

Gluey Love 1121

Chapter 1121

"If it weren't for Mr. Joye's help, it would be very difficult for us to find evidence for Victor's car accident." Lucian looked at Jasper gratefully.

Jasper loved Eden very much. After she had an accident, he installed a security camera in her car secretly.

In the surveillance video, they saw Malcom appear in the underground parking lot.

After checking up, Lucian found that Malcom did something to Victor's car when all the security camera in the parking lot failed, and he didn't notice this all the time.

Of course, they didn't tell Eden that it was Jasper who provided them the evidence.

Eden only knew that Jasper was helping her secretly. She was very grateful, but she had never asked in detail.

Jasper wanted Lucian to keep it a secret. After all, he only cared about Eden's safety.

Other things were not important to him.

Malcom did not believe that they could really find the evidence. How could his perfect conspiracy be so vulnerable?

"Jasper." Malcom took off his sunglasses and turned to look at Jasper's handsome and calm face with cold eyes. Rage bubbled just below the surface of Malcom's mind. What did Jasper... find?

Looking at Malcom's gradually pale face, Jasper only curled his lips and smiled mockingly. Last night, if Eden hadn't said that her car had been parked in the parking lot for a long time, he wouldn't have thought of the security camera in her car. Then he called Lucian, and Lucian found more convincing evidence indeed.

"Take them away." The policeman gave the order, and then four people walked towards Haven and Malcom.

"Ah..." Haven fell down and sat on the ground dejectedly. Her face was pale and she was trembling all over, "No! It's not like this!" Haven shook her head and could not believe that her life would be ruined just like this.

Lucian glanced at Haven and sneered, "Haven, Malcom approached you deliberately. His purpose is to use you to get Alwynn Group. The reason why he gave you Clement Group is that you can accept his kink in sex."

"Ah..." Haven was dealt a severe blow. She shuddered and then took a look at Malcom who did not speak.

"No, it's impossible... Woo-woo... No way! He can't treat me like this." Haven burst into tears.

However, Malcom didn't defend himself, which was a tacit admission that Lucian was right.

Haven didn't understand why her life was so miserable. No one had ever loved her sincerely.

Seeing Haven like this, Eden didn't sympathize with her at all. Life was short, but why didn't she cherish it?

At the very least, she had to sharpen her vigilance and discriminate the sincere people from the hypocritical people.

When two officers in plain clothes helped Haven up, Eden said, "In this world, at least mom and dad love you sincerely, but you chose a wrong way. You have ruined yourself and hurt their hearts. Your ambition and what you have done disappoint everyone."

Haven stopped crying all of a sudden. With tears in her eyes, she looked at Eden's calm face.

After being taken away by the police, she didn't defend herself anymore.

Malcom and Haven were taken away by the police. Eden didn't look away until they left. She remained silent and didn't speak.

She lowered her head, and there was no joy on her face. On the contrary, she looked more sorrowful.

The person she loved had not come back to her.

What made her sadder was that her lover went missing because of such two despicable people.

Jasper walked behind Eden and held the handles on her wheelchair.

Jasper pushed Eden out of the airport. Along the way, he did not speak to Eden. He knew that she did not want to speak at this time.

Haven was sitting in the police car. Her pupils trembled when she saw that Eden was pushed out by Jasper with a calm expression.

She suddenly thought that if she could go back to twenty years ago, she would not choose to go home with Aisling.

She would definitely choose to be an orphan. If she didn't become the daughter of a rich family, and if she could be philosophical about life, her smile would be as pure as the sunshine, and her eyes would be as clear as the sky above the snow mountain.

She would not be afraid of losing what she once had.

Moreover, she wouldn't have been arrested like this.

If it weren't for the fact that she wanted to be a daughter of a rich family, she wouldn't have gone to the Clement family, and she would live a peaceful and ordinary life in the orphanage.

She could marry a tall and handsome man, not a heartless man like Vincent.

Eden once said, "Haven, no one abandoned you. You have abandoned yourself."

Her words were exactly right.

However, could she choose at that time?

After her parents died, her life was in a mess.

Her aunt and uncle adopted her, but they treated her badly. Her aunt would hit the ceiling every time she went to pay the utilities such as gas, water and electricity. She went to the supermarket once a week, but she always lost her temper after she came back.

She lived in their house, which was an intolerable to her aunt.

Her aunt often scolded her as an ingrate. Once she was mad, she would beat or pinch her. They had no money, but they couldn't live without money, so her aunt vented all her anger on her.

She was afraid and irritated. She was a child, but she had to take her cue from her aunt and live in this world humbly.

One morning, when she was playing on the road outside the yard, she heard two women talking next to her.

A little girl who had the same experiences as her was sent to an orphanage. Then she was adopted by a rich family and lived like a little princess. The rich life they described was beyond her imagination. At that time, she had decided to live such a luxurious life in the future.

One day, her aunt beat her again, and she said that she wanted to go to the orphanage.

At first, her aunt was stunned, and then she smiled happily. She discussed with her husband and immediately agreed to send her to kindergarten.

They thought of many ways before sending her to the orphanage.

Although Haven would not be beaten or scolded in the orphanage, she lived a lonely life without family.

The children in the orphanage would be adopted every few days, and she was envious.

Many lucky children were adopted by good families and lived a comfortable life.

She knew about this very well.

Whenever she saw rich people come here to adopt a child, she would walk around them obediently.

However, she was too dull and reticent. She felt inferior, so no one was willing to adopt her.

After a long time, Aisling went there. The moment she saw Haven, she kept staring at her and called her "Eden" with tears in her eyes. Then she took the initiative to talk to Haven.

At that time, Aisling looked very young and beautiful. She was exactly a noble woman.

Chapter 1122

Haven had only seen such exquisite makeup and clothes on TV before. She had never met any rich people in real life.

She had been in the orphanage for so long, but it was the first time she had seen such a beautiful lady.

With tears in eyes, Aisling took her hand and said with a smile, "Are you willing to be my daughter? My daughter Eden got lost and we can't find her. You look like her very much. Looking at you makes me feel like seeing my own daughter. If you can stay by my side, I won't be so painful."

When Haven heard it, she felt that she was a substitute and was somewhat unwilling.

But Aisling loved her daughter very much, and she was moved by her. She wanted a mother who really loved her.

As long as she could be obedient and sensible, Aisling would love her and treat her as her own daughter.

Looking at Aisling's expectant face, she couldn't help but nod. She pursed her lips and looked at the expression on Aisling's face cautiously.

Seeing the smile on Haven's face, Aisling grinned with joy. She reached out and rubbed her head, "Good girl. Eden is as clever and sensible as you. You look quiet and gentle. From now on, your name is Haven. I hope that you will be safe and sound in the rest of your life."

Hearing these words, Haven smiled happily, nodded excitedly and said, "Mom."

She spoke in a very low voice. Aisling was so gorgeous and noble, so she didn't dare to make any mistake, for fear that Aisling would abandon her.

After Aisling completed the procedures in the orphanage, she took Haven to the shopping mall and bought a lot of beautiful princess dresses for her.

When Haven returned to the Clement family, she liked the grand and luxurious villa so much, and she had her own princess room.

She had become the little princess whom she had been envious of before.

Everyone in the Clement family treated her very well. She had finally become a little princess living in the castle, and her dream had finally come true.

