

Gluey Love 1321

Chapter 1321

Dean laughed and said, "I'm not afraid to offend you at all. For someone like you, I really doubt how exactly you've come through all these years. In addition to the fact that you can dress up, your work is also particularly not serious. How old are you? Why don't you work hard?"

Paula looked at him in amazement. What's wrong with him? What did her life have to do with him?

"Dean, I warn you. You're getting personal." Paula had an angry look on her face because she was getting upset over it.

Dean didn't take her anger seriously, "As long as you don't target Mrs. Alwynn. Our lady is really serious about her work, and you are really trying hard to be scheming."

"I... I didn't..." Paula blushed. When she first joined the company, she did want to seduce Victor.

But after learning more about it, she realized she didn't have a chance, so she dismissed the idea.

Besides, there was no woman who would not like a man as handsome and unforgettable as Victor.

Dean looked ahead and said in a slightly cold tone, "Paula, after something has been said, we can't work together in the future. So I won't say it clearly. By the way, I forgot to tell you that there are security cameras in every corner of the twenty-fifth floor. You should avoid it when you smoke."

"What?" Paula was extremely shocked. "Does the toilet also have one?" She had the habit of smoking, but she was very secretive and very few people knew about it.

She picked up this bad habit in high school and couldn't quit.

Usually, she did not smoke in her office, but in the fire lane or toilet.

"Of course not, but there are in every corner except the toilet. I heard that Mrs. Alwynn is preparing for pregnancy. The president has developed a good habit that he has to go home to rest before 11 o'clock. If you let them know that you are smoking, I think you would be fired."

Paula opened her mouth wide in shock and asked with an incredulous expression, "They have three children already. Are they still going to give birth?"

Dean smiled and glanced at her. "Who cares about the number of children in a rich family? And those three outstanding kids are triplets. They're just getting ready for their second pregnancy now."

Dean liked children.

He grew up in a single-parent family. Only his mother lived with him. He felt very lonely. When he married a wife in the future, he actually wanted to have more children. It's nice to have a family.

Paula smiled and did not say anything.

Second pregnancy?

Now there were a few women who dared to have a second child. She can't even afford herself anymore. Not to mention the baby, she didn't even know where her boyfriend was?

"Eden is so amazing!" Paula taunted.

Dean stopped talking and focused on driving.

When Eden arrived home, she received a call from Jason.

Jason told her that Jasper had woken up. He had fainted because he had not rested well during this period of time and he was fine now.

Eden was relieved when she heard that.

The children had already been out of school, and Ricky went to the filming site.

Kenny was no longer in the living room. Only Gia was doing her homework.

Her mom went shopping with Mary.

"Gia, dad is back." As soon as Victor saw his daughter, his face was full of doting.

Giada looked up to see that today dad and mom were actually off work so early.

She was a little incredulous, "Mom, aren't you sure you're not looking at the wrong time?"

Eden and Victor looked at each other with guilt in their eyes.

Eden smiled and said, "Baby, I'm sorry. Mom and Dad have been too busy recently to accompany you."

Giada smiled and shook her head. "Mom, you don't have to apologize. We know that you're busy."

"Where is your brother?" Eden asked.

Giada pointed upstairs. "He goes back to his room to do homework every day and only come down when it's time to eat."

Eden said. "I'll go check on Kenny."

During this time, Kenny had been focused on the computer, and he would only come downstairs when he had dinner.

Giada nodded and continued to do her homework.

Victor took off his jacket and sat next to his daughter, watching her doing homework.

Gia's handwriting was beautiful and neat, and all three of these kids had a habit of doing their best.

This was really a good habit, and they were very serious when they did their homework.

"Gia, do you know how to do all these homework?"

Giada nodded and didn't look at him. Instead, she wrote down the answer and said, "Dad, just pay attention in class and look at the examples, and you'll know how to do it. We're only in third grade, so these are pretty easy for us." But it was also because the three of them were very smart.

Giada suddenly smiled and looked up at her father. "Dad, who do you think is the best in our class?"

Victor thought for a moment, "Your eldest brother. Isn't your teacher often praising him?"

Giada looked at him with displeasure. "The teacher also praises Ricky and me. But you never praise us. You're just as biased towards Kenny as mom."

Victor felt that he really had no say in front of the three children.

As long as he mentioned Kenny, he became a biased father.

"Gia, you wronged me. Dad treats you equally." Victor couldn't help rubbing his little princess's head. She really made him sad with this idea.

Giada said in disbelief, "Dad, don't bully me for being young, okay? You and mom do care more about Kenny. In fact, not only you guys, Ricky and I also care about him. I found out that he has no friends and always feels that he is quite lonely."

Victor was warmed by her words.

This little girl was actually quite thoughtful.

Eden went upstairs and knocked on her son's door. There was no response.

Eden knocked on the door again, but there was still no response. So she opened the door gently and went in. Kenny was focused on his computer. She knocked twice on the door and he didn't even hear her, so it was clear how focused he was.

She gingerly walked over and looked at the computer screen, where some red and green curves appeared, with a triangular red dot in the middle.

Kenny's little hands were working quickly on the keyboard, and a set of data that Eden could not understand was entered by him.

Eden could see that her son's face was serious as if he had encountered a problem.

Eden had never seen her son so nervous.

Chapter 1322

Eden thought about it and did not dare to disturb her son. Usually, when she came in, Kenny would especially turn off the computer screen. Since she knew what her son was doing, he didn't avoid it anymore.

Eden had just reached the door.

Kenny suddenly said, "Mom."

Eden turned around with a smile and looked at her son with a doting gaze. "Baby, did I disturb you?"

Kenneth smiled and shook his head. "No, mom, it's all over."

Eden thought of his serious expression and was slightly confused. She just left a few steps, and he solved the problem well. Her son's so smart!

She and Victor really had excellent genes to give birth to such an intelligent son.

Kenny looked at his mother's shocked expression and smiled slightly. "Mom, why are you back so early today?"

Eden turned around and said softly, "Kenny, I feel very guilty for not being with you. So today I came back a little early from work to keep you guys company. Tell mommy, what do you want to eat tonight? Mom will make it for you."

Kenneth was happy to hear his mother's gentle voice. He thought for a moment, "Mom, let's go to KFC. We haven't gone to KFC together yet."

"KFC?" Eden frowned slightly. High-calorie foods can easily give children sore throats.

But looking at her son's expectant eyes, she couldn't help but nod her head.

"Okay, let's go now." Eden looked at the time. They would arrive at the KFC at 4:30. And they could arrived home after dinner just around 6:00, so they could take them for a walk together.

"Thank you, mom!" Kenny got up and kissed on her mother's cheek shyly.

