

Gluey Love 1351

Chapter 1351

Paula was helpless, "But the work is too much."

Eden looked at her proudly, "What's wrong? Is these work very difficult for you? Or is it because you're not confident to do it well?"

Paula was rendered speechless. She was talking about the salary, but why did Eden mention her ability?

"Who says I'm not confident? I've been working hard these days. As you can see, now I make less and less mistakes." Speaking of her work these days, Paula looked very proud.

"Ha-ha..." Eden smiled. Seeing that Paula was complacent over unspectacular progress, she shook her head speechlessly.

"Paula, you should be simple-minded. Just be kindhearted and sincere."

Paula said, "Eden, you should be generous and upright. Don't bully me."

Eden was stunned. Did she bully Paula?

"Paula, did I bully you? You had bullied me for three years. Aren't you ashamed to say that? Huh?"

Hearing this, Paula felt a little embarrassed and retorted with a red face, "Eden, in all fairness, you bullied me as well when I bullied you. You fought back. You are a cunning fox. Do you remember when I bullied you in the bathroom? Why didn't you tell me that the teacher was there?"

"I was punished by the teacher, and I had to clean up the bathroom for a month. During that month, I wanted to vomit no matter what I saw. Moreover, when I scolded you, you were so calm, but I cried several times. Are you sure I bullied you all the time? Besides, you were good at pretending, weren't you?"

Hearing this, Eden smiled, "Because you were stupid."

"I..."

"Alright, stop talking about how cowardly you were in the past. Hurry up and go to work. If you can't finish the work, you'll have to work overtime. But I have no objection if you want to stay up late."

"Humph! I don't want to work overtime!" Paula rushed back to her office angrily.

Eden shook her head and laughed. With Paula here, she wouldn't feel lonely.

Eden felt so hungry. As soon as she returned to the office, Victor hugged her in an instant.

Eden looked at him in confusion and smiled with curved eyebrows, "Victor, what's wrong?"

Victor lowered his head and looked at her with a unhappy face. When he thought that he would be on a business trip for three days, he was in a particularly bad mood.

"Honey, I have to go on a business trip for three days."

Eden thought that he was unhappy because of something else. It turned out to be like this.

She smiled and said, "It's not a big deal, is it? You often go on business trips, right? It's just that you have to leave for three days this time. You should know how lucky you are. When Lucian was here, he always went on business trips for you. Since he has something to deal with now, it's naturally your turn to go on a business trip."

"But I want you to go with me." Victor held her and walked inside.

There were warm dishes on the table.

Eden immediately sat down, took the chopsticks and put a piece of pumpkin in her mouth. After eating it, she said, "Victor, I've very busy these days, so I can't go with you."

Victor sat beside her. He was upset just because he knew she could not go with him.

Eden grinned, "Hurry up and eat. I'm starving."

Victor glanced at her gloomily, "Eden, when I'm not here, you absolutely can't meet Irving alone. Do you understand?"

"Okay!" Eden nodded in a hurry, "Why should I meet him? Be careful on the business trip and don't fall into someone's trap. There's a spy in our company. He knows your every move."

After Eden finished her words, she narrowed her big clear eyes slightly. Since Victor had to leave her for a few days, those people would definitely take some actions.

Hearing this, Victor narrowed his eyes, "Eden, do you know who it is?"

Eden was uncertain. She looked up at him, "Victor, I'm sure that Irma is not the spy, so I didn't ask you to fire her. However, the spy knows your whereabouts very clearly. Let's see if he will expose himself this time."

Victor's eyes were brooding and apathetic. He nodded and said, "Then let's take this opportunity to find him out."

"Okay! What time is your flight?" Eden asked again.

Victor said, "At eight o'clock in the morning."

"Mm!" Eden nodded and continued to eat.

After lunch, they sat together and watched the press conference of TS Company.

Eden was quite surprised, "Their spokeswoman is actually Gertie Tobler, the most popular actress in YD Company."

Victor smiled and nodded, "Yeah, that's her. It seems that TS Company spent a lot of money this year. However, I don't know if they can recoup the investment. Moreover, Carney has returned to C Country. We have reached an agreement with Evans Group, which makes him quite nervous."

Eden glanced at him, "Auntie left with him."

"Yeah!" Victor was a little puzzled, "Tell me, why does Miss Burton like Carney?" Since Darlene was with Carney, things would be difficult to deal with.

Eden said, "Love is just so unpredictable. You think it's impossible, but it really happens. Auntie is a good person, and Carney is lucky enough to marry her. Once auntie likes someone, she will trust him so much."

"Her ex-husband regretted what he did and divorced Tillie, didn't he? In my opinion, the best way for a woman to take revenge on a jerk is to stop loving him and spending time and energy on herself, making herself better and better. In that case, the jerk would know that she could live a good life without him, and he would regret it. Her ex-husband chose to divorce Tillie because he realized how kind she was."

Her words made sense, and Victor nodded.

"Therefore, it is impossible for him to be with auntie again. Although he could change his mistakes, auntie couldn't forgive him because he was once with Tillie." Saying this, Eden looked at Victor and smiled.

"Victor, remember that you can never betray me. Otherwise, when I take revenge, I'll be more vicious than my auntie."

Victor rubbed her head hard, "Fool, do you know what kind of woman a man will risk his life to cherish? Women should not only be beautiful, but also be philosophical in love. No matter how much a delicate woman suffer in love or at work, she doesn't complain loudly, beg humbly or feel dejected. She has her own interests and requirements, and she is independent. She can live a wonderful life. A proud and reasonable woman is the most attractive, just like you. I love you so much. How can I bear to betray you?"

"Ha-ha..." Eden smiled excitedly, "Thank you for your praise. However, you do know women quite well."

Chapter 1352

Victor quickly lowered his head and kissed her on the lips, "Fool, I only know you. I learnt these from you."

Eden was slightly surprised. Why didn't she know that she was such amazing?

"Ha-ha..." Eden couldn't help laughing, "Victor, you understand women more and more. I'm worried that I'll have more rivals in love."

Looking at her smiling face, Victor was obsessed. She looked very lovely when she smiled.

As a result, he always got sexually aroused.

He said with depression, "Eden, I worry about you the most. So many men like you. Look at you. You are the mother of three children, but you're well-shaped. Eden, I am jealous." When Victor stayed with her, he was really shameless and readily spoke his mind.

In front of her, he could be his real self.

Eden frowned. Why did his words sound so annoying?

"But I only love you. Don't be jealous and fill your mind with nonsense all day long. The press conference is so boring. The only highlight is that their design is very similar to ours."

"Hurry up and finish your work, and then go home early. Don't you have to go on a business trip for three days tomorrow? I have to go back and pack up for you."

Victor glanced at the design on the big screen and narrowed his eyes slightly.

After a pause, he said, "Eden, I've decided when we'll release the new collection."

Eden thought for a moment and stopped him, "Don't say it now."

Victor nodded with understanding.

In fact, there was another possibility that someone had installed a bug in his office.

