

Genius 3611

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3611

Lin Mo's figure arrived at the edge of the Human Serpent Battleship.

The white robe on his body was windless at the moment.

Underneath the hideous mask were eyes without a trace of emotion.

Lin Mo's gaze was fixed on the seabed below.

Below the surface of the sea, in the darkness of the seabed.

A huge octopus was swimming rapidly towards the top.

Its tentacles were constantly waving.

It sensed another ship passing overhead.

The Damned ones, it would smash them all to pieces this time.

But as the giant octopus continued to rise, a domineering killing intent appeared above it.

That killing intent sent the giant octopus's self-consciousness into a frenzy of warning.

There was great danger.

The octopus had a tentacle alone that was eight or nine metres long.

But at the moment it was floating rigidly in the water, not daring to continue rising upwards.

For innate self-consciousness would never deceive itself.

There really was a great terror up there.

Lin Mo, standing at the edge of the human-snake warship, was as if he had seen a giant octopus in the sea.

His eyes were cold, and a wisp of killing intent coalesced in his eyes.

The giant octopus beneath the deep sea trembled.

It was as if it was being watched by an inexplicable presence.

It was the existence above that made itself feel a life and death crisis!

The huge octopus' figure hurriedly sank downwards quickly.

It did not dare to remain in this place any longer.

Sensing the body of the giant octopus gradually sinking downwards.

Only then did the cold, frosty face beneath Lin Mo's Lan Ling ghostly face gradually dissipate.

After his slender fingers removed the Lan Ling ghost face from his face and put it away.

“Alright, you can open your eyes now.”

Lin Mo said with a light smile as he looked at the way Ryan even held his hand over his eyes.

Ryan’s originally tense body heard Lin Mo’s warm voice.

Now he gradually relaxed.

A moment ago, Lin Mo’s cold, frosty voice without a trace of emotion had startled Ryan.

If not for the identical voice, Ryan would have suspected that the one just now was not Lin Mo.

“Maureen, what’s happening?”

Ryan looked at the human serpent warship without the slightest change and curiously asked Lin Mo.

“We can safely leave the deep sea area.”

Lin Mo simply spoke to Ryan about the result.

As for the matter that he had just brought Lan Ling’s Ghost Face with him, Lin Mo did not tell Ryan.

When the last war with the Wanxiang Kingdom started.

Lin Mo had not yet broken through to Zong Shi and had merely touched the threshold of Zong Shi.

He had brought the Lan Ling Ghost Face with him to streak through the midst of the battlefield.

That bloody scene had long since been spread far and wide internationally.

So Lan Ling Ghost Face had also long since made an international name for himself.

Ryan listened somewhat dumbfounded to Lin Mo’s words.

It seemed like nothing had happened just now.

Why did Maureen just say that they could get through the Deep Sea Zone unharmed?

The human serpent warship was able to pass through the deep sea zone unhindered.

Not to mention deep sea creatures, there were not even some sharks or anything like that.

The killing intent of Lin Mo’s full power just now made all the creatures around him flee in fear.

The ships waiting outside the deep sea area were not in any danger when they saw the Human Snake warship.

The entire deep sea area was very quiet.

A look of joy appeared on their faces.

“Looks like that D*mn octopus is sleeping today.”

“Count which two boys’ luck, let them live a little longer.”

“That’s good, that Human Serpent Organisation’s warship has managed to be preserved.”

As these guys pondered, they quickly ordered their men to enter the deep sea area.

Take advantage of the fact that that octopus was still sleeping.

If it was a little later and that guy woke up.

This deep sea area would become a place where whoever entered would die again.

Lin Mo, who was about to leave the deep sea area, glanced at the battleships swarming behind him.

The corners of his mouth curled up slightly, outlining a smile.

“Treat them well.”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3612

With the human serpent warship leaving the deep sea area.

The body of the huge octopus that was still obsequiously at the bottom of the sea froze.

The being that had terrified it seemed to be gone!

And sensed the oozing ships on the surface of the sea.

The huge shark was instantly furious at the moment.

I can’t beat that guy, I can’t beat you guys.

You all have to be so arrogant, isn’t that crazy to look down on me?

The furious giant octopus immediately flew towards the surface of the sea.

Above the deep sea area, Scar-eye was still planning with a greedy face what to do with the human serpent warship once he got it.

“By the time we succeed in taking down that advanced warship of the Human Serpent organisation.”

