Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3751

It was busy until exactly 12 midnight.

That group of people finally got down and got tired

They tried a total of four hundred and thirty-four medicines on different patients today, dispensed one hundred and nine remedies, and brought in thirty-eight physicians from outside to treat them.

The result was nothing, all the physicians said there was no cure and that they could only wait for a violent death.

When the clock struck twelve, they surrendered to fate.

Lauro walked to the fourth floor in fear and trepidation.

When summoned in by the female envoy, he flung himself to his knees.

“Lord Envoy, we really did our best! Please leave us a dog’s life”

“Useless thing.”

After hearing Lauro’s report, the female envoy couldn’t sit still either, was it really necessary to lose these thousands of materials for nothing? This is what those human snake captains have been catching for months to save this much.

The latest potion to boost strength was about to succeed, no, it couldn’t be interrupted! This was too great a loss!

Without this fresh human blood, she would no longer be able to raise her strength and feed the Human Snakes under her.

Suddenly the scene of Lin Mo administering the Doktor Nine Xuan Needle to Qu Yutang came to the female envoy’s eyes.

“Quick, go to the third floor and summon Captain Sogang!”

Lauro immediately ran to the Supreme Suite on the third floor and knocked on Lin Mo’s door.

Lin Mo opened the door, looking as if he had just woken up, but in fact Lin Mo had already figured that the female envoy was looking for him.

“Commander Lauro is in such a hurry to come over, has the epidemic poison been resolved?”

“Not yet, but Lord Envoy asked me to ask you to go to the fourth floor.”

“I’m really sorry, I just woke up, I don’t want to move for the moment, you can ask the envoy to come to me, and bring some food by the way.”

“Captain Sogang, don’t go too far, the one who asked you to go to the fourth floor is the Lord Envoy!”

Lauro deliberately pronounced the words Lord Envoy very heavily, as if Lin Mo hadn't heard him just now.

Lin Mo slammed the door shut with a bang, and Lauro was furious.

"Wait, I'm going to tell Lord Envoy right now!"

Lauro stomped off again and climbed to the fourth floor.

"Where is Captain Sogang?"

"Lord Envoy, that Sogang is simply too arrogant and C*cky to let you go down to him and ask to bring some food!"

"Then why don't you go and prepare the meal!"

When the female envoy said this, Lauro could only meekly shut up, but in his heart he was wondering what kind of compulsion this Sogang had put on the envoy.

The female envoy was followed by a line of snakes to the third floor, with Lauro humbly carrying the lunch box behind.

When all the captains heard that the envoy was coming to the third floor, they all consciously came out of their rooms and stood on both sides of the corridor to wait, except Lin Mo who was still in his room.

Only the female envoy walked up to the door of the Supreme Suite in full view of everyone and knocked gently on the door.

"Suo Gang, I will just give you Qu Yu Tang, you must do me a favour."

At that moment the door opened and the female envoy was just about to walk in when Qu Yutang blocked the door at the entrance.

"Thank you, Lord Envoy, for sparing me, but Captain Sogang has not yet eaten breakfast, so leave your meal and go first, my elder brother does not like to be disturbed when he eats."

Lauro handed over the meal and Qu Yutang closed the door again with a bang.

Now the captains around were stunned, the Empress of the Human Snake Envoy, who was above ten thousand people, had actually stooped to serving a captain his meal and was shut out of the door?

But after being shut out, the female envoy did not get angry, but sat calmly on the bench next to her and waited.

The captains did not dare to make a move either, and respectfully accompanied the female envoy as they waited for Lin Mo to finish his breakfast.

At this moment, inside the Supreme Suite.

Qu Yu Tang was in high spirits as he and Lin Mo used the sumptuous breakfast, describing the scene from earlier.

“Brother Molin, you don’t know how ugly that female envoy’s face looked just now, she didn’t dare to say a word back after I finished the sentence you taught me, she would have been waiting on the bench next to our room.

The brutes next to her, their faces all green, two years since I finally got rid of her! It’s still you who has the solution!”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3752

As Qu Yutang chattered on and on, Lin Mo just ate on his own.

Only when Qu Yutang had finished talking did he realise that a large portion of the rice on the table had already been eaten by Lin Mo.

“Why don’t you save some for me, I’m praising you!”

“Who cares.”

Three hours had passed.