Perhaps someone had installed a tracker in his car, which was why they knew his whereabouts very well.

Or there was something wrong with Dean.

He trusted Dean, but the technology was so advanced.

Since they had no way to get close to him, they would make use of Dean, because Dean was aware of his whereabouts.

"Okay! Let's talk about it when we get back." Victor smiled and got up to work.

He took a few steps and looked at the ring on his hand. The ring was designed by Eden.

He didn't even have time to prepare a proposal ring for Eden.

With an apologetic face, Victor turned to look at Eden, "Honey, I'm sorry!"

When Eden heard his sudden apology, she was confused. Seeing that he looked at him with guilt and did not speak, she smiled and asked, "Victor, why did you apologize all of a sudden? Did you do something that let me down again?"

Victor lowered his head slightly. He thought for a moment, walked back and sat beside her. Looking at her, he held her shoulders with both hands and said with intense and distressed eyes, "Eden, I saw the news today. It's my fault. When I let you get the marriage certification with me, I only wanted to be with you selfishly, and I didn't think about other things."

He had his own considerations. At the end of this year, he actually planned to hold a grand wedding for her.

He would prepare a diamond ring and wedding dress for her. Moreover, he would make a proposal to her before holding the wedding. He had never forgotten about it, and he didn't dare to forget it.

How could he bear to let his beloved woman suffer grievances?

She would own everything that other women had, and he would give her what other women didn't have.

He would try his best to give her everything.

Moreover, he would do everything he could for her.

When Eden heard that he apologized for this, she felt warm in heart.

Seeing that he knitted his eyebrows slightly, she rubbed his eyebrows with her slender fingers gently and looked at him with a bright smile, "Victor, I don't care about these things. As long as you love me, that's enough. I don't care what others think. When I was eighteen years old, I looked forward to a romantic wedding indeed. But now, I don't seem to look forward to it. Perhaps it's because I'm living a good life now. Anyway, I don't expect to do those romantic things."

"No." Victor hugged her tenderly, "Eden, we will hold a wedding at the end of this year."

After saying that, Victor let go of her with a smile. He gently kissed her on the forehead before going to work with satisfaction.

Both of them had a lot of work to deal with, and they had been busy with work.

When it was time to get off work, Eden felt sore all over. She stretched herself and moved her painful neck.

She looked tired. She was really weary these days.

In the afternoon, Paula sent her some documents. Paula had really improved a lot, but she was still much inferior to Amelia, and she had affected her schedule again.

Victor closed the documents in his hands and looked at her, "Eden, have you finished your work?"

Eden smiled and nodded, "Do you have no dinner party tonight?"

Victor shook his head, "The business has been negotiated. I don't have to go there."

"Then let's go home." Eden got up and tidied up her desk.

"Okay!" Victor grinned.

At this time, Dean came in with a cup of coffee and a glass of juice.

He didn't have to work overtime, and he could go home after saying goodbye to Victor and Eden.

"Mr. Alwynn, Mrs. Alwynn, you've had a busy day." Dean put the coffee and juice on their desks respectively.

Eden looked at him and smiled gratefully, "Dean, is your mother in better health now?"

Dean's mother was ill and lived in the hospital. In the past, he couldn't afford the medical expenses.

When he asked his relatives for help, he was insulted by them. His mother happened to live in the hospital owned by Victor, and Victor saw how awkward he was by accident. After knowing the whole story, he decided to treat his mother for free.

That was why Dean worked as an assistant in Alwynn Group, but Dean was capable and didn't let Victor down.

After that, Victor helped him with other things. He knew that Dean graduated from a famous university and had excellent working ability, so he asked Dean to work for him.

"Thank you for your concern! My mother has become much better. Now she can go out to dance with other old ladies." Dean smiled gratefully.

If it weren't for Victor, his mother wouldn't have recovered so quickly.

"That's good." Eden picked up the strawberry juice and took a sip. It tasted good.

Victor looked at him, "Dean, you don't have to send me back today. We'll go home by ourselves. Just pick me up at Windsor Villa tomorrow morning."

Dean smiled and nodded. He came in just to hear such words, didn't he?

"Okay. Mr. Alwynn, Mrs. Alwynn, I'll get off work first." Dean waved at them and trotted out.

"Ha-ha..." Eden looked at his back and smiled, "He runs so quickly because he doesn't have to work overtime today."

Victor was turning off the computer. Hearing this, he said with a smile, "Eden, we are also very happy because we don't have to stay up late, aren't we? Let's go on a date tonight."

Chapter 1353

Eden glanced at him, "Didn't you say that we have to go back early? We have plenty of time to date in the future. Let's go back to accompany our children, dad and mom. We can date when we both have time."

If they went out to date, they wouldn't go home until midnight. Besides, she knew exactly what Victor was thinking.

After being refused, Victor suddenly looked at her unhappily and stood still.

When Eden tidied up her desk, he still remained motionless.

Eden was speechless.

"Let's go. I'm done." Eden took her bag and phone.

Victor still stood and looked at her.

Eden frowned and walked to him, "Victor, stop throwing a childish tantrum."

Victor picked up his phone, took her hand and said in an undeniable tone, "I am not. We're going on a date at Marriott Hotel tonight."

Eden was stunned. Looking at his determined expression, she was helpless. They had got married for a long time, but he wanted to date everyday.

However, thinking about it, she was quite happy. In this way, their passion would never dim.

If love faded away, what could be left?

"Okay, but call mom and dad to tell them first." Eden took out her phone and called Jaida. After telling her that they would not go back for dinner, they went to the underground parking lot, and Victor drove directly to Marriott Hotel.

In fact, Victor wanted to take her somewhere more romantic, but they didn't have much time, so he had to go there another day.

Victor drove the car all the way and chatted with Eden pleasantly. When they passed by a flower shop, Victor suddenly stopped.

He looked at Eden and said with a smile, "Honey, wait for me in the car." Then he opened the door and got out.

Eden was wondering what he was going to do. Seeing him running towards the flower shop, she smiled.

Did he want to buy her flowers?

As Eden expected, Victor soon came out of the flower shop with a bunch of flowers.

As soon as he got in the car, he smiled tenderly, "Honey, this is for you."

Eden looked at him and blinked her eyes. She had been with him for so long, but he seldom sent her flowers. That day, perhaps it was because he had been stimulated by Irving. In fact, it was a very happy and romantic thing to receive flowers from lover occasionally.

"Thank you, dear!" She took the flowers. Victor didn't buy red roses, but beautiful eustoma. They were more delicate than roses and more than graceful than peony. They represented sincere and eternal love!

Compared with the red roses, she preferred eustoma.

Seeing that she was happy, Victor was in a good mood. The gift that he gave to her would never be the same as that was given by another man.

How vulgar it was to send roses in this era!

"Honey, why don't you show me your gratitude?"

Eden knew what he meant. She leaned to him and kissed his lips.

Victor smiled pleasantly. He took the initiative to kiss her enthusiastically for a long time before letting go of her reluctantly.