“Just form a fleet, and by then our forces will definitely be able to seek a certain position on the Western Vientiane Islands!”

Scar-Eye mapped out a blueprint for the future to his men.

“When the time comes, Captain, we’ll go and occupy an island, right?”

“That’s right, and when the time comes the island will be named after the captain’s nickname explicitly.”

“What do you guys think of the name Morrowolf Island?”

“By then the captain will be the controller of an island, the high and mighty lord of the island.”

The compliments from his men made Scar-eye very flattered.

“Hahahaha, when I become the island lord, I will ennoble you all as captains of the inspector’s house!”

“Many thanks, Island Master!”

The underlings had even changed their titles straight away.

The smile on Scar-Eye’s face could barely be concealed.

Beyond the deep sea area, the Human Serpent warship suddenly came to a halt.

At Ryan’s puzzled look, Lin Mo said softly,

“Let’s watch a good show.”

“Three two one.”

“Boom!”

As Lin Mo’s words counted down.

The surface of the originally calm deep water suddenly exploded violently.

A huge octopus emerged from beneath the surface of the sea and

Scar-Eye, who was chatting with his men inside the cabin, heard the loud splashing sound outside.

He frowned slightly and said loudly to the outside.

“What the f*ck’s going on?”

“Such a loud noise big what if we wake up that D*mn octopus later!”

Just as Scar-Eye roared.

A member staggered in from outside with desperation thick in his tone.

“Captain, that octopus has appeared!”

Boom!

The member’s words were like a thunderclap blasting into Scar-Eye’s heart.

The originally grand blueprint within Scar-Eye’s heart shattered straight up at this moment.

He was a regular visitor to the deep sea area.

Naturally, he knew how terrifying that octopus really was.

Any ship that was targeted by it never had any record of surviving.

Scar-Eye quickly headed outside.

He wanted to make sure if what his little brother had said was true or not.

Upon arriving on deck, Scar-eye caught a glimpse of the behemoth in the sea.

“How is this possible”

Scar-Eye muttered incredulously as he looked at the huge object in the sea.

His eyes looked at the Human Serpent warship that was parked beyond the deep water.

Why didn't they make the slightest bit of noise when they just gave pa*sage?

That's right, these must be the tactics of those two guys.

The octopus must have still been asleep when they pa*sed by.

They must have used their tricks to wake the octopus up.

But just as Scar-eye was still pondering over and over what the hell was going on.

Far below a smaller vessel.

A ma*sive tentacle was already in the sea reaching out towards the smaller vessel.

Scar-eye suddenly reacted to why this octopus had taken so long to make its move.

"Bang!"

A violent sound snapped out.

A ship that was only less than a hundred meters away from Scar-Eye instantly shattered.

A huge tentacle rose up from the bottom of the sea and slapped down again.

Blood stained the sea.

The killing has begun!

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3613

Ryan stood on the Human Serpent warship with a horrified look on his face.

Looking at the behemoth on the surface of the sea within the Deep Sea Zone, he gulped his saliva.

When himself and Lin Mo had crossed the deep sea zone before, this fellow hadn't even appeared.

Why did the giant octopus come out to kill as soon as they pa*sed now?

Ryan's afterimage glanced at Lin Mo.

What exactly had Molin done when he had just told himself to close his eyes?

Lin Mo's gaze was calm as he watched the tentacles of the giant octopus wreak havoc within the deep sea zone.

Almost no one on top of the ships it had smashed could survive.

The sea was soon tinged with a layer of red.

Scar on the Morrowolf watched the giant octopus with a cold sweat oozing from his forehead.

There was no way he could get away now.

The ones that the giant octopus had just killed were the ones that wanted to leave.

So now all that was left was

Letting go of a fight.

Scar-eyed's eyes were covered with ruthlessness as he said loudly.

"Everyone turn your guns around, aim them at that D*mn octopus and give me a shot!"

His roar resounded throughout the top of the ship.

One by one, members of the crew quickly turned this cannon around to aim at the wrecking octopus.

Every one of them was a desperate man, and now was a time of life and death.

All of them brought out all the strength they had.

Along with the constant firing from above the Morrowolf.

The other ships also knew that it was time to fight.

So they turned their guns around.

One by one, shells were fired at the giant octopus.

The giant octopus seemed to know the power of these shells.

It didn't even think about resisting.

Instead, it dived straight into the water and felt its way in another direction.

Ryan, who was watching this scene outside the deep sea area, was astonished.

