Medical Genius's Unspeakable Marriage

Chapter 411

Sasha was shocked to hear that. "Tiger, you really shouldn't have gotten us anything! We're friends and we didn't even get you anything for your effort that raked in so much money for Cunningham Pharmaceuticals!"

Tiger waved at her quickly dismissively. "President Cunningham, please don't think of it that way. I used to be a gangster on the streets. If it wasn't for Mr. Larson who invited me to work for him, I would still be gambling and drinking with my buddies somewhere right now and would never be able to get my life back on track.

I'm really grateful for Mr. Larson because I was only able to gain such a handsome return from the investment because of him. So, please do accept this little token of my appreciation or... or else I will quit tomorrow!"

Hearing his response, Matthew and Sasha couldn't help but glance at each other and smile. Tiger was indeed an interesting man.

"Well, since Tiger is so sincere, we should accept his gift then!" Matthew said, gesturing to the gift.

Only then did Sasha nod at Tiger. Elated, Tiger took a step back and exclaimed, "Mr. Larson and President Cunningham, the gift is in the courtyard. Please come over and have a look!"

Matthew and Sasha were bewildered, wondering what sort of gift Tiger had prepared for them that could not be handed to them directly. When they reached the courtyard, they saw two luxurious cars parked there. One of them was a white Maserati Quattroporte and the other was a black Mercedes-Benz G-Class.

Looking troubled, Sasha said, "Tiger, it doesn't work that way! Mr. Jefford and the rest of the shareholders shared the cost of the mansion but you bought all of these on your own! Your gifts are much too valuable!"

Tiger guffawed and replied, "President Cunningham, you can't look at things that way. Mr. Jefford and the rest of the shareholders only invested 200 million altogether while I invested 100 million myself. The return I got was nearly the total of everything they earned."

Sasha was stumped and had no choice but to throw a resigned look at Matthew.

Matthew chuckled as he said, "Well, Tiger, there's no need for you to feel embarrassed and you really shouldn't waste your money on buying gifts for us. Since you're one of us, you don't have to stand on ceremony with us because you're different from the rest, got it?"

Looking delighted, Tiger nodded vigorously and responded, "Yes, got it!"

Sasha was confused because she thought Matthew would convince Tiger to keep the watches. To her surprise, he actually went on to accept the gifts. On top of that, he even asked Tiger not to feel embarrassed. Weren't they the ones who were supposed to feel embarrassed?

What she didn't notice was that Tiger was so thrilled that he was almost trembling. Matthew mentioned that he was one of them, and that was what mattered to him the most!

Sasha walked back to the mansion. "Wow, the courtyard is so huge

Helen's eyes gleamed with excitement. "That seems likely! Otherwise, why are there new cars with no car plates parked at our courtyard? Let's go and get the car keys. James, I don't care what you want but that Marshal Ratty is mine!"

James nodded. "It's fine, I can have the Mercedes-Benz; suits me well with its suaveness!"

Demi pouted her lips and complained, "Dad, Mom, what about me? I need a car too to handle the pharmacy business on your behalf!"

James and Helen exchanged a glance before Helen said, "James, why don't you let Demi have your BMW? She's right, you know. She'll need a car because she'll be busy handling our pharmacy in the future."

James nodded and agreed, "Right. Very well then, you may have the BMW!"

Demi looked unhappy with their decision because she would prefer to have the Maserati. However, judging from how much Helen loved that car, she knew she wouldn't let her have it.

Meanwhile, Liam was green with envy as listened to their discussion. He wanted to have a car too. Problem was there was no way he could get anything since the cars weren't even enough for the three of them. After a moment of silence, he surreptitiously tugged at Demi's sleeves and shot her a look.

Upon hearing, Helen nodded in agreement. "Demi's right. James, we really should be more cautious with Mathew; he's too cunning."

James nodded too; Demi's comment had put him on his guard. "You're right. Well, let's do it this way then! The company will be managed by Liam!"

