

GHOST DOCTOR 351

Chapter 351 Travelling by air!

"Damn me! Wha...what is this?!"

His eyes were wide open with a face filled with disbelief, he looked at the little ship turning bigger and bigger until it reached the size that could accommodate two people did it stop. He took a step forward and looked at the ship before him while he touched it and marvelled at it.

"What kind of ship is this? What kind of material is it made of? How have I not seen such a material before? This is so refined, it looks like there's a room even? It can't be? Is it just part of the decoration?"

Watching him whizz about the craft in amazement as he seemingly touched every part of it in marvel and curiosity as he tried to study it. Feng Jiu could not help but let out a laugh as she shook her head and boarded it.

"What are you doing? Come on up quickly."

"Mistress...is this..this a airship? Is this really a airship?"

He was looking at her with sparkling eyes as he looked at her with awe. "Mistress has a airship! Whoa! That's too incredible!"

The moment he spoke, he jumped in and looked left and right in excitement, it was like a child who had discovered a treasure.

Feng Jiu retrieved a spirit stone from her space and placed it in a small recess in the the bow and the entire airship slowly floated up. For this airship, other than using a spirit stone, spirit energy could also be used. After recognizing the ownership, with a thought, it could be controlled and flying was a breeze.

The moment the airship flew up, Luo Yu was stunned and he was so surprised that he quickly sat down. His curiosity took over and he peeked out and he excitedly exclaimed: "Ha ha ha! I never expected that there would be a day that I, Luo Yu, would have a chance to sit in a airship!"

Hearing his words, Feng Jiu pursed her lips and quietly closed her eyes as she sat down to start cultivating.

As for Luo Yu, he was enthusiastically looking down at the scenery, until it flew higher and higher, the excitement on his face gradually disappeared. It turned whiter and whiter as he looked down and felt dizzy, as if he was going to plunge down any moment.

He looked at Feng Jiu and quickly followed her and sat in the lotus position to meditate and after retrieving some water out of his cosmos sack, he took several big sips. Feeling much more composed and better after this, his curiosity took over once again as he looked around with novelty. He then realized that there was a protective cover.

Under the protective cover, the wind did not blow in. It was breezy and calm inside, he could only hear the whistling sound of the wind from outside. Because of the high altitude, the white clouds seemed to be at his fingertips and the town below looked like small specks of dots, but the scenery below was so beautiful and charming....

Under the flight of the airship, the initial three days of travelling time taken by a carriage was reduced drastically to merely a day. Before the break of dawn, they had already reached the boundary of the Nine Entrapment Woods.

Feng Jiu maneuvered the airship and brought it to a remote place without anyone around and flipped her palm to keep the airship. Seeing that day had not yet broken, she said to Luo Yu: "Let's wait till daybreak before we head in. Let's find something to eat first!"

"Mistress, why don't we go over there? Beneath that tree would be cooler." Luo Yu pointed out to a location not far from where they were and walked by her side and took out some dry provisions from his cosmos sack.

"Mistress, I have some pastries here."

He picked out the broken bits for himself and served her the pastries. He looked at her in astonishment and asked: "Mistress, I see that this airship seems to have a room, is it just for show or can it be used? Can this airship be even bigger?"

What he had wanted to ask was actually, Mistress, how do you have a airship? What relationship do you have with Ghost Doctor? Even the Ruler doesn't own one but his Mistress does. Moreover, it wasn't just any airship, it was such a luxurious one that it could not help but draw his curiosity. How much more secrets does she hold?

Chapter 352 Sudden Disappearance

Feng Jiu looked at him in the eye and said, "This airship can be bigger or smaller, the things on the ship naturally would be able to become bigger and non are redundant." She paused for a moment and in a firm tone, she continued: "About the matter on the airship, after leaving this place, forget all about it. Lest it brings trouble."

"Yes, your subordinate knows." He replied in a determined tone. If the Ruler was to find out that she had an airship, he would definitely find all means and ways to get it. Afterall, such an artifact wasn't easily attainable.

She no longer continued on this subject and neither did he. Both of them sat there quietly and ate until the sunlight pierced through the clouds and illuminated the lands.

