

Gluey Love 1331

Chapter 1331

Everyone felt silent.

Anson looked at Victor's cold face and smiled, "Why do I feel someone is jealous?"

Victor took a glance at him. He was totally the same as his wife. "Have you decided the name of your child?"

Anson knew he was trying to change the subject.

Abigail said, "You don't have to worry about that. If it is a girl, I want to name her Sibyl. We haven't thought about a boy's name yet."

"So tacky!" Victor said quickly.

Anson said to him, "Tacky?! What a beautiful name for a girl! She would be my little princess."

Victor didn't care at all. When he was in a bad mood, he didn't want to hear anything. He already had a princess at home anyway.

Abigail looked at Eden with a smile, "Eden, if it's a girl, she can be your daughter-in-law."

Before Eden said anything, Victor answered quickly, "Okay, as long as you don't think my son is too old."

Eden was a little unhappy when she heard this.

"Victor, what are you talking about? Abby is going to give birth soon. Kenny and the others are not even ten years old yet. They are not that older."

Victor stroked her hair and said, "Silly, our son is so talented, so we should be modest. After all, I don't want Anson to think we are taking advantage of them."

Eden really didn't know what to say.

Anson didn't know what to say either.

Victor looked at Lucian and asked, "Lucian, is everything going well?"

Lucian nodded and said, "It goes much better than I expected. Give me another half a month, so I'll get it sorted and go back to work." After half a month, he would make a totally different Ronen family.

Victor said, "Don't worry, take your time. However, you still have to be careful about R.K Group. Irving plans to enter River City, so there must be turmoil in the stock market. According to how urgent he is doing this, I'm afraid it would be a big one this time."

Victor's eyes narrowed. No one knew who would win before they finish the fight.

If he could take over M Country quickly, then Alwynn Group would expand its business in a very short time.

There were so many people who were coveting his wife. Only by making himself the most powerful and richest man in this world could he make sure that everything was under his control.

Thinking of this, he kissed Eden on her forehead and asked, "Are you hungry?"

Eden nodded. "Yes, I am."

Seeing this, Abigail also turned to Anson and said, "I'm hungry too."

Anson smiled and nodded dotingly, "Sure. Wait a minute. I'll go get you something to eat right now."

Looking at them, Lucian felt a little speechless.

Why didn't they just get a room?

Victor and Anson got up and went out to get food.

Victor did this actually because he did not want Eden to see Irving alone.

But Anson just didn't want Abigail to be too tired.

Eden glanced at Lucian. He looked much better now after he stopped drinking. Now he would only drink some champagne.

In fact, when people were in pain, drinking would only make them feel worse.

"Lucian, is there still no news about Amelia?" Eden couldn't help but ask. She was also worried about Amelia.

Lucian shook his head slightly and said, "She hid very well and did not reveal anything."

Eden sighed slightly. It seemed that Amelia was really not coming back this time.

After working with her for so long, Eden knew her very well. Perhaps Lucian also knew her very well.

What a shame. They used to be a couple that everyone envied.

People could only learn to love by loving. However, it wasn't only about love in a relationship.

It sounded very tacky, but it was the truth that really would make people suffer.

"I will find her." There was a hint of firmness in Lucian's lonely and disappointed tone.

Abigail smiled and said, "Lucian, don't be discouraged. What is supposed to be yours will always be yours."

"Yes." Lucian smiled and nodded. He felt much better recently.

He didn't believe that everyone just finished like this. He would find her after taking care of the things in his family.

He must find Amelia no matter where she was.

"Amelia has not gone abroad. She must still be here," said Eden.

"I know." Lucian pursed his lips slightly and took a sip of the champagne. He felt even the champagne tasted a little bitter.

As long as he thought of her, everything would turn bitter in his mouth.

Victor and Anson came back shortly. They handed over the plates full of delicious food to Eden and Abigail, and they sat down and started chatting randomly.

They talked about business and other things while having food.

At a quiet corner on the other side.

Irving was sitting and eating with Carney and Melissa after they greeted each other.

He was very quiet and never said a word to Dahlia.

After finishing the steak on the plate, Dahlia said, "The cooperation with the Craig family this time went very well. I remember you invited the president of the Owl City Group, but why I haven't seen him tonight? He is very influential in River City and Gate City. If he can cooperate with him, I believe our company will develop very quickly as well."

Irving said indifferently, "I heard that he is sick. I will visit him in person in a few days."

Jasper also loved Eden deeply. Surely Irving wouldn't forget about this.

He knew how attractive the woman he loved was.

It was not a good feeling when he couldn't be with the women he loved.

He still remembered the time when he realized that he had fallen in love with Eden. All the high school years became much more colorful because of her.

All the beautiful memories were like the cool breeze blowing across his face in the summer, gentle and sweet.

He did not understand what love really was at that time. What he knew was Eden always made his heart beat rapidly.

That was the most beautiful time in his life.

Irving's lips involuntarily curled up into a sweet smile when he thought of this.

Dahlia was very confused when she saw his smile.

"Why do I always feel that you got something on your mind whenever we are together?" She knew he did not love her, but it did not matter. The important thing was that he had a handsome face and the same wealth and status as Victor.

That was all she wanted.

Now, as long as she could stay with this man, her dream would come true.

Chapter 1332

Irving looked at Dahlia quietly, without any emotion in his eyes. He said indifference and ruthlessness, "Since you are my fiancée, you should do your job well. You should know what you can do and what you shouldn't do. I will give you what you want, but you can't interfere with my private life." His smile had completely gone after he said this.

Looking at his suddenly changed face, Dahlia felt somewhat anxious. Facing such an unpredictable man, she always worried that she would fall into the abyss if she was not careful.

"I know." She answered indifferently. Both of them just wanted to take what they needed from each other, so it didn't really matter how the other party treated them.

As long as she became Mrs. Matthews, there was nothing else she would care about.

"I still have something to do. You should go back now." Irving said, then got up and walked away.

His inky eyes still had no emotion at all.

When he turned the corner, his assistant walked up and whispered in his ear, "Sir, Miss Bleu and her friends are still having dinner in the private room."

Irving nodded and said, "Remember, from tomorrow on, order a bunch of roses every day and send them over."

"Yes, Mr. Matthews." The assistant just nodded, didn't say anything more.

"Mr. Matthews, shall we go and meet Mr. Remar and Mr. King now? They have been waiting for a while."

"Sure." Irving nodded with a strange expression.

He looked up and saw the beautiful night view of the city, but his heart was still as lonely as ever.

The reason why people felt first love was always the most beautiful thing was that they would never forget it. It was engraved in the bottom of their hearts.

Eden, that was the name he would never forget in his life.

She used to smile when he called her name. She was a very quiet girl who rarely said anything. The only chance that they could talk and laugh was the time when they had art class together. However, they only had a few art classes a year.

He had always dreamt of sitting next to her.

However, he was much taller than her at that time, so his dream never came true.

Dahlia left with Irving. Looking at his ruthless back, she felt somewhat uncomfortable in her heart.

Every man at the party brought a female companion, but he asked her to go back first on her own. What an unromantic man.

