

Gluey Love 1261

Chapter 1261

Lucian unfolded the third paper, then the fourth, the fifth, and read them one by one.

Until he read the last one, he realized that they had known each other for so long. It was almost three years.

She liked him for more than two years. She had been quietly watching him and liking him.

She had written down every little moment that happened between them. After the first time he took her out for dinner, she was too happy to even sleep for a whole night; after the first time he sent her home, she was so excited that she couldn't sleep for three nights. She also wrote down the first time they went to the Marriott Hotel, and it was also there. They both lost their virginity to each other.

The prince and Cinderella finally got together happily.

All the notes showed how she fell in love with him.

Lucian was curious why she did not use a notebook instead.

But when he saw the prince and Cinderella hugging each other in the end, he couldn't stop his tears from streaming down his cheeks.

He looked all the photos of the two of them and saw dates behind each of them.

She took these photos with her phone, and then printed them out and kept them here. She also kept all the little things he bought for her when they went out.

This small box was filled with her love for him.

Thinking about the time before he fell in love with her, he felt time went past so quickly, and she was rarely even in his memory during those times.

But since he met her, he felt time went much slower, and in his memory, it was all about her now.

He covered his face and wept. This was the first time he had cried like this, and he could not suppress the pain in his heart at all. It turned out that a person would not be bothered with dignity when he was in the saddest and desperate state.

He could also cry without scruple.

At this moment, he was as fragile as a porcelain doll.

After a long time, he took out his phone and called Brian.

"Hey! Lucian." There was a lot of noise on Brian's side. He seemed to be in a bar.

"Have a drink with me, and then find my future wife back," Lucian said in a hoarse voice.

"What? Your future wife?" Brian asked in surprise.

"Are you at a bar?" Lucian asked.

"Yes. Why would I want to waste my time at home? If you want a drink, come here."

"I didn't know your life was this boring already," said Lucian.

Brian laughed and teased him, "What do you expect from a single man? I spend my money on myself, and I don't need to care about anything else."

Lucian was totally speechless.

"Send me the address, and I'll come over now. I need to ask you to help me find Amelia. I checked already that she didn't go to the airport. I could only see that she went to the subway station."

On the other side, Brian asked cautiously, "I mean, Lucian, did you guy argue? Or it's your family..."

"It's my parents," Lucian said indifferently.

Brian understood everything instantly.

"I'll send you the address. Adonis and I are here. Come over now."

"Alright!" Lucian nodded and hung up the phone.

He put everything back in the box and went back to the first floor, then carefully put the box in the cabinet.

He knew she left all these behind because she planned to not see him anymore.

He always knew her very well.

"Amelia, you are more ruthless than I thought. You want to leave me, but have you asked me? We are both involved in this relationship. What do you think I am?" Lucian murmured angrily to himself.

A message came through at this moment. Brian sent him the address.

He turned around and left.

He had already decided that he was going to move here today. He wanted to stay in their home and wait for her to come back home.

At the same time, Amelia had also arrived at her friend's house in a different city. After settling down, she lay alone in the room and turned on her phone.

She saw that Lucian had called her many times and sent her many messages.

She opened them one by one with her heart aching badly.

"Amelia, where are you? I thought you promised me that we will always face everything together no matter what difficulties we encounter."

"Amelia, I give you ten minutes to come to me."

"Amelia, do you think you can just run away after you did this to me? I will find you no matter where you are."

His tone became softer and softer. He was still as domineering as ever, but in the end, she still could tell that he loved her.

She scrolled it down, but she was totally shocked when she read the last message. "Amelia, I went to your house just now. Your mom said that you are not her biological daughter, so I got really angry and packed all your stuff and left. You are not allowed to go back to that house anymore. You are my girl, so you will have to live with me from now on....."

"What?" Amelia cried out in surprise How could this be possible?

Her mother must not mean it. When she gave her the card last night, her mother already knew that she was leaving.

Her mother looked at her with a sneer and said something she didn't quite understand, "You should have gone long ago. You brought all the bad luck to my family. I really wished that you could have left earlier."

In fact, at that time, she did not say where she was going. She just told her mother that she probably wouldn't come back so often in the future, but she would still send her the living expenses on time every month.

That was all she told her mother.

She always heard her mother say that she brought bad luck to the family when she was a child. She only stopped staying it once she was told off by their neighbor.

She only knew that her mother liked her brother more because she only bought good things for her brother. Even the biggest room in their house was for her brother.

She was so used to just stand aside and watch them having a good time.

But even so, she never thought about leaving her mother. She knew her mother was ill, so she always tried her best to make her mother live a better life. Since she started working, she sent all her money to her mother every month.

In the past three years, she had been working in Alwynn Group. That was why could have her own savings.

She also had to plan it for herself.

She knew her mother would not give her anything even though she had been sending her money.

But she never expected that her mother would say such harsh words.

She smiled painfully.

It turned out that she was not even her mother's daughter.

It turned out that she really did not have anyone in this world.

She was all alone now.

Chapter 1262

She left the person she loved the most, and even her mother abandoned her. Now she was all alone. How would she survive in the future? Would she still have the courage to live on?

Amelia cried in pain. She suppressed her voice in the small room.

After crying for a while, she suddenly saw a text message sent from Lucian's mother.

"Amelia, I know that you have left. Lucian is also in pain. I want to thank you for your understanding. However, his brother is looking for you, you must take care of yourself and not let him find you. I asked you to leave because I don't want you to get hurt. Please make sure you won't let his brother find you. Otherwise, Lucian would do anything for you. You know how much he loves you. He would die for you."

After reading the text message, Amelia cried even more.

"He would die for you." Amelia shuddered when she read the words and felt a sharp pain in her heart.

She left him because she didn't want him to fall into danger, so she had to make sure he was safe.

She quickly replied. "Don't worry, Mrs. Ronen. I'll stay as far away as I can and never let anyone find me."

After sending this message, she sent another message to Eden. "Eden, thank you for taking care of me in the past three years. Thank you very much. You have become my only intimate friend. Please don't worry about me. I will take care of myself. The resignation letter is in your desk drawer."

Then she took out her old SIM card and inserted a new one.

She got up and went to the bathroom. After hesitating for a while, she resolutely threw the SIM card into the toilet and flushed it away.

She then deleted everything on her phone. As she had decided to start over again, she might as well delete everything she had in the past, so that she could move on faster.

"Lucian, I wish you all the best. Maybe we won't see each other anymore, but I believe that my love for you will help me live on, and..." she looked down at her stomach. "I hope that I am carrying our loved one."

.....