Luo Yu stood up and scanned his surroundings and asked hesitantly: "Mistress, Nine Entrapment Woods is known for its dangers, however it shouldn't be free of people. We've been here for quite some time, how is it that not a single person has passed by?"

"It's not like I'm a regular here, how would I know?" She rolled her eyes as she stood up and started to make her way in. Suddenly, she heard a noise from above and looked up into the sky.

She saw a few cultivators who were riding on flying swords and flew directly into the Nine Entrapment Woods. The speed was so fast that they only heard a gust of wind passing over the top of their heads, and then the surroundings once again returned to a calm.

"Immortal Cultivators! I don't know which country they're from." Luo Yu said with a hint of envy: "How nice it would be if we could also ride on our swords." Thinking of the feeling of flying on the sword, just the thought of it made him feel invigorated.

When she heard him, she let out a smile and said: "Once you reach the level of the Martial Ancestor, won't you be able to ride on a sword as well? Well, hurry and cultivate more diligently then you'll be able to soar the skies and fly on your sword like them as well."

"Even if I reach the ranks of a Martial Ancestor, I still need to have the incantation for a flying sword ah! Besides, I am now only in the mid rank of the Martial Lord stage, and it is estimated that it will take several more years to advance to the peak."

In fact, their cultivation speed was already considered very fast. After all, even those family clan heads were only the ranks of martial ancestors. To have such strength among the younger generation itself was already outstanding on its own.

Feng Jiu glanced at him, and when she saw that he had on a contented expression, she smiled and didn't say anything else. She simply accelerated her pace and went forward.

Seeing this, Luo Yu picked up his speed and followed her in. Two figures whizzed straight into the depths of the Nine Entrapment Woods and did not waste time at the fringe...

In the evening, the two had already entered the inner depths but because the sky had started to darken, they stopped and rested under a tree.

"Mistress, please rest here. I will go hunt for dinner." Luo Yu said as he got up and walked away.

"Be careful, don't go too far."

Feng Jiu said as she looked at the direction where he left. She took out some herbs picked up along the way and sorted them out. Might as well make some medicines for self defense.

But by the time the sky had darkened considerably, only after she had refined a few medicines, did she notice that Luo Yu had not returned. At this time, she felt that things were not quite right. She kept away the bottles of medicines and stood up to take a look around.

At first, she didn't care too much, because this was just the beginning of the inner region. Even if there was any danger, with Luo Yu's skill, there shouldn't be any problem. However, what was going on now? He actually disappeared without any trace.

She closed her eyes and released her spirit intent. Sure enough, the places where she swept by could not sense Luo Yu's breath. She opened her eyes and narrowed them slightly while her brows were furrowed.

What happened?

Her heart was puzzled and she whispered softly to herself: "Fortunately, I have left my 'heart's eye'." She immediately went in the direction where Luo Yu departed.

Chapter 353 A strange voice!

As the sky darkened, she walked alone in the forest. She was surrounded by the sound of insects, the whistling of the wind and the the rustling of the leaves as they swayed from side to side. The moon was still hidden behind the clouds, but in the middle of the dark forest, there were many sparkling white specks on the ground.

That was the scale powder that she had sprinkled onto Luo Yu. It wasn't visible during the day but it would be especially conspicuous at night. Although she didn't know where he went or what had happened, but as long as she followed this trail, she should be able to find him.

She only hoped that when she found him, as long as he was alive, all is good.

"Hmm?"

After walking for quite some time, she was slightly startled when she felt the cold night breeze blow by - all her hair stood on ends. She paused for a moment before she picked up a broken branch and lit it up. Using the flames to illuminate the path before her, she could see her surroundings better.

According to her experience, she had been to the Nine Entrapment Woods before and there shouldn't be any strange happenings or anything dangerous. However, after following the trail of the scale powder, she realized that she was being led in deeper and deeper in.

Moreover, looking at the scale powder on the ground, it didn't look like Luo Yu had engaged in any combat as the distribution was very consistent. It was very natural and no traces of any fighting or struggles.

"Come...come...."