Eden gasped for air and punched him coquettishly, "Hurry up. I'm hungry."

Victor looked at her blushed face and smiled wickedly. He could only sigh that he couldn't do what he wanted in the car.

"Okay, we'll leave now." Victor started the car and left. He was in a great mood.

In Irving's hotel.

He was dressed in black and white casual clothes, looking elegant and charming.

He sat on the sofa with his legs crossed gracefully and read the financial report this week.

Aidan came in and handed him a document.

"Mr. Matthews, this is all the information about Miss Bleu. Now she has some investment in real estate. However, the most successful companies in real estate are still Alwynn Group and Symantec Group. I heard that the heir of Symantec Group is Mr. Calder's daughter. No one has ever seen who she is. If we want to get involved in the real estate business, we must contact these two companies."

"Victor has a great assistant whose name is Adonis. He knows about the real estate investment very well. Mr. Calder has an assistant named Dawson, and he is very excellent as well. If we want to do business about real estate, we must think about it carefully."

Irving listened to Aidan while reading the document in his hand.

After Aidan finished his words, Irving didn't say a word. When he finished reading the document, he closed it slowly, took out a cigarette from the box on the tea table and lit it up. Taking a draw on the cigarette, he blew a ring of smoke and smiled faintly, "She is more capable than I expected. Aidan, I didn't tell you about that, right? She had particularly good grades in high school, and I had been trying my best to catch up with her. She could get full marks, but I was always a bit inferior to her. Do you know how I felt at that time?"

Aidan was stunned. They seemed to be talking about different topics.

"Mr. Matthews, I had the same feeling before. I knew the difference between me and that person, so I wanted to try harder next time, but he did much better than me the next time. Sometimes, we have to admit the gap between us and others."

"Yeah, I failed to catch up with her before we graduated. Look, now she has an awesome career. In fact, she's very serious about everything, and she is hard-working and aspirant. She looks so beautiful when she works hard." Irving said to himself with a sweet smile on his face, and he seemed to be deeply lost in thought.

Seeing this, Aidan really wanted to remind Irving that Eden had got married, and she even had her own children. He was behaving like a home-wrecker and ruining Eden's family.

However, he didn't dare to say so. Irving had done a lot for Eden, but he didn't get anything in return. Moreover, he was a stubborn man. He had been by his side for almost ten years, so he knew how stubborn Irving was very well.

He knew that there were some words that he could not say, so he never said that.

Irving laughed and said again, "Aidan, you know what? With her efforts, she can reach the top of the fashion world in another year or two. Unfortunately, it's too late for me to find her. Why aren't we fated?"

Aidan didn't know what to say. In this world, there were many lovers who were destined not to be together.

"Mr. Matthews, sometimes, fate can't be forced..."

"No." Before Aidan could finish speaking, Irving interrupted him.

"Aidan, you are wrong. We should fight for fate on our own. How can I know that I can't be with her if I don't have a try?"

Aidan sensed persistence in Irving's tone. He knew Irving wouldn't listen to him no matter what he said.

Chapter 1354

Aidan lowered his head silently and didn't speak.

He felt that the atmosphere was a little tense.

But someone knocked on the door at this time.

Aidan breathed a sigh of relief and turned to open the door.

Dahlia stood outside the door. He smiled in a polite way, "Miss Grant, you are back. The press conference went on smoothly, didn't it?"

Dahlia smiled, ran her finger through her beautiful hair and nodded confidently, "Yes, it went on smoothly. But Craig Group spent a lot of money."

She said as she walked inside.

Seeing Irving on the sofa, she behaved very coquettishly.

"Irving." She called him softly.

Aidan did not come in, but turned around and left.

Irving looked up at her, pointed to the sofa opposite and asked her to sit down.

After Dahlia sat down, Irving put out the cigarette butt in his hand before saying, "The products of TS Company are not bad. Tell them that their customers are not enough to promote their new products now. They should canvass business orders at the same time to advertise their products wildly. Only in this way can they create a 'no lose' situation. After all, TS Company is much inferior to Alwynn Group. Hold the press conference on the top floor of River City Restaurant and let the media write the news in advance. Then we will arrange a show."

"Ask Melissa to hold a large-scale exhibition which can attract thousands of market dealers. It should be a fine spectacle, and it should be broad in scale. Ask all the media to attend it. Only in this way can we promote the new products better."

Dahlia nodded. Their way of doing business was different from that of Alwynn Group. Alwynn Group had fixed customers and the corresponding marketing strategies in the past few years. These years, their products were popular all over the world. There was no need for them to worry about having no customer.

But they were in the most difficult period.

Irving added, "Since we are cooperating with TS Company, you must help them win this battle. What's more, there is no outstanding manager in TS Company. Give Melissa some advice in a proper way. A company can't become successful without excellent employees. Let her hire some capable assistants."

He learned about TS Company. All manages in the company slacked off in their work. If such a company was not properly managed, it couldn't make progress no matter how nice the products were.

Melissa was ambitious but not capable. The company would soon be ruined. Of course, he would be the one who ruined TS Company in the end.

Dahlia nodded, "I have noticed this as well. I will tell Miss Craig about it."

Saying this, she smiled, "Irving, I heard that Victor is going on a business trip for three days, and he will go to C Country and Gate City. During his absence, why don't we meet other customers of his company and see if we can poach them?"

When Irving heard this, he looked at her with a weird smile, and his brooding eyes were full of appreciation. Being stared at by him, Dahlia even felt a little embarrassed. Then Irving praised her, "Dahlia, you're good at doing this. You've poached several clients from his company. I know how capable you're all the time. I'll wait for your good news."

Saying this, Irving picked up the red wine on the table and filled two glasses with it. Then he handed a glass to Dahlia. They looked at each other with a smile, clinked their glasses and each took an elegant sip.

Dahlia had been looking at him. Seeing how graceful and charming he was, she was infatuated.

She said in a delicate voice, "Irving, let's have dinner together tonight."

If other men heard her seductive voice, they would definitely be excited. But Irving's expression did not change at all.

Dahlia waited for his answer nervously. She had been his fiancée for two months, but they only had a meal together when he announced their relationship that night. Since then, they had never eaten again, and he had never touched her.

This made her feel very uneasy. He was her fiancée, but he seemed to be ascetic. Except for her, she really did not see another woman get close to him.

Irving said, "I don't have time tonight. Although there is no social activity, I have an appointment with a client. What do you like to eat? Go out with your friends. I have given you the card. You can buy whatever you want."

Hearing this, Dahlia was unwilling to give up. There was a trace of disappointment in her eyes.

Since she became his fiancée, she had only been accompanied by this card, and he never spent time on her.

"Irving, I am your fiancée. Can't I meet your friend with you? I can attend the social activities with you and learn something. I want to become more capable as soon as possible and be your devoted wife." When she said this, she knew that he might not agree.

In the past two months, she gradually found out what kind of character he had.

