Gluey Love 1141

Chapter 1141

"Dad..." Giada burst into tears and kept calling him.

She was startled when she saw Victor all of a sudden, and then she was overwhelmed with great joy. She actually saw Victor.

"Dad, I thought I would never see you again. Dad, where are you?" Gia opened her eyes wide and looked at Victor without blinking, for fear that he would disappear all of a sudden.

Seeing her crying, Victor melted into tears.

"Baby, don't cry. I will come back in a few days." Victor choked with sobs. His disappearance had caused an indelible pain in the hearts of his three children.

It was something that would darken their later life.

"Dad..." Giada stopped crying. With tears in eyes, she stared at him without blinking, "Dad, you... said that... you would come back in a few days, Dad, so, you're not a..." Giada couldn't say the word "ghost".

"You're really dad, right?" Giada stopped crying, but her shoulders still trembled.

Victor smiled and nodded. He felt so sad when he saw Gia crying, but his heart melted when he heard her call him.

"Gia, I'm all right. I will go home in a few days. But Gia, you have lost some weight recently, and you look so pretty."

"It's because of you that I become thinner." Giada smiled through tears. Just now, she thought that she had seen a ghost, but she knew that it was really Victor when she heard his familiar voice.

"Dad, you've become much thinner. Where have you been during this period of time? Mom has suffered a lot because of your accident. She couldn't be able to stand up and walk until a few days ago. Kenny, Ricky and I are all thinner. We have no appetite and can't sleep well." Giada puckered her mouth and expressed her dissatisfaction.

They were easily infected by the atmosphere at home. Their hearts ached, and they had no way to accept the fact that Victor had left them.

Victor felt painful in heart when he heard that.

"Gia, eat more and sleep well. Tell your grandma and grandpa that your mom and I will be back in a few days." Victor comforted her in a soft voice.

Giada nodded happily, "Dad, wait a minute."

After saying this, Giada took the phone and ran out. Victor could see the scene at home in the video. He had left home for half a year, but the house was still the same. Gia's room was still in a mess, and the drawing paper was everywhere.

Victor smiled helplessly. Gia had a strong character.

Giada shouted excitedly as she ran, "Kenny! Ricky! Grandpa! Grandma! It's Dad! He's alive!"

Giada took her phone and ran downstairs happily.

However, Jaida, Zaiden, Henrick and Kenneth were watching TV at this time, so they didn't hear clearly what she had said clearly.

Giada was so excited, so she fell on the first floor.

Henrick was eating watermelon when he saw Giada fall down. He laughed and spat out the watermelon in his mouth.

Seeing Giada fall down, Victor felt very distressed. Just when he was about to speak, he heard Henrick's gloating voice.

"Ha-ha..." Henrick laughed out loud, "Giada, why do you have to run in such a hurry? Just slow down. I have kept some watermelon for you. I'm in a good mood today, so I'm going to send it to you."

Hearing his words, Victor wanted to go back and spank him.

Gia had fallen down, but he made sarcastic remarks beside her.

He was not polite at all!

"Bah! You hypocrite. I don't want you to send it to me." Giada spat angrily and sat up from the ground as she spoke.

Jaida walked over, looked at Gia and rubbed her hair with distress, "Oh, Gia, I've told you many times that it's very dangerous to run on the stairs. Don't run so fast. Did you get hurt?"

Giada shook her head quickly and picked up the phone on the ground. Seeing that Victor was still there, she heaved a sigh of relief.

She pointed at the screen excitedly and said, "Grandma! Look, it's dad! Dad is fine."

Jaida was stunned by her excited voice. She looked at the phone and really saw Victor.

"Victor!" She cried out in excitement, and tears ran down her face immediately.

In many days and nights, whenever she thought of Victor, she cried and her tears wet the pillow.

At this time, she actually saw Victor. Was it a dream?

Hearing Jaida's voice, Henrick, Kenneth and Zaiden ran over to have a look.

Seeing Victor on the phone, they were all very delighted.

"Dad!"

"Dad!"

Henrick and Kenneth cried out in disbelief.

Victor looked at them and felt so guilty, "Dad, mom, I'm sorry that I made you worry about me. I am all right, and I will come back with Eden in a few days."

Hearing Victor's familiar voice and seeing his familiar face, Jaida finally believed that he was still alive in this world.

"Woo-woo..." She sobbed in a low voice and her body trembled. She had never cried so sadly before.

Zaiden held her shoulders tightly and looked at Victor with a happy look on his face.

Henrick and Kenneth had dissolved into tears.

"Jaida, don't cry. You should be glad that Victor is alive." Zaiden whispered in Jaida's ear tenderly.

Jaida smiled with tears in her eyes and wiped the tears on her face immediately. She looked at Victor and nodded with a smile, "Victor, when will you come back?"

Victor thought for a moment, "Mom, I have something to deal with here. I'll come back after finishing it."

"Okay, you don't have to be in a hurry, and don't worry about the three chidlren. They are sensible and obedient. Come back after dealing with your affairs."

Victor had been missing for a long time, and she knew that a lot of things must have happened.

"Okay, mom." Victor looked at Henrick, "Ricky, don't bully your younger sister."

Hearing this, Henrick felt particularly wronged, "Dad, I'm the bullied one, aren't I? Look at how cowardly I am. Can I bully her? She bullies me everyday!"

Henrick poked his chest hard.

He defended himself.

"Humph!" Giada snorted at Henrick proudly when Victor spoke for her.

Henrick glared at her, "Don't be so arrogant in front of me. I just reminded you, but dad said that I bullied you. I'm so wronged."

Kenneth glared at Giada fiercely.

"Ha-ha." Giada laughed, "It serves you right. After all, I'm younger than you."

Chapter 1142

After Giada finished speaking, she made a face at Henrick.

Seeing this, Victor was somewhat helpless, "Dad, mom, that's it. I'm going to have dinner."

Henrick and Giada could solve the problem on their own.

"Dad, you can't hang up after stirring up troubles. You have to judge who is right and who is wrong. I really didn't bully her. Why can she be so arrogant just because she is my younger sister?" Henrick looked at Victor unhappily.

Victor was speechless. Why did he have to face this question again?

"Ricky..."

"Dad, I know you're partial to your daughter. I want mom." Henrick interrupted him.

Victor didn't know what to say. Well, he was not partial to anyone.

He wanted to treat them in a same way, but he always spoke for Gia unconsciously.

"Ricky, your mother is asleep. She's having a rest." Victor said lightly and did not tell them about the car accident.

"Humph!" Henrick snorted, turned around and left with dissatisfaction, "I'm going to bed. Now I can finally sleep well. I should have believed mom that you're alive. She never deceives us. These days, my eyelids are swollen everyday when I get up. I can't even act in the play."

Hearing Henrick's words, Victor felt so bitter, and his heart was filled with guilt as he looked at his back.

After hanging up, Victor held the phone tightly, feeling very exasperated at the bottom of his heart.

Eden had woken up. Victor looked so mad and clenched his fists with all his strength, which made her feel distressed. She said, "Victor, if you hold my phone more tightly, I'll have to buy a new one."

When Victor heard her voice, his whole body softened in an instant, and his gloomy eyes suddenly turned gentle.

