

Gluey Love 1101

Chapter 1101

"Ha-ha..." Zaiden laughed. He looked at Jasper and narrowed his eyes slightly, "You have a good appetite, and you can eat dozens of dumplings every time."

Jasper suddenly felt a little wronged, "Uncle Calder, in fact, I can eat more dumplings tonight." Dumplings were his favorite, and the dumplings made by Eden and Jaida were all very delicious.

Eden smiled, "Jasper, I have cooked all the dumplings in the refrigerator for you. If you want to eat, you can come here for dinner tomorrow night."

Hearing this, Jasper grinned happily, "Do you have time to make dumplings?"

Eden said, "Yep, I'll go to the market after work, and I can make dumplings when I come back."

Zaiden felt a little distressed when he heard that. He thought for a moment and said, "Eden, you and your mother are both very busy. Why don't I hire two servants for you? You don't like outsiders to live at home, so I'll ask them to cook breakfast and dinner for you, and they'll go back after cleaning up the house."

Eden nodded. She couldn't walk. Jaida had to take care of Graciella and couldn't cook at home everyday. She often went to work in the company, so she couldn't help Jaida with the housework.

"Okay. Dad, let's hire two servants. It's hard for mom to cook and take care of Graciella."

"OK! I don't want your mom to be so tired. Our family is rich, and we can afford to hire two servants. I'll make arrangements and you don't have to worry. Just manage the company well." Zaiden was always kind and amiable while facing Eden.

Jasper smiled enviously, "Uncle Calder, I want to move to your house. Living alone makes me feel lonely."

"Ha-ha..." Zaiden laughed, "It seems that you can't live without us. You can come here to visit us occasionally, but you can't live here. Why don't you live with your sister? In that case, you can come here to eat every day." Zaiden's voice was magnetic and pleasant. Clearly, he had become happier than before.

Jasper pursed his lips and said with a cunning smile, "Ha-ha... Then I'll come here for free meals every day."

Zaiden said, "That's possible."

He had to maintain Eden's reputation, so he couldn't let Jasper move here. If Eden hadn't got married, Jasper could live with them. However, Eden was married, and Victor was missing. He absolutely couldn't agree with Jasper.

Jasper said, "Uncle Calder, I was just kidding."

How could he not know what Zaiden was thinking?

"Ha-ha..." Zaiden laughed and looked outside. It was late.

He got up and said, "Eden, I'm going pick up your mother. A nurse maid will take care of Graciella at night. She will go to the hospital tomorrow morning."

"Alright! Dad, be careful on the way." Eden reminded him.

"Okay! Don't worry. I'll be back soon." Zaiden left with a smile.

His back was tall and straight. In Eden's heart, Zaiden was the pillar of their family.

Jasper looked at her and smiled, "Eden, do you want to go for a walk in the yard?"

Eden shook her head slightly. Jasper was smiling, but she could see the worried expression in his eyes. She said with a chuckle, "No. If you're tired, don't go back today and have a rest on the second floor." She had been waiting for Brian's news in anxiety.

She wondered if Brian had got some evidence.

Jasper nodded and looked at her with a gentle smile, "Eden, originally, I didn't intend to go back tonight. I'll send you back to your room before going to bed."

Eden nodded with a smile.

Jasper got up and pushed Eden back to her room.

Kenny came down to take care of Eden with a laptop in his hand. Watching Jasper accompany Eden into her room, he thought for a while and then followed him.

"Uncle Joye, you're here." He said behind Jasper.

Jasper looked back at him and said with a smile, "Kenny, haven't you rested yet? I haven't seen you for some days, and you've become taller."

Kenneth said, "I came down to take care of my mom."

"Oh, our Kenny is more and more sensible." Jasper looked at Kenny's steady face and his jewel-like bright eyes. His every move was unusually steady and calm, and he would definitely be extraordinary when he grew up.

"How about me taking care of your mom? You can go back and rest." Jasper looked at Kenny. Kenny was young but very considerate, which made him feel warm in heart.

Kenneth shook his head slightly, "Uncle Joye, I have something to tell my mom."

Jasper was stunned. Did Kenny want to drive him away?

However, he wouldn't leave.

He asked with a smile, "Kenny, can't I listen to it?"

The expression in Kenneth's eyes changed as he looked at Jasper's smiling face. Jasper had been protecting Eden.

Besides, Jasper was investigating what he wanted to say as well, but he never told Eden what he had done for her.

Kenny was very grateful for what Jasper had done for his mother.

"Of course you can." Kenneth smiled faintly. He trusted Jasper.

"Ha-ha..." Jasper laughed happily, "It seems that I didn't dote on you in vain."

Eden smiled. She knew that Kenny trusted Jasper very much all the time.

After returning to her room, Eden suddenly received a call from Brian.

Her heart skipped a beat as she said, "Hello? Brian."

Brian said, "Mrs. Alwynn, you did a right thing today. Malcom is in panic now. He became more flustered after he knew that Neal had been caught. He planned to meet Amelia and let her persuade Neal. Mr. Ronen has gone to see Amelia. He will tell her what to do. Moreover..." Brian hesitated for a moment. His tone suddenly changed and he choked with sobs.

Eden's heart missed a beat. She felt so painful in heart, as if it was being cut by a knife.

"Go ahead." Eden's voice was deep.

Brian took a deep breath before saying, "Mrs. Alwynn, Malcom murdered Mr. Alwynn, and Haven is the accomplice. However, we don't have enough evidence now, and we're looking for more clues. The conversation between them can be used as a part of the evidence."

Eden burst into tears. Suppressing the intense sorrow in heart, she tried her best to speak in a normal and deep tone, "Brian, try your best to find evidence. Since Malcom did it, there must be evidence in his computer. As long as we find a way to get his computer, we can get the evidence."

Hearing this, Kenneth and Jasper immediately looked at each other.

Brian said, "Mrs. Alwynn, Malcom is very alert. He and Haven are plotting to get Alwynn Group. With Malcom's ability, he will transfer money from Alwynn Group again. I will show the video to the police tomorrow morning."

"Okay! Brian, thank you so much."

Eden hung up the phone and quickly wiped the tears on her face. Her eyes darkened and she looked apathetic all over.

"Eden." Jasper walked over and hugged her with distress.

When he closed his eyes, he could even sense the deep grief in her heart.

She was experiencing the most painful things in life.

She had learned how to be philosophical and magnanimous, but life gave her a severe blow.

Chapter 1102

Eden was in deep pain and sorrow. Malcom, who had been ignored by them, hurt them when they were caught off guard.

Malcom looked gentle and polite on the surface, but who would have thought that his heart was so vicious and greedy?

She had been on guard against Haven. Grandma Clement had had a accident, so she and Victor had always been very careful. However, they were targeted by Malcom and Victor had a car accident so unexpectedly.

"Jasper, Malcom is a b*stard! He and Haven hurt Victor together. Malcom made Victor's car out of control. That was why Victor had an accident. How can they be so vicious and cruel... Woo-woo..." Eden couldn't help crying.

At this moment, what Haven had said to her came to her mind again and again.

"Jasper, it's all because of me that Victor had an accident. Grandma and Delmont got into trouble because of me, too. I caused those bad things to happen to Clement family."

"I am a bad person. My relatives get into trouble one by one because of me. When Haven warned me, I thought I could face all these and deal with all the problems."