Eden was very tired after a whole day out. After taking a shower, she and Victor were about to go to bed, but at this time, her phone vibrated.

She turned her phone on and saw Amelia's message came through. After reading the content, she immediately called Amelia back.

However, it showed that her phone was already turned off.

Eden's heart sank. She looked at Victor and said, "Something seems to have happened to Lucian and Amelia. Amelia resigned."

Victor looked at her with confusion. "Don't worry. I'll call Dean now."

However, before he dialed the number, Dean called him first.

"Hello?" Victor's voice was as indifferent as ever.

"Mr. Alwynn, Miss Amelia didn't come to work today, and Mr. Ronen's parents came to the company. Something seems to have happened. No one knows where Miss Amelia has gone and Mr. Ronen has been looking for her the whole day. It seems that he still hasn't found her."

"Okay, I got it. You should also use your connections and look for her." After saying this, Victor hung up the phone.

Eden called Amelia again, but it still showed that her phone was powered off. She sent her a couple of messages, but no one replied.

"I think Amelia has left," said Victor.

Eden's body trembled slightly, and her hand held the phone tighter. She said with a sad face, "Well, they still got to this point."

Her heart ached. Amelia was such a kind person, and she worked so hard. Why should she suffer all this?

Looking at her sad face, Victor held her in his arms tightly. "Eden, there is nothing we can do about it. They are the only ones who can help them. We can only hope that they will have a chance to be back together."

Eden sighed heavily. "Amelia chose to leave because she loves Lucian too much. It will be so hard for her in the future as she is on her own."

Victor did not speak. Sometimes, life was like this. No matter how hard it was, people still had to follow the path and live on.

"Victor, let's go home tomorrow morning. Lucian must be in a lot of pain now as well."

"Okay!" Victor nodded.

Eden slowly leaned into his arms. "Victor, I hope we will never get tired of each other."

Victor smiled and lowered his head to kiss her. "Of course not. Silly girl."

He held her hand in his and looked at her with his loving eyes.

"Amelia must be very upset now. Everyone always says that women shouldn't be too strong, too independent, and too powerful, otherwise, they wouldn't be attractive to any men anymore. But if women are not strong, not independent, not brave, once they got hurt, who would help them? How hard it is for her now to be on her own!"

Victor smiled helplessly and looked down at her worried little face. "Eden, if a man is fragile, he will be destroyed at once. Lucian must be drinking with Brian now, so we don't need to worry about him. Amelia is the person who taught him how to love someone, so he will not give up so easily."

Eden nodded, but she was still worried about Amelia.

.....

The next morning, Eden and Victor were no longer in the mood for anything, so they booked flight tickets to go back.

Dean went to the airport to pick them up.

He smiled and walked over as soon as he saw them. "Mr. and Mrs. Alwynn, did you have a good time?" He could tell that Mr. Alwynn succeeded.

Eden looked at him and smiled. "Not bad. You don't look well. Looks like you worked overtime last night. You must be tired!"

Hearing this, Dean nodded excitedly. "Mrs. Alwynn, thank you for asking. Yes, I worked overtime last night. It was because..."

Before he could say anything, Victor shot him an angry glare, and he immediately shut his mouth.

He could tell that his boss treated his wife like a queen.

In front of his wife, he was a perfect man, while behind his wife, he was a ruthless boss.

However, what had happened to the Rulin family had really put him in a bad spot.

Sandra was such an idiot.

She called Dean so many times the night before.

Eden was about to ask why Dean did not speak when she suddenly saw Sandra hurrying towards them.

Eden and Victor both stopped.

Dean was also a little surprised when he saw Sandra. It felt like she could read his mind.

He looked at Sandra and really had no idea why this idiot was here.

Chapter 1263

"Mr. and Mrs. Alwynn," Sandra stood in front of Eden with her assistant, panting.

Eden's face turned cold as soon as she saw Sandra.

Sandra was so jealous when she saw Victor followed all the way there because of Eden.

And Victor's heart skipped a beat when he glanced at Eden's face.

He didn't know why this stupid woman was here.

Dean saw the expression on his boss's face, knowing that his boss was not happy.

"Miss Rulin, what's up?"

Sandra glared at Dean. He surely knew what she wanted.

It wasn't easy for her to find out that Eden and Victor came back this morning, so she came all the way here to see them.

Seeing that she glared at him, Dean was speechless. He was only trying to help her.

He wondered how stupid she could be. Did she want to talk about everything here?

But Mrs. Alwynn didn't know what Mr. Alwynn had done.

Why did she want to provoke Victor?

Sandra ignored Dean and looked at Eden. "Mrs. Alwynn, I know I made a mistake, but please forgive me and let go of my family." It sounded like she was begging Eden, but she felt a sense of superiority somehow when she saw how petite Eden was.

Dean felt that no one could help her anymore at this point.

She said it very loud, and they were surrounded by people. When they heard her words, many people stopped and wanted to see what exactly was going on.

Eden frowned and asked her, "What did I do to your family? Why are you saying this to me here?"

Sandra was speechless. What did she do? Didn't she know what she had done? Did she have to remind her in public?

Victor returned to his usual cold attitude and said, "Dean, I'll give you three minutes to handle the matter and get to the parking lot."

Dean could only nod. He knew he would be the one who had to deal with it in the end. "Yes, sir."

Victor turned to look at Eden, and his eyes became soft instantly, "Honey, let's go to the parking lot now."

Eden looked at him with a confused face and then looked at Sandra again. She felt that something was not right.

"Wait a minute. Since Miss Rulin came all the way here, we might as well listen to her before we leave."

"Honey, it's no big deal. We can leave it to Dean."

The more he tried to leave, the more suspicious he looked. "If it's not a big deal, why don't we wait for him to finish it and leave together?" Eden said.

"No, no, Mrs. Alwynn. It's so busy and noisy here, you and Mr. Alwynn should leave first. I will catch up soon."

Looking at Dean's flattering face, Sandra felt even angrier.

However, Eden frowned deeply, didn't want to leave.

Sandra looked at the three of them. Did Eden not know?

Or did she know everything but still act as if she didn't know?

But the Rulin family had no way out already. She had to tell everyone how Alwynn Group had bullied people with its power so that they would not dare to do anything to the Rulin family anymore.

Thinking of this, she put on a pitiful face and looked at Eden, "Mrs. Alwynn, I know it was my fault that morning, but you can't ruin our family because of such a small thing. It's not easy for our family to get where we are today. Please let go of our family." Her voice was much louder than before.

There were more and more people gathered around them now.

Victor frowned. His eyes became colder.

However, hearing her words and see the look on her face, Eden couldn't help but want to laugh.