After eating, the two of them took another nap, only then did they remember that there was a group of people waiting outside.

Lin Mo asked Qu Yutang to open the door.

“Sorry, we were a bit tired from eating and accidentally fell asleep.”

Qu Yutang said carelessly, while at that moment the other captains of the Human Snake hated to kill him immediately.

The female envoy had been sitting for three hours and they had stood with her for three whole hours not daring to move a muscle, their legs were too wooden to walk.

“Could I ask Captain Sogang to show himself, I have an urgent request for his help.”

The female envoy lowered her posture, for she was certain that Lin Mo would be able to save the lives of those thousands of materials, and even if she temporarily condescended to do so, there would be plenty of opportunities to screw him later.

At this time Lin Mo finally walked out of the room.

“Let’s go, go see those materials of yours, but I can’t guarantee that there is a way to keep them alive.”

“That’s fine, as long as you’re willing to go ahead and diagnose.”

When the group arrived at the materials area on the ground floor, Lin Mo frowned tightly after just one look, followed by a shake of his head plus a sigh.

“There is no cure for medicine and stone.”

Hearing these four words from Lin Mo, the female envoy had as much hope as she had just now, and as much despair as she had now.

This was because Lin Mo's miraculous Dokko Nine Xuan Needles really made the female envoy worship Lin Mo's medical skills.

If he was now saying that there was no cure, then there was really no way out.

"You need to transport these materials out as fast as you can, the further the better, otherwise once they die violently in the building, more sources of infection will spawn and we might all be unable to protect ourselves."

Lin Mo said very serious, the female envoy listened and hurriedly ordered the human snake organization under her to protect themselves for the transportation.

"Remember never to kill them, once you are infected with their blood, you will definitely die."

Those Human Snakes who were ready to carry them trembled with fear.

Next, one after another, the people being carried out of the latticework were taken to the big car outside the gate, and it took a whole day to finish.

Lin Mo was in charge of supervising and preventing anyone from harming them.

After all the people had been sent out into the wilderness to the mountains, the human snakes ran off without looking back.

Lin Mo and Qu Yutang smiled knowingly.

"Everyone listen to me, get out of here as far away as possible and don't look back."

One of the men who had been captured said, "Are you saving us?"

"Of course, my elder brother risked his life to enter this human snake organisation to save you all, don't let him down, get out of here and go find your families."

Qu Yu Tang replied in a hurry.

Unexpectedly the rescued man not only did not thank Lin Mo, he even spat on the ground.

"How can you be so kind, wolves in sheep's clothing! We were just poisoned by you with the epidemic, so what if we are released, we will still die"

After hearing the man's words, Lin Mo walked over and took off his protective mask and picked up a young boy in the crowd.

At this point the crowd was dumbfounded, all the people of the snake organization were avoiding them, even transporting them were doing a good job with all the protective equipment, for fear of being infected.

But what was Lin Mo doing? He had picked up a child covered in red rash without any protection, which meant he was also going to be infected by the epidemic and die.

“Do you know why we dared to remove our masks to touch you?”

The men shook their heads.

“Because this epidemic poison does not kill you, the powder was developed by me, although the rash is strong, have you ever felt any discomfort?”

“Not any discomfort, it’s just that when I look at the rash on my body, I inevitably feel nauseous and want to vomit, it’s too revolting!”

At this point a young woman in the crowd came out and said.

“That’s because you have dense phobia.” Lin Mo explained.

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3753

At this point many people have said that they share the same feelings as the woman and that the sight of the rash makes them want to vomit furiously.

“If I don’t do this and create a very serious illusion, those human snakes won’t let you guys go easily.”

Hearing Lin Mo’s words, new life finally came to everyone’s miserable faces as they went to their deaths.

“So when exactly will we recover?” The man asked eagerly.

“Today is the peak of your rash, after today, the rash on your bodies will get less and less every day, and in less than ten days, you will fully recover.”

After hearing this, everyone spontaneously knelt on the ground and thanked Lin Mo for saving their lives.

At this moment, they sincerely and truly believed Lin Mo, because he had no reason to lie to them, and the fact that he dared to pick up that child meant that he was not afraid of being infected.

Lin Mo gestured for everyone to hurry up and leave so as not to worry their families.