He was brutal and indifferent, just like Victor. She didn't know why she was so unlucky, but she always met such men.

Only then did Irving look up at her lazily with warning eyes. He said apathetically, "Dahlia, if you're qualified to go there, of course I'll take you with me. Even if you don't mention it, I will take you there on my own initiative. Since it's somewhere you can't go, you know what I mean."

Dahlia clenched her fists slightly. In fact, he had never taken her to any place she could go.

"Alright, I see. Don't drink much at night and pay attention to your health." She could only say such concerned words. After all, there was a reason why Irving had isolated her from his world. He only loved Eden in his heart.

Her heart was full of hatred, because her life always had something to do with Eden.

She met Irving in another country which was so far away from here, but Irving actually knew Eden. This was beyond her expectation.

"I will. Remember what I told you just now." Irving said with aloofness.

Dahlia nodded, "I will invite Miss Craig to have dinner with me tonight and talk to her."

"Okay!" Irving nodded, picked up the financial report and continued to read it.

Seeing him like this, Dahlia felt a little bored. When he had something to do, he spoke even less.

She took out her phone and contacted Melissa.

A sneer appeared in her eyes. It was time to make more troubles for Eden.

The next day, Victor had sex with Eden for a long time at dawn. Seeing that there was not much time left, he let go of her reluctantly and got up to take a bath. He was about to go on a business trip.

While Victor was having a shower, Eden checked his suitcase carefully again. After making sure that he had taken all the documents, clothes and daily necessities, she zipped the suitcase.

She changed her clothes and waited for Victor to come out.

After Victor got in the car, Eden went back to the room to pack up, ready to go to the company.

As soon as she arrived at the company, Paula ran to her anxiously.

Chapter 1355

Eden looked at her and asked with a frown, "What's wrong? Why do you look so worried?"

Paula said anxiously, "How can I stay calm now? Ivana came here and said that she wanted to dissolve the contract."

Eden was slightly stunned when she heard that. Then, she smiled and said, "Is she out of her head? Didn't she read the contract carefully?"

Paula shook her head, "Who knows? Now she and her agent are on the eleventh floor. She affects our moods early in the morning! What's more, look at what she has posted on her SNS."

Eden looked down at Paula's phone screen.

"I'm sorry that I had a bad influence on everyone because I didn't choose my partner rigorously. Alwynn Group has a reputation during this period of time. As a public figure, I'm determined to defend my right and stand up for myself."

There were all kinds of comments below. Some spoke for Alwynn Group, and others defended Ivana.

Some netizens thought that Ivana was very domineering, saying that few actresses could be as brave as her.

Eden read all the comments. Some paid Internet trolls were adding fuel to the flame.

Her guess was right. As soon as Victor left, someone started to make troubles for her. It seemed that they would not stop until they ruined Alwynn Group.

After Eden read the comments, she sneered, "She hasn't become so popular yet, but she is deliberately provocative!"

"Yeah, I couldn't believe it when I heard the news. Her attitude changed overnight. What made her dare to despise Alwynn Group like this?"

Paula couldn't figure out why Ivana wanted to dissolve the contract. It was such a good opportunity.

Eden said, "She's out of her head."

She glanced at the time and said, "Prepare a glass of milk and a sandwich for me."

Paula was stunned.

"Eden, this is an emergency. Are you in the mood to have breakfast?"

Eden walked towards her office while saying with a smile, "This is an emergency for them, not for us. Don't they know that brands and spokespeople make each other? We'll suffer no loss from dissolving the contract. There are so many actresses who are more capable than her. If she quits, others will fight for this chance. Anyway, she's not so famous, and it won't have a bad influence on us."

Paula was suddenly enlightened. No wonder Eden was so calm.

She was no longer anxious after hearing Eden's words.

She turned around and went to prepare milk and sandwich for Eden.

As soon as Eden entered the office, Seth came in with some documents.

Eden looked at her and smiled, "Good morning, Seth!"

"Good morning, Mrs. Alwynn!" Seth handed her the schedule.

"Mrs. Alwynn, this is the eldest son of the Clement family. He wants to meet you and talk about the basement."

Eden was stunned when she heard that. Then she smiled and said, "Seth, are you sure he is the eldest son of the Clement family?"

When did Delmont become so hard-working?

Seth grinned and then nodded, "Mrs. Alwynn, I'm sure it's him. He called me ten minutes ago."

Eden smiled helplessly, "Seth, how about this? You are very clear about this matter. Talk to him later and show him the relevant documents. If he has no objection, communicate with another company. If they can reach an agreement, let Delmont sign the contract."

"Okay, Mrs. Alwynn." Seth smiled, turned around and left the office.

Paula came in with milk and sandwich.

She put the food on the table and looked at Eden, "Eat it. Then we'll meet Ivana. Before you came, I went to the 11th floor to have a look. She sat in the rest area arrogantly!"

Eden sat down and took a sip of the milk before saying, "Just keep her waiting."

Eden started to eat the sandwich slowly. She didn't have a good appetite and didn't have breakfast this morning, but she felt hungry after arriving at the company.

The weather was good that day. The sun shone through the French window. Under cracks of light, she looked lazy.

Basking in the warm sunshine, Eden really looked so gentle and peaceful.

Looking at her like this, Paula felt that she had really changed a lot over the years.

"Rat-a-tat..." Someone knocked on the door.

Paula frowned and said, "It seems that they can't wait any longer and come straight to your office."

Eden lowered her head and said calmly, "We have to solve the problem sooner or later. Let them in."

Paula turned around to open the door. Sure enough, she saw Ivana and her agent stand at the door unhappily.

Paula smiled politely, "Please come in!"

"Are Mr. Alwynn and Director Bleu both there?" Ivana asked unpleasantly.

"Miss Rawlins, Mr. Alwynn is on a business trip. Mrs. Alwynnis inside." At this moment, Paula suddenly wanted to speak for Eden.

"Alright, I can talk to her." Saying this, Ivana sneered, raised her haughty head and walked in gracefully, like an arrogant peacock.

After Ivana and her agent came in, Paula made two cups of coffee for them.

When Ivana came in, she was a bit surprised to see that Eden was having breakfast. She looked at Eden's calm face in disbelief. Was Eden in the mood to eat?

While reading the documents, Eden looked up at Ivana with disdain, "Please sit down!"

Then, she lowered her head again to read the documents sent by Seth.

She read the documents while eating, as if Ivana and her agent did not exist.

Ivana and her agent looked at each other with displeasure in their eyes.

"Please have some coffee." After Paula finished speaking, she stepped aside with a faint smile.

Eden drank up her milk and ate her sandwich slowly before signing on the document. Then she picked up the phone and called Seth.

"Seth, I've signed the documents. Come over and get them."

Eden hung up the phone. In less than a minute, Seth walked in confidently.

"Mrs. Alwynn."

Eden handed the documents to her, "I have signed the documents. If there is anything you don't understand, you can ask Mr. Church."

"Alright, Mr. Alwynn." Seth took the documents with a smile and turned around to leave.

