

Gluey Love 1421

Chapter 1421

Delmont was very kind, and she didn't want to see him get hurt.

But she was afraid that Delmont would fall in love with Paula.

After the party ended, the children were very happy.

To Eden's surprise, Gia and Alice got along so well.

On the way back, Gia talked about Alice all the time.

Eden was very tired. Moreover, she drank a little wine, so Gia's chatter made her fall asleep soon.

Before arriving home, she had fallen asleep.

Victor looked at her tired face and had a dull pain in heart. He asked the children to be quiet and not to disturb Eden's sleep.

When they arrived home, the three children behaved obediently. They got off the car quietly and went to sleep after washing up.

Jaida and Zaiden always slept early. When they came back, only the sound-activated light at the door was on.

Victor carried Eden back to the room.

As soon as he put her on the soft bed, she opened her eyes.

"Are we home?"

"Yeah!" Victor replied softly.

Eden was weak all over her. She was not good at drinking, and she felt feeble as long as she drank a little.

"Take me to the bathroom." She murmured, and her expression was gentle and coquettish.

Victor rubbed her nose with distress and said unhappily, "You drank."

When he took her to the car, he smelled the faint smell of alcohol on her body.

Eden pursed her lips and smiled, looking at him with sleepy eyes, "I drank two glasses of wine. Victor, I miss you."

Her body was hot because of the alcohol. Looking at Victor's incomparably handsome face, she was not reserved at all.

Watching her moving her sexy red lips, Victor was sexually aroused.

He immediately carried her in his arms and rushed to the bathroom...

When Eden woke up the next day, her head was a little dizzy. The pain on her body made her think of what had happened last night. She closed her eyes helplessly. After drinking, she couldn't be more enthusiastic.

Victor came in with a bowl of millet porridge.

"You're awake." He smiled. Eden was tired, but he was in high spirits.

Eden was the most jealous of his strength.

Eden took a look at the time. It was after nine o'clock. She was shocked and said, "Victor, why haven't you gone to work at this time? Aren't you going to sign the contract with Mr. Klein today?" Did she actually sleep for so long?

Victor put the porridge on the table next to him and smiled softly, "Fool, it's all done. Dean signed the contract, and Mr. Klein is on his way to the airport now. I've arranged everything for you today. You've been busy and tired recently, and the release of the new products is very successful. We're not going to the company today. After lunch, we'll go to see Adonis. Mom made some dumplings and sushi for Candace, and we'll send the food to her."

Eden nodded, got up and washed up.

After having a bowl of millet porridge, she received a message from Dean.

She took a look and found that Paula had been to many high-end clubs where Delmont socialized.

But she lived far away from those high-end clubs.

Therefore, Paula approached Delmont deliberately.

Dean sent her a few photos.

"Mrs. Alwynn, I found these photos when I was investigating Paula. She was an entertainment woman in this bar half a year ago. My friend was their leader. When I visited his house, I saw these photos accidentally. I asked him and learned that Paula had worked there for one year."

Seeing the photos, Eden was stunned.

She replied, "Had she ever entertained a guest?"

"Of course, but later she was pushed aside. She won the favor of a businessman, but they were found out by his wife. His wife was a famous shrew. She threatened Paula with her bodyguards several times, so Paula left the bar. Then she didn't have a job. Perhaps she had been preparing to enter Alwynn Group during that period of time."

Eden held the phone very tightly.

She looked at the gloomy sky outside the window and felt extremely depressed.

Seeing that she was in a bad mood, Victor asked, "Eden, what's wrong? You look so unhappy all of a sudden."

Eden blinked her eyes and composed her emotions. Then she shook her head, "It's okay. Let's pack up and go to visit Adonis and Candace."

Eden got up to pack up.

However, she ignored the way Victor looked at her. Victor was possessive about her, and he could easily notice her emotional changes.

He got up and followed Eden.

Eden went to the living room, and Jaida had prepared the food.

She looked at Eden and smiled lovingly. However, she felt distressed when she saw Eden's pale face. Eden had been working very hard during this period of time.

"Eden, congratulations. The new product launch is more successful than ever."

Eden walked over with a smile and held her arm, "Mom, it's because of you and dad. We have a happy family, so I could draw design drafts at ease."

Jaida stroked her head lightly, and her voice became more and more amiable, "My greatest wish is that you can be happy. Eden, go to see Adonis with Victor. I have an appointment with your mother, and we'll accompany your grandmother for a day. Your father will not come back for dinner at night.

I will ask the driver to take the three children to the Clement family. Your mother and grandmother miss them very much. You and Victor can come back after dinner."

Eden smiled with guilt, "Mom, I haven't seen dad, mom and grandma for a long time."

Jaida smiled and said, "I went there a few days ago. They all know that you are very busy, and they understand you."

"I see! I'll go back to see them when I have time in a few days."

Saying this, Eden received a message from Aisling.

She looked at Jaida, smiled and then looked down at the message, "Eden, I'm really proud of you. Everyone thinks highly of your design online. My daughter is really amazing."

Eden replied to her with a smile and then went to the hospital with Victor.

On the way, Victor looked at her several times and found that she looked worried.

"Eden, do you have something on your mind?" He couldn't help but ask.

Eden looked at him and nodded, "I'm worried because of the relationship between Delmont and Paula."

He had glanced at her many times, and she knew that she could not hide anything from him.

Victor frowned and said in a displeased voice, "He is not a child. Why do you have to worry about him? You don't have to be upset because of such a thing."

He couldn't bear to see her dejected face.

Eden glared at him sideways. Seeing his unconcerned face, she felt a little helpless, "Victor, he is your eldest brother as well!"

Victor sneered, "Do you think he's like my eldest brother? He provoked me when he was young, so he was often beaten by me and cried."

Eden was stunned.

"How dare you speak ill of him in front of me? I'm his younger sister. Aren't you afraid that I'll hold a grudge against you?"

Victor looked at her and smiled, "You were bullied by me every day when you were a child, weren't you? Have you taken a revenge on me?"

Eden pouted her red lips, "I'm vindictive now."

Victor instantly felt that he had shot himself in the foot.

Chapter 1422

Victor was about to speak when his phone rang. It was a phone call from Brenda.

"Hello? Aunt Church."

"Victor, bad news! Adonis is in danger now. Candace went out to buy something. I... don't know what to do now."

Victor's heart skipped a beat, and he immediately replied, "Aunt Church, don't worry. Hurry up and call Dr. Conley."

Brenda said anxiously, "Dr. Conley has sent Adonis into the operating room. He said that Adonis suffered from hydrocephalus and needed to have a surgery, but he had very feeble desire for survival. Dr. Conley was worried that Adonis couldn't make it."

"He will make it, Aunt Church. Don't worry. We'll be there soon."

After Victor hung up the phone, he immediately accelerated and rushed all the way to the hospital.

Eden did not ask. She knew that Adonis was in a bad condition.

They arrived at the hospital as fast as they could.

Brenda wiped her tears anxiously outside the cold operating room.

Eden found that Candace was not here. Only she could make Adonis have a thirst for life.

Eden asked, "Aunt Church, where is Candace?"

Brenda glanced at the elevator, "She said that the liquid detergent had been used up, so she let me take care of Adonis and went out to buy it. It has been twenty minutes, and she should have come back. The supermarket is downstairs. Did anything bad happen?"

