

Gluey Love 1241

Chapter 1241

Victor's face was full of anger, "It was too late for me to step aside, wasn't it? Oh, what a d*mn woman! Eden even agreed to cooperate with her."

"I really want to figure out what is on her mind! What on earth is she thinking about? Last night, she promised to forgive me, but she gets angry with me today. I felt so uncomfortable."

The more Victor thought about it, the more annoyed he became. His eyes were blazing with the flames of fury.

Lucian looked at Victor blandly. Uncomfortable? Victor was uncomfortable indeed, but he had to bear it. At this time, Eden had the reason to be angry.

"All the comments and photos on the Internet have been deleted, but we have to find out who wants to slander you. Besides, many reporters are waiting for you downstairs. Jasper has issued a statement and clarified the relationship between him and Eden as Eden's elder brother. Now it's your turn to say something to the public."

"Humph! Elder brother? Jasper? Even if he wants to become my elder brother-in-law, I don't agree!" Victor sneered again, and his proud eyes were full of disdain.

It seemed that Jasper had completely changed his mind.

"That's your own business. I have a lot of work to do, and I don't have time to comfort you." After saying that, Lucian really turned around and went out.

Victor punched the air a few times, "Who wants your comfort? As a man, do I need you to comfort me?"

"Bang..." Victor only heard the sound of the door closing.

Victor's lips twitched, "What a heartless guy."

When he said this, he seemed to forget what he had just said, but he felt embarrassed to get himself a slap in the face.

Victor glanced at the document on the table and became angrier and angrier.

When it was time to get off work, Amelia knew that Lucian was going to work overtime, so she made a cup of coffee and sent it to his office.

Seeing her come in and put down the coffee, Lucian pulled her over and let her sit in his arms.

Amelia looked at him and pretended to be angry, "What are you doing?"

Lucian kissed her forehead, "You know what I'm doing. I have to work overtime tonight. Let's go to Marriott Hotel tomorrow night."

"Again?" Amelia was quite helpless. In the past, they went to Marriott Hotel on weekends, but recently, they went there every other day.

Lucian frowned and asked her, "Don't you want to go there?"

However, Amelia smiled immediately, "Of course I want. I'll miss you after I go home."

Lucian smiled and kissed her red lips affectionately for a long while before letting go of her.

"Amelia, when I'm done with my work these days, let's go buy a house together. I want you to live somewhere you like. Then we'll get the marriage certificate and live together legally. We'll hold the wedding next spring." Lucian thought for a while and felt that it was better to get the marriage certificate first. He couldn't let Amelia live with him without a status.

Amelia was very touched when she heard this. She nodded with a smile, "Okay, as long as I can be with you, I'll be happy wherever I live."

Lucian smiled tenderly. Looking at her red lips which had been kissed by him, he was more and more obsessed with her.

His voice was hoarse and magnetic as he said, "Go back and have a rest. See you tomorrow."

Amelia took a look at the reports on his desk and felt distressed for him, "Don't stay up too late and go back early."

Lucian smiled and nodded, and then Amelia left reluctantly.

Amelia had nothing to do that day, and she wanted to go home directly.

Since her elder brother was sent to jail, her mother had been sad all day long and didn't care about her at all. Even if she didn't go home, she wouldn't ask her about it.

Looking at her mother like this, she was helpless. However, that was her mother, and she should take care of her.

After Amelia arrived at the first floor, she walked to the bus station. But before she could take a few steps, a middle-aged man in a suit stopped her.

"Miss Macdonald, Mrs. Polis wants to see you. This way, please." The man said politely.

Amelia trembled. She clenched her hands unconsciously, and her heart beat so violently and nervously. She didn't expect this day to come so soon.

"Okay!" She nodded and followed the middle-aged man to a cafe near the company.

A beautiful woman in a red coat was sitting at the corner of the cafe. There was a bland expression on her elegant and noble face. Her shrewd eyes made Amelia feel that she could see through everything.

She looked slightly similar to Lucian.

Amelia knew that this beautiful woman was Lucian's mother.

She stood where she was and hesitated for a moment before walking over uneasily.

"Madam." She lowered her head and said.

Renata Polis raised her head slowly and looked at Amelia's nervous face with intense and sharp gaze. Amelia was pure, elegant and pretty. She was indeed different from those rich young ladies who wore heavy make-up. Moreover, she lowered her head nervously and timidly and didn't dare to look at her.

Was she the girl that Lucian had fallen in love with?

She was a little surprised that Lucian liked this type.

"Sit down." She said lightly.

Amelia nodded and sat opposite Renata quietly.

She knew what Renata was going to say.

She had prepared to face such a situation after she slept with Lucian for the first time.

However, when such a day really came, she still felt very painful in heart.

Renata looked at Amelia and went straight to the point.

"I know your name is Amelia, and I know your relationship with Lucian." Renata took out a check from her bag and pushed it to Amelia's front with her delicate fair hand.

Amelia's eyes were filled with sorrow. All rich people were like this. When they forced others to do something, using a check was the best way.

"Just write down how much you want. Leave Lucian. Even I won't agree to let you be with Lucian, not to mention his father." Renata said heartlessly.

Amelia looked up quickly. She no longer looked timid but looked into Renata's eyes bravely, "Mrs. Polis, Lucian and I really love each other. Can you give us a chance? I will be a good wife, scrupulously abide by my duty and love Lucian wholeheartedly." Amelia was on the verge of tears.

Just now, he hugged her and said happily, "Amelia, when I'm done with my work these days, let's go buy a house together. I want you to live somewhere you like. Then we'll get the marriage certificate and live together legally. We'll hold the wedding next spring."

She looked forward to this happiness and wanted to spend the rest of her life with him.

Renata looked at her with no expression, "Since you love him, you have to leave him. Everyone fell in love when they were young, so did I. But in the end, I married someone I didn't love. Do you know who gave your information to me? It was his elder brother, Benson. He has been hating Lucian and finding fault with him since he was young. This time, he has got Lucian's sore point, and he won't let off Lucian. Otherwise, Lucian would not give up the business of our family and work as Victor's secretary in Alwynn Group."

Chapter 1242

Amelia knew about the contradictions in Lucian's family, and she knew why Lucian had been working in Alwynn Group.

His purpose was not to let the family contradictions get worse, and he had tried his best to stay away from the business of his own family.

However, people were all greedy.

As his father grew older, someone had to inherit Ronen Group. Since Benson was there, it was impossible for Lucian to inherit Ronen Group.

However, Renata married Chairman Ronen in her prime. Chairman Ronen was eleven years older than her, and she had given her youth to him.

Of course, Renata would not be willing to give all the property to Benson.

She would let Lucian share a piece of cake in the Ronen family.

Amelia did not speak, and Renata continued, "You will become a stumbling block to Lucian. Benson will use you to deal with him. He is my only son and hope. He can't give up everything in the Ronen family."

"So, your love and care can't help him, but will hurt him. Now only I and his brother know about your relationship. Break up with him quietly and don't let his father know this. If his father knows this, you will suffer more. He will use your old mother and your brother in prison to threaten you,"

"I think it's very cruel of me to do such a thing. No one wants to break up a couple. But that's Lucian. He must marry a wife and have children at the request of his father."

Tears streamed down Amelia's cheeks.

It turned out that her love was a stumbling block to him.

Not only would she not be able to help him, but she would also hurt him.

However, she really loved Lucian so much. She was willing to do anything for him because she loved him.

