

Gluey Love 1041

Chapter 1041

"Malcom, let's talk about Clement Group." Haven was looking forward to his good advice.

Grandma Clement had woken up, but her attitude towards her was completely different from before, which made her so worried.

However, Malcom only smiled and pinched her cheek. With doting eyes, he smiled, "Haven, you are too impatient. I'll tell you after the meal."

Haven was not in a hurry. They had a whole day to talk to each other.

Ten minutes later, the takeout was delivered. Malcom took it and put it on the table before carrying Haven to the seat.

Haven liked this feeling very much. In front of Vincent, she was like a maid, but Malcom treated her like a queen.

Malcom had ordered quite a few dishes, all of which were Haven's favorite.

Seeing how considerate he was, Haven felt very warm in heart.

After lunch, they had a horrid s*x again.

Haven didn't know why he was so energetic, but Malcom was so tender that she didn't have time to think too much.

It wasn't until four o'clock in the afternoon that they got up from bed. Malcom took out his laptop, put it on his knee and showed a photo to Haven, "Is this your eldest brother?"

"Mm!" Haven nodded. Delmont was brainless, and he always looked arrogant. It was hard to read the expressions on his sharp-featured face. When she looked at him from a distance, he gave her a sense of alienation and indifference.

But when she talked with him, he was very straightforward and didn't think carefully before speaking.

Malcom smiled evilly and looked completely different from usual. He no longer looked calm. Instead, he looked dispirited and malicious as if he had experienced a lot of bad things, "Haven, we can aim at him first and throw the Clement family into confusion. I sent someone to follow him recently, and I found that he likes to go to nightclubs and goes home late at night."

"Oh!" Haven frowned slightly, "That's a good idea."

If bad things happened to the Clement family constantly, they would have no time to manage the company.

The supermarkets which were in the charge of Delmont would be closed up for a period of time.

At that time, the only person who could manage the company would be Wyatt. Wyatt trusted her quite much. From his words and deeds, she could tell that he didn't know what she had done. He didn't guard against her like Aisling, so she had the opportunity to carry out her plan.

Haven asked in a low voice, "Malcom, what do you want to do?"

Malcom whispered a few words in her ear.

Haven's expression changed dramatically when she heard that, "Are you sure you can do it well?"

Malcom smiled and held her slender waist, saying, "Haven, if you believe me, leave it to me. But you have to give me some money. I don't have much money. I need to hire someone."

Haven nodded with understanding, "I see. I'll give the money to you later." She had become richer than before because she owned the shares of Alwynn Group and had a steady source of income.

She had cheated Myra of millions of dollars, and she hadn't used it. The money came in very handy.

"Eden, you can only blame yourself for being too kind, and you're so rich because Victor is your husband. Moreover, I know you very well. You have been cheated by me but you don't even know." Haven thought.

She took out a bank card from her bag and gave it to Malcom, "There are one million dollars in this card. It should be enough."

Malcom's eyes lit up when he heard that there were one million dollars. He kissed Haven on the face heavily, "Haven, it's enough. I'll take actions tonight. Wait for my good news."

"Okay!" Haven smiled. Her plan was being carried out step by step. Compared with doing it by herself, it would be safer to let Malcom do it.

Malcom rubbed his lips against Haven's hair, and he was obsessed with her faint fragrance.

Since the first time he saw Haven, he had been infatuated with her and wanted to own her completely.

"Ha-ha..." Haven laughed, "Malcom, as long as I can get Clement Group, I will divorce Vincent and marry you."

The premise was that he could help her get Clement Group.

Besides, she could only use herself as a bargaining chip.

Malcom smiled gently, "Haven, that's what you said. From tomorrow on, I will use my techniques to transfer a sum of money from Clement Group to your account every day. At the beginning, I won't transfer lots of money so that they won't notice it. A month later, I will transfer a big amount of money to you. I'll let you get all the money so that Clement Group will truly become yours. But you must keep your promise and marry me after you succeed."

If she married him, he could take over Clement Group in a right and proper way.

He had been poor for so long that he hated poor days. This kind of life made him suffer every day.

However, Haven had changed his life. On the one hand, he was attracted to her beauty. On the other hand, she was very ambitious and he could make use of her.

He wanted to become as rich as Victor, and wanted to own a twenty-storey or even a higher building.

However, with his own family background, he could never get such achievement.

Haven was like his shortcut to success.

He would let her own Clement Group in a legal way and then made it his.

The Clement family was the second richest family in River City, so the property they owned would definitely be beyond his imagination.

Hearing that, Haven was shocked.

She asked in a deep voice, "Malcom, can we really do that?" Her heart instantly tensed up. If they succeed, she would soon get Clement Group.

These days, she had not been idle and had been learning how to run business. Besides, she had been influenced by her surroundings since she was a child, so she was confident that she could manage Clement Group well.

"Mm!" Malcom turned off the computer.

He had known everyone in the Clement family very well.

He got out of bed, opened the wardrobe, took out a white shirt and put it on.

Haven saw countless of scratches marks on his back, and she was slightly stunned. She actually hurt him so badly while she reached orgasm.

She had never done that to Vincent.

Malcom was really much better than Vincent.

The scenes of them having sex came to her mind, which was something she had never imagined before.

Words couldn't describe how she felt at that time. Anyway, she was satisfied.

Sunday was the last day for Victor and Eden to stay on the island.

Victor went out for a blow with Eden early in the morning.

Eden liked here very much and smiled all the time.

Victor chuckled, "Eden, I made your favorite seafood today. You can eat it when you go back."

"Okay!" Eden smiled. Suddenly, her phone rang. It was Aisling calling her.

"Hello? Mom."

Aisling said anxiously, "Eden, you may have to come back in advance. Delmont has an accident."

Chapter 1042

Hearing that, Eden was slightly stunned. Did something happen to Delmont?

"Mom, say it slowly. What happened to Delmont?" Eden grabbed the phone more tightly.

Victor suddenly stopped and did not push her forward.

"Eden, Delmont went to the nightclub last night and played with his fair-weather friends. As a result, someone said that he took drugs. Moreover, the police found evidence in his car and he has been sent to jail. But he said that he was wronged and he had never taken drugs."

Eden knew what Aisling meant when she heard that.

The police found evidence in Delmont's car, but he insisted on saying that he had not taken drugs. What was going on?

"Mom, we'll be back soon."

After Eden hung up the phone, she looked at Victor, "We have to go back first. Something had happened to Delmont. He has been sent to jail because of taking drugs."

"Okay!" Victor nodded and said in a deep voice.

He took out his phone and called Lucian.

"Hello?" Lucian's tone sounded unhappy. On weekends, what he feared the most was to answer Victor's phone call. After Anson worked in Aurora Entertainment, Victor always ordered him to do some extra work, which made him so annoyed.

Victor said, "Contact our lawyer and ask him to go somewhere. I'll send you the address later."

Lucian asked, "What happened this weekend?"

