Chapter 691

Tiger immediately nodded. "You got it, Mr. Larson. We'll teach them a lesson."

"Alright, men. Break these b*stards' arms and legs. I want them to kneel on the side of the road for the rest of their lives begging for food!"

Everyone at the scene was dumbfounded. Were Tiger's lessons so severe?

The security captain and the rest of the security guards almost cried and knelt down on the ground in panic, begging for mercy. "Master Tiger, please forgive us!"

"Master Tiger, this has nothing to do with us. We were just deceived by Liam Hayes."

"Master Tiger, please just give us another chance! We were wrong!"

Smith and the rest of the gangsters who were there didn't say anything. No matter what Tiger wanted to do, they would absolutely support him.

At this time, everyone just wanted to distance themselves from them, lest Tiger came looking for them for trouble.

The security captain shivered and replied respectfully, "Yes, Master Tiger! I will definitely listen to President Cunningham and Mr. Larson's orders from now on."

Tiger nodded in satisfaction and looked at Matthew with a smile. "Mr. Larson, President Cunningham, I'll be heading back first. The construction site is undergoing exterior decoration recently, so I have to go take a look."

Matthew smiled and nodded while Sasha said gratefully, "Alright. Thank you, Master Tiger."

"Please, there's no need," Tiger replied quickly.

Sasha came back to her senses and laughed. "Oh, alright. Thank you, Tiger!"

Tiger smiled after hearing that. "Alright, President Cunningham. I'll leave you to your work."

Tiger led his people away. Meanwhile, Smith and the others bolted away in a panic.

Sasha didn't say a word and just looked at Matthew next to her.

Even though she was the president of the company, she would let Matthew call the shots most of the time when he was around.

This was her way of showing respect toward her husband as his wife, and her way of telling everyone else her stance.

She wanted everyone to know that even though Matthew was a live-in son-in-law, he was very important to her.

Moreover, Matthew was also the one who made decisions on family matters!

Matthew stared at the security captain, Pete Rivers, making him break into cold sweat.

Although Matthew kept a low profile most of the time, judging from the way Tiger treated him, he knew that this person was not to be taken lightly.

After a long while, Matthew spoke softly, "Pete Rivers, if we let you be in charge of the company's security, would you be able to handle it?"

Pete didn't dare to speak, so he just knelt on the ground and waited.

Only after Tiger had dealt with all his work did he glance at him. “Mr. Larson asked you to come here?”

“Mr. Matthew mentioned that I should come and learn from Master Tiger,” Pete quickly replied. “If I make any mistakes in the future, please instruct me!”

Tiger nodded. Since this was Matthew’s orders, he wouldn’t make things difficult for Pete.

“Alright, get up,” Tiger said. “Since we’ll be working together in the future, I will forget about petty grievances. If there is anything you can’t deal with in the future, just give me a call.”

Pete was overjoyed. With Tiger’s words, not only was his problem resolved, but he also gained Tiger’s support, which was the key thing.

Tiger said that if there was anything he couldn’t deal with, he could contact him. To put it simply, it meant that if he faced any problem outside in the future, he could use Tiger’s name to get things done.

In a word, this incident was a blessing in disguise for Pete.

Of course, he was even more thankful toward Matthew and Sasha now.

If it wasn’t for Sasha pleading on his behalf, he didn’t know what state he would have been in now. Tiger was not someone to mess with!

Liam shivered in fright. "Pete, wh-what's the matter?" he stammered. "What mistake did I make? Say something!"

Pete raised the brick and threw it at him.

Liam hurriedly avoided it and asked anxiously, "Pete, what are you doing?" We're pals, so just tell me what I have done to offend you and I promise I'll make it right. If you don't say anything, how can I make things right?"

Pete didn't say a word. He picked up another brick and grabbed Liam's collar.

Liam was so scared he let out a shriek. "Are you f*cking crazy? You think I'm afraid of you? You asked for it!" Liam roared and punched Pete in the face.

Pete took the hit but he didn't back off. Instead, he hit Liam on the head with the brick.

Liam was beaten till he saw stars. He staggered and took a few steps back.

Pete dashed toward him and kicked him in the stomach again. He then grabbed Liam by the neck and gave him a few slaps to the face.

Liam was stunned. He never thought that the security guards would run away.

Of course, he didn't know that those security guards were all Tiger's men.

Normally, those men wanted nothing more than to beat him up themselves. Now that they saw him being beaten up, who would want to help him?

Liam didn't manage to get anyone over, but he made Pete mad.

Pete gave him another beating. He only stopped when he had beaten Liam to a pulp and his face was swollen, and Liam had knelt down on the ground begging for mercy.