"This guy is actually so smart and knows how to avoid human attacks."

"Normal, animals have a strong sense of crisis."

Lin Mo smiled, if this big guy wasn't smart.

It wouldn't have run so fast straight away just now.

The figure of the giant octopus dived into the water and everyone instantly lost sight of it.

Scar-eyed's gaze scanned the surface of the sea continuously.

Trying to find out exactly where the giant octopus was hiding.

Everyone present understood in their hearts that it had long been a fight to the death.

If the giant octopus did not die, they would definitely not survive either.

Suddenly, the surface of the water in the distance broke open again.

"Bang!"

A huge tentacle fiercely sprang out of the water and slapped the battleship above.

“Ah, help!”

The crew of that battleship hadn’t even had time to call for help.

The octopus’ massive power smashed the entire ship straight into pieces.

All the crew members were also instantly turned into mush under the huge power of the octopus.

As the blood-red seawater reflected in the eyes of the others.

Their hearts were filled with heaviness.

The battleship that the octopus had just destroyed was at the outermost edge of everyone.

There was simply no way they could manage to attack in the first place.

This octopus had the intelligence to be attacking.

The huge octopus after the attack instantly dived into the water.

It simply did not give them any chance to aim their attack.

Lin Mo on the deck of the human serpent warship laughed lightly as he watched them.

Originally, he didn’t want to bother much with this group of guys.

After all, there were too many evil people above the Western Wanxiang Islands.

One couldn’t even count them all.

But since this group of guys wanted him to be a guinea pig to explore the way.

Lin Mo also cooperated to go along with them.

After all, that guy wouldn’t dare to attack when I came over.

But if you guys come over, that’s not necessarily the case.

“Ryan, where did you get the melon seeds from?”

Lin Mo took the melon seeds that Ryan handed him, with a look of amazement in his eyes.

Didn’t the two of them instantly become melon eaters?

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3614

“Hmm? You said that.”

Ryan thought Lin Mo was inquiring about something.

It took a moment of reflection to realise that Lin Mo was talking about the melon he was holding.

“There are also ones kept in the pantry, raw and cooked ones.”

Ryan took out a packet of melon seeds from among his pockets and showed it to Lin Mo.

The guys from the Human Snake Organisation came out as if they were on holiday.

Peanuts and mineral water.

All kinds of snacks as well as snacks were not bad at all.

Lin Mo's gaze looked at the battle in the distance and said softly to Ryan.

"Let's make a bet."

"How about just all that octopus can smash all the ships in a few minutes?"

Ryan pondered for a moment, "Fine, then I'll bet him half an hour."

Lin Mo gave a light laugh and then said, "I'll bet on an hour then."

"As for the lottery, whoever loses will do a hundred push-ups."

Lin Mo had just done some analysis of the giant octopus and those ships.

The ships they were on were all warships that weren't considered advanced many years ago.

But they had all undergone various modifications as well as the addition of weapons.

And if you look at the sheer size of the sharks, you'll see that they're not very big.

If you dodge their shells, you can destroy one in about five minutes.

But as the giant octopus destroys more and more ships.

Then the pressure on the shells will gradually decrease.

Although there were still more than thirty ships in the deep sea area.

But Lin Mo was sure that in an hour at most, they would all be wiped out.

Ryan looked at the chaos above the deep sea area and suddenly asked Lin Mo.

"Maureen, do you think that if they try to break the situation now."

"Is there still a chance?"

Lin Mo shook his head, "If it was just now, they all scattered and fled there was still a chance that they could get away with some."

"But now that they've all gathered together for safety, they can't escape at all."

"The best ending now would be for them all to detonate their ships, in which case that giant octopus wouldn't survive."

"One for one is already the best ending, but if they just stalemate like that."

"At the end of the day the giant octopus might just get a little wounded, but they would all be wiped out."

Listening to Lin Mo's analysis, Ryan felt that it made perfect sense.

"Should we make a sneak attack?"

Ryan looked at the Morrowolf above the deep sea area.

It was that warship that had just spoken out and said that the Human Snake warship at his and Lin Mo's feet was stolen.

How could they possibly think that this battleship was stolen by Lin Mo after he had killed the members of the Human Snake Organization.

"No need, they won't be able to get away."

"If they do get away, it's not too late for us to get rid of them for the people."

Lin Mo then pulled over a chair and sat on it, knocking the melon seeds in his hand.

