Medical Genius's Unspeakable Marriage

Chapter 91

James, Helen, Liam, and Demi had all returned home. Only Sasha wasn't there because she was busy dealing with company affairs.

Helen's eyes were swollen and red from all the crying. "How is it possible that Mr. Jones is a con man? 300 million disappeared just like that! Why didn't you do a proper background investigation?"

James's face darkened. "Liam, it was you who introduced him to us. Tell me, how are you planning to solve this?"

Feeling embarrassed, Liam replied, "James, I was just thinking about benefiting the family. I didn't know that he was a con man either!"

Helen furiously yelled, "Since you don't know about his background, why did you introduce him to us?"

"Mom, don't be mad at him. He didn't want this to happen either!" Demi jumped to his defense. "In my opinion, it's Matthew's fault that this happened!"

Surprised, Helen asked, "What does this have to do with Matthew?"

James and Helen were both dumbfounded. "Matthew?"

Liam nodded and smiled as he said, "Yes. Cunningham Pharmaceuticals pretty much belongs to our family now so the only people who can transfer company funds are members of our family. Which is why the only person who can take responsibility for this disaster is Matthew."

Helen frowned because she could understand what Liam was implying.

"Liam, are you saying that we should put the blame on Matthew and let him bear all the punishment?" Helen asked grimly.

Liam nodded with a grin while Demi burst into laughter. "What a great idea!"

Helen immediately shook her head. "That won't do!"

Hearing this, Demi couldn't help but feel startled. "Why not?"

Helen glared at her and said, "Demi, that is a very wicked thing to do! We've lost 300 million. Do you know how many years he will be sentenced? Matthew didn't do anything. How could we let him take the blame? My conscience won't allow me to do so!"

Facing this group of men, Matthew didn't have the slightest fear. Instead, he fought back quickly and soon defeated the whole group. The man who led the group was trampled on by Matthew.

Stepping on his neck, Matthew coldly said, "Go back and tell your boss to not provoke me ever again! Otherwise, you might not be able to return on two feet the next time!"

The man was so frightened, he was shivering in fear.

He thought that it would be a piece of cake for it was a dozen of them against Matthew alone. He didn't expect Matthew to be so skilled at fighting!

Seeing that Matthew was about to leave, the man hurriedly said, "Wait, if you leave, my boss will capture Sasha..."

Matthew instantly turned around and coldly said, "Take me to see your boss!"

With that, he followed the group of men and got into their car. Soon, the car drove to an abandoned factory in the suburbs. After they entered the factory, they saw a few men standing at the side.

The man standing in front of the group was Niko Rees. He glanced at Matthew and disdainfully said, "Are you the live-in son-in-law of the Cunningham family?"

Matthew frowned and asked, "Who are you? Do we know each other?"

Niko smiled triumphantly and said, "No, we don't, and I'm not interested in being friends with a loser like you either! Come, I have something for you to sign. You can leave once you finish signing the documents."

"What documents?"

Niko didn't reply to him. Instead, he grinned and waved his hand. Soon, a man standing at the side came over with a pile of paperwork and handed them to Matthew.

Chapter 94

After Young Master Wayne's condition stabilized, he was transferred to the city hospital with the best medical facilities.

That afternoon, Mrs. Wayne brought a group of people to visit him and even invited Dr. York to look after Young Master Wayne.

A group of people guarded the entrance while Mrs. Wayne brought Rory to look over her son in the hospital ward.

At that moment, Rory looked delighted. "I asked the doctor and they told me that your son's medical condition is stable so nothing will happen to him. Mr. Larson was just trying to scare us. We're already in the hospital so what accident could happen? Besides, with so many people looking after your son, I don't believe that he'll be in danger!"

Mrs. Wayne nodded in satisfaction. "Good. I'll leave everything here to you. I'm going next door to get some rest. Remember, you're not allowed to make any mistakes! I can't believe that Mr. Larson dared to curse my son and said that his life would be in danger within the next 24 hours. Once 24 hours have passed and nothing happens to my son, I'll make sure he pays for this nonsense!"

