

Gluey Love 1181

Chapter 1181

Everyone's position was different. Victor only wanted to protect her and help her recover as soon as possible.

He could understand that Eden worried about Jasper. But as her husband, he would naturally get jealous.

However, he could not let her be troubled by Jasper's affairs all the time.

Victor took her hand and went back.

As he walked, he said, "Eden, go to sleep for a while. I'll go to see Jasper."

After taking the pills, she had to sleep for about an hour.

An hour was enough for him to go to Jasper's house and then come back.

Eden turned to look at him and blinked. Her big bright eyes were full of curiosity.

Victor looked at her angrily, "I will come back after visiting him. Maureen doesn't want you to see Jasper, does she? I know what you are thinking. I will see if he's all right and come back to tell you."

Eden nodded quickly and felt somewhat sorry for him. He had always been sensitive to Jasper's affairs.

"Victor, I'm sorry. I owe Jasper too much, and I really can't leave him alone. Over the years, if it weren't for Jasper and Abby's help, the three children and I would have had a hard time. Before you came to me, it was Jasper who had been accompanying the children to grow up. He regards them as his own children."

She was telling the truth.

Victor knew this, so he proposed to visit Jasper.

However, being grateful to Jasper didn't mean that he would allow Jasper to get close to Eden.

Victor sent Eden back to the room and watched her fall asleep. Then he changed his clothes and went to Jasper's house with the car key.

He had never been to Jasper's house before.

He sent a message to Abigail and got the address of Jasper's house before driving there.

Only when Victor arrived did he know that Jasper's house was not far away from theirs. It only took him more than ten minutes to drive there.

There was no traffic jam at noon, so he arrived at Jasper's apartment very soon.

In the parking lot, he went up by elevator directly.

In fact, he had investigated Jasper thoroughly when Eden returned to River City.

Eight years ago, Jasper graduated from college. He didn't work and idled away his time. He lived with Abigail, and his family was very rich. He was really born to be noble and superior.

His family was wealthy, so it didn't matter even if he didn't work. He enjoyed himself with feasting and other kinds of entertainment all day long.

However, after he met Eden, he seemed to have changed completely. He no longer let his youth slip idly by. Instead, he chose to work in the clothing design industry and designed many classic casual clothes. In just a few years, he created his own business kingdom in Gate City.

Within a few years, he became the richest man in Gate City.

There was a great change in his personality. He had been arrogant in the past, but he became stable and calm. He was no longer impetuous and became strong-willed. He insisted on his dreams, accepted all the challenges and finally succeeded by sheer persistence.

His story always hit the headlines in Gate City.

It was because of Eden that he had changed a lot.

That was why Victor was so jealous.

Jasper had changed so much for Eden. Obviously, it was because he wanted to become the Prince Charming in her heart.

He did a lot in order to become a man that Eden could rely on.

He knew this very well.

While thinking like this, Victor had arrived at the door of Jasper's house.

He rang the doorbell. Maureen opened the door with a haggard face.

She was a little surprised to see Victor.

"Mr. Alwynn, why are you here?" She thought it was Eden, but it was Victor.

Victor's face was calm as he said in an indifferent tone, "I'm here to see Jasper."

The expression in Maureen's eyes changed a little, and she let Victor come in.

As soon as Victor entered the apartment, he glanced around it. It was more luxurious than he had imagined.

Without asking Maureen, Victor could find Jasper's room.

He walked in and looked at Jasper who was sitting with his back to the door. He could tell that Jasper was mad just by looking at his back.

There was porridge and broken pieces of bowl on the floor.

"I told you to get out! Didn't you hear me?" Jasper roared loudly in a furious voice.

Frowning, Victor looked at his stiff back and said blandly, "It's me."

Jasper was stunned. When he heard Victor's voice, he immediately turned around. He thought that he could see Eden, but Victor came here alone. In an instant, he frowned tightly and said in an unpleasant tone, "What are you doing here?"

Victor sat on a chair aside and looked at his red face. It seemed that he was still having a fever.

"I'm here to see you." Victor answered him casually and crossed his legs elegantly.

Jasper said, "I'm not familiar with you, and you don't have to visit me here."

His tone was very harsh. Clearly, he was very agitated.

Victor knew why he was like this. When Jasper turned around just now, he saw that the hope in his eyes became disappointment clearly.

"Eden is sick, so I'm here to see you on her behalf."

Jasper immediately looked back at him and said with flames of fury in his eyes, "Why don't you take good care of her? Eden is ill. Aren't you ashamed to come here and tell me about it?"

Jasper's heart ached severely. He was ill these days. In the past, when he got sick, Eden would look after him carefully, coax him to take medicine and sleep.

He could feel much better when he heard her tender and warm voice, and he could fall asleep soon.

After having a sleep, he would almost get well. In fact, he didn't want to recover so quickly.

After he recovered, he would take her out to eat a delicious meal to thank her. In fact, he just wanted to have more chances to stay with her.

She was so busy that he couldn't see her most of the time.

Jasper suddenly caught a glimpse of the porridge that he had knocked over on the floor. This was the porridge cooked by Maureen, and he did not like it. Maureen was not good at cooking and the porridge was not delicious.

While cooking porridge, she played with her phone. Since she couldn't cook attentively, how could the porridge taste good?

He suddenly stopped filling his mind with all kinds of nonsense. It was impossible for him to be with Eden.

He should have woken up from his dream a long time ago.

A trace of guilt flashed across Victor's face. Indeed, he did not take good care of Eden.

"Eden is suffering from depression, but she doesn't know it. Today, she knows that you are sick, and she has been worried all day long." Victor explained.

They didn't tell Eden about her illness, because they wanted her to be more relaxed.

Jasper frowned. His dizzy head sobered up a lot at this moment.

"Was she diagnosed to suffer from depression when you went missing?" He remembered that Eden was very strong at that time, and she always acted as if nothing had happened. Seeing her like that, he was very worried. Sure enough, she was sick.

"Go home and tell her I'm fine. I'll eat regularly and go to bed on time. I'll take my medicine on time. Tell her not to worry about me."

He used his youth to love Eden.

He didn't want to remember that he had once let her worry about him, and he wanted their past to be perfect.

Chapter 1182

The idea was simple, but it was very hard to forget her.

He couldn't get Eden out of his head. He had too many reasons and too many worries, and he wanted to protect her in the rest of his life. Inadvertently, he would always think of her who had once touched and hurt his heart.

Those memories were so beautiful, but he was very bitter and helpless, and he couldn't go back to the past. Choosing to love someone deeply was more difficult than to forget someone.

"Okay! I'll tell her when I get back. Have a good rest!" After saying this, Victor got up and left.

When he reached the door and saw Maureen standing outside, he didn't say anything. He walked past her and left.

Maureen walked into the room and cleaned up the mess on the ground.

Jasper did not fly into a rage this time, nor did he look at Maureen. Instead, he sat there in a daze.

He didn't even know when Maureen went out.

Maureen stood at the door, looked at him and sighed lightly, but she was reluctant to give up.

What she had done was very hurtful, and she understood it. However, she had no choice but to do so.

She did not want him to love her, and she only wanted to live with him in the future.

After Victor went home, he changed his shoes and went to the bedroom.

Eden had not woken up.

In the past few nights, she couldn't fall asleep again after she woke up, and she tossed and turned all night. Helplessly, he had to get up in the middle of the night and chat with her for a while. If she didn't want to sleep, he would turn over and press her soft body. Then she would look at him with an infatuated smile and they would have sex. She would fall asleep because she was exhausted, and he wouldn't sleep until she had fallen asleep. This method was very useful, but it made her tired and tired the next day.

He looked at the time and found that it was less than an hour.

She would wake up after a while.

Victor got up, went to the kitchen and heat up the porridge he cooked in the morning for Eden.

