

Gluey Love 1231

Chapter 1231

Jasper looked at Victor and said with a smile, "Victor, I want to chat with Eden alone. Make yourself scarce. It won't take too long."

Hearing this, Victor was naturally unhappy. Eden was his wife. Why should he leave?

However, Jasper had not seen Eden for a long time, and Eden didn't meet him because of Maureen. Since they had met, of course they would talk to each other.

He glanced at Eden and raised his hand to look at the watch on his wrist, "Eden, I will come to pick you up half an hour later."

"Okay!" Eden nodded with a smile and walked towards Jasper.

Jasper's eyes were gentle as he watched her walk towards him.

He took a glass of juice from the waiter. He had been depressed these days, and he really wanted to drink, but he was afraid that she might worry about him. He hadn't recovered and came to the party weakly.

He just wanted to see her. If he met her at the party, he could pretend that he met her coincidentally.

Eden found that he was much thinner than before and looked him up and down, "Jasper, don't you eat your meals on time recently? Why have you lost so much weight?"

Jasper lowered his head and glanced at himself. Indeed, he did not eat much these days. He looked at her and said with a smile, "I think I look quite good now. I was too strong before. After losing weight, I look much younger, don't I? Don't you think so?" Saying this, Jasper even raised his handsome face proudly so that she could see him more clearly.

"Ha-ha... That's right. Look at you. You look like an eighteen-year-old boy now." Eden looked at him with a smile. She could finally rest assured when she saw him standing in front of her and smiling at her.

"Jasper, have you eaten yet? If you haven't, we can eat together. I haven't had anything."

Jasper took her aside, "Not yet. Let's eat together."

Victor felt a bit uncomfortable in heart as he watched them leave while talking and laughing.

He turned around. Just as he was about to leave, he saw a beautiful woman stand in front of him and look at him with a charming smile.

Victor's eyes suddenly turned cold. When he was about to walk past Dorothy, she said gently, "Mr. Alwynn, could we speak privately? My father is the president of Monroe Group, and my name is Dorothy. I always want to talk to you about our cooperation. You will definitely be interested in our conditions."

"I'm not interested." Victor said indifferently and wanted to leave.

Dorothy looked at Victor in a daze. Just now, she had tried her best to smile attractively, but Victor was unmoved.

She smiled and moved a step, blocking Victor's way.

Victor caught a whiff of strong perfume and immediately took a few steps back. A trace of disgust flashed through his eyes. He always hated such smell of perfume.

Seeing how disgusted he was, Dorothy frowned slightly. But she remained an elegant smile for the sake of her company, "Mr. Alwynn, you refused without even listening to me. Please give me a few minutes. I'll finish my words quickly."

Victor glanced at her, "Monroe Group runs real estate. The price of your shares dropped by this morning. If the shares continue to depreciate on the stock markets, Monroe Group will go bankrupt. What benefits will I get by cooperating with you?" Victor's tone was quite sarcastic. He did not have the interest to clean up the mess for others.

Dorothy was rendered speechless. At this moment, all her confidence had been ruined by Victor's heartless and cold words.

What she did not expect was that Victor actually knew about the current situation of Monroe Group. She smiled delectably and walked to Victor cautiously, "Mr. Alwynn, give me ten minutes and let's talk in a quite place. We sincerely want to cooperate with Alwynn Group. Although the shares continue to depreciate, we haven't gone bankrupt yet. As long as you're willing to cooperate with us, we can give you the greatest profits. Mr. Alwynn, what do you think?"

Dorothy was a little anxious. Every man would be obsessed by her when they saw her beautiful face, but there was no emotion in Victor's eyes. He not only didn't admire her, but also looked at her with disgust.

If the company went bankrupt, she would lose everything. At this moment, she did not dare to act recklessly. If she could seduce Victor, this matter would be solved easily. If she could not, it would be too late for her to look for another investor.

"Mr. Alwynn, please give me ten minutes." Her tone was a bit flirty.

Ordinary men's hearts would melt when they heard her speak like this. However, Victor had been cold-blooded, and he didn't like any woman except for Eden. He only felt disgusted when he heard her coquettish voice.

Victor said indifferently, "Can you change my mind if I give you ten minutes?"

Hearing this, Dorothy felt that she still had a chance. Moreover, Eden was not here, so this was a once in a lifetime opportunity. "Mr. Alwynn, we will give the biggest profits to Alwynn Group. The Alwynn Group will definitely make a profit and won't suffer any loss." Dorothy mentioned the profits all the time. Victor was a businessman, and what he cared about the most was how much money he could earn.

Moreover, Victor cared about money the most. Over the years, he had been doing his best to make money and constantly expanded his business. He was the most powerful man in River City.

As long as she could have something to do with him, she would be very rich.

"Humph!" Victor snorted, "Won't I suffer any loss? You're quite confident. Just tell me why I can make money by cooperating with you. You don't even have money to finish those unfinished buildings. If Alwynn Group want to invest, I have to spend endless money on the buildings. Is this your so-called profit?"

Victor said mockingly. After that, he ignored Dorothy and strode forward.

Seeing this, Dorothy panicked and ran to chase after him.

"Mr. Alwynn, please give me some time. The land that we own has a nice location." Dorothy once again ran to Victor's front and blocked his way.

Victor frowned, and he had lost his patience, "Get lost!"

Dorothy felt that she was greatly humiliated.

No one had ever asked her to get lost.

"Mr. Alwynn." Dorothy looked at Victor with a dejected face.

At this moment, a man came in a hurry with a glass of wine in his hand and elbowed Dorothy with great strength. It seemed that he did it on purpose.

"Ah..." Dorothy screamed and sprang at Victor.

She fell into Victor's arms.

"I'm sorry." The man apologized and left in a hurry.

Not far away, someone took pictures of this scene.

Victor immediately pushed away Dorothy. Dorothy was caught off guard. She staggered backward before managing to steady herself.

"Get the hell out of my way!" Victor was full of hostility, and even the atmosphere had turned much colder.

Chapter 1232

His angry voice attracted the attention of the people around.

Under the lights, Victor looked furious and gloomy. He was like an angry lion that could bit people to death at any time. Blood veins stood out on his forehead and he looked so horrible, making everyone afraid of him.

Dorothy was so scared that she took a few steps back. In panic, she opened her eyes wide and looked at Victor defensively.

At this moment, only she herself knew how scared she was. She thought she was dying.

Victor was too heartless and brutal, so she had an illusion that she was about to die.

Earl had been standing in the distance, and he couldn't stand it anymore. He was afraid that Victor would lose his temper and then hurt Dorothy.

He walked over in a hurry. However, Victor had turned around madly and left in another direction before he could speak.

Dorothy did not give up. She once again summoned up her courage and rushed towards Victor. As long as she did not give up, Victor would definitely help Monroe Group.

"Dorothy, come back!" Seeing that Dorothy followed Victor recklessly, Earl was very worried.

"Ha-ha... Look at her. She behaves so shamelessly in order to become rich. Mr. Alwynn loves his wife very much. How could he be seduced so easily? It's really despicable of her to seduce Mr. Alwynn here."

"Isn't it just? Do you remember Melissa? She is the really scheming one. She bribed the security guard to get the video, and then edited the video and posted it online. She just wanted to ruin Mr.

