

Gluey Love 1501

Chapter 1501

Giada didn't wake up until the next morning.

As soon as she opened her eyes, she sat up straight. It seemed that she had been greatly frightened. Her beautiful face was full of horror and fear.

"Mom, help me!" She screamed in horror.

Eden, who was sitting by aside, felt as if her heart was being cut by a knife.

"Gia, it's okay. Dad and mom are both here." Victor looked at Gia's face and said. His expression turned more serious. It seemed that what had happened last night hurt her a lot.

D*mn Troy! He should have taught him a lesson.

Only then did Giada realize that she was in the hospital.

Hearing Victor's voice, she turned her head and saw that they were both by her side.

She blinked her big clear eyes, feeling that she was in her dream, but Victor's voice was so gentle. "Dad, mom, I am not dreaming now, right?"

Eden took her little hand tenderly and said in a soft voice, "Gia, you're not dreaming. You are in the hospital. Everything is okay now. Don't be afraid. Dad and mom are with you."

"Woo-woo..." Giada burst into tears and threw herself into Eden's arms.

Recalling what had happened last night, she was really scared.

It never occurred to her that Troy, that b*stard, would take off her clothes.

She was smart, and she knew what he wanted to do to her.

She didn't expect that there would be such a terrible person around her.

She was so young. How could the b*stard insult her like that?

"Mom, I am so scared. I must kill that b*stard!" Tears streamed down Gia's face as she said, and Eden's heart ached severely.

Gia wanted to become stronger, and she didn't want such a thing to happen to her again.

Eden held her tightly. Hearing Gia crying, she shed tears unconsciously.

"Gia, Ricky has taught him a lesson. He will never go to that school again. You can rest assured. He will no longer be a threat to you."

Gia would seek revenge for the smallest grievance. If they studied in the same school, they would hate each other more and more.

With Victor's personality, he would never let Troy appear in front of Gia again.

Seeing Eden and Gia crying, Victor felt mad and sombre in heart.

F*ck!

He cursed himself in heart.

"Gia!" Jaida came in with the porridge she cooked early in the morning. As soon as she entered the ward, she heard them crying, and her eyes misted with tears instantly.

Ricky and Kenny went back last night and explained to her what had happened simply. She was so anxious when she heard that. In this world, the weak would stand as an easy prey to the strong.

But Gia met that b*stard, and it was unfair to her.

Gia was so kindhearted. How could she encounter such an unfair thing?

"Grandma..." When Giada raised her head and saw Jaida's doting face, she cried even more sadly.

Seeing her like this, Jaida felt distressed and brokenhearted.

Eden and Victor greeted her.

"Gia, don't cry. I made your favorite millet porridge. Have some first." Jaida walked over, and then Victor took the food from her hand and put it on the table.

"Eden, Victor, you two accompany Gia to eat some. I will send some porridge to Delmont."

"Okay!" Victor nodded.

Victor ladled three bowls of porridge and gave it to Gia first.

"Gia, have some porridge."

Giada nodded and looked at Eden, acting like a spoiled child, "Mom, feed me. In this way, the porridge will be more delicious."

Eden melted into smiles, "Alright, I'll feed you."

Eden picked up the spoon and fed Giada slowly. Giada looked very happy.

She was a careless girl, and it was easy for her to accept a situation.

Thinking that nothing bad happened to her last night, she was glad that she had escaped.

Victor looked better when he saw the warm scene.

"Mom, I think I'd better continue to learn Taekwondo." Giada suddenly said after taking a few sips of porridge.

Eden looked at her and smiled dotingly, "Gia, you don't like it, do you?"

Giada lowered her head and bit her pink lip, "Mom, although I don't like it, I want to have the ability to protect myself and not make you worry."

"Our family is rich, and dad has offended many people in business. Although he didn't offend those people deliberately, some people like to make something out of nothing and shift the blame onto him."

"If I can become stronger, I will be able to protect myself when I am kidnapped again."

Victor looked at her and said with a distressed face, "Gia, just do it. I support you. Only when you protect yourself can you really be safe."

Giada nodded. After being kidnapped twice, she deeply realized that becoming stronger was more important than anything else.

Only when she had an intelligent head, a strong body and an agile mind could she really protect herself.

Eden had been going through the same life all these years.

Eden looked at her and did not stop her, "Gia, you can learn it together with Ricky this weekend."

"Yeah! Although I don't want to study with him very much, he taught Troy a lesson for me last night. I won't argue with him anymore." Giada pretended to be generous.

Victor looked at her with amusement.

She didn't humour Ricky at all. Every time they quarreled, it was Ricky who humoured her.

Gia always took her undeserved gain for granted.

"Eden, eat some porridge as well." Victor handed another bowl of millet porridge to Eden.

Eden took it and fed it to Gia before eating it on her own.

"Dad, have some, too." Giada looked at Victor. She was so glad that Victor and Eden both accompanied her last night.

"Okay! I'll eat it right away."

Victor picked up the bowl of porridge. When he got off the plane last night, he was in a hurry to deal with things, and he didn't even have time to have dinner. He had been terribly hungry.

Around ten o'clock in the morning, Giada fell asleep, and Victor glanced at the news on his phone. The share prices of Meaker Group crashed to an all-time low.

Victor had instructed Lucian to keep an eye on the share prices of Meaker Group.

At this time, Lucian was buying their shares.

Eden asked, "Victor, do you make the Meaker family go bankrupt?"

What the Meaker family did last night was indeed very hateful, and she also wanted to punish Troy who was arrogant and ignorant.

Victor's eyes were blazing with the flames of fury.

"Eden, the Meaker family and the Kline family are the stepping stones for Irving to advance. Irving gave twenty million dollars to Charlie, and then Charlie gave the money to Cyril and asked his workers to make trouble on the construction site."

"Cyril knew very well that I had to finish the buildings before the end of this year. Now the houses are about to be finished. If they suddenly stop working, it will bring me a lot of trouble. Cyril knew this, so he dared to act rashly."

Chapter 1502

Hearing this, Eden opened her eyes wide in surprise and gritted her teeth, "I didn't expect Irving to be such a shameless person. He looks gentle on the surface, but he has a vicious heart."

Victor was glad to hear that, "Honey, now you know his true colours, don't you? Don't meet him alone in the future. Understand?"

Victor reminded her again.

Irving's gentle exterior hid a very despicable and malicious heart.

Eden glared at him coquettishly, "Have I ever met him alone? I just met him by accident a few times."

"You can't meet him by accident. Just turn around and leave when you see him in the future. Understand? You have to remember that you have a husband and children all the time."

Eden was speechless.

She'd better stop talking. She was afraid that she would quarrel with him later.

"Honey, why don't you speak?"

Eden did not look at him, "I don't want to wake up Gia."

Victor said, "This is just your excuse."

Eden glared at him with warning eyes.

He immediately gave in and sat down beside her.

Eden looked better, "What will happen to the Meaker family?"

She did not sympathize with the Meaker family, and she just wanted to know the result.

Victor crossed his arms, looking commanding and overbearing.

"In the past years, they had relied on the Alwynn family to do business, but they chose to cooperate with Irving. They are not wrong. After all, they chose their own future. I will not aim at them just because of this."

"But the hateful thing is that they colluded with Irving to deal with Alwynn Group."

"Don't look down at these small companies. When they want to make things difficult for me, they're craftier than you think. Since they have such an idea, I won't show them any mercy."

Eden nodded. The business world was like a battlefield, and it had always been so cruel.