Dean shook his head with sympathy. This stupid woman really deserved it.

"Miss Rulin, is the small thing you mentioned the one when you sat on my husband's lap and tried to flirt with him in front of me and everyone else?" Eden also said it out loud.

She could accept anything else, but not this one.

It was her husband who Sandra tried to flirt with. How dare she?

Eden was not so generous that she was even able to accept this kind of thing.

Upon hearing her question, Sandra completely lost her words.

She looked a little embarrassed now as there were more and more people gathered around. She was also a little flustered. However, she could not see her family go down just because of this thing.

She looked at Eden and said, "Eden, it's all my fault. But you can't ruin the Rulin family because of this."

Victor looked as cold as ice at this moment.

"Get out of here." He said angrily, then pulled Eden's hand and was ready to leave.

However, Eden quickly shook off his hand and looked at him coldly. Then she turned his eyes to Sandra. If Sandra wanted to talk about this in public, then she got nothing to be afraid of.

Now she finally understood from Sandra's words. Victor must have blamed everything on the Rulin family after she had left that day.

"You said it's all your fault, but you didn't even apologize to me. Is this the manner that your family taught you? You stopped me here today so that you could tell everyone that I was such a jealous woman that I didn't even understand my husband, right?"

Eden was totally right, so Sandra smiled and said, "It's normal for men to play around, isn't it?"

Hearing this, Eden felt that she didn't know what to say.

She took a serious look at Victor and then looked at Sandra again. "I don't know about other men, but my husband will never play around."

However, Sandra didn't seem to be scared at all.

The reason why she had the courage to come here was that she knew Victor didn't push her away that day.

That was why she was so confident.

Hearing this, Victor's look softened a lot. It made him feel much better to know that his wife trusted him.

Sandra glanced at Victor. She didn't believe that Victor could refuse another woman. He didn't even push her away that day when she sat in his arms.

"I think as a woman, a wife, you should let your husband do whatever he wants, right?" Sandra was bolder as she saw Victor didn't speak.

The words she said were getting worse and worse.

Dean shook his head again. It seemed that Sandra didn't listen to him at all.

At this moment, Eden really couldn't help but burst into laughter.

She laughed too fiercely, nearly fell over.

Victor pulled her into his arms quickly.

Eden calmed herself down and then looked at Sandra.

"Miss Rulin, I admire your courage and your confidence. However, you will never have the chance to get close to my husband."

Eden finished her words proudly and confidently, then turned around and walked away.

Victor still put his arm around her shoulders and protected her carefully.

He did not say a word from beginning to end. He just looked at her the whole time.

Chapter 1264

However, Sandra would not let her go so easily. She clearly heard what Dean said. Instead of begging Eden, she would rather let everyone know what Alwynn Group did so that they would not dare to do anything anymore.

She could also ruin Eden's reputation. There was nothing she worried about anyway.

"Eden, don't go. Let's make it clear here. I am the one who has offended you, not my family. Why are you doing this to my family?" Sandra took a few steps and blocked in front of Eden.

There were some reporters around them already. This kind of breaking news was not very easy to see. Victor's mistress was fighting with Victor's wife, this would surely blow the whole internet up.

The reporters would never miss this. The onlookers around them also began to take pictures with their phones.

Hearing this, Dean was also a little angry. He finally understood what this shameless woman wanted to do. She wanted to ruin Eden.

He hadn't been in Alwynn Group for a long time, but Mr. and Mrs. Alwynn both had been treating him well.

He wasn't from a rich family, so Victor didn't choose him for no reason.

He had always been a very grateful person.

So he would never forget how much Victor had helped him.

He walked to Sandra with a cold face and said, "Miss Rulin, you should stop now..."

"Dean, get out of my way. You are just an assistant. It's none of your business." Sandra lost her patience and said in a harsh tone. She was almost driven crazy by her father in the past two days.

Now that she saw Eden, she felt she was filled with anger.

The look on Dean's face turned cold. He knew that Sandra had always been looking down on him. "I'm sorry, Miss Rulin. I didn't mean to interfere at all. I'm working for Alwynn Group, and you are now stopping my boss and his wife. So it is my job to stop you, otherwise, I'm afraid I'll lose my job."

"You can always find another job," Sandra said as she looked at Dean. It would be more convenient for her if he left.

"You don't have the right to ask me to leave," Dean said in a much colder tone.

Hearing this, Eden knew that they wouldn't be able to leave for a while.

Victor could see the impatience in Eden's eyes. She never liked to argue with others. She had always been a kind person, so she always tried to avoid any argument.

But the business world was like a battlefield. It was not that Victor was being despicable, but that the Rulin family would sooner or later go down even though he didn't buy their business.

"Dean, make sure you finish the buying process as quickly as possible. I gave you three days when I left. Today is the last day." Victor's gloomy eyes fell on Dean, and he had never looked at Sandra from beginning to end.

"Yes, Mr. Alwynn. It's nearly done." Dean rejoiced in his heart. It showed that his hard work for the past two days was totally worth it.

Thank god that he did not feel sorry for the woman in front of him.

And most of the Rulin family's shareholders were fence-sitters anyway.

Sandra was shocked. Was Victor really not afraid that the rumor would destroy Alwynn Group?

This was too much for her.

At this point, Eden finally understood what was going on.

But she did not say anything. She would sympathize with Sandra if it was before, but she learned from her father that things in this business world could be crueler than that on the battlefield.

Her father had told her that he had gone through a lot of hardship and suffered a lot before so that he could be where he was now.

As he said, he learned a lot more from the mistakes that he had made before.

All the efforts he put into, made today's Symantec Group.

At this moment, Eden finally realized that she was not that naive girl before.

She grew up a lot in recent years, and everything she had been through made her stronger.

Just as his father said, the more pain she felt, the faster she would grow.

"No, Mr. Alwynn, I really didn't do it on purpose that day. You didn't even say anything that day. Mr. Alwynn, please, I will do anything you ask me to." When talking to Victor, Sandra looked so pitiful and gentle.

Seeing this, Eden's face turned even colder.

She felt Sandra was really not smart.

She didn't understand Victor at all. When Victor didn't speak, that meant he was fuming.

Was she really that confident that she could do anything Victor asked her to?

At this moment, Dean felt more at ease in his heart.

Fortunately, he did not listen to Sandra's suggestion. Otherwise, he would have lost his job already.

Everyone around them started looking at Sandra differently after hearing the conversation.

Those who had sympathized with her earlier also changed their minds after figuring out what had happened.

No matter what, she shouldn't flirt with anyone's husband. Surely no woman would be alright with this behavior.

"Really?" Victor said indifferently with his cold tone.