Dahlia walked by herself, feeling pretty displeased. She took a glass of wine from the waiter's hands and then walked to the other side on her own.

The cold wind caressed her face, making her shiver a little. Looking at the night scene in the distance, she sighed slightly.

She did not know if it was a good idea for her to return in this way.

"Jodie, breaking news! This is really breaking news! You would never guess who I just saw. It was Irving Matthews, your ex-boyfriend. Do you know who he is now? He is the president of R.K. Group now. But he has a fiancée."

These words made Dahlia frown. She turned her head and glanced at the woman who was on the phone next to her. She remembered that the woman was with Eden just now.

"Yes! He has a fiancée. But he doesn't seem to care about his fiancée at all. Do you know who he seems to be paying more attention to?"

Dahlia was about to say something, but the last sentence made her stop.

"You are so stupid, Jodie. Have you forgotten who he liked in high school? Everyone knew it."

"Yes, it was Cyan. Irving is so arrogant now. I used to sit next to him in high school, but he said he didn't know me earlier. You've no idea how embarrassing it was. He remembered Cyan, but he didn't remember me. I'm so annoyed.

That's right. You know who Eden is now. She is Victor's wife, and everyone is so envious and jealous of her. I am now her assistant. Jodie, you should really come and see what luxurious life they are living.

Anyway, I need to go back now. You should give up on Irving now. I can tell that he only has Eden in his heart. Now it is going to be fun.

Sure, okay, bye."

Paula hung up the phone and turned to walk back.

Dahlia stood alone in the corner. Her body was tense and her fists were tightly clenched. Her face was pale and distorted. She would never imagine that Irving liked Eden before.

Why could she never get away with Eden?

She finally managed to get Irving, but the person in her fiance's heart was Eden.

What a joke?

What exactly happened to this world?

She finally managed to start over, but Eden was in her way again.

Thinking of this, Dahlia couldn't help but let out a scream.

"Eden, I will not let you go. This time, I will definitely destroy you." After saying this to herself, Dahlia turned around with a gloomy face and walked away quickly.

After Victor and Eden had dinner and met a few clients, they planned to go back.

Just when they were going to find Anson and the others, they met Irving, who was walking towards them with his assistant.

Victor's eyes narrowed when he saw Irving. It seemed that they really couldn't get rid of him tonight.

"Mr. Alwynn, Eden," Irving said with a smile.

Victor said straight away, "Mr. Matthews, I think it would be better for you to call my wife Mrs. Alwynn."

How dare he call her Eden?

When Victor just finished speaking, his phone vibrated. It was a message from Dean. "Mr. Alwynn, Mr. Matthews met Mr. Remar and Mr. King privately earlier. The two of them have always been big clients of Alwynn Group. The product contract has yet to be signed. There are still many details that the other parties are not satisfied with. Now that he has met Mr. Matthews again, I'm afraid that things would not be that simple..."

Victor put the phone back into his pocket, then he heard Irving's voice. "Mr. Alwynn, Eden and I have been friends since high school. I don't think there is any point for me to change it now. Am I right, Eden?" His gentle gaze fell on Eden's beautiful face.

She was very beautiful tonight, especially in this dress.

Eden looked at him quietly, noticing that he was planning something else.

She did not nod nor shake her head, but just smiled faintly.

"Mr. Matthews, I am a little tired, so I want to go back now. Thank you for your hospitality tonight."

"Sure, if you are tired, go back early to rest. See you tomorrow." Irving looked at Eden's every move and acted very gentlemanly.

However, Eden felt a little awkward. Were they supposed to meet again the next day?

Before she could say anything, Victor stretched out and took her into his arm, then walked away quietly.

Irving looked at the two of them, his eyes turned cold. He just wanted to beat Victor right now.

He must get what he wanted.

Chapter 1333

He was used to having her in his heart. No matter how long it had passed, he would never forget her.

He turned around and walked back to the party, to continue the following social activities.

Victor brought Eden back to the car.

Then his face darkened.

Eden was still a little confused. She was still trying to figure out where Irving came from.

Victor lowered his head. The lights in the garage were a little dim, and his silhouette looked a little cold and terrible.

"Irving is also a genius in business in M Country. He got to his current position only in a few years. Eden, what do you think he is coming for this time?"

Eden looked at him and narrowed her eyes. "Just come straight to the point. I have known you for so many years. Do you think that I don't know what you are thinking?"

Even though Irving was a genius, Victor was still 90 percent sure that he could beat Irving.

Besides, Victor would never be afraid of someone who suddenly came from nowhere.

Victor's family had been doing business in River City for so many years, with all their connections, someone like Irving could not defeat him so easily.

This time, it was obviously that Irving had already broken the rules.

Everyone knew that he should not offend local companies, no matter how powerful he was.

As Irving started the trouble first, Victor would not just let him get away with it.

Victor reached out and stroked her hair. "Silly girl, can't you tell it? He came for you."

Eden said immediately, "Stop making out that everyone loves me. Do you actually believe that a man like him would fight with you over a woman? I will tell you honestly, he did like me in high school. But after that, there is no other connection between us at all. I know he used to be around me all the time at school.

But I have never contracted him outside school. Paula mentioned him once, but I couldn't even remember who he was.

What he is doing now is just to prove that he is stronger than you, and I will be a tool for you two to use, isn't it?"

Even if Irving still liked her, she could not do anything about it anyway.

However, she was in a dilemma between two men.

Victor was jealous and never allowed anyone to think about his wife.

However, Irving seemed to know this and knew exactly how to provoke Victor.

For Eden, Irving was just being competitive and trying to prove a point to Victor.

She should not be the reason for a battle between the two of them.

"Silly, do you think I will make use of you?" Victor felt a little uncomfortable when he heard her words.

Eden's face suddenly sank. "I know you won't use me, but I am involved in this matter. If Irving really came for me, I will meet him alone and make things clear to him."

"No, I don't want you to see him alone. He is very dangerous. By the way, you are right earlier. The woman we saw tonight is indeed Paulina. After she went to M Country, she had plastic surgery and used Irving to get what she wanted. So, both of them are dangerous.

Moreover, this evening, Irving met Mr. Remar and Mr. King alone, which showed that he did not intend good."

Irving had a lot of businesses, which were not much different from Victor's.

Eden frowned. She kept having a bad feeling about this.

In order to prevent the design of winter products from leaking out, this year's winter style was very well-guarded.

The two clients had been working with Alwynn Group for many years. Surely there wouldn't be any problems at such a critical time.

Eden smiled and said, "Do you think he can actually take over the market? It's not only about wealth and material resources but also about connections. When it comes to connections, who can beat you in River City?"

There seemed to have no problem in Alwynn Group now, but it did not mean that the other subsidiary companies and their subordinates would not have problems.

People were unpredictable. What they feared most was that there would be traitors inside their company.

Seeing that she was so confident in him, Victor felt much better.

"That's true. I am Victor Alwynn." He said proudly.

Then he drove the car away from the garage.

Eden sent a message to Abigail, telling her that they had already left.