"Eden, did I wake you up? Gia called you."

Eden shook her head slightly, "I've slept for too long, so I'm not very sleepy."

She sat up slowly and looked out of the window, only to see that it was already dark outside.

She rubbed her eyes and the pain in her waist came in waves. Then she frowned uncomfortably.

Victor had been looking at her. Seeing that she was uncomfortable, he held her in his arms, "Eden, are you not feeling well? Do you want to go to the hospital?"

Eden shook her head with a smile and looked shy, "There's no need. My back hurts and my waist is sore. How should I explain to the doctor?"

Hearing this, Victor laughed, put his good-looking hand on her waist and massaged her waist lightly, "It's my fault. I made you too tired."

Blushing, Eden smiled and looked up at him.

What Victor liked the most were her big, clear and charming eyes.

Eden said shyly, "After all, I enjoyed the sex as well, didn't I?"

Victor laughed evilly and bowed his head to kiss her forehead, "Eden, let's go to dinner. Tomorrow morning, I will meet Mr. Craig, and we'll go back after solving the problem."

"Okay!" Eden got up from his arms. She trusted him unconditionally.

After Eden washed up, they went to the hall.

The dinner was ready. Everyone were waiting for Eden and Victor.

Eden said hello to everyone and then sat down to eat.

Amelia sat next to her. With Eden by her side, she felt much more at ease.

Adonis looked at everyone and smiled, "It's really not easy for us to sit down and have a meal together. Unfortunately, Anson is not here."

Brian nodded and glanced at Victor. He was fine, and they had a backbone again.

He grinned and raised his glass, "Victor, thank you for coming back alive. Cheers."

Victor nodded slightly and picked up the glass. They clinked their glasses and drank up the wine.

"Ha-ha..." Adonis smiled, "I used to feel a little bitter while drinking red wine. But now I think it tastes so good."

Brian laughed, looked at him and said teasingly, "That's because you can't bear to drink expensive wine in ordinary times. This red wine was made in 1982. Of course it tastes great."

Adonis was stunned. Why did they all think that he was petty?

"Who told you that I can't bear to drink expensive wine? I don't like red wine very much, do I?" Adonis defended himself.

He had collected a lot of red wine, but the wine was too precious that he couldn't bear to drink it.

He didn't even want to drink it, let alone share it with others.

Well...

It seemed that he couldn't bear to drink expensive wine indeed.

Among these friends, he was famous for being petty.

Lucian teased him, "It's not that you don't like to drink it, but you can't bear to drink it. How much red wine do you hide in your basement? You treasured up the wine that Anson gave you every year, didn't you? You don't lack good wine. What you lack is a generous heart."

"Hey! Lucian, you have a lot of good wine as well. Why have you never brought it out and shared with me?"

After saying that, Adonis looked at Amelia who sat beside Lucian.

Seeing him like this, Amelia looked at Lucian for help.

She couldn't deal with Adonis.

Lucian leaned slightly and looked at Adonis with a gloomy expression, "If you have something to say, just say it to me."

Adonis was stunned. Why did Amelia and Candace both think that he was a bad guy?

He just took a look at Amelia, and he wanted to ask her if Lucian was generous to her.

That was all he wanted to ask.

He narrowed his eyes and looked at Lucian, "How can you treat me like this? I am being treated unfairly, but I haven't complained about it yet. Even I haven't lost my temper. How can you be so unreasonable?"

Lucian looked at him blandly and said with the same expression, "Don't bully Amelia."

Adonis didn't know what to say. Why did he feel that Amelia was quite scheming? Did he say anything to her?

"I didn't say anything to her, did I? Why do you think I've bullied her?"

Adonis looked at Amelia again, "Amelia, tell him. Did I bully you?"

Amelia blinked her big eyes and felt a little innocent. Why was she involved every time?

"You didn't bully me. I just thought that your question might be tricky, and I was afraid that I couldn't answer you by myself."

Hearing this, Adonis frowned and felt so confused.

Anger was growing and bubbling up inside him.

Amelia thought that he was an annoying man and wanted to avoid him, which made him almost out of control.

"Alright. I won't say or ask anything." He poured himself a glass of wine and gulped it down.

Lucian was still expressionless, and Adonis filled his wine glass with a smile.

Looking at Adonis like this, Eden smiled and didn't say anything. Then she asked Amelia, "You went out today. Have you got any useful information?"

She changed the topic so that they wouldn't be so embarrassed.

Amelia was interested in this topic.

Then, she had a hot discussion with Eden.

She had taken pictures of a lot of new design of Alwynn Group and the other nice new designs, and she showed them to Eden.

Adonis was even more depressed when he saw them chatting while eating.

Women were so talkative.

Chapter 1143

Although Adonis had a hot temper, he cooled down very quickly.

Soon, he chatted with Lucian enthusiastically again. He talked a lot, but Lucian only replied to him indifferently from time to time.

"Yeah."

"You're right."

Victor answered in the same way.

In less than ten minutes, Adonis's enthusiasm became tempered.

He glanced at Brian, "Is it time for us single men to leave? Why do I feel that I don't belong here?"

Brian took a bite of the tender chicken and smiled, "I don't think so."

Adonis was speechless. Why was Brain more thick-skinned than him?

Lucian had a girlfriend, and he showed off his love all the time.

He couldn't stand it anymore. Lucian was worried that Amelia couldn't eat enough, so he kept filling her bowl. He wanted to eat the last shrimp, but Lucian gave it to Amelia.

Jealousy and envy filled his heart. When he had a girlfriend one day, he would definitely show off in front of Lucian.

Adonis felt that he was stuffed to the gills.

He got up and shook his body, "I seem to be a little drunk. I'll go out for a walk. If I don't come back in two hours, remember to call me. I'm afraid I'll get lost. If you have to look for me everywhere, you'll have less time show off your love."

Everyone was speechless.

Victor said, "It seems that you're really drunk, but I'm afraid that I'll forget you when I show off my love. Don't go out and hang out on the streets."

Adonis was about to cry.

Was Victor really his best friend? Clearly, their friendship was less important than his love.

"Humph! You really let me down." Adonis pushed the chair aside and walked towards the elevator.

Seeing that he had really left, Brian was stunned.

Lucian looked at Adonis's back worriedly, "Is he really drunk? Something bad will happen to him if he goes out like this."

Victor said, "He is not particularly drunk, and he'll be all right."

Brian got up and said, "I have something to do, so I can't stay with him all the time. You two pay attention to the time and call him if he doesn't come back in two hours. I have to meet a friend."

Lucian said, "Go ahead. I'll watch him."

Brian picked up his laptop, nodded at them and left.

Victor looked at Eden. Seeing that she had almost finished the discussion with Amelia, he said, "Eden, if you are tired, go back to the room and have a rest."

Eden shook her head with a smile and glanced at the time. It was nine o'clock at night.

"Why don't we go out for a walk? It's early. Isn't there a very bustling night market here? Let's go there and have fun."

She was in high spirits and couldn't fall asleep at all.

Lucian glanced at her legs, "Eden, you can't walk for too long. It's a long way from here to the night market."

Eden moved her feet and felt very energetic, "Lucian, don't worry. Victor is back, so I am in a good mood, and I feel that my legs are particularly strong. I think I can walk for a long time."