"Yes, Mr. Alwynn." Seeing that Victor finally answered her, Sandra immediately put on a sweet smile.

However, Victor's face suddenly changed, and shouted out loudly, "Get out of here then!"

Everyone around them was shocked by this voice.

Sandra was totally stunned. She thought that she finally got him on her side.

"Honey, let's go." Victor held Eden and walked towards the exit.

Eden did not say much and left with him.

Dean stayed where he was and kept an eye on Sandra. He was worried that she would run after them again. He knew that Victor had already lost his patience.

However, Sandra seemed to have learned her lesson this time.

She turned to Dean and asked, "Dean, did I do something wrong?"

Dean didn't know what to say. After all, none of these had anything to do with him.

"Miss Rulin, you are asking the wrong guy," he answered expressionlessly.

"Why are you talking to me like this?" Sandra looked at him, and her eyes turned red.

Victor's harsh words made her feel so upset now.

Seeing that Victor and Eden had gone, Dean also walked off quickly, leaving Sandra standing behind him on her own.

She finally couldn't hold back her emotion anymore.

Tears streams down her cheeks.

She really didn't know what she should do now.

Nothing really went as she planned. She expected Eden to lose her temper and go mad at Victor there.

However, nothing happened as she imagined.

Her assistant sighed. "Miss Rulin, you should have listened to Dean."

Chapter 1265

"Shut up. If I had listened to him, I would have done it long ago." Sandra did not regret it at all.

After what happened just now, she believed that it would more or less damage Eden's reputation.

She didn't say it clearly, but the media must have figured it out.

"Let's go. We will wait and see." Sandra smiled coldly. She did not believe that she couldn't take Eden down.

Her assistant shook her head helplessly and walked after her. It seemed that she could start looking for a new job after this.

When they walked through the crowd, people were all talking about them, but Sandra did not seem to care at all.

Eden and Victor also returned to their car, but Eden had not said anything to him.

Victor knew she was angry. He finally made up with her. Now everything was ruined by that woman.

"Eden."

Eden glanced at him indifferently. He immediately stopped.

"Honey....."

"Stop it." Eden did not want to speak. She lowered her head and her fair skin was glowing under the lights. She looked very attractive, however, she was different from before. She looked more mature and charming now.

Victor looked at her quietly, wondering if he had spoiled her too much.

"Honey, don't be angry."

Eden said, "Why should I be angry?" She had been angry for the past few days. She really had enough of it.

And there was no need to be angry with such a person anymore.

Hearing this, Victor finally relaxed. He had always been very patient with her.

"Eden, let's have dinner first before we go back. Shall we go to River City Restaurant?"

"Alright, I am quite hungry now." Eden lowered her head. She was actually a little angry earlier, but she was fine now.

She knew there would always be those women who wanted to come close to Victor.

It would be so tiring for her if she wanted to kick every single one of them out.

Thinking of this, she took out her phone and called Zaiden. From tomorrow on, she would be in charge of Dorothy's case.

Zaiden was very happy to hear that his daughter finally was willing to take the first step.

After hanging up the phone, Eden remained silent.

Victor looked at her a couple of times, but she still didn't want to talk to her at all.

"Eden, didn't we agree not to get angry?" Victor said with a small voice.

Eden thought about it, feeling that she had to make it clear before she started her busy work. Otherwise, there would be many other women coming to her like today.

She looked at Victor seriously and said, "Victor, the winter design works have already been finished, so I won't have too many things to do in the near future. I'll start designing the spring products next month, and I will still be responsible for Monroe Group's case. Therefore, I need to set up a family rule now.

Firstly, you must get home before 11 o'clock every day. Secondly, you must have at least one day on weekends to spend time with the children and our mom. Thirdly, don't let me find out that you have an intimate relationship with any other woman, otherwise, I won't forgive you next time."

Victor nodded hurriedly. "Honey, don't worry. I will keep my promise."

Eden nodded with satisfaction. She never needed to worry about anything else as he was such a good man.

Normally he would only go out with his friends and have a couple of drinks.

Even his clients knew that he didn't like spending too much time on social and alcohol.

At this time, Dean finally caught up and sat in the car. As soon as he sat in, he saw Victor nodding fiercely. He knew exactly what happened without even asking.

Seeing that Dean came, Eden didn't say anything else.

"Dean, Amelia has resigned. Please post the vacancy online and look for another assistant for me. If Amelia comes back one day and still wants to keep this job, we will arrange it by then." She felt she would miss Amelia so much.

"Yes, Mrs. Alwynn." Even Dean felt sad that Amelia had left. She was such a nice girl, no one wouldn't feel sad knowing that she had resigned.

However, Amelia and Lucian must be the people who suffered the most at the moment.

Victor said to Dean lightly, "Go to the River City Restaurant. After that, we will go straight to the company."

"Yes, Mr. Alwynn. By the way, Mr. Ronen did not go to work today." Dean said whilst driving the car out.

Victor nodded. "Never mind. We should give him some time. He is a sensible person, so he will be fine after a few days."

Thinking of this, Eden frowned. She remembered that Amelia's phone was still turned off this morning when she tried to call her.

She said faintly, "If a person really wants to avoid you, then you will never find her."

Hearing this, Victor's heart tightened slightly. When these words came out of her mouth, he felt a little flustered somehow.

If she tried to avoid him, he would definitely be crazy.

Fortunately, they had made peace this time.

"Honey, you can't do this to me. I can't live without you anymore."

Eden was speechless.

Dean was also speechless. His hand, which was holding the steering wheel, shook a little when he heard this. He never knew that Mr. Alwynn could also say something like this.

Eden smiled, "If we got to this point, I'm afraid that you really wouldn't find me. Don't worry, I'm not a child. I won't do this to you unless you don't love me anymore."

"Honey, I only love you in my life. You are my whole world." After that, in order to prove himself, he quickly bowed his head and kissed her lips heavily.

Eden was shocked. When she realized that Dean was still in the car, her face flushed red.

Dean quickly glanced at the rearview mirror and felt the scene had already blinded him.

It was too much for him to take in now.

.....

Within a few minutes, the thing that happened at the airport had already spread out online.

In Melissa's office.

She looked at the news and smiled faintly.

Then she picked up the phone and called someone.

"Hello?" The man's voice was a little hoarse.

"Things have been doing well these few days. When you came to me, I agreed without any hesitation. It seemed that Eden still cares about Victor very much. Why don't we take the next step now?" Melissa said with a vicious smile. She was staring at the computer whilst speaking.

"Why are you so impatient? No wonder you couldn't win Eden. You have to be very patient if you want to take Victor down. Do as I say and you will get what you want one day."