All of a sudden, there was a soft yet distant voice that echoed into her ears. It was like a mother's gentle voice and it made her relax her vigilance. It seemed to have a hypnotic power imbued in it as it destroyed her will and her eyes gradually blurred and the pace of her footsteps slowed down as she walked forward step by step monotonously.

"Come...come..."

It was as if an aura had gently enveloped her in a cocoon. In a daze, it seemed as if there was a pair of hands beckoning her, as a gentle voice called out to her and led her...

Everything around her seemed to have blurred and her mind became blank as her entire person just stared at the front in stupor as her body moved on its own towards the voice that kept echoing in her ear...

Suddenly, she felt a sharp pain on her arm. Her heart was shocked and she suddenly stopped in her tracks as she felt her consciousness return to her. She saw that her arm had been cut by the branches at the side. With the light from the flickering flames, she could see that fresh blood was flowing from that cut and it was precisely this stinging pain that had brought her back to her senses.

When she realized what had happened, her heart sank and her expression turned grave.

That was too strange, it could actually confuse her senses and made her lose perception? It just...what was that? A person? Or a ....ghost?

She was on high alert as she scanned her surroundings. Nothing looked out of the ordinary, however, there was that voice that she couldn't identify where it came from.

"Come...come..."

This time, she actually saw a wisp of green flames jumping in front as it came before her. That voice...it seemed to be emitted from the green flame that was flickering right before her.

For a moment, her thoughts were racing in her mind. The last time she was here there wasn't a semblance of any ghostly encounters, why would such a thing happen this time round? It even had the ability to confuse a person's heart, well, since things have already progressed to this stage, why don't she just see what this ghostly green wisp would lead her to?

It was also at this moment that she was very certain that Luo Yu's disappearance was definitely related to this wisp and strange voice.

She would like to see, who's the person who's playing such a trick in the Nine Entrapment Woods, pretending to be a ghost and all!

Chapter 354 Fire Phoenix Awakens!

Making her decision in a flash, she continued to have a 'dazed expression' as she followed the voice. What made her most shocked was that the entire time that she had been following this voice, she had not encountered a single beast and the surroundings was unusually quiet.

She fell into deep contemplation. What could be so dangerous that could make all the ferocious beasts in this Nine Entrapment Woods avoid? What kind of massive ability did one need to achieve this?

She thought back to the beginning of the day, when they had just entered these woods, she had seen a few Immortal Cultivators who were flying on swords and entered the Nine Entrapment Woods. Although it was only a glance, but she could also see the cultivation level of the few of them and she could tell that they were strong cultivators that had already entered the ranks of the Golden Core.

Golden Core experts, if it was a ninth ranked small country, just the existence of one Golden Core Expert could flatten the entire country with just a casual stomp of his feet! One has to know that those ancestors in the big family clans in the Green Gallop Country were the only few who possessed such strength.

That was why she had guessed in her heart that those Golden Core experts who had entered the Nine Entrapment Woods earlier were from at least a sixth ranked country.

It's just ....why would people from such powers come to such a small country like theirs?

Pressing down the doubts in her heart, she continued to follow that voice for another three hours. Just as she saw the green wisp rush forward on the path ahead, an angry voice resounded.

She was just about to take another step forward when the angry voice of the little Fire Phoenix which was mixed with a tinge of worry and concern echoed in her mind.

"Foolish woman! You can't go any further, it's too dangerous!"

"Little Fire? You're awake?" She was stunned and stopped momentarily as she conversed with him in her mind.

"Of course, or else how am I talking with you?"

The little Fire Phoenix who was in her space said in an arrogant tone as it's tender and haughty voice once again sounded out in a stern warning: "You can't go any further, it isn't something that you can cope with your current strength."

When she heard this, she paused and narrowed her eyes as she said: "Luo Yu should be just up ahead, I cannot just leave him be. I was the one who brought him out so I have to bear this responsibility."

When the little Fire Phoenix in her space heard her words, he hopped in anger as he berated her: "Foolish woman! Did you not hear what I just said? It's very dangerous! To have me say that something is dangerous only means that it is dangerous! Since you know that there is danger ahead, why do you still jump in, have you gone totally stupid?"