Victor smiled and said, "It's okay. If you can't walk, I'll carry you on my back."

"Ha-ha..." Eden laughed happily. She remembered that when she was young, he would carry her on his back when she was too tired to walk. That was a period of wonderful time. They were naive and pure, and there was no love between them. They were sincere and only wanted each other to be happier.

At this time, they were no longer young, and they had got married.

The most comfortable relationship in the world was probably like this. Even if they kept silent, they would not feel embarrassed.

He knew how to make her happy and she could understand him. They loved each other unconditionally and didn't have to cater to each other.

Although they had suffered a lot, they bridged over all the difficulties and had a happy ending.

"Let's go, Victor." Eden smiled gently.

Lucian was slightly taken aback, "I'm so familiar with your tone."

Victor took Eden's hand and said with a smile, "Lucian, Eden and I have no regret now. She has remembered something in the childhood. For me, my life has been completed."

Victor smiled happily and held Eden's hand tightly. It could be seen that he was happier than before.

Lucian smiled faintly. He had not seen Victor's lonely back for a long time.

Before he found Eden, he was particularly lonely in the middle of the night. Whenever they saw Victor like this, they had in sharp pain in their hearts.

After Eden came to Victor's life again, there was no need for them to worry about him anymore.

"Congratulations!" Lucian congratulated them sincerely. Victor would be more delighted in the future.

"Thank you. I wish you and Amelia happiness." Victor took a look at them. When he was not by Lucian's side, Lucian and Amelia were in deeper love.

"Thank you!" Lucian laughed and glanced sideways at Amelia. She became prettier and prettier because she was in love. In his eyes, her smiling and shy face was the most beautiful scenery in this world.

However, he felt a little bitter in heart. In order to be with Amelia, he had to go through a difficult period.

He had not mentioned this matter to his mother. His father would never agree to let him be with Amelia, but he was not afraid. As long as Amelia loved him, he could win.

They went out of the hotel. The manager arranged a special car to send them to the night market.

The night market was the most prosperous place in C Country. There were lots of people there even at 2 o'clock in the morning.

Some shops stayed open 24 hours a day.

Thirty minutes later, they got out of the car at the entrance of the night market. No cars were allowed to get in or out of the night market, and they had to walk.

The night market was illuminated, and all kinds of special snacks were available here.

From ten o'clock to twelve o'clock at night, it was the busiest. At this time, the snack street was crowded with people, and couples walked hand in hand.

Eden and Amelia were affected by the lively atmosphere here, and they were so glad. Although they had just finished dinner, they felt hungry when they smelled all kinds of delicious food.

"Amelia, how about buying some Spicy Hot Pot?"

"Great! I haven't eaten it for a long time." Amelia smiled and kept nodding.

Lucian and Victor looked at their happy faces with doting eyes.

They stood behind them to protect them carefully.

In a luxurious living room of a magnificent villa.

Melissa sat on the sofa quietly and looked at the exquisite gift box on the table. There was a set of suit inside.

She had the suit made to order especially for Victor.

After falling in love with him, she learned to pick up gifts for men. In her heart, Victor was noble, and he was different from others. His clothes were all custom-made, and he never wore the same outfit as others. This was his unique temperament.

However, he would never wear the suit.

Chapter 1144

"Ah..." She turned over the gift box on the table excitedly. Looking at the luxurious suit, she couldn't bear to throw it away, and she was slightly lost in thought.

She could imagine how handsome he would be when he put on the suit.

However, as long as she thought that Victor and Eden would live in the same room after they returned to the hotel, she had no way to calm down.

"Woo-woo..." She felt so painful and tears streamed down her face, "Victor, how can you treat me like this? I am completely infatuated with you, but you repay me like this! No matter what, I saved your life. Isn't it enough to make you abandon Eden and be with me?"

In the big and luxurious villa, her crying sounded very miserable. At this time, she was alone in the villa and looked particularly mirthless.

Her sad crying were so horrible.

After crying for a while, she stopped, grabbed her phone with great strength and dialed a number. Her eyes were full of determination, and she would not give up.

"Hello? Is Victor still in the hotel?" Her tone was very unfriendly and angry, and she sounded like she was about to cry.

"Miss Craig, Victor and Eden have gone to the night market."

"The night market?" Melissa narrowed her eyes slightly.

Jealousy filled her eyes.

"Take someone there. I'll be right there." She said angrily and hung up the phone.

She looked out of the window with gloomy eyes. Her family was very powerful in C Country, and she was determined to get Victor.

She got up, changed into fashionable clothes and put on a delicate makeup. Then she looked at herself in the mirror with satisfaction, left the villa with a smile and drove to the night market.

Adonis went out and wanted to get some fresh air. However, he regretted it so much after walking for a while. He was not familiar with this city. After walking for some distance, he found that he had really lost his way.

Looking around, he felt so boring. It was very hot in this city, and there were not many pedestrians on the street.

Adonis had drunk a lot, so he felt a little bitter in mouth and it was very uncomfortable.

He looked around and planned to buy a cup of coffee. After walking for about ten minutes, he saw a famous cafe shop.

He walked in. The atmosphere in the cafe was very nice, and it was the busiest shop on this street.

He ordered a cup of coffee and got it wrapped up. After paying the bill, he sat aside and waited.

The light music in the cafe was very pleasant to hear. He closed his eyes in a good mood and listened to the song.

"No I can't forget this evening... Or your face as you were leaving... But I guess that's just the way..." The lyrics were obviously sad, but he felt very comfortable while listening to the song.

But how could it be so d*mn similar to his love life?

"Sir, your coffee is ready." The waitress's sweet voice sounded in his ear. Then he suddenly opened his eyes, thanked her and walked out with the coffee in his hand.

The night wind was very hot, which made him feel a little irritated. Perhaps it was because he had drunk, his face looked very serious. However, at this moment, he looked more domineering and imposing than ever.

He took a sip of coffee. The coffee was burning hot, and he frowned unhappily. There were a lot of annoying things in his life.

He walked on the sidewalk. In fact, he had been troubled by one thing. It was easy to have a girlfriend, but it was difficult to get married. His mother prattled on about his marriage every day. From the bottom of his heart, he wanted to get married to a good girl and have his own child.

He had a successful career, luxurious cars and nice houses. He just needed a wife.

But it seemed that he was really not fated with women.

He broke up with women every few days indeed.

It was said that one would meet his predestined lover sooner or later, but he hadn't met such a girl.

"Alas!" Adonis sighed.

Perhaps in his life, he could only get married with a woman who was suitable for him.

If the woman was not suitable for him, he would rather stay single. No one was born to be with someone. The process of understanding each other was very painful, but it would be meaningful if the final result was good.

"Hey, girl, you are quite beautiful. Let's go and have some fun."

"Look at her skin. It's so fair and tender."

"We haven't met such a beautiful girl for a long time. I'm so excited."

"That's right. There are many beautiful women here, but I've never seen such a pure and lovely girl."

When Adonis passed by an alley, he heard these malicious voices.

He frowned slightly and stopped. Looking sideways at the dark alley, he found that several young men were surrounding a girl.

He couldn't see the girl's face clearly. Through the young men, he saw a slender figure. She lowered her head, and her body trembled in fear.