Alwynn's marriage, didn't she? Fortunately, Mr. Alwynn posted a more convincing video and clarified the fake news. Otherwise, Mr. Alwynn would have no way to explain to his wife."

Several men sat together and gossiped.

Melissa didn't even show up, but she was gossiped by others. Her reputation had really been ruined by Victor.

"Humph!" She snorted. What Dorothy had suffered was nothing. Victor had treated her more harshly.

That night, Victor was like a devil. After that night, her heart would tremble unconsciously whenever she heard Victor's name, and her ten toes would curl up uncontrollably.

She swore that since she couldn't be with Victor, she wouldn't let anyone be with him.

Including Dorothy and Eden.

Tomorrow morning, there would be a good show in River City.

Melissa turned around slightly. Victor kicked her that night, and the wound still ached dully.

After Victor posted the video on the Internet, the way the employees looked at her had changed. They gossiped about her and cursed her with extremely harsh words. During the lunch breaks, they would gossip about her in the bathrooms, tea rooms and even the fire exits.

As long as she heard someone gossiping about her, she would fire that person. She didn't care how they talked about her, but she would be very mad when she heard it with her own ears.

She said in heart, "Eden, just wait and see. When you the see the news tomorrow morning, the expressions of you and Victor must be very interesting."

Melissa sneered smugly. No one could be more scheming and despicable than her.

At the same time, Eden and Jasper had their dinner while talking and laughing. Jasper was used to shelling shrimps for Eden. Sometimes, he would feed her personally after shelling shrimps.

Eden smiled and ate the shrimps.

Seeing that she was eating happily, Jasper no longer felt so painful all over.

He loved her, so he wanted her to be so happy forever.

He didn't want her to apologize to him in a sad tone.

She didn't hurt him, and he was willing to everything for her.

"Eden, when I was in the hospital, I made you worry about me. But you can rest assured that such a car accident won't happen again. I will be careful while driving, and I won't ride a motorcycle on rainy days. I will hire a full-time driver for myself, so you don't have to worry about me." He wouldn't let her worry about him and cry anymore.

"Isn't it just? I was so anxious when you lay there and didn't wake up." Eden looked at him with complaint. He was very careful in ordinary times, but he was too careless last time.

Jasper smiled guiltily, "Eden, I'm sorry that I made you so sad."

He didn't dare to imagine how sad she was at that time. She kept apologizing to him in a painful and mournful voice.

His heart was broken.

"Eden, if there is a next life, you must let me meet you earlier, okay?" He thought.

Jasper took a deep breath and suppressed the pain in his heart.

"Eden." He said softly.

While eating, Eden looked up at him with a smile.

"Jasper, what's wrong?" She asked.

Jasper smiled and looked at her quietly. He was gentler than ever before, "Eden, with you by my side, I've been very happy these years."

Eden was slightly stunned and then chuckled. Her starry eyes were so bright and beautiful. "Why do you suddenly say so? You are happy, so am I."

"Yeah! You said that we will be happy together. Eden, don't worry about me, I will live a good life." He always knew this, but this time, he had completely gave up his love for her. They would be friends in the future.

He tried to not see her, but he failed.

At least, they were friends and relatives, and he was very satisfied.

He and Abigail were both reluctant to part with Eden.

In the past, she would occasionally cook delicious food and invite him to dinner.

After making dumplings, she would never forget him, and this was enough.

This was why he had come to see her at night.

The reason why he loved her so much and couldn't bear to give up was very simple. When she smiled faintly and called him by his name, he was always touched and obsessed.

Eden put down the chopsticks, "Jasper, it's me..."

"Eden, it's you. I am happier than anyone else because you're by my side, and I'm so glad that I've accompanied you for ten years. So, Eden, you don't have to say anything." He knew that she wanted to say sorry.

She didn't hurt him. It was him who made her guilty and painful.

"Yeah! Hurry up and eat more. Although you look like an eighteen-year-old boy, you haven't recovered yet. You need to eat more so that you can recover soon."

"Okay, I'll eat more." Jasper smiled and lowered his head to eat.

On the top floor of River City Restaurant, people could see more than half of the city. The dazzling neon lights showed the prosperity and elegance of this city.

They sat by the window. Under the lights, they looked so attractive and pleasant to the eye.

Victor stood in the distance and watched them having dinner together. He was extremely jealous. He was hungry, but Eden was eating so happily with another man.

He didn't know what Jasper had said, but Eden laughed with joy. The neon lights in the distance reflected on her beautiful face from time to time. Her smile was like a fresh lily, touching his heart.

Chapter 1233

Victor smiled helplessly. Eden was just so careless. She really cared about and put up with Jasper.

After all, after they grew up, Jasper met Eden first.

Fortunately, Eden only cared about Jasper and did not have any other feelings for him. Otherwise, he would be very jealous when he saw this.

if it was in the past, he would definitely rush over and give Jasper a lesson.

However, it was hard to have a confidant. Jasper was willing to protect Eden at the risk of his life, and it was Eden's luck to meet him. How could he bear to hurt Jasper? He would rather become friends with Jasper for the sake of Eden.

Dorothy followed Victor quietly and saw him standing in a corner. His back looked so lonely and disconsolate as he looked at a man and a woman who sat far away.

Dorothy was shocked when she saw the woman's pretty face clearly. She was Victor's wife, wasn't she?

Why was she staying with another man and even smiling so heartily?

Eden's face was stained with tomato sauce, and Jasper picked up a tissue to wipe her face habitually.

F*ck!

Well...

Dorothy looked at Eden with disdain. She thought Eden was a pure woman, but Eden actually behaved intimately with another men in front of her husband. If such a scene was reported, people would think that she had betrayed Victor.

Could Victor stand her?

"Mr. Alwynn, Mrs. Alwynn is so close to the man. They seem to have known each other for a long time."

Dorothy said fearlessly.

Victor was concentrated on looking at Eden's lovely face. His face suddenly darkened when he heard the voice. Dorothy was really bold. She actually followed him here.

Seeing that Victor didn't speak, Dorothy said again, "Mr. Alwynn, every woman wants to be with such a man like you. Mrs. Alwynn has really let you down. Mr. Alwynn, as long as you can help Monroe Group overcome the difficulties, we can give you whatever you want." Of course, he could ask her to be with him.

She was just too embarrassed to say it straightforwardly.

Dorothy thought that Victor would be tempted by what she said, so she waited for his answer leisurely.

However, the next moment, Victor seized her by the neck.

"Oh..." Dorothy was suffocated, and she felt like she was about to die.

With a painful face, she looked at Victor who was furious and horrible.

His intense and cold eyes hurt her heart, and she felt as if her heart had been stabbed by a sharp knife. He wished that he could kill her immediately.

"Mr. Alwynn..." Dorothy stammered. She flushed bright red and her twisted in pain. It could be seen how much strength Victor had use.

Victor said exasperatedly word by word, "Do you think you have the right to criticize my wife? She is having a meal with her friend, and she doesn't do anything wrong. Your mind is so disgusting."

"You said you could give me whatever I wanted as long as I helped Monroe Group, and you're included, right? Even if you stand in front of me naked, I won't take a look at you because you make me sick!"

"You challenge my patience again and again. Since you want to die, I'll fulfill your wish."

"Victor." Eden heard his angry voice and came over, only to see this terrible scene.