From his perspective, Luo Yu was only a subordinate and his life and death was negligible. So what if he died? He wasn't even worth anything in his eyes, however, it was different for this woman. She had a contract with him and was his Mistress. They were intricately linked and if she lost her life here, he would not survive either.

Moreover, in his view, a master dying for the subordinate was definitely something only a fool would do. It was simply not worthwhile and that was something that even a fool might not do!

However, looking at this foolish woman, she did not seem to place his words in her heart. Was she really planning to rush to her death?

Thinking of this, there was a burst of fire in his heart. Why did she make him so worried the moment he awoken? Although he was an Ancient Sacred Beast, he was only an infant that had yet to mature! Such matters would not usually need him to be worried about.

He just couldn't help it.

Feng Jiu listened to his anxious words and she slowly narrowed her eyes, in faint voice, she said to him: "Little Fire, if it was you who was in this situation instead, I would also spare no effort to save you. Even if I know that it's dangerous, I can't just watch at the side without doing anything."

When he heard her words, the little Fire Phoenix was shocked. She was stunned for a while and sat in her space in a daze. The original anger and anxiety in his heart seemed to have disapitated with her words and on it's delicate face, there was a strange expression.

His face was scrunched up as he pouted and said in a soft tone: "Then... you better be careful."

Chapter 355 Strange Blood Array

When she heard his words, her lips hooked up slightly and revealed a smile: "Mmn, I will." Because she knew that the opponent was very strong, she would be extra vigilant.

"I've just woken up but my powers have not fully awoken, so I might not be able to help you." He sounded a little awkward when he spoke this time round.

"Mmn, got it, it doesn't matter, if I'm not able to defeat my opponent, I'll just grab Luo Yu and run."

She only intended to save the person and escape. She had no intention to fight at all. Therefore, after making her decision, she continued to follow the voice.

When the green wisp suddenly jumped right in front of her and lit ablaze, she was startled and felt that things may be more difficult than she had thought.

In the large open space in front of her, there was a boundary barrier. She did not know where all the blood came from as she saw fresh blood swirling about like a protective enchantment.

There was so much blood but for her who was standing outside, she could not smell a tinge of blood at all. She could only see that within the boundary barrier, there were dozens of these green wisps that were jumping about. Painful wails emanated out from these green wisps and it was an extremely strange sight and seeing such a scene in the midst of the night made anyone who saw this very uncomfortable.

In the darkness of the night, there were only these green wisps which illuminated the surroundings. She could clearly see the figures in the centre.

Sitting in the middle of the large open space was an old man with dishevelled hair, his thin and wrinkled face looked like a withered bark and there was a series of flowing blood lines that appeared on that skinny face of his, looking extremely creepy.

He wore a large black robe that bellowed in the wind. Around him, there were skulls that were covered in fresh blood placed in a circle. Above him, a dark aura of death was visible and it was strong enough to give her a strong sense of crisis.

It was as if there was a voice telling her that she could not go forward, she should not take a step further, otherwise, she would definitely die here!

And the few Immortal Cultivators whose faces were looked mortified and indignant were the very same four people she saw when they entered the woods this morning. However, at this time, they had all fallen on the ground and their aura seemed to be draining and flowing out. Their faces were pale, and the words spoken were also weak and it looked like they could not move at all. Just beside them, there were also other people.

They seem to have lost consciousness and were sitting on their knees with a dull gaze, looking at the front like a puppet. Above each of them, there was a green wisp hovering around them.

Luo Yu was amongst them.

"Come...come..."

A woman with long hair dressed in a blood red robe appeared quietly in front of her and the pale face that suddenly popped up in her face did not have a trace of blood but her lips were glaringly red. A pair of slanted eyes that were filled with a chilly yin aura stared right at her. That made anyone who looked at her have their hair stand on ends.

Just at that moment, she almost reacted, but she fervently suppressed the urge to bolt. She endured the horror and shock that came from the bottom of her heart. She looked dazedly at the woman's beckoning hand as she walked closer towards that bloody boundary barrier....step by step...

Chapter 356 Dazed

"Come...come..."

