Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 4331

After Lin Mo saw the black meat ball, his entire body was directly frozen in place.

His eyes also gradually began to turn cloudy.

The voice in his head also began to become clearer and clearer.

“Eat!”

“Eat this and you will become stronger!”

“By then, Ji Dutuo and the Five Poison Sect will all be nothing more than ants before you.”

Not only that.

Lin Mo only felt that every cell in his body went crazy.

It was as if the only way to calm down was to eat this black meat ball.

Just as Lin Mo raised his hand and was about to step forward, the Tai Ah around his waist suddenly shook.

In an instant, Lin Mo’s eyes, which had been cloudy, suddenly became clear.

The voice in his head also disappeared.

As for the crazy feeling of greed in various parts of his body, it was also completely suppressed by reason.

After returning to his senses, he could not help but feel a pang of fear.

He did not expect that this insignificant, even somewhat disgusting ball of flesh in front of him would be able to confuse one’s mind.

Most of all this object, surprisingly, could only induce a sense of greed in the body.

When Clegg at the side saw that Lin Mo had surprisingly recovered his senses so quickly, his heart could not help but feel a little more sour.

He had to know that when he first faced this mature plague seed, he did not have the slightest resistance.

He swallowed it straight away.

“Mr. Lin, this is the plague seed!”

“But I don’t know exactly what it is.”

“It’s just that when I first ate this thing, my strength instantly skyrocketed.”

“Coupled with that endless experimental torture of the Five Poison Sect, this allowed me to break through to Zong Shi.”

Lin Mo coldly skimmed over it before withdrawing his gaze.

This ball of flesh was sprinkled with weirdness up and down.

And it was heavy with a fierce aura.

The most bizarre thing is that the ball of flesh has the ability to confuse the mind.

Combining Clegg’s words with his actual experience, a guess suddenly came to Lin Mo’s mind.

“This object, is it abundant in the Five Poison Sect?”

Clegg shook his head after thinking back for a while.

“Not very often!”

“Especially not in the hands of several of their administrators or patriarchs, who have seen this object at all.”

“Rather, I have seen it from the hands of some ordinary personnel.”

“And this thing is like a crop, it takes time to mature.”

Lin Mo listened while his brain raced.

Experiment.

Strength becomes stronger.

Only available in the hands of ordinary members of the Five Poisons Cult.

Breakthrough to the Patriarchate!

All sorts of clues were strung together, and Lin Mo’s mind already had a vague guess.

Only that he still needed to verify it before he could know.

After Clegg had explained all this, he asked again.

“Mr. Lin, how are you thinking about it!”

“As long as we cooperate, killing Ji Dutuo and exterminating the Five Poison Sect is not a difficult task!”

Lin Mo smashed his mouth.

“Why should I cooperate with you?”

This was originally just his disdainful mockery.

But Clegg returned with a serious face.

“Because we have a common enemy!”

"I've been in touch with Ki Doktor, and he wouldn't dare kill you outright though."

"But all along, he has been setting you up, wanting to use the hands of others to bring you to your death!"

After Clegg had shaken Ji Dutuo's past to the core, his words turned to the Five Poisons Sect.

"As for the Five Poison Sect!"

"They are the ones who provided the infectious poison."

"And have hunted down and killed your disciples"

"Wait a minute!" Lin Mo suddenly intended his words.

"You know the person who chased and killed my disciple?"

Clegg froze for a moment before immediately nodding his head frantically.

"An Qingshan!"

"This man is one of the elders of our Five Poison Sect."

"Although his strength is not amazing, he is extremely cautious and cunning!"

"Especially that ability to escape is a masterpiece."

"I heard that he fought with Ji Duto before."

"In the presence of four Patriarchs of the Seven Deadly Sins, all of them were brought back from the dead by him"

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 4332

He is not afraid that Lin Mo will ask, but he is afraid that Lin Mo will say nothing without asking anything.

After listening to this An Qingshan's information, Lin Mo suddenly narrowed his eyes.

"Where is he?"

Lin Mo asked with a chilling look in his eyes.

Naturally, Clegg knew that Lin Mo was motivated to kill.

"Although I don't want to splash you with cold water!"

"But if you want to avenge your disciple, I advise you to give up."

"This An Qingshan was previously besieged by Ji Dutuo and the others, and afterwards he was targeted by the White Hair of the Seven Deadly Sins."

"This old fox is already hiding in just going to the Five Poisons Sect headquarters and not coming out."

"If you want to kill him, it's simply impossible!"

He knew that Lin Mo was strong.