In fact, she also knew the reason why Victor was not worried.

Victor's business was all managed by the people he trusted, and they were all professionals.

During the seven months when he was not there, Eden finally understood what business tactics were.

In the real estate area, with the help of her father, Irving would never win them, unless he could afford to invest billions of money. Otherwise, he would have no chance.

As for the hotel industry, Victor owned hotels in different places all over the country. As for the clothing business, they were in charge of it in person.

There were many professionals who were Brian's connections secretly watching them.

Therefore, Victor didn't need to worry too much about it at all.

If she wasn't his wife, she wouldn't have known how complicated it was.

Brian and Anson used to work together a long time ago.

With their cooperation, they got a lot of business information.

Therefore, they could always step faster than everyone else in terms of investment, so Alwynn Group had developed very successfully in recent years.

And Victor also knew how important it was to win people's trust and support, so he always made sure those who worked with him were getting paid very well.

If Irving wanted to fight with Victor, he really needed to know himself first.

The next morning, when Eden finished her meeting and got back to her office,

Dean followed her in with a large bouquet of roses in his hands.

This time, he wasn't really sure if it was a good idea to take the roses up. But the receptionist had already sent them upstairs. He couldn't ask her to take them back.

"Mrs. Alwynn, these are your flowers." He smiled awkwardly.

At this time, Victor also finished his meeting and heard Dean's words when he walked past them.

Before Eden could touch the flowers, Victor grabbed them straight away.

Dean could tell Victor was angry.

Victor unfolded the pink card and read out loud, "Eden, it was so nice to see you again. You are my whole world."

"F*ck..." Victor couldn't help swearing, "this b*stard. How dare he?"

Eden wondered if the roses she got yesterday were also from Irving.

This man was seriously sick.

She didn't understand why Irving was acting like this.

"Victor, don't be angry. I'll go find him." She had to make it clear to him. No matter what reason Irving had, he had no right to ruin the relationship between her and Victor.

Victor grabbed her quickly and stared at her angry face. His heart ached for her again. It was not her fault anyway. "Honey, don't worry about it. I'll deal with it."

Chapter 1334

Eden looked at him, smiled, and asked casually, "Victor, are you sure that you can handle Irving without my help?"

Victor couldn't believe that she was questioning his ability. She was certainly very proud of him just now. He instantly turned angry, "Don't you believe me?"

He threw the bunch of roses into the corner hard, and some petals fell out.

The atmosphere in the office suddenly tensed up.

Eden was totally shocked. She had never seen him being so violent.

Seeing what was happening, Dean knew that he could only make everything worse if he stayed there.

So he quietly turned around and tried to run away.

Eden looked at him and thought what a coward he was. He was very good at flattering Victor when he was happy.

However, when Victor was angry, he was always the first one who ran away.

She turned her head back to Victor, meeting his angry eyes.

She pursed her lips slightly, crossed her arms in front of her chest, and leaned on the desk. She felt that she really didn't understand Victor at this moment.

She offered help only because she felt she knew Irving better than Victor did, so there would be more chance for her to succeed.

However, Victor was now full of anger and jealousy at the moment. He surely wouldn't listen to her.

It would be useless no matter what she said.

No one could force anyone to do something they didn't want to do.

"Don't look at me. I will only talk to you when you are calmed down. I have to work now." After saying that, Eden turned back to the desk and sat down.

Victor couldn't believe what she just said.

How come she didn't even try to comfort him? He was so fuming now.

Why Irving, who had engaged already, still wanted to flirt with his wife?

Thinking of this, he snorted angrily. He walked to the corner and kicked the roses hard.

Eden was totally speechless.

After venting his anger, Victor walked back to the office and called the front desk.

"From now on, no matter who sends the roses, throw them all out. If you dare to send them upstairs again, you'd better pack your stuff and get out of here!" Then he hung up the phone angrily.

The receptionist who answered the phone was completely shocked. It took her a while to realize what just had happened.

Victor put his hands on the desk, breathing heavily, and his eyes were full of anger.

He grabbed the car key on his desk and turned to leave.

Eden naturally knew where he was going.

"Where are you going?" She still asked.

Victor stopped and looked at her with an unhappy face. "Why do you even care?"

Eden didn't know what to say. This was the most serious problem between a couple. If they did not trust each other, then this relationship would easily cause harm to both parties.

"Come back. Are you going to find Irving now to shame yourself? When did you become so impatient?" Eden used her eyes to signal him to come back.

Victor glared at her. He could always keep his temper, but when it came to something about her, he could not control himself anymore.

He did not leave, even though he was still fuming.

Eden waved to him and said with a smile, "My darling, come here."

Victor didn't want to go over. Why did he have to go over? Why couldn't she come over?

However, in the end, he still walked over, standing in front of her with a gloomy face.

Eden got up and put her arms around his waist, then looked up at him with a brilliant smile. "Well, stop being angry now. I will talk to Irving seriously."

"No, you will not. You are not allowed to meet him on your own. I have already said that." Victor's overbearing voice made Eden feel very uncomfortable.

"Who does he think he is? Does he think he could do whatever he wants to my wife? Son of a b*tch!" Victor was really furious now.

However, Eden just felt he was being childish now.

"Victor, please calm down and think about why he was doing this. Do you really think that he is doing this because of me? I told you that I am not so charming.

A woman normally would work hard on herself to win a man if they are not coming from a rich family.

But on the contrary, if a man is already rich, and he is also handsome, intelligent, and charming, why would he suddenly be interested in a married woman? What do you think his main purpose is?"

She didn't think that she could make Irving lose all his property to fight with Victor for her.

Most of the time, people would always long for what they couldn't have. However, they never knew that the person they had been dreaming of was just a fantasy in their mind.

Just like Eden to Irving, who was merely a fantasy of love that he had imagined in his mind.

Irving wanted to give it a go because he had never had Eden.

If she had married an ordinary person, he might just feel a little regretful. However, the person she married was Victor, who was one of the most excellent people in River City.

That was why Irving felt it hurt his self-esteem.

Victor said, "I don't care. I'm not happy now. You have to cheer me up."

If Irving, that b*stard, wanted to make trouble, then he had nothing to lose.

But Eden was right. It would be a shame for himself if he went to see Irving like this.

The best way to make him mad was to pretend that they were not affected by what he was doing at all.

Eden saw him staring at her with an unhappy face. However, she could tell from his eyes that he had already understood everything.

She also let out a sigh of relief. If he really ran out like that, she would not be able to stay in her office calmly.

She said softly, "What do you want me to do then?" She buried her face deeper in his arms.

Looking at her beautiful face, Victor instantly calmed down.

He lowered his head and whispered into her ear, "Honey, prove your love for me with your actions."

Eden blushed and looked up at him. "Can't you ask for something else except for this? Can you be more mature? Are you not worried that your body can't stand it?"

She was so surprised that he could never get bored of it.

She always thought it was because of his hormones, but she was wrong. Now she had to wonder if she was really that charming.

Victor smiled, and his eyes looked so soft and warm. "It's all your fault. You're too sweet, making me not able to stop."