Victor's face was full of brutality and harshness, and he looked totally different from he was in ordinary times.

Hearing Eden's voice, Victor immediately shook off Dorothy.

"Ahem..." After Victor let go of Dorothy, she gulped in the air instantly.

Jasper walked over, "What's going on?"

Victor didn't answer Jasper. Instead, he held Eden's arm and pointed at Dorothy fiercely, "Honey, she is seducing me."

Eden was speechless.

Dorothy, who felt so uncomfortable, was stunned when she heard that.

Victor actually complained to Eden and acted as if he had been wronged

Victor's behaviour came as a complete shock for Dorothy.

Jasper looked at Victor teasingly.

"Victor, Eden is here. How dare you flirt with another woman?" Jasper said with a gloating expression.

Victor glared at him. If he hadn't come to the party, would Eden have left him alone and had dinner with him?

"Humph!" Victor snorted arrogantly and looked at Eden again, "Honey, I didn't lie. She was really seducing me. Everyone in the hall can give evidence."

Eden looked at him with confusion and then glanced at Dorothy's red face.

"But why are you two hiding here?" Eden looked at Victor doubtfully.

Victor was a little embarrassed. He couldn't tell her that he hid here because of jealousy, could he?

He didn't dare to look into her eyes, lowered his head and said, "Honey, I came here to pick you up. You two were chatting happily, so I didn't bother you."

Eden was quite helpless, "You haven't had dinner yet, have you? I brought a lot of delicious food, and you could come and eat with us. Jasper and I waited for you while eating."

When Victor heard this, he felt that he was really narrow-minded. If he had known that Eden wanted him to eat with them together, how could he hide here? He would have been there and let Jasper envy him.

"Honey, let's eat together now." Victor looked at Eden with a smile.

Eden looked at him, "I will accompany you for dinner later. Let's solve this matter first."

Then, she looked at Jasper and said, "Jasper, you haven't fully recovered. Go back and have a rest first."

Jasper nodded. He had been enduring his discomfort.

"Victor, protect Eden well. If she is bullied by another woman, as her elder brother, I will not let you go."

Elder brother...

Victor didn't think that he was like Eden's elder brother. Instead, Eden worried about him all day long.

"Just leave. Don't disturb our romantic dinner." Victor wished that he could leave as soon as possible.

"Ha-ha..." Jasper glanced at Eden, "I'm leaving."

"Okay! Have a good rest." Eden looked at him with a faint smile. In Jasper's eyes, she was as beautiful as the star. As long as he could see her smile, he could feel happy.

He glanced at the woman on the ground. The moment Dorothy looked into his eyes, his gentle eyes turned malicious, and Dorothy was terrified by him.

Dorothy had just kept her feet. Seeing Jasper like this, she took a few steps back in fear.

Elder brother...

Was Eden his younger sister?

How could it be?

She clearly saw jealousy on Victor's face.

Who was that man? He was dressed in expensive clothes, so his social status must be high.

Jasper walked away slowly. Eden noticed that he was strange. He had not recovered, but he forced himself to come to the party.

Eden withdrew her eyes slowly and looked at Dorothy, who had recovered her equilibrium.

Eden asked indifferently, "Do you want to see my husband about something?"

Chapter 1234

Dorothy glanced at Victor and didn't know how to answer.

Victor was completely different from what she had imagined.

How could an ordinary man say so?

Whenever they saw a beautiful woman, they wished they could have a love affair with her.

Some of her friends became mistresses of rich men. Those rich men bought them houses and let them live in. It was impossible for them to tell their wives about it.

She looked at Eden and smiled with grievances, "Mrs. Alwynn, please don't misunderstand me. I just want to cooperate with Mr. Alwynn. Monroe Group is in trouble now, so I want to cooperate with Alwynn Group to solve the urgent problems. Mrs. Alwynn, please don't take it to heart."

"Oh!" Eden glanced at Victor. He was still looking at her with grievances.

Eden did not say anything and turned to look at Dorothy again, "What kind of business are you in?"

Dorothy glanced at Victor. Seeing that he did not speak, she braced herself to say, "My family is in the real estate business. Those buildings haven't been finished because of shortage of money. But the land is nice. We will build houses and shops together. If you cooperate with us, I'm sure you'll suffer no loss."

Eden looked at Victor again.

Victor looked at her with a smile, wondering how she would deal with this matter.

"Victor, she just wants to talk to you about cooperation. How could you hurt her just now?"

"Honey, she seduced me and wanted to cooperate with me by becoming my mistress. That is disgusting. You know that I'm obsessive about mental cleanliness."

Eden pretended to be helpless and sighed. Dorothy dressed very seductively. She wore a bright red tight-fitting dress and red high heels. She was well-shaped, and the red dress flattered her charm. Besides, the red dress was slit to the thigh, making her sexy and bewitching.

She believed Victor. After all, he was super handsome and rich. Many women were infatuated with him.

If Dorothy had not gone too far, Victor would not have treated her like that.

He was so wronged that he even complained to her with grievances. If she didn't take revenge for him, she would feel sorry for him.

She pretended to blame him, "Victor, even if she is shameless and insensible, you can't hurt her."

"Besides, Miss Monroe wants to cooperate with you sincerely. You can refuse her, but you can't be so rude to her. Miss Monroe looks well-educated and reasonable. Look at how scared she is. It's all your fault"

Eden glared at Victor. Without waiting for Victor's reply, she walked towards Dorothy gracefully.

She looked at Dorothy with a smile, "Miss Monroe, my husband has a bad temper. I'm so sorry for what happened just now!" She apologized gently.

Only then did Dorothy look at Eden carefully. Her face was burning hot. At this moment, she felt even more comfortable than when Victor grabbed her neck.

Eden's voice was gentle and pleasant to hear, but her tone was icy cold. For the first time, she felt that her throat had tightened because of someone's words.

Eden spoke for her, but she was greatly humiliated, and she felt that she was shameless.

She felt ashamed for the first time.

She intended to seduce Victor indeed.

Eden was smiling. Dressed in a luxurious dress, she looked noble and elegant. When she took a closer look, she found that Eden's smile was not warm at all. It was bland and horribly apathetic.

Looking at Eden's smile, she couldn't help but lower her head and apologize, "Mrs. Alwynn, I'm sorry. I... did something wrong." Her voice trembled a little.

Eden heard it and asked with a chuckle, "Miss Monroe, why do you apologize to me? My husband did something wrong. We should say sorry to you." Her voice was still light, and she smiled blandly and gracefully.

However, Dorothy only wanted to escape.

Victor sneered teasingly. Even he was a little frightened by Eden's gentle but cruel words.

Dorothy raised her head to look at Eden, and her lips twitched a few times uncontrollably. Eden looked weak on the surface, but she made her mortified just by saying a few words.

She lowered her head in shame. No matter what, Alwynn Group was wealthy, and only Victor could save her family.

"Mrs. Alwynn, I was indeed impulsive and reckless just now. I know that Mr. Alwynn loves you deeply. I did something wrong tonight. I shouldn't have seduced Mr. Alwynn to achieve my goal. But my family has been driven to the corner. I had no choice but to do such a shameless thing."

"Mrs. Alwynn, I beg you. Please help my family. That land is in the western district, and it used to be an urban village. Our partners suddenly withdrew their funds, which caused my family to be in a crisis."

