

Gluey Love 1001

Chapter 1001

Looking at Eden's blushed face, Victor could not help but smile. She was still so shy.

Eden seemed to have felt that Victor was smiling. She raised her head slightly and glanced at him. Seeing that he was still smiling, she glared at him.

What was he laughing at?

Hadn't he ever seen her blush?

Victor smiled dotingly and pleasantly.

Eden was so cute!

Kelsi quickly took out her phone and took a look. There was indeed such news about her online.

"No way! What's going on?" She could not believe it. Who uploaded the video?

Who had the ability to control the entire network?

Eden was a little confused when she heard Kelsi's words. It was quite surprising that someone posted such a video.

It was posted only a minute ago.

Kelsi asked for it!

Eden shook her head gloomily. It was never too late for someone to change himself.

However, how could Kelsi understand this? She always played tricks on others. No matter how hard a person's life was, he was lucky as long as he could do something he liked. He would only ruin his own life if he wanted to get something that didn't belong to him.

Kelsi had been living a comfortable for a long time. How could she expect that she would suffer this one day?

At this time, Lucian and Amelia walked in.

Seeing them, Kelsi immediately put away her phone.

She thought that she would have a bright future and live up to her ideal of herself after she came to Alwynn Group. As long as she worked hard, she could get the future and man she wanted.

But at this time...

As she looked at the computer in Lucian's hand, she had more complicated feelings.

Lucian frowned slightly when he saw Kelsi.

Then he looked at Eden who leaned against the chair lazily. The pink dress set off her ruddy face, and she looked coquettish and charming when she was about to fall asleep. He smiled and said, "Eden, this dress suits you well."

Eden agreed with a smile, "Thank you, Mr. Ronen. You seldom make a joke."

In her opinion, Lucian had always been very rigid but gentle. Anyway, she couldn't see him through. She always felt that he was more difficult to understand than Victor.

Lucian smiled faintly and said with tenderness, "That's because you don't spend much time with me. You don't know me very well."

When Victor heard this, he became jealous immediately, "Lucian, do your own work."

Don't seduce his wife!

Lucian glanced at him blandly and lowered his head to turn on the computer.

Seeing that Lucian was tender to Eden but indifferent to him, Victor was very depressed and wanted to kick him in the ass.

He pushed Eden to his side and held her hand, as if he was swearing to the whole world that she was his only love.

Eden glanced at him and did not say anything.

Amelia smiled when she saw how sweet they were. They were so affectionate.

She didn't know when she could meet a man who loved her so much.

She could not help but look at Lucian who was looking down at the computer, and she had complicated feelings. Over the past six months, the relationship between them had improved a lot, but there was still a barrier between them.

Lucian typed on the keyboard quickly. In less than 10 minutes, he edited a video.

Kelsi glanced at Amelia and sneered, holding the idea of leaving things to chance.

"That's it." Hearing this, Victor pushed Eden's wheelchair and walked to Lucian.

Amelia lowered her head to have a look, but her expression changed dramatically, "How could it be..."

In the video, the room was not bright. It was obvious that the lights had been turned off, but they could see the woman's clothes clearly.

It was the pink hoodie that Amelia always wore a period of time ago. The woman was wearing a hat. She turned on Lucian's computer skilfully, copied the design draft and then left within two minutes.

Lucian raised his head and shot a sharp glance at Amelia, "How could it be you?" His cold tone was full of disappointment.

Hearing this, Kelsi felt much more at ease.

"It wasn't me!" Amelia's heart ached when she saw his apathetic eyes. He... actually didn't believe her.

She didn't expect that he would be the first one who doubted her.

She had always been working very hard. Moreover, she needed this job to support herself and her family. It was impossible for her to do such a thing to ruin her future.

Lucian said, "This is indeed your clothes. I saw you wear it several times."

Amelia retorted with a sneer, "Did I steal the design draft just because I have the same clothes?"

Seeing that she looked upset and tried her best to restrain herself, Lucian frowned slightly. He was too impulsive just now,

Eden looked at the woman in the video carefully. She wore a hat and her face was covered, and her figure was more similar to Amelia's.

But she was very sure about one thing, which was that Amelia needed this job. In the past six months, Amelia had been working overtime without complaints, because she needed to earn money to support her family.

Suddenly, she noticed that when the woman was copying the design draft, there was a ring on her finger. It was a diamond ring, and Amelia couldn't afford it at all. Moreover, she had never seen

Amelia wear a ring or necklace.

Wait a minute. She seemed to have seen this ring somewhere before.

"It was not Amelia." Eden suddenly said firmly.

Eden's words gave Amelia hope in an instant.

She really didn't do it.

Victor's face darkened to the extreme. Seeing that Amelia was pretending to be strong, he frowned. Amelia had been working hard since she entered the company, and she was very serious about work. Logically speaking, she would not do such a thing.

"Eden, why are you so sure that it was not Miss Amelia?" Victor asked.

Eden said, "Although Amelia has the same clothes, there are a lot of such clothes on the market. Besides, the woman deliberately put on a hat and turned off the lights. Her back is just similar to Amelia's."

"Since we can't see her face, we can't wrong Amelia. But look at the ring on her finger. It is emitting dim light. It should be a diamond ring, and Amelia has never worn such a diamond ring, has she?"

Amelia quickly reached out her hands and showed them to everyone. She said, suppressing the pain in her voice, "According to my family's condition, I can't afford such a diamond ring." Although she liked diamond rings very much, she had no money to buy one.

Lucian glanced at her and the expression in his eyes changed slightly.

However, Kelsi suddenly clenched her fists and looked at Eden nervously. She was afraid that Eden would say something shocking.

"Oh..." Eden bit her lips forcefully.

Seeing this, Victor stroked her lips gently, "It will hurt."

Eden was stunned. He actually cared about this at this time.

"Don't disturb me. I am a little familiar with this ring. Where did I see it before? I have indeed seen this ring recently. Let me sober up and don't interrupt me." Saying this, Eden patted his hand.

Chapter 1002

Victor looked at her with a wronged face. If she hurt herself, his heart would ache.

Eden tilted her head slightly and thought about it carefully. She couldn't be wrong, and she had seen this ring indeed.

Amelia looked at Eden with hope and prayed, "Director Bleu, you must think of it."

She needed this job very much. Without this job, she would have no way to pay her mother's medical expenses.

Eden glanced sideways at Lucian. Did she see Kelsi from this angle a few minuets ago?

But Amelia suddenly took a look at Kelsi who kept her head down and didn't speak. Kelsi usually talked a lot. If it was in ordinary times, Kelsi would have laughed at her, but she was so quiet and didn't say anything, which was so weird.

She suddenly found that Kelsi's movements were a little strange. It seemed that she was hiding something secretly. Amelia pursed her lips slightly. Only she and Kelsi were allowed to enter Lucian's office. Others couldn't come to the 25th floor without Lucian's permission.

Could it be...

As soon as this idea came to Amelia's mind, Eden looked back at Kelsi quickly.

"By the way, this ring is yours, Miss Iverson. After you came in with the coffee, you stood beside me, and I saw the ring on your finger inadvertently when I glanced at the coffee in your hand. That's why I feel that the ring is familiar."

Hearing this, Kelsi glared at Eden fiercely and clenched her fist with more strength.

"Please don't slander me." Kelsi gritted her teeth and retorted. She had always been arrogant, but she couldn't be more humble at this time.