She knew Victor's character well. Those who didn't provoke him could live in peace. However, those who offended him had no way to protect themselves. He would let those people pay dearly for it.

Moreover, he was cold-blooded and brutal.

"Eden, even if Meaker Group doesn't go bankrupt at this time, Irving will take it over in less than half a year. During this period of time, he has used dirty means to buy at least ten small companies. He runs RK Company on the surface, but in fact, he owns a head-hunting company. The company that is targeted by him will go bankrupt in half a year at most."

"Then he will buy this company at below market value. That's how his family develops all these years."

He did not want to speak ill of Irving in front of Eden, but this was indeed the truth found out by Brian, Lucian and Kenny.

"Ah..." Eden looked at him in surprise. It turned out that Irving developed his career so fast in this way.

"What? Don't you believe what I said?" Victor looked at her with brooding eyes.

Eden shook her head, "I am just a little surprised!"

Victor muttered in his heart, "Humph! You should have known that he's despicable."

Eden felt a little sorry for Paula. She lost the rich man she could rely on too soon. How unlucky she was. She shouldn't have counted her chickens before they were hatched.

It seemed that she was unlucky no matter what she did.

Early in the morning, Irving learned that the share prices of Meaker Group fell sharply in his apartment. In addition, he knew everything that had happened last night. He was not angry, but very happy.

Anyway, he would take over Meaker Group sooner or later. It was better to be earlier.

Aidan said happily, "Mr. Matthews, we have bought ten percent of the shares."

Irving nodded, "Continue to buy the shares. This time, we can't let Alwynn Group take over Meaker Group."

Aidan smiled and said, "Mr. Matthews, Caroline is dealing with this secretly. Victor has Lucian, but we have Caroline. We will definitely get Meaker Group."

Irving smiled weirdly, and his gentle face looked a bit strange and scary, "I trust Caroline's computer skills very much. After she purchases Meaker Group, let her hack the computer system of Alwynn Group and steal their top-secret information. This time, I will defeat Alwynn Group completely."

"What's more, we can never let Victor know Caroline's identity."

Aidan smiled and said, "Mr. Matthews, I have reminded Caroline. She won't expose herself."

"Then I'm relieved. We can't do anything with only Paula's help. She only values money."

"Rat-a-tat..."

Someone knocked on the door, and Aidan turned to open the door.

"Miss Grant, why are you here?" Aidan smiled politely.

Hearing his words, Dahlia was somewhat displeased. This was her fiance's house, and she could come here at will. Moreover, shouldn't she come here? What did Aidan mean by asking that?

Although she thought so, she didn't show displeasure on face.

"Miss Meaker is here. She wants to see Mr. Matthews."

"Oh!" Aidan glanced at Carolyn who stood behind Dahlia, nodded with a smile and let them come in.

Carolyn's face looked very upset. Seeing Irving, she felt hopeful.

"Mr. Matthews, I beg you to help my family." She expressed her purpose as soon as she came in. She believed Irving had known that their share prices had sunk.

Irving smiled, "Miss Meaker, sit down first."

Carolyn sat opposite Irving nervously and looked at him with pitiful and pleading eyes.

Charlie cooperated with Irving because Irving promised them.

"Miss Meaker, I have learned about the whole story. Mr. Meaker was too impulsive. We had just carried out our plan. How could he kidnap Victor's daughter? Everyone in this city knows who Victor cares about most, right?"

When Carolyn heard this, she had a nasty feeling.

"Mr. Matthews, now is not the time to find out who is to blame. My family has cooperated with you. Anyway, we are business partners. I believe that you will not let us go bankrupt like this, right?"

"If we go bankrupt, what will the Kline family think of you?"

Carolyn's words were more or less threatening.

"Ha-ha..." Irving chuckled. In this world, who would ignore his own benefit and care about someone else's feelings?

He looked at Carolyn who was mentally and physically exhausted, and said, "Miss Meaker, I don't think you have figured out the seriousness of the matter."

"Now, there is no way to save your family. The evil things Charlie did have been exposed. Even if I want to help your family, how should I ruin the irrefutable evidence?"

"Mr. Matthews, can't... you even do this?" Carolyn was very angry. They had been bewitched by Dahlia, so they decided to collude with Irving.

She even framed Eden. If it was in the past, she wouldn't dare to do it no matter how bold she was.

Chapter 1503

Irving nodded, "According to the current situation, there is really no way to help you. Now the shares of your company are being purchased by many people."

"What?" Carolyn narrowed her eyes in an instant. She had a nasty feeling, but the more she had in heart was fury.

"Mr. Matthews, don't forget why my family gave up our cooperation with Alwynn Group and cooperated with you." At this time, Irving didn't want to help them and even wanted to buy their shares.

How could she let him get what he wanted? Once they came to an open break in cooperation with each other, she could invent a charge against him.

Irving suddenly narrowed his gentle eyes and said with hostility, "Miss Meaker, are you threatening me now? You can only blame Charlie for being too stupid. How dared he Victor's daughter? Even you know what Victor's bottom line is. He will never allow anyone to hurt Eden and his children."

Carolyn shivered, and her pale face looked irritated.

"Mr. Matthews, it was Dahlia who instigated me to frame Eden and bribe Paula. Wasn't it you who asked her to do these?"

Hearing this, Dahlia looked at Carolyn unhappily.

"Miss Meaker, please make a measured speech. I have never asked you to frame Eden, nor have I reminded you to buy off her assistant. That day, you took the initiative to give the gift to Paula. You can't blame anyone else."

"You can only blame yourself for being greedy and trying to get more secrets of Alwynn Group."

Carolyn took the initiative to give her watch to Paula for Irving's sake.

"Dahlia, you..." Carolyn finally understood. She had been doing business with Charlie for so many years. Even if she did not offend Victor, the Meaker Family would eventually be ruined by Irving and Dahlia.

In the end, Carolyn left in dismay.

Aidan was a little worried, "Mr. Matthews, will Carolyn expose what we have done?"

Irving sneered and said, "Don't worry. She doesn't have that ability now. Moreover, there are not many people who know about our cooperation. Even if the Kline family knows what has happened to the Meaker family, they won't turn against us because of their own interests. Everything is under our control."

"You two get ready. Now we should try to cooperate with the Rivera family who has a grudge against Alwynn Group, and the Talbot family, the biggest shareholder in the entertainment circle. If we can cooperate with these two companies, our company will soon make a big profit."

"I see, Mr. Matthews."

Dahlia also nodded.

Irving asked again, "When will Barrett come back to River City?"

Aidan said, "He will come back in a week. I heard that his eldest daughter, Adrienne, has arrived in River City, but we don't know where she is."

Irving nodded, "What about Mr. Calder's daughter?"

Hearing this, Aidan said in a dilemma, "Mr. Matthews, we all suspect that he has no daughter. Many companies are investigating, but there is no news about her."

Irving leaned on the sofa casually and smiled cunningly, "There's no smoke without fire. Zaiden is a real estate tycoon, and he owns real estate all over the country. He is almost as rich as Barrett."

"Zaiden is a man of integrity. To cooperate with him is almost impossible. It is even very difficult to meet him. Therefore, finding his daughter is a breakthrough."

Aidan only wanted to say that meeting Mr. Calder was much more difficult than finding his daughter.

No, the two things were both difficult!

It was almost impossible!

Zaiden took different cars every day, and he entered the underground parking lot through a special way.