When she was young, she lived the happiest life. However, as she grew up, she gradually realized that her appearance did not ease their longing for Eden.

She sneaked into Eden's room, only to find that her room was the real princess room. It was more luxurious than Aisling's master bedroom.

At that time, she understood that she could not replace Eden's position in the Clement family.

At such a young age, she had begun to be jealous of a person who might have been dead.

She had been jealous since then.

Jealousy could change one's nature. Before going to bed every night, she would pray in bed for Eden to never come back.

But worrying about things that might never happen increased their chances of happening.

Eden really came back. Haven was anxious and panicked. Moreover, Victor and Eden were childhood sweethearts, and he still loved Eden.

Eden was back, and she was so excellent. That was why Haven became more jealous and did so many vicious things.

Her life was supposed to be wonderful, but she had ruined her own life. Eden didn't want to take away anything from her, but she did so many wrong things.

"Woo-woo..." Haven looked back on her life. She had destroyed the only trace of warmth in her heart.

She lost her dream because of jealousy and fear. The more she wanted to get, the more she lost.

In the police car, Haven cried very mournfully, feeling sad and regretful.

A few days later, Haven and Malcom were accused of all the crimes. As for Grandma Clement's car accident, Haven's aunt turned herself in to get lighter punishment.

The three of them were imprisoned, getting the punishment they deserved.

Delmont was released without charge.

Eden sat in front of the French window and watched the live broadcast on her phone.

Newspaper editors all strove to be first with the news about Haven and Malcom. However, they didn't know about Victor's car accident.

Haven's relationship with Malcom was exposed.

Malcom's hacking skills panicked various companies.

Alwynn Group took back the two billion dollars that they had lost.

Clement Group got their shares and money back as well.

Everything seemed to have returned to the starting point.

However, Eden's heart was still painful.

Victor hadn't come back.

In the age of social networks, everyone could express their opinions online. What Haven and Malcom had done became a hot topic online, and so many people scolded them with harsh words.

Eden was not interested in their comments at all.

She looked out of the window with sorrow, "Victor, I haven't fulfilled your wish and you haven't spent the rest of your life with me, but where are you?"

She muttered to herself sadly and felt slightly cold on her face. Unconsciously, tears ran down her face again.

She wiped the tears, went back to the desk in the wheelchair and begun to read the sales report of the summer collection.

After reading the report for a while, she found that the new product of TS Company had been on the market as well.

However, their business was inferior to that of Alwynn Group.

Seeing the similar styles of TS Company, Eden was lost in thought.

Eden knew that customers would have such a doubt.

After all, in this season, their new product had something in common. But the clothes designed by her were more popular.

Alwynn Group had won.

Darlene called Eden to congratulate her.

Alwynn Group had always been in the limelight, attracting tens of millions of fans.

In people's opinion, Eden was a very famous and excellent designer.

Three months later!

The summer collection was popular, and Eden became busier and busier.

In those busy days, she had forgotten how many days Victor had left her. It had been more than half a year, but they hadn't found Victor.

Eden did not give up, neither did Brian and the others friends. They had been looking for Victor.

When Eden was reading a document carefully, the phone next to her rang suddenly.

She took a look. It was a strange phone number.

"Hello?"

No one spoke on the phone.

Eden took away the phone and glanced at it. There was nothing wrong with the connection.

She said again, "Hello?" No one responded to her. Just she was about to hang up the phone, she heard a woman's voice.

"Excuse me... Is that Eden, the president of Alwynn Group?"

"Yeah." Eden said calmly and unhurriedly.

In a secret high-class ward.

Melissa Craig looked at the man lying on the hospital bed. His face was deathly pale, and he was lying still, as if he was dead.

Melissa held his ice-cold hand and smiled tenderly.

"I'm Melissa, the design director of TS Company. We are blown away by your design, and I want to cooperate with you. Could you come to C Country and talk to me in detail?"

Hearing this, Eden was a little confused. Since Melissa wanted to cooperate with her, why did she ask her to go to C Country?

However, it was a good chance for them to penetrate new markets in C Country. "Okay. Miss Craig, when will you be free?"

"Three days later. I will wait for you in the headquarters of TS Company." After saying that, Melissa hung up the phone.

She looked at the man's handsome face tenderly and smiled charmingly. The man was Victor.

Chapter 1123

After hanging up the phone, Eden glanced the photo of her and Victor on the table. Her eyes became gentler and gentler.

"Victor, I want to go there to have a look. That's your dream."

After muttering to herself, Eden frowned slightly and pondered. According to the information Darlene had given her, Melissa was a very proud woman. But she suddenly called her. Why did she do so?

No matter how she thought about it, she felt strange.

The Craig family was very powerful abroad, and Melissa was born to be rich and noble.

Among the young ladies of renowned families, she was outstanding and well-known, and many girls envied her.

Her father was a famous and wealthy entrepreneur who had a dominant position and a great influence abroad.

Eden called Lucian and Amelia's offices, and they walked in shoulder-to-shoulder soon.

Looking at them, Eden smiled. Lucian was handsome and Amelia was pretty. They were a perfect match.

"Eden, what's the matter?" Lucian asked.

Eden smiled and said, "Just now, I received a phone call from Melissa, the designer director of TS Company. She said that she wanted to cooperate with our company, but we must go there to meet her three days later. Let's go aboard together."

Amelia looked at Eden happily and couldn't be more excited, "Eden, could I go with you?"

C Country was a developed superpower, and she always wanted to travel there.

Eden nodded with a smile, "Of course, you are my assistant. Book the flight in advance. We'll have an investigation of the market before deciding whether to cooperate with her or not."

After all, she felt that Melissa was very strange, and she wanted to go there and take a look herself.

Melissa had known herself in advance, but she only knew a little about Melissa.

"Okay! Country C is a very nice place. We'll gain a lot if we can cooperate with her." Lucian agreed with Eden.

Lucian and Amelia had no objections, and Eden wanted to go aboard to relax herself.

"That's settled then. We'll set off in three days."

"Alright!" Amelia nodded excitedly. She was lucky enough to go abroad.

Lucian turned his head and looked at her dotingly. Seeing how delighted she was, he could not help but smile and asked, "Are you that glad?"

"Yeah!" Amelia looked at him, blinked her big eyes and smiled with joy. She rarely had the chance to go abroad. Since she had the chance to work aboard, she was naturally overjoyed.

Seeing Amelia's happy face, Eden was pleased. She had also never been to C Country before.

Haven and Malcom had been punished, and she was relieved.

She suddenly thought of Haven's eyes before she left. She seemed to have realized her mistakes, but it was too late.

One who committed many injustices was doomed to failure.

Sometimes, being cold-blooded was not to hurt others' interest, but to protect oneself.

She didn't feel sorry for Haven. Perhaps she had grown maturer. She was no longer as guilty and sad as she had been when she faced Bethany.

She had always been kind, so she couldn't bear to see others suffer because of her.

But at this time, she didn't think so.

Haven had done something wrong indeed. She should be decisive, and she couldn't let her, her friends and family get hurt all the time.

After Lucian and Amelia went out, Eden finished her work, got up from her wheelchair, and walked slowly while holding onto the table.

Maybe it was because she was in a good mood. She could stand up and walk a few steps on her own these days.

She didn't feel painful in her legs anymore, but sometimes her legs were limp and she had no strength to walk.