Victor replied, "Delmont has got into trouble because of drugs."

Lucian instantly understood what he meant.

"I see."

After hanging up the phone, Victor looked at Eden, "Don't worry. Lucian and our lawyer will go there."

Eden nodded with a solemn face, "Mother said that the police found evidence in his car, but he said that he didn't take drugs."

Victor pondered for a moment and said, "I'll call Kenny and let him investigate it."

"Alright!" Eden nodded.

After Victor called Kenny, he and Eden went back to River City on his own plane. In the evening, they arrived and went straight to see Delmont.

Delmont's face was haggard, and he looked very dejected. He sat on the chair heavily. The chair couldn't bear his weight and creaked.

Seeing Eden and Victor, he said with a wronged face, "Eden, you have to believe me. I will never take drugs. I was really framed by someone."

Victor and Eden looked at each other, and then Victor asked, "Delmont, are you sure you really didn't take drugs?"

Delmont looked at him helplessly. His lips were dry, and it could be seen that he was very anxious. He was at a loss, because no one was willing to believe him though he had said it many times.

"Victor, no matter how I self-indulgent am, I won't take drugs. Besides, I have said this many times, and I have told your lawyer about it, but no one believes me."

After that, he looked at Eden, "I'm no longer young, and I know what I should do and what I shouldn't. You know that I am straightforward and I have always been trying my best to live. I want to live up to my ideal of myself. Dad let me be in charge of the supermarkets, and I've been working hard. I would never do such a thing to ruin my future. You must find out who has framed me."

Eden nodded, "Delmont, I believe in you. But think about it. Have you ever offended anyone?"

Delmont shook his head slightly and said in a deep voice, "I thought about it when I was caught. I haven't offended anyone. I've always been very generous to others. Furthermore, I haven't offended or abandoned any woman."

Victor said, "Do as the lawyer said. We will find out the truth as soon as possible."

"Mm!" Delmont nodded with a serious face.

"By the way, Victor, I didn't even touch the drugs, so there is definitely no my fingerprints on the evidence."

This time, he was not stupid at all.

"I see. I'll tell the lawyer about it." Victor said.

"Okay! Just go back. The prison is not a good place." After saying that, Delmont went back alone.

Victor and Eden watched him open the iron door and go in.

Eden felt very sad in heart.

After they came out of the prison and got in the car, Eden guessed boldly, "Could it be Haven?" Except Haven, she could not think of anyone else.

Only when something bad happened to the Clement family would she have a chance to carry out her plan.

Haven knew Delmont's character very well.

Looking at her, Victor nodded and said with brooding eyes, "Eden, I have the same idea. But since there is no evidence, we can't prove Delmont's innocence. Let's go to the company first. Lucian and Kenny are both in the company."

"Alright!" Eden replied.

Victor took Eden to the company.

In Lucian's office on the 25th floor.

Lucian and Kenny sat in front of the computer and watched Victor and Eden come in.

Kenny finally smiled and said, "Dad, mom, you are back."

Eden's heart melted when she looked at Kenny's delicate little face, "Kenny, Mr. Ronen, thank you for your hard work."

Seeing that Eden and Victor were deep in love, Lucian smiled. Hypocritical love made people suffer, but true love made people more excellent. After being with Eden, Victor had a more successful career.

"You were dating happily, but you were asked to go back all of a sudden. Aren't you angry?" Lucian asked casually.

Victor had prepared for this trip for a long time, and he was very attentive to Eden. He studied the recipes and learned how to cook for her, which was something that had never happened before.

Victor said, "I'm a little unhappy indeed, but that's my brother-in-law. I can't leave him alone."

"Ha-ha..." Lucian chuckled, "That's right, but you might have come back in vain. Delmont is very likely to have been framed."

"Kenny and I have investigated it. All the surveillance videos in the nightclubs he went to last night have been destroyed. From the only surveillance video, we can see that he was taking drugs in a private box, and he seemed to be enjoying himself, but his urine test proved negative. This video has been edited by someone. That person is a great hacker. We can not find any information through the IP address."

Victor's face turned serious, "The person is so cautious, and must have been fully prepared."

"That's right!" Lucian's expression turned grave as well, "You know that if we don't have enough evidence, Delmont will not be released."

Eden suddenly said, "If something bad happens to Delmont, who will benefit from it the most?"

They immediately looked at Eden.

Victor sat on the sofa and said with his face darkened, "Delmont has been managing the supermarkets. If something bad happens to him, it will do no good to the Clement family. It will only make Buddy, dad and mom busier."

Chapter 1043

Eden lowered her head slightly. Her long lashes fluttered, and her eyes were blazing with the flames of fury. Could it be Haven?

Haven hated her very much. She still remembered what Haven said very clearly.

She would not let go of her family.

When Eden thought about it, anger was growing and bubbling up inside her.

She took out her phone and dialed Haven's number.

At this time, in order to celebrate with Malcom, Have had made love with him several times in the bathroom crazily.

The phone was on the table outside. Eden called her twice, but no one answered it.

Eden hung up the phone. Victor knew what she wanted to do.

"Eden, even if you go to see her, she won't admit, and this is not something she can do alone."

Eden knew that Haven wouldn't admit it, but she wanted to meet her and sound her out.

She suddenly looked at Kenny and asked, "Kenny, did you say that Malcom is an awesome hacker?"

Kenneth nodded, "Yeah. When the new product launch was held, my master competed with him personally. He is powerful, so we have been on guard against him."

Eden looked at Victor again, "So, would it be easy for Haven to frame Delmont with the help of Malcom?"

"Mm!" Victor nodded and straightened up slightly. Seeing her worried expression, he couldn't help but frown, "Eden, don't be so anxious. We have to get some evidence first."

"I know." Eden lowered her head. She was a little tired, but she didn't want to rest.

Anxiety and worry exhausted her even more.

Victor crossed his slender legs coldly and called Brian.

"Hello? Mr. Alwynn."

"Brian, where is Haven now?"

Brian said, "Mr. Alwynn, she's in Malcom's apartment. Yesterday, Haven stayed there for a whole day and left in the evening, and Malcom left before her. Today, they met again, but Malcom lives on the 25th floor, so I can't know what they are doing for the time being."

Victor ordered him, "I see! Now you have to keep an eye on both Haven and Malcom."

"Okay, Mr. Alwynn."

After hanging up the phone, Victor frowned slightly.

However, Kenny looked at the computer and said, "Uncle Lucian, look at this."

Lucian bent down slightly and took a look at the video. In the fire passage in the night club Delmont went last night, a man was handing some money to a waiter.

The man lowered his head, so they couldn't see his face clearly.

He frowned slightly and said, "If he wanted to give the waiter a tip, he didn't have to come here. Moreover, he is extremely familiar to me. Have I seen him before?"

Victor walked over and had a look. The man looked a little familiar.

"This person is... Malcom." Victor looked at the man's figure. It was Malcom indeed. Although he had only seen Malcom once, he remembered him clearly.