Chapter 1266

Melissa wasn't angry at all. Instead, she smiled and said, "Alright. We are on the same boat anyway. As long as we can pull them apart, I will do whatever you ask me to."

The other side said, "You are right. We share the same goal anyway, that's what draws us together. I'll tell you Victor's schedule later, and you ask someone to go find him, then upload those videos online. Eden can't stand Victor's betrayal again and again."

"Okay, I will do. Keep in touch." Melissa smiled and hung up the phone.

She was so happy that she could get what she wanted through other people's hands.

This time, no matter how powerful Victor was, he would not be able to trace her.

She was too stupid before that she totally underestimated Victor.

He was really a person who could make people suffer if anyone tried to make trouble for him.

Now, she finally found a person who she could work with, so she could easily get out of it if she needed to. She didn't want to give up so easily yet. She had to make Victor kneel down in front of her.

Melissa continued to read the news. She had to admit that all the journalists had a great imagination. Just based on Sandra's unclear words at the airport, they already made a whole story.

It said that Eden found out Victor's mistress, so she wanted to buy the company of the mistress's family because she was jealous.

There were many people accusing Eden of being heartless online.

And there were also many people who sympathized with her, saying that it was not easy to marry a rich and famous guy.

There were also some people who were more interested in what was going on between Victor and Eden.

Many people said that they had fallen apart a long time ago because Eden was actually a very shallow person. They also dug out Eden's background, saying that no wonder she was like this as she grew up in such a weird family environment and even had children before she was married.

However, there were also many people who were on Eden's side and spoke up for her.

At this moment, Eden, who didn't even do anything, was enjoying her meal in the VIP room on the top floor of the River City Restaurant.

She was reading the news whilst Victor was peeling the shrimps for her.

"Eden, open your mouth." Victor handed another shrimp to her mouth when she was reading the comments under the news. She didn't do anything but went on a trip, but now she suddenly became a vicious woman in everyone's eyes.

She glanced at Victor's hand and opened her mouth. After getting the shrimp in her mouth, she quickly bit Victor's finger on purpose.

However, Victor did not feel any pain. He felt as if an electric shock flowing through his whole body all of a sudden, making him feel short of breath.

This feeling made his whole body heat up. Looking at Eden who was sitting there as if nothing happened, he really couldn't hold it anymore.

He asked in a low voice, "Have you finished?"

"Yes!" Eden nodded, but her eyes were still fixed on her phone.

Victor felt a little annoyed. Was he not even as important as her phone?

The more he thought about it, the more annoyed he felt. The feeling in his body did not dissipate at all, instead, it became stronger and stronger. He was surprised that her slight bite on his finger could already make his body like this.

"Eden..." he said in a hoarse voice.

Eden could tell that something was wrong with his voice, so she quickly looked up at him. When she saw the familiar emotion in his eyes, her big bright eyes were wide open and even her lips tightened.

Before she could make a sound, she felt that her body had already been lifted up.

Victor carried her into the room straight away.

"Victor, are you crazy?"

Victor looked at her with grievances. "Why did you flirt with me?"

Eden was a little confused.

When did she even flirt with him?

However, before she could think about anything, Victor had already put her on the bed.

.....

When Eden woke up, the sun had already set.

Hearing the water sound from the bathroom, she felt totally speechless.

Why did this happen all the time?

Why did she always end up falling asleep?

She was planning to go to the company, but now it was already time to finish work.

When Victor came out of the bathroom, he saw that Eden had already woken up and was sitting on the bed, looking very angry.

"Eden, do you want to sleep a little longer?" His voice was still a little hoarse.

Eden rolled her eyes at him. It was already time to have dinner, and she would really be a pig if she continued to sleep.

No one could be more cheesy than him.

"I'm hungry!" She shouted at him.

Victor smiled. "Alright, I'll get you something to eat. You can go take a bath first."

Eden didn't want to move, so she lay back in bed.

At the same time, Victor asked someone to bring some food here immediately before he could dry his hair.

Eden didn't expect that it was already this late when she woke up.

She quickly grabbed her phone and called Amelia again. However, it still showed that her phone was turned off.

She really didn't know what to do. Maybe she changed her number?

Just as she was about to put down her phone, Abigail's call came through.

"Hello, Abby," Eden said weakly.

Hearing her voice Abigail was a little worried. "Eden, Victor that b*stard, after causing so much trouble, he just stood next to you and said nothing? What does he want to do? Don't be upset. That kind of woman is really not worth it."

Her words warmed Eden's heart. She must have seen the news.

If it was before, she would definitely ask Abby to go with her no matter where she went. But now Abby was pregnant, surely she couldn't go anywhere.

"Don't worry about me, Abby. I've learned to get used to it now, so I won't be upset. It's you who should be more careful with your body. Anyway, I've come back already and brought you a beautiful handmade bracelet. You will definitely like it."

"Really? Thank you! I can't wait to see it! But Eden, this time, you shouldn't forgive him easily."

Victor had just sat beside Eden at this time.

Hearing Abby's words, he was a little unhappy.

How could Eden still laugh when someone else talked about her husband like this?

"Alright, Abby, I won't forgive him so easily this time." Eden put on a cheeky smile and looked at Victor.

Victor was speechless. Who the hell told him that an argument would draw a couple closer?

Was he not working hard enough?

Chapter 1267

"Honey, why don't you stick up for me? I am not a toyboy like how she described." Victor did not say it loud, but he said each word clearly. He felt he was being wronged, but the pride in his eyes was still there.

Eden looked at him up and down with her red lips slightly lifted. "You surely are a toyboy, but you are only my toyboy."

She got much bolder than before.

Looking at her smiling face, Victor couldn't feel angry at all. He compromised and said, "Alright then. I will just be your toyboy." He really loved her too much.

He felt as if his whole world lit up as long as he saw the smile on her face.

Eden could not help but laugh. Her gloomy mood had been swept away.

Thinking about last night, she blushed a little.

"Victor, how many times last night?" She asked with a shy face. She really didn't know as she was too exhausted.

Victor knew what she meant, but he felt this question was very difficult. He didn't want to make himself look bad.

His mouth lifted a little and said, "Honey, wasn't it enough?"

Eden glared at him with her blushed face. She knew exactly what he meant.

"You'd better remember it. From now on, if you make me pass out again, I won't let you go so easily."

Hearing this, Victor felt he couldn't agree with her. He really enjoyed doing it, and he couldn't control himself most of the time.

He held her in his arms immediately and said, "Do you really mean it? But I can't say yes, because you turn me on so much every time. I can't resist my desire at all. But I will try not to make you too tired next time." He looked at her pretty face, feeling that he was totally fallen for her.