In the past few days, she would exercise her legs in the office after finishing her work.

As long as she looked at Victor's photo, she would be energetic. When she found Victor, she wanted to walk to him instead of sitting in a wheelchair.

In the photo, he was looking at her tenderly. She would be encouraged and emanate power and confidence when she saw the photo.

Eden had been walking around the desk. She looked at the time. That day, she had walked three minutes longer. Ten minutes had passed, and she felt that she could walk for a more while.

Smiling, she tried to let go of the desk and walk towards the leather sofa aside.

One step, two steps, three steps... To reach the sofa, she had to take fifteen steps at least. She walked slowly, but she kept moving forward.

She did much better than she did in the rehabilitation centre.

In the rehabilitation centre, she couldn't walk without the help of other things.

That day, it was the first time that she had walked a dozen steps at one go.

Walking to the sofa, Eden slowly sat down with a smile. She didn't fall down, nor did she stagger and lose balance. She walked here steadily and sat down slowly. She felt relaxed all over, and she only got a tight feeling in her legs.

"Ha-ha..." She smiled happily. Could she finally stand up and walk?

Every minute she sat in the wheelchair, she felt very uncomfortable.

She had been looking forward to the moment when she could walk freely.

After resting for a while, she was still energetic, so she tried to stand up slowly. One step, two steps, three steps... She walked out of the office.

She walked very slowly, but she could walk like a normal person.

The locations of the injuries of her and Anson were different. Anson was a little lame as he walked, and he couldn't straighten one of his legs while walking.

Anson had been recovering quite well because of the power of love.

Seeing Eden coming out by herself, Amelia was so surprised and opened her eyes wide, "Eden, you..."

"You're surprised, aren't you? I can walk on my own now." Eden said in a proud tone. Looking at Amelia's surprised eyes, she felt that she had done something great.

"Yeah..." Amelia kept nodding with tears in her eyes. She was not used to seeing Eden sit in a wheelchair everyday, and she hoped that Eden could stand up quickly.

Although she had lost Victor, at least she was a healthy person, and she wouldn't be that upset.

Amelia walked toward her and asked with concern, "Eden, do you feel painful while walking? Although you have been receiving treatment, the doctor said that you can't force yourself, and accidents are likely to happen."

Eden shook her head slightly and gave her a reassuring look, "Amelia, I have been trying my best to recover during this period of time. I want to stand up. When Victor comes back, I will let him know that I can walk by myself. He will definitely be very happy to see that."

The smile on Amelia's face froze when she heard that. Did Eden still believe that Victor would come back?

They all knew what she was thinking in heart, but no one dared to ruin her only faith in Victor.

She smiled and said, "Eden, Mr. Alwynn will definitely be very delighted to see you stand up and walk."

Chapter 1124

Eden glanced at Amelia. Seeing that Amelia could not bear to deny her, she did not say anything. In fact, she knew that Amelia did not believe her.

The reason Amelia chimed with her was that she didn't want her to be sad.

She suddenly looked out of the window. It was sunny. Looking at the sky on the 25th floor, she found that the sky was particularly blue.

She suddenly said with a smile, "Amelia, I have a very strong feeling that Victor is coming back. I dreamed of him last night. He told me that he was fine and asked me not to worry about him."

Amelia didn't know how to reply to her.

In the past, Eden had been paying attention to Haven, Malcom and Delmont. She wanted to find out the murderer who had killed Victor every day.

But Haven and Malcom had been brought to justice, so all Eden could do was to work. When she didn't have much work to do, she would naturally think too much.

Amelia and Lucian had been paying close attention to Eden's emotions.

If Victor really lived in this world, he should have been back. After all, more than half a year had passed.

Lucian and Brian had been looking for him, but there was no news about him.

Although Lucian did not say it, Amelia could tell that he was very upset, and she didn't dare to mention it in front of Eden.

When Victor was in the company, the atmosphere was tense, but Amelia felt warm on the 25th floor.

Victor doted on Eden. Eden's happy smile was very infectious and could make her happy.

Eden muttered again, "Amelia, you know what? I heard his words in my dream, and I was really happy when I woke up. I have dreamt of him many times, but it was the first time he had spoken to me."

"I told him to come back soon. I said that I lived a lonely life without him and I missed him very much, but he didn't say anything. He only reached out and rubbed my head, and then I woke up."

After finishing her words, Eden turned her head and looked at Amelia with a smile. She missed Victor terribly.

Amelia smiled, "It seems that Mr. Alwynn will really come back soon."

Eden nodded with a smile. She firmly believed the feeling in her heart.

He had never given her up, and she would keep waiting for him.

"Amelia, after chatting with you, I feel much better. Go back to work. I'll continue to exercise. I... don't want to sit in a wheelchair anymore."

Saying this, Eden walked out of the office.

Amelia looked at her back. She walked very slowly, but she was very confident.

She believed that her beloved man was alive, and she believed that there was a miracle.

Wasn't it just that? Eden could stand up and walk, and this was a miracle.

Amelia smiled and went back to work.

It had always been very quiet on the 25th floor.

Eden looked at the spacious office building. She and Victor met for the second time here.

At that time, he was indifferent. Knowing that he was her superior, she was very surprised. He was exactly the same as he was rumoured, and glancing at his cold and shrewd eyes would make her hair stand on end.

At that time, when she saw Victor like that, her heart skipped a beat.

Eden thought of some scenes when they met and smiled gently, "Victor, you love me so much, so I'll use the rest of my life to wait for you."

"Ha-ha..." She suddenly heard low and pleasant laughter behind her.

Eden turned around, only to see Lucian standing under the crystal chandelier and looking at her with a playful smile on his face.

Eden blushed a little. She lowered her head and said, "How can you... eavesdrop on me?" She couldn't speak fluently. Just now, she said those words because she missed Victor too much, and she was in a world of her own.

Lucian walked to her. Seeing that she didn't sit in a wheelchair, he raised his eyebrows slightly, "Eden, can you walk now?" His pleasant voice was filled with surprise.

He stood where he was and looked at Eden quietly.

"Yes!" Eden looked down at her legs and said with pleasant surprise, "Today I feel better than before, so I've walked a little longer. I walk out of the office, and I don't feel tired."

Lucian looked at her with excitement, "Eden, it's good that you can walk now. But don't stand for too long now and don't be in a rush."

"I know. I will be careful. Have you booked the flight?" Eden asked with a smile. The awkward atmosphere had been eased, and her face was no longer red. She smiled faintly and looked so confident. If there were many people around, she must be the focus of people's attention.

Lucian walked to her slowly and helped her sit down, "Eden, of course I can do such a thing well. You don't have to worry. I've booked three first-class seats."

"Okay!" Eden smiled and nodded. The smile on her delicate face was brighter than ever before.

In the past, she looked aloof. At this time, she had become much warmer than before.

Lucian spent more time with her, so he had witnessed all her change. She had been so amazing. When she succeeded, she was neither conceited nor rash, and she kept her composure.

Facing everyone's admiration and appreciation, she only smiled slightly and didn't care about those impressive achievements at all.

She was unworldly and unimpressed by power or fame.

Eden rested for a while and slowly stood up again, "Lucian, go back to work. I have finished my work, and I want to keep walking. I feel very nice today. Maybe I'll be able to walk by myself completely tomorrow."

