Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3622

Morton's chubby figure stood in front of Lin Mo, fending off the gazes of those black-robed men.

The flesh on his face looked as if it was real.

The black-robed men standing behind Morton also knew that Lin Mo would definitely buy the pa*s in Morton's hand.

With the mindset that since you won't let me have a good time, then you shouldn't have a good time either.

The black-robed man directly shouted at Lin Mo.

"Brother, don't let this treacherous merchant trap you."

"The pa*s is at most five thousand Maple Leaf Coins, any more than one point this guy is screwing you over!"

The body of Morton, who originally still had a sincere face, suddenly trembled.

Then he turned his head directly to the black-robed man and yelled in a loud voice.

"f*ck your grandmother's five thousand maple leaf coins, five thousand maple leaf coins is not even enough for the cost of the old man."

"If you continue to demonize people here, I'll go to your escort team to report you later."

Faced with Morton's threat, the black robed man turned his head disdainfully.

Morton's smile stiffened a little as he looked towards Lin Mo.

"Brother, you have to trust me, brother."

"The most important thing for me, Morton, to be out in the world is to be conscientious, I will definitely not screw over my own people."

"Not to mention that you also look exactly like my long-lost real brother."

Just as Morton was doing his best to put on a show.

The black robed man who had turned his head away once again turned his head around and said in a gloomy manner.

"Aigoooooooo, you Morton really do have brothers all over the world."

"I remember that I just recognized a brother a few days ago, right, and today there's another one."

"That pugilist back then didn't look anything like this little brother."

The black-robed man's words caused Morton's face to stiffen completely.

“Didn’t your escort say something about maintaining a high and serious persona?”

“That’s your persona?”

“With such a broken mouth, our next door neighbour aunt isn’t even as good as you.”

The black-robed man looked at Morton and had absolutely no idea of disliking each other with him, he just said two words indifferently.

“Heh.”

“Ouch my little grumpy.”

Morton was on fire for a while, ah.

If it wasn’t for the fact that this guy was a Block 13 escort.

Morton would have gone up and pounded him right now.

“Brother, I’ll tell you the truth, 10,000 Maple Leaf Coins, no less.”

Seeing that Lin Mo still seemed to have some hesitation, Morton got anxious.

“I cost all of eight thousand maple coins, you can’t keep me from making money when I’m busy, right?”

After feeling that what Morton said made perfect sense.

Lin Mo nodded and agreed to the price of ten thousand.

He hadn’t even expected Morton’s offer to have so much room.

It came up to 100,000, and in the end it was directly discounted by 10%.

From his pocket, he took out a pile of green maple leaf coins and unapologetically handed them to Morton.

This caused the corners of the mouths of the several black-robed men standing in front to twitch slightly.

You guys can f*cking trade if you want to.

But can you avoid us when handing over the money.

When Morton saw the banknotes in Lin Mo’s hand, his eyes went straight.

He took it and touched it with a hand.

He then stuffed it directly into his own pocket.

Morton took out a small black leather-faced book directly from his own sleeve.

“What’s the name, brother?”

Morton opened the small book and inquired at Lin Mo.

“Mo Lin.”

Morton took a pen and wrote on it, and then took out a small seal and stamped it on it.

“There, that’s your pa*s.”

Neither Morton nor Lin Mo bothered to pay attention to the black-robed men who were already on the verge of smoking with anger.

You guys are f*cking trading pa*ses right in front of us here, aren’t you?

Handing the small book to Lin Mo, Morton carefully instructed.

“You must keep this book, if you lose it you can come to me for a replacement.”

“If you are called by some ungrateful person, you can give him your name.”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3623

As Morton spoke, his eyes didn’t forget to stare straight at the black robed man at the head of the group.

It was close to saying outright that he was the one who wasn’t looking.

“Are you going in or not, linger here any longer and I’ll have you arrested for disorderly conduct.”