"Come with us. There's a bar in front of us. Let's have some fun before going back."

Another man said with a smile, and his frivolous tone was very disgusting.

"Don't... do this. It's too late. I have to go home." The girl whimpered in a low voice, and she was very scared.

"Hey, your voice is soft and pleasant that my heart melts." A slightly drunk man's face was very red, and he reached out to the girl.

"Ah..." The girl screamed and tried to dodge, but she bumped into another man's arms.

"Ha-ha, you throw yourself at me. I like it the most." The man hugged the girl tightly.

The girl's face was covered by her long hair. She struggled hard and cried loudly, "Please don't do this, or you will regret it."

"We will regret it if we let you go. Carry her away and let's have fun."

"Okay..." A group of drunk young men wanted to take away the girl by force. They were simply too bold.

"Bang..."

"Ah... It's hot."

The man, who was smashed by the coffee in Adonis's hand, felt a burning sensation and cried out in pain.

He looked back and wanted to see who had attacked him, but he had been knocked over before he could turn around.

He felt so painful that he couldn't get up.

"Which b*stard is it..." Seeing him fall to the ground, another man cursed and saw Adonis who was almost 1.9 meters tall. Before he could see Adonis's face clearly, Adonis punched at him fiercely and kicked his accomplices to the ground.

"Ah... "

"It hurts."

"B*stard, do you want to die?"

"Ah..." Painful and panicked voices rang out one after another.

Adonis did not give them a chance to speak. In less than two minutes, all the hooligans had been beaten to the ground.

They were not as strong as Adonis. Moreover, Adonis was expert at martial arts. They didn't have a chance to fight back and fell to the ground in pain, not being able to stand up.

Chapter 1145

Only the man who held the girl in his arms stood there. The girl still lowered her head in fear, and her face was covered by her soft hair. In the dark night, her face could not be seen clearly.

Adonis shook his shoulders, looking a little casual. With his handsome face darkened, he approached them step by step.

The man looked at Adonis in panic and stepped back with the girl, "Don't... come here." Even his warning tone sounded so weak and scared.

Adonis smiled wickedly, "I can stop and you'll be safe, but the premise is that you have to let go of her."

The girl trembled when she heard his voice, and she immediately looked up. The moment she saw Adonis, she was stunned for a moment and then smiled in pleasant surprise, "Big guy, it's you! Hurry up and... save me."

Adonis was speechless.

It was actually Candace!

Well...

He didn't know what to say. Why didn't she cry out for help when she was bullied?

If he hadn't walked past here by accident, something bad would have happened to her.

Adonis looked at Candace with a smirk. He looked foppish, and his expression was charming and sexy, "You want me to save you. Aren't you afraid that I'm a bad guy?"

Candace blinked her eyes, pouted her red lips and looked at him carefully.

Then she shook her head, "You don't look like a bad guy."

Adonis was dumbfounded. When they were in the hospital, she didn't like him very much, did she?

"Ha-ha..." Adonis laughed happily, "I'll help you because your words please me a lot."

Then he looked at the man evilly. The man was startled and looked at his accomplices on the ground. They were too painful to stand up, and they were rolled on the ground in pain.

A wise man knew when to retreat.

He immediately let go of Candace, turned around and ran away.

Adonis was quite surprised. How could he be so disloyal? His accomplices were lying on the ground and could not get up, but he escaped alone.

Tut-tut!

In this era, only a few young people were loyal to their friends.

"Are you okay?" Adonis looked at Candace who was somewhat scared.

Candace ran her fingers through her soft hair. Her long and curled eyelashes trembled slightly as she shook her head, "I'm... fine. I am just scared. I often go home this way, but this is the first time I've encountered such a thing."

She said in a somewhat depressed tone. It was not too late at night. She finished dinner and came out for a walk, but something like this happened.

"Ha-ha..." Adonis could not help but smile when he saw her red and attractive face. She was obviously frightened, but she tried to suppress the fear, and she blushed.

In fact, she was not only afraid of those gangsters, but also afraid of him.

"Let's go. I'll take you home." She looked so nervous, so Adonis did not intend to tease her anymore.

"Thank you!" Candace thought that although he looked like a bad guy, he was kindhearted.

She walked to Adonis in small steps. When she didn't speak, she was very quiet.

Adonis curled his lips slightly, turned around and glared at the gangsters on the ground fiercely. They rolled aside in fear, giving way to Adonis and Candace.

After they took a few steps, a man looked at Candace's back with a vicious face. He was drunk, and he felt uncomfortable all over. He was unwilling to miss such a beautiful woman.

He reached out to his trouser pocket and took out a switch-blade knife. Holding the cold and sharp knife, he got up and rushed towards Candace's back.

On the way, Adonis and Candace didn't say a word and walked side by side.

The sound of footsteps behind him was very light, but the man's breathing was very rapid.

Noticing something strange, Adonis immediately turned around to have a look.

His eyes widened when he saw that the man was about to stab Candace's back with the knife. Then he immediately held Candace in his arms.

The man stabbed the knife into Adonis's back fiercely and ferociously.

Adonis's white shirt was instantly dyed red with blood.

"Ah..." The man screamed. His legs trembled, and he turned around and ran away in panic.

Adonis knitted his eyebrows slightly. Feeling the pain on his back, he went berserk, and his face turned livid.

He shouldn't have shown them mercy just now. Only by breaking their legs and arms could he give them a lesson.

Candace was still in shock. She raised her head and saw a painful expression on Adonis's gloomy face.

"Are you... okay?" When Candace asked him, she quickly glanced at his back. Looking at the hilt on his back, she went deathly pale instantly, and her clear eyes were full of fear.

"Ah..."

She held Adonis, took out her phone and called the ambulance.

He protected her in his arms just now. If it weren't for him, the knife would have been stabbed into her back.

They were not friends, and she didn't even know him. They had just met each other once. It could be said that they were strangers, but he saved her at the risk of his life.

Candace was very touched. She had been quiet since she was a child. She was not good at communicating with others, and didn't know how to get along with men. She once had a few boyfriends, but they broke up very soon. She was very quiet and didn't like to talk. Men didn't like her character.

Moreover, when they were in the hospital, Adonis had comforted her.

Candace opened her clear eyes wide and looked at him nervously, "Hold on for a while. The ambulance will be here soon."

Adonis blinked his eyes, forced a smile and said, "Don't worry. I'll be fine. I'm not so painful."

He didn't know how deeply the knife had been stabbed into his back. As long as he wouldn't die, he didn't mind.

Candace's eyes glistened with tears as she said, "I'm... so sorry. It's because of me that you get hurt." Her voice was so low, and her bright eyes were brimming with tears.

"Ha-ha..." Adonis smiled and rubbed her head. She was about 1.6 meters tall and looked very petite in front of him. He felt a little distressed for no reason and said with a playful smile, "Don't worry! I'm all right. It's not a big deal."

But he felt that his back was wet. The hot wind was blowing on his face. He could feel the strong smell of blood and kept frowning.

His eyes grew darker. Then he took out his phone and dialed Brian's number.

"Hello?" Brian was in a very noisy place. Adonis asked with a frown, "Are you at a nightclub?"

