directly by force.

This was sort of a rule for the docks and the inspector's office.

If my men mess with you outside, it's up to whoever wins.

But if you bring your men and dare to rush to the main camp.

Then the three docks, even if the competition is fierce, will practice for the time being.

After hearing Hua Qiang's proposal, Lin Mo bowed his head and pondered a little.

He himself was now in need of a place to land.

And he also needed to inquire about the intelligence of that batch of supplies.

Lin Mo nodded gently, his thin lips gently opening and said.

"Then, thank you very much, my name is Molin."

Hearing Lin Mo's voice agreeing, a thick smile appeared on the president's face.

His palm directly slapped on Lin Mo's shoulder and said loudly.

"Brother Mo Lin, since you have joined our dock, you and we will be family from now on."

"My name is Hua Qiang, you can call me Hua Qiang or Brother Qiang from now on, I'm a rather casual person."

A slight smile also appeared on Lin Mo's face, his keen intuition did not sense malice in the strong man's body.

This was also one of the reasons that made him stay.

When Lin Mo had boarded this island, this was the third time he had sensed someone who had little malice towards him.

The first was that lawyer Zhang San, the second was that fat man.

And the third was this Hua Qiang in front of him now.

"Brother Qiang, I have a little more to do, I might not be able to come over until tonight."

After hearing Lin Mo's words, Hua Qiang's expression faintly froze.

But then he nodded his head and said cheerfully.

"Alright, Brother Mo Lin you must be careful when you're out there."

"This guy is still unconscious here, for the time being, there shouldn't be anyone from the inspector's office tracking you down."

"If you're in any danger, come straight towards this side of the dock."

"On this island, our union can still protect you."

"Good, thanks to Brother Qiang for your kindness."

Lin Mo nodded and followed after Old Li and his niece who had just said they were going back to move their things.

Hua Qiang, on the other hand, looked at Lin Mo's departing back with a look of appreciation in his eyes.

Although he was young, he was a toxic talker and had a decent demeanour.

If there was no accident, this man would become a great asset in the future!

Chapter 3419

The path was paved with gravel.

Lin Mo walked beside the middle-aged man and glanced at the two men's sad faces covered in sorrow.

"Go back and remove the three penny seeds, followed by enlarging the original amount of medicine by one point five times."

“It will be effective after almost three days of simmering, and will make the cough lessen and the breath flow a little more freely.”

Lin Mo’s softly spoken words caused the middle-aged man’s body to tremble.

He looked at Lin Mo with an incredulous look in his gaze and said in a trembling voice.

“Mr. Molin, you still know the art of medicine?”

“Slightly know some.”

Lin Mo nodded gently, then spoke again.

“The medicinal properties of San Qian Zi clash with the medicinal properties of the Warm Wind Flower, which is why it causes coughing all the time.”

“Only things like coughing up blood will happen, so go back and quit, then drink more hot water.”

Upon hearing Lin Mo’s words, tears immediately appeared in the middle-aged man’s eyes.

“Mr Molin, you accept my obeisance!”

He instantly bent both knees trying to kneel down towards Lin Mo.

Lin Mo gave a look to the little girl beside the middle-aged man.

The latter immediately pulled the middle-aged man’s arm and spoke.

“Uncle, someone else, Mr. Mod Lin, still has things to do, let’s not delay him here.”

“Besides, my aunt is still lying in bed, let’s hurry back and boil her medicine.”

The middle-aged man who was pulled by the young girl also saw that this was Lin Mo’s intention.

He then bowed deeply to Lin Mo and took his niece and quickly walked towards home.

Only as the middle-aged man was leaving.

A gust of wind hung up his shirt, revealing a tattoo of a snake’s head and body.

Lin Mo’s eyes narrowed slightly.

He silently memorised the design in his mind, and then walked towards the original path.

He still had a few things he needed Zhang San’s help with.

So Lin Mo intended to bring Zhang San directly to the pier, it just so happened that Hua Qiang and the rest of them were all bad at official business.

Zhang San was a master’s graduate in law anyhow, so he should be able to handle it.

Just as he was returning the way he came, he suddenly heard a very familiar voice.

“Aren’t you guys afraid that the inspector’s office will discipline you!”

This voice filled with anger caused Lin Mo’s brow to frown slightly.

Zhang San's voice.

His eyes turned to look at the alleyway to the side, and Lin Mo calmly stepped over.

In the alleyway, Zhang San, who was dressed in a western suit, opened his hands.

He was protecting a girl behind him.

Beneath his glasses were all alert, looking at the few men in front of him.