Lucian didn't go back to his office until he watched her walk a few steps and made sure that she was much better than before. She no longer staggered or fell forward all of a sudden.

Eden became more and more addicted to walking.

She walked for a long time in the company. After she got home and had dinner, she continued to walk in the garden.

Seeing that she could walk, Jaida and Zaiden were so excited that they burst into tears.

The three children were very happy and stayed with her all the time, for fear that she would fall down.

Eden walked slowly till it was dark. Then she went back to rest.

When she came back, Zaiden put down the book in his hand, looked at her lovingly and smiled, "Eden, you recover very well, but you should rest more. The recovery period is very important."

Eden looked at his concerned eyes and felt very guilty. During this period of time, she had made them worry about her. "Dad, I will be careful. Maybe I can get rid of the wheelchair in a few days." Under the sleeves, Eden's hands trembled with excitement.

"Yes! Eden, I'm very happy that you can stand up. Thank God, and thank you for being strong." Zaiden looked at Eden graciously. Eden had been unlucky, and he hoped that she could be safe and sound for the rest of her life.

Seeing that she had got much better, he knew that it was a matter of time before she could walk on her own.

Jaida came out with fruit and sat beside Eden. She handed her a peeled apple and said, "Eden, take your time and don't worry. Since you can walk for an hour today, you will be able to walk for two hours tomorrow. You will get better and better."

Chapter 1125

"OK, mom, I'm not in a hurry. By the way, is Graciella better now? Are the children obedient?" Eden was a little worried about Graciella. She still didn't know that Victor had had an accident.

Jaida smiled and said, "Eden, she is fine. She is busy taking care of the children. Her mother-in-law has come here to look after her. She wants to hold a hundred-day banquet for the children, but Graciella is unwilling. The children are more than one-hundred days old, aren't they? She wants to hold a party when the children are one year old, and her mother-in-law is a little unhappy. The atmosphere in her family has been tense these days."

"A hundred-day banquet?" Eden was stunned. She had forgotten to celebrate when the children were one-hundred days old.

"Yeah! Graciella ignored it deliberately. It is so tiring to take care of three children, and she doesn't want to hold a banquet. Loomis only focuses on taking care of them, and he forgot about it. He regrets it so much! Graciella doesn't argue with him because he treats them very well, but her mother-in-law doesn't agree."

"When I went there in the morning, she mentioned this matter to me. She said that she wanted to show off her grandsons, but Graciella didn't even allow her to hold a banquet. She looked so wronged that I felt sorry for her. I'm happy that she loves the children so much, but what can I do since Graciella doesn't want to hold a banquet?"

"Ha-ha..." Eden smiled. She suddenly felt that Graciella's mother-in-law was a very cute lady.

The old all liked their grandchildren, and she could understand her feelings.

"Mom, I didn't hold a hundred-day banquet for Kenny, Gia and Ricky, either. They are very obedient. Graciella has to take care of three children, and I can understand her. She is busy all day long."

"Indeed! She has agreed to hold a birthday party for the children when they are one year old, hasn't she? At that time, the two little boys will be very noisy. They will learn to walk, and Graciella will be more tired. I persuaded her, but she didn't listen to me. She insisted on holding a birthday party when the children are older. At first, her mother-in-law refused her, but Loomis agreed. Then her mother-in-law had to agree because she doted on Loomis."

She knew how stubborn Graciella was.

Eden once lived a miserable life in the Gienger family. After she met Jaida, she cherished their fate so much.

She understood the difficulty of Graciella, because she raised three children on her own. At that time, her life was harder.

"Mother, Graciella will deal with the relationship between her and her mother-in-law well. I heard that her mother-in-law is a kind person, and she is very nice to Graciella. She has taken care of Graciella for half a month, which means that she regards Graciella as her own daughter."

"Alas!" Jaida sighed, "Graciella doesn't know how lucky she is. Loomis's mother is much kinder than Benedict's mother. Benedict's family was not rich, and Graciella had always been reckless with money. Benedict's mother disliked Graciella, so she lived with Boris alone for six years. Fortunately, she divorced and then met Loomis."

"Mom, now Graciella is living a happy life, and you can rest assured. You and dad can travel as much as possible when you have time. When Victor comes back, I will run the company together with Dawson. In this way, dad will be at ease when he travels outside."

When Jaida and Zaiden heard this, they immediately glanced at each other.

Jaida was sad and grieved, but she did not dare to tell Eden that it had been more than half a year and Victor wouldn't come back anymore. She was afraid that she would lose Eden after saying so.

Jaida nodded bitterly and changed the topic, "Since you're going to take over the company, your dad will be so happy that he won't be able to fall asleep tonight. Delmont's problem has been solved, and Haven and Malcom have been punished. You should relax and have a good rest. Aren't you going to have a business trip aboard? Have a good time and enjoy yourself. Your dad and I will take care of the children, and you don't have to worry."

Hearing her loving voice, Eden felt so warm in heart.

"With you and dad by my side, I am the happiest daughter in the world."

Eden leaned on Jaida's shoulder and smiled at Zaiden.

"Dad, do you feel happy because I'm your daughter?" Eden looked at him with a bright smile.

"Ha-ha..." Zaiden laughed happily, and the atmosphere in the living room was warm.

"Foolish girl, I don't need you to tell me that. The happiest thing in my life is that I have you and your mom by my side. You two are the most important people in my life. After you take over Symantec Group, I will fulfill my promise to your mom, travel around the world with her and live the life we want."

"Wow!" Eden was envious, "That sounds wonderful."

Jaida looked at Zaiden and smiled gently. If she could stick to her choice and insisted on going against her family back then, they would have been together long ago.

At this time, she was too old to give birth to a child for him, and she felt very guilty. She took another look at Eden who was leaning against her. Fortunately, Eden was by their side.

Three days later.

Eden didn't need to use a wheelchair anymore. She could finally walk, but she couldn't walk too long.

In the international airport in C Country.

Eden wore the most popular black gauze dress this season, looking sexy and bewitching. Her bangs were combed back, which set off her delicate eyebrows and neat temperament. In the crowded airport, she was like a noble and beautiful black swan.

Lucian and Amelia followed behind her shoulder-by-shoulder. They were charming as well.

They got in the car prepared by TS Company and went straight to the head office.

In a high-end ward arranged by Melissa.

Melissa sat next to Victor, and her phone suddenly rang.

"Have you picked up Eden?"

When she was not paying attention, Victor's moved his fingers slightly after he heard Eden's name.

"Yes, Miss Craig. We're heading to the head office now."

"OK! Bring Eden to my office." Melissa smiled wryly. After hanging up the phone, she looked at Victor who was lying on the bed.

She was stunned for a few seconds before she realized that Victor had woken up. She was too pleasantly surprised.

"Victor, you're awake!" Hearing her excited voice, Victor turned his head slowly and looked at her.

Seeing a strange woman, he frowned with displeasure. Then he looked around and found that the environment was unfamiliar. Where was he?

Why was Eden not here?

In his dream, Eden seemed to be crying all the time. He tried his best to comfort her, but he had no strength. Every time he saw her helpless face, he was distressed, but he couldn't touch her. He wanted to speak, but he couldn't make a sound.

He couldn't tell whether it was reality or just a dream, but he didn't want to make her sad anymore.

If it was a dream, he prayed to wake up soon.

"Who are you? Where am I?" Victor didn't know if he was dreaming, and his head was dizzy.