"Yeah!" Adonis answered him loudly, "Something bad has happened to me. Come here."

Brian said, "It sounds that you're still alive."

Adonis said, "I'm afraid you'll have to see my dead body later."

Hearing his words, Candace raised her delicate eyebrows and looked at him more guiltily.

Brian said, "Are you serious? Did you fight with someone in a drunken fit after drinking?"

Adonis smiled, "You know me the best. I fought with someone and got hurt. I'll go to the hospital first. Come over later. I'll send you the address."

After Adonis finished his words calmly, he hung up the phone. The sound of an ambulance came from afar.

Chapter 1146

Adonis couldn't keep his balance. Candace held him and looked back. There was a large pool of blood on the ground. She was so scared that she almost fainted.

Seeing the ambulance getting closer and closer, she finally felt a little relieved.

Adonis felt a little dizzy and fell on Candace's shoulder.

Watching the ambulance approaching them, Candace waved at it nervously.

The ambulance stopped, and several doctors got off with a stretcher. Adonis lost consciousness completely.

The moment he closed his eyes, he was carried into the ambulance, and he was in a coma.

Candace followed him all the way to the hospital.

Adonis was sent to the emergency room.

She took Adonis's phone and waited for him outside.

All of a sudden, Adonis's phone vibrated on her hand.

She was very tense, so she was startled by it. The phone almost fell to the ground.

She glanced at the caller ID on the phone screen.

Brain!

She frowned and answered the phone.

"Adonis, are you still alive?" Brian's tone was a bit harsh, as if Adonis had done something bad to him.

It was because of Adonis that he couldn't enjoy himself in the nightclub, so he was somewhat mad.

Candace held the phone nervously, "He... is in the emergency room now. I don't know if he is all right."

"What? Who are you? Which hospital is Adonis in?" Brian became anxious and trotted out to hail a taxi to the hospital.

Candace told Brian the address of the hospital.

Brian hung up the phone.

She raises her head and glanced inside the operating room. The lights were still on.

The doctors hadn't come out, which meant that Adonis was seriously injured.

She waited nervously with a chill all over her body.

In the night market, Eden and Amelia were having a good time.

Eden had stitches on her forehead, but she didn't feel painful anymore.

They walked along the street. Victor's eyes had been gentle as he looked at Eden's happy face, and he smiled all the time.

Lucian smiled and said, "This is the first time I've seen Eden smile so happily ever since you had an incident. She often smiled after you went missing, but that kind of smile made me feel sour and bitter in heart."

Lucian took a look at Eden and grinned, "In front of the French window in your office, she said that you were alive and asked me to trust her."

"Do you know how I felt when I heard that? My heart was very painful, as if it had been stabbed by a knife."

"We all thought that she had no way to drag herself out of the morass of despair, so she cheated herself that you were alive. We were very worried that one day we would find your dead body. In that case, how could she survive? But her intuition and persistence were right. I finally believed in love because of her."

Victor smiled and put one hand in his pocket. The brilliant light shone on his charming figure, and his handsome face was full of happiness as he looked at Eden's excited face.

"Although I had been in a coma, I always remembered her in my heart. I often saw her crying in front of me. I wanted to comfort her, but I couldn't touch her. My head was seriously injured. Perhaps it was because I could see her in my dreams that I didn't lose my memory and didn't forget her. However, I always believe in love."

"Ha-ha..." Lucian laughed and raised her head. Under the brilliant lights, his smile was so charismatic, "I remember when we were in college, you was engrossed in a novel. You liked it so much, so I read it as well. The main characters in the story are like you and Eden. A miracle happened to them, while you and Eden have worked a miracle as well."

"Unfortunately, at that time, I was very disdainful of love. I read the story, but I didn't believe their love."

Victor looked at him with a smile. Lucian had changed a lot. His expression was not as indifferent as before, and his eyes were no longer bland. There were emotions in his eyes, and he was no longer indifferent and unconcerned. Seeing that Lucian had become a warm man, Victor was relieved.

"Lucian, only when you know how to love can you live a better life. My original intention is to love."

Many things were up to an attitude of mind. Love really had infinite magic power which could change someone invisibly.

He was very gratified to see Lucian's changes.

After surviving from the jaws of death, he had gained a lot.

In the future, he could live more pleasantly.

Lucian agreed with him. He looked at Amelia with tenderness in his eyes.

It wasn't that he didn't completely believe in love. In the past, he just didn't meet the person whom he could love sincerely.

But he had met the woman he loved.

At this time, they heard a commotion in the front.

Many pedestrians stepped aside, and two rows of bodyguards in suits separated them quickly. For a moment, Victor, Lucian, Eden and Amelia became the focus of everyone's attention.

Eden and Amelia were going to buy dolls, and they stopped instantly when they saw this.

Victor and Lucian's faces darkened. They looked at each other and went forward to protect Eden and Amelia.

It suddenly became quiet, as if somebody was about to arrive soon.

"Clatter..." The crisp sounds of the high heels stepping on the ground were particularly abrupt.

In a red dress and a pair of bright red high-heeled shoes, Melissa walked towards them arrogantly under the protection of her bodyguards.

Victor narrowed his eyes slightly and looked so indifferent when he saw Melissa.

Eden raised her head and looked at him. He gently rubbed her beautiful hair and gave her a reassuring look.

Seeing this, Melissa frowned hard. This scene deeply stimulated every single nerve in her body.

"Victor, it's time for you to go home." Her tone was calm and domineering, as if Victor was something belonged to her and he had to listen to her.

When Eden heard this, she held Victor's hand. Rage bubbled just below the surface of her mind.

Victor looked down at her hand and had a smile on his perfect face.

"Melissa, Victor is my husband. Why should he go back with you?" Eden questioned her. She came with so many bodyguards. Did she intend to take away Victor by force?

When Melissa heard the word "husband", her eyebrows twitched and her eyes were filled with jealousy. Her body tensed up slightly. Seeing Eden and Victor holding each other's hands, she was overwhelmed by jealousy.

She had had him for a few months, but she had only talked to him for less than two hours.

She was unwilling to accept the fact.

She asked Eden to come to C Country on purpose. However, she helped them meet each other.

She couldn't accept this, either. Moreover, she couldn't stand what she had seen.

Chapter 1147

"Victor, you've promised me. Do you want to go back on your word?" Melissa's tone was aggressive, and she kept staring at Victor.

She looked as if Victor was her husband who had cheated on her.

Victor looked her directly in the eye, and there was no warmth on his handsome face.

"Miss Craig, I don't think I have promised you anything." He recalled what happened after he had a car accident carefully. The safety of his car had been improved. Although he was knocked unconscious by the airbag, he was a little sober after falling into the sea.

He was fished by someone. No matter how blurry his memory was, he knew that Melissa was not there.

Melissa was definitely not the person who had saved him on the sea.

He heard a man's voice at that time.

Hearing this, Melissa went ballistic, "Victor, everyone knows that you are loyal to friends and you're very generous to those who have helped you. But why do you treat me like this? You said that you would marry me. I am your fiancee. Can you see the bracelet on my wrist? This is the style you like. I bought a pair of bracelets, and the other one belongs to you. It's the witness of our love."

Victor waved his hands gently.