Eden said, "Aunt Church, she should be fine. I'll go down and look for her. Victor, think of other ways. I will find Candace first and let her go in to accompany Adonis in a sterile gown. She is someone Adonis cares about the most, and she can make him have the will to survive."

"Okay. Eden, be careful."

Victor was in a hurry to transfer experts to the hospital.

Eden ran to the elevator.

When Brenda saw Victor and Eden, she was finally at ease, and she was not as restless as just now.

Eden called Candace but no one answered the phone. She kept calling her, but failed to get through.

She went all the way to the supermarket downstairs the hospital, only to find that Candace was not there.

Then she walked along the street to look for Candace. She was very important to Adonis at this time.

She trotted along the street, looking at the shops on both sides.

Suddenly, she saw two girls being surrounded by a group of hooligans at the corner of a restaurant.

Eden took a closer look and found that the back of one of them was very similar to Candace's.

She ran over in a hurry.

"Ladies, come with us and have a drink! We will be nice to you." A yellow-haired gangster said frivolously. With a wicked smile, he looked at the two girls who had been forced to the corner.

"Get out of my way! Don't you know that you're breaking the law?" One of the women roared angrily, glaring at the yellow-haired gangster with her eyes wide open.

"Breaking the law? Let me tell you. I am the law here. Many people here are under my control!" The yellow-haired man said in an extremely arrogant tone.

"Why should we talk so much nonsense with them? Hurry up and take them away. I haven't met such beautiful girls for a long time. This time, I will definitely enjoy myself on bed." One of the men looked at Candace's lovely face and almost drooled.

The two girls were both young and pretty, and their skin was fair and smooth. He was sexually aroused just by looking at them.

"Look at how impatient you are. You good-for-nothing!" The yellow-haired man looked at him with contempt.

"But I think so, too."

"Ha-ha..." They laughed crazily.

Candace and the other girl shivered in fear, and they leaned against the wall with great strength.

"Humph! You b*stards! I'll give you one last chance to let us go, or I'll make you regret it!" The woman said harshly, but her body was shaking violently.

She was very scared, but she tried her best to calm down and face it bravely. However, her voice was not threatening at all. Instead, those gangsters became more excited.

"Motherf*cker! She's really cute. Let's do it! I can't take it anymore." A young man couldn't wait any longer and smiled evilly.

Eden took a video from afar and then put away her phone.

She picked up the spade which others used to shovel trash and walked over angrily.

How dared these gangsters sexually harass women in public!

Candace was stunned when she saw Eden.

She was very worried when she saw Eden's furious face.

Just as she was about to speak, Eden slammed the spade on the leg of the yellow-haired man.

"Ouch..." The yellow-haired man screamed, "Who the hell dares to hit me?"

"I just want to hit such a scum like you! The moral degeneration of the world is getting worse day by day. How dare you act indecently towards women? At such a young age, you're not promising but so depraved! You a*sholes deserve to be beaten!"

The man was scared by Eden, and he was at a loss. Eden raised the spade madly and hit him fiercely while cursing.

"You little b*stards! Didn't your parents teach you to be modest and courteous? A man should have backbone and stay true to himself in this mortal world. However, you are all jerks! You actually dare to harass women sexually in public! You are absolutely lawless!"

The gangsters were beaten and ran around.

Candace and the other girl were so shocked that they opened their mouths wide and looked at Eden in disbelief.

The yellow-haired man hid far away, looked at Eden's crazy face and said with his face full of brutality, "You crazy woman! We didn't sexually harass you. Why do you have to meddle in our affairs? Do you want to die?"

Eden suddenly glared at him with sharp eyes and sneered heartlessly.

"If you dare to sexually harass me, I'll definitely give you a lesson. You'll be beaten black and blue!"

"Ha-ha..." The yellow-haired man sneered, "Who do you think you are? Do you know who I am? Those who dare to be arrogant in front of me will be killed within a day!"

"Really?" Eden smiled proudly, "Those who have offended me will all be punished. I have shot everything you did just now, and I have called the police. Would you like to take a gamble? Let's see who'll suffer."

The gangsters were flustered when they heard that Eden had called the police.

But they didn't want to give up so easily. It was not easy for them to meet two beautiful women, and they were reluctant to leave like this.

"I think we'd better leave. I've only been released for three days. I don't want to go to jail again." One of them said in fear.

"Let's go. We are unlucky today. Crazy woman! You'd better pray that we won't meet you in the future. Otherwise, you will definitely die!" The yellow-haired man glared at Eden viciously and then they ran away in a hurry.

Eden smiled mockingly.

Looking at their backs, she said casually, "They are really spineless. Only those who have backbones can strive to be strong and press on. They're just a group of cowards who bully the weak and fear the strong."

"Eden, are you all right?" Candace's face was pale as she looked at Eden worriedly. She was really scared just now.

Thinking of Eden's brave performance just now, she was impressed. She came to save the girl, but she did not expect that she would be in trouble, too.

Eden looked at them. Seeing that there was no wound on their bodies, she finally heaved a sigh of relief, "I'm fine. How about you two?"

They shook their heads.

Eden said anxiously, "Candace, hurry up and go back to the hospital. Adonis is in danger."

"What? Adonis..." Candace's eyes blurred with tears instantly.

Eden looked at her and patted her on the shoulder gently, "Candace, be strong. Adonis will be fine. He loves you so much. I have known him for so many years, but I have never seen him love someone like this. He even thought about you when he fainted. He will be safe and sound."

"Mm..." Candace nodded, and a few drops of tears fell on the ground.

"Eden, this lady is injured. I will go back first. You take her to the hospital." After saying that, Candace immediately turned around and ran to the hospital.

"Phew..." Eden exhaled tiredly.

She took a look at the girl in front of her. The girl was very beautiful. Her big bright eyes were eloquent. She had a small delicate nose and thin lips, looking so elegant and refined.

While Eden was looking at her, she looked Eden up and down.

Eden was gorgeous. She did not find Eden attractive at first, but later she realized that Eden was the kind of girl who was always easy on the eyes. Eden had good features, and she looked weak on the surface, which made people feel pity for her. But she was very strong in heart. Such a contrast was not strange at all. Instead, it made Eden very charming and charismatic.

Such a woman was undoubtedly appealing.

Eden looked at her and smiled, "Miss, are you injured? Let me take you to the hospital first."

The girl smiled, "Thank you, my name is Adrienne Simpson."

"Miss Simpson, my name is Eden. The hospital is right ahead. I'll take you there."

"Thank you, but I sprained my ankle. Just now, the lady saw me being bullied by those gangsters and wanted to help me. Unexpectedly, both of us were in trouble. Fortunately, you came here."

Hearing that her foot was injured, Eden squatted down to have a look and found her left foot was badly swollen.

She couldn't walk to the hospital by herself.

Eden took out her phone and called the hospital, asking them to send an ambulance over.

"Miss Simpson, I'll help you to the side of the road. The ambulance will come soon."

She put one of Adrienne's hands on her shoulder and shifted Adrienne's weight onto her as much as possible, so that her foot wouldn't get injured again.

When they arrived at the roadside, Adrienne's forehead was covered in sweat. Eden knew that her foot was seriously injured, and it might have been broken.

This place was very close to the hospital. The ambulance arrived quickly, and Eden returned to the hospital with them.

She accompanied Adrienne for an X-ray. As she had guessed, Adrienne's foot was broken. Her foot needed to be plastered, and she had to be hospitalized for observation.