“Anxious anxious, some people are anxious.”

A smile suddenly appeared on Morton’s face, and then he said to Lin Mo.

“Brother Molin, I still have guide services here, do you need them?”

Morton could be said to have brought his skills as a treacherous businessman to the extreme.

He knew that Lin Mo was a newcomer who had just come to Death Island.

So he specifically offered that he still had the services of a guide.

Lin Mo nodded: “Yes, then I’ll trouble Mr. Morton.”

“No trouble, no trouble.”

Morton’s face broke into a smile.

Was there anything that was more enjoyable than making money?

The answer was definitely no, at least that’s what Morton thought.

Disdainful as well as condescending, he glanced at the few black-robed men.

Morton led Lin Mo towards the inner part of Block 13.

Buildings were situated in rows on either side, and pedestrians were constantly pa*sing by on the road.

The only difference might be that the atmosphere in Block 13 was very depressing.

All the pedestrians are in a hurry.

Without exception, they were all draped in black robes.

Lin Mo, who was dressed in white, was simply too conspicuous among them.

“Brother Mo Lin, I have to say that your clothes do look good.”

“It just doesn’t quite fit this atmosphere of our Death Island.”

Lin Mo looked at Morton and laughed lightly, “Why do you say that.”

“Brother Molin look at them, everyone is wearing black robes on their bodies.”

“It’s not because of how much they like this clothing, but so that they can live longer.”

“Just ask everyone wearing a black robe, with not too much difference in size, do you know who he is?”

“Even if you put a mask on, the haters don’t always recognise you.”

“That’s why that’s why most of the heat on top of Death Island are black robes.”

Hearing Morton’s explanation, Lin Mo nodded thoughtfully.

“Do you know how to get to Gate 403?”

Lin Mo remembered that he had one more place to go.

Apart from having to find Morton’s Place, he also had to travel to that Gate 403.

Morton’s expression froze for a moment before he responded.

“Yes, yes, Brother Molin you are a newcomer, you do need to go somewhere.”

“But there’s no need to call it that, we generally call shop 403 the Newbie Mall.”

“Where can you get some information about Death Island and what you need from it.”

“I rarely go to places like that, the things in there are not very helpful to us.”

Lin Mo took Morton’s words to heart.

Gate 403 was known to them as the Newbie Mall, and the things inside were useless to the old greasers.

This also meant that there were only some of the most basic things in there.

The two figures were walking down the street when suddenly.

Lin Mo saw a rectangular object in the distance that was covered by a black cloth.

“What’s all in there?”

Lin Mo turned his head to look at Morton and asked casually.

Morton’s gaze also glanced towards the rectangle over there.

He then said in disbelief, “Inside there, ah, are a large, three small and four Northern Sea Lions.”

“Supposedly caught by a professional poaching team and put on consignment somewhere.”

“One probably costs million Maple Leaf Coins.”

Lin Mo looked at the rectangle in the distance, “Isn’t the Northern Sea Lion a World Cla*s II protected marine animal?”

“Brother Molin, these rare and still protected creatures are most sought after by the rich and powerful.”

“If there are two rich people looking at the same time, they might even be chasing after millions.”

Lin Mo looked at the rectangular body in the distance and was speechless for a while.

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3624

The two men walked down the road in Block 13.

There were black market merchants selling things everywhere around.

“Brother Molin, don’t see them shouting slogans so brightly, but in fact, ninety percent of them are just some trash.”

Morton saw Lin Mo’s gaze glancing around.

So he opened his mouth and reminded Lin Mo.

“I know, it’s just a look.”

Lin Mo naturally knew that what Morton had said was true.

Generally people who were truly powerful would never sell their goods in the open.

Most of them had storefronts and such on Block 13.

“Our Block 13, ah, although our strength is the worst among the thirteen blocks.”

“But our territory is really the largest among the thirteen blocks.”