It seemed that Victor was very obedient to Eden. If Eden could persuade him, her family might be saved.

She really underestimated Victor. He was as cold-blooded and ruthless as the rumours said.

She underestimated Victor's love for Eden, so she had to pay the price.

Victor smiled coldly, looking domineering and aggressive.

Dorothy actually begged Eden.

Just as he was about to speak, Eden said, "Miss Monroe, you shouldn't ask Victor for help. The person who is in charge of the real estate business in Alwynn Group is Mr. Church. In the business world, we all care about benefits. Instead of persuading my husband, you'd better talk to Mr. Church. He is very familiar with the real estate industry. If he agrees with you, my husband will have no objection."

That piece of land was indeed nice. She would take over her father's company in the future. Why shouldn't she take this opportunity to practice?

It seemed that her depression had been stabilized a lot. In the face of such a situation, she wouldn't fill her mind with nonsense anymore.

Dorothy was stunned. Eden actually advised her.

But she did not have much time left.

"Honey..."

Eden turned around to look at him and interrupted him with a gentle smile, "Victor, you haven't you eaten, have you? Let me accompany you for dinner first. After dinner, we'll go home."

Victor's eyes looked a bit gloomy. Did Eden want to help Monroe Group?

No matter how good the land was, it was an awful mess. He only wanted to date with her, and he didn't want to inherit an impossible situation.

"Honey..."

"Victor." Eden interrupted him again.

Victor could only shut up. Perhaps she had her own thoughts. After all, she wanted to get into real estate business, and she had been studying hard.

A nice business street had been built on the land that belonged to the Clement family. Without those scheming shareholders, the Clement family was developing more and more steadily.

Grandma Clement sold her villa in Lemmon City and used the money to solve the urgent problems.

"Okay. As long as you're happy. Let's go." He smiled dotingly and left while holding her shoulder.

Chapter 1235

Seeing that Victor left with Eden in his arms, Dorothy was so envious.

At this moment, she realized that a man who was loyal to his wife would never be attracted to beautiful women.

Victor looked at her scornfully as if she was just a piece of trash, didn't he?

"Mr. Church!" A thought flashed through Dorothy's mind quickly. On such an occasion, Adonis must be here.

Dorothy had no time to think too much. She immediately turned around to look for Adonis.

Melissa had been hiding not far away and watching. Her eyes turned weirder and weirder. She had underestimated Eden.

Eden actually forced Dorothy to admit her mistake.

After walking for a while, Victor asked, "Eden, do you want to help Monroe Group?"

Eden shook her head slightly, "I'm not sure now. But why should we refuse since we can make money? If we help her, we can benefit from this project. When I was poor, I always thought that investing in real estate was the stablest. If you don't want to do it, I will do it. The land in the western district is nice. Adonis will tell us whether we can invest or not. I want to have a try." She had become a rich woman. She hadn't spent the money that Grandma Clement and Zaiden gave her, and she might as well have an investment.

She needed experience and practice so that she could fully display what she had learned.

Since she had the chance to start a business, she had to do her best.

Victor knew that she had this idea.

"Honey, you will be very tired." He didn't want her to work too hard.

Eden smiled, "Victor, I want to use what I have learned. Time passes by quickly. The three children will grow up in a few years. They have their own lives. When they grow up, they will spend less and less time with us. At that time, if we have something to do, it will be nice, right? Look at mom. She likes clothing design, but she gave up her career for the sake of our family. Now, she is a housewife."

"Mom used to be unwilling, but life is like this. It can shatter one's dream so easily. I want to do something I like when I become as old as mom."

Moreover, she didn't deal with Dorothy like a shrew that night, because there was no need for her to do so. She didn't want to quarrel with the woman who seduced her husband.

After all, she was Victor's wife, the three children's mother and the daughter of the Clement family. She felt shame to quarrel with Dorothy. She knew that Dorothy was very embarrassed just now.

Victor understood what she was thinking, "Let's wait for Adonis's reply."

"Okay, what do you want to eat? I'll go with you. I can eat some more." Eden looked at him with a smile.

Looking at her lovely smiling face, Victor felt even hungrier. In fact, he wanted to kiss her more.

"Eden, let's go back to the room and eat." Victor called the manager and asked him to send fresh food to the room on the top floor.

The room was on the top floor. It was very quiet, and it was not a single room, but a big room with two bedrooms and one living room. The decoration was very magnificent.

Eden looked around and asked, "Victor, is here newly decorated?"

"Yeah! It used to be an utility room. I thought it was a pity to let it be out of use, so I decorated it. This room is very large and you can rest here. You get sleepy occasionally, don't you? Besides, you like the food here. You can eat comfortably when you come here."

Eden was very touched when she heard that. He was so nice to her that her heart almost melted.

She owed him a lot, but he felt guilty just because she got lost when she was a child.

He was always cold, but he had no temper in front of her, and he was so obedient to her.

Eden leaned against his arms gently, listening to his strong and rhythmic heartbeats.

"Victor, it's so nice to have you by my side!" She said tenderly.

Victor looked down at her. It seemed that he had touched her again.

He lowered his head and kissed her lips. Eden kissed him affectionately as well, and they hugged each other...

Victor finished dinner and said goodbye to everyone before going back. It was almost twelve at night when they returned home.

When they arrived home, they saw that the lights in Ricky's room were still on.

Eden changed her shoes at the entrance and went straight to the second floor.

She stood outside Ricky's room and knocked on the door.

"Come in." Ricky's disappointed voice made Eden feel guiltier.

Eden opened the door and saw Ricky looking at her with a very unhappy face. He looked at her listlessly for a while and then lowered his head slowly.

"Ricky, I'm sorry. I will arrange my time in the future and I won't miss such a day again. I will accompany you to watch the drama tomorrow, okay?" Eden sat beside him and comforted him gently.

Ricky looked at Eden quietly for a while, and his eyes were brimming with tears, "Mom, in fact, I like the way we used to live. You were very busy, but you only cared about me, Gia and Kenny. No matter how busy you were, you thought that the most important thing to accompany us to grow up."

"Although we used to be poor, we could be happy just because we ate your favorite shrimps."

"But now you're very busy, and you spend less and less time with us. I love you so much, and I don't mean to blame you. I just want you to spend more time with us."

Ricky said in a choked voice and threw himself into Eden's arms.

Eden always smelled sweet and pleasant. When he was a child, as long as Eden held him, he could fall asleep quickly.

At that time, their family was poor, but he did not envy the children of rich families.

Children of wealthy families were very lonely.

He believed that he could let Eden live a better life. Eden wanted to have a house that belonged to them, so did he. It was very tiring to move house, and it took days for Eden and Jaida to pack up things. He worked hard to earn money and buy a house.

At that time, he worked hard with such a goal. No matter how much he was paid, he would be happy for a long time.

But at this time, he was not as excited as before, nor did he want to check the balance of his bank account.

However, Eden was happier than before. In fact, he was delighted as well, but he wanted to make a scene that night.

Eden stroked his head with distress. Ricky liked to keep his hair longer. He always felt that his face would look more handsome in that way, while Kenny liked a simple hairstyle.

"Ricky, I see. In the future, I won't do anything on weekends, and I'll accompany you three." She always knew that keeping the children company was very important.

"Okay!" Ricky nodded immediately and felt much better.