Besides, ordinary people could not enter the parking lot.

What made him feel more helpless was that he could not even find out when Zaiden left the company and when he entered the company.

He couldn't even find out where Zaiden lived.

It was strange. Such a real estate tycoon lived a mysterious life. He owned many houses, but they couldn't get any information about him by investigating the houses.

A trace of jealousy flashed across Dahlia's eyes. She sneered and said, "Aidan, she definitely exists. Several years ago, the picture of her back was plastered on the newspapers."

"Moreover, Zaiden is not so boring. He wouldn't make fun of such a thing. It is said that he likes this adopted daughter very much. After he donates some of his property to the society, all his property will belong to her daughter."

"There is even a rumor that he builds Hartker Villa as a gift to his daughter. The villa covered an area of a thousand square meters and has been built for more than four years, but it has not been built yet. I heard that it is the most valuable and excellent gift he will give to his daughter. It is a piece of very nice and precious land."

Hearing this, Aidan was envious.

He said with a smile, "Hartker Villa is expensive enough, let alone other property."

Irving nodded. Indeed, Zaiden's adopted daughter was the happiest person in the world.

She could possess the property that others dreamed of without doing anything.

"No matter what, you have to find her so that we can develop better in River City."

"In addition, keep an eye on the Simpson family. After Barrett comes back, he will get in touch with all the powerful people he know for his development in River City. As long as he holds a banquet, you must get the invitation."

Barrett was his greatest bargaining chip.

Irving said in heart, "Eden, I'd like to see who you'll choose."

Aidan nodded, "Miss Grant, can you find the picture of her back you mentioned just now?"

Dahlia shook her head, "It has been deleted a long time ago. I can't find it online. We can only try our best to find her in private."

In fact, she didn't want Irving to find this woman.

How could she not know what Irving was thinking about?

Once he found this woman, he would try to let her become his fiancée.

Aidan took out his phone and searched online. Sure enough, there was no such a photo. There was even not much information about Zaiden.

His photos online were taken when he was young.

"Alas!" He sighed in heart.

It was really something tricky, but Irving had to find Zaiden's daughter.

"All of you can leave. Remember that we must get Meaker Group." Irving's tone was unprecedentedly sharp.

Aidan and Dahlia nodded and went out.

Irving glanced at the time. There was a faint smile in his eyes.

Should he go to the hospital and visit Victor's daughter?

He picked up his phone and made a call, asking the driver to start the car.

After changing his clothes, he went to the supermarket downstairs to buy some toys and gifts before going to the hospital.

In the hospital, Victor went to his office to deal with official business, while Eden stayed to take care of Gia.

Victor stood in front of the French window. His tall and straight figure looked so domineering.

He lowered his head and called Lucian.

Lucian said blandly, "Is Gia better now?"

Chapter 1504

"She's better. Eden is staying with her." Victor's voice was a little hoarse. He didn't sleep all night, and he was a little tired.

He looked out of the window in a commanding manner.

"I see!" Lucian replied simply.

Victor frowned, "How is the stock purchase going?"

"Not bad." Lucian said blandly.

Victor felt helpless. Why couldn't Lucian tell him in detail?

He smiled wickedly. When ordinary people saw such a smile, they knew that someone was going to suffer.

"Let's sell the shares we've bought and leave an empty company to Irving. Since he wants it, we might as well give it to him. I want to see him go ballistic."

"Ha-ha..." Lucian laughed faintly, "That's a good idea. Whoever takes over Meaker Group will be unlucky. The mess in the company can't be cleaned up in one or two months."

"Cleaning up the mess in TS Company is already very tricky. Aurora will have a hard time. Moreover, we don't need such a shell company."

"Your way of doing things makes me work very easily."

"Ha-ha..." Victor was so angry but he laughed, "Lucian, you finally said something sincere. It seems that I've given you too much work. You even complain about me."

Lucian said, "You finally know yourself."

Victor was stunned. Did Lucian think that he had no self-knowledge before?

"Alright, since you say so, I will give you less work in the future."

"Do you think you can keep your word?"

Victor's face darkened completely.

He was also very busy, wasn't he?

"Lucian, no matter how old we are, I hope we can cross difficult barriers and make great achievement like what we did when we were young."

"Victor, aren't we crossing difficult barriers now?"

"Haven't we made great achievement?"

Victor replied, "You seem to have lost your will to fight."

"No, I'm just brokenhearted." His tone was full of intense helplessness.

Hearing this, Victor trembled, and his heart throbbed painfully.

Amelia had left and Adonis was in a vegetative state, which tortured Lucian's broken heart.

"Lucian, we will find Amelia, and Adonis will get better soon." Victor said earnestly. During this period of time, Lucian had been enduring the sadness alone.

That day, he finally spoke his mind.

How could a person whose heart had broken have the will to fight?

Victor was afraid that Lucian couldn't be with Amelia in the end after suffering so much and trying his best.

In that case, their past would hurt his heart the most severely.

"I'm fine. I'm hanging up. I have a lot of things to do here."

After hanging up the phone, Victor turned around, sat in front of the computer and continued the video conference.

In the ward, Eden chatted with Giada after she woke up.

"Mom, can I leave the hospital today?"

"Yes! When your dad comes back, we can go home."

"Do you want eat apples? I will peel one for you."

"Eat one." Giada smiled.

Eden took the apple to peel it.

Giada asked with concern, "Mom, Ricky gave Troy a lesson last night. He didn't get hurt, did he?"

"Do you think he would get hurt? His fist is hard."

"That's right. Only the person who fought with him would be at a disadvantage. How could he suffer losses?" Giada's tone sounded mockingly, but her heart was very warm. In fact, Ricky doted on her so much.

Eden knew what she was thinking, but she did not expose her. Instead, she put the peeled apple on the plate and gave it to her.

"Eat it."

"Thank you, mom. It's so good to be sick, because you can accompany me!"

Eden's heart ached when she heard that.

She didn't spend much time with the children indeed.

"Aren't you happy when I'm not by your side?"

Giada smiled brightly and replied to her while eating, "That's not the same. You're my mom, and no one can replace you."

Hearing this, Eden was like over the moon. Gia was so sweet!

"Rat-a-tat..."

Eden got up to open the door.

When she opened the door and saw Irving, she was stunned.

"Mr. Matthews, why are you here?" She asked in a distant tone.

Irving smiled, and his voice was as gentle as ever, "I heard that Gia is in the hospital, so I came to see her."

Eden stood at the door and did not speak.

Irving looked at her with a smile, "Eden, are you not letting me in?"

Eden quickly shook her head, "Thank you for visiting Gia, but she's fine now. She'll be discharged later."

It was improper to treat a polite person rudely. Eden stepped aside and let Irving come in.

The driver walked in with the fruit basket and some gifts. After putting the things down, he left.

Giada glanced at the gift and then looked at Irving, greeted him politely.

"Hello, Mr. Matthews!"

Irving looked at her and grinned, "Hello, Gia. We meet again."

Giada looked at him with a faint smile.

She didn't like to see him at all!

Her father did not like him. He was the man who wanted to take away her mother.

"Gia, it's great that you're fine." Looking at her face which was very similar to Victor's, Irving was very jealous of Victor because he had three excellent children.

"With my dad by my side, of course I'm fine. My dad is the best dad and the best husband in the world. He only loves my mom." Giada smiled proudly as she showing off.

Irving was slightly dumbfounded. Was this child reminding him intentionally?