That day, he saw Malcom outside the door, and this man was very similar to Malcom.

Lucian glanced at him, "Are you sure?"

Victor said, "Yeah! Take a screenshot and send it to Brian. Let Brian see if Malcom was wearing this clothes when he left the apartment yesterday."

"Alright!" Lucian nodded.

Kenny immediately took a screenshot and sent it to Lucian.

Compared with the man in the video, their clothes were exactly the same.

Lucian's tone was quite serious as he replied, "That's him."

The expression on Victor's handsome face turned somewhat stern, "It was definitely not a coincidence. Ask Brian to find this waiter as fast as he can."

Lucian shook his head slightly, "I'm afraid it's late to find this waiter now."

Victor glanced at him, and there were horrible emotions in his eyes as he said, "Since he worked here, there would be his ID information. Let Brian investigate it. Even if he has gone abroad, you have to find him."

"Alright!" Lucian nodded. The waiter was their only clue.

He lowered his head and sent a message to Brian.

Seeing that they had got some clues, Eden heaved a sigh of relief.

Then she called Wyatt and Aisling to comfort them. After having dinner with Lucian, she, Victor and Kenny went home.

On the way back, Eden had fallen asleep in the car.

Victor and Kenneth did not wake her up. After arriving home, Victor carried her back to their bedroom.

After watching her fall asleep, Victor returned to the living room.

Jaida and Zaiden had heard the news about Delmont, and they were waiting for them to come back.

AS soon as Victor returned to the living room, Jaida couldn't help but ask, "Victor, have you got any evidence to help Delmont?"

Victor sat on the sofa nearby.

Jaida poured a glass of warm water for him. He took a sip and said, "Dad, mom, this matter is a little tricky, and now we're investigating it."

Zaiden looked at him with a frown, "Delmont is such a straightforward person. It's impossible for him to take drugs."

Victor nodded, "He may have been framed, but we must find the evidence now."

"Oh!" Zaiden showed an angry expression rarely, "Why? Why was he framed?"

Victor shook his head slightly and smiled weirdly, "Dad, if you want to know the reason, you have to wait!"

Zaiden nodded with understanding. Seeing that Victor was confident, he was relieved, "I found that the nightclub Delmont went to last night happens to be run by my old friend. This is his card. With my help, you will find out the truth more easily. After all, he is Eden's elder brother. I can't bear to see Eden feel so sad." Eden was still weak, but she was very strong in heart and had a great learning capability.

He asked her to learn real estate knowledge, and she could soon master the essentials. He was quite satisfied with her.

Victor looked at the card in his hand with a smile and waved it at Zaiden, "Dad, with your help, we will soon find out whether Delmont has been framed or not."

"Okay! Let Eden be happy soon." Zaiden said and went back to the room to rest with Jaida.

At this time, Gia ran downstairs, "Dad, you are back. Where is mom?"

Victor looked up at her and smiled. When he found that Gia's face was gloomy, the smile froze on his face, "Gia, your mom... is asleep."

"So early?" Giada looked so wronged.

Seeing her like this, Victor was stunned. After treatment, the scars on her forehead had become very light. Then he asked with a guilty conscience, "Did you quarrel with Ricky again?"

"Humph!" Giada said with annoyance, "He tore the painting I had just drawn! I don't know what's wrong with him today, and he keeps chattering. Moreover, he topped up his game account today."

Chapter 1044

Well...

Victor was speechless. Could he pretend that he didn't hear anything? He had no way to solve the problem between Ricky and Gia. No matter how he dealt with it, he couldn't be completely fair.

They had their own reasons. No matter whom he spoke for, the other one would be unhappy.

"Ha-ha..." Victor smiled, "Gia, why did Ricky tear up your painting?"

Giada said angrily, "I stained his clothes with the paint by accident. He seemed to have gone mad today and tore my painting in a fit of anger."

Victor was stunned. Was Ricky that bad-temper?

Why didn't he believe Gia words?

"Dad, don't believe her. She's exaggerating. She didn't paint in her room, but came to my room. I was playing games at that time. She accidentally knocked over the paint on my clothes. The painting was ruined, and my shirt was dirty, so I helped her tear up the painting." Kenneth explained as he went downstairs.

He and Gia were simply enemies.

Victor looked at Henrick who ran down without wearing his shoes.

He was somewhat hesitant. Who should he believe?

"Humph! I've told you to move aside. You didn't listen to me." Giada glared at him with her beautiful eyes.

Henrick glared at him madly as well, "Aren't you ashamed to say that? It's not easy for me to have a day off, but you had to make trouble in my room."

Giada's face was filled with grievances when she heard that, "I'm lonely, aren't I? Kenny isn't at home, and Boris didn't come here to play, so I went to play with you. I didn't want you to be as lonely as me, did I?"

Henrick was speechless and gave her a thumbs-up.

"Gia, you really know how to make me suffer. I can't outargue you, because you can give a false account of the true facts. You can always be the reasonable one."

Victor asked in a low voice, "How do you know that?"

Henrick said proudly, "Dad, you are so stupid. She pretends to be unconcerned, but in fact, she is very jealous of me. She just doesn't want me to rest because she can't have a rest. That is why she made troubles in my room."

"Humph! I said that I wanted to keep you company, and I went to your room with good intentions. But you actually say so! How ungrateful you are!"

"Ha-ha..." Kenneth sneered, "Giada, what hurt me is what you said. I've confirmed that I had a grudge against you in my past life."

Giada was speechless for a moment. Henrick spoke so harshly that day.

She clapped her hands quickly and said with a cold smile, "I applaud for you. You have such a rich imagination and believe that you have last life. I believe that there is no next life. In the next life, we can't be brother and sister anymore."

"Humph! You are a devil. I am unlucky enough to meet you in this life. When I see you in the next life, I will definitely run away." Kenneth retorted, not willing to show weakness.

"Bah! You are so shameless! If you have the ability to arrange your next life, I will be obedient to you. Unfortunately, even if you do good things for a life time, you can't arrange your next life well."

Victor was taken aback. It was the first time he had seen such a way of quarrel. They hadn't grown up yet. Why did they talk about the next life?

He'd better... leave here quietly.

He got up and walked step by step toward his room.

He walked a few steps and felt that it was a bit cowardly for him to leave like this.

He stopped, looked at them and smiled, "Alright. Ricky, Gia, since you're both wrong, shake hands and make it up."

"I did nothing wrong."

"I didn't do anything wrong." They roared at him at the same time.

Victor was helpless. Why did he feel that both of them were wrong?

"Humph! Henrick, I won't talk to you anymore. Everyone does something despicable, but don't annoy me again and again." After saying this, Giada went upstairs with annoyance.

Kenneth smiled wickedly and roared, "Giada, everyone is changeable. Please pay attention to your words and actions. Behave yourself when I'm still polite to you."

Giada, who was already on the stairs, turned around and glared at him, "Is that so? You'll be an evil man by the time I behave myself."

Henrick was rendered speechless.