But even more so, he knew the terror of the Great Elder of the Five Poison Sect

As the base camp of the Five Poisons Sect.

District 9 has now imposed full supervision

Together with the ten or so Zong Shi masters who permanently reside at the headquarters.

Lin Mo could not even think of seeing this An Qingshan, let alone taking revenge.

“But well!”

Clegg suddenly turned his words around.

“As long as you promise to work with me!”

“I can help you lure this old fox out!”

“Wait

Just as he was halfway through his sentence, Lin Mo turned his head and left the place straight away.

At this moment, Clegg couldn't help but be furious.

Originally, he had thought that Lin Mo had asked him so much because he had the intention to cooperate.

Unexpectedly, it turned out that this kid was completely whoring out the information from his mouth.

Clegg, who felt he had been tricked, could no longer suppress the anger that filled his heart.

“Lin Mo, it's because I think of you that I want to work with you!”

“Don't give up your face!”

Lin Mo stopped in his tracks and turned around.

“You should be glad that the Five Poisons Sect gave you this this body.”

“Otherwise you would have been a dead soul under my sword by now.”

If it wasn't for more information.

He wouldn't have bothered to talk more nonsense to this Clegg.

This kind of self-righteous person floated to the sky after having a little power.

At this moment, he had already torn his cheek, and Clegg was no longer polite as before.

“Just because I'm a mud twister!”

With that, he darted towards Lin Mo.

Only just before he got close.

Lin Mo's feet tapped, and with a few strides he darted directly towards the outskirts.

"A woman's kindness can never lead to great things!"

Clegg could see that Lin Mo did not want the ordinary people around him to be affected, which was why he wanted to shift the battlefield.

Only this approach did make Clegg despise it.

Two figures darted past.

In no time at all they had arrived in a suburb off the beaten track.

"If you want to get beaten up, you can go ahead and do it!"

Lin Mo said unhurriedly as he replaced his hands in front of his chest.

Clegg snorted a laugh.

"Lin Mo, do you think I'm still the same half-step Sovereign who was at the mercy of others?"

"Today I'll let you see the terror of my Clegg!"

The reason he had been going to such lengths to curry favour before was because Lin Mo shared the same common enemy as him.

In this way Clegg intended to bring Lin Mo into his own revenge plan.

Unexpectedly, after he had revealed everything he knew.

Lin Mo even ignored himself.

This result made him feel like a clown.

His already twisted psyche had now gone completely mad.

With a single step, he came directly in front of Lin Mo.

His huge fist instantly glowed with an eerie green light.

Only when he struggled to swing his fist, it was effortlessly received by Lin Mo.

"That's it?"

Lin Mo shook his head disdainfully.

"I'm afraid this Patriarch of yours isn't a fake!"

"With your strength in this matter you still want to drink and kill Ji Dutuo and destroy the Five Poisons Sect."

"Dream your big dreams!"

After saying that, Lin Mo's arm shook.

The White Clan's scattered hands were dark and fast, directly shaking Cleggjin away from him by dozens of meters.

It was not that Lin Mo deliberately belittled this Clegg.

Rather, this was indeed the reality.

Just after the fight, Lin Mo had tested Clegg's strength, but it was only a little stronger than a half-step Grandmaster.

Not even a ghostly old man could compare.

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 4333

After Clegg was truly ruined by Lin Mo, he looked a bit of a wreck though.

But in fact, he did not suffer heavy injuries at all.

And when he got up from the ground, he suddenly burst out laughing as if he had gone mad.

"Hahahaha!"

A hoarse, scratchy laugh that made me feel extraordinarily uncomfortable to hear.

"Lin Mo I originally thought you were very clever!"

"I didn't think you were a*s!"

"You knew I was covered in poison and you still dared to contact me!"

Taking the lower plague seed, coupled with those perverted experiments of the Five Poison Sect.

Not only did it make him Clegg break through to Zong Shi.

It also allowed him to gain extremely special abilities.

A body of intense poison and an extraordinarily tenacious life force.

Whenever he comes into physical contact with him, the virus plus a mixture of poisons instantly invades his opponent's body.

Even a master of the clan will not escape death.

Normally, Clegg controls himself and is in no danger.

Now he unleashes it at full power.

It has become a source of terrifying poison.

Only a mere casual mouthful of blood and spittle was seen from him.

The human-headed laughing rock on one side was then directly solvent clean.

The ground beneath the rock was dissolved into a crater half a metre deep.

And he was only here for a moment.

Within a hundred-metre radius, the originally green and lush trees, with their green and emerald leaves, had now begun to turn yellow.