That blood red robed woman was walking backwards, as her pale hands were beckoning Feng Jiu towards her, her slanted eyes fixated on her as if trying to pry deep into her soul.

Perhaps it was the self confidence in her own ability that she had no doubts and would never expect that the girl who was following her like a puppet was actually out of her control. After all, in her eyes, a person dressed like one from the slums was insignificant in her eyes.

In her perspective, this girl was just like the others, they were all here to sacrifice themselves for her, there could be no exception.

Feng Jiu continued walking on in a daze, as if she had lost her soul but she was actually secretly scanning the surroundings. She found that the strange withered old man was not the least bit concerned about her arrival and did not cast any attention on her at all.

He did not even bother to take a look at her and it was obvious that he did not put her in his eyes at all. In this regard, she felt a little more at ease in her heart. That old man should be an expert at the peak of the Golden Core and if he had paid attention to her, she wasn't that confident that she could tide over the situation at hand.

After entering this boundary barrier, a burst of rancid blood stench assaulted her nostrils and she had almost vomited out of reflex. A feeling of nausea swept over her and she discovered that the pungent smell was actually emanated from the ground and it was extremely unpleasant. To have such a degree of stench, it led her to wonder...how many bodies were buried under?

That blood red robed woman led her to one place and after affirming that Feng Jiu had stood still in the position, she floated away like a feather. She followed the rest and sat down like everyone else without any expression on her face. She took a quick glance around and saw the blood red robed woman's two feet had not touched the ground and she was really floating off the ground.

Well, if she wasn't a ghost, how would you explain her appearing out of nowhere?

After making some calculations in her heart, she knew that she could not win against that old man who was at the peak of the Golden Core stage. However, if it was just to escape with Luo Yu, it shouldn't pose too much of a problem. Another variable that she had noticed was that other than those four Golden Core experts, the others seem to have totally lost their own sense of self.

And that withered old man and that female ghost seem to be waiting for something and did not start to do anything with those people.

Although they hadn't started anything, it didn't mean that they had no intention to. Every single cell in her body was screaming out danger.

Just as she was thinking of means and ways to bring Luo Yu away, she heard the raging laughter from the four Golden Core experts.

"Hah, we've known each other for so many years, never in my life would I have expected that you would even scheme against us! We were really blind!"

"You've embarked on the evil path, even if you pass this tribulation, you would never succeed for long!"

"Hahahahaha, my few dear friends, sacrificing your own life to extend mine can be considered your greatest blessing. After all, the few of you do not have much more years left in your life, using those remaining years to add on to mine, isn't that much better?"

That withered old man was laughing in a devious manner, his voice was filled with coldness.

Oh, so they were actually tricked into coming here and was betrayed?

Feng Jiu just casually looked at the few of them with one of condolence and she didn't bother about them any further. She had a strong premonition that as it got deeper into the night, the blood in the enchantment became more and more intense and the atmosphere became more oppressive. She knew that she could not wait any longer.

Hence, as soon as she gritted her teeth, she stood up immediately and swooshed to the front of the dazed Luo Yu and pulled him up with one hand, while the other hand swiftly covered his nose and mouth.

This sudden scene made the four Golden Core experts gape and look in stupefaction....

Chapter 357 Little Friend, Help!

"Who...Who is that?"

The four Golden Core expert looked on in a daze when they saw a thin figure suddenly stood up and swept forward. The next thing he did was to pull up a dirty youth who was seated only five to six meters away from where they were. With one hand covering his nose and mouth, he pulled him up and rushed towards the boundary barrier. When they saw this, their eyes almost dropped out.

They, who had the cultivation level of the Golden Core stage, had been suppressed the moment they entered this array. They were drained of their energy and couldn't even stand up, yet what was up with that scrawny figure? Other than the array and boundary barrier, there was still the existence of that red clothed lady ghost with her scary ability to control one's heart, if one wasn't a Golden Core cultivator, one wouldn't be able to withstand it.

Bu.. but... everything that just unfolded before them went against everything they knew. Their minds went blank and just looked on in stupor.