“Our Block 13 covers an area of 30,000 square kilometres alone, accounting for a tenth of the entire Death Island.”

A puzzled look appeared on Lin Mo’s face, “If 30,000 square kilometres, where are we now?”

“Our thirteen block’s are also divided, such as here still number one street.”

“And there are forty or fifty such streets in our thirteenth block.”

“So there are also areas planned out, such as the central area, the vending area, the red light area and other places.”

“In Block 13, there’s only what you can’t think of, there’s nothing we can’t do.”

“Even if you offer a big enough price, there are people who dare to get even a national treasure.”

Morton patiently explained the general division of Block 13 to Lin Mo.

“f*ck, who the hell is throwing objects from a height!”

Not far in front of him, a man looked at the beer bottle that had smashed down right in front of him.

He shouted angrily upstairs.

After seeing that no one was paying any attention to him, the man took a bazooka directly from the side.

“I’ll f*cking f*ck you!”

The rocket was fired directly and the entire upstairs was instantly reduced to rubble.

Lin Mo looked over with a slight frown, “He’s playing with heavy firepower like that, doesn’t he break the rules of Block 13?”

When Morton heard Lin Mo’s words, he shook his head with a smile.

“No, no, no, naturally, according to the rules, you can’t be so reckless.”

“But if there are two conditions to the premise, it’s actually not impossible to play like that.”

“Firstly, what’s wrong with people being a little angry when some guy throws a beer bottle down and even almost hits them.”

“It’s a bit too powerful to use rockets, but as long as he can afford to pay for it.”

“Then the escort won’t bother to dwell around on this crap.”

Morton’s gaze looked at Lin Mo: “In short, in Block 13, as long as you have the right to reason, you can do whatever you want.”

“We’re a black market here, and merchants are all about reason.”

As the two walked forward, Lin Mo’s eyes caught a place keenly.

The somewhat old and yellowing curtain of the door, the dusty doorway.

As well as a large plaque hanging above it.

Newbie Mall No. 403.

This was the other place Lin Mo was going to in Block 13.

Morton led Lin Mo towards Shop 403.

“The owner of Shop No. 403 is a big beauty, and Brother Molin you’re so handsome.”

“I think it’s perfectly fine to try to hook up, if you succeed you won’t have to work hard in this life.”

Morton’s words made Lin Mo smile faintly and refrained from answering.

If he really wanted to lie flat, he would have been able to do so a long time ago.

“By the way, why does it feel like no one has been here for a long time?”

Lin Mo looked at Morton and asked out loud.

The entrance to the 403 shop felt like no one had been here for years.

Morton also took a look at the floating ash at the entrance and laughed softly.

“Newcomers on top of Death Island are rare nowadays.”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3625

Lin Mo also heard the implication beyond Morton’s words.

First of all, Shop 403 had always been known as the Newbie Mall.

Every newcomer to Death Island had to come here for information.

But there were very few newcomers on Death Island now, so there were very few customers in Shop 403.

This was the reason why there was a lot of floating dust at the entrance.

The two of them just walked up to the entrance of shop 403.

An embarra*sed look suddenly appeared on Morton’s face.

“Brother Maureen, I won’t go in with you together.”

“I don’t have a good relationship with that woman, so if I go in with you it’s possible she’ll raise the price.”

Lin Mo gave Morton a surprised look.

You’re not not on good terms, are you?

A normal person would not raise the price of a customer who came with him even if his relationship was not good.

You’ve become a feuding relationship, haven’t you?

Lin Mo did not force Morton to go in with him either.

On the contrary, the less people knew about what Lin Mo was going to find out later, the better.

“Alright, I’ll go in first then.”

Lin Mo’s figure walked towards door number 403 and used his hand to lift the curtain on the door before walking straight in.

While Morton, who was standing outside, looked at Lin Mo’s back, his eyes did not know what he was thinking.

The self-consciousness of having been around the Island of Death for many years told him.