Black spots were even clearly visible on the surface.

With such a terrifying corrosive power, even if he was weak.

An ordinary Sovereign High Book would not dare to entangle with it.

Clegg seemed to have foreseen the image of Lin Mo's miserable death, and could not help but start screaming with abandon.

"I originally wanted to pull you up, but surprisingly you don't deserve it then go to hell!"

"Hahahaha hahaha haha"

Only as he laughed, he realized something was wrong.

After all this time, a normal person would have been in pain from his intense poison.

But the Lin Mo in front of him acted as if nothing was wrong, just looking at him quietly.

And that look was full of disdain.

"It does seem like it's very powerful!"

Lin Mo lifted his arm.

At this moment, the palm of his hand that had come into contact with Clegg was already glowing with a black and green interwoven poisonous gas.

Bizarrely, these rocky steel plates were able to corrode the poisonous gas, and in Lin Mo's hands it was as if they had become toys.

It couldn't hurt his companion at all.

When Clegg saw this scene, he felt incredulous.

"This can't be?"

He roared out in anger as the poisonous aura around him erupted again.

And this time, the poisonous qi became even more dense and darker in colour.

"Lin Mo, you die!"

With a roar, directly Clegg threw out a fist-sized ball of poisonous gas.

Lin Mo did not dare to be careless when he saw this.

Immediately, he dodged out of the way with a dodge.

What he didn't expect was that the poisonous gas bomb spread out instantly after hitting the ground.

Caught off guard, he dodged, but the corner of his coat was covered by the green gas from the explosion.

In just the blink of an eye.

Lin Mo's clothes were like petrol that had been lit on fire, eroding away in a flash.

The residual green gas seemed to be unfulfilled and began to spread towards his skin.

Lin Mo didn't dare to be sloppy and hurriedly used his spiritual power to shake the small nail-cap sized mass of green gas away.

But even so, Lin Mo still felt a tingling pain on his arm.

When he looked down, he saw that the green qi had eroded a red swelling on his body through the air.

What amazed Lin Mo the most was that the moment the green qi was vibrated away but came into contact with the aura.

Lin Mo was certain that the size of the green Qi had risen by a small amount.

This meant that this object could still devour the aura, thus helping to grow itself.

This would be terrifying!

Thinking about this, Lin Mo's heart couldn't help but feel heavy

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 4334

Just one round of attacks.

Lin Mo had already suffered the first bit of pain under Clegg's bizarre tactics.

At this moment, Clegg, who had exploded at full power, would also look as if he had a swagger.

"Lin Mo, this is an appetizer!"

He said as he escaped with a pistol straight away.

As he gently pulled the trigger.

The bullet sped out!

Originally, a gun of this level would not have been in Lin Mo's sights at all.

But this Clegg was very clever.

He had attached his guile to the surface of the bullet.

Not only did he move faster, but he also attacked from a greater distance.

At this moment, Lin Mo also finally began to realise how difficult this Clegg was to deal with.

As he dodged and moved, several bullets flashed past.

The green Qi around him became thicker and thicker.

Gradually, Lin Mo's situation began to become more and more awkward.

If he continued to entangle himself in this place, his range of movement would become smaller and smaller.

Sooner or later, he would be surrounded by that green energy.

Having seen the power of this object, Lin Mo did not dare to take the risk.

What was most stifling was this.

Although he himself possessed two sword techniques of appalling power, he did not dare to use them.

Once this hurt or killed Clegg.

Those horrible poisonous gases and viruses in his body just burst out.

When that happens, the whole island of death will be buried with it.

After thinking of this, Lin Mo gave up the thought of continuing to stay here.

He couldn't fight, he couldn't kill, and he had to be forced to dodge around.

Such a stifling exchange of blows was a complete waste of time and energy.

Lin Mo looked up at Clegg, who was screaming and shouting not far away, and finally decided to give up on tangling.

Pointing his toes at a tree branch, he leapt straight up into mid-air, followed by a few flashes and directly he disappeared from sight.

In the same place, Clegg looked at Lin Mo, who was forced back by himself, and could not help but laugh again.

"Lin Mo didn't expect you to have a day!"

"Hahahaha!"

After a loud laugh, he froze directly in place.

Within half a second, he was on his knees clutching his chest cavity and screaming in agony.

It was as if there were countless snakes, insects and rats gnawing at his internal organs.

The skin around his body was constantly pengzheng, and his cheeks, which were already extremely distorted, were even more hideous at this moment.

Blackened blood, mixed with thick slurry, permeated the surface of his body.

Clegg's screams slowly turned into wails.

