

Genius 3581

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3581

There is an old saying in China that goes very well.

There is no fear of Western doctors smiling, but only fear of Chinese doctors frowning.

Lin Mo's originally smiling face was now slightly tightened.

The originally relaxed eyebrows were also tightly couched together.

Originally, Ryan, who was still full of care, saw Lin Mo's appearance at this moment.

He was instantly startled, and the indifference on his face turned into a tense look.

"Maureen, don't look like that."

Ryan could only hope now that Lin Mo was intentionally scaring himself.

The way he looked now was just a little too scary.

Lin Mo's hand was placed on Ryan's wrist and he hadn't spoken.

Seeing this Ryan's breath even sank slightly at the moment.

Could it be that Mo Lin had diagnosed himself with cancer or something?

A look of panic gradually appeared in Ryan's eyes.

He had agreed to watch over Mr. Ronald for ten years.

The idea of marrying a beautiful daughter-in-law in ten years had not yet been realised.

He couldn't really be suffering from a terminal illness, could he?

Ryan looked at Lin Mo with nervousness, and inwardly he had already started to pray silently.

"Ryan, how old are you?"

Lin Mo's words caused Ryan's heart to burst.

If it wasn't for the mentality of hanging around from the pile of dead people for years on end.

It was estimated that Ryan would have broken down and cried out at this moment.

There was no way around it, the sense of atmosphere Lin Mo had created was just too much.

When one day someone who is very trusting and dependable inside suddenly looks at you after.

This is followed by a lowered brow and not a word, a person has to be scared.

"Twenty twenty-seven."

"Maureen, you don't scare me ah Maureen, I'm a man of little courage,"

Ryan shook Lin Mo's arm with some panic.

"Twenty-eight"

"Ugh."

Lin Mo let out a long sigh, good thing there was something hard to say in general.

Obviously want to tell Ryan, but it seems like he was afraid that Ryan could not accept it in general.

Ryan looked at Lin Mo's appearance and gritted his teeth and said directly.

"Maureen, if you see something, just say it directly, even if I don't live long."

"I'm not afraid either."

Lin Mo looked at Ryan and suddenly said seriously, "Ryan, are you really ready for this?"

Ryan nodded his head to affirm his words.

"By rights you shouldn't have this disease at your age"

"It's a bit tricky, and even I'm not 100% sure of a cure."

Lin Mo's tone heaved, "You're only twenty-eight years old and you've got kidney deficiency."

"Ryan, I'll really worry about what you'll do when you fetch a daughter-in-law when you're like this."

Lin Mo's words instantly enlivened the atmosphere that had been dull to the extreme.

Ryan, who had a grief-stricken face and was even already considering a suicide note, looked stunned.

He instantly understood that Maureen was simply playing with himself.

"Maureen!"

Ryan looked at Lin Mo on the side in anger and gritted his teeth.

"After so many years of dog evolution, I don't even feel as pure as you!"

Looking at Ryan's angry look, Lin Mo laughed.

He then took out a box of fresh loin from behind him as well as a handful of fresh leeks.

"Although you don't have much of a medical condition on you, this kidney deficiency thing can't be underestimated."

"These things are not as divine as they say, but they are still effective in nourishing Yin and tonifying Yang."

"You can take more of them if you're fine, so you don't have to take a wife and unhappy family in the future."

Ryan took the things in Lin Mo's hand with a strong look of disdain on his face.

"Oh, I, Ryan, still need to eat these things?"

“Back when I was a cowboy in Flower and Willow Lane, that was a rising star in Cowboy Street.”

“Pity, the hero is late.”

With that said, Ryan also shook his head with some regret.

It was as if he was lamenting something.

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3582

Lin Mo took out an iron grill from inside the cabin.

“You get it first, I’ll go see if there are any ingredients.”

After giving an explanation to Ryan, Lin Mo walked towards the gunpowder store.

Earlier, when he was getting the anthracite coal.

Inside the gunpowder storehouse, he saw a lot of frozen ingredients.

It was just right to take them out to make a long-lost barbecue.

It had been a long time since Lin Mo had eaten barbecue, and the last time he had eaten barbecue was when he was with Xu Hanxia again.

He casually picked out some of the ingredients.

Lin Mo walked towards the deck and then saw a very funny scene.

He saw that Ryan was carefully standing in front of the grill.