He had never done such a thing in front of Ricky and Gia.

But his mom was the one he loved the most. Occasionally, he wanted to be closer to his mom.

Eden was happy inside. Her Kenny was rarely as close to her as Ricky was. He was so sensible that it made her heart ache.

Eden went to the wardrobe to put on a down jacket for him.

As she zipped him up, she admonished, "Kenny, it's getting cold lately, so wear more when you go to school."

"Okay, mom, I will take care of myself." Kenny smiled and went to wear shoes.

They went downstairs together.

Victor looked up at them and said with a smile, "You guys are wearing down jackets. Do we have an event tonight?"

Giada also looked up at Kenny with interest. It was rare for her eldest brother to come down so early today.

Eden smiled and nodded. "Kenny said that he wants to go to KFC."

Victor frowned and couldn't believe that the normally serious boy wanted to go to KFC.

Kenneth watched his dad frown and he raised his eyebrows and asked with a smile, "Dad, don't you want to go?"

Victor recalled Eden's words. Kenny was a little strange these days.

He also felt that it was a little strange. His son, who had never been a smiling man, actually smiled at him today.

But why was his son's smile so strange?

"Why not?" Victor nodded quickly and looked at Gia. "Is our little princess going?"

Giada nodded happily and said, "Mom only allows us to go to KFC once or twice a year at most. Today mom said she would take us to eat it. How can I refuse?"

Victor was shocked by the fact that the kids only get to eat KFC twice a year.

"Gia, that is unhealthy food."

Giada's face was full of disdain. "Dad, we're going to eat such delicious food even when it's unhealthy. Wait for me to change my clothes. I still have a little bit of homework left, but I can finish it afterwards."

Victor would like to remind his beauty-loving daughter that she will gain weight.

But he didn't dare to say anything. He was afraid of making his daughter unhappy. Recently, Kenny always looked down on him.

He knew why, but he also felt quite wronged. The b*stard who targeted him hadn't been found yet.

Eden said, "Victor, go and change your clothes."

"Yes!" Victor glanced at Kenny who was still looking at him with a smile, seemingly a little mocking and a little proud.

He hadn't seen Kenny's expression like that in a long time. He was sure the kid had something in mind, just like Eden had said.

Victor went back to his room to change into casual clothes with confusion and took them out.

They arrived at the KFC restaurant. After ordering, Eden took Gia to the toilet.

Kenny looked around. It was still early and there were not many people here. He glanced at his father and saw him looking down at his mobile phone.

He knew that his father's acquisition of the Rulin family had been settled and he was sorting out the shares of the Rulin family.

"Dad, do you know who the president of R. K Group is?" He had been busy with this recently.

The stock market was always unpredictable. Even if the Rulin family was not acquired by his father, the R.K company also had an intention to acquire it. Dad was lucky to be one step ahead of them.

Recently, he rarely went downstairs. He also knew the reason why his mother came back early today. She was attentive and worried that he would be lonely because of this quiet personality. To be honest, there was very few people who cared about his feelings except his mom.

In order not to let his mother worry, he proposed to go to KFC. In fact, he didn't like eating these things, but he also wanted to do something that they have never done as a family. They rarely get together to share food as a family.

Their family had not come to KFC together, although without Ricky, but he still felt very warm and happy.

Victor slowly put down his mobile phone. Brian investigated for half a month and did not find out who the president of R. K Group was. Did Kenny find out?

"Kenny, do you know who he is?" Victor looked at his son in surprise.

Kenny nodded. His father might be in big trouble, because his rival came aggressively.

"Well! The president of R. K Group. is Irving Matthews." Kenny looked at his father with a smile. He investigated carefully and found out that this man was a high school classmate of his mother.

He came aggressively, and it was highly likely that he wanted to capture the A Country and River City markets

Hearing the name Irving, Victor felt a little familiar.

"When have I heard it before?" He frowned and pondered.

Kenny asked, "Dad, have you heard of this name?"

Victor nodded. "I seem to have heard this name recently, but I can't remember when I've heard it."

Victor frowned, and his expression was angrily jealous, "Kenny, do you know something?"

Chapter 1323

Before Kenny could speak, he remembered that he had heard Paula and Eden's conversation at the club today.

Irving, a high school classmate of Eden who had liked her for three years, had not married because of her.

What a great love! But why did it bother him so much?

Victor's face was full of jealousy. It couldn't be that Irving, right?

Kenneth smirked as it seemed that his dad knew him. He was shocked when he found out about this man. However, this man was a bad guy and was not worthy of his mother even if without his dad.

The battle between his father and him would probably last for a long time. This man was also very powerful.

"Dad, he is my mom's classmate in high school. According to the current situation, he wants to occupy the market of River City, and his financial power is comparable to yours. As for the reason why he did this, I also found out a few things. He has liked mom for many years, but she seems to have no impression of him."

This was the secret he found in the computer of the president of the R. K Group.

He had a lot of information about her mother.

Victor laughed and thought of his wife's reaction during the day. Kenny was right. Eden didn't remember who he was at all.

She was also taunted by Paula for it.

However, had Paula ever bullied Eden?

Eden was very unhappy when she saw Paula. That day, she went to the rooftop alone to blow the cold wind.

It seemed that Paula was not a good person.

"Kenny, even if we are equally matched, your dad will not let your mother get snatched away." Victor said in a domineering way.

Jasper gave up, and here came another Irving.

He knew that there were a lot of people who coveted his wife who could receive love letters every day in high school and in college. There were also many love rivals for him now.

Victor could not help but be jealous when he thought he would face many future rivals.

He would defeat anyone who coveted his wife.

Then see who still dare to covet his Victor's woman.

However, dealing with such a person should quickly dismantle his strength to make him give up a little faster. Anyone who wanted to take over the River City market would have to ask his permission first.

He and his wife were preparing to have another child, and he could not let others affect their relationship at this time.

Kenny leaned slightly against the chair and said with some underestimation and distrust. "Dad, you'd better have faith. This time your opponent is not Uncle Joye who really loves mom and doesn't want her to be upset. Irving is different. He hates out of love, and with his competitive nature, he won't be as accommodating as Uncle Joye is to mom.

Those two are simply not on the same level. This time he has been slowly investing in River City, and frankly, he wants to avenge his years of love. And his company has illegal projects. The investment is for money laundering."

Hearing this, Victor narrowed his eyes with a confident smile on his face.

"Kenny, according to what you said, the winner has been decided long ago. Seeing that you're not worried at all, Dad is relieved."

Kenneth frowned. Was he a competent husband? How could he say such a thing?

He lowered his eyes slightly and was very dissatisfied with his father's attitude. Seeing that he was not worried about his mother, he felt relieved. His dad had to be disliked by his mother one day.