"But I was wrong, really. If I left here, these things would not have happened, and Victor wouldn't have left me."

At this moment, she was so fragile, and she really regretted it.

She thought that Haven didn't have the courage to do anything, but she was wrong. Haven was just an ungrateful and cold-blooded beast!

Hearing these words, Jasper held her hand more tightly and felt more distressed for her. He took a deep breath and said, "Fool, how could this be your fault? This is not your fault. Haven and Malcom are too vicious. There is no need for you to leave, and you can't leave. You are not a bad person. Don't think too much about."

Saying this, Jasper squatted down, looked at her with concern and wiped the tears on her face.

"Woo-woo..." Eden could not relieve the grief in her heart.

It was the first time she had cried so desperately in the past two months.

It was the first time she had felt so regretful and helpless.

She was going through the most difficult period of her time. What should she do?

No, she couldn't give in to fate, and she couldn't accept the fact like this. She must cheer up. She hadn't found Victor, so she couldn't be so pessimistic and had to be stronger.

Haven and Malcom just played some tricks on her, and they could absolutely not stop her from moving forward bravely.

Eden immediately stopped crying and wiped her tears. She looked at Jasper and forced a smile with difficulty, "Jasper, I let you worry about me again."

Jasper's heart ached even more when he heard that. Seeing how she pretended to be strong and how she suppressed all the grief in heart, he was more doleful and heartbroken.

He would rather see her have a nervous breakdown and cry out loud before smiling at him. In that case, he would not be worried.

She was not a saint and couldn't be toughened and hardened into steel. He only hoped that she could laugh heartily when she was happy and cry loudly when she was sad and then forget all those bad memories. She was still the simple and kindhearted girl.

In the past, she was strong and lived in peace. If she could really be so calm, she would gain a lot from this experience. But he knew that she was just pretending to be calm.

"Fool, I'm more worried when I see you like this." He said in a hoarse voice and looked at her with deep and sympathetic eyes.

He didn't know when she would be able to drag herself out of the morass of despair.

Seeing how heartbroken Eden was, Kenny left silently with tears streaming down his face.

He said in heart, "Haven, Malcom, since you hurt my family like this, I will never let you go!

"Malcom, you boast of your computer skills as a hacker. Then, I will show you what a real hacker is like."

Kenneth's eyes were treacherous and deep. He bit his lip with great strength and it was bleeding, but he didn't feel any pain.

Compared to the pain on his lip, he felt more painful in heart. When he saw how helpless and fragile Eden was, he was overwhelmed by sorrow.

He only wanted to grow up quickly so that he could protect his mother and family.

When he passed by the window on the second floor, he saw that the lights outside were bright, and the yard was overshadowed by tall trees. The leaves were swaying in the night wind. Victor liked to chat with them under the big tree in the yard. Sometimes, he would take them there and accompany them to do homework.

He, Ricky and Gia were all happy at that time.

Victor was very patient with them. He had seen different fathers. Some of them were only focused on their phones while playing with their children. They lowered their head and swiped the screen.

Whatever the children said to them, they would always answer impatiently, "Go play aside."

However, Victor was not the same. When he accompanied them, he chatted with them and listened to them patiently. He never thought that they were talkative and noisy.

Gia and Ricky talked a lot, and he always answered them gently.

If they were wrong, he would explain to them tenderly. He had been kind and amiable to them.

He was a great father, and he was a good man.

"Dad, I have a feeling that you are still alive. If you are alive, you must come back to mom." Kenneth finished his words in a low voice and turned to go upstairs.

When he got to the stairs, he saw that Henrick was leaning against the railing with his arms crossed. There was no expression on his face as he looked at Kenny quietly. His eyes were no longer casual, but very steady and serious. He seemed to have grown up a lot.

"Kenny, just now you said that dad is still alive. What do you mean by that?" He said in a choked and deep tone, and he was very sad.

Kenneth said, "Ricky, I have the same idea as mom. I think dad is not dead. He's still alive."

Henrick smiled bitterly and said, "Is it because we haven't found his dead body?"

"Yes!" Kenneth nodded.

"Ha-ha..." Henrick suddenly smiled, "Kenny, do you think it is possible? He fell into the sea, and he was injured. Do you think there was any chance for him to survive?"

Kenneth kept silent and walked upstairs step by step, but he felt weak in his legs. He walked to Henrick and whispered, "It's better to have hope. I won't believe that dad has really left us until I see his dead body."

Henrick did not speak. When he turned around, his eyes were brimming with tears.

"I'm going to sleep." After that, he ran back to his room in a hurry.

Kenneth looked at his back and clenched his fists. Veins stood out on his forehead, and he said word by word angrily, "Haven, what qualifications do you have to make my family suffer like this? I'll ruin you in the way you ruined my mom and my uncle!"

His eyes were terribly gloomy as he strode to his room. Although he was young, he looked as fierce as a devil at this time.

Turning on the computer, he typed on the keyboard very quickly. He stared at the computer screen with a pair of black eyes and concentrated to investigate Victor's car accident.

Chapter 1103

Lucian sent Amelia back. When they were having dinner, Lucian had told her what would she should do the next day.

When they arrived at Amelia's house, Lucian looked at Amelia seriously, "Amelia, tomorrow is the weekend, and we don't have to go to work. Malcom will definitely call you in the morning. After he calls you, you have to call me immediately. I will tell you what to do."

Amelia nodded, "Okay! I'll listen to you."

Seeing that she kept nodding, Lucian couldn't help but smile.

"Foolish girl, hurry up and go back." Lucian rubbed her head dotingly.

Amelia was really lovely.

Amelia smiled and reminded him, "Go home and rest early. Call me when you get home."

"Alright!" Lucian nodded.

Amelia turned to look back repeatedly at every step and couldn't bear to leave him.

Lucian asked, "Don't you want to go in?" He smiled, and his tone was ambiguous.

Amelia glared at him but nodded.

The lights at home were still on, and her mother hadn't fallen asleep. If she went back at this time, she had to listen to her nagging.

She had not told her mother that Neal had been caught.

Lucian said, "Let's go to the hotel."

Hearing this, Amelia immediately looked around. After making sure that there was no one around, she said, "Lucian, what did you say? Hurry up and go back."

Lucian smiled, "I'm serious."

Amelia blushed and couldn't even speak fluently, "You are... so bad."

She was a bit shy and nervous, so she turned around and went home quickly.

Watching her go back in panic, Lucian felt a little disappointed. Was he no longer attractive to her?

He was indeed serious about their relationship.

Amelia returned to the room, opened the window and took a look downstairs. She found that Lucian was still in the same place. Under the dim streetlights, he looked extraordinarily charismatic.

Amelia whispered, "Why don't you leave?"

Lucian looked up at her and smiled, "Good night."

Then, he turned around and left.

Amelia smiled helplessly. She didn't look away until he was nowhere to be seen. Then she washed up and went to bed, ignoring what her mother said to her outside the door.

Early the next morning.

After making breakfast, Jaida went to the hospital to see Graciella with Zaiden.

Eden took care of the children alone at home.

The four children were playing by the lake happily.

Kenneth looked back at Eden from time to time. Last night, he didn't sleep all night. He would certainly give Haven a big surprise that day.

The phone next to Eden suddenly rang.