His hands were constantly turning the loin and the green leeks on the grill.

Every now and then, he even took out a brush and brushed some sauce on it.

It was clear that he had just said that he didn’t want this.

But now his body is standing in front of the grill so honestly.

Ryan in front of the barbecue grill looked anxious.

Why is this fire so small?

If that guy Maureen came back later, he would definitely laugh at himself again.

As he thought about it, Ryan was about to turn his head to check the situation.

Then he saw Lin Mo standing at the entrance of the cabin with a smirk on his face.

“Why are you walking without a sound?”

Lin Mo looked at Ryan’s somewhat flustered expression and said with a smile.

“People who do loss of heart usually have a much duller sense of hearing than ordinary people.”

Lin Mo then didn't say anything more and went straight to the side of the grill.

The next moment, Lin Mo somewhat speechlessly covered his forehead.

"Big brother, is this how you burn every barbecue?"

Lin Mo looked at the barbecue grill with only three or four smokeless coals actually placed underneath.

Good man, this was not the way to boil a frog in warm water.

Lin Mo's finger pointed at the anthracite coals piled up in a heap on the ground.

"I think you can actually put more of them in, following this method of grilling you have."

"It might be grilled until all these anthracite coals have gone out, and you won't be able to cook it at all."

Ryan's face instantly showed a look of embarrassment.

He used to grill directly over an open fire.

Grilling with anthracite coals was kind of a handful.

So there was no way of knowing how much coal to put in it to make it okay.

"How did you survive up there on Death Island in the first place with that look on your face?"

Ryan instantly had a look of reminiscence and

"It's not often you get to cook something physical up there on Death Island."

"I've eaten raw meat many times before."

"So the most popular thing on Death Island is still compressed biscuits or something like that."

Lin Mo picked up some coals from the ground and placed them inside the grill.

"By the way Ryan, how did you come to the West Vientiane Islands?"

Ryan's gaze looked at the sky without a single star and said in a deep voice.

"I was trafficked here when I was twelve or thirteen years old."

"There were many other children with me and most of them were sold out."

"And I couldn't be sold at all because I grew up thin and weak."

"It was treated like a bin for those guys to beat and scold and vent at will."

"Until then, the first light of my life, Mr Ronald."

"Then I was adopted by Mr Ronald and also became his close friend as well as henchman."

Ryan gave a brief account of his manager.

It looked like his experience was very painful, and Lin Mo did not continue to ask about it.

"By the way Molin, where are you from?"

“A man from the Wanxiang Kingdom, because I was not used to seeing those traitors doing wrong.”

“After killing them, I went far away and came to the West Vientiane Islands.”

It wasn't that Lin Mo didn't tell Ryan his identity.

Lin Mo's identity had to be kept secret, and no one in the entire West Vientiane Islands knew about it now.

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3583

The next morning.

The cries of the seagulls swept in at a rapid pace.

Ryan, who had been drowsy, slowly regained his meaning and subconsciously held his head.

Where was he and what had happened to him.

Ryan began to slowly remember what had happened last night.

It seemed he was having a barbecue with Lin Mo last night.

Later on, while eating, Ryan felt that it was no fun to eat like this.

He ran inside the gunpowder store and took out two bottles of wine treasured by the people of the Human Snake Organisation.

Then later Ryan remembered telling Lin Mo in a very arrogant manner.

In all his years of drinking, he had never been drunk until now.

So Ryan himself went crazy and drank with Lin Mo.

At the end of the drink, Ryan remembered that he seemed to have vomited, and Lin Mo had not even changed in the slightest.

“Our West Vientiane Islands god of wine is awake?”

“I have some sobering tea here, would you like to have some?”

Lin Mo slowly walked out from the hatch.

There was a delicate tea cup in his hand.

“I don't need it.”

Ryan silently rejected Lin Mo's kind offer.

Last night, he himself was still talking about how good he was at drinking in front of others.

As a result, Lin Mo had put on a straightforward face-punching scene.

He himself was so drunk that he had thrown up, but Lin Mo actually did not have a trace of drunkenness.

“Really don’t you want some?”

“The way you were last night, if you don’t drink a little, you’ll have a hard time all day today.”

“Let me guess, are you already feeling heavy-headed and have a tight and nauseous chest right now?”

Lin Mo’s words caused Ryan’s figure, which was just about to leave straight away, to stop.