Eden helped her with the hospitalization procedures.

Adrienne lived in a VIP ward.

This hospital was owned by Victor, and it only received rich people in the upper class.

The hardware facilities in the high-level ward were perfect, and it was comfortable to live in.

Those who could afford to live in such a ward were not ordinary.

Eden prepared some things she needed and put them on the bedside table so that she could get them easily.

"Miss Simpson, have you called your family? You should be hospitalized for observation."

Adrienne shook her head, "My family isn't here. No one can take care of me."

"Well..." Eden did not know what to do for a moment.

Adrienne smiled and said, "Don't worry. There is a nurse maid in the hospital."

Eden knew this, "Then I'll ask the hospital to arrange a good nurse maid to take care of you. I often come to the hospital. If you need my help, you can call me at any time."

Eden took out her card from her bag and handed it to Adrienne.

"Thank you!" Adrienne smiled as she accepted the card.

Looking down at the card, she found that Eden was the design director of Alwynn Group.

Looking at Eden who was calm and didn't put on airs, she said in surprise, "You are Eden, the wife of the president of Alwynn Group."

Eden smiled and nodded, "Yeah!"

Adrienne looked at her. When Eden smiled, she looked very cheerful, and her warm and bright smile could leave a glow in people's hearts.

"Mrs. Alwynn, what a coincidence. I came back because I want you to design clothes for me." She had been paying attention to Eden's design, and the clothes she made to order was truly unique.

Hearing this, Eden was very happy. More and more people wanted her to make clothes for them. "Thank you, Miss Simpson. It's my honour to know you."

Adrienne smiled and said, "I always wanted to come back, but I had been very busy. Recently, I came back after finishing all my work."

"But I want to remind you something. Over the past few years, Alwynn Group has been developing rapidly, so it has been targeted by some head-hunting companies. Some of them are despicable and shameless. They use power to suppress others and take advantage of every loophole. They seize every chance to gain advantage by trickery, ruin companies and buy them at a low price. If the companies don't want to be purchased, they will take tough measures or use various resources to control the development of companies. Once they aim at Alwynn Group, it's almost impossible for you to escape."

Hearing this, Eden took a meaningful look at her. Did she tell her about it because she was grateful to her?

Or did she mean something else?

Eden could not guess what she was thinking.

Victor was responsible for handling these things, and she only needed to do her work with a peaceful mind.

She smiled gratefully, "Miss Simpson, thank you for reminding me. We will be careful."

"Mrs. Alwynn, I don't like owing favors. Today, you helped me, so I told you this piece of news to return the favor."

Adrienne was straightforward. It was indeed troublesome to owe someone a favor and it was hard to repay it. If there was a chance, she would return it on the spot.

After Eden left the ward, she went directly to the operating room to find Victor.

Along the way, she had been guessing Adrienne's identity. Since she knew this news, she must be somebody in the business world.

After Victor met all the doctors, he found that Eden was not there, and Candace had come to the operating room.

He couldn't find anyone to ask about the situation, so he called Eden twice, but no one answered the phone.

He was a little anxious. Since Candace was back, Eden should be back, too.

He stood at the door of the elevator and waited anxiously. As soon as the elevator door opened, Eden walked out.

Eden was dressed in a simple white suit, looking graceful and pretty.

Victor's eyes lit up when he saw her. After Eden came out of the elevator, he asked, "Eden, where did you go?"

He looked down and saw that her clothes were stained and wrinkled. Then he frowned and asked, "What happened?"

Chapter 1424

Eden looked at her wrinkled clothes and smiled, "I'm fine. I just met a few hooligans and then beat them away."

Eden told him what had happened in the restaurant.

The more Victor listened, the more frightened he felt. As soon as she left his sight, something bad would happen.

"Did you get hurt?" Victor pulled her over and had a check-up for her. Seeing that there was no bloodstain on her body and she breathed normally and looked fine, he was finally relieved.

Eden felt warm when she saw how worried he was, "Don't worry. I'm all right. Those gangsters were hurt. I beat them fiercely."

She looked up at the door of the operating room and asked uneasily, "Hasn't Adonis come out yet?"

Victor shook his head with a concerned face. He did not tell Lucian that Adonis was in danger, for fear that he would blame himself even more.

"Candace is inside now, but I don't know what's going on. Aunt Church looks exhausted, so I let her go back to the room to rest for a while."

"That's good. Let's wait here."

"Okay!" Victor took her hand and sat down on a stool aside.

While waiting, Eden told Victor the news she had heard from Adrienne.

Victor's eyes turned slightly cold after he heard that. Adrienne was from the Simpson family.

Since she knew the news, her identity couldn't be simple.

These years, Alwynn Group had been developing rapidly indeed, but Victor had good relationships with the police and the gang. Even if those head-hunting companies wanted to aim at Alwynn Group, they had to think about the consequences.

If they wanted to head for their doom, he could only fulfill their wish.

Speaking of the head-hunting companies, Victor thought of Irving immediately.

That day, Kenny told him that Irving had done many evil things.

Irving ruined many companies like those head-hunting companies, and this was why he could become so rich.

Once a small company rose up and was targeted by him, he would use unscrupulous means to ruin the company and buy it at below market value.

He scoffed at Irving's character.

Irving's company developed in this way. Besides, he did a lot recently just because he wanted to ruin some small companies to make a profit.

However, if Irving dared to aim at Alwynn Group, he did not mind competing with him.

"Eden, I will ask Brian to pay attention to this matter. You don't have to worry. As for the identity of Adrienne, I think I know who she is."

"Who is she?" Eden asked curiously. Adrienne was straightforward, and it seemed that she was a nice person.

"She is the daughter of Barrett Simpson, the richest man in A Country. I heard that Barrett has four daughters and five sons. According to the information I have, his hometown is River City, and he intends to go back to River City to live out his life in retirement. I am on the list of the five richest people. He is the first and I am the fourth. Full credit must go to you." Victor took the opportunity to hold her in his arms. Eden was always his lucky star.

Eden smiled and said, "Our future life may not be peaceful."

Victor said with gloomy eyes, "If he really wants to aim at us, something will happen inevitably. Moreover, his children are fighting for his property, and there are conflicts in his family. I'm afraid that Barrett is mentally and physically exhausted, so he wants to come back to River City."

Moreover, once anything bad happened in Alwynn Group, there would be a public outcry.

Someone would use people's opinions to attack them.

Barrett was a wily old fox, and he had played a lot of dirty tricks.

He was capable enough to make troubles for them.

Victor glanced at the gloomy sky outside the window, "It seems that there will be a great change in River City."

Eden smiled, "With you by my side, I'm not afraid."

Her unconditional trust made Victor very pleasant.

"Don't worry. I'll protect you."

Eden leaned against his arms. No matter what kind of difficulty they would encounter, they would face it together.

Both of them looked at the door of the operating room. Two hours had passed, but the door of the operating room was still not opened, and they were worried.

In the operating room, Candace had been holding Adonis's hand with tears, telling him bits and pieces of their past, hoping that he would not give up. He was a lucky man because so many people cared about him.

The operation lasted for four hours, and the doctors were exhausted.

When the door of the operating room was opened, Dr. Conley looked at Victor with at ease.

"Mr. Alwynn, Mr. Church has been saved. Although the operation lasted for a long time, it was very successful. A part of the congested blood in his brain was successfully taken out. Now he is in a better condition."