Eden picked up the phone and saw that it was a call from Haven. With an angry face, she answered it, "Hello?"

Haven said, "Eden, let's meet."

Eden's voice was surprisingly calm, "I am afraid that I will kill you when I see you."

Haven said, "You won't do that. You are not like me. I live without a tie in the world, but you have three children, nice parents, brothers and a husband who loves you very much. But is your husband really studying abroad now? I called him just now, but I just couldn't get through to him." Haven's tone was full of threats and sarcasm.

Eden's eyes suddenly turned aloof, "Haven, are you turning yourself in or putting your head on the block? Don't be so smug. You'll stew in your own juice soon."

Haven said, "Ha-ha... What did you say? Will I stew in my own juice? I'm waiting for it, aren't I?"

Haven's tone was extremely arrogant.

Eden said, "Only we know whether Victor is studying aboard or not. How do you know that he didn't go aboard?"

Obviously, Haven was silent for a while.

"Eden, do you still remember what I told you before?"

Eden put away her phone slightly and clicked the recording button, "Yeah, you asked me to die, or you would let all my relatives get into trouble. Grandma had a car accident, and Delmont is in prison now. But I believe that he will be released in three days. You have been provoking me, haven't you? I will let you know that you can't afford to bear the consequences."

Eden said these words to annoy Haven deliberately. She wouldn't let go of any chance to get evidence.

"Ha-ha... Eden, what do you mean by that? I don't understand."

Eden said coldly, "You don't understand, but it's better, isn't it? As long as Neal knows what he has done. You can disassociate yourself from that matter."

"Eden, you're right. I framed Delmont indeed, but it was not me who asked Neal to do that. Although I'm the mastermind, this matter has nothing to do with me. Even if the police find out the truth, I can be safe and sound."

Eden smiled weirdly when she heard that, "Is that so? What about grandma's car accident? Although you didn't leave any evidence, do you think that we don't know it was your scheme?"

Haven said, "Eden, just show me the evidence."

Eden said, "I have got some of the evidence, but I want you to reap what you sow at one go. Therefore, I have been collecting other evidence. Haven, when we meet next time, maybe you will have been in jail."

Eden finished her words and hung up the phone with a smile.

Kenneth turned around and happened to see her miserable smile.

His heart ached and he bit his lower lip hard.

He had the same habit as Eden. When Eden was very sad, she would bit her lower lip with great strength out of habit.

He got up and walked to Eden.

Eden looked at him with a gentle smile, "Kenny, what's wrong? Don't you want to play anymore?"

Kenneth sat in front of her with a smile in eyes, "Mom, I have attacked the computer system in Haven's company. In this way, there will be many loopholes in the system. I hope the police can find more evidence."

Eden was stunned.

She asked in surprise, "Kenny, are you that capable?"

"Yeah!" Kenny nodded, "Mom, I'm very talented in computer science. I learned a lot of things at ease. Besides, dad bought a very nice and expensive laptop for me, which has helped me a lot."

Eden reached out and stroked his head lightly, "Kenny, as long as you like it and you won't do anything illegal, I will support you no matter what you want to do."

"Mom, don't worry. I know what I should do and what I shouldn't. The profits in my websites are large. I only hope that I can grow up quickly to protect you, Gia, Ricky, dad, grandma and grandpa. I want us to live a happy life together."

Hearing Kenny's words, Eden suddenly felt so grieved. Her eyes blurred with tears as she looked at his good-looking face, "Fool, why do you want to grow up so quickly? With me by your side, you don't have to do anything. Just have a happy childhood." However, she knew that Kenny had been sensible since he was a child. Such things had happened to her family, and his heart had been hurt greatly. He would remember these things forever, and they would affect his character and emotions in the future.

At the thought of such a result, she felt scared for no reason.

Chapter 1104

"Mom..."

"Kenny, I just want you to be an ordinary child, and I don't want you to have hatred in your heart. The pain that we're suffering now is temporary. As time goes by, the pain will change in our hearts. I don't hope that you'll live in hatred and sorrow in the future. I hope that you can smile when you are happy and cry when you are sad. Although you are a man, it doesn't matter if you cry. You are always a baby in my heart."

Kenneth understood what she meant. He slightly lowered his head and did not speak.

Originally, he wanted to transfer the money back to Buddy's bank account, but he didn't do so in order to let the police get enough evidence.

Eden sighed. The children would grow up together with the pain they suffered.

She had to let Haven be punished as soon as possible.

She looked up at the blue sky. In summer, it was so hot that she could not bear it.

She felt that she was almost out of breath. How long would this kind of life last?

"Victor, where are you exactly?" She asked in heart.

"Phew..." She took a deep breath.

At this moment, the phone in her hand rang again. Eden looked down and found that it was a call phone from Lucian. She answered it quickly, "Hello? Lucian."

Lucian said, "Eden, Malcom called Amelia. Then Amelia went to see Neal with the recording pen. I have told her what to ask. I am waiting for her nearby. You don't have to worry about her safety."

"Good! Thank you so much." Eden hung up the phone and looked a little excited. As long as Malcom could be exposed, things would be easier.

"Mom, how is it?" Kenneth looked at her expectantly.

Lowering her head, Eden saw his hopeful expression and smiled, "Kenny, Malcom is finally scared. He has met Amelia. Let's wait for the news at home."

"Okay!" Kenneth nodded excitedly.

In an ordinary cafe, Amelia received a phone call from a strange number early in the morning. She knew it was Malcom whom Lucian had mentioned to her.

After knowing what Malcom wanted her to do, she quarrelled with him angrily at first. Then she agreed to meet him in this cafe.

Amelia waited for more than ten minutes, but she didn't see Malcom.

She had never seen Malcom before, but she felt very uneasy when she thought of Malcom's threatening words.

She waited for a few more minutes, but Malcom hadn't arrived.

She took out her phone and dialed his phone number.

As soon as she dialed the number, she saw a man in a suit coming in, and his phone was ringing in his hand.

Amelia glanced at him and hung up the phone, and the phone in his hand did not ring anymore.

At this time, Malcom had sat opposite Amelia.

Malcom looked around. There were very few customers in the cafe in the morning.

He looked at Amelia's innocent face and smiled, "I didn't expect you to be quite pretty. You look pure and attractive. If I could meet you earlier, I would definitely let you be my girlfriend."

Amelia was speechless. How shameless he was!

Furthermore, Lucian was in the breakfast shop across the street, and he could hear their conversation.

Sure enough, when Lucian heard Malcom's words, he glanced at him with gloomy eyes.

Amelia looked at Malcom with a sneer. She looked weak and cowardly in ordinary times, but she was completely different at this time. Her eyes were sharp and cold as she said, "Mr. Mulroney, don't you think it's rude to say something like this to someone you meet for the first time?"

Malcom smiled unconcernedly. Looking at Amelia's pure face, he narrowed his eyes slightly. She was a little scared, but she seemed to be trying her best to face him bravely.

Haven was such a woman, and he took pity on Haven for no reason.

"Miss Macdonald, it's because you're beautiful that I said those words. This is the first time we've met, and it was a bit abrupt indeed. Miss Macdonald, please don't take it to heart."

Seeing that he was looking at her with a shameless smile, Amelia sneered in heart. Sure enough, Malcom and Haven were suitable for each other. They were both disgusting.