Demi was elated to hear that and Liam looked excited about the prospect. After the four of them entered the mansion and unpacked their belongings, James and Helen went straight to Sasha to ask for the car keys of the two cars parked outside.

Sasha was pissed when she heard their request. "Dad, Mom, those cars are a gift from Tiger for the two of us. Why do you need them? Don't you guys have your own car?"

Helen snapped at her, "What do you mean by that? Do we even have a car when the two of us have to share a rundown BMW? Whenever your Dad is out, I have to travel around by taxi and whenever I'm out, your father will be stranded at home. Can you even call that a life?"

Sasha was left speechless for several moments. "Dad, Mom, life went on perfectly fine even when we had no car. Back then, you guys didn't have much to do and rarely traveled to places which needed a car! Why do you guys suddenly need a car so desperately now?"

Demi immediately took the two files on the table. "Dad, Mom, here are the car keys. Dad, give me the keys for the BMW too."

James nodded and fished out the keys for Demi who was delighted. Although the BMW could not compare to the two new luxurious cars, she would still have people's admiration when driving it.

Dumbfounded, Sasha asked anxiously, “Dad, Mom, have the three of you just divided the three cars among yourselves? What about me? Which car do I drive to work?”

James and Helen were stunned to hear that. It was only then did they remember that Sasha would be left with no car after they divided the three cars among themselves. Feeling guilty, Demi said, “Sasha, why do you need a car since your company is just nearby?”

Sasha fumed, “Why do you need a car since you don’t even work?”

James stepped forward to mediate the dispute. “That’s enough. What’s the point of fighting? The car still belongs to our family in any case. It makes no difference who gets to drive it!”

Despite being reluctant to accept the outcome, Helen did not dare to make a scene. If Tiger were to take the cars back, none of them would get anything. The issue was settled but Demi looked exasperated because she ended up with nothing.

Holding the keys of the BMW in her hand, Helen snapped indignantly, “Sasha, you can get what you want but there’s one thing that you have to listen to us!”

Sasha frowned. “Mom, what else do you want?”

“Watch your tone when you speak to me! Why do you sound like I’m going to cause trouble?” Helen chided.

Sasha lamented in her heart, You literally come looking for trouble on a daily basis, don’t you know?

dismissively and spoke, "That's enough, let's get down to business. Matthew, as you're now a department director at the hospital, you should focus on your work and not get that Stanley Carlson established for you? Liam is the perfect candidate because he used to be the department director at the hospital. Shouldn't you work hard to repay us? If you have to aim at raking in as much profit as possible from its business, I'm sure Liam is the one that you can bring it to bankruptcy? Sasha, all of you are adults and you should know what you are doing. I was going to ask him to resign from the hospital so that you can have full control of the company."

Chapter 417

With that, James stormed off to the second floor of the mansion.

Demi glanced at Matthew and sneered, "Did you hear that? It isn't your turn to call the shots in our family yet! Mind you, the company has to be managed by my husband, so you'd better give up any intentions to take what's ours!" With that, she strutted off haughtily.

Sasha's body trembled in anger. "Mom, h-how can Dad be so unreasonable? This won't do; I have to go and talk it out with him now!"

Helen glared at her furiously and chastised, "What are you going to say to him? Do you want to drive him to an early grave? There isn't anything wrong with what he said. Since he's the head of our family, it's only right for him to make all the decisions.

"What's gotten into you, Sasha? Why do you always go against your father? Will you be satisfied to see him fall ill because of your actions?"

Sasha retorted, "Mom, how did I go against him? I'm just stating the truth!"

Helen fumed, "Truth is, you're colluding with Matthew to get rid of both of us! Sasha, let me tell you that it won't be your turn to have any say in our family affairs as long as your Dad and I are still around!" With that, Helen too stormed off upstairs angrily.

Demi retorted, "Why can't we have the room? You know I love the sunlight and this room is perfect for me. It gets more sunlight and is more brightly lit. Sasha, the room next door is actually quite nice too. I'll help you move your stuff over there."