In fact, Paula was very confused. Why did Seth seem to respect Eden so much?

Only then did Eden walk to Ivana and her agent and sit opposite them.

Perhaps it was because Ivana thought that she was very popular. She looked at Eden proudly.

Eden smiled calmly, "Miss Rawlins, I heard from my assistant that you want to dissolve the contract."

"Yes! Alwynn Group has a bad reputation recently. I am afraid that my future will be affected." There were no other people here, so she said very straightforwardly.

Chapter 1356

Eden thought about it. Recently, there was a lot of negative news about Alwynn Group, and it had social influence indeed.

But it wouldn't affect her future, would it?

Eden didn't understand what Ivana was thinking. The news was only about her and Victor, and it was not something serious. The problem could be solved, and they were solving it.

Eden said apologetically, "Miss Rawlins, Alwynn Group should be responsible for the news indeed. We have taken legal actions against the reporters who fabricated rumours. There will be a result soon. If this matter has a bad influence on you, as the wife of the president of Alwynn Group, I am here to apologize to you. I'm sorry, Miss Rawlins."

Eden's generous and calm apology made Ivana's face darken even more.

Before she could say that she wanted to terminate the contract, Eden said first, "Miss Rawlins, the contract signed by you and Alwynn Group has become effective. I believe that you've read the contract and know what will happen if you terminate the contract. If you want to break the contract with us, you'll have to pay five times the damages according to the relevant clause. Therefore, you'll have to pay us about fifteen million dollars. Besides, you should pay the promotion fee and production fee."

After Eden finished speaking, she did not give Ivana a chance to speak and looked at Paula, "Call the lawyer and ask him to come up and talk about the contract with Miss Rawlins."

"Okay, Mrs. Alwynn." Looking at Eden's confident and calm face, Paula was so jealous of her. Eden was really an imposing female president.

However, Ivana and her agent widened their eyes and looked at Eden in disbelief.

Seeing that Paula was about to dial the number, Ivana came to sense and stopped her in a hurry, "Wait, Paula."

Paula's hand paused slightly, and she looked at Ivana in puzzlement.

However, Eden smiled faintly and leaned back casually.

Ivana stared at Eden with her eyes wide open and couldn't help but swallow. Her heart was already in her mouth. Why didn't she know that she had to pay five times the damages?

"Director Bleu, do you make a mistake? Should I pay five times the endorsement fee?"

Ivana went deathly pale. Her voice was so loud that Eden frowned.

Eden nodded and glanced at Ivana's agent, "Didn't you read the contract? It is written clearly on the paper. As for the statement you made, I will send you a lawyer's letter as well and defend our right when I find the evidence to prove that Alwynn Group has been slandered."

Eden's voice was soft and calm, but every word she said was clear and penetrating.

Ivana was stunned, and her agent was anxious, "Director Bleu, how could it be? In the contract..."

The agent suddenly stopped. She remembered that she had read the contract. Didn't she read it carefully?

How could they pay five times the endorsement fee?

Eden knew that they did not read the contract carefully. She had studied the contracts of Alwynn Group. There must not be even a single sloppy clause.

The contracts signed by Alwynn Group were more complicated than that of other companies, but they always gave their partners the best benefits.

All their spokesperson could earn a lot.

Moreover, they would become more famous in the future.

The only one who wanted to terminate the contract with Alwynn Group was Ivana.

She didn't know what Ivana was thinking.

Ivana looked at her agent and questioned her, "Didn't you read it clearly?"

"I..." The agent was speechless and looked helpless.

Ivana looked at her and was about to cry. How could this happen?

She had thought that she just needed to pay a little money before terminating the contract with Alwynn Group. Victor did not pay attention to her at all, and she had no way to get close to him.

Last night, someone found them and said that as long as they broke the contract with Alwynn Group, they would give her double compensation. However, the money wasn't even enough for her to compensate Alwynn Group.

Moreover, she would be sued by Alwynn Group. She had got herself into troubles, hadn't she?

"No, Director Bleu, we will not terminate the contract anymore." Ivana was no longer so arrogant. At this time, she only wanted to reverse the situation.

Eden smiled, "Miss Rawlins, are you kidding? I'm sorry. You have issued a statement on SNS. We won't cooperate with you anymore. Besides, you wanted to dissolve the contract first."

Eden looked at Paula and said, "Call the lawyer and ask him to come here."

"No! Director Bleu, as for what I posted on SNS, I will immediately apologize. Please give me some more time, okay?" Ivana felt her whole body was trembling. How could she have so much money to pay the damages?

She was too stupid. How could she be so arrogant and think that she didn't lack acting resources after acting in a TV drama?

Even her agent was dumbfounded.

Eden was not in a hurry. She glanced at Paula and asked her to wait.

Paula put down the phone heavily again.

Eden observed their expressions carefully. The agent's forehead was oozing cold sweat, while Ivana's face was extremely pale. She sat on the sofa feebly, no longer looking so proud.

Eden sat up straight and asked with a smile, "Miss Rawlins, in fact, I am very surprised. There are many artists who want to cooperate with Alwynn Group, and we choose spokespeople in a very strict way. Only upright artists have the opportunity to endorse the brands of Alwynn Group. As you can see, they all become more famous after cooperating with us."

"As for those rumors you mentioned, they don't have much impact on Alwynn Group. After all, they are just gossips."

"I..."

"Miss Rawlins, let's leave first." The agent immediately stopped Ivana.

Eden looked at her agent with weird eyes.

"Do I have time to go back now? Amy, why didn't you read the contract carefully? Yesterday, it was you who asked me to meet..."

"Miss Rawlins!" The agent immediately interrupted Ivana's words loudly.

Eden was sure that Ivana had been betrayed by her agent.

"Why do you roar at me? You didn't even read the contract carefully before asking me to break the contract! Now tell me. What should I do?" Ivana was very anxious. Was she going to turn against her agent?

Chapter 1357

The agent looked at Ivana nervously, and her tone was less imposing than just now, "Miss Rawlins, let's go back first. The problem can be solved."

"I don't want to go back! Everything is arranged by you. Tell me! What did you do?" Ivana trembled all over, feeling that she had been set up by her agent.

This feeling made her very upset. She knew that she was too careless. Originally, she was very happy to get the opportunity to cooperate with Alwynn Group, but that person told her that Alwynn Group would go bankrupt soon. However, it had nothing to do with her. She would only be the spokeswoman for a season.

"Miss Rawlins, I'll explain to you when we go back..."

"No, I want you to explain to me here! It was you who asked me to break the contract and meet that person!" Ivana looked at her angrily. She felt that she had been made use of by them.

"Miss Rawlins..."

"Explain to Director Bleu right now! What happened? I don't have so much money to compensate Alwynn Group." Ivana interrupted her with a cold face.

Seeing this, Eden knew that she wouldn't be able to work if they quarrelled here.

She said in a slightly indifferent voice, "Go to the Law Department to discuss how to deal with this matter before you go back. I have to work now, and I have something else to deal with later."