She composed her emotions, wiped the tears on her face and looked at Renata, "Mrs. Polis, thank you for telling me all these. Please give me some time. I will break up with Lucian."

Renata's expression instantly eased when she saw how obedient and sensible Amelia was.

"Thank you! Lucian will have a hard time, but time will solve everything. Take the money and go abroad so that Lucian will never find you."

"Don't tell him that you've met me, otherwise he won't give you up. Before he met you, he had never brought any woman to a hotel, and you're the only woman he has ever brought to a hotel. I know he loves you very much, and it's hard for him to forgive you, but it's impossible for you to be together. I know Lucian so well. He won't be with you secretly, and he will give you a status."

"I see. Mrs. Polis, I will break up with Lucian." Amelia nodded. He once said that no matter how difficult the future would be, she had to hold on.

But the consequences of her persistence would hurt him, and she couldn't help him.

Instead of letting Benson use her to deal with Lucian, she might as well leave him quietly.

Renata ignored how sad Amelia was and added, "You must break up with him tomorrow. Before his father knows you, you have to leave. Benson will be on a business trip tomorrow, and he won't have the chance to tell his father about it. But I'm not sure if he will say it the day after tomorrow."

Amelia must leave Lucian. Otherwise, she would have done everything in vain.

Amelia stumbled out of the cafe and walked home dejectedly in a daze.

She was obviously very happy in the afternoon, but she fell into the depth of despair the next moment.

On the way back, she had been wondering what she should do to help Lucian.

After thinking about it for a long time, she felt that leaving him was the only way.

Walking against the cold wind, Amelia realized more and more clearly that she was very satisfied because she had been with Lucian for so long.

He always looked at her so tenderly with his sharp-featured face and bright eyes. She was so glad because he treated her gently all the time. Moreover, she had got his love. She was already the happiest woman in the world.

On the way, Amelia had been comforting herself in this way.

Before she got home, Lucian called her to confirm if she had arrived.

Amelia spoke to Lucian as coquettishly as usual and told him that she wanted to go to the market to buy some food ingredients.

Lucian reminded her to be careful on the way and then they hung up the phone.

.....

Eden really kept her word. She really went to the Clement family after work.

Before she left, she had told Jaida, Zaiden and the three children about it and asked them not to worry about her. Then she went to the Clement family with ease.

Victor returned home after the party. Looking at the empty room, he kicked the luxurious big bed hard.

"How dare she! She really didn't go home!" Victor said angrily, picked up the car key and went out.

He drove all the way to the Clement family and found that the lights in the house were all out.

There was a faint light coming from the room where Eden lived when she was a child.

Victor glanced at the window, pursed his thin lips and dialed Eden's phone number.

"The number you dialed is power off."

Victor was speechless. How ruthless she was!

He immediately opened the car door and got off the car. Glancing at the door of the Clement family, he found that it was locked.

He took out his phone and dialed Delmont's number.

"Victor, what are you doing in the middle of the night?" Delmont's voice sounded very unhappy. It seemed that he was very sleepy.

Victor frowned doubtfully, "Delmont, you actually sleep so early at night. This is weird. Come down and open the door for me."

Delmont said, "Is it strange? I've become a good man. I don't go to bars and night clubs anymore, and now I'm sleeping."

Victor smiled, "It seems that you've learnt a lesson in jail. I'm downstairs your house now. Come down and open the door for me."

Delmont said, "I am on a business trip."

Hearing these few words, Victor immediately hung up the phone.

He muttered to himself angrily, "Since you're in a business trip, why didn't you tell me earlier? That's a waste of my time."

The light in Eden's room went out, and blue veins stood out on his hand which was holding the phone.

"Honey, could you sleep without me?" Victor's voice sounded helpless.

But he couldn't break in the house. Eden would be angrier if she knew it.

After thinking for a while, Victor turned around and went to his room in the Alwynn family.

Everything in his room was the same as before. After taking a bath, he came out and looked at Eden's room. The window of her room was open.

An idea flashed through his mind. After changing his clothes, he got a ladder in the utility room, went to the first floor and crossed the iron fence between the two families. He climbed on the ladder and took a look. The window of Eden's room was above his head.

It was high, but it was not difficult for him to climb up.

He smiled wickedly and whispered to himself, "Honey, here comes your husband."

Chapter 1243

He set the ladder and began to climb after making sure it was safe.

Eden was lying on the bed. Without Victor by her side, she really couldn't sleep. And she wasn't used to a bed other than the one in her house. So she closed her eyes and started to sort out the current situation of Monroe Group.

Today, she had a conversation with Adonis and her dad. She should not have invested in Monroe Group because she could not make much money.

This was her first exposure to the industry. Not losing money was a success.

Her father supported her to do it, and Dawson could assist her if she didn't understand. With her dad's words, she felt more confident.

After thinking about it, she decided to invest in Monroe Group to give it a try.

She had just made her decision when a strange sound came from outside the window.

Eden felt a little scared and immediately got out of bed and turned on the bedside lamp. She saw a tall figure jumping from the window onto the balcony. The dim light made the figure look long.

Eden tensed and thought to herself that it could be a thief.

She glanced at the room quickly and found nothing.

What should she do?

The thief was too arrogant to break in through the window at midnight.

Eden caught a glimpse of the clothes hanger beside her. Even if it didn't have any lethality, it now became her life-saving weapon.

Eden quickly turned the light on and Victor walked in just in time.

Their eyes met, and Eden blinked her big, watery eyes in shock. The thief was actually Victor, her husband.

Victor looked at the hanger in her hand and her defensive posture and felt funny.

It was a coat hanger that didn't have any killing power and wouldn't be a threat to him in any way.

"Victor, you are so bad. You scared me." Eden gritted her teeth and glared at him.

She thought he would have to hold off for at least a night or two, but it was only a few hours before he chased after her and entered like a thief through the window. It was unbelievable.

Victor walked up to her and looked down at her from above. His tall figure enveloped her, giving off the sense of oppression and aggressiveness.

Eden couldn't help but take a few steps back.

Victor stared intently at her. She took a step back and he took a step closer. Eden was forced to the edge of the bed by him and sat on it.

Victor raised his eyebrows and looked at her with a grin, "Honey, you have no place to hide." His voice revealed some unspoken intent.

Eden was startled by this offensive stare he was giving her.

His arrogance and aggressiveness used to be used against outsiders, but now it was used against her.

He was really excessive.

"Can't I go back to my parents' home? I'm not avoiding you. You get out. Don't bother my conversation with a very talkative young hunk I just met online."

Her words made Victor freeze.

She was actually talking to another man!

He was pissed off.

Couldn't he usually make her sexually satisfied?

No! She had passed out from exhaustion each time.

He thought she was physically incapable.

Wasn't he more attractive than the young, good-looking men?

No. He was still the most attractive man in River City.

"Say it again." He gritted his teeth and growled coldly and lowly.

He came from so far to see her, but she only cared about her young hunk.

Eden shrank back in fear but still mustered up the courage to look at him, "As I said earlier, I want to talk to..."

Before Eden could finish, Victor stepped closer to her and held her hands above her head so that there was no gap between them.

"You can only think of me in your mind." Victor warned her dominantly in her ear. He felt that Eden was challenging his patience. How dare she really say that again?

Eden glared at him indignantly, "Why should you be able to hug other women? And why can't I meet other men?" Eden was angry at his dominance and didn't want to talk to him.

She hasn't forgiven him yet.

Hearing this, Victor immediately apologized, "Honey, I've explained to you many times. It's really just an accident. An accident! What do I have to do to get your forgiveness?"