Sasha's expression was cold and she snarled, "I've already said that you can't have it! Don't go overboard, Demi Cunningham! Why should we let you have our room? Come to think of it, who allowed you guys to stay here? Don't you have your own place?"

Demi appeared affronted. "Sasha, what do you mean by that? Are you trying to get rid of me? Don't forget it that it was Matthew who asked us to move back with Dad and Mom so that we could take care of them after he moved out!

So now we're allowed to move back to the old house to take care of Dad and Mom but we can't move into this new place? How can you do this to us?"

In a fit of rage, Sasha snapped, "Demi Cunningham, don't forget that you nearly cost Matthew his victory at the medical conference! I really can't believe you still have the guts to stay here."

"My blood boils everytime you bring that up. If he didn't offend Young Master Hughes, would I almost be killed by him? Honestly, you guys owe me one because of that! Why can't I have the master bedroom? Liam, just move her stuff over because I don't want to waste anymore of my time talking to her!"

Sasha exploded at Demi's blatant attempt to snatch the room from her. Meanwhile, Matthew was pissed off by how much of a bully they were. He couldn't care less which room he had but he wouldn't allow Sasha to suffer any grievances! Seeing that Liam was about to head upstairs, Matthew went to block his way. "Stop right there!"

Liam was stunned for a moment before he pointed at Matthew and bellowed, "Who the heck do you think you're talking to? You son of a b*tch—"

Before he could even finish his sentence, Matthew seized him by the neck and pushed him against the table. He simultaneously grabbed a fruit knife and pressed it at his neck menacingly. "If you dare to insult my mother ever again, I will kill you right away!" he growled.

After giving Demi and Liam a piece of his mind, James returned to his room, thereupon Helen eyed him with displeasure. "James, what're you doing? What's wrong with Demi asking for that master bedroom upstairs? Was it really necessary for you to scold her so?"

James glared at her and scowled, "Women really are a bunch of short-sighted creatures! Didn't you hear what Matthew just said? He threatened to return this mansion to Jefford and the other shareholders! Do you really want him to go that far?"

Helen snapped furiously, "What gives him the right to return this place to them? Since we own this mansion, he has no right to deal with it! I can't see why you're so scared of him."

James shot her a baleful glare. "Is there something wrong with you? Can't you see why we have to handle this with care? Right now, Jefford and the rest gave this place to Matthew, not to us! If we allow things to escalate, Matthew is only one phone call away from telling Jefford to take this place back.

Can't you see it? It's just a room and it makes no difference who gets to have it because both Demi and Sasha are our daughters. Do we want to lose the entire mansion just because of such a trivial matter? Why can't you understand something as simple as this?"

Not long after Matthew finished unpacking his belongings, he was badgered by Helen to visit Stanley to finalize the details of the company.

Demi tagged along and spoke with a wide grin on her face, "By the way, Matthew, Liam has always been in the construction industry. You may want to tell Stanley Carlson to let him start a real estate business with the new company so that it will be a better fit for my husband's expertise.

What's more, a business in the real estate industry is really lucrative too. With Liam's talent and his vast connections, I believe the company will be able to bring in a revenue of at least several hundred billion annually from now on!"

Elated to hear that, Helen nodded repeatedly and agreed, "That's right. Matthew, since we have the power to decide what business is to be run by Stanley's company, make sure you tell him we want it to be a real estate company, is that clear?"

Matthew nodded at her calmly. After leaving the mansion, he headed straight to Carlson Group. He stepped into Stanley's office, only to find Connor Jackson sitting in a corner. Instead of looking dejected like he used to, Connor seemed to be in good spirits.

Prior to the Six Southern States Medical Conference, the Jackson Family was in a dire situation. At that time, the Hughes Family was threatening to buy over the Jackson's family business. The rest of the Ten Greatest Families in Eastcliff also hit the Jacksons when they were down by absorbing their other assets.