Chapter 1335

Eden was speechless. Sometimes, being too sweet was also a burden to her.

"Okay, okay. I'll go home and let you do whatever you want tonight." Eden compromised.

"No, I want it now," Victor said in a determined voice.

Eden said helplessly, "I still have a lot of work to do. The date of the new product launch is coming, but we haven't even found a brand ambassador yet. How can you still have time to think about that thing?"

Victor said, "I found someone, and that person will come here today. I have a press conference at noon and I will introduce this person to everyone."

"Even though you finished your work, it still doesn't mean that I don't have my work to do this morning." She didn't want to work overtime. She wanted to go back earlier to spend time with her children.

But Victor still did not want to give up. "I'll help you later."

"But..."

Before Eden could finish her words, someone knocked on the door.

Victor glared at the door and said with an angry tone, "Come in."

His cold voice made Dean, who was standing outside the door, tremble. He could tell that he must have interrupted them again.

But he still forced himself to push the door open and led a beautiful woman in.

Victor did not let Eden go. He down on the sofa with Eden still in his arm.

When Dean came, Victor's face looked much better. Dean knew Eden was the only person who could make Victor calm down.

He glanced at the roses lying in the corner. It was such a waste of money. Those roses must be very expensive.

He soon smiled and introduced the lady behind him, "Mr. and Mrs. Alwynn, this is Miss Ivana Rawlins, our brand ambassador for this season."

Ivana took a step forward and looked at Victor and Eden with a smile. She was wearing a tight red dress with a V collar inside her white leather jacket, which totally highlighted the perfect shape of her body. The diamond necklace was shining on her elegant neck, making her smile even more charming. She said politely, "Mr. and Mrs. Alwynn, it's my honor to meet you!"

Eden took at her with her big clear eyes and said with a smile, "Miss Rawlins, please sit down!"

After Ivana sat down, Eden smiled and said, "Miss Rawlins, you must have read the contract already. Please let me know if you have any questions."

Ivana glanced at Victor. He didn't say anything, but she could tell that he only had Eden in his eyes. He put one arm around Eden's shoulder and played with her hair in his hand.

They were sitting very close to each other, and his other hand was on her waist. He kept moving his hand on her waist.

Eden really wished that she could just throw him out of the window at the moment.

Eden saw that Ivana was staring at her husband, and she somehow felt a little unhappy.

Dean also took a look at Ivana, seeing that she didn't say anything for a long time.

He knew Mr. Alwynn was handsome, but he didn't know he would be able to make a girl totally lose her mind.

Mr. Alwynn had been very irritable these days, he didn't want Ivana to be in trouble.

"Miss Rawlins." Eden called her politely.

Ivana immediately came to her senses and looked at Eden with an awkward look. Her fair-skinned face was flushed with shyness. She smiled and said, "Mrs. Alwynn, my agent has read the contract already, and there is no problem at all. I am very grateful to Alwynn Group for giving me this opportunity."

Eden looked at her and said calmly, "We are both giving each other a great opportunity. I'm sure we will have a pleasant cooperation."

Then she reached out her hand, so did Ivana. They shook hands with each other and smiled friendly.

Eden took a look at Dean. "Dean, there is a press conference at noon. Make sure you take good care of Miss Rawlins. Please take Miss Rawlins to the dressing room, and then book lunch for Miss Rawlins at River City Restaurant. We will come down after lunch."

"Yes, Madam." Dean smiled and looked at Victor who had not said a word from beginning to end. He couldn't believe how arrogant his resident was.

Victor didn't even look at Ivana.

Even though she couldn't even move her eyes away from him.

"Mr. Alwynn, is there anything else that I can do for you?" Dean asked with a smile.

Victor shot a cold gaze at him.

His smile suddenly froze on his face. He felt he didn't do anything wrong.

"Do what my wife just told you to do," Victor said impatiently. It seemed that he couldn't even move his body away from Eden.

"Yes, yes, Mr. Alwynn." Dean smiled flatteringly and turned to Ivana. "Miss Rawlins, let me take you to the lounge to rest first."

"Sure!" Ivana stood up and turned around. But before she left, she looked back at Victor and said, "Mr. Alwynn, may I ask I will be attending today's press conference with you?"

Victor nodded indifferently.

Ivana finally smiled and then left with Dean. As long as she could attend the meeting with Victor, she would be able to ride the wave and get better exposure.

Every celebrity who had worked with Alwynn Group all ended up having a lot of good resources.

Eden didn't know what to say. It seemed that neither of them could really relax recently.

The reason why a woman thought she was beautiful in front of a man was that she was confident that she could completely win the man's heart with her beautiful face and kind heart.

Ivana was indeed beautiful, but what about her heart?

Eden knew she was just another woman who coveted her husband.

When the door was closed, Victor gently pulled Eden, and she sat straight on his body.

Eden was shocked and almost cried out. Her heart skipped a beat as she opened her red lips slightly and looked at Victor.

Victor smiled cheekily and said in a low voice, "Honey, please start your performance."

Eden was totally speechless. She felt her mind went blank.

Start her performance?

She sneered in her heart.

This was what he asked for.

Her eyes suddenly lit up. "Okay, okay. Darling, I'll start now."

Eden said as her slender finger gently slid across his chest.

The satisfaction made Victor's pupils tremble. He stared deeply into her eyes.

He wouldn't let her go this time.

He quickly took her to the inside room.....

At noon, the press conference.

Victor was refreshed and went to the 11th floor with Eden who looked so exhausted.

"Hey, Eden. Didn't you sleep well? You look so tired." Melissa was shocked when she saw Eden's expression.

Victor smiled cheekily at the side. He knew she was just teasing him earlier, but before she could run away as she planned, he already caught her up.

He looked at her face, feeling that he just couldn't move his eyes from her.

"Don't worry. She is fine. Can you get some strawberry milkshakes for her? I will take her to the dressing room to have a rest."

Chapter 1336

"Ok." Melissa looked at Eden hesitantly but still turned around and left.

Victor took Eden into the dressing room. Eden sat on the chair, closed her eyes, did not say a word to him.

Victor looked at her face with love and did not disturb her. He was sure that she would make him suffer if he talked to her now.

He took out his mobile phone and was about to send a message to Brian.

But at the same time, Brian's message came through. He reposted him a piece of news and some pictures.

It was about the rumour between Eden and the president of R.K Group.

There was a picture of Irving looking at Eden affectionately.

Eden was also looking at Irving with a gentle smile on her delicate face in the photo. The angle made it look like something indeed happened between the two of them.

Brian's message says, "Victor, have you woken up yet? I've been waiting for you to call me. I know you have a press conference today. This is not a simple case. I asked someone to keep an eye on them last night and we found they hired very professional private detectives. They were all using high-tech micro recording equipment, and it was difficult for us to notice.

By the way, Mr. Remar and Mr. King met with Irving this morning again. They had lunch at River City Restaurant. I guess these two b*stards had turned against us. We are facing a big loss this time."

Victor sneered after he read it. They were just like some contemptible scoundrels to him.

He didn't care about them turning against him at all.