Victor was quite helpless. He had explained this matter many times, but she still didn't believe him.

Eden snorted and stopped looking at him. "When my anger subsides, I will naturally forgive you."

When would she be able to calm her anger?

"Okay then, I'll wait here until your anger subsides." Victor quickly carried her to the inner side of the bed and laid himself on the outside. He moved so quickly that Eden didn't even have time to refuse him.

And he had those big hands constantly touching her body.

Eden tensed up quickly. Why did he want to have sex with her everywhere?

"Get out of here. This is my parents' house. Are you crazy." Eden said in a low voice.

She grabbed his big hands that were moving around.

Victor said with a grin, "Honey, you know, couples always have their ups and downs. Love needs to be managed with care. It is important to solve problems quickly when couples quarrel. So the quarrel between lovers can even renew their relationship. So, if I do nothing, how can we both make up?"

"Shame on you." Eden glared at him. "I have said that you are not allowed to touch me for a month. It seems that you have turned a deaf ear to my words. If you do this, I will travel and come back in half a year."

"You..." Victor looked at her in exasperation. His gaze was deep and angry.

Yet he could do nothing to her. His girl knew how to threaten him.

Eden looked at his helpless expression and felt triumphant.

Now she was safe.

How could Victor not see the smug look on her face?

But without her, he could not fall asleep.

He snorted and stood up to leave.

Eden did not say anything, even with a silent look to urge him to leave quickly.

Victor felt helpless.

He felt he had just been too impulsive.

Why did he get up? Wouldn't it be nice to lie next to her?

"Bye, have a good trip. It's too dangerous to leave through the window. You'd better go through the door. Keep your voice down and don't wake up my family." Eden kindly reminded him. It was quite dangerous to climb the ladder. Only he could think of such a way to get to her.

Victor growled angrily, "You have abandoned me. Why are you still worried about me?"

As he said that, he walked angrily to the balcony.

Eden did not stop him.

Victor had reached the window, and Eden still didn't stop him. At this point, his pride did not allow him to turn back in, so he had to climb down the ladder.

Chapter 1244

After going downstairs, Victor kicked the ladder hard in anger.

His d*mn self-esteem!

He could have stayed, but he was too embarrassed to do that because of his self-esteem.

Victor looked up at the window angrily, only to see Eden looking at him with a smile.

He was even more annoyed. It was not easy for him to climb up. Why did he go down?

"Honey, have a good dream!" Eden said with a smile.

Victor glared at her fiercely. How could he possibly have a good dream?

"Just wait for me!" When she was no longer angry, he would definitely give her a lesson.

He would make her unable to get out of bed for three days. No, maybe ten days!

The more Victor thought about it, the more straight his face became. His handsome face darkened to the extreme. Looking at her smiling face, he wished that he could pull her down and give her a lesson.

Victor mouthed to Eden, "Wait for me." Then he carried the ladder madly and went back to the Alwynn family next door.

"Ha-ha..." Eden smiled triumphantly and said at Victor's back sweetly, "Victor, see you tomorrow!"

Hearing her lovely and cute voice, Victor felt that his heart had melted. But was it too late to regret?

Obviously, she spoke in such a tone deliberately.

Victor felt more and more irritated and went back to his room.

The next day, in the office on the 25th floor, everyone was in a bad state of mind.

Eden was used to sleeping together with Victor. Without him by her side, she didn't sleep well all night and often woke up at night.

Victor didn't sleep all night because he was too mad.

Amelia cried all night because of Lucian. This morning, she got up and applied hot towel to her eyes before putting on a heavy makeup and going to work.

Lucian was listless because he worked late at night.

Seeing that they were all sleepy, Dean felt that the office was really stuffy.

Looking at Victor's listless face and holding an iPad, he felt so depressed. There seemed to be gossip about Victor again.

What should he do?

Dean walked over cautiously, placed the iPad in front of Victor and pointed at the picture on the screen, "Mr. Alwynn, you're in the headlines again."

Victor looked at him with confusion. Why was there news about him again?

He glanced at the picture on the iPad, and his spirits lifted immediately. He didn't feel sleepy at all.

"What's going on? When did I hug this woman?" Victor lowered his voice, and his blood was burning with anger. Who dared to slander him behind the scene?

Seeing her like this, Dean knew that he might have forgotten it.

He glanced at Eden quickly and said in a low voice, "Mr. Alwynn, don't you remember the lady who was drunk last night? She is the daughter of Mr. Rulin who has a cooperation with us. She was drunk. At that time, you happened to come out of the bathroom. She lost her balance and threw herself into your arms."

Victor was stunned. He didn't remember it at all.

Last night, he had been thinking that Eden was going to run away from home. How could he concentrate on talking business?

Victor asked, "Are you sure she threw herself into my arms?"

Dean immediately nodded, "Mr. Alwynn, I was watching you aside. But Miss Rulin was drunk, and she fell down unconsciously. You just helped her out of kindness."

Victor didn't know what to say. He looked up at Eden who was lying on the table listlessly.

Dorothy had made him in a terrible situation. At this time, there were even rumours about him and Miss Rulin. It seemed that Eden would be angry with him for two months.

He couldn't even stand sleeping without her for one night, not to mention two months.

Victor ordered him in a hurry, "Dean, go out quickly and let Lucian delete the news online. Don't let my wife see it."

"Okay!" Dean nodded and walked out.

Eden didn't know what Dean and Victor were talking about. She was not in the mood to listen because she was in a low spirit.

She swiped open her mobile phone out of boredom and saw the news. When she saw the title about Alwynn Group, she clicked on it with interest.

"Mr. Alwynn had a one-night-stand with Miss Rulin."

When Eden saw it, she thought that her eyes had deceived her. After checking it again, she realized that it was true.

In the photo, Victor was holding a drunk and sexy beauty in his arms, and the beauty was looking at him with infatuation in eyes.

Victor's head was lowered, and she couldn't see his expression clearly. Perhaps it was because the photo was taken at a nice angle. He looked very affectionate.

At this time, Amelia, who was in a bad mood, came in.

"Eden, Mr. Alwynn, a lady named Sandra said she wanted to meet Mr. Alwynn."

Victor's heart trembled. He looked at Eden and then glanced at Amelia, "I won't see her. Tell her to get out of here."

Eden glanced at Victor who had a guilty conscience, "Amelia, let her come here. She has come here. How can we ask her to get out?"

"Okay!" Amelia turned around with her head down.

"Amelia, ask her to get out!" Victor yelled.

Amelia glanced at Victor and ignored him. It was her last day at work, and she saw the news just now. She was willing to help Eden.

Victor was speechless. Amelia was really getting bolder and bolder.

Eden found that Amelia was a little strange and asked, "Amelia, didn't you sleep well last night? You look so tired."

Amelia turned around and looked at her with a faint smile, "Eden, I'm fine. I argued with my mom last night, so I'm not in a good mood." Yesterday was her worst day. After going home, she had a huge row with her mother.

Her mother didn't understand her, which made her so sad.

Besides, she was grieved to break up with Lucian.

"Alas, you should have a good rest. Look at you. Your face is deathly pale."

Amelia turned around with a smile, "Eden, don't worry about me. I'm all right."

Eden was not convinced, "Amelia, you usually don't get along well with your mother. Did something else happen?" Amelia really looked so strange.

"Eden, it's okay. I'm going out to work." Amelia smiled as usual, turned around slowly and went out.