He followed up angrily. Victor was afraid that they would be right, so he immediately stopped Henrick, "Ricky, she is your younger sister."

Henrick answered without turning back, "Should I humour her just because she's my sister? She made trouble first."

Chapter 1045

Being roared at by Ricky, Victor suddenly had nothing to say.

Eden was the best at dealing with their conflict.

Watching them leave angrily, Victor was a little nervous, for fear that they would fight again.

He followed them on tiptoes, but he heard the sound of the two doors being slammed shut.

He finally rest assured and smiled.

It was good that they went back to their own rooms.

He turned around, went downstairs and turned off the lights in the living room before going to take a bath and rest.

Early the next morning, Eden still followed Victor to work in the company. The summer collection was very important.

During this time, she had read a lot of information at home and checked the styles of other brands of all countries. She had specifics ideas and inspiration, and she wanted to begin to work. At the beginning of the summer, they could release their summer collection.

She was used to working and didn't intend to change her life. As long as she could move, she would not stop working.

Even Victor couldn't stop her dream.

Originally, Victor didn't allow her to work because she was not in good health.

But if she didn't come to work, Victor didn't want to stay in the company.

She could only come to the company.

Besides, she had to solve Delmont's problem as soon as possible.

Amelia was in a particularly good mood when she saw Eden coming to work.

The white dress was very suitable for Eden, and she looked pure and charming. Amelia looked at Eden and said with a smile, "Director Bleu, if you need anything, just tell me. Don't be polite with me. You can ask me to make tea or coffee for you."

Eden raised her head and looked at her with a grin, "Amelia, I haven't come to work for almost half a year. You've been working hard during this period of time. Look at you. You've lost much weight. I'm much better now, and I'll come to work everyday."

"Director Bleu, it's okay!" Amelia laughed happily and said with some embarrassment, "Director Bleu, my life has improved a lot because of the overtime pay." Recently, her elder brother always gambled outside and asked her for money when he got home. If she didn't give him money, he would smash things and curse.

She was so annoyed that she would rather work here all the time than go back.

Her elder brother had gone too far. This was her mother's fault. She spoiled him too much.

Her brother was a spoilt brat, and her mother had to suffer when she was old.

Anyway, she would not give her brother a penny.

As for her mother...

"Ha-ha..."

She sneered in her heart. When she was young, her mother gave all the good things to her brother, and she grew up in envy. At this time, she had to be responsible for supporting her family. Sometimes, she thought that her life was really miserable.

But that was her mother, and she couldn't leave her alone.

Eden had been in coma for a few months before she woke up, which made her understood that life was unpredictable. It was very important to live according to her own will.

"Ha-ha..." Eden laughed. Amelia had become thinner, and her face looked more exquisite. Her skin was very fair and smooth. Although she didn't spend money on maintaining her skin, her youthfulness was her advantage.

"Amelia, how is your mother now?"

Amelia said with a wry smile, "Now her condition has been stabilized, but I guess she'll get ill again because of my elder brother. My elder gambles outside all day long. During this period of time, he can't get money when he goes home, so he always smashes things and scolds my mother."

Hearing this, Eden frowned, "No one can earn money by gambling. He has to get a formal job."

Amelia smiled helplessly, "Director Bleu, my mother deserves it. My brother is spoiled by her."

Amelia's eyes blurred with tears when she said this, and she felt extremely bitter in her heart, "My mom values my elder brother only. In her heart, he is more important than anything else. She gave all the good food and nice clothes to my elder brother. When I was a child, I even wore the clothes that he didn't want."

"If we could afford to buy beef and shrimps, she would let my elder brother eat up all the food. I could only eat a little, and it depended on whether she was in a good mood."

When Eden heard this, she was shocked. Was there such a mother in this world?

She remembered that when she lived in the village when she was a child, the old people often said that ten sons were no better than one daughter.

Only the old people who had experienced a lot would say such words.

Everyone was different, but there were many filial sons and daughters in the world.

No matter how much hardship daughters had suffered, they wouldn't abandon their parents and would take care of them when they were old.

Eden smiled bitterly, "I suffered a lot when I was a child, because I am not their biological daughter. To my adoptive father and mother, I was like a time bomb. But I am different from you. You are your mother's biological daughter."

Thinking of her past, Amelia was overwhelmed by sorrow. She blinked her eyes to hide the sadness in her eyes and forced a smile, "Director Bleu, so I am the unluckiest biological daughter in the world. My mother is a real rural woman. She came to work in River City when she was young and has been living here. She values the male child only. When we were young, she cared about my brother so much. Now my brother is a good-for-nothing, but she still speaks for him. I am just afraid that my brother will suddenly get into trouble, and I won't be able to deal with it myself."

"He went home the night before yesterday and suddenly packed up his things and left. He said that he was rich and didn't want to live with us anymore. He gave my mother ten thousand dollars and asked her to buy new clothes. Then he never came back. I didn't care about it too much. Anyway, he never tells the truth."

Her house became much quieter because her brother didn't go home.

She worked overtime every day. When she returned home, she had been very tired. If she had to face her brother who cursed all day long, she would be exhausted.

Eden did not say anything else. Families had their problems.

The Clement family was the same.

To Eden, her past experience was grand special favour. Thanks to her past experience, she became maturer faster.

Eden smiled, "Amelia, don't be too sad. God is fair. He let us come to this world. Since we're miserable in some aspects, he will let us get happiness somewhere else. Don't worry."

"Mm!" Amelia grinned, "I look forward to such good luck."

Eden said, "Let's begin to work. Irene has been transferred, and the new manager is not familiar with the business. We have to work hard to get off work early."

"Okay!" Amelia smiled and lowered her head to work.

In Victor's office, Lucian took a stack of documents and walked in. Victor was reading the information on the computer.

Seeing Lucian, he asked, "Have you found out the identity of the waiter?"

Lucian nodded, "Yes, but he has left River City. Brian and his assistants are tracking him. They've gone to Gate City and we'll get the news very soon."

Chapter 1046

Lucian placed the information in front of Victor.

He pointed to the man on the document and said, "Thanks to Mr. Calder's connections, we found out his information so quickly. This man is named Neal Gambon, and he is a gambler. He worked part-time in the nightclub to earn some living expenses. Once he had money, he gambled it away. Malcom knew that he needed money, so he contacted him. As long as Neal confesses what happened that night, Delmont will be free from guilt."

Victor took a look at his name and smiled faintly, "Neal, what a nice name, but he is a compulsive gambler and has committed an offense. What a pity. Ask Brian to use his connections to full advantage and find him within three days."

Lucian replied, "I've asked him to do so. I'm afraid that three days are not enough. Brian has gone there with his assistants, and it takes him two days to go there and come back. I'm afraid it'll be a little difficult to find him in a day."

Victor looked up at him and said, "It's not difficult for us. Do you forget that my dad owns considerable real estate in Gate City?"