Eden's face turned even redder. She expected that he would not agree with her.

She actually really enjoyed doing it and enjoyed the way he loved her.

But she really didn't like the feeling of having an aching body the next day. She couldn't even walk fast now.

However, why did she even discuss this matter with him at this time?

She felt the temperature on her face was rising. She reached out and pretended to hit him on the chest, "I don't care. I said no!"

"Ouch!" Victor put on a sad face on purpose and said, "Eden, it hurts!"

Eden knew that he was faking it, but she still felt a little guilty.

However, he instantly put on a smile and said gently. "Have I told you that I really like the way you smile? Your smile is like the warmest sunshine. You totally warmed my heart and my whole world. I can never live without you."

Eden felt so touched. "I know. I know you are trying to give me everything you can. You really make me not able to get angry with you."

"Are you not angry anymore?" Victor asked carefully.

Eden rolled her eyes at him. "I'm not so pathetic. I'll take a shower now, and we should go home after dinner. I haven't seen the children for a few days. I miss them."

After saying this, she got out of bed and put her shoes on, then walking to the bathroom with him watching her in bed.

Victor raised his lips and smiled. He felt that he had never been this happy before. Even though they sometimes argue, he still felt it was the best time ever in his life. It was what a couple should be like.

It turned dark outside, and all the lights were lit.

Lucian was sitting in dark alone in the spacious living room. The light coming in through the window shone on his painful face.

He sat on the floor, looking dispirited and listless. There was a bottle of beer in his hand, which still had half of the beer left.

It had been two days. The girl he loved had left for two days already. He felt as if she had vanished without a trace from his world. He did not know where she had gone and what she had been doing.

She knew he would try his best to find her, so she didn't take a plane or train. She tried her best to avoid him tracking her.

It had only been two days, but he knew in his heart that he probably would never be able to find her if she really didn't want him to.

"Amelia, how can you do this?" Lucian threw the beer bottle to the corner.

At this time, the door was opened.

Victor, Anson, Adonis, Sean, and Brian walked in with some food and beer.

Victor walked in the first, catching Lucian throwing the beer bottle and shouting at Amelia.

He frowned slightly and knew that Lucian was deeply in love with her.

So was Amelia.

She loved him so deeply so that she didn't want to ruin his life.

However, this was such a hard situation, because she would always feel bad no matter she stayed or left.

Neither love nor betrayal in a relationship was the most painful thing. The most painful thing was that the two people loved each other so much but turned to strangers in the end.

Lucian knew that his friends were there, but he did not even look at them. He just kept sitting in the dark quietly.

Adonis walked over and turned on the lights. The spacious living room was instantly lit up. Adonis sat down next to Lucian. Looking at his dispirited expression, Adonis felt his heart ached.

"Hey! You have been drinking the whole night last night, and the whole day today. Are you going to continue doing this tonight?"

Lucian remained silent. He didn't move at all as if he didn't hear anything.

Victor, Anson, Sean, and Brian also sat down.

They all looked at him.

Finally, he slowly looked away and glanced at them one after another.

"What are you doing here? Are you here to laugh at me?" He said sarcastically. Nothing mattered to him anymore since he could not even protect the girl he loved.

However, Amelia surely was more heartless than him.

She could piss him off so easily and then disappeared from his world.

"Lucian, I know that you are in a lot of pain right now. We are not here to laugh at you. We have all been there, so we totally understand how you feel now. We just want to be here with you now." Victor said slowly. Looking at the painful look on his face, he felt very sorry for him in his heart.

Chapter 1268

They grew up together like brothers, so they could not bear to see any of them suffering.

Lucian looked at them and opened another can of beer. He took a sip then asked with a wry smile, "Why do you think women are so cruel? They just leave without a word. She doesn't even want to talk to me. I haven't even heard any news about her. She is so heartless and cruel."

When Amelia was with him, he only felt that she was very suitable for him. She was usually very quiet, and her innocent smile always would melt his heart.

Now, when she had left for two days, he finally realized how much he loved her.

Adonis nodded. "You are so right about it. Women could be much more heartless than men. Taking me as an example. I change girlfriends all the time, nearly every day. Sometimes, I change three girlfriends in one day. But I remember once I bought a girl a cup of mild tea, and she was so angry with me because she asked for a warm one, but I got her an iced one. She smashed the milk tea on me straight away and walked away. I just forgot to tell the waiter. She said that she had her period, so she couldn't have cold things. But how could I know about it? I felt that I didn't do anything wrong, but I ended up being called an inconsiderate guy."

His words made Brian burst into laughter, "Stop being pathetic. Girls all need more love when they are in a relationship. You didn't put any effort into the relationship, so you shouldn't moan about it now. None of them was the right person for you anyway."

Adonis nodded in agreement.

Sean smiled and asked, "Adonis, why haven't I seen you have any girlfriend recently? That's so strange."

Adonis turned his head to the window and looked out as if he had something on his mind.

Then he smiled bitterly and looked at Sean. "I just don't want my future wife to get jealous. I'm thinking that I probably could go on a blind date." He said this lightly, but Candace's innocent and pretty face appeared in my mind.

Anson could tell what he was thinking. He stared at him thoughtfully and said, "Adonis, you look like you're in love. Tell us the truth, who is this?"

Adonis had been like this since the last time he saw him at the party.

Adonis shook his head with a smile. "I am such a casual person who doesn't care about anything, but Miss Aiken is so gentle and quiet. I sometimes feel that I would scare her if I speak a little loudly."

Hearing this, everyone fell silent.

Brian and Victor understood it straight away. It seemed that Adonis had really fallen in love with Candace.

Victor looked at him, knowing that he still wasn't sure about his feelings for her.

"Adonis, you should visit Candace when you are free. If you like her and think she is the right person, you should make a move. Don't always wait for others to make the move first. It doesn't matter if she is the one you like."

Adonis suddenly looked at Victor with displeasure. "I do want to make a move, but she never gave me any chance."

His face was full of grievances. When he was with Candace, he always paid for everything.

At this time, Lucian opened his mouth and scoffed at him, "If she really was that kind of person who gives you a lot of chances on purpose, she would have you fallen into her trap already."

His voice made everyone a little surprised.

But he glanced at everyone calmly and said, "Aren't you guys here to accompany me? Don't you think you would make me even more upset if you kept talking about that?"

Then he picked up his beer and took another sip.

Sean looked at him worriedly. "You are drinking too much. If you get yourself into hospital, how can you find your future wife?"