As soon as she turned around, her eyes blurred with tears. She was reluctant to leave here.

Eden was very nice. She cared about her so much, and it was the job she had always dreamed of.

The salary was high, and the year-end bonus was alluring. Everything was so wonderful, but she had to leave the next day. It was really sad.

After Amelia went out, Eden ignored Victor and went straight to the balcony for some fresh air.

D*mn Victor! Last night, he...

Eden was furious in heart.

Victor looked at her thin back and was about to go crazy.

How could things get worse and worse?

Victor smashed his desk angrily and was not in the mood to work.

"Mr. Alwynn." A delicate voice sounded, and Victor looked at Eden nervously.

He could only vaguely see her shadow.

Chapter 1245

"Mr. Alwynn." Sandra was dressed in a red tight-fitting dress. Her voice was so sweet that it could melt people's hearts.

The dress flattered her slender and long legs, and her brown curly hair straggled down to her shoulders. Wearing delicate makeup on her face, she looked charming and coquettish, and her red lips were especially attractive. She looked at Victor with a smile.

Victor's eyes darkened as he asked indifferently, "What are you doing here? I have negotiated with Mr. Rulin about the cooperation."

"Ha-ha..." Sandra smiled. "Mr. Alwynn, how heartless you are. Can't you see that my love is to you what migratory bird is to home? No matter what, I won't be attracted by others, and I only love you."

As Sandra said this, she walked towards Victor. Her smile was too bright that there were wrinkles on her forehead.

Victor didn't even bother to look at her.

"Mr. Alwynn, what you gave me last night was unforgettable romance." Sandra referred to the moment when Victor protected her. At that moment, she had fallen in love with him.

The more Eden listened, the more brokenhearted she became.

What?

Unforgettable romance?

Ha-ha...

Victor had never given her such romance.

Victor didn't say anything and only looked at her dejected figure in the tea room.

She hid herself to listen to their conversation on purpose, didn't she?

Therefore, she had seen the news.

Seeing that Victor did not speak, Sandra thought that Victor had accepted her love confession.

She said in a delicate voice again, "Mr. Alwynn, since we met, you have become the only love in my heart."

After Sandra finished speaking, she walked over boldly and stood next to Victor.

Victor caught a whiff of strong perfume and turned his head slowly to look at Sandra who was getting close to him, "Get out!"

His words came as a complete shock for Sandra.

Sandra was startled by his sudden roar.

"Ah..." She slipped and happened to fall into Victor's arms.

Eden didn't want to listen to them anymore. She turned around and came out, only to see such a scene.

When Victor looked up, he saw Eden's angry and misty eyes.

He was shocked. How the hell did so many accidents happen to him?

"Honey, it's none of my business. She sat on me on her own." Victor felt like he was about to cry. How could he be so unlucky?

Hearing Victor's words, Sandra glanced at Eden.

Her heart suddenly tightened. Just now, she really fell down coincidentally.

She immediately hugged Victor's neck, "Victor, it turns out that your wife is here. Shouldn't I have come to you?" After she finished her words, she looked at Eden with a provocative smile, hugged Victor so tightly and refused to let go of him.

Ha-ha...

Hearing this, Eden really gave herself airs.

Did she think that she was an irrelevance?

Eden looked at her with a smile, "You shouldn't have come here indeed. You should go to my house and then go to my husband's bed. That's where you should go. Everyone is watching you when you're here."

"Oh, by the way, I forgot that women like you who are specialized in seducing other people's husbands just want to do something exciting in public. Am I right?"

After saying that, Eden looked Sandra up and down with a smile. Sandra was very beautiful and sexy. It seemed that she was taller than her, but the makeup was really not suitable for her, because it made her look too old.

However...

Eden turned to look at Victor with wicked eyes.

Victor looked at her in fear.

The more she laughed, the more flustered he became. He even forgot to push away Sandra from his arms.

"Honey, I know that you always flirt with women. But this time, you have a bad taste."

Then Eden turned to look at Sandra, "Miss, congratulations! You're the thousandth woman who fell in love with him! But I believe that you will come to no good end, just like the other nine hundred and ninety-nine women, because he will continue to have other mistresses."

Victor's mouth twitched. Did he have so many mistresses?

He was so unlucky these days.

Eden shook her head and said to herself, "Nowadays, everything rises in price. However, it is easier and easier to have a mistress. I got up in the morning and didn't see my elastic band. I bought a new one and it cost me one dollar. But I guess that a mistress is only worth about one cent."

Sandra's face darkened more and more under Eden's smiling gaze.

"What's going on?" Lucian came in with the documents he sorted out last night.

He didn't expect to see such a scene.

"Ha-ha..." Eden looked at Lucian and smiled, "Lucian, this world is beautiful and mistresses are coquettish. You can't betray Amelia like this in the future."

With a frown, Lucian looked at her and didn't speak.

Eden turned around and took a few steps, but she suddenly turned around to remind Sandra, "Well, your dress is too short, and my husband doesn't like it. Next time if you only wear a bra, he will definitely be seduced by you. The colour of your underwear is not very nice. My husband likes white, and he thinks that red is vulgar."

After saying that, Eden carried her backpack, picked up her phone and left.

Her legs were seriously injured, and she didn't dare to wear high heels at all.

She dressed much more casually, and she felt that the backpack was quite suitable for her.

Victor froze on the spot.

Eden said goodbye to Amelia. Seeing that Amelia's face was so pale, she asked Amelia to go back to rest because she had to work to deal with that day.

But Amelia refused. She said that she could hold on.

Eden smiled and was about to leave.

Amelia suddenly stopped her, walked over and hugged her, "Eden, are you all right?" She was reluctant to part with her. She did not have any friend, and Eden was her only friend.

"Ha-ha... Fool, of course I'm all right. Look at me. I'm fine, aren't I? I'm going to buy some posters of handsome men. I can appreciate them during the day and hang the photos on the door at night."

"You..." Amelia looked at her and smiled, "Eden, you have to be all right."

Amelia looked at her seriously.

Eden smiled unconcernedly, "Amelia, don't worry about me. I've been betrayed... Oh, it's so disgusting. Let's not talk about this. I'm leaving. If you are tired, go home early and have a rest. I've decided to invest in Monroe Group, and I won't come here often recently. Don't forget to call me if something happens."

"Okay! Be careful on the way. Go downstairs and throw away your shoes. Go buy a pair of new shoes to make yourself happy."

"Ha-ha..." Eden smiled, "Amelia, that's a good idea, but the shoes were bought by my mom, and they're quite new. I can't bear to throw them away."

Eden left while talking happily.

The three people in the office were speechless.

Seeing that Victor had no reaction, Lucian said indifferently, "It seems that I shouldn't have come here. I'll come in later."

Chapter 1246

When Lucian was about to leave, Victor stopped him quickly, "Wait. You came in at the right time."

Victor pushed Sandra off him with great strength ruthlessly.

Sandra thought she had won, and she did not expect Victor to do this.

"Ouch..." All of a sudden, she fell to the ground, and her face twisted in pain.

Raising her head, she looked at Victor with dissatisfaction.

But Victor's handsome face was expressionless, as if she didn't exist.

She didn't know why, but she felt somewhat uneasy when she saw Victor like this.

Lucian looked at Sandra on the ground and could not help but feel pity for her.

She was really bold. Victor's arms only belonged to Eden, but she dared to sit there.

He cast a meaningful look at Sandra.

Then he stared at Victor's calm face silently. Victor acted like this, which meant that he was furious.