Once the stench had been cut off, Luo Yu snapped back to reality and when he saw the horrifying environment he couldn't help but scream out in terror: "Waaaah! Wha...what kind of hellish place is this? Ah! What kind of...ghost !! Ahhhh!!!"

"A ghost that eats humans! What are you waiting for? Quick, escape!"

Feng Jiu said it bluntly and held onto his collar and pulled him towards the edge of the boundary barrier.

It was at this moment that the withered old man had finally regained his senses and saw that those two were close to escaping from the boundary barrier. With a wave of his hands, blood started to rise from the ground and flow along the lines of the array.

It was at this moment when Feng Jiu who held on firmly to Luo Yu's collar had rushed forward but before they could reach the blood curtain, they were sent flying back.

"Ah!"

""Bam!"

A loud bang resounded out and the two who were bounced back landed on their bums and before they could stand up, a pair of skeleton hands popped out from beneath the ground and grabbed each of their legs and pulled them towards the ground.

"Let go of me!"

Luo Yu shouted out in frustration as he kicked at the bones but who knew that it had an iron grip and no matter how hard he kicked, there was no signs of damage. Instead, the strength increased and pulled him towards the ground and tried to drag him under. Both of his feet were pulled in deep and as he started to get a little scared, he cast a hopeful glance at his Mistress but instead, he was stunned by her course of actions.

He only saw her stare at that pair of skeleton hands that was gripping tightly onto her legs in disgust and used her bare hands to crush those bones to smithereens. She stood up after kicking away the debris and in and she spat out in irritation: "Tch! These damn ghost things are so damn dirty!"

Luo Yu stared at her dumbfoundedly; at times she was so wickedly alluring, at times she was so elegant and refined, yet at times she was so pure. His Mistress had so many sides to her and sometimes she was like a willy fox, now she even cursed and swore!

He finally regained his senses and saw that his hands were also caught, in a fluster, he quickly screamed out: "Master, help!"

Feng Jiu turned her head around to look and saw that he was still seated on the ground and his hand was caught by the skeleton hands. She immediately flicked her fingers and he only heard a few bangs and the bones blasted into several pieces and scattered all over the ground.

"Go!"

She grabbed his collar with one hand and pulled him up and without ado, her gaze rested on the barrier before her as she intended to break through it.

And when those four Golden Core cultivators saw that she had flicked her fingers a few times and the bones had shattered, they regained a ray of hope as a glint flashed in their eyes. When they saw that she had intended to drag that scraggly youth and leave, they quickly shouted out: "Little Friend, help!"

Hearing the cry of help from behind, Feng Jiu pursed her lips and without even turning to look back, she said: "Four Golden Core experts are asking me for help? Please stop with the jokes!"

Chapter 358 Blue Edge

For her to escape with Luo Yu would already be a considerable feat, yet, what did they say? They wanted her to save them as well? If they did that, the two of them may even die here? Risking their own lives to save the lives of a few Golden Core cultivators who have absolutely no relationship with them? Sorry, she's not so kind.

"Since you've come, stay then!"

That withered old man laughed sinisterly and as soon as he spoke, the blood red robed female ghost who was behind him let started murmuring in a low voice.

"Come...come...stay here...stay here..."

That blood red robe floated up in mid air and with a swoosh, it swept towards Feng Jiu and Luo Yu. The voice was very faint, yet it was very magnetic and strange, doused with coldness.

Feng Jiu noticed that Luo Yu who had pulled up by her started to be distracted by that voice . At his moment, she smacked the back of his head and yelled: "What are you spacing out for? If you want to continue to be in a daze, then you can just stay here and accompany her!"

"Hiss!"

After being awoken by the sudden pain, Luo Yu snapped to his senses and found that he had almost lost his self again, he was truly afraid and said: "Mistress, its because this ghost is too powerful, I had no choice but to listen to her voice!"

He didn't want to, but somehow once he heard the voice, he was completely entranced and his mind became very confused. He had lost all control over his own mind.

"Well, that's because that ghost has a little bit of cultivation, so its strength is equivalent to that of an Immortal Cultivator of the foundation stage. Of course that's not something that you can contend against with your current level."

