Chapter 531

Brandon was furious. "Shut up!"

"That's my condition. I want one million as my daughter's betrothal gift. If you can give me one million, I'll marry my daughter to him!"

"What do you think? Can you afford it?"

Laura looked at Matthew smugly, her face full of contempt. Even for her husband, forking out a million wouldn't be easy.

Matthew wasn't surprised and just gave a mirthless smile. "One million? Old man, is your daughter worth only one million in your eyes?"

Brandon sneered, "Why are you talking so much nonsense? Do you even have one million?"

Matthew looked at Eddie and smiled. "What do you think, Ed?"

Ed blushed out of embarrassment. "Matt, I-I really don't have so much money."

Matthew shook his head. "I'm not asking if you have that much money. What I'm asking is, do you think she's worth only one million?"

Eddie grew anxious. "Matthew, wh-what are you trying to say? In my heart, Wendy is priceless! I'm even willing to give my life for her!"

Matthew nodded and glanced at Brandon. "Did you hear that? This is known as true love! He loves your daughter, so to him, your daughter is priceless. However, you only think of your daughter as a bargaining chip for your promotion, so you gave your daughter a price. This is the difference between the both of you!"

Andrew's eyes lit up. "You're right, Dad! Let's get someone from the Department of Safety and Security to come over! This is the staff building of our factory.

Them coming here to cause trouble is the same as causing trouble in our factory. Having someone from the Department to come over is the best choice. Let's break their hands, then send them to the police station. We can tell the police that they came to our factory to steal."

"That's right." Laura laughed loudly.

"When the time comes, we may even be praised for being righteous and brave too!"

Matthew ignored them and turned toward Eddie. "Let me use your phone."

Eddie searched his pockets but couldn't find his phone too, causing him to look at Matthew helplessly. "I seem to have lost my phone too."

Matthew was dispirited. The situation just now was very chaotic and Eddie probably lost his phone during the scuffle.

Brandon couldn't hide his smugness. “Oh, this is difficult to say. You guys know me, I'm a good and loyal friend. While I was in school and serving in the military, I had a lot of friends. A lot of those classmates and comrades of mine are now big shots.

I'm just keeping a low profile and did not want to contact them, but it seems these old friends of mine couldn't forget about me! Alright, enough talking. All of you tidy up quickly. Clean up the house and take out my most precious tea!” Brandon commanded his children excitedly. Both of his sons and Laura started to get busy.

This was related to their future prospects, so each of them were giving their all.

“You two, why aren't you leaving yet?” Laura said arrogantly to Matthew. “Didn't you hear that we have guests coming? Do you still want to continue causing a scene in front of our guests?”

Don't say I didn't remind you. Those people are big shots that you can't afford to mess with. If you cause a scene in front of these big shots, it won't be as simple as getting an arm or a leg broken. If you guys cause too much trouble, you might even get killed here!”

Andrew walked toward his mother and said with a dark face, “Mom, you bring Wendy back to her room first. We can talk after the guests leave.”

Wendy's mom also knew how serious the matter was, so she said softly, “Eddie, could you come back in the afternoon?”

Eddie had deep respect for Wendy's mom. He nodded and muttered, “Matthew, we can come back in the afternoon...”

Brandon hurriedly looked outside and saw a few people getting out of the car.

Among them, a bald and obese man, was Director Zook.

Director Zook was following a man with a flattering smile on his face. Apparently, this man was the owner of the car.

If Matthew was there, he would have recognised him right away, because that man was Julian.

After Julian dealt with his work at the company, he immediately got ready to go and help Eddie at his house.

When he was on his way, he called Matthew and learned that they were already helping out at Wendy's house.

So, he immediately turned around and came here and didn't make a stop at Eddie's house.

However, he didn't know where Brandon's house was.

When he was nearby, he called both Matthew and Eddie but they didn't answer his calls. At that time, both of them had no phones.

In the end, he had no choice but to head to the factory and find a way to get someone from the factory to bring him over to Brandon's place.

He had vaguely heard Eddie talk about Brandon, so when he arrived at the factory, he directly said he was looking for Brandon.

Because Brandon was going to be Eddie's father-in-law and was considered to be his elder, so when Julian mentioned Brandon, he was respectful.

Brandon was caught off guard. What did he mean?

God, that would be awkward.

After hesitating for a moment, Brandon said to salvage the situation, "Oh, then how is your mother

Julian was even more puzzled. You know both of my parents?

"Mr. Atkinson, so you know my mom too?" Julian asked curiously.

The scene became completely awkward.