He sighed lightly, and a complicated expression flashed through his eyes.

"Victor, how can you push me like this? It hurts." Sandra looked at Victor with complaint.

But her heart trembled when she looked into his eyes. She gradually realized that his apathetic eyes were filled with terrible rage.

When their eyes met, there was even a hint of irony in Victor's hostile and vicious eyes.

Sandra felt a chill down her spine, lowering her head and not daring to speak. She seemed to be on the verge of tears, and then tears ran down her face uncontrollably.

"Victor, I'm sorry. Did I do something wrong?" When Sandra cried, she looked a bit pitiful and pretty. She was born to be good at acting. At this moment, she could tell that Victor was in a frenzy of rage.

Victor's face was full of anger as he sneered and said, "You are wrong indeed. Moreover, your family will lose everything because of you."

Sandra suddenly raised her head and looked at him curiously with tears in her eyes.

Lucian said, "Cut the crap. Don't you want to coax Eden?"

Victor glared at him, "She's as important as my life. How could I not coax her? This time, she is really mad. Just now, I was thinking of how to make her forgive me. Now I have had an idea."

With a surge of great fury, Victor glared at Sandra who pretended to be sad, and rage bubbled just below the surface of his mind.

Sandra shivered, and her whole body tensed up. She felt that she was going to suffer a lot.

"Cancel the cooperation with the Rulin family, purchase their company and give it to Eden as a gift. Since she wants to start her own business these days, I'll give her a chance to practice."

Sandra couldn't believe what she had heard and stared at Victor's heartless face in a daze.

Picking up his coat and car key, Victor was about to leave.

Lucian immediately stopped him, "Wait a minute. Change your clothes before leaving."

Victor nodded quickly, "Fortunately, you reminded me. Eden doesn't want to get close to me because she dislikes me holding other women."

Lucian was speechless. He knew that Victor was right, but he didn't have to speak so straightforwardly. He did not want to hear such sappy words.

Could Victor be calmer when Eden was angry with him?

Victor quickly turned around and went to the room to change his clothes.

"No! Mr. Alwynn, you can't treat my family like that. I... just admire you. That's why I did that. I'm sorry. I've realized my mistake. Please let go of my family!" Sandra cried out in panic as she looked in the direction where Victor had left.

Dean came in with a gloating expression on his face.

He looked at Sandra and said teasingly, "To predict what a woman's thinking is almost impossible. Last night, you were drunk. Mr. Alwynn was worried about Mrs. Alwynn and didn't pay attention to you. You suddenly walked towards him, and he helped you out of kindness. However, this morning, you came here to make a fuss like this. How bold you are! Mrs. Alwynn has been mad, and now she has left in anger. She's the apple of Mr. Alwynn's eye. You really ask for it."

"I..." Sandra was rendered speechless. Everyone said that Victor stayed away from women.

Last night, she fell on purpose, but Victor helped her, so she did not believe the rumours.

No matter how cold a man was, he could resist the temptation of a woman.

She came here this morning and wanted to see if Victor really liked her.

But she didn't expect that she would bring such a disaster to her family.

Lucian said, "Check out the property of the Rulin family. This time, Eden is so irritated. I'm afraid that it will take a long time for her to forgive Victor."

Dean didn't say anything. He knew that Victor deserved it.

However, this matter was so weird. They seemed to have been targeted by someone.

"Then... "

"I will handle other things. You deal with this matter first. As for the person who took photos secretly, he will appear sooner or later." After saying that, Lucian put the documents on Victor's desk.

Dean looked at Sandra who was lying on the ground and didn't want to get up, "Miss Rulin, please go out."

"No, I'm... so sorry. I'll leave as soon as I see Mr. Alwynn." After Sandra said that, Victor ran out of the room. He walked in a hurry while buttoning his shirt.

Without looking at the people in the office, he walked out directly.

At this time, Sandra had no time to pretend to be pitiful anymore. She immediately got up from the ground and chased after Victor.

"Bah..." Dean snorted, "Why are these women so self-righteous? Mr. Alwynn just gave her a hand kindly, but she thought that she could become Mrs. Alwynn. She even came here to show off arrogantly. She asks for it."

Lucian glanced at him with a smile, "You were there last night. If you could help her up, such a thing wouldn't have happened."

"Ha-ha..." Dean was amused, "Mr. Ronen, are you kidding? Would she let me help her? Her target was Mr. Alwynn."

"That's right. You're not charming enough. I told you to change your hairstyle. You should have your head shaved." Lucian smiled and turned to leave.

Dean touched his inch-long hair. Was there any problem with his hairstyle?

Was a bald head suitable for him?

Lucian must be kidding.

No! Why did Lucian have to ask him to make things difficult for the Rulin family?

"Alas!" He sighed and pulled his tie, "Fine! Since my salary is much higher than ordinary people's, I must do a good job."

Dean searched for the information about Rulin Group and turned to leave the office.

"Mr. Alwynn, I'm sorry! I was wrong. Don't do that to my family. Please!" Sandra caught up with Victor who was waiting for the elevator and stood aside, begging him.

However, Victor lowered his head to check the location of Eden's phone.

He didn't listen to any of Sandra's words.

When he found that Eden was on the highway to the airport, he was so shocked that he almost sat on the ground.

He was so angry that he said loudly to himself, "Does she want to go abroad to hide from me?"

The elevator door opened, and Victor walked in hurriedly, paying no attention to Sandra who was crying and apologizing.

"No, Mr. Alwynn, you can't leave like this!" Sandra rushed to the elevator, but the door had closed.

She fell down on the ground in despair and stared blankly at the elevator, as if she had been sentenced to death.

Chapter 1247

When Dean came out, he saw Sandra's dispirited look.

Seeing Dean, Sandra immediately grabbed his feet and looked up at him with tears in eyes, "Dean, you can't do this. Please."

Although Dean sympathized with her, there was nothing he could do.

"Miss Rulin, I'm just following the orders. Don't make things difficult for me."

"No, Dean, I don't want to make things difficult for you. I just want you to slow down. Give me some time, and I will apologize to Mr. Alwynn."

Dean shook his head slightly, "It's useless to apologize to Mr. Alwynn. It's better to apologize to Mrs. Alwynn. Do you know who has something to do with the gossips about Mr. Alwynn yesterday?"

Sandra thought for a moment, "It's Dorothy, but she's fine. Why does Mr. Alwynn aim at me?" She couldn't figure out the reason.

"Ha-ha..." Dean laughed, "Because Miss Monroe is smarter than you. She came to apologize to Mrs. Alwynn early in the morning. Mrs. Alwynn forgave her and even promised to invest in her company. Although Mr. Alwynn did not agree, he couldn't do anything about it since Mrs. Alwynn had made up her mind. But you are different. You provoked Mrs. Alwynn and even sat in Mr. Alwynn's arms. You ruined your family by yourself, didn't you? Let me tell you. Mrs. Alwynn is as important as Mr. Alwynn's life. Even if you were ten years younger, Mrs. Alwynn wouldn't like you."

Sandra shuddered, and she had a sense of fear in heart.

There were once gossips about Dorothy and Victor, but Dorothy was fine. How could she expect that something bad would happen to her?

"Where can I find Eden?" Sandra was really anxious. It was not easy for her family to become so successful.

But if she could get Victor's favor, her family would get better and better.

She ran here excitedly this morning for the sake of her family.

Besides, in the morning news, she and Victor were described to be very close to each other. This was a good opportunity, and she was not willing to miss it.