"No, Director Bleu..."

Before Ivana finished her words, Eden's phone rang.

After saying sorry to her, Eden got up to take the phone on the desk.

Seeing that it was Abigail calling her, she smiled, "Hello? Abby."

"Eden, I saw the news. Ivana suddenly broke the contract. How about this? I happen to have a suitable actress for you. She is an actress in Mirth Company, and she played Ricky's elder sister in the film. Her name is Claire Kuhn. She is a person of excellent character, and she works very hard. Besides, she's not so famous, which is suitable for the style of your products."

"Oh! That's good. Abby, ask Anson to arrange it for me, and I'll meet Miss Kuhn. Since she's an actress in my own company, there's no reason for me to cooperate with an actress from another company. You really help me in time."

"So, what was Victor thinking about? Why did he choose an actress from another company to be spokesperson? He has a bad taste, so such a thing happened." Abigail said teasingly.

Eden smiled and said, "He was not rigorous enough indeed. Abby, that's it. I'll go to the company at one o'clock in the afternoon."

"Okay, I am in the company now. Why don't I wait for you to come over and have lunch with me?" Abigail was very happy.

How could Eden refuse her? They rarely had time to gather together.

"Okay, Abby. But Abby, how is Jasper doing these few days?"

"He's still the same, and he is having a hard time. He works overtime at the company every day and prepares for the release of new products."

Eden chatted with Abigail for a while and then hung up the phone.

She turned around and saw Ivana looking at her anxiously. Then she frowned slightly, "Miss Rawlins, you can leave now."

"No, Director Bleu, I really didn't know about this. Amy has been responsible for it. There must be a misunderstanding." Ivana explained in a hurry. How could she afford to pay the contract damages?

Of course, Eden knew that there was a misunderstanding, but she was not interested in it.

Without thinking, she knew that Ivana had met someone from TS Company or RK Company. Except for the people in the two companies, no one would be so bored to poach partners from Alwynn Group. Their purpose was very simple, and they just wanted to delay the release of their new products.

They had prepared their new products. This time, she would not let them succeed.

She looked at Ivana's uneasy face calmly, "Miss Rawlins, I don't care if there is a misunderstanding, but we know what we're doing now. Your company has offered to terminate the contract, so we will defend our right by law. This is the best way to deal with this matter. As for the misunderstanding between you and your agent, I'm not interested in it."

Ivana stood up quickly. Looking at Eden like this, she knew that she couldn't change Eden's mind.

She bit her lip and immediately said, "Director Bleu, don't you want to know who I met?"

Eden smiled and shook her head slightly, "No. We will find out who you met. You don't have to tell me."

"I..." Ivana was embarrassed. With the strength of Alwynn Group, they could find out the truth with ease, couldn't they?

Ivana was speechless. Then Eden looked at Paula, "Take Miss Rawlins and her agent to the Law Department."

"Okay, Director." Paula replied respectfully.

Eden glanced at Paula curiously. What was wrong with Paula that day? Why was she so respectful?

Paula knew what Eden was thinking. She was just an assistant, wasn't she?

How would she dare to challenge Eden?

Paula walked to Ivana and her agent. With a cold face, she said, "Please!"

Ivana stamped her feet and turned to leave angrily.

The office instantly became quiet.

Eden sat back at her desk and called Brian.

"Eden."

"Brian, find out who Ivana met last night."

"Okay, I've known this. After seeing the news, I investigated it. Victor bought River City Restaurant, which was really a nice choice. Others don't know it, and it is much easier for us to investigate things. Last night, Ivana met Dahlia and Melissa."

Eden sneered. Thinking of Ivana's angry and regretful face, she didn't sympathize with her at all. Ivana was too silly.

"I knew it. What a pity. Ivana was made use of by them."

"Yeah. So, Eden, what are you going to do? Do you have time to find a new spokesperson?"

Eden smiled and smoothed the hair beside her ear, "There are a lot of talents in our company, so there is nothing we can't do. Brian, I have something else to do. Pay more attention to Dahlia and Melissa. Their purpose is very simple, and they want to delay the release of their new products."

"Okay, I see." Brian said confidently.

Eden thought for a moment and added, "Brian, communicate with Dean and tell Victor to be more careful on the business trip."

"Eden, you are just too worried. Just rest assured. I'll keep an eye on it." Brian said to comfort Eden.

Eden was relieved when she heard that.

After hanging up the phone, Eden turned on the computer and searched for Claire's information.

She looked at her information and photos carefully and felt that her appearance was really suitable for the endorsement this season.

She recorded her information and began to do other work.

Chapter 1358

Half an hour later, Paula returned to the office.

As soon as she came in, she heard someone knocking on the door.

She turned to open the door and saw that it was Eden's eldest brother. A hint of surprise flashed through her eyes as she asked pleasantly, "You are Director Bleu's eldest brother, right? I met you at the clubhouse."

Delmont nodded with a smile, "Yeah, I'm here to see Eden."

Saying this, Delmont carried the things in his hands and walked inside.

Eden had heard Delmont's voice. She put aside her work and walked over with a smile.

"Delmont, you're here." She walked over with a smile.

Delmont walked to her and rubbed her head with a doting smile, "Why are you thinner and thinner? Doesn't Victor take good care of you?"

Eden was speechless. She just couldn't get fat, could she?

Victor took good care of her and gave her the best things.

She smiled and said, "Delmont, he treats me very well. Sit down."

"Okay! Eden, I bought your favorite strawberry cake." As Delmont said this, he raised the cake in his hand and smiled dotingly.

It was the cake made by Eden's favorite cake shop. She drooled over, "Delmont, thank you. I haven't eaten it for a long time."

"I knew you want to eat it. Dad said that he wanted to send you a cake every day. I was afraid that you would gain weight and it would be difficult for you to lose weight, so I asked him to buy it for you when you went home."

Eden smiled happily. When she was a child, her father always bought strawberry cakes for her, so she liked it very much.

She felt very glad whenever she thought of her parents' thoughtfulness.

"Mr. Clement, Please have some coffee." Paula smiled as she put a cup of coffee in front of Delmont.

"Thank you!" Delmont thanked Paula gently before Looking at her, "Are you the new assistant?"

"Yeah, I used to be Director Bleu's classmate, and now I am her assistant." Paula introduced herself with a bright smile.

"You are very beautiful!" Delmont praised with a smile.

Hearing this, Paula smiled shyly.

Eden was speechless. Delmont flirted again.

"Delmont, there you go again. You haven't changed." Eden criticized him directly.

Hearing this, Delmont smiled unnaturally, "Eden, you really don't show me respect. The beauty is pleasant to the eye."

"What are you talking about? Look at Glenn. He can play with grandma now, but you don't even have a girlfriend."

"So, Eden, Buddy and you have got married and had children. I'm the only single man at home. Mom and dad urge me to get married every day, and grandma nags all day long. Mom even showed me the photos of some ladies from rich families and asked me to go on blind dates. Eden, you and Buddy have got married. Should I get married for our family's interest?" Delmont complained and talked a lot.