"Ha-ha..." Lucian laughed blandly and narrowed his eyes, "You're lucky. No matter what happens, you have a lot going for you."

"Ha-ha..." Victor smiled, crossed his hands to support his chin and said in an elegant and noble way, "This is my luck. I am indeed lucky."

He leaned back proudly.

Lucian chuckled and did not say anything.

"Dad, I'm here." Hearing Gia's voice, Victor was slightly stunned. Why did his little princess come here?

"Nice to meet you, Uncle Lucian." Giada walked in with fruit, bread and snacks in her hands.

"Mm! Hello, Gia." Lucian looked at her lovely face and smiled. She was as talented as her mother.

She could earn a lot of money by selling a painting.

"Mm!" Giada placed the snacks on the table.

Victor asked, "Gia, shouldn't you be in school now?"

Giada, "I asked for leave."

Victor was confused.

Her teacher didn't mention this in group chat.

Was she still unhappy because of what happened last night?

Giada took out the bread and took a bite. Looking at Victor's confused eyes, she said madly, "I... want to transfer to another school."

Victor was dumbfounded.

He stood up and looked at Gia with a smile, "Gia, why do you suddenly want to transfer to another school?"

With her heart full of bitterness, Gia puckered her mouth and was on the verge of tears, "I don't want to study in the same school with Ricky anymore. He is a superstar, and a lot of fans follow him no matter where he goes. When I went to school this morning, those girls rushed to send him gifts and knocked me down. This was not the most hateful thing. The most hateful thing was that he actually looked at me with a gloating expression and didn't even help me up. My knee bled."

Hearing this, Victor felt a little sad. Henrick, this brat, should humour Gia and help her.

"Let me take a look." Victor rolled up her trouser leg cautiously. She had a Band-Aid on her knee.

Victor was a little angry, "How about Kenny? Didn't he help you?"

Giada sneered. She had completed her front teeth, and her two lower teeth were still missing, but she still looked so cute, "Kenny said that Ricky was very popular these days, so he was very arrogant. He let me not care about these things."

Victor was stunned. Was Ricky arrogant just because he was famous?

However, Lucian laughed, "Ricky is developing very well indeed. In the newly announced poster of the new play, his rebellious expression is very impressive."

"Humph! Even if he is very successful, he couldn't do that to me, right? You seem to have forgotten that fate is very cruel. His life can get better, but everything is changeable. In the future, he may suffer a severe blow."

Giada said exasperatedly. She really wanted to see how long Ricky could maintain his popularity.

"What's more, he was just born three minutes earlier than me. How can he be my elder brother? If the doctor delivered us from another angle, I would definitely be his elder sister."

The more Giada said, the angrier she became. She slammed the bread forcefully on the table.

Victor didn't dare to speak.

Lucian was surprised. Gia was so furious.

However, every word she said hit the nail on the head.

Lucian asked, "Gia, where did you learn to say these words?"

Giada looked at him with listless eyes, "Uncle Lucian, nowadays, I can learn reading words with the help of phones. Then I read books and see a lot of reasons. I think that Ricky is going through a period of rebelling."

Then, she looked at Victor, "Dad, don't only care about mom. Pay attention to Ricky more. He is too strange these two days, and his nature has been completely exposed."

Victor asked cautiously, "Gia, what is his nature?" He really didn't know how to deal with these two children.

Giada looked at him with a displeased expression, "Just like you when you're bad."

Victor suddenly thought of the words, "Like father, like son."

However, Kenny inherited his evilness, and Kenny inherited his steadiness, while Gia was as stubborn as her mother.

Lucian could not help but laugh.

Gia knew Victor very well.

Victor smiled and reached out to pinch Gia's mad face, "Gia, I'll talk to Ricky when I go back tonight."

"Mm!" Only then did Giada feel much better.

"Where's my mother?" She got up, picked up the snack bag and wanted to see Eden.

Seeing this, Victor was envious, "Gia, your mom is in her office. My office is very big. Can you play here?" He said in a very gentle tone.

"No, I want mom." Giada pouted and went out.

Victor was speechless. What a heartless girl.

Lucian grinned, "You can't live in peace with these three children by your side, right?"

Victor sighed helplessly, "They're not like this every day. Ricky and Gia started to quarrel a few days ago. I've never been able to deal with them. You know that they are all my babies and I can't be partial."

"Ha-ha..." Lucian laughed, "Victor, you know what? Only the most incompetent men say that they can't deal with someone."

Victor was taken aback.

"Lucian, you say this too soon. You will know when you have children in the future." Victor glanced at him. In this era, children's thoughts were more maturer than theirs at that time.

The expression in Lucian's eyes changed slightly as he glanced at Victor. In fact, he, Adonis and Anson were all envious of Victor.

After all, he had married his beloved woman and had three children, which was the happiness they wanted the most.

Chapter 1047

He had a half-brother, and the relationship between them was especially bad.

His elder brother was afraid that he would get all the property of Ronen Family, so he gave him a blow in every aspect.

But he wouldn't give in. He wouldn't let his heartless brother take away everything that should belong to him.

Lucian stopped filling his mind with nonsense and said, "I'm going out to work."

"Alright!" Victor nodded, and his eyes turned upset.

Gia did not like to accompany him, which made him very depressed.

"Mom!" Giada ran to Eden's office happily.

Seeing Gia, Eden was slightly stunned, "Gia, you should be in class at this time. Why are you here?"

When Giada heard this, she puckered her mouth, "Mom, I knew you would say that. I'm on leave. Today's classes are not important. You don't have to worry about my study."

Eden narrowed her eyes slightly and looked at Gia's unhappy face, feeling somewhat helpless, "Did you quarrel with Ricky again?"

"Yeah!" Giada nodded. Compared to Victor, she was more afraid of Eden. She lowered her head and did not dare to look into Eden's cold eyes.

In front of Eden, she always spoke honestly.

Eden was a little speechless, "Haven't I told you to humor each other? Why do you always quarrel with each other? Even if you have quarreled with him, you can't ask for leave and come here. If you do this again, don't blame me for punishing you."

Giada looked up at her with grievances. Even if Ricky came here, he wouldn't gain any benefit. She'd better go home so that Eden wouldn't be annoyed. She had asked for leave, so she didn't want to go back to school.

"I'll go back right now. Master Wong is waiting for me in the parking lot." Giada turned around and left after saying that.

Eden looked at Gia's back and did not stop her, allowing her to leave.

Seeing this, Amelia asked with concern, "Director Bleu, should we let Gia leave like this?"

"Mm! We can't spoil children. It's easy for them to get used to it." Eden's tone was solemn. She had never slacked off in parenting.

She usually asked Gia and Ricky to solve their problems by themselves. She wouldn't meddle in unless they couldn't solve it.

Amelia got up and said with a smile, "Director Bleu, after all, she is a child. I'll go out and have a look. After I make sure that Gia gets on the car safely, I'll come back."

"Okay. Amelia, thank you!" Eden smiled. She was also a little worried. After Gia returned home, Jaida would look after her, and she could rest assured at that time.