Dean shook his head slightly, "This time, Mrs. Alwynn is even angrier than she was yesterday. You should know that she is very considerate, but she can never tolerate such a thing. I think Mr. Alwynn is also worried now, because he doesn't know where to find Mrs. Alwynn."

After saying that, Dean walked into the elevator elegantly.

"Ah..." Sandra got up, staggered and entered another elevator to leave.

Looking at the empty office, Amelia took a deep breath and braced herself to do her work well.

After that day, she would never come here again.

She looked outside. Lucian was in the office. At this moment, he must be working very hard. He had been very serious about his work.

Compared with the Ronen family, Alwynn Group was more like his family.

He preferred to work in Alwynn Group.

She withdrew her gaze slowly. With tears in her eyes, she lowered her head and continued to work.

Victor went to the parking lot and drove to the airport as fast as he could.

Along the way, he called Eden all the time, but she didn't answer his phone calls.

He became more and more disturbed.

He immediately called Lucian.

"Hello?" Lucian answered lazily, "Lucian, Eden is on the way to the airport. Call the airport to ask them to keep an eye on her and see where she wants to go."

Lucian frowned slightly, "Is it that serious?"

Victor said, "Do you think it's not serious?"

Lucian said, "I've warned you not to be a gentleman, but you didn't listen to me. Don't you know that women hate their husbands the most when they hold other women in their arms? Furthermore, what you did was shot by someone. Even I can't stand it, not to mention Eden."

Hearing this, Victor frowned, "Lucian, is it the time for you to make sarcastic remarks? Hurry up and find Eden." He hung up with annoyance.

He drove straight to the highway.

Lucian shook his head helplessly and called the airport.

After Eden left the company, the more she thought about it, the angrier she became. She hailed a taxi, went straight to the airport and wanted to travel as she liked.

She knew that if she went back to the Clement family, Victor would definitely went there at night.

If they quarrelled at home, her parents would worry about her.

Victor, th*t bastard, actually had no reaction when the woman fell on his arms.

Eden sat in the taxi. The more she thought about it, the more sombre she felt.

She took out her phone and found that Victor had been calling him. At this time, the phone rang again.

She answered the phone angrily, "What? I'm going to meet a handsome guy. Don't keep calling me. I'm so annoyed."

When Victor heard the words "handsome guy" again, he was almost choked, and the expression in his eyes turned cold.

Was he not handsome enough?

"How dare you! Eden, whether you believe it or not, I will kill him." Victor shouted furiously.

As soon as Victor said this, he regretted it. Was it time to argue with her?

He immediately calmed down, softened his voice and said in a pleading tone, "Honey, don't be mad anymore. Could you come back?"

Eden could not bear to listen to his pitiful voice.

However, she didn't intend to go back.

"Victor, you don't have to worry about me. I'll be back in a few days."

"Eden, where are you going? I'll go with you. I can't assured if you travel alone." Victor drove the car as quickly as he could. While talking on the phone, he looked at the front and did not dare to blink his eyes.

"I told you that I want to travel alone. You really don't have to worry. Focus on your work."

"No, let's go together." Victor raised his voice.

A car in front of him was about to leave the motorway, so it was losing speed.

Victor slowed down immediately, but even so, the brake made a loud noise.

The speed was so high that he almost crashed into the car.

He moved the steering wheel slightly and drove back to the road so as to avoid a car accident.

Hearing the sudden braking sound, Eden asked in surprise, "Where are you?"

Victor put her on speakerphone and then placed the phone on the stand.

Hearing her worried voice, he could not help but smile, "Honey, tell me where you are first."

Eden asked furiously, "You drove out, and you're even driving so fast. Do you want to die?"

Victor was angry but he laughed. Since she was going to leave him, how could he not drive fast?

"Eden, don't worry. I'm fine. What happened in the office was just an accident. I was staring you, but she slipped and then fell on my arms. It had nothing to do with me."

Eden was speechless. The woman fell on him, but couldn't he push her away? He even let her see it and broke her heart.

He was a man. She didn't believe that he didn't have strength to do so.

"I saw it with my own eyes, but you say it was an accident? Let me tell you. Even Gia won't be fooled by you! Hurry up and go back. I'm hanging up." Eden hung up the phone.

"Eden, honey..." Vincent was exasperated. She should not be angry since she saw it with her own eyes. He had been wronged, hadn't he?

After Eden got in the car, she booked a ticket to Love Sea. When she arrived at the airport, she got her boarding pass directly.

Love Sea was not far from River City, and she could arrive there in an hour. It was a very beautiful place. She always wanted to go there and have a look.

That was a popular rendezvous for lovers. She had never been there before, and she was very expectant.

Chapter 1248

Lucian learnt where Eden was going. He called Victor, and Victor answered the phone instantly.

"Lucian, where is Eden going?"

Lucian replied, "Love Sea. I've booked you the same flight as her. It is first class and Eden's seat is in front of you."

Victor was a little unhappy, "Why didn't you book the seat next to her?"

Lucian laughed, "Aren't you afraid that she'll drive you out of the plane?"

"That makes sense. After all, she is stubborn. Okay, I see. Lucian, you have to work hard these days. I'll give you a few days off after I take Eden back."

Lucian said, "Alright, I've recorded your words. I'll have a vacation when you come back, and I can buy a suitable house for Amelia by the way."

"Okay! Our company owns many house properties, right? Choose one and I'll give it to you as a wedding gift." Victor hung up the phone with a smile and said wickedly, "Eden, just wait and see. You can never leave me."

Hearing Victor's words, Lucian smiled and muttered to himself, "Are you willing to give Windsor Villa to me?"

However, since Victor was willing to give him a house, it was a good thing. Moreover, he was glad because it was a wedding gift.

Amelia made a cup of coffee for Lucian. As soon as she entered the office, she heard him say that he wanted to buy a suitable house for her.

Her heart ached badly.

Was he really going to leave the Ronen family for her?

But how could he do that? His mother placed high hopes on him, and she did everything for him. If she had such a mother who loved her so much, she would cherish her as well. How could she make her mother upset and sad?

That night would be the last they stayed together.

She composed her emotions quickly and walked in with a smile, "Lucian, I made coffee for you. Did you work late last night?"

She walked over and placed the coffee in front of him.

Lucian looked up and smiled tenderly at her, "It was not too late, and I can hold on. Come here."

Lucian pointed at his arms.

Amelia did not refuse. She sat in his arms with a smile and put her arms around his neck.

She leaned against his chest slowly with a hint of intense sorrow in eyes. She had a test and knew that she was in her period of ovulation.

If she had their child, she would have the courage to live even if she had to stay away from him.

She would never see him in the rest of her life.

Lucian hugged her tightly and rubbed his forehead against her shoulder. His voice was slightly hoarse as he said, "Amelia, I'm no longer exhausted after holding you like this."

Amelia hugged him with great strength, "Lucian, you have to take care of yourself. Work is very important, but you should pay attention to your health. If you get sick, your work will be delayed, right?"

Lucian smiled and raised his head to look at her concerned face. He could not help but reach out and pinch her cheek, "Take care of yourself. You work even harder than me."

"It was something in the past, wasn't it? Now I no longer work so desperately because you're by my side. Lucian, let's go to Marriott Hotel as soon as we get off work. I want to eat the fish there."

Lucian smiled and nodded, "Okay, we'll go there after work."

"Ha-ha..." Amelia pretended to smile happily and kissed him on the lips.