"Why can't it fuse completely."

“D*mn it, why can’t I just behave and be controlled by me

With the constant wailing underneath, several kilometres around had turned into scorched black.

Within this area, no life could be seen outside of Clegg.

The other side.

After Lin Mo broke away from the battlefield, he only felt a burning pain all over his body.

During the fight with Clegg just now, he had used his aura in isolating himself from it though.

However, this was still unable to resist that green Qi’s bizarre erosion ability.

When he arrived at the water pool, Lin Mo jumped in without saying a word.

But it was not only a minute before he fell into the water.

All the fish in the entire water pool turned up their white bellies.

Seeing this scene, Lin Mo’s face also became more serious.

This Clegg’s presence was a complete time bomb.

If he didn’t figure out how to deal with it as soon as possible, it would sooner or later lead to a major disaster.

Only after the burning sensation around his body had dissipated did Lin Mo leave the waterhole.

He went ashore, found a place to rest, and began to purify the eroded aura in his body.

Originally, Lin Mo had come here purely because he wanted to teach the Five Poison Sect a lesson.

By the way, he was looking for the people who had chased and killed his disciples before.

Unexpectedly, he had come across this Clegg who had disappeared for a long time.

I didn’t expect that the patriarch of the Lawrence family would become so difficult to deal with.

Especially thinking about the plague seed.

Lin Mo’s heart and soul couldn’t help but be a little heavier.

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 4335

Zone 9.

This area has been developed into a home base by the Five Poison Sect over the years.

Everyone who lives here, except for the members of the Five Poisons Sect, is a member of the Five Poisons Sect.

The other people are either members of the Five Poisons Sect or family forces attached to the Five Poisons Sect.

Or else they are people who work with each other.

Apart from these people, the only ones who want to enter the Ninth District are those captured by the Five Poisons Sect, and suspiciously are corpses.

“Stand still, fellow token!”

Lin Mo dared to enter, and the watchmen on the road stopped him.

At this moment, the other companions around them also shifted their gazes to this side, intentionally or unintentionally.

In the event of a sudden situation, the summoning attack could all be launched together.

After Lin Mo made up a smile, he took out a token with the Five Poison Sect’s logo inscribed on it from his pocket.

At the same time, he pretended to inquire carelessly.

“Brother, why has it become so harsh this time!”

“It doesn’t even seem like I had to be so strict in my checks the last few times I came here, does it?”

The man on guard did not reply, but only gave him a cold glance.

“Don’t pry into what you shouldn’t ask, or you won’t even know how you’re going to die!”

With that, he threw the token into Lin Mo’s arms and continued to ask.

“Identity document!”

Lin Mo nodded his head repeatedly and pulled out his identity document.

Of course neither this token nor the identity document was actually his own.

On the way to this place.

After he ambushed a transport unit supplying for the Five Poisons Cult.

Then he pried all kinds of information out of their mouths.

As for the tokens and documents, they were completely plucked from the leader of the transport unit.

After the disguise was changed, although it could not be said to be identical, the

But the difference in appearance alone was not much.

The watchman examined them carefully and then compared them to the photographs.

After repeatedly confirming that there was no mistake, the watchman again gave a cold warning.

“Keep your eyes and mouth shut!”

“The people inside don’t want us to talk so well.”

Said the gates opening.

Lin Mo put on a groveling face and thanked him repeatedly after a few times.

Only then did he walk into the ninth district amidst the other party’s urging.

As the Five Poison Sect’s main base camp on Death Island.

There were not many people in the main city.

One could even say it was completely sparse.

There are few pedestrians at all to be seen on the wide roads.

Apart from the constant patrols, the only people left were merchants like Lin Mo, who came here to supply the Five Poisons Sect.

On the upper floors of the buildings, there were many inspectors watching every move in the whole district.

Seeing such a scene Lin Mo couldn’t help but twist his eyebrows.

He had gone to the trouble of sneaking in just to investigate the source of the plague seed.

But right now, with such a tightly monitored environment, let alone investigating.

Every move he made was being watched at all times.

There’s no point in playing!

In desperation, Lin Mo turned on his Six Senses of God Technique, intending to observe the layout of the surroundings.

However, when his divine sense spread out rapidly, his expression changed violently.

Also at this moment, within the presidential suite at the top of a hotel, a middle-aged man violently opened his eyes.

The terrifying aura of a Patriarch was on display.

After his companion at the side noticed his abnormality, he asked curiously.

“What’s wrong?”

The middle-aged man frowned: “Just now I seem to have the feeling of being spied on.”

“It seems like there are other clerics spying on us in secret!”