Recently, Jaida went to Graciella's house to take care of Graciella and her two sons, so he stayed at home to take care of Eden.

In fact, it was good. He would worry about her if he worked in the company.

When she stayed in the company, she always felt as if she had a fever during the day and felt sleepy all day long.

It was more convenient for him to take care of her at home.

After heating up the porridge, Victor took the porridge back to the room.

Eden had woken up. Seeing Victor, she smiled and said, "Victor, you're back."

"Yep! Jasper is much better now. Maureen is taking care of him. You don't have to worry." Although he saw the mess on the ground and Jasper was angry, he could understand that Jasper didn't want to eat the food cooked by Maureen.

However, Jasper had to face Maureen sooner or later.

He couldn't escape all the time.

"That's good!" Eden was much more relieved.

Abby said that Jasper's condition was much better. He always recovered from illness quickly.

Most of the time, he would recover after having a sleep.

Victor knew that she was still worried, but he couldn't stop her from worrying.

"Eden, have some porridge. You didn't eat much this morning."

Victor handed her a glass of warm water.

Eden took it with a smile, raised her head and took two sips. Then she put it back on the table.

Victor picked up a spoon to feed her.

Eden smiled, "Victor, I can eat by myself. I can move my hands."

Victor said with a grin, "But I want to feed you and spoil you. What should I do?"

Eden smiled with joy. Looking at his smiling eyes, she felt so warm and glad in heart.

"Ah..." She opened her mouth, and Victor fed her with a chuckle.

After eating a bowl of porridge, Eden was more energetic. She looked at the time, "The children are about to come back from school. I'm going to cook dinner. Mom and dad may come back after dinner."

"Okay, I want to eat boiled fish." Victor said like a spoiled child.

"Okay, I'll cook it for you. There's a fish at home." Eden got up with a smile and changed her clothes.

Victor did not stop her. She would not think too much when she did something she liked.

After Eden went out, Victor received a phone call from Lucian.

"Lucian."

Lucian said, "Victor, if we want to expand the market on our own, our speed will be a little slow. Today, when I went out, I met Donald Evans from C Country. He wants to cooperate with you and set up a new company. Each of you will invest fifty percent of the funds, and you two will be the heaviest stockholders."

Hearing this, Victor frowned slightly. Lucian was right. Cooperating with such a businessman was the fastest way to get a further development.

But it was very troublesome.

Lucian said, "I know what you're worried about, but Alwynn Group won't be affected, and he will just own fifty percent of the shares. Moreover, they value Eden's design very much and her design is urgently needed in the market. You can think about it. I talked to Mr. Evans about it in detail, and I think this method is feasible."

Victor said, "I'll think about it carefully. However, haven't Adonis and Brian come back yet?"

Lucian smiled and said, "No. Brian is busy chasing after a girl. I don't know what Adonis is doing these days. He has recovered and left the hospital, and he's living in the hotel. He goes out every day and comes back early at night. The staff of the hotel inquired about it, but they do not know what he does every day. I asked him, but he didn't tell me. He only said that he would come back after a period of time."

Victor said, "Then ask them to do something. Let them investigate Mr. Evans carefully. Since we are going to cooperate, I must know what kind of person he is. Remember to investigate him thoroughly."

Lucian said, "I know what you care about, and I will remind them. What's more, I just received news that Melissa and Carney have arrived in River City this afternoon. They are living in their apartment now."

Victor frowned slightly. They actually came to River City! Humph!

"Get ready to buy the shares of their company." He would not let Eden get hurt again.

In terms of property, he was not inferior to the Craig family.

Lucian said, "I see, but Mr. Evans wants to cooperate with Alwynn Group or Craig Group. The sales of Craig Group rose a lot last season, but we can see that Melissa's design is very similar to Eden's. Although we have better sales, it has a great impact on us."

Victor sneered and said, "Similar? Are you sure Melissa didn't plagiarize Eden's design?"

Lucian smiled, "Do you have any evidence?"

Victor said, "The customer have sharp eyes. Let's see what will happen next season."

After Victor finished his words, he hung up the phone and went out of the bedroom. The three children happened to come back from school.

"Dad." Giada ran towards Victor with a bright smile.

"Ha-ha... I can see mom and dad every day after school. It's so good!"

Victor took the chance to hold Giada in his arms and kissed her pink face, "I'm so happy to see you every day, too."

Kenneth and Henrick put down their schoolbags and glanced at them.

Henrick shook his head, "Dad, just pamper her. Let me tell you. Your daughter has fallen in love."

Victor was stunned. They studied in the third grade, didn't they?

Ahem...

How could such a child fall in love?

Giada said angrily, "Henrick! Watch your mouth!"

Chapter 1183

Henrick smiled and looked at Giada with weird eyes, "What did Martin bring you today? Tell us about it."

Giada admitted it generously, "Breakfast. What's wrong?"

Henrick said, "Don't you think it's strange? If he doesn't like you, why would he bring you breakfast? Moreover, you enjoyed the meal very much and kept saying that it was delicious."

Victor was speechless. Wasn't it a very normal thing?

When he was a child, he only treated Eden well and kept all the delicious food for her.

However, he and Eden got married in the end, so he was afraid that Gaida would really fall in love with Martin .

When he studied in primary school, he didn't know how many girls there were in his class, and he couldn't recognize them.

After graduation, he couldn't even remember their names.

"Henrick, what are you thinking about? He brought me breakfast out of kindness, but you misunderstand him. Many girls give you various of gifts every day, because you are a child actor. You received some of the gifts happily, didn't you? You've fallen in love as well."

Henrick was stunned.

"Is it the the same thing? They are all my fans."

Hearing that they had a quarrel again, Victor was very helpless.

He glanced at the kitchen and wanted to ask Eden for help, but it was obvious that Eden didn't intend to come out.

Kenneth begun to do his homework as if he didn't see anything.

Victor didn't know what to say. Kenneth's character was really like his. He was unconcerned about other people's business.

"Dad, judge who is right and who is wrong! Shouldn't I eat the breakfast? Martin brought me the breakfast with good intentions. How could Ricky think like that?" Giada looked at Victor with an aggrieved expression. She was unconvinced and spoke with great confidence.

Victor glanced at Giada and then looked at Henrick who was in one of his aggressive moods

By the way, he seemed to have heard Martin's name several times.

"Gia, is Martin on good terms with you?" He asked.

"Ha-ha..." Henrick laughed, "Their relationship is not good, but very good. Even their grades are on a level. In order to emulate Gia, Martin studies hard every day. When he has any question, he consults Gia, and he brings her delicious food and funny toys with the excuse that he wants to thank her."

Victor was speechless. There was nothing wrong with it.

Under normal circumstances, there would be such an interaction between classmates.

He remembered that his desk mate once gave a beautiful elastic band to a girl on Children's day.

Well... No, his desk mate seemed to like the girl quite much.

Ahem... So, it mean that children would really feel well disposed towards each other.

"Humph... Henrick, I don't want to talk to you anymore!" Giada struggled to leave Victor's arms angrily and went upstairs with her schoolbag.

That was the end of their quarrel that day.

Henrick said, "Giada, I said those words for your own good. Don't you know that..."

However, Giada ran upstairs and didn't want to hear any nonsense of him.

Henrick was helpless. He really did this for her own good. How could she be so ungrateful?

"Dad..."

"Ricky, I'll help your mom cook dinner. Hurry up and do your homework." Victor said and hurried to the kitchen.

Henrick's lips twitched. Giada was his daughter. Was it really good for him to avoid this matter like this?

"Kenny, why don't you speak?" Henrick suddenly looked at Kenneth who was doing his homework calmly.

Kenneth looked up at him lazily, "This is Gia's private affair. Why do you have to talk about it at home?"

Henrick was dissatisfied with his words, "Kenny, this is not a trivial matter. I said those words because Gia is my younger sister. If she was someone else, would I say that?"