Lin Mo was definitely not a simple person.

Just walking behind Lin Mo's side, although Morton's face wore a relaxed smile.

But his body was a little stiff.

Lin Mo was clearly just standing beside himself, but that huge pressure made Morton's body very heavy.

This alone was enough for Morton to know that Lin Mo was definitely not an ordinary person.

Walking inside the shop, Lin Mo looked around.

Compared to the humble and dusty outside, the inside of the house was like two worlds.

One by one, bookshelves made of solid wood were placed inside the house.

They are lined up in rows and even act as walls.

A scent of ink wafted around the room.

Even Lin Mo felt that this was not Death Island anymore.

Instead, it was a bookish house in the outside world.

"I said why the magpies were chirping early in the morning today, it turns out that a valuable guest has arrived."

A gentle voice suddenly rang out.

Lin Mo's gaze looked in the direction where the voice came from.

He only saw a woman dressed in a green dress, with dark, shiny, shoulder-length hair.

The eyes with flowing waves of hope under her eyebrows were currently looking at Lin Mo.

"You're the owner of this shop, aren't you?"

When the woman in green heard Lin Mo's words, she instantly covered her mouth and let out a soft laugh.

"This Your Excellency is really interesting, the little woman is the only one in here."

"I'm not the boss, are you not the boss?"

Lin Mo's face revealed a hint of an apologetic smile

"It was me who asked too many questions."

The woman in green turned around and placed the books in her hands on top of the bookshelf.

Straight away, she lazily turned around and collapsed onto the recliner behind her.

Her proud figure was directly visible at this moment, even her long white legs were exposed she didn't care.

“Just come to Death Island?”

The woman in green asked as she spoke to Lin Mo who was standing in the doorway.

Lin Mo nodded, “Not bad, came to you, boss, to get some information.”

“Well

The woman in green’s face suddenly went icy cold.

“You said it’s not good for you to come with whoever you’re coming with, you’re going to go and come with that dead fatty.”

“The whole Block 13 knows about the two of us having a grudge.”

Lin Mo looked at the woman in green with an expression of not knowing anything on his face.

“What does it matter to me if you have a grudge against him, that’s just the guide I hired.”

The woman in green stared at Lin Mo and suddenly laughed out again.

The cold as cold frost expression on her face instantly turned into a seductive smile.

“This little handsome boy is so handsome, how about it, do you want to consider obeying me, sister?”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3626

Lin Mo’s gaze was calm as he looked at the woman in green.

“Shopkeeper or don’t tease with me here.”

Lin Mo’s indifferent words immediately caused the winks on the woman in green’s face to dissipate like silk without a trace.

“Why is this fellow of yours so cold?”

The woman in green sighed mournfully, then her long white legs landed on the ground and stood up.

Somewhat lazily, she walked over to a bookshelf.

From above, she casually took down a few books and placed them in front of Lin Mo’s body.

“Here, these are the things you want.”

Lin Mo’s gaze looked at the few books in front of him.

“A full explanation of the specific division of forces on Death Island.”

“The history of the comings and goings of Block Thirteen and the default unspoken rules.”

“How to live longer.”

“The history of the development of Block Thirteen.”

Lin Mo looked at the three books that together were almost taller than his own head.

A few small question marks slowly typed on his head.

Are you sure this is what I want to know?

The five thousand years of children's books in China are not even a third as thick as this one.

Seeing Lin Mo's somewhat puzzled expression, the woman in green said in a delicate voice.

"These three books only have something in the first few dozen pages at the beginning, the rest of the book is blank."

"After all, everything has to be recorded slowly."

A few black lines sprang up on Lin Mo's forehead.

Good man, so you can't slowly change the new one?

Lin Mo picked up the book that was a complete explanation of the specific division of the forces on Death Island amidst his speechlessness.

Although these things made Lin Mo a little speechless.

But the title still looked deep in Lin Mo's heart.