He raised his face and looked at Eden with a proud smile, "Mom, people gave a warm reception to the drama. I acted well, and I've become popular all over the country. Two episodes were played tonight, and the ratings are very high."

Eden smiled proudly, "My son is really amazing."

Chapter 1236

She was too busy that night, so she did not watch the TV drama.

"Ricky, don't be sad anymore. Go to bed first. You have to go to school tomorrow, right? When you come back from school, I'll watch it with you." Eden coaxed Ricky softly. She felt so sorry for him that day.

Ricky nodded and looked at Eden with a smile, "Mom, I'm not upset anymore. You came to see me as soon as you came back, and I'm so delighted."

He was really happy at this time. If Eden went back to her room directly, he would be sad.

"Brat, your mom and I can accompany you to watch it tomorrow, right? Why do you have to be so depressed?" Standing at the door and looking at Ricky's downcast face, Victor smiled dotingly.

As the three children grew up, they became more and more eye-catching.

It was said that a girl changed fast in physical appearance from childhood to adulthood, and Gia became more and more beautiful. It was really a pity that Gia didn't want to be an actress.

He heard what Ricky had said just now.

People were just like this. Pursuing their dreams and working hard to get what they wanted would make them very happy.

At that time, it was just like the state of mind he had been waiting for Eden to return.

Every time, Ricky worked hard to let Eden live a better life, while he worked hard in order to find Eden.

Having an expectation made his life fulfilling and pleasant.

"Humph!" Henrick snorted and glanced at Victor, "Dad, is that the same? It is more exciting to watch it tonight."

Victor shook his head helplessly. He had missed it, and he could only watch the TV drama the next day.

Henrick was lying on bed. Eden tucked him in and turned off the lights before going downstairs with Victor.

She went straight to Ricky's room without changing her clothes. She had stayed at the party for a long time, and she was a little tired.

They returned to their room and took a bath. Then Eden lay on the bed and waited for Victor.

She took out her phone to watch Ricky's new drama.

She knew that Ricky had a hard time acting in this drama.

These years, Ricky had been a well-known child actor. He could gain in popularity by acting in dramas and attending TV shows.

According to Abby, Ricky had a good performance this year, and he would become the most popular child actor at the end of the year.

Eden knew that Ricky was born to be an actor. Young as he was, his acting skills were excellent. Moreover, he was the most handsome child actor in A country.

In her opinion, Kenny and Ricky were both charming, and they could win a lot of girl's hearts after they grew up.

She clicked on Ricky's new drama. The drama had just been played that night, but the ratings were the highest. Eden was shocked. It seemed that countless of people liked Ricky.

She clicked the first episode and turned on the bullet screen.

There had been a lot of advance publicity for the drama, so it was very famous.

There were about tens of thousands of bullet comments.

Eden looked at the comments and couldn't help smiling.

"Henrick is so cute! I really want to take him home and raise him."

"I want to have a daughter and let her marry him."

"Wow! I only watched the first episode. Henrick's acting skills are excellent! I must binge-watch this drama. But only two episodes are played every night. It is not enough, isn't it?"

"He is my daughter's future husband! Who dares to compete with my daughter?"

Many people replied to this comment in a friendly and teasing way.

"Wow, Henrick is as handsome as his father! He belongs to my daughter."

Henrick won the praise of everyone.

Victor had dried his hair and came out of the bathroom. He went to bed and sat beside her.

He lowered his head and smiled, "Eden, if you are tired, sleepy early. You can watch it tomorrow morning."

Eden put the phone aside and looked at him with a gentle smile, "Victor, Ricky is a promising actor. The script is nice, and he has outstanding acting skills. That is why the ratings are high and many people praise him."

Victor always smiled proudly whenever Eden praised Ricky. He said in a smug tone, "Of course! He is my son. Besides, we can make a lot of money. In addition to his salary, I will give him two percent of the income to make him happy."

Eden smiled, "He is already highly paid. If you give him more money, I think he will look down his nose at everybody."

"Ha-ha..." Victor held her in his arms and lay down, "Ricky is very rich now. But the three children act with propriety and have been very low-key in school, so we don't have to worry."

Eden knew the three children's characters, but Ricky was not as steady as Kenny.

She was a little worried. Gia had a hot-temper, so she was not afraid that Gia would be bullied.

But Ricky was somewhat wicked in heart.

She knew her own son very well.

"Yeah!" Victor rubbed his forehead against her face. He had just taken a shower, and there was a faint scent on his body.

Eden smiled softly and closed her eyes, "Let's sleep."

"No."

"Then what do you want?" Eden opened her eyes with a smile and asked him deliberately. Her eyes were starry and bright.

Victor raised his head slightly. She didn't suffer mood swings that night, which made him relieved.

Dr. Conley said that her depression had been in remission, but she could not be stimulated.

What had happened that night didn't affect her mood. On the way back, she was very happy. She should be in a good mood because she had met Jasper.

Victor looked at her with deep and evil eyes, and his voice became more and more charming and hoarse, "Honey, you know what I want."

.....

Early the next morning, before Victor and Eden woke up, Kenny knocked on their door.

Chapter 1237

Eden and Victor woke up with a start. Eden immediately sat up. Victor was still in a daze and didn't want to get up.

"Dad, mom, are you awake?"

It was Kenny's voice.

"Oh, Kenny, come in." Eden got out of bed, put on a coat and opened the door.

Kenneth came in, only to see that Eden was still in her pajamas, and Victor was lying in bed.

He felt a little guilty, "Mom, change your clothes before coming out. It's cold outside. We'll talk about it after you come out."

Eden frowned. She knew that Kenny would not knock on their door early in the morning for no reason. Something must have happened.

"Kenny, what happened?"

Kenny picked up his phone and looked at the time, "Mom, I have to go to school an hour later. Come out quickly."

After that, Kenny turned around and left with no expression on his face.

Eden was stunned. Why did Kenny become more and more indifferent? Was it because she was too busy recently and ignored his feelings?

Eden turned around unhappily and went to change her clothes. She didn't like Kenny to be so silent. If he had the same character as Victor, he would be lonely.

As soon as she took off her coat, Victor got up. He walked over and gave her a morning kiss affectionately.

Eden looked at him reproachfully, "Hurry up. Change your clothes and wash up. Kenny wants to talk to us."

Victor complained, "He disturbed our dreams early in the morning."

Eden smiled, "If you keep dawdling, we will be late for work."

She was in a much better health, so she would get up early and help Jaida prepare breakfast.

She was very tired yesterday, and then they had sex until midnight. That was why she got up late in the morning.

Victor was too energetic on bed, and he was so handsome that she had no way to refuse him.

When they went to the dinning room, Jaida had prepared a substantial breakfast.

Gia wanted to have soya-bean milk and fried dough sticks. Zaiden got up early and went out to buy it for her.

Jaida prepared some breakfast in person, so the breakfast was substantial.

"Victor, Eden, come here and have breakfast. You haven't had soya-bean milk and fried dough sticks for a long time." Jaida looked at them with a smile.

Their family was getting happier and happier.

"Dad, mom, good morning." Eden greeted them with a smile.

Zaiden smiled. Without saying anything, he pointed to the chairs and motioned to them to sit down and eat.

Henrick looked at them with a smile, "Wow! Dad, mom, you two are really amazing. You cheat on each other."