"Where is the bracelet?" His eyes darkened. Melissa kept pestering him, which made him very angry and disgusted.

Melissa was stunned for a moment and stared at Victor's hands in a daze. She remembered that she had worn the bracelet for Victor.

Why...

She looked confused.

"Victor, you didn't deliberately take off the bracelet in order to disassociate you from me, did you?" She frowned and asked in a stern tone.

Victor shook his head slightly, "I have never owned such a bracelet. When I woke up, I didn't see it, either."

When he was bathing, he would definitely be puzzled if he saw a bracelet on his hand, but he had never seen a bracelet on his hand.

"You're lying. You must have taken off the bracelet." Melissa didn't believe it that bracelet would disappear for no reason. She wore it for him personally. The platinum bracelets were unique and special in the world.

She made the bracelets to order for the two of them.

"Melissa, that bracelet is on my wrist." All of a sudden, an angry voice came from the crowd.

Victor and Eden looked over. They saw a tall and handsome man who was dressed in a grey casual suit walking out of the crowd.

The man was good-looking. They didn't find his attractive at first, but they gradually realized he was the kind of man who was always easy on the eyes. He had an outstanding temperament, strongly defined features, straight nose and perfect lips. At this time, he was looking at Melissa with annoyance in his brooding eyes.

Melissa turned around slightly and saw Caleb. Her eyes were filled with anger as she asked, "Why are you here?"

Caleb glanced at Victor and the others before slowly walking towards Melissa.

"Melissa, have you had enough of it? Mr. Alwynn has got married! His wife is right in front of him. Why do you have to be so stubborn?"

"Humph! Although he is married, he can divorce. In this world, many couples divorce every day. After he divorces, he will become my fiance." Melissa said these words at ease. She didn't care about others' feelings at all.

"Melissa, please wake up! I'm your fiance, but you hurt my heart severely. I'm so sad and painful now. Is this what you want? Do you know what you're doing now? This is simply like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky. I am really surprised. You ruined my relationship with my ex-girlfriend, but now you let me be in the depth of despair. Is this the result you want?" Caleb was so excited as he looked at Melissa with bloodshot eyes.

He gave up his dignity and his beloved woman because of Melissa, and he had to marry her for the sake of his family's business.

He did all these to let his family have a place in this city and stable his family's business. He had even given up his beloved woman, but Melissa was too greedy.

He knew that she had been infatuated with Victor, but he didn't expect her to be so crazy.

He would pay attention to the news in A Country. He knew that Victor went abroad to study and his wife took over Alwynn Group. He thought that Victor really went abroad to study, but he didn't expect that Victor had had an accident, and the person who had saved him was Melissa.

After saving Victor, Melissa did not send him back. Instead, she hid him ridiculously and selfishly, which made his family suffer a lot.

Originally, he would not have investigated these things on purpose. But yesterday, she said that she would announce her fiance on her birthday party, which made him so happy. Although he didn't love her, she had become his fiancee. Since he had made the choice, he should take the responsibility and treat her well.

He listened to the conversations between the guests, only to find that the fiance she was going to announce was someone else.

At that time, his mood was very complicated. When he went out to look for Melissa, he saw a scene that saddened him a lot.

The man Melissa brought there was Victor, the richest man in River City.

It was really like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky.

Four days ago, their parents met each other and decided their marriage.

Three days had passed, and he found out that his fiancee had another fiance.

In order to marry Melissa, he had given up his beloved woman, so it was a fatal blow to him. Moreover, he would be gossiped about by others.

The people around them all knew Melissa, the famous and rich lady. When they heard Caleb's words, they whispered to each other.

"Hey, I specially paid attention to her birthday party yesterday. I heard that she was going to announce her fiance, and I was guessing who it was."

"Yeah, I wondered who would be so lucky. The man who can marry Miss Craig will get a lot of property and become very rich in this city."

Those who said these words were all envious men, while the women looked at Melissa jealously and cursed her for being shameless in heart. She even betrayed her fiance and wanted to be with a married man.

"Caleb, shut up! It's none of your business! You'd better go home now!" Melissa became angry as she listened to those terrible comments. She only wanted to be with Victor, but these people all went against her.

After she was born, she could get everything she wanted.

In the past, she liked Caleb very much, because he looked imposing and neat, and his temperament was similar to Victor's.

That was why she told her father that she wanted to marry Caleb. Her father agreed and then arranged their marriage.

Chapter 1148

At that time, Caleb had a girlfriend, and they had been in love for many years, but they broke up because of her. It was because of this that Melissa had a sense of her own superiority. She thought that she could get anything she wanted, including Victor whom she wanted all the time.

As long as she wanted, she could realize her dream.

God sent Victor to her, didn't he?

Caleb looked at Melissa with his eyes full of disappointment and sorrow.

"Melissa, it's all over. From now on, our families are just business partners." After saying this, Caleb glanced at Victor indifferently, turned around and left without looking at Melissa.

When Melissa saw Caleb's disappointed eyes, she was in a dilemma. Her father would definitely not let her go if he knew this, so she must take Victor back and satisfy her father.

She looked up at Victor's cold eyes and ordered her bodyguards, "Take him back."

Several bodyguards nodded and walked towards Victor.

Eden held Victor's hand more tightly.

Victor looked down at her and smiled, "Eden, don't be afraid. I won't go with her."

Amelia glanced at Lucian nervously.

Lucian gave her a reassuring look and pulled her to him.

Then he took a step forward and stood in front of Victor and Eden, "Don't think about taking him away! Melissa, don't be so arrogant. This is not your territory, and this is a law-ruled society. The Craig family doesn't have the final say! Your family is powerful indeed, but you can't act truculently."

"Humph! A law-ruled society? I'll bring back my fiance. What does it have to do with you? If you don't want to get hurt, get out of my way!"

Melissa wasn't afraid at all. She had been wilful and arrogant since she was young.

The reason why dreams were precious was that some people might not be able to realize their dreams forever.

Melissa could always get whatever she wanted, so she believed that she could get Victor as long as she was domineering enough. She had always been so confident.

He liked design, so did she. She didn't think that she was inferior to Eden.

She could work with Victor and help him with his career.

Therefore, she became more confident at this moment.

Lucian did not step aside, but stood in front of Victor calmly.

The two bodyguards were getting closer and closer. His handsome face darkened to the extreme as he pursed his lips slightly. Blue veins stood out on his forehead.

The atmosphere became tense. Eden glanced at Lucian. She could not let Lucian get hurt because of Victor. In that case, Amelia would be sad.

"Melissa, stop." Eden let go of Victor's hand, stepped forward and stood in front of Lucian.

"Eden, come back." Victor said with a frown and walked to her.

"Humph! What right do you have to stop me? You conspired with the people around you and got Alwynn Group. You didn't even care about Victor. But you dare to come forward. How shameless you are!"

"As long as you can divorce him, I will give you as much money as you want."

Melissa was aggressive, but Eden smiled calmly. Her smile was very confident.

However, her smile was so unpleasant to Melissa.

"Melissa, you can't separate us. Victor had waited for me for more than ten years. We won't let each other down. You are the one who should give up."

Eden held Victor's arm. She knew that Victor was very excellent and many women wanted to marry him, but she believed that Victor would never abandon her.