After all, these were indeed the things that one needed to know.

Holding the book, which was thousands of pages thick, in his hands.

Lin Mo sort of knew why there were so many books on the shelves.

It was estimated that at the very least eight tenths of them were blank things.

When he turned over the cover, a line of beautiful script immediately caught Lin Mo's eyes.

It was actually handwritten.

The information at the beginning was of the kind Lin Mo had known for a long time.

How many neighbourhoods there were on Death Island and the forces within the neighbourhoods, etc.

Page after page was flipped through, and Lin Mo only scanned it in a general way.

All that information was what he had known before.

Therefore, Lin Mo only took a general glance at the records on it to see if they were the same as what he knew.

When Lin Mo's finger flipped to the eleventh page.

Only then did Lin Mo's gaze linger on it for a little while.

This page was about the details of the forces of Block 13 and Block 12.

"Isn't our Block 13 a black market block with many more forces?"

Lin Mo looked at the woman in green and asked out loud.

“That’s for sure, where there are people, there are rivers and lakes.”

“Our 13th Street is a lot safer compared to the other neighbourhoods though.”

Lin Mo’s mind recalled the way he had just come.

The man who had just picked up a rocket launcher and fired it at a tall building because of a thrown object from a height.

It really is safe then

“But we have just as many larger forces here.”

“Like the Escorts who maintain Block 13, and then the South Gang on the east block.”

“The Chamber of Conscientious People in the west block and so on.”

“They are usually very low key, but if you ever mess with them.”

“These guys, who are usually more of a dog than a dog, will come out with their real strength.”

“With the swiftness of lightning, they will simply wipe out all their enemies.”

As the woman in green spoke, her words revealed a strong disgust for these great powers.

She even directly referred to them as dogs.

Lin Mo smiled and continued to read down the back of the book.

What was left at the back of this book was an introduction to the several great powers and where they came from.

This was not unexpected from Lin Mo.

After all, the newbie mall newbie mall.

It must all be newbie information.

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3627

Lin Mo reached out and picked up another book on the development of Block Thirteen.

But upon reading the first glance, Lin Mo realised that this was a record of the large transactions within Block 13.

Even the records of transactions from ten years ago were all on here.

Lin Mo’s fingers quickly turned the book in his hand towards the back.

He had a vague suspicion within him.

“Little handsome, this isn’t how you read information, is it?”

"That page you just looked at for less than two or three seconds before flipping straight away, can you find what you need like that?"

The woman in green asked at once when she saw Lin Mo flipping through the book so quickly.

Lin Mo responded softly in the face of the woman in green's enquiry.

"I won't bother you with that, boss."

"I'm just casually looking around, just casually looking around."

"Boss, weren't you lying on the chair just now and very sleepy, go straight to sleep."

Lin Mo's indifferent words caused the green-clothed woman's eyes to faintly stare.

What, did my being here affect you?

The woman in green touched her face with some incredulity.

Could it be that she had disfigured herself while sleeping last night.

Was there really a man in this world who was not interested in beauty in the slightest?

The book in Lin Mo's hand flipped quickly.

He soon came to the last page with the contents written on it.

"Five days ago at 9:32am, in the centre of Block 13, in Auction House 13."

"A sale was made for a shipment that cost hundreds of millions of Maple Leaf Coins."

"And the amount of goods was so huge that it managed to break the largest amount ever traded in Block Thirteen."

Lin Mo's gaze was instantly drawn to this content.

Hundreds of millions of dollars and a very large amount of goods.

Lin Mo looked at the record on top of the book thoughtfully, it seemed that his inner suspicions should be correct.

"Boss, I would like to enquire about which transaction was made at 9:32am five days ago."

Lin Mo gently placed the book in his hand on the table.

He then said to the woman in green, who was lying somewhat lifeless on the chair.

"Oh? You're interested in this deal?"

When the woman in green heard Lin Mo ask about this deal, a look of interest appeared on her face.