He quickly replied. "It's okay. If they don't want to do it, someone else will do it."

After sending this message, he sent another message to Loomis.

"Hey, do you want to take my sister and my three little nephews home for dinner tonight? Let's talk about business. As you said, you need more money because you have three children now. I want to give you the dealership of all the regions except for the Southern region."

Loomis replied quickly as well. "You finally come to your senses."

Looking at the message, Victor was speechless.

Before he could reply, Loomis sent another one. "You and your wife have become famous recently." He also put a cheeky face emoji.

Victor replied. "Are you being sarcastic to me? Are you not worried that I can make you sleep on the sofa tonight?"

"Alright, you win! I will see you tonight," said Loomis.

Victor raised the corner of his mouth smugly. He was quite confident that his sister would listen to him.

Then he sent another message to Dean. "Arrange a meeting with Mr. Remar and Mr. King for me. I will meet them at 4 o'clock in the meeting room."

"Yes, Mr. Alwynn," Dean replied.

"Mr. Alwynn, Eden, here is the strawberry milkshake." Melissa came in with a cup of strawberry milkshake.

Victor put his finger on his lips and indicated to her to be quiet.

Melissa glanced at the time, then pointed to the watch on her wrist and said in a low voice, "There are 30 minutes left. Eden has to put on makeup now. Did you ask her to attend the conference with you?"

Victor said, "My wife is beautiful enough, so she doesn't need to put makeup on. You can go to do your things now."

Melissa was a little speechless. She knew Victor loved Eden so much, but he really didn't need to show it all the time.

Melissa glanced at Eden again, who seemed to have fallen asleep, and turned to leave.

Victor put the milkshake on the table and continued to look at his phone.

In today's press conference, the reporters would definitely ask some tricky questions.

He looked at his wife, who had fallen asleep, felt a bit guilty. He thought about it. They had never used any contraceptive between them, but she still hasn't got pregnant. He had been dreaming of having another daughter.

He also checked with the doctor after the accident last time. The doctor said she recovered very well and nothing affected her health. Was it because he didn't try hard enough?

Thinking of this, he couldn't help but smile. Well, he'd better just let nature take its course.

He sent a message to Brian. "Irving's fiancée is Paulina Clark. Check her up. She did plastic surgery before she came back, and I'm afraid she is not a simple person either."

Brian replied. "It's all your fault. You have to blame everything on your handsome face."

"I can't disfigure myself, can I? Cut the crap. There must be something wrong with her. Also, I need your help. Irving, that b*stard, is actually interested in my wife. He kept sending her roses every day. He even said that my wife is his whole world. I can't even believe that I still haven't killed him yet. Watch him closely. If he wants to make trouble, we will play with him."

"What?! Why didn't you tell me earlier?" Brian originally wanted to say "every dog has his day", but he knew it was not the right time for a joke now.

"Ok. Leave this guy to me. You can just relax and have a good time with your wife."

Victor frowned. "You sound so confident now. Aren't you worried that others will find out that you're an idiot? No wonder you're still single now."

"Victor, this is nothing personal, so you shouldn't have said that. You'd better understand who you are. You are not God at the end of the day."

Victor laughed when he saw this message. Then he wrote, "Please don't swear."

"That is never gonna happen."

Victor had to admit that Brian won this time.

However, he was still not a match to Lucian.

"Where's Adonis? I haven't seen him for a few days," Victor asked.

"I heard that his girlfriend came over, so he is hanging out with his girlfriend all day long."

"Look, there is no harm without comparison. Winter is coming, so you'd better keep yourself warm when you don't have another person with you."

Brian was a little irritated. "I'd rather be a single man than a heartless guy. You have gone too far, Victor. When I get what I want, I will come back and ask you to pay everything back. Anyway, I need to work now. Otherwise, you'd accuse me of not working."

After reading this message, Victor smiled and put the phone back in his pocket.

At this time, Eden slowly opened her eyes. She felt much better now after having a nap.

Seeing Victor sat next to her, her face suddenly turned red, looking very adorable.

"You'd better get out now. I need to put makeup on." Her voice was a little hoarse.

Victor smiled and said, "Yes, honey."

He took the strawberry milkshake from the table and inserted a straw into it. "Drink this, honey. You'll feel better soon."

"Okay." Eden moved her body slightly, took the milkshake over, and started drinking.

Chapter 1337

Victor smiled and went out, sitting in the rest area and waiting.

Paula also came down and waited by the side, not daring to come close to Victor.

She was actually getting nervous when she didn't see Dean.

Victor picked up the financial news on the side and started reading it, the brilliant light made his flawless face look even more charming.

Dean, who had just finished all the things, also rushed to the 11th floor.

He ran to Visitor when he saw him sitting alone in the rest area, and looked at them with a flattering smile. "Mr. Alwynn, I have made an appointment with Mr. Remar and Mr. King. They were both panicked and kept asking me what happened. I hung up without saying anything."

"Well done." Victor nodded.

"Thank you, Mr. Alwynn! Do you want to have something to drink?" He knew Victor wouldn't accept any drink from anyone else.

"No, thanks." Victor put down the newspaper and turned to look at him, "Why don't you go check on the setup? Make sure everything is safe. You have seen today's news, so you should know what to do."

Dean nodded and said, "Yes, of course. I have already made sure that the security system works well."

"Well done. You can go finish your work now." Victor waved at him.

Dean felt like he had been driven away as if he was a fly. However, he was just an assistant at the end of the day.

He smiled slightly. There was nothing he could do anyway, so he might as well just accept it.

Victor glanced at the dressing room where Eden was, thinking it wouldn't long until she came out. His lips couldn't help but curl up into a smile. He felt he just wanted to smile as long as he was with her.

"Mr. Alwynn." A gentle voice sounded, followed by a faint scent.

Victor raised his eyes and glanced at Ivana. His eyes were indifferent, but he frowned slightly with displeasure.

Ivana had changed her clothes and put makeup on. She put on an almond fashionable dress decorated with sequins, accessorized with a pale pink diamond necklace and earrings. At first glance, she was the kind of woman that would make men go crazy and couldn't move their eyes away from her. She was indeed stunning.

"Yes," Victor answered faintly, "Wait a minute."

Then he looked back down at his phone.

Seeing that everyone was busy doing their own things, Ivana got up her courage and sat next to Victor.

However, things didn't really go as she wished. As soon as she moved her legs, Victor said lightly, "Sit opposite." His tone showed that he would not accept any argument on this.

Ivana blinked with her long eyelashes awkwardly and she sat opposite him.

She glanced at the time then said, "Mr. Alwynn, the press conference is about to begin. Let's go over first."

Victor said, "No rush. My wife hasn't come yet."

Ivana smiled and said, "Is Mrs. Alwynn coming as well?"

"My wife is the Design Director of Alwynn Group. Of course, she will be here."

Ivana's face suddenly changed. "But I'm supposed to be the one to attend the conference with you today."

Only then did Victor slowly look up at her anxious face. He really didn't understand what she was thinking about.