Eden looked at her pale and nervous face. Kelsi defended herself in panic, which made her more confused.

"I never frame others unreasonably, but I don't allow Amelia to take the blame for others. Reach out your hand out and we'll know the truth."

Kelsi looked at her with a frenzy of rage, but she didn't move.

Amelia frowned and took a step forward.

Then she pulled Kelsi's hand with great force.

"Amelia, you b*tch, what are you doing?" Kelsi was so anxious that she spoke without thinking and tried to break free.

A trace of anger flashed through Lucian's eyes when he heard Kelsi curse Amelia.

This was Amelia's last hope. She grabbed Kelsi's hand tightly and didn't let go of her. After she pulled Kelsi's hand hard, a ring rolled down from Kelsi's hand and fell right beside Lucian's feet. Lucian picked it up and had a look. It was exactly the same as the ring in the video.

"Ha-ha..." Lucian sneered, "It was really you."

"Not me." Kelsi looked at Lucian and shouted loudly, "As you said, there are many clothes of the same clothes and styles. Can't someone has a same ring?"

Victor said, "Don't talk nonsense with her. Call the police and ask them to investigate it. I have something to do, and I have to go to the hospital."

Lucian glanced at him and said, "Go ahead. I'll deal with this. You'll be satisfied with the result."

Victor nodded.

"Director Bleu, thank you!" Amelia looked at Eden with excitement. Her face was full of gratitude, and her eyes blurred with tears.

Eden was the first one who believed her.

Eden looked at her and smiled. "Amelia, I know you. You are responsible for work, and it is impossible for you to do such a thing. I naturally believe you."

"Thank you!" Amelia choked with sobs. The feeling of being framed was like falling to hell, and she felt as if she had been reborn when Eden proved her innocence.

"Don't be so polite. I'll be back to work after resting for a few days." She didn't want to stay at home, but she was still weak and easy to feel sleepy. She had to rest well to work better.

"Mm! Director Bleu, your health is more important. Have a good rest at home." Amelia said with a smile.

"Okay!" Eden nodded.

Victor pushed her to leave, but Kelsi blocked their way immediately.

"Mr. Alwynn, I like you so much. Is this how you treat me? Do you forget your promise?"

Her words made everyone speechless.

Eden smiled coldly. Seeing that Kelsi looked at Victor with grievances, she thought with indifference, "Promise? What kind of promise?"

"Kelsi, you say you like Victor, but why did you betray him? Do you know how much our company will suffer if we didn't take emergency action? It is LP Company. I'm curious about the relationship between you and them."

"Shut up! I'm not speaking to you!" Kelsi looked at Eden with a disgusted expression.

Eden was not angry. She smiled and said, "Then get out of my way. Don't stop us here."

Kelsi still looked at Victor with infatuation in her eyes, "Mr. Alwynn, answer me."

"Get out!" Victor roared with a surge of great fury.

Kelsi was stunned and burst into tears. She looked at Victor pitifully and said, "Mr. Alwynn, I didn't do it on purpose, and I didn't splash the coffee on Eden deliberately. I just released my grip accidentally. Mr. Alwynn, you have to believe me. I love you so much. How can you do this to me?" Since Eden didn't let her live well, she must ruin her marriage.

Women were very sensitive. Her words would cast a shadow in Eden's heart and make her suspect Victor all the time. In that case, Eden wouldn't live a good life, either.

"Mr. Alwynn, you told me this morning that you were going to the hotel with me tonight. Don't you remember that? You can't kick me out after flirting with me. Mr. Alwynn, you can't be so heartless to me." Kelsi's words were astonishing.

Everyone was taken aback.

Even Lucian looked at Victor with a puzzled face.

"Victor, what's wrong with your taste?" He teased Victor casually. There were a lot of women who pestered Victor, but he had never seen someone as shameless as Kelsi.

Victor glared at Lucian who was making sarcastic remarks. He actually added fuel to the fire at this time.

Ha-ha..

Was he really his good friend?

"Shut up!" Victor roared madly.

Lucian smiled and said, "Do you want me to get the surveillance video for you? Let's see when she said those words and which hotel and room you were going. Eden happens to be here, and I can clarify the misunderstanding for you."

Eden smiled and said, "Mr. Ronen, you don't need to do that. I believe Victor. He can't do such a thing."

She had been in a coma for half a year. As a man, Victor had sexual needs indeed. When she was healthy, he had sex with her almost every night. But no matter how much he wanted to have sex, he wouldn't flirt with Kelsi. There were a lot of women who were prettier than her.

"Ha-ha..." Lucian grinned, "Eden, Victor didn't wait for you for so many years in vain."

Victor smiled proudly, "Of course, she is my life! How could she be as stupid as other women?"

Victor looked very proud and Eden trusted him very much, which gave Kelsi a heavy slap on the face.

Chapter 1003

Furthermore, she did not understand Eden at all. If another woman said such words to her, she would definitely fight with her.

She had gone so far, but Eden actually laughed?

Lucian said, "Hurry up and leave. Tell Miss Joye that I wish her a speedy recovery."

Victor nodded and looked up at Kelsi, "You will know my promise to you soon."

Kelsi was the first woman who dared to provoke his wife like this.

He would never allow anyone to bully Eden.

Kelsi asked cautiously, "What is it?"

"Hell!" After saying that coldly, Victor pushed Eden and left.

"Ah..." Kelsi was too shaken and took a few steps back.

Lucian glanced at her casually, and then turned to look at Amelia, "I was too impulsive just now, and I didn't believe you. I'm sorry!"

Seeing that Lucian suddenly apologized to her, Amelia was surprised. But she immediately came to sense and shook her head reservedly. Although she was sad that he didn't choose to believe her, they had worked together for so long and she knew his character very well.

"It's okay!" Amelia whispered.

Lucian glanced at her and knew that she did not truly accept his apology, but he did not say anything else.

Instead, he took out the phone to call the police.

After that, he sorted out all the evidence and waited for the police to come.

Watching everything that Lucian had done, Kelsi felt that she was doomed.

Lucian glanced at Kelsi and said, "Manager Iverson, you've worked here for half a year. During this period of time, you made use of your authority and bribed the suppliers all over the country to get kickbacks. You've got almost two million and five hundred thousand dollars. I've kept the evidence. Moreover, you stole our design draft. We will pursue your legal responsibilities."

Kelsi's face turned ashy when she heard that. Was Lucian so crafty? Why did he know everything?

"It's impossible! It couldn't be! How can you..." Kelsi looked at Lucian's calm expression and suddenly could not say anything.

"Why is it impossible?" Lucian looked at his computer with no emotion in his eyes.

"Every employee in Alwynn Group works very hard after they were hired. After all, we give the highest salary in the whole River City. But there are a few people who are too greedy. They play tricks behind our backs and always think that they won't be exposed, but..."

Lucian glanced at her apathetically. She asked for it, and she was evil. She ruined her own life.

"Ah..." Kelsi sat on the ground feebly.

Seeing Kelsi like this, Amelia didn't sympathize with her at all. When she worked with Kelsi, Kelsi tried her best to bully her. Fortunately, she had been cautious so that Kelsi didn't get her own way.

Twenty minutes later, the police arrived and took away Kelsi. Meanwhile, Lucian issued a dismissal notice on the official website. What Kelsi had done caused a great stir in River City.

Meanwhile, in LP Company, Haven returned to her office with a victorious smile.