Eden smiled from ear to ear when she heard that.

"Delmont, go on blind dates and have a try. If you meet a girl you like, date with her." She wanted Delmont to meet someone he liked, get married and live a happy life.

"No." Delmont immediately shook his head.

"Eden, you know that those young ladies from noble families are all delicate and bad-tempered. I want to learn from Buddy and marry someone I love. I don't want to leave any regret in my life."

He had made it clear to his mother that he didn't want to get married for their family's interest.

"Eden, you know that mom forced Zofia to leave back then. If you didn't save her, Buddy wouldn't have lived such a happy life. You have to help me in the future. If my girlfriend is from a poor family and mom doesn't agree to let me be with her, you must help me."

Eden was stunned. Delmont really thought too much.

"Delmont, let's talk about it when you really fall in love with someone. You have no girlfriend now, right? If she is a good girl, I will naturally support you. I have something to do later. Go meet Seth and she will tell you about the plan."

"Eden, don't you want to chat with me?" Delmont looked at Eden with a pitiful face. It was not easy for him to find someone he could talk to.

Eden said with a warm smile, "Delmont, something suddenly happened in the company today. I really have no time. How about me accompanying you for a blind date when I finish my work in a few days?"

Delmont was taken aback, "Eden, have you ever seen a man go on a blind date with his younger sister?"

Eden, "Delmont, you..."

Delmont was speechless. He didn't want to go on a blind date.

"I won't go on a blind date." Delmont stood up and pointed at the cake on the table, "Eden, if you don't eat it now, remember to put it in the refrigerator. There is ice-cream in the cake, and this flavor is delicious."

"Okay, I'll share the cake with Abby later. It's almost time for lunch. Why don't you invite Seth for lunch and talk to her while eating? Seth is a good girl. You can't tease her." Eden reminded him. It was really not good to be frivolous.

Women would misunderstand him easily.

"I see. I have made an appointment with Seth. It's time for lunch, and I'll meet her right now." Delmont rubbed her head with a doting smile, turned around and went out.

Watching Delmont leave, Paula smiled and asked Eden, "Do you want to get them together?"

Eden glanced at her, "Can't I?"

Paula looked at her with annoyance. Thinking of what Eden had warned her before, she felt particularly uncomfortable, "Why don't you get me and Delmont together?"

Eden looked at her and laughed, "You misunderstand me. Paula, your character and style are not suitable for Delmont. He is careless, so he should be with a woman who is careful, gentle and considerate. Of course, I have no prejudice against you because of what happened in high school. That was something in the past, and I will not remember it forever. But that's Delmont. I know his temper very well."

After saying that, Eden turned around and packed up the things on her desk.

Paula looked at her back and said unhappily, "I don't believe you! You don't want me to be your sister-in-law just because of what I did to you in high school!"

"Ha-ha..." Eden was amused by her words.

She turned to look at Paula and said with a smile, "Paula, Delmont doesn't even know who you are. Do your own work well and don't think too much. Get ready. We need to go out."

Chapter 1359

Paula said with annoyance, "What if Delmont likes me?"

Eden was speechless. How stubborn Paula was!

"Then we'll talk about it when he really likes you. Don't be so conceited now." But it was impossible for Paula to be with Delmont, because Aisling was very difficult to deal with.

Zofia was an exception. Aisling wanted Delmont to marry somebody more his equal, and it was hard to change her mind.

However, Paula smiled confidently, "Eden, just wait and see. One day, I'll definitely become your sister-in-law."

Eden retorted coldly, "It's your wishful thinking. Let me tell you. It's impossible. No matter what, Delmont won't like you. He likes quiet girls just like Seth."

Saying this, Eden picked up the documents and cake on the table and took her bag, "Let's go to Mirth Company now. We have to solve the problem as soon as possible and choose a spokeswoman."

Paula sneered in heart. She couldn't seduce Victor, but there were so many handsome and rich men around Eden. She didn't believe that she couldn't be with one of them.

Thinking of this, she felt much better.

She followed Eden immediately and left.

On the first floor, Eden was about to drive when she was suddenly surrounded by many reporters.

Eden looked at them and frowned slightly. She knew that these reporters came for the dissolution of contract.

"Mrs. Alwynn, Miss Rawlins suddenly made a statement today. May I ask why she wanted to terminate the contract? Could you explain it? Are the rumors true? What did Miss Rawlins know so that she wanted to give up the cooperation?"

Eden looked at the reporter with a graceful smile. Each of her questions was very sharp. "The reason is very simple. There are many gossips about me and my husband these days, and Miss Rawlins is afraid that her future will be affected, so she terminated the contract with our company. I understand her."

"But all the rumors are not true. We have taken legal actions against the reporters who fabricated rumours, and I believe that we'll find out who is slandering us behind the scene soon."

"Mrs. Alwynn, do you have any evidence to say so?"

Eden still smiled calmly and gracefully, "Every time when some people doubt the relationship between me and Victor, we respond to it and explain it, but they don't give up and challenge our limits again and again. This time, we will not spare them anymore, and we will investigate it thoroughly. When we get the evidence, we will announce it to the media. Just look forward to it."

After saying this, Eden walked forward with a smile.

A reporter went forward to stop her and asked in a sharp tone, "Mrs. Alwynn, there's no smoke without fire. If there was no such a thing, the media would not report it."

Eden smiled and asked in reply, "As you said, there's no smoke without fire. People like to make groundless accusations. I believe that I can clarify all the negative news about Alwynn Group in a few days. If you have any question, you can ask me at that time. I will explain everything to you one by one. Everything happens for a reason. Who do you think is slandering us behind my back?"

The reporter didn't know what to say.

"I have explained to all of you. Please step aside. I have something to deal with." Eden remained a decent smile.

Her warm smile gave everyone a wonderful feeling, and they couldn't help but make way for her.

Some people were born to have such charm, and Eden was one of them.

Paula followed behind her. They went to the underground parking lot quickly.

Paula was a little puzzled, "Eden, won't the reporters make more groundless accusations after hearing your words? I believe that there will be a piece of news about you at noon. They will say that you and Victor have offended someone so you have been framed."

"Ha-ha..." Eden laughed, "Paula, you've worked here for quite a few days. Don't you know what Victor and I do everyday? Or do you also like to fabricate rumors just like them?"

"I..." Paula was rendered speechless.

Eden did not say anything else, nor did she care about what Paula was thinking.

She opened the car door and got in. Paula immediately opened the door next to the passenger seat and sat down.

Eden started the car and drove out smoothly.

On the top floor of Alwynn Group's branch office in Gate City, as soon as Victor came out of the conference room, Dean handed his phone to him, "Mr. Alwynn, something happened in the head office. The spokeswoman suddenly broke the contract."

Victor's cold expression turned more apathetic and ruthless when he heard this. He stared at the phone for a few seconds and then looked away.