"Do you have any problems with my wife coming with me?" His indifferent voice did not have any undulations, but it was enough to make everyone tremble in fear.

Ivana shook her head immediately and said with a smile, "Of course not. But today I cancelled all my schedules just to come with you to the press conference."

She sounded determined.

She just wanted to stand next to Victor on her own to create some rumors. She surely didn't want Eden, who was already more popular than her to be there at all.

Victor knew what she meant. His dark eyes were full of vague sarcasm, and his smile was wild and ruthless. "Do you want to attend the conference with me so that you can create some rumors?"

Ivana smiled faintly. She didn't expect him to be so straightforward. Yes, she had just become famous. Now she needed more rumors to arouse people's attention. Victor also had an agency and Abigail was working there, who was one of the most famous agents. As long as she had a good relationship with Victor, she could have whatever kind of resources she wanted.

She put on a bright smile, looking very charming. However, Victor didn't even look at her.

"Mr. Alwynn, you are worrying too much. I don't have such an idea. I have been admiring you for a long time. It would be my honor to attend the conference with you."

Victor leaned back slightly, his eyes finally falling on her face. He slightly moved his lips, "Miss Rawlins, there are not many people who dare to use my name to create publicity stunts. We hired you not because of how popular you are, but because your face is very suitable for our brand propaganda this season.

You don't need to be too proud of yourself. I don't think it's so hard for us to find another person like you. What do you think?"

Ivana was not stupid. She knew what Victor meant. There would be loads of people who could replace her if she didn't want to do it.

Her face suddenly turned pale. Everyone said that Victor was extremely difficult to get along with, and it was indeed so.

When she found out that when Alwynn Group wanted to work with her, she was so happy that she couldn't sleep the whole night. She was getting more and more popular, but she still had a long way to go compared with those top celebrities.

Her agent told her that Victor would definitely like her. After all, she did have a really beautiful face.

She could handle all kinds of styles.

Victor liked innocent-looking women, and everyone could tell it from his wife. Eden looked very soft, always making people wanted to protect her.

However, Ivana already felt that Victor was very hard to get along with only after seeing him twice.

"Mr. Alwynn, don't get me wrong. I didn't mean it." Ivana didn't dare to have any more hopes. After all, it was her who would be embarrassed if she got kicked out of here.

At this time, Victor suddenly stood up and walked towards Eden, who had already come out from the dressing room.

Eden was wearing a black dress. Her beautiful hair was pulled up, making her look noble and elegant.

She walked towards Victor with a smile. The black dress made her skin look more fair and flawless, and her smiling eyes revealed a kind of unspeakable charm. At this point, no one was more beautiful than her in Victor's eyes.

"Wow! You are so beautiful." Victor praised her generously and tapped his arm, indicating to her to hold his arm.

Eden smiled. Looking at him who was in a good mood, she felt a little unfair. Why did she have to lose every time?

But seeing that he was in a good mood, she would just let him go this time.

She didn't even know why he could make her not angry at him at all.

Now he would be more complacent next time.

If Abby knew, she would definitely tell her that she asked for it.

Thinking of this, she smiled and took his arm.

Victor also looked at her and smiled gently. His smile was so dazzling, making people could not take their eyes off it.

From Ivana's angle, she could only see the gentleness in Victor's eyes, who was too handsome to make her forget how to breathe.

She stared at Victor and forgot about everything. She had never seen anyone who could be as charming as him in her life. He was domineering and gentle, and the light made him look like a prince coming from her dream. She knew she would not meet anyone like this anymore in her life.

She could only feel her heartbeat at this moment.

Even when Eden and Victor walked to her side, she was still staring at Victor obsessively.

Looking at her face, Eden couldn't help but kick Victor's calf hard. There were too many women who had their eyes on him. It was all his fault.

Victor pursed his lips and squinted at her. However, looking at her jealous face, he felt his leg didn't hurt anymore instantly.

He loved it when she was jealous.

Seeing that Ivana didn't seem to stop staring at Victor, Eden said with a smile, "Miss Rawlins, is my husband handsome?"

Her voice was gentle as she smiled, and Ivana could not help but nod her head. Her eyes moved slightly and when she saw Eden's cold face, her surging emotions came to a halt.

All of a sudden, she felt so embarrassed that she wanted to find somewhere to hide in.

She had never been so embarrassed and lost her composure like this.

She had worked with many handsome celebrities before, but none of them was a match to Victor. He had something really special that no one else had.

He gave people a strong sense of security as if nothing in the world would be a problem in front of him.

He was like God, overlooking all things in the world, controlling everything in the world.

"Mrs. Alwynn, well... I'm sorry, I was a little absent-minded just now. Mr. Alwynn is indeed handsome. Everyone knows that he is the most handsome man in River City. I believe every woman will show the same expression as I did when they see Mr. Alwynn." Ivana was still an experienced actress, so she surely could deal with such a situation.

At that moment, she really felt as if a prince was walking towards her.

She looked at Eden with a graceful smile.

Eden also smiled slightly. "Thank you for your compliment to my husband. My husband is really handsome, but there is one thing that Miss Rawlins was wrong about. Not every woman would look at him like you did earlier. Such as the brand ambassador we hired for the last season, who always looked at my husband with admiration and respect." Not everyone was an idiot. Eden couldn't believe that Ivana could say it out like it was so natural.

Every woman who had seen Victor would show the same expression?

What an idiot!

How could she even say this?

The brand ambassador they used for last season was very sensible. She cleared liked Victor, but she knew that Victor would not look at her at all. So she just finished her work well and earned a lot of money. She also built a good reputation and got a lot of good resources from Alwynn Group.

Upon hearing this, Ivana's expression turned even more awkward. Everyone said that Mrs. Alwynn was not like this before. She used to be very weak. However, under Victor's protection, she had totally changed and became braver and braver.

However, there were many different stories out there about Eden.

Ivana was a celebrity, so everyone in her circle was more or less the same as her who was arrogant.

Therefore, the stories they believe about Eden, who was an innocent-looking girl, were totally different as well.

In fact, Eden would not make everyone too embarrassed. After all, they were cooperating with each other now. She smiled politely and said, "Miss Rawlins, the conference is about to start. Let's go there now."

Ivana surely didn't want to have any trouble, so she nodded with a smile and walked with the two of them towards the conference room.

There were already a lot of people in the well-decorated press conference room. Most of them were the cooperation partners and executives of Alwynn Group, as well as major media. On the big screen behind the stage, the introduction video of C.Y and Alwynn group was showing everyone the company's history and their new products.

As Victor and the other two entered the room, the lights on the scene suddenly lit up.

Holding a microphone, Dean stood on the bright stage.

He made a bow with a smile and then raised the microphone to speak.

After he welcomed everyone and introduced the company,

he announced that the conference began.

Dean had already arranged how they wanted Ivana to get on the stage.

Ivana was an actress as well as a singer, therefore, she was going to get onto the stage whilst singing her new song.

After Dean introduced her, the lights on the stage dimmed.

As the music started, Ivana appeared on stage behind the smoke.

The audience burst into applause.

Eden and Victor sat in the middle of several high-level officials. Lucian also came and sat next to Victor.