Looking at Haven who was smiling triumphantly, Tillie trembled in rage. She rushed over and gave her a slap in the face.

Haven didn't dodge, but looked at Tillie with a sneer, "Mis Elliott, if you can feel better by slapping me, slap me once again. otherwise, you will have no chance to get close to me in the future."

Tillie was so mad that her whole body was trembling, and even her lips were quivering violently. She looked at Haven with blood-shot eyes, "Haven, you vicious woman. When you first came to find me, you had planned everything, right?"

Haven shook his head slightly, "No, Miss Elliott, at the beginning, I just wanted to be more capable than Eden. I started to prepare to replace you after you arranged Kelsi to work in Alwynn Group."

She walked a few steps towards Tillie and smiled smugly again, "Do you remember I told you that Victor has a great secretary named Luician? He can find out everyone who stays in Alwynn Group with evil intentions. You have been angry, so you haven't seen the news about Kelsi, right? She has been detained, and Alwynn Group has fired her officially. What's more, people will soon know that you stole the design of Alwynn Group."

"When you got the design draft of Alwynn Group, I modified the original drafts that you abandoned and searched for a lot of information about design online. I have been waiting for you to be exposed."

"I showed the president my own design, and I didn't expect him to like my design so much. Since I can save the company, you will naturally be replaced by me."

"Ah..." Tillie went deathly pale. She agreed to let Haven be her student because Darlene became Eden's teacher, but she didn't expect Haven to be so cruel.

"Haven, you will be punished one day. I can't stay in the country anymore, but I can go abroad. But when you get your retribution, I will definitely come back to see you. Give my shares of Clement Group back to me immediately, otherwise, I will sue you." Tillie said harshly. She knew that no matter how much she said, she couldn't change the fact.

She had been fired by the company, and Haven replaced her position with her design drafts. As soon as Alwynn Group announced that she stole their design, her life would be completely ruined.

"Ha-ha..." Haven laughed, looked at Tillie proudly and sarcastically, and asked in a mocking tone, "Miss Elliott, what are you talking about? Do you have the shares of Clement Group?"

"What... did you say?" Tillie looked at Haven in disbelief, feeling uneasy and uneasy.

Haven said, "When you got divorced, you felt terrible and didn't have the mood to read documents carefully. You didn't even look at the document I gave you. I took this opportunity to transfer your shares to me, but you didn't notice."

"Ah..." Tillie was shocked and did not expect herself to be so stupid. To her surprise, Haven was more despicable and malicious than her.

"Haven, I'll kill you!" Tillie was so excited that she picked up the cup on the table and threw it at Haven.

Listening to the footsteps outside the door, Haven did not dodge. Instead, she stood there quietly with a vicious smile in her eyes.

"Bang..." Haven couldn't see anything clearly and felt hot on her face. She smelled a strong smell of blood, and blood was running down her face.

"Tillie, what are you doing?" When the president of LP Company opened the door and came in, he saw this scene and looked at Tillie with fury.

Seeing that Haven's face was covered with blood, he immediately called someone and sent Haven to the hospital.

Then he asked the security guards to drive away Tillie without listening to her explanation. He turned around and left angrily.

Chapter 1004

Tears streamed down Tillie's cheeks as she stood in front of the company and looked at the building where she used to work in. She had extremely complicated and painful feelings.

She had to admit that sometimes, her stupid thinking could destroy herself faster than anything else. She always thought that Haven took cue from her and couldn't make great achievement. During this period of time, she felt that Haven listened to her and pleased her all the time, so she gradually put down her guard.

At this time, she suddenly felt that she was really childish. Haven just pretended to be innocent, and her heart was very vicious. The most hateful thing was that she had lost her job, money, and love. She only had herself.

In the end, she was hoist by her own petard.

"Ahem..." Tillie had suffered a serious blow, and all her reputation and success had been destroyed. She felt a heart-wrenching pain and so uncomfortable if she had fallen into hell.

As the saying went, a bowl of rice was not enough to fill one's stomach, but a little humiliation was enough to anger one to death.

It was exactly right.

"Haven, I won't let you go like this. Since I can't deal with you, someone else is powerful enough to give you a lesson!" Tillie staggered and hailed a taxi on the side of the road. Then she went straight to Clement Group to find Buddy.

Buddy was a steady and calm person in the Clement family. She had to tell him something before she left.

She must tell Buddy everything that Haven had planned, including her desire to get Clement Group and what she had done in the company that day.

Haven didn't dodge just now, and her head got injured because of her. She did this just to let the president be completely disappointed in Tillie. In the future, it would be hard for Tillie to meet him. Haven schemed all these step by step.

Tillie was mad, and the divorce dealt her a great blow, so she gradually fell into Haven's trap.

If Haven defeated her in a reasonable way, she had nothing to say. But Haven played tricks on her, so she was not convinced.

When Victor and Eden arrived at the hospital, Abigail hadn't woken up.

Eden was a little anxious. When she saw that Anson was sitting there quietly, she became even uneasier. She wanted to ask him about Abigail's condition, but she bit back her words.

Victor said, "Anson, Eden said that you have changed your mind. Is that true?"

Anson smiled and nodded, "Have you solved the problem in the company?"

Victor replied, "It's not a big deal, and it has been solved."

Anson smiled. Solving such a problem was indeed a piece of cake for Victor.

It was hard to trust someone. Mark was loyal to him, and they were fated to meet each other.

Victor patted him on the shoulder and said with a grin, "Everyone will be very happy that you're willing to be with Abby. You should have changed your mind earlier."

He didn't accept Abigail until Abigail got sick out of anger.

Anson laughed, but he did not say anything. It was all his fault.

Eden looked down at her phone and suddenly saw the news about LP Company. She frowned slightly and looked at the photo of Haven, saying "Tillie has been driven out of LP Company. Do you know who the new design director is?"

Victor frowned and said with a sneer, "Don't tell me that it is Haven."

Eden nodded, "That's right. It's her. After we held our new product launch, she announced the relationship between Tillie and Kelsi online. Kelsi is Tillie's niece, and she helped Tillie steal the design draft from our company. At the critical moment of the LP Company, Haven showed the top managers her design and was praised. Then she was promoted to be the design director."

Victor said with a cold smile, "I'm afraid Tillie didn't know that she had been fooled by Haven until the end."

Victor's face suddenly became serious, "D*mn it!"

"What's wrong?"

Eden and Anson looked at him at the same time.

Victor looked at them, "Haven persuaded Tillie to buy the shares of Clement Group. Since Haven has betrayed Tillie, I'm afraid that Tillie can't get her shares back anymore."

Eden looked so worried, "I have to tell Buddy about it in a hurry."

Victor took out his phone and sent a message to Buddy.

Buddy replied to him very soon, "Victor, Tillie has come here. Her shares have been taken away by Haven. When she was frustrated, Haven took advantage of the chance and schemed against her."

Victor took a look and pursed his lips, "I was right. Tillie has lost her power, so she can't compete with Haven anymore. She went to find Buddy. She had been very upset after she divorced, and Haven transferred her shares."

Anson sneered, "In order to get Clement Group, Haven has really done everything she could. If things go on like this, the Clement family will be in a crisis."

Victor shook his head, "It's not that easy. The Clement family owns many real estates. If Haven wants to get Clement Group, she should have fifty-five percent of the shares at least."

"Besides, in this complicated social circle, not many people are willing to help her. If she wants to get Clement Group, she still has a long way to go."