Melissa smiled and stared at his handsome face, "You're in C Country, and I'm your fiancée."

Chapter 1126

When Victor heard the word "fiancée", he frowned and immediately put on a straight face. His body was trembling. What was going on?

He had got married. How could he have a fiancée?

He was here, and where was Eden? Why wasn't she by his side?

Victor glanced at the strange ward. He was sure that he had never been here before. He closed his eyes in pain, and the scene of him being in love with Eden came to his mind.

Her grieved face, her happy expression and her bright smile were all so clear in his mind.

He hated seeing her crying the most. However, in his dreams, she always looked at him and cried sadly.

"Honey, I love you. Let's get off work together when I come back."

"Eden, there's no brake. Eden..."

Victor's heart ached severely when he thought of what had happened before he had a car accident.

This woman claimed to be his fiancée. What had happened?

"Where am I?" Victor asked in a deep voice. His tone was cold, clear and ruthless.

Melissa smiled and looked around the ward. Then she looked at the confused expression on his handsome face, "You're in a VIP ward in C Country, and this is a private hospital owned by my family."

"You have been lying here for almost eight months. During the past eight months, I have been taking care of you. Before you passed out, you said you would marry me, so I became your fiancée."

Victor was stunned for a moment. When had he ever said something like that?

It was the first time he had seen this woman.

Hearing her words, he felt that he was in a dream, and it was impossible for him to distinguish reality from a dream.

He didn't remember what happened after he had a car accident. He remembered that his head hurt a lot at that time. The airbag popped out and hit him in the face. Then he lost consciousness and forgot everything.

He had been here for eight months. What about Eden?

Did she know that he was here?

In the past eight months, he seemed to be with Eden all the time.

He saw her sitting in front of the French window in their room and crying bitterly at night. With their photo in her arms, she murmured, "Victor, where are you?"

He really wanted to tell her that he was by her side, but he couldn't say anything. He wanted to hold her and comfort her, but he couldn't do it.

That kind of feeling made him very painful. He had tried and struggled, but he couldn't get rid of the powerlessness.

Looking at Victor's confused and good-looking face, Melissa smiled tenderly. When he opened his eyes, he looked more handsome than in the photo. He was God's favored one, and his face was perfect and flawless.

"Victor, wait for a while. The doctor will come here in a minute." She said with a smile and looked at Victor with infatuation.

Victor came to sense when he heard her voice. Then he slowly turned to look at her.

In his opinion, Melissa was not very beautiful. She had heavy makeup and wore a gorgeous diamond necklace. She was noble, but her beauty was self-conscious and contrived, and it was not natural and pleasant to the eye.

She was much inferior to Eden.

However, Victor knew that Melissa knew him, because she called him by his name.

She knew who he was and brought him to C Country. Was that so?

"Who are you?" Victor asked her in a cold voice.

Melissa smiled, "Victor, you really have a poor memory. I'm your fiancée, Melissa."

Melissa introduced herself gently.

"Melissa." Victor said blandly. He had never seen her before, and he didn't know her.

At this time, several doctors came in and said to Melissa, "Hello, Miss Craig."

Melissa glanced at the attending doctor, "Doctor Doelger, I'm sorry to trouble you. Victor has just woken up. Please have a check-up for him to see if he's all right. I will hold a birthday party tonight. If he's fine, I want to bring him to my birthday party and introduce him to my friends."

Doctor Doelger nodded respectfully, "Miss Craig, please wait outside the door for a moment. I'll have a check-up for him right away."

Melissa looked at him and smiled. A thought flashed through her mind. After Victor woke up, he didn't look for his family. Had he lost his memories?

"Victor, listen to the doctors obediently. I'll be back soon." Melissa turned around and left with a smile.

After she went out, Victor took a look at the doctors with horribly gloomy eyes.

"Sir, I'm going to do a detailed check-up for you." Doctor Doelger smiled at him lovingly. There were some black spots on his aging face, making people feel that he was a kind person.

Victor took a look at him, "Doctor Doelger, can I borrow your phone?"

Doctor Doelger was stunned and then shook his head, "Sir, I'm sorry. I didn't bring my phone with me."

However, as soon as he said that, he got a slap in the face. His phone suddenly rang in the pocket of his clothes.

Doctor Doelger was embarrassed, and the two doctors and nurses lowered their heads awkwardly.

Melissa had warned them not to tell anyone the news about Victor.

Victor glanced at Doctor Doelger's awkward face indifferently. He seemed to have understood that no one else knew he was here.

Otherwise, Eden would have been by his side.

Everyone fell silent in an instant. Not only Victor looked apathetic, but the atmosphere in the ward also became stiff.

The doctors lowered their heads and didn't dare to look at Victor's aloof face.

"Doctor Doelger." Victor called him blandly with anger and indifference in his tone.

Doctor Doelger came to sense and nodded politely, "Sir, I'd better have a check-up for you first."

However, Victor didn't reply to him.

Victor stared at Doctor Doelger's ringing phone in his pocket.

He ignored other people in the ward, as if they did not exist.

Doctor Doelger looked at Victor apologetically, "Sir, I'm really sorry. If you want to use a phone, Miss Craig will buy a new one for you."

Victor said, "Lend it to me. I won't make a phone call and I'll just search for something online. She won't know it."

Hearing this, Doctor Doelger looked more embarrassed. Victor had seen him through, which made him ashamed.

He raised his head, but then immediately looked down when he saw Victor's aggressive eyes. Unconsciously, he took out his phone and hand it to Victor.

"Thank you!" Victor took the phone and sat up straight slowly. His waist was painful, but he didn't have time to care about it. He looked calm on the surface, but he was extremely anxious in heart. He clicked the browser and typed his name.

Then he immediately saw the news about himself.

Chapter 1127

He read the web page carefully. When he saw the title "The president of Alwynn Group will go aboard to study for one year", he clicked on it and read it with serious and brooding eyes.

The news was released a few months ago. It was said that he would study abroad for a year and Eden would be the president of Alwynn Group temporarily.

The summer collection of Alwynn Group had become popular around the world.

Eden had become a star in the designing circle.

Seeing these, he couldn't help but smile. His wife was always so amazing.

Haven and Malcom colluded with each other. They stole two billion dollars from Alwynn Group and stole seven hundred million dollars from Clement Group. On their way to the airport, they were caught by the police. These were all reported in detail.

He clicked on all the news and read them carefully to confirm their authenticity.

Therefore, after he had a car accident, he fell into the sea. Eden didn't know where he was. In order to stabilize the company, she said that he would study aboard for one year. Was that the case?

After he had an accident, Haven and Malcom were arrested one after another. Had Eden faced all these things alone?

Victor's heart was so painful that he almost couldn't breathe.

He couldn't imagine how much she had suffered before making those decisions.

He returned the phone to Doctor Doelger and said, "Thank you." Then he lay down slowly, turned over and closed his eyes to hide the sorrow in his heart.

Doctor Doelger glanced at him and said with a smile, "Sir, let us do a detailed check-up for you first."

Victor asked in a deep voice, "Have I been here in the past few months?"

Doctor Doelger nodded. As a doctor, he explained to Victor professionally, "Sir, your head was hurt. When Miss Craig sent you here, you were in a coma. Your arms and ribs were broken, but you recovered very well. You've been in good health, but you didn't wake up until today. I'm your attending doctor, and I knew that you were about to wake up. I thought you would wake up in three days, but I didn't expect that you would wake up two days earlier."