Rory sneered, "You don't have to care about liars like Matthew. Once my nephew recovers, I'll ask my men to set him up and ruin him!"

Mrs. Wayne nodded and said, "You can punish him however you like but you have to be careful that my husband doesn't find out! He is fooled by Mr. Larson and trusts him a lot. If he finds out that you hurt him, it will be troublesome!"

"Don't worry. With me on the job, you can be rest assured. As long as he can't contact Timothy, he's doomed!"

Hearing this, Mrs. Wayne sneered, "I've already blocked Mr. Larson's number on my husband's phone. He won't be able to contact him at all."

"You sure thought of everything. Hahaha! This time, I'll make sure Mr. Larson disappears without building shook. Before they came back to their senses, the chandelier in the ward fell them were completely stunned and didn't know what

Mrs. Wayne lost her balance for a moment. If Dr. York can't save my son, no one else in Eastcliff can save my son. Do I really have to beg Mr. Larson? After the way I treated him this afternoon, would he still be willing to save my son?

Mrs. Wayne utterly regretted her actions. She thought her son was on the road of recovery so she couldn't wait to take revenge on Matthew. If she had known that this would happen, she wouldn't have dared to offend Matthew no matter what.

All of a sudden, Dr. York said, "Mrs. Wayne, I advise that you look for Mr. Larson as soon as possible. If you keep wasting time, I'm afraid that your son will lose his life!"

Hearing this, Mrs. Wayne's body shivered in fear. What am I supposed to say to Matthew?

Just then, Rory leaned close and said in a low voice, "There's no need to worry. My friend introduced a skilled doctor to me and I've already contacted him. He's on his way right now!"

Relieved, Mrs. Wayne hurriedly asked, "What skilled doctor? How are his medical skills?"

Rory answered smugly, "His medical skills are much better than Dr. York's! His name is Dr. Ellis and he's one of the top doctors in Eastshire. Even Dr. York has to be respectful toward him! Compared to him, a young man like Mr. Larson is nothing!"

A flicker of hope appeared in Mrs. Wayne's eyes because she had heard of Dr. Ellis before.

"I..." Mr. Wayne was suddenly at a loss for words. In fact, he actually felt that Matthew had better skills but he couldn't say that in front of Dr. Ellis.

With a triumphant look on her face, Mrs. Wayne said, “Darling, I personally asked Dr. Ellis to come over. You don’t have to worry because Dr. Ellis is definitely more skillful than Mr. Larson! Our son will be fine!”

With that, Dr. Ellis entered the emergency room and everybody else waited outside anxiously. After trying to rescue Young Master Wayne for two hours, Dr. Ellis came out looking exhausted.

“Dr. Ellis, how is my son?” Mrs. Wayne asked worriedly.

Dr. Ellis let out a sigh and said, “Your son is so heavily injured that even the Gods won’t be able to save him!”

“What?!” Mrs. Wayne directly fell to the ground. He was her only hope. If even Dr. Ellis couldn’t save her son, she didn’t know what else she could do.

As for Timothy, he was completely pale. Just then, Dr. York walked over and softly said, “Mr. Wayne, why don’t you give Mr. Larson a call? He might have a way to save your son!”

A flicker of hope appeared in Timothy’s eyes. He’s right. There’s a chance that Matthew may know how to save my son!

“Why should he call Mr. Larson?!” Mrs. Wayne roared in anger. “Even Dr. Ellis can’t save my son. How could he possibly have the skills to save him? Do you all think that he has better medical skills than Dr. Ellis?”

Mr. Wayne tried his best to suppress his anger before he called Matthew. Then, he repeatedly apologized and begged Matthew to save his son. Matthew didn't hate Timothy so he directly rushed to the hospital. As soon as Timothy saw Matthew, he rushed over and bowed at him.