"Thank you so much, Dr. Conley." Victor thanked him sincerely.

Dr. Conley smiled and said, "Thanks to your research fund, we will set up a scientific research institution and try our best to find a way to let Mr. Church wake up."

"Okay! Thank you. As long as Adonis can wake up, you don't have to worry about the funds." Victor looked at the door of the operating room. It seemed that they couldn't see Adonis that day.

Dr. Conley knew what he was thinking, "Mr. Alwynn, Miss Aiken has been talking to Mr. Church. As long as she speaks, Mr. Church has a reaction. Miss Aiken is very important to him. Let her accompany him for a day. Tomorrow, when he is transferred to the general ward, you can visit him."

"Okay!" Victor nodded.

After the doctor left, Victor brought Eden home.

Eden had been in a bad mood these days, because she had been worried about the relationship between Delmont and Paula.

Paula felt that the way Eden looked at her was strange, but so what? Delmont had chosen her, and it had nothing to do with Eden.

She did her own work as usual.

After getting off work, Victor needed to attend a dinner party and left with Dean in advance. Eden worked overtime for an hour and planned go back by taxi.

As soon as she went downstairs, she saw Paula walk to her front. Paula's clothes were taken from her spare cloakroom, and it was different from the clothes she wore at work.

Paula was good at turning material resources to good account.

Eden prepared the cloakroom for herself. She once let Paula wear the clothes inside several times, but Paula used it as her own cloakroom.

She wore Eden's clothes when she met clients and attended parties. Eden had a lot of clothes, and the clothes in the wardrobe were all prepared by her. Victor bought a lot for her in case of unexpected needs.

However, Paula wore her clothes without her permission, which annoyed her.

Paula dressed up so beautifully. Who was she going to meet?

Delmont?

Eden pursed her lips slightly and intended to follow her.

"Oh, what are you doing? Are you blind? Do you know how expensive my dress is? I'm in a hurry to meet my sweetheart. What should I do now?"

Chapter 1425

Hearing Paula's angry voice, Eden raised her head immediately and looked over. She saw a college girl who was distributing leaflets bump into Paula. She was holding buns and soy milk, and it seemed that she was making do with her dinner.

The two of them bumped into each other by accident, and the soy milk spilled over Paula.

Paula went berserk instantly.

"I'm sorry, Miss. I didn't mean it." The girl lowered her head and apologized timidly.

Paula looked at the girl who was distributing leaflets with contempt. The girl's white shirt and cheap jeans had turned whitish from much washing. Paula's eyes became more contemptuous as she looked at the girl with a lofty face.

Eden nodded. This was what Paula had looked like back then.

This was Paula she knew.

"Do you think I'll let you go just because you've apologized? Do you know how much this dress costs? The whole set is worth about ninety thousand dollars! Compensate me right now. At least you should pay me fifty thousand dollars, or I won't forgive you!" Paula looked at the girl arrogantly and said mockingly.

This was Eden's dress. She wore it without Eden's permission, and it was the most popular new style in the season. The coat was worth about ten thousand dollars, and it was an unique style in the world.

Paula looked pretty. When she was gentle, she was indeed a beautiful girl that people wanted to protect. But at this moment, her face was full of contempt and ridicule. Even the gorgeous clothes could not hide her vicious and despicable heart.

Hearing Paula's words, the girl looked at her in shock and couldn't say a word. She was on the verge of tears.

She was just a poor college student who was about to graduate. Her family was so poor that they couldn't even afford her living expenses. She could only earn about ten dollars by distributing leaflets for several hours a day, and the money was only enough for her eat.

She accidentally poured the soy milk on Paula, but she had to pay fifty thousand dollars. The cost was astronomical, and she only had fifty dollars.

She even had to use the money to buy food the next day.

"Why are you looking at me? Pay me the money quickly. I have something important to do!" Paula said harshly. With her arms crossed, she looked down at the girl insultingly.

The girl burst into tears in an instant and apologized in a low and choked voice, "Miss, I'm really sorry. I didn't mean it. Besides, I don't have that much money to compensate you. Let me help you send this dress to a dry-cleaning business. I'll send it back to you tomorrow, okay?"

She really couldn't afford fifty thousand dollars.

Her family was from the countryside, and her parents could only make money by selling pepper and potatoes.

They didn't have much land, and potatoes could be barely sold. They could only earn two thousand dollars by selling pepper every year. She had to work hard during her vacation to pay for the tuition. As for living expenses, she could only earn money by herself, because she didn't want her parents to be tired.

Even if they saved money on food and expenses for five years, they might not have fifty thousand dollars.

"Ha-ha..." Paula sneered and said sarcastically, "A dry-cleaning business? Do you regard me as a beggar? Let me tell you. If you don't pay me the money today, I won't let you go."

"Bang..." Enduring the humiliation, the girl knelt down in front of Paula with tears in her eyes, "Miss, please, I really didn't mean it. Just now, you looked down at your phone. You hit me on your own, so the soybean milk was splashed on you. You should take half of the responsibility, shouldn't you? I really don't have so much money to compensate you."

Paula had a sense of superiority. In her eyes, humble people were sinners.

"You're really shameless. In order not to compensate me, you don't even want your dignity?" Paula's tone was extremely sarcastic.

"Fifty thousand dollars is astronomical for my family. I can give up my dignity as long as my family won't suffer from cold and hunger. Furthermore, you're wrong, too." The girl looked at Paula's lofty face stubbornly.

Eden could not stop frowning when she saw what was happening.

Paula had gone too far.

At this time, seeing the girl kneel in front of Paula, many people stopped and watched.

Seeing this, Paula was a bit afraid.

This was the entrance of Alwynn Group. If her workmates saw it, they would definitely gossip about her.

Moreover, Delmont was about to arrive.

It took her a long time to get close to Delmont, and she couldn't let him see this scene.

Delmont was just a silly and straightforward idiot who could be cheated easily.

As long as she could marry into the Clement family, she could control Delmont and enjoy a rich life.

At that time, she wouldn't be looked down on anymore.

People who had never experienced it would never know how it felt to be insulted.

"Why do you kneel in front of me? Get up. I'm just asking you to compensate, and I don't mean to hurt you. Do you have to be so hypocritical?" More and more people gathered around, and Paula's face turned gloomier and gloomier.

"But Miss, I really don't have enough money to compensate you." The girl cried and looked at her with a helpless face.

Eden walked over and helped her up.

However, the girl glanced at Eden and did not move.

Eden looked at her and said, "You get up first. You don't have to pay for this dress."

When Paula saw Eden, her expression became awkward instantly. Hadn't Eden got off work?

"Really? I don't mean to shirk my responsibility, but I really don't have enough money." The girl looked at Eden's kind face and said. Eden looked beautiful, and she must be either rich or noble because her clothes were expensive.

Eden's hand was delicate and fair, and it was maintained very well.

The girl got up quickly, because she didn't want Eden to put her noble hand on her humble body.

What did poverty mean? She had experienced it in this prosperous city.

Poverty was her sin. Her classmates looked down upon her and those boys made fun of her.

Some people despised her while she was distributing leaflets. Some were unwilling to take it and some even complained, "When can these annoying people disappear in this city?"

To those people, she was annoying, but she had to make a living by doing this. She had no strength to refute and could only continue to do her job.

Paula looked at Eden. Eden was embarrassing her, wasn't she?