Looking at the backs of thousands of people who had been rescued again, Lin Mo finally let out a long breath of relief.

“So moved

Qu Yutang felt that he was too great to have taken part in an operation that rescued thousands of people.

“This is just the beginning, it will get more and more fun next.”

Qu Yutang looked at Lin Mo’s lonely and upright back and always felt distinctly familiar.

“If you want to leave, you can also go with them.”

“No, no, no, I’m not leaving, I’m still waiting for you to take me back to China to meet my idol.”

Qu Yutang felt that he was admiring Lin Mo more and more, how should I put it, the status of Mo Lin in his heart now had quietly surpa*sed Lin Mo.

The man in front of him, who had many secrets and superpowers, had defied the powerful and brutal Human Snake Empire and saved the lives of thousands of people at his leisure.

This was the kind of national idol worthy of the admiration of all the people.

“I’ve decided that from today onwards, you’re my new idol!”

The two of them returned to the Human Snake organization building.

At this time, all of the Human Snake members were on the ground floor conducting a large sterilization exercise.

Lin Mo fished out another packet of medicinal powder from his pocket and handed it to Qu Yu Tang.

“Idol, what are the instructions?”

“Put on your protective suit so that no one can recognise you, sprinkle this packet of real epidemic poison powder into the raw material storage room, and be careful never to touch the powder.”

Lin Mo started to ask Qu Yu Tang to cast the poison again, this time the powder was the real king of poison, just by exhaling a grain of the powder, you could infect the original source of the virus.

The symptoms would be exactly the same as the last fake epidemic poison, with a ma*sive red rash on the skin and violent vomiting.

However, this time the vomiting was caused by the severe erosion of the respiratory tract by the virus, not by intensive phobia.

After taking the powder and arming himself, Qu Yu Tang grabbed the disinfectant spray and set off.

When he reached the raw material storage room, Qu Yu Tang saw a lot of cylindrical black gla*s vessels that emitted a strong and pungent smell of blood plasma when the lid was opened.

“How dehumanising, so much blood plasma, how many living human lives have been exchanged for it!”

Quyutang said a prayer over the plasma, then scattered the powder to a high place where it fell evenly into each container.

Then he pretended to disinfect the scene again and left.

Fourth floor.

“Pa*s on my orders to use the raw materials in the raw materials storage room to continue opening the development of the reagents.”

“Yes, Lord Envoy.”

The female envoy thought to herself, having let all the materials go, she could only send someone to recapture them again. Even if the materials were temporarily in short supply, the raw material storage room should still have some reserves of blood to last a few days.

“Have Lauro and the head of the materials section, as well as the healer, all roll up to the Gridiron as materials!”

“Yes, Lord Envoy.”

The female envoy’s heart ached at the thought of losing thousands of materials, and she wanted to drain Lauro’s blood immediately.

“Lord Envoy, Commander Lauro can’t go into the cell, he’s infected with the epidemic!”

The human snake, who had just been sent down by the female envoy to inform Lauro, hurried back to the fourth floor at that moment wearing a protective mask.

“Trying to use a few readily available materials and getting infected too! Wasn’t it already fully disinfected?”

The female envoy glared at the human snake who had come to report.

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3754

“Lord Envoy, I think it’s because they’ve been in the material area the other day and got infected when they were treating those materials.”

“Clear them out immediately so they don’t infect any more people.”

The man-snake hurried to the ground floor again.

Just as he was about to carry out the envoyess’ orders to throw Lauro out, he suddenly felt a little discomfort in his arm and peeled back his sleeve to see a red rash!

The man-snake’s instant panic rose, followed by a strong choking sensation came out, and his breathing was obstructed

And at this time, the ground floor, has long been in chaos!

Those experimenters from different areas had received orders from the female envoy to all go to the raw material storage room for plasma, and to their surprise, all broke out in varying degrees of red rash when they returned to their respective labs.

And it was on the way to the grid room that Lauro came into contact with those experimenters before he was infected.

But those experimenters hadn’t realised until now that the pathogen was the plasma in the test tubes in their hands

They watched in horror as the red rash on their skin spread and grew at a rate visible to the naked eye, but could do nothing about it.

Some experimenters took bottles of disinfectant and poured it directly onto their skin, some even cut the rash with razor blades

But the rash was still spreading with the force of a flood to the neck, face, scalp and even into the eyeballs.