Kenneth was quite helpless, "Ricky, Martin is Gia's friend. Gia has been proud, and she doesn't have many friends in school. He is her only friend. Are you going to separate them?"

Eden was rendered speechless. He had never thought about this before.

However, Gia was different from others. She had her own pride.

She was excellent in all aspects except for being a bit arrogant.

Kenneth smiled and said, "You are prouder than her."

Henrick was dumbfounded. Kenneth didn't talk much in ordinary times, but he actually said that he was proud.

"Ha-ha... Kenny, I'm qualified to be proud." Henrick raised her eyebrows smugly.

Kenneth did not speak, but smiled helplessly. They were both proud, so they couldn't get along well with each other, could they?

He lowered his head and continued to do his homework. He had some work to do later.

Victor had come back, and Eden was in a better condition.

He had begun to work for other companies.

"Kenny, I'll go back to my room to do homework. I'll attend a show on National Day, and I have to prepare for it in advance. Call me when it's time for dinner."

Kenneth nodded.

He suddenly looked back at Henrick and said, "Ricky, apologize to Gia. This is your fault. Gia has her own privacy. You can't tell dad and mom everything about her as soon as you get home. You should respect each other."

Henrick nodded, "Fine! I'll apologize to her later. Since you're not worried about her, why should I care about her so much?" Henrick said in a mad tone.

Then he went upstairs angrily.

Kenneth shook his head helplessly and then lowered his head to do homework.

Eden and Victor poked their heads out of the kitchen. Only Kenny was doing homework in the living room.

Victor was a little worried and asked, "Eden, will Ricky and Gia continue to quarrel upstairs?"

Eden smiled and pulled him back to the kitchen, "No, Gia won't even open the door for Ricky now. They won't argue with each other."

Eden had heard their conversation just now. Victor looked at her and asked, "Eden, what do you think about this matter?"

Eden smiled, "It's all right. I have investigated Martin's background. He is the son of a entrepreneur in River City. He will study how to run business in the market during the holiday, and he is the only son in his family. His parents are very strict with him. Such a child like him will be sent abroad after graduating from primary school. We don't have to think too much."

Victor frowned and thought for a while, "The Talbot family?"

Eden said with a smile, "Last year, on the list of the richest people in River City, the Talbot family was next below you. They run a film and television company, and their business is getting better and better. Ricky mentioned this matter to me before, so I learned something about it. Children are friendly to each other. Martin lives in such a family and his parents are very strict with him, so he doesn't have many friends. Gia and he are just friends. How can children fall in love with each other? Ricky made an unnecessary fuss."

Eden didn't believe Ricky's words and smiled.

The childhood friendship was very sincere, and Ricky didn't have to get excited over a little thing.

Victor nodded with understanding, "It turns out that he is the child of the Talbot family. His family background is very nice."

Chapter 1184

"Yeah! His parents are of excellent character. We are not strict with the children, but his parents have a puritanical streak. Martin is young, but they ask him to study how to ruin business, so his childhood is not so happy. The three children are young, and we should let them do whatever they like."

"You absolutely can not ask Kenny to come into contact with your business circle and affect him." Eden said in a warning tone. She hoped that her children could grow up happily rather than be fettered by the family business.

The Alwynn family was rich and Victor needed a child to inherit his business indeed.

However, it was not the right time. He had to wait for the child to grow up.

She knew Victor was thinking about very clearly.

Hearing her threatening tone, Victor smiled helplessly, "I see. I won't force Kenny, but he has to study something about it. When he is on holiday, I'll ask him to learn business knowledge from me. He is growing up and it's time for him to learn how to run a company."

Eden agreed with him. Kenny could study business knowledge during the winter and summer holidays.

But in ordinary times, he should go to school and be a happy child.

Seeing her nod, Victor smiled and hugged her from behind, "I'll listen to you. Honey, you're my childhood sweetheart and my first love. I'm so glad that I can marry you and live together till old and grey with you."

"Ha-ha..." Eden smiled and looked back at him, "You're so sweet today."

Victor said, "Yep! With you by my side, I'm sweet every day."

Eden chuckled and continued to cook dinner.

After dinner, Victor and Eden took the children out for a walk.

Eden always wished that she could have time to take a walk and play with the children. She was not in good health recently, so she had much time to play with them.

Time went by quickly in happiness.

In the blink of an eye, half a month had passed. Being taken care of by Victor, Eden gradually recovered.

Dr. Conley went to her house specially to give her a detailed check-up.

Her depression was almost cured.

Victor was very happy to hear that.

However, he was still worried about Eden.

He went back to the company to work, but he stayed by her side all the time and looked after her thoughtfully every day.

Eden had become as energetic as before.

She was hard-working and could always deal with her work well.

Although she was Victor's wife, she had a good relationship with the employees in Alwynn Group.

She got along with them very well. When she came back to work, a lot of employees sent her flowers to give her their best wishes.

After they announced that Victor would be the president of Alwynn Group again, the employees were delighted and worked very actively.

When Victor was missing, there were some rumours in the company.

Some people said that Victor didn't go abroad to study, but had an accident.

Eden had those rumours, but she acted as if nothing had happened, and the employees were rather in doubt about Victor's accident.

They didn't dare to ask her openly.

But they were somewhat uneasy.

At this time, Victor had come back, which set their minds at rest.

Everyone finished their work within the stipulated time.

The cooperation with Mr. Evans was being pushed forward.

That day, Victor made an appointment with Donald and would meet him at night.

As the design director of Alwynn Group, Eden would meet Donald together with Victor.

After work, Victor, Eden and Lucian went to River City Restaurant together.

Donald arrived at the ordered private box in advance.

When Eden entered the box and saw Donald, she was slightly stunned.

Donald wore a light-coloured suit. His face was handsome and his brooding eyes seemed to be filled with wisdom.

Eden thought that Donald was at least in his forties. She had searched for his information online, but she didn't find too much information about him, let alone his photos.

Eden was shocked. Was Donald so hard-working?

He was young, but he had become a president of a listed company.

After they sat down, Lucian introduced them, "Mr. Evans, this is Mr. Alwynn and his wife, Eden."

Victor and Eden greeted Donald and then took their seats.

Donald looked at Eden's delicate face. He hadn't seen her for a few years, but she was still the same. She had given birth to three children, but she was still well-shaped.

Donald had been staring at Eden, which made Victor very unhappy.

Eden was indeed very beautiful, and she was always easy on the eyes.

However, it was very rude of Donald to stare at her like this.

Being stared at by Donald, Eden was a little embarrassed. She lowered her head slightly and took a sip of water.

However, Donald did not look away.

This time, even Lucian doubted Donald's motives.

The atmosphere was a little awkward, and Victor's face darkened immediately.

Donald saw Victor's expression clearly and looked at Eden with a meaningful smile.

"Eden, we meet again." His gentle voice was pleasant to hear.

The word "again" made Eden very confused.

She took a closer look at Donald. Did they know each other?

She didn't remember him at all.

She frowned and said with a faint smile, "Mr. Evans, have we met before?"

Donald smiled elegantly. The meaning of his smile was hard to understand.

"It seems that you don't remember me at all."

Eden was speechless. If she remembered him, would she ask him?

Victor looked at Eden with puzzlement. Did she know Mr. Evans?

Looking at Victor's inquiring eyes, Eden had no idea what was going on.

She didn't even know Donald. How should she explain to him?

"Sorry, Mr. Evans, I..."

"I know you don't remember me." Donald interrupted her with a gentle smile.

Eden forced a smile. This time, they came here for business. If she had something to do with Donald, their cooperation might be smoother.

But she really had no impression of Donald who looked graceful and polite.

At this moment, a thought flashed through Victor's mind. Perhaps their cooperation had special meaning to Donald.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Evans. I really don't remember you." Eden had no choice but to apologize once again. If she could remember him, she would pretend to be familiar with him on such an occasion. However, she didn't remember him at all.