However, she had clearly forgotten that she was wearing Eden's clothes.

Eden looked at Paula and said sarcastically, "You're quite capable."

Paula was stunned and glared at Eden, "This matter is none of your business."

Eden sneered and pointed at the dress on her, "But I can't leave you alone because you're wangling money by my dress."

"You..." Paula looked so awkward. Only then did she remember that the dress was indeed Eden's.

"Paula, the dress was splashed by soy milk, and you can just wash it. You actually want her to compensate you with fifty thousand dollars! You are still the same as before, abusing your power and bullying people. You haven't changed at all." Eden looked at her with indifferent eyes.

Paula was extremely embarrassed. She didn't expect that Eden would come here at this time.

Chapter 1426

Paula was speechless for a moment. She pursed her lips and stood aside angrily.

She admitted that she was thoughtless that day.

She just thought that she would date with Delmont at night, and she would become Eden's eldest sister-in-law the next morning, so she lost all bearings in a moment of pride and satisfaction.

Besides, the clothes were indeed expensive.

She should ask the girl to compensate her.

"Paula, apologize to her!" Eden looked at Paula sharply.

Paula seemed to have heard a joke and looked at Eden with disdain. In the past, Eden was so cowardly as well. She must feel bad when she saw someone in the same situation as her.

"Eden, are you out of your mind? Why should I apologize to her? She hit me, and I didn't hit her."

"Just now, she said that you lowered your head to look at your phone, so you hit her. It was your fault, but you are so self-righteous. She apologized to you and even knelt down in front of you. Why are you still so dissatisfied?" Eden was mad. She hated people who bullied others on the strength of their powerful position.

"Eden, are you going to help her? We are friends, classmates, and colleagues! How can you help her? You should stand on my side." Paula didn't understand. Eden should support her at this time.

Eden stared at her coldly, "Why should I stand on your side? I'm not like you. You can't distinguish right from wrong. You should apologize to her immediately. What's more, you're not allowed to wear my clothes without my permission in the future. These clothes are new. Even I haven't worn them yet."

Paula's face became awkward instantly.

"There are hundreds of sets of clothes in your wardrobe, and you almost don't wear them. I am your friend. Can't I wear it? I asked her to compensate me just because the dress is yours and I'm afraid that I can't afford to buy a new one."

Seeing how shameless Paula was, Eden was speechless.

"I can give you the clothes, but you have to apologize to this lady." Eden's attitude was clear.

"You..." Paula really didn't know what to say.

She was very embarrassed at the moment, wasn't she?

At this time, the people around her pointed and talked about her, which made her angry and awkward.

The girl looked at Eden gratefully. With tears in her eyes, her delicate face looked pitiful, "Miss, thank you for helping me out. There's no need for her to apologize to me. It's just that I really don't have that much money to compensate her." The soy milk could be washed, and it would not affect the quality of the clothes.

Moreover, she really didn't mean it.

Eden did not look at her, but looked at Paula with sharp eyes, "Apologize to her."

Paula yelled, "Eden, you are insane!"

"Apologize!" Eden raised her voice. Her anger overflowed, and she was like a crazy and mad wild cat.

Paula looked at the time. Delmont was coming to pick her up. She couldn't delay her plan because of a poor girl.

"I'm sorry. I was wrong." Paula was adaptable to circumstances. Anyway, she could teach the girl a lesson when she met her again.

"It's okay..." The girl was a little nervous. She didn't expect Paula to really apologize to her.

Eden looked at her, "You can leave now."

"Alright. Thank you..." The girl smiled and thanked Eden a few times before turning around to leave.

Paula looked at Eden and said with a sneer, "Now you're satisfied."

Eden looked at her meaningfully, "Behave yourself."

After that, she turned around and left as well.

Looking at Eden's back, Paula felt a little helpless. She had won Delmont's heart, but the most difficult one to deal with was Eden.

Eden knew her past. If Delmont knew that she had bullied Eden for three years, what would he do?

"Paula, have you waited for a long time?" Delmont's gentle and pleasant voice sounded behind Paula.

Paula immediately put on a gentle face and turned around slowly to look at Delmont.

Delmont was dressed in a black overcoat. His figure was tall and straight, and he looked handsome and charming.

"No, I came down just now. I had some free time and worked overtime for a while." Paula smiled coquettishly, "Let's go. Where are we going for dinner tonight?"

Paula held Delmont's arm in a natural way.

The expression in Delmont's eyes changed. He pursed his lips and smiled, but didn't say anything.

He took Paula towards his Mercedes.

However, when he turned around, the expression on his good-looking face was very serious.

He seemed to be a bit apathetic, and even the atmosphere became oppressive, causing Paula to feel somewhat depressed.

Why did she feel that he was angry?

Was it because she was holding his arm?

Eden stood not far away and looked at them, wishing that she could come forward and slap Delmont in the face.

Delmont was too suggestible, and Paula tempted him just by some sweet nothings.

Eden watched them get on the car and drove to follow them. Since Paula dressed up so well at night, she must want to do something. Delmont would sleep soundly after he got drunk. If they slept on the same bed, Paula wouldn't miss the opportunity.

If they were in a relationship, the Clement family would not live in peace in the future.

Paula had ulterior motives.

Paula once said to her, "Eden, everyone will change."

Paula had changed indeed, but she had become more despicable.

After getting on the car, Paula looked at Delmont who was driving the car. His side face was incomparably handsome. If she were to bring him home, she would definitely become so famous in the small town.

Her parents would be very happy that she had a nice boyfriend.

Jodie and the other friends would be envious of her. More importantly, she would see Eden's angry but helpless face.

"Delmont, where are we going to eat?" She asked with a smile.

Delmont glanced sideways at her. There was a gust of strong perfume on her, and the smell was a little pungent in the car.

He thought about it and asked expressionlessly, "Where do you want to eat?"

Paula had had an answer in heart. To date with such a man, she should go to a high-end restaurant.

"Let's go to River City Restaurant. The food there is the best in this country."

"Okay!" Delmont did not say anything else. At the red light intersection, he turned the car round and drove to River City Restaurant.

Eden watched him turn the car round. Without thinking, she knew that they were going to River City Restaurant.

Eden followed them unhurriedly.

As expected, Delmont and Paula went to the River City Restaurant.

Eden got out of the car and went to the private box next to Delmont's. After asking the manager to serve a few dishes she liked, she asked the manager to keep an eye on Delmont and Paula.

She had to fill her stomach before solving the problem for Delmont.

"Paula, I won't let you succeed tonight!" She thought in heart.

Chapter 1427

Delmont and Paula had just entered the private box.

Paula ordered her favorite food and a bottle of red wine which was produced in 1998. She did not ask what Delmont wanted to eat. However, Delmont didn't say anything and only looked down at his phone.

Paula looked at him and asked with a smile, "Delmont, I didn't order the dishes you like. Aren't you angry?"

In fact, she was testing Delmont deliberately.

After all, they just got along well, and they hadn't been in a relationship.

The first time she met Delmont, she had been thinking about getting him.

Moreover, Eden had warned her. Her killer instinct didn't allow her to give up so easily.

Delmont put down the phone and looked up at her with a smile, "I'm not picky about food. I can eat anything you like. By the way, you and Eden work together. Do you get along well?"

"Of course, we used to be classmates. She takes good care of me." Paula ran her fingers through her hair and smiled charmingly.