They tried to get to the fourth floor to ask the female envoy for help, only to find that the way up had been blocked!

It turned out that those girls on the first floor had discovered the chaos on the ground floor and had simply locked up the various passages on the first floor in order to protect themselves.

It took less than an hour from the time the epidemic was put in to the full outbreak, and none of the 500 experimenters and 800 human snakes on the ground floor were spared, which shows the horror of this epidemic!

As the red rash crawled all over their skin like a poisonous insect, their respiratory tracts also began to suffer from the epidemic poison, and the intense stress caused them to retch and vomit, making the scene unbearable to watch!

There was nothing they could do and they had no more strength to stand up, so they waited in despair for death.

The captains on the third floor who knew the situation immediately reported it to the female envoy, whose eyes snapped shut and immediately went forward to Lin Mo.

“Why have those materials been sent out and fully disinfected, and they are still infected!”

The female envoy looked at Lin Mo’s spring-like eyes, which were so deep that she couldn’t seem to see any answers.

“That would require asking the people on the ground floor if they came into contact with their blood.”

Lin Mo replied, pretending to be unaware.

“I did let the experimenters use the plasma from the raw material storage room today to continue their research and development, but those plasma were all healthy materials that hadn’t gotten the epidemic poison before, there was no way something could go wrong.”

The female envoy spoke with conviction.

“The incubation period for this virus is as long as half a month, so it would not be surprising if fresh blood had been added to it within half a month.”

The ingredients in this raw material storage room, which was a second-hand preparation made by the female envoy to prevent shortages of materials, were restocked every ten days.

That meant that the batch of material being restocked already had the epidemic poison latent within it, it just hadn’t broken out yet.

Today she had sent all the experimenters in each district to the storage room to get the raw materials to continue their research and development, so that led to every experimenter who got their hands on the plasma being infected with the epidemic virus.

It turned out that she had single-handedly wiped out the ground floor!

It had been quite difficult for her to train so many experimenters at that time, and now without a single healthy one, all the experiments at the headquarters had to be forced to be suspended.

The female envoy gritted her teeth, the big deal was to breed a new batch!

“Sogang, what exactly is the solution to completely eliminate these epidemic poisons?”

And the next sentence from Lin Mo immediately afterwards made her even more unacceptable.

“The epidemic poison mutates so quickly that ordinary disinfectant can no longer kill them completely, but will instead make the epidemic poison even more adaptable, but this epidemic poison has a fatal flaw of not being able to withstand high temperatures.

So using a big fire to solve it is the easiest way.”

Lin Mo said this as if it was as easy to burn down a small house instead of the entire ground floor of the Human Snake headquarters.

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3756

“Yutang, why don’t you walk Miss Fay out of this mountain forest, change her clothes, and then go to any one of the twelfth block, streets 1 to 10, and wait for me to return.”

Hearing that Lin Mo wanted to drive himself away, Qu Yutang was very reluctant.

“No, I want to follow you and be your a*sistant, ah.”

“Now that the Human Snake headquarters building has been destroyed, with those remaining people, without potions to boost their strength, they are nothing more than a bunch of walking corpses.”

“Benefactor, you must come to us when you’re done, I still have to repay you for saving my life.”

Fay looked at Lin Mo with affection, but never got a look from him again.

Qu Yutang took Fay away with him.

The trapped people had all been successfully rescued, and Lin Mo finally had to go on a killing spree without any worries!

By the time Lin Mo returned to the headquarters building again, the female envoy and the human snake captain had already disappeared.

However, there was something strange on the ground, and when Lin Mo looked at it, he saw that it was actually a piece of the human skin of the human snake captain.

These skins had not yet hardened, and there were two obvious blood spots on the neck, as if they had just been sucked by a snake and died.

The python's green eyes were emitting an eerie turquoise colour and its black and grey body was thicker than Qu Yu Tang's head!

The python was poised to attack Lin Mo, but Lin Mo struck it in the seventh inch! The python was so strong that under normal circumstances it would have taken three to five strong men to temporarily capture it.

However, Lin Mo was able to strangle the snake by its seventh inch with just one hand, allowing its body to wriggle violently, but it could not break free of Lin Mo's hand.

Lin Mo threw the snake to the ground, and the snake immediately stopped, not daring to attack Lin Mo again.