She said indifferently and mockingly, "You threatened me just now. Why can't I take it to heart? You made it very clearly on the phone this morning, didn't you?"

Malcom smiled. Amelia looked mad, and it seemed that she wanted to kill him, which made him in a good mood, "Miss Macdonald, you're smart. You just need to ask Neal not to betray me. I can assure you that your mother and you will live a rich life in the future, and your mother's diabetes will be cured. I will live without worry and you will live at ease. Isn't it good?"

"Yeah, it's very good." Amelia gave him a weird smile.

Lucian was puzzled.

Amelia...

"You f*cking idiot! You ordered my elder brother to commit a crime, but you want to live in peace? Are you out of your head? You even want to threaten me with my mother's illness. Do you think you can threaten me in this way? Since you don't have the ability, don't give yourself airs. You should be grateful because I give you a chance to meet me."

Lucian was stunned and then smiled. What a hot-tempered but lovely girl. He rarely saw Amelia lose her temper.

Malcom was not angry when he heard that. Instead, he laughed. He knew that it required patience to deal with someone like Amelia.

"Miss Macdonald, you still look beautiful when you're mad." Saying this, he looked up at her carefully. Her face features were delicate, and she was good-looking and appealing.

"Amelia..."

"Don't call me so affectionately. I'm not familiar with you." Amelia interrupted him in a ruthless voice.

"Ha-ha... What a fierce darling. I like your character quite much. Why don't you be with me? I'll buy you a house and give you the best things in this world." Malcom began to tempt Amelia shamelessly. For girls like Amelia, money was their lifelong pursuit.

They had got used to living a hard life, so they hoped to become as rich as the ladies from the powerful families.

Hearing this, Amelia sneered in heart. It seemed that Malcom was totally out of his mind.

However, her cold eyes suddenly became obsessed.

"But, if I do as you say, will you really buy me a house?" Her voice became soft and full of expectation.

Lucian was speechless. She had never been so gentle to him before.

After solving this matter, he had to give her a lesson!

Lucian looked sideways and glared at Amelia with unhappy and different eyes.

It was said that men and women were the most sensitive when they were in love. Lucian was the same. Amelia could only be so gentle to him.

His love was overbearing.

Amelia felt a chill on her back. She shook her body and continued to look at Malcom tenderly.

Since she had come here, she had to get Malcom to say why he had ordered Neal to frame Delmont.

Chapter 1105

Seeing that she had been moved, Malcom sneered in the heart. Sure enough, girls who were born in poor families were all materialists.

"Yeah, as long as you can be my lover, I will buy you a big house so that you can live in it at ease. All you need to do is to be with me." Malcom smiled meaningfully. Although he liked Haven, he would get sick of her one day.

Amelia was not as tall as Haven, but she was slimmer than Haven.

She was not inferior to the girls he thought about at night.

Amelia felt sick in heart. This shameless jerk really regarded himself as somebody. Didn't he know how disgusting he was?

However, she looked at Malcom with her face full of excitement. Blinking her big clear eyes, she asked with expectant, "Mr. Mulroney, it's so nice of you. But how should I deal with my elder brother's affairs?"

From Malcom's point of view, Amelia had definitely been lured.

He thought for a moment and said, "Amelia, I want you to ask him to bear the crime. When he is released, I will give him several million dollars as compensation."

Last night, he investigated Neal thoroughly. Neal loved gambling and was very greedy. Luring him with money was the best way. In this way, he could keep himself safe.

Moreover, Amelia and her mother depended on each other for survival.

Anyone would be tempted when he offered such a good condition.

Amelia was living a rough life, and she had to support her family, so she must be eager to find a shortcut to get rid of her poor life.

Amelia listened to his words and found that those conditions were really attractive.

However, she had suffered for so many years, and she didn't mind living a hard life for a few more years.

She never cared about what others thought of her. She lived her own life, and she could make a living by herself.

Even if Lucian had not been her boyfriend, she would not be Malcom's lover.

Since Neal had done something wrong, he deserved to be punished. If she let his bad behaviour go unchecked, his life would really be ruined.

Her mother nagged all day long, and she had had enough of it. Should she raise a good-for-nothing brother in the future?

She had her own life, and she wanted to live a happy life.

She did not have much motivation in the past, but at this time, she had Lucian by her side, so she wanted to fight for her future and happiness. In order to be with the man she liked, she had to hold on.

She looked a little serious and asked, "But what was the purpose of him framing that person? As far as I know, that person is the eldest brother of the president of Alwynn Group. What will you gain by doing this? If my president knows that you have asked my brother to frame his brother, how should I face him in the future?" Amelia pretended to be worried and pitiful as she looked at him.

Malcom wanted to say something, but she took the initiative to say with a happy face, "Mr. Mulroney, you said that you could give me a rich life, but I can't be idle at home forever. I am very happy to work in Alwynn Group, and I want to work there all the time."

Originally, Malcom suspected that she had other purposes, but he no longer doubted her when he heard her words.

"Amelia, you don't have to worry about this. Just do as I say and persuade your elder brother. As long as he won't tell the police that it was me who asked him to frame Delmont, I promise you that you will be rich even if you don't work in Alwynn Group in the future."

Amelia curled her lips weirdly and smiled. Malcom finally admitted that it was him who asked Neal to frame Delmont.

She quickly got up and looked at Malcom with a strange smile on her face, "Mr. Mulroney, I'll do as you say and tell Neal to take the blame for you. Just rest assured and wait for my good news."

Malcom nodded with a smile. Seeing that Amelia was as obedient and cute as Haven, he was very satisfied.

He said in a gentle tone, "Amelia, after persuading him, call me immediately. I'll take you to buy a house."

Amelia smiled treacherously, but she didn't say anything. Instead, she turned around and left.

After she got out of the cafe, she hailed a taxi and left.

Malcom watched her leave and felt completely relieved.

He raised his eyebrows and smiled triumphantly, "It's so easy to cheat women."

He got up, paid the bill and drove back to the apartment, not suspecting Amelia at all.

Not long after Amelia got on the taxi, she received a phone call from Lucian.

"Lucian." She said with a smile.

Lucian said in a deep voice, "Wait for me in Marriott Hotel."

Amelia was a little confused when she heard his angry tone.

Why was he angry?

She wanted to speak, but Lucian had hung up the phone.

She pouted her red lips and thought, "What a changeable man."

He was so annoying!

Amelia glanced out of the car window. It was hot and sunny. She didn't know if she could help Eden by doing this.

She thought that she was very unfortunate, but Eden was even unluckier than her.

Sometimes, she felt that the setbacks she suffered in life were not worth mentioning.

After transferring the recording to Brian, Lucian called Eden before he went to Marriott Hotel to find Amelia.

After receiving Lucian's phone call, Eden finally saw a glimmer of hope.

She only needed to wait for the police to adopt a long-term plan to arrest Haven and Malcom.

She glanced at Kenny who had been accompanying her and said with a smile, "Kenny, the people who hurt your father will be brought to justice soon."

Kenny nodded. However, something bad had happened to Victor.

Those bad guys would only get the punishment they deserved, but his father and his family had been greatly hurt.

Kenny got up, "Mom, I'll take you for a walk around."

Eden nodded with a smile and felt much better, "I want to walk by the lake."

"OK!" Kenny pushed the wheelchair and went to the lake.