"She is the first spokesperson to break the contract." His tone was full of sarcasm.

All the time, many actresses tried their best to become the spokesperson of Alwynn Group, and no one was as silly as Ivana.

His eyes were filled with intense hostility. It was obvious that someone had told something to Ivana deliberately.

"That's right. However, Mrs. Alwynn handled it very quickly. She asked the lawyer to move through the legal system, and now she is choosing a new spokesperson, but I don't know if she can make it in time. Their purpose is very simple, and they just want to delay the release of our new collection."

Victor sneered in disdain, and his eyes were full of sarcasm, "Since they have the energy and money to slow down our progress, we'd better let them spend more money. Isn't it quite interesting? Eden did a good job. Obviously, someone made use of Ivana. Eden did that in order to use Ivana to find out who is aiming against us. In this way, it will be much easier for us to get the evidence."

Dean was amazed. They were indeed husband and wife, and they were both wicked and cunning.

His mother once told him that birds of a feather flocked together.

There was nothing wrong with her words.

Dean smiled and said, "Mr. Alwynn, Mrs. Alwynn has solved the problem perfectly. Let's go to the airport and head for C Country now. Mrs. Alwynn told you to stay away from women again and again. We can't let anything bad happen at this time."

Victor glanced at her and said coldly, "Do you see me get close to any woman?"

Dean said seriously, "Mr. Alwynn, although you stay away from them, I'm afraid that they will approach you on purpose."

Victor nodded with understanding, "I see. Let's go to the airport."

Victor looked at the time. Half a day had passed, but why did he feel that time went by so slowly?

Chapter 1360

He had to wait for another two days before seeing Eden.

Thinking about it, Victor was so depressed.

In TS Company. Although Ivana's agent had dissuaded her, she rushed into Melissa's office directly.

Melissa's assistant couldn't stop her.

"Miss Craig, look at what you've done! Now Alwynn Group asks me to pay five times the damages and the other fees. I have to pay tens of millions of dollars in total. You have to pay the money for me, otherwise..." Ivana was about to speak but stopped. She had almost lost everything, so she was ready to risk everything.

Since they had ruined her career, she would let them suffer together with her.

The heat was on. Melissa wore a white shirt, and the buttons on her chest were unbuttoned, revealing her sexy cleavage. She looked so seductive and attractive.

Her eyes turned cold and malicious when she heard Ivana's words and looked at her furious face.

She asked in disbelief, "Miss Rawlins, what did you say? Do you have to pay five times the damages?"

"Yes, you didn't mishear. It's five times the damages." Ivana said word by word.

Melissa was stunned by her words.

Shen looked straight at Ivana and couldn't believe it.

Why was the contract of Alwynn Group so horrible?

She promised to give Ivana double compensation, but Ivana had to pay five times the damages. In this way, she would overran the budget by about twenty million dollars. If her father knew it, he would stop her from doing everything.

A hint of apathy flashed across Ivana's eyes. The expression in her eyes was unspeakably evil, and she was determined to fight them every inch of the way.

"Miss Craig, you told me that Alwynn Group would go bankrupt soon, and you asked me to break the contract, so you have to bear all the consequences." At this moment, as long as Melissa could take the responsibility, Ivana didn't have to go against her.

"Ha-ha..." Melissa laughed weirdly. Was she a fool? Why did she have to take full responsibility for Ivana?

Moreover, this matter was settled last night.

Alwynn Group needed time to find another suitable spokesperson.

They must release their new products earlier than Alwynn Group.

Otherwise, she would have done everything in vain.

She looked at Ivana with a sneer and said mockingly, "You didn't tell me this when we talked it last night. It's too late to say it now. Last night, I said that I would pay you the double endorsement fee, but I didn't say that I would pay all the damages for you. It's not reasonable for you to come to me angrily, is it?"

"Ha-ha..." Ivana was so mad but she laughed. As a woman, looking at Melissa's face, she knew that she was not a kind person. Her brokerage firm wanted her to break the contract, and she couldn't do anything about it even though she didn't want to. However, the result was so bad. If her brokerage firm knew it, they would not pay so much money for her. She could guess it without thinking.

"Miss Craig, do you mean that you don't want to take all the responsibilities?"

Melissa looked at Ivana sarcastically, and her every move showed that she was disdainful of Ivana, "Miss Rawlins, it's not that I don't want to take all the responsibility, but we have reached an agreement last night. Moreover, I've transferred the money to your account. But now you want me to be responsible for all these. Why do you come here to make a fuss? Do you think I am easy to bully? Or do you think I am stupid?"

Ivana suddenly looked at her with her eyes wide open, and she asked word by word angrily, "Miss Craig, do you mean that you will not bear all the responsibilities?"

Melissa smiled and nodded, "That's right. We've given you the money and signed the agreement. Miss Rawlins, you understands this quite well. Do you need me to tell you more?"

Hearing this, Ivana flew into a rage. She clenched her fists unconsciously and stared at Melissa maliciously.

She tried her best to suppress the fury in her heart and answered Melissa with a smile word by word, "Miss Craig, I know what you mean."

Then, she turned around gracefully and left.

As she turned around, she smiled weirdly. She said in heart, "Melissa, just wait and see. You won't even have a chance to kneel in front of me. Since you treat me like this, I won't let you go."

The battles between women were often like this. They could be friends, but they could turn against each other immediately.

As for her, her life was failed because her career had been ruined.

Melissa's assistant immediately walked in and asked worriedly, "Miss Craig, will she do something extreme?"

Melissa crossed her arms and smiled contemptuously, "She's just a little-known actress, and she is neither powerful nor rich. What could she do? Just do your own work. Don't worry about other things."

Her assistant could only nod helplessly and turned to leave.

Melissa picked up her phone and sent a message to Dahlia, telling her what had happened to Ivana.

Then she sat in the office chair and thought about something.

She took a look at the news by the way.

Suddenly, she saw Eden's interview and frowned slightly. Had Alwynn Group sent lawyer's letters to every newspaper office?

How ridiculous it was! Eden was really silly and naive.

So many reporters reported the news about her and Victor. Did she want to sue all of them?

It was just her wishful thinking!

Soon, the phone in her hand vibrated and she clicked on it. "Did you comfort Ivana?"

Melissa frowned and replied, "Why should I comfort her? We reached an agreement last night, and I've transferred the money to her account. Now her affairs have nothing to do with us."

"Melissa, you're so stupid! You pushed her too hard. If she exposes what we have done, do you think we can release the new products as planned?"

Melissa replied shamelessly, "Does she dare to do that? Don't forget that I have shares of her brokerage firm. She has to think twice before exposing what we've done."

However, Melissa thought for a moment and sent a message to Ivana to warn her just in case.

"Ivana, I'll tell you a piece of bad news. I'm a shareholder of your entertainment company. Think about it carefully before you want to expose what has happened between us."

As soon as Ivana arrived at the first floor, she received Melissa's message.

She sneered and looked back at the building of TS Company. With a fearless face, she turned around and walked away elegantly.