Donald smiled and said, "I know you don't remember. But do you remember Elijah Fraser?"

Eden was drinking water. When she heard the name, she almost spat out the water she had drunk.

"Ahem..." She coughed, and her face turned bright red.

Victor frowned and patted her back gently.

Eden looked at Donald, "Are you Elijah? The man who rated number two in university?" Eden knew his name, but she had never seen him before. At that time, she was busy making her tuition fees and seldom stayed in university.

"Ha-ha..." He laughed, "You finally remember me. In the design department, you rated number one and I rated number two. I couldn't surpass you, and you graduated very soon."

Eden smiled and nodded, "I was very poor at that time, and I couldn't afford the tuition fees. I applied for advanced classes in my second year and completed all the programmes in university. Then I graduated and won a prize as the outstanding graduate designer."

Later, she slept with Victor that night and got pregnant. Then several years had passed.

Victor and Lucian looked at each other. They didn't expect that there was such a relationship between Eden and Donald.

Eden rarely met her college classmate. She asked with a smile, "But why is your name Donald? I was very busy at that time, and I had never met you."

Donald smiled and said, "Fraser is my mother's surname. After returning to the Evans family, I changed my name." Donald explained briefly. It seemed that he didn't want to talk much about this.

He smiled again and said, "We met three times in university, and we greeted each other. But you only smiled at me and left in a hurry."

Back then, Eden wasn't as confident as she was at this time. However, she was pretty. Her smile and her bright eyes were extremely attractive to him.

She had good grades and everyone was envious of her. However, she had to work tirelessly to earn the tuition fees.

Few people could see her.

After she graduated, he didn't get the news about her again.

Later, he saw the news that she had gotten married and had children on TV.

"You've changed a lot." Donald's tone was full of pity.

She was still very beautiful and confident, and her bright eyes were even more charming.

Eden nodded with a smile and looked at Donald. In fact, she still didn't remember that she had seen him.

"I've experienced a lot, so I've changed." To her, everything that had happened in the past was precious experience.

They chatted in a friendly way. Hearing them talk about Eden's past, Victor felt very distressed for Eden.

He glanced at Donald with a bland expression and said in a calm tone, "Mr. Evans, since you know my wife, you two will have plenty of time to talk about the past. Why don't we take our order first? We can talk while eating."

"Okay!" Donald could see that Victor didn't look very happy, and he heard that Victor loved Eden very much.

His family ran a garment company, and he admired Eden's design all the time.

That was why he wanted to cooperate with Alwynn Group on his own initiative.

Eden had become different. She could decide her own destiny.

She used to live a hard life, but she weathered the storm because she had hope in heart.

Seeing that Donald looked at Eden with affectionate and intense eyes, Victor was a little annoyed.

He was on guard against Donald.

Lucian could tell that Donald wanted to cooperate with Alwynn Group on purpose. He not only admired Eden's design, but also liked Eden.

Donald had lived in River City before, so he liked the dishes here very much. He ordered a few dishes that he liked.

Then, he handed the menu to Eden.

Eden ordered some of her favorite dishes. After that, Lucian ordered two dishes.

While waiting for the waiters to serve the dishes, Eden and Donald were engrossed in their conversation. Donald was very curious about Eden's college life and social life, and he asked her a few questions. Eden kept smiling politely and answered every of his question.

Both Victor and Lucian felt that they didn't belong here, and they couldn't cut in.

Victor's face darkened. His wife was chatting with another man happily, but he felt that he was extra.

Lucian did not think too much. He took out his phone and chatted with Amelia.

They were deep in love, and he often took Amelia to Marriott Hotel.

Chapter 1185

These days, his eldest brother often came to him, and he hadn't had a chance to tell his family about his relationship with Amelia.

He was worried that Amelia would be threatened or hurt.

After the dishes were served, Eden and Donald chatted while eating.

Eden looked happy, so Victor did not say anything, but his face looked exasperated .

He only wished that they could finish the meal as soon as possible.

Donald was talking about some irrelevant things, but he was very displeased.

He beat around the bush, and many of his questions were meaningful.

He was very good at analyzing Eden's words. For example, he asked Eden why she didn't hold a wedding, which made Victor very annoyed.

He didn't hold a wedding for Eden indeed, but they would hold a wedding at the end of this year. He had reached an agreement with Eden.

However, Donald's question made him feel guilty and angry.

Eden smiled and explained that they would hold a wedding at the end of this year.

But Victor always felt uncomfortable in heart.

He thought for a while and felt that Donald had other intentions.

Immediately afterwards, Donald said, "I haven't got married." Eden didn't ask him about his marriage, but he mentioned it on his own.

Eden was surprised. He was rich, powerful, handsome and rich. Why hadn't he gotten married yet?

Looking at Eden's confused eyes, Donald smiled gently and elegantly. It seemed that he was born to be a gentleman, and he could make a good impression on people.

Eden did not ask anything. She didn't know how to answer his words and chose to remain silent.

However, Donald explained on his own, "I haven't met a girl I like these years."

When Victor heard this, he only felt uncomfortable. Donald seemed to tell Eden about it deliberately.

Why did he have to tell Eden that he hadn't met a girl he liked?

Victor's face darkened more. He almost stood up and left directly.

However, he endured it because Eden looked delighted.

Donald didn't get to the point until they were about to finish the meal.

He put down the chopsticks, picked up the teacup and took a sip gracefully. Then he said neither quickly nor slowly, "Mr. Alwynn, I have given the specific plan to Mr. Ronen over the past half a month. You have considered it for half a month. What's your opinion? Are you satisfied with the plan I have put forward?" His voice was very gentle, and he said every word clearly and forcefully.

He looked so charismatic when he spoke with fervour and assurance.

Only then did Victor look at him and say in an extremely indifferent tone, "I've read it. That is a perfect plan, but I want sixty percent of the shares. I'm not short of money, and I don't want to be inferior to others."

Originally, he only wanted to own fifty percent of the shares. Since Donald had other intentions, he might as well become the heaviest stockholder.

If Donald didn't agree, he could set up a branch himself. At the worst, he would be busier or hire a professional manager to be in charge of the company. However, the market was brisk in C Country, and doing business was not something easy. If he could cooperate with Donald, things would be less troublesome, and he would have more time to accompany Eden and the children.

Hearing Victor's words, Lucian suddenly looked at him.

He knew why Victor wanted to do that.

However, Eden looked at him in confusion.

Hadn't they reached an agreement before they came here?

Victor looked at Donald calmly, waiting for his reply.

Rome was not built in a day. The ruin-in period was always hard, and it was even more difficult to open up a new market. Therefore, he would rather compromise.

Before Donald came here, he had investigated Victor.

Victor was a man who had been overbearing and proud since he was a child.

He admired Victor's way of doing business, and he didn't like family business. He wanted to get rid of the family business model, so he learned from Victor and set up his own company.

However, he was not as capable as Victor.

When he saw the news about Eden and Victor online, he immediately had an idea of cooperating with Alwynn Group.

When he was in college, he only met Eden several times, but he had a special feeling towards her. Eden lived a hard life, do did he.

His mother was a mistress, and he lived a poor life with her. After graduating from college, he returned to the Evans family and inherited the family business. He became rich and powerful overnight. His father handed over the company to him, but he didn't like such a business model, and he preferred to create his own business kingdom by his own hard work.

Just like Victor, he set up his company by himself, and he would not be restricted by anyone. He could do whatever he wanted and be with the woman he loved.

He wouldn't be restricted by his family.

Donald didn't like the women that his parents asked him to marry.

Since Victor proposed to run the company, he would be more relaxed in the future.

After a long while, Donald said, "Okay, I agree with you."