Henrick, Giada and Boris were playing with water by the lake.

Eden had taught them to play such a game by the lake. They could dig a hole on low-lying ground and put a small wooden stick on it. If they covered it with wet mud and poke a hole to draw the water over, the water would be in the shape of a whirlpool. It was like a bridge and a waterfall. The scene would be amazing and very interesting if they put several such small waterfalls together.

Henrick and Giada liked to play it, and they taught Boris how to build such a small waterfall that day. Boris was very interested in it.

Seeing that they were having fun, Eden smiled. Children should be like this. They should be able to spend their childhood without any worries.

Her childhood was full of trauma. She hoped that her children would not have the same miserable childhood as hers.

However, she always brought harm to the children.

When she passed by an osmanthus tree, the winds came down with the scents of the flowers, which was refreshing.

Eden closed her eyes slightly and breathed in the sweet scent of osmanthus around her. It was pleasantly scented and pleasant.

She became helpless and missed Victor again.

She opened her eyes and looked at the tall buildings in the distance. The city was bathed in warm sunshine.

"Victor, you're still alive, right? You just haven't found the way home, just like me after I got lost back then." She said in heart.

Chapter 1106

"These days, Brian went to all the hospitals in River City, but there was no news about you. However, I always feel that you are waiting for me to pick you up somewhere."

"Victor, I'll wait for you to come back."

"You had waited for me for more than ten years, and I can wait for you like this forever."

In Marriott Hotel.

Amelia was waiting for Lucian in the underground parking lot.

Lucian came very fast. When he arrived at the parking lot, he saw Amelia waiting for him at the elevator entrance.

She wore a white dress and her soft hair hung down loosely. She had a good and slim figure. At this time, she kept looking out and looked so charismatic.

Lucian thought about the fact that she had met Malcom in such a dress.

Then he went berserk.

He parked the car, opened the door and then strode to Amelia.

"Lucian..."

However, Lucian didn't reply to her and dragged her into the elevator directly.

Amelia could tell that he was angry and looked at him with a frown.

However, without looking at her, he pulled her with one hand and put the other hand in his trouser pocket.

He looked furious, and there was no warmth on his face. His darkened eyes were filled with unhappiness and anger, as if she had done something that annoyed him a lot.

Amelia was a little wronged. Why did he get angry for no reason? Lucian didn't let go of her until he pulled her into the room.

Amelia roared at him with grievances on her face, "What's wrong with you? Why do you go berserk for no reason?"

Did she look that easy to bully? Every time he got angry, he would bully her.

Lucian narrowed his eyes and looked at her. Hadn't she known what she did wrong?

He stepped forward and held her in his arms with force. Then he lowered his head and kissed her lips.

Amelia was stunned. This d*mn b*stard! What the hell was going on?

Rage bubbled just below the surface of Lucian's mind. He used a lot of strength and tore apart Amelia's dress.

"No!" Amelia's face was filled with irritation. She struggled, but Lucian was so strong that she was no match for him.

"Oh... Lucian, you are crazy! This is the... new dress I bought for myself. I like it very much. You should buy me a new one!"

Lucian said, "Tomorrow, I'll buy a more beautiful dress for you." Lucian's breathing became a little heavy. Before Amelia could react, he had kissed her crazily.

Amelia's heart melted completely, and all she wanted to do was to enjoy the sex.

.....

After the sex, Amelia looked at her broken dress and glared at Lucian madly.

Looking at her pink and seductive face, Lucian could not help but curl his lips. He smiled wickedly and said, "It seems that I haven't made you tired enough. You even have the strength to glare at me."

Seeing that Lucian was not angry but smiled wickedly after having sex, Amelia lost her temper, "Why did you do that to me? I didn't do anything wrong."

Lucian looked at her leisurely and held her in his arms casually, "Because I am jealous."

Amelia was dumbfounded.

Jealous of what?

She looked at him in a daze, not knowing why he was jealous.

Lucian looked at her confused face and pinched her nose lightly, "Malcom said that he would buy you a house, and you smiled so happily! Moreover, you have never talked to me in such a gentle tone. I didn't even punish you severely just now." He would still make love with her at night, but he wouldn't say it at this time.

Amelia was taken aback. Lucian could always distinguished right from wrong. What was wrong with him? She did that in order to fish for information.

She punched his chest and said with her face full of dissatisfaction, "I behaved like that to fish for Malcom's words, didn't I? Since he had said that, we can make sure that he is the one who ordered my elder brother to frame Eden's eldest brother. My elder brother will definitely confess when he hears the recording."

The reason why Neal hadn't confessed was that he thought the police had no evidence. Since they had got the evidence, he could not keep it a secret anymore.

The expression in Lucian's eyes changed as he said in a low voice, "But I'm still jealous."

Amelia was speechless. Why was she so happy when she heard that?

"I'm hungry!" Amelia looked at him like a spoiled child. She was not angry anymore.

Lucian's fury vanished completely when he heard her coquettish voice.

He smiled charmingly and said in a tender tone, "Go take a bath first. I'll get them to bring you something to eat."

"Mm!" Amelia smiled, wrapped herself with the quilt and then went to the bathroom.

Lucian took a look at her and smiled evilly. He still had a very strong feeling of sexual love. After picking up the phone and calling someone to deliver some food and clothes for Amelia, he followed her to take a bath.

The moment he pushed the door open, Amelia could see his tall and strong body clearly. She was tempted and glared at him fiercely.

Lucian did not mind it and walked to her shamelessly.

She used to think that Victor doted on Eden too much, and it seemed that they wanted to stay together every second.

Only after she was in love with Lucian did she realize that as long as they loved each other, they really wanted to stay together all the time.

Before Malcom returned to the apartment, he received a phone call from Haven and was told that all the computers in the company were paralyzed.

Malcom was confused and then drove to Haven's company.

Haven was waiting for him in the office.

As soon as he came in, Haven stood up and walked towards him, saying anxiously, "Malcom, all the computers in the company are paralyzed. Such a thing had once happened in Jotham Alwynn Group before, and one billion dollars were transferred from the company to the Children's Defense Fund three days later. I am very worried now. Eden's son is very good at doing such a thing."

Malcom frowned slightly and said in disbelief, "Haven, Eden's son is about seven years old. How could he have the ability to do such a thing? You think too much."

With a dejected and worried face, Haven lowered her head and said powerlessly, "No one will believe such a thing, but I heard it from him in person."

She looked up and looked at Malcom seriously, "Eden's eldest son, Kenneth, has an extraordinary talent. I can be sure of this."

Malcom didn't believe it and comforted her, "Haven, don't worry. I'll go to the Technology Department to have a look now."

"OK!" Haven glanced at him. With him by her side, she was at ease.

After Malcom left, she waited for him nervously in the office.

Amelia and Lucian stayed in Marriott Hotel for a whole weekend.

Lucian was completely relaxed. He was in deep love everyday and dated with Amelia. He had never been so happy before, and he was sure that Amelia was the girl he had been waiting for.

He decided to tell his family about it after knowing the truth of Victor's accident. He had to face this matter sooner or later, and it was time to face it.

On Monday, Eden went to work as usual.

She adjusted the work in the company and became much more relaxed. The summer collection was gradually available on market. She had been looking forward to this.

Chapter 1107

At noon, Darlene came to the company to see Eden.