Ryan also took one from the side and sat next to Lin Mo all the way.

The two of them really seemed to be watching the fighting and killing in the deep sea area as if they were watching a show.

On top of the Morrowolf, Scar-eye was anxious at the moment.

In just ten minutes, three or four warships had been directly smashed by the giant octopus.

If things continued at this rate, it would take at least two hours.

He and his men would all be buried in the sea.

Scar-eyed's gaze suddenly caught sight of the Human Snake warships beyond the deep sea area.

Seeing them not leaving, but instead just stopping there.

A monstrous rage rose up within him at once.

"f*ck, don't let me out, or neither of you will live."

Scar-Eye's palm lined up directly on the cab's table.

It made a dull thud.

"Wait, since you're not leaving, don't try to stay anywhere so peacefully!"

A look of resentment flashed in Scar-Eye's eyes as he thought of a very good note.

"Men, adjust the direction of the ship's guns!"

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3615

Scar eyes the distant Human Snake warship.

Didn't you want to be somewhere to watch our good show?

Then I'll show you the consequences of staying there.

"Aim at that battleship and fire directly!"

Scar-Eye had a very good idea.

That was to attract the attention of the giant octopus by firing at the human serpent warship.

At that time, even if he and the others would die, they would have to bury themselves with them!

With Scar-eye's voice.

A cannonball from the Morrowolf slammed towards the distant Human Snake battleship.

At once, Ryan's face, who was getting high on the Human Serpent warship, changed slightly.

"Maureen, they're firing at us!"

On the side, Lin Mo looked at the shells flying above the sky without the slightest bit of tension.

"Come on, let's go inside the cabin and hide."

"It won't be able to hit us, but the splashing seawater will still be able to touch it."

Lin Mo's first sentence caused Ryan's expression to flicker.

But the next sentence brought an immediate look of enlightenment to his face.

The two of them walked into the cabin without any haste.

There was not a hint of nervousness as they watched the approaching shells.

Even Ryan hadn't realised that his subconscious trust in Lin Mo had been very high.

If it was usual, even if someone told Ryan that the shell would not come over.

Ryan would have to stay far away and remain absolutely safe.

But now Lin Mo's simple words made Ryan very sure that the shell would not come over.

As expected, the raging-looking shell slowed down in mid-air.

It finally landed two to three hundred metres away from the human serpent warship.

The force of the explosion created a spray of seawater all around.

The deck of the Human Snake battleship was also washed by seawater.

On board the Morrowolf, Scar saw the shells actually landing in front of the Human Snake battleship.

He was furious and his teeth itched.

"Couldn't the cannonballs have hit further?"

"Boss, that one just now was already the furthest it could hit."

A henchman on the side said to Scar-eye very helplessly.

Just when Scar-eye thought his plan to cause misfortune had just failed.

The giant octopus that was wreaking havoc suddenly looked over in the direction of the human-snake warship.

Scar-eye's eyes instantly showed a wild look of joy.

"Looks like they've been targeted as well."

"If we're going to die, we're all going to die together!"

Just when Scar-Eye thought that the giant octopus would simply go over and destroy the human-snake warship.

The giant octopus' body shuddered imperceptibly.

On the deck of the Human Snake Battleship, Lin Mo, who had stepped out of the cabin, was standing on it.

His deep eyes looked at the giant octopus that had turned around, and his eyes narrowed slightly.

An inexplicable chill brewed in Lin Mo's eyes.

The giant octopus in the deep sea area was a little stiff at the moment.

That sense of crisis just now

That's right, that raging killing intent from before was from that person.

The sense of crisis of death was gradually increasing.

The giant octopus' body trembled violently and turned around directly to continue its attack.

It looked as if it had just spun around just a moment ago.

Scar-eye, who had a face of ecstasy on the Morrowolf, was suddenly dumbfounded.

Looking at the giant octopus that had extended two tentacles to smash a battleship again.

Scar-Eye could only feel a sense of indignation rising up inside him.

Why didn't this octopus go and fight those two thieves!

Just because they were parked on the edge outside the deep sea area?

In just forty minutes, all eight tentacles of the giant octopus were out.

There were more than twenty battleships that had been directly smashed by it.

Now there were only four or five battleships left that hadn't been smashed by it.

Scar's right eyelid popped up as he watched the giant octopus disappear again.

And his whole body was a little disoriented.

"No good, it's targeting me!"

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3616

A huge tentacle before Scar-eye could react.