After being with him, she became bolder and more unrestrained. He was the man she loved the most in her life.

But she had to leave him.

She really couldn't bear to part with him.

She knew that time could change a lot, including their deep love.

In the following one or two years, he might be very painful. However, he was busy with his work. As time went by, he would gradually forget the pain that she brought to him.

.....

The night screen had hung down, and the moon rose.

The moon bathed the sea in a silver light, and the sea was like a big mirror. When a breeze puffed across the sea, it glinted in the moonlight.

Eden stood by Love Sea. The weather was nice that day, and the moon was lovely. She wrapped herself tightly in windbreaker and looked at the beautiful night sky with a smile, feeling totally relaxed.

Everything she saw would become her inspiration, and she would apply these dreams-like colours to the patterns in her design.

There was a wooden house selling night snacks on the coast. The myriad twinkling lights were very lively. The weather was cold, and some people were selling coffee with thermoses on their backs.

Eden thought that she might not be able to fall asleep at night. She didn't like to drink coffee, but she bought a cup of coffee.

She took a sip and felt much warmer instantly.

The sea breeze was right in her face, but it was not so cold.

Pairs of couples held each other and walked past her with happy smiles on their faces.

"Darling, look! How beautiful the sea is! We came here for honeymoon when we got married, and now we're here again. I'm really happy."

"Honey, when I make enough money, I'll take you on a vacation aboard. We'll go wherever you want."

"We don't have to be so extravagant. I'm very happy to come here once a year. As long as you can accompany me, I'm glad no matter where we are."

A middle-aged couple passed by her, and there was a delighted smile and an expectant expression on the woman's face.

Eden stared at their backs for a long time and did not look away.

It could be seen that the man loved the woman very much, and the woman was very virtuous.

"Sibyl, don't be angry. Sibyl, I promise you that I will definitely take you to Glory Mountain when we come here again. We went to the concert, and I don't have enough money now. I'll save up money for three months and then we can go there."

"Humph! Glory Mountain is the most beautiful in this season. It is a colourful sea of flowers, and it is like the heaven in this world. The lake in flowers is bright and splendid, and the water is as transparent as glass. The wooden house is like that in a fairy tale, and it is especially beautiful in the morning fog. The mountain will be covered over with heavy snow three months later. Can we see the scenery at that time?"

"Sibyl, but it costs more than ten thousand dollars to live there for a night. I really don't have so much money. I will definitely take you there in the future, okay?" The man begged the woman.

Seeing that the woman was about to leave, he was anxious and helpless.

"In the future? Why should we come here in the future? After we get married, we will have to raise our child and support our family. Will we have extra money to travel here? I just want to go there before we get married. You promised me, but now you go back on your words. That's the only condition I have before marrying you!" The woman still walked forward with annoyance.

Eden glanced at the misty mountain on the right, and she couldn't see the outline clearly. That was Glory Mountain. There were beautiful flowers in the valley. The flowers were hardy, and their prime was in winter. The lake was heart-shaped, and the water was blue and clear. It was like the heaven in the world indeed, because it was beautiful and pure.

Every couple would spend a night there. It was said that living there would make their love last forever. Although it was beautiful, the hotel was expensive. Even a small room cost more than ten thousand dollars one night.

The most expensive room cost one hundred thousand dollars one night, and it was extremely luxurious.

Chapter 1249

"Sibyl, I beg you. Don't go. Although we can't go to Glory Mountain. Living in the hotel by the sea is the same."

"Can it be the same? We will go back tomorrow. Since you can't do it, you should have told me before we came. You let me come here with expectation and happiness, but you shatter my dream and let me down. Do you think it's fun to play me like this?"

"Sibyl, I'm sorry. I'm really sorry. I've transferred my salary this month to my mother to treat her illness. I promise you that I'll take you here at this time next year, okay? We'll have a lot of opportunities to come here again." The man persuaded the woman very patiently.

The girl thought for a moment. Looking at his pleading eyes, she couldn't bear to refuse him. However, she turned around decisively and left after looking at him for a while quietly.

"Sibyl! Don't be angry, okay?" The man grabbed her hand.

But she shook off his hand quickly.

Eden walked over and looked at them with a smile, "Stop arguing."

Saying this, she took out the ticket to Glory Mountain from her bag.

"Originally, I was going there with my husband, but he didn't come. I'll give it to you."

Looking at Eden's gentle and faint smile, the man was slightly stunned.

He took another look at the longing expression in his girlfriend's eyes, and he was a little moved.

Eden took Sibyl's hand and put the ticket in her hand, "Your name is Sibyl, right? Don't be angry. It seems that your boyfriend loves you very much."

Eden looked in the direction of Glory Mountain, "I heard that couples who have been there will have a wonderful future. You two love each other so much, and I hope that you can get married in the end. Besides, you can't get married with regrets in heart. Although you can understand each other, this matter will become a small crack in your marriage. When you quarrel after get married, you will mention this matter angrily from time to time. Lovers shouldn't have regrets in hearts."

Sibyl heard it and felt that she had got a windfall.

She glanced at the price on the ticket. The pink ticket was framed by karat gold, and it was printed with a flower pattern, looking beautiful and noble.

"Oh... Miss, this is too expensive. This is the most luxurious ticket." Sibyl suddenly felt that the ticket in her hand was burning hot.

Eden smiled and said, "No matter how much it costs, your affection is more important, isn't it? Just now, you said that this is your only wish before you get married. I'm married. My husband loves me very much and we have three lovely children. May you two live together till old and grey."

Eden said with a smile. Then, she turned around and left.

She wanted to go to Glory Mountain, but it was boring to go there alone.

"Miss, thank you!" Eden heard Sibyl's choked voice.

Eden looked back at them with a smile, waved goodbye to them, turned around and continued to walk on the beach.

In fact, she wondered if Victor would follow her here. If he came, she would go to the glass villa on Glory Mountain with him, watch the beautiful stars and spend a wonderful night with him.

She could see the stars in the sky, and it was a rare beautiful scenery.

However, Victor did not come here.

In fact, it was her journey alone.

But somehow, she booked the best room on Glory Mountain.

Although she quarrelled with him and ran away from home recklessly, she hoped that he could care about her.

She laughed self-mockingly. Women were really strange. She was angry, but she hoped that he could appear in front of her shamelessly.

She kept walking forward. Having not eaten anything for a whole day, she suddenly smelled the smell of Spicy Hot Pot. It must be very happy to eat Spicy Hot Pot on such a cold night.

Eden looked ahead and found that Spicy Hot Pot was available in the wooden house in the front.

She walked in with a smile. The wooden house was not very big, but the atmosphere was very warm. Many couples were eating here.

Eden sat on a small table and put the coffee on the table.

The waiter came over, and she ordered a small portion of Spicy Hot Pot. There were many vegetables and mushrooms in it. The meal was quickly served and the fragrance greeted her. Eden smiled and felt even hungrier.

She ate a piece of fried bean curd which was hot and delicious, "Wow! It's so spicy."

She muttered in a low voice. She hadn't eaten these snacks for a long time. When she was with Victor, he prepared her very delicate food.

She ate Spicy Hot Pot happily alone and felt that she hadn't been full yet. The smell of various snacks improved her appetite.

After walking for a while, she saw someone selling kebabs. She went over and saw that there were many kinds of kebabs. Then she bought ten kebabs and ate while walking. She liked fried lotus. That was her favorite food in college.

Normally, she could eat three portions of fried lotus in a row.