Victor nodded, took the coat aside and wore it for Eden. Then he got up and took Eden's bag, "Mr. Evans, we'll sign the contract tomorrow. I don't need to go to C Country. Some of my employees are there. I'll ask them to deal with the work there. If there is anything wrong, we'll talk about it in detail."

"Okay!" Donald didn't expect that they would reach an agreement so easily. Everything went smoothly after he returned to River City.

However, he felt a little regretful because Eden had got married.

Donald picked up a gift box and passed it to Eden, "This is for you. I hope you'll like it." He spent a lot of time on choosing the gift for her, and he wanted to use the gift to make up for his regret in college.

Eden looked at him in surprise. She did not expect him to prepare a gift for her.

"Thank you, Elijah." Eden thanked him with a smile.

Although she didn't know what it was, she and Donald had much in common.

When Donald heard this name, he felt as if he had gone back to the past.

Ever since he graduated from college, no one had ever called him by this name. She was the first person to do so.

He smiled very brightly and warmly, "You're welcome!" He wanted to give her the gift all the time.

Seeing this, Victor was very irritated. He glanced at gift box and then looked away blandly.

It was the first time that he had felt so jealous and disgusted when he talked about business.

His heart was filled with jealousy, but he couldn't show his dissatisfaction.

On the way to the underground parking lot, Victor didn't say a word, but Eden had been in a good mood because she had met someone she knew.

There was still a faint smile on her face when she got in the car.

Victor helped her fasten the seat belt, and she was still smiling. His frowned slightly and suddenly went berserk.

He lowered his head, held her face and kissed her lips with great strength.

The sudden kiss stunned Eden. Then, he kissed her harder as a punishment.

He used so much strength that Eden almost felt suffocated.

Chapter 1186

Eden struggled hard. She felt that she was about to die. The feeling of suffocation made her feel uncomfortable all over.

"Oh..." Eden pushed him hard.

Victor let go of her, but he looked at her with his eyes full of grievance and anger.

"Victor, you are crazy!" After Eden could breathe more easily, she roared at Victor.

Why did he suddenly become so strange?

In terms of love, Eden was slow of understanding. At this time, she didn't know what Victor was thinking about at all.

Victor looked up at her, "Don't you know why I suddenly do this?" He said in a deep and mad tone.

He had endured it for a long time. Eden was naive, and she couldn't sense Donald's ulterior motives.

Eden glared at him with her big bright eyes. How could she know the reason?

Why did Victor become so strange all of a sudden?

She looked confused and adorable, glaring with him with annoyance in her big eyes and puckering her mouth with a red face. Seeing how lovely and attractive she was, Victor was no longer so mad at her.

He couldn't help reaching out his hand and rubbing her delicate nose, "Fool, can't you see that I'm jealous?"

Eden was dumbfounded. What was wrong with him?

What was there to be jealous of?

No...

Jealous?

Why was he jealous?

She only knew Donald, and they were not even friends. It was the first time they had met, and they talked about business cooperation. Was it something to be jealous of?

Eden did not understand him.

"Why are you so narrow-minded? I only heard about his name in college, and I didn't even know him. He wants to cooperate with us, which is something beneficial to Alwynn Group. I just chatted with him. Why are you jealous?"

"Anyway, I'm jealous." Victor said grumpily and started the car to go home.

Eden was speechless. He looked so mad as if she had cheated on him.

However, why did she feel quite happy when she saw his jealous face?

"Ha-ha..." She couldn't help laughing. In fact, she didn't have many male friends, so she seldom saw Victor get jealous after she knew him.

Similarly, he didn't like women to approach him, and she seldom felt jealous.

She always met with setbacks in life, but her love life went smoothly. Sometimes, they had rivals in love, but they only loved each other wholeheartedly.

Hearing her laughing, Victor felt even more depressed.

"What are you laughing at?" He could not help but ask.

"Nothing." Eden smiled and said.

When the car drove out of the parking lot, Victor suddenly saw Melissa stop Donald.

He braked all of a sudden and stopped the car.

Eden leaned forward due to inertia.

"Ah..." She felt dizzy instantly.

Victor turned to look at her with guilt, "Eden, are you okay?"

Eden glared at him. Just as she was about to ask why he suddenly stopped the car, she saw Melissa and Donald.

The anger in her heart suddenly disappeared.

"Do they know each other?" Eden looked at Melissa who dressed up in a fashionable and beautiful way.

She had waved her straight hair, looking more charming and coquettish.

Victor nodded, and his eyes darkened. Melissa appeared. He was worried that she would hurt Eden again.

"Melissa wants to cooperate with Donald. The Craig family and the Evans family are the most powerful in C Country. But Donald wants to cooperate with us." He knew why Donald wanted to cooperate with him and said with jealousy.

Eden turned her head and glanced at him casually.

Was it because of her that Donald wanted to cooperate with Alwynn Group?

She was not so charming.

"The reason why he wants to cooperate with Alwynn Group is that you have sharp business acumen." Eden said with jealousy as well.

Melissa came to River City, which meant that she still loved Victor.

Victor was speechless. If that was the real reason, he wouldn't be so jealous. But was that really the case?

Didn't Eden know that Donald's eyes were affectionate when he looked at her?

He was a man, so he could naturally understand what Donald was thinking.

"Unfortunately, we can't hear what they are talking about." Eden was a little worried. After all, Victor's company was founded by himself, and the investment this time was different from the past.

He was about to open up a new market in another country.

It would be more difficult than she imagined.

Victor started the car and left. Since Melissa came here, she must have known about the cooperation between Alwynn Group and Donald.

"Eden, let's go home first."

"Okay!" Eden still looked at Melissa.

Hadn't she given up her love for Victor?

On the way home, Eden was in a state of preoccupation.

Although Victor had come back, she had a lingering fear when she thought about his car accident.

When they got home, Victor got out of the car, but Eden sat there still.

Victor opened the car door and unbuckled her seat belt. Only then did Eden realize that she had arrived home.

Victor looked at her gloomy face doubtfully and asked, "Eden, what's wrong?"

Eden shook her head slowly, "Nothing. I just fill my mind with nonsense and I don't know what I am thinking."

Victor frowned and pinched her face lightly, "Didn't I remind you? You can't think too much."

Eden smiled and said, "But I can't control my thoughts."

Victor felt helpless. Although she had become much better, her depression hadn't been completely cured.

"Eden, let's go on a trip tomorrow. Where do you want to go?" They had been resting at home during this period of time and didn't travel outside.

Eden shook her head, "I don't want to go anywhere."

Eden glanced at Abigail's house on the opposite side.

She hadn't seen Jasper for more than half a month, and she didn't inquire about his news deliberately.

Abby told her that he had recovered, but he started to work day and night again.

Eden sighed and got off the car.

Following her gaze, Victor knew what she was thinking without asking her.

In the past half a month, he met Jasper once. Jasper was not in a good condition.

His face was haggard and his eyes were listless. He looked extremely dispirited.

"Maureen has been staying with Jasper. No matter how Jasper treats her, she insists on taking care of him. Although he doesn't accept her kindness, she doesn't intend to give up."

Being seen through by him, Eden looked somewhat unnatural.

Victor smiled, "Fool, I know you are worried, and I know that you want him to be happy. Although I don't know if he will live a happy life with Maureen, the result will be good because Maureen insists on being with him."

If Maureen did not give up, Jasper would be touched by her one day.

However, Maureen had used the wrong method, so she had to go through a difficult period.

Eden pursed her lips slightly and smiled, "My biggest wish is that Jasper can get his happiness."

She was sincere. Jasper had suffered a lot because of her.

"Yeah! I hope he can be happy, too."

Eden wouldn't be happy unless Jasper lived a good life.

Chapter 1187

He didn't understand this before, but he had realized it.

Jasper loved Eden as much as he did. As time went by, he found that Jasper loved Eden deeply.