Lucian looked out of the window at the night sky with a cold face. "Why would I want to find that heartless woman? I've told her before that no matter what difficulties we have in the future, I will always be there with her. But she still left me." The more he talked about it, the angrier he got. He raised the beer can and gulped it down.

He was extremely angry and disappointed at Amelia!

Brian looked at him and said, "She did it for your own good. She knew that it was the best choice for her to leave. Your brother has been looking for her these days. He wants to use Amelia to drive you out of your family business. Moreover, he met all the shareholders of the company last night. The dinner was not finished until midnight. Your father is going to be retired soon, so he starts to make his move now. You have to be careful recently."

His brother was such an evil person, but they couldn't do anything about it yet.

"Humph!" Lucian snorted. "I've made so many preparations over the years. Do you think I'll be afraid of him?"

Brian was still worried. He said, "Although we are fully prepared, you are not familiar with the company's shareholders. Your brother has been winning people's support, so we still have to be very careful."

Victor said, "Don't worry, Alwynn Group is your backer and support. If you need anything, you can come to me at any time."

Lucian looked at him with a grateful smile. He was so glad that he had such good friends who would always back him up.

They knew exactly what each other was thinking even without any words.

Nothing could compare with such friendship they had.

"Victor, thank you. I think really need to use the connections of Alwynn Group." A hint of anger flashed in Lucian's eyes.

He was really clear about what Benson had been planning.

If they really needed to fight, he would not show any mercy.

Victor nodded. He leaned back slightly and said sincerely, "Don't worry, you can use whatever you want. Alwynn Group wouldn't be the same without you anyway."

Brian raised his beer and said, "Victor, cheers for what you said."

Everyone picked up their beer and clinked the can.

All the hardships they experienced made their friendship even more solid.

That night, none of them went home. They all stayed there with Lucian.

Chapter 1269

Three days passed. Lucian was depressed for only three days, and then he totally cheered up.

On the morning of the fourth day, he came to work as usual.

Victor and Eden were worried about him. Amelia seemed to have disappeared from the world, and no trace of her could be found at all.

Brian was an expert in finding people, plus the connections of Alwynn Group, but they still hadn't found anything.

Lucian began to fight back for the family business.

So he had not come back to Alwynn Group since he finished his last day's work.

And his work had totally passed on to Dean.

Dean was worried that he would be too busy, so he posted the recruitment information on their website as soon as Eden said so.

Today, he finally found the right candidate.

It was getting colder and colder, so the heater had already been turned on in Victor's office.

After Victor finished the video conferences held by all the branches, he returned to his office. He suddenly felt a headache when he saw the pile-up documents on his desk.

He had a good time with his wife; therefore, he had to work harder when he was back to work.

He glanced at his wife, who was looking at the document carefully, and smiled. During this period of time, Lucian did not have time to come to the office.

So she had also taken up the affairs of the Monroe Group.

"Honey, I'm back," said Victor, after seeing that Eden didn't notice him.

Eden looked up at him and said casually, "Hey! Did everything go well in the meeting?"

Victor walked to her side and saw that she was reading the case of Monroe Group. She read it very carefully and even marked all the important points in red.

He smiled quietly and went back to work.

Zaiden was worried that she got too much work to do, so he sent a reliable and experienced assistant to help her.

It actually saved a lot of trouble and time for her.

In order to make sure that Victor wouldn't call her every few times, she decided to stay in her old office. She also asked the assistant of Symantec Group, Seth, to come over here to work. They were staying in the office where she and Amelia were in.

It would be easier and more convenient for everyone.

Seth was a very quiet and polite girl. She had a fair-skinned round face, and always wore a pair of black-framed glasses. She always smiled sweetly when she saw Eden, leaving a really good impression on Eden.

She was an orphan and grew up with the support of her father. After graduation, she worked in her father's company.

After getting everything sorted for Seth, Eden returned to her office.

Victor took a look at his watch and realized that it was already time for lunch.

He called the River City Restaurant and asked them to bring some food over.

"Eden, come here," he waved to Eden.

Eden got a glass of hot water and walked over with a smile. "You haven't had a good rest for two nights. Go to rest after lunch. I'll read these documents for you. I'm already very familiar with everything about Alwynn Group in the past few months when you weren't here. I've finished my work anyway."

Victor looked at her in surprise. "Already?"

Eden smiled and nodded. A little pride appeared in her eyes.

Her smile made Victor remember the way she used to glare at him with her big eyes when she was a child. His gaze became gentler.

"I've always been a fast learner. Over the past year, I've been studying every day. I'm glad that I can put my knowledge into practice."

Then she passed the water glass to his hand.

Victor took it and drank some water from it, then put it back on the desk.

He pulled her into his arms and held her tightly.

"Honey, Kenny said something to me this morning before he went to school. He said, 'dad, you are so useless'." Victor said and rubbed his head on her shoulder.

Why didn't Kenny think he was useless? He was so confused and hurt.

Eden couldn't really believe that Kenny would say such a thing.

"Why did he say that?" She blinked curiously.

"It's about what happened in the airport," said Victor.

Hearing this, Eden finally understood. "Haha... he is indeed my son."

"He is also my son," Victor said discontentedly.

"Alright, alright. He is your son too." Eden smiled and stood up, suddenly remembered that she had never asked about the Rulin family's matters.

Sandra's purpose was very simple, which was to ruin her reputation. However, the new year is getting closer, no one would have time to care about rumors. Everyone was focusing on how to get their bonus at the end of the year.

This thing had totally cooled down online only after three days.

Victor stood up, looking very noble and cold. He took her hand and sat on the sofa with her, waiting for lunch to come.

He lay down on the sofa and rested his head on her lap.

Eden knew he had not been sleeping well because of Lucian's thing.

So she gently massaged his head with her soft hands, trying to make him relax.

Victor raised the corner of his mouth comfortably, and soon he felt sleepy.

Half an hour later, their lunch arrived.

Eden woke Victor up and let him have lunch, then she sent him to his room to rest.

But Victor didn't want her to leave. She knew what he was thinking about, so she stayed until he fell asleep, then she went back to work.

She was already very familiar with the work of Alwynn Group.

That was because Victor had triggered her potential in the last seven months when he was away.

She sat on Victor's desk and began to read the documents that Victor hadn't finished earlier.

She was very serious when she was working, and her eyes were also very focused.

At this time, someone knocked on the door.

"Come on in." Eden did not look up when she said it. She stared at the documents for a while, and made a record on the computer, and then folded the documents.

She looked up and saw Dean and a girl were standing in front of her.

Dean smiled and said, "Mrs. Alwynn, isn't Mr. Alwynn here?"