In addition, he would dote on her in the rest of his life.

"I won't give up. I've been obsessed with him for a long time!" Melissa roared at Eden crazily. Ignoring her own image, she spluttered terribly when excited. Her exquisite makeup looked ferocious and horrible because she was furious.

Her back arched slightly, and she clenched her fists so tightly that her knuckles turned pale. Her vicious eyes were filled with hatred as she looked at Victor's ruthless face.

She was a little awkward, and she looked somewhat pitiful in the night wind.

Victor knitted his sword-like eyebrows slightly, and he had no way to suppress the fury in his heart anymore. Pursing his lips tightly, he said, "Melissa, after investigating everything, I will give you an explanation. If you dare to act unreasonably again, don't blame me for being rude to you!" His tone was cold and fierce. Everyone heard his words clearly, and they couldn't help but shudder when they felt how apathetic and brutal he was.

"Ha-ha..." Melissa smiled sadly. Looking at Victor's cold face, she was painful, and she didn't want to give up. She was overwhelmed by sorrow and grief.

"Victor, what are you going to do to me? I saved you, and you said you would marry me to repay me. I promised you, but you went back on your word and hurt my heart again and again. I held my birthday party last night. You said that you would accompany me, but you left halfway. You left me alone and let me clean up the mess. Is this the promise you made to me back then?"

Being questioned by her, Victor was unmoved. His face looked cold and ruthless all the time, and he didn't even move his tall and slender figure.

But his eyes turned more and more apathetic, "I don't remember that I have promised to me, and I'm sure that you are definitely not the first person I saw after I had an accident."

He was not emphasizing or explaining. He just told the truth in a bland tone.

Melissa was stunned for a moment and frowned. The expression in her eyes changed slightly, and she didn't dare to look into Victor's eyes. Seeing her like this, Victor narrowed his eyes.

It seemed that his guess was right.

Melissa smiled in pain. A mood of melancholy descended on her, "Ha-ha... Victor, do you even want to deny the fact that I've saved you?"

Under the lights, she was on the verge of tears and was about to fall down.

Eden looked at her stubborn face. Melissa seemed to be very upset and sad. However, Eden could not sympathize with her at all. She did not understand why Melissa would be so stubborn.

She had saved Victor, and they could repay her in many ways. Why did Victor have to marry her?

"I don't want to deny the fact that I was saved by someone. I won't forget the person who saved me and I will repay him. But this person is not you, so that's another matter." Victor's deep and cold voice made Melissa flustered for no reason.

Melissa smiled self-mockingly and looked at Victor with incomparably sincere eyes, "The person who saved you is me..."

"You saved him, which is something to be grateful for. But you are too unreasonable. Does he have to marry you just because you saved him?"

An old lady couldn't stand Melissa anymore and couldn't help but interrupt her words.

Chapter 1149

"Get out of my way! It's none of your business!" Melissa was so furious that she had been out of her head, and she roared at the old lady angrily.

His attitude was extremely arrogant and annoying.

"Hey! You are not only shameless, but also very overbearing. Who dares to marry you? Even if your family is super rich, no one will marry you." The old lady was not mad and retorted with a smile. She was old and unworldly, and she would not take Melissa's words seriously. She came forward to vent her anger just because she couldn't stand Melissa anymore.

"Humph!" Melissa snorted and didn't intend to argue with the old lady. Although she couldn't understand the emotion in Victor's eyes, she said, "Victor, go back with me."

"Get out!" Victor had reached the limit of his patience, and his extremely gloomy face made the atmosphere very tense.

Melissa was stunned. Did he ask her to get out just now?

She gave up Caleb in order to be with him, but he asked her to get out.

"Victor, why do you... treat me like this? I really love so much. Victor, don't do this to me." Melissa was on the verge of tears, and her face was full of helplessness and grievance.

She had really fallen in love with him. That was why she was so crazy.

She didn't care about anything else. All she wanted was him.

"Victor, I gave up my fiance for you. Can't you be with me? Victor, I really love you." Melissa approached Victor step by step and looked at him with expectation, hoping that he could change his mind.

Victor stood where he was coldly as if he didn't hear Melissa's words.

Instead, he was like an outsider who was watching a good show.

Looking at Melissa who was getting closer and closer, Eden felt very unhappy. She said angrily, "Melissa, I'm very grateful that you saved Victor, but you're too unreasonable and overbearing. What's more, since you don't know how to cherish others, how can you be cherished by others?"

She and Caleb could not weather the storm together, and they didn't love each other.

She treated Caleb indifferently and he had left her. They were destined to be strangers.

Melissa had been very excited. She roared at Eden with irritation, "Eden, shut up! This is something about me and Victor! It has nothing to do with you!"

Eden suddenly smiled and tiptoed to kiss Victor's face. Then she turned around to look at Melissa who was dumbfounded and was about to have a nervous breakdown, "You even want to take away my husband in front of me. As his wife, am I not qualified to say something? Don't try to seek comfort from him. He doesn't love you, and he won't even show you a trace of sympathy."

Victor loved her deeply, which meant that he wouldn't show Melissa any mercy.

She knew it very well.

Melissa was left without a shred of self-esteem. In order to get Victor, she could do everything, and her courage was really admirable.

She knew that it was impossible for her to be with Victor, but she got obsessed with him, which was something that Eden could not understand.

Victor looked at Eden softly. He was touched when she spoke for him.

"It's impossible! Eden, I don't believe that only you can get Victor. I can..."

"Shut up..." Victor shouted exasperatedly. Before he could finish his words, the phone in his bag rang.

Brian was calling him, and he answered the phone.

"Victor, Adonis is in trouble. He's in the hospital. Come here in a hurry."

Victor said in a low voice, "Send me the address. We'll be there soon."

Brian replied, "Okay."

Victor glanced at Lucian and said, "We have to go. Something bad happened to Adonis."

Lucian frowned. They shouldn't have allowed Adonis to drink so much. He always got into trouble after drinking.

He protected Amelia behind him, glanced at the two bodyguards and punched one of them.

The bodyguard didn't expect that Lucian would suddenly attack him.

He thought that Victor and Lucian were physically weak rich young men, but Lucian had great strength. He punched him quickly and he was caught off guard.

"Ouch..." A bodyguard cried out in pain.

While the other bodyguard was in shock, Lucian had waved his fist toward his face.

The two bodyguards were soon knocked down to the ground by Lucian.

Seeing that they were fighting, people around didn't want to get into trouble or get hurt, so they didn't dare to watch the fun anymore and left one after another.

Melissa's family was powerful, and they couldn't afford to offend her.

Eden held Amelia's hand and they stood aside.

However, Amelia's face was filled with anxiety as she watched Lucian walk towards the other bodyguards. The bodyguards had been prepared, but they were no match for Lucian.

"Bang..." Lucian punched them.

But another bodyguard beat him on his face.

"Lucian!" Amelia couldn't be more worried.

Eden held her hand tightly. These bodyguards were no match for Lucian, but it was unavoidable that he would be beaten by them.

Seeing that Lucian had been beaten, Victor followed him.

Eden looked at him worriedly. He had not recovered yet. He was still weak and didn't have much strength. How could he fight these bodyguards?