Anson said, "But the Clement family has to be more careful. Haven looks weak and gentle on the surface, but her heart was so greedy and she wants to get more."

Victor nodded, "Eden, if she asks you to meet her alone, you must tell me."

Eden nodded, "I will."

Haven did this because she didn't want to lose her comfortable and rich life.

She wanted to be wealthy and beautiful forever, but she didn't make money in an upright way. How long could she keep her good life even if she could get everything?

"Ah... you guys are so noisy!" Abigail said somewhat unhappily.

Eden was very excited when she saw that Abigail had woken up.

Anson said very delightedly, "Abby, you're awake!"

Abigail slowly opened her eyes and looked at the three people in the ward. She was actually in the hospital?

"What happened to me? Why am I in the hospital?" Abigail's voice was hoarse. She felt very thirsty and uncomfortable.

"Abby, you fainted. Do you feel better now?" Anson looked at her worriedly.

Abigail stared at Anson for a few seconds before she remembered their conversation in the office. He said that he would no longer avoid her in the future.

Sure enough, he didn't refuse to see her this time.

She smiled bitterly, "What's wrong? Aren't you going to hide from me anymore? Have you made up your mind?"

Anson looked at her with a gentle smile and nodded hard, "Abby, I'm sorry. I'll protect you well from now on."

Abby even fell ill because of him, and this was not the result he wanted. He wanted her to be happy. Since she lived in sadness without him, he changed his mind.

Chapter 1005

Abigail glared at him fiercely. Had he just changed his mind?

If he could accept her at the very beginning, they wouldn't have been in so much pain.

It seemed that they were destined to suffer. No lovers could be together smoothly. They had to go through a difficult period before being with each other.

"It seems that you're not completely hardhearted."

Eden smiled. Seeing Abby like this, she was relieved.

"Abby, there's something wrong with your liver, and you can't be stimulated. Don't be angry at will in the future." After they got real happiness, they would understand that the pain they had suffered was a kind of wealth. It would make them cherish each other more.

"Is my liver unhealthy?" Abigail's was puzzled, "I'm so young. How could there be a problem with my liver?"

Anson's expression turned guilty immediately when he heard this, "Abby, it's all my fault. During this period of time, I've been making you sad and giving you much pressure. That is why you get sick."

Abigail clenched her fists slightly and laughed, "It turns out that I am so fragile."

Anson lowered his head apologetically. He was wrong. He had truly made a big mistake.

Eden held her hand and smiled, "Fool, what are you thinking? As long as you don't get mad and be relaxed every day, you will slowly recover."

"Really?" Abigail looked at her with expectation. People who had never been sick couldn't be aware of the frailty of life.

"Yeah! Believe me. I never lie to you." Eden looked at her with a smile. Her clear and bright eyes were filled with warmth and joy.

Abigail liked her bright smile the most, "I knew you're the best!" Eden's smile was always smile, which made her feel very comfortable.

"So, don't think too much. Now you two have made it up, and I'm in good health. These are happy things. You want to travel with me, don't you? When I can stand up and walk, let's go for a trip alone." She and Abby had not gone on a trip for a long time.

Abigail nodded excitedly, "Let's go eat in the countryside."

"Okay, we'll catch fishes in the river." Eden said with a smile.

"We can pick fruits in an orchard as well." Abigail was very looking forward to it.

"Right, we'll go for a picnic and have a barbecue together." Abby liked such a leisure life, so did Eden.

"At night, we can count the stars in the sky together. Let's have a competition and see who can count more stars."

"Mm! I want to do this, too. The loser has to shout when we go back." Eden grinned.

Anson and Victor were ignored by them, and they couldn't help but feel somewhat jealous .

Victor asked enviously, "You two are adults. Why do you always think about children's activities?"

Abigail chuckled and said, "What's wrong? Can't we? If someone has a miserable childhood, he can make up for it after he grows up."

"When we were young, we had been looking forward to growing up. However, we can't go back to the past after we became adults, and time goes by really quickly. When I looked back, I suddenly found that I didn't have a good time in my childhood. It's normal for me and Eden to go to the countryside to live a few days sometimes."

Eden nodded with a smile, "After I grew up, I find it's extravagant to be happy, and it's normal to be unhappy. I can be more relaxed by going out and having a trip occasionally."

"I'm going with you." Victor looked at her with grievances. They had been married, and she couldn't exclude him from her world.

Abigail teased him, "We are going on a trip. What do you have to follow us?"

"Abby, I want to go with you as well. I didn't have a happy childhood, either." Anson said in a low voice.

Abigail was very speechless when she heard this!

She didn't believe his words at all.

"Alright, you two don't have to be in such a hurry. This is a good idea, but we can't go for a trip now. Wait for some more time!" She didn't know when Eden could stand up and walk.

She had just become reconciled with Anson, and she didn't want Eden to leave Victor because of her legs.

When Eden was stubborn, even she was afraid.

She looked at Eden and said with a faint smile, "Eden, go back and have a rest. My heart aches when you're tired."

Victor said, "You don't have to say so. I'll take care of my own wife."

Abigail was speechless.

"Is our love for Eden the same? Victor, you can't know how happy you're unless you accept my kindness for Eden."

"Thanks for reminding me!" Victor pushed Eden out, "We won't bother you anymore, lest you regard me as a third wheel and scold me."

Abigail looked at him in agreement.

Eden said with a smile, "Abby, I'm leaving."

"Okay! Remember to have a good rest after you go back! Don't let your man be idle and let him cook whatever you want to eat. Understand? Don't wrong yourself." Abigail couldn't rest assured and reminded Eden.

"I see. You should have a good rest, too." Eden was about to leave the ward, and she turned around and waved at Abigail.

There were only Abigail and Anson in the ward, and Abigail suddenly became somewhat reserved.

She leaned aside and didn't speak.

Looking at her, Anson summoned up his courage and held her slightly cold hand.

Abigail's body stiffened a little. She looked at him slowly and saw him staring at her quietly.

"I'm sorry, Abby!" He apologized sincerely again.

Abigail looked at him deeply and felt quite dissatisfied, "Why do you apologize all the time? Maybe we were destined to suffer it. This is our destiny!"

Anson shook his head, "No, Abby, it was my fault." He would be guilty and treat her well in the rest of his life.

"Ha-ha..." Abigail thought for a while helplessly, "I can't do anything about it if you think so."

But Anson couldn't feel more at ease unless he thought like this.

"Abby, are you hungry? I'll ask Mark to bring you some food."

Abigail was slightly stunned, "Can't I leave the hospital today?"

Anson nodded, "You have to do a check-up tomorrow, so you can't leave the hospital tonight."

"Ah... I hate being in the hospital the most." Abigail's face was full of displeasure, and she really wanted to go home immediately.

Anson smiled and said, "Abby, don't worry. I'll stay here with you."

When Abigail heard this, she was still somewhat unwilling to stay in the hospital, "You need to rest as well."

Anson grinned and held her hand tightly, "You don't have to worry about me. I'll ask Mark to bring you something to eat first."

"Okay!" Abigail nodded helplessly.

Seeing her like this, Anson laughed. Suddenly, he felt that his life had become meaningful. He lived in great pain before.

He took out his phone and called Mark, asking him to buy some food. Then he chatted with Abigail.

On the way back, Eden sat on the passenger seat without saying a word.

Chapter 1006

Victor was afraid that she would think too much about Kelsi's words.