He wondered if his boss had slacked off and left his work to his wife.

Eden smiled and said, "He hasn't been sleeping well recently, so I asked him to rest for a while. I can do his work."

"I see." Dean smiled and nodded. He also wanted such a good wife.

He smiled, then introduced the girl next to him to Eden. "Mrs. Alwynn, this is the new assistant we hired, Paula Koch. Paula, this is the design director of Alwynn Group, Eden Bleu, and she is also the wife of our president."

Paula carefully looked at Eden for a while.

And Eden already recognized who she was.

They went to the same high school before, and she was the most popular girl at school. No wonder Eden felt she was so familiar when she first saw her earlier.

Paula was still very beautiful. Her skin was so smooth and fair, like fine porcelain, glowing in the sunlight. On her exquisite face, her pink cheeks made her whole face look so much younger, also accentuated her sparkling big eyes.

No wonder she was the most popular girl at school before.

She was wearing a pair of tight jeans from C.Y and a checked blazer, looking smart and fashionable.

Chapter 1270

Paula was wearing everything produced by Alwynn Group on her body.

The relationship between Eden and Paula, to be honest, was not very good.

Myra used to bully Eden at that time, and under Myra's lead, Paula was not nice to her either. They used to bully her together in high school.

But the world was so small. A few years later, they met again. She didn't want to meet any of her classmates from middle school, high school, and even college. They would only remind her of the sad memories she tried hard to forget.

"Eden, you must be Cyan Gienger, right?" Paula looked excitedly at Eden.

Dean smiled. "Paula, our Mrs. Alwynn's maiden name is Bleu."

Paula smiled nonchalantly. "Dean, Cyan and I were classmates in high school. She was the best student in our class. At that time, her name was Cyan Gienger."

Eden did not say anything. Her name had not been changed on her ID anyway.

That day, when her father took her to change her household registration book, she was the eldest daughter, Laura Lester.

If one were to discuss her surname, her current surname was Lester.

At that time, she did not know that she was actually the daughter of the Clement family.

"Oh, that's such a coincidence." Dean smiled. Seeing that Eden didn't say anything, eighter was she excited when she met her classmate, he felt a little nervous. Didn't Eden like her?

"Mrs. Alwynn, her office..."

Eden looked up at Dean, then looked at Paula who was smiling and looking at herself. "There is an empty office next to Seth's office, Paula can work there. Keep Amelia's desk for her. She likes this job.

There is some projects progress on Amelia's desk, please show it to Paula and share my request with her as well. There's no work for her today. The main thing is to get familiar with everything."

"Yes, Mrs. Alwynn." Dean smiled and nodded.

"Paula, come out with me. Let me show you your office and your work schedule."

Paula nodded and looked at Eden again. Eden was totally different from before. She was very beautiful and confident now. And she even became the Design Director of Alwynn Group, and also the president's wife.

That once unremarkable Cyan had truly grown into a successful woman.

This was really beyond her expectation. Back then, she was the most popular girl at school, so she thought she would have a brighter future than everyone else. But after so many years, even the girl who was bullied by them lived a better life than her.

She followed Dean all the way to Amelia's desk with a smile.

She asked curiously, "Dean, why could the previous assistant work here but not me?"

Dean smiled and said, "I don't really know either. Amelia, the previous assistant, was working here before I came. The president didn't agree at the beginning, but Mrs. Alwynn felt it was more convenient like this, so Amelia stayed here."

"I see." Paula glanced at the huge office, feeling that her dream had finally come true.

However, she still had not seen Victor yet, the legendary man in everyone's mind.

Now she could see him every day.

Then Dean took Paula to her office. This office was not very big, but it was more than enough for her as she would be there on her own.

But Paula didn't seem to be very happy, however, she didn't show it.

Dean pointed to the desk and said, "You got everything here. You can clean it yourself."

Also, I have three things to tell you. Firstly, if you have to go to the president's office, you will have to make sure that Mrs. Alwynn is inside. Secondly, you are only responsible for assisting Mrs. Alwynn's work.

Thirdly, Mrs. Alwynn has just recovered from an injury, so she still needs more rest. If she is having a nap, you can't go in no matter what happens."

All these rules made Paula shock.

Seeing her confused face, Dean smiled. "These are actually the new rules that were set by our president yesterday morning. Mrs. Alwynn doesn't even know these rules. You and the other assistant next door have to abide by these three rules." Victor only worried that the rumors would provoke his wife again.

Dean felt he had never seen any other man who could be as thoughtful as his president.

"Also, Mrs. Alwynn doesn't drink coffee. She only drinks light green tea. You don't have to worry about her meals because the president will handle them in person. Have you written all these down?"

Paula nodded with an envious look on her face. "Yes."

But Dean hadn't finished yet. "You and the other assistant next door are both Mrs. Alwynn's assistants. Mrs. Alwynn has a lot of work to do, so you'd better double-check all the documents before you pass them on. You'd better be careful because Mrs. Alwynn is very strict."

"Okay!" Paula nodded obediently.

"Ok, I will leave you to it now. Mr. Ronen is not coming to work recently, so you should get familiar with everything as soon as possible because we will be really busy soon." After saying that, without waiting for Paula's reply, Dean immediately turned around and went out. He was really too busy.

Paula put the documents on the table. Instead of hurrying to work, she was intoxicated for a long time, then she called all her friends and shared the good news that she had got a job at Alwynn Group.

"Jodie, I finally got a job at Alwynn Group. Do you know who my director is? It's Cyan Gienger! I can't believe how much she had changed! I remember she was really a good-for-nothing when we were at school."

"Really? You have to be careful then, in case she will make things difficult for you. You and Myra used to bully her, so she probably still hates you."

"I dare her! What's more, she is quite pretty now, and looks totally different from before." Paula said with some jealousy.

"You're thinking too much. She is still the same person no matter how much she changed. Anyway, now you got a job at Alwynn Group, not like us who are still earning such a little money a month. You can't forget about me. I'm waiting for you to introduce a better job for me there."

"Sure, that wouldn't be a problem at all. Alright, I need to call someone else. See you."

After Paula hung up the phone, she immediately called someone else.

After Paula and Dean left, Eden couldn't concentrate on her work anymore.

She sat there quietly and couldn't read a single word.

The memories of high school started to appear in front of her eyes. Paula, Jodie, Diane, and Ivan, used to be good friends with Myra. Myra was the richest kid in town, so everyone liked to hang out with her.

And they all liked to bully Eden. Eden still remembered on a winter morning, the four of them poured cold water on her as soon as she entered the school. The temperature was below zero, and she had no time to go back home to change her clothes. She was sick for many days after that.