At this time, the female envoy came out from the direction of the python.

It turned out that the owner of the python was the female envoy, and it was needless to say that the pieces of human skin downstairs must have been left behind by this python sucking up blood.

"I didn't expect Captain Sogang to be an expert snake fighter."

"There's a lot you didn't expect."

The female envoy's face sank, "Do you have to be my enemy?"

"We are no longer of the same kind."

"Good, don't you regret it."

Just as Lin Mo was waiting to see the female envoy's killer move, he suddenly felt a chill on his fingertips, and when he looked down, there was actually another grey and white python licking his finger!

This disgusted Lin Mo so much that he kept wiping his hands on his clothes.

Wait, when did it get in?

When he looked up, goodness gracious, there was a man standing behind this python, also with green pupils and black robes, acting in a feminine and grotesque manner.

"Brother, you've finally come."

When Lin Mo heard this, it turned out that the female envoy was relying on her brother behind the scenes, and after waiting for so long, he finally surfaced.

"Sister, it's just such a person, as for me to personally take action?"

Once the female envoy's brother saw that Lin Mo was a handsome and elegant looking man, he very much did not put him in his eyes.

"Brother, I just want him, be careful later, don't scratch his face, or I won't be finished with you."

“Sister, when has brother ever promised you something and not done it for you in a submissive manner?”

Lin Mo was caught in the middle of this pair of human snake siblings and was really disgusted

“Are you guys still fighting or not? Grind it out.”

Lin Mo began to complain, he really couldn’t stand the female envoy’s whiny accent and that sissy brother.

It really complimented the feminine qualities of the snake species.

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3757

“If it weren’t for the love of my sister, I would have let my big mang have its fill, since you can’t wait, let’s get started.”

The male envoy made a gesture, and the grey and white mang around him opened his mouth and pounced on Lin Mo, who easily restrained the mang with just one hand, and then viciously dropped it to the ground.

These pythons are just scary looking and have no poisonous teeth, so there is really nothing to fear.

Lin Mo also knew that the male envoy hadn’t used his best move and was still testing his strength.

Seeing that Lin Mo had easily tamed two big mangas, they blew a whistle this time and immediately countless red-tailed green bamboo filaments came from all directions on the ground!

This was a small, bright green coloured poisonous snake, not highly toxic but the blood poison released would cause localised necrosis!

Lin Mo cut these small snakes with great speed, and those small snakes were extremely agile, burrowing in Lin Mo’s clothes and sleeves.

With the protection of his true qi, Lin Mo’s skin became exceptionally hard, and the sharp teeth of the little green snakes gnawed at Lin Mo’s skin like tickling, swimming around for many hours but unable to feed on them, only dropping off one by one.

As the attacking power of the red-tailed green bamboo silk decreased, the siblings began to release new poisonous snakes again.

Lin Mo thought to himself, “What a person, as the name suggests, a human-snake envoy with a snake’s heart!

As the poisonous snakes released became more and more toxic, the look in the siblings’ eyes changed from arrogance at first to fear!

Because Lin Mo had his hands full with these poisonous snakes, they couldn’t do any harm to him at all.

“Hiss hiss

At that moment a weird sound came from all directions, Lin Mo felt bad, it was a Tai Pan Snake!

This is currently the most poisonous species of snake in the Wanxiang Islands, a single bite of venom can kill a hundred people, and its attack power is exceptionally fierce!

Lin Mo dodged easily, but at this moment, hundreds of Tai Pan snakes sprayed venom in unison, although Lin Mo flew to the roof beam and dodged easily, a bit of his clothes penetrated and stained his skin.

Lin Mo quickly cut his finger and squeezed out the poisoned blood, which dripped down from the beam and fell into a spring landscape created by Qu Yu Tang below.

At this point, as if some switch had been triggered, dark arrows were fired throughout the fourth floor, nailing the Tai Pan snakes to the wall one by one, without hurting Lin Mo in the slightest.

But the unsuspecting brother and sister of the Human Snake Envoy were hit by several arrows!

At this moment, more Tai Pan Snakes were still pouring into the fourth floor, and they seemed to sense that their master was in danger, so they all came out to attack Lin Mo!

Lin Mo was furious! It was a waste of a spirit snake to join such an evil master!

“Clang!”