Brandon was dumbfounded. I don't know your father, and I don't know your mother either, so who

Seeing Brandon and the others keeping quiet, Julian couldn't help but find the situation strange. "Mr. Atkinson, did something happen? Haven't they arrived yet?"

Brandon was feeling extremely awkward and he didn't know how to explain.

At that moment, a voice suddenly came from the door. "We arrived a long time ago."

Julian turned around and was overjoyed when he saw Matthew and Eddie standing at the door. He quickly rushed over and said, "Oh, I finally found both of you. What happened to you two? My calls weren't getting through, and I have been circling around here a few times. So how is it? Did everything go well?" Julian laughed.

"It went extremely well!" Matthew sneered. "They promised to completely cut ties with their daughter for one million dollar as her betrothal gift!"

When he heard this, Julian frowned instantly. "What do you mean?"

Director Zook looked at Brandon quickly. His instincts were telling him sh*t was about to hit the fan.

Brandon's face turned red from shock and anger.

Matthew then told Julian what had happened earlier.

Brandon's face became as red as a tomato. Steeling himself, he said, "Director Zook, this is my family's affair, so please don't interfere!"

In the past, he would not dare to talk to Director Zook like this.

However, since things had developed to this point, he knew that he was finished.

Now that he had offended Julian, the factory was sure to fire him.

Therefore, he didn't need to give face to Director Zook anymore.

He was now sure that Eddie would marry his daughter by hook or by crook, so he planned to make a fortune using his daughter.

With this ten million, even if he couldn't be the assistant factory manager or was fired, so what?

Director Zook was trembling with anger, but there was nothing he could do.

If Brandon had made up his mind not to work in the factory, there was nothing he could do to him.

Wendy grew anxious. "Dad, wh-what are you saying? How can you ask for such a big sum of money? Are you marrying me off or selling me? "

Wendy was trembling with rage, and she was now completely let down by her father.

She never expected that her father would do such a thing.

To think he would say such heartless words and do such a brutal thing for his own benefit!

Matthew looked calm. "Don't worry, I won't do anything to you."

"But your daughter will marry Ed, and there won't be a betrothal gift, not even a single penny!"

"Cut the crap!" Brandon growled. "If I don't receive ten million, even if I die, I won't marry her to this trash!"

Matthew just smiled coldly and didn't say anything.

Brandon was dumbfounded and looked at the lawyer blankly. "Wh-Who are you trying to scare? For just a small sum of fifty thousand, you want to put me in jail for ten years? Don't think just because you're from a law firm that you can say whatever you like. I'm not afraid of you!"

The lawyer gave him a faint smile. "Mr. Atkinson, three years ago, there was a machine operator in your workshop who was involved in an accident. He was sucked into the machine and died on the spot. We have enough reasons to suspect that this accident was related to the substandard quality of these equipment."

"Coincidentally, this batch of equipment was purchased by you, and it was also the batch you received a kickback on. If you see it this way, Mr. Atkinson, you taking a kickback and causing the death of a worker would be a huge matter!"

Brandon's expression changed drastically. "That's slander!" he said anxiously.

"The accident happened because the worker started work when he was drunk and operated the equipment improperly. What does it have to do with the quality of the equipment?"

Still wearing a faint smile, the lawyer said, "Mr. Atkinson, the worker may be responsible, but there were also problems with the quality of the equipment. When the time comes, if you really go to court, both of you will probably be punished. Even if you are only taking secondary responsibility, it is also not a trivial matter."

Brandon felt his body go weak and slumped directly on the sofa.

That one sentence made Brandon speechless. He was a standard snob and was extremely patriarchal.

He didn't care about his daughter's happiness at all. He just wanted to use his daughter to exchange for better conditions for himself and his two sons.

In the past, Eddie's family had good conditions, so of course he was eager for his daughter to marry him.

But later, when the prospects of Eddie's family fell, he wasn't willing to let Eddie marry Wendy. He wanted to marry his daughter to that idiot in exchange for the opportunity to climb up the career ladder.

However, he never thought that Eddie's two friends would be so capable.

He looked piteously at Wendy, but she turned her head to the side and didn't want to meet his eyes.

When Brandon had asked her to die before, she was already in despair for having such a father.

Now, she just wanted to leave this cold family and so-called home.

As for Laura, she was in a panic herself and couldn't be bothered about other things.

Brandon became completely docile and he asked pitifully, "Then... what do you want?"

"Your daughter and Eddie are truly in love with each other, and I hope that they can get married smoothly," Matthew calmly said.