Eden had just raised the cup and wanted to drink the warm water. Hearing his words, she almost spat out the water in her mouth.

She swallowed the water with difficulty and looked at him with puzzlement. Cheat on each other? What did he mean?

Did they have a chance to cheat on each other last night? She was almost exhausted on bed.

Zaiden rubbed Ricky's head, "You little guy, hurry up and eat your breakfast. Then you have to go to school."

"Grandpa, I'm telling the truth. Even if I say it, mom and dad will be able to have their breakfast. After all, that's impossible." Henrick didn't think that he should care about Eden and Victor's feelings at this time. When he got up and saw the shocking news, he was so surprised that he almost fell off the stairs.

When he saw the picture of Victor hugging another woman, he really wanted to beat Victor.

He really let Eden down, because there was always such news about him.

Hearing this, Zaiden felt quite helpless, "Brat, that is a bad habit. Didn't you say you like architecture last night? Go to my company and study from me on weekends."

"Ah..." Henrick gave a loud cry. Did grandpa have such a good memory?

He just said it casually.

"Grandpa, I like it indeed, but I prefer acting."

Zaiden looked at him with a kind smile and put a few pieces of fried dough sticks in his bowl, "Acting is a young person's profession. You can't act anymore when you get old. What I teach you can benefit you forever."

Henrick thought for a while and agreed, "Grandpa, you are right. How about this? I only have to attend one TV show recently. After finishing this show, I will learn from you. My facility for studying is very good, and I will definitely impress you."

"Ha-ha..." Looking at how proud he was, Zaiden couldn't help laughing out loud happily.

"Hurry up. Finish your breakfast and then go to school. Only by studying hard can you be promising. You can't be an actor forever." Zaiden reminded him.

Ricky's future was bright indeed, but the pendulum would swing. He needed to master a professional skill so that he could live a rich life forever.

He wanted to teach them what he had learned when he was still capable. As long as they were willing to study, he would teach them all his experience.

"Okay, grandpa, you should eat more as well. You must be healthy so that you can travel around the world with grandma." Henrick knew Zaiden's dream. He wanted to make up for his regret when he was young and travel around the world with Jaida.

"Alright!" Zaiden looked at Eden with a smile.

Eden smiled and did not express her opinion. In fact, she was not confident to take over Zaiden's company at this time, and she needed some more time.

Zaiden was not disappointed. They couldn't be in a rush. Eden had been studying very hard.

Ricky and Zaiden were chatting happily, but Eden and Victor were confused.

Kenny was having his breakfast gracefully, and Gia only focused on eating.

Jaida ate the breakfast with a smile and talked to Kenny concernedly from time to time.

Smelling the aroma of the fried dough sticks, Eden couldn't care about anything else. She was very hungry. Since they were eating happily, there should be nothing bad. She simply started to eat.

Zaiden knew that Eden and Victor had a sense of propriety, so he did not comment on the news he had seen. After finishing breakfast, he got up and looked at Eden, "I'm going to work."

Eden stood up quickly, "Dad, I'll see you off."

Jaida smiled and did not speak.

Eden held Zaiden's arm intimately and sent him out.

Walking out of the door, Eden said confidently, "Dad, give me one more year. I will definitely study hard, and I hope that I can take over your company next year. At that time, you and mom can do whatever you like."

She knew that Zaiden had been waiting for her, but she needed time to learn and put theory into practice.

Hearing her words, Zaiden nodded with satisfaction, "Eden, I will wait for you. I watch you grow up step by step, and you have been doing a good job."

"Ha-ha... I'm so glad to hear you say so, dad. Go to work first. I'll call you at noon."

"Okay, I'll be free at noon."

Eden smiled with joy. Zaiden's voice was always so kind.

Watching Zaiden drive away, she smiled and turned back to the house.

Chapter 1238

Nothing had happened during this period of time. The atmosphere at home had been very nice and warm.

As soon as Eden sat down, Kenny turned on his laptop and showed them the news.

"Dad, mom, this is the news about you two. Dad hugged a beautiful woman in public, while mom acted intimately with Uncle Joye last night. Now everyone gossips that you two cheat on each other." Kenny said casually with a calm expression.

Eden widened her eyes and looked at Victor.

They immediately scanned the news.

Victor's face was gloomy and depressed. Did he cheat on Eden? What the hell was going on? Who was so boring and kept keeping an eye on him?

Eden looked at Victor angrily, "Victor, Jasper and I are just friends, but what about the photo of you and Miss Monroe? She threw herself into your arms, but couldn't you avoid her?"

Victor was speechless. It happened so suddenly that he didn't have time to react.

"Eden, listen to me. At that time, there were a lot of people in the hall. She rushed over, and I didn't take the initiative to..." Victor wanted to say something but suddenly stopped. It seemed that his words would only make Eden misunderstand him more.

Which b*stard wanted to frame him again?

"No, honey, it was totally an accident."

"Accident? Dad, how could you treat mom like that? There have been so many accidents. Last time, mom was even hospitalized out of anger." Henrick said very unhappily aside.

Victor glared at him. Couldn't he keep silent at this time?

Jaida did not meddle in their affairs. They could solve the problems by themselves, and she knew that Eden and Victor had a sense of propriety.

She started to wash the dishes in the kitchen.

"Humph! I trusted you so much, but you actually hugged her!" Eden got up madly and returned to the room.

"Mom, don't be sad. I won't go to school today, and I'll stay with you at home."

"Stop talking! Brat, do you want things to be more troublesome?" Victor glared at Henrick who added fuel to the flame. He knew that Henrick said those words on purpose, and he took pleasure in his misfortune early in the morning.

Look at how smug he was!

"Ha-ha... Dad, if you want me to stop talking, you shouldn't have hurt my mom's heart." Henrick made no concession. Eden was unhappy, and he felt sad as well.

Victor felt so wronged in heart.

How could he bear to hurt Eden's heart?

Victor got up and looked at Kenny, "My good boy, help me find out who wants to frame me. Since he doesn't want me to live a good life, I won't let him go."

Kenny smiled wickedly and said with cunning eyes, "Dad, coax my mom first. I will solve these problems today."

Giada looked at him with a smile, "Dad, we hope that mom won't be sad anymore when we come back from school."

Victor was speechless. They were simply three traitors. Why didn't they think about his feelings?

"I am framed as well." Victor's face was full of grievances.

"Mom is a woman, and she is more aggrieved." Henrick insisted.

Victor glared at him fiercely.

"Brat, how dare you fan the fire! Just wait and see." He said in heart.

Henrick seemed to know what he was thinking. He raised his eyebrows, smiled evilly and even waved at Victor provocatively.

Victor was stunned.

Fine, he could do nothing about him!

He went back to his room immediately.

The three children went to school.

When Victor returned to the room, Eden had put on a very fresh makeup. After painting her lips, she took her bag without paying attention to Victor and went out to drive to the company.

Victor couldn't care about anything else. He picked up his coat and chased after her.

After catching up with her, Victor explained in a hurry, "Honey, don't be angry, okay? It was really an accident."

Eden did not look at him and looked extremely jealous.

Seeing her pout her red lips, Victor felt that she really looked beautiful and cute when she was mad.

In the past few years, her appearance didn't change at all. On the contrary, she looked much younger.

Seeing that she was jealous because of him, he was happy but distressed.