Delmont nodded with a smile, "Eden is very kindhearted. She has been kind since she was a child. Victor treats her as his treasure. It's even hard for me to see her."

Paula smiled enviously, "She is really happy to have an elder brother who dotes on her so much. Unlike me, I only have a younger sister, and she always goes against me. I even have to share my salary with her."

Delmont smiled and said, "Eden suffered a lot when she was young. We all dote on her. She is our little princess and no one can bully her. If anyone bullies her, Buddy and I will beat that person to death."

Paula's heart skipped a beat. If Delmont knew that she had bullied Eden for three years, he would kill her, wouldn't he?

Hearing Delmont's words next door, Eden felt very warm in heart.

Delmont thought for her at any time.

Eden ate the seafood porridge and smiled very happily.

Then, she didn't hear any sound from the next box.

After eating, Eden felt a little sleepy, but she could hear the sound of clinking glasses next door.

An hour later, she finally heard the sound of the door opening.

Eden pricked up her ears and heard their footsteps. She didn't open the door and leave until they walked away.

She saw that Paula staggered and leaned against Delmont.

Seeing Paula like this, Eden knew what she wanted to do.

The two of them walked to another elevator.

However, after taking a few steps, Eden met Irving.

Irving was as elegant and charming as ever, and there was always a gentle smile on his face.

When Eden saw Irving, she was stunned. Although he sent roses to her everyday as usual, she did not take it seriously.

But meeting him like this was another matter.

"Eden, are you here alone?" Irving asked with a smile, and his voice was still so gentle. It seemed that he didn't take Eden's warning seriously.

Eden smiled, "No, I came here with Delmont. He... is downstairs with his friend. I'm leaving, or he will worry about me."

After saying that, Eden turned around and walked to the other side.

"Eden." Irving stopped her again.

Eden stopped and turned around to look at him with more vigilant eyes.

Irving looked at her and smiled, "Eden, you don't have to be so wary of me. As I said, I won't do anything to hurt you. I don't disturb your life these days, do I?" Although he had been sending her roses, he just did it to comfort himself.

Eden knew that he didn't bother her during this period of time, but he bought her roses as usual. It had been a long time, and she and Victor pretended that they didn't know about it.

"I know. Thank you for not disturbing me, and thank you very much for your concern. Irving, I hope we will never be enemies, but friends. Goodbye!"

Eden turned around and trotted away.

Irving stood still and smiled, "Eden, I will never be your enemy."

Even if he became her enemy one day, he did that for her own good.

Although such an idea was a bit morbid, he really thought so.

Watching her running in a hurry, he frowned slightly. Where was she going?

Didn't Victor accompany her?

He took a few steps forward, but Dahlia suddenly stopped him from behind.

"Irving, Mr. King is waiting for you. Let's go in first." When she followed Irving, she saw Eden. Humph, Eden seemed to be everywhere.

They could meet Eden wherever they went.

As for Irving, he was very tender when he saw Eden, but he became indifferent in front of her. How ironic!

He was really gentle to Eden, which made her very jealous. What qualification did Eden have to be loved by Irving?

"Okay!" Irving nodded. He glanced at the direction in which Eden had left and turned around to enter the private box.

After Eden went downstairs, she found that Delmont and Paula had gotten in the car.

She immediately took out her phone and dialed Delmont's number.

Delmont had drunk some wine, so he wanted to call driving service, but Paula refused. He had to drive the car to the parking lot and then rest in a nearby hotel.

As soon as he started the car, he received a phone call from Eden.

"Delmont, where are you?"

"Eden, I'm in River City Restaurant. What's wrong? Do you miss me?"

Eden smiled and said, "Yes! Delmont, no one can accompany me for dinner tonight. Victor has to attend a dinner party. Accompany me to eat."

In front of Eden, Delmont had parked the car and turned off the car lights.

She breathed a sigh of relief. If they really went to the hotel, Delmont would definitely be seduced by Paula.

Although Paula was not a gorgeous beauty, she was pretty and well-shaped, and it was hard for men to refuse her.

Delmont glanced at Paula who was drunk and hesitated.

He didn't speak, so Eden knew that he was worried about Paula.

It was just because of his kindness that Paula could make use of him shamelessly.

"Delmont, you have to treat me to dinner tonight. I've arrived at River City Restaurant. Come here quickly." Eden said like a spoiled child. She bet that she was more important than Paula in Delmont's heart.

"Okay, Eden, I'm in River City restaurant as well. How about this? Paula is drunk. I'll send her to the hotel first, and then I'll come back immediately to treat you to something delicious." Delmont's heart melted when he heard Eden's lovely voice.

When Paula heard that it was a phone call from Eden, she instantly had an urge to strangle Eden to death. Eden must do it on purpose.

"Oh! Delmont, did she have dinner with you? She's even drunk. How can you two go to a hotel alone? Where are you? I'll be right there." Eden looked at the Mercedes-Benz not far away with a sneer and said in heart, "Paula, do you want to go to the hotel with Delmont? Don't think about it! Delmont is so innocent, but you pretend to be naive and kind. Let's see if you can get what you want."

Chapter 1428

"Eden, my car is right in front of the gate."

"Oh! Delmont, wait for me. I seem to have seen your car." Eden hung up and walked over with a smile.

Hearing that, Paula even wanted to die. Eden had actually been following them.

Then she heard someone knocking on the car window.

Delmont looked at Eden and smiled dotingly.

Eden opened the car door and sat in the back seat.

She glanced at Paula, who was sitting in the passenger seat with her eyes closed.

"Delmont, Paula is badly drunk. Let's take her to the hotel first, and then we'll go to the food stalls." She didn't eat much just now, because she wanted to find an excuse to eat with Delmont.

"Okay!" Delmont smiled, "I'll park the car and go to the hotel nearby."

"Sure." Eden looked at Paula who was pretending to be asleep and smiled playfully.

She knew that Paula must feel wronged at this moment.

Later, she would let Paula show her colours.

The hotel was next to River City Restaurant, and the elevator was in the parking lot.

When they arrived at the hall on the first floor, Eden took out Paula's ID card from her bag and got a room for her.

Paula leaned against Delmont's arms.

Feeling her soft body, Delmont breathed somewhat rapidly. In fact, he... hadn't had sex for a long time.

However, thinking that Eden hadn't had dinner, he was no longer sexually aroused.

Paula knew men very well. Leaning against Delmont's arms, she could feel the reaction of his body. Unfortunately, everything was destroyed by Eden.

Otherwise, she could definitely sleep with Delmont that night.

After booking the room, Eden pulled Paula out of Delmont's arms and helped her walk into the elevator together with Delmont.

Seeing that Paula was still pretending to be asleep, she sneered. Paula used to be an entertainment woman, and she couldn't let her be with Delmont.

"Delmont, how much did she drink? Why is she so drunk?" Eden looked at him unhappily.

Delmont smiled helplessly. Paula was Eden's classmate, and he knew that Eden was blaming him for letting Paula drink so much.

"She drank a bottle of red wine."

"Ah..." Eden pretended to be surprised, "That's really strange. Paula has been good at drinking. She won't get drunk even if she drinks four bottles of red wine. Why did she get drunk after drinking one bottle of wine?"

Paula was shocked.

At this time, she was sure that Eden deliberately came here to make trouble with her.