"That's not right. Maybe there is a man who loves your mother more than your father does." He did not like to hear how much Victor loved Eden.

That made him feel like his valuable treasure had been taken away by a good-for-nothing.

Eden could tell what Gia was thinking about. Perhaps even Gia knew that Irving had ulterior motives towards her.

"How could it be? Even if that man really loves my mother, in my opinion, he must have ulterior motives. My mom has married my dad. If he really loves my mom, he shouldn't pester my mom again and again." After saying that, Giada blinked her big innocent eyes and looked at Irving.

Irving was a bit surprised. Gia had an agile mind.

"Mr. Matthews, do you think so?" Seeing that Irving remained silent, Giada asked as if nothing had happened.

Irving felt that his face was burning hot, and he did not answer Giada's question.

"Sit down!" Eden pushed the stool behind him.

Irving was no longer embarrassed.

Giada glanced at Eden with complaint, lowered her head and continued to eat the apple.

"Thank you!" Irving sat down and looked around the VIP ward. The facilities were very high-grade. "I heard that this hospital is owned by Mr. Alwynn."

"Yes! It has just been established for a few years." Eden answered blandly.

"The environment is really good." Irving praised sincerely.

Victor knew how to enjoy his life. Many of his companies were closely related to daily life.

Chapter 1505

Eden nodded, "Only the rich are received here. The environment and facilities are indeed better than those in other hospitals, and the doctors here have superb medical skills."

Eden knew that Victor did all these for her.

"Honey," Victor pushed the door open and came in. When he saw Irving, his face suddenly turned gloomy and horrible.

"Why are you here?" He looked straight at Irving with sharp eyes.

Irving smiled. Looking at Victor's unfriendly eyes, he said calmly, "As Eden's classmate and friend, can't I come to see Gia?"

"I don't need you to come here and visit my daughter." Victor had never been kind to him.

Especially after finding out something Irving had done, he hated him more.

"Although you don't need, I can decide whether to come here on my own." With a good temper, Irving smiled and responded to him.

"You've come here and seen my daughter. Now you can leave. I have to eat lunch with my wife."

Victor did not show him any respect.

Giada smiled and said to Irving, "Mr. Matthews, goodbye!"

Irving's face darkened instantly, but he knew that there was no need for him to stay.

He looked at Eden and smiled gently, "Eden, I'm leaving."

"Thank you. Bye!" Eden smiled faintly. Victor was just so straightforward. When he met someone he didn't like, he wouldn't be polite and show that person any respect.

Irving nodded with a smile, turned around and walked out of the ward.

The door was closed, and Victor looked angrier and angrier, "He is quite well-informed. He actually knows that Gia is in the hospital."

He looked at the toys and gifts in the corner and wanted to throw them out of the window.

"Eden, why did you let him in?"

Eden glanced at him casually, "No matter what, he is a guest."

"How can he be a guest? He has ulterior motives!" Victor sat on a stool with annoyance.

Eden only felt that he was extremely jealous.

"He had come here. Should I shut him out?"

"I reminded you not to meet him last night."

"I didn't take the initiative to meet him. He came here to see me." Eden looked at Victor very speechlessly.

How could it be her fault?

Victor looked at Giada and asked with a smile, "My little princess, what would you like to eat?"

Giada cocked her head and thought for a moment. Then she smiled sweetly and said in a delicate tone, "Dad, I want to eat fried chicken."

"No! You're still weak. How can you eat fried chicken?" Eden looked at her and didn't allow her to eat junk food.

"Oh, mom, I want to eat fried chicken now. It is crispy and delicious. I drool as soon as I think about it." When she was sick, she had an extreme taste.

Especially the delicious fried chicken.

"No, eat it when you get better."

Eden looked at Victor, "Order the food in River City Restaurant for Gia. The food there is delicious and nutritious. Mom has gone back. You can order some for Delmont, and we'll eat together with him. Order two chicken wings for Gia to satisfy her appetite for fried chicken."

"Oh!" Victor looked at Gia apologetically.

Giada glanced at him with disdain. He was so henpecked.

He listened to whatever Eden said.

Moreover, he never dared to refute!

"Gia, I'll order lunch." Seeing that Gia was unhappy, Victor said in a cautious tone.

"Okay, it's better to have two chicken wings!" Giada looked at Eden with complaint.

She was sick, but Eden didn't allow her to eat what she wanted.

Looking at Gia's complaining eyes, Eden smiled, "I'll buy fried chicken for you when you get better."

Giada grinned immediately, "Mom, I'm growing taller now. Look at at me. I'm thinner than before."

Eden nodded, "If you can wear a princess dress, you must be very pretty."

"No way. I don't like it very much."

Eden was helpless. The princess dress was so beautiful. Why didn't Gia like it?

Victor looked at Eden and knew that she had always liked princess dresses, "Gia, your mother likes princess dresses very much when she was a child. She could wear it every day, and she had princess dresses of all kinds of colors, including blue, white and so on, but pink was in the majority. When she wore new princess dress, she always showed off in front of me."

"I know. Mom said that when I was more than one year old, she put on princess dresses for me. When I was three years old, I hated to wear it. It was not easy for me to change her mind. I have to make her give up. I will never wear it."

Gia resisted.

Eden was speechless. She had never given up.

"You!" Victor rubbed Gia's head. He wanted her to wear a princess dress as well.

Gia was as beautiful as Eden, and she must be very lovely in a princess dress.

The lunch was delivered. The three of them went to Delmont's ward and ate it together with him.

When they were eating happily, a nurse suddenly came in with lunch.

"Mr. Clement, this is the lunch Mrs. Alwynn ordered for you." The nurse said as soon as she entered the ward. Obviously, she did not see Eden and Victor.

When she raised her head and saw Eden and Victor, she was so embarrassed, standing where she was and not knowing what to do.

Delmont looked at the nurse who had been delivering food to him, and then glanced at Eden with confusion.

Eden swallowed the food in her mouth leisurely.

"Eden, you've bought lunch here, haven't you? Why did you buy another one?"

Eden glanced at him and then looked at the nervous nurse.

"It's your favorite food, too. Delmont, eat more so that you can recover faster."

Delmont didn't suspect and nodded with a smile.

However, Victor knew Eden very well. He knew that the food was not ordered by her.

Eden looked at the nurse and smiled, "Thank you so much!"

She took the food box, and the nurse quickly left.

Then she looked at the packages. The food was bought in a famous restaurant nearby.

She smiled. Adrienne was really very nice to Delmont.

She opened the lunch box. Those were all Delmont's favorite food.

Seeing it, Delmont was very delighted.

He looked at Eden gratefully, "Ha-ha, Eden, you are so kind to me. You buy different kinds of delicious food for me every day."

"Delmont, eat more. This is an expression of my good will." Eden stressed the last few words.

Delmont couldn't sense her implication, but Victor could.

"I enjoy my meals every day. The food you buy for me is different everyday. After I got sick, I feel that I live like an emperor."

"Wow! Uncle, I think your words make sense. When I'm sick, mom can't bear to leave me and buy me a lot of delicious food. I feel that I'm a princess." Sometimes, Giada felt that getting sick was a good thing.

"Fool, it's uncomfortable to be sick." Victor looked at her seriously.

Giada stuck out her tongue and continued eating with her head lowered.

Eden lowered her head and ate casually. She wanted to meet Adrienne when she had time.

Chapter 1506

Seeing that she was lost in thought, Victor knew that she was hiding something from him.