However, Eden underestimated Victor's strength.

After resting for one day and one night, he had recovered a lot. He was of a high level of physical fitness, so he recovered very quickly. Moreover, Eden was by his side at this time. He got himself together because he wanted to protect her, and he was very energetic and spirited.

He punched them, and his strength was even greater than Lucian's.

Melissa watched Victor and Lucian fighting, and her heart was filled with flames of fury.

"Victor, you are making things difficult for me. You will get hurt." She stared at Victor. As long as he went back with her, nothing bad would happen.

Victor ignored her. He and Lucian began to beat those bodyguards tacitly.

There was absolute mayhem in the night market.

Victor, Lucian, Anson and Adonis would practice Taekwondo and boxing every weekend to strengthen their bodies.

After they graduated from high school, they learned a lot personal-defense skills. These bodyguards were no match for them.

Eden held Amelia's hand and followed Victor and Lucian.

Seeing that they could deal with these bodyguards with ease, they were finally relieved.

"Ah... "

"It hurts..."

"Oh my god, I lost my teeth."

"My foot."

"My arm is broken, Ouch..."

A dozen bodyguards fell to the ground, groaning in pain.

Lucian and Victor's movements were extremely fast and they had a tacit understanding. Seeing that all of the bodyguards had fallen to the ground, they sneered sarcastically.

However, they got hurt as well.

Victor's eyes were bruised, and Lucian's face was red and swollen.

However, they didn't mind it at all.

Melissa stood still and looked at Victor in surprise.

When Victor turned around to look at her, her pupils trembled violently.

Victor slowly turned to look at her with harshness in his eyes.

Chapter 1150

"Melissa, listen to me. If you dare to do this again, don't blame me for being rude to you. You saved my life, but I didn't owe you anymore when you hid me and hurt my family's hearts. If you continue to pester me like this, I won't let you go." Victor said word by word in a cold tone, and his eyes were filled with aloofness.

Melissa felt so painful in heart, as if her heart had been stabbed by a sharp knife.

She shook her head in pain and tried to stay calm.

She felt that her heart was about to explode.

She was really grieved. When he looked at her with apathetic eyes, she hoped that he would never wake up. When he lay on the hospital bed, no matter how she looked at him, he would only be quiet and wouldn't speak to her so harshly.

"Victor, I hid you and didn't tell anyone that you were alive because I really loved you. I was afraid that your family would take you away after they knew it. Then I would lose you again. Do you know when I started to like you? Many years ago..."

"I'm not interested in that. I will figure out everything by myself. If you are really the one who saved me, I will not forget your kindness." After saying this, Victor turned around, held Eden's hand and left.

Lucian and Amelia followed him.

"Ah..." Melissa screamed in anger and sorrow.

She chased after Victor for a few seconds and shouted at his back, "Victor, come back! You can't do this to me! I have lost all my dignity to love you!"

"My life is like a piece of white paper. What is written and painted on the paper is the process of me loving you. I have plastered my bedroom wall with photos of you. There is no room for new photos now, but I can't stop loving you. Why can't you look back at me and give me a chance?"

Melissa's painful voice echoed throughout the spacious plaza.

Some people who hadn't left kept taking photos of her and recorded this.

However, Eden stopped at this moment. She turned around and looked at Melissa who was slightly arching her body in pain.

All of a sudden, her mood became complicated.

Seeing that she had stopped, Victor said, "Eden."

However, Eden let go of his hand and glanced at him quietly. Without saying anything, she turned around and continued to move forward.

Victor glanced at his palm. He could still feel her warmth on it.

Her body was thin, and she walked very slowly. A mood of melancholy descended on her.

Victor frowned and followed her.

Lucian and Amelia looked at each other.

Lucian shook his head slightly, "This is something about their relationship. We can't help them."

Amelia nodded, "But I always feel that Eden is heartbroken."

Lucian nodded and said in a slightly deep voice, "We're not qualified to deprive other people of their rights to love someone. However, if one is too obsessed, he will trouble the people around him, and he can't do whatever he wants. Eden is troubled by Melissa's love for Victor, and she has no way to accept it."

If they had experienced such a thing themselves, they would be able to understood Eden's feelings.

Amelia smiled and said, "Lucian, you said that you didn't understand love, so I didn't expect that you would stand in other people's shoes. Now you are much warmer than you were when I first met you."

Lucian smiled and did not reply to her.

Victor was right. Love had infinite magic power that could change a person.

When he was reading that novel, his heart was as hard as a rock.

Victor was deeply touched by the novel because he had the same experience as the main character, but Lucian was disdainful. How could there be such love in this world? The love of the main characters was as hard as the love of Victor and Eden.

At that time, he had carefully thought about what kind of girl he wanted, but he did not meet anyone he liked in the past.

Eden could be said to be the first girl who had touched his heart. Her eyes were bright and clear, just like the blue sky in the snowy day, and she could always warm his heart.

Her smile was very beautiful. Although her life was hard, her smile was brighter and more confident than anyone else's. It was contagious and catching.

However, after knowing that she was Victor's childhood sweetheart, he immediately stopped liking her.

He lowered his eyes slightly and took a look at Amelia. At this time, he only loved her.

Victor and Eden didn't say a word on the way to the hospital.

After arriving at the hospital, they found Brian.

Adonis hadn't come out of the operating room.

"What on earth has happened?" Lucian asked.

Brian shook his head, "When I arrived at the hospital, he had been in operating room, and I didn't see him. This lady held his phone. I asked her, but she didn't want to tell me what had happened. She just held Adonis's phone nervously and didn't talk." Brian looked at Candace quite helplessly.

Lucian glanced at Candace and frowned slightly.

Eden saw Candace as well. She lowered her head and looked at the ground, scared and reserved. Her face was drained of all colour and animation, and her lips were slightly pale.

Eden squatted in front of her and softened her tone, "Miss Aiken, I'm Eden. Did Adonis have an accident when he stayed with you?"

Seeing Eden, Candace nodded quickly, "He got injured because he saved me. His back was stabbed with a knife and he bled a lot. He has been in the operating room for almost an hour, but he hasn't come out." Candace choked with sobs.

Hearing this, they realized that Adonis had saved Candace in danger.

Brian asked nervously, "Is the knife long?"

Candace shook his head, "I don't know."

Brian went berserk and looked very unhappy, "Why do you know nothing about it?"

Being roared at by Brian, Candace was even more frightened. She curled up in fear and leaned closer to Eden.

She lowered her head harder and bit her lower lip tightly, feeling more depressed.

Everyone waited for Adonis nervously without saying a word.

After another twenty minutes, the door of the operating room was opened.

Several doctors and nurses came out.

Victor went forward and asked, "Doctor, how is my friend?"

The doctor in front of them was middle-aged. He took off his mask, looked at Victor and nodded with gratification, "The knife was only two centimetres away from his lungs. If his back was stabbed more deeply, he would really be in danger."

Hearing this, they heaved a sigh of relief.

Victor said gratefully, "Thank you so much, doctor."

"This is what we should do." Said the doctor, "The patient will be sent out soon. In order to avoid reinfection, he will be sent to the ICU for observation. You can't visit him tonight. Come here tomorrow."

After that, the doctor left with a group of people behind him.