"How could you be interested in this deal?"

"And the record on that was recorded by me three days ago, which means that it has been since that deal passed."

“A full eight days and a hundred and ninety-two hours.”

“Are you still interested now?”

The woman in green’s beautiful eyes gleamed as she looked at Lin Mo.

There were very many things involved in this deal, and what made him somewhat interested was this.

Why would a newcomer who had just boarded Death Island be directly interested in this.

Lin Mo nodded: “Boss you can just tell me directly.”

“As for how many Maple Leaf Coins this information is worth, I will definitely not bargain afterwards.”

When the woman in green saw Lin Mo’s unperturbed appearance, the look of interest in her eyes deepened.

“This information well.”

“For the sake of you being so handsome, let’s make friends, and it won’t cost me any money.”

“But if I ask for your help in the future, you can’t shirk it.”

The woman in green looked at Lin Mo, waiting for his reply.

No money?

Lin Mo’s heart was speechless for a moment, in the end didn’t he still have to owe himself a favour.

This was not as bad as Lin Mo directly giving money.

After all, if he gave money, it would be at most one or two hundred thousand maple leaf coins, and even that was the most.

And Lin Mo’s favours were far more valuable than that.

“I can actually just pay.”

“I don’t want to.”

The woman in green looked at Lin Mo playfully, as if I didn’t even want the money you gave me.

“Fine, then I promise you.”

“Count me as owing you a favour.”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3628

Seeing Lin Mo nod his head and agree to his request.

A smile of satisfaction immediately appeared on the woman in green’s face.

From the moment Lin Mo had just entered the shop, she had been constantly observing Lin Mo’s every move.

Lin Mo's composure as well as his nature could tell that he was definitely not a mediocre person.

At the end of the day, he was even willing to pay rather than owe himself a favour.

That was because in his view his favours were far more expensive than money.

That was why the woman in green felt that her heart had bet on the right thing.

"As the previous case of that large transaction was a bit more secretive, I didn't have the means to record it directly."

"So I'll just dictate it to you, can you write it down?"

Lin Mo nodded slightly.

He still had such a memory.

"First of all, that transaction eight days ago took place at Auction House Thirteen in the centre of Block Thirteen."

"And Auction House Thirteen is one of the main properties belonging to the Block Thirteen Escort."

"The amount of goods in that transaction was as large as dozens of trucks."

"Even the ships carrying the goods at that time came with dozens of them before they finished pulling the goods."

The woman in green did not know why Lin Mo would ask such a question.

Nor did she know exactly what kind of information his heart wanted to know.

So she told him all the news in her mind about the deal that had taken place eight days ago.

"And the deal was made just eight days ago at twelve noon.

According to the amount revealed it was a full 150 million Maple Leaf Coins."

As she spoke, a look of shock came out of the woman in green's eyes.

One hundred and fifty million maple leaf coins, that was no small amount.

She didn't know if she could earn that much money in her lifetime.

A normal person living an ordinary life would only need a fraction of this amount.

Lin Mo's brows frowned slightly as he listened to the woman in green recount the news.

The two sides he wanted to hear the most in this had not been heard.

Lin Mo also no longer continued to stand at the door, but walked inside.

Stretching out his hand, he closed the originally open door directly.

And the woman in green, who was still looking languid, suddenly changed her expression, what was this fellow up to.

A dangerous look came out of her beautiful eyes.

With a slight flip of her delicate jade hand, a dagger quenched with poison appeared in her hand.

This dagger was coated with a poison that could seal one's throat with blood.

If Lin Mo really had any mischievous intentions against her.

The woman in green guaranteed that she would be able to kill Lin Mo straight away the first time.

Only then did Lin Mo, who had closed the door behind him, turn around and look at the woman in green.

"The dagger behind you won't be able to kill me."

"And I have no ill intentions towards you, so you don't need to be so nervous."