It sprang out directly from beneath the surface of the water and slapped towards the Morrowolf.

Scar-Eye's eyes were wide open at this moment.

But by now it was too late to move the ship.

He could only look at the huge tentacle with a fierce gaze as it came closer and closer.

"Bang!"

A loud sound resounded above the battleship.

Scar-Eye's battleship, which had undergone multiple retrofitting modifications, also cracked directly at this moment.

Seeing that his battleship had not been directly smashed.

Scar-eye's face immediately showed a look of joy and happiness after the disaster.

Now it wasn't in vain that he had spent so many Maple Leaf Coins to rebuild the ship before.

"Give me the blast!"

Scar-Eye was no longer in the mood to bother with the Human Serpent warships that were watching from afar at this moment.

Instead, he shouted frantically at his crew.

Waking up the crew members who had just been stunned by the huge tentacle.

The huge tentacle that had been sticking out of the sea was not destroyed by the blow.

It dived straight into the sea again.

Scar-eyed's gaze scanned the sea continuously.

But all that his gaze could see was the incomparably deep sea.

"Ah!"

This time the giant octopus' target was no longer the Morrowolf, which had already been cracked by it.

Instead, it was a battleship in the distance, and three tentacles reached out to slap down at the same time.

Boom!

Only to see that battleship also turned into pieces in an instant.

Some of the crew members on board were slapped into mush by the tentacles.

Some fell to their deaths as they fell from their beds.

But

The sea was once again stained with bright red blood.

There were already only two battleships left in the entire sea.

Now it could already be said that the situation was a trapped beast.

Scar-eye looked at this scene with a gloomy face, he knew.

He knew that he would not be able to get away today.

It was all the fault of those two little calves!

If it wasn't for the fact that this octopus didn't come up when they pa*sed.

If the giant octopus had been on the two when they pa*sed, he would never have entered like this himself.

"Boss"

Suddenly, the little brother pointed behind Scar-Eye with some trembling.

Only to see the sea behind him, the huge octopus floated out directly at this moment.

Eight huge tentacles were constantly waving around.

Then it fell straight down like thunder.

"Cough, cough, cough, I'm going to go, I'm choking."

Ryan on the Human Serpent warship watched as the Morrowolf on the distant sea was directly smashed by the giant octopus.

A look of excitement immediately appeared on his face.

He directly forgot about the melon seeds in his mouth and ended up choking on them.

Lin Mo's gaze was indifferent as he looked at the battleships in the distance that had been destroyed to the ground.

There was no emotional fluctuation in his eyes.

A group of vicious people, if they were dead, they were dead.

What's more, they had even tried to force Lin Mo without knowing their lives.

As he watched the last warship being destroyed by the giant octopus, he was unable to fight back.

Lin Mo also did not intend to stay here and watch the show.

Instead, after taking a deep look at the giant octopus, he spoke to Ryan.

"Let's go, how much further do we have to go through the deep sea area?"

“An hour and a half or so.”

Ryan thought for a moment.

Based on the forward speed of the Human Serpent warship it would take an hour and a half at most to reach the dock at Death Island.

“Maureen, wait until we reach the dock at Death Island.”

“Be sure to dock the ship at the dock marked thirteen, that is the jurisdiction of block thirteen.”

“They won’t care who you are or how you got this boat as long as you can get the money out.”

“There would be a lot of flies in the ointment if they took the docks of the other blocks.”

Ryan told Lin Mo some of the things he could say.

There were numerous rules on the Isle of the Dead and no one would tell you yet.

If you docked at random, then it meant you were heading to that neighbourhood.

It wouldn’t be easy to get it then.

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3617

As the Man-Serpent warship moved forward, a dark current became visible.

The Human Serpent warship was swarmed by the dark currents, and its speed became even faster.

“We are now on top of the dark current to Death Island.”

“Even if we stop the power now, the Human Serpent Battleship won’t even stop.”

Ryan pulled Lin Mo to the edge of the Human Serpent Battleship.

Pointing at a surging dark current beneath the surface, he said to Lin Mo.

Lin Mo nodded as his gaze looked around.

“Are the mountain walls around us now gradually narrowing.”

Lin Mo’s gaze frowned slightly as he looked at the increasingly narrow mountain walls around him.

Ryan glanced around and said with a smile, “Yes, but it’s better past the front.”

“Because the path to Death Island is very difficult and treacherous.”