"Dad, don't be happy too early. Do you know who his fiancée is?"

Victor said scornfully, "Wasn't he in love with your mom? Why does he have a fiancée?"

Victor's face became gloomy, because Kenny seemed to know the fiancée.

His mother and sister have not returned yet. Kenny smiled elegantly, and his lips were scarlet, like the beautiful fall sunset.

Victor looked at such a handsome son and felt that he and Eden had really given birth to three good-looking children.

Who said that this child was honest? How could his smile be several times more cunning than him?

He was a scheming little devil.

Under the gaze of his father, Kenny picked up the cola and took a sip, then said calmly, "His fiancée is Paulina, who once loved you."

When Victor heard that, he sneered, "Is that kind of person qualified to like your mother? It's insulting your mother. No wonder he doesn't dare to disclose his fiancée and hides behind it like a ghost. It turns out to be a woman who only copies other people's work."

Victor's tone was extremely cold and sarcastic.

It turned out to be the vicious woman, Paulina.

Victor said indifferently with a somber expression, "It seems that these two people are working together and trying to break up your mother and I."

Kenny smiled and nodded, saying silently in his heart, "Dad, you're finally smart for once."

Victor's expression looked a bit cruel. It seemed that he had not taught Paulina enough lessons. After Eden came back, he felt that his means were not as cruel as before.

Kenneth saw his father's rage and stopped talking sensibly.

Today they came home early, so he proposed to come out to eat together just to tell dad about this matter. If it was known by his mother, she would be worried.

No one could bully his mother. Those who bullied his mother would not have a good ending. Even if his dad didn't teach them a lesson, he would do it.

Over the past year, his mother has been busy with work and paid little attention to him, and he has built up his own power, and one day he would gradually become stronger so that he has enough strength to protect his mother.

His mother gave birth to three of them at the best age of her youth, and raised them up with painstaking efforts. He must return the favor to his mom.

"Mom and Gia are back." Kenny glanced outside the door. Through the glass wall, he saw his mother come back with his lively sister and his ever-deep expression turned gentle.

The father and son continued to chat as if nothing had happened.

Victor also knew that his son told him about this matter alone because he did not want his mom to worry.

Eden took so long to come back because she got a call from Melissa.

When she left the company today, she told Melissa to pay attention to Irma.

Irma was indeed suspicious. After she left, Irma sneaked into the fire passageway and called someone.

They were a little far away from each other, so Melissa did not hear what they were talking about. But it was enough to prove that there was something wrong with Irma.

Chapter 1324

After Eden and Gia came back, the set meal had been delivered.

The family of four ate happily as they talked about their daily life.

Not far away, a handsome man in a white suit sat in a black Rolls Royce.

Black hair made him look mysterious. Below his slightly curled eyelashes were a pair of dark eyes, revealing an inscrutable brutality and despotism. His thin lips were smiling slightly, as if he was born to be in control, taking everything into his own hands.

The driver was his assistant, who wore a pair of black-framed eyes and looked well-mannered.

"Mr. Matthews, she is Eden Bleu. The man sitting beside her is her husband, Victor Alwynn. They have a total of three children, triplets."

The man's thin red lips coldly raised a curvature. It had been many years since they last met. She was more beautiful, and her every move was still charming and lovely. He knew she was beautiful back then, but he didn't expect a well-dressed her to be so dazzling, but she was already someone else's wife.

"We will meet tomorrow night at the banquet." The man's voice was filled with a strong sense of jealousy, and his gaze stayed locked on Eden's smiling face, full of anticipation.

Back then, she ignored him. Now, her eyes were bright and moving but she still wasn't looking at him.

A wry smile gradually emerged on his expressionless face.

The next day, Eden was in a good mood.

She wanted to finish her work as soon as possible because she had to attend a banquet tonight.

As soon as Victor arrived at the company, he asked Dean to check the list of the banquet tonight.

He quietly looked up at Eden, who was working hard, and then looked at the list of banquets. Coincidentally, Irving's name was really on it.

Victor searched for information about the president of R. K Group online.

He quickly found the information and found that Irving was a year older than Eden.

Victor pursed his lips. Alright, that man was younger than him, but looked older, which made him feel a little better.

However, the man's appearance and temperament were both so good, and he had a gloomy aura, which could attract the attention of women. At a glance, he could be amazing.

His appearance was also very enchanting.

But...Victor looked at Eden again.

Why didn't his wife remember someone so handsome looking?

In the photo, Irving, dressed in a white handmade shirt and dark suit pants, sat elegantly in his office chair. A faint melancholy between his eyebrows added a bit of attractiveness for him. He was considered to be a very rare beautiful man. His body also looked very attractive.

Women would get addicted to him.

But!

According to his wife's personality, people she didn't care about were not qualified to be remembered by her.

His girl has always been not very easily attracted to handsome men.

"Heh Heh..."

Victor smirked in his heart. He was very handsome, and it was enough for his wife to look at him.

Victor was full of confidence. He was the only one in his wife's eyes.

And Eden was having a hard time with the information Paula sent over. Paula's work was sloppy. It was always wrong.

She ticked off the mistakes with a red pen, and then rearranged them herself. She finally finished the work she had saved up over the past few days.

After finishing the work of Alwynn Group, she continued to watch the cooperation of the Monroe Group.

There was no time to speak to Victor for the whole morning.

Victor looked at his wife, who was busier than him, and felt very depressed.

Can they still have a date?

His wife had already missed two appointments with him.

Victor was in a bad mood.

What's more, he would meet Irving at the banquet tonight, which made him feel even worse.

His wife's flawless little face was really attractive. She was pure and charming. He was mesmerized every time he looked at her.

The more Victor thought about it, the more sullen he felt. When it was time for lunch, Victor picked up his phone and ordered lunch.

After he ordered lunch, Eden hadn't finished her work. Victor pursed his lips slightly. He actually wanted to ask her if she knew this man.

But he hesitated. What if Eden recognized him?

Victor was a little confused and spent this morning thinking about this matter.

Ah...

Victor was a little crazy. Their children were almost grown up, so how could he still meet a love rival?

Finally, Eden raised her head and stretched. She tilted her head and looked at Victor with a bright smile, "Honey, I'm hungry."

Her gentle and coquettish voice made Victor's bad mood disappeared instantly.

He coaxed her softly, "Eden, lunch will be here soon. You could get some rest."

"Well, I'm going for a walk." Eden picked up the file on the desk and went out to see Paula.

Paula was looking at the annual report at this time. Since she heard what Dean said yesterday, she thought for a whole night and decided to work hard to keep Dean from underestimating her, and Eden from firing her.