After Amelia left, Eden picked up her phone and sent a message to Jaida.

Eden had just put down her phone when she saw Victor pushing open the door and coming in. Seeing that Gia was not here, he asked, "Eden, has Gia left?"

"Mm!" Eden nodded, "It seems that she went to your office first. She cut classes. Didn't you say anything to her?" Eden's tone was serious. Such a thing couldn't happen again.

Victor was taken aback.

He smiled, "Gia said she had asked for leave."

Eden looked at him seriously, "Victor, children have to understand the difference between right and wrong. Let her solve the problems between her and Ricky by herself. If she can't solve it, we can help her. But it is wrong for her to cut classes and go back."

This kind of bad emotions would cause a lot of trouble in Gia's life. Her friends would alienate her. The tolerance of this society was limited. She had to face the problem by herself so that she could grow up.

Victor looked at Eden's serious face. She was indeed an excellent mother.

"Honey, if Gia does this again, I will personally send her back to school."

Eden smiled, "We can't slack off in parenting."

Victor grinned, "Eden, I know. I'm here to tell you that Brain has found out the whereabouts of the waiter. As long as we can find him, Delmont will be released."

"Really?" Eden was pleasantly surprised. Delmont had been careless. Since he had been taught such a lesson, he would be more cautious in the future."

"Yep!" Victor looked at her and smiled, "Are you tired?"

Eden shook her head slightly and smiled lovingly, "You're next door. I'm not tired. You lock me here. I won't go anywhere since you're here."

"Ha-ha..." Victor smiled pleasantly, "Honey, I like you when you say so. You've really melted my heart."

Eden also smiled. Looking at the joyful smile on his handsome face, she was delighted. Only when she let him feel happy could she really be relieved.

"Hurry up and go back to work. We should get off work on time and solve the problem of the children tonight. Otherwise, Gia will find fault with Ricky again. Ricky always humours Gia, and he wouldn't argue with her unless he really couldn't stand her."

"Okay, I see. Call Buddy and tell him not to worry." After that, Victor lowered his head and kissed her forehead before he left with satisfaction.

Eden smiled. Just as she was about to call Buddy, Haven called her.

Eden answered it.

"You called me yesterday. Sorry, I saw it just now." There was no guilt in Haven's tone, but a trace of disdain.

Eden said, "Since there's something wrong with your eyes, I can't blame you. Just pretend that I've never called you."

Haven said, "You called me because of Delmont, didn't you? It's really disappointing that he has done such a thing. Mom must be so sad. She has been spoiling Delmont since he was a child, but he actually takes drugs."

Eden went berserk and said in a deep voice, "Yes, in mom's heart, Delmont is the apple of her eye. Even if he does something wrong, mom will forgive him. But someone won't be treated so well."

When Eden said this, her tone suddenly became cold, "Haven, just aim at me. Don't hurt my family. If you dare to do this again, I'll die together with you!"

After saying that, Eden hung up angrily.

The match between her and Haven had just begun, but she had lost.

Haven was ambitious enough, but she was not cruel enough.

What was disappointing was not being poor, but being hopeless. There was no turning back for Haven.

"Director Bleu, I'm back. Gia got on the car and left. You can rest assured." Amelia entered the office with a smile.

Eden grinned and said, "Amelia, thank you! She is in a bad mood today."

"It's okay." Amelia smiled and sat back.

As soon as she sat down, her phone rang. Seeing that it was her mother calling, she frowned slightly.

"Hello? Mom."

Giselle Macdonald said anxiously, "Amelia, I don't know what your brother has done. The police have come to our house."

Chapter 1048

Amelia's heart skipped a beat when she heard that, "Mom, take it easy. What happened?"

"I don't know." Giselle said in a choked voice, "The police came to find him, and I didn't know where he was. They asked something and then left. I was more anxious because they didn't say anything."

After hanging up the phone, Amelia was very worried.

Could it be that her elder brother had robbed somebody because he was in debt up to his ears? He obviously needed money so much, but the night before yesterday, he said that he was very rich and he was going to leave. What was going on?

Seeing that her face was pale, Eden asked, "Amelia, did something bad happen?"

Amelia nodded with a pale face, and her eyes were full of worry.

"Director Bleu, what should I do? My elder brother seems to have done something illegal. The police have come to my house. The night before yesterday, he suddenly came back with excitement, packed up his things and left. He didn't come back last night. He gave my mother ten thousand dollars and asked her to buy clothes, and then he disappeared."

Amelia's heart clanged like fifteen buckets in a single well.

"Well..." Eden frowned slightly.

"Amelia, since he has done something illegal, let the police handle it. After learning some lessons, he may change himself."

Amelia shook her head slightly and said with a bitter smile, "Director Bleu, you don't know that he has been detained for many times because of gambling, but he never repents. Every time he is released, he becomes more addicted to gambling. I don't think he'll change."

Eden felt sorry for her when she heard that.

"Amelia, why don't you get off work first? Your mother is in poor health. If she gets sick because of this, it will be bad. If you go back and stay with her, she will be more at ease."

Amelia looked at Eden with gratitude, "Director Bleu, thank you. I'll go back to see my mother first. It was not easy for her to recover. If she falls ill again, it will be very troublesome."

Amelia put the documents that she had sorted out on Eden's desk.

Seeing how flustered she was, Eden felt a little helpless. Everyone cared about their family the most. If anything bad happened to their family, they would panic.

"Hurry up and go home, Amelia. I'll deal with the work."

Amelia nodded, picked up her bag and left.

Eden sighed and continued to work.

Half an hour later, she received a message from Jaida and was told that Gia had arrived home safely.

She smiled and sent a message to comfort Gia before continuing to work.

At lunch time, Victor came over and pushed her to have lunch with him.

Lucian came with Victor and asked, "Where's Amelia?"

Eden looked at him meaningfully. It was the first time that he had asked about a girl's whereabouts.

Eden said, "Something happened in her family, and she went back. Her elder brother seemed to have done something illegal. He hadn't come back after since left the night before yesterday."

"Oh!" Lucian frowned slightly. He sat on the sofa with his legs crossed and rubbed his chin with slender fingers. His every move was so graceful.

"She has an elder brother. I actually didn't know this."

Eden smiled and said, "You don't care about her. How could you know she has a brother? Amelia's brother seems to be a gambler. She said that he came back the night before yesterday and left after giving his mother ten thousand dollars."

Hearing this, Lucian was slightly confused, "Eden, what's the name of her brother?"

Eden shook her head slightly, "She didn't tell me about it."

Victor looked at Lucian's puzzled face and asked, "Lucian, are you suspect that Neal is Amelia's elder brother?"

Eden ate a shrimp and asked, "Who is Neal?"

She heard this name for the first time.

Lucian replied, "The only waiter who can prove Delmont's innocence."

"What?" Eden was shocked, "Haven't you found any information about his family?"