“That’s why we have to be careful every time to get there.”

Having said that, Ryan stepped inside the Cockpit.

He began to take control of the direction of the Human Snake warship.

Lin Mo, on the other hand, was standing on the deck, looking at the surroundings , silently taking note of them in his mind.

In this way, the Human Serpent Battleship continued to move forward within this increasingly narrow mountain wall.

Finally, Lin Mo saw the exit of the mountain wall ahead.

“Mr. Molin, after you go out there is Death Island.”

Ryan stepped out of the C*ckpit with a slight melancholy in his tone.

After arriving at Death Island, the two of them were about to bring their journey to a complete end.

The time he had spent travelling with Lin Mo.

It was also the most exciting time that Ryan had lived in these decades.

Only after hearing Ryan’s words did Lin Mo’s face change a little.

Lin Mo had always been very curious about Death Island.

Why did those intelligence dealers who looked at money and not people.

They all had to reject the name of Death Island in a hurry when they heard it.

Even Ryan couldn’t even speak directly to Lin Mo about Death Island.

He just told Lin Mo to go to Block 13 to look for clues.

Under the heavy suspicion, it made Lin Mo even more interested in Death Island.

The human serpent warship broke away from the narrow mountain wall.

What came into view was a very large island.

This, was Death Island!

Lin Mo’s eyes looked over, only to see that the edges of the island were all steep stone walls.

There wasn’t a single place where one could land.

“Maureen, you now know why there is only one landing place on Death Island, right?”

Ryan’s gaze also followed Lin Mo’s as he sorrowfully lamented.

“It’s not that people don’t want to land from other places.”

“It’s that those places are simply inaccessible, and the tens of metres of cliffs are enough to daunt everyone.”

“Even if there was someone up there to meet them, but it’s dozens of metres high.”

“There aren’t even any borrowing points on the entire cliff face, so it’s simply impossible to go up.”

Lin Mo’s gaze looked carefully towards the cliff wall of Death Island.

The cliff wall was indeed very smooth, even under the seawater.

The only pier on Death Island was not far away.

It was the only place on Death Island that was relatively low.

Ryan navigated his human serpent warship towards the huge dock with ease.

The dock on Death Island was even bigger than the new one on Forest Island.

And there was a huge sign hanging in mid-air.

There was a number on it.

All the way from one to thirteen.

But compared to the neatness above Pier One, the other piers were a bit chaotic and disorganised.

As the Human Snake warship gradually approached pier number twelve.

Ryan smiled at Lin Mo and said, "Maureen, I should go too."

"If you come to Block Twelve afterwards, just go and contact me at a random tavern."

"I'll definitely treat you to dinner then."

Lin Mo smiled and nodded to Ryan, saying softly.

"Just don't get any of your treats and I'll pay for it."

"Bullsh*t, I'm that kind of person?"

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3618

Pier thirteen compared to the twelve clean and tidy piers ahead.

It looks very old already.

Even the sign hanging in mid-air is already shaky.

It looked like it might fall out of mid-air at any moment.

When the overbearing and hideous-looking human serpent warship entered this old pier, it not only attracted the attention of the thirteen heads.

Not only did it attract the attention of the number 13 head, but it also managed to attract the attention of the other docks.

They looked at the overpowering and hideous-looking Human Serpent battleship parked at Pier 13 and their eyes went strange.

"That must be the ship of the Human Snake organisation, right?"

"Yes, I remember that is the ship of the Human Snake Organisation."

"I saw this ship leaving from the pier in Block 10 a few days ago, why did it go to Pier 13 to pick it up?"

"What Pier 13 represents is the black market. Could it be that someone from the Human Snake organization is going to buy something?"

"I don't know, but it's not logical for the Human Serpents to go to a black marketeer for anything they need, is it?"

Their whispers were spaced far apart.

But it was still very clearly heard by Lin Mo.

"It seems that the Human Snake Organization has forces stationed on top of Death Island"

Lin Mo took the information he had just gathered from their words into his mind silently.

The pier in Block 10 left?

When the time came, he could go to Block 10 and take a look.

At the edge of Pier 13 was another dilapidated hut.

Seeing the boat of the Human Serpent Organisation actually parked on the pier.

The oldest man in the shack, who was still leisurely polishing his pistol, slowly rose to his feet.

In his right hand, he held the polished pistol.

He just waddled towards the Human Snake warship.

The other people at the dock even teasingly spoke up when they saw this old man and said.