“You’re just too nervous!”

A companion spoke out to comfort.

“We have eight patriarchs from the east, west, north and south of the ninth district watching.”

“In the centre, there are still the Grand Elders and their sitters.”

“What kind of person is tired of living and dares to come to our Nine Districts to seek death!”

The middle-aged man frowned and stood up.

“Right now, our Five Poison Sect’s core project is entering a critical stage, so we can’t be sloppy”

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 4336

The top floor of the hotel.

The middle-aged patriarchal man came to the window.

After he closed his eyes, he began to perceive the movements around him with full concentration.

Only after a while, he did not find anything unusual.

At this moment, his companion also smiled and said.

“Well, I told you it was you who was too nervous!”

“With the strength of our Five Poison Sect’s line-up today, even he, Ji Dutuo and the others, would let him have no return.”

“All right, take a rest for a while! It’s better for me to watch ah, it’s time for you to take a rest.”

The middle-aged patriarch cautiously confirmed the side again and again they still did not find anything.

At this moment, he also felt that his companion had a point.

Perhaps he had been too nervous and tired and had had an illusion.

“All right, then, you’ll have a hard time!”

The middle-aged man rubbed his brow before lying down directly on the single bed to one side.

Not long afterwards the room resounded with snoring sounds.

Meanwhile.

Above the street Lin Mo was walking seemingly normally.

In reality, at this moment, he was also carrying a burst of backward fear.

Who would have thought that even though this place was just on the edge of the main city, there would be two sect masters watching again.

Just now, just as he let out his divine sense of perception, he had discovered the presence of those two.

Of course he had also alerted the other side as well.

Luckily, Lin Mo reacted quickly enough and withdrew his senses in time.

And in the first instance, he suppressed his own aura to the extreme.

Otherwise, he would definitely have been discovered by the Five Poison Sect's Patriarch.

And just as he had walked the distance of less than twenty metres past you, he sensed that the other party's gaze had swept over him several times.

Fortunately, after a few sweeps, the other cleric gave up his inspection.

That was close!

After Lin Mo secretly exclaimed, he still maintained his normal pace, looking no different from a normal person.

It was just that after this encounter, he did not dare to use his divine sense in a reckless manner.

He could only look for opportunities as he walked.

Of course the stricter the surveillance of their Five Poison Sect is the more it means they are planning something big.

With this in mind, Lin Mo's gaze suddenly landed on a side alleyway.

This place was located between several buildings.

The light was dim.

It is a rare blind spot for surveillance.

But just as he was about to enter the alleyway quietly, there was a sudden shout from behind him.

"Rod!"

Hearing this name, Lin Mo's body couldn't help but stiffen.

It was going to be a disaster!

The original owner of the identity he had seized at the moment was called Rod.

Although Lin Mo had used the disguise technique to disguise himself similarly to Rod.

However, if he met someone he knew, he might be exposed.

For a time, Lin Mo was directly caught in a dilemma.

The man's shout just now had already attracted the attention of the surrounding passers-by who were already inspecting the area.

This incidentally also exposed Lin Mo to the public's attention.

He was not given the chance to silence him.

However, if the other party was an acquaintance, Lin Mo would most likely be directly exposed.

And once his own identity was exposed, although he would be able to escape this place directly.

But after this, the Five Poison Sect's control will be even tighter.

At that time, it will be difficult to use this method to get in.

Thinking of this, Lin Mo took a deep breath.

Right now, he could only take a chance.

Just as he was about to turn around and respond, a palm slapped him heavily on the shoulder.

"bd, are you deaf!"

"I can't believe I can't hear you even after calling you so many times!"

Lin Mo's brain raced, thinking of excuses to deal with the situation at the same time.

His palm had already touched his chest.

Once the other party recognized his disguise, he would directly kill this guy.

With this thought in mind, Lin Mo lowered his voice and explained.

"Sorry, just now I was thinking about something and got lost in thought"

Without waiting for him to finish, the visitor waved his hand impatiently on one side, while his eyebrows knitted together in silence.

Found out?

Lin Mo's heart was astonished

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 4337

Lin Mo is in a stable state of mind though.

But faced with the scene in front of him for a time, he could not help but be nervous.

Although he had gone through a disguise, his appearance was eight or nine percent similar to that of the original owner, Luo Luo.

But the voice could not be changed.

But anyone who was familiar with it could not hide it at all.

Yet just as he was about to strike, the other man suddenly spoke up and asked.

"Going off on a tangent? I think you're tired of living!"

"Didn't I tell you to wait for me at the entrance?"