He stopped the car at the intersection when the lights were red and reached out to hold Eden's hand. Looking at her sideways, he asked, "Eden, are you tired?"

Eden looked up at him and nodded, but she still didn't say anything.

Seeing that she did not speak, he was even more nervous, "Eden, let's have dinner outside. We'll pick up the children after dinner."

Eden nodded, but she still remained silent.

Victor became even more anxious, "Honey, are you punishing me by not talking to me?"

Eden was slightly stunned and looked at him, "Why do you think so?"

"So why don't you talk to me?"

"Because I have nothing to say."

Victor was a bit sad. She meant that she had nothing to share with him, right?

"Eden..."

"The lights have turned green." Eden pointed to the front.

Victor had to give up and started the car again.

He drove to River City Restaurant directly and sent a message to Jaida, telling her that they would not go back for dinner.

Then he unfastened Eden's seat belt.

"Eden, I've sent a message to mom and told her that we would eat here."

"Alright!" Eden nodded.

Victor was about to straighten his back, but he was taken aback slightly. He always felt that she was angry with him.

He leaned over and kissed her red lips with great strength.

Eden was stunned. She was a bit unwilling and tried to push him away with both hands.

Realizing what she was doing, Victor immediately let go of her and stared at her quietly. He was very close to her, and she could feel his hot breathing.

Eden was a little nervous, because she knew what he was thinking. So many things had happened all of a sudden that day, and she was deeply moved. That was why she didn't want to speak.

She reached out, held his strong waist and said with a smile, "I said I would believe you. Don't think too much. I just don't want to speak."

Only then did Victor feel relieved, "Why don't you want to speak? If you have any ideas, you can tell me. I'm afraid that you'll be angry, because you don't talk to me. I'm not familiar with Kelsi at all. Besides, I had been well-behaved in the past half a year, and I don't like anyone else." He was anxious to prove himself.

Seeing how disturbed he was, Eden smiled gently. "I know, I said that I believe you."

Victor looked at her quietly with brooding eyes. He didn't feel at ease until he made sure that she really trusted him.

He rubbed her nose lightly, "I was so scared just now. Let's go eat. From today on, we'll have a date every day."

"Every day?" Eden looked at him in a daze, "We're already married. Do you still want to date with me?"

Victor nodded with a grin, "Although we are married, I feel that we're madly in love everyday."

"Ha-ha..." Eden laughed. She was very in favor of his words.

Victor looked at her with a faint smile and continued to say, "Eden, when we're alive, we should live a wonderful life. Don't waste our time, and don't live with ignorance. We should live up to our ideal of ourselves, and we should not miss anything, because we had lived without each other for more than ten years."

All the depression in Eden's heart had disappeared when she heard this, "That's right. We both understand this, but why Kelsi... Forget it. I don't want to talk about it anymore. I'm hungry."

Hearing Kelsi's name, Victor knew that she had been influenced by what had happened that day.

He got out of the car and took out the wheelchair. Then he opened the car door, put her on the wheelchair and pushed her upstairs.

Eden liked the food in River City Restaurant very much, especially the porridge here.

But it was really expensive!

"Victor, I'd better eat seafood porridge. I haven't eaten it for a long time, so I really want to eat it."

"Okay! You can eat whatever you want. You have to gain some weight." He could let her eat more and gain some weight because she couldn't exercise for the time-being.

Victor thought like this happily in heart.

He looked at the restaurant. He knew the boss who was his father's friend.

He lowered his head and looked at Eden who was sitting there quietly. Then he smiled and said, "Eden, why don't I buy this restaurant for you?"

Hearing this, Eden looked back at him, "Why? Just because I like it?"

Victor looked at her and smiled gently, "Eden, I also like it very much. The three children like it very much as well, don't they? The boss here is my father's friend. Last year, he planned to sell this restaurant. He is old and wants to retire."

"Oh!" Eden nodded slightly, "Victor, I think it's good. After buying it, we can continue to do business, and we can come here when we want to eat the food. We won't think it's too expensive when we eat in our own restaurant."

"Ha-ha..." Victor couldn't help but laugh, "You just can't bear to spend money."

Eden glared at him, "We have to raise three children. Of course, we have to be frugal. This is a traditional virtue."

Victor said, "The three children can earn money on their own now, and we don't need to spend money on them in the future. They have planned their own lives, and we don't have to worry about them at all. However, you have to convince Kenny to take over my company. We can go on a trip after I retire."

Eden was speechless. She didn't expect him to have such an idea.

"We'll talk about it when they grow up."

"Mm!" Victor nodded. He was too hasty indeed.

After they arrived at the prepared private box, Victor ordered the dishes and planned to talk to the boss of the River City Restaurant the next day.

After the meal, they went to the Clement family to pick up the three children.

On the way there, Eden went to the mall to buy a few beautiful outfits and some fruit for Glenn.

As soon as she entered the house, she saw Haven at home, and her expression changed a lot. The atmosphere at home was a little strange.

"Eden, Victor, you're here." Wyatt looked at Eden and smiled.

"Dad." Eden grinned.

"Eden, come here quickly." Wyatt was in a much better mood when he saw Eden.

Eden said hello to Buddy and Delmont.

Delmont looked at Eden and said with distress, "Eden, you're in poor health. I said that I would take the children back. Why do you have to come here?"

Eden smiled and said, "I want to come back to see you."

"Oh, our Eden is always so kind." Delmont got up and took the things from Victor's hand.

Looking at the watermelon, he smiled, "Eden, it's so nice of you. I happen to want to eat watermelon! This kind of watermelon is very sweet."

Eden looked at the watermelon in his hand and chuckled, "The watermelons in this season are the best."

Buddy said, "Delmont, go to cut the watermelon."

Delmont nodded with a smile. Then, he left happily with the watermelon in his hand.

Eden glanced at Haven, and Haven happened to be looking at her.

Eden smiled and said, "Congratulations!"

"Thank you!" Haven said with a smile.

Buddy glanced at Haven, and his eyes were cold.

Chapter 1007

How long could she stay in the position which she had got by despicable means?

Wyatt looked at Haven, "You have to work hard in the future. I'm relieved to see how hard-working you're."

Haven nodded with a smile, "Dad, I will. I haven't congratulated you on finding Eden yet."

Wyatt glanced at Eden and then looked at her, "Haven, you have to get along well with Eden in the future. Both of you are the daughters of the Clement family. I hope you two can live a happy life."

"Okay!" Haven nodded obediently and raised her head slightly to look at Eden. How could she get along well with Eden?

The way Wyatt looked at Eden was completely different from the way he looked at her.

Eden had left the Clement family for more than ten years, while she had accompanied them for such a long time, but Wyatt doted on Eden more and she couldn't be accepted in the end.

She didn't have a home. In this family, she couldn't get anything like warmth and family affection.

Eden glanced at Haven and said nothing. Actually, she knew what Haven was looking forward to.

Everyone wanted to get others' appreciation and praise. Since Haven tried her best to get everything, she wanted others to admire her, too.

However, there were many ways to win the appreciation and praise of others. She didn't have to use such cruel means to prove herself. When her true colours were exposed, she would have nothing left.

Haven had made great progress, so she became more confident and arrogant while speaking, "Eden, I wish that you will soon be restored to health, and I hope that we can compete with each other in the summer collection."

Eden smiled and said, "It seems that you're quite glad today. You look very relaxed and confident, and you're much different from before."