Therefore, he was grateful to Jasper. But he felt jealous at the same time.

However, he could feel for Jasper. He hoped that Jasper could live a happy life. Only in this way could he and Eden be together at ease.

"Come on. Let's go home."

He took her out of the car. It was getting colder and colder at night. Victor wrapped her with the coat more tightly.

They went home. As soon as they entered the house, they felt warm.

"Dad, mom, we are back." Eden said with a smile.

Zaiden and Jaida were watching TV and waiting for them to come back.

Zaiden asked with a smile, "How was your day? Did you discuss business smoothly?"

Eden walked over and sat opposite them.

"Dad, it was quite smooth."

Zaiden nodded with a smile, "The market is brisk in C Country. If you can open up a new market there, Victor will become the richest man in this continent. Money is not everything, but we can solve a lot of problems with money. You are still young, and you have many opportunities to develop your career."

He always thought highly of Victor's ability.

Victor smiled and said, "Dad, thank you for your lucky words."

That was his dream. Although money was not everything, he could let his family live a better life if he was rich.

"Mm! I believe you and Eden." Zaiden looked at them and laughed.

Jaida said, "Eden, the children are all asleep. You should go to bed early."

"Okay, mom." Eden smiled and nodded.

They chatted for a while before going back to their rooms to rest.

.....

The cooperation with Donald went very smoothly.

Alwynn Group had been very popular these years, and other companies had heard of the cooperation between Victor and Donald.

They all wanted to cooperate with Alwynn Group.

Alwynn Group earned a lot of money and became extremely rich.

That day, Eden had nothing to do. Seeing that Victor had not finished his work, she turned on the computer and surfed on the Internet.

Alwynn Group was well-known.

It had more than one hundred million fans in A Country.

Both Eden and Victor did not expect that Alwynn Group would become so famous.

The public responded magnificently to their cooperation with Donald. They didn't even have to advertise their company.

They had more and more fans, and Alwynn Group had become a hot topic on the Internet.

Everyone paid Eden extravagant compliments.

Eden read the comments carefully and suddenly found that there were a few unusual comments.

"These days, through my careful comparison, I find that Alwynn Group' design is very similar to TS Company's design. Their clothes are similar in quality, styles and fabrics. I am a little suspicious of Eden's ability."

"Me too. I heard that TS Company is a branch of Craig Group. Miss Craig is a very excellent designer, while there is a lot of negative news about Eden. I bought the clothes produced by Alwynn Group, and the limited edition is not of good quality. The clothes had many flaws after I wore them once."

"I guess you bought the fake clothes. I bought the limited edition of the summer collection as well, and I haven worn them many times, but my clothes are of perfect quality."

"In my opinion, she didn't buy fake clothes, and she wants to slander Director Bleu on purpose. Obviously, Melissa copied the design of Alwynn Group. I am a loyal fan of Alwynn Group and Director Bleu. No matter she works in Gate City or River City, her design has been outstanding."

Eden read a lot of comments seriously. In the past, she did not like to pay attention to these comments.

Because many people scolded her, and the comments would make her feel unhappy and affect her mood. However, the situation had become different. A lot of people praised her, so she would read the comments occasionally.

As she continued to browse the web page, she saw a comment and held the mouse tightly with a frown.

"Eden is a shameless woman. She doesn't deserve to be with Victor. I heard that she has an ambiguous relationship with her best friend's younger brother. My heart aches for Victor."

"Ah... Do you have any evidence? Victor is my Prince Charming. I sleep with his photo in my arms every night. Your words are too absurd, and I don't believe you. My Prince Charming loves Eden so deeply."

A photo of Eden and Jasper was attached to the comment. In the photo, she smiled brightly and Jasper looked at her with a tender smile.

Eden took a look at the time. It was a reply that day.

When was the photo taken?

Eden frowned and thought about it. She looked at the clothes she was wearing in the photo carefully and suddenly remembered that she went to Fashion Square to meet Jasper in the clothes after they came to River City.

But who took this photo?

She had few male friends, and those people could only use Jasper to make up a story.

She looked down and found that the photo of her falling into the swimming pool in C Country had been posted online.

In the photo, Jasper still looked at her with distress.

The photos were uploaded that day, and tens of thousands of people replied to it. While she was browsing, the photos had become a trending topic.

It seemed that some paid Internet trolls were attacking her on purpose.

Eden frowned harder and harder. Such comments would bring more harm to Jasper.

She looked at the time. The children hadn't come back from school.

"Victor, come here and look at this." Eden's tone was a little anxious.

Victor signed the document neatly. After closing the document, he immediately got up and walked to her.

"Eden, what's wrong?"

Eden pointed to the computer, "Someone gossips about me and Jasper maliciously."

Victor took the mouse from her hand quickly and scanned the web page. Many of the photos were posted that day.

Before Victor could speak, Lucian rushed in.

"Victor, Eden, some paid Internet trolls are slandering Eden. They make comments online faster than I thought."

Victor frowned and looked up at him, "Who paid them?"

Eden said, "I didn't offend anyone recently. Who would do this to me?"

She thought of Maureen unconsciously.

But she shook her head slightly. It couldn't be Maureen. Maureen was rich enough to hire people to slander her online.

However, Maureen loved Jasper, so there was no need for her to do this.

But...

An idea flashed through Eden's mind. "Is it Melissa? Now lots of people pay attention to Jasper and me, and they even scold us online. Who will benefit from it?"

She would not betray Victor, and Victor trusted her.

But Internet violence was horrible. Her reputation would be ruined by these rumours.

Lucian said, "The first person I suspect is her." However, Melissa had provoked Jasper as well. Jasper would definitely not let her go easily.

His heart was as cruel as Victor's.

Chapter 1188

Victor said, "Investigate it immediately. We can't aggravate this matter."

These days, Jasper was on the verge of total derangement. If he knew this matter, he might do something crazy.

After all, when he saw Jasper a few days ago, Jasper was in a bad state.

He did not dare to tell Eden about it. If she knew it, she would be worried and suffer from depression again.

Lucian replied, "I'm investigating. I'll deal with it first."

Victor looked at him, "Lucian, delete all the photos and comments as fast as you can."

He hoped that Jasper had not seen it yet.

Lucian said, "I see."

Then he immediately turned around and left.

Victor turned off the computer, "Eden, don't look at these." These negative comments would affect her mood.

Eden glanced at him with a gloomy face, "This person gossips about me and Jasper just to make you suspect me. Your status is not ordinary and you're from a noble family. How could your family allow such a thing to happen to you? She wants to get what she wants by doing this."

Seeing how uneasy she was, Victor was very worried about her.

"Fool, don't think too much. I'll deal with it. Wait here for me to come back." Victor lowered his head, kissed her forehead and then went out of the office.

Victor was worried about Eden, so he asked Amelia to accompany her.

"Eden." When Amelia came in, she saw Eden sitting there in a state of preoccupation.

Eden raised her head and glanced at her listlessly.

Amelia had seen the gossips online.

If they didn't stop it in time, these rumours would soon affect Eden's work and life.

"Sit down." Eden pointed to the sofa. She knew that Victor had asked Amelia to accompany her.

In fact, she was fine. She was only worried that Maureen and Jasper would be affected by this matter.

Amelia did not sit down on the sofa, but walked toward her.

Recently, Alwynn Group had been a hot topic on the Internet, and they had attracted much attention in the design circle. Their brand was on a high level, and they had cooperated with Evans Group, which made them become the centre of attention.

A person in a high position was liable to be attacked. An invisible war had broken out.

Amelia often paid attention to gossips online. Obviously, some Internet ghost writers paid to post online comments in order to ruin Eden in the shortest time.

"Eden, turn on the computer. I will delete those comments first. Although I can't catch up with the speed of the paid Internet trolls, I can reduce some of the damage." Amelia was quite good at computer.