"Have a seat, aunt," Eden asked Amelia to pour a glass of juice for Darlene.

Darlene went abroad for a long time and just came back today.

She seemed to be in a good mood, and her smile was much brighter than before. Eden always felt that her aunt was in love.

Darlene glanced at Eden and smiled lovingly. "Eden, I learned a lot of things abroad this time, so I came to share it with you. It seems that you won't be able to participate in this year's international design competition. We will wait for next year." Darlene felt a little pity for her. There hadn't been any good works in the competitions for the past two years. Eden had a good chance last year, but all kinds of things happened.

Eden only smiled, didn't seem to bother at all. "There are still many opportunities in the future. It doesn't matter."

Without Victor, she would still be alone even though she climbed up to that position.

"Yes!" Darlene smiled and nodded. "There will be many opportunities in the future. Don't worry, you're still young."

Darlene looked at Eden's legs, feeling great pain in her heart. "You told me that you walk for a bit now? How are you feeling?"

"It's still the same. We have to be patient," said Eden.

Darlene nodded, "Yes, you should have faith."

"Yes, I will." Eden smiled gently and nodded.

The news of Eden taking over Alwynn Group had gone mad online recently. Darlene also saw it.

She actually met a very talented girl this time when she was abroad. This girl had been focusing on the market in the north district of River City two months ago, and Alwynn Group also had a very successful sales result in that area.

Eden's work had inspired her a lot, therefore, and Darlene believed that her design of this summer season would make a great coup in C Country.

Thinking of this, she took out a stack of documents from her handbag and handed them to Eden.

"This is the document of my overseas investigation this time. There is a designer named Melissa Craig from C Country, who is also the daughter of the president of our company. I met her this time, and she said she has always been very interested in your work.

She came to the north district of River City to study your work. Your design inspired her a lot, so after going back, she created a lot of good designs. And this batch of clothes is going to aim the market around River City. In my opinion, she is a strong competitor to you. And this time, Alwynn Group is also going to have a strong opponent."

Eden smiled and didn't seem to care at all. But she was still very grateful that Darlene told her this. "There always will be many talented people in this world. This is a very competitive industry as well, so it is so common to have opponents. The only thing I can do is try my best."

"That's true." Darlene looked at her confident face and smiled as well. "I believe that with your ability, you can definitely become the winner. Melissa is a very competitive person, but her father is a nice man."

This time, she also had her own business to deal with in C Country.

She had known Carney Craig for many years, and he also liked her for many years. She felt that she finally started to feel something for him recently.

However, his daughter didn't like her at all, so they didn't have any progress this time. She only hoped that his daughter would change a little in the future.

Eden looked at her and smiled. "Aunt, you've changed a lot this time."

Darlene didn't expect that Eden could tell it, but she didn't want to hide anything from her anyway. "The girl I just talked about, Melissa, is Carney's daughter. Carney's wife died a few years ago, leaving a son and a daughter to him. And these few years, he has been asking me out.

I didn't properly move on from my own mass at that time, so I never agreed to it. When I met you, I feel that I figured everything out all of a sudden. There is really no point to make myself stuck in the sadness from before. I should move on and enjoy my life.

So I wanted to try it with him. However, his daughter did not like us to be together. His son didn't say anything. This time, I had a bit hard time with his daughter.

She always thinks that I just wanted her father's money."

Hearing this, Eden already knew how complicated it was. Rich families never have trust in each other.

"You are such a sincere person, so I believe you will convince her one day."

Darlene nodded with a smile. "That's what I'm thinking too. Anyway, I need to go now as I have a meeting later. I left the box outside. There are snacks I brought for you. I didn't know what to bring, so I just bought some snacks."

Eden smiled with a grateful look and nodded. "Thank you."

Then Darlene got up and ready to leave. Before she left, she suddenly turned back around and looked a little worried.

"Eden, although Melissa and I don't get along with each other, I still won't say bad things about her just because of that. But I have to tell you that I think she copied your work. You must be careful. Don't fall in her trap."

Eden frowned slightly. It sounded like she indeed should be careful.

"Yes, I'll be careful."

Darlene looked at her and nodded with satisfaction. "Eden, a real strong person never cares about winning others. Instead of competing with others, it's better to calm down and make yourself stronger, so that no one else could defeat you anymore. When you become popular, they will have to respect you."

Eden was this kind of person. Once she showed her real talent, no one else could be a match for her.

Hearing these words, Eden knew what she should do. A person of high position was more liable to be attacked.

A real strong person might not be the most powerful man in the world, but they must have a strong heart that made them confident. Confidence was always the most important thing.

After Darlene left, Eden started reading the documents.

Darlene always tried her best to give everything she had to Eden. No matter what she learned from abroad, the first thing she thought about would always be to share it with Eden.

Eden pressed the button on her wheelchair and went back to the desk, looking at Melissa's information carefully.

Melissa Craig, twenty-six years old. Eden frowned slightly, thinking that she was still very young. Then she glanced at the photo, noticing that she was also a very beautiful girl.

She graduated from a famous university of C Country and majored in design.

She scrolled down and saw several photos of her design.

Eden frowned even deeper. All her designs looked very similar to her own work.

Chapter 1108

Eden looked at a few more designs. Her design style was completely integrated into Melissa's design.

She frowned slightly. She never knew there was a person in the world who would pay so much attention to her.

She called Lucian through the company line.

"Hello, Eden." Lucian quickly answered

"Lucian, come to my office with Amelia. I have something to talk to you about."

"Sure," said Lucian.

After hanging up the phone, Eden stared at the design again. The more she looked at it, the more she realized how similar they were to her design of the previous years.

Melissa was indeed very talented in designing.

However, her works were still totally outshone compared with Eden's new design this year.

Eden slightly narrowed her eyes. She was worried that there might be people with evil intentions in the company.

Erin had also been in the company all this time.

Without Tillie, she never did anything out of line as she lost her backer.

"Eden." Lucian and Amelia came in.

Eden placed Melissa's designs in front of them and said, "Look at these designs."

Lucian and Amelia looked at each other first, then Lucian stretched out and took over the photos. Amelia exclaimed in surprise when she saw them, "These designs are very similar to your style."

Eden smiled and nodded. "It seems that you can see that as well."

Amelia nodded. "But..." she looked at Eden and hesitated.

Eden nodded and encouraged her to continue.

"Although the style is very similar to yours, I can tell they have been struggling in this industry. The details and fashion sense cannot be a match to ours. There will be a fashion festival hosted by the Clothing Association at the end of this year, and I'm afraid she would want to participate in it."

Eden nodded. "We still have a lot of time to prepare for the fashion festival. But now, I am more worried that our design ideas for this summer season were leaked. This was designed by a designer named Melissa Craig. She is the daughter of the president of Darlene's company. A part of their summer products has been released in the market already, and the main market is in River City and nearby cities. Our summer products are sold well in the early stage, but we are still waiting for more products to be released. Inform the factory now that I want all the new products to be finished early."

Lucian nodded and said, "I'll inform the factory soon."

Eden looked at Amelia and said, "Amelia, ask Irene and the marketing team to find out if there is any conflict between their summer new product and ours as soon as possible."

"Okay!" Amelia nodded.

Lucian felt reassured when he saw how Eden's confident face.

She looked like a gentle and quiet person, but she had the same decisiveness as Victor.