She said it out without scruples as she tossed him a bottle, she said: "Use this medicine, bring it close to your nose and inhale deeply. After breathing it in, it would stimulate the brain and you won't be so easily controlled."

As soon as she finished her explanation, she let go of him and raised her hand. A chilling blue light flashed and Blue Edge appeared in her hands. Under her skillful manipulation of the sword, she ferociously swept it towards that blood red robed ghost.

Luo Yu quickly brought that bottle up to his nose and felt that the smell was unbearable. However, he had to admit that after sniffing in a little, he felt his entire person was invigorated. He quickly thought of an idea as he immediately ripped off a piece of cloth and poured the medicine over it. He then tied it under his nose and after he kept the bottle away, he brought out his long sword as he tried to hack open the barrier.

"Blue Edge Sword!"

The four Golden Core cultivators had immediately recognized the sword in her hands and were extremely shocked. They would never expect to see this long lost ancient sword in such a forsaken place. What's more, a youth that looked to be about fifteen to sixteen was wielding it.

"Ke ke ke ke ke....What an unexpected harvest....To let this old man here see the long lost ancient Blue Edge Sword here, the heavens are really helping me! Ha Ha Ha Ha Ha!"

That withered old man who was seated was bellowing with laughter, and there were waves that were imbued with aura that could be seen with the naked eye as the distortion in the air waves rippled outwards. He looked at the sky as his gaze deepened as it glistened with delight as excitement began to build up.

As soon as midnight struck, it would be the time for him to reap his harvests!

Luo Yu was bounced back after he attacked the barrier. It was as if he had hit something invisible before it could touch the barrier. He gritted his teeth and could only join the battle between Feng Jiu and the ghost. While he attacked, he asked her anxiously: "Mistress, what should I do? I can't even touch the barrier!"

"That's been set up by a Golden Core cultivator, you would be dreaming if you could break through it."

She said it in a cold voice as she narrowed her eyes and stared at the female ghost. She slit her finger at the edge of the sword and a drop of fresh blood touched the sword and blood red sword intent burst forth....

Chapter 359 Tyrannical aura of a conqueror!

The ferocious Qi of the sword seemed to whizz loudly in that instant and the oppressive aura of the Ancient Divine Beast in her body was released together with the terrifying Qi of the sword. The powerful oppressive aura of the Ancients was accompanied by the innate tyrannical aura of a conqueror she had been born with and the air immediately swirled and surged, becoming completely different in one single instant.

It even suppressed the pressure from that the withered old man's laughter, one that was released by a peak Golden Core cultivator! It was this very dominant and oppressive aura that made all the skeleton hands that were sticking out from under the ground immediately shrink back in fear.

"This...this is the ancient oppressive aura and tyrannical aura of a conqueror!"

The four Golden Core experts looked incredulously at that small figure, as they tried to suppress the shock that had emerged from their hearts.

Ancient oppressive aura! Tyrannical aura of a conqueror!

What was the origin of this little kid? To have the ancient oppressive aura that comes from the establishing a contract with an ancient sacred beast! Such a contract shared their lives and their oppressive aura!

This little kid should have a contract with an ancient beast!

As for the tyrannical aura of the conqueror, it was simply something that would only appear in legends. It was something that was innate and was from one's marrows and not something that could be cultivated. In the entire continent, only the few who stood at the top had such an imposing aura. However, never would they have expected to meet one who possessed this in the Nine Entrapment Woods. Not to mention, it wasn't only one, it was both the ancient oppressive aura and the tyrannical aura of a conqueror!

For a moment, the entire surroundings was filled with the anguish shrieks and wails from the ghosts and undead. These were brought forth from these two auras that these ghosts and undead could not withstand. The sharp screeches made one's eardrums hurt.

"Stand back! All you need to do is to protect yourself!"

Her speed was extremely fast, like a flash of lightning, even those few Golden Core experts could not catch her figure and only knew that the dazzling light of the Blue Edge Sword slashed and blitzed by that female ghost.

Her actions were so fast that the female ghost who had the strength of a foundation cultivator had no chance to scream when her body was split into two. It immediately turned into a green flame and it devoured that blood red body and seemingly merged with the surrounding green flames and disappeared.