He did not ask anything, wanting to let her say it on her own after they went back.

He had many ways to let her pour out her heart.

After the meal, Buddy came over to accompany Delmont.

Victor and Eden didn't sleep for a night, and they were very tired, so they took Giada home to rest.

Eden was not in good health, and she would feel weak after staying up late.

Victor was weary as well. After taking a bath, they went to bed.

They didn't wake up until midnight.

On the big soft bed, they saw each other the moment they opened their eyes.

"Honey, did you sleep well?" His hoarse voice was very sexy.

Eden smiled faintly and blinked her clear eyes, "Yeah, what about you?"

"I also slept well, and I'm not sleepy now. I'm very hungry."

"Then I'll cook for you. Dad and mom are already asleep. I'll go to the kitchen and see what we can eat." After saying this, Eden got up.

Victor grabbed her and pulled her into his arms.

In an instant, he pressed on her, hugged her and rubbed his forehead against hers. He said in a vague and wicked tone, "Honey, I want to stay with you now."

He had to let her tell the secret when she was in a good mood.

Eden looked at him with widen eyes, "Aren't you hungry?"

"Fool, you're more attractive."

"Stop kidding. We'll talk about it after dinner. I'm hungry, too." Eden looked at him warily. Would she have the energy to eat dinner after having sex with him?

No, to be exact, midnight snacks.

Victor was upset, but he was reluctant to starve her.

"Dear, lie down. There are dumplings in the refrigerator. I'm going to cook them for you. It's too cold outside. Don't get up."

After saying that, Victor picked up the phone that was turned off, put on his clothes and went to the kitchen.

Eden looked at his warm back and smiled with joy.

But she couldn't fall asleep, so she simply got up and walk for a while.

Victor turned on the phone and saw the message sent by Lucian.

"We've made it. The Meaker family moved out of River City and went to their hometown, Fralstin. I know you don't want to drive them to a corner. They still own their real estates, and they don't have to worry about their life. They can live a comfortable life with those real estates."

"I sold the shares at a good price, and Irving has got the shell company. But as soon as he takes over the company tomorrow morning, he will know that he has been fooled. He has done everything in vain and suffered great losses. I am afraid that he will be furious and curse you badly."

Seeing this, Victor grinned from ear to ear.

He said in heart, "Irving, since you cast a greedy eye on my wife, you'll be tricked by me all the time and suffer great losses."

"Ha-ha..." Victor was overjoyed just by thinking about it.

He walked to the kitchen happily.

When he passed by the dinning table, he saw dishes on it.

Victor stopped and had a look. Jaida cooked the food for them specially. They could eat it after heating it up.

He smiled and heated the food in the microwave oven. The rice in the rice cooker was still hot.

Eating a hot meal was the happiest.

After heating up the food, Victor carried it with a tray and went back.

Seeing the hot food, Eden couldn't be more delighted.

"Wow!" Victor put the dishes on the table, and Eden couldn't help swallowing.

"Victor, is the food prepared by mom?"

"Yes!" Victor handed the rice to her.

"Hurry up and eat. Then we can have sex."

Eden was stunned. She lost all her appetite in an instant.

She held the bowl in a daze and stared at him for a while., "Can you let me have my meal in a good mood?"

Victor smiled pleasantly, "Honey, you can have a good appetite by looking at my handsome face."

"How shameless you are." Eden glared at him and nibbled at the rice.

Victor really smiled shamelessly and said playfully, "Honey, I've always been shameless in front of you, haven't I?"

Eden was choked.

She ate silently, not wanting to be influenced by him.

However, Victor didn't want to have the meal silently.

"Eden, are you hiding something from me?"

Eden looked at him lazily, "How come?"

"You don't want to tell me, do you?" Victor narrowed his eyes and gave her a warning look.

"I won't let you go even if you beg me later." He added evilly.

Hearing this, Eden almost spat out the rice in her mouth.

"Victor, can you stop thinking about having sex all day long?"

Eden was a little speechless. It was easy for her to have dirty thoughts late at night.

Victor got a little closer to her and said in a commanding tone, "Honey, I only want to have sex with you."

"Eat your meal! There is so much delicious food, but you keep talking. If you dare to say one more word, I will sleep with Gia tonight."

"How dare you!" Victor looked at her madly.

She had become so reckless because he spoiled her. He shouldn't have spoiled her before. If she ran away from home, he would live in pain.

"Just wait and see." Eden smiled weirdly and threatened him.

Looking at her mischievous eyes, Victor was so angry that he lowered his head and gulped down the food.

Only then did Eden start to eat with satisfaction.

After the meal, Victor cleaned up the table.

When he came back, Eden was walking around the room to help digestion, and he was finally relieved.

She really nailed him.

"Eden, today... you didn't order dinner for Delmont. Who did it?" Since she didn't say it, he could ask her directly.

Eden knew that he wanted to know about this.

"I knew I couldn't hide it from you."

Eden told him about her guess.

Victor almost couldn't believe what he had heard.

"Adrienne studied in the same university with Delmont indeed. They're our seniors, and Delmont had good grades, but no one knows that they used to be in a relationship."

"Delmont kept this secret quite well. Therefore, you sounded out Paula, but Adrienne exposed her intentions."

"Yeah!" Eden nodded, "After I said that Delmont was disabled, Paula never went to see him again."

"But Adrienne is different. She buys meals for Delmont in the name of me."

"Moreover, Delmont once had a liver transplantation." This was exactly what made her the most distressed.

"What? A liver transplantation?" Victor was shocked.

"By the way, a few years ago, Delmont lived outside for more than one year, and he got a degree when he came back. At that time, I was very busy and I didn't pay attention to him. Did he have a liver transplantation at that time?"

Delmont was quite mysterious. He looked careless on the surface and could not keep any secret, but he kept his own secrets so deeply.

"Ha-ha..." He laughed and suddenly felt that he didn't know Delmont so well, "It seems that we don't understand him enough."

Chapter 1507

Eden nodded, "I thought Buddy knew Delmont the most. But thinking about it now, I don't think he really knows Delmont."

"Yeah! We'll understand him more in the future. Honey, it's late. Let's go to bed." Victor didn't allow her to refuse. He got up, carried her in his arms and walked to the soft bed.

Eden did not reject him.

They had a torrid and happy night.

Victor was in a good mood when he went to work the next morning. Only Eden was sleepy.

On the way, she rolled her eyes at Victor many times.

However, Victor accepted it with joy. He bought Eden her favorite steamed buns halfway.

Only then did Eden look better. She ate the steamed buns all the way and fed two to Victor.

In Victor's opinion, such days were the happiest.

Victor was pleased. It was not only because he had a wonderful night last night, but also because Irving would fly into a rage that day. At the thought of this, all the unhappiness in his heart disappeared.

However, when he thought of what Jaida had said to him before he went out, he was a little troubled.

He glanced at Eden who was enjoying her breakfast and said softly, "Honey."

"Mm!" Eden picked up a small steamed bun and fed him.

Victor didn't stand on ceremony and ate it directly.

The car stopped at the red lights intersection. Victor looked at her sideways, "Honey, let's get married."

Eden paused and looked at him quietly with her big clear eyes, "Victor, are making a proposal on such a occasion?"

Victor shook his head, "No. Eden, as long as you promise me, my proposal must be the most romantic. I have asked Dean to find a suitable place. Don't worry. I will definitely give you a grand wedding."