Eden pushed the door in and saw that Paula was working seriously. She smiled. "Oh! Paula, are you working hard?"

Paula heard Eden's voice, looked up and saw the information in her hand. She swallowed nervously. "Did I make a mistake again?"

Eden sneered, "Are you that confident that you're doing a good job all the time? No mistakes at all?"

Paula pursed her lips and was a little sad because of Eden's sneer, "Can't you give me encouragement? I've worked hard for two years to get here to work, and I'm trying to do a good job."

Eden nodded. "You have indeed worked hard. Today's mistakes are not as much as yesterday's. However, Paula, do you really want this job?"

Paula nodded hurriedly. "It's my dream to work here."

Eden put the documents on the table and reminded her, "Apologize to me for how many times you bullied me during the three years of high school."

Paula was stunned, suddenly realizing that after all these years, she had never apologized to Eden for what happened back then.

"Eden, do you want an apology for every bully? Wouldn't you go too far? How do I know how many times?"

Eden sneered. When she saw how reluctant Paula was, she felt even more displeased. She was not a particularly vindictive person, and this did not mean that she did not hold a grudge.

It was inevitable that they would always meet after working together, but as soon as she saw this woman, she would think back to the past.

In order to be able to work well, she had to get this matter settled first.

Otherwise, she would feel very uncomfortable.

"Do I go too far? What do you think my husband will do when he finds out about this? Do you think you still have a chance to work in River City?"

Eden looked at her with a heavy gaze. "Paula, you will know how many times you bully me by counting the number of days in a semester. That's also the number of times you should apologize."

Paula realized she was serious.

One of the two of them had to compromise on the issue of apologizing.

"Eden, I was young and ignorant at that time. We really couldn't help it. It is Myra who should be blamed. She was the culprit."

If Myra hadn't ordered them with money back then, they wouldn't have treated Eden that way.

After all, their pocket money at that time was really not much, a few dozen dollars a week. But Myra had more than a thousand dollars a week in pocket money. All of their snacks, cosmetics and nice clothes were given by Myra.

For their age, these things were really too tempting.

Eden glared at her angrily. "You're still so stubborn." She turned around and left.

Paula has always been very arrogant so Eden knew that she wouldn't apologize easily. But it didn't matter. How she bullied her back then, she would bully her back now. Anyway, life was quite boring, wasn't it?

Eden thought so and was in a good mood.

Paula didn't think she was like that.

"Eden, come back. Let's have a talk."

"Bang..." The heavy sound of the door closing was Eden's response.

When Eden just entered the office, Dean also entered the office with a bunch of beautiful roses.

He smiled, "Mrs. Alwynn, the flowers are for you."

Dean glanced at Victor and thought he was a romantic man.

Red roses represented love. Mr. Alwynn said that he would not let love become affection and they were going to be romantic for the rest of their lives.

It was really romantic.

Hearing this, he felt that there was nothing wrong with it. Although the president was romantic, he had not done anything romantic.

Today was considered the first time for romance. At least since he came to work here, this was the first time he had seen Mr. Alwynn give his wife roses.

"Thank you, Victor, these roses make me feel better." Eden said with a smile as she took the roses from Dean's arms. These roses, representing love, were fresh, with dewdrops on them, and beautifully wrapped.

She loved it!

Victor looked at the large bouquet of roses and had a bad feeling. Which bastard dared to pursue his wife in front of him?

"Honey, this rose isn't from me." Victor spoke in a jealous tone.

Eden and Dean were both puzzled.

"Mr. Alwynn, I thought it was from you. Didn't you always say love needs romance?" Did he mean well but messed up?

He didn't want to be a sinner and couldn't stand Mr. Alwynn's anger.

Victor glared at him. When had he ever ordered a bouquet of roses?

Victor snatched the roses from Eden's arms, picked up the pink card inside, and read out, "Darling Cyan, I can't give you the world, but I give you all of my world."

There was no signature on it.

Victor's gaze was sullen and jealous. It was that d*mned b*stard.

It was so cheesy, even more cheesy than him.

"Cyan?" Eden was also full of doubts.

When she was in school, many people called her like this.

Eden looked at Victor in confusion. She blinked her eyes and asked innocently, "Who is it?"

Victor's inner jealousy was unbearable.

Who was it? How could he know who he was without signature?

"You don't even know who it is, how would I know? From what I see, he seems to want to hold your hand for the rest of his life." His jealousy was so obvious that Eden felt it.

Eden glared at him and snatched the card from his hand and saw that it was not signed.

"Who is this boring person?" Eden felt that someone was making fun of her.

Victor directly threw the roses in the trash can and stepped on them hard.

Not feeling relieved, he used the scissors again to destroy the delicate roses to nothing more than scraps.

Eden looked at Victor's angry action. She had been with Victor for so long, how could she not see that he was so violent?

She hadn't seen anyone who had trouble with a bouquet of roses like he did.

When Dean saw Victor's expression, he found an excuse to slip away.

Eden looked at Dean's back as he fled, cursing him for being timid.

She was also very scared.

She couldn't bear Victor's anger either.

Victor got tired of cutting and simply threw the scissors away as well.

Eden looked at his action and cursed him for being childish!

However, who was so bored? Everyone in River City knew that she had married Victor, whom ordinary people could not afford to offend.

Who would have the guts to steal a woman so blatantly with Victor?

Victor angrily walked to her who lowered her head and said in a very bad tone, "Tell me. Who sent this? And called you darling."

He was so jealous that he wanted to tear that man to pieces.

He would make no good end for those who dare to steal his wife from him.

Eden looked at him with a bright smile. "You're jealous."

Victor got even angrier as she still smiled.

"Why are you still smiling? Tell me what other man I don't know is coveting you around." Victor's tone was cold and sharp, and his expression exasperated.

The previous Eden would be scared of such Victor, but now she was not afraid of him at all.

Because she had been pampered by him.

Now she was not afraid of him at all because of his doting.

Eden intentionally tilted her head and thought about it carefully, "Victor, are you asking knowingly? The only male friend I have is Jasper, but Jasper wouldn't do such a boring thing. The other men I know are your friends."

Her smile was dazzling and mesmerized Victor.

Her smile, always attractive, would heal all his unhappiness.

"No smiling." Victor ordered overbearingly. He was about to get mad, and she was still smiling as brightly as a flower.

Eden could not help but laugh. Victor, who had always been domineering, was so childish now.

According to what happened some time ago, this was clearly a deliberate gift of flowers. He was so jealous that he became irrational.

Eden was just about to explain when Victor lowered his head and kissed her lips.

Chapter 1326

His kiss was dominant, like he was telling Eden that she was his.

Victor also knew her well and knew that she was just joking.