"After all, when it comes to looks, you don't have any attraction to me."

Lin Mo a burst of words explaining that he did not have any malicious intent.

Instead, it was like a sharp sword that ruthlessly pierced into the heart of the woman in green.

At this moment, her silver teeth were clenched, and she could not wait to directly pounce on Lin Mo and bite him.

What did she mean by her looks not being the least bit attractive to him?

Who didn't know that her looks and figure were top-notch in Block 13.

The typical white skin and beautiful long legs.

Looking at the vicious eyes of the woman in green, Lin Mo then reacted.

His own words from before were indeed a bit off.

"No, no, no, don't misunderstand."

"I'm not saying that you're not pretty enough, just that there's nothing attractive for me in terms of attractiveness."

Lin Mo decided that it would be better to explain to the woman in green.

After all, he had to ask people for information next.

The woman in green just glared at Lin Mo in exasperation, and then asked him directly.

"What other questions do you have to hurry up and say."

"Do you know about this?"

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3629

In the middle of the room, Lin Mo's figure instantly arrived in front of the woman in green.

From his bosom, he took out a piece of the Overseas Hongmen's Guangde Hall's logo.

This was the one he had taken off from the top of the covering cloth of that shipment earlier.

In order to make it a little easier when searching for it now.

And as the woman in green looked at Lin Mo who instantly appeared in front of her, her pupils instantly shrank.

This guy, how did he appear in front of himself in an instant.

And Lin Mo handed the shredded cloth he was holding to the woman in green.

Since that shipment was so vastly sold in a ceremony.

Then there must have been someone who could see the special markings on it about the Hongmen Guangde Hall.

The woman in green looked at the scrap of cloth handed to her by Lin Mo.

When she saw the markings of the Hongmen and Guangde Hall on it.

The woman in green instantly trembled in her delicate body.

"You are"

The woman in green fiercely thought of the large ship hijacking that had happened at sea a month ago.

At that time, the woman in green had made a special enquiry about the news.

It was said that a batch of goods shipped to somewhere else by a certain major power had been hijacked.

And now Lin Mo had just arrived at Death Island and started asking about this matter so purposefully.

The woman in green only thought about it a little.

She had roughly guessed Lin Mo's identity.

Even if Lin Mo wasn't from that power that was transporting the supplies.

But it was definitely inextricably linked to them.

If it wasn't for the fact that the woman in green didn't know exactly where those goods had come off from that power's ship.

Probably all of them would have started to analyse Lin Mo's identity now.

"This information you are asking about, I know."

The woman in blue's stunning face lifted slightly, her red lips opening and closing.

"But why should I tell you?"

"Or rather, what kind of price can you afford to pay?"

“Ta.”

There was a muffled sound.

A pile of at least one hundred thousand Maple Leaf coins was placed on the table by Lin Mo.

Luckily, his own white robe had plenty of pockets inside, or else he really wouldn't be able to carry so much money around with him.

“These, are they enough?”

Lin Mo's palm gently pushed this money to the side of the woman in green.

These money would have made Morton's eyes light up if he had seen it outside.

The 10,000 maple leaf coins Lin Mo had just given that guy treated like a treasure.

Not to mention the ten times more here.

The woman in green pushed the Maple Leaf coins Lin Mo pushed back.

“Money I don't need it.”

“I already have enough money to live my whole life.”

Again, no money.

A headache flashed across Lin Mo's eyes.

At this moment he really wanted to accomplish this goal simply and brutally.

Lin Mo had heard a saying before.

Since the other party doesn't want money, then you make her needy.

Since she had money, then let her become penniless, and when she is penniless, she needs money.

But Lin Mo obviously couldn't do something like that.

“Then what exactly do you want boss, we can talk about everything.”

“I want you to help me kill a person!”

The languor that was all over the green-clothed woman's body had all but disappeared at this moment.