Eden ate casually, lowered her head and said after thinking for a while, "Victor, it's too late to hold a wedding this year. Moreover, the weather is so cold. I can't stand running around in the cold winter. Besides, we've got married. Wedding is just a matter of formality."

"We're already married, so there's no hurry. Abby is about to give birth. I have to accompany her. When Jasper left, I promised him that I would take good care of Abby."

"Her parents can't come back from abroad. If she didn't get pregnant, she and Anson would have gotten married at the end of the year. But they can't hold a wedding now, can they?"

"With the personalities of her parents, I'm afraid that they'll leave after staying for a few days."

Hearing this, Victor scolded Lucian in heart. What a jinx!

When he asked Dean to find a suitable place that day, Lucian had said the same words, but he did not quite believe him. It seemed that Lucian was right.

"Eden, Anson will accompany Abigail to give birth to the child. To us, holding the wedding is the most important thing. Dad is very dissatisfied with me now." Victor was a little scared when he thought of the way Zaiden looked at him in the morning.

Zaide made him feel that he had stolen his baby daughter from him.

"Ha-ha..." Eden laughed, "Did dad threaten you to marry me?"

"No."

"I knew it. Dad is not an unreasonable person." After eating the last steamed bun, Eden wiped her mouth elegantly with a tissue.

Victor was exasperated. Seeing the green lights, he start the car.

"Eden, do you mean that we can't get married this year?"

He said like a complaining child.

Seeing her unconcerned face, he felt even more aggrieved.

Eden felt somewhat distressed for him because he was unhappy because of this early in the morning.

Every year, they planned to hold a wedding at the end of the year, but they couldn't do it because of various things.

"Victor, don't be like this. Although we can't hold a wedding at the end of this year, we can hold the wedding next spring. Spring is a time of renewal. The climate will be warm, and flowers will bloom. Holding a wedding in spring will be the most romantic."

Victor was speechless. He was just afraid that he had to wait until the end of next year.

"Eden, can you think about it again? You will be very busy in the next spring. By the way, the international designer competition will be held next year. You can't miss it again. You have to prepare for the competition, so we definitely can't hold a wedding. I think the end of this year is the best time." He guided her gently. No matter what, he couldn't let Zaiden look at him with disdain every day.

Since he had married Eden, he had to be responsible for her.

He wanted to give her a grand wedding, telling the whole world that his wife was Eden and making her the happiest woman.

Eden refused him without thinking, "Victor, I have made up my mind. We'll hold the wedding the next spring. You can choose a date this year."

Victor said, "If we get married at the end of this year, I can choose a date today."

"Victor, I'm in poor health, and the weather is cold. Do you want me to get sick?" Eden glanced at him. She didn't like getting married in such a cold winter.

The winter in River City was very cold, and the sky was foggy.

She liked the warm seasons.

On a warm day, she could wear the wedding dress she liked, and she wouldn't catch a cold.

"Honey, you don't have to answer me in a hurry. Think about it again and then answer me." Victor didn't want to give up. He was going to customize a diamond ring.

The diamond ring named Loyalty was the work of the famous designer Surruo this year.

He had asked Dean to inquire about it.

It would be sold at auction the next month.

He didn't want to buy it and keep it. He wanted to wear the ring for her in front of everyone and let her feel his love and loyalty.

The ring represented forever and loyal love.

Victor was still unhappy when he arrived at the company.

Eden did not care whether he was happy or not.

Victor held a meeting early in the morning as usual.

It suddenly occurred to Eden that she had not seen Paula.

Seth sent her the schedule of the cooperation with Monroe Group. After she finished reading, Paula still did not appear.

Looking at the documents that Paula needed to sort out, Eden frowned.

She dialed Paula's number.

"Hello?" A weak voice came from the phone.

Eden said, "Paula, send me the market investigation report I needed yesterday. I have something to do this afternoon."

"Oh! Okay, I'll give it to you soon. Director Bleu, wait for a while." After that, she hung up the phone quickly.

Eden held the phone and paused for a moment.

Paula was not so arrogant, was she?

She slowly put down the phone and waited in boredom.

She glanced at the phone on the table and wanted to call Adrienne impulsively.

Last night, the nurse sent the meal to Delmont before her. Adrienne should know that she was there.

However, Adrienne was so quiet, which made her unable to stay calm.

Eden looked at Adrienne's phone number for a while, but she put down the phone in the end.

"Forget it. Just wait." Eden said to herself and put the phone back on the table.

As soon as she put down the phone, it vibrated.

Chapter 1508

Eden picked up her phone. It was a phone call from the personnel manager.

"Hello?"

"Director Bleu, there is a girl named Danielle Tennat. She came here to apply for the position of designer with her own work. Her work is quite special, and it is different from your design."

"It's very innovative. I want to let you have a look at her design. But she has just graduated from college, and her design is a little immature."

Hearing the girl's name, Eden suddenly remembered the girl who had been bullied by Paula.

"Alright, send her design drafts to the 25th floor and I'll take a look. Let her come back and wait for news."

"Okay, Director Bleu."

A few minutes after Eden hung up the phone, Danielle's design drafts were sent to her office.

Eden looked at her design drafts carefully.

Her eyes lit up. Danielle's design was of exuberant imagination, while her design was implicit and elegant. Their design contrasted sharply with each other.

Eden continued to have a look. Every piece of clothing had its own characteristics, and the style was indeed unique.

But her skills were not very proficient and she lacked certain experience.

Eden suddenly smiled brightly. Her smiling eyes were slightly curved, making her look charming.

"She's really a good girl, but have I seen the design drafts before?"

Eden thought about it carefully and did not know where she had seen them.

"Rat-a-tat..."

A sudden knock on the door interrupted her train of thought.

"Come in."

Paula walked in with documents in her arms. She raised her head a bit proudly, and the sound of her high heels was very loud.

"Director Bleu, here are the documents you want." She put the documents on the table.

Eden looked up at her. Seeing that she wore a heavy makeup, she asked with a smile, "Didn't you sleep well?"

Of course, it would be weird if she could sleep well.

Paula's face darkened, "When did you began to care about my sleep?"

Eden said, "I saw the photo you posted yesterday morning. You looked much more energetic than you're now. Besides, I saw the exclusive watch. It looked beautiful on your wrist."

"I'm afraid that that you'll become a hot topic online in a few days."

Paula looked very awkward.

The feelings in her heart were complicated, and she felt a little scared.

What surprised her was that Carolyn and his family disappeared in River City overnight.

Originally, she wanted to use her relationship with Eden to make a big fortune from Carolyn.

She didn't expect that the Meaker family would be ruined by Alwynn Group so soon.

Anyone who went against Victor would suffer.

"It's none of your business whether I'll become a hot topic online or not."

"Yes, it has nothing to do with me. But Paula, you should have finished the work yesterday. Why did you finish it today? I don't like such a passive attitude."

Paula pursed her lips and explained in a hurry, "You didn't come to work yesterday, did you?"

"I didn't come to work yesterday indeed. Before shouldn't you put the documents on my table before I came to work today?"

"I will be more careful in the future." Paula was no longer so confident.

She lowered her head, looking obedient.

Eden hated to see her like this.

Paula had always valued money the most. In her heart, money was the most important thing, and she could do everything to make money. These years, she had never changed.

Moreover, she had played tricks on Delmont just like a vain woman.

"Get out." Eden said coldly.

Paula nodded. Without saying anything, she turned around and left.

Eden started to work.

As soon as she opened the documents, she found something wrong.