"Mr. Larson, I sincerely apologize for everything that my wife has done to you. I didn't know that you were looking for me and had no idea that she had the audacity to treat you rudely. It's my fault. Mr. Larson, please forgive me!"

As Timothy spoke, he glared at his wife. Mrs. Wayne trembled in fear and ran up to Matthew before kneeling down. "Mr. Larson, I'm sorry. Please forgive me and save... Save my son..."

Meanwhile, a man dragged Rory, who was covered in blood and on his last breath, toward them. After Timothy finished calling Matthew, he had asked his subordinates to drag Rory out for a beating as a way of apologizing to Matthew.

Matthew glanced at them and calmly said, "Mr. Wayne, there is no need to be so troublesome. This time, I'm going to charge you medical fees!"

Hearing this, Timothy immediately let out a sigh of relief. He was not worried about money at all. All along, he was just afraid that Matthew wouldn't be willing to save his son. "Mr. Larson, just name your price. I will not reject you!"

Matthew grinned and said, "Mr. Wayne, I'm afraid you'll find it hard to accept the price that I'm about to propose."

Timothy was bewildered. I have a fortune worth nearly 10 billion so what price would I find hard to accept?

Timothy immediately let out a sigh of relief but Mrs. Wayne was infuriated. "You're asking 300 million for five minutes of your time?"

Matthew Larson, can you even accept this amount of money on your conscience?! Darling, there's no need to pay him so much. In my opinion, paying him 100,000 is more than enough!"

"Zip your mouth!" Timothy scolded angrily. "Since Mr. Larson already saved our son, we have to pay the price that we promised! I never once went back on my word in my life!"

Matthew smiled and said, "Don't worry, I never go back on my word either. Timothy, saving your son was easy, but saving you will be difficult!"

"Me?" Timothy was surprised. "Mr. Larson, I'm not ill at all. What's there to save?"

"You're not ill?" Matthew scoffed. "Pull up your shirt."

Doubtful, Timothy pulled up his shirt and revealed his stomach. All of a sudden, Matthew poked him at seven different acupuncture points. In an instant, Timothy's face turned red and he was gasping for air.

Shocked, Mrs. Wayne asked, "What's the difference?"

Dr. Ellis replied, "Of course it's different! As the saying goes, there is some poison in medicine. Eating so much medicine would definitely poison the body.

If facial sores grew on arms or legs, it wouldn't matter much. However, Mr. Wayne's facial sore is growing on his stomach, where all our internal organs are. I'm afraid before Mr. Wayne's facial sore is cured, his internal organs will rot first."

Hearing this, Mrs. Wayne was at a loss. "Then... How do we cure it?"

Dr. Ellis turned to Matthew and asked, "Mr. Larson, do you have any ideas?"

Matthew glanced at Mrs. Wayne and asked, "How much are you willing to pay to save your husband?"

"I'd pay anything!"

Mrs. Wayne blurted out without hesitation.

“No.” Matthew shook his head and replied, “This is just the start. I want to force this facial sore back into the internal organs.”

Dr. Ellis felt surprised. “Why does it need to be forced back there?”

Matthew glanced at Timothy and said, “He already has signs of liver cirrhosis, and he has severe kidney deficiency, persistent gastritis and had gastric perforation.

His heart is not in good condition and I estimate that he’ll need a stent in two years. If I can force the facial sore to release its essence in his organs, he will be cured of all his diseases!”

Dr. Ellis turned to look at Dr. York for confirmation. After all, Dr. York was Timothy’s personal doctor so Dr. York knew his medical conditions best.

Dr. York exclaimed in astonishment. “Mr. Larson, you’re absolutely right!”

Dr. Ellis couldn’t help but feel amazed. Even his master couldn’t tell a person’s medical condition just at a glance. After another ten minutes, the facial sore seemed to finally be unable to bear the pain and slowly shrunk backward.