The coldness in her silky eyes was now as cold as frost, revealing a burst of murderous aura.

Her red lips opened once again, “If you can help me kill him, let alone information.”

“Even if it's this door shop, or even if I work for you as a bull!”

As she spoke, the woman in green even half-untied her shirt.

Her eyes had nothing but hatred in them at the moment.

This was the closest she had felt to revenge in over ten years.

She was willing to give everything she had got.

If it were a normal person in such a scene, they might have actually agreed to the woman in green's request on impulse.

After all, such a beautiful woman said herself that she was willing to be a cow and horse for you.

And Lin Mo's expression did not fluctuate in the slightest.

It was as if these words of the woman in green did not have the slightest temptation for him.

"Things."

Lin Mo's very calm tone was as if he wasn't worried at all about the woman in green not telling him who that person was.

But if it was a matter of fact.

Lin Mo did want to know who had sold that large batch of supplies.

But Lin Mo would definitely not go against his principles either.

The West Vientiane Islands were a grey area.

There were indeed many evil guys on it as well.

This was undeniable to all.

But equally, there were not a few ordinary people on the West Vientiane Islands.

Some of them are lost here, tricked, trafficked and so on.

So whether the woman in green was willing or not.

Lin Mo had to know who she wanted to kill herself.

And what grudge that person had with the woman in green.

A hint of pain appeared on the woman in green's face as she pursed her lips.

"Does it really have to be said?"

That painful memory was one she really didn't want to continue to remember in the past.

Lin Mo didn't answer, but directly turned around with the intention of leaving.

Since such news could be known by a novice mall owner like the woman in green.

Then according to the status conversion, there was no reason why Morton, who was a novice guide, wouldn't know.

What's more, if one were to find Morton for information, Lin Mo said that the payment might only be as little as a Maple Leaf Coin.

"Wait!"

Seeing Lin Mo's back as he turned around and walked away.

The woman in green immediately couldn't care less about hesitation and shouted directly at Lin Mo.

For the first time, she felt that she was so close to her chance of revenge.

If she passed this time, she didn't know when she would encounter such an opportunity.

The woman in green did not want to gamble, and she did not dare to gamble.

"I told you."

The woman in green slowly lowered her head and said in a somewhat low voice.

"Next, I will tell you the secret that has been sealed inside me for decades."

"I hope you can tell this matter buried in your own heart."

The woman in green continued.

"My real name is Shi Lan Yue, and I am the eldest daughter of the Shi family in Block 12."

"Decades ago, our family was considered a said power in Block Twelve."

"The Hanwen Chamber of Commerce under its name was even famous in Block Twelve."

"But after one night everything has changed."

A look of nostalgia and fear emerged in Shi Lan Yue's eyes.

"It was a monstrous fire that sealed our house right up in its entirety."

"The searing heat at the time caused my still-young sister to pass out straight away."

"And my father took us on a quick run through the secret passageway towards the outside."

"He had told me himself that this was a recent encounter with the enemy in our family and that it was all their plot."

"And the direction of this secret passage led to a place of absolute safety."

"A close friend of my father's, one of the top few men in Block 12."

"Elegant gentleman, one of Mr. Ronald's cottages."

Shi Lan Yue's voice went cold, and a monstrous hatred appeared in his eyes.

"Only two people knew the exit to that secret passage, my father and Ronald."

"Even we didn't even know there was actually a secret passage in the house until we passed through."

“And the father who waited took me and my sister out of the secret passage.”

“A group of guys with evil ghost masks and black trench coats instantly opened fire on us.”

“Although my father reacted very promptly, he was still seriously injured.”

Lin Mo listened to Shi Lan Yue’s account without a word.

He didn’t rush to judge whether or not Shi Lan Yue’s words were all the truth.

When he had spent time with Ryan before, his admiration for Ronald was definitely from his heart.

He had even once told Lin Mo that Ronald was an outlier on Death Island.

Overly kind.