Thinking of this, Lucian said, "Kenny hacked the computer system of Haven's company, and the police have grasped hold of some clues. They have already found out where Buddy's money is gone and are ready to freeze the account. Now, they only need the evidence for Malcom."

Eden smiled contentedly when she heard that. The person who had done something to Victor's car was Malcom. She could only be at ease when they catch him.

Lucian glanced at Amelia and said, "Neal has also confessed and identified the person in the video as Malcom. It was Malcom who instructed him to put the thing in Delmont's car. Now we only need the evidence for the one billion and what happened to Victor."

Eden heaved a sigh of relief. Finally, this matter was about to be brought to light.

She looked at Amelia with some concern. After all, Neal was her older brother.

Amelia seemed to understand what she was worrying about, so she smiled and said, "Eden, you don't have to worry about me. My brother deserves it. If we don't bring him to justice, his future will be more difficult."

She felt sorry for her brother, but it was all for his own good.

She hoped that he could learn from it, and then find a better job after coming out of jail. It would be good for him if he could live a peaceful life in the future.

She never expected too much from her brother anyway. Her only hope was that he could live a normal life.

Eden looked a little guilty. "Amelia, I'm sorry. I have no other choice."

Amelia shook her head slightly. It was not Eden's fault anyway.

After Lucian and Amelia went out, Eden sat down alone in the office and stared blankly.

Looking at the photos of her and Victor, her heart began to ache again.

"Victor, where the hell are you?" She said to herself, looking quietly at the man who was smiling gently in the photo.

The gleam of his smile did not eclipse the dazzling brilliance of his eyes. She missed every moment they had spent together.

Eden sat there and stared at the photos of the two of them quietly.

All of a sudden, her phone rang on the desk, pulled her back to her senses.

She picked it up and glanced at it. It was from Haven.

A cold light came across her eyes. She picked up the phone, "Hello?"

"Eden, did your son do it?"

"What are you talking about?"

On the other side of the phone, Haven couldn't help but roar, "Stop playing dumb. You know very well what your son has done. He made my company suffer a great loss. Don't pretend that you didn't know."

Eden looked out of the big window expressionlessly.

"Well, you'd better show me the proof if you say so."

She used the words that Haven used to say to her.

"I know he did it even though I don't have the evidence. Eden, let me tell you, I have no way back now, so if you carry on doing this to me, I'll make sure all your family will suffer! I don't care about anything anymore, so I'm capable of everything!"

Eden knew she was not joking. She would definitely be able to do anything.

Eden said, "Really? The next time you do this, we can die together as I want to kill you for a long time. Let's see what would happen if you dared to touch my family again." Her tone was calm, but it made Haven on the other side of the phone shiver.

"Let's wait and see. The new summer product has been released now, so I'd like to see how you can win against me." Haven sounded very confident, even with a hint of gloating.

Eden was about to say something, but Lucian suddenly sent her a message.

She glanced at it and saw Haven's name, so she quickly opened it. "Eden, the market investigation team just sent back the message saying Haven's company released a batch of summer products today, whose style was very similar to that of our company's M1084."

Seeing this, Eden finally knew why Haven was so confident.

She sneered and said, "We've already have a final say. Let's wait and see then." Then she hung up the phone angrily.

Chapter 1109

Lucian walked in as soon as Eden hung up the phone.

He looked at Eden who was sitting quietly. She did not seem worried at all.

Then he said casually, "Someone in the company leaked the design drawings of this year."

Eden nodded slightly. "Ask Brian to come over. I want all the models put on a live show of this year's new product. From today on, until all the new products are released, we need to make some short videos and posted them online as well. Then all the problems will be solved."

She leaned back slightly and continued, "When we were preparing the design of this season, Victor was with me, and we have video materials as well. We edited the video and played it along with other videos online."

Lucian understood what she meant instantly. He nodded and said, "We have to find out who leaked the information too."

Eden's gaze sharpened as she looked up at Lucian. Erin's resentful face appeared in her mind. "It's Erin. Haven must know what happened between Tillie and Erin. With such a person in Alwynn Group, she won't miss it."

Lucian nodded. His eyes were dark and cold, and his voice was even more ruthless when he spoke. "I'll go and find her now."

Eden sighed slightly. "Yes, you may catch her off guard now." She knew Erin had held a grudge against her after what happened to Summer.

A smile appeared on Lucian's gloomy face. "By the way, your work is getting more and more popular now. Today, I got an invitation from a famous actress who wants you to design her dress for all the events. She came to us several times already, but you were injured at that time, so we refused her. But she just sent me a message again today, saying that she still wants to see if you have time even though she knows that you are not fully recovered yet."

Hearing this, a confident smile appeared on Eden's face. "Yes, I have time. Please reply to her for me."

Lucian smiled and nodded, "I'll send you her information later."

"Thank you for your hard work," Eden said politely.

Hearing this, Lucian smiled warmly and said, "You are welcome. And thank you for your hard work!"

He smiled and turned around to leave. Even his back looked less lonely now.

Eden smiled with relief. Looking at Victor's smiling face in the photo on the desk, she smiled and said, "Victor, did you see that? Lucian and Anson have both found their own happiness. You were worried about Lucian before, weren't you? Now you don't have to worry anymore. He is with Amelia now, and they are very happy. You have always hoped that they can all have their own happiness. Now they are both happy, so you can rest assured."

She stretched out and gently touched his face on the photo with her slender fingers. She missed him so much.

In Erin's office.

The thing that happened last time didn't affect her much.

She was still working in the wedding dress designing department.

She seemed to have a good life during Eden's absence.

Without Eden, she was still the best designer in the company.

At this time, she was dressed in a white business suit, looking very relaxed. Her hair seemed to have just been dyed in brown, which made her look much more mature.

She was holding a cup of coffee and chatting with her assistant and two other staff.

They finally could have some relaxed time when Victor was not here.

"Erin, have you made a fortune recently? Your clothes look so expensive, so does the diamond ring. It suits you very well." A female staff said as she smiled at Erin with a flattering face.

She also looked very envious.

Erin stretched out to show her diamond ring, smiling proudly.

"I have been thinking about this diamond ring for a long time. I like it very much. I finally bought it after saving for a while." She looked arrogant. In her mind, luxury goods are everything.

For real rich people, money and fame were just something they have all the time.

However, in the eyes of an ordinary person like Erin, money and fame were what she had been dreaming of for her whole life.

"Wow! How long have you been saving for that?" Another staff also asked excitedly. She looked enviously at the diamond ring on Erin's finger. As a woman, she also hoped that she could have one or two sets of jewelry that she could show off.

Erin smiled. "It took me a long time." However, this diamond ring was given by Haven.

Haven was more generous than Tillie. So Erin got a lot from her since she started working with her.

Erin lowered her head to look at her phone. Suddenly, a few models walked past the corridor.

Some of Erin's assistants knew the models, so she shouted, "Natalie, where are you going in such a hurry?"

The model named Natalie stopped, took a look at her, and said with a smile, "The president gave an order and asked all models go to the eleventh floor to provide a live broadcast of all the new products of this season."

Hearing this, Erin suddenly looked up at her and said, "Natalie, the rest of the new products are still in the factory. Why do they suddenly start to broadcast new products?"