He only wanted to kiss her to punish her at first, but later he was completely addicted to this kiss.

In his heart her eyebrows and her dazzling smile were the most beautiful scenery in this world.

Paula wrote a two-page apology letter and rushed to their office. After looking at the two kissing each other, she was stunned for a while and turned around to leave quickly.

D*mn!

This was the benefit of having two people in the same office as husband and wife.

Victor's domineering look was really too tempting.

It should be very happy to be loved by such a man!

She was jealousy and envy!

How could Eden have such good luck?

When Paula went out, she flushed.

Dean was about to carry lunch inside.

Paula stopped him and said shyly, "They're busy. What are you doing in there?"

Dean blinked and looked at Paula with a puzzled expression, "Then why are you blushing?"

Paula thought that this b*stard was knowingly asking.

"I'm sure there's something wrong with your head, Dean."

"Paula, you're being obnoxious talking like that."

Paula sneered and raised her head to look at him haughtily. "Didn't you say that to me yesterday as well? I just let you experience it."

Dean was at a loss for words. This was truly karma.

The karma was so soon.

Dean glanced at the lunch in his hand and sent it into the insulated box.

And Victor was no longer satisfied with a kiss and took Eden back home to show her who was her husband.

Eden also did not resist his sexual acts, because she knew that the result of resistance was more terrible than now.

A sexy moan echoed through their room!

When Eden woke up, Victor wasn't by her side.

She sighed heavily. It was said that a husband's attitude determined the level of happiness in a family.

She had a really good husband.

But her husband was so infatuated with her that she didn't have the strength to work.

He's got such good stamina.

Eden turned over and her body was so sore that she didn't want to get up.

Eden sobbed softly.

She was going crazy and felt that she's not here to work, but to fall in love!

"Honey, you're awake." As soon as Victor came in, he saw Eden tossing and turning under the covers.

He was proud of the way his wife enjoyed herself when they were making love just now.

She had begged him for mercy during sex.

When Eden heard Victor's voice, she got up quickly and glared at him.

Victor looked at her angry little face gently. It seemed that his wife was angry.

"Eden, get some more sleep if you are tired." He rubbed her head with a smile.

Eden slapped his hand away. "I'm not sleepy. I'm hungry!"

Victor then remembered that she hadn't eaten lunch yet, so he bent down and picked her up, "Let's have lunch now. But Eden, I'll take you to the shower first."

Eden glared at him. "You... put me at the door, go out... immediately." She did not want to make love again in the bathroom.

Victor respected her in every way, but he would never give in to her in this matter.

If she wanted to reason with him, he always said, "You are my wife, and this is my right."

She also had the f*cking right to refuse.

Victor knew what she was thinking. He smirked and said, "Eden, can you still bathe yourself now? Look at you, you don't even have the strength."

Eden punched him hard on the chest, "It's all because of you, isn't it? You bad guy. Shame on you!"

"It's all my fault. I'm the bad guy, I'm shameless." Victor was as well-behaved as a little kitten now, and did whatever Eden said.

Eden was speechless!

By the time they were back in the office again, Eden was starving to death.

She didn't eat lunch until after 3:00 pm.

After lunch, there was a banquet. Eden took Paula to Sean to get her makeup done.

After all, the banquet tonight was organized by the president of R. K Company at the biggest restaurant in River City.

Along the way, Paula kept looking at Eden.

Eden couldn't stand her gaze and her silence somehow. This was not Paula's character.

Sean's office wasn't that far. It was ten minutes away.

Eden stopped the car downstairs and looked at Paula, "What's up? You just looked at me frequently"

Paula didn't know what to say and didn't feel like she was looking at her that often.

Eden looked at her who was silent and said, "Why don't you say anything? You seem to have a lot of things you want to ask me."

Was Eden a mind reader?

"Eden, you share an office as a couple just to make it easier to do that?"

Why would she be curious about such things?

Eden was speechless!

She would never interfere in the affairs of others.

Wouldn't it be awkward to ask someone such a question?

But from an objective point of view, Paula has always been so shameless.

"Paula, you seem to be very concerned about the matter between my husband and me." She did have sex a few times today with Victor who felt jealous.

However, she enjoyed making love with Victor.

Paula blushed a little, "Who is interested in the matter between you two? It's just that I saw you two kissing together, but Mr. Alwynn must be a good kisser."

It was now Eden's turn to blush.

"Don't you knock when you enter the office?" How did she get to see that scene?

"I forgot."

Eden was speechless again.

Eden opened the door and was ready to get off.

Paula immediately stopped her.

Eden looked at her in confusion. "What are you doing? Hurry up. It would be late."

Paula looked at her quietly. Actually, she knew that she was lucky. If she had met someone who bore grudges, she would have been kicked out of Alwynn Group long ago.

Eden didn't hold it against her. After going through a lot in society, she knew she should be grateful.

Eden was indeed very nice to her.

"Eden, I'm sorry. I was wrong in high school. I apologize to you sincerely. I hope you can forget the past and live a happy life in the future."

Eden blinked her big watery eyes and immediately smiled, "Paula, are you sincere?"

Paula looked embarrassed as she stuttered, "Eden, I... although I am... selfish, I still has a conscience. I definitely sincerely apologize to you."

Chapter 1327

Eden's eyes flashed slightly. "Paula, do you know what kind of person you are? You like to bully people, however, you are such a coward when the other party is more powerful than you. Besides, you are always so arrogant that you never even treat other people seriously. So, do you think I would believe you? To be honest, if you didn't apologize to me, I would treat you the same way you treated me."

Paula fell silent. Thank god she apologized.

She felt that Eden was more fearless now that she had Victor as her backer.

However, no one could do anything to her.

"Cyan, you said that you would forget about what happened before." Paula pursed her red lips and looked at Eden. Surely Eden would go back on her words so quickly.

She admitted that she was a selfish coward sometimes, and she would frame others if she needed to, but she still felt uncomfortable to hear others say it out loud.

Eden faked a smile and casually said, "Have I ever said that?" Then she looked at Paula with a confused face, "Even if I have, it doesn't mean that I would do nothing."

"You are such a despicable person! I have already apologized, what else do you want me to do?" Paula gritted her teeth and glared at Eden.

Eden laughed. "Everyone has their despicable side. You are not the only one who could do awful things. If I were you," Eden pointed to the river not far away. "I'd just jump into it and end my boring life."

Sometimes, Eden had the ability to say the words with an indifferent tone but make people bristle with anger.

"Has your husband found your despicable side then?" Paula truly hated Eden when she was being like this.

She looked so innocent, but she could say such shameless and heartless words.

"Why... why would I want to end my own life? Cyan, you'd better not go too far." Paula was in a very bad mood and wished that she could slap Eden in the face.