“Maureen, you don’t even say.”

“It’s quite thirsty to get up this early in the morning haha.”

Ryan took the cup of tea directly from Lin Mo’s hand and drank it down in one go.

The taste was light and Ryan had little change in expression.

The next moment

Ryan’s face changed and he sprinted violently towards the edge of the deck.

“Vomit!”

Ryan lay on the edge of the bed and vomited for ten minutes before he finally stopped.

Lin Mo came to his side and handed over a tissue.

“How’s that, do you feel like you’re in better shape?”

Ryan gave Lin Mo a somewhat sultry look.

“Why didn’t you tell me for a moment that I would throw up.”

“Comfortable is a bit more comfortable, but my life is almost gone.”

Lin Mo harrumphed, then said aloud.

“But where are we at now?”

“Why do I feel that the water level we are in is much shallower than before?”

Hearing Lin Mo’s words, Ryan’s expression froze.

“Weren’t you the one who was planning the sailing route last night?”

Hearing Ryan’s words, Lin Mo’s face also looked slightly puzzled.

“Didn’t you finish planning the sailing route a long time ago and have been driving on auto-pilot?”

The two men’s eyes locked together.

The faces looked at each other.

“I’ve said I don’t drink, alcohol hurts people.”

Lin Mo looked around at the empty sea, and at the moment had no idea where he had run off to.

Originally, when he and Ryan had just left Shark Bay.

Some low land could still be seen in Shark Bay, but at the moment it was empty.

There was not even a single thing that could tell where they were going.

Ryan quickly rushed inside the C*ckpit and looked at the long ended autopilot.

The whole man's gaze froze.

"We've been off course for at least a few hours"

Lin Mo, who came behind, had a somewhat heavy face, "So can we find our way back now?"

Ryan answered Lin Mo as he flew through the controls interface.

"It shouldn't be anything major, we've been in record mode before."

"It's recorded on this wherever we've drifted towards, so we just need to return the same way."

As the two men spoke.

"Help!"

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3584

Suddenly, a cry for help sounded in the two men's ears.

Ryan's face changed slightly and he quickly walked towards the source of the voice.

Off the right deck of the Human Serpent warship.

A small, lonely raft was currently floating on the surface of the sea.

It was the person on top of the raft who had just made the distressing sound.

Ryan's palm touched the pistol at his waist directly.

This was the West Vientiane Islands.

In a place like this, someone would actually be riding on a raft looking for help?

Ryan definitely did not believe that such a phenomenon would exist in the West Vientiane Islands.

Lin Mo's palm gently rested on Ryan's wrist.

"There's no rush, let's see what's going on."

Lin Mo's eyes held a look of interest as he looked at the small raft floating on the sea below the boat.

The two of them, himself and Ryan, had just pa*sed through Shark Bay.

The dangers of the place could not be clearer to Lin Mo and Ryan.

If it wasn't for Lin Mo's sword that killed that huge shark.

It was estimated that the human serpent warship might not have been able to protect itself from being destroyed outright.

Now a small raft had appeared in front of Lin Mo and Ryan.

It would be really odd if it wasn't odd.

On top of the small raft, a woman with tattered clothes was sitting on it.

When she saw Lin Mo and Ryan poking their heads out, she said loudly and joyfully.

"Two, please help me."

"I've been drifting above this vast ocean for ten days, and I've come across this one boat of yours."

Her voice was filled with pleading as well as pity.

If an ordinary person were here, he or she might have been really moved.

But unfortunately, she was unlucky to have met Lin Mo as well as Ryan.

Lin Mo's gaze looked at this woman and said loudly.

"Big sister, the waters here are so treacherous, where did you come from?"

When the woman on the raft heard Lin Mo's question, a look of stolen joy flashed in her eyes.

It seemed that her trick of pretending to be pitiful had really worked.

This fellow had been fooled by himself so simply.

"Two good men, I am a resident of a nearby island, but one day a group of guys suddenly came to the island."

"They called themselves some kind of shark gang, and then locked us up one by one."

"It took me a lot of effort to get out of nowhere, so I just begged you two strong men to take me in!"

The woman said as she changed to cry uncontrollably.

Lin Mo and Ryan looked at each other.

"It seems that our course is a bit seriously off."

Ryan nodded in agreement after hearing Lin Mo's words.

"It looks like this woman is from a group called the Shark Gang."