She walked while eating and checking her phone. Victor didn't call her again, which made her a little disappointed.

She decided to order another nearby hotel online.

Originally, she wanted to go to Glory Mountain. However, she gave the ticket to the couple, so she could only live in another hotel.

She sat on the bench by the sea and searched for hotels online after eating the kebabs.

"Miss, this is for you. Have a good time tonight. A rose represents the only love."

A little girl suddenly ran to Eden with a rose in her hand.

Eden, who had her head lowered, looked at the rose in the little girl's hands in surprise. The girl smiled at her innocently.

Eden smiled and asked her, "Why do you give me the rose?"

The little girl smiled and put the rose in her hand, "Miss, I wish you happiness."

After that, she ran away with a smile.

Eden looked at the rose in her hand and smiled faintly. The rose looked fresh and beautiful.

She got up with a smile and planned to walk for an hour before going to the hotel nearby.

However, after she took a few steps, a couple came to her and handed her a rose, "Miss, we wish you every success!"

Before she could say anything, the young couple smiled and walked away.

Eden looked at the roses in her hand doubtfully. Could people get roses for free that night?

Eden continued walking forward. Another couple smiled and walked to her front, handing her a rose, "Miss, may you be happy everyday!"

After that, they left with a smile. Eden looked at the three roses in her hand in disbelief and then looked around. There were all lovers and families. Only she was alone.

Did they sympathize with her because she was alone?

The legend about Love Sea was wonderful. Lovers all wanted to come here, but very few people came here alone.

She suddenly smiled and continued to walk forward.

"Miss, I wish you happiness."

"Miss, I wish you well..."

Later, in addition to the little girl, she met ninety-nine couples and they all sent her roses and best wishes.

Chapter 1250

Looking at the one hundred roses in her arms, Eden didn't know whether to laugh or cry. Had she won a big prize?

But what on earth was going on?

There were so many roses in her arms that she almost couldn't hold all of them. She was touched and delighted.

Suddenly, a tall man walked to her front, and she smelled the familiar and pleasant smell. She immediately raised her head, only to see Victor's smiling and gentle eyes.

"Honey, I love you!" Victor said gently, staring at her with affection.

Eden thought that it was her delusion. Was it because she missed Victor too much? She actually met him here.

He told her that he loved her, and it was like a dream.

Seeing her stand in a daze, Victor could not help but smile, "Honey, don't you welcome me?"

He said again, and Eden knew that she was not dreaming.

"So, did you prepare all these roses?" Eden looked at him angrily.

"Yep!" Victor nodded with a smile. There was a proud expression on his charming face, and his bright eyes were especially attractive at this moment, "Honey, the first rose represents that you're my only love. The other ninety-nine roses represent that I love you forever. Honey, forgive me. I can't live without you."

Eden looked at him quietly. She had to admit that she was moved. It was romantic and fantastic.

In the world, he was special to her. As long as she saw him, all her loneliness and unhappiness would disappear, and all her depression and bad mood would fade away. When she was with him, she found that she had never been so gentle before. After she left him, she realized that she had never been so lonely.

Seeing that she stood there silently, Victor thought that she was not going to forgive him.

"Honey, if you are unhappy, you can bully me. Anyway, I love you so much. No matter how you bully me, I won't get mad."

"Ha-ha..." Eden smiled when she heard that, "How dare I bully you?"

In fact, in love, even if he had countless of bad habits, she wouldn't leave him because he loved her sincerely.

"Honey, you are the only one who can bully me in this world. I am willing to be bullied by you. I'm sorry. Don't be angry anymore, okay?" Victor looked at her pitifully.

He followed her all the way here. In order to give her a surprise, he put in a lot of effort and found ninety-nine couples in person.

Roses were the freshest. Everything he gave her was the best in the world.

Eden looked at the roses in her arms and then looked at his expectant face, smiling sweetly.

Love was that two people capture each other's minds. Only by winning each other's hearts could their love last forever.

What had happened these days made both of them crazy.

But she was indeed very angry about what had happened that day, and she didn't want to talk to him anymore.

She knew what would happen if she ignored him. As time went by, they would no longer be in deep love.

People in love were very stupid, and this was actually contradictory.

The magic of love was to bring happiness, but at the same time, it brought people confusion and worry.

Because love couldn't be the most beautiful forever.

She understood this, and she knew how to tolerate. But how could she think of this when she was annoyed?

Victor saw her smiling sweetly. Under the lights, her face looked tender and pretty. As the sea breeze blew, her hair swayed gently. She was so beautiful and attractive.

Victor's heart was moved as he looked at her. He really hoped that they could only see each other at this moment.

Eden smiled helplessly and put the roses in his arms, "Take them. My hands are sore."

After saying that, she walked forward and felt very happy in heart.

Victor was stunned. Had she forgiven him or not?

"Ha-ha... Honey, you have forgiven me." Victor followed her shamelessly and smiled with joy.

In fact, he heard what she had said to the couple.

Deep down in her heart, she hoped that he could come here.

When he heard her say that he loved him so much and they had three lovely children, he knew that he was the happiest man in the world.

Eden looked back at him, "You have even followed me here. For the sake of your sincerity, I can forgive you. But..."

Eden looked at him and wanted to speak, but stopped on a second thought.

Victor had his heart in his mouth. What was she going to say?

Eden glared at him fiercely, "Go home and take a bath for ten times. Besides, you've hugged another woman, so you can't hug me anymore."

Victor was speechless. Had she really forgiven him?

"Okay! Honey, I'll wash myself for twenty times when I go back to the hotel."

"Ha-ha..." Eden's heart ached a bit when she saw how obedient he was. He was such a proud man, but he was totally meek in front of her.

"Have you had your dinner?" Eden asked.

Victor shook his head quickly, "No, I followed you all the way here, and I didn't even have time to eat breakfast."

Eden was quite helpless, "I asked you not to follow me, didn't I? I'll be back in three days at most."

Victor smiled with grievances, "Honey, I can't wait for three days. I felt so bad when you didn't talk to me. Besides, we should come to Love Sea together, shouldn't we?"

Eden shook her head helplessly. He was more clingy than the three children.

"Let's go and eat something first. Then we'll go back to rest." Eden said with a smile. Although she treated him indifferently, she was not so mad in heart.

Victor pulled her and smiled gently, "Honey, let's go to Glory Mountain."

Eden blinked at him, "Can we buy tickets now?"

Victor took out two tickets from his pocket and waved in front of her, "If we don't go to Glory Mountain, the trip in Love Sea won't be perfect."

Eden was surprised. He actually bought tickets.

She was so touched.

Originally, she was going to be angry with him for a month, but she had forgiven him within a day.

Ah...

She hated herself so much.

Ah...

But she really liked his thoughtfulness.

Eden yelled in heart for quite a while. In the end, she still accepted his kindness.

"Let's go. There is a lot of delicious food over there. We'll arrive in half an hour by a cable car. I'll eat some midnight snacks later." Eden was even happier.

She looked at him with a smile. Wearing a black windbreaker, he looked tall and straight. His tall and strong figure gave her a huge sense of security.

They went on Glory Mountain by a cable car.

Victor had prepared everything in advance. They went straight to the glass hotel in the valley.

Victor handed the roses to the waiter, asking him to put the roses in a vase and then send them to the room. Then he went to take a shower in a hurry.

Eden looked at the closed door of the bathroom and smiled. She changed into a comfortable home dress, stood in front of the window and looked at the lake that was surrounded by flowers not far away. The lake still looked so holy at night.