The visitor glanced at his watch with a disgruntled look on his face.

Hmm?

I'm surprised it wasn't recognised?

Lin Mo couldn't help but secretly breathe a sigh of relief, and then scratched his head in embarrassment.

"I was thirsty for a moment and thought I'd look for the shops around and buy a bottle of water!"

Looking at the situation, the two sides should not be familiar with each other.

This also gave Lin Mo room to operate.

When the visitor heard this reason, his brow furrowed even deeper.

"Buying water?"

"You have the f*cking heart to buy water?"

"Do you know how late you guys are?"

After saying that he disliked his watch to Lin Mo's heels.

"A full half hour has passed since we agreed on the time."

"Do you not want to live anymore?"

"You will surely die if you delay the great people."

A loud scolding followed.

Lin Mo felt bad, the fact that the two sides had a time agreement was something he had not expected.

However, just as he was thinking about how to explain.

The other party asked again.

"Wait, where's the goods, are there ten of you here?"

"How come you're the only one back, did all those guys die halfway?"

Eh?

In the midst of his mean words, Lin Mo suddenly found inspiration.

"That's all that's left of the cargo, and we were intercepted by a masked bd on the way to transport it."

With that Lin Mo took off his backpack and pulled out some ordinary medicinal herbs inside.

"Luckily I was resourceful and snuck off with some of them."

"Otherwise that bd would have ransacked us for sure."

"As for a few of my other companions, they all died at the hands of that thief too."

Lin Mo cursed himself without any ambiguity.

He also showed a face of grief and resignation in the likeness of this original owner, Rod.

At the same time, he was already prepared for the second hand.

As soon as the other party recognized his identity.

He will kill them!

When the visitor heard about this, he could not help but frown.

When he thought of Lin Mo's perverse behaviour just now, he became suspicious!

"Pa*s token and documents out!"

Faced with this kind of interrogation.

Lin Mo didn't panic at all and pulled them out without any hesitation.

Only after the other party carefully examined it did he drop his guard.

Then he said with a reproachful face.

"If we lose so many goods, the people upstairs will blame us, and neither you nor I will have a good time."

After saying that, he sighed in dissatisfaction.

"Forget it, let's have as much as we can."

"We'll send the stuff over first."

Hmm?

Such a result was all rather surprising to Lin Mo.

Originally, he had been prepared to be recognized.

After all, although he had lowered his voice, there was still this big gap between him and the original owner, Rod.

Luckily, everything went smoothly and he managed to get by.

Only, what made Lin Mo puzzled was this.

After intercepting the transport convoy earlier, he had also carefully gone through those transport items.

But apart from these herbs that were so ordinary that they couldn't be more ordinary within his bail.

There was nothing else.

As his mind raced through his thoughts, the sound of impatient urging suddenly came to his ears.

"What are you still waiting for!"

"If you delay, the man at the top will want your little life straight away."

Lin Mo frowned, he neither knew the identity nor the purpose of the other party at the moment.
It was not good for him to strike in public

Medical Genius Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 4338

After some quick thinking by Lin Mo.

In the end, he chose to follow the other party through the main city.

On the way, Lin Mo was also secretly observing everything around him.

What he had to admit was that the Five Poison Sect's defences were indeed extremely tight.

On this journey, he had already seen hundreds of patrolling troops.

Above the floors, there were likewise countless figures monitoring all movements in the streets.

Plus two Patriarchs sitting on top of them.

This three-dimensional surveillance method makes it impossible for anyone to do anything.

This also confirmed Lin Mo's suspicions more and more.

This Five Poison Sect must be plotting something big.

The two of them came to a nondescript shop before stopping in their tracks.

"Go in!"

When the two of them walked in.

Lin Mo then realized that this shop, not only was it unimpressive, the interior was also pitifully small.

Outside of a humble counter, the entire shop was only furnished with three sets of small airy tables and chairs.

Most of all, it was just as well that there were no customers here.

A thick layer of dust has accumulated on the tables and chairs.

After scanning around, Lin Mo's gaze locked onto the old man who was huffing and puffing on the counter.

After Lin Mo had taken it all in, a guess instantly came to his mind.

There must be a secret passage in this place, no surprise.

At the same time, the leader who was waiting for Lin Mo to arrive at this place suddenly straightened his stance.

Then, with a respectful look, he stepped forward and gently knocked on the counter.

"Old Master Chi, Old Master Chi!"

At the rest of his softly whispered call, the old man on the counter also woke up.

Only when his gaze swept over, Lin Mo's body couldn't help but tighten up.

This plain old man was actually a sect master expert.