Lucian glanced at Ivana and said, "You got a good brand ambassador this season."

Victor didn't say anything. In his eye, Ivana was just an idiot.

However, these were not important. He just wanted to get the result he wanted.

At the same time, Irving was in the presidential suite of the hotel, held a glass of red wine, and watched the press conference with Dahlia and his assistant.

Irving stared at the screen with mixed feelings.

Dahlia sneered and said sarcastically, "Alwynn Group always chose the top celebrities before, but this year, they didn't make a wise choice."

The assistant smiled and said, "Miss Dahlia, the way Alwynn Group does things is really unpredictable. We only found out about this press conference this morning. It seems that they like giving everyone surprises. Even for the new products launching conferences, they always choose to surprise everyone."

Chapter 1339

Irving slowly put the glass in his hand on the table and looked at Dahlia. "When is the Craig family going to announce the new product ambassador?"

Dahlia smiled and said, "In three days."

Irving's eyes slightly narrowed, his eyebrows slightly frowned, and then his eyes slowly fell on the screen. His ring finger gently tapped his knee. After a while, he leaned on the sofa lazily and said thoughtfully, "Tell them to prepare for tomorrow's press conference."

Upon hearing her words, Dahlia's face changed. She said slowly, "The Craig family invited the most popular female celebrity in the past three years, Jocelyn Taylor. Her schedule is really tight. I don't think we can make it tomorrow."

Irving snorted coldly. "No wonder the Craig family could never catch up with Alwynn Group. You are slower than them on everything. According to how Alwynn Group always does their things, they probably will launch their new product in three days. They like to give everyone surprises, so they probably will finish everything quickly when they have already caught everyone's attention. It is different from other companies' operations. Although you have your own tricks, you still may not win them. They have their own promotion platform as well. If you don't take the initiative, how can you win them?"

Irving looked very serious. He had studied Victor very well.

The design drafts of Alwynn Group would rarely be revealed on the market. Their company was doing a really good job of protecting their designers.

There were hardly any copies in the market. The company did its best to protect its designers.

Other than Eden, Alwynn Group still had many other outstanding designers. Eden was in charge of the whole design department, and they had been doing a really good job In the past three years.

Irving always knew that she was a talented girl. She never talked much, but she got everything in her heart.

There was no such thing as a genius in the world. No one was born to be a top scholar. Eden was a good student because she had put in a lot of effort day and night.

He still remembered that she liked to sit under a willow tree in the playground in high school. She would study and read books there when others took a nap at noon. During the three years, he had witnessed her hard work.

Paula and the others bullied her every day, but she was also very smart and knew how to make sure that they were punished.

She was smart, but she would never show it. Only those who had been in contact with her would understand her.

After Ivana's performance, Victor took Eden's hand and stepped onto the stage.

Dean held the microphone and introduced them excitedly. The big screen also started to display their new products. Eden introduced each piece of design and her inspiration.

Irving looked at the stage. Eden looked so beautiful, but Victor kept his arm around her waist. Irving's eyes turned colder and colder. He really wished that he could just get into the screen and get onto the stage right now.

Dahlia was staring at the products displayed on the screen. It seemed that the images they got before were all correct. Her lips curled up into an evil smile.

She didn't believe that Victor and Eden could be as lucky as last time anymore.

It was lucky that Eden figured it out last time, however, no one could have the luck all the time.

She sneered and said, "Their products look very average this year."

Irving's eyes did not move from the screen when he heard this, but he said sarcastically, "You think they are average, but you are not even able to reach this level. You are the Design Director of R.K now, but there is not much highlight in your design this year. Compare with their average products, what is your design like?"

Dahlia's face changed in an instant. Looking at Irving, who couldn't even move his eyes away from Eden, irritation surged up inside her. She still maintained a gentle smile on her face. "How can you say this? I just didn't have enough time this year. I will try my best in the next season."

Irving smiled mockingly without saying anything.

The room suddenly became quiet, and none of them spoke, just quietly watching the conference until the end.

Irving stood up and said, "Aidan, make an appointment with Mr. Alwynn. I want to meet him."

Dahlia said quickly, "I'll go with you."

Irving put on his coat and looked back at her. "Have you forgotten what I just said already? Tell the Craig family to start the conference tomorrow, and they must launch the new product before Alwynn Group. Otherwise, it will be a waste of your time and effort."

Dahlia's face suddenly sank. It turned out that he knew all the tricks they were playing.

"I didn't do anything. Melissa did it. She completely copied Eden's design style. Even if something happens, it's the TS Company's responsibility. It has nothing to do with R.K Group." She had thought this through already.

Irving said in a deep voice, "I don't want such things to happen. I want to win Alwynn Group. I don't care what you do, I only care about the result."

After saying that, he left with his assistant.

Dahlia asked furiously behind him, "Irving, don't you want to explain the news this morning to the media?"

Irving stopped and looked back at her with his cold eyes. "What do you want me to explain?"

Dahlia's face darkened. "I am your fiancée now. You have seen the news this morning. Don't you care about my feelings at all? Eden is going to ruin everything..."

"Shut up!" Irving couldn't accept anyone to insult the woman he liked for so many years.

"Irving..."

"Go and finish your work. Don't let me say it again." Irving interrupted her ruthlessly and strode out.

Dahlia was so angry that her whole body trembled. He really came here for Eden.

This d*mn b*stard was as ruthless as Victor.

He only cared about the woman she loved. The others were nothing in their eyes.

"Eden, Victor, I will never let you get away with it! You have ruined my life, and I will also destroy yours! Let's wait and see!" She said viciously, then picked up her bag and went directly to the TS Company.

As soon as Eden and Victor went back to the company after the conference, Dean received a call from Irving's assistant.

Dean didn't say yes to their invitation. He politely refused then first and then went to ask Victor.

"Mr. Alwynn, Mr. Matthews said that he wants to see you."

Victor smiled coldly. It seemed that Irving was more impatient than himself.

At this moment, Irving's words suddenly came to his mind. "See you tomorrow, Eden."

His face instantly darkened.

He said coldly, "I don't want to see him."

There was no cooperation between the two companies, so there was no point to meet each other at all.

"Sure, I will let his assistant know now." Dean smiled and went out.

Was Mr. Alwynn jealous? Dean could never stand a man getting jealous, however, he somewhat felt Victor looked quite cute when he was jealous.

He looked at his wife with an innocent and jealous look, making Dean want to laugh.

The more he thought about it, the more he wanted to laugh. He could only run away quickly.

Fortunately, he was prepared in advance earlier, so that the reporters did not have time to ask about the news of Eden and Irving. But this matter had to be sorted soon, otherwise, it would only get worse and worse.

No one could expect what people dared to say online.

He just read the news earlier, it really wasn't good for Alwynn Group's reputation.

Some models and celebrities who were jealous of Eden secretly called Eden a "sl*t".

He heard it and just smiled. In fact, he really wanted to tell them that even though they wanted to have rumours with others, no one would even want to get involved. He felt Eden didn't deserve all these at all.

