

Falling For The Girl I Bullied Chapter 17 - Tips

Kyle's P.O.V.

"I want to talk with you, Kyle", I heard Sia's annoying voice and looked up from the book that I was reading now in the class. Our teacher was busy with something today and that was why we had this free period today. "I don't want to", I said to her in a flat tone and looked back at my book once again. "I am not asking you, Kyle. I am telling you", she said arrogantly, and I took a deep breath while looking in the other direction and closed my book before looking back at her. "Are you my mother or what, huh?" I asked her in a sarcastic tone and Noah almost burst into laughter. He was sitting behind me. Sia immediately glared at him. "What? Don't give me that look as if I owe you money, okay?" he immediately scolded her in a pissed tone that made me smile this time.

I gave Noah a thumb's up while looking at Sia mockingly. "You", she immediately balled up her fists on either side of her body while yelling at Noah angrily. "Enough of your sh*t, Sia. I don't want to talk to you and it would be better if you go away right now or else I don't know what I will do to you", I immediately banged the table with my palm loudly and stood up in front of her while threatening her in a cold tone. She was stunned by my outburst and looked at me with wide eyes in disbelief. "You know that I like you very much, Kyle and that's why you are taking advantage of my generosity", she said in a low voice and I scoffed laugh at her while looking at her in disbelief this time.

"Are you really that delusional, Sia or trying to piss me off intentionally", I once again yelled in anger while taking a step forward towards her. "Hey, bro.... relax", Noah immediately held me back from my shoulder. Dustin also stood up beside me as he was sitting with me. "I am not delusional, Kyle. I am stating the fact. You are very lucky that I like you among all the boys in the school", Sia once again opened her mouth and spat nonsense. I raised my hand in the air to stop her from saying any more nonsense. "I never asked you to like me and in fact.... I am feeling very disgusted because of what you said to me. I hate you through the bottom of my heart, Bishop and this can't be changed.... Not in this life span", I looked straight into her eyes while telling her the truth in a very cold and bitter tone.

Her eyes widened once again and I could see the pain in her eyes but that didn't bother me. "This is because of that bh, right?" she said while gritting her teeth and I narrowed my eyes at her in confusion. "Who?" I asked her while j.erking my head a little and she scoffed laugh while looking all around us. Everyone present in the class was now peeking at us as they couldn't see directly at us. They knew the consequences very well. "You know what, Kyle. I will make you mine very soon and it will be you who will come to me on your knees. Just remember my words", she said in a determined tone this time, and I really felt slapping her hard to make her awake from her daydream.

"Not even in your dreams, Bishop. Now get lost or else you will not like what will happen next", I yelled at her in a threatening tone and before she could say anything once again, I sat down and opened my book once again. "Kyle", she opened her mouth again but was cut off by Noah this time. "Can't you understand human language, Bishop? He said that he is not interested in you. So, take your sorry a anywhere else to bother someone else. Just leave us alone", he also scolded her in an angry tone. Sia stomped her foot on the ground angrily and stormed away. I took a deep breath and closed my eyes. I knew that she could see my reaction because she was also in the class with us.

"She is really obsessed with you", Dustin remarked at her in a teasing tone, and I just scoffed while closing my book once again as I lost interest to read more. "I don't need her obsession with me. A few days ago, someone saw Patrick banging her in the girl's room after the practice", I told them in a disgusting tone. Both Noah and Dustin raised their brows in surprise and then scoffed. "No wonder Patrick was boasting about screwing her to his teammates yesterday. He is a real j.erk and Sia deserves someone like him, not you", Dustin told us and commented on both Sia and Patrick. Patrick was also a senior and the captain of the football team of our school.

"Do you have Carter's number, Kyle?" I looked at Dustin in confusion when he suddenly asked me in a low tone. "No... why?" I asked him after answering his question. "She is absent today and I am really worried about her", he said in a worried tone and I pursed my lips into a thin line. I was also a bit worried about her. Violet hardly took leave and this was the fact that made me worried for her too. "If... If... I do something to punish, Sia.... You won't be angry with me, right?" Dustin asked me in a very low tone this time and I raised my brows at him in surprise. "Why would I be angry, huh? Do whatever you want to do.... Just don't let anyone catch you", I asked him annoyingly and then warned him at the same time.