"As for the summer collection, now I don't want to prepare for it, because we have just released the spring collection. I just like design, and not all the clothes designed by me will be popular. There is no need for us to compete with each other."

She designed the clothes not to compete with someone, but to let people feel happy and confident in her clothes. This was her original intention.

Haven was looking forward to a spiritual victory, but she only wanted to enrich her life everyday.

Hearing her modest words, Haven thought in heart, "Don't you want to compete with me? But I have to win and tread you under foot. One day, I will let you go to hell!"

Eden had stolen everything from her.

Through her hard work this time, she found that she was also very talented in design.

This summer, she must defeat Eden.

Buddy looked at Wyatt and said, "Dad, I plan to hold a press conference tomorrow and tell everyone that Eden has come back."

Wyatt nodded with a smile, "Mm! This is a good thing. Hold the press conference in person tomorrow."

Eden smiled and said, "Buddy, you don't have to be in such a hurry, and don't hold a press conference. I don't like being too famous. Now everything is nice. As long as we can live together happily."

Once her identity was made public, people's attitudes towards her would change drastically. Moreover, she was Calder's daughter. As long as her family knew she was Eden, it would be fine. She did not care about what others thought of her.

"Eden, you..."

"Buddy, I know what you're thinking, but I don't like very complicated life. Now I'm very satisfied with my life."

Buddy looked at her and smiled dotingly, "Well, I don't want you to be looked down upon by others anymore. No one can bully my younger sister."

Victor, who had not spoken all the time, immediately said, "Who dares to bully my wife?"

Hearing this, Buddy laughed, "Eden, since you don't want to make it public, I'll respect your decision. Zofia is playing with the children upstairs. Go back after staying here for a while."

"Okay!" Eden nodded.

However, Haven suddenly said, "Buddy, you really treat Eden so well. I've never seen you so tender before." Although Haven was smiling, her smile was scary.

Buddy suddenly looked at her, "Can you be compared with Eden?"

Clearly, he treated Eden differently, and he didn't even want to pretend to be kind in front of Haven.

Haven was not angry. Instead, she laughed, "Of course, I can't be compared with Eden. In your heart, she is always your best younger sister."

Buddy agreed with her last sentence and said in a cold tone, "You are right. Since Zofia had an accident that day, Eden has become my only younger sister."

Haven was stunned. Zofia's accident?

She suddenly remembered it.

Sure enough, Buddy had known this long ago. Had he known about the existence of her aunt?

Haven had a guilty conscience, but the Clement family hadn't given her the shares that should belong to her.

Perhaps that was the reason.

However, she wouldn't admit it since Buddy didn't make it clear.

She smiled and said, "Buddy, I don't quite understand what you mean. As your younger sister, I think you should be fair."

Hearing this, Buddy felt extremely annoyed in heart. The Clement family had been treating her very nicely, but she was so heartless. She even sat here and spoke to him mockingly.

Sure enough, people were very changeable. For a greedy person like Haven, she would not be satisfied no matter how much they gave her.

"I'll let you know how fair I am in the future." A strange smile appeared on Buddy's handsome face.

Haven frowned. Eden glanced at Buddy and knew that he was very angry and was trying his best to restrain himself.

The atmosphere suddenly became a bit stiff, and the air was filled with hostility.

"Come on. Eden, time to have watermelon." Delmont came out with sliced watermelon.

His appearance seemed to have eased the atmosphere in an instant.

Eden looked at him and said with a grin, "Thank you, Delmont!"

"Hey! Eden, we're family. Why are you so polite? If you were a child, you would have run to the next door with the watermelon and shared it with Victor. Sometimes the plate was too big. You had passed by, but the plate was still behind the railing. I couldn't eat it unless I snatched it from you. I don't know what was so good about Victor, and you always thought for him."

Saying this, Delmont looked at Victor who was smiling proudly with complaint.

Eden smiled awkwardly. She still couldn't remember what had happened when she was a child.

Wyatt said, "Because you and Buddy didn't treat Eden as well as Victor did. They are fated."

"Dad, you are right. This is fate. Eden had become my sweetheart when she was a child. She always thought about me when she had delicious food."

Victor called Wyatt very amiably.

Eden glanced at him. It was the first time that Victor had addressed Wyatt like this.

Wyatt was stunned. He had been to the hospital a few times before, but Victor had never called him dad. He actually did this in front of Eden.

"Ha-ha... It's true that fate brought us together." Wyatt smiled lovingly.

Chapter 1008

Joy was overflowing in the Clement family, and Haven was like an outsider. That day, she came back to the Clement family because she wanted to share her happiness with them.

However, no one congratulated her.

Buddy said, "Victor, have you found something about grandma's accident?"

Hearing this, Haven couldn't help looking at Victor.

Victor sneered and said, "I've got some evidence. We'll know the truth soon. I'll send that person to hell in person."

Haven's expression suddenly changed, and she fidgeted in her chair.

Since Victor had made some progress, he should be suspecting her.

She knew Victor's means the best. Fortunately, she didn't meet her aunt though her aunt had contacted her during this period of time.

Eden glanced at Haven who had a guilty conscience, and her eyes suddenly turned apathetic, "Victor, you must find the murderer as soon as possible and send her to jail." Eden said every word with great strength.

"Mm! Eden, I will." Victor glanced at Haven from the corner of his eye.

Seeing that Haven was a little nervous, he was more sure that she was the person behind the scenes.

All of a sudden, Haven's mind was in a mess. She was antsy, because Victor seemed to have seen her through.

She got up and said, "Dad, Delmont, Buddy, I'll go back first."

Wyatt nodded, "Haven, be careful on the way."

"I will, dad."

However, Delmont suddenly said, "Haven, you seldom come back. Have some watermelon before leaving, lest you say that our family is unfair to you."

Haven glanced at him and kept a warm smile on her face, "Thank you, Delmont, but I've never thought like this before. You misunderstand me."

After saying that, Haven ran away in a hurry.

Looking at her panicked back, Eden was overwhelmed by rage. Grandma Clement was so old. How could Haven bear to hurt her?

"Humph!" She growled unhappily.

Seeing that she was mad, Victor held her hand and smiled at her gently, "I will handle it well."

"Mm!" Eden's cold expression softened a lot.

Wyatt passed a piece of watermelon to Eden with a fork.

"Eden, eat it!"

Eden looked at him and grinned, "Thank you, dad!"

Delmont shouted at the stairs, "You little guys, come down and have some watermelon."

After a while, Zofia came down with Glenn and the three children.

Zofia looked at Eden, "Hi, Eden!" She didn't like Haven, so she didn't come down.

"Zofia! Come and have some watermelon." Eden said with a smile. In Zofia's arms, Glenn's face was tender and he looked very adorable.

"He has grown up a lot. He's so cute." Eden looked at Glenn with a grin.

"Ha-ha..." Glenn suddenly giggled at Eden.

"Ha-ha..." Eden laughed happily, "He can even laugh out loud."

The three children sat by Eden's side. Giada said, "Mom, Glenn is so obedient. He hasn't slept since we came here, and he has been very happy."

"Really?" Eden knew that children liked to play with children.

Buddy smiled and said, "If he sleeps less during the day, he can sleep better at night, but he will sleep very late at night if he sleeps a lot during the day."

Wyatt looked at Glenn and smiled lovingly, "I'm afraid that Glenn will be like you when you were a child. At that time, you slept during the daytime and didn't sleep at nights, which tortured your mother and me a lot."