What Melissa had said flashed through Victor's mind. She asked someone if he had picked up Eden and let him bring Eden to her office.

Eden? Was it Eden?

Victor's pupils trembled, and his eyes were full of pain, "Have a check-up for me." His voice was deep, and it was filled with harshness and viciousness.

Doctor Doelger and others couldn't help but swallow in fear. Victor's tone sent a chill down their spines.

Doctor Doelger motioned to several doctors and nurses to have a check-up for Victor. In order to give him a better treatment, they had moved all the medical equipment here.

After a long time, Doctor Doelger's forehead was sweating.

He asked the other two male doctors to remove all the monitors on Victor's body.

He smiled with joy and looked at Victor, "Sir, you have recovered very well, but you can't be too tired. Have a rest more often and control your mood."

"I thought that you would lose your memory or become a vegetable, but you are a strong-willed man. That is why you can recover so quickly. Some professional nurse maids come here to massage your legs every day, so I think that walking isn't a problem for you."

"My legs." Victor thought of something all of a sudden.

He moved his legs slightly. He felt no pain and could stretch them freely.

Eden! Yeah, Eden couldn't stand up and walk, and she had to bear the pain of losing him. How could she make it through the day?

In his dreams, she was crying desperately all the time, but he couldn't touch her.

This kind of feeling was extremely agonizing.

"Humph!" Victor's heart ached and he snorted madly.

"Sir... "

"Get out." His voice was deep and aggressive.

Doctor Doelger nodded immediately. He was just a doctor, and he didn't want to get himself into trouble. If he could leave here, he would feel lucky.

He immediately turned around and left with several doctors.

Melissa walked in quickly and looked at Victor who was sleeping on his side. She smiled and congratulated him, "Victor, congratulations. You've finally recovered."

However, Victor only remained silent as if he didn't know that Melissa had come in. He kept the same posture and closed his eyes tightly, but his grief was etched into every line of his heart.

"Eden, I'm sorry. I can only bring you pain and sorrow." He whispered in heart. After Eden met him, so many bad things happened to her, and he couldn't protect her well all the time.

However, he couldn't bear to leave her. She was the only reason for his living in this world. She was his life.

"Ah..." Victor let out a cry of pain. His mournful voice echoed the ward, and he vented his sorrow in this way.

Melissa was stunned by his sudden roar. She stood still and looked at his cold-blooded face in fear.

It was said that he was unpredictable, ruthless and malicious. This was indeed the case.

"Victor, you..."

"Get the hell out of here!" Victor's cold voice was so penetrating, and Melissa felt that her heart was trembling violently.

She swallowed in fear and stared at Victor whose blood was boiling with rage.

The doctor said that he was all right and he recovered very well. But why did he hit the ceiling like this?

She didn't know if it was her illusion, but she always felt that Victor would really kill her with a frenzy of rage if she really provoked him.

Melissa stared at him for a while, but she didn't want to give up. She stood there and waited for him to cool down, because she liked him too much. When she saw him on the news before, she had been tempted by him. One day, she actually met him by chance. How could she give up such an opportunity?

However, she couldn't help but say, "Victor, today is my birthday. Celebrate my birthday together with me." If he could accompany her to celebrate her birthday, it would definitely be the most unforgettable birthday in her life.

The ward was still quiet, and Victor still didn't say a word.

Melissa didn't give up, waiting for his response quietly.

After a long time, Victor slowly turned his head to look at her and sat up.

At this moment, Melissa finally saw his features clearly. He looked more perfect than he was when he lay on the bed. His eyebrows and eyes looked cold but charming. His slightly pale lips were flawless, and his face was chiselled and bewitching.

She smiled happily. Victor was the man she had always wanted.

Victor said in a low voice, "Get me some clothes."

"Okay, Victor." Looking at his appealing face, Melissa turned around and went out happily.

Victor looked at her back with apathetic and hostile eyes and sneered. If she dared to hurt Eden, he would kill her.

Melissa sent a set of high-quality suit and a limited edition leather shoes to Victor very soon.

He had lost a lot of weight during this period of time. He was almost 1.85 meters tall, and he had a noble and excellent temperament. After he put on the suit, he looked even more handsome.

Chapter 1128

Melissa looked at him and smiled tenderly. She was so excited that she almost cried. Being with such a man was her lifelong dream.

She said excitedly, "Victor, you're really handsome. You know what? I buy every financial magazine about you, and I save all your photos on the Internet. Each of your photos is amazing enough to make me cry with happiness."

Saying this, Melissa melted into tears.

No matter what, she would never give up Victor.

Hearing her pleasantly surprised voice, Victor was not touched at all. At this time, he only wanted to see Eden as soon as possible.

He was very grateful to Melissa because she had saved his life, but she hid him and didn't tell others that he was alive. It had hurt his family, lover and children, and he had no way to forgive her.

He glanced at Melissa's excited face blandly and said with ruthlessness in his tone, "I'll eat something first."

"Okay. Victor, let's eat something before going to the party!" Melissa couldn't be more overjoyed. In front of Victor, she had completely let go of her pride and self-esteem.

She could agree to all of his requests.

Victor walked a little slowly. He had slept for a long time, so he felt as if treading on air while walking.

With a straight and gloomy face, he gritted his teeth tightly. Apart from anger and grief, there were no other emotions in his eyes.

Eden, Lucian and Amelia were taken to the head office by the staff in TS Company. Then they were told that Melissa was not there. Melissa invited them to her birthday party at night, and she would meet them at that time.

Eden did not say anything when she heard that.

The three of them went to the chain hotel owned by Alwynn Group. Lucian had arranged all these in advance.

They arrived at the lounge on the top floor.

Eden sat on the sofa with a tired face.

Lucian and Amelia sat opposite her.

Lucian looked at her tired face and felt somewhat distressed, "Eden, go have a rest."

Eden shook her head slightly, "Lucian, Amelia, we have to pick a birthday present for Miss Craig. We can't attend her birthday party without a gift."

"That's right. Why does it happen to be her birthday?" Amelia leaned back on the sofa, feeling a little exhausted.

Eden looked at her and smiled, "Amelia, you must be tired, right?"

"Yeah!" Amelia nodded with a smile, "Eden, I am very excited to be here, but I'm fatigued."

Lucian turned to look at her, "You two rest in the hotel, and I'll prepare a gift for her. She's not an important person to us. I just need to buy something expensive for her."

Amelia replied, "Since she's not important to us, why should we buy her something expensive? In my opinion, we can just buy her something casually to show our kindness."

"Ha-ha..." Lucian laughed, "Okay, I'll listen to you."

Eden smiled and said, "Lucian, do as you see fit. Amelia and I will go to sleep for a while. I am very sleepy now."

Lucian nodded, "I'll order some delicious food for you first. Sleep after you finish eating, in case you would wake up from hunger."

Amelia shook her head with a drowsy face, "Lucian, I guess I will fall asleep while eating. I want to sleep now."

Eden said, "Me too. Remember to wake us up when you come back, Lucian. We can't be late, or we will leave a bad impression on her."

"No problem!" Lucian always spoke in a simple and straightforward way.

Eden and Amelia walked into their rooms.