He knew that he had been very childish, but he only acted like a spoiled child in front of her. He liked to dote on her and act in a pettishly charming manner.

Eden walked towards her red car.

It was dangerous to drive while losing temper. Victor knew that he must stop her.

"Honey, don't be mad anymore, okay?" Victor took her hand and stopped beside his car.

He looked so aggrieved, and he was no longer as arrogant as usual.

He was really...

He was so spineless that she was too ashamed to lose her temper.

Eden blinked her eyes, puckered her mouth and glared at him, "Let me be angry for a more while. I'm so upset now. How can I calm down in an instant?"

Victor didn't know what to say. He did not want to make her angry.

He immediately opened the car door and helped Eden sit in.

Eden did not quarrel with him. She just ignored Victor after getting in the car.

Victor didn't know how long she would be angry.

He had been driving for a long while, but Eden hadn't talked to him.

He couldn't help asking, "Honey, when will you forgive me?"

Eden looked at the scenery outside the window. Hearing his words, she looked away slowly and glared at him fiercely, "It depends on me. When I'm no longer angry, I'll forgive you."

She knew that he would not betray her, but she was always so depressed when she saw such news.

"Oh!" Victor responded sulkily. He looked at her again and then drove carefully.

Eden was still exasperated when they arrived at the company.

A lot of reporters gathered at the gate of Alwynn Group.

A trace of malice flashed through Victor's eyes when he saw it. Who was so boring and dared to spread rumours about him?

Victor drove into the parking lot, took the private elevator with Eden and went to the office on the top floor.

Lucian, Amelia and Dean had been waiting for them in the office.

Eden did not talk to Victor all the way, and Victor's face had darkened to the extreme.

When they saw Victor come in, they instantly felt the bubbling rage inside him.

Dean swallowed in fear and let Lucian speak.

Lucian had gotten used to Victor's hot temper.

Seeing that Eden looked unhappy, he frowned. Did they have a quarrel because of the news in the morning?

Eden did not say anything and sat down listlessly.

Lucian said blandly and elegantly, "The news was released all of a sudden in the morning. It was not reported by the media. Someone posted it on SNS, and a lot of people have reposted it. Now everyone is discussing about it online. That person is afraid of being found out by you, because he can't afford to bear the consequences. All the reporters have known the news."

Victor kicked the desk furiously.

He roared angrily, "Find this b*stard no matter what method you use!"

He had kicked the desk, but he hadn't vented his anger.

At this moment, the phone on the desk rang, and Lucian walked out to answer it.

After hanging up the phone, he looked at Victor, "Miss Monroe is here."

Chapter 1239

Victor roared angrily, "Let her get out of here!" It was because of Dorothy that he had been rumoured, wasn't it?

Did he hug her voluntarily?

he was not a gentleman who cared about women. Dorothy suddenly rushed to him, and he was framed.

Without saying anything, Lucian picked up the phone and was about to call the receptionist to convey Victor's words.

Eden said, "Lucian, ask Miss Monroe to come here."

Everyone was taken aback.

Amelia persuaded her, "Eden, why do you have to see her to disgust yourself?"

Victor rolled his eyes at Amelia. Her words made him feel like he really had a love affair with Dorothy.

"Amelia, I have nothing to do with that woman! Why would Eden disgust herself?" Victor explained, but he felt that his explain was unnecessary.

He was a victim. Why did no one believe him?

Amelia had more or less got used to Victor's temper. She laughed and said, "Mr. Alwynn, why are you so anxious? If you have nothing to do with her, that's better, right? Eden is sad because of such news. If she meets Miss Monroe now, she'll feel unhappier, won't she? You defend yourself like this, which really makes me feel that your relationship with her is abnormal." Amelia braced herself to say. Anyway, with Lucian here, Victor wouldn't do anything to her, so she was bolder.

Victor glared at Lucian, "Watch your girlfriend!"

At this time, he was like a little child who was making a scene, and he was childish to the extreme.

Lucian replied neither slowly nor quickly, "My girlfriend is right."

Victor was stunned. They all went against him.

Lucian listened to Eden and let Dorothy come to the top floor.

After Lucian, Amelia and Dean left, Eden still ignored Victor.

Victor was angry and didn't want to talk to Eden because she wanted to meet Dorothy.

In fact, Eden had cooled down a lot, and she was no longer so angry. She had known this matter last night, and she thought it had been solved.

She did not expect that this matter would be spread online this morning. She was annoyed because of this.

In addition, Victor actually dared to hug another woman.

Thinking of this, Eden went berserk again. She yelled at Victor exasperatedly, "Victor, you're not allowed to touch me this month!"

Hearing this, Victor turned so mad and listless. He looked at her angry face proudly, "Why? You are my wife. It's only right and proper that I can touch you! Besides, you'll have to have sex with me every night."

"You..." Eden snorted coldly.

"I have said that you're not allowed to touch me. Tomorrow, no, today I will go back and live in the Clement family." Eden looked at him with a proud expression as well.

Anyway, she was very unhappy. She got irritated when she saw him holding another woman in his arms, and rage bubbled just below the surface of her mind.

Victor was dumbfounded. She said that she would forgive him in a while, but did she suddenly want to run away from home?

Victor's heart ached badly.

"If you dare to go back, I'll dare to tie you up and bring you back!"

Victor also went ballistic. When he was stubborn, no one had the ability to change his mind.

If she dared to run away from home, he would dare to follow her everywhere.

Pestering her was just a piece of cake!

Not only woman could cry and make a scene. When men was being unreasonable, women could nothing about them.

"Humph! If you're not afraid of being beaten by my two elder brothers, you can tie me up!" Eden refused to show weakness and roared back. She was burnt with a frenzy of rage.

Victor did something wrong, but he didn't even reflect on himself.

She was his wife. Couldn't she be mad when she saw him hugging another woman?

No, she would never compromise easily this time. Since he had hugged another woman, he would do the same thing again.

No, this was the second time.

Last time, he was hugged by Melissa, wasn't he?

Thinking about this, Eden felt that he would do such a thing again and again.

If she didn't teach him a lesson, he wouldn't know that he should avoid those women.

Seeing that she did not compromise at all, Victor could not help but complain in heart, "Why does she become so unreasonable?"

"Humph! Why will I be afraid of Delmont and Buddy?" He roared with annoyance.

Eden didn't want to argue with him anymore. Anyway, after work, she would go back to the Clement family and take this chance to accompany her parents.

Victor was so irritated but he had no way to vent his anger.

Dorothy followed Amelia into the office.

They had felt the intense atmosphere in the office outside. Eden and Victor had been deep in love, and it was the first time that they had quarrelled in the office.

Dorothy had just come in. Seeing their miffed expressions, she felt so nervous.

When she got up early in the morning and saw the news, she was shocked. The misunderstanding had been clarified last night, and she didn't expect that things would get worse this morning.

She came here to apologize. In order not to cause any misunderstanding, she had to come over and clarify that she did not post the video.

Moreover, she met Adonis last night, and Adonis said that he would study the plan proposed by the Monroe Group carefully. She could not lose this last chance.

Amelia made a cup of coffee for Dorothy and then went out again.

Looking cautiously at Eden and Victor who remained silent, Dorothy did not expect Victor to love Eden to this extent. He actually shared his office with her.

He was probably the most affectionate man in River City.