"Old man Luo, this is your first customer of the month, isn't it?"

"Quickly see if he has any money on him, hahaha."

A man beside him said loudly to him.

"What do you know, last month someone else, Grand Master Luo, took a big order."

"A medium-sized battleship, but because he didn't have the money to pay the docking fee, he was directly pulled out and buried alive."

"That medium-sized battleship will be Master Luo's pension."

Their somewhat provocative and mocking words reached the old man's ears clearly without the slightest hint of evasion.

His expression did not change in the slightest, only his old face turned slightly.

Looking at the two men over there who were laughing uncontrollably, the old man said without haste.

"Relford, at nine thirty-four o'clock last night, what were you doing?"

"And that fellow beside you, he went just after you left."

“Need I go on much longer?”

The old man’s calm, dull voice was like a thunderclap, causing the two men’s faces to change instantly.

A look of horror filled Relford’s face.

At 9.34 last night, he had gone to talk to his sister-in-law while the boss was away.

At that time there would definitely be no one around ah.

His eyes could not help but look towards the man beside him.

The two men’s eyes met in mid-air, and surprisingly, they all did.

You actually

The heartfelt understanding between men needed no further explanation.

Relford changed his rampant as well as sneering earlier and said to the old man respectfully.

“Master Luo, the two of us buy all of this information.”

“Whatever price you want to pay, but absolutely no fourth person must know.”

Thinking about the Boss’s nature, if he knew that the two of them had banged his sister-in-law.

Three knives and six holes, three hundred and sixty knives would definitely not be escaped.

It would even be worse than these.

The old man did not bother with them, but went straight to the bottom of the human-snake battleship.

Looking at Lin Mo who slowly walked down the battleship, the old man said in a muffled voice.

“This ship of yours is not a regular thing, the mooring fee will be doubled.”

“Do you have a problem with that?”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3619

The old man’s words were as if they were sparse.

There was not the slightest worry that Lin Mo would get furious over the expensive price.

Lin Mo smiled and nodded “It’s natural, I think it’s a normal charge.”

Lin Mo had always been very bland about this money thing.

If I were to put it in a sentence it would be I don’t like money.

I don’t touch money at all, money is just a string of numbers in my eyes.

As long as Lin Mo is willing.

There are countless hundred billionaires, people at the top of the world's wealthiest list, who come to give money to Lin Mo.

"This ship of yours belongs to a large warship, the mooring fee is three hundred thousand maple leaf coins."

"We need to cover you for the wrong reasons, double that is six hundred thousand maple coins."

"And there are other charges that add up to one million maple coins."

"Here's the bill."

The old man took out a small book from his pocket and wrote a few strokes on it.

He then handed it directly to Lin Mo.

Looking at the few lines on the bill.

Mooring fee three hundred thousand.

Unknown origin doubled six hundred thousand.

Four hundred thousand for the old man personally watching over it.

If this were anyone else, let's not talk about the first two items.

Probably just when he saw the third item, he would have exploded straight away.

A bad old man's watchman would dare to ask for 400,000 Maple Leaf coins.

You couldn't be worth that much even if God came.

But Lin Mo didn't refuse or resent it, instead he simply took out a card from his pocket.

"This is a bearer savings card with one million two hundred thousand maple coins inside."

"As for the extra two hundred thousand, think of it as buying you some tea to drink, old master."

Lin Mo handed the old man this fortune, which was enough for a normal person to live a lifetime, as he talked and laughed.

Grand Master Luo looked at Lin Mo, and a hint of raising interest flashed across the bottom of his eyes.

Then without ceremony, he took the savings card handed to him by Lin Mo.

Looking at Lin Mo the old man said in a deep voice, "This ship of yours is not a small problem."

"Seeing as there will be no less trouble here, for the sake of this money of yours."

"Ah, old man, I'll just hold it for you."

After Master Luo finished speaking, he seemed to feel a little cold.

Wrapping the black robe he was wearing a little tighter, he then turned around and walked towards his old wooden hut.

"You kid are quite to my eye, a word of advice for you."

"First go to the entrance to the block and look for the thieving fellow called Morton."

"From where you can find out what you want to know and what you have to know."

"Then go deeper into the block, to where Merchant 403 is, and he will tell you what you should buy."

"Over two hundred thousand maple coins just say the old man told you to go."

Lin Mo looked at the old man's back and chuckled softly.