"You better behave yourself! If not, I'll beat you up every time I see you!"

After he said that, Pete drove off angrily.

Liam lay on the ground for a while before standing up with difficulty.

Enduring the pain, Liam walked into the construction site and looked for Tiger. "Master Tiger, what's with those security guards you hired? Don't they know how to do their jobs? I was getting beaten up at the entrance of the construction site just now, and they didn't even bother to help me! What kind of security guards are they?"

Tiger put both his legs on the table and said slowly, "Those security guards are my men. Are you trying to say that I'm not doing things right?"

The police chief frowned and glanced at Liam, displeased.

Liam panicked. "Officer, they are lying! I was beaten up right here at the entrance! They are in cahoots with the guy. They're lying!"

The police captain waved his hand. "Enough! After we check the footage, we'll know what happened. But I'm warning you guys; giving false testimony is against the law. You'll pay if you really did give a false testimony!"

The few security guards nodded at the same time. "Officer, we are telling the truth. We didn't give false testimony! From how I see it, he's deliberately trying to frame people!"

Liam was so angry he almost went crazy. "You guys are accusing me! Don't you have a conscience? Why won't you tell the truth?"

No one paid attention to him.

The security guards all worked for Tiger, and Tiger had already given them orders on what to say.

Liam gritted his teeth. "Fine, you guys sure are ballsy! But let me tell you guys that there's no use lying. We have CCTV cameras all over this place. That there is solid evidence! When we get the evidence, I'll make sure you guys face the consequences of lying!"

The head of the security guards replied slowly, "Mr. Hayes, we are telling the truth. You, on the other hand, lied to the officer. This is not a small crime!"

Liam let out a long sigh and told them how he had been beaten up.

The three of them flew into a rage after hearing the story.

"Damn it, this is absurd! These b*stards, how dare they? You are the managing director of the company and I was the one who sent you there, yet they dared to treat you like that! This is like a slap to my face!" James roared.

Demi looked at Liam in distress. "Hubby, how do you feel? Does it hurt? Don't worry, I will definitely get revenge for you! This time, I'll personally deal with Matthew!"

Helen's expression darkened too. "Matthew has gone too far! We're family after all, so is it necessary to be this ruthless? Look how badly Liam was beaten up!"

Liam said pitifully, "Dad, Mom, I have been working so hard at the construction site all for our family. This is Matthew taking his revenge. He wants to chase me out of the construction company so that he can monopolize it. You guys have to help me!"

James slammed the table with his hand. "Don't worry. This time, I'll make him suffer! Just you wait! I'll ask him to come home right now!"

James gave a call to Matthew angrily, but Matthew didn't answer the call.

He then called Sasha, but she didn't answer either.

The situation made everyone in the room dumbfounded as they didn't expect her to actually call the police.

Moreover, they had arrived so quickly!

"Officer, this is a family matter!" Demi said anxiously. "My father is the boss of Cunningham Pharmaceuticals, which belongs to our family! That secretary is just one of our employees. Is this really necessary?"

The police chief glanced at her. "So what if she's your employee? Does that make her less than human? So just because she is an employee, it's okay for you to insult her all you want? We are all equal. What right do you have to insult her? If you guys can insult your employees whenever you like just because you're their boss, what do we need the law for?"

Demi was rendered speechless.

The police chief was not happy with this family and waved his hand directly. "Take him away! And cuff him!"

James was handcuffed and taken away in a police car.

The others in the house panicked.

Helen sat on the ground with a thud and started wailing. "Oh, what should we do now? What was this for? James only said a few words! Was it necessary to take him away? What on earth is happening? What are we going to do now?"

Chapter 700

In one of the best private rooms on the second floor of Shanghai Nights restaurant, Matthew and Sasha were sitting having their meal. Sasha's eyes were red and swollen. It was obvious she had just finished crying, but the look in her eyes was firm.

Matthew and her were the ones who arranged for James to be arrested. This time, she wanted to teach James a lesson. She wanted him to know that there was a limit to causing trouble! As for Matthew, he didn't speak up for James this time either. After all, James had crossed his bottom line with what happened.

Usually, the Cunningham family could treat him however they liked at home, but they absolutely couldn't upset Sasha. That was his bottom line and also his principle! Of course, this matter wasn't over yet. Matthew had decided to fight Sam White, as well as the White Family, to the end.

That night, Sasha didn't go home and stayed over at the company. Although she felt bad, she needed to teach James a lesson this time round.

Meanwhile, Matthew went back to Lakeside Garden, where the servant had already prepared the various herbs. Matthew had the servant go rest while he took everything out and started refining the herbs.