"Zhang San, how can a loser like you protect the little sister behind you."

"Give her to us, we will protect her well for you."

The faces of several men all had evil smiles on them.

Their greedy and wanton gazes kept hovering wide over the female lead behind Zhang San.

I never thought that today's luck would be so good, meeting such a superb girl.

Several people were already on fire with diarrhea at the moment.

They had already thought about it, after they and the other brothers were done having fun.

At the very least, they could sell her for tens of thousands of Maple Leaf coins.

"Impossible, this is my senior sister, any of you who want to touch her will step over my body!"

Zhang San's originally gentle eyes were now filled with a resolute look.

A short dagger appeared in his hand, which even had a little food residue on it.

Several people looked at the small dagger in Zhang San's hand and suddenly froze for a moment.

A burst of rushing laughter then emanated from their mouths.

"Aigoo crap, Zhang San, you want to kill us with this thing?"

"You're trying to peel apples for us with this little short knife, aren't you."

"Look at that one of his with food scraps on it, hahaha, laughing my a*s off."

"Do you guys think that's, like, funny?"

Chapter 3420

It was like a voice resounding from the nine ghosts.

A cold and piercing chill appeared behind several of the men.

Cold sweat had even continued to seep out from their backs.

Lin Mo, who had an indifferent face, stood behind the few men and asked in a soft voice.

The few men turned their heads somewhat stiffly and just wanted to kneel down and beg for mercy, when they saw that Lin Mo was the only one.

At once, the few men who were still fearful once again became arrogant.

“Hehe, it seems that we’re really lucky today, not only is there a female.”

“And also met a little white guy, just a piece did not buy in as a duck forget it.”

“Could be, let him receive more of those two or three hundred pound fat pigs then, hahaha.”

Several people laughed wildly and each pulled a pig-killing knife from their waist.

It would be too loud to use hot weapons on this island.

A cold weapon like this machete would be a good weapon on this island.

Zhang San, who was originally surrounded by several people, saw Lin Mo.

He wanted to say that he should go, but then he suddenly thought of Lin Mo’s strength.

The woman behind Zhang San was stunned when she saw Lin Mo’s upright and handsome figure.

What a handsome man.

Lin Mo looked at the few people who were constantly rampantly taunting.

His right hand was slightly raised, and then instantly turned into a streak of shadow.

“Ah!”

The man among the several men who had just laughed the loudest just now had his face rounded.

Lin Mo’s palm was already placed on his neck, only to hear the sound of a crunching sound that made his scalp tingle.

“Ka-chow.”

The crisp sound caused everyone present to shiver in spite of themselves.

The man’s face was all agony and his neck looked like a puddle of mud.

The whole man’s breath dissipated abruptly and his body fell straight to the ground.

The rest of the men saw their boss being crushed to death so easily by Lin Mo.

One by one, their originally arrogant faces instantly became panicked.

“You, how dare you kill someone in the middle of the day!”

“The censorship office will definitely arrest you, you’d better hurry now.”

“That’s right, or you’ll definitely be worse than dead if you’re arrested.”

The killing knives they held in their hands became a little trembling.

But one by one, they still gathered together and looked at Lin Mo with a wary face.

Looking at this group of people, Lin Mo didn't have the slightest thought of wanting to talk nonsense with them.

His right arm lifted up directly and he struck out directly at them with a palm.

Several men looked at the fast approaching palm, clearly having seen the trail.

But they tried with all their might to lift their arms but still could not.

A few crisp bone cracking sounds rang out.

Several men who had just been incredibly arrogant were directly turned into a corpse.

Lin Mo's gaze looked towards Zhang San, who was standing at the innermost part of the room, and spoke.

"Let's go, there's still some minor trouble if the people from the inspector's office do come over later."

Although Lin Mo hadn't caused any bloodstains.

But the inspector's office of the West Vientiane Islands wasn't a nice person either.

Even if you didn't cause any bloodstains, they would still say that you had killed someone.

To blackmail you and things like that.

"Good, thanks a lot Mr. Molin."

Zhang San gave the girl behind him a reassuring look, and then led her to carefully avoid the corpses on the ground.

Looking at the appearance of Zhang San and the girl, Lin Mo spoke.

"You and her, two people who don't seem to be the slightest bit of a threat, I don't understand why you've come here."

Lin Mo's finger pointed to the island below.

When Zhang San heard Lin Mo's query, a bitter smile appeared on his face.

"Mr Molin, it's all a long story."

"If you don't mind you can come with us to our place of residence first."

"I'll take my time and talk to you in about some of the things I've been up to and on this island."

"The ultimate darkness."