"Really? I didn't expect her to be a heavy drinker." Delmont looked at Paula with puzzled eyes.

"Of course, we were classmates in high school. When we were in high school, she had been good at drinking." Eden looked at Paula with confusion as well.

Meanwhile, she pinched Paula's waist forcefully.

"Ah... Ugh..." The sudden pain made Paula unable to pretend anymore. She screamed and then immediately pretended to vomit.

"Ugh..." She retched in Delmont's arms.

Delmont was dumbfounded. He felt disgusted for no reason.

He turned away his face with discomfort.

Seeing Delmont's expression, Eden almost laughed out loud.

Although Delmont was careless, he was obsessional about cleanliness. His room was always tidy, and his clothes were always clean and neat.

"Delmont, I feel so bad." Paula leaned against his arms weakly, wrapped her arms around his neck and said coquettishly.

Eden said angrily, "Feel bad? Why couldn't you drink less? Do you know how tired Delmont is everyday? But now he has to take care of such a drunkard like you! You're not considerate at all. Besides, how could a woman drink so much? If you were in front of the man you like, how shameful would you be? Fortunately, you're not the type Delmont likes. Otherwise, you would regret what you're doing after sobering up."

Paula was speechless. Was she not the type Delmont liked? Eden must be talking nonsense.

She looked at Eden with blurred eyes and said with a smile, "Oh, it turns out to be my old classmate. I'm dating with your eldest brother. Why are you here?"

Delmont immediately looked at Eden and shook his head, "Eden, I promise that this is not a date. We just had a meal as friends."

Hearing this, Eden was much more relieved. She had thought that Delmont had fallen in love with Paula.

"Ha-ha..." She looked at Paula and smiled. Her smile harbored evil intentions, and she was like a devil from hell, "Paula, it seems that you are really drunk. What a pity, Delmont doesn't like you. However, what you said is liable to cause misunderstanding. Those who don't understand will think that you're seducing Delmont on purpose."

Paula was taken aback. Eden's words were truly annoying.

She didn't expect that Delmont would give such an answer. During this period of time, Eden was busy taking care of Adonis, so she had time to get close to Delmont.

When Eden had more free time, she immediately realized that something was wrong, so she rushed to make trouble for her.

Why was it so hard for her to marry a man she liked?

Eden came over not only to warn her, but also to tell Delmont about what she had done. Delmont might not answer her phone calls again.

Ah...

Paula wailed in heart.

How unlucky she was!

In the room, Eden pushed Paula onto the bed with great strength.

Paula felt so aggrieved that she wanted to kill Eden, but she had no choice but to keep pretending.

Eden sent Delmont away with an excuse deliberately.

"Delmont, you go out first. I'll come out after helping her take off her clothes. She'll sleep more comfortably in this way."

"Okay! Don't be too tired." Delmont turned around and left.

Paula felt so desperate. She had missed such a great opportunity!

The door of the room was closed. Eden looked at Paula who didn't move and pinched her waist hard.

"Ouch..." Paula couldn't stand it anymore. Eden pinched her waist, and it was extremely painful.

She sat up angrily and arranged her messy hair casually.

She glared at Eden with furious eyes, "Eden, you're so shameless! What right do you have to interfere in Delmont's matters?"

Eden looked down at her arrogantly, "You can only blame your bad luck. You actually fell in love with Delmont. He is kind, but you make use of him in this way. Paula, as I said, I will never let you be my sister-in-law. I have warned you to stay away from Delmont. As long as I am here, you will never be able to marry into the Clement family. Even if you give birth to a child for him, you can only his mistress."

She minded Paula's past, her greed, and her various plots. Paula approached Delmont on purpose, and she would never accept such a sister-in-law.

Chapter 1429

"Ah..." Paula ran her fingers through her hair in despair.

How could she fall on evil days all the time? How unlucky she was!

Humph!

She would never give up like this, and she believed that she would not be so unlucky forever.

Paula felt bitter, angry and sad, and she had mixed feelings in heart.

"Eden, could you not meddle in this matter?"

Eden said, "I'm not meddling in your affairs. What I care about is Delmont's happiness. You can't make him happy."

Paula smiled and looked at her, "Eden, why are you so sure that I can't give him happiness?"

"Because of your character." Eden answered her without hesitation.

"Paula, I'll warn you once again. Stay away from Delmont. I know exactly what you're thinking, and I also know that you want to prove that you can win his heart. But I can remind you that if you can withstand the pressure from the Clement family, you can be with him recklessly. But I hope that you won't get badly hurt in the end."

After saying that, Eden turned around and went out.

Paula looked at her back, and her eyes darkened more and more.

"Ha-ha..." She laughed mockingly, as if she was mocking Eden's childishness.

Men would be responsible as long as the women got pregnant. Moreover, the Clement family was respectable. For the sake of his own reputation and dignity, Delmont wouldn't abandon her and their child if she got pregnant.

She said in heart, "Eden, you don't know Delmont at all."

"Just wait and see, Eden. Let's see who will win in the end."

Delmont smoked at the end of the corridor. Leaning against the wall, he lowered his head, and his long figure was enveloped in loneliness and sadness.

Seeing him like this, Eden felt painful in heart for no reason.

In fact, she didn't know if Delmont had been living a good life these years. But after she came back, she found that he had been working very hard. Especially after he was released from the prison, he had become maturer. However, he really needed a girlfriend who could accompany him.

"Delmont, let's go." She said in a soft tone, and her smile was gentle.

Delmont snuffed out the cigarette and looked at her with a smile, "Let's go. What would you like to eat? I'll buy it for you."

Eden took his arm, "Delmont, let's go to the food stalls. I haven't eaten the food there for a long time."

"Alright. I'll listen to you." Delmont's tone was as doting as ever.

"Delmont, I heard that you beat the one who cheated you." Since Delmont had been fooled, he wouldn't let it go so easily.

Speaking of this matter, Delmont was still angry, "Humph, that brat dared to lie to me! He should feel lucky that I just beat him. I broke his arm and gave him a lesson so that he wouldn't fool others again."

Delmont knew what she was worried about.

"Don't worry. I won't be as impulsive as before. I know how to act with propriety."

"Ha-ha..." Eden chuckled, "Delmont, since I came back, you've been maturing. However, I know that you are very lonely. If you can be with a girl you like, you'll be happier and happier."

Hearing this, Delmont looked at her with a playful smile, "Eden, was it really because you wanted me to treat you to a meal that you called me?"

"Of course. Think about it. How long haven't we had a meal together? Should I call you with some purposes?" Eden knew that Delmont had more or less known her intentions.

But so what?

She wanted him to marry a kinder woman.

"Delmont, do you like Paula?" She felt that it was better to figure out this question. This matter had troubled her for several days, making her unable to eat and sleep at ease.

Delmont shook his head slightly. Hearing these words, he knew that Eden came to him with other intentions.

"I'm well disposed towards her, but I haven't fallen in love with her."

Eden heaved a sigh of relief.

"Delmont, tell me honestly. You sent her to the hotel tonight. If she seduced you, you wouldn't be able to control yourself, would you?"

Delmont smiled and said, "Eden, we are all adults, and it's normal for people to break up after having a one-night-stand. Are you worried that I couldn't restrain myself?"

Eden nodded heavily, "Delmont, you have to be more faithful. If my future sister-in-law learns about your past, you'll suffer a lot. I don't think you'll have a one-night-stand. Delmont, let me introduce someone to you."