However, that was her sideline, and she would not help those who were not familiar with her.

It suddenly occurred to Eden that Amelia was someone with computer knowledge, just like Lucian.

She turned on the computer again quickly.

Then she gave the seat to Amelia seat.

"Amelia, although deleting those comments and photos can't solve the problem essentially, it's better if we do it. Beside, Melissa has copied my design. When Victor went missing, I researched Melissa's design."

Amelia nodded with a smile, "Eden, I know. We can see that her design is similar to yours at a glance. I compared the design of you two on the Internet carefully, and there are many similarities. TS Company didn't have such a design before."

Amelia clicked the mouse quickly and tapped on the keyboard with her slender fingers.

Eden knew that Amelia typed very fast, but she didn't expect her to be so skilled.

Her speed was almost as fast as Kenny's.

"Amelia, that is amazing." Eden sighed with admiration.

Amelia smiled, "Eden, I have been fond of computers since I was a child. When I have nothing to do or when my mother scolds me, I study knowledge about hacker and network. In fact, I am very good at playing games, but playing alone is boring."

Eden was surprised. She didn't expect Amelia to be such an expert.

She was only interested in design, and she didn't have time to learn anything else. These days, she didn't practice Taekwondo anymore and didn't have strength to run. She was weak and often fell ill.

Eden watched Amelia enter the code and find out the address of those people quickly.

Amelia typed so fast that Eden didn't even know how she did it. She could only feel that Amelia was so skilled.

"That is impressive!"

Eden could see that Amelia was making a concentrated effort. She was more confident and focused than she was at any other time.

At this moment, Lucian pushed the door open and came in.

He wanted Amelia to make a cup of coffee for him.

Amelia was not in the office, so he came here to look for her.

Seeing him come in, Eden gestured him to be quiet.

Lucian trod lightly and walked to Eden.

He watched Amelia copy those people's accounts and delete those photos and comments very quickly.

She did all these even faster than him.

Lucian widened his eyes and looked at Amelia who was serious and confident. He had never seen her like this before.

At this moment, her beautiful face was intent.

Her every move showed that she was confident and she looked so charming.

Perhaps it was because no one would say anything bad about her in the virtual world. she was totally relaxed and concentrated on solving the problems for Eden. She really looked appealing in this way.

Lucian had come here, but she did not notice it. Her eyes were fixed on the computer screen. She would not make any mistakes when her whole mind was concentrated on one thing.

Five minutes later, Amelia finally finished it and smiled brightly, "Eden, it's done. Lucian is also working on this, but I'm faster than him." Amelia's voice was full of pride. Hearing this, Lucian raised his eyebrows and smiled evilly.

"Wow, I didn't expect you to be so capable."

"Ah..." Hearing Lucian's bland and wicked voice, Amelia was so startled that she jumped up.

She looked at the strange smile on Lucian's handsome face, and her heart trembled.

She... had never mentioned this matter to Lucian.

But Lucian had known about it. In fact, she only wanted to be a simple girl. This was just her personal hobby.

Eden took a look at Amelia's expression and instantly understood what was going on.

"Amelia, doesn't Lucian know about this?"

Originally, Amelia was not so uneasy. As soon as Eden asked this, she shrank her shoulders, lowered her head and didn't dare to look at Lucian. She only nodded in a perfunctory way.

Eden was speechless. She had exposed Amelia.

Lucian's character was somewhat similar to Victor's. He did not like to be deceived.

Well, Amelia didn't cheat him, did she?

She stole a glance at Lucian's face. His face had darkened indeed.

It seemed that he was angry.

Eden smiled awkwardly, "Lucian, Amelia was just..."

Before Eden could finish her words, Lucian had grabbed Amelia's wrist and pulled her out of the office.

Eden was taken aback. Would he give Amelia a lesson?

Chapter 1189

Eden chased them to the door and watched Lucian take Amelia into his office.

"Bang..." The door was slammed shut.

Even from such a distance, Eden could feel that rage bubbled just below the surface of Lucian's mind.

Eden fidgeted back and forth in the office uneasily.

"Oh my! Does Lucian really want to give Amelia a lesson?" Eden said to herself while pacing around.

"Alas! Don't think too much. Lucian won't bully women." She comforted herself.

However...

She glanced at Victor's seat.

He left without telling her. Where did he go?

Eden sat on the sofa, praying that Lucian and Amelia would not quarrel with each other.

After Lucian closed the door, he rolled down the shutters.

Looking at what he was doing, Amelia was a bit upset and annoyed.

Was he really angry? She just forgot to tell him about it.

"Lucian, I..." She hesitated for a long while, but didn't know how to explain to him.

They had known each other for more than two years. On paper she shouldn't have kept him in the dark that they had a common hobby, but she didn't want to get close to him because of this. Instead, she wanted to make him fall in love with her real self.

Lucian approached her in a domineering way.

She took a step back, but behind her was the sofa. Then she stumbled over the sofa and fell backward. Subconsciously, she reached out quickly and grabbed Lucian's necktie.

"Ah..." Amelia cried out.

Lucian fell on her.

The posture looked extremely ambiguous.

Looking at her terrified expression, Lucian smiled meaningfully.

He lowered his head slightly, got close to her ear and said in a deep and alluring voice, "Amelia, we've known each other for more than two years, but I didn't expect you to be a computer expert. Don't you want to explain it to me? We treat each other sincerely after we got together, but you didn't tell me this. How long do you want to hide it from me? Is it because you're afraid of something that you hid it from me deliberately? Is there anything else I don't know about you?"

Amelia blinked her big eyes and looked at him vigilantly.

In her eyes, Lucian was like a ferocious wolf at this moment.

Meanwhile, she was like his prey. She was so scared that she shuddered in fear.

However, Amelia widened her eyes and braced herself to look at him, "This is not something bad. It's just my hobby, and I don't often show it off. I forgot to tell you about it."

Amelia made up an excuse that couldn't even convince herself.

"Ha-ha..." Lucian smiled coldly in a magnetic voice.

Amelia couldn't help but tremble.

"Amelia, do you know what I hate the most? I hate you dishonest people the most, and I hate people who can betray and deceive me at any time. You're a computer expert, so you can become a spy at any time. You had a lot of opportunities to tell me in the past, but why do you have to let me find it out by myself?"

Amelia was speechless. She didn't have a chance to tell him, did she?

When dating with him, she always listened to him.

She liked everything he liked and did what he wanted to do.

Had he ever cared about her hobbies?

She looked at Lucian quietly. Instead of being wary of him, she looked at him sincerely, blinked and then said slowly, "Lucian, did you give me a chance to say it? Every time when we stay together, we talk about what you like and do whatever you want. No matter what we do, you ask me to do it according your preference."

"Tell me. Have you ever cared about my feelings? In fact, I liked to go to Marriott Hotel with you, but what do we do there? You have great physical strength, and we have sex several times a day, but what about at night? I'm so tired that I can't even open my eyes every night." Her face was full of grievances, and she was on the verge of tears.

Looking at her wronged face, Lucian was stunned for a moment. He seemed to have never cared about what she liked.

What she said was true. He had too many work to deal with, and he could only have a relax on weekends.

Whether she was willing or not, he would ask her to go to Marriott Hotel on weekends.

That was because she liked the food there.

When they stayed together in a relaxing atmosphere, they got sexually aroused unconsciously.

Every corner in that room had witnessed their torrid love.

Lucian was no longer mad when tears ran down her face.

"I'm sorry. Don't cry. I will be more careful in the future." Lucian coaxed her in a low voice and kissed the tears on her face.

Hearing this, Amelia was stunned and then smiled a bit smugly. It seemed that she had got away with it.

Well, since he had apologized, she might as well take the initiative to kiss him.

Amelia wrapped her arms around his neck immediately and kissed his thin lips.

Lucian's body stiffened obviously.