Natalie shook her head slightly and said, "We don't know. But you know that Alwynn Group always likes surprises. Our products sold very well in all the districts, so I guess they want to release the rest of them in advance."

After that, Natalie smiled and left.

But hearing this, Erin started to feel a bit uneasy.

Eden and Victor were both extremely efficient, but why didn't they act according to the plan?

If they want to release the products in advance, then.....

Erin panicked a little. She turned around and quickly returned to her desk.

Before she could sit down, she heard the assistant behind her call out, "Mr. Ronen."

Her face turned pale, then she quickly looked back at Mr. Ronen in panic.

Lucian had already entered the office. He was wearing a white shirt and the sleeves were slightly rolled up, making him look more casual and sexy. There were two people from the legal department and IT department came with him.

Erin's whole body shivered a little. She didn't expect everything to happen so soon.

"Mr. Ronen, what's up?" Erin's assistant said to Lucian with a smile.

After greeting them, the other two staff left quickly.

Lucian nodded but did not say anything. He only looked at Erin quietly.

Erin tried to hide the uneasiness in her heart and looked at Lucian with a smile. "Mr. Ronen, is there anything that I can help with....."

Lucian turned around and glanced at the two people from the IT department. "Check her computer."

"Yes, Mr. Ronen." The two staff in dark suits walked to Erin's desk and looked at her, "Chief Pelosi, the company's summer product has been leaked, so we need to check your computer."

Erin instantly looked at Lucian angrily and said, "Mr. Ronen, are you suspecting that I am the one who did it?"

Lucian said calmly, "We will find it out after checking your computer."

Chapter 1110

"I didn't do it. Don't touch my computer." Erin glared angrily at Lucian. She couldn't let them see her computer as she still kept everything there.

"Mr. Ronen, you don't have the right to do this." Her face turned stern.

"What about us?" The two staff of the legal department looked at Erin with cold eyes.

Lucian put on a sarcastic smile and said, "Why don't I have the right? I am a shareholder of Alwynn Group."

Hearing this, Erin fell silent. She had nothing to say to refute him.

He didn't say anything wrong anyway.

Lucian made eye contact with the two IT staff.

Then one of them looked at Erin and said, "Chief Pelosi, please move away. We have to do our job."

Erin glared at him and stood where she was, refusing to let anyone pass her.

Looking at her nervous expression, Lucian already knew that she was involved.

Most of their employee knew that the salary they got in Alwynn Group was so much better than any other company, so they would all try their best to keep their jobs.

"Do you need me to call the security guards?" Lucian asked coldly.

Erin's body couldn't stop trembling. If he really called the security guards, it would only make her more embarrassed.

She slightly moved her body, and there was cold sweat on her forehead. How could it be possible?

How could they be suspicious of her?

They didn't even get to her last time.

Just as she was thinking, Lucian spoke in an indifferent voice, "Do you know why the President had different plans regarding Summer Shriver's wedding dress? It was because she had long noticed that you were helping Tillie. But after that, she got injured, so that matter just ended up like that."

"What?" Erin couldn't help believe it. How did she find out?

She did not often meet Eden either. How would she know that she was helping Tillie?

"That's impossible. I didn't do it." Erin's trembled voice couldn't even convince herself, but what else could she do?

She hadn't even got time to delete the history of her sending the design drawings to Haven.

Lucian came in earlier just when she was about to delete them.

The two IT staff were very efficient. It didn't take them long to get all the evidence.

"Mr. Ronen, we found it." Hearing this, Lucian walked over and took a look at the files. All the photos of the new design of this season were in there.

Erin panicked, and her eyes were filled with despair and fear.

She didn't expect that everything happened so quickly.

Looking at Lucian's angry face, her heart sank.

She thought of this day, but she didn't know it would come right now.

She just wanted to get what she had been dreaming of.

She just wished that she could have a stable life in this city as an outsider.

Many people made money from doing this kind of thing, so she thought she could do it too.

Lucian glanced at the people from the legal department, then said emotionlessly, "Sue her immediately."

"Yes, Mr. Ronen!" The two of them then came to verify the evidence.

"No, Mr. Ronen, please. I was wrong. I shouldn't have done such a thing. I was being stupid. Please let me off this time." Erin said to Lucian helplessly and fearfully.

Lucian looked at her mockingly, "Were you just being stupid, or did you do it for the diamond ring? The diamond ring is just something that Haven doesn't want anymore, so she gave it to you. But you really think it's a treasure and bring it to the company every day to show off."

His words made Erin so embarrassed.

Was it something that Haven didn't want anymore.....

But when Haven gave it to her, it was clearly wrapped up like a brand new ring.

Haven came to her not long after she became the design director and asked her to steal the Alwynn Group's design drawings. She also offered her a lot of money.

Erin successfully fell into her trap when she saw the money. Therefore, without thinking much, she stole the design and gave it to Haven.

However, she didn't expect that she actually forced herself into a dead end.

"Mr. Ronen, I'm sorry. Please forgive me this time." Erin's pretty face was as pale as paper. It was as if she had been sentenced to death, and her entire body was trembling severely.

If Alwynn Group kicked her out because of this, her reputation would be totally ruined. Then how could she find another job?

Lucian looked at her indifferently and said, "Forgive you? Then are you going to compensate Alwynn Group for the loss of hundreds of millions of dollars?"

"I....." Erin lost her words. If she had money, she wouldn't need to do this kind of thing from the beginning.

Lucian called a reporter he knew and was going to hold a press conference soon.

He had to finish everything today.

At this time, Eden came in in her wheelchair.

Lucian looked at her worriedly and asked, "Why are you coming down alone? Amelia went to the factory."

Eden smiled. "There is an electric wheelchair, and I only used the elevator. Don't worry."

Then, everyone all greeted Eden.

Eden smiled back at everyone.

Then she glanced at Erin's deathly pale face and asked Lucian. "Have you found it?"

"Yes! We are going to sue her. I'll hold a press conference soon." Lucian turned around and stood in front of her.

Great anger swept across Eden's beautiful face. Haven almost ruined everything for these two seasons.

If she hadn't called her to show off today, Eden still wouldn't have known it.

"President, please, I was all my fault. Please forgive me this time. I didn't mean to do it. I was just being stupid." Erin knelt in front of Eden, who looked so indifferent. Erin still had some hope in her heart, because Eden was more soft-hearted than Victor. This time Victor was not here, so she could definitely get away with it.

Eden did not look at her, but said indifferently, "I'm not here to sympathize with you. I just want to warn you that a person should always work hard and never forget about your moral standing."

Erin didn't know what to say. She didn't expect that Eden could be this ruthless.

"I already gave you a chance after what happened to Tillie, but you didn't appreciate it at all."

Erin looked at her emotionless face, thinking that she probably still had a chance if she told her all the truth.

"President, it's Haven. She threatened me." She wanted to blame everything on Hacen. Everyone knew that Eden and Haven didn't really get along.

Eden ignored her. She looked at Lucian and said, "Mr. Ronen, I'm afraid you will have to take care of the rest."

"Sure, don't worry." Lucian said in a deep voice.

Eden smiled faintly. She always trusted him.

After that, she turned on the wheelchair and ready to leave.

"President, please, please forgive me." Erin wanted to go after Eden, but Lucian stopped her.

Erin could do nothing but watch Eden leave.

She covered her face and cried. This time, her career and life would be ruined.