If it weren't that she had done awful things to Eden first, she would never let her treat herself like this.

Eden smiled and patted her on the shoulder. "It seems that you still appreciate your life. If you really do, you'd better give on your dirty thoughts. Also, I'd like to remind you that you'd better be loyal to Alwynn Group. Otherwise, I'll make sure you regret it."

She knew that Paula loved money.

Before she left, Melissa had already sent Irma's profile to her.

Irma was from a normal family, but she was addicted to gambling, as well as luxury goods.

She betrayed Alwynn Group only because she was short of money.

So she had to warn Paula.

"Why...why would I want to betrayed Alwynn Group? I am working very hard." Paula pouted her red lips and looked at Eden with dissatisfaction.

Eden knew that she was a vanity girl, but she did not dare to betray Alwynn Group no matter what.

Before Paula came to work for Alwynn Group, she had already heard that the people who once betrayed Alwynn Group all got put in prison.

Eden said seriously, "I hope you can withstand the temptation. Don't be used by others."

Paula immediately argued, "Don't worry. I haven't found a rich husband yet. I definitely won't send myself into jail."

Eden looked at her scornfully and patted her on the shoulder hard, "This is the Paula I know. But I'll tell you again. Don't think about my brother. He will also come to the dinner tonight. If you dare to talk to him, I will never forgive you again. You'd better not think about the people around me."

"Have you always been so annoying? What if your brother likes me?" Paula smiled confidently. The more she tried to stop her, the more she wanted to show her how much she could do.

Eden laughed coldly. "Have you forgotten what you've done in high school? I know we are not in ancient times now, I still will never accept you as my sister-in-law. I know exactly what you are planning. Your eyes lit up as soon as you saw my brother the other day." After saying this, Eden opened the car door and got out.

Paula was speechless. Was she that obvious?

Seeing Eden walking away, she opened the car door quickly and got out as well.

After changing into their dresses, both of them went to put makeup on.

When they came down from upstairs, Victor and Dean also came to pick them up.

Eden was wearing a shining white dress made of white lace. Her long brown wavy hair hung loose past her shoulders, highlighted her elegant neck. The shiny diamond necklace and a collection of exquisite makeup totally enhanced her beauty.

Paula chose a champagne-colored dress. The make-up artist put glitter eyeshadow on her face, making her look very noble.

Looking at Eden's beautiful face, Victor felt a little weird somehow.

He was still thinking about the roses that she got in the morning. He felt that he might know who sent them to her.

Irving, was he trying to provoke him?

Or did he really think that he could do whatever he wanted to Victor's wife?

Thinking of this, Victor took Eden's hand and got in the car together.

And Paula got in Dean's car.

Victor fastened Eden's seat belt and looked at her. His dark eyes were full of surprise. "Honey, you are so beautiful tonight!"

Eden looked at him and pretended to be unhappy. "Do I only look beautiful tonight?"

Victor pinched her nose and said, "You are always beautiful, but this dress is really suitable for you."

Eden lowered her head and smiled. She was also very impressed when she put the dress on. "This dress was designed for Abby, but she is pregnant now. I was going to make it red and black, but Abby couldn't wear it this year, so I changed the design slightly and made it to fit me."

"It's so nice for Abigail to have you as her best friend. She could save hundreds of thousands of dollars for clothes every year," said Victor.

After saying that, he started the car and drove off.

When they arrived at the River City Restaurant, the four of them went to the top floor directly. There was a glasshouse on the top floor. Even though it was winter, the heater was fully on, so it was not cold at all.

This was a private party, so there weren't as crowded as usual.

People who attended such a private party were either rich or noble. It didn't matter what they ate. The important thing was who they were meeting!

Victor also knew Irving was the one who held this party.

Chapter 1328

Victor was one of the most influential people in River City.

His arrival immediately attracted the attention of the surrounding people.

Everyone was curious and also respectful to Victor. Wherever he went, there would be all kinds of flattering voices.

"Mr. and Mrs. Alwynn."

Everyone greeted them politely.

Victor's expression did not change at all when he faced the shocked eyes of the people around him. He kept holding Eden tightly in his arms.

Eden smiled politely at everyone, leaving everyone a really good impression.

However, there seemed to be someone else that caused a stir on the other side at the same time.

This dinner party also attracted a lot of media. The news of R. K Group entering the River City already arouse all major media's attention, and now their cooperation with TS Company even made it more shocking.

Tonight, this dinner party gathered all the rich and powerful people of River City.

R. K Group had developed very well recently, so everyone who was invited would love to come.

It could be said that tonight's party was full of financial tycoons. All the high-level figures in every business field could have close contact with each other.

Victor looked at the group of people coming towards them. The man walking in the front was in a black suit, looking very arrogant. He had a handsome appearance, a sexy nose, and a pair of attractive eyes. His sharp gaze passed through the crowd and fell straight on Eden.

Victor sensed it straight away. He looked at Eden, who had no idea what was going, a cold smile appeared on his face.

When he looked up again, there was a wild and evil look on his cold and handsome face.

His tall and straight figure looked very firm, plus his ice-cold face and his pitch-black eyes, making everyone couldn't help but hold in their breath.

As the man walked closer, Eden finally noticed and looked over, then she met Irving's deep eyes.

Her deep eyes were full of arrogance, with a kind of mysterious and melancholy feeling, as if no one could ever see them through, looking a bit evil and charming.

Just like Victor, as soon as he appeared, all the girls around him couldn't help but turned their faces to him.

There was a flash of surprise in Eden's eyes, which slowly turned into appreciation. Finally, her clear eyes turned calm as usual.

However, why did this man look a little familiar? She seemed to have met him before.

Seeing her mood change, Victor felt a little better.

"Mr. Alwynn, nice to meet you!" Irving reached out his hand and greeted Victor politely.

Victor took a look at his hand and glanced at him with a strange sneer in his eyes. After Irving waited for him awkwardly with his hand in the air for a while, Victor finally reached out and shook his hand slowly, then withdrew his hand immediately.

Only Irving knew how perfunctory Victor's attitude was when he shook his hand.

However, he did not care about Victor at all. He turned his head straight to Eden and looked at her with his gentle eyes.

A bright smile appeared on his handsome face. "Eden, long time no see!"

Eden was a little surprised. She just felt he was a little familiar, but she couldn't remember who exactly he was.

Behind Eden, Paula looked at Irving and opened her mouth wide in disbelief.

She couldn't believe that she could meet the president of R. K Group here.

She didn't know what had gone wrong recently. It seemed that all the ordinary people turned to big bosses after many years. But people like her, who had all the glory before, ended up like this.

Eden smiled politely. "I'm sorry, you look familiar, but do we know each other?"