She touched her forehead very helplessly.

"Amelia, come back soon." She wished that Amelia could be by her side.

RK Company was newly established, and Irving chose to set up the company on the same street as Alwynn Group.

It had just been decorated.

What made Irving somewhat dissatisfied was that it was a ten-storey building, but Victor owned a twenty-five-storey building.

He stood in front of the French window on the top floor. Dressed in a white suit, he looked elegant and imposing. He could only see the top floor of Alwynn Group here.

He narrowed his dark eyes slightly and pursed his thin lips. His eyes were disconsolate and indifferent as he said, "Eden, can I only look up at you like this forever?"

He felt more and more upset.

"Mr. Matthews, bad news!" Aidan rushed in.

Irving frowned and looked at his flustered face, saying in a deep and angry tone, "You've always been calm. What panics you?"

Aidan stopped not far away, swallowed and said nervously, "Mr. Matthews, bad news. We were fooled by Victor. He competed with us and bought shares secretly. In fact, they just wanted to trap us. Although we have got Meaker Group, it is a shell company. We've lost all the money we invested in."

"What?" Irving could not believe what he had heard.

He suddenly felt cold all over, and he went off the deep end. He had never been so furious before.

"Victor!"

"Bang..." He punched the wall fiercely. His hand bled, and he opened his eyes wide with hatred.

"Mr. Matthews, don't be angry..." Aidan didn't know what to say.

Looking at Irving's irritated face, he said with worried eyes, "Mr. Matthews, Victor is too cunning. He was the one who ruined the Meaker family, but he gave them a way out. Moreover, Meaker Group was purchased by us. He is so despicable and shameless."

"Now the Meaker family will only hate us."

"Humph!" Irving's face turned red with anger. His noble face was full of great fury.

"Where's Caroline? She has been keeping an eye on it, hasn't she? How could this happen again?"

Aidan said, "Lucian is not the only computer expert in Alwynn Group. They created a facade for Caroline, and Caroline was tricked as well."

"What's more, what Cyril did has been exposed, and we lost twenty million dollars."

Thinking of this, Aidan felt so painful in his heart.

They lost so much money in vain.

Irving started his business in this city this year. He not only didn't make any progress, but also lost hundreds of millions of dollars because of Victor's various tricks.

They needed time to develop the small companies they had purchased recently.

Victor dealt them a severe blow again. It would be even harder for them to advance.

Chairman Matthews would be very angry if he knew this.

"D*mn it! I thought we were faster, but I didn't expect Victor to be even more cunning." Irving was so mad that he held onto the edge of the desk tightly.

"Victor, since you push me so hard, don't blame me for being heartless!"

Chapter 1509

"Is Victor really so upright?" Victor became the richest man in River City within three years, and Irving did not believe that he had no stain in life.

If it weren't for his relationship with the gang and the police, Victor couldn't have developed so fast.

Didn't he do any dirty thing in his casinos, bars and clubs?

He stared at the transparent and luxury crystal desk with dark eyes. At this moment, he was like a wounded cheetah.

Aidan nodded and told Irving the news he had got, "He has no stain. Besides, he has done a lot of good things in River City. He donates a lot of clothes to the orphanages and changes a batch of facilities in the old people's houses every year. He provides all the funds."

"No matter which school wants to change their facilities, he pays for it."

"Even the public toilets on the roadside are funded by him. He always goes to charity parties."

"Next month, there will be an auction held by him. The diamond ring named Loyalty is the design of Surruo this year. All the money auctioned will be donated to charity."

"This is the news released on the official website of Alwynn Group this morning. People in River City admire him and regard him with awe."

"You saw that a few days ago. No matter how we slandered Victor and Eden in private, there were many people who supported them."

"Otherwise, Melissa and Haven wouldn't have gone to jail."

"So, Dahlia's dirty tricks can't deal with Victor at all."

"What about his d*mn weakness?" Irving asked angrily. He did not believe that Victor had no weakness.

Aidan sighed in heart.

Irving had forgotten everything in a rage.

Impulse was like the devil.

Was it worth losing hundreds of millions of dollars for a woman?

Moreover, he could never be with the woman.

"Mr. Matthews, Victor's only weakness is his wife." Eden was Irving's weakness as well.

But Aidan did not have the courage to say it to Irving.

Irving's body trembled, and his eyes became a little glassy. No matter how sinister his methods were, he couldn't bear to hurt Eden.

He was only gentle to her.

He closed his eyes and took a deep breath.

He suppressed the anger in his heart.

Then he slowly sat on the chair. After flying off the handle, he was a bit feeble.

Aidan asked with concern, "Mr. Matthews, are you okay?"

Irving shot him a cold glare, "Do you think I look unwell?"

Aidan was speechless. At this time, Irving was as weak as a drowning dog.

"Mr. Matthews, what should we do now?" Aidan looked at him and asked cautiously.

Irving said exasperatedly, "You're good at upsetting others, aren't you? You can always bring vexation to others."

"But why can't you make Victor feel depressed? Aidan, give full play to your talent and upset Victor. I will give you a bonus at the end of this year."

Aidan looked listless, like a frosted eggplant.

Even if he was given one hundred million dollars, he might not make Victor feel depressed.

However...

A hint of a smile appeared in Aidan's eyes.

"Mr. Matthews, I have a message for you."

Irving looked at him seriously, "Just get straight to the point. Don't keep me guessing."

Aidan smiled. He was afraid that his words would make Irving feel depressed.

They were only classmates in high school, but Irving would love Eden for a lifetime.

He didn't get close to any woman in the past years.

If Chairman Matthews hadn't forced Irving to be with Dahlia, he would have suspected that Irving didn't like woman.

"Mr. Matthews, Victor is going to make a proposal, and Dean has been looking for the most romantic place in River City."

After saying that, he waited for Irving to lose his temper.

"Bang..." Irving kicked the desk.

"Are you making things worse for Victor? You're making things worse for me!" Irving glared at Aidan with cold and fierce eyes.

Aidan said in heart, "Woman is a siren, making innocent people get into trouble."

"No matter what, don't let Victor hold a wedding before Alwynn Group goes bankrupt."

"I don't care what method you use, but we have to ruin Victor's dream."

"What's more, I have to get the diamond ring. Go prepare for it!"

Aidan opened his eyes wide in shock and shouted in heart, "Mr. Matthews, just wake up! Don't be obsessed with your first love anymore. She doesn't want to spend the rest of her life with you."

Alas!

How could a proud person like Irving be willing to give up?

But his love was hopeless.

"I see, Mr. Matthews. I will send someone to keep an eye on it secretly. Caroline and I will clean up the mess in Meaker Group first."

Irving thought about it and said, "Let Dahlia be the legal person of Meaker Group."

All of a sudden, Aidan looked at him in confusion, "Why?"

Irving sneered, "She's such a vain creature. Do you think she will be willing to do things for us without money?"

"I don't know why my father wanted her to be my fiancée, but he must have a reason."

"Although Dahlia's style of doing things is very stupid, she can make Victor feel depressed sometimes."

"Besides, I don't know what Dahlia is going to do, but I'm sure that she aims at Victor. No, it should be said that she aims at Alwynn Group."

Aidan kept nodding. Irving was more cunning than Dahlia.

He wanted Dahlia to get nothing and spend all her effort in vain after doing lots of things, didn't he?

"Mr. Matthews, I will meet Dahlia right away and get things done within two days." However, thinking of this, he felt pretty relaxed.