The Tai Ah Sword inside his body responded to his master’s anger and instantly appeared in Lin Mo’s hand.

After a flash of white light, all the tens of thousands of Tai Pan snakes were chopped into several pieces.

The human-snake brother and sister were so frightened by the white aura in front of them that they could not breathe, and in the next second they fell to their knees and begged Lin Mo for mercy.

“Sovereign Master, we know how powerful you are, please forgive us, we promise to live in seclusion in the mountains and never go out to harm people again!”

“Then how will you repay the millions of lives you have killed?”

Lin Mo’s eyes looked at the two of them with fury, wanting to eat them alive!

Even if they had to die a hundred times, even if they had to die ten thousand times, it would still be hard to vent their hatred!

Oh! Then let you dance with the snakes!

Lin Mo summoned hundreds of highly poisonous spirit snakes, and after hearing Lin Mo’s snake language command, these spirit snakes launched into action.

These spirit snakes were extremely tiny and could easily enter the five orifices of the human body.

The spirit snakes slowly entered the body through the eyes, ears, nostrils and mouth of the human-snake siblings, gnawing little by little on the internal organs, large intestines and small intestines of the body

Every drop of blood was eaten clean until slowly two piles of white bones remained

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3758

With the loss of the life of the headquarters' Human Snake envoy, the Human Snake sub-stations scattered throughout Block 12 also collapsed.

Inside the various sub-stations of the Human Snake Organisation.

The mark of the Human Snake on the right arm of the Human Snake members slowly faded until it disappeared completely.

At this moment, they seemed to have broken free from some sort of bondage and came to their senses at once!

Looking at the black gla*s bottles in their hands and the dismembered corpses, they suddenly vomited furiously.

"We are finally born again!"

These human snakes who had regained their sanity cried out in joy, the reason why they had obeyed the Human Snake Organisation and killed countless lives before was because of that bizarre Human Snake Seal.

Under the manipulation of the Human Snake Seal, they had lost themselves and did everything out of their control.

They released the people they had captured and repented to them deeply

Lin Mo sprinkled the corpse-dissolving powder onto those mountains of viper corpses, and in a moment a burst of white smoke rose up and those vipers disappeared.

After dealing with the wreckage at the scene, the Chinese style building on the fourth floor deeply aroused Lin Mo's interest.

He recalled the scene just now, when he cut his own hand to squeeze out the poisoned blood, it was the hidden arrow shot out from the building that helped Lin Mo.

Although without this mechanism, Lin Mo would have been enough to cut down those poisonous snakes, but the timing of this mechanism triggering was just right.

But now he couldn't find the organ himself. Lin Mo looked for clues by following the landscape of the spring under the beams of the room just now, and it suddenly occurred to him that his poisoned blood happened to fall low in this spring at that time

The water from this spring pa*sed through a square dark compartment and entered the water windmill, and those dark arrows were fired from the direction of the water windmill!

Then there is only one answer, it was his own blood that triggered the mechanism in the building!

Although Lin Mo knew that his blood had powerful functions, they were only highlighted in fighting or healing, but to trigger a mechanism was somewhat mysterious.

Lin Mo decided to go back to Block 12 to meet up with Qu Yutang and ask for the reason.

When he arrived at Block 12, Lin Mo found several corpses of red-tailed green bamboo silk in the streets every few steps.

At this moment a pa*serby ran over in a hurry and bumped into Lin Mo at once.

“Sorry sorry sorry sir, I was in too much of a hurry and accidentally bumped into you.”

The pa*serby hurriedly apologised to Lin Mo before rushing off again.

Lin Mo stopped him in his tracks, “Where are you going in such a hurry? And what’s with the poisonous snake on the ground?”

“Sir, you’ve just arrived at Block 12, right? Yesterday, there was a sudden influx of red-tailed green bamboo snakes from the mountain forest, which bit many people.

The strange thing is that these poisonous snakes died after biting people. My wife was just bitten and I’m just going to the doctor’s office to get medicine!”

“Red-tailed Green Bamboo Silk, it really is related to the Human Snake Organization.”

Lin Mo thought in his heart, what a way to plague the earth after death!

“Sir, if you don’t have anything else, I’m going to get the medicine, it will be gone if I go late.”