Eden nodded while laughing, "Buddy, you should be more careful. Such a thing will happen indeed. When Kenny was small, he slept during the daytime and didn't sleep at nights, and it almost lasted for half a month."

"Me?" Kenneth pointed at himself in disbelief.

Eden looked at him and smiled, "Yeah, your grandma suffered a lot because of you. She and I couldn't sleep well every night. Later, we really couldn't hold on anymore, and I played with you during the daytime for a few days!"

Kenneth said, "Mom, if you didn't tell me tonight, I wouldn't have known that I was like this when I was a child."

Eden reached out and rubbed his head, "It's normal for children to be like this. When you grew older, you could sleep regularly everyday."

Zofia was alert when she heard this, "Then I'll take him out for a walk more often during the day. If he doesn't sleep at night, we will all suffer."

She couldn't sleep well after Glenn was born.

Eden said, "That's good. Children like to look at the outside world. When they get excited, they don't want to sleep."

Buddy glanced at Glenn and said with gentle eyes, "Now he sleeps a lot during the day. He falls asleep at one o'clock at noon, and he won't wake up until four o'clock in the next morning."

Victor said, "Can the child sleep for so long?"

Buddy said, "So he sleeps very late at night!"

He felt sorry for Zofia, because she had to get up many times every night and couldn't sleep soundly. But Glenn didn't want him to hug him.

Sometimes, as long as he made a sound, Glenn would cry, and he felt so helpless.

Eden smiled and said, "Some children don't like to hear their father's voices at night. When I lived in Gate City before, my neighbour's child was like this. When his father spoke at night, he immediately cried."

Buddy was stunned and a little worried.

"Ha-ha..." When Zofia heard this, she couldn't help laughing, "Eden, aren't you talking about Buddy? As soon as he speaks, Glenn cries more sadly."

"Oh... Ha-ha!" Eden looked at Buddy and laughed. It turned out that he was the same.

Buddy glared at Glenn. He loved Glenn so much. But why didn't Glenn like him?

"Mom, Glenn is too cute. It will be great if aunt Zofia always lives in our house." Henrick looked at Glenn with a happy face. Glenn seemed to be more delighted when there were many people at home. He looked around curiously with his big and bright eyes and giggled. Although Glenn drooled, Henrick liked him so much.

Eden smiled and said, "Ricky, if you like Glenn, you can come to visit him on weekends."

"Okay! I'll come here every weekend, and I can accompany grandpa and grandma as well." Henrick smiled and kept nodding. Days in River City were much more interesting than the days in Gate City, and he had more relatives here.

Wyatt was overjoyed to hear that.

They chatted for a long time before Eden went back.

The next day, Victor went to work happily, while Eden asked the driver to send her to the hospital to see Abigail.

As soon as she arrived at the hospital, she met Jasper who had rushed back in a hurry. He was wearing a white shirt and dark-colored trousers. His legs were long and slender, and he looked so noble and steady.

"Eden." Jasper saw Eden first and looked at her excitedly with a smile.

"Jasper, I haven't seen you for a long time." Eden smiled brightly and waved to Jasper.

Jasper looked at her with pain in his dark eyes. Seeing that Eden was sitting in a wheelchair, he felt a sharp pain in his heart.

"Eden", he wanted to say something but instantly choked with sobs.

He lowered his body slowly and hugged Eden tightly.

Such a silly girl! Why didn't she take good care of herself?

Eden patted him on the back and said with a smile, "I'm fine. I'll be able to stand up soon."

Jasper's eyes started getting wet. He couldn't bear to see her like this.

"Really?" He asked softly.

"Yes!" Eden smiled and nodded. "My legs are weak because I have slept for too long. I will be fine after a while. You really don't have to worry."

"Silly girl. How can I not worry? Every time I went to the hospital to see you, you were always lying there so quietly. Do you know how sad I felt?" Jasper was still hugging her tightly. During the time when Eden was unconscious, he could only work as hard as he could to make sure that he didn't have time to sorrow.

Eden was married now, so he could not stay by her side all the time, nor could he take care of her and talk to her every day. His heart ached a lot every time when he thought of this.

He decided to let her go because he wanted her to be happy, but not to suffer.

He was really in great pain during the time when she was unconscious.

Eden knew how he felt and how helpless he was when seeing her like this.

"Jasper, I'm fine now. You really don't have to worry about me."

Jasper finally let her go and stood back up. He looked at her pale face, a great sorrow came across his red eyes.

Eden was still looking at him with a bright smile. She knew this was the only way to make him feel less worried.

Looking at her face, Jasper also tried to put a smile on, but he didn't manage it well.

"Come on, let's go and find Abby."

"Sure!" Jasper pushed her wheelchair and asked with his brows knitted, "Why did you come alone? What would you do if there were steps?"

Eden smiled and said, "I have already checked the route when I came here yesterday. This is an electric wheelchair, so I will be totally fine. I can go directly to the ward by taking the elevator from the parking lot."

Jasper didn't say anything. He knew she was a person who didn't like to bother anyone else.

The two of them came to Abigail's ward. Abigail had already done a full-body examination and was currently resting on the bed.

Seeing the two of them came in together, she smiled and asked, "How did you guys come together?"

Anson also nodded at them as a greeting.

Seeing that Abigail looked much better today, Eden smiled and said, "We met outside. Have you done the check-up? How did it go?"

Abigail nodded happily. "Yes, and there's not much of a problem. I can leave soon." As long as she rested well, there should not be any problems.

Hearing this, Eden breathed a sigh of relief. "That's great news!"

Abigail also looked relieved. "Did I scare you yesterday?"

"Yes!" Eden nodded, feeling tears were going to come out as soon as she thought of it. But she was really happy now that nothing serious had happened to Abigail.

"Silly girl. It scared myself too," said Abigail. She did not sleep well the whole night.

Luckily, Anson was there with her the whole time, which really made her feel much better.

She had to admit that she always felt so warm whenever Anson was with her.

Anson also looked at her and smiled gently. He didn't sleep the whole night, so his face was a little haggard.

"Jasper, you've been on a business trip for a while this time, haven't you?" Abigail said with a happy face.

"Yes!" Jasper nodded, "It took me a long time to check the whole fabric market."

Then he turned his face to Eden and continued, "Eden, I went to Gate City and Lemmon City, and I also did my research for you. I'll send you the information later when I have time."

"Wow! Thank you, Jasper!" Eden smiled gratefully. It seemed that she didn't need to go to Lemmon City this year.

Jasper would always think of her no matter what he did.

"You are more than welcome," said Jasper. "Why don't you treat me to breakfast then if you want to thank me? I'm so hungry now." He rushed to the hospital as soon as he got off the plane, so he was really hungry at the moment. What's more, they hadn't had breakfast together for a long time.

"I'm hungry too!" Abigail looked at Eden with a pitiful look.

Anson, who had been looking at them chatting, finally understood why Victor was so bothered about Jasper. It seemed that Jasper was really good to Eden.

Eden looked at them and smiled, "Okay, okay. I'll treat you to something delicious."

"Where are we going then? I can go out to eat." Abigail got excited instantly. She really had had enough to stay in the hospital.

She looked more adorable when she was like this.

Anson couldn't help but smile. "Let me take you all out for a meal," said Anson. "Let's go to River City Restaurant. Jasper, you are my future brother-in-law, so I'll have to pay for this meal. Abby doesn't have any more injections to do today, so I'll get Mark to go for the admission procedure, and I'll send Abby home after the meal."