Victor stood up, went to his desk, and picked up the documents that Lucian had sent over. He didn't read it carefully after knowing Neal's name.

After flipping through a few pages, he didn't find the information about Neal's family.

Lucian said, "There's no need to look at it. If they were family, I would have known it long ago."

Victor said, "Why didn't you tell me earlier?"

He threw the information aside.

Lucian picked up his chopsticks and started to eat, "You didn't ask me."

Victor was speechless.

It was so hard to communicate with Lucian.

"Eden, have your meal and don't pay attention to him." Victor simply did not look at the careless and unconcerned face of Lucian.

He shelled shrimps for Eden.

Eden smiled, "I'm eating. Gia has arrived home safely."

"That's good. I can't do anything about her." Victor had a helpless look on his face.

Eden smiled and didn't speak. It was easy to bring up a child, but it was really difficult to raise three children.

After dinner, Victor simply moved Eden's documents to his office and worked together with her.

He let her know about the properties owned by him, and he made no bones about sharing everything with her.

Only then did Eden know that Victor was richer than he seemed to be. His industrial chain almost covered half of the River City, and he made it by himself. Moreover, he owned the property of the Alwynn family. He deserved to be the richest man in the nearby cities.

However, Victor had more ambition and had been working hard, especially this year. He had worldwide distribution channels.

Eden's autumn collection and winter collection had attracted a lot of people abroad.

CY Brand in Alwynn Group had won everyone's recognition and praise.

After five o'clock in the afternoon, Eden raised her head and glanced at Victor who was still working with his head lowered.

He looked extremely charming when he concentrated on working. Eden looked at him with infatuation.

Victor seemed to have felt her gaze. He looked up at her and smiled, "Eden, have you finished your work?"

"Mm!" Eden grinned, "Next, it's your turn to exam it. If you don't think it's suitable, I'll modify it."

Victor said, "But you're more serious than me. It should be perfect."

"Ha-ha..." Eden smiled. "I don't like to redone my work. That will break my train of thought." When she was working, she was indeed serious.

Victor tidied up his desk, "Honey, let's get off work."

Eden was stunned. Clearly, he hadn't finished his work.

"What about your work?" Victor got up and looked at her, "I can finish it if I work harder tomorrow. Let's go to dinner. I'm hungry."

He obviously ate a lot in the noon. She was not hungry. How could he be hungry?

"Then let's go home for dinner."

Victor shook his head slightly, "No, we're going on a date today, and we'll go to Marriott Hotel to eat lobsters. They have just been delivered by plane, and they're very fresh. You like lobsters the most."

Chapter 1049

Well...

Could she refuse his kindness?

Eden really felt so helpless. Lucian's eyes were even filled with complaint as he looked at them.

Victor really had a negative attitude to work these days.

Seeing that she looked unwilling, Victor frowned slightly and squatted down to stare at her, "Eden, don't you want to go there?"

Eden shook her head slightly and said untruthfully, "Victor, if we go to eat lobsters, what about dad, mom and the children?"

Hearing this, Victor smiled, "That's easy. I can let them have a same meal with us. I'll ask the hotel staff to send the cooked lobsters home, or I can let the chef cook in our house."

"Then why don't we..."

"No. We should have a date. You got the marriage certificate with me just like that, and I didn't propose to you in a romantic way, so I will compensate you in the following days. You have to compensate me as well. We've known each other for almost 20 years." Victor interrupted her with a smile, took a blanket and covered her legs before pushing her out.

Eden had nothing to say. He always touched her a lot.

As soon as they reached the door, they met Lucian who had just arrived.

Victor frowned and asked, "Do you have anything else to do? Why don't you get off work?"

Lucian was stunned. Was this man really Victor?

In the past, Victor was very serious about his work. However, he was so casual at this time.

Lucian glanced at them, "Alright, you can leave now."

Victor pushed Eden into the office again, "From your expression, I can tell that something has happened. I'll leave after talking to you."

Looking at his movements, Lucian was slightly taken aback, "Are you sure you want to listen?"

Victor condescended to look at him, "Say it first."

Lucian glanced at Eden and said, "It's about the Clement family. When I was monitoring the shares of Clement Group just now, I found that there was something with their money flowing, but I couldn't tell what was wrong. Call Buddy and let him be careful."

Hearing this, Victor looked puzzled, "Delmont has just been framed when someone transferred the money. It can not be a coincidence."

Lucian nodded in agreement, "This is not a coincidence indeed. I will find out the account as soon as possible. Only a small amount of money has been transferred, so Buddy won't find it. However, maybe that person will transfer more money in the future."

Victor said in a deep voice, "I see. I will remind Buddy."

"Mm!" Lucian looked at them, "I wish you two a happy date!"

Eden blushed all of a sudden. How did he know that they were going on a date?

Lucian looked at Eden and smiled faintly. He had gradually let go of his deep love for her, or perhaps he had hidden it in a certain place in his heart carefully.

She was a treasure in his heart. Finally, he was no longer in a dilemma.

He turned around and left with a smile. However, Eden felt that his eyes were a little strange.

Victor frowned. Had Lucian just let go of his affection towards Eden?

There was a smile in his eyes. That was his good friend.

When Eden was in a coma, Lucian went to see her, and he had no way to hide the pain and distress in his eyes.

Victor took out his phone and called Buddy. Then he took Eden to Marriott Hotel.

They went directly to the room where they had lived before on the top floor.

Seeing this, Eden smiled, "At that time, when we came here, I was conflicted. I didn't expect to come here again."

Victor put her on the soft bed and let her sit down. Then he looked at her with dotting eyes and reached out to rub her nose, "Fool, do you think I'll let you go since I've found you? You have always been a ray of light in my life, making me live bravely until now."

"As long as I think that I can see you every day, I work desperately, because I want to make money and give you the whole world."

Eden looked at him. She didn't know why, but he always liked to say such words these days.

But his words really made her happy.

She suddenly asked with a smile, "What if I had got married before you found me?"

Victor sat next to her and said with determined eyes, "I would take you away because you only belong to me."

"Ha-ha..." Eden leaned against his arms with joy.

Talking like this made both of them delighted and touched.

There was a bright smile on Victor's handsome face, and he rubbed his head against her cheeks.

"Eden." Victor looked down at her.

"Mm!" Eden raised her eyes slightly and looked at him with a smile.

"Eden." He called her gently again, feeling that he would never get sick of calling her by the name. At the age of thirty, he was like a 20-year-old boy, spoiled and frivolous.

Eden punched him and said coquettishly, "What!"

"You are poison. After I was poisoned by you, I didn't want to detoxify myself anymore." He liked spending time alone with her. It was so wonderful!

"Ha-ha..." Eden laughed joyfully, "Victor, I was the one who was poisoned by you. However, has anything happened to you recently? You always say such romantic words."

Victor leaned on her shoulder and smelled the faint fragrance of her hair. It was very pleasant. He closed his eyes in a good mood, "Eden, we are dating. As your husband, the most important thing for me is to please you."