Meaker Group was in a mess. Whoever took it over would be troubled.

Anyway, Dahlia always thought that Irving did not attach much importance to her. If she was given the company, she would think that Irving valued her.

In order to win the Irving's approval, she would definitely work harder than anyone else.

Thinking like this, Aidan felt that he was also a cunning fox.

After Aidan left, Irving sat in front of the window in a daze again.

His first love in high school was the purest. He didn't meet Eden at the right time, but meeting Eden made him have a wonderful time in high school.

He was not willing to miss Eden like this.

There were so many attractive women in the world, but he was only attracted to her...

Victor had a long meeting that day.

Out of the conference room, he was still very depressed. He lowered his head and didn't talk to anyone.

Early in the morning, seeing that Victor's face darkened, all the managers left the conference room in a hurry.

Dean was observant. Victor had given Irving a severe blow, but was he unhappy?

"Mr. Alwynn, do you have something on your mind?"

Victor glanced at him, "Can you let me feel relieved?"

Dean smiled brightly, "Mr. Alwynn, it depends on why you're upset."

Victor said, "Eden doesn't agree to hold a wedding. Can you help me?"

Chapter 1510

Dean was stunned.

Eden was already his wife. Was there any need to hold a wedding?

She had been his. Why should he care about such a formality?

"Mr. Alwynn, it seems that Mr. Ronen is right." Dean smiled flatteringly.

"What a jinx!" Victor was angry. His friends' unlucky words would always become true.

Especially Lucian.

"You're the jinx." Lucian said coldly behind Victor.

Victor was stunned and looked back at Lucian, "You... Why are you still here?"

Walking beside him leisurely, Lucian raised his head elegantly and said with a expressionless face, "If I left, I wouldn't have heard you scold me, would I?"

Victor was speechless. When someone was unlucky, he would even get choked while drinking water. Perhaps he was just so unlucky.

"You're a jinx. Eden said that she didn't want to hold a wedding now."

"Ha-ha..." Lucian laughed and looked at him with brooding eyes. He had guessed the result.

However, Victor's face darkened.

"It turns out that there's something you can't get." Lucian said gloatingly.

Dean lowered his head and thought, "Mr. Ronen, you can say such words when I'm not beside Mr. Alwynn."

He was afraid of getting involved.

"Humph!" Victor's face darkened more.

"Dean."

Dean immediately stood straight and looked forward steadily, "Mr. Alwynn, I'm here."

"Have you found the romantic place I want?" Victor glared at him.

Dean swallowed.

"Mr. Alwynn, I have too many things to do these days, so I haven't chose a suitable place yet. Before I get off work, I will definitely give you an answer."

"Okay!" Victor planned to cut off all means of retreat. After he chose a place and decorated it luxuriously, Eden might promise him, because she couldn't bear to waste money.

Victor thought like this happily.

However, Lucian said all of a sudden, "Why do I feel that there will be an awful long time before you hold the wedding?"

Victor looked at him with a sullen face, "Stop talking! I will definitely give Eden a grand wedding."

Lucian smiled and then left gracefully.

Behind him, Victor kicked in the air.

Dean had the same thought as Lucian, but he did not have the guts to say that.

"Why are you laughing? Hurry up and go to work." Victor said ferociously.

Dean turned around and ran back to his office without even looking at him.

Victor entered the office gloomily.

Paula watched them from not far away. When would she meet a man who was as loyal as Victor?

He was only infatuated with Eden.

Moreover, he had no interest in other women.

Eden was busy working with her head lowered, as if she didn't see Victor come in. Seeing this, Victor felt more and more displeased.

He sat on the swivel chair and watched Eden work hard. She didn't even notice that he had come back.

"Ahem!" He coughed, but lowered his head and did not look at Eden.

Hearing his voice, Eden raised her head slowly and glanced at him.

Paula always made mistakes in work. She needed to be highly concentrated to finish the work.

"Victor, you're back." She said slowly.

Seeing how careless she was, Victor opened his mouth but didn't speak, biting back the words he would like to have said.

Eden knew that he was still throwing a tantrum.

But she didn't say anything.

She lowered her head to work again.

Victor was stunned. Didn't she see that he was unhappy?

She did not care about him at all.

"Humph!" With a straight face, Victor grabbed the phone on the table and left the office.

Eden looked at his back and shook her head slightly.

She continued to read the documents.

Suddenly, her phone rang.

It was Abigail calling her.

"Hello? Abby."

"Eden, do you have time this afternoon? Accompany me to the hospital for a check-up."

Eden smiled and said, "Yeah, I'll come and pick you up."

"Alright. Eden, we just need to arrive at the hospital before one o'clock in the afternoon. You don't have to be in a hurry."

"Okay, I'll call you when I'm downstairs your company."

"Okay! Bye." Abigail was very happy.

After hanging up the phone, Eden closed all the documents.

Then she called Paula.

"Paula, please come to my office."

"Oh! "

After Eden hung up, Paula walked in quickly.

"Director Bleu, what's wrong?" she asked in an uneasy tone.

Eden looked at her with no expression, "I have circled the mistakes in red ink. Take them out and sort them again."

Hearing these words, Paula looked extremely awkward.

Ah...

She was going crazy.

Why did she make mistakes every time?

It was too shameful and embarrassing!

"Director Bleu, are you sure you're not making things difficult for me?"

Eden threw the documents forward and said in a calm tone, "Have a look." She said every word clearly.

Paula looked more awkward. She wanted to do a good job all the time, but she always made mistakes.

"It seems that you're not right back in harness."

Eden got up, went to the sofa and sat down.

Paula's looked extremely unnatural as she pursed her lips.

"I'm sorry. I will correct the mistakes when I go back." She immediately admitted her mistake, no longer being so arrogant.

Eden shook her head, "Go out."

Paula picked up the documents on the table and walked out.

The more she walked, the more uncomfortable she felt. Why did she make mistakes again?

She hadn't been arrogant in front of Eden for long, and she became humble again.

She was pissed off.

Eden glanced at Victor's seat and smiled helplessly. Then she dialed Dean's phone number.

"Hello? Mrs. Alwynn."

"Where is Mr. Alwynn?"

"Well... Mrs. Alwynn." Dean didn't understand why Eden asked him for Victor's whereabouts.

"Mrs. Alwynn, I have been working in the office, and I didn't see Mr. Alwynn."

"Okay, I see." Eden hung up the phone.

"Where is he?"

Then she sent a message to Victor.

"Where are you? It's time for lunch. Would you like to eat with me?"

In fact, Victor did not go far, and he was in Lucian's office.

However, Lucian did not even say a word to him after he came in.

He acted as if Victor didn't exist.

Victor sat on the sofa leisurely with his legs crossed on the tea table.

He glanced at the message sent by Eden lazily.

She asked him if he wanted to eat together with her.

She was going to piss him off!

If he didn't eat with her, who could he eat with?

"Victor, if you don't reply to me, I will have lunch with Abby. I have to accompany her to the hospital."

Seeing this, Victor immediately jumped down the sofa.

Only then did Lucian say unconcernedly, "Get out. You're affecting my work."

Victor looked at him with resentment, "I have nowhere to go. Are you really my best friend?"

"I'm your best friend, but so what?" Lucian said coldly.

Victor turned around and left. Instead of being angered by Lucian, he'd better be annoyed by Eden.

Victor returned to his office and saw that Eden had finished her work.

He looked upset and sat next to her, like a wronged daughter-in-law.