"Or even if she's not from within the Shark Gang, she's definitely inextricably linked to the Shark Gang."

Lin Mo nodded and replied.

"Looking at this woman, she's actually not the least bit afraid of going out la encountering thugs."

“That so-called Shark Gang should just be hiding and still be nearby.”

The two men analyzed all the clues in just a few words.

The woman on the small raft saw Lin Mo and Ryan talking and not paying any attention to herself, so she opened her mouth and added.

“Two good men I still have some money on me that I can present to you two as payment.”

“And it’s impossible for me, a woman, to pose any threat to you two at all.”

Lin Mo’s gaze looked towards the woman, “Where is your organisation?”

The woman’s expression froze when she heard Lin Mo’s words.

“Her eyes subconsciously looked to the right, so it seems like it should be on the right.”

“Ryan, you go prepare the secondary cannon and be ready to fire later.”

This time Lin Mo didn’t suppress his voice and said directly to Lai Um-chan.

“Okay, I’m on my way.”

The woman panicked.

“Wait, what are you talking about?”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3585

After hearing Lin Mo’s words, a look of panic immediately sprang up on the woman’s face.

How could this

One had clearly not said anything and was so well disguised.

And why did they say who they were in just a few words?

“The two of you have misunderstood, I am really an ordinary person who escaped!”

The woman hurriedly explained loudly to Lin Mo.

Lin Mo looked at the woman and said loudly.

“Big sister, how many of you are there?”

“You misunderstood, I’m really just one person!”

This time the woman learned to be smart and did not answer Lin Mo’s question.

It was as if once she answered his question herself, then he would be able to guess the correct answer in general.

“Big sister, your words are a bit tone deaf, there shouldn’t be many people.”

“And even if we are alert, we might still cause not a few casualties to you?”

Lin Mo’s words instantly enraged the woman.

“I’ve said no no, what are you guessing at here.”

“Just say so if you’re not willing to save me, I’ll just leave!”

“You’re in a hurry, looks like I was right.”

Lin Mo smiled faintly, and then didn’t bother to continue to talk to the woman.

Instead, he said loudly to Ryan, “There aren’t many people on the other side, fire directly when you find them.”

“According to what this woman said, she’s either someone who was captured on the island and later defected to that whatever Shark Gang, or she’s someone inside the Shark Gang.”

“But I reckon someone on the island did get captured by the Shark Gang, and I don’t know what they’re doing locked up.”

Ryan, who was adjusting the position of the secondary gun with his binoculars on the other side, said quickly.

“Maureen, I’ve spotted a ship in the distance, it looks like just a medium sized warship.”

“A battleship like this is usually a little over a hundred men as standard, etc.”

Lin Mo nodded, and then said to Ryan.

“Let’s go, lean the ship straight over, I want to see where they got the guts to do that.”

The Human Serpent warship started up straight away and headed towards the place where Ryan had found the warship.

And the woman underneath the ship, who was just pretending to be pathetic, saw the Human Serpent Battleship start up directly towards where she and the others had parked their ship.

This battleship was much larger than the one she and the others had, and if they were discovered, they might have to be wiped out.

A look of anxiety appeared on the woman’s face.

She pulled out a walkie-talkie from behind her and was just about to speak.

“Bang!”

A deafening gunshot rang out.

The walkie-talkie that the woman had just taken out of her hand was instantly turned into pieces under this shot.

“My hand!”

She let out a wailing sound of pain.

The aftermath of the bullet that had just smashed the walkie-talkie popped and flew in pieces, all lodged in the woman's hand.

On top of the Human Serpent warship, Ryan blew gently on the muzzle of his smoking pistol

"How's this gun skill of mine?"

Lin Mo said helplessly as he looked at Ryan who had stinkily shown his chant.

"Yes yes yes, you're great you're great."

"I won't even go to the next Gun King competition without you."

Ryan looked at Lin Mo's appearance and said blandly.

"Alas, it's true that the world of the strong is not understood by ordinary people."

Lin Mo shook his head helplessly as his gaze looked towards the distant sea.

A medium-sized battleship suddenly came into Lin Mo's eyes.

It was the same one that Ryan had observed earlier.

"Do we just fire and attack or?"

Ryan's gaze looked at Lin Mo as he inquired in a deep voice.

His serious look was a far cry from the stinky look he had just given.