Victor had been so gentle in front of Eden only.

He always wanted to stay with her and didn't want to be separated from her.

Victor suddenly looked up at her, "Eden, let's not go back tonight, okay?"

Eden was stunned. He really wanted to date with her crazily!

She shook her head with a smile, "No, the children are at home, and we can't let dad and mom take care of them all the time. Mom is very tired."

However, Victor smiled, "I'll call mom and plead her to take care of the children for one night."

Eden looked at him helplessly, "After Graciella gives birth to the twins after a period of time, mom will be busier."

Victor did not take it seriously, "Eden, don't worry. Loomis regards her as a treasure. During her pregnancy, he cooks for her every day, and he treats Boris as his own son. Boris no longer misses his father, and he regards Loomis as his father. Loomis is a scheming man."

Eden was speechless. She wanted to say that Victor was more scheming than Loomis.

But if she said so, Victor would definitely be unhappy.

After thinking for a while, she chose to remain silent.

Victor quickly hung up the phone and looked at Eden with a smug smile, "Mom asked us to have fun and let me take good care of you. She didn't allow me to bully you. Do I bully you in ordinary times?"

Victor felt a little wronged. In Jaida's heart, Eden was more important than anyone else.

Chapter 1050

Jaida liked Eden more than him, but he was not jealous. Anyway, he loved Eden like this as well.

Eden smiled helplessly, "Fine, but I am hungry." Moreover, she was a little tired. Once she got relaxed after working hard for a long time, she would be very tired.

Victor raised his watch and looked at the time, "Eden, wait for a little longer. The meal will be delivered soon."

Victor took out his phone, took a few pictures of them and saved the photos with a smile. Then he sent a few photos to his friends to show off before putting down the phone contentedly.

Seeing that he was so happy while staying with her, Eden was very glad.

After they waited for another five minutes, the doorbell rang. Immediately afterwards, a few waiters came in with a dining cart, served the exquisite dishes on the table and then walked out silently.

Only then did Victor carry Eden to the table.

Eden looked at the lobster feast and grinned. He always remembered what she liked.

Last time, she had eaten the lobsters here. The dishes were cooked by a famous chef, and each dish was delicious.

Especially the first-grade shrimp meat. She liked it very much.

"Come on. My Eden's favorite lobster feast." Victor took a bowl of fish soup and put it in front of her.

"Eden, drink some soup before eating."

"Okay!" Eden smiled, "Jasper must be very happy to see such a feast."

Hearing this, Victor was unhappy and glanced at her gloomily.

"Eden, you can only think about me." He looked at her with complaint.

Eden only smiled and did not speak. The expression in her eyes turned somewhat complicated. After she married Victor, she clearly felt the distance between her and Jasper.

She knew it was the best for Jasper.

She just missed the time when they ate lobsters together.

In Joye Group!

Jasper always worked very late before getting off work.

Eden had got married, so he no longer looked forward to getting off work early to go back to see her.

At this time, he was looking forward to working overtime every day. Even if he did not have to work overtime, he would not go home early.

Jasper was tall and straight. He walked out of the company elegantly. Dressed in an expensive handmade shirt and a pair of dark-colored trousers, he looked noble and charming, just like the prince in a fairy tale.

Just he was about to turn to the garage, a woman suddenly appeared and blocked his way.

Jasper's eyes darkened as he looked at her, "Why are you here?" His hoarse voice was filled with anger and ruthlessness.

Maureen looked at Jasper. He was born to be rich, but he had become so successful by his own effort.

Four years had passed, and he had truly grown up. At this time, he looked very steady and wise.

The elegance and nobility of someone created by money could not withstand the test of time. Only the nobility and wisdom of one's heart were really elegant.

He was even more charming than he was four years ago.

"What's wrong? Why are you afraid of seeing me here?" Maureen sneered. She had been here for many days, but she had restrained herself for many days and did not come to see him.

She had been watching him in secret. He always worked overtime and would not come down until this time.

She remembered that in the past, he couldn't wait to go to Eden's house after he got off work. He helped Eden take care of her children and tried to please her. At this time, Eden had got married, and he had waited for her for eight years for nothing.

He had never worked overtime before, but these days, he worked overtime everyday.

It wasn't that people couldn't change. They only changed for some certain people.

Jasper looked at her with extremely gloomy eyes, and there was a trace of harshness in it.

"I... don't want to see you again." His indifferent voice sent a chill down her spine, and a thrill of alarm ran through her.

Jasper walked past her and was about to leave.

However, Maureen immediately reached out to hold his arm and asked with a painful face, "Four years have passed. Can't you still forgive me? Everyone did something wrong when they were young. I'm very regretful."

Jasper turned his head slightly, looked at his serious eyes with hostility and sneered, "Maureen, you have deceived me many times. Do you want me to believe you again? I grew up with you, so I know very well what kind of person you are. Let go of me!" He said the last words harshly and smiled mockingly.

It was precisely because they knew each other too well that it was impossible for them to be together.

Maureen's eyes were stubborn and determined as she stared at him, "No, Jasper. I let go of my love for you four years ago. Now you can't get Eden anymore, so I will definitely not let you go. I will change. I will never lie to you again. At that time, I treated you like that because I was jealous."

Her explanation and promise didn't move Jasper's heart at all.

Although he couldn't be with Eden, he would not be with her. He might not fall in love with any woman in the rest of his life.

Since he could not fall in love with anyone, he would not hurt others' hearts casually. It was too painful to fall in love with someone, and it was more painful to wait for someone who would never come back to him. That kind of feeling was worse than death.

He had been waiting for Eden, but it was impossible for Eden to come back to him.

She was once touched by him, but she was not selfish and didn't want to ruin his life. She didn't want him to marry a woman who had three children. Therefore, she refused him ruthlessly and pushed him into hell at the same time.

This was the girl he loved. However, Maureen was extremely selfish. Her jealousy almost ruined Eden.

He had no way to forgive her. It had been so many years, but he would have lingering fear when he thought of the scene that night.

If he went there a minute later, something bad would have happened to Eden.

Maureen said, "I will apologize to Eden. If she forgives me, will you also forgive me?"

Jasper's eyes were apathetic as he said, "Let's talk about it after Eden forgives you."

After Jasper finished speaking, he withdrew his hand and strode towards the garage.

The ruthlessness in his eyes hurt Maureen's heart.

"Jasper, I won't give up." Maureen said as she watched Jasper disappear into the distance. Her body tensed up and her heart was so painful.

If it weren't for that matter, perhaps they would not have become like this.

He clearly knew that she was the one who did it, but he didn't tell Eden about it.

If Eden knew the truth, she would not have met her before she left.

When she met her last time, she would not have talked her in a friendly way.

She took out her phone and dialed Abigail's number.

At this time, Abigail and Anson were about to go out for a walk after dinner.

Abigail was a bit surprised when she suddenly received a call from Maureen.

Maureen said, "Abigail, I've come to River City. Can I meet you?"