"You actually dare to kill my ghost slave! I want to kill you! Die! Die! Die!"

That withered old man was enraged as he bellowed out with a powerful pressure, as each of the word 'die' materialized as they became amplified by spirit qi and pressed against her.

Initially, when he had discovered her ancient oppressive pressure as well as the tyrannical aura of the conqueror, things became sticky for awhile but he did not expect that in such a short moment that he was distracted, he witnessed with his own eyes that his ghost slave that he had so painstakingly raised to such a level was split into two halves and dissipated.

"Ugh!"

Luo Yu who was only at the level of the Martial Lord, could not withstand such heavy pressure and killing intent. He only felt his blood in his body flow madly in a frenzy as blood rushed up his throat. He wanted to suppress it but he couldn't and spat out a huge mouthful of blood.

"Hah!"

Feng Jiu narrowed her eyes when she saw that Luo Yu could not even stand properly under the pressure and with a swing of her sword, Blue Edge released a ray of sword intent and shot towards those materialized words!

"Whoosh!"

"Bam Bam Bam!"

Once the sword intent was shot out, it broke through those three materialized words immediately. The instant she saw that those words had been broken and the airflow in the surroundings had been scattered, she immediately imbued Blue Edge with almost all of her spirit qi and struck out another blow of sword intent at the withered old man.

"Go!"

She said in a cold and low voice as she dragged the pale Luo Yu with one hand towards the boundary barrier which was only five to six metres away from them. Her cold gaze stared at the blood barrier as she moved swiftly towards it.

Those four Golden Core Experts who were too weak to even stand had already been shocked silly by her battle prowess. Seeing that she was now rushing towards the barrier, it was as if she had the confidence to break through it.

They were just about to warn her that this was set up by that old demon who was at the peak of the Golden Core and it was supported by the blood array which used fresh blood as its defense. With her current strength, it wouldn't be easy for her to break through it. It would be better for her to rescue them first and they would give it their all and fight for their lives against that old demon.

But who knew, she simply rushed up to the front and imbued the Blue Edge Sword with a pure spiritual qi and next, they saw a scarlet red flame following it and it wrapped around the sword like a fire dragon.

"Break for me!"

She raised her hand and the Blue Edge in her hand released a powerful sword intent with a blazing flame and shot towards the barrier.

When they saw this scene, the four Golden Core Experts eyes widened in disbelief as they sucked in a breath of cold air. They saw that the flames started to burn the blood on the barrier brilliantly as the sound of cracking could be heard.

Crack!

The moment that sound came out, the barrier which was surging with a strong aura was rapidly being burned by the flames at a speed visible to the naked eye, as it started crumbling into pieces. It was like a piece of ice that had been broken and the web of cracks started to spread. Until a loud bang resounded and the spiritual qi that was condensed within the boundary barrier immediately shattered.

"It...it really broke..."

The four Golden Core Experts just stared at the scene in a daze, completely forgetting their own predicament and where they were. Instead, they were shocked by the incredible scene in front of them and it took them a long while before they came back to their senses....

The withered old man seemed unable to leave his position as he sat there in stupor. He saw his boundary barrier shatter and the bloody smell as well as all the life energies that he had collected started to disperse. All his painstaking efforts had all been ruined in the hands of a kid who appeared out from nowhere! His eyes were filled with murderous intent as his rage shot to the heavens!

"Arghhhhh!"

A scream filled with a strong resentment and killing intent reverberated through the skies and it contained a strong pressure and formed waves of murderous pressure. The waves began to ripple outwards and the ground began to shake violently. The surrounding slopes started to crumble.

"You destroyed all my painstaking efforts! You broke my advancement! I want you to die horribly!"

The withered old man sat cross-legged and roared towards the sky while his hands started to weave out strange hand signs. The murderous and bloodthirsty resounded into the night.

"Blood Soul Array! Activate!"

Feng Jiu who was escaping with Luo Yu suddenly felt a huge crisis from behind. She quickly looked back and her eyes shrank. She immediately injected spiritual qi into her palm and pushed Luo Yu forward and out of the barrier, almost a hundred metres away.

"Quick, escape!"