Then he smiled and said in heart, "This is your own choice. Don't blame me for being crude."

Originally, he was going to question her angrily, but his heart melted and they had sex in the end.

.....

At the same time, in Joye Group.

Jasper saw the news on the Internet. The photos and those vicious comments were soon deleted.

He had lost a lot of weight, and the dark suit emphasized his thin body. His sharp-featured face was still handsome, but his listless eyes made him look like a walking dead.

He had been staring at the photo of him and Eden and didn't look away.

The photo was taken from a nice angle. In the photo, she smiled brilliantly. The expression in her eyes was extremely charming, and her smile was as gentle as a beautiful cherry blossom.

He was staring at her affectionately.

The moment he saw this photo, his heart seemed to have come back to life again. But he was a maelstrom of churning emotions inside, and his mind was in a mess.

He felt that he hadn't seen her for a long time.

He missed her. In the past, she would call him on weekends and invite him to have meals in her house, and she would never forget him while making dumplings.

At that time, he felt very satisfied, and he was not so disappointed and dejected. But at this moment, he felt so sad in heart that he wanted to die.

However, his eyes suddenly turned cold, and even the atmosphere became chillier.

"Who wants to ruin you again?" His hoarse voice was filled with hostility. Then he reached out and gently rubbed Eden's smiling face in the photo.

Victor saw this scene the moment he entered Jasper's office.

The reason why he came to Jasper's office in a hurry was that he knew Jasper was in a bad condition.

Seeing that Jasper was looking at Eden's photo with an infatuated face, he had mixed feelings and couldn't compose his thoughts.

Was there any difference between Jasper and a walking dead?

It seemed that Jasper didn't notice him. Victor felt somewhat upset. He walked over and said, "Jasper."

Chapter 1190

Jasper's hand, which was stroking Eden's photo, suddenly trembled. He glanced behind him coldly and said in an aloof tone, "What are you doing here?"

Victor stared at the photo on the computer screen, and his heart suddenly missed a beat. "Have you seen the news?"

Jasper said apathetically, "Can't I see it?"

There was nothing wrong with loving someone and achieving a dream.

However, he and Eden were not destined to be together.

Victor sighed, "I am worried about you, so I came to see you."

He rushed over without stopping, for fear that Jasper would do something crazy for Eden.

Hearing the word "worried", Jasper looked at him with confusion, "Ha-ha..." He sneered, "Are you worried about me? That's weird. I am your rival in love."

Only then did he turn around and look at Victor.

He looked drawn and tired and seemed to be out of his wits. Victor was slightly taken aback. Jasper looked more haggard than a few days ago.

"Jasper, do you really want to go on living like this?" Victor looked at him with brooding eyes. Although he knew Jasper was his powerful rival in love, he would no longer be so jealous.

Jasper would not really take away Eden from him.

He was confident that Eden only loved him.

Jasper turned to look at the computer slowly. Looking at the picture on the screen, he gave an irrelevant answer, "Victor, when you went missing, I hoped that you would not show up again. I am very selfish. If you did not come back, I could get Eden. No matter how many years it would be, I would wait for her. During that period of time, I sent her to the company and picked her up every day. I was so happy at that time."

He knew that it was a shame for him to get close to Eden at that time, but he couldn't miss the chances to stay with her alone.

Hearing this, Victor gulped. He could stand in Jasper's shoes and understand him.

"But I came back." Victor said in a deep tone. Jasper was still staring at the photo on the computer screen.

Victor had seen this photo on the way here.

He remembered that this photo was taken by someone when Jasper and Eden went to Fashion Square. But it had been a long time. Who took this picture?

"You two went to Fashion Square a long time ago. Who did this?" Victor did not intend to argue with Jasper. Instead, he wondered who took this photo.

Jasper said in a deep voice, "Nothing in the world is difficult for one who sets his mind on it. If we try our best to investigate, we'll find it out, won't we?"

A trace of viciousness flashed through Jasper's eyes. Seeing him like this, Victor said, "Jasper, cheer up. You just slept with a woman by accident, didn't you? I had the same experience, so I can understand your feelings. But Jasper, you can't go on living like this. Everyone is worried about you."

"Ha-ha..." Jasper laughed self-mockingly. Was that what he cared about?

"Since you don't understand, don't pretend to understand me and persuade me." Victor had slept with a woman by accident, but that woman was Eden.

But what about him?

Victor was speechless. He didn't want to understand Jasper. He just didn't want Eden to suffer from depression again.

"I don't understand you, but I understand Eden. If you are not happy, she will not live a good life."

Jasper's body suddenly trembled, and he clenched his hands into fists.

She wouldn't be happy if he was melancholy, but she did not know that she was his happiness.

"I know what you mean. You can leave now." Jasper drove him away with his face darkened.

Victor took a meaningful look at him, "I know I shouldn't have said this. However, Jasper, don't fail to answer the expectations of someone who loves you. Life is short, and you can't shut yourself off."

Jasper said, "You don't know how painful I am because you don't have the same experience. Just leave. Tell Eden that I am fine and ask her not to worry about me."

Victor was very helpless. Jasper was not fine at all, was he?

He was even more worried.

"Jasper, I will clarify this matter. Let me do it. In the future, you can rest assured that I will protect Eden well." After Victor finished speaking, he turned around and left.

Jasper pursed his lips tightly and fell on the chair in low spirits.

Yeah, she didn't need him anymore.

Eden waited for about forty minutes, but she did not see Amelia come out of Lucian's office.

She opened the door and wanted to see what was going on in Lucian's office.

As soon as she opened the door, Amelia came out of Lucian's office.

Seeing that her face was a bit red, Eden frowned slightly.

It seemed that...

Well...

Sure enough, men were all the same.

"Amelia." Eden waved at Amelia.

Eden looked at Eden somewhat awkwardly and then walked towards her.

Eden asked, "Lucian didn't beat you, did he?"

Amelia was speechless. What was Eden thinking about? But... He almost gave her a lesson.

"No..." Amelia lowered her head.

Eden leaned against the door frame with her arms crossed. Looking at Amelia's shy face, she couldn't help but shake her head, "Amelia, men's punishments are the same. You are more miserable than being beaten."

Amelia's face blushed scarlet when she heard this. However, she looked at Eden curiously, "Eden, does Mr. Alwynn do the same thing?"

"Ahem..." Eden coughed with embarrassment. Why did Amelia suddenly ask her?

However, she nodded and said, "Yeah! When he is jealous, I will be punished."

Amelia looked around mysteriously. Making sure that there was no one around, she asked in a low voice, "What will he do to you?"

Eden was stunned. It was really not suitable to discuss this.

"Ha-ha... Amelia, in their hearts, we're quite attractive. We have our own advantages. No matter how graceful they are, they will be overwhelmed by our charm."

Eden said seriously. While speaking, she looked around with her big watery eyes, for fear that she would be heard by others.

Amelia only felt that he was talking nonsense in a serious way.

From a man's point of view, a woman like her was not so charming.

This was the conclusion she had made over the past few years.

"Eden, don't you think you're too narcissistic?" Amelia said teasingly.

Eden blinked her eyes and asked with puzzlement, "Is that so? Once a man has fallen in love with a woman, this woman will be like his whole world. If you don't believe me, go back and ask Lucian if you're his whole world."

Amelia said, "I'm too embarrassed to ask him. Eden, have you asked Victor?"

Eden nodded hurriedly, "Is there any need to ask him?"

Amelia was speechless. She thought that Eden had asked Victor.

"Eden, don't be so narcissistic. Men's motives are very complicated. Some men only need a moment of passion, while some men are driven by their curiosity. Besides, some men fall in love just to satisfy their sexual needs. In short, men's motives are not pure as women's. In their hearts, love and sex is two separate issues. For example, Mr. Alwynn got the marriage certificate with you before holding a wedding, which means that he has impure motives."