Lucian followed Amelia into her room. As soon as Amelia took off her shoes and lay down, she saw Lucian lie down beside her and look at her with a concerned expression.

Amelia was sleepy, but she sobered up a little when she saw his handsome face, "What are you doing?" Her voice sounded tired.

Lucian rubbed her head, "I'll go out after you fall asleep."

Amelia smiled happily with her eyes closed. She was finding it hard to stay awake and fell asleep very soon.

Listening to her even breathing, Lucian lowered his head and kissed her forehead before getting up to leave.

Eden returned to her room, took a bath and lay on the bed. She was very sleepy and tired, but she could not fall asleep.

She held the phone and put her hands on her knees. Looking at Victor's photo, she missed him so much.

"Victor, aren't you coming back? I can't hold on any longer." She murmured to herself.

She swiped open the phone screen and looked at the chat box of her and Victor. As she looked at those warm messages, tears streamed down her cheeks, and she couldn't help but send a message to him.

"Victor, where are you? They all said that you are dead, but I don't believe it. I know that you are alive. Am I right? I can't hold on anymore. Victor, I miss you so much. Come back soon, okay?"

She could never get through to him again, and it was the first time that she had sent a message to him. Except for this, she couldn't find another way to vent the sorrow and pain in her heart.

She stared at their chat history without blinking. Victor's profile photo was grey, which meant that he was not online.

She felt so painful that her whole body was trembling. When she had nothing to do, she only thought about him.

She called his name thousands of times at nights, and she didn't get any response, but she had never given up.

In the photo, Victor was smiling brightly. Looking at his photo dejectedly, she was no more sleepy.

Sometimes, she felt that she was sick. She always felt that she hadn't finished something and had to confirm it over and over again.

After having a meal with Melissa, Victor looked at her and said with a poker face, "I need a phone."

Hearing this, Melissa smiled, took out a new phone from her handbag and handed it to Victor.

"Victor, I've prepared it for you. But... do you still remember your family?" She asked tentatively. He had never said that he wanted to look for his family.

It made her very confused.

After all, something good would happen at night. When she announced that Victor was her fiance on her birthday party, Eden would be there. She felt very excited just by thinking about it.

Victor did not speak. Instead, he turned on his new phone and logged on his WhatsApp.

He received a new message.

"Victor, where are you? They all said that you are dead, but I don't believe it. I know that you are alive. Am I right? I can't hold on anymore. Victor, I miss you so much. Come back soon, okay?"

Victor took a look at the time. Eden sent it to him five minutes ago.

A mood of melancholy descended on him. Eden said that she could not hold on any longer.

Everyone said that he was dead, and she was the only one who believed that he was alive.

She was indeed the woman he had been loving since he was a child.

He logged out and held the phone with so much strength. Even his knuckles had turned pale.

All of a sudden, he looked at Melissa with apathetic eyes.

"What is your purpose of doing this?" His words were brief and cold.

When Melissa heard this, she immediately understood what he meant.

She smiled gently. She had known that he would ask such a question, and she had thought about how to answer him, "Victor, I have no purpose. You promised me, and I will protect you. That's it."

Chapter 1129

"Is that all?" Victor stared at her with brooding eyes. His dark pupils were like bottomless abysses, and it was difficult for Melissa to figure out what he was thinking.

Melissa looked at his terrifying gaze. There seemed to be flames of fury and some emotions she couldn't understand in his eyes.

Being stared at by him, she forced a smile with difficulty, "Victor, you have to keep your word. During this period of time, I've been taking care of you because you let me wait for you." Melissa said in a gentle tone and looked a bit shy. If it weren't for the heavy foundation of her face, Victor would have seen that her cheeks were glowing.

Victor's expression didn't change, and he said in a more serious tone, "Show me the evidence."

Obviously, Melissa was stunned for a moment, and then she smiled, "Victor, how could there be such evidence? I was busy saving you. I didn't have time to record it, did I? Don't be caught up in it. Look, you woke up on my birthday, which means that we are destined to be together."

"Don't you say that you like design? I'm gifted in design, and my summer collection is quite popular. If you become my boyfriend, we will have much in common."

While speaking, Melissa looked so shy and expectant.

She had been waiting for Victor to wake up.

She had loved him for a long time.

Victor slowly looked away. Without saying anything, he lowered his head and searched for the information of TS Company online.

He saw the summer collection designed by Melissa on the web page. After watching for a while, he suddenly frowned.

These styles were obviously similar to Eden's design.

"Where did you save me?" Victor asked in a deep voice.

Melissa leaned back slightly and looked at Victor's calm face. He looked noble and proud, but she couldn't understand his strange mood.

She always knew that he was excellent. All the women who had seen him fell in love with him, and she was no exception.

However, he had been indifferent to her since he woke up. It seemed that he did not lose memory.

Moreover, he didn't mention his family. Seeing that Victor lowered his head and didn't speak, she smiled again and said, "Victor, don't let me down. I always fill my mind with nonsense, and I'm easily to be moved and satisfied. I have a sharp tone but a tender heart. I'm not outstanding, but I'm kindhearted. I'll always protect the people I love, and I speak and do things in a straightforward way. Therefore, don't disappoint me."

Victor slowly put away his phone and asked, "I asked you where you saved me."

Melissa did not hide anything, "In the sea in the north district."

Victor clenched his fists. He had had a car accident on the way to the north district.

"Why didn't you tell my family? I have a wife and children. They are worried about me, and my wife is suffering a lot." Victor's cold eyes made Melissa shudder.

Melissa narrowed her eyes. Although his head was seriously injured, it seemed that he didn't forget his past.

"Victor, your wife didn't come to save you after you had an accident, and she occupied your Alwynn Group. Eden became the president of Alwynn Group. So, when you were in a coma, I tried to get everything back for you. However, Eden is very powerful. Her summer collection made her famous around the world. She is even specially invited to the fashion festival held by Garment Association."

"Have you realized it? When you were dying, she was busy with her career and running the company. She has never looked for you. Do you still want to be with such a ruthless and cold-blooded woman?"

Victor turned a deaf ear to what she said except for the words "I tried to get everything back for you".

"What did you do to her?" Rage bubbled just below the surface of his mind. However, Melissa acted as if she didn't see it and said with a smile, "In this society, I can't kill her or beat her."

"My only goal is to surpass her with my design. I launched the clothes I designed in River City. The response is very good, but it is not as popular as the clothes designed by Alwynn Group. So, I lost, but now you've woken up. You can take back everything by yourself."

"Humph!" Victor slammed the table angrily and got up to leave.

Melissa frowned, stood up and chased after him.

"Victor, we're going to the banquet hall!" Melissa reminded him.

Victor didn't say anything and just walked forward.

He thought about the message that Eden had sent him.

It was getting dark outside. The air was sultry and it was going to rain.

Eden, Lucian and Amelia had arrived at the hall.

The hall was decorated very well, and it was peopled with guest.

The decoration was exquisite and luxurious. Many girls would like such a warm and beautiful scene.

"Wow!" The luxury of the party was beyond Amelia's imagination.

"Eden, the money which the rich used to hold a birthday party is enough for me to buy a house."

Eden smiled and nodded, "Yeah."

She glanced at the people here. Most of them were rich and dressed in high-class clothes.

The waiters were very attentive to every guest, maintaining their smiles and speaking in soft voices.