After hearing the words of the pa*ser-by, Lin Mo thought to himself that this poison of the red-tailed green bamboo silk could never be solved by an ordinary doctor, it seems to be a physician with profound moral skills, so he should pay a visit sometime.

“Could you please tell me where the doctor’s shop is? I would also like to buy some antidotes in case I need them.”

The pa*ser-by hastened to say, “Sir, no money! The owner of that doctor’s shop is not only good at saving lives, but also often saves lives through voluntary consultations. She once said to the public that snake injuries are a natural disaster and that one should not give out money for people’s suffering.

So, she won’t charge you for the antidote to these snake poisons!”

Lin Mo suddenly thought of something, could it be her?

“The owner of the medical school, but a young girl?”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3759

Lin Mo followed the pa*sers-by all the way to the Medicine House and stopped not far from it.

He only saw that Bai Ah-nui was busy at the counter getting medicine for the people who came to get it, while Bai Ying was at the side of the medicine cabinet tinkering with something.

"Boss Bai, do you still have the antidote for the Red-tailed Green Bamboo Silk?"

"You can wait a little longer, this batch of medicine will be ready soon."

While receiving the customers and giving Bai Ying a hand, Ah Nai was busy with her feet.

In a short while, the hall of the medicine hall was filled with people coming to get the antidote, and the queue even lined up outside the shop door.

Lin Mo walked into the medical hall and silently gave Bai Ying a hand.

"Your method of dispensing the medicine is too inefficient, just replace the ghost needle herb and the eight-horned lotus with a single flavor of purple flowering groundnut, no need to grind it, just burn it in the fireplace and then it will go into the medicine."

Bai Ying, who was sweating profusely, was stunned to hear this familiar voice.

She looked up and saw that it was not her boss from before, but why did it sound so similar?

But at the moment Bai Ying couldn't think about that much and immediately dispensed the medicine as Lin Mo had said.

"Sir, you're right, thank you for the reminder."

After the change of method, within half an hour, the people in line at the medicine hall all got their antidotes and left.

"Sir, where is the divine doctor from, what are the instructions for coming to the little woman's medicine house?"

Bai Ying, who had finally finished her work, only then remembered Lin Mo's help just now.

Lin Mo looked at the girl in front of him, no longer the youthful and tender medicinal shop handyman he remembered from the last time.

Now Bai Ying's temperament had settled down, her face had shed a bit of her childishness, but her eyes had a bit more of a sense of exhaustion in them.

Dressed in the same rough linen clothes as herself at that time, wearing a piece of plain turban and casually rolled up sleeves to reveal her white arms, she was quite like the dainty female boss of the medical school.

"Boss Bai, seeing as your shop is so busy, why don't I stay and give you a hand?"

Lin Mo was now in Mo Lin's appearance, not the disguised face of a medicine shop owner, so Bai Ying did not recognise him.

"Sir, you're joking, I was lucky to be instructed just now, so I was able to prepare the antidote so quickly, your medical skills are far above mine!"

Lin Mo was inwardly relieved, this girl had actually grown so quickly in the little time he had been away, not only was her medical skills excellent, but she also had the humble and kind qualities that a Chinese doctor should have.

“Bai Ying, you have progressed very quickly! Have you eaten the Little Returning Pill I gifted to Nana?”

“No, Nana felt it was so precious that she thought of leaving it behind to save others and did not want to keep it for herself.”

When Bai Ying finished speaking, he was immediately stunned, how did he know about the Little Returning Pill? He was Boss Molin!

“It’s really you, boss!”

Bai Ying cried with joy and gave Lin Mo a hug.

“Boss, have you had a facelift? Why do you look like this.”

“My previous face was disguised to make things easier, but that’s all over now.”

“Is it something to do with the recent red-tailed green bamboo silk?”

The clever Bai Ying had long expected that Lin Mo’s departure was related to a mysterious dark organization, and she had heard all about it that day when that Sogang Snake captain came to Lin Mo.

But she didn’t want to worry Lin Mo, so she pretended that she knew nothing about it, she was very confident that Lin Mo was capable of solving this matter.

“Yes.”

Lin Mo also stopped avoiding Bai Ying, after all, it was all over.

Those poisonous snakes were the ones that had been manipulated by the human-snake envoys before, and now once they died, those poisonous snakes lost control and started biting people, and eventually died because they couldn’t survive on their own due to the loss of their hosts.