Abigail glanced at Anson and got even more excited. "The River City Restaurant? I love the food there! Let's go right now!"

Then, she looked at Eden with a smile. "Eden, you will have to treat me something else next time!"

Looking at her happy face which made her look like a little girl who first fell in love, Eden also smiled with pleasure.

"Alright!" She nodded.

Then, the four of them set off for the River City Restaurant together.

Anson was a frequent visitor to River City Restaurant.

He always accompanied Victor here to have meals with his clients.

So the manager there already knew him.

After bringing them into the private room, Anson asked the three of them to order the dishes.

Abigail did not eat much the night before, so she ordered a lot of dishes that she liked, and then waited with a glass of juice in hand.

"Eden, to be honest, after I tried so many different restaurants, this place is still my favorite."

"I like their porridge very much," Eden said with a smile. She had just had the porridge here the evening before. The seafood porridge was really good, as well as the dessert, which was sweet but not too rich.

Jasper glanced at the two of them and said, "Mr. Skye, have you thought everything through yet?" He felt he had been seeing her sister upset for all this time.

Actually, he had never seen her being this sad before even though they were living with each other.

Anson looked at him with a guilty face and said, "I know I made a mistake. I thought Abby could be happier if I didn't see her. But I didn't make her happier at all. Instead, we both experienced a tough time on our own. Now, I'm not going to leave Abby anymore."

After this, he smiled brightly as he looked at Abigail.

However, Abigail rolled her eyes at him.

Chapter 1010

Anson smiled and looked at Abigail, "Abby, my mom will be very happy when she hears this. She has been missing you." His mother also liked Abby and felt that they got along very well. She would be very sad if she couldn't have Abby as a family member. Now he was with Abby, his mother will definitely be very happy.

"Really?" Abigail smiled. She felt his mother was a very kind person.

And she could tell that she would be a great mother-in-law in the future.

It was very important to have a nice mother-in-law. Otherwise, it would be hard to live a happy life together.

All mothers had put into a lot of effort to raise their children up, so Abby would certainly treat her mother-in-law as her own mother.

Just like Aunt Jaida and Eden, who respected and loved each other, therefore, they lived a happy and peaceful life.

"Yes!" Anson smiled and nodded. He was grateful that she had never given up on him. "Abby, when will I be able to meet your parents?"

Jasper smiled and said, "It's not easy to see my parents. They're both abroad and haven't come back for more than ten years."

Eden also smiled and said, "Anson, I've known Abby for almost eight years, but I only met her parents through video chat. If you want to see them, you will have to go abroad."

"That's true. My parents are very busy, so they never have any time," said Abigail.

Anson looked at her and said seriously, "I still have to meet them no matter where I go."

"That's the attitude you should have. Otherwise, I'm afraid my parents wouldn't accept you to be their son-in-law." After all, Joye Group had one of the best chateaus in the world.

Jasper looked at Eden. "By the way, Eden, my father has sent me a lot of precious red wine this time. I will go back and choose some good ones and send them to you."

"Wow! Thank you, Jasper." Their red wine was one of the best. It was sweet and mellow, and no other wines were even comparable.

Abigail asked, "Do you have the Sunset Love 1992?"

"Yes!" Jasper said with a smile.

"Then get a few bottles for me. I'll bring them over when I go to Anson's house."

Anson was surprised. The Sunset Love 1992 was one of the most famous red wine in the world, ranked second among all the wines, with a price of 3.5 million for one bottle.

However, Abby just asked for several bottles. It seemed that their family's business was indeed huge.

The dishes were soon served. Everyone was not very well other than Jasper, so they all ordered healthy and light food.

Anson took the chicken soup and placed it in front of Abigail. "Abby, you should have this while it's hot."

"Sure!" Abigail pursed her lips and smiled. She took a sip of the chicken soup, feeling her strength being renewed from the nourishment.

"It's so delicious!" Abigail looked at Anson and smiled.

Looking at her sweet smile, Anson felt so much better. He wished that she could be this happy forever.

Jasper also put some chicken soup in front of Eden and said, "Eden, you should also have some."

"Thank you, Jasper. You should eat some as well. You're hungry, aren't you?" Said Eden.

"Okay!" Jasper put on a gentle smile and then picked up his chopsticks.

Abigail had taken a few sips of chicken soup, then quietly lifted her head and glanced at Anson. His elegant and handsome face was almost perfect and flawless. He had lost a little bit of weight, but it made him look even more charming.

Surely, the man she liked would not be any worse than anyone else.

Just as she was thinking about this, Anson had already put a shrimp in her bowl.

"Have some shrimp. I will get them for you."

Abigail burst into laughter and said, "You can't spoil me too much. Will you always be like this? Or will you change after a while?"

She didn't plan to forgive him so quickly, but she couldn't bear to make him suffer more.

After all, they had been through a lot already.

"Of course I will be like this forever. This is how a man should treat his wife." Anson whispered in her ear, and it seemed that he already got his humor back.

However, there was a slight blush on his handsome face, which made Abigail want to smile even more.

She laughed slightly, feeling so sweet in her heart.

She felt Anson had totally changed from the first time when they met. But she felt she really liked him like his now.

She thought he was just a typical frivolous guy who was from a rich family, however, after they got to know each other more, she realized that he was actually very different from others.

Sometimes he was very calm and reserved, and sometimes he was very interesting and funny. She was so glad that she noticed the different sides of him after spending a long time with him.

Looking at them like this, Eden and Jasper glanced at each other and smiled quietly.

Jasper whispered in Eden's ear, "If I had known this earlier, we wouldn't have come with them. Look at them. They don't need us here at all."

Eden also smiled and nodded. "Yes. Look at your future brother-in-law. He is so good to Abby. You can rest assured in the future."

Jasper lowered his head and glanced at her. He was also a good man himself, but why didn't Eden like him?

He felt a little annoyed whenever he thought of this.

He smiled and said, "I'll get some shrimp for you, and you should eat more."

"I'm alright. You should eat more yourself. I don't want to see you starve yourself." Eden picked up a piece of fish for him as speaking.

"I'm not too hungry now," Jasper said with a smile. "Look at you. You were already skinny enough, but now you lost more weight."

"Did I?" Eden lowed her head and looked at herself, feeling that nothing had changed.

"Of course. You are too skinny now." After this, he put three more shrimps on Eden's plate.

Looking at them, Anson couldn't help but think if Eden and Jasper would be together if she didn't meet Victor.

He didn't know why, but he was always so certain in his heart that they would.

Jasper got another shrimp and put it directly into Eden's mouth.

However, at this time, Victor pushed the door open and entered the room.

And he happened to see this.

There was a sudden flash of anger in his eyes, and he felt irritation surged up inside him instantly.

"Victor, why are you here?"

Anson looked at Victor and saw that his face was full of anger and jealousy. He totally understood the feeling of seeing the woman he loved was with someone else.

Victor walked in with a dark face. He glanced at Eden and sat down next to her.

Eden smiled and looked at him. "Victor, have you had dinner yet?"

He looked at her with his dark eyes. Shouldn't she be keeping a distance from Jasper now?

How could she not refuse it when Jasper put food in her mouth...

He said in a low voice, "I told you yesterday that I wanted to buy this place. I came here today to talk about the contract. After the formalities are completed, this restaurant will belong to us."