"Did you hear that? Melissa is going to introduce her fiance to us tonight. I heard that he is a famous president in River City."

"I heard that she has been taking care of her fiance in the hospital, and that man woke up miraculously today. It happens to be her birthday. Isn't it very fateful?"

"Alas! She has a bad temper. I don't know whether the man can humor her or not."

"Now the biggest group in River City is Alwynn Group, but it is owned by Victor and his wife, Eden. Who is her fiance?"

"Ha-ha... I'm curious, too. Who can be charming enough to win her heart?"

Two ladies who were dressed in fashionable clothes were chatting next to Eden.

Hearing their words, Eden was taken aback. Melissa's fiance was the president of the biggest group in River City.

Lucian and Amelia also heard their conversation.

They both looked at Eden.

"Eden." Amelia looked at her worriedly.

Eden shook her head slightly, "Amelia, I'm fine. You don't have to worry about me. I'm going out for some fresh air and I'll be back soon."

After saying that, Eden turned around and walked outside.

Lucian and Amelia took a look at each other, and then looked at her back with distress.

Eden was wearing a gown with mixed blue and white. Her hair was tied severely in a bun, revealing her round forehead and delicate features. She went downstairs by the elevator.

"Phew!" She exhaled with depression and glanced at the gloomy sky. It was going to rain soon.

Her heart ached a lot. As long as she heard Victor's name, she would be in so much pain that she almost could not breathe.

Chapter 1130

She walked to the opposite side of the road and planned to walk for a while before going back.

After she crossed the road, she received a phone call from Jasper.

Jasper was on a business trip here, and he had come here two days earlier than her.

"Jasper." She tried to keep her voice calm.

"Eden, are you here? I've finished my work, and I'll come to you later."

Eden smiled, "Jasper, I have arrived. It seems that you are really busy. If you are tired, go back to the hotel and have a rest. I'm going to attend a party, and maybe I'll go back to the hotel a bit late."

Jasper smiled and said, "I know whose party it is. I'm already downstairs. Where are you? I'm going to find you. It's rare for us to go on a business trip in the same city. I've finished my work and I'll wait for you to go back together. I have time tomorrow. Let's go shopping together."

Hearing his words, Eden felt quite helpless and went back.

"Okay! Wait for me downstairs. I'll be right there." Eden smiled and hung up the phone.

Putting the phone in her bag, she looked up and looked around for Jasper. However, she saw a familiar figure coming out of a luxury car, and she was familiar with the woman standing next to him.

The man stood with his back to her, but she could tell that he was Victor at a glance.

She opened her eyes wide and kept staring at his familiar back.

"Victor..." Eden choked with sobs and couldn't be more excited. When the man turned around, she saw his side face. "Ah..." Eden cried out in shock, "It's you!"

Without blinking her eyes, she stared at Victor whom she missed every day.

Tears streamed down her face. She held the handbag in her hand tightly and did not dare to blink. She was afraid that Victor would disappear all of a sudden.

The weather wasn't cooperating, and it started to rain. Eden missed Victor so much that she ran towards him recklessly.

Seeing that they were going to leave, she immediately ran a few steps forward.

"Victor..." She shouted in a voice full of yearning and excitement.

At the same time, she ran toward him quickly.

However, when Victor heard her call his name, an ear-piercing hoot sounded.

Victor immediately turned around and had a look. In the heavy rain, he saw a figure standing in the middle of the road. He couldn't see her clearly, but he trembled and stared at Eden. She was...

"Eden!" He turned around and rushed to Eden in the rain.

Seeing the dazzling car light, Eden stood still as if she couldn't move. In the heavy rain, she opened her eyes wide and stared at the car that was speeding towards her.

The same scene flashed through her mind all of a sudden. In the heavy rain, a little girl was chasing after a boy.

"Victor, don't run so fast. I can't catch up with you."

"Victor, don't run anymore. The rain is so heavy, and you will get sick. Today is your birthday. I haven't given you the birthday present yet."

"Victor... Ah..."

No matter how she cried, the boy who was running ahead refused to stop.

In the heavy rain, a truck rushed to the little girl. She was lying in a pool of blood and had lost consciousness.

At this moment, some memories rushed into Eden's mind uncontrolled.

"Eden, step aside!" Victor yelled desperately, but sound of rain was so loud that he couldn't be heard.

However, Eden stood where she was and did not move. She was stunned by what she had recalled.

His pupils shrank sharply when he saw that she stood there still. His grief was etched into every line of his face as he looked at Eden's thin figure. She was about to die.

Eden came to sense, but she had no time to dodge the car. She looked in Victor's direction and smiled happily. She had remembered everything.

Her face was full of tears and rain, which made her look so pitiful.

"Bang..."

The driver slammed on the brakes.

Eden took a few steps back reflexively, but it was too late. She was knocked down by the car and fell down to the ground, and her head hit the stone steps on the sidewalk.

Victor suddenly stopped, and he was overwhelmed by fear and sorrow.

"Eden!" Jasper saw what had happened and shouted at Eden sadly.

Hearing his voice, Victor came to sense and immediately rushed to Eden.

While Jasper was rushing towards Eden, Victor had rushed to her.

He picked up Eden who was in a pool of blood. With his hands trembling, he brushed away the hair on her forehead. Her face was covered in blood. He placed his hand on her face and did not dare to move anymore.

His heart ached when he saw that she was vomiting blood mixed with rain, and he held her more and more tightly.

"Eden, hold on. I'll take you to the hospital right now, okay?" Victor begged her.

He didn't intend to see her at night because he wanted to know the purpose of Melissa.

He had planned to go back to the country to see her the next morning.

He heard Melissa talking on the phone, but he wasn't sure if it was true. To his surprise, she was really here.

Eden looked at Victor who was hugging her. He looked nervous and afraid, and he was the man she missed the most.

Her long and slender eyelashes trembled, and she used all her strength to open her eyes and look at him.

Had he finally come back to her?

"Victor... don't go. That night, you lost me. Tonight, do you want to lose me... once again?" Her words were intermittent, but Victor knew that she had remembered everything. When she was a child, she always called his name in such a lovely and sweet way.

Her tone was affectionate, like her favorite strawberry lollipop. It was so sweet that his heart melted.

"You have remember it, haven't you?" Victor looked at her excitedly. Only when she called him by the name in this way would he have the familiar feeling.

In the heavy rain, Eden smiled tenderly and slowly closed her eyes. Tears came out of her eyes and ran down her cheeks along with the rain.

The smile on her face was the same as before. She felt Victor's familiar embrace and heard his familiar voice. She finally saw him, and her heart was filled with happiness. At this moment, she could finally have a rest.

She was very tired. During these days, she had used all her courage and strength to wait for him.

"No, Eden... Wake up! Okay? You can't sleep!" Victor pleaded her in a trembling voice, and his heart jumped wildly. He shivered and a mood of melancholy descended on him.

Just as he lowered his head, Jasper caught him off guard and punched him in the face.

Jasper looked at him with anger and hatred in his eyes and roared like a lion, "Victor, you b*stard! Aren't you dead? Why do you appear again? Since you went missing, don't come back anymore! With you by her side, she always gets hurt!"

"I let go of my love for her to let her be happy, not to let her get into trouble again and again!"

He pushed Victor and held Eden in his arms. Then he got up and glanced at the driver who had hit Eden with the car. At this time, the driver was looking at Eden in panic.