At this moment, Eden still didn't know who Irving was.

Victor put on a joyful smile. It seemed that his silly wife would really make Irving angry now.

The moment he looked up, he happened to meet Irving's eye, where there seemed to be deep disappointment and anger. Even his arrogant face changed a little.

He had been waiting for this moment, the moment when he saw Irving's heart breaking into pieces.

Irving had been thinking about his wife all the time, but his wife did not even remember Irving at all.

This silent retaliation was more enjoyable than fighting back on his own.

When Irving was about to introduce himself, Paula couldn't help but take a step forward and push Eden, "Cyan, you are so silly. He is Irving, the president of the R. K Group."

"What?" Eden looked at Irving in surprise.

When she looked at him carefully, she seemed to remember something slowly. It was a very hot day in summer, and they were all on the playground.

"Eden, are you being punished again?" A boy asked with concern, running next to her on the playground. They were both wearing school uniforms, and his forehead was covered with sweat.

She answered breathlessly but did not look at him. "I poured water on Paula, and she told the teacher, so I am punished."

"Did they bully you again?" The boy's tone was calm and emotionless.

"Yes! However, I fought back this time." The girl said fiercely. The boy just kept running next to her unhurriedly.

Eden laughed somewhat embarrassingly and explained, "Mr. Matthews, I'm sorry. It has been too long. You are really different from when we were in high school. I'm really sorry that I didn't recognize you earlier."

She really couldn't believe the handsome guy in front of her was Irving, the skinny boy in her class.

Now, he just looked exactly like a CEO.

When Paula mentioned him to her that day, she couldn't remember anything about him at all. Now that she had seen him finally, she remembered everything.

Hearing this, Irving's dark eyes lit up. He smiled softly and said, "I'm surprised that you still remember me from before." She used to always lowered her head thinking about things. He could guarantee that she didn't know half of their classmates.

Eden felt really awkward. She really forgot about him before.

"Of course, we are classmates in high school," she said politely with an awkward smile.

Victor's big hand on her waist suddenly tightened, as if it was a warning to her silently.

Chapter 1329

Eden felt the strength on her waist and her smile froze. She looked up at Victor, seeing a faint and evil smile on his face. She instantly knew that he was unhappy. So she smiled and introduced him, "Mr. Matthews, this is my husband, Victor Alwynn."

Irving smiled as if he didn't hear anything at all. "We were classmates before, so just call me Irving."

Eden didn't know what to say. She thought about Paula's words this morning, wondering if the rose.....

She hoped she was just thinking too much right now. She really didn't think she was that attractive.

She smiled and nodded. As Irving had said so, she would just listen to him.

Looking at her expression, Irving's heart sank little by little. She seemed to be very embarrassed, but she concealed it very well.

When they were in high school, he was always around her, but no one could get into her heart.

There were many boys who wrote letters to her, but she never even read them.

At that time, they were already old enough to understand how did it feel to like someone.

It was hard for Irving to not notice such a kind and beautiful girl like Eden at that time.

Thinking of the past, Irving lifted the corner of his mouth into a faint smile. Now she was even more beautiful.

He kept staring at Eden obsessively, which made everyone else extremely awkward.

Victor's mouth was slightly pursed, and his black eyes turned cold.

"Irving, we haven't seen each other for so many years, and you are so successful now," Paula said flatteringly.

Irving's eyes glanced indifferently at Paula and asked, "You are..."

He looked at Paula with a puzzled face, and no one knew if he was doing it on purpose or if he really didn't remember her.

Paula fell silent awkwardly. What the hell was going on?

Irving must be pretending not to know her.

Haha...

She sneered in her heart. He used to sit next to her in class before.

However, she never even talked to him properly because he wasn't from a rich family.

But now, it was completely opposite. It was Irving who was pretending that he didn't know her.

It was just like a slap in her own face.

Paula's face darkened a little. "I was sitting next to you at school, and I'm Paula Koch."

She couldn't believe that he could remember Cyan who was sitting far away from him but not the girl who used to sit right next to him.

She just couldn't accept it.

"Right!" Irving answered with a surprised face, but Paula still couldn't tell if he really remembered it or not.

He must be pretending it.

"Eden, I heard that the dishes here are good. Why don't we go and have dinner together?" Irving turned to Eden and smiled gently.

Eden found it hard to refuse when he offered it in front of so many people.

She also really wanted to find out if he was the one who sent the roses this morning.

If it was him, she might not be this nice to him.

Thinking of this, Eden smiled and nodded.

"Victor, let's go together." She sounded much softer when she talked to Victor.

No matter who the other party was, nothing would change the love she had for her husband.

She felt she couldn't even have other people in her eyes anymore ever since she met Victor.

"Sure. I've exhausted you today, so you must be hungry now. Let's go eat something first." Victor's said it very ambiguously, making people couldn't help but imagine what exactly he meant.

Eden's face flushed. She smiled with her shy face, making everyone more curious.

Victor was very satisfied. This was exactly what he wanted. He knew she was very shy, especially when it came to this.

Irving turned his head to Victor.

And Victor cast him a provoking and arrogant look. The two pairs of dark eyes met in the air as if a war would instantly break out.

Everyone started walking to the main venue of the dinner party.

Victor deliberately separated them from Irving.

He lowered his head and said quietly, "Eden."

"Yes?" Eden answered and looked up at him.

"You and him..." Victor wanted to say something, but he stopped. He had found everything about Irving, but it seemed that Eden still didn't know.

Eden smiled and said, "We went to the same high school. What are you thinking about?"

Victor's face turned angry. "But the way he looks at you is very annoying. I want to beat him up."

Eden felt speechless. If he really wanted to beat him up, she wouldn't be able to stop him at all.

Now she just wanted to find out who sent the roses in the morning.

She changed the subject. "Will Lucian, Adonis, and Anson come?"

They must have been invited to such a dinner party.

"Lucian will come, and Anson will bring Abigail here as well. Adonis is going to pick up someone at the airport, so he can't come. Brian will be here but he won't meet anyone. ," Victor explained in a low voice.

He suspected that the scandal recently had something to do with Irving.

"Okay, I will find Abby later." Eden was very happy to hear that Abigail had also come.

"Sounds good!" Victor nodded. As long as she was not with Irving, she could go anywhere she wanted.

Victor and Eden were chatting with each other happily, leaving Paula stood there on her own awkwardly.

She was in a bad mood all the way here.

She glanced at Dean beside her and asked in a low voice, "Dean, do you want some drink?"

Dean shook her head and said, "Are you going to drive then?"

Paula glared at him. "You idiot, you can call the driving service. What year do you think this is? You should just enjoy yourself."