And he was able to cultivate his own aura to the realm of returning to the basics.

This person's strength must be extraordinary.

At this moment, Lin Mo could not help but be grateful.

When he entered District 9, the patriarch hidden within the restaurant had already taught him a lesson.

Before coming here, Lin Mo had already suppressed his patriarchal aura to an extreme value.

There was no difference between looking like a normal person.

If not for that, he would have been discovered before he even entered this shop.

It was only after Red Old Man had skimmed the two that he stood up sleepily.

"It is rare for an old man to have a beautiful dream, and then you disturb him."

Although no meaning of dissatisfaction could be heard in the old man's tone.

However, the leader was directly frightened to the extent that his legs kept swaying.

"Chibi, the elders are pressing hard, and I'm doing it out of necessity."

"If not, how dare the little one disturb the Red Leader!"

Chilao suddenly smashed his mouth after hearing the elders.

"This is the last batch, isn't it?"

The lead man looked relieved and hurriedly responded, "Yes, this is the last shipment."

It was only at this moment that the red man smiled a smile on his face.

"Then hurry up and bring him in!"

With that, Chieh raised his hand and gave a finger.

The humble wall lit up, and then it flipped over.

At that moment, a pa*sage appeared in front of him.

"Kid, what are you staring at, hurry up and follow me in."

After the leader finished speaking, he walked directly towards the pa*sage.

Lin Mo did not say anything back, he just silently followed behind this man.

Only the doubts in his heart at this moment were also infinitely magnified.

Right now, the Ninth District was so strictly guarded.

This leader was surprisingly not at all wary of himself.

Just led himself along so blatantly.

Nor was he afraid that he would secretly remember to reveal himself.

And even after arriving here, the people of this Five Poison Sect still did not have any half-hearted defenses.

One could still follow this person in.

One must know that this was a place guarded by a sect master.

It was not for an outsider like him to enter.

With such doubts, Lin Mo followed the other party all the way into the lift.

With a shudder.

Lin Mo then felt that he was descending rapidly

Zone 9.

Below ground, the lift began its rapid descent.

After a while, Lin Mo felt a tremor under his feet.

The lift had also finally stopped at this moment.

Along with a burst of bright light pouring in, the lift doors slowly opened.

What met the eye was a large underground laboratory.

Such a scene could not help but remind Lin Mo of the Chinese Medicine League's Elder Academy.

There was also an underground laboratory similar to this one, only that it was several dozen times larger than this one.

Just as he was observing his surroundings, two sturdy, strong men outside the lift suddenly greeted him.

They clasped their hands and bent their backs in salute.

"Greetings, Master Dou!"

Lin Mo had not expected that the identity of this usher in front of him was not low.

One should know that these two strong men were properly half-step Zongshi judging from the aura they emitted.

To be able to make two half-step sect masters treat each other with such respect.

This leader named Master Dou had some status.

After a simple response from Master Dou, he nudged his mouth towards Lin Mo.

“This is the last batch of goods, but it seems that there was an accident on the way.”

“There’s only this left, you guys take it away!”

Upon hearing this, the two burly men instantly looked puzzled.

“This

“Master Dou this is a bit out of order!”

“There are deadly orders from above, this is suddenly so much less, we can’t account for it!”

At this moment, Master Dou’s face also instantly turned gloomy.

“Things have been that what can I do?”

“Or you can tie me up to make up the numbers.”

Seeing Master Dou’s anger, the two strong hastened to shrink their necks and make amends to.

“Master Dou, how dare we!”

“You go ahead, just leave the rest to my brothers!”

Master Dou snorted coldly, threw his hands in the air and left the place with a disgruntled face.

In the same place, Lin Mo also took off his backpack with good sense.

“Here are the things you want!”

“It was cut off on the road earlier, and this is all that was left.”

However, the two burly men simply ignored his explanation.

After reaching out to take the backpack, they also casually threw it aside.

“Kid, should I say you’re stupid or should I say you’re naive!”

“We’ve gone to such great lengths to get busy, can’t we really do it just for these rubbish herbs.”

With that said a playful smile appeared on the faces of the coming duo.

The gaze that they looked at Lin Mo was also filled with ill will.

It felt as if they were looking at a corpse.

By them so little.

Lin Mo also finally reacted.

“The goods you want are actually me?”

The strong man smiled disdainfully.

“Looks like you have some brains!”

“That’s right, it’s your people we want!”

The words sounded a little twisted though.

But the truth behind it was unsettling.

With such a scene coupled with the strong man’s words, Lin Mo instantly understood.