Lin Mo pondered slightly for a moment, then spoke.

"Just fire straight away."

"It should leave them alive, just grab one and ask for directions when it's all over."

After hearing Lin Mo's reply, Ryan placed his palm directly on the firing button.

Fire!

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3586

The power of the shells from the secondary guns was not as great as that of the main guns.

The power of the secondary cannon was not as great as the main cannon, but the actual power was not to be underestimated.

Ryan controlled the secondary cannon and quickly aimed at the opponent's ship.

As long as he waited until the human serpent battleship was at a suitable distance.

At any moment, Ryan could fire his cannon and bombard the opposite battleship.

The medium-sized battleship in the distance.

It was a somewhat old battleship.

How old is it

It was made to feel decades behind the steel battleships of today.

The overall top was like it was made of wood.

And the captain standing at the front of the line was actually wearing a classical pirate costume.

On the lookout pole, the lookout man was looking around with his binoculars.

Suddenly, his gaze caught sight of the overbearing and hideous human serpent warship coming in the distance.

The lookout was startled.

Hastily, he lowered his head and shouted loudly at the captain.

"Captain, it's not good!"

"The Water Ghost's mission has failed and that battleship is heading straight for us!"

The captain, who was still relaxed on the deck below, heard the lookout's words.

His face instantly changed.

"Quickly, all hands to battle stations!"

"Tell the swine in the bottom of the ship to use all the strength they have."

"Two pounds of nesting for each man after that!"

One of the men nodded hastily when he heard the captain's order.

He then quickly headed for the lower part of the deck.

The bottom level of this ship was a huge room.

One by one, the naked men were gawking at the wooden sticks in their hands.

All of them, without exception, were yellow and thin and looked very frail.

Some of them had bruises on their bony backs.

When they heard the sound of footsteps, all their bodies subconsciously trembled.

Then they quickly straightened their backs.

The hand came into the room and looked at them and said loudly.

"Now move immediately and use all your strength."

"Wait until you get back from here two pounds of nest egg each!"

The words of his men caused a sudden gleam of light to appear in everyone's numb eyes.

Two catties of nest eggs if one saved a little.

It would be enough for their families to eat for days.

Seeing the glint in their eyes, the henchman then nodded in satisfaction.

His figure quickly walked towards the top.

As for the two pounds of nest eggs they had just been promised

A group of pigs doing hard labour were just a group of pigs, it was good for himself and the others to give them two nest eggs every day.

If they don't obey, just kill a new batch.

After all, there are so many people here, one person two pounds of nest egg.

That's hundreds of pounds.

If they were given, what would they and others do to make wine?

.....

On the Human Snake warship, Ryan, who was sitting in the pilot's seat of the secondary gun, suddenly looked puzzled.

Rushing outside, Lin Mo said loudly, "Molin, the opposite side is strange."

After waiting for Lin Mo to have doubts and approach, Ryan continued to speak.

"Just now it was farther away and I could only determine the size of the other party's ships, but now after gradually getting closer."

"I just realized that the hull of the other party's ship was already considered a hundred years old."

"Pure wood hull as well as old-fashioned gun ports."

After hearing Ryan's words, a pensive look appeared on Lin Mo's face.

A ship from hundreds of years ago, a sea that had no idea of the direction, and that woman.

"Has that ship spotted us now?"

"It has moved wait."

Ryan looked as if he had made some new discovery.

"Those guys are slowly moving the bow of the ship, they want to run away!"

Lin Mo's eyebrows frowned slightly, now that group of guys was an important clue.

If they were allowed to run away, it would probably be very troublesome.

"I'll go and speed things up."

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3587

Lin Mo stepped into the cabin and set it to third gear on top of the power system.

The original speed of the ship soared again, and the distance between the Human Serpent Battleship and the ancient battleship shortened once again.

The captain of the ancient battleship saw the speed of the human serpent battleship increase again.

A cold sweat sprang up on his forehead.

It seemed that the other side was directly targeting him.

A ruthless look flashed in the captain's eyes.

In the past, the ones that came in from the confused drift were not very big ships.

With this battleship in his hands, which he had found from inside an abandoned harbour, he was able to become the only boss of this sea.

Only then could he become the only boss of this sea.

And the only island in the entire sea was in his possession.

If such a powerful warship found that there was no way to get out after entering.

Then they would have tried to take over the island.