"No, I'll just have something simple to eat. I have to drive Mr. and Mrs. Alwynn home later. You can get something to drink on your own. But, remember, do not cause any trouble for Mr. & Mrs. Alwynn."

Hearing this, Paula instantly became unhappy.

"What's so great about being rich?" She said with her jealous face. But looking at all the well-dressed people here, she thought money was really something. If it weren't for Eden, she wouldn't have the opportunity to attend such a high-end private dinner party.

Dean didn't answer her question. He couldn't make any mistake at this time.

If he wanted to work for Victor, he needed to be very smart.

He also noticed that the way how Irving looked at Eden was not right.

If he could see it, surely Victor would see it.

"Hmph!" Paula snorted coldly.

At this moment, she saw Irving who was walking towards Eden with some food on his plate.

Paula couldn't wait to watch all these happen. After all these years, it seemed that Irving still couldn't get over Cyan.

"Eden, I took some of your favorite dishes. I remember when you were in school, you liked to eat seafood. But they only have clams in the canteen today. I remember you like them as well." Irving said and handed the plate to Eden.

Eden was thinking about how to refuse him, a soft voice came from behind Irving, "Irving, here you are."

Chapter 1330

Eden looked over and saw a beautiful woman in a red dress coming over with a smile.

Eden was instantly stunned. Wasn't that Paulina?

But she seemed to be a little different. Her face seemed to be more charming and beautiful than before. Her nose bridge line was much higher than before, and her lips shape had changed as well. The biggest change was her eyes. They look much bigger now, making her whole face look more charming.

Alright!

Had she done plastic surgery during this year?

But no matter how much she changed, Eden still could recognize her straight away.

Irving narrowed his eyes slightly. Seeing that there was no change on Paulina's face, he said indifferently. "Why are you here? I thought you were not coming tonight?"

His voice and attitude were so much different compared to how gentle he was to Eden. Everyone could hear the implications in his words.

Paulina did not seem angry. She walked to him with a smile, held his arm, and said with a charming smile, "I'm done with my business, so I'm here to accompany you."

After that, she looked at Eden and Victor for a while and introduced herself confidently, "Hello, everyone. My name is Dahlia Grant. I'm Irving's fiancée."

"Dahlia Grant?" Eden looked at her with a smile. Although her face had changed a little, her body shape was still the same. But her taste of clothes was much better than before.

"Yes!" Paulina nodded with a smile.

Eden smiled lightly and said, "Nice to meet you. I am Eden Bleu."

Eden did not mind introducing herself again.

For Paulina and Haven, Eden's name was enough to make them shiver.

There was a trace of fierceness, strong, and firmness flashing across Dahlia's smiling eyes.

Eden caught it clearly, still keeping a straight face.

"Irving, you are so nice to me. You ordered all the dishes I love. Thank you!" Dahlia stood on tiptoe and kissed Irving on the face.

Then, she took over the plate in Irving's hands.

Irving lowered his head and glanced at Dahlia's smiling face with his somewhat cold eyes.

But Dahlia only focused on the food with a happy face as if she didn't see him at all.

They didn't look intimate at all.

Eden said politely, "Mr. Matthews, enjoy your meal with your fiancée. We are going to say hi to a few more friends. See you later."

"Okay! I'll come to find you later." Irving's face suddenly changed again when he faced Eden.

This time, Dahlia didn't look very calm anymore.

Victor took Eden into his arms and left with Paula and Dean without even saying anything.

The smile on Dahlia's face also faded away little by little. She glanced at Irving and said coldly, "Do you know Mrs. Alwynn?"

She had never heard that they knew each other before.

If they really knew each other, what should she do?

It was not easy for her to finally get engaged with him. If Eden got involved in this again, it would definitely be fate.

Irving's face was extremely cold. He glanced at her and said, "This is not something you should worry about. Your job is to work with the Craig family to help me win the market in River City."

"I know. Mr. Craig and his daughter are here now. Let's go over and say hi."

"Okay." Irving glanced in the direction in which Eden had left, and his brows knitted tightly together.

Dahlia also turned around and looked at Eden's back, a cold smile slowly appeared on her face. She couldn't wait to teach Eden a lesson this time.

Victor took Eden to their private room directly.

But Paula was stopped by Dean before she could get in.

She asked with a puzzled face, "Why can't we go in?"

Dean said, "We can't go in when they're all together."

Paula was still puzzled. "Why not?"

Dean looked at her with a smile. "Because you're new here."

Paula was stunned for a moment before she immediately became furious. "Dean, are you looking down on newcomers?"

Dean spread out his hands and shrugged. "It's not that I look down on newcomers, but that I don't trust them."

Paula was speechless. She really planned to work hard this time.

But this feeling was so uncomfortable.

She felt as if she had been abandoned.

"Dean, I used to hate making a decision, but now I already made the decision to hate you."

Dean didn't care about whether she hated him or liked him at all.

He smiled faintly. "Whatever."

"Humph!" Paula turned away with a cold face and didn't want to talk to him anymore.

Victor took Eden to sit opposite Anson and Abigail with a very annoyed face.

Everyone could tell that he was not in a good mood, so everyone turned their faces to Eden.

Eden smiled. What could she say? Could she say that Victor was jealous?

If she said it, Anson and Lucian would laugh their heads off.

Abigail smiled and said, "Victor, you've been pulling a long face since you came in. Do we all owe you money?"

Victor glanced at her. He didn't want to say anything now.

Who would dare to owe him money anyway.

He just felt so irritated as soon as he saw Irving.

At this time, Eden frowned and said, "Did Paulina have plastic surgery? That woman was surely Paulina, but she said she was Dahlia Grant, Irving's fiancée."

Lucian frowned slightly and said, "Didn't she go abroad? Why is she back?"

Eden said, "I think she is back for something this time."

She could clearly see the sharpness in her eyes earlier.

Abigail frowned and looked at Eden with some concern. "Eden, you have a history with her, so you'd better be careful. I heard that this R.K company is quite powerful."

Victor threw out a cold sentence, "Do you think I'd be afraid of R. K Group?"

Lucian sat up straight and picked up the champagne on the table and took a sip gracefully. "It's always wise to play safe. The other party's background is not that simple. Before you decided to buy Chen's Group, R. K Group also planned to do so. They came prepared. They want to expand their influence in River City. I'm just wondering, Victor, has there anything happened before you and R.K Group?"

If there was nothing happened, the other side would just be an ambitious company. Otherwise, no matter how bold the person was, he would not dare to come to Victor's place.

Victor lowered his head and looked at the quiet little woman in his arms. It was all because his wife was too attractive.

Eden smiled awkwardly, "Victor, don't look at me like that. I don't think he is doing this because of me."