Delmont smiled and asked, "Is it Seth?"

Eden nodded with a smile, "She is raised by my father. She has a very good personality and matches you very well. She is very suitable to be a wife."

Delmont shook his head with a smile, "She speaks too little."

"So she's suitable for you, you chatterbox. If you and your wife both talk a lot, it will be very noisy at home."

Delmont shook her head and laughed, "You are wrong. Do you follow me because you're afraid that something would happen between Paula and me?"

"Humph!" Eden glared at him. Being seen through by him, she was very awkward. She looked especially adorable when she blushed and puckered her mouth.

Delmont suddenly remembered that when she was a child, she liked to pucker her mouth as long as she got mad. At that time, if he hugged her and kissed her little face, she would smile in an instant. It turned out that time had passed so quickly. The little girl had grown up and become the mother of three children.

"You actually see me through. Fortunately, you are not as stupid as I thought."

"Eden." He took her hand, "Don't worry. I will never be cheated by a woman again."

"What does it mean? Have you ever been cheated before? Or..." Eden looked at him doubtfully. She felt that his words were meaningful.

"Eden, in fact, I have a beloved woman, but she doesn't like me. That's why I've been single. As for Paula, she looks like that woman, so I can't help but want to meet her." Delmont's tone turned sad, and his expression suddenly became painful and melancholic.

"I know I shouldn't meet her. In the future, I won't see her unless we have something about work to deal with."

Eden did not expect to hear such shocking news from him.

"Delmont, you hid so well. No one in our family knows that you have a woman you like. Two days ago, mom called me and said Glenn could call you uncle, but you didn't even have a girlfriend. Both of us were anxious."

"Fool, don't you want me to be with someone I like? I've been trying my best." Delmont smiled bitterly. He had really tried his best, but that woman didn't like him.

Chapter 1430

He only loved her in his life.

Eden was completely relieved.

"Delmont, can you tell me who she is?" Eden was curious to know what kind of woman Delmont liked.

Delmont smiled, "Her family background is much better than ours. She was my junior in college, and we fell in love with each other in college. Later, something happened, and we had to break up."

"Oh! What's her name?" Eden was too curious. In River City, only the Alwynn family was richer than the Clement family, wasn't it?

"Delmont, is it Adalynn?" She was a little surprised.

"Ha-ha... Dummy, what are you thinking about? How could it be her? The Alwynn family is indeed richer than the Clement family, but her family is more powerful than the Alwynn family."

"Oh! That's amazing."

Delmont kept it a secret. If Aisling knew this, she would nagger everyday. However, she didn't expect Delmont to be so affectionate.

In the past, he always went to the nightclubs, but he went there less occasionally after he was framed last time.

"Ha-ha..." Looking at her curious face, Delmont was amused.

"Eden, even if tell you, you don't know her. Moreover, she is not from River City."

"Oh!" Eden was a little disappointed. However, as long as Delmont didn't like Paula, she could be relieved.

"Delmont, as long as it's not Paula. I hope you didn't lie to me."

"Fool, why should I lie to you? Do you think I would make a joke of my feelings? Besides, I can't bear to cheat you."

"Delmont, if you can't be with her, will you stay single for the rest of your life?" She was a little worried.

Grandma Clement was old, and she wanted to see the three of them have their own happy families.

Delmont's eyes were full of intense sorrow. Maybe he really couldn't be with her again. Then he smiled unconcernedly and said, "Eden, you may think I am ridiculous when you hear my words, but I only love her in my life. Therefore, I won't get married if I can't be with her. After she left, I tried to be with other girls, but none of them is my cup of tea. That's why I'm still single now."

Looking at his painful expression, Eden knew that he didn't lie to her.

"Delmont, have a try again. As long as she is not married, you have a chance." She did not want him to be single forever.

Delmont shook his head, "We haven't contacted each other for many years. She's abroad and I'm in River City. We're separated by a thousand miles. I don't know whether she's married or not."

When Eden heard this, she sighed in heart. Nine times out of ten they couldn't be together.

"By the way, Eden, you'll go to the hospital to see Adonis tomorrow, right? I'll go visit him, too. We're friends and we've known each other since childhood. I'm sad because he's in a coma."

"Okay, come to Alwynn Group tomorrow, and we'll go there together."

"No problem!" Delmont took her hand and went to the food stalls nearby.

They talked about a lot frankly.

After eating and drinking, Delmont sent Eden back. When Eden arrived home safely, she asked a driver to send Delmont back to the Clement family.

Eden was very happy because her worries were resolved. When she went to work the next day, she was in a good mood.

She was delighted, but Paula was in a very bad mood.

This morning, she called Delmont, and he really didn't answer her phone calls.

In her opinion, Eden must have said something to Delmont.

After holding the morning meeting, Victor went out to inspect the malls with Dean. There was only Eden in the office.

Paula walked in angrily.

"Eden, do you have to separate me and Delmont? This is something between me and him. Why do you have to meddle in it?"

Her tone was excited as she looked at Eden with hatred. She had a sense of superiority again and thought that she could still bully Eden at will.

Eden looked up at her angry face and knew that Delmont didn't answer her phone calls that day.

She leaned against the chair casually and looked at Paula with a smile, "Paula, I meddled in my brother's business, not yours. It has nothing to do with you."

"But I like your brother. Why do you have to stop me?" Missing the chance to be with Delmont, Paula was so depressed that she wanted to kill Eden.

All these years, she had been trying to be with a rich man. After failing several times, she hadn't given up.

"Have you asked if Delmont likes you?" Eden looked at her with brooding eyes.

"If he didn't like me, he wouldn't meet me." Paula looked at her confidently.

Clearly, Delmont was well disposed towards her.

If he didn't have a good opinion of her, he would not have come out to meet her.

"Ha-ha..." Eden couldn't help but laugh. Looking at Paula's arrogant face, she found that she didn't change at all.

"Paula, if you really want to marry into a powerful family, you have to make yourself better and gain the respect and admiration of others. Only then will you be able to get what you want."

"If you seduced him successfully last night, neither of you would suffer losses. He would satisfy his sexual needs and you would profit yourself, but he would not be responsible for you. You know the adult world better than I do."

"You're pretty and well-shaped, but you're too haughty. A proud phoenix can't be born in a chicken coop. Shouldn't people like you work harder?"

"In this glamorous big city, some people like you appear to be rich and lofty in front of everyone, but I think you know your true colours very well."

"But you always believe that your beauty and charm will definitely be found out by rich people. You try every method to work in Alwynn Group in order to squeeze into the upper class and get what you want. Am I right?"

Paula's face was pale and embarrassed. Eden had hit it.

In the past few years, she ran into snags and was foiled everywhere. She used to be kept as a mistress, work as an entertainment woman and do a lot of work, but she failed to marry into a wealthy family as she wished.

Seeing her expression, Eden knew she had guessed right.

"Paula, since you got close to him with impure motives, you've cheated him. Vanity can soon ruin a person. Don't get lost in your fantasy. After you wake up from your daydream, the reality will give you a fatal blow."

A woman couldn't reply on her beauty completely.

Paula's face was dejected and sombre. She looked at Eden's causal face and envied her very much. She was in a high status, and her husband was the Prince Charming in every woman's hearts. Many people loved and doted on her.

"Eden, are girls from poor families not qualified to change their lives? Can't women from poor families marry into wealthy families?"