“Thank you Bai Ying, for saving these people who were bitten by the poisonous snakes on my behalf.”

Lin Mo had a feeling, although he had killed the human-snake envoy, he had not expected to hurt so many innocent people, but fortunately he had Bai Ying to defuse the situation in time.

“Boss, this cannot be said to be a replacement, this is my duty as a healer. If you want to thank me, I should thank you!

If you hadn’t treated me and taken in our grandchildren at that time, we wouldn’t be here at this moment to help so many people.”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 3760

Bai Ying had long regarded Lin Mo as his master and guide in life!

At that time, when he was working as an odd-job worker in the medical school, Lin Mo's daily charity work and free medical treatment for poor patients deeply influenced Bai Ying, who was a kind-hearted person by nature.

At that time, Bai Ying vowed that he would become a benevolent doctor like Lin Mo in the future and save the world's patients who were suffering from diseases.

So after Lin Mo left, Bai Ying studied the secret book of medical practice that Lin Mo had left her every day, learning diligently and practising hard.

While Lin Mo was catching up with Bai Ying, two more people came to the pharmacy to get medicine.

When Lin Mo took a look, he saw that they were Qu Yutang and Fay.

Apparently Fay's ankle had been bitten by a poisonous snake and Qu Yutang had brought Fay to get medicine.

"Brother Mo Lin, you're back! Did you kill the human snake envoy?"

Qu Yutang, who was himself supporting Fay, saw Lin Mo and suddenly threw off his hands and ran towards him, Fay almost didn't get thrown to the ground.

Bai Ying, who was on the side, immediately helped Fay and took her to rest inside the medicine hall.

"It's all over." Lin Mo said with a smile in his eyes.

Qu Yu Tang and Fay were both very happy to hear this, that dark life was finally over for good!

"Bai Ying, this is Qu Yutang and this is Fay, they were both rescued by me and are now very good friends of mine.

This is Bai Ying, the owner of the pharmacy, you should all have heard of her name after staying here for a few days."

Lin Mo introduced several people to each other and the Medicine House instantly became lively.

Everyone decided to have a celebration dinner together in the evening to properly celebrate the disappearance of the Human Snake Organisation.

Qu Yu Tang said to Lin Mo, "Why don't we just have Chinese hotpot, I haven't had it for a few years and I miss it too much."

Lin Mo agreed, so the two taught the others to join in the preparations.

In the evening a few people drank a little wine and ate hot pot, everyone felt cozy and warm, it had been a long time since they had been so relaxed

The two girls went to rest after eating, leaving only Lin Mo and Qu Yutang still drinking to each other.

"Brother Mo Lin, you really deserve to be my idol, you actually killed so many poisonous snakes and even killed the human-snake envoy, I worship you so much"

Qu Yutang was a little bit uncomfortable with the wine and spoke in a soft voice.

“There is also a credit to you, you kind of avenged yourself with your own hands.”

“Brother Molin, are you drunk, I wasn’t there, it was you who killed them to avenge us.”

“It was your design of the building that helped you take revenge.”

Qu Yu Tang stood up with a start after hearing these words!

“You actually triggered the building’s mechanism?”

“Can’t I?”

Lin Mo said, using his chopsticks to pick up a hand-battered beef ball from the hot pot and savour it with relish.

“But I didn’t even complete the last step of the mechanism, how did you do it?”

“With my blood.”

Qu Yutang sat down on the chair with another thud, staring at Lin Mo with both eyes.

To be able to use blood to trigger his own mechanism, what kind of mysterious person was this?

Lin Mo saw Qu Yutang staring at himself, as if he was thinking of some unspeakable secret.

“Who the hell are you, if you don’t explain honestly, I won’t take you back to China.”

“Don’t, Brother Molin, I know I can’t hide it from you, I’ll just give an honest explanation.”

Knowing that he could not hide any further, Qu Yutang told Lin Mo the truth.

“In fact, I am the heir of Lu Ban, I have been good at making various tools and some precision instruments out of wood since I was a child, so after I graduated from school in China, I chose a sacred profession, an ancient building restorer.

On one occasion when I was restoring an old wooden clock, I found myself returning to my ancestor through this ancient clock, who had taught me many incantations to quickly restore those old broken objects.

Only when I reacted did I realise it was a dream.”