"You, an old gentleman who is already on the verge of touching the threshold of a Patriarch, are taking such good care of me."

"The junior is truly flattered."

The body of the old man who was originally walking towards the hut trembled slightly.

With an incredulous look in his eyes, he looked towards Lin Mo.

No, this brat clearly looks like he has only just entered the land of martial artists.

How could he possibly judge my strength.

An aura like a sea emanated from the old man's body.

It was overwhelming and pressed towards Lin Mo.

He wanted to test this young man's falsity.

Whether he had really seen through his strength or was just guessing.

Facing this endless sea of weiya.

Lin Mo's upright body didn't falter in the slightest.

The smile on his body's face did not even change in any way.

He was like a needle in the middle of the sea, easily resisting the old man's weiya.

The old man's gaze as he looked at Lin Mo gradually became grave.

"It's true that the waves after the Yangtze River push the waves before them, and the waves before them die on the beach."

"Your strength is very good, your boat, old man, I'll cover it."

"You go about your business in peace."

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3620

Old man Luo's back was turned to Lin Mo.

Although his words were very calm and full of confidence.

However, his heart was filled with a look of shock at Lin Mo.

Just this age alone.

He was able to see through his own martial arts cultivation at a glance.

Such a young man's future would certainly be more than that.

Therefore, Grand Master Luo also released some kindness towards Lin Mo.

Lin Mo looked at the old man's departing back, and then walked towards the front of the pier.

Morton, the merchant of the black market.

And what exactly was in that Gate 403?

The mouth of the information peddler Xu Chu had asked earlier had only inquired about the black market merchant Morton and Gate 403.

That guy Ryan's mouth also only said these two.

Now even the mouth of this old man in front of him was also Morton and Gate 403.

A thoughtful look appeared in Lin Mo's eyes.

What exactly were the black market merchant Morton and that mysterious 403.

With such doubts, Lin Mo walked towards the outside of the pier.

Pier 13 was large and had lines planned out on the ground.

One only needed to follow the lines to reach Block Thirteen.

The whole way was not at all like the robberies that had taken place on the other islands before.

It was even a little too quiet.

Lin Mo walked calmly along this road, occasionally stopping to look at the sign on the side of the road.

"Is it still tens of kilometres away from the real Block 13"

Lin Mo stood in front of a road sign.

Looking at the distance displayed on it, he murmured softly.

If he were to walk slowly as he was now, it would probably take several hours.

Lin Mo looked around, deserted and uninhabited.

Then his toes flicked on the ground and his entire body directly rose into the air.

Quickly, he headed into the distance.

Lin Mo's figure was like a wild goose rapidly flying through the mid-air.

As his body gradually descended, Lin Mo's toes once again lent strength.

In just half an hour, Lin Mo's figure had crossed dozens of kilometres.

The originally deserted scene also gradually took on a slightly smoky atmosphere.

A side-by-side building rose from the ground.

A street with a smoky atmosphere appeared in front of Lin Mo.

At the entrance of the street, there was also a huge sign.

"Block 13."

Several figures cloaked in black robes stood at the entrance of the street.

In their hands were shiny polished firearms.

Upon seeing Lin Mo who was approaching, several black robed figures instantly raised the firearms in their hands.

And Lin Mo also felt a slight movement on his brow.

There were snipers aiming at himself.

"I don't mean any harm."

Lin Mo looked at the several black-robed figures holding their firearms cautiously.

He then slowly raised his hands, indicating his harmlessness.

"Do you have a pa*s!"

The black-robed figure at the head of the group raised his gun and asked Lin Mo in a cold voice.

A pa*s?

Of course Lin Mo didn't have that kind of thing.

Even the thing called a pa*s was something he had just heard.

Just as Lin Mo was about to speak.

"Hey hey hey, what are you guys doing, what are you doing!"

A reprimanding voice suddenly rang out.

Only a chubby figure was seen walking quickly towards this way.

On his face was a look of anger.

"My brother just forgot to take his pa*s."

"Just to have your guns held up like that, if the adults in your escort didn't have their pa*s with them when the time came."

“I’ll see that you all dare to just shoot to usurp power.”

“And then lead the escort in a direct mutiny, and the whole of Block 13 will be yours.”

A big, insidious hat came down from the fat figure’s mouth.

The forms of several of the black-robed figures shuddered violently.

If they were to let this charge be laid.

Then it was still a difficult matter to say if they and the others would survive the night.

“Morton, you f*cking fart!”