He grinned and then looked at Noah who also had a mischievous grin on his lips. "You want to avenge, Carter?" I asked them in a hushed tone while looking at them in amazement. They both nodded immediately while blinking innocently. I laughed at them because they were far from being innocent. "Don't forget that she is now a part of our team and it's you who announced in front of the whole school that she is your girl. So now it's our duty to protect and avenge our teammates", Dustin reasoned himself, taking me off guard because I almost forgot about what happened a few days ago in the canteen.

I didn't know why I said that she was my girl but it felt so good at that time. Yesterday when she was sitting beside me in the canteen, an urge to protect her from everything aroused in my heart and that was the first time I felt something like that towards a girl or should I say towards her. Her body was trembling a little all the time and I wanted to embrace her to comfort her so badly, but I controlled myself because everyone in the canteen was looking at us at that time. "Hey... back to earth, Kyle", I came out of my trance when Dustin suddenly yelled at me. "What?" I yelled asked him and looked at him annoyingly. "You zoned out", he said in a flat tone. "Let's get out of here. I am feeling suffocated", I said to them while putting my book in my bag. I knew that Sia was still staring at me and that was really making me uncomfortable now.

"Let's go to the canteen then. I am feeling hungry", Noah said while putting his stuff in his bag and I just nodded. I only wanted to go away from Sia. The period was going to be over soon. So it was not a big deal to go out a little earlier. It was our free period anyway. We stood up after taking our bags and strode out of the room without looking at anyone. I felt someone gazing at my back but didn't bother to look at her. She was not my concern and never could be. Noah and Dustin decided to plan their revenge after school and I just shook my head while smiling faintly. They could be childish at any time, still, I was glad that they wanted to do something that I couldn't because of my parents.

"I need to use washroom before going to canteen", I said to them and they all nodded. "Okay... then we will wait for you in canteen", Ethan said and I nodded while giving him my bag. He took my bag from me and I walked towards the other side of the corridor. Some girls tried to stop me in the mid-way but I didn't pay attention to any of them. I entered the washroom and took a deep breath before going inside a stall. I felt a minor stomach. I was sitting inside the stall when I heard some boys talking about Sia. I didn't want to listen but their conversation took my attention.

"She is a real slut but thought so highly of her like a princess", I heard someone calling names to Sia. "Yeah.... She is nothing but a good fvck", I recognized the voice this time. It was Patrick. "For how long are you going to date her?" the other boy asked him. "Who is dating her, huh? This is just se.x

between me and her. I am not dating her”, Patrick answered him in an annoying tone. I scoffed sarcastically. That girl said to everyone that she loved me so much but didn’t keep her legs close even for a single day. “I heard that you are giving up the captainship. What happened?” I heard the second boy asking about the captaincy and I raised my brows in curiosity.

“I am getting transferred next week. My father has some other plans for me. David will take over from me today and you know what”, Patrick paused while telling him the reason for giving up the captaincy. “What?” the other boys asked him in a curious tone. “Sia is now eyeing David. David was telling the boys that she asked him to meet her during the practice in the girls’ room... her territory”, Patrick said in a nasty tone, and I almost felt puking right now. “What?” the other boy laughed and then I heard both of them laughing loudly this time. After some time, I heard footsteps going out of the washroom. I finished my business and came out of the stall. The whole room was empty. Only I was the one inside. I guessed Patrick and the other guy didn’t notice my presence here.

I thought about what they talked about while washing my hands and a brilliant idea struck my mind. The boys wanted to teach Sia a lesson and it could be a good opportunity for them. All they needed was to keep an eye on Sia’s whereabouts and they would get the chance to avenge Violet for the humiliation that Sia wanted to give her. Sia thought that she was untouchable and that no one could do anything against her. Now it’s time to make her realize that she was just like other students here and if the teachers couldn’t do anything against her then someone else would do anything to teach her a lesson not to mess with others or else you have to face the consequences too.