And he and I would certainly have a battle.

If that was the case, then it was time to strike before the other side knew that there was no way out of here.

"Little ones, drop depth charges into the water!"

A sinister smile appeared on the captain's face.

Deep water bombs were a type of bomb that they had on board when they were confused coming in.

The biggest thing it did was when a ship passed above.

It could be attached directly to the top of the ship and then explode violently.

Because there were no ships in the sea worth using such bombs.

So far it is the most reserved type of bomb.

The mate next to the captain had a slightly worried look on his face.

"Boss, that ship looks even more powerful than our original warship."

"Could it be equipped with equipment to absorb deep sea bombs?"

The captain's rugged face instantly showed a breathless look.

"Then you tell me what we should do?"

“Look at the guns on this ship, they’re f*cking older than my dad.”

“Once they go beyond a hundred metres of range they drop straight down.”

“And you know that other people’s warships are more advanced than the ones we were driving when we first came in.”

“After a while I’m afraid they won’t be approaching twenty or thirty kilometres a gun will coax them over.”

The captain’s words dumbfounded the entire mate.

He was actually going to say that if we couldn’t do it against such a steel giant, we should just surrender.

After all, it was you who spoke up about letting the water spirits try to fight their way into the other side.

If we tie you up, it shouldn’t be too much of a problem yet.

One member of the back of the ship, which had already managed to turn around, carefully pulled out a large iron ball.

There were also very sharp and hideous iron spikes on them.

Wait and throw these deep sea bombs into the sea.

When that horrible battleship opposite sailed in it would be caught straight on.

And then even if he was advanced, the bottom of the ship would have to be rotten with a few big holes.

That was the only ploy the captain had come up with.

To slowly wear down the Serpent by flying a kite.

If Ryan knew what the captain was thinking, he would probably just cover his stomach and laugh out loud.

How could this guy be so naive to have such an idea.

One should know that the main gun of the Human Serpent Battleship had a range of 4,500 kilometres alone.

And although the secondary cannon was smaller, it also had a range of three thousand five hundred kilometres.

This made Ryan, who was measuring and extrapolating earlier, cringe.

If it wasn’t for those guys who had to grind and grind, I guess he would have died long ago.

Lin Mo, who was standing at the bow of the Human Serpent warship, had a telescope in his hand.

Looking at the ancient warship that had already turned its direction, Lin Mo’s eyes pondered for a moment.

The next moment Lin Mo understood why the other side had turned their heads and ran.

“Ryan, you can leave from the secondary gun first.”

Lin Mo took his binoculars and looked at the other party’s somewhat blurred shadow.

“Didn’t the Human Serpent warship have that tool on top of it to detect the sea before?”

“Take it all out straight away.”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3588

Lin Mo’s words caused Ryan’s face to faintly flush.

“Maureen, are you worried that the other party will do something in the water?”

Lin Mo nodded and spoke to Ryan in a soft analytical voice.

“Good, the other side doesn’t know what the reason is for the warships being so backward though.”

“But they must also know that their speed is definitely not as fast as ours.”

“Whether they’re trying to cross back to kill us or escape, a normal person would trip.”

“But do they have any long-range attack weapons, so I think the other side will strike in the water.”

Lin Mo’s finger pointed to the sea in the distance.

“If I were that captain, I’d just keep planting all sorts of bombs on the sea.”

“The kind that would simply detonate as soon as our ships got close.”

“After doing us damage, they’d quickly come back around the other side to flank us.”

“Of course, that’s just the next best thing.”

Ryan looked at Lin Mo and wondered, “If it’s the next best thing why are you saying it?”

“Then what kind of upper plan do you have in mind?”

A confident smile appeared on Lin Mo’s face, “Stop the ship and surrender with a white flag.”

Lin Mo had 100% confidence in himself.

No matter what those guys had up their sleeves, Lin Mo would be able to easily defuse them.

The difference between self-confidence and pride was whether one could recognise their own strength.

Ryan looked at Lin Mo and muttered in a small voice, “You’ll lose friends like that.”

“Moving around and pretending here, why haven’t I ever pretended like this before.”

Ryan decided that he would write down all of Lin Mo’s so moves from now on.

It would be convenient for him to go back and learn Lin’s pretending method later.

Lin Mo’s face instantly burst into tears and laughter.

This guy Ryan really was.