This group of beasts were afraid that they were either, or they were using living people as experiments.

In this way, all the previous doubts could be explained.

No wonder that Master Dou looked like a complete stranger as soon as he saw himself.

After that, from the time he entered the main city to here, he also did not take any precautions or guard against himself at all.

Anyone who entered this place would not be able to get out alive.

The two strong men saw that Lin Mo did not have a calm face at this time.

At once, they felt a lack of interest.

Compared to that, they preferred to see that expression of horror and despair.

“Boy, are you prepared to meekly cooperate with your own pa*sage?”

“Or do you want my brother and I to set you up to go over?”

Lin Mo only gave the two a cold glance at his words, “Lead the way!”

“Humph, quite arrogant!”

The strong man’s face sank and he gave a wink towards his companion.

“We’ve seen quite a few hard-headed people like you, if you think so.”

“But wait a bit and you’ll have your time to cry.”

After saying that the two men went straight forward and tied Lin Mo up.

Lin Mo did not resist, and still let the two men tie him up.

He had a premonition.

The fact that the surveillance in the ninth district had suddenly become so harsh was probably related to this underground laboratory.

Right now it was just the right time to see what their Five Poison Sect was up to.

Just like that, after Lin Mo was tied up.

The two strong men directly lifted him up and walked towards the building right in the centre.

Lin Mo also got a good look at the entire layout of the test is along the way.

And through the transparent gla*s of part of the building, he saw an outrageous scene.

These beasts were actually experimenting on living people!

Piece by piece, the room was filled with neatly arranged gla*s tanks of water.

Beyond the tanks were connected dense catheters.

All manner of unidentified liquids are fed in a steady stream with the catheters.

Inside the tank, naked, living people are held.

In other laboratories, Lin Mo also saw people frantically begging for mercy, while others were trying to escape.

But without exception, they were all taken back.

What was most enraging to Lin Mo was that some of them had actually dismembered those experimenters directly from the wine cup.

Just at this moment, the strong man also seemed to have noticed Lin Mo's gaze.

Then he sneered and said.

"No need to look, it'll be your turn later!"

"Of course you don't have to be afraid, if you're lucky you might be able to carry the first test."

"But this second round is hard to say."

With that the two laughed outright, their words full of playfulness.

After Lin Mo withdrew his gaze, his expression also turned more and more indifferent.

"You two wait, sooner or later you will also experience their pain!"

Hearing these words, the strong man snorted with laughter.

"Good, then we'll both have to wait."

"Oh, it's come to this and you're still f*cking tough talking!"

"If I wasn't afraid that Professor Qin would get angry, I'd beat you up so badly that you wouldn't even know your own mother."

After the duo finished taunting, the pace of their feet quickened a few points.

Lin Mo was also too lazy to argue with them verbally.

There were no words along the way.

After arriving at his destination, the strong man threw Lin Mo directly in front of the laboratory door.

Within moments of ringing the doorbell, a man dressed in a white lab coat with a mask and goggles came out.

After seeing that there was only one person, his eyes slowly narrowed.

“Why is it just this one person?”

The burly duo’s legs couldn’t help but go weak at the sound.

Crying and panicking, they explained.

“Professor Qin, my brother and I can’t help it!”

“The problem is that that’s all Master Dou brought!”

Professor Qin’s brow furrowed as he pondered for a moment before.

His gaze skimmed.

With just one glance, the burly duo’s sweat hairs all over their bodies directly exploded.

Immediately, they fell to their knees.

“Professor Qin, we two brothers are thick-skinned and thick-skinned, we are not suitable at all.”

“You are magnanimous, spare us two brothers!”

With that, the two began to kneel down and frantically beg for mercy.

The crosser surnamed Qin showed his disdain.

“Hmph, a man so tall, but so little guts!”

“Hurry up and get up, don’t make a fool of yourself.”

“With your pig and dog-like system, you couldn’t possibly do anything to you even if you begged me.”

With that he gave the two strong men a kick each.

“Hurry up and carry him into the laboratory!”

After the two brothers took a long breath of relief, they naturally did not dare to slow down.

They carried Lin Mo in without a second thought, and then secured him to the operating table.

“Professor Qin, if there’s nothing else, the two of us will leave first.”

“Get lost!”

As soon as the words left their mouths, the two of them ran faster than rabbits.

In a flash of smoke, they disappeared straight out of sight.

In situ, Lin Mo also began to observe the situation around him.

The smell of formalin permeated the air.

As for the gla*s container, it was filled with various organs from the riding monster.

It was clear that there were not a few experimental subjects who had died here.