However, sometimes it would be better for him to keep his mouth shut. Otherwise, he probably would end up making things worse.

Eden leaned on the sofa wearily and closed her eyes.

Thank God Ivana left straight after the press conference.

She really wouldn't have any energy to deal with that woman now.

Seeing her exhausted face, Victor felt a little worried. "Eden, you go inside and lie down for a while. I'll deal with the things here."

"Okay." Eden really wanted to sleep now. She was really tired.

When she just sat up, a text message came through. She glanced at the screen, it was a number that she didn't recognize.

She clicked it on it. "Falling in love with you was something that I didn't expect, but you suddenly broke into my life and stole my heart, and now I'm in love with you."

Victor also saw the text message, and his eyes suddenly turned cold and gloomy.

Eden thought it must be a stupid joke.

"It must be someone who sent it to the wrong number. I don't know this number at all."

Victor looked at her quietly. How could this silly girl believe that such a text message would be sent wrong?

"Silly girl. Don't you think anyone would mistake the number of the person they love?" Victor said with a cold sneer.

He believed it was from Irving.

Actually, Eden also felt it was Irving.

The atmosphere was a little tense. Eden did not know how to explain it to Victor. At this time, she really needed him to trust her.

Just as the two of them fell silent, another text message came through. Eden and Victor looked at the screen at the same time.

"I never thought I would love a person like this, but your appearance made me realize where I actually come from. I come from the colorful world in your eyes, because everything would be grey without you. I have been looking for a suitable opportunity to tell you how much I love you, but I was worried that my abruptness and excitement would frighten you, so I always hesitated. I never feel I'm ready, but I couldn't wait anymore. Because I was more afraid of losing the opportunity to love you than being afraid of failure."

Chapter 1340

Eden's eyes widened. She wondered who actually would do such a thing.

Why did this person send this kind of message so randomly?

She looked at Victor a little nervously. "Honey, I really don't know who this is."

Victor glared at her without saying anything. Everyone could tell that he was very angry.

Eden also stood up angrily. She surely was not in the mood to have a rest anymore. She quickly called the number back.

Someone answered the phone quickly on the other side.

"Eden, I was wondering when you would call me." The voice coming from the other side sounded very joyful and relaxed.

Eden was slightly startled when she heard this voice. It was really Irving.

It was really him!

Her face turned angry again. "Irving, why are you doing this? You clearly know that I am married."

Irving laughed out as if he heard a joke, and then he said calmly, "When did you get married? How come I didn't know? In the past few years..."

"We haven't had any interactions in the past few years. It meant nothing even though you liked me when we were in middle school. Irving, stop doing such things again. You already have a fiancée. You should respect yourself, as well as other people's family." Eden interrupted him coldly.

He just wanted to destroy the relationship between her and her husband.

"A fiancée? She is just someone that my father wanted me to marry. I never liked anyone else except for you all these years." Irving said with a smile, pretending to be calm when he talked about it.

However, Eden could not help but sneer. He had liked her for many years.

It had really been more than ten years if he started liking her from high school.

But his infatuation made her very uncomfortable.

"Irving, did you deliberately release today's news?" Eden asked directly. She even thought that he had planned everything before.

"No, you wronged me about this matter. I don't want to do this. If I like you, I certainly respect you, but I still have to express my feelings.

I really regret that I didn't tell you this when we were in high school. I wanted to tell you after we graduated from high school actually, but you went to work after graduation, and I couldn't find you. I have been looking for you ever since the graduation." Irving sounded a little sad.

"Eden, I really liked you in those years. After I graduated from college, I didn't get any news about you either. You left the Gienger family, and the Gienger family didn't know where you were. I've been looking for you. Until two years ago, I saw you in the fashion magazine. But at that time, my company was at a critical moment and was about to be listed. I was busy all the time, so I didn't come to see you."

If other women heard this, they would definitely be touched.

But in Eden's opinion, these words were like poisons.

"Irving, you should wake up now. I'm married and have children now. I don't think I am actually what you want. You want the Alwynn Group, right?" Eden said it directly. The other party was silent.

Sometimes, people would admit something by saying nothing.

Not to mention that Eden had already guessed what he was thinking.

"Eden, you are indeed the person I want. As for Alwynn Group, that's business." Irving sounded very serious and determined.

A cold smile appeared on Eden's face. "You'd better stop wasting your time on me because you will never get what you want. As for Alwynn Group, as you said, this is business. I am Victor's wife, therefore, I will not let anything happen to Alwynn Group."

After saying that, she quickly hung up the phone and angrily smashed the phone on the sofa.

When she looked at Victor, she met his cold and gloomy eyes.

Victor got up and grabbed her into his arms. "Silly girl. I'm here, so no one can take you away from me."

Although he said so, he could feel anger curled hot and unstoppable in his gut.

Irving really infuriated him completely this time.

Did he really think he would win?

Then he might as well just merge the R.K Group, and see what other tricks he still had.

Irving was confident because he thought he had similar strength and ability as Victor.

However, Victor thought nothing of it at all.

Victor's sudden tenderness surprised Eden. She did not expect him to say something like that at all. So she smiled gently and said, "Thank you for trusting me." At this moment, trusting her was more touching than any actions or words to her.

"Silly girl. You are my wife, and you are my everything. If I didn't trust you, who else in the world I could trust? Don't worry, we will face this together." His eyes looked very firm. He would never let Eden get hurt.

"Yes." Eden was filled with gratitude. She could not help but smile. She felt it was already enough for her to have his words.

Then she finally could relax and fell asleep slowly.

It was time to meet Mr. King and Mr. Remar now.

Victor walked out of the office quietly.

Dean was already waiting for him outside.

Seeing Victor coming out, he smiled flatteringly and said, "Mr. King and Mr. Remar have already arrived."

"Okay." Victor nodded distantly, and the two went into the conference room.

Alwynn Group had been treating Mr. King and Mr. Remar very well in the past few years. As soon as the new product launched, they would always be the first people to get the dealership. Therefore, their business had been booming recently.

However, the only thing that greedy people cared about was profit.

The reason why they contacted Irving frequently was also because of the benefits.

Therefore, the two of them were a little nervous and flustered when Victor said he wanted to meet them.

They were both over fifty years old, and both of them were a little bit fat.

"Mr. Remar, do you think Mr. Alwynn already knew that we have been in contact with Irving privately?" Mr. King always felt a little uneasy.

Mr. Remar sneered and said, "We are all businessmen, and we can't only do business with Alwynn Group. Besides, we are not causing any trouble by doing business with both Alwynn Group and Craig family. This has no conflict anyway."

However, Mr. King shook his head and looked worried. "I always feel a little unsure. After all, Alwynn Group has been holding the palm in these years. Although T.S Company has support from R.K, it's not easy to occupy the market now. We are both businessmen, and we all understand how it is. We can't make a big loss because of being greedy."

Mr. Remar said, "The price given by T.S Company is two times lower than theirs. We can make our profit doubled in one year. Only a fool will refuse such a good offer."

At this time, the door was kicked open with a loud bang, and Victor walked in with a gloomy face.