Ryan then held out a very huge orb from inside the equipment room.

“This seems to be the latest equipment developed by the Maple Leaf Country, and it’s said that it hasn’t been sold to the public yet.”

“It looks like the Human Serpent Organization has quite a few connections in the Maple Leaf Country’s military department as well.”

“You can even get this stuff straight away.”

Ryan couldn’t help but sigh with emotion as he hugged the huge orb in his arms.

If it wasn’t for all the hurtful things that the Human Serpents did.

Ryan might have been tempted to join such a huge force like the Human Snake.

But it was just human trafficking and seeing them as money-making swine.

With that alone, Ryan had a death wish for all of them.

He had grown up as a slave and understood best what it was like to be a slave.

If it wasn’t for Mr. Ronald, he himself would probably be a white skeleton by now.

Hanging the large orb in his hand on the hideous snake’s head on the bow of the Human Serpent warship.

The design of this water probe was very user-friendly.

It seemed to have a compressed battery inside it that kept it moving forward at a fast pace.

This eliminates the need for a series of complicated operations.

In just ten minutes, the human serpent warship had travelled twenty kilometres at speed.

The red dot on the head of the large orb, which was still moving quickly ahead, suddenly flashed rapidly.

A couple of hundred metres ahead of it, a depth charge was sinking in the water.

After flickering for a while, the big orb quickly headed towards the deep-water bomb.

When it reached the front of the depth charge, its body slammed into it.

Lin Mo, who was standing on top of the hideous snake from the bow of the ship, as well as Ryan looked calmly at the sea.

As for the ancient battleship, they could not even see it without binoculars.

The two of them were not in the least bit anxious.

The distance between the two sides was about forty kilometres, and Ryan was not sure he could hit them.

But at that distance, it would take twenty minutes at most.

They would be able to reduce the distance from forty kilometres to thirty kilometres.

“Boom!”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3589

Suddenly, a huge splash of water violently rose from the sea in front of them.

That was not all.

Along with this splash came dozens of explosions one after another.

A shocking splash of water was rushed up directly.

“You see, those guys are really going down for a pigtail.”

Lin Mo looked at Ryan and spoke easily.

“Go hold another one out, I have a feeling the other side can’t just release this batch.”

“This heavy duty of protecting our ships is in your hands.”

A look of depression crossed Ryan’s face at once.

It was so bright and great to talk about making yourself a hard worker.

Ryan once again reported a large orb from inside the cabin and stepped out, setting it up slightly before.

Throwing the large orb into the sea, Ryan lounged back on the beach chair somewhat lazily.

Lin Mo looked at Ryan’s comfortable look and asked with a smile.

“Didn’t you say before that this kind of stuff would only sap your fortitude already steeled spirit.”

“Not to mention lying down, even if you touch you don’t even touch. Even if it means dying and jumping off the boat to feed the sharks.”

“You’d never even lie down on that.”

Ryan, who was lying on a beach chair, said somewhat lazily.

“Maureen, I’ve fallen, let me fall for a few more days.”

“I once promised Mr. Ronald to watch over him for ten years, and now I’m just two months short of the last.”

“By that time I intend to go to the safest country in the world, China.”

“I’ve heard people say that the people of China are very kind and helpful.”

“When the time comes, I will find a woman somewhere who can look up to me and spend the rest of my life from there.”

“How about that, isn’t that a wonderful day?”

Lin Mo nodded approvingly and said to Ryan.

“It won’t be easy if you want to settle in China, it’s not easy to get a household registration anywhere.”

“If you do go in, I suggest you go and live in a city called Guangyang.”

Ryan’s face took on some interest, “Guang Yang?”

“Is that the most prosperous place in China?”

Lin Mo shook his head gently.

“I just heard about it from a friend of mine in China.”

“New changes have just been made over in Guangyang, so you’ll be more likely to be accepted if you go there.”

Ryan nodded thoughtfully, “Maureen, why do you know so much about China for a Manxman?”

“Because I wanted to join China once, but unfortunately it didn’t work out in the end.”

“I also made a point of learning some information before joining, and all of it didn’t work either.”

Only after hearing Lin Mo’s explanation did a look of realization appear on Ryan’s face.

“I’ll go and see how we’re doing with the distance.”

“If we can hit, I’ll make sure to hit them in the a*s with one shot.”