There were confidential documents in his office. It seemed that he trusted Eden so much.

Eden looked at Dorothy. She was dressed as charmingly as yesterday. After she came in, she glanced around the whole office. However, she no longer acted so boldly and looked at Victor with infatuation.

Victor stood with his back to them and did not even look at Dorothy.

Eden composed her emotions and asked with a smile, "Miss Monroe, what's the matter?"

Dorothy was like a frightened deer, and she was not as arrogant as she was last night.

She smiled guiltily, "Mrs. Alwynn, I'm really sorry. I don't know why things have become like this. Those photos were definitely not posted by me. I came here to apologize to you. I'm sorry to have troubled you so much." Her attitude was sincere.

Eden didn't know whether she was really sincere or not. People should always be on guard against one another.

She didn't have to take her apology too seriously.

Last night, someone wanted to frame Victor and took the pictures deliberately indeed. They wanted to make an issue of this matter.

Their purpose was to cast in a bone between her and Victor.

She'd like to see who wanted to frame them.

Since that person had seen what he wanted, he would expose himself sooner or later.

Eden smiled and said more casually, "Miss Monroe, you don't have to apologize. You have apologized to me last night. The ones who should apologize are those d*mn b*stards who posted the photos online."

Chapter 1240

Seeing Eden like this, Dorothy felt that she was different from usual.

Dorothy was very helpless. When she woke up early in the morning, she was startled. Something like this had happened at the critical moment. She was more worried that her company would go bankrupt.

She smiled and said, "Mrs. Alwynn, Mr. Church is studying the plan of my company now. If he agrees to invest, could you help Monroe Group?" Her tone was very sincere and earnest.

Eden felt her sincere attitude. It seemed that she had straightened out her thinking last night. She said with a smile, "As long as you get his permission, of course I can invest in your company. I won't invest in the name of Alwynn Group, but in the name of myself. We can talk about this after Mr. Church makes a decision."

After a while, she could call Zaiden and discuss it with him. Then she would know what to do.

She had almost finished the design of the winter collection, and she was not very busy these days.

Victor looked back at her.

Did she really want to invest?

Wasn't she afraid that she would be too tired?

Last night, she promised that she would accompany the children more. However, she forgot what she had said after one night.

Thinking that she would go back to the Clement family, Victor gritted his teeth in anger.

After taking a look at Eden, he immediately turned back.

"Mrs. Alwynn, will you really think about it?" Dorothy looked at Eden with excitement.

Eden smiled and nodded, "As long as this project is beneficial to me, I can invest. Let's wait for Mr. Church's reply first. You can go back now. I don't blame you for the news."

Dorothy stood up excitedly and thanked her with a grin, "Thank you, Mr. Alwynn! Thank you so much!" She had been uneasy on the way here, and she could finally rest assured.

"Mr. Alwynn, Mrs. Alwynn, I'll first." Although Victor did not look at her, she said goodbye to him enthusiastically.

Eden smiled and did not say anything else.

After Dorothy left, Victor turned around to look at Eden.

"Honey, why do you have to do such a thankless thing? Even if you invest in Monroe Group, you won't earn much money. Instead, you will be very tired. Now you should recuperate. Didn't you say that you want another child? You can't get pregnant if you're in poor health."

She wanted to have another child the most, so Victor thought that she would give up after hearing his words.

"Humph! Don't talk to me, and don't meddle in my matters. I haven't forgiven you. Whether I'll give birth to another child or not, it depends on my mood." Eden glared at him fiercely.

Victor's proud eyes turned listless instantly.

Why had Eden changed a lot after one night? She used to be so reasonable!

Eden did not love him anymore.

"Humph!" Victor had his own pride, and he had never been treated so coldly. Soon, he went off the deep end.

He lowered his head to work and did not look at Eden.

Eden did not look at him, either. They were at odds with each other.

Dean hid in Lucian's office.

When it was almost noon, Amelia, who had been working outside of Victor's office, could not stand the atmosphere anymore and ran to Lucian's office.

Lucian looked at her and Dean blandly and said casually, "You two can't hide here forever, can you?"

Dean and Amelia looked at each other. Then Dean glanced at the documents on the table and didn't want to deal with them at all. He didn't want to enter the oppressive office at the moment.

Amelia looked at him with a faint smile, "Dean, these documents are very important. You'd better send them to Mr. Alwynn as soon as possible. If Mr. Alwynn has to work overtime, you'll suffer as well."

That was easy for her to say! Dean took a look at her and replied with a faint smile, "Miss Amelia, the documents in front of you are also very important. If Mrs. Alwynn can't finish her work today, she will have to work overtime, too, and you'll have to stay up together with her, right? Why don't you go in and give these documents to Mr. Alwynn by the way? You and Mrs. Alwynn are good friends. Mr. Alwynn won't do anything to you no matter how fierce he is."

Amelia was speechless. That was his wishful thinking. She ran out just because she couldn't stand the atmosphere, didn't she?

Amelia suddenly looked at Lucian for help.

How could Lucian not know her mind? He turned a blind eye to her.

If she was too timid, how could she work better in the future?

It was rare for Victor and Eden to quarrel with each other, so it was good that they could torture each other more. After all, they often showed off their love in front of them.

Amelia had no choice but to go to Victor's office together with Dean. After putting the documents on the table, they didn't say anything and ran out of the office in a hurry.

Eden finished all the work in the morning and told Amelia that she had to go to their clothing shops in the mall. Then she would get off work directly from there and let Amelia get off work on time.

Before she left, she did not say a word to Victor.

Watched Eden leave without telling him, Victor smashed the pen angrily.

She was getting bolder and bolder!

When Lucian came in, Victor's pen happened to fall on the ground at his feet.

Lucian glanced at the expensive pen and walked in indifferently.

"It's almost the end of the year, and you have more work to deal with. There's a dinner party tonight. Dean will go there with you. I have to work overtime." They were always the busiest in the second half of the year.

Lucian had to check all the reports of each branch every quarter, and he couldn't be busier. He had no time to go out and had to work day and night.

"No, you attend the party on behalf of me." Victor did not even look at Lucian.

Lucian nodded, "Okay. I'll go to the party and you'll work overtime to check the reports." As long as Victor could do it, he would be happy to have fun at the party.

Hearing the word "reports", Victor became more depressed, "Just send me the address. You can go out now."

Lucian smiled happily. It had been a long time since Victor compromised like this.

He put down the document and turned to leave elegantly.

Victor suddenly stopped him, "Lucian, send a message to Eden ask where she is."

Lucian turned around and looked at him, "She's in the direct-sale store on the promenade. She went there to display the clothes. When she left, she told Amelia that she would get off work there and would not return to the company."

"D*mn it! Does she have to display the clothes in person? She just doesn't want to see me! Lucian, do you think it is my fault? That woman threw herself into my arms on her own initiative." Victor looked depressed, and he was very wronged.

Lucian said, "You know yourself well. If I were you, I would step aside."

"How bad-mannered you're! If that was Amelia, would you step aside?" Victor snorted. It was easy to make sarcastic remarks, wasn't it?

Lucian really surprised him a lot. Recently, he took Amelia to Marriott Hotel more and more frequently.

Lucian smiled, "You said that it was Amelia. If that was another women, I would definitely get out of the way, and I would never let my wife misunderstand me."