“Bunch of sons of b*tches, laying a hit on me and trying to just run away?”

Ryan stood up from the top of his beach chair, his entire tiredness disappearing instantly.

Quickly, he ran towards the C*ckpit of the secondary gun.

Lin Mo shook his head and smiled, this guy was really interesting.

If he waited until everything was over, Lin Mo could help Ryan join the Chinese nationality.

Along with the rapid movement of the Human Serpent warship, the distance between the two sides was only seen flying in.

“Captain , the distance between us and them is getting closer and closer.”

The lookout on top of the ancient battleship’s lookout pole was staring at the Human Snake battleship behind him with a deadly gaze.

After seeing the other side getting closer and closer, he anxiously looked down and said aloud.

The captain’s face showed a look of disbelief.

“Didn’t those guys get blown up by the deep sea bombs?”

The lookout shook his head, "They seem to have some kind of scouting tool, and all our depth charges were detonated in advance."

"Bugger!"

The captain cursed angrily as he clenched his fist fiercely.

"Stop dead"

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3590

Just as the captain was about to say stop the deadly fight.

His mouth was covered directly with a deadly grip.

The captain's eyes went wide with rage.

He reluctantly turned his head to find that it was actually his usual most trusted second-in-command.

The deputy had one hand over the captain's mouth and the other directly controlling his hands.

"We'll grant you your own death if you want it."

"But if you want to take the men to their deaths with you, then long sorry Captain."

The mate took a piece of twine and tied the captain up.

The captain, who was tied securely, looked viciously at the deputy in front of him and said loudly.

"I have treated you well in my day, how dare you betray me!"

The captain's eyes then looked around at the crew.

"Why are you still standing there, kill this traitor!"

But the crew did not move to kill the deputy as the captain had expected.

Instead, they all lowered their heads and fell silent.

It was as if they hadn't seen the scene at all.

The captain, who realised that he had been completely betrayed, had now come to his senses completely.

"You bds, you think that by handing me over the other side will forgive you?"

"Baka, if I die, you will all die too."

"The emperor will not spare you ummmmmmmmm."

The captain was about to continue his rant against them when a rag was shoved right into his mouth.

The odd taste caused the Captain's face to change and he let out a frantic woop woop.

The deputy looked at the captain and said in a cold voice; "Shut up you."

"A selfish, self-serving fellow and you want everyone to follow you and sell their lives?"

"Do you really think we don't know that you secretly hide some of the food away every time."

"Do you really think we don't know what you are secretly fighting for?"

The deputy's words silenced the captain.

He hadn't expected that what he usually did would be investigated straight away.

"Everyone hoist the white flag and stop the ship and wait."

At the deputy's words, all the crew started to move at once.

They had been very reluctant to fight when they had just discovered the Human Serpent warship.

But there was nothing to do with the orders the captain had been giving.

That was why they could only arrange for the woman, the Water Ghost, to go ahead and try to blend in.

Now the other side's powerful steel battleship was about to come after them.

The woman had no intention of resisting at this moment.

The human serpent battleship.

"Holy sh*t, Maureen, the opposite side is raising the white flag!"

Ryan, who was watching the opposite side with his binoculars in the secondary gun C*ckpit, suddenly let out a yell.

Lin Mo put down the binoculars in his hand, "I already knew that."

Lin Mo's heart wasn't really surprised by the white flag flying on the opposite side.

It was even one of the several expectations Lin Mo had.

Ryan popped a head out from inside the secondary gun C*ckpit.

"So do we still have to fire on them?"

Lin Mo shook his head, "I'm guessing their handlers have changed at the moment."

"Huh?"

Looking at Ryan's sandy appearance, Lin Mo's heart was very helpless.

When he had just met Ryan, this guy was still very calm.

No matter what he did, he had to think through it on his own first.

But recently, Ryan had directly given up thinking and asked Molin directly if he had anything.

Wasn't this much more comfortable than using half a day's worth of brain cells yourself?

Lin Mo explained to Ryan in a deep voice.

“According to how the other party originally acted, it was obvious that they had bad intentions towards us.”

“Fearing our escape, tripping in the seawater these are all normal.”

“But the other side would never surrender, because he knows he has offended us.”

“Even if he surrenders, there is a high possibility that his life will be in danger.”

“So there should be infighting among the other side’s personnel.”

“And the one who advocated beating us, lost.